Strike Chief Ordered To Jail

New York Dilemma

Worsens Millions Hike To City Jobs

By JACK V. FOX — A NEW YORK (UPI) — A State Supreme Court justice Monday night ordered the jailing of Michael J. Quill and other Transport Workers Union leaders for calling a bus and subway strike which staggered the business and social life of this metropolis.

Justice Abraham Geller found Quill and the others guilty of civil contempt.

But because of the lateness of the hour he stayed execution of the order until 10 a.m. CST today.

May Be Worse Today
Geller issued the order as workers straggled home from their places of business footsore and leg weary from the rigors of walking and standing in long lines for available transportation.

Today promised to be no better and possibly much worse for the commuter because there seemed little prospect of a quick settlement in the labor dispute.

Dr. Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of a transit mediation panel in the dispute, reported "no movement" in the negotiations Monday night because "the principals are more concerned with what is going on at the courthouse."

Eight Others Cited
Besides Quill those ordered to jail were five officers of the Transport Workers Union and three officers of the Amalgamated Transit Union, which represents workers on bus lines in Queens and Staten Island.

In an opinion from the bench, Geller said these officials "chose to deliberately disregard court orders to instruct their union members not to take part in the strike."

He added that their actions were "calculated."

At the same time he ordered a full hearing for Wednesday at 2 p.m. to decide whether a fine should be imposed on the unions.

Directed Against Unions
Sidney Brandes, attorney for the city Transit Authority, which sought the contempt citation, asked the court to sever the cases against the unions from those against the individuals.

He said the TA sought a fine against the organizations but would not seek money penalties against the individuals.

Geller said, "I grant the See QUILL Page 6

HAPPY NEW YEAR
MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Nineteen persons were killed and 228 injured in year-end celebrations, a police check disclosed Monday. Most of the fatalities were attributed to street brawls.

Asian Ailment Fatal To 'Maggie' Higgins

(By United Press International)
WASHINGTON — Marguerite Higgins, a war correspondent whose zeal won the envy of many of her male counterparts, died Monday of a rare disease she apparently picked up at the Viet Nam warfront.

Miss Higgins, 45, died at the Army's Walter Reed Medical Center after a two-month bout with what was described as a tropical parasite. Doctors said she died of complications from the mysterious ailment.

Pulitzer Prize Winner
The veteran reporter won a Pulitzer Prize for her reporting of the Korean war. She also worked with men reporters, asking no quarter and getting none, during World War II as well as in Viet Nam.

Known as "Maggie" to her friends, she became one of the nation's best known columnists during and after the Korean war. Between wars she shifted her operations to the diplomatic beat in Washington, but visited Viet Nam several times as the guerrilla warfare there escalated into major American involvement.

It apparently was during her last visit to Southeast Asia last fall that she contracted the fatal ailment.

Worked Will III
She worked Will III after returning to her home in the Georgetown section of Washington, but delayed entering Walter Reed to complete a series of columns about her trip.

She was the wife of retired Air Force Lt. Gen. William E. Hall.

Miss Higgins was born in Hong Kong of American parents on Sept. 3, 1920. She obtained degrees from the University of California and Columbia University and went to work for The New York Herald Tribune in 1942.

The Herald-Tribune sent her to London in 1944 and later to Paris and she accompanied the 7th Army deep into Austria. At 23 she became the newspaper's Berlin correspondent.

For her stories on the Buchenwald and Dachau concentration camps and the liberation of Munich, Miss Higgins received the New York Newspaper Women's Club award for the best foreign correspondence of 1945.

Two More Firms Join Bethlehem Price Hike

By STERLING F. GREEN
WASHINGTON (AP) — A government-wide assault against rising structural steel prices was loosed Monday after two other companies joined Bethlehem Steel in posting increases.

Inland Steel Corp. matched Bethlehem's $5-a-ton advance while Colorado Fuel & Iron Corp. posted a $3 increase. Both these are among smaller producers while Bethlehem is No. 2 in the industry. Other major companies withheld any announcements as government pressures built up.

To Buy At Best Price
Three agencies which direct virtually all the government's structural steel buying — the Defense and Commerce departments and the General Services Administration — issued orders to the same effect: don't buy from companies which have raised prices.

And Chairman Gardner Ackley of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and the increases announced by Inland would be unwelcome both to industry and to fighting men in Viet Nam, adding:

"Foreign steel producers are the only people who will take much pleasure in this announcement."

Aid To JFK Recalled
Ackley previously had deplored the price boost Friday by Bethlehem as unwarranted and potentially inflationary.

Inland Steel is the same company which, by refusing to join in a $6-a-ton general steel price rise in 1962, helped the late President John F. Kennedy win the steel price confrontation of that year. But Monday it announced its $5 increase on structural steel.

Chairman Joseph L. Block of Inland said the move is not inflationary but instead is the result of "inflationary forces already let loose" which have raised the costs of steel production.

At almost the same moment Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNamara directed military procurement officers to shift military orders for future structural steel deliveries away from any company which had raised its price to a company which had not done so.

Then, as if by signal, just before the end of the government's See STEEL Page 6

Robust Area Man Retires As Lineman

By TANNER LANE

HUSKY, 200-pound electric lineman hung up his hardhat Monday and retired after 19 years of digging postholes and stringing miles of line in West Texas.

At 65, he is a living example of the often-heeded advice given to young men in other sectors of the country: "Go West!"

J. C. (Cash) Cashon, 306 E. Tulane, in 1945 lived on blackland farm in northeast Texas. He weighed 98 pounds and was nearly dead from asthma.

Advised By Doctor
His advice to go west came from a doctor. Cashon did just that. He headed for the South Plains.

Tuesday, he completed 19 years of rugged outdoor life and work with South Plains Electric Cooperative, which is headquartered in Lubbock and has many miles of line in four area counties.

"My first job was digging postholes—the hard way," Cashon recalled. "My last job was the same — digging postholes, only we now use a machine to do it," Cashon said.

The cooperative threw a party for Cashon Monday, inviting in his wife and friends to see the retiring lineman receive gifts of a See LINEMAN Page 6

'ALL EXCEPT SURRENDER'

Humphrey Cites U.S. Peace Offer

(Avalanche-Journal News Service)
WASHINGTON — The United States has offered to "put everything into the basket of peace except the surrender of South Viet Nam" if necessary to end the war, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey disclosed Monday.

He told reporters this after reporting to President Johnson on his "peace offensive" visit to officials of five allied governments in the Far East, from which he returned Monday morning.

The President then—on his first day back at the White House following the Christmas-New Year holiday—met with top foreign policy advisers to review American efforts to get the Vietnamese conflict to the conference table.

The vice president told reporters he had conferred with officials of five governments and had given them a three-page memorandum, called "The Heart of the Matter in Viet Nam," which reviewed U.S. peace initiatives and concluded with the sentence:

"We have put everything into the basket of peace except the surrender of South Viet Nam."

Humphrey visited Japan, the Philippines, Nationalist China and South Korea, and also conferred in Manila with Thailand's foreign minister.

Johnson personally presented Humphrey to newsmen after their talk, saying the vice president had "again demonstrated his capacity in the field of leadership by demonstrating to the people of that part of the world our desire to participate in a peaceful and orderly world."

Johnson's diplomatic spokesmen continued their efforts in the Mideast and Africa while the hull in the bombing of North Viet Nam passed its 10th day with no indication of when it might end.

Peace Basket
Humphrey told newsmen the memorandum contained a 14-point list of U.S. proposals. Made public last week, they are a recapitulation concerning Viet Nam ranging from Johnson's offer of unconditional discussions to U.S. willingness to help Southeast Asian economic reconstruction.

STILL BUMPER CROP

Late Harvest Nears Windup Over Area

By DUANE HOWELL
Avalanche-Journal Farm Editor

COTTON moved to many South Plains gins in unusually heavy volume for this time of year Monday as South Plains farmers rushed to wrap up harvesting of the 1965 crop.

With only a week or so of good weather needed to complete all but some scragging of the region's third largest crop on record, some gins Monday had several hundred bales on the yard.

500,000 Bales Remain
Cotton observers estimate that approximately a half million bales or more remain in area fields. The late, stop-and-go harvest is an estimated 75 to 80 per cent complete.

Production in the 23-county area is expected to total about 2,773,000 bales, a healthy increase over the 1964 crop of 1,913,000 bales. Much of the income from the crop is still to be "cashed in" by area farmers.

Receipts at the U.S. Department of Agriculture's classing office in Lubbock Monday totaled approximately 50,000 bales, including what accumulated over the weekend.

Classing Totals Given
Bill Palmer, head of the central classing office here, expects daily receipts at Lubbock to run about 20,000 to 25,000 bales for the next few days if favorable harvesting weather prevails.

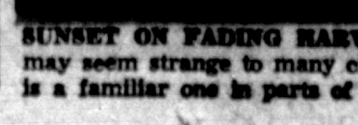

Classing at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa for the season through last week, the latest tally available, totaled about 1,600,000 bales. The total at the same time a year ago stood at 1,668,000.

The Lamesa office turned out the biggest volume of the season there last week, classing 18,276 bales to bring its total to 124,545. It expects to get about 3,000 samples a day this week.

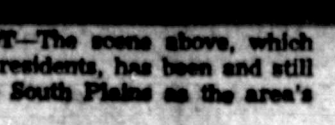

Grades Down Slightly
Palmer said continued favorable weather probably would see receipts at Brownfield running around 6,000 to 8,000 bales a day this week. Recurring spells of adverse weather in recent weeks have resulted in sporadic harvesting.

In addition to cotton classed by USDA, an estimated 40,000 to 50,000 bales have been custom ginned and have by-passed the classing offices.

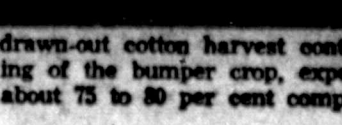

Grades of cotton classed at Lubbock dropped slightly last week. Fifty-two per cent of the classings fell into the white See LATE HARVEST Page 6

AWAITS REAL TEST

County Jury Pool Makes Its Debut

The Lubbock County jury pool, one of several new innovations in the judicial procedure here this year, made its debut Monday, but the first real test of the system will not come for another week.

Maximum use of jurors under the new plan will not come until the week of Jan. 24, when three district courts and one county court-at-law will draw jurors from the pool.

Since the selection of a civil jury for 140th District Court Monday supplied jurors for only one court, it was not much different from any of the jury panels called here in the past years. But panel members reporting next Monday might find jury duty in any of three courts. Civil juries will be selected from the panel for 72nd and 140th District Courts and one county court-at-law.

Heads List Of Changes
The following week, panel members might wind up on either a civil jury in 99th District Court, or a criminal jury in 140th District Court.

The jury pool heads the list of changes to provide for four district courts while having three courtrooms. Other changes are:

—A calendar of court schedules for the four courts that assures courtroom space for those courts with jury cases to be heard.

—A "non-jury" hearing room that is expected to be ready for use in three to four weeks.

—And plans for a fourth district courtroom in the next two years.

Hasn't Courtroom

Judge James A. Ellis, presiding judge of the infant 137th District Court, has been afforded office space in the courthouse, but plans to provide him a courtroom have yet to be completed.

