Viet Nam Peace Bid Clouded

Raids On North May Resume

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today Hanoi has been given "every opportunity" during the past month to respond to President Johnson's peace bids. He left the impression that the United States would be justified in resuming its bombing of North Viet Nam at any time.

He declined, however, to foreclose the possibility that the President would continue the lull in the hopes that the Communist still might agree to talk peace or at least undertake a reciprocal reduction of military operations.

And indications in official quarters were that the bombing lull, now in its 29th day, would extend some time beyond the end of the Oriental New Year truce Sunday night.

Rusk told a news conference: "I regret I cannot report to you any positive and encouraging response to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind . . ."

Must Stop Aggression
"We shall do what we can to bring peace to Southeast Asia, and do what we must to prevent the success of a cruel aggression."

Rusk declined to disclose what if any efforts Russia had made in an effort to bring the conflict to the peace table. He said however, he hoped the Soviet Union, as co-chairman with the British of the 1954 and 1962 Geneva conferences, would "take its responsibilities seriously" and try to arrange a peace conference.

Rusk fuzzed up the question of whether the United States has received any specific reply to the only direct diplomatic approach it has made to Hanoi, which was in a note handed by an American diplomat to Hanoi officials three weeks ago in

Bachelor's Will Is Contested

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — A bachelor, whose main companion in his humble mountain home was a radio, willed the bulk of his surprise $100,000 estate to an airways evangelist he never saw, and to the American Bible Society.

That became known Thursday when a brother and two sisters filed suit contesting the will of Carl F. Nord who died last month, believed by many in this Mendocino Mountain area to be a pauper.

Strike Threatens At F111 Warplane Plant

FORT WORTH (AP) — A strike by workers producing the F111 warplane being used in Viet Nam loomed at General Dynamics Corp. today as negotiating teams raced against a walkout deadline of 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

Negotiations went on during the day between management and the International Association of Machinists - Aerospace Workers, AFL-CIO.

SNOW-COVERED COLLEGE WORLD—Lanna Fritsch, a Texas Tech junior, found an enchanting winterland scene this morning when she launched a tour of campus buildings to check grades after a week of final exams. Lanna planned to leave for her Amarillo home this afternoon for a between-semester's visit despite hazardous driving conditions. Clutched in her hand is a schedule of next semester's classes, which begin next week. She stands amid falling snowflakes, the white splotches on the picture. (Staff Photo by Jerry McCarty)

PARTY REVOLT BARED

Italian Premier Moro Steps Down

Moro's resignation was triggered by an embarrassing defeat Thursday in the Chamber of Deputies on his bill to set up a state nursery school. He had described the measure as a key reform that the Socialists demanded when entering the coalition in December 1963.

The premier's decision to step down was taken after a meeting with his Cabinet today.

Lasts Five Minutes
The Cabinet meeting lasted only five minutes. When Moro walked out he told newsmen:

"The government decided to resign."

He said he would inform President Giuseppe Saragat of the resignation.

It plunges this Atlantic alliance nation into unexpected political crisis. Only a few weeks ago it had appeared that Moro probably would be able to hold his coalition government together until the next national parliamentary elections in 1967.

What made Moro's position untenable was a demand from the partners in his Christian Democrat coalition — the Socialists, Democrats, Socialists and Republicans — that he resign because of the legislative defeat.

Deputies Rebel
In addition, some deputies in his own party were in secret rebellion.

Tech Killed

Kermit Osborn, 19, 1909 28th St., a Texas Tech freshman, was killed and his brother Herbert, 23, injured in a two-vehicle accident about 11:20 p.m. Thursday 5.2 miles west of D'Hanis and 14.2 miles west of Hondo in Medina County.

The two brothers, both of Mount Calm, were traveling east on U. S. 90 when the car, which was driven by Herbert, crossed the center stripe and crashed into the right front fender of a semi-trailer tractor driven by Albert Lloyd Sallee of Florida, according to state police investigating the mishap.

Kermit was dead on arrival at Medina Memorial Hospital in Hondo where Herbert was treated for minor injuries and dismissed. The truck driver was not injured.

Had Completed Exams
The body of the younger Osborn was taken to Frazier Funeral Home, Uvalde, from where it will be transferred today to Waco for services and burial.

Kermit, a physical education major, had completed exams last week at Texas Tech, taking them early so he could go to California to pick up his brother, Herbert, who was being discharged from the Navy, according to a Lubbock cousin, Mrs. A. G. Lofland, 3110 28th St.

Mrs. Lofland said the boys were apparently going to visit a brother in San Antonio before traveling home to Mount Calm when the mishap occurred.

Survivors include his parents, See STUDENT Page 10

ON SNOW-SLICK HIGHWAY

7 Hurt Near City As Bus Overtakes

Seven persons were injured, one seriously, when a bus overturned after swerving to avoid vehicles involved in an earlier two-car accident on snow-covered U. S. 87 about 3 miles north of Lubbock at 7 a.m. today.

An eighth person who had been a passenger in one of the cars also was hurt in the auto mishap.

The bus, carrying 16 passengers, was en route from Denver to San Antonio.

Reported in serious condition today in West Texas Hospital with head and back injuries was Mrs. Myra Tanner, 57, Pascagoula, Miss., a passenger in the bus.

Treated And Released
Six other persons in the bus who were treated and released at the hospital were identified as Mrs. Allen Rhodes, 23, 3508 E. 15th Place; Bruce Stephens, 69, and Mrs. Mary Stephens, 63, both of Alberta, Canada; Wilbert J. Smith, 22, and Mrs. Shirley Smith, 20, both of San Antonio, all passengers in the bus; and Roger Pierce, 29, 2809 36th St., bus driver.

Highway patrolmen said Riley Cochran, 50, Route 3, Lubbock, a passenger in one of the cars, was treated for a hip injury at St. Mary's Hospital and dismissed.

Highway patrolman Homer Clecker of Lubbock who investigated said the "double" accident occurred after an auto driven by John W. Shropshire, Route 3, Lubbock, struck Cochran and his vehicle, which was stalled, about 7:03 a.m.

Standing Beside Car
Clecker said the auto driven by Mrs. Cochran was on an outside lane of the highway and Cochran was standing beside the car trying to start the engine when Shropshire swerved his car and skidded into Cochran.

Heavy Snow Closes 45 Area Schools

Highway Conditions In Three States Hazardous; Bus Flips

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche-Journal Staff

After spreading up to six inches of snow on the South Plains and as much as eight inches in the Panhandle, a major storm sent northerly winds across the snow cover and began dropping temperatures during the morning.

Approximately 45 South Plains schools were reported by officials as closed today. The courthouse offices at Snyder did not open this morning because of heating difficulties.

A bus overturned at the northern city limits of Lubbock about 7 a.m. Seven occupants of the bus were injured.

Numerous accidents occurred on ice-glazed streets in Lubbock. The temperature is forecast to plunge to 3 degrees early Saturday.

At 11 a.m. today, snow covered all of New Mexico, the northern half of Texas, most of Oklahoma, Kansas and southeastern Colorado.

A special bulletin issued by the Weather Bureau from Kansas City stated, "Critical weather continues today over a wide area of the southern Plains and is forecast to spread into the lower Mississippi Valley tonight. Warnings of heavy snow were in effect for a portion of Northwest Texas and southwest Oklahoma, roughly within the Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Hobart area."

On the South Plains, accumulations of the predicted depth of six inches already had been reached in places. That depth was reported by Lubbock Avalanche-Journal correspondents at Snyder and in Lamesa vicinity. Depth at Plainview was 4 1/2 to 5 inches at mid-morning and snow still was falling.

More Snow In Forecast
Accumulations of one to three inches are forecast for tonight in Northeast Texas, Oklahoma, northern Arkansas and southern Missouri, with up to four inches likely in northwestern Arkansas, according to weather observers.

The temperature at Amarillo dropped from 19 degrees at 6 a.m., when the front passed through, to 7 degrees at 7:30 a.m. The temperature was only 6 degrees at noon at Amarillo and the snow depth totaled six inches.

The front moved across Lubbock Municipal Airport at 11:05 a.m. and temperature dropped 5 degrees in 5 minutes—from 24 to 19. The noon reading at Lubbock was 18 degrees and the snow depth was 4 inches.

Near-Zero Readings Due
Temperatures on the South Plains tonight are forecast to be the lowest of the season so far, ranging from 5 degrees below zero across the northern part of the area to the middle teens in the extreme southern part. A little warmer weather is forecast for the daytime Saturday, with maximum readings ranging from the low 20's in the northern part of the area and the low to upper 20's in the southeastern part of the low 30's in Lubbock County and the southwestern part of the area.

In Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Canyon and vicinities, minimum temperatures are forecast to be around 5 below zero early Saturday and the maximum readings are forecast to be near 20 Saturday.

The greatest amount of snow reported in the Panhandle during the morning was the 8-inch cover at Wellington. Winds up to 20 miles an hour out of the north piled the snow up in drifts that caused concern for cattlemen. Seven inches of snow covered the ground at Quannah, Follett and Hamlin.

Snow covered the highways at Wellington, Amarillo and Muleshoe as fast as snowplows could clear it away.

Many Schools Are Closed
Countless schools in the Texas Panhandle and Red River Valley were closed.

The State Highway Dept. had 75 snowplows at work in the Lubbock district.

Maintenance Supt. J. D. Willson reported at 9 a.m. Friday that all state, federal and farm-to-market roads in the area were open, but that driving was hazardous. He urged motorists to "please stay home unless absolutely necessary."

Plainview Blanketed
Up to six inches of snow covered the 17-county district early today, Willson said. The department has been salting highways since Tuesday.

FOUND PAYROLL CHECKS

Company, Airlines Reward Couple For Their Honesty

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — When Barry Schneider, 22, and his wife, Nedra, 21, found and returned a bag containing $300,000 in payroll checks to the U. S. Steel plant in nearby Torrance recently, they were given a reward they couldn't afford to accept.

Pacific Southwest Airlines offered the Schneiders and another couple with them when they returned the checks airline tickets to fly anywhere they desired. Schneider declined the offer because, as a student at San Fernando Valley State College, he could not afford a vacation.

Wednesday, U. S. Steel sent the Schneiders a $500 check to finance the vacation. Three anonymous donors also sent the couple another $500.

"We'll split the $500 with the other couple that was with us when we returned the money," said Mrs. Schneider. She and her husband have not yet decided where they'll vacation.

SEVEN INJURED—Seven persons were injured, one seriously, when this Kerrville Bus Co. bus carrying 16 passengers overturned on snow-covered U. S. Hwy. 87 about 3 mile north of Lubbock about 7 a.m. today. The bus swerved to avoid vehicles in an earlier two-car mishap. A passenger in one of the cars also was hurt in the auto accident. IN TEXAS:

Farming At Near Standstill

COLLEGE STATION (UPI)—The weather over Texas at midweek, except for livestock care and feeding, had outdoor farming activities at a near standstill, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

The lowest temperatures of the winter plus snow, sleet and rain stopped most farming operations but increased the need for more supplemental feeding of livestock in most sections of the state.

Major Activities Livestock across the state continued generally in good condition with the stepped up feeding needed to maintain this condition.

Dry top soil in Northwest Texas plus the cold weather have about stopped the growth of wheat and only limited grazing is now available.

For practical purposes, the South Plains cotton harvest was all but completed before the change in weather hit early in the week.

Major Outbreak Of Measles Is Battled

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mich. (AP)—More than 1,500 youngsters aged 1 through 8 have been inoculated as health authorities work to halt an outbreak of measles here.

The outbreak first noticed in December, mushroomed into 77 cases of record, said Kent Gray, health educator for the Tri-County Central Michigan District Health Department.

U.S. health officials say 500 to 400 persons die from the disease annually in this country, Gray said.

Industry and local service clubs have helped defray cost of the inoculation program by contributing to an emergency fund set up by the Isabella County United Fund, Gray said.

Gray guessed the outbreak may have originated in schools and students passed the disease on to younger brothers and sisters at home.

Women Unhappy About Nude Art At Boy's Club

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—Some women board members of the Boys' Club of Minneapolis are unhappy about the pictures of nude girls on the third floor.

The nudes—all 300 of them—are to be auctioned off Jan. 29.

They are part of a 1,100-unit art collection donated to the club by Louis F. Dow Co., a St. Paul calendar firm.

Women on the club's board say they don't want the nudes in the Boys' Club and several reportedly threatened to resign if the auction were not moved.

Club officials said it was too late, however—the nudes already had been advertised as being at the club. But they were moved from the basement to a locked third-floor room.

Company President H. J. Dow says the pictures are "no worse than any you would find at any art center in this country or abroad, or at local art galleries."

IN DENVER: Six Cowboys At Rodeo Get Money, Titles

DENVER (UPI)—Six of the nation's top eight cowboys received $1,200 each Thursday night at the National Western Stock Show in Denver as 1965's professional rodeo champions.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado and officials of the Rodeo Cowboys Association made the presentations of money, trophies and belt buckles.

The honored cowboys are: Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, all-around cowboy; Glenn Franklin, House, N. M., calf roping; Harley May, Oakdale, Calif., steer wrestling; Shawn Davis, Whitehall, Mont., saddle bronc riding; Jim Houston, Omaha, Neb., bareback bronc riding; and Larry Mahan, Brooks, Ore., bull riding.

Unable to Attend Two other champions could not attend the ceremony: Jim Rodriguez, Jr., Paso Robles, Calif., could not make plane connections to Denver and Sonny Wright, Alto, N. M., was snowed in. Rodriguez was the team roping champion and Wright was tops in single steer roping.

In Thursday night's performance of the 60th annual stock show rodeo, Duane Howard of Minnewauken, N. D., was the only one of eight cowboys to ride his mount in the bull riding event.

Thursday's night winners: Bareback bronc riding—1. Paul Mayo, Grinnel, Iowa, 71 points.

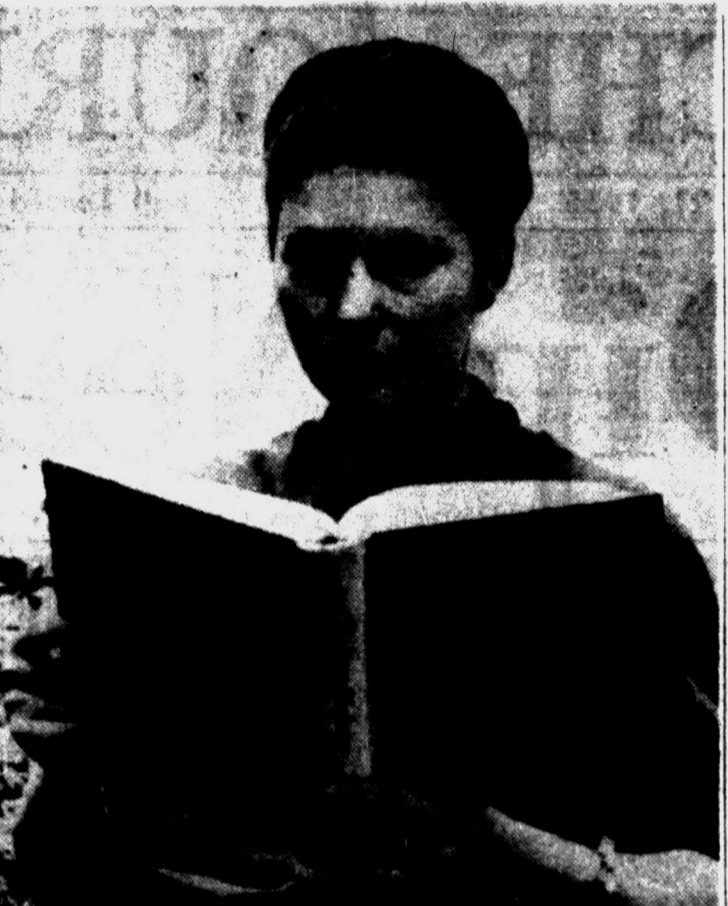

Steer wrestling—1. Roy Duval, Muskogee, Okla., 70 seconds. 2. Don Huddleston, Tahina, Okla., 71.

Calf roping—1. Duane Eaton, Lamar, Colo., 13.9 seconds. Girls barrel racing—1. Sherry Combs, Checotah, Okla., 15.7 seconds.

Saddle bronc riding—1. Larry Kane, Big Sandy, Mont., 69 points. Bull riding—1. Duane Howard, Minnewauken, N. D., 72 points.

Senator Urges Check On CIA WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., wants the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to investigate the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

Past attempts to investigate the CIA's activities have invariably run into administration opposition. A subcommittee made up of senior senators meets in secret to oversee CIA appropriations of several hundred million dollars each year.

Humorous Incidents Show That Nothing Really Is Changed In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The second session of the 89th Congress hasn't done much in the way of legislation yet, but some of its members have been having a good time anyway.

For instance, Rep. George Grider of Tennessee was delighted one day this week when he received a letter from the Republican National Committee asking him to contribute $10 to the GOP's "sustaining program."

Having someone put the arm on you for a double sawbuck is not ordinarily a cause for rejoicing, but Grider found it enjoyable. He happens to be a Democrat.

He was further gladdened by the fact that the solicitation included a pamphlet stressing the importance of strengthening the two-party system.

Let's Be Realistic In a joshing reply to GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss, Grider said he agreed in principle with the pamphlet's message but felt the Republicans "should adopt a little more realistic approach."

Nevertheless, he was sympathetic. Apparently, he said, "The Republican computers don't work any better than the Democratic ones."

Democratic computers figured later in a jocular speech by Rep. Robert H. Michel, R-Ill., on the problems encountered in setting up the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Originally, Michel said, the administration planned to include transportation in the department. It would have been called the Department of Transportation, Housing and Urban Growth.

But, he said, somebody pointed out that under the practice of referring to federal agencies by their initials the department would be known as "THUG."

Or Maybe Thud "So then they put it to the computer and the computer came back with a new title, the Department of Transportation, Housing and Urban Development," Michel continued. "In Washington gobbledgook, that would work out as 'Thud.'"

Stay Motion In Dallas Film Case Is Denied ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The 5th U. S. Circuit of Appeals Thursday denied a stay motion designed to prohibit the City of Dallas (Tex.) from censoring certain motion pictures.

The motion was filed by Interstate Circuit Inc., representing several theaters in the Dallas area.

Passed Ordinance The Dallas city council passed an ordinance Nov. 22, 1965, setting up a motion picture classification board with the power to censor films not considered fit for persons under 16.

Doctor Claims Mother Is Boy's No. 2 Friend

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Would you say that a boy's mother is his best friend?

If you do, you're wrong, says Dr. Harry F. Harlow.

He's the director of the Wisconsin Regional Primate Center and the primate laboratory at the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

Dr. Harlow told the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute mother is No. 2, no better.

Since 1930, Harlow has subjected primates to practically every mother-infant and age-mate situation he could think of, he said Thursday.

His conclusion is: the most important aspect of a youngster's personality development and social adjustment is early and continued relationship with his own age group.

"A mother's most important role is to facilitate this age-mate socialization. But a mother is the best possible substitute, if an age-mate associate is impossible," Harlow said.

The best socialization mechanism? Among monkeys or among humans, it's development of love among age-mates, the researcher says.

It approved and sent to the White House legislation designating the European Space Research Organization as an international group and exempting it from import duties in construction of the station at Fairbanks. Eleven nations belong to the group.

Revenue Diverted

The diverted money, according to the organization, has been used for such purposes as mosquito control, river and harbor improvements. It was diversion of these tax revenues—a trend that began as America took to wheels in the 1920s—that led to the founding of the organization.

Arthur Butler, chairman of the organization's board of directors, appraises the situation in these words:

"As today's highway traffic increases, it is imperative that every highway tax dollar be spent in full for highways.

"Too many states continue to divert large sums of highway tax revenues to purposes totally unrelated to road construction and maintenance.

"The only sure solution to this problem is the adoption of state constitutional amendments specifically prohibiting diversion of road funds."

He said 28 states have adopted such amendments.

Billions Collected The total includes $4.5 billion in state taxes and more than $2.7 billion in federal taxes. Since 1951 the average combined state, local and federal gasoline tax rate has risen from 6.8 cents to 10.5 cents a gallon. State rates now average 6.5 cents. The federal rate is 4 cents. There are sales and local levies in some areas.

The conference reports figures gathered from various sources, including the U.S. Public Roads Bureau, show that over the last 30 years some $8 billion in state taxes—gasoline, diesel fuel, bus and truck registration fees, and the like—have gone for non-highway purposes.

Figures compiled by the American Petroleum Institute show Americans paid approximately $7.2 billion in state and federal motor fuel taxes in 1965, three times the amount collected 15 years ago.

This organization is dedicated to the proposition that the motorist is entitled to a dollar's worth of highways and bridges for every dollar he puts out for gasoline and related taxes.

The conference has affiliated but autonomous organizations in all states except Alaska.

Uniformity Is Goal Uniformity in state automobile laws and higher safety standards are other goals of the organization, but the diversion to non-highway purposes of taxes paid by highway users is one of its principal targets.

The non-profit organization's membership includes automobile manufacturers, tire makers, the petroleum industry, trucker and bus groups, and civic and farm groups.

He's A Deserter-From Viet Cong

By TOM TIEDE
SAIGON, Viet Nam—(NEA)—
Each day the boy crouches in the dirt, his arms over his knees, his face jumping in defense of the insects.

He folds his fingers. He closes his eyes.
And he remembers how it was when the bombs fell on his home.

Skinny, almond-eyed Ta Long lived in a North Vietnamese village called Nam Cao. It was neither a pretty nor a happy place. Years of war creased the faces of his neighbors and signs of want were everywhere.

It had been this way always, it seemed to the boy; in his lifetime there had never been peace. But he felt better times would come.
He was told the war was being won and he believed it.

Although only 19 when he joined the Communist army, he had eight years of schooling and was thus enlisted as a sergeant.

It was an honor, he felt.
After all, what better career in these times than combat leadership?

They gave him a uniform, a salary (about 50 cents a month) and training. They gave him food, shelter and a submachine gun. He worked long and, when finished, had time only for sleep.
But he did not mind for the war was being won and better times were ahead.

Ta Long, the sergeant, had been of this mind and this rank nearly two years by the time
U. S. planes began to sweep over his homeland. It surprised him, but he said nothing. Anyway, he was told that no harm was being done.

He believed, of course.
Americans. A g r e s s o r s .
Murderers and cowards. If the planes ever came to the sergeant's village, he would spit at them and laugh.

They came and they rained and they whined . . . and they dropped bombs on the unlabeled, bridges and installations were the targets, but civilians occupied both.
Women wailed, children screamed, and the sergeant watched his pride and his people perish.

The planes came often after that.
Sometimes many, sometimes few, but always the same. One would hear them first, then see them and finally feel the vibrations of their deadly drop-

TA LONG: Crouched in the dirt, he remembers planes.

ings. There was only one defense—run.
And run they did; from every house, every shop, to the trails and roads leading to the safety of the mountains. They would say after each bombing, no harm has been done, the war was still being won.

But the sergeant saw differently. There was the lack of food, the rationing of clothing, the government classes, the political speeches, the daily discipline of living.

The bombings were more numerous, the suffering more horrible. And the good times, more distant than ever.

It was too much — too much war, too much sacrifice, to much lying. So Ta Long surrendered not long ago to the side of the bombs.

He is now a deserter and a prisoner of war.

He is broken in mind and manner, confused and not caring.
He is alone, defeated and discouraged.

Each day he sits crouched in the dirt, remembering the planes and the people in the mountains, and the good times that never came.

PIANIST ARRIVES IN CITY

Rosalyn Tureck To Prepare For Saturday Appearance

By JACK SHERIDAN
Avalanche-Journal Staff
Stepping from the train at Santa Fe Station Thursday night modishly (and warmly) be-furred from boots to bonnet, looking every inch the international star she is, Rosalyn Tureck, outstanding American-born pianist, arrived in Lubbock to prepare for her solo recital appearance as second attraction of the Lubbock Community Concerts Association's 1965-66 season to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday in the auditorium of Monterey High School.

Miss Tureck, or in concert stage parlance, Mme. Tureck, is an instantly engaging personality, warm and vibrant, with dancing dark eyes that flash and gleam with her evident graciousness to strange persons in a strange town. She has about her that peculiar aura that one finds seldom in any person, even those whose work takes them across the face of nations, a radiance of instantaneous friendship.

If Mme. Tureck felt any evident weariness after boarding a train following her Wednesday night performance in Topeka, Kans., crossing to Clovis, N. M., then doubling back to reach Lubbock she certainly gave no sign of it in the first few moments of her arrival in the city.
She left New York City at the first of the month and since has been making her way via the concert stage across the continent until, ultimately, she will be performing in California.
Travel is no new thing to Mme.
Tureck. She has been seen and heard repeatedly at all the great European music festivals; Edinburgh, Holland Festival; Bath, England; Venice, Italy; Brussels Fair; Zurich, Switzerland; ertrand; Scheveningen, Holland—the list is endless, the praise of her artistry in each boundless.
In addition to piano, she has given recitals on harpsichord and clavichord and, regardless of the instrument, she has reaped the highest accolades. She has been conductor, author, lecturer, teacher, founder of her own chamber orchestra, the Tureck Bach Players and she has made the works of Bach the framework of her unique and particular genius.

Plans To Practice
Mme. Tureck will be spending her time prior to the Saturday night recital in rest and in practicing, the latter the endless demand on the top-flight musician.
It will, incidentally, be interesting to the members of the Community Concerts Association who attend Saturday to know that the concert grand piano upon which Mme. Tureck will perform will be the same piano that was used Thursday night in Amarillo when a fellow artist Van Cliburn performed with the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra.

Mme. Tureck's program for Saturday will open with the Bach
Fantasia, C Minor, followed by Beethoven's Sonata in E Major, Opus 109 and Brahms' Variations and Fugue on a theme by Handel. Following the intermission the artist performs the Partita No. 2 in C minor by Bach.

Admission to Community Concerts Association concerts is by membership only. No tickets are sold at the door.

HOLLYWOOD ISN'T FOR HER

Young Star Misses Horse, Children In Her Home Town

By VERNON SCOTT
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Next to bubonic plague and atomic warfare, the most fearsome thing in the world is a stage mother.

Like the plague or a nuclear holocaust, the stage mother is a threat to civilization as we know it. She relentlessly pushes her offspring into the maw of show business with the persistence of a Mother Bloor.

Won't Be Stopped
 Nothing will stop her from proving to humanity that she has given birth to another Shirley Temple or Jackie Coogan.

Ask anyone in Hollywood. Would they rather break a leg or deal with a stage mother? It is, therefore, refreshing to encounter Mrs. Henry L. Badham (Mary) Badham, the mother of little Mary Badham, who won an Academy Award nomination four years ago in "To Kill a Mockingbird."

Back to Anonymity
 When the picture was completed, Mrs. Badham returned little Mary to a private girl's school in Birmingham, Ala., and anonymity.

There, for the past four years or so, Mary remained a little girl, crazy about horses and childish preoccupations. She remained a star in Hollywood, but an uncomplicated youngster in Alabama.

Now Mary is 17 and back in the movies again. She recently completed "This Property is Condemned" with Natalie Wood and immediately embarked on "Let's Kill Uncle," William Castle's new comedy.

But will she settle down in Hollywood? Will she prove that Shirley Temple was a flash in the pan?

No chance. Not with Mrs. Badham at the helm. Mary soon will be back in Birmingham riding her pet horse, "Traveler," and studying her three Rs.

Mary's an actress, but she's also our daughter," Mrs. Badham explained. "She's been offered television series, and other movie roles, but we don't want her to work that much."

She has plenty of time ahead of her."

Studies First
 Mary sat quietly at the Universal commissary lunch table, nodding agreement. "I don't want to act right now," she added. "I'm trying to catch up with my studies. And I miss the other kids."

Mary's father is a retired Air Force general and president of a prosperous company in Birmingham. Mrs. Badham was an actress in her native England. Economically there is no need for Mary to work, and Mrs. Badham knows enough about show biz to avoid its pitfalls.

They've seen to it that Mary's values are uncomplicated. "I wouldn't want to live in encounter Mrs. Henry L. Badham because I couldn't afford to keep a horse here," the youngster said. "But someday I'd love to make a Western so I could show how I can ride."

"But the real reason I don't want to live here is that when I'm in Hollywood I miss Birmingham very much. When I'm in Birmingham I don't miss Hollywood at all."

TRYING TO BUY SOME TIME

LBJ's 3 Tax Measures Are Temporary Revenue-Raisers

By STERLING F. GREEN WASHINGTON (AP) — With his $4.8 billion of quickie tax boosters, President Johnson is trying to buy some time.

Even if Congress approves them by March 15, as he has asked, the maneuver won't rule out any general tax increase. That still could come, in 1967 or 1968.

Depends On Viet Nam It all depends on Viet Nam. What happens there—an escalation to full-fledged war, a negotiated peace, or some condition in between—"must be at the center of our concerns," as Johnson told Congress last week.

Even if the fighting does not escalate but merely continues at its present intensity long enough, Johnson eventually will have to ask for a boost in income and corporate tax rates. His three tax measures are only temporary revenue-raisers.

If the hostilities do escalate seriously, a general tax increase would come sooner.

In the happier event that the guns cease firing in Viet Nam, the three revenue measures would simply run their course. They represent no permanent

STATUS CHANGED

Attorney To Appeal Draft Case

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — An attorney for two University of Michigan students, denied reinstatement of their college military deferment by a local draft board, says they will appeal to the Michigan Selective Service Appeals Board "and to the courts if necessary."

The students, Ronald Miller and Robert Sklar, both 19, and from neighboring Huntington Woods, were notified by Local Board No. 323 Thursday that their appeals for reinstatement had been denied.

Deferment Changed The youths were convicted of trespass after an anti-Viet Nam sit-in at the Ann Arbor draft board Oct. 15. Their college deferments were changed from deferred status to 1-A, or immediately available, shortly afterward.

"We are terribly disappointed but not surprised," said Ernest Mazey, director of the Michigan American Civil Liberties Union, which provided legal counsel to the students.

"Although the board invited legal briefs to be submitted on behalf of the students, they nevertheless proceeded to reclassify without the briefs being filed."

Mazey said both cases would be appealed to the Michigan Selective Service Appeals Board. If that fails, he added, appeals would be filed in civil courts.

A total of 13 of more than 50 Michigan students involved in the sit-in have been reclassified by their local boards. Miller and Sklar also appealed their convictions on the trespass charge.

Selective Service officials said students who took part in the Ann Arbor sit-in violated a section of the Universal Military Service and Training Act which bars interference with the operations of draft boards.

Crash Of U.S. Jet In Thai Town Probed

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. officials began an investigation today into the crash Thursday of a U.S. Air Force F105 Stafffighter which killed 14 villagers in northeastern Thailand.

The pilot of the plane ejected shortly before the crash and was rescued unhurt in the jungle region by a helicopter.

His identification was not available yet.

U.S. Embassy officials in Bangkok said an earlier report that 16 villagers were killed when the plane ploughed into Sam Har village was inaccurate. It was believed that two villagers reported killed had fled into the jungle.

Embassy officials said one villager was taken by helicopter to Nakorn Panom for medical treatment but his injuries were minor.

Because of confusion and poor communications with the remote village, it was not known if other villagers were injured. Officials said seven or eight huts were destroyed.

Earlier reports said the jet fighter-bomber, which was stationed at the Thai base of Tali, had an engine flameout.

Study Planned In Earthquake Area

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Three Washington University scientists will begin soon a geological study of southeast Missouri to map the crustal fault zone along which numerous earthquakes have occurred.

burden on economic growth. Harder To Erase By contrast, higher tax rates—once written into the law books—would be harder to get rid of.

The White House proposals would restore the auto and telephone excise taxes to their pre-New Year's rates until 1968; provide a graduated scale of rates for income tax withholding; and bring large corporations to a pay-as-you-go tax basis in one year instead of five.

If the economy should falter, the excise rates could be cut again, virtually overnight. The corporate tax speed-up could again be stretched out. Any overwithholding of income tax would flow back to consumers as tax refunds at the end of the year.

But more probably, the three devices would serve a useful anti-inflationary purpose in the period when "overheating" is a hazard — the months ahead when federal spending rolls up to a $112.8-billion a year rate.

Make Good Pledge Johnson thus would be enabled to make good his guns and butter pledge — his promise that the "Great Society" programs of education, health, welfare and manpower development will not be sacrificed to pay for arms or to curb inflation.

The restraining effect of the tax devices would begin to play out, presumably, at approximately the right time — the time when the big surge of defense contracts begin to subside.

If, instead, the fighting intensifies and the spending continues to rise sharply, Johnson still can turn to the potent and unused fiscal weapon, a general tax increase.

Some of his advisers are wishing right now that Johnson had the authority which President John F. Kennedy asked of Congress — standby power to raise or lower taxes temporarily, as needed to cope with slumps or inflationary booms.

Congress ignored Kennedy's plan, and Johnson is sure it would be a waste of breath to ask the lawmakers to relinquish any of their taxing power to the executive. But he asked once before that Congress streamline its tax-writing procedures for quick response to a presidential request for a temporary cut or increase.

His aides report that he is very likely to renew the request that Congress take such preparedness measures — after first providing the stop-gaps which, he says, are needed right now.

New Sewage Plants Given Indian Names

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — When officialdom wants to create a memorial to things past, it usually erects a plaque or builds a monument but not the Montgomery Water Works and Sewer Board.

The board has decided to name its three new sewage treatment plants after the three long-vanished Indian villages on the Alabama River — Towassa, Kulum, and Econchate. The board supplied no translations. The present city sewage plant is named Catoma, which means "shining waters."

World's largest underground copper mine is El Teniente in Chile.

Boy's Body Identified

MONROE, Mich. (AP) — A Toledo, Ohio, couple identified the body of a little boy as that of the 2-year-old son who, along with his mother, recently lived with them, police reported Thursday.

Soon after the identification of the body, found almost a week ago, Michigan state police issued a first degree murder warrant for Alberto Sanchez, 22, believed to be with the child's mother.

May Be In Valley
Texas authorities were notified the couple may be in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Michigan officials said that they believed Sanchez was en route to McAllen, Tex., or Reynosa, Mexico, on the Texas border.

However, the Bexar County sheriff's office at San Antonio said Sanchez had already fled to Mexico and that police at McAllen were questioning relatives in an effort to learn of his whereabouts.

The mother, Carolina Montalvo, 20; Sanchez, and the boy, Eddie, had lived for a time last fall with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gonzalez in Toledo, police in the Ohio city said.

The Gonzalezes identified the body Thursday, but authorities did not disclose what led them to the couple.

Eddie Montalvo was born Oct. 29, 1963, in Adrian, Mich., police said.

His body was discovered Saturday by a hunter in a wooded outgrowth on an abandoned farm near this southern Michigan town.

An autopsy disclosed he had been beaten to death, police said.

Final Exams At Tech Scheduled To End Today

Final examinations for the fall semester at Texas Tech were scheduled to end at 1:30 p.m. today, and registration for the spring semester will get underway Monday.

Orientation for new students and freshmen registration are slated at 1:30 p.m. Monday. Registration for freshmen and upperclassmen will continue from 8 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 6 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, and from 8 a.m. to noon Thursday.

Classes will get underway at 8 a.m. next Friday.

Graduate Registration
Graduate students unable to complete enrollment during the regular registration period can register from 8 a.m. to noon Jan. 29.

One of the first spring semester campus activities will be the play, "The Confident Clerk" by T. S. Eliot scheduled at 8:15 p.m. Jan. 28-29 and at 3 p.m. Jan. 30 in the University Theatre.

At 2 p.m. Jan. 29 the Texas Tech cagers will play the Rice Owls in Houston.

Check-Up Clinic Is Postponed

The Monterey Leadership Check-Up Clinic, which was to get underway today and continue through Saturday, has been postponed until Feb. 25-26, according to Ann Armistead, chairman for the event.

The speakers scheduled for the clinic, which were to include Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard, Mrs. Joyce Brown of Abilene, assistant executive secretary of the Texas Association of Student Councils, and Robert T. Davis, Austin, director of the Attorney General's Youth Conference, will be on hand for the clinic in February.

The postponement came after students from area schools called to cancel reservations for the clinic this morning.

Tulia Banquet Is Postponed

TULIA (Special) — Indefinite postponement was announced this morning for the Tulia Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture banquet that had been scheduled tonight.

Thursday night snow in excess of five inches, with blowing snow conditions continuing today, forced cancellation of the meeting as planned.

Charles Sharp is chairman of arrangements, and new officers include Don Bookout, president; C. W. Reeves, vice president; and Sharp, treasurer.