However, careful planning on his part and that of his counterparts in Lubbock County's other three courts, has provided him with a place to hold 18 civil jury weeks and six criminal jury weeks during 1966.

This was accomplished by Judge Ellis using the courtroom of Judge Victor H. Lindsey's 72nd District Court when Judge Lindsey is holding court in Crosby County, and by using the courtrooms of Judges Robert H. Bean and Howard C. Davison when they have scheduled non-jury cases.

Remodeling Underway
Remodeling is underway on the fourth floor of the courthouse to provide a jury pool assembling room at one end of the building, and a non-jury cases in all the courts.

The jury pool is provided for, and required, by state law when a county has three or more district courts serving the county exclusively. While Lubbock County has had three district courts, the 72nd District Court also served Crosby County, leaving the county one shy of "exclusive" courts.

The initiation of the 137th District Court Sept. 1, 1965 forced the jury pool system of selecting jurors.

Returned To Pool
Judge Ellis explained that when jurors were needed for four courts on the same day, two courts would divide the panel for jury selection in the morning. Those jurors not chosen for duty would be returned to the pool for use when the other two courts began jury selection in the afternoon.

There are several advantages to the system pointed out by both Judge Ellis and Judge Bean that would provide a saving in time and money in jury selection. Unused jurors would not be "wasted" until all the courts in session had passed over them as was the case under the old system.

Provides Standby Panel
It also provides a jury panel on standby should a case be settled after a jury is selected so that another case can be begun the same day. And in cases where the panel is called but the case is not ready for trial, jurors can be used in other courts instead of being sent home to await another case. Judge Ellis estimated a saving of about 25 per cent of total outlay for jury trials.

Judge Bean, who has been selected as administering judge of the jury pool for January and February, was not quite so optimistic, but said "if we can get the proper number of jurors here, we can have some overlapping juries." This would save a lot of time in getting cases to trial.

Judge Ellis indicated that the jury schedule in the courts and the new jury pool should keep the dockets of the four courts in "reasonably good shape" until space can be provided for a new courtroom about a year and a half from now.

Fire Damage Heavy To Home In Lubbock

A fire that broke out in the John Busby house at 2103 31st St. Monday afternoon while no one was at home resulted in extensive damage before firemen could subdue the flames. Firemen indicated the cause of the blaze had not been determined Monday night and was still under investigation. The fire call was received at 4:20 p.m., but heavy damage to the kitchen and a bedroom and heat and smoke damage to the rest of the house had been done before the blaze could be extinguished.

Heavy Toll For Holidays Near 1,300

(By The Associated Press)
A record New Year's holiday weekend toll of 562 carried to nearly 1,300 Monday the number of Americans killed in heavy motor traffic over two long, successive weekends.

The Christmas weekend toll of 720 was the greatest for any three-day holiday celebration on record.

"The depth of this tragedy demands the active concern of every American, whatever his status," Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said. "The horror we all feel at the extent of this needless death must not be considered a helpless emotion."

The council estimated that in addition to the deaths more than 60,000 persons were disabled, many permanently, in the crashes of the two weekends.

The New Year's toll was counted between 6 p.m. 10 a.m. time Thursday and midnight Sunday, a 78-hour period identical with that of the Christmas weekend.

The lowest New Year's toll since World War II was 269 during the 1949-1950 holiday, also 78 hours.

To reach some standard by which to measure the extraordinary dangers of holiday weekend travel, The Associated Press made a count over the nonholiday 78 hours between 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 9, and midnight Sunday, Dec. 12. There were 420 auto deaths.

Several City Homes Looted During Holiday

Several Lubbock residents returned from the holiday weekend Monday to find their homes broken into and property stolen.

Eddie Williams, Patio Apartments, a student at Texas Tech, told officers while he was gone during the Christmas vacation someone entered his apartment and took a set of golf clubs valued at $275.

Cody Trout, 2713 Auburn, reported his trailer house entered sometime since Friday, but nothing was believed to be missing, he said two glasses used to mix drinks and part of a rum bottle were left behind in the kitchen. A woman's slip had been left beside his bed.

Microphone Stolen
Scott F. Mitchell, 4116 33rd St., reported a microphone stolen from the Assembly of God Church at 2701 Bates. Eighty dollars in cash was reported stolen from Francis Ames, Phil's Hotel, and John Johnson, 303-A Ave. T, told officers a lady's purse and $42 cash was stolen from his car.

Police were also investigating a vandalism report by Charles Sayers, 424 36th St., who said copper tubing in three of his apartments on 49th St. had been cut. A door glass was broken for entry to Horkey Oil Co., 406 Erskine St. Desks were ransacked, but loss was believed to be only about $10 in change. A jacket and gloves were taken in a break-in of a van at Loop 289 and 8th Street. It belonged to Cement Supply Co., police said. Also, a gum machine was missing from Avenue A Pool Hall, 1802 Ave. A.

An attempted break-in through a back door was reported at Cizon Jewelry store, 1207 Broadway. Mack Hartgrove, 2401 8th St., complained that someone slashed the top of his convertible automobile. Olen Summers said four tires and wheels were stolen from a car at his automobile service garage, 810 50th St.

PLAINVIEW (Special)—Rudolph Rangel, 19, of Emondson, was charged with negligent homicide here today in the Dec. 10 traffic deaths of seven members of a Hart Community family. The complaint, signed by Highway Patrolman Curtis Pray Jr., investigating officer, charged Rangel with first and second degree homicide. The second degree charge alleged Rangel was driving on the wrong side of the road when the accident occurred. Seven members of the Melecio Cordova Martinez family were killed in the head-on crash at 1:15 p.m. Friday, Dec. 10, about 10 miles northwest of Plainview on State Hwy. 194. Rangel also was injured in the accident. Hale County Judge C. L. Abernethy set bond for Rangel at $1,000.

Felony Charge Filed Against Lubbock Man
A felony charge of driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense, was filed Monday against Weaver W. Daniel, 34, 3309 33rd St. Police said the defendant was arrested Thursday in the 200-block of E. 25th St. He was released from jail on $1,000 bond set by Peace Justice F. R. Land. Also charged here Monday was Terry D. Winton II, 18, Plainview, accused of attempting to pass a forged instrument for $63.50 to United Supermarkets Dec. 31. He was being held in county jail Monday night. Bond had not been set late Monday. Earnest Leon Jarrett, 35, 715 E. 30th, was arrested as a fugitive from justice Monday and was being held in lieu of $1,500 bond Monday night.

INVESTING IN LUBBOCK'S FUTURE

FROM Dr. Blair's DESK

A New Year has now been launched and is in orbit. It is time now to place a new page in an old book—page 1966 upon which the next twelve months of your life will be recorded.

New problems will challenge your efforts, threaten your health and happiness.

Have you set a new goal for yourself? Will your goal be possible? Will it be practical? Whether your progress in 1966 will depend on how well you chart your course.

But what of your HEALTH goals? Are you physically capable of progressing? How sturdy is your back? How steady are your nerves? How strong is your heart? How alert are you?

How will you prepare for your future health? Do you know that many times Chiropractic adds healthy years to life simply by restoring normal function?

Chiropractic doesn't claim to CURE anything—nor does any other healing art. CURE, Nature does that job. Chiropractic has techniques of correcting spinal misalignment, freeing nerve pressure which is interfering with the flow of vital nerve energy, thus making it possible for Nature to once again perform her healing functions.

Keep this principle in mind when you face problems of illness this year. It may well be possible for you to find help as have thirty-five million other Americans in chiropractic clinics throughout the nation.

Since 1949 it has been our privilege to care for the health needs of thousands of South Plains residents. To have helped so many has been most rewarding and gratifying.

House Committee Charts Course Of New Series Of Klan Hearings

By GEOFFREY GOULD WASHINGTON (AP) Chairman Edwin E. Willis of the House Committee on Un-American Activities met Monday with his investigators of Ku Klux Klan affairs to chart the course of a new series of hearings starting today.

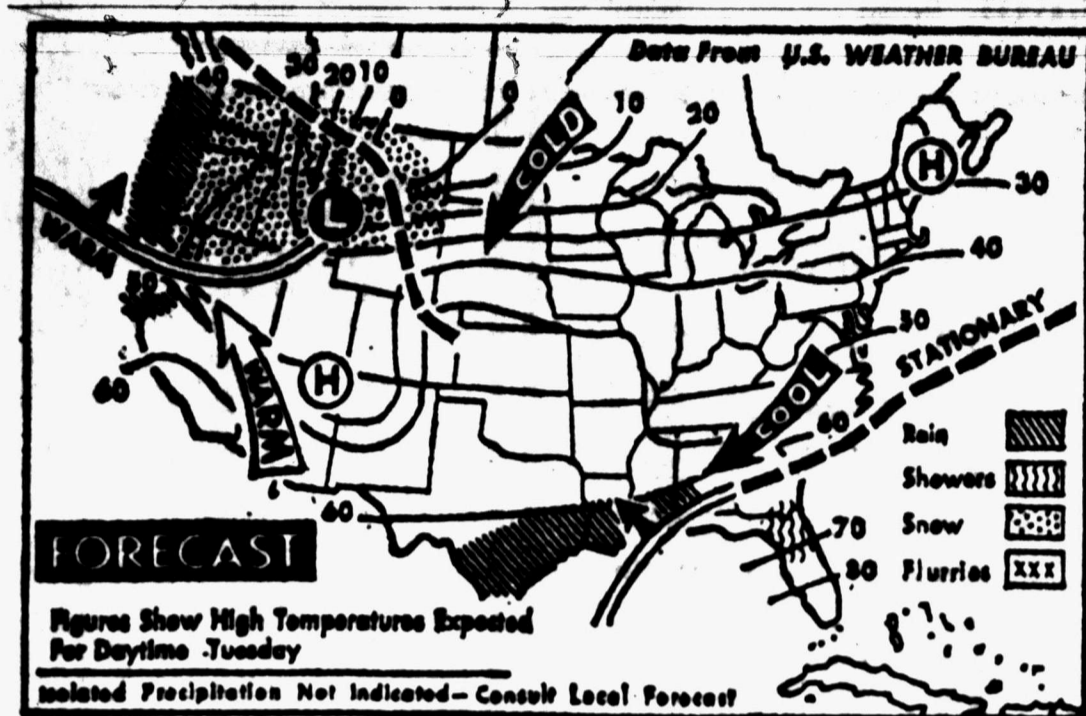

Willis took soundings and made speeches throughout the state after the first series of hearings adjourned in November. He said he got the definite impression that business leaders were telling him, in effect, "Go to it."

Bogalusa, a center of Klan activity and racial violence in southeast Louisiana, figures to loom large in the new hearings, committee sources disclosed. Willis said he is heartened also by a recent ruling of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals, aimed at preventing harassment of Negro and white civil rights workers in the Bogalusa area.

There is less Klan activity. "There is a general depression of such activities," Rep. Charles L. Weltner, D-Ga., a committee member who was the moving force behind turning the committee's attention to the Klan, agreed with Willis' impressions. "The Klan is quiet as a church mouse back home," he said in a separate interview.

Weltner said the Clayton County Civic Club, pinpointed by the previous hearings as a Klan front organization not far from Weltner's Atlanta district, can hardly muster a dozen Klansmen at its meetings these days. Before it regularly turned out 80 to 100 members, he said.

It was learned that the committee has held several closed hearings at which such witnesses spoke freely. But they said they fear reprisal and so far have declined to be identified openly.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain should fall today along the Gulf Coast and the northern and central Pacific Coast. Scattered showers are forecast for northern Florida. Snow will fall from the Cascades into the northern plains. Cooler temperatures will prevail from the south Atlantic states into the lower Mississippi Valley.

NOW UP Soviet Predicts Lengthy Orbits For Satellites

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet satellites now circling the earth will continue in orbit from 10 to more than 1,000 years depending on the duties assigned them, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said Monday.

State "ZEBRA IN THE KITCHEN" AND "MURDER AHOY"

The people in my district — they're just not for the Klan, the Atlanta congressman said. "I think this is true throughout the South, I am convinced of that. But most people probably would prefer not to be openly against the Klan because they are fearful of harassment of their families or of some kind of physical violence."

SPEECH HITS BROKEN AGREEMENTS

Castro Blasts Red China's Plan For Cutback In Trade With Cuba

By ISAAC FLORES HAVANA (AP) — Diplomatic observers said Monday Prime Minister Fidel Castro is bitter about Communist China's cutback in trade with Cuba.

One source said Castro's speech Sunday announcing that Peking had broken a trade agreement was "a blast at the Red Chinese." Another described it as "bitter and somber."

Castro spoke on the seventh anniversary of his revolution and on the eve of a nine-day conference in Havana of revolutionaries from three continents. The conference, called for solidarity, is expected to touch on the Moscow-Peking feud.

Heavy Royalties, Tax Suspended To Help Trade

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — The rebel Rhodesian government Monday announced suspension of heavy royalties and export tax on coal and coke supplied to Zambia and the Congo in an effort to maintain its export trade with the two African republics.

Italy's Mafia-Buster Seeks Indictments Of 21 'Chiefs'

PALERMO, Sicily (UPI) — Italy's top Mafia-buster announced Monday he will seek the indictment of 21 alleged chiefs of the Italo-American underworld, including New York's missing Joe Bonanno, on charges of running an international narcotics racket.

Among the gangling figures accused in the 20 volumes of evidence Judge Aldo Vigneri will turn in Wednesday are reputed top Mafia chieftain Giuseppe Genovese, and Americans Frank (Three Fingers) Coppola, Frank Garofalo, Charles Orlando and the vanished Giuseppe Bonanno known as Joe Bonanno.

Observers say most delegates appear likely to side with the Kremlin. In Belgrade, the Yugoslav Communist party paper Borba accused the organizers of the conference of "attempts to discriminate against policies of nonalignment and peaceful coexistence."

TRENTON, TEX. Burglars Open Vaults, Miss One With Cash

TRENTON, Tex. (UPI) — Burglars broke into a bank in the northeast Texas community of Trenton sometime Sunday night or early Monday and pried open two vaults but overlooked one containing all the bank's money.

The burglars forced open a wooden back door to get into the First National Bank of Trenton, a town of about 750 persons in Fannin County, about 12 miles southwest of Bonham.

Bank officials said some money may have been taken, but the amount will not be known until owners of the safety deposit boxes are contacted.

DALLAS (AP) — Sheriff Bill Decker has hired three of the six city police officers fired for loafing in a South Dallas cemetery in September.

Decker said the three will work with the courts as bailiffs until county jail facilities are transferred to the new courthouse.

The sheriff said the officers will escort prisoners from the jail cells across the street to the various courtrooms. He said he hired the three former policemen "because they are experienced officers."

The three officers are Willis W. Temple, J. M. Valentine, and A. R. Brock. Decker said they are being paid $65 a month.

89th Congress To Reconvene, Face War Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The second session of the 89th Congress convenes Monday to see what, if anything, it can do to help win the Viet Nam war. Besides appropriating the money, this probably won't be much.

President Johnson has not disclosed much of what he will ask of the Congress, either on the home front or abroad. On past performance, the lawmakers would be surprised if he failed to come up with something dramatic in his State of the Union address, probably in the field of foreign affairs.

Bigger Defense Appropriations
In any event he will ask for bigger appropriations for defense and smaller appropriations than originally were contemplated for such burgeoning "Great Society" programs as school aid and the anti-poverty war.

Congress is primed to give him whatever he asks for defense, and maybe a little bit extra. There will be a lot more haggling this time than in the first session about how far and how fast to go in pursuing the "Great Society" goals.

Pass "GI Bill"
Whether Johnson asks for it or not—and up to now the administration has opposed it—the House can be expected to shove to early enactment a Senate-passed "GI bill" to give returning ex-servicemen up to four years of college payments and special loan guarantees to buy homes.

The benefits, similar to those provided for veterans of World War II and Korea, would be available not only to all men now in service but to those who have served since Jan. 31, 1955. A fresh resolution of support would vote no. The big Democratic majority no doubt and pushed through the House and Senate. Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.) chairman of the House Republican Conference, has demanded such action to give firm legal backing to a U.S. combat commitment that has spiraled since Congress last considered the question.

Rep. Olin E. Tigue (D-Tex.) promises an effort to push through legislation outlawing anti-war demonstrations and such acts as the displaying of the Viet Cong flag. So far, drafting such legislation without infringing constitutional guarantees has posed difficulties, and prospects for its passage seem slim.

Protest Base Closings
House and Senate members will conduct oratorical forays against Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's decision to save money for the war by closing some bases and deferring construction of family housing for servicemen. They recognize, however, that they cannot reverse these decisions.

McNamara's decision to build a new bomber—the FB111, a modified version of the controversial TFX fighter—will be subjected to considerable hindsight in light of his earlier refusal to build the bigger, longer-range B52. The decision will not be upset.

McNamara has served notice he will again ask Congress for authority to merge the organized Army Reserve into the National Guard. Congress has served notice that now, more than before, it is little-inclined to let him do it.

Most members don't expect Johnson to ask, now, for new taxes to finance the war. Republicans say if he did, they would vote no. The big Democratic majority no doubt would go along with such a request. But indications are Johnson will trim his budget wherever possible and delay any request for new taxes.

Possible Amendments
The draft law does not expire until 1967. Liberal members may try to amend it, however, to eliminate the kind of punitive inductions Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey has authorized in the case of deferred registrants who "sit in" at draft boards or otherwise run afoul of the Selective Service law.

Others defend this course, and any such legislation is almost sure to be blocked in House or Senate Armed Services Committees.

The lawmakers even before the session convenes are

Skipper, Engineer Fined For Drunkeness
GLASGOW (UPI) —The skipper and chief engineer of the River Clyde ferry across the Mersey to being drunk in charge of the boat early on New Year's Day.

The prosecution said police boarded the ferry when they were told at 1:40 a.m. that it was stuck in the middle of the river.

They found Capt. Roland Wilson, 29, was drunk and put Engineer Samuel Blue 46, in charge. Then they found Blue was drunk as well. A relief crew paddled to the ferry and took over.

Wilson and Blue were each fined $14.

BY BROWN Viet Buildup Is Ranked High

SAIGON (UPI) —U.S. Air Force Secretary Harold Brown Monday ranked the current American military buildup in South Viet Nam with the historic Berlin airlift and that over the hump into China during World War II.

"None of those jobs was more impressive than this," Brown told a news conference on the eve of his departure from South Viet Nam.

Concluding a three-day tour of Air Force installations in Viet Nam, Brown had high praise for the job his airmen were doing in support of the build up, calling the units involved a "truly first team."

But the Air Force secretary was evasive when questioned turned to the current pause in air strikes against Communist North Viet Nam, and the possibility that giant B52 bombers might be used against the north.

McKissick Chosen As CORE's Chairman

NEW YORK (UPI) —The Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) Monday named Foyd B. McKissick as national director of the pioneer civil rights organization.

McKissick, 43, a Negro who once practiced law in North Carolina, had been national chairman of CORE.

He replaced James Farmer, who recently announced he was leaving CORE.

Quill Ordered To Jail; Transit Tieup Continues

application for a severance and will schedule a hearing . . . to determine whether a fine should be imposed against the unions and to what extent.

The contempt jailing, under civil laws, mean that Quill and his associates hold the keys to the jail doors inasmuch as any time they are ready to purge themselves of contempt by ordering union members to return to work they would be released.

Gigantic Traffic Crush
The unprecedented shutdown of the city's transit system Monday held an estimated 2 1/2-million persons away from jobs, schools, shopping and other normal activities. The walkout also created during the evening rush hour a gigantic traffic crush in certain areas and jammed railroad stations.

The traffic jam in Manhattan, which sent thousands of persons traveling miles by foot and had cars packed bumper to bumper at bridges and tunnels, eased off in early evening.

The crowds also thinned at Pennsylvania and Grand Central stations.

Claim $40 Million Loss
Retail establishments estimated they had lost more than $40 million Monday.

Geller ordered a marathon night session to decide the judicial future of Quill and the 36,000-member TWU.

Mayor John V. Lindsay's exhortation to New Yorkers to take the day off unless their presence at work was essential in avoiding a paralyzing traffic jam earlier in the day.

Lower Manhattan had the greatest tieups with the West Side and Franklin D. Roosevelt drives described as "beyond the saturation points."

Trains Beseiged
Grand Central Station also was besieged with midtown office workers seeking to get railroad trains to the Bronx and the Westchester and Connecticut suburbs. They formed long lines for tickets and were mobbed around stairwells leading to the lower platforms where local trains depart.

Four of New York's biggest department stores—Bloomingdale's, Gimbels, Macy's and Stern's—let clerical employees out at 6 p.m. rather than the usual Monday 9 p.m. closing and they added to the jam.

Lindsay, who personally walked four miles from his apartment to City Hall in the early morning, said in a press conference Monday night that "only half of New York's workers came into the city during the day and casual visitors stayed away."

Cars Halved
The mayor urged employers personally to notify their employees that they were not needed for non-essential jobs.

The Police Department estimated that 300,000 cars came into New York Monday compared with 600,000 on a normal weekday.

It resulted for a time during the day in an appearance of far less activity than usual in Manhattan Department stores were very light on customers and the number of employees showing up in office jobs in the skyscrapers ranged from 25 to 90 per cent.

One and one-half million school children stayed home. The subways and buses normally carry about 3 million persons in the morning hours and the rate of absenteeism among workers and lack of customers indicated at least another million were affected by the strike.

"Foot" Bridges
New Yorkers streamed across the bridges on foot. Taxis were picking up multiple fares for one trip but dozens of pedestrians, exhilarated by the experience of walking for a change, turned down offers to share cars.

Quill, surprised of the contempt proceedings at the contempt hearing, said: "Yes, I suppose many of us might go to jail. But all the Judge Gellers of America and their injunctions and jailings will not cut our demands down. Our second line will take over and, if necessary, our third and fourth lines."

President Johnson conferred in Washington with Sec. of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to see if there was any way the federal government could be helpful. But the White House said Johnson and Wirtz came to no conclusion on possible federal assistance at this time.