Shallowater 4-H Club Holds Meet

SHALLOWATER (Special) — New officers of the 4-H Club here conducted their first meeting since taking office as 15 members and six adult leaders met Thursday at First State Bank building.

Gayle McMenamy presided and the secretary, Kay McMenamy, and Pam Thomas participated in the program. Miss Thomas was elected recreation chairman. Jan Kassahn, reporter and program chairman, introduced Mrs. Kenneth Shropshire, Shallowater, who spoke on first aid and demonstrated artificial respiration.

Karen McMenamy was elected a candidate for the livestock princess contest.

THE EASY WAY—While motorists were sliding about in their cars this morning, this contraption—motorized skis—moved on the snow with ease. The pretty girls shown are, from left, Paula Davis, 3512 46th St., and Mrs. Charles E. Smith, 515-A N. Ave. V, employees of the Avalanche-Journal classified advertising department. # Four Sentenced Following Pleas Four persons were sentenced on pleas of guilty this morning by Judge Pat S. Moore, County Court-at-Law No. 2.

Benton Kirven Jr., 51, of Idaho, was assessed $50 and court costs. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor in the purchase of intoxicants for a 16-year-old youth.

Others sentenced were Peggie Walker, 25, 125 E. Queen St., $100 and costs, and Joe Situenes, 37, 2715 Erskine St., $80 and costs, both charged with check law violation, and Eliseo Guana, 25, 318 N. Ave. S., $150 and costs and three days in jail, DWI.

Pleading innocent and placed under bonds by Judge Edwin H. Boedeker, County Court-at-Law No. 1, were Janet Jackson, 25, 2110 Birch St., Betty Childress, 25, 1709 Ave. D, and Dorothy Bishop, 31, 1719 Ave. D, all charged with shoplifting, and Mrs. J. B. White, 43, 3627 50th St., check law violation.

ROBERT A. EDWARDS

AT ANNUAL MEET: Robert Edwards Named To First Federal Board

Robert A. Edwards was named a new director of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Lubbock at the annual meeting of its board Thursday in the home office, 1120 14th St.

He also was elevated from vice president to executive vice president and treasurer.

Amos H. Howard was re-elected chairman of the board, with H. B. Bryan as president, Pearl H. Fryville as vice president and secretary, and Donald Tapp as vice president. Bryan and James L. Quicksall were re-elected as directors.

Promotions Listed
Several promotions were announced by Bryan at the afternoon session.

Weldon Garrett, Charles B. Perry and Charley R. Pope were promoted from assistant secretaries to assistant vice presidents.

Jerry West was named assistant treasurer. Delbert Nunn was appointed loan servicing officer, and Paris D. Burnham was named as appraiser.

Other directors of the association include J. D. Hassell Jr., J. Louis Murfee Sr., L. Edwin Smith and George W. Spinning.

Edwards, 4805 16th St., joined First Federal in August 1955, became auditor in 1957 and was named vice president and treasurer in 1959.

Dr. Jim Swink Will Serve In Viet Nam

TYLER (UPI) — Dr. Jim Swink, once best-known as "All-American Jim Swink of Texas Christian," is to be inducted into the Army for service in Viet Nam.

Swink was a standout half-back with TCU who led the football team to two trips to the Cotton Bowl in the 1950s.

He studied medicine and has been a practicing physician in Tyler more than three years.

He owed the Army two years of service under a reserve program and will be sent to Viet Nam, in his capacity as a doctor, after a month's training at Ft. Sam Houston in San Antonio.

Mrs. Norma Rhodes Rites Are Pending

Funeral services were pending at noon today at Henderson Funeral Directors for Mrs. Norma Emerson Rhodes, 23, Carlisle, who was killed about 11 p.m. Tuesday when her car skidded out of control on an icy highway west of Lubbock and overturned.

Sgt. Grady Rhodes, husband of the Lubbock waitress, is serving in Viet Nam.

Survivors include the husband, a son, Grady Clinton; two daughters, Beverly Loraine and Tammy Lynn, all of the home; a brother, Gerald Emerson, 2235 Auburn; a sister, Mrs. Martha K. Chester, 4508 47th St., and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Emerson, Carlisle.

City Man Is Found Guilty In Slaying

Surlester Hereford, 56-year-old Lubbock Negro ball bondsman, was found guilty today in 140th District Court of murder with malice and was assessed a probationary term of 10 years by Judge Robert H. Bean.

The prosecution waived the death penalty for the non-jury proceeding, and Hereford pleaded "Nolo Contendere" or no contest, officials said.

Edwards, 4805 16th St., joined First Federal in August 1955, became auditor in 1957 and was named vice president and treasurer in 1959.

Hereford was indicted in the gunshot slaying of another Negro, Booker T. Malone, 34, at Hereford's residence, 3603 Beech St., July 12, 1963.

The defendant was found guilty in a jury trial here Dec. 5, 1963, but the sentence was found defective by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The appellate court reversed and remanded the 72nd District Court conviction because the jury verdict sentenced him to "confinement in the penitentiary for a period of 10 . . ." but failed to specify years.

The alteration in Hereford's front yard was the aftermath of a gambling-game argument. Hereford claimed that he shot three times as Malone advanced, with a butcher knife.

Also pleading guilty before the court was Benton Stout, 17, of Lubbock, who received a probationary term of three years.

He was charged in the burglary of the W. M. Davis residence, 109 Ave. W, on Oct. 14. The court ordered restitution of $89, officials said.

$2,568 Awarded In Damage Suit

A 9th District Court civil jury Thursday afternoon set damages at $2,568 for Luid W. Carlee, Lubbock, in a suit against Pinkie's Liquor Stores of Odessa, Inc., Judge Howard C. Davidson presided.

Carlee had asked $4,000 judgment alleging he suffered injuries June 8, 1963, when an automatic door at the company's store on the Tahoka Highway closed rapidly and struck him as he was walking through.

Kansas Man Is Charged In Robbery

LOVINGTON (Special) — Guy Wellman Holloway Jr., 36, was charged late Thursday here on two counts including robbery while armed and the second count of fugitive from justice in Kansas.

He reportedly had been charged with possession of firearms while on parole.

Holloway's arrest Thursday came after a hitch-hiker told police of being shot and wounded while fleeing a motorist who gave him a ride, then robbed him.

Holloway, of Wichita Kan., remained in county jail here today after bonds totaling $11,000 had been set by Peace Justice Drayton E. Wasson. Bond of $1,000 was set on the robbery while armed charge, and bond of $10,000 was set on the fugitive from justice charge.

Lea County Sheriff John Pannell identified the alleged robbery victim as Lones Joshua Wynn, 42, Harlan, Ky., who was in a Hobbs hospital with a left shoulder wound.

Holloway was shot and wounded slightly by police at Carlsbad, southwest of Hobbs, when he was arrested Thursday for questioning in the case.

A rifle was found in the prisoner's car.

Hitchhiking To Tucson
Sheriff Pannell quoted Wynn as saying he was hitchhiking to Tucson and accepted a ride out of Hobbs late Wednesday. Wynn said the driver stopped the car about 20 miles west of Hobbs, took about $20 and a pocket watch from Wynn, and then told Wynn to start running.

Wynn, the sheriff reported, said he started running across an open field when he heard several rifle shots behind him. One bullet struck him in the back of the left shoulder.

Carlsbad officers found a car fitting a description given by Wynn parked at a motel.

Carlsbad Police Capt. Fisher said he and other officers entered a motel room of a man fitting a description given by Wynn. Fisher said that when the man reached under a pillow, he was shot in the left hand and right arm by city police Sgt. LeRoy Payne. No weapon was found in the room.

AT MORTON:
Conference On Crime Still "On"

MORTON (Special) — Despite speculation based on severe weather conditions, the Morton Chamber of Commerce announced at midmorning today the first annual Cochran County Area Youth Conference on Crime will be conducted Saturday as scheduled.

The announcement came after the keynote speaker, Robert T. Davis, Austin, executive director of the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime, notified the chamber that he will be unable to attend the conference because of the weather.

Also canceled

One of the speakers for the 16 seminars planned, Highway Patrolman Ralph Bristow, Wichita Falls, also cancelled his appearance at the conference.

A chamber spokesman said an effort was being made to replace the two men with speakers from Lubbock, but there has been no confirmation on whether or not such arrangements were made.

Several Lubbock men were already scheduled to appear on the program, but it is possible that they may also be forced to cancel appearances because of the weather.

The conference is scheduled to open at 9 a.m. in the Cochran County Auditorium where registration and a general assembly are slated. The seminars are to be presented at Morton High School.

Cabin At Lake Heavily Damaged

Fire about 4:30 a.m. today reportedly destroyed furnishings and interior of a three-bedroom summer home at Buffalo Lakes.

Lubbock firemen were called to the cabin owned by J. B. Miller Jr., 2204 60th St., and first reports were that heavy damage resulted from the early morning blaze. Miller had not inspected damage late this morning, but he said he had been told by other lake residents that the loss was heavy.

He said he believed the fire started from a butane wall heater that had been left burning to prevent freezing of plumbing.

No one was in the frame house at the time of the fire. It is located on the southwest side of the upper lake.

Two-Car Garages Declared "Must"

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Officials in the fashionable suburb of Edina aren't promising two cars in every garage, but they are making sure residents are prepared for them.

A new village ordinance requires that all new houses have two car garages. George Hite, public works director, says the purpose is to keep cars off the streets — and anyway 98 per cent of the houses built in Edina in the last two years have two-car garages.

SHE MADE OUR BOYS LAUGH IN SOUTH VIET NAM
Martha Raye, Wearing Camouflage Suit And Special Forces Green Beret, Returns From 3 1/2 Months In War-Torn Country

Comedienne Back From South Viet Nam With Vivid Memory Of Narrow Escape

By DORIS KLEIN
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedienne Martha Raye says she missed being trapped in a bloody Viet Cong battle at a remote South Viet Nam outpost by only 29 minutes.

"Our helicopter took off from Plei Me just 29 minutes before they attacked," said Martha on her return Thursday from 3 1/2 months of entertaining troops.

The siege last fall lasted eight days and resulted in many Viet Cong and allied dead.

Still dressed in combat boots, Special Forces green beret and a camouflage "tiger" suit, she arrived home 12 pounds lighter.

"They got to calling me 'Maggie of the Boondocks,'" said Martha, 49, who put on 400 performances for GIs in the treacherous jungles and rice paddies.

It was the comedienne's second tour in a year in Viet Nam, and her third war World War II and Korea came before.

"They were all great guys," said Martha.

"But those boys over in Viet Nam — they know what they're fighting about a little more than the others did. If they don't, they learn in the first 24 hours."

"What really gets you is what they do besides fighting," said Martha. "They've got a medical program going for the villagers in the tiniest towns."

Martha sang and told jokes at some of the smallest outposts — sometimes manned by only two GIs.

At first she was accompanied by bass player Ollie Harris and guitarist Earl Colbert but they had to return to the United States.

Then the Army gave her three GIs who could play bass and guitars.

Only one thing really bothered the GI she met, said Martha. That was the anti-war demonstrators at home.

"The guys told me to try to put some sense into those knooks when I got here," she said.

Mrs. J. B. Meador Dies In Hospital

Mrs. J. B. (Corra) Meador, 77, Rt. 1, Lorenzo, died at 12:15 a.m. today in Highland Hospital. She had been in ill health about a month.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at Sanders Memorial Chapel with the Rev. W. O. Donley, pastor of Roosevelt Baptist Church, and the Rev. Tony Longval, pastor of Monterey Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in Resthaven Memorial Park under direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

A resident of Lubbock County 45 years, Mrs. Meador formerly lived four years in New Mexico before moving to Acuff in 1921. She was a member of Roosevelt Baptist Church.

Survivors are her husband, J. B. Meador; three daughters, Mrs. Fred Kemper, San Diego, Mrs. Jerry Biffel, Anton, and Mrs. Floyd Tidwell, 3414 46th Street; two sons, Alton Meador and Morris Meador, both of Acuff; two sisters, Mrs. M. B. Jenkins, Jacksonville, Tex., and Mrs. A. J. Olliff, Santa Monica, Calif.; four brothers, T. N. Haws and A. B. Haws, both of Jacksonville, Calif.; and R. D. Haws, Houston, and R. D. Haws, Modesto, Calif.; 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Grandsons will be pallbearers.

City Man Overcome By Heater's Fumes

Richard Grady Sprott, 34, 4910 15th St., was admitted to West Texas Hospital this morning after he was overcome by carbon monoxide gas at his residence.

Firemen blamed the incident on the weather.

Investigators said wind blowing down a vent of a heater caused carbon monoxide gas to accumulate in the house.

A Rix Funeral Home ambulance took Sprott to West Texas Hospital shortly after 6 a.m. He was listed in satisfactory condition early this afternoon.

HIG OPENING FOR WOODY ALLEN
Woody Allen, who gets mixed up in people's minds with Steve Allen, Marty Allen, Allen Funt and Woody Herman, had a vastly successful opening at the Hotel Americana Royal Box—he's of course the gifted humorist of "What's New Pussycat?" who scratches his head right down to the bone and chews the microphone cord. He claimed he'd been married by a reformed rabbi—a very reformed rabbi—a Nazi. There was the cannibal boy who took his fiancée home to meet his parents and they ate her. ## THE ALMANAC: Today In History

Today is Friday, Jan. 21, the 21st day of 1966 with 344 to follow.
The moon is new.
No morning star.
The evening stars are Jupiter, Venus, Saturn and Mars.
Those born today are under the sign of Aquarius. French fashion designer Christian Dior was born on this day in 1905.
On this day in history:
In 1861, Jefferson Davis resigned from the U.S. Senate, 12 days before Mississippi seceded from the Union.
In 1918, the Soviet Council ruled all debts incurred by the former Russian Czarist government null and void.
In 1954, the first atomic powered submarine, Nautilus, was launched at Groton, Conn.
In 1965, Indonesia formally resigned from the United Nations.
A thought for the day—Harry Truman: "The responsibility of the great states is to serve and not dominate the world."

Future Spacemen To Talk Through Hats
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Future spacemen will be talking through their hats, says an electric firm. Tiny communications systems, developed by Westinghouse will be built into astronaut's helmets.
The two-way radio units, called transceivers, will be self-contained and allow astronauts to move about freely in the spacecraft without any connecting wires. The system also contains an audio control center which would relay messages from astronauts outside the spacecraft.

TODAY'S STOCK PRICES

Blue Chips Weaken On Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks moved lower today amid pressure on blue chips and some recently popular defense and electronics issues. Trading was fairly active.

Buying and selling of low-priced stocks continued heavy. But price changes among the more active of these stocks were narrow.

Rails were weak. New York Central and Pennsylvania both dropped about 2 points. The Interstate Commerce Commission indicated a ruling on their proposed merger is still some weeks away.

Motors were mixed, with General Motors off more than a point. Steels were irregularly lower.

Electronics Lose Ground. Electronics issues lost ground. Zenith was down more than 2 points. RCA and active traded Sperry Rand lost fractions.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.23 at noon to 844.57.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon eased 1.3 to 366.7, with industrials off 2.0, rails down 1.3 and utilities up 2 points.

The Civil Aeronautics Board indicated structural design and some materials in the 727 airliner may have contributed to some deaths in an air crash last November.

Douglas fell about 2. The Italian Government said it has deferred decision on Alitalia's purchase of 28 Douglas DC-9 jet airliners.

Off Fractions. United Aircraft and General Dynamics were off fractions. Chemicals also were lower, with Eastman Kodak and Dupont both down about a point.

Heavy Snow Blankets Area; Schools Close

Snyder, Ira, Fluvanna, Hermleigh, Muleshoe, Lazhuddie, Sudan, Friona, Springlake, Bovina, Bula, Pep, Lamesa and Olton. Lubbock Public Schools remained open, but school buses did not run. St. Elizabeth's, Christ the King and Reese Air Force Base schools, Milam's Children's Center and Mechem School and Kindergarten closed.

The snow came just as final examinations of the fall semester were being completed at Texas Tech and numerous students were planning weekend trips home.

Salt-Spreaders Busy

Lubbock Street Dept. concentrated on major thoroughfares and intersections. Street Supt. Ralph Campbell urged motorists to use major thoroughfares in lieu of residential streets where drifting snow had piled high.

Four salt spreaders worked throughout the night and were still at work Friday. Campbell said over 40 tons of rock salt was used in covering 80 miles of streets.

The city's five road graders were used to clear section line roads near the city's edge.

Because of their heavy weight Campbell said they would not be used on city curb and gutter clearing unless snowfall became excessive.

More Salt Expected

Campbell said 100 tons of rock salt was expected to arrive Friday to bolster the city's dwindling supply. Another 100 tons is expected to arrive Monday.

A thin coating of ice on runways at Municipal Airport kept commercial air traffic at a standstill through noon today, and airlines reported cancellations of all flights through 1:35 p.m. About 400 passengers were delayed by the layer of ice.

Maintenance crews kept runways free from snow, but the glaze made braking conditions poor and landing hazardous. Two transient private flight departed during the morning. Their takeoffs weren't affected particularly by the glaze, according to airport officials.

Branch International cancelled all flights through 7:30 p.m. today and that flight was still depending on new developments in the weather. Continental Airlines still held hopes to bring in a 1:35 p.m. flight, but hopes were slim at noon.

Trans Texas Airways cancelled all flights except a 6:01 p.m. departure for Houston, but didn't expect to know for sure about this one until 5 p.m.

Pioneer Natural Gas Co. officials said that gas consumption was up due to the heavy heat load, but no difficulty was met in keeping pressure in the city lines at the normal 7 pounds.

There hasn't been much wind, and there isn't as much increase in consumption as one might suppose," said the company's chief dispatcher, L. B. Rogers.

Snow Is Deep

Snow depths reported by Lubbock Weather Station up to 8 a.m. today included 2 to 4 inches at Brownfield, 3 to 4 inches at Floydada, 6 inches at Hereford, 4 inches at Lubbock, 2 1/2 inches at Lockettville, 2 inches at Hereford, 2 inches at Morton, 2 1/2 inches at Plainview, 3 to 4 inches at Post, 4 inches at Seminole, 4 1/2 at Spur and 4 at Tahoka.

Mrs. Gerry Burton at Snyder said six inches covered the ground there, all public schools in Scurry County were closed, and the courthouse was closed because of absence of heat.

At Tulla, Marie Harris, Avalanche-Journal correspondent, said 5 to 5 1/2 inches of snow had been received and snow still was falling. The Tulla Chamber of Commerce banquet which was scheduled for tonight was postponed until an indefinite time. Tulla schools were closed.