On a morning that began with a drizzling rain and temperatures in the high 30s, it appeared around 6 a.m. that a monumental traffic jam was in the making at the approaches to Manhattan from Brooklyn, Queens and the Bronx.

make it to work because of the strike. Opinion as to whether that advice would be heeded was widely divided.

Guilt Feelings
One girl, Joyce Gulay, walked several miles to her job at the Banker's Trust Co. Asked whether she felt essential, Miss Gulay replied, "No, guilty."

James Mercado, 28, walked 10 miles to his job as an elevator operator only to be told he wasn't needed because so few people had come to the building.

The New York Stock Exchange was open for business as usual with its staff slightly depleted. President Keith Farnston arrived in a chauffeured limousine from Connecticut. Banks were open but their floors also were nearly deserted.

Thousands walked across the bridges and bicycles were popular with many. Five bikes were spotted within the space of one block on Fifth Avenue during the morning.

Passengers Increase
Commuter railroads reported an increase of about 50 per cent in passengers. The Long Island Rail Road was stopping at Jamaica in Queens and picking up thousands of persons who ordinarily would have gone to work by subway or bus.

At one point in early morning, Lindsay went on the radio and said: "If you hear my voice and are on the road to New York, turn your car around and go back where you came from because you will never get to the city anyway."

Commissioner Barnes urged people to continue to remain at home if possible until the strike is over.

"We are afraid of what will happen tomorrow if people decide there is no problem," he said. "We might have tomorrow what we feared today. There is such a thing as being too successful."

Blood Shortage Hits New York
NEW YORK (AP)—Dwindling supplies of whole blood brought on in part by the transit strike forced the New York Blood Center Monday night to ask that surplus blood from across the nation be shipped into the city, according to Dr. Aaron Kellner, director of the center.

He said that although the city normally has a four- to five-day supply of whole blood on hand "there is substantially less than that now."

He wouldn't say how much less, but he told The Associated Press that supplies are ordinarily augmented by depleted after a long holiday.

"We usually built up normally in the first one or two days after the holiday," he said, "but with the strike people can't get in to donate. We're still using blood faster than it's coming in."

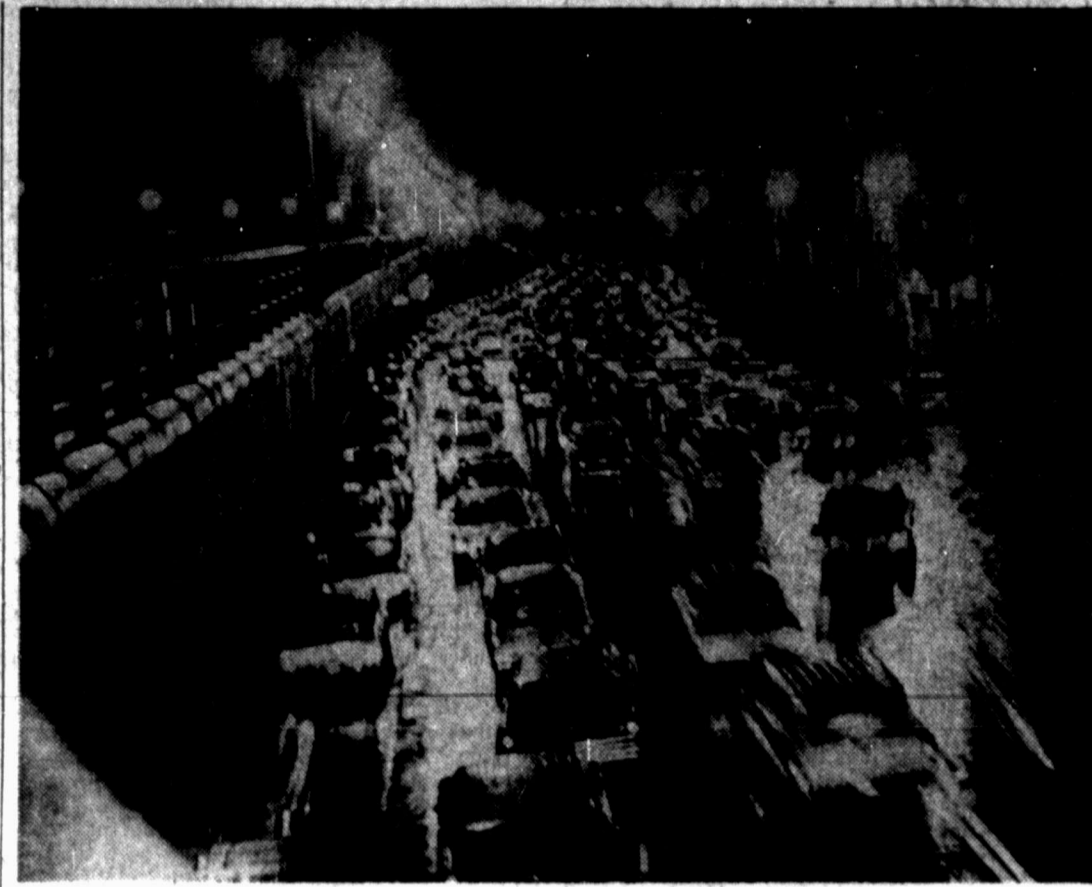

The mayor urged employers personally to notify their employees that they were not needed for non-essential jobs.

The Police Department estimated that 300,000 cars came into New York Monday compared with 600,000 on a normal weekday.

NICE TRY — The "rush" hour came early for these motorists who had hoped to beat today's transit strike traffic jams by starting early. At 5:30 a.m. they found themselves in this traffic tieup in the southbound lanes of East River Drive. The transit strike in New York started Saturday morning, but the full impact was felt this morning. (AP Wirephoto)

Humphrey Describes U.S. 'Peace Basket' Proposal

Kenya after meeting with Emperor Haile Selassie in Ethiopia. Radio Hanoi harshly attacked the U.S. moves as it has done before. It said "the U.S. aggressors" in "their peaceful negotiations swindle" are really trying to "conceal their acts of war expansion."

Reds In Own Demands
The North Vietnamese broadcast was based on a commentary in the publication Nhan Dan signed "Observer," which normally indicates an expression of official government views.

According to the Hanoi broadcast, "The campaign in quest of peace which Lyndon Johnson is conducting in the Texas manner can by no means hide its deceitful and hypocritical nature."

"The Johnson administration in fact is sending more troops to Viet Nam, is seeking billions of dollars more for its war effort and meanwhile refuses to give up South Viet Nam to the Vietnamese," the Hanoi statement said. It demanded U.S. "acknowledgement" of Hanoi's program and an end to U.S. "acts of war" as a price of settlement.

With the U.S. peace probe still uncertain just what they should say to the United States, State Department and Pentagon spokesmen declined comment on the Hanoi broadcast.

Reds Noncommittal
Privately, U.S. sources said: "The Reds apparently have yet to make a definitive reply through diplomatic channels to the U.S. peace feelers."

There has been no notable scaling down of the Communist military effort in South Viet Nam to match the pause in the air strikes on the North.

The Hanoi broadcast made the most direct mention yet from the Communist side of Washington's current peace offensive. However, it did not mention the bombing lull.

Whether the absence of Red reference to the air pause had much significance was a matter of conjecture among U.S. experts. Some figured that the Communist propagandists are uncertain just what they should say about it and therefore are ignoring it for the time being while condemning the U.S. peace campaign in general.

Statement Vague
Hanoi's statement also remained somewhat vague on whether North Viet Nam would do any negotiating about a peace settlement on any terms but its own.

However, bitter Hanoi's public responses, U.S. diplomats were inclined toward a wait-and-see attitude on what the Communists had to say.

Musmanno Rips Jap Fisherman's Discovery Claim

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—State Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno said Monday a claim that Japanese fisherman landed in the New World 4,500 years before Columbus was "just as moonstruck as the claim that Japan did not bomb Pearl Harbor."

Musmanno, who has denounced other claims that Lief Erickson was in America before Columbus, was referring to an article in the January issue of Scientific America by Clifford Evans and Betty Meggers.

Anthropologists at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C., said pieces of pottery found in Ecuador in 1961 were of a type that could have come only from Japan.

They theorized that a Japanese fishing boat was caught in a storm and drifted the 8,000 miles to Ecuador.

Musmanno said the theory was "a tall fish story which surpasses all piscatorial prevarication hitherto presented to disclaim Columbus' discovery."

"And how did they prove the Japanese landed here 5,000 years ago?" Musmanno asked. "By the presence of a fragment of red pottery. I am surprised because of the color of the pottery, that they did not say it was a Communist who discovered America."

Judge Dismisses AFL-CIO's Suit

AUSTIN (AP)—Dist. Judge Charles Betts dismissed Monday two AFL-CIO officials' suit attacking the five-month-old increase in auto insurance rates.

Betts granted the state's motion for a summary judgment against Texas AFL-CIO President J. S. Brown and Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer.

Betts granted the state a similar motion in August to dismiss another suit attacking the state insurance board's order increasing all categories of auto insurance an average of 13.4 per cent. The first suit was brought by Dallas attorney Bert Bader.

The suit contended the board should have included consideration of insurance companies' income from investments. The board bases rates on companies' profit and losses from policy premiums.

The attorney for Brown and Evans gave notice of appeal. Bader has not appealed.

Airline Seeks New Half-Fare

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Continental Airlines Monday joined the growing number of airlines seeking Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) approval of a new half-fare for youngsters.

Continental's plan was similar to the one originally proposed by American Airlines. It called for a 50 per cent discount for passengers from 12 to 22 years old. The discount, half the regular coach fare, would be subject to prior boarding of full-fare passengers with reservations and military standby passengers.

Cashon was reared in Collin County, Tex., near McKinney. He was married there to the former Miss Ruth Horn in 1916. The Cashons have two children—a son, Carlton, who is an oil company employee at Richardson, Tex.; and a daughter, Mrs. Nell Teeter, a farmer's wife near Abilene.

What will he do now that he is retired? Cashon doesn't know for sure. But he is positive about one thing he won't do—that is, leave West Texas.

Builder Accused Of Bilking Bank

DALLAS (UPI)—The lawyer for builder Herman Hall, accused of bilking the First National Bank of Dallas out of $410,000, said Monday Hall would plead innocent and demand a jury trial.

The 41-year-old Hall borrowed money from the Dallas bank to build a motor and apartment complexes in Arlington and Austin. The bank has charged he did not use all the money loaned him for such purposes.

Ronald Altman, Hall's lawyer, said the builder would have paid back the money given enough time.

Hall formerly was employed in the Fort Worth city land office and faces 10 indictments for theft and embezzlement in Tarrant County. He has been in jail in Fort Worth since last August without bond.

Hungary Gives Economic Plans

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Hungary announced Monday a series of economic reforms that will raise wages of low-bracket workers, cut incomes of top earners and raise farm prices.

The reforms, disclosed in a speech by Deputy Premier Lajos Feher, will add Hungary to the list of East European nations that have embarked on new economic projects.

The Soviet Union, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia have adopted some Western-style ideas while vowing never to allow a capitalist economy. Romania is following a line of economic independence from Moscow.

The Hungarian news agency MTT, reporting Feher's speech, said details of the reforms will be announced Feb. 2 and later.

TWO MORE JOIN BETHLEHEM

Steel Firms Raising Prices To Lose Federal Business

business day three civilian agencies, the Economic Council, Commerce Department, and GSA, spoke out.

The latter two agencies control the use of more steel than the Pentagon, since the Commerce Department is responsible for federally aided bridge and highway building and the GSA handles public buildings construction. The three agencies directly and indirectly consume one-fourth of the nation's entire steel output.

Will Follow Suit
Undersec. of Commerce Leroy Collins, acting in the absence of Sec. John T. Connor, announced he was ordering all department officials to purchase structural steel at the lowest possible price.

"In addition, I have instructed all such officials to make every effort to insure that contractors follow the same procedures with respect to their subcontractors," Collins said.

The policy will apply to all structural steel bought "in whole or in part" with federal funds or subsidized by the federal government, Collins said.

To Keep Costs Down
"In this critical time, with rising defense expenditures, other government costs must be held to the lowest possible level," Collins said.

GSA Administration Lawson B. Krott Jr. used similar language in ordering that all direct and indirect government procurement—including grants in aid—of structural steel be made at the lowest possible price.

Ackley said his statement was issued in response to requests for comment on Inland Steel's price move. In it he noted Inland's statement that its 1965 earnings would be lower than the company's 1964 profits.

Questions Statement
"So far they have only published their earnings for the first three quarters of the year," Ackley said. "They were up 11 per cent over the same period in 1964."

"We know that steel sales were down in the fourth quarter, and probably earnings, too. But the decline in production has turned out to be far smaller than anyone, including the company's, expected."

"And the prospects for 1966 look stronger every day," Ackley's comment on the pleasure of foreign steel producers in the increases was explained in the statement. Imports of structural steel in the first 10 months of this year were up 56 per cent from a year ago, he said, and accounted for about one-eighth of U.S. consumption.

Called "Minor Factor"
Chairman Block of Inland said the price boost "can hardly be deemed a potential cause of inflation" because the structural items affected are a minor factor in over-all steel pricing.

But U.S. Steel, which led the industry parade in the bitter confrontation with Kennedy in 1962, said "it may be some time before it decides whether to join the new price move. All factors are being carefully considered, it said."

At Cleveland, Arco Steel Co. said it also is studying the situation. The same statement came from Kaiser Steel Corp. in San Francisco.

To Review Contracts
Since U.S. Steel is the nation's biggest producer, its refusal to post higher prices could influence other companies and leave Bethlehem and Inland vulnerable to government pressure.

The possibility was left open that present contracts of Bethlehem and Inland may be canceled. Reporters asked the assistant secretary of defense, Arthur Sylvester, the Pentagon press chief, how McNamara's ruling affects current orders.

"We don't know until the contracts are studied," Sylvester replied.

While the McNamara statement did not mention Bethlehem or any other company by name, revisions were scheduled to take effect Jan. 1 and Feb. 1. The FCC said it requested the deferment.

Hearings were concluded last June 29 and a decision is pending.

New Cotton Maid Fields Questions Of New Yorkers

NEW YORK (UPI) — For a half hour Monday, cotton was queen on 32nd floor of the Maid of Cotton.

The occasion was a news conference held by Miss Nancy Bernard of Lubbock, Tex.—the 1966 Maid of Cotton.

Complains About Strike Perched daintily on a crimson and gold chair, Miss Bernard—all 5 feet, 3 1/4 inches, 132 pounds of her—complained about the New York City transit strike, but for reasons far different than those of most New Yorkers.

"Can you imagine? The one thing I always wanted to do when I got to New York was ride the subway. Now look."

The blonde, blue-eyed beauty flew into New York Saturday, the day the strike went into effect. She came here from the Cotton Bowl in Dallas where she led the annual New Year's Day festivities there.

Model Of Splomb The 20-year-old coed was the model of splomb as she parried the usual questions posed by reporters.

A straight A student at the University of Texas, the Maid of Cotton said she intended to continue her studies and become a teacher.

"I want to get my degree and really teach," she said with the charming trace of a Texas drawl. "I absolutely have no theatrical aspirations. I want to get that degree in my hand."

Miss Bernard is headed for Hollywood Jan. 16 where she will star in a movie featurette produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

"Matrimony? I have no particular boyfriend," she said. "But someday I hope to marry and have a family, maybe four or five kids."

AFTER 24 YEARS Times Square Smoking Sign Breaks Habit

NEW YORK (AP)—The Camel cigarette sign on Times Square gave up smoking Monday.

It broke a habit that's been going on for 24 years—since the man in the two-story sign began puffing four-foot smoke rings on Dec. 11, 1941.

It was the first sign in the country to emit smoke or steam, its inventor, Douglas Leigh, said. He has placed similar smoking signs in "prime downtown spots" in 22 other cities in the intervening years, he said.

Breaks His Heart It "breaks my heart to lose this one," Leigh said about the Times Square display. "That sign was a tradition. People went out of their way to see it."

Workmen Monday began dismantling the 22-foot sign, affectionately known as "the longest running hit on Broadway."

Leigh owns the sign and rented it to the R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. for what he said was "something less than $10,000" a month. He said Reynolds was considering using the site to advertise another of its cigarettes.

A spokesman for the tobacco company's advertising agency said of the change: "We're just always looking for ways to support other forms of advertising."

FOR CIVIL RIGHTS ACTION Catholic Magazine Reports 13 Priests Are 'Silenced'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Ave Maria, Catholic weekly magazine, will list 13 "silenced priests" in a special Jan. 8 issue on the controversy over clerical freedom of political speech and action.

The magazine, published on the University of Notre Dame campus but not connected with the school, said the 13 were restricted in their action or their teaching "because of some involvement in the struggle for civil rights or in what is loosely and carelessly called 'the peace movement.'"

Editor Father John Reedy of the Congregation of the Holy Cross said editorially that "Whether we like it or not, there is a growing group of Catholic laymen, religious and priests who are developing experience and skill in the techniques of public protest."

"Whether or not the present condition of the Church represents a crisis is perhaps debatable," he said. "However, we can all agree that a 'problem situation' has emerged which demands to be handled openly and immediately."

The magazine listed these "silenced priests": The Rev. William Du Bay, formerly administrative assistant in a mostly Negro parish, Compton, Calif., a Los Angeles industrial suburb.

The Rev. Joel Moeller, St. Bernadette's parish, Los Angeles. The Rev. J. Clement Burns, formerly on the faculty of La Salle College.

The Rev. John V. Coffield, former pastor of Ascension church, Los Angeles. The Rev. Phillip Berrigan, formerly on the faculty of Epiphany College Seminary, Newburgh, N.Y.

Seima Minister, Too The Rev. Phillip E. Berryman, formerly of St. Philip the Apostle parish, Pasadena, Calif. The Rev. Maurice Ouellet, formerly of St. Elizabeth's Mission, Selma, Ala.

The Rev. Gommer de Pauw, former teacher at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. The Rev. James E. Groppi and the Rev. William Wheelan, Milwaukee.

The Rev. Bonaventure O'Brien, professor of theology at St. Bernardine of Siena College, Loudounville, N.Y.

The Rev. Daniel Berrigan, poet, author and associate editor of Jesuit Missions magazine. The Rev. Daniel Kilfoyle, another Jesuit priest formerly associated with Father Daniel Berrigan in a group called Clergy Concerned About Viet Nam.

An effort by a dissident faction of the International Association of Machinists to challenge the narrow acceptance vote taken Sunday apparently died. Only about 35 union members showed up at the meeting earlier Monday.

The machinists, representing about 3,900 of the 4,500 union-affiliated workers at the plant, voted to accept the new contract offer by a margin of 56 votes.

Other unions including the Chemical Workers, who manufacture a type of gunpowder which the Defense Department said is not otherwise available in quantity, accepted similar offers earlier.

The Department of the Army said Olin was the sole source of ammunition for the M16 rifle used by Special Forces, paratroopers, and air mobile divisions.

25 PER CENT HIKE SOUGHT Union To Ask Basic Wage Increase From Railroads

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engine Men (BLF&E) announced Monday it would seek a 25 per cent basic wage increase from 190 railroads effective Feb. 2.

The union has 30,000 members. The industry's prosperity, said Gilbert, is reflected in a five per cent increase in freight traffic last year, a 15 per cent increase in piggybacking, a 30 per cent increase in hauling of new motor vehicles and an increase in total operating revenue by three per cent.

The BLF&E never has had a nationwide walkout, and Gilbert did not envision one.

"A strike situation is not at all current," he said, "and the brotherhood will follow the procedures of the Railway Labor Act in order to secure a peaceful settlement."

Plains Farming Area Spray Plan Receives Funds

By DUANE HOWELL, Avalanche-Journal Farm Editor

A check for $50,000 was presented here Monday to officials of the High Plains diapause boll weevil control program by Charlie Chapman of Austin, assistant Texas commissioner of agriculture.

The check is the state's financial contribution to the second year of a control effort aimed at keeping boll weevils from becoming firmly established above the Caprock.

Chapman presented the check to J. D. Smith of Littlefield, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and Don Anderson of Crosbyton, PGC vice president and chairman of the boll weevil steering committee.

The presentation was in the offices of the PGC, which is coordinating the boll weevil program. Chapman substituted for Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, who was ill.

Supplied Personnel

In addition to the $50,000, the Texas Department of Agriculture supplied personnel and equipment to assist with various phases of the program, Chapman pointed out.

Chapman said the TDA supplied seven inspectors for the program and also furnished crews to obtain spray permits from about 3,700 farmers in the eight-county control zone.

High Plains farmers contributed 50 cents per bale to launch the three-year program in 1964 and are putting up 40 cents a bale off their 1965 production to help finance second-year operations.

Funds matching the contributions of area farmers are supplied by the federal government as part of the over-all effort to keep boll weevils from invading spreading on westward.

Officials said Monday the cost of the 1965 program probably will total more than $1.7 million, although the exact figure will not be known until an audit is completed.

Cost About $1 An Acre

Chapman said cost figures, although not yet complete, probably will run around $1 per acre. He said this includes insecticide and application costs as well as administrative expenses.

"This amount is cheap when we consider what is at stake," he declared. He said the area program has shown the boll weevil "is not an invincible pest. We can control it if we work together."

State Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, explained that the $50,000 is

IN DEEP SECTION Prospector In Lea County Tests Oil

Penzoil Co. recovered oil on a drillstem test at No. 1 Bridges State, wildcat 13 miles east of Maljamar in Lea County.

A section from 10,515-545 feet was tested three hours and 15 minutes. Gas came to the surface in 50 minutes in a volume too small to measure. Recovery was 270 feet of 38-gravity oil and 90 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Initial shut-in bottomhole pressure was 2,790 pounds per square inch. Flowing pressure ranged from 60-82 pounds, and a 150-minute final shut-in pressure was 1,585 pounds.

Another drillstem test, from 10,553-624 feet, flowed gas to the surface in 10 minutes. The two-hour test flowed gas at the rate of 400,000 cubic feet per day. It reversed out eight barrels of 47.4-gravity gas-cut oil, five barrels of oil and gas-cut mud and 1 1/2 barrels of slightly gas-cut mud.