At Texico on the Texas-New Mexico border, Mrs. Maxine Hodges, said at the Circle C Truckstop Cafe that wind was blowing snow back on U.S. Hwy. 70-84 as fast as it was being removed by snowplow. She said snow was about a foot deep and drifts were knee-deep in places. Texico schools were closed.

Snow To End

Snow amounts on the ground in the Panhandle at 6 a.m., as reported by Amarillo Weather Station, included 4 inches at Amarillo, 5 at Pampa, 1 at Perryton, 5 at Childress, and 2 at Dalhart.

The snow is forecast to end late this afternoon in the western portion and during the night in the remainder of Northwest Texas. An easterly line fell in the South Llano area of Amarillo cancelled out of Amarillo airport.

The mercury dipped to 5 degrees above zero at Dalhart and 6 above at Pampa, near the north edge of the Texas Panhandle.

All Routes Open

Officials said all routes remained open but motorists were urged to make only emergency trips. Traffic moved no faster than 20 miles per hour in many areas.

The snow had gradually advanced toward the east and south during the night and was accompanied by fog. It pushed past San Antonio to the south into the Fort Worth-Dallas vicinity and close to Waco before daylight.

Leading interference for the storm was a band of mixed snow, freezing drizzle or sleet up to 100 miles wide.

Rising winds whipped the snow into small drifts by early morning around Dalhart, Borger, Shamrock and Childress. It was expected to blow even harder by late in the day.

Snow continued to fall as both Amarillo and Childress measured 5 inches on the ground, generally over a foundation of ice from snowfall and rain two days earlier.

Schools Are Closed

Early announcements of schools closing for the day to save pupils the danger of travel came from Midland for all the counties from Lindsay, near Gainesville in Cooke County, and from Bridgeport, northwest of Fort Worth.

Weather Bureau observers expected the deepest collections of snow in a belt 120 miles wide and centering on a line from Midland to Oklahoma City. They predicted winds up to 30 miles per hour in gusts through this corridor.

Southward from the colder sections, drizzling rain continued in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, along the coast and at numerous other points over South Texas. Temperatures weren't far above freezing at some places in the south.

Mercury Skids

At the same time, however, the snow stopped along the north edge of the Panhandle as the mercury retreated close to zero.

Forecasts called for snow or freezing rain to linger until tonight in the northwest and north central parts of the state, and to spread over the eastern two-thirds of Texas Saturday. Occasional rain was expected to continue in the south.

FIVE DIE IN FIRE

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — Five persons died in a fire that destroyed a three-story apartment house here early today. Police said the victims were caught in their sleep.

Mrs. Morris A. Waters of Beeton community, has returned home following spinal surgery. She entered St. Mary's Hospital here on Jan. 7 and was released Thursday.

Organizational meeting of the All-City Youth Council, which was to be conducted at 5 p.m. Saturday at Monterey High School, has been postponed indefinitely because of bad weather. The new date for the meeting is to be announced.

A meeting of the Hub of the Plains Barracks, 1489, Veterans of World War I has been called off due to bad weather. It was scheduled for next Monday at Hodges Community Center. Sid Lowery, commander, said a new meeting time will be announced.

The meeting of the South Plains Junior Stamp Club originally scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today at the Municipal Garden and Arts Center has been called off because of bad weather, according to Judy Laney, president. J. L. Taggart, president of the senior club had been scheduled to speak to the junior club, whose members are between the ages of 6 and 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Price and son are leaving this weekend to Independence, Kan., where Price will manage a Woolworth store. He was manager of the downtown Woolworth store here from 1959 until its recent closing.

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision about 10:50 a.m. today at 4th and Quaker Avenues, according to police. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bass, 4827 11th St., were treated and released from Methodist Hospital. Beth Faulkner, 14, 5002 24th St., was reported admitted for treatment of a shoulder injury.

which Moro's government took a beating was by secret ballot. Every Rome newspaper agreed that "snipers" within Moro's own Christian Democrat party voted against him under cover of secrecy.

There have been increasing signs that his center-left government was running into trouble since fiery Amintore Fanfani resigned as foreign minister Dec. 28 after he came home from New York, where he had served as president of the United Nations General Assembly.

Fanfani, who favors the center-left formula, has opposed Moro in the past. Fanfani leads a strong left-wing element in the Christian Democrat party, and has had considerable support of the Socialist parties in the coalition.

Whether Fanfani was actively behind the sniping against Moro in the chamber was not learned. Moro won two votes of confidence in Parliament this month, one Jan. 14 after Foreign Minister Amintore Fanfani resigned and one Wednesday defeating Liberal party objections to the bill.

The vote against the bill was 250-231. Fifty-six of Moro's Christian Democrats were absent but Rome's two major morning independent newspapers, Il Messaggero and Il Tempo, said obviously many of Moro's party had voted with the opposition under cover of the secret ballot.

There have been signs of growing opposition to Moro in his party for the past two weeks as a result of Fanfani's resignation.

Fanfani told a party rally near Grosseto Sunday that Moro could not solve his center-left coalition's problems with a mere government reshuffle but only with a full-scale government crisis.

Fanfani heads a left-wing Christian Democrat group and often has had strong support from the Socialist and Democratic Socialist partners in the government coalition.

When the Chamber of Deputies resumed its session this morning, Communist Deputy Pietro Ingrao demanded that a government crisis be declared.

He said all parliamentary activity should be suspended until the government recognized that Thursday night's defeat "represented a lack of confidence in the government."

Benigno Zaccagnini, Chamber of Deputies spokesman for the Christian Democratic party, replied in the chamber that the vote had not been presented as a vote of confidence. He said if the opposition wanted a showdown, it could call for a vote of confidence today.

The association said Thursday the figure was an increase of 52 per cent over the year set in 1964. About 75 per cent of the newspaper was used by newspapers.

some undisclosed capital. He said there had been "no favorable response" and declined to answer questions aimed at determining whether there had been an unfavorable response.

Hanoi and Peking, in their public statements have bitterly denounced President Johnson's peace offensive as a "fraud" designed to cover up American "aggression."

The secretary, in response to a question, said he fully recognized the danger that the Viet Nam conflict might ignite a wider war in Asia. He declared, however, that the Communists must realize there will be great perils to them in that event.

The peace initiative Rusk declared, brought an "overwhelmingly favorable response" except from those who could in fact sit down and make peace.

No Hint Given Rusk was asked point blank if the administration was ready to resume bombing of North Viet Nam, but he declined to give any hint.

He commented that the questioner could not expect him to go into questions of military policy or actions. Rusk noted, however, that President Johnson had made clear in his speech in Independence, Mo., Thursday, that "we will honor our commitments to the people of South Viet Nam."

The United States interrupted the bombing of North Viet Nam Christmas Eve, Rusk said, after a number of governments urged publicly and privately that this might improve chances of peace.

Before the Christmas pause, he said, the United States tried to elicit from Hanoi some statement of willingness to make a reciprocal peace move "but nothing was forthcoming from Hanoi on that subject."

The question the United States was repeatedly asking, Rusk said, was "are you interested in peace?"

To this question, he said, Washington still was awaiting some word from Hanoi.

Rusk was asked about the proposal by U.N. Secretary General Thant that the Communist Viet Cong be invited to participate in some sort of coalition government as a step toward peace.

He said the U.S. view is that the makeup of the government should be determined by the people of South Viet Nam and not imposed from outside.

As for President Johnson's peace offensive, the secretary reported: "I regret I can not report to you any positive and encouraging response to the hopes of the overwhelming majority of mankind."

"We shall do what we can to bring peace to Southeast Asia, and do what we must to prevent the success of a cruel aggression."

"What we need is something serious from Hanoi pointing toward peace and this we have not had," he said.

Rusk was asked about a report by Sen. Mike Mansfield warning of dangers of the expansion of conflict into other parts of Asia.

"There is always a danger," Rusk said, when aggressors seek to use force. But he added "danger exists for the other side as well."

Pressed further as to whether the United States was considering resuming the bombing of North Viet Nam, Rusk repeated he would not "get into future moves" at this time.

PONDER GREETING

Coeds Due Back At Reservation After "Exile"

BAYFIELD, Wis. (UPI) — Two college coeds, whose antipovary efforts at a desolate Indian reservation drew repercussions in Washington, return from "exile" Saturday to an uncertain reception.

The Office of Economic Opportunity said Thursday that Miss Jill Hunt, 22, Kewanee, Ill., and Miss Judy Ruthman, 20, St. Louis, have been assigned to resume their Volunteers in Service to America work which they had to suspend at the Red Cliff Reservation.

In what a Washington official called a "dispute between old squaws and young bucks with two little white girls caught in the middle," the Chippewa Tribal Council voted early in December to oust the girls. Council members claimed that since beginning their work in October, the girls had not cooperated in specific programs wanted by the Indians.

Miss Hunt and Miss Ruthman were sent to leave and mustered support from the younger members of the tribe. The OEO, fearing for their safety, removed the girls. Then a second council vote resulted in a request to VISTA that the workers be returned.

The OEO, terming the second vote "gratifying," dispatched a federal investigator to Red Cliff to make sure the girls could work effectively and safely.

Mrs. Alex Gokee and Mrs. Henry Bretteuse, whose husbands are on the tribal council, expressed "shock" that the same workers were returning.

Mrs. Gokee said she was "surprised" that the VISTA officials would allow them to come back, considering the reaction that occurred when they were here.

As word of the "group art" project spread, there appeared, in addition to more painters, cops and critics.

Campus police tried to charge the students with damaging university property. But administration officials, loath to stand in the way of art, told police to allow the painting to continue.

Discernible on the finished mural are a fuzzy red caterpillar, a three-foot long black grasshopper, a big red, yellow and black roulette wheel, a hard to identify animal with a yellow candle in a holder for an eye and a red halo over its head and an hourglass-shaped figure which might be a woman's.

Third Beatle Gets Married

EPSOM, England (UPI) — George Harrison became the third Beatle to get married today when he wed model Pattie Boyd in secret ceremonies here.

Harrison, 22, and Miss Boyd, 21, met in March, 1964, when they both were making the hit movie "A Hard Day's Night." Harrison is known as the "quiet" Beatle.

The wedding was a closely guarded secret shared only by relatives and very close friends. It was announced half an hour after the late morning ceremony at the Epsom Registry Office.

Brian Epstein, the Beatles' manager, was best man. Among those present were Harrison's mother, Mrs. D. Gayer-Jones, Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Harrison, and Paul McCartney, now the only unmarried Beatle.

American War Dead Now 1,750

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in combat in Viet Nam has reached 1,750, surpassing the totals for the Spanish-American and Mexican Wars.

A total of 1,733 Americans were killed in combat in the Spanish-American war, and 385 in the Mexican War. The Korean War took the lives of 33,629 American servicemen.

The Pentagon's weekly summary Thursday showed 68 U.S. servicemen died in Viet Nam combat last week. The total of wounded for the week was 354, bringing the number since Jan. 1, 1961, to 8,357.

The number of missing decreased by nine to 140, and the number known to be held prisoner went up one to 26.

STARTS POP ART MURAL

Modern 'Tom Sawyer' Gets University Fence Painted

CHICAGO (AP) — Taking a page from Tom Sawyer, a University of Chicago student has pioneered "group art" and transformed a drab wooden fence into a thing of beauty.

Well, there may be some question as to beauty, but it is colorful.

The student, Michael Sorkin, 17, has said this thing about ugly gray fences I can't stand them."

There was a 6-foot high, half-block-long ugly gray fence alongside the construction site of a new chemistry laboratory on the Chicago campus. Sorkin decided it needed a mural.

He persuaded three friends it would be fun to paint a fence, though he didn't make them vie for the privilege the way Tom Sawyer did.

And when the four went to work with red, yellow, black and white paint, everybody else wanted to get into the act.

Campus police tried to charge the students with damaging university property. But administration officials, loath to stand in the way of art, told police to allow the painting to continue.

Bomb Is Left At Austin Firm

AUSTIN (AP) — The service manager of an automatic transmission firm arrived at work early today and found a home-made bomb in a red shoe box just inside the door of the building.

"I put it on the desk and heard a ticking noise," said Clint Call. "I didn't take the strings off the box, but I raised a corner and saw the clock. Then I took it off."

Call took the box outside and called police, who blocked off traffic in the area. A demolition squad from Bergstrom Air Force Base dismantled the device and said it was expertly wired.

The shoe box had been dropped through an open section of a glass door, which had a section removed so customers could leave keys after the business closed.

Cases involving five other doctors are to be considered today, the board said.

TWO ARRESTED

Burglaries In City Are Cleared Up

City patrolmen reported two burglaries cleared early today with the arrest of two men who drove out of a service station without headlights.

Charged with burglary were Dwayne Rhea Millman, 25, 1504 21st St., and L. D. Collier, 43, 1906 15th St.

The pair was arrested a short distance from Shamrock service station, 301 Ave. H.

An alert had been broadcast on the car occupied by the suspects, officers said.

Checked Earlier Earlier at 12:55 a.m. today, patrolman H. E. Brink had checked on the car at McLean's station, 2302 Clovis Road. The driver said he just needed water for the car, Brink reported. But at 1:45 a.m., Brink found the station had been burglarized and two vending machines looted.

He reported descriptions of boot and tire tracks and the car he checked previously.

At the Shamrock station, patrolman R. L. Newton spotted the vehicle. Officers said beer, shoe, and car tracks were found there and were matched with those of the suspects and their car. Found in the car were tools taken from the station and also a bag with about $86 in it and a receipt of Lubbock Cigarette Service, also identified as taken from the Shamrock station.

A safe job was reported this morning at Horkey Oil Co., 406 Eriskine St. Detective R. J. Mullins said a safe in a storage room was tipped over and a cutting torch used to break through the bottom. Police said at noon that a large quantity of trading stamps were reported missing.

Ross Spencer, 4317 46th St., told police a box of tools valued at $250 was stolen from his pickup truck at the residence Thursday night.

Deadline Set On Questioning Liz And Burton

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Studio attorneys have less than a week to complete oral questioning of actress Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, actor Richard Burton, before the couple leaves for engagements in Europe.

Federal Judge Thurmond Clarke Thursday ordered attorneys for 20th Century-Fox to conclude the questioning by next Wednesday on four cases before the court involving the actress and studio over the motion picture "Cleopatra."

The motion picture company claims that Miss Taylor's "illicit conduct" with Burton during filming in Rome cost the studio millions of dollars.

Miss Taylor's attorney, Milton Rudin, said she had already undergone 12 days of questioning, and that she and Burton had professional commitments to keep.

Move For World Peace Honors Harry Truman

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—In far-away Jerusalem and in Independence leaders of two nations launched a movement toward world peace in the name of Harry S. Truman.

A multimillion dollar peace center named for the former president will be built in Israel. That concept was praised on all sides Thursday.

Truman led David Noyes, an associate read part of his statement.

"It is all too obvious," Truman wrote, "that if we do not abolish war on this earth, then surely one day, war will abolish us from the earth."

President Johnson flew from Washington, bringing many of Truman's Cabinet members and staff leaders.

Seated in the auditorium of the presidential library, the 81-year-old Truman listened to speeches by President Johnson, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and others for 90 minutes. Obviously tired when his turn came, he gave his statement to Noyes to read.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Swiss-born chef who knows the culinary route from pate to pastrami is stepping into the White House shoes of the Frenchman whose continental dishes palled on the presidential palate.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Johnson administration's blueprint for strengthening the armed forces contains two strong indications that it intends to avoid calling Reservists or National Guardsmen to active duty.

One is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement to Congress that more support-type units must be provided for the regular Army, "inasmuch as it appears desirable to be in a position to deploy additional forces without calling up Reservists."

New Division Set
The other indication lies in the decision to create a new 18,000-man division for the regular Marine Corps.

Last summer, when the administration decided to commit largescale U.S. ground forces to the Viet Nam war, it was determined that there was time to build up over-all American armed strength over the long haul, relying on higher draft quotas and voluntary enlistments.

Since then the continuing escalation of the U.S. troop commitment in Viet Nam — and prospects that that commitment may reach Korean War proportions — have caused speculation that the Pentagon will have to turn to the National Guard and Reserves.

No Callup Planned
But the shape of plans for the newest boost in armed manpower by another 113,000 men suggests that the no-callup policy still holds.

Sources said this could be changed, if there was a sudden deterioration in the situation in Viet Nam requiring a swift infusion of major reinforcements.

The 45,599 men to be added to the Army under the new request mainly would be assigned to types of units which the regular forces have lacked and which the Army Reserve forces had been designed to provide in emergencies.

These units, about 140 different kinds, include such outfits as dump truck companies, postal units, well-drilling organizations, military police platoons, maintenance, bridge construction and petroleum elements.

As for the Marines, the decision to organize a new regular division evidently means that the 48,000-man Marine Reserve division and air wing will be retained in civilian life.

With two of its three regular divisions committed in Viet Nam and the Pacific, the corps has been left with a single regular division in the United States reducing the flexibility of the Marines and the availability of major fighting elements for crises elsewhere.

55th BIRTHDAY COMING

Hal's Beyond Tyranny Of Desire, But Still Available To Challenge Of The Mind

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—No, it couldn't happen to a younger fellow.

I am about to be 55 years old. Actually my birthday isn't until next month, but since anticipation is better than realization, I am celebrating it now.

To some, this milestone may not loom as a very important event. But I feel like climbing atop a sunny mountain and shouting through a megaphone: "Hello, world! Guess who's 55 years old. Me! Most of the billions of people who have inhabited earth never reached that age. But I have! Exult! Enjoy!"

To some people another birthday is like another milestone around their neck.

Total Despair
I don't feel that way. I think that total despair is plucked on one's 40th birthday, and every birthday after that is a great victory. Right now, if I had the money, I'd erect a great bronze statue of myself in Central Park with one hand thumbing my nose at time, and the other out-thrust full of bird seed and nuts for pigeons and squirrels.

There are pessimists who may question what is the possible pleasure of being 55. As a matter of fact, it is a rather comfortable age. You are too young to be a dirty old man, and too elderly to be called "a promising talent."

You are beyond the tyranny of desire but still available to the challenge of the mind. The pursuit of wisdom is a joy. You can burn your draft card without fear, if you want to. But you don't want to. You desperately wish to serve your country in any manner — except, possibly, by the payment of more taxes.

Commands Respect
To be 55 in 1966 is something of an achievement and commands respect.