A 90-minute initial shut-in pressure was 4,032 pounds, and 120-minute final shut-in pressure was 3,777 pounds. Flowing pressure varied from 174-611 pounds.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and east lines of Section 11-17-34E. It is surrounded by production in Vacuum (San Andres) field.

Flows Oil

Texas Pacific Oil Co. No. 1-AH State, project 16 miles southeast of Caprock in Lea County, flowed oil and water on tests of perforations at 9,830-85 feet.

The operation swabbed 48 barrels of fluid. It then acidized with 500 gallons and continued swabbing. The well kicked off and flowed 40 barrels of water and 12 barrels of oil.

When all the load had been recovered, the well flowed 128 barrels of fluid through a 12-64-inch choke in 14 hours. The fluid was two per cent water.

Gas production was rated at 327,000 cubic feet per day, 426 gas-oil ratio was 259-1. Tubing pressure was 800 pounds per square inch.

It later flowed 93.60 barrels of fluid, of which two per cent was basic sediment and water, through a 12-64-inch choke in 9 1/2 hours. Tubing pressure was 825 pounds.

At last report the project was shut-in for storage. Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of Section 14-12a-34E.

New Producer

Penzoil Co. has completed an oil producer at No. 1 Gulf State, wildcat 11 miles northeast of Maljamar in Lea County.

Perforations from 10,821-34 feet were completed to pump 216 barrels of 40-gravity oil in 2 1/2 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 811-1

CITES ILL HEALTH

Sen. Smathers Won't Run For Post In '68

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) announced Monday that because of ill health he will not seek re-election in 1968.

Smathers thus will close out a senatorial career he began with the defeat in 1950 of Democratic Sen. Claude Pepper who is now a member of the House. The decision by Smathers presents the Democrats with a change in their leadership line-up and opens up coveted vacancies on the Judiciary and Finance committees. As secretary of the Democratic Conference, he has been eligible to attend the regular party leadership conferences with President Johnson. Smathers' decision not to run again followed the announcement last week of Sen. Leavert Saltostall (R-Mass.) that he will not seek re-election this year. Sen. Maurine Neuberger (D-Ore.) also has announced she will not seek re-election. Rep. Charles E. Bennett (D-

Fla.) announced he will be a candidate for Smathers' place. A scramble is expected for the Democratic nomination with Republicans standing by to give the winner a hot battle in the general election. GOP Chance Rep. William C. Cramer, a Republican, said Smathers' decision not to run in 1968 gives the Republican party an opportunity to put up a good candidate. "We haven't had an opportunity with a nonincumbency for many years," he said. "I am confident we can come up with an outstanding candidate. It will be my objective to see that we do. I feel now the people of Florida want a chance to vote statewide on a competitive, two-party basis." Asked whether he would seek

MONTANA BEARS BRUNT OF STORM

Bitter Cold Streaks Across Rockies

Snows Clog Highways; Ski Resorts Shut Down

Highway-clogging snows and an Arctic cold wave Monday gave parts of the northern Rockies the bitterest weather of the winter.

Montana bore the brunt of the storm. Three ski resorts in Oregon's Cascade Mountains, including the Timberline area on Mt. Hood, shut down temporarily because of too much snow.

New Englanders battled a nasty combination of freezing rain, sleet and snow. Showers washed great stretches of both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. Sunny skies brought a warming trend to the chilled upper Midwest and Great Plains after some of the coldest weather of the season.

Montana Hard Hit A snow storm riding on bitter northerly winds slammed Montana. Seven inches of snow fell in 12 hours at Missoula, Mont., boosting the total on the ground to nearly a foot.

Even heavier snows clogged mountain passes through the northern Rockies and Cascades. Great Falls, Mont., received 4 inches of snow in six hours.

Sharp temperature drops occurred as the cold north winds replaced warm Chinook winds which had been clocked at up to 80 miles per hour as they swept down the east slopes of the Rockies. At Billings, Mont., the mercury fell from 30 degrees to zero in four hours. At noon it was 16 below zero at Cut Bank, Mont. Forecasters said temperatures would fall to

IN 'PINCH'
'Paper' Reserve, Students May Be Up For Draft

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Selective Service may start drafting college students and members of "paper" reserve units if the Viet Nam manpower pinch gets worse, draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said Monday.

His advice to college students who want to avoid the draft: "Study. If you want to stay a student, be one."

First Deferment Lift It would be the first time that college draft deferments have been lifted since the Korean conflict. No decision has been made, but Hershey said students would be considered up for grabs if the Defense Department's draft demands continue at the current level of about 40,000 men a month.

In a copyrighted interview in U.S. News & World Report, Hershey noted that a review is under way on the status of high school graduates classified 1-Y because they failed to meet previously higher mental standards.

Not Enough Men "I can't estimate as yet how many 1-A's we will get from this effort, but I know it will not be sufficient to solve our problems," he said.

Already subject to draft are men married before Aug. 26, 1965. Before fathers are drafted, he said, "We have to get the 60,000 to 70,000 who are above age 26 and still in 1-A because they took a deferment at some time."

"Now another group we've got to get into...are all those people in reserve units who aren't doing anything." He said he did not mean

Abernathy Man Killed In Viet Nam

Cpl. Raymond Joy Dies During Action

AEBERNATHY (Special) — The Defense Department Monday reported that an Abernathy man, Marine Cpl. Raymond S. Joy Jr., was killed in action in Viet Nam.

Joy, husband of Mrs. Dixie Lee Joy of Abernathy, previously had been reported missing in action.

Mrs. Joy said late Monday that she understood from a military source that her husband, member of a U.S. Army Special Forces team, was killed near Ba To, South Viet Nam, on Dec. 16.

Funeral Pending United Press International reported last Thursday the massacre of three Marines and eight Vietnamese by a large band of North Vietnamese regulars on Dec. 16. All three of the Marines were attached to the Ba To Special Forces Camp, located 310 miles north of Saigon.

Funeral plans for Joy are pending and will be announced by Chambers Funeral Home, Abernathy.

Joy, 23, grew up in Abernathy and was graduated from high school here in 1961. He attended both West Texas State University, Canyon, and McMurry College, Abilene, before joining the Marine Corps, in 1963.

He was married in 1965 to the former Dixie Lee Eggemeyer of Dallas in California. He was stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., before going to Viet Nam.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are his mother of Dallas, his father, three half-brothers, the maternal grandparents and the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Joy, Abernathy. He was the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis of Abernathy.

WOMAN TALK

Assistance From Males Very Rare

By CELESTINE SIBLEY
Women's News Service

He's a marvelous young man, my son-in-law, one of our family's happier acquisitions. But I could have told his wife he would behave that way, I certainly could have.

In fact, if he had acted differently it would have upset me. He would have turned topsyturvy a lifetime's collection of lore about the masculine sex.

He would have reversed and refuted an ancient truth which has been handed down in our family from mother to daughter for generations.

That truth is simply this: Husbands are no damned good moving day.

Oh, my daughter thought it was going to be otherwise, I could tell.

Made Announcement
She announced to me ahead of time that her wonderful, kind, thoughtful, well-doing husband had arranged to take the day off from the office when they were to move out of the apartment where they're dwelled for two years into their newly acquired house.

"He's so good," she said delightfully.

And like a proper mother-in-law I sniffed.

It just happened that I wasn't any help to her on moving day. I didn't plan it that way, I honestly didn't, but I happened to be in the hospital. So I couldn't even swing by with covered dish or a picnic basket, the way I'd planned.

The report on the day came to me later and by that time whatever irritation she may have felt had evaporated, leaving behind a residue of awe and amazement.

"I had nearly everything packed," she said, "except the clothes in closets and a few little things we were going to take in the car. The movers were to haul out the furniture and I wanted to rush ahead to the new house and show them where to put everything."

"That was when he thought of his guns."

She paused for dramatic emphasis.

Cleaned Guns
"Mother," she said, "do you know that he spent all morning on moving day cleaning his guns?"

"Mmm," I said.

"He cleaned and oiled like our very lives depended on it—like we were moving to the wilderness and he was going to have to fight off Indians and kill a turkey for our supper!"

And to make matters worse, I couldn't do anything because he kept calling me to bring him clean rags and sandpaper and asking where things were."

"Mmm," I said. "How about the afternoon?"

"Mother, that was the funniest thing of all. After we got everything to the new house, including the guns, I was climbing over boxes and crates and thinking he'd settle down and help me put up the dishes and groceries."

You know what he did? He picked that time to go off and see about trading in his car!"

I could have told her. Two months before she was born we moved into a new apartment. Her father had to work that day. (I always believed he swapped days off to guarantee it.)

Apache Girl From Mexico Becomes Israeli Soldier

By LEO HEIMAN
TEL-AVIV (WNS) — The theory that American Indians are really one of the lost tribes of Israel could be given a present-day boost by the story of a pretty 19-year-old girl paratrooper now serving in the Israeli Army.

For Lance-Corporal Shoshana Yohanan is a pure-blooded Apache Indian girl from Mexico. What's more she claims direct descent from the famed Indian chief Geronimo.

Shoshana was born as Ahia Yohi in Casas Grandes, Mexico. Her father died in an accident when she was two years old, and her mother sold souvenirs to tourists driving south from Ciudad Juarez.

One day in May 1949, Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Grant of El Paso, stopped to buy a handtooled leather bag from Ahia's mother. A childless couple, they fell in love with the three-year-old Indian girl and decided to adopt her.

Arrived in Texas
Early in 1950, Ahia arrived in El Paso, went to nursery school and by the time the Grants decided to visit Israel in 1950, she was a typical vivacious American teenager.

Ahia, immediately fell in love with the Holy Land and decided to join a kibbutz settlement on the Syrian frontier.

After lengthy arguments and rivers of tears, the Grants returned to Texas alone, leaving their adopted daughter in the care of a relative at Kibbutz Daphna, a frontier village on the junction of the Israeli, Syrian and Lebanese borders.

There she learned Hebrew and changed her name to Shoshana Yohanan.

Her problems began on her 16th birthday last year,

When she decided to join the Israeli Army and serve for two years with the Nahal paratroops, a crack formation of settlers from frontier villages who are trained in airborne operations and long-range penetration raids behind enemy lines.

Local Draft Board officials asked to see her conscription card or military registration ticket.

She had none.

They demanded to see her Israeli identity card, and when she told them she was a Mexican citizen, adopted by an American family, who voluntarily settled in Israel, they blinked and advised her to go home.

All Drafted
"All my friends were drafted for active service in the armed forces, and I felt an outsider and an outcast," Miss Yohanan recalls.

"I left the kibbutz and went to live with a girl I had earlier met on the border, in Kfar Ata near Haifa.

There I approached the Draft Board again. Having gained considerable experience in her previous encounter with suspicious officials, she now knew how to cut through red tape.

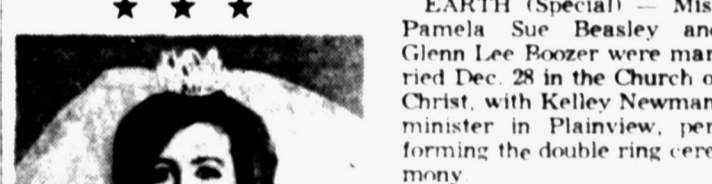

METHODS WERE MESSY
Home permanents once were messy and filled with problems. The first curling irons were 16th century pressing tools, crimpers and crimpers from the laundry room. Curling lotions used were flour and water, fruit juices, honey, sugar-water and tree sap boiled with water.

ANN LANDERS

Learn Peace Of Mind

Dear Ann Landers: Three months ago I gave birth to my first child. When I awoke from the anesthetic my doctor was standing by the bed. He told me our little girl lived only ten minutes. He explained that she had a heart defect and if she had survived she would have been an invalid.

A person who has not experienced this tragedy cannot know what it is like to carry a child for nine months and come home from the hospital with empty arms. I wouldn't wish it on my worst enemy.

The same night my mother and two sisters came to see me. They said I should consider myself lucky that the baby didn't live. They said that to have an invalid child is the most terrible thing that can happen to a mother.

I loved that child and I would have loved her sick or well. What can I say to them when they talk crazy like that? Or am I the one who is crazy?—Needing Answers

Dear Needing Answers: Your mother and sisters are attempting to comfort you. The ability to accept in life what you are powerless to change is one of the secrets of peace of mind.

Dear Ann Landers: That 17-year-old boy whose mother found 40 pictures of nude males under his mattress is hooked. No amount of family doctoring or friendly counseling is going to make any difference.

My father found my collection of nude males when I was 15. Two years of doctors and psychologists left me a nervous wreck. They tried to change something that isn't changeable. Finally, a college freshman counselor helped me accept the fact that being different isn't the same as being damned.

Today I'm a Ph.D. in physics. I work for a large industrial concern. The few people who know of my problem look at it the same way I look at someone who wears dentures—different but still a satisfactory way to live. The best thing Desperate Mother can do for her son is to leave him alone and help him cope with life as it is.—Odd Man Out

Dear Odd Man: I have heard from thousands of homosexuals these past ten years and most of them are unhappy, frightened and lonely. They long to lead normal lives and ask me if psychiatry can help. I must tell them that the chances are slim. (The experts say less than 3 per cent.)

I always recommend therapy, however, because while it might not produce a cure, it does help the homosexual to accept himself—which is what your therapist did for you, whether you realize it or not.

Dear Ann Landers: A very fine young girl whom I will call Katherine—baptized for us at least once a week. She is 16 years old. Our children adore her so please don't suggest that I engage someone else.

Katherine is deeply religious, which is admirable, but her religion is different from ours. My husband says Katherine may not know it, but she has a subconscious urge to convert people to her faith. She talks religion to our children every time she sits and they are becoming confused. Our 10-year-old boy wants to know how come he is told one thing in Sunday School and something else by Katherine. He says, "Both stories can't be true. One of them is wrong."

Please give us some help with this sticky problem.—The Big Q

Dear Big Q: Tell Katherine she confuses your children when she discusses religion with them and that you would like her to avoid the subject.

Your children should be told that Katherine's ideas on religion are fine for her but what they learn in Sunday School is what they should believe.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise: For those of you who have stainless steel sinks, drainboards, hoods over your stoves, etc.:

As soon as you have finished doing the dishes, squeeze the dish rag or sponge out thoroughly, then rub it over a bar of soap, and use it to wipe across that stainless back-splash, etc.

All the spots will be gone in a jiffy, and it makes the stainless steel surface shine like a mirror.

Dear Heloise: You should see how it works on a stainless steel stove! Great! On a stove, rewipe with a dry cloth, but it is not necessary on sinks and drainboards.

No need to polish the stainless steel after doing this.

Dear Heloise: I discovered that it takes two-thirds cup of coffee to be brewed in the percolator each day for our needs.

Instead of using a measuring spoon for each cup of coffee, now all I do is measure the coffee in the plastic measuring cup. Saves lots of time.

Dear Heloise: I thought I would pass on this little helper that I stumbled onto:

I had wondered if there was some use for the cardboard cylinders from toilet tissue.

I found that they make perfect rollers for small scarves—just roll and pin. No more wrinkled scarves when I'm ready to wear them.

My friends all love you, and so do I!

Dear Heloise: I always had trouble with the buttons on my dusters pulling off and tearing the material.

The last time I bought a duster, I removed the buttons and sewed them on the same side as the buttonholes, tacking the buttonhole where I sewed the button on it.

Then I put sew-on snaps on the back facing under the buttons and the other facing.

My duster is such a joy to wear, and when I pick up my little ones, etc., no buttons are pulled off.

Also, it is easier to take the duster off when in a hurry to dress before starting my busy day.

Perfume Can Spoil
Use perfume, don't hoard it. George Fuller, a perfumer for 30 years, explains that perfume "spoils" because in most cases it is made of oils from plants, and like plants, it is subject to changes because of light, air and temperature. Fuller, manager of the perfumery section for the Colgate-Palmolive Co., said perfume should be "consumed" within three to six months after its arrival on a dressing table.

The custom-made table pads for our large dining room tables were white originally, but, as time went on, they became rather discolored, as well as a little worn.

I covered them with adhesive-backed paper, in a walnut-finish pattern that matched our furniture.

It was not difficult to do, and it has made the pads very attractive looking.

I like to use them under lace tablecloths, as the table is protected, and the wood-finish look gives the impression that there are no pads.

Dear Heloise: If you have several scatter rugs you want to shake, hang them on the clothes line, then shake the line.

Be sure to stand a little to one side, so the dust won't blow in your face!

Dear Heloise: I thought I would pass on this little helper that I stumbled onto:

I had wondered if there was some use for the cardboard cylinders from toilet tissue.

I found that they make perfect rollers for small scarves—just roll and pin. No more wrinkled scarves when I'm ready to wear them.

My friends all love you, and so do I!

Dear Heloise: I solved the perspiration problem with my white blouses by applying hydrogen peroxide (spot-test first, and read cautions on container) with a damp sponge to the stained areas, and then placing the garments in the sun for about one-half hour.

The stain became barely noticeable.

Dear Heloise: When I want to make a cake, and fail to put the butter or oleo out to soften ahead of time, I cut the sticks of butter or oleo into small bits in the mixing bowl. This softens quickly.

I can cream the shortening easily after I've collected the other ingredients for the cake.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Prutzman, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tomsu Sr.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white taffeta. The molded bodice featured long tapered sleeves and a low scalloped neckline with deep inset of pearl and sequins.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harold King of Kress, the groom's sister. Bridesmaids were Miss Hope Nielson of Amarillo, Miss Sheila Wieber and Miss Cheryl Kemp.

Flower girl was Lisa Gay Neel. Gary and Mike Noel, served as acolytes. Ring bearer was Gregory Stephens. Darrell Tomsu, nephew of the bridegroom, and Rex Neel distributed wedding Mass missals at the church entrance.

The bride's parents were hosts for the reception in St. Alice Parish school cafeteria following the ceremony.

Mrs. Tomsu was graduated from Plainview High School and St. Anthony's School of Nursing in Amarillo. Until recently she has been employed at Plainview Hospital and Clinic.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Kress High School and is a third degree Knight in the Knights of Columbus.

Duane Ritter, Ellen Burris Pledge Vows

PLAINVIEW (Special)—Miss Ellen Lenelle Burris and Duane Ritter exchanged vows at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church at Aiken east of Plainview in a ceremony performed by the bride's father, the Rev. LeRoy Burris.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ritter, 1004 Xenia. He is a graduate of Plainview High School and is a junior business management major at West Texas State University, Canyon.

They returned Sunday from a wedding trip and will make their home at 1913 Gregory in Amarillo.

The bride's uncle, Billy W. Burks of Fort Stockton, gave her in marriage. She wore a Florentine silhouette of Chantilly lace. Sequins traced the scalloped Sabrina neckline and outlined the scalloped edge of the chapel train which swept from the back of the fitted bodice. She carried an orchid bouquet on a satin and pearl covered Bible.

Billy Fred Webb of Plainview was organist, and Mrs. Bill Shackelford of Whiteface and Tom Williams of Bledsoe were vocalists.

Miss Vonda Burris of Aiken, was her sister's maid of honor. Other attendants included Miss Marsha Ritter, Plainview, Mrs. Waymon Jackson of Levelland, Miss Cecile Cox of Aiken and Miss Janie Ness of Bledsoe.

Flower girls were Pamela Bryan of Winters and Gloria Norman of Abilene.

EFFECT OF WEATHER
A batch of fudge is fun to make on a dreary day. But rainy and humid weather can have an adverse effect on the candy you make. On damp days the candy syrup may easily absorb moisture from the air. To make sure the candy turns out well, cook the syrup to a temperature 2 degrees Fahrenheit higher than usual.

U.S. EFFORTS MEET SKEPTICISM

Peace Prospects Hazy From Ground

ALTHOUGH THE TOP headlines have been going to the U.S. "peace offensive," it could well be that the real "tip-off" on the Vietnamese conflict is to be found in a few relatively unnoticed news stories.

of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese military forces as the only way to prevent a political shambles in which the objective of a free South Viet Nam would be lost.

One-Way Inflation Blasts Puzzling

WHEN THE Johnson Administration applies its now well-known double standard on inflation to the aluminum, copper and steel industries, it pulls few if any punches.

And Michael J. Quill and his Transit Workers Union in New York City have proceeded with their crippling work stoppage to back highly inflationary wage demands.

More Discoverers

IT HAD to happen. Evidence has been uncovered that Japanese landed in the New World as early as 1000 B.C. or before.

THE NEW JERSEY Legislature seems to have a "best-seller" on its hands. In drawing up a bill specifying what is obscene under an existing law against selling or showing pornography to children, the lawmakers used "highly explicit" language.

DAVID LAWRENCE:

U.S. Should Assure Reciprocal Treatment For Newsmen Abroad

WASHINGTON—One of the reasons why relief from bondage and oppression is not being achieved in many parts of the world is that the governments of the free nations do not consistently speak out in behalf of free democracy.

nations, even though the dispute is obviously internal. Indeed, embargoes are usually put into effect in areas where there is a war going on.

TWO RECENT episodes emphasize the strange failure of the American Government to speak out in strong protest. Last September, Sam Jaffe, Moscow correspondent of the American Broadcasting Company, was ousted by the Soviet Government—nor for anything he had written or said but because the Communists didn't like a broadcast inside the United States over the ABC network by a member of its Washington staff.

IT IS EVEN being suggested that trade be opened with Red China because this is being carried on by other countries in the free world who consider money-making more important than crusades for the cause of democracy and freedom.

THESE ARE not isolated incidents of intimidation. Foreign correspondents on duty in all Communist countries live under the threat of being thrown out if they don't write their articles in guarded phrases.

THE PRESS, radio and television are the most effective means of internal and external communication today. They are essential to the freedom of any country. If the United States Government doesn't take a strong stand against artificial barriers to the free interchange of news between peoples throughout the world, such indifference is bound to be construed as a weakness.

THE United States, on the other hand, hasn't hesitated to join Great Britain in an oil embargo on Rhodesia in response to a demand by African in virtual slavery.