At 55 a fellow probably survived chicken pox, measles, the mumps and a tonsillectomy. He has weathered a couple of depressions and several wars, learned to recognize his wife across a breakfast table, maybe raised a kid or two or three, and almost paid up a mortgage.

If he is lucky, he has probably also stayed out of jail. He is so well known that he can get a new box of paper clips from the supply clerk without formally signing a requisition.

Where I live he can even sign a check to pay for his groceries at the neighborhood supermarket — and what more can anyone ask of life than that? It is nice to be trusted.

Content To Coach
At 55 one is content to coach the office baseball team rather than knock the necessary home run. But you still aren't a oddderer. In a pinch you can still beat an old lady to a bus seat.

At 55 a new sharpness comes to the eye. Commonplace things have a fresh wonder: the flight of gulls, the sound of a child's laughter, the reach of an opening leaf in spring these are edged with a fresh wonder.

You know so much about people that no one you meet is really quite a total stranger. The only total stranger left is death. Personally, I don't want to meet him until the hour of sunrise on New Year's Day in the year of 2,000. Every human heart probably has as a goal the seeing of the dawn of a new century.

New York Buys Long Island Line

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State has completed purchase of the Long Island Rail Road, the world's busiest commuter line, for $65 million.

The Metropolitan Commuter Transportation Authority, recently created by the State Legislature, wound up the deal Thursday by handing a check for $55 million to the railroad's outgoing board of directors. The state had made a down payment of $10 million Dec. 22.

Await Written OK
The money will be turned over to the Pennsylvania Railroad, owner of all the Long Island's stock, as soon as the Interstate Commerce Commission gives written approval of some aspects of the transfer.

The transportation authority members took over as the Long Island's directors and re-elected President Thomas N. Goodfellow and all other officers. The authority plans a $260 million improvement program for the railroad, which carries 260,000 riders on weekdays.

The Long Island's 6,500 employees will remain railroad employees, and will not be under state control.

The 131-year-old railroad has been in financial trouble for many years. More than 10 years ago, it was lifted out of bankruptcy and federal court control by special state legislation which exempted the Long Island from most state and local taxes and expedited fare increases when needed to meet rising costs.

DO FUNERALS COST TOO MUCH?

YES; many funerals cost too much. Arranged at a time when a bereaved family is under deep emotion, the funeral purchased can exceed the common-sense limit; sometimes far exceed it.

This is why Resthaven Funeral Home has the very start urged Lubbock families to settle this matter NOW, long before the time of need.

Resthaven Memorial Park has been urging the pre-need purchase of cemetery lots or mausoleum crypts for 18 years. And with the building of Resthaven Funeral Home, Resthaven is steadily pursuing this sane and simple theme—do it NOW.

This is a basic reason why Resthaven Funeral Home was born. Funeral Home, cemetery, mausoleum — all at one place, all under one responsible management, all operated by one efficient staff, undivided responsibility. WHY WOULDN'T YOU SAVE MONEY?

This still does not answer the question: "How much should I spend on a funeral?" Of course not.

For you are the one who can answer that — and the only one who can.

The fact is, the 1966 Resthaven funeral service is indeed more elaborate, and has become a far more deeply expressive memorial than in the days of your great-great grandfather, when a pine-box was the rule.

Resthaven has found no Lubbock families who want a pine-box funeral. Yet for those who do want a complete service, but with the utmost in economy, Resthaven does offer exactly that.

And this is important: EVERY DETAIL OF THIS RESTHAVEN SERVICE WILL BE PRECISELY THE SAME AS EVERY OTHER ONE AT RESTHAVEN. The only difference will be the casket itself.

The fact is, your own choice will probably be made parallel to your station in life. Precisely like your choice of a home, a TV set, or a car.

Resthaven's "PRE-NEED" plan is revolutionary. Unlike burial insurance, you pay only what you contract for, then pay no more. EVER. Also unlike burial insurance, money paid in can be used for any member of the family.

It is available to anyone—regardless of health or age.

It is available for as little as $1.25 per week. And —in Lubbock, this plan, including funeral and cemetery arrangements all at one place is available only at Resthaven.

This is why we are repeatedly stating frankly: "We welcome questions—particularly the question of COST."

You look ahead, plan ahead, for every other important event of your life; why not for this? Why should you make any great decision under deep emotional stress, when you can make it as a calm and thoughtful one?

Fort Worth Newspaper Distributor Challenges Ban On Dallas Street Sales

Society General News Section
LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL
 Lubbock, Texas, Friday Evening, January 21, 1966

DALLAS (AP)—An independent distributor of a Fort Worth newspaper is challenging a Dallas City Council ordinance banning his automatic vending boxes from crowded downtown sidewalks.

Jerry Bailey, who has been selling the Fort Worth Star-Telegram in Dallas for four years, still had his newspapers on the sidewalks today despite police seizure of some of them.

"I intend to keep them there," Bailey said. "I put additional racks in place of the ones the police still have."

Mayor Erik Jonsson told Bailey earlier in the week that he faced a $200 fine if he persisted in keeping the stands up.

"I don't know if they are going to fine me or not," Bailey said. "I either want them to change their mind and sell me a franchise or take me to court."

Last year, the council adopted an ordinance limiting the sale of newspapers from sidewalk "honor boxes" to Dallas-printed publications. It upheld the ordinance last Monday when Bailey appeared and sought permission to leave the racks by paying a $3 a year franchise fee per box.

In explaining its Monday action, the council said Thursday that there is an overabundance of boxes crowding downtown sidewalks.

It said they further were causing problems to persons boarding and alighting from buses.

"The ordinance is to prevent papers from all over the country being placed in boxes on the street," Jonsson said. "If every newspaper had racks on the street, there wouldn't be room

Council One-Ways 10th Street Action On 15th, 16th Delayed By Protests

By KENNETH MAY
 Avalanche-Journal Staff

Lubbock city councilmen approved 10th Street for one-way traffic westbound between Avenue M and College Avenue but postponed action Thursday on a proposal for one-way 15th and 16th Streets.

The action came after a two-hour hearing on the proposals, which originated with a special consultant's recommendations on ways to revitalize the downtown business district.

To Limit Parking South Of Tech

Wrestling with other traffic and parking problems for much of the day, the council also approved—on an experimental basis—the limiting of parking in the residential area immediately south of the Texas Tech campus.

More Than 125 Present

More than 125 persons jammed the City Hall hearing room for discussion of the proposed one-way streets, a majority of them showing opposition to the 15th and 16th Street recommendations.

By the council's action, Main Street will remain a one-way artery for eastbound traffic between the Tech campus and the central business district. Now to be teamed with it will be 10th Street, moving traffic in the opposite direction.

Because of objections by West Texas Hospital, however, 10th Street will continue to carry two-way traffic east of Avenue M. Hospital spokesmen argued that to do otherwise would make it difficult for emergency vehicles to reach the hospital.

Mayor, Council Disagree

Mayor Max T. D. Moore disagreed with the council's action. He wanted Main Street to revert to two-way status, with 9th and 10th Streets designated as one-way arteries instead. Bob Burr, city director of planning, argued with that proposal, saying the one-way streets should be as close as possible to the north edge of the downtown core.

Burr said a consultant employed by the Lubbock Development Corp. to study downtown's problems recommended more one-way streets as a necessity for moving motorists into and out of the central business district. After his own study, Burr said, he fully agreed.

"A one-way street will move at least 50 per cent more traffic than the identical street would as a two-way artery—and do it much more safely and with fewer delays," Burr asserted.

Carroll Cobb, spokesman for a group of residents and businessmen along 15th and 16th Streets, didn't dispute that fact but argued private access should be provided to private access as well as move people from one part of town to another.

He said property owners along the streets believe the access to their homes and buildings and their desirability would be less.

IN PLAINVIEW: Donna Axum To Appear At Benefit

PLAINVIEW (Special)—Miss Donna Lynn Axum, of El Dorado, Ark., Miss America of 1964, was to appear at several events here today to benefit the Hale County March of Dimes.

Despite bad weather, the beauty arrived at Lubbock Municipal Airport about 7 p.m. Thursday and then continued here by car. March of Dimes officials greeted Miss Axum at the airport.

Events Planned

She was to appear today at a dance sponsored by the Plainview Jaycees, at the Plainview County Club, at 8:30 p.m. A dinner at which Miss Axum will sing, will be at 7:30 p.m. in Wayne's Restaurant.

Miss Axum also will sing at the dance and an autograph party is planned.

Other events scheduled include an invitational silver tea at Wayne's Restaurant, sponsored by the Plainview Delta Delta Delta Alumni Assn., and a "Mother-Daughter" style show at 4 p.m. which Miss Axum will narrate and participate in as a model.

Miss Axum was named Miss America for 1964 at the 1963 pageant in Atlantic City.

She is a native of Arkansas and was selected "Arkansas Woman of the Year" in 1963. She received the C. E. Palmer Award, bestowed by the Arkansas Junior Chamber of Commerce, for distinguished services to the state.

Big Jobs In Fashion Await Career-Minded Women

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Career-minded girls who want to design their way to the top in fashion bear this: The big jobs are waiting for you. Each bag contains hundreds of inquiries and applications for entry into the ivy halls of fashion fame.

Julia Coburn, executive director of the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers, says so. The school is to fashion what West Point is to the Army. Miss Coburn now is in the process of viewing bulging record of applicants. Why do the mailbags bulge? The school early this month. Miss Coburn, a Vassar graduate who did graduate work at the Sorbonne in Paris, announced that the average annual income was $9,631. "In the career world, fashion is no longer a spinach—it's a high-income bracket," she said. According to the 1960 census, the annual median income for 1940s are earning from $16,300 to $30,000 in fashion field jobs involving advertising, promotion, retail fashion coordination, public relations and writing.

Miss Coburn said a lot of girls are drawn to the fashion field because it is uncrowded and the money is good. But she reminded that the criteria she uses to evaluate an applicant's aptitude.

Sense and Work
 "Common sense, first of all," she said, "and a penchant for hard work. It isn't enough that a girl has taste and knows how to choose her own wardrobe well."

"She may have those talents and still belong more properly in a research laboratory. What is needed is a deep-seated, genuine interest in fashion and a conviction that for millions of people it plays a very important role in living because it provides color, excitement and drama."

Miss Coburn discourages girls who think fashion's merely superficial. "It can't be separated from people," she said. "You have to be outgoing and have a real liking for people."

How do you decide whether you're square with regard to a fashion career?

Miss Coburn, head of the school for 25 years and witness to the graduation of more than 2,500 students, described the criteria she uses to evaluate an applicant's aptitude.

Woman Butcher Offers Helpful Hints

By JULIE HUNT
Women's Staff Writer

It's not unusual for a homemaker to put her steaks in the skillet or under the broiler, as she begins the rest of her meal, and leave them until her husband gets home from the office.

He's then treated to meat that's hard as a rock, either fried or "broiled to death." Overcooking meat is the mistake made most often by housewives, according to Mrs. J. W. Ansley, Lubbock homemaker with more than 20 years' experience as a butcher.

"Did you ever sit down to a meal and eat a steak with all the juice cooked out of it?" she asked. "You can't even taste any meat flavor then. It's just an old, hard, dried-up piece of meat."

Watch Meat
 "You need to carefully watch the meat," she added. "It's wasteful and expensive to buy a high-priced cut of meat and then burn it up."

After buying a two-inch steak, one customer asked Mrs. Ansley, "Do you think my wife can burn this one up? Maybe there'll still be a little juice left in the center."

Also many women think they're roasting a meat when actually they're boiling it. When they just salt and pepper the thing and throw it into a pan of water, it'll get done if you want it boiled.

"I love to cook meat and everything else," laughed Mrs. Ansley.

When she puts on a roast, she first browns it, then browns in a little grease. After getting it all browned, then she adds a little bit of water.

Browning it gives it the flavor, she says, and that's what makes it so good.

her head that meat is fattening. Of course, if you fry it in grease, it's going to be fat. But if you broil it, you take out the fat. Grease is cooked out of it.

"Meat," she insisted, "is absolutely necessary" for the iron and protein in it.

"Your body needs good meat," she said, getting up to cut some ribs for a customer. "And I mean a good grade, too. Don't mess with a cheap cow."

Abby, is this fair to me and the children? I have tried to be a good sport, but I know he's going to add more salt. His craving for salt more than should, I don't complain, but at the same time look forward to the time when his father dies, he is 67 and in good health so we can be a family again?

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, 14, and my parents and I don't see eye to eye on my clothes. I have a long waist, and when they buy my pants, they can't get my leg size, but they can't get my leg size in the same pair of pants.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't think I'm making a mountain out of a molehill, but after being married to Jerry for only six months, one of his habits is really driving me out of my mind. When he sits down to eat (whether we are at home, dining out, or are guests in someone's home) the first thing Jerry does is to salt everything that requires seasoning, and I mean he salts it up, but good! Abby, he doesn't even try it first, he just pours the salt on. People look at him in disbelief. At the home

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law died over a year ago, and since then my husband insists on staying nights with his father even on weekends. I know the old man isn't afraid to stay alone because I've heard him tell my husband he didn't need to stay. But my husband says we shouldn't leave the old man alone because his loneliness might lead to a second marriage, which might complicate legal settlements later. ## Polly's Pointers

Cuffs Made From Anklets

DEAR POLLY—When I needed rib-knit cuffs to go on some flannel pajamas I used the top fold-down part of medium weight anklets that were worn in the foot part but had good tops. Cut off the knit top where it joins the foot part, fold in half so the two edges are together, baste or pin to bottom sleeve edge, stretching to fit and stitch in place. Zigzag stitch or overcast the edge to catch all ribs so they do not ravel. Nylon anklets seem about the best weight for pajamas but try to use a weight suited to the material in the pajamas. They can also be used as anklets on the pajama legs and as cuffs on jackets and children's flannel shirts.—Mrs. D. N.

DEAR POLLY—When guests visit us and additional towels are hung in the bathroom I find it saves confusion to attach each rack, with plastic tape, a slip of paper with the initials of the person using those towels. As our guests are often members of the family, and sometimes several at one time, it has been applauded as an excellent idea. Mary

DEAR POLLY—I need help. How do you get mustard stains out of clothing? My 9-year-old likes mustard on nearly everything he eats and it is making a mess of her dresses.

In return I want to pass on a Pointer. On a recent automobile trip taken at night, I was sitting up front with the driver found that the light from oncoming cars made it impossible for me to rest. I put on my dark glasses, which have a larger lens area than my regular glasses, and then folded paper tissue handkerchiefs and slipped them between my glasses and my eyes. This shut out the light from the cars and I was able to get a wonderful rest. Peggy

DEAR POLLY—Glycerin is often recommended for removing mustard stains, from white washable fabrics. Work glycerin into stain and wash with warm detergent suds and then rinse well. If stain remains use about one tablespoon of bleach to a quart of water and soak for 15 to 20 minutes and then rinse several times. Do not use the bleach on colored washables, only white. One washing machine testing center tells us that the stain persists after using glycerin, sponging with rubbing alcohol, one part alcohol to two parts water, should be used. Always pretest to see the effect of stain removers on various fabrics and colors. Polly

Opening lead: Ten of ♣

Opening lead: Ten of clubs. South's hand is worth 19 points counting high cards and distribution and would warrant a jump shift response over North's opening bid if his suits were of better texture. North rebid two diamonds, and South jumped in his second suit—hearts. When North showed a preference for spades South was willing to gamble out a suit. A good diamond suit in dummy, or short hearts, would offer a reasonable play for six spades.

West opened the ten of clubs and declarer overtook dummy's queen with the king. A brief examination of the combined holdings revealed that South did not have the transportation required to ruff out his losing hearts. He decided therefore to develop North's diamond suit.

A diamond was led to the ace and the return was ruffed with the high of spades as the king East hand. North's diamonds were now established, and there appeared to be nothing further of diamonds appeared from the trump.

The normal procedure is to cash the king and queen of spades and then cross over to the ace. If the suit divides three-two—as is the normal expectation—North's honor will draw the last trump and the diamonds can be run. If the spades are four-one however, it appears that declarer must go down to defeat, inasmuch as one defender has more trumps than the dummy.

South observed that there was a way to cope with an unfavorable spade division provided that West had the long trumps. After West had the long trumps, after the king of spades was cashed, the declarer led a small spade and when West followed with the last trump and the diamonds can be run. If the spades are four-one however, it appears that declarer must go down to defeat, inasmuch as one defender has more trumps than the dummy.

Bright, colorful prints, tailored sports ensembles which include matched black sets, and accessories which blend with a dress or suit are phrases used by Mrs. Charlie Lynch, 2707 24th St., to describe her wardrobe.

Mrs. Lynch, a graduate of Texas Tech, taught second grade at Rush Elementary School for 2½ years and explains that her "school wardrobe" converted easily into a homemaker's wardrobe because of tailored, conservative items.

Likes Bright Prints
 She explains that her preference for sports and tailored ensembles in bright, colorful prints is partially because of her husband's position as assistant basketball coach at Tech.

An example of a tailored sports ensemble is a semi-fitted shift of red wool with checks formed by interwoven black wool. Black cuffs on the long sleeves and neckline finished with a black tailored tie accent the dress.

Bias-cut pockets are outlined in black and centered with black buttons. Mrs. Lynch wears white earclips, black leather shoes and short kid gloves and carries a black leather purse with the dress. She describes the dress as "all-occasion" explaining that it may be worn to church or for shopping as well as for basketball games.

Spanish Influence
 The Spanish look prevails in a semi-fitted dress of lime green rayon acetate with three-quarter length sleeves ending in flares lined with royal blue. The semi-fitted bodice, with French darts features an oval neckline and a royal blue Spanish applique. Accessories include white earclips, white kid gloves, dyed-to-match shoes of lime green and blue suede shoes with bone heels and trim.

Mrs. Lynch has one daughter, Jennifer Kay, who is 8½ months of age.

SPANISH FLAIR REFLECTED—Mrs. Charlie Lynch, 2707 24th St., models a lime green shift reflecting the Spanish look in a motif of royal blue and flared three-quarter length sleeves. ### Societies Conduct Joint Discussion

A joint meeting of the Agape and St. Matthew Woman's Societies of Christian Service was conducted Thursday morning in the sanctuary of Agape Methodist Church.

Twenty-five members from both societies were present. Mrs. Virgil Sears presented a program on prayer, and Mrs. J. C. Rickman sang "Teach Me To Pray," accompanied by Mrs. Jim Myers, organist.

Refreshments were served in Fellowship Hall following the program. Decorations were carried out in silver, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the WSCS.

The next meeting of the St. Matthew WSCS will be at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the church, and next meeting of the Agape WSCS will be at 10 a.m. Feb. 24 in the home of Mrs. Ed Elliott, 5207 16th St.

Nursuries will be provided at both meetings.

Bridge Winners

Bridge winners in Hub City Duplicate Bridge Club play Wednesday night in the Slide Road Clubhouse were Mrs. Jack Kendrick and Butch Adams, first; Mrs. Bill Swart and Mrs. Bob Hope, second; and Mrs. L. F. Marquam and Jack Kendrick, third.

Techsan Garden Club Has Plant Discussion

The Techsan Garden Club met Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. John Anderson, 5017 15th St. Co-hostesses were Mrs. William Arper, Mrs. Robert Albin and Mrs. Joan Mecham.

A panel discussion on choosing and maintaining house plants was led by Mrs. Robert Rouse, Roger Brooks, John Anderson and James Howze.

Each member brought a house plant to the meeting.

Next meeting will be at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 in the Municipal Garden-Arts Center. Husbands will be guests.

Furnishings Discussed By Auxiliary Members

The CPA Auxiliary met for a noon luncheon Wednesday in the Lubbock Women's Club, with 23 members and guests attending. "Trends in Home Furnishings" was the program presented by Ren Spurber.

New officers elected were Mrs. Bill Sims, president; Mrs. Billy Morton, vice president; Mrs. Jay Reid Warner, secretary; and Mrs. C. L. Boggs, treasurer.

Next meeting will be a noon luncheon, Feb. 16 in Lubbock Women's Club.

CLUB MEETS ALL DAY

The Homebuilders Club met in the home of Mrs. H. P. Boyd, 2311 18th St., for an all-day meeting Wednesday. Mrs. Oscar Polard, president, conducted the meeting. Ten members attended.

Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. R. Hartsfield, 1723 27th St., at 2 p.m. Feb. 17.

Mt. Hood, Ore., was once a volcano, but it has been inactive for hundreds of years.

Edyth Thornton McLeod Beauty After Forty

PARTIES AT THIS time of the year are a dime a dozen, but there is one that I attended recently which I simply must tell you about:

It was a champagne gathering—given by a group of friends—in honor of Carol Lynne, who was celebrating her 75th birthday. Carol holds down two jobs at the same time. She is a vice president of the Institute for Human-Animal Relations, and the executive director of New York's Greenwich Village Humane League—and she has done more than any single person I know to make people understand animals. What's more, she has managed to stay incredibly young in doing so. As one of my friends at the party put it, "her heart shines through whatever she's doing."

CAROL LYNNE is what Lady Bird Johnson calls a "doer." When I visited her a few weeks ago, I found her amid the animals sheltered there—cats and dogs saved from the asphalt jungle of New York—feeding them, and distributing pats of affection among the pets. Despite plenty of help, Carol insisted on lending a hand. "My work keeps me in touch with everyday reality," she explained.

Her other job is equally, if not even more important: The Institute for Human-Animal Relations, a non-profit organization headquartered in New York, is devoted to filling the lives of senior citizens with the affection of a pet, while giving many elderly persons a new interest, by providing them with a living thing to care for. The institute was founded by two friends of Carol Lynne, Dr. and Mrs. Dean White.

AT CAROL'S BIRTHDAY, party, we discovered the role of pets in the lives of after-40 people. "Many of my contemporaries," said Carol, "are lonely, and have a kind of 'sinking feeling,' once their children have flown the coop and are busy with their own existence. We have found that a pet helps older people to forget their aches and pains, while keeping their minds alert through the need for daily care and feelings."

To Carol Lynne, a devoted humanitarian, our salute on her 75th birthday.

Monday—"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod."

Couple Exchanges Double Ring Vows

Monterey Church of Christ was the scene of double ring wedding vows read for Miss Jane Hartwick and Max McClendon at 6:30 p.m. Thursday by the Rev. Dr. L. W. McClendon, minister, and father of the bridegroom.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hartwick Jr., 6904 Slide Rd., and Dr. and Mrs. McClendon of Childress.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white wool knit street length dress with A-line skirt, fitted long sleeves accented with lace inset and a round neckline.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Dunn attended the couple. Mrs. Dunn wore a baby blue wool dress and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Ushers were Larry Hartwick, and Keith McClendon of Houston. Ring bearers were Danny and Sammy Hartwick. The Broadway Church of Christ Wedding chorus presented wedding selections. Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The couple will be at home at 834½ EN 15th St., Abilene, where the bride is a junior at Abilene Christian College majoring in homemaking. She is a 1964 graduate of Monterey High School.

The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of Childress High School, and has attended Lubbock Christian College. He is a senior at Abilene Christian College majoring in Bible, and is a candidate for graduation in July.

An estimated $455 million will be spent by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1966 to combat and cure mental illness and retardation.

CHURCH SCHOOLS NEED FUNDS

Southern Baptists In Bind Over U.S. Aid To Colleges

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
America's largest Protestant body, the Southern Baptist Convention, is undergoing an ordeal of conscience. Its 10 million members are caught in a bind between one of their most cherished principles and the urgent financial needs of Baptist colleges and universities.

The principle is separation of church and state. Since colonial days, Baptists have been stout defenders of religious liberty. They have contended that churches and church-related institutions will not remain free if they accept any kind of government subsidy.

Baptists are also great believers in the importance of educating young people in a Christian atmosphere. There are about 100 Baptist colleges and universities in the United States, of which 55 are supported by the Southern Baptist Convention.

Involves Subsidy
Last year, Congress enacted a college aid program under which federal grants and long-term loans are available to all institutions of higher education.

Dr. McCall said church colleges have accepted federal money in the past, for example, under the GI bill of rights, and it has never been accompanied by attempted government control. He also noted that Texas Baptists have promised in the past to make up by voluntary contributions anything their institutions lost by turning down government aid, but have "fallen far, far short" of University at Greenville, S.C., keeping this promise.

The Texas Convention did not even reach a formal vote on accepting a federal grant of $611,898 to construct a new science building. But the South Carolina Baptist Convention at its annual meeting instructed the university to return the federal money. The convention promised to raise an equal sum for Furman through voluntary contributions from South Carolina Baptists.

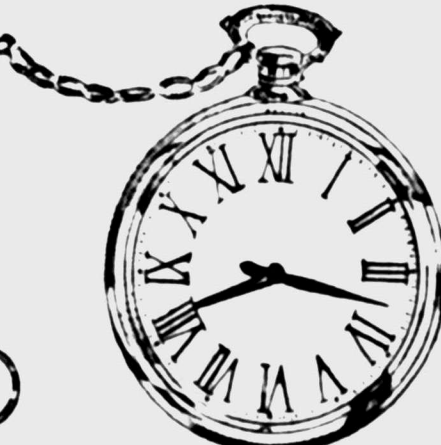

Drive Underway
The fund-raising drive is now underway, with a June deadline. To meet the goal, it will be necessary to obtain contributions averaging 5 per cent of membership.

In neighboring Georgia, the state Baptist Convention forbade Mercer University to go through with a federal loan. Six other state conventions—in Florida, Michigan, Indiana, Virginia, New Mexico and States of which 55 are Mississippi—adopted resolutions rejecting government aid to Baptist institutions.

In Texas, Baylor University President Abner V. McCall went before the state Baptist Convention with a fervent plea for permission to accept federal aid. He warned that church-related colleges will sink to the status of second or third rate institutions unless they obtain massive new financial support from some source.

Dr. McCall said church colleges have accepted federal money in the past, for example, under the GI bill of rights, and it has never been accompanied by attempted government control. He also noted that Texas Baptists have promised in the past to make up by voluntary contributions anything their institutions lost by turning down government aid, but have "fallen far, far short" of University at Greenville, S.C., keeping this promise.

SATURDAY Trade Tour To Mexico 'Set To Go'

Twelve Lubbock men are scheduled to leave early Saturday morning for a long-planned trade mission to Mexico, a trip sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and designated as an official mission of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Robert L. Reinhardt, executive vice president of Hancock Manufacturing Co., will head the Lubbock group that will leave from Municipal Airport at 7 a.m. for arrival that afternoon in Mexico City.

Charles Joplin is chairman of the sponsoring international trade committee of the chamber.

Participants in the mission will include Reinhardt; Elmer Adams, manager of the A & B Tractor and Equipment Co.; J. Collier Adams, contractor; Sterling Emens, vice president of the First National Bank; Francisco Gonzalez of Texas Commodities Co.; Dr. John Hillbrand, associate professor of Economics, Texas Tech; M. D. Lacy, head agronomist of B. C. Young Seed and Grain Co.; Randolph T. Mills, president of Gear, Clutch and Joint, Inc.; Del Wells, manager of Red-Rain of Texas, Inc.; B. R. Wienke, farmer; and Lewis of the chamber.

Saturday Rites Set For Mrs. Ausmus

Funeral services for Mrs. Matie Ausmus, 73, 3808 39th St., a Lubbock resident 36 years, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Primitive Baptist Church with Elder E. L. Edwards of Plainview and Elder Doyle Smith of Lubbock, officiating.

Burial will be in City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral Home. Mrs. Ausmus died at 10:15 a.m. Thursday in Highland Hospital.

LIKES VARIETY

Johnson Enjoys Going To Different Churches

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP) — As a churchgoer, President Johnson enjoys variety. He rarely goes to the same church on successive Sundays.

He has dropped in on the Roman Catholics, the Baptists, the Lutherans, the Presbyterians, the Episcopalians and a Billy Graham revival.

The President usually gets a special greeting from the pulpit when he arrives for Sunday worship. And why not, asks the President's pastor, the Rev. Dr. George R. Davis of the National City Christian church in Washington. "I think it's not only right but essential that we pin-point their presence. It serves as a rightful reminder to the rest of the nation."

Johnson frequently makes Sunday excursions to mingle with parishioners at morning hours. He kisses babies, shakes hands, hands out souvenirs pens and usually has his picture taken.

As a security measure, Johnson's church attendance is never announced in advance. One summer day in Washington, when he and the First Lady decided to walk to church, they attracted a crowd of several hundred, many of them tourists with cameras. There was an even larger crowd when they walked back to the White House, and extra police had to be called.

The President frequently goes to church with members of his staff and friends and sometimes goes to their churches. He took visiting German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard to a Lutheran service in Fredericksburg, Tex. The service was conducted in German and English, because so many of German extraction live in that area.

One winter Sunday, Johnson and party sailed across the Potomac to Christ Church in Alexandria. They were in time to witness a baptism. When the baby was brought around for him to see, Johnson impulsively took off his gold 1964 campaign tie clasp and fastened it to the baby's dress.

Johnson has not neglected St. John's, the church across Lafayette Park from the White House. Chief executives since Madison have attended services there. Johnson first went there for a special service on the rainy day after President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

On many weekends, the Johnsons go to the presidential retreat, Camp David, in nearby Maryland. There, Johnson sometimes worships privately with military men who guard the camp. But he often ventures down the mountain to surprise local clergymen.

One young pastor, the Rev. Martin A. Case, won't forget arriving at the door of the white brick Thurmont Methodist church one Sunday after conducting services at two other towns on his mountain circuit. Secret Service men met him at the door to tell him the President was inside.

Another time, Johnson drove 20 miles to Hagerstown, Md., and the Rev. G. Bartow Harris was halfway through the service before he realized the President and Mrs. Johnson were there. He finished the sermon and quickly added a special prayer for them.

By the time the Johnsons got outside the church, a crowd of about 300 had gathered. The President delighted them by shaking hands all around. He even drove by St. Mary's Catholic church and stopped to greet churchgoers there. Then he crossed the street to say hello to parishioners still lingering after

Old Jewish Fortress Restored For Public

JERUSALEM — After more than two years of digging and restoration, the historical site of Massada in the Negev near the Dead Sea has just been opened to the public.

Massada, a virtually impregnable fortress built by King Herod, was the last bastion of resistance for 960 Jewish men, women and children after the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem. They held out from A.D. 66 to 73 against Roman armies, then committed mass suicide.

Worship

Man is by nature a worshipful being. Wherever the knowledge of God and Christ has not gone, man pays homage to a mountain stream or a babbling brook. Indeed, man must worship something. It might be the sun, moon or stars—but man will bow down to something or someone. The only true object of man's devotion is God. Some religious groups however, worship mere men. One of the largest groups on earth openly pays honor to one that they term "the Vicar of Christ on earth." But he from whom they claim succession (Peter), said very pointedly to one who would worship him, "Stand up for I myself am a man" (Acts 10:26).

We are not even supposed to worship angels. The beloved John was instructed by an angel he had tried to worship to "worship God" (Rev. 22:8). Jesus told Satan, "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God and Him only shalt thou serve" (Matthew 4:10). So, beloved friends, we must realize that Jehovah is the object of our devotion.

Not only does the Bible teach us whom we are to worship but it sets forth how we are to pay homage to the Lord. Some people have the mistaken idea that we can worship any way that we so desire and still please God. But Jesus said, "God is spirit, and they that worship him must worship in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24). When Jesus said we must worship with the proper spirit he evidently had in mind such requisites of worship as humility, sincerity and reverence. The publican's prayer in Luke 18 is indicative of this. "Lord, be merciful to me a sinner." An arrogant, haughty man cannot worship acceptably. By worshipping according to truth the Lord meant that we must have authority in the Word of God for all that we practice in our worship. In John 17:17 we read that God's word is truth. Therefore, friends, if we cannot find a "thus saith the Lord" for the worship we engage in we are not fulfilling the divine dictates concerning our devotion to God. The early Christians met on the first day of the week to sing spiritual songs, to pray, to read the holy scriptures, to give of their monies, means, and to partake of the Lord's Supper (Acts 2:42, Colossians 3:16, Ephesians 5:19, 1 Corinthians 16:1-2, Acts 20:7). Any addition or subtraction from this divine pattern does not have the sanction of the Lord.

May God help us to return to "the old paths and walk therein."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The world is filled with the sound of many drums. Drums of militarism stir man to war and conquest. Drums of conformity invite him to keep step with low standards and false values. Drums of greed lure him into the killing pace of selfish getting and gaining.

But a different drum sounds, too. It beats in the rhythm of law and love, and rings with the sound of eternal truths. It beckons man to integrity and true self-fulfillment; it calls him to the path of duty and to the way of service. The different drum is God's.

A man must choose which drum he will listen for and follow. Many years ago, Henry David Thoreau wrote: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer."

God's house is one place where you will hear the "Different Drummer." Worship there this Sunday with your family.

Plan On One-Way Streets Here Stirs New Dispute

ended by the proposed action. Charles Maedgen Jr., president of the Lubbock National Bank, and realtor Jos. Phillips both spoke in favor of one-way streets.

"It would be a tragedy to downtown Lubbock to change Main Street back to two-way status," Maedgen said. "Making 15th and 16th one-way would help, too... as would 10th Street."

13th Change Deplored

Maedgen said, in answer to a question by Edmore: "I feel the change of 13th Street to two-way traffic was a mistake. It is far more congested than before. I've heard more complaints on it since then than in all the years it was one-way."

Several persons raised their hands in agreement. There was only passing reference, however, to an "experiment" now underway in which angle parking replaced parallel parking on downtown streets, creating more parking spaces but causing more congestion for moving vehicles.

"Own property on Main Street and when it was one-way everyone said it would fall apart," Phillips said. "Quite a few years later, I'm here appealing to you to keep Main Street the way it is. Almost all its development has been since it was made one-way."

"No Sympathy" For Downtown

Wesley Read, arguing against the 15th and 16th Streets proposal, said he had "no sympathy" with the downtown area because merchants and property owners were warned 25 years ago they faced problems "and they laughed at us."

"Don't do something to help the motorist that will hurt me," Read said after explaining he owns residential property on 15th Street.

"I'll take 15 per cent less for my house the day you make 16th Street one-way than I will today," A. C. Jackson added.

Delay Until Feb. 10

Edmore disagreed with businessmen who oppose one-way streets, saying "If you put more traffic past a store, a merchant is not much of a businessman if he can't increase his business."

Councilmen, however, delayed action on 15th and 16th Streets until Feb. 10. The one-way movement on 10th Street will begin after the ordinance is passed on second reading next month.

Harr also reported to the council on a survey of parking conditions south of the Texas Tech campus. Residents of the neighborhood have complained students parking there are causing congestion and inconvenience.

Try Plan Temporarily

The council voted to try "until June" a plan whereby parking will be limited to two hours on the south side of 19th Street and on both sides of 20th and 21st Streets between College and Flint Avenues. All parking would be prohibited on the south side of 22nd Street between those same avenues and on the east side of all north-south streets in the neighborhood.

"If that doesn't work, we can try something else," Councilman W. E. Medlock said.

Harr said similar parking problems exist east of the Tech campus. Parking was removed earlier from one side of streets around Lubbock and Monterey high schools, he added, to help alleviate identical problems in those areas.

Animal Shelter Planned

In other action, authorization was given to the hiring of architects for a new animal shelter on "municipal hill" north of Mackenzie State Park. The project will be built on a pay-as-you-go basis, starting with $20,000 already appropriated.

Approval was given to the linking of four traffic arteries at an estimated cost of $74,500. Included are: Slide Road between 34th and 50th Streets, Avenue M between 4th and 19th Streets, Quirt Avenue between Parkway Drive and Loop 289 North and College Avenue between 60th Street and Loop 289 South.

Board appointments included Mrs. Melville R. Monte to the City-County Welfare Board, Joe Fry, Jimmy Wallace, M. M. Hardy and J. B. Joiner to the Board of Electrical Examiners, the Rev. C. N. Schindler to the Housing Authority Board, and E. T. (Bud) Smith to the South-East Lubbock Development Corp.

Exchange Program Set

Edmore was authorized to appoint a committee to work with a similar group in Ica, Peru, for developing an exchange student program between the two cities.

On an experimental basis, the council decided to have public hearings on zone change requests at 9 a.m. Feb. 23, one day ahead of the semi-monthly meeting date. Zoning hearings normally are time consuming. A report also will be heard that day on proposals for acquiring lands for new parks.

A payment of $21,965 was authorized to the auditing firm of Teague, Haynie and Co. for the examination of the city's books last year. City Mgr. Bill Pittstick was directed to negotiate with the same firm for the 1963 audit.

Alley Speed Limit Set

Post custom has been to select an auditing firm for two consecutive years and then select a new firm. This custom was broken in 1963, when Teague, Haynie and Co. was selected for a third year. Edmore said the firm is favored for another year because the council believes a large number of new employees

ISABEL DE ORTIZ—A hybrid tea rose with a bud that starts as maroon and finishes a watermelon pink with outside of the petals a cream to silver sheen.

ISABEL DE ORTIZ Fragrant New Rose Will Be Available

A fragrant hybrid tea rose that has swept Europe—capturing top prizes in England and Spain since its introduction there in 1962—will be offered to the American public in the spring.

The Isabel de Ortiz, developed by the well-known European hybridist, Wilhelm Kordes, won the gold medal at the 1961 Grand International Competition in Madrid and the gold medal of the National Rose Society of England in 1962.

GEORGE WEAVER

A seedling of Peace, it is a delightful bi-color that is particularly effective in the half open flower. The bud starts a maroon and finishes a watermelon pink with the outside of the petals a scintillating cream to silver sheen. Flowers are large, 5 inches across, and fully double with 35 to 40 petals. They are borne on tall, upright stems that are excellent for cutting.

The vigorous plant is well covered with glossy disease resistant dark green foliage. It is constantly in bloom with large perfect flowers.

While the size and perfection of its flowers will make the Isabel de Ortiz a favorite with exhibitors, its fragrance and unusual coloring will be equally popular with home gardeners.

Labor Official Will Speak In City Saturday

George Leon-Paul Weaver, assistant secretary of labor for international affairs, Washington, D.C., is scheduled to speak Saturday night in Lubbock.

Sponsored by the United Political Organizations of Texas, Lubbock Chapter, Weaver's address will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Booker T. Washington American Legion Hall, East 61st Street. The public is invited, according to Edward Deo, president of the Lubbock chapter.

"Voter Registration" will be topic of Weaver's talk.

Weaver is a longtime union worker, government employee and is a member of the NAACP. He was appointed to his present government post by the late President Kennedy.

He also serves as the U. S. government representative on the governing body of the International Labor Organization (ILO) and is chairman of the U. S. delegation to the ILO Conference at Geneva, Switzerland.

Government Clamps Controls On Copper

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government is placing tight controls on copper to ease the domestic shortage created by demands of the war in Vietnam.

The Commerce Department Thursday put a virtual embargo on exports of ore, concentrates and other unrefined copper. It also set up quotas on copper products, with Canada the only exempt nation.

College Loans Due To Cuban Refugees

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Office of Education will make available more than $12 million for loans to help 3,200 Cuban refugees attend college in the coming semester.

Loans will be made through 248 colleges and universities as part of the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Cuban Refugee Program, the office announced Thursday.

for the people."

Bailey contends the council's action denied him the right to make a living. The mayor said Bailey has the right to protest through the courts.

The distributor said he had the same problem last year with his stands. He said he immediately replaced them and nothing happened until last week when police began confiscating them.

Daily newspapers published in Dallas include the Times Herald, Morning News and a Southwest edition of the Wall Street Journal.

Joe M. Dealey, president of the Morning News, said the Dallas newspapers were in no way involved in the council's action.

"We realize that the city may have a problem, but we do not feel that a ban on out-of-town newspapers is the answer. Through its franchise the city can regulate the placement of news stands, local or out-of-town, to avoid undue congestion," Dealey said.

"But again we do not feel that a distinction between a local and out-of-town newspaper is valid," he added.

The Times Herald said: "The Dallas City Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale from out-of-town newspapers in the public streets of this city. The Dallas Times Herald believes that this is contrary to basic doctrines of the free enterprise system, and that the newspapers of Fort Worth, and all other cities which so desire, should be permitted to offer their publications for sale on Dallas streets if property franchised and following regulations which apply to all."

"The Times Herald, far from objecting to the sale of Fort Worth newspapers in Dallas, welcomes the healthy competition from these sound Texans."

Advantages Cited

"The Dallas Times Herald appreciates the opportunity to make its product available to the citizens of Fort Worth, and expresses its continuing hope that the governments, the people and the mass communications media of these two wonderfully promising metropolitan areas shall henceforth be joined in pursuit of every worthwhile objective."

Faires Kuykendall, Star-Telegram circulation manager, said "Dallas is the only city I know that is discriminating against newspapers. I've looked all over and can't find one."

The country circulation manager of the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman, Stan Dallman, said Dallas officials sent him a letter asking removal of his newspaper's racks.

"It's a hell of a way to discriminate," Dallman said. "It's the first time I've ever heard of anything like this."

J. E. Rodolph, state circulation manager of the Fort Worth Press, said Dallas police picked up one of his newspaper's racks.

MIXED EMOTIONS

THOUSANDS IN WEST BERLIN VIEW EXHIBIT DEPICTING NAZI CONCENTRATION CAMP

By HUBERT J. EBB
BERLIN (AP)—Thousands of West Berliners come each day to the picture of the old Jewish woman dressed in black and wearing a "star of David." Above her head is the word "Auschwitz."

The picture is on posters at the entrance to an exhibit on the World War II Nazi concentration camp at Auschwitz, Poland. Bigger than life black and white photographs, documents, prison uniforms and cans of poison gas used in the camp's gas chambers depict the inner workings at the Nazi death mill. A movie on the camp is shown three times a day.

In Third Week

The exhibit, sponsored jointly by the city government, political parties, youth groups and labor unions, is in its third week. It was scheduled to close Jan. 30 but has been extended a month.

Some 20,000 West Berliners have seen it since Jan. 2. "Currently, about 2,000 people see the display daily," said a spokesman, Hans Kirshner.

The exhibition is at the Gallery of the 20th Century on a side street near the main railway station.

Interest is high because West Berlin has never had such an exhibit, Kirshner said, "but the crowds here are no bigger than those that went to see it in West Germany."

The exhibit was put together during the 20-month trial of 30 of the camp's functionaries that ended in Frankfurt last August.

Absolute Silence

School and youth groups are encouraged to come and a large percentage of those who do are young people. An attendant said most people look in absolute silence.

Five youths, 17 to 19 years old, told a newsman Thursday they came "because we are discussing Auschwitz at school." A 17-year-old said neither the German people nor his generation were to blame for Auschwitz.

"Those who did it and were there are to blame," he said. "Why should my generation have to pay?"

Two 18-year-old girls said both the film and the exhibit made a vivid impression. "I find it impossible to believe," one added.

A man, 51, said: "I came to satisfy my own curiosity. I was a soldier for six years and knew little of what happened behind the front at the time."

"Yes," he added, "we Germans are guilty. We did not do enough to hinder what happened."

Idalou Services Set For Mrs. Harmon

Funeral services for Mrs. J. R. Harmon, 86, Lubbock County resident since 1921, will be at 10 a.m. Saturday in Idalou Methodist Church.

Horace Coffman, associate minister of Broadway Church of Christ, will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Hugh Daniels, pastor of the Idalou Methodist Church, and the Rev. H. Kendrick Jr., pastor of the Idalou Baptist Church.

Mrs. Harmon died at 1:50 p.m. Wednesday in Ray's Hospitality Home here. She had been ill the past two years.

Burial will be in City of Lubbock Cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral Home.

Mrs. Harmon was a native of Lamar County. She came back to Lubbock County with her husband, J. R. Harmon, who died in 1927. She was a member of Idalou Methodist Church.

Survivors include three sons, James A. Dunsmuir, Calif., Ralph M. Idalou, and Phillip S. Manteca, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. John B. Steele, Rt. 6, Lubbock, and Mrs. G. K. Bullock Jr., 2855 56th St.; a brother, Ralph B. McClure, Whittarrell; two sisters, Mrs. Allie Hill, Pampa, and Mrs. Estelle Crews, Paris; 10 grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Marietta Rites Today For Mrs. Honeycutt

Funeral services for Mrs. G. W. Honeycutt, 77, of Naples, Tex., sister of several Lubbock residents, were set at 2 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church at Marietta, Tex., a community nearby Naples.

Burial will be in Marietta Cemetery under direction of the Naples funeral home.

Mrs. Honeycutt had been a lifelong resident of Naples.

She was the sister of Mrs. T. R. Whiteside, Plantation House Apartments, Mrs. R. E. (Betty) Douglas, 2201 20th St., Mrs. N. A. Terrell, 3419 Ave. R, J. E. Finley, 3070 26th St. and R. E. (Bob) Finley, 2701 32nd St.

Other survivors include two brothers, John A. Finley, De Kalb, Tex., and A. D. Finley, Ore. City, Texas.

L. M. Gamblin Rites Set In New Mexico

Funeral services are scheduled Saturday in Albuquerque for Lowell M. Gamblin, former Floydada resident, who was killed Wednesday night in a traffic mishap at Albuquerque.

A graduate of Floydada High School, Gamblin attended Texas Tech. He served in the Air Force during World War II.

Gamblin was an Albuquerque resident.

Services are under direction of Strong and Thorn Funeral Home, Albuquerque.

Survivors include his wife and mother, Mrs. Ann Gamblin, 2323 Main St.; two daughters, Lonita Solomon of Hamlin, and Judy Gamblin of Albuquerque; a son, Jimmy, also of Albuquerque, and a sister, Mrs. John G. McBride, Raymondville.

Earnings Of Newspapers Set Record

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Newspapers in the United States earned a record $4.4 billion from advertising last year, a national advertising executive said Thursday.

The amount was up 6.5 per cent over 1964 and it equaled the advertising income of television, magazines and radio combined.

Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president of the Bureau of Advertising, spoke to 1,000 newspaper advertising executives attending the convention of the International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

Editors Stressed

Gene Robb of Albany, N. Y., president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association (ANPA), said never has it been so important for the newspapers to alert themselves to the threat of federal controls.

Never before, Robb said, has it been as necessary "to maintain our vigilant watch over the freedoms of the people to speak and worship freely and to print and publish without government restraint or intervention."

Robb is publisher of the Albany Times-Union and Knickerbocker News.

Protest Controls

The ANPA has joined with other newspaper organizations to protest "government management of news, especially when it involves concealment of the truth," he said.

"We have affirmed," Robb said, "that only when our government's man-made news is related fully and promptly and subjected to the scrutiny of independent reporters can any administration—at national, state or city levels—achieve the credibility of the people that alone produces public confidence."

Carl Flynn, advertising director of the Tulsa, Okla., World and Tribune, succeeded Robert J. Alander of the Charlotte, N. C. News and Observer as president of the INAE.

It's Been A Warm Winter For Sgt. Spring—On Duty In Dominican Republic

By JAMES A. BOURDIER
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—He's been spat upon. People have thrown garbage at him. Rocks have bounced off his heavy military helmet.

And this is the first time in his 24 years of life he hasn't seen snow at this time of the year. It's been a warm winter for Sgt. Spring.

Sgt. William Spring of the U.S. 82nd Airborne, a native of Philadelphia, is typical of the American GIs who patrol the sometimes quiet, sometimes turbulent streets of Santo Domingo.

A U.S. army career man who has a son he's seen only once since beginning duty in the Dominican Republic last May, Spring commands a squad of five other airborne infantrymen and two Jeeps, part of the inter-American peace force.

Rebel Area
Their duty is to patrol the streets in an area known as Ciudad Nueva but more commonly referred to as the "rebel area."

Headquarters and billets are almost squarely in the center of this area — on Avenue Mella — one of the hot spots of sniper fire during last year's short revolution.

Each of Spring's two Jeeps carries three men each and an M60 machine gun, plus shotguns loaded with birdshot, and a ba-zoona. Each soldier carries his own personal arms. Spring rides the right-hand seat of the lead Jeep with a shotgun across his lap, constantly on the alert for any sign of trouble.

The men average 100 miles a day in patrols. A ride through the area takes almost two hours. Then Spring orders a rest break. Then more patrol.

Throwing of rocks and garbage has grown less frequent but many Dominicans hurl verbal insults at the olive-clad men in Jeeps. "We don't feel the day is complete," Spring jokes, "if we don't collect a few 'Yankee go homes'."

Signs Of Trouble
As Spring's Jeeps weave through traffic, the men swivel their heads, checking first the street in their immediate area, then up at the two and three-story buildings packed close together at the sidewalk's edge. At any sign of trouble or street disturbance it is their duty to make a report and investigate and when so ordered, take action.

Quietly, the tall, lean veteran of more than 70 parachute jumps recalls being under fire in this island soon after the revolution broke out, when the sniper fire "was hot and heavy."

"The average Dominican knows is usually quiet and cooperative, unless he is prodded along by someone. He won't go out of his way to interfere with us. But let some rabble-rouser organize a mob, and this same man, egged on, will join in and throw stones at you," Spring says.

Want To Be Friendly
"A lot of Dominicans, too, would like to be friendly with American troops, but are afraid because of threats from certain elements of the population."

Days off are few for Spring and his men. Their chief source of relaxation is swimming at Red Beach and stretching out under the Caribbean sun.

While the politicians of the country maneuver behind closed doors, the outside routine for Spring and men like him goes on seemingly endless patrols through narrow streets. A rest period. More patrols.

Spring looks forward to July when his tour of duty will end and he'll return to his wife, Violet, and son, Wayne, at the 82nd's home base — Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Maybe next winter he'll see snow again.

SAN JOSE — Home loans will be made for 4 per cent in Costa Rica.

SHARP EYE IN SANTO DOMINGO—Sgt. William Spring, seated left, rides through Santo Domingo with his patrol, alert for trouble in the making. With him are driver Pfc. Terry Sense, of Barberton, Ohio, and gunner Pfc. Armando Diaz of San Antonio, Tex. Patrolling the streets of the Dominican Republic capital takes up most of Spring's time. (AP Wirephoto)

Arguments In Gas Case Set

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—The 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals is expected to hear arguments early this summer on the precedent-setting Federal Power Commission order fixing ceilings on the price of sales of natural gas from the Permian Basin of Texas and New Mexico.

A final ruling on the Sept. 1, 1965, order may be a year or more away, a court source said. The court Thursday continued a stay on the FPC order until the case is handled by the courts and a ruling handed down.

It has been estimated that the order would reduce the price of gas sales to pipeline transmission companies by $20 million a year.

The FPC ordered an area ceiling price of 15.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas from new Permian wells or atop of 14.5 cents from old wells.

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—The Maine Sardine Council says the state's 1965 sardine pack was well over that of 1964 but packers aren't universally happy.

Catches were spotty and many of the 23 canneries in Maine didn't get enough fish.

SWEPPER CORDLESS
OTTAWA—A new, lightweight vacuum sweeper that requires no electric cord has been put on the market. Powered by rechargeable nickel-cadmium batteries, the sweeper can clean an area of 15,000 square feet before requiring an overnight recharge from a household outlet.

AMATEUR RUNS INTO TROUBLE—Robert McCall, amateur partner of professional Bill Collins, makes an almost impossible shot from down among the rocks off the 16th green at Cypress Point Thursday, in the opening round of the 25th Crosby National Pro-Am. McCall hit the ball onto the green 15 feet from the cup. He missed the putt, but his partner carried him with a par three. (AP Wirephoto)

BLOCKER TWO STROKES BACK

Al Geiberger Fires 68 For First Round Crosby Lead

By JACK STEVENSON
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Billy Casper made their bid for the second round lead in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament today playing the course which produced the low scores for the first 18 holes.

All three were in position to move in front as they toured the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course where Al Geiberger shot a 68 on Thursday to grab the lead.

Four others had 69s but moved today to rugged Pebble Beach.

Drysdale, Koufax Star In Tourney

By JAMES BACON
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger pitchers Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax shot from the hip and film stars shot from the lip, and both contingents did right proud in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament.

True ... pros Al Geiberger, Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Billy Casper dominated the golfing aspects of the $104,500 program event.

And true ... for some of the famed amateurs, it wasn't so much remarkable that they played well as that they played at all.

Amateurs To Beat
But Drysdale and Koufax, before galleries that sometimes numbered 25,000 baseball fans, became the amateurs to beat today in Crosby's popular golfing tourney.

Drysdale, waiting to tee off Thursday, patiently endured an announcer's introduction of Koufax as baseball's greatest pitcher.

At the end of the round, Drysdale was tied for first place among pro-amateur teams, having carded an impressive 62, including two eagles.

Koufax was right behind, placing second with 63.

The Drysdale-Koufax scoring caused a great ripple of excitement among fans who had always sort of thought of them as pretty good baseball players.

Backus Scores Well
Film comedian Jim Backus had a ripple of excitement, too, as he checked Koufax' score and groused: "Is there no justice? Koufax wins all the ball-games and gets all the girls. Now golf!"

Backus shot a perfectly respectable 68 with pro Bill Ezinicki, a former hockey star.

But Backus allowed as how it would have been better except for one thing: "There was so much frost on the ground when we played that Ezinicki had his Chris Blocker, former Texas Tech golfer, was two strokes off the pace, firing a 34-36-70 at Monterey. Terry Dill, Muleshoe, Gay Brewer by 14 as they carded a best ball 60 to lead the pro-amateur division. Brewer shot a 71, but on the five holes where he had handicap strokes, Morrey recorded a natural birdie and four pars which went down on the score card as an eagle and four birds because of the handicap strokes.

Among five teams tied for second at 62 were Al Besselink and Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale. Left-hander Sandy Koufax of the world baseball champions helped his partner, Ken Still, with eight strokes for a 63.

Brilliant sunshine greeted the Crosby and brought out a gallery of 25,000, largest ever for an opening day.

Bill Ogden had mixed emotions.

Monterey's Plainsmen have been red-hot on the hardwood lately, but they were no match for the snowy barrage that hit the Panhandle and South Plains Thursday night and early today.

As a result, school officials were forced to postpone tonight's scheduled Monterey-Amarillo Caprock district cage tussle at Municipal Coliseum. Future date for the contest still is uncertain early this afternoon, probably hinging on the depth of snowdrifts in the polar Panhandle and the rest of the league schedule.

The unexpected breather this weekend may prove useful to Coach Gerald Myers' troops, who barely averted a disastrous stumble against the inspired Palo Duro Dons in their last outing.

The Plainsmen conquered the Caprock Longhorns, 55-37, in the first half of District 9-AAAA competition, but the Amarillo five has looked a lot tougher since the second-half race got underway. Caprock played tough Amarillo High on even terms for three quarters recently, before bowing by a 49-36 margin.

Monterey currently is tied with Amarillo for the second half lead, with a 2-0 record. The Sandies had been scheduled to play host to Plainview tonight, but the contest undoubtedly will fall victim to the wintry weather and hazardous driving conditions.

Other scheduled league contests had included Palo Duro at Tascosa and Borger at Pampa. But it appears that the only battles actually staged will be with snowballs in the schoolyards.

Utah Sinks Hawaiians

HONOLULU (AP) — Utah's Lake 12, Mervin Jackson 11, and nationally ranked Redskins Jeff Ockel and Ron Cunningham made it two straight over Hawaiians, topping the Raiders made a battle of Subpac Raiders 101-94 behind it all the way as Joe Meagher and Jerry Chambers 33 points.

Chambers hit 15 of 23 from the floor and 5 of 7 from the line but got plenty of help. Meagher hit 11 of 15 from the field and Lyndon MacKay had 14, Gene 4 of 5 free throws.

SPORTS STARS HONORED

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, pro basketball star Jerry West and bowler Dick Weber will be honored for "high principle and achievement in sports in 1965" by the sports lodge of B'nai B'rith at the annual Bill Corum dinner on Jan. 22, it was announced Thursday.

Ted Williams Says His Natural Ability Has Been Overrated, Overstressed

By DAVE O'HARA
BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, the 103rd member of baseball's Hall of Fame, claims that the game requires more practice and concentration than any other sport.

Cooperstown, N.Y. "Baseball takes more hours of practice and concentration than any other sport," the former Boston Red Sox slugger said. "No other sport requires as much practice. There are no short cuts in baseball."

Williams believes his natural ability "has been overrated and overstressed."

Williams retired in 1960 with a .344 lifetime average and 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox, polled a record 282 votes, 94.93 per cent of the total, in balloting by 10-year members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Williams was ignored on only 20 ballots despite his feud with many sports writers. It was a runaway in his first year of eligibility for the Hall of Fame.

Williams said he was sorry that many others, especially Ruffing, had failed to win election.

Williams believes that many of his disputes with writers had been "blown out of proportion."

Nebraska, Tulsa Cited

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Michigan State, Nebraska and Tulsa are the surprise teams in college basketball at the halfway mark of the season.

Unbeaten Kentucky, with a 12-game winning streak that has elevated the Wildcats into the No. 2 spot behind top-ranked Duke in The Associated Press poll, has been a surprise, too, but at least the Wildcats received a few votes in the pre-season AP poll.

Michigan State, Nebraska and Tulsa didn't get a single vote in the pre-season poll yet today the Spartans, Cornhuskers and Hurricanes are in first place in three of the toughest conferences.

The Spartans share the top rung in the Big Ten with Michigan, but the Huskers are undisputed leaders in the Big Eight and the Hurricanes are all alone at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference.

Nebraska hasn't had a winning season in 15 years, but this year the Huskers are 4-1 in the Big Eight and 12-2 overall. The play of two sophs, Tom Baack and Stuart Lantz, is making coach Joe Cipriano happy.

Another soph, Eldridge Webb, has led Tulsa into title contention in the MVC after 10 years of struggling in the valley's second division. Coach Joe Swank's boys are 3-0 in league play and 13-4 overall. They would have been 14-3, but lost to Houston 72-71 last Saturday on a Houston basket with only 26 seconds to go.

Tulsa doesn't play again until Jan. 29, but on Saturday Michigan State is at Iowa and Nebraska is host to Oklahoma.

Only two major games were played Thursday night as mid-year exams called a virtual halt to competition. Virginia Tech boosted its record to 12-2 by defeating East Carolina 83-64 and Bowling Green edged Northern Illinois 74-72.

Holub Tells Mustangs They Can Write 'Success Story'

E. J. Holub, Texas Tech's first full-fledged All-American, told 30 Coronado young football players Thursday at the Mustangs' first pre-season banquet to "stay with the game and take pride in what you do."

The husky Kansas City Chief pro told the gathering at Lubbock Country Club of several instances during which he nearly gave up the game — then decided to continue.

"You have no idea of the opportunities you will have if you stick it out. A team that plays on heart and determination can almost write its own success story," said the former Raider great.

Holub also told the Mustangs they have a great challenge ahead. "When you boys start playing varsity ball next fall, a lot of people will take you lightly. You're a young team, but if you work hard — and with a lot of spirit — you can surprise the doubters."

The football great touched on many facets of high school, college and professional play. "Aquired baseball sense, but you need guidance to know what to do and how to develop your ability. And you're got to work. Stan Musial understood the meaning of practice and he developed himself into a great hitter."

Williams, who retired in 1960 with a .344 lifetime average and 521 homers in 19 seasons with the Red Sox, polled a record 282 votes, 94.93 per cent of the total, in balloting by 10-year

Coronado To Face 'Hands'

Coronado's Mustangs meet the Lubbock High Cowhands at 6:30 p.m. today in a District 3-AAAA junior varsity basketball battle at Monterey Fieldhouse.

The Mustangs will be trying for a better-than-even record for the second half of league play and the charges of Carl McMillan will be aiming for their first victory over the cross-town rival club.

Coronados is 9-9 for the season and 4-7 against district opposition. McMillan will probably send most of the Mustang lineup into the game playing two units each quarter.

Lynn Shuttlesworth, Dan Gobin, Ron DeShelia, Sam Holt, Mark Clark, Robert Sweatt and Gary Kirksey will all see plenty of action.

Reddell Is New Coach At Arlington

AMARILLO (Special) — John Reddell, dean of District 3-AAAA football coaches and head mentor at Palo Duro for the past 11 years, announced his resignation Thursday to accept a similar position at Arlington High.

Reddell, 35-year-old native of Oklahoma City, has been the only head football coach in the history of Palo Duro.

Reddell and two ties as boss of the Dons during the 11-year period. The Dons were 9-1 in 1961, gaining a tie for the league crown with Berger. The Bulldogs were responsible for the lone Palo Duro defeat and thus nudged the Dons out of playoff rights.

In the Monterey series, Reddell's teams were 5-5 with a 14-14 tie in 1962. Against Lubbock his clubs won five, lost four and managed another 14-14 tie with the Westerners in 1957. Both Monterey and Palo Duro opened their doors in 1955 and participated in Class AAA competition the first year.

Reddell's overall 3-AAAA record was 38-11-2. That record places the Dons fifth in all-time league results. Last season the Dons lost seven and won three finishing league action with a 3-5 count.

Reddell was outstanding at Class High in Oklahoma City and played on national championship teams at Oklahoma University in football and baseball. He still holds several Sooner pass receiving marks.

His first head coaching post was at DeKalb in 1963, moving to Class High in Oklahoma City the following year before Reddell will replace Doyle Malone, who will become assistant Palo Duro vacancy.

Malone was a football stand-out at Plainview and TCU. Applications are being accepted at the Amarillo Public Schools Athletic Office for the Palo Duro vacancy.

Neither Here
Nor There

WRAPPING UP ANOTHER week, wonderin' about the concerted recruiting effort currently being staged by one Darrell Royal. . .

It's definitely underway, and people from far and near are commenting on the way the Texas gridmaster is personally pounding the high school bushes.

"I believe he's working at it harder than ever," observed Gene Mayfield, in town Wednesday night to speak at the Dunbar football banquet.

"He's been by our place (Odessa Permian) a couple of times and spent the entire day on both occasions. Gosh, when I was up in the northwest (Borger) we never used to see him. . ."

ROYAL, DESPITE some recent opinions to the contrary, is definitely not one to watch while the world rolls by him. His recruiting haul has always been unmatched in this league, and that's something he won't likely be surrendering.

A change in offense and a step-up in recruiting apparently head up the reorganizational plans. The results of each will be interesting.

PEBBLES FROM THE SLIDE — Former Texas Tech all-American and current all-pro end for the San Francisco 49ers, Dave Parks, is back in the city, contemplating a return to school for the spring semester.

"I haven't made up my mind completely," Parks said Wednesday, "but I'll probably enroll. If I don't, though, I likely will either go back to California or to Dallas to spend the off-season."

Parks had little to say about the West's showing in the Pro Bowl game last week. "We just couldn't get going. Nothing seemed to work right for us."

Commenting on his brilliant sophomore season, which saw him lead the NFL in pass receptions and land a berth on the all-pro team, Parks accepted little of the credit.

"I'd have to attribute most of it to the fact (John) Brodie had such a fantastic year. The way he was throwing the ball this season, catching it wasn't much of a problem. . ."

HITHER AND YON — Principal speaker for last night's Permian football banquet was Hayden Fry, the SMU mentor who was selected, one observer noted, because it was Hayden who quarterbacked the last Odessa football team to cop a state title before the Permians turned the trick this season.

Mayfield on the banquet circuit: "I've spoken at quite a few this year." Gene recalls, "mainly because I'm a much smarter coach than I was a year ago. I'm not doing anything a bit different, understand, but I had a group of spirited youngsters whose determination improved my ability to coach by about 100 per cent. . ."

ALTHOUGH TEXAS A&M has captured the imagination of the basketball public, people connected closely with the SWC version of Naimsmith's Game are saying that if Tech beats SMU tomorrow, the Raiders likely will march on, as originally expected, into the conference trophy room. . .

JEFF WHITE, Tech end who recently signed a pro pact with the Green Bay Packers, will undergo knee surgery at Methodist Hospital tomorrow. . . Tech, for the first time in its SWC basketball history, appears to have an excellent chance of landing three men on the all-league team: Dub Malaise, Norman Reuther and Bob Glover. . .

SPEAKING OF THE banquet circuit as per high schools, it's almost as sure as English peas that those attending such functions will hear someone speak on The Value Of Athletics To The Individual. And if you want, for a change, an un-solicited testimonial, listen to Mrs. John Malaise, who says: "We've never had any trouble with Dub wanting to smoke or drink. His tremendous interest in sports has outweighed easily the temptation of either. And even if athletics had never done a thing more than that for him, I would say his time had all been very well spent. . ."

ERICK ON BOARD
BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (UPI) — Former baseball Commissioner Ford C. Erick has been named to the American Amateur Baseball Congress Advisory Board.

Malone was a football stand-out at Plainview and TCU. Applications are being accepted at the Amarillo Public Schools Athletic Office for the Palo Duro vacancy.

MAIN EVENT—Penn State's Paul Mickey (55) and Alabama's Harry Hammonds (42) appear ready for a 10-rounder, but teammates and the referee pulled them apart before any punches landed.

Mackenzie Gains Finals

Mackenzie forged into the finals of the ninth grade basketball tournament Thursday night by downing Wilson, 63-60, in an overtime contest.

Louis Morris led the winners with 18 points while Ed Nash had 21 for the losers. The regular game ended in a 54-54 tie.

In another game, Dunbar battled its way to the semifinals with a 46-39 victory over O. L. Slaton. A. G. Perryman led the way with 14 points, while Eddie Collins and Tim Davis both had 13 for the losers.

There will be no games in the tournament today, but it will continue Saturday morning.

Evans and Alderson posted consolation victories Thursday night. Evans took out Hutchinson, 20-23, as Vince Freeman scored 11 points. Bourland had nine for the losers. Alderson won over Matthews, 46-23, as Ted White tossed in 11 points. Jimmy Easter had five points for Matthews.

Dunbar and Atkins will play at 10:15 a.m. Saturday for the right to enter the finals at 8:30 p.m. that night. Evans will play Thompson at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and that winner meets Alderson for the consolation finals at 5 p.m.

A third place game is slated for 6:45 p.m. Saturday.

Frank Clarke Won't Run For Legislature

DALLAS (UPI) — Frank Clarke, a star flanker and pass receiver for the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League, decided Thursday against jumping into politics.

He had been considering a race for the Texas House of Representatives. The 31-year-old Negro had been urged by Dallas Democratic Party leaders to make a race for the Texas House, which has no Negro representatives.

Private Citizens Still Dream, Work To Return Rigid Airships To The Skies

By CHRIS MINICLER
LAKEHURST, N.J. (AP) — "They were never given a chance," the admiral said as he looked across the expanse of sparkling, sunlit water.

Leaning against his high-backed chair, in the manner of a ship's captain on his bridge, the admiral paused for a moment. The reflected light from the water rippled across the wooden ceiling.

"They are all gone." The admiral, was speaking of airships, the proud monarchs which roamed around the world more than 30 years ago.

Former Commander He gazed thoughtfully across the Toms River, which takes a sharp bend in front of the Spanish-style home he purchased when he retired from nearby Lakehurst Naval Air Station in 1946.

Adm. Charles E. Rosendahl works as the official American observer aboard the German Graf Zeppelin on its round-the-world and flight in 1929; commanded two of this country's four rigid air-1937; and returned to Lakehurst after World War II to command the Navy's airship research and development program.

Today the airships are gone. The Navy, which operated a fleet of 130 of them during World War II, deflated its last one in 1962. What couldn't be sold was later cut up for scrap.

Few Listeners Rosendahl, 73, finds few listeners for his arguments supporting a new airship program and few readers for his program books in this country.

But the Germans, who developed commercial transoceanic airship routes, recently named a street after him in the town of Zeppelinheim near Frankfurt.

Officially the American airship program is dead. But three new rigid airships supported by metal fram-

One is now under construction. The other two are awaiting flight in 1929; commanded two of this country's four rigid air-out at Hangar No. 1 at Lakehurst, where this country's first rigid airship was built in 1923.

Purderson, now a civilian employee of the air station, occupies the same office he had 20 years ago, when, as a Navy lieutenant, he served as a pilot for the airship research and development program.

Purderson, an aeronautical engineer, says airships "were never given the attention they should have received because they weren't fast enough."

"But when you have an aircraft that costs you nothing to keep in the air," his voice trailed off as he watched a helicopter being taken out of a hang-

"I read the other day where the Marines are experimenting with new ways of moving heavy loads by air. They lift the load with a helium-filled balloon and then tow it by helicopter—who knows?" he asked.

Small Ships Built Airship developments include: Construction of a three-hulled airship in Trenton, less than 30 miles from Lakehurst, by a group including three who served with Navy airships. Privately financed, the ship has been under construction for more than four years. Its builders say it is the smallest airship which can be built for testing purposes. It carries a two-man crew.

A nuclear-propelled airship which its developers say could carry 90 tons of cargo or 400 passengers and a crew of 100, including passenger service personnel, has been designed by a professor of aerospace engineering at the Boston University College of Engineering.

A diesel powered airship, which its designers say could carry 150 tons of cargo or 220 first-class passengers, has been designed by Henry Erwin & Associates of Bartlesville, Okla.

Recent articles in the Soviet press have discussed the feasibility of developing and operating a fleet of airships to transport bulky or overweight freight, such as electric generators.

The Germans maintain one hydrogen-filled airship for advertising purposes and recently have made inquiries in this country and Canada about acquiring fireproof helium to replace the hydrogen.

The designers of both the Boston and Bartlesville airships say they plan to take their proposals to private industry if government agencies now studying them turn down the ideas. Both ships would cruise at between 75 and 100 miles an hour. Both would be able to carry freight or first-class passengers in the comfort associated with luxury liners at comparable fares, their designers say. The Hindenburg had semiprivate state rooms, a dining room, bar, smoking lounge and even carried a piano.

No Military Future In Washington, a spokesman for the Navy told The Associated Press: "The dirigible is now obsolete due to increasing capability of helicopters and fixed-wing aircraft to perform all necessary antisubmarine functions."

The Navy does not plan to use them again. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which has received several proposals for airships to carry rocket boosters from California, where they are built, to Cape Kennedy, Fla., says it has no plans to use dirigibles.

In Trenton, John R. Fitzpatrick, who designed the airship now under construction, says he is anxious to test his novel design and the new fabrics, metals and equipment which have been designed in the 30 years since the last dirigible was built.

His three-hulled ship, built at a cost of more than $400,000, bears little resemblance to the two single-hulled nonrigid blimps used for commercial promotional purposes which still fly around various parts of the country.

Blimps keep their shape by keeping filled with lifting gas. Rigid airships, on the other hand keep their shape with the aid of an extensive metal framework.

Rosendahl, whose book-lined workroom is crammed with momentos, including airship propellers, tickets for the Graf Zeppelin, airship models, photographs, and a piece of molten glass from the Hindenburg, is working on three more books detailing the history of airships.

"It took a Sputnik I to awaken us in space and it may take a new Russian zeppelin to re-awaken our interest in airships," he said when the last Navy airship was deflated 10 miles from his home.

NOVEL AIRSHIP BEING DEVELOPED—Airship developments include construction of this three-hulled craft in Trenton, N. J., by a group including three who served with Navy airships. It carries a two-man crew and has been under construction for more than four years. Designer John Fitzpatrick is shown climbing into the cockpit. (AP Wirephoto)

MILD WEATHER MAY BE FACTOR

Lagging Home Construction Industry Given New Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Mild give the lagging home building weather and financial turbulence a boost. Housing construction starts took a big jump in December. Issuance of building permits for future construction also rose.

In both instances almost all the gain was in the nation's north-central and southern sections. Unusually mild weather is given by some builders as one apparent reason for the launching of this outdoor activity.

They cite the financial climate as another possible one. Some construction plans may have been pushed forward because would-be home owners and builders fear that increased mortgage costs lie ahead.

Interest rates on mortgages have been inching upward in some regions in recent months. A bigger jump is a possibility as the result of generally higher financing charges, wading out after the Federal Reserve Board raised the discount rate, what it charges member banks to borrow from reserve banks.

Most private borrowers have had to pay more for loans. All hands add a note of warning that the big jump in housing starts in December could be exaggerated on the statistical charts, because the Commerce Department issues its figures as seasonally adjusted annual rates.

Since the winter months are usually slow ones in the unusual building industry, any unusual spurt like the one last month can look impressive when multiplied to an annual rate bases.

But the figures themselves are comforting to the industry. Residential building has been the weak sister of the generally booming construction industry for the last two years. Contractors have cited as reasons the previous overbuilding in some communities, rising construction costs and a drop in the marriage and birth rates.

Hopes for better months and years ahead are based on evidence that the supply of un sold housing units is dwindling, thus building up new demand potential. And the postwar babies, now reaching marriage age, will in the next few years be entering the home-buying age.

Any doubts of a future revival of the home building boom at the moment concentrate on fear of rising mortgage charges that would discourage youthful buyers. And, too, there's always the chance that construction costs can take another upward jump, as material prices rise and wage scales move higher.

Red Cross Will Spend $120 Million In '66

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Red Cross will spend $120 million this fiscal year, about $44 million of it on services for U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

Robert W. Sarnoff, co-chairman of the Red Cross campaign, said the year's expenditures will be the greatest since World War II.