AUSTIN. On the eve of more intra-party Democratic warfare here, Lyndon B. Johnson's political base in his home State is considerably less secure than he would like it.

ANDREW TULLY:

Here's Vote For Winnie

WASHINGTON. Find me a rose-covered cottage, Arkansas, so I can settle down in your splendid state and vote for a man who is not ashamed of being rich.

NEVERTHELESS, Mr. Johnson's most valuable Texas friends are still the Connally conservatives who distrust the Great Society. Yarborough liberals are the President's deeper problem.

INDEED, JUDGING from the election results, some of the voter's best friends are rich Lyndon Johnson's buddies, and so is Winnie's brother in Albany, Jack Kennedy, who was not forced to work his way through Harvard selling pencils on street corners.

FOR THE PRESENT, Mr. Johnson's shaky political base limits his maneuvering prior to the 1966 Senate race. State Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, the leading Democratic candidate, campaigns as a Johnson man and makes no secret that he is often joined by the President's private plane.

I DO NOT reject the premise of some of my more feverish friends that much of the wealth held today was handed down by exploiters of half-starved sweat shop toilers and poor little match girls. That was 50 years or more ago, however, and charity since has benefitted by the death-bed repentance of many of those swashbucklers.

WASHINGTON. Admiral Harold R. Stark related today that American warships in the Atlantic got orders Oct. 11, 1941, to destroy "German and Italian naval, land and air forces encountered," and were then operating under direction of British officers.

I SAY PAY them no mind, Rockefeller. It is part of the American's psyche to be fascinated by rich men, and unless he is a complete lout bent on hurling bombs at every passing capitalist, he does not appreciate the rich man who masquerades as a horny-handed son of the soil.

A national shutdown of telephone service was threatened yesterday when a union president called on the nation's telephone workers to authorize a sympathy strike.

HENRY J. TAYLOR:

Ho Thinks He'll Win

AS THE NEW YEAR begins we're utterly lost in our basic understanding of our Viet Nam problems and all peace forecasts, unless we look at this scourge from the viewpoint of Ho Chi Minh. It's what the enemy thinks, not what we think, that counts.

Our hopes and prayers that our list of war dead will not grow longer, President Johnson's willingness for a cease-fire, Pope Paul's peace appeals and the truceless truce at Christmas most naturally distract us from putting ourselves in Ho's place. So does our knowledge of our own great power.

HO THINKS he can achieve an all-out defeat of the military forces of the United States. Tragically, our cease-fire hopes only confirm his wildest convictions and he cares no more for "world opinion" than a tiger does for a duck.

BY THE WINTER of 1952 Ho had organized large regular forces but had not committed them. This program began immediately after a decisive meeting with Mao Tse-tung in Peking on Feb. 21, 1950.

THE COLLAPSE included the collapse of the expanded "strategic hamlets" program we were betting on to work: the moving of peasants into places prepared for their protection.

THERE ARE many differences in our favor today but Ho is an Asiatic despot, the loss of human life means nothing to him, time means nothing, and he regards our basic difficulties as essentially the same as France's.

THE one great difference, from his viewpoint, would rest in whether the Vietnamese themselves could defeat him. And surely in Ho's own mind he passed this milestone two years ago last New Year's Eve. Yes, as long as that.

TWO WEEKS after the event (Jan. 13, 1964) this column detailed this turning point as such. The Diem assassinations had occurred. We had forecasts of the improvements we could expect. Behind the scenes the war's largest military operation was mounted. But this long-awaited showdown was a total failure.

THE key clash or lack of it came in the wooded Ben Sue region, 40 miles from Saigon. The French lost Indochina at Dienbienphu. The collapse at Ben Sue was the military loss of Viet Nam for the Vietnamese, although Washington was not reporting it that way.

IN just two provinces below Saigon about 100,000 peasants fled back to their original homes, many condemning the United States for carrying them away from their own soil. The paramilitary civil guard and the self-defense corps went with them.

Now Ho, from his viewpoint, was back in the favorable position he had found himself in against the French. While the native elements could still be beefed up, he would have to be beaten, if at all, by a non-Asian, modern army in a world that would be calling for a cease-fire.

THE LOUDER this demand the more sure Ho is that he can end this war on his own terms. At worst, he knows the Western enemy would agree to approximately the same face-saving formula accepted at Geneva in 1954 after his plunge into Laos. This "solution" would be pegged on the word "neutralization." But, in South Viet Nam as it did in Laos, the word neutralization means Communism—a Red takeover.

There is no "peace" in sight. At this stage, and supported by Red China, Ho's eyes say to us as plainly as if they had a tongue. "It is your life or mine."

GUEST EDITORIALS:

Chris And Ralph

RESIGNATION OF Chris P. Fox as civilian aide to the secretary of the Army for the Fourth Army Area quite naturally has created considerable comment.

He was appointed by a Republican secretary of the Army, Wilbur Brucker.

It is the position of civilian aide to the secretary of the Army is political, Fox should have resigned when the Republicans were defeated and the Democrats were victorious. If it is not political, he should not have resigned at all, not even now, in the face of criticism from Sen. Yarborough.

It's all politics or not politics at all. The game of politics is a rough one indeed. A civilian aide to the secretary of the Army is supposed to have influence in Washington and on the local level. It is not entirely honorary. If that should be the case, it is an empty honor indeed.

We wish Chris Fox well. He is a good citizen. But it must be realized that when anyone gets involved in politics with the likes of Ralph Yarborough he is likely to get his fingers burned. (El Paso Times)

Boons To Tourism

A HISTORICAL marker at Sonora Caverns and an impressive central lodge building for the Big Bend National Park add to the tourist potentials of this part of Texas.

George Jordan of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce tourist division said in San Angelo recently that the Sonora Caverns have some things unduplicated in any other cave in the world. He predicted at the same time growing interest in this attraction. The marker will serve to put it in the advertising of oil companies and travel agencies. At the same time, improvements by developers will add to the convenience of the touring public.

The erection of the lodge in the Big Bend Park, made certain by the awarding of a contract by National Park Concessions, Inc., means the addition of a dining facility, coffee shop, kitchen, gift, craft and photo shops, and a lobby and registration office. This should be ready by summer.

NO INDICATION REDS READY TO TALK ABOUT ENDING WAR

Second Phase Of Peace Offensive Nears End Without Favorable Results Evident

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON (AP) — The second and most dramatic phase of President Johnson's peace offensive is nearing an end without any public indication from the Communists in Viet Nam that they are ready to talk about stopping the Southeast Asian war.

The administration's public emphasis remains on peace probing and officials have not ruled out the possibility that secret contacts with the Communists may have been more encouraging than public contacts.

The first phase of administrative efforts was the not-too-successful Christmas cease-fire which was succeeded by dispatch of many peace-seeking envoys in the second phase which still is going on.

The public contacts made by special emissaries Johnson sent flying off last week, do provide a dramatic background for the critical decisions which are coming up for presidential action in preparation for the next session of Congress opening a week hence.

North and President Johnson simply chose not to resume it when the ground war started up again fullscale in the South the day after Christmas.

The suspension of bombing undoubtedly has been accompanied not only by show-window public diplomacy but by a number of private diplomatic initiatives undertaken through official and unofficial channels which exist between Communist North Viet Nam and Washington.

For almost a year the Soviet and East European Communist governments have been saying that no peace talks would be possible so long as the bombing of the North continued.

careful and deliberate test of the Soviet idea — shared by many other U.S. policy critics — that a substantial pause in the bombing of the North would promote peace talks.

Poor Students First If students were tapped, he said, the draft first would aim for those generally in the lower one-fourth of their class.

The Selective Service can give examinations to determine which students retain or lose their deferments.

"The colleges will cry their eyes out if we say to them: 'Notify us when the year is up as to who is in the lowest quarter.' They hate to get into the business that we in Selective Service have to be in.

But inevitably, whenever the colleges will not tell us who the most promising students are, we'll have to go in by some means and found out ourselves."

A draft spokesman said students now are deferred if their colleges certify they are studying full time and are satisfactory both academically and in obeying the institution's rules.

Hershey said draft examinations are difficult to administer because they tend to give a break to students in science or mathematics and work against those in education, agriculture or the liberal arts.

"You just can't make an examination that's fair in a specialized world," he said.

IN DOMINICAN ARMY FORCES

Sharp Changes Indicated To Head Off Grave Crisis

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Signs pointed Monday to some sharp changes in the Dominican army's officer corps and in the small rebel armed force in an attempt by the provisional government to head off a grave crisis.

Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil, both members of the OAS committee that forged the peace-making formula Aug. 31.

Associated Press photographer Horst Faas, with the 2nd Battalion, reported some paratroopers were firing with one arm and using the other to pull a buddy out of the mud. He said exploding 500-pound bombs shook the swamps like jelly while the Viet Cong, firing from higher ground, hung on and then slipped away during the night.

Indications were that President Hector Garcia-Godoy will order transfers to diplomatic jobs for an undetermined number of lesser officers on both sides.

It was learned that the Human Rights Commission headed by Ambassador Manuel Bianchi of Chile, was looking into "increasing" reports of human rights violations by the Dominican armed forces.

One battalion reportedly advanced only 30 yards in seven hours. Its men crouched or crawling in water because of snipers' bullets.

But there was total official silence on what Garcia-Godoy intended to do about the situation involving, basically, the contending factions in the April revolution.

After brief skirmishing at the start of the operation New Year's Day, the Viet Cong withdrew into the marshes in the direction of the Plain of Rees near Cambodia. Only occasional contact was reported by late Monday afternoon.

A U.S. spokesman said the 173rd had killed 111 Viet Cong, captured seven and detained 502 suspects. Vietnamese troops claimed 125 guerrillas killed. U.S. casualties have been described as light.

Tension Grips Capitol As the house approached for the presidential decision, an electric tension gripped the Dominican capital. The gloom was thickened by a heavy overcast, cool temperatures and a steady, gray drizzle.

GO P Considering Florida's other Republican representative in the House — Edward J. Gurney — said last week in Florida he was giving serious consideration to making a race for the Senate. Cramer commented Monday that Gurney would make a strong candidate.

Casualties included three paratroopers killed when four rounds of New Zealand artillery fell in a company's headquarters section. Six soldiers were seriously wounded.

There were no immediate signs, however, of the strikes or violence that have been threatened by labor unions and left-wing extremists if the president doesn't act against the military chiefs.

Smathers did not divulge the nature of his illness. He said, however, his doctors had advised him he should be hospitalized within a week.

Sunday, four paratroopers were killed and several wounded when a 500-pound bomb accidentally discharged from a Skyraider bomber.

At the heart of the crisis is a storm of demands by rebel sympathizers that the president stop the military chiefs on the grounds they are responsible for the Santiago clash Dec. 19. The army chiefs blame the rebel fighters for provoking it.

Smathers, 52, is married and has two sons, one serving with the armed forces in Viet Nam.

In the air, American planes spared the Communist North from attack again, but U.S. Air Force B-52s bombed jungle targets in South Viet Nam's Binh Duong province 40 miles northwest of Saigon.

Heavy Diplomatic Traffic The gravity of the situation was marked by the heavy diplomatic traffic between the hotel Embador, where officials of the Organization of American States are quartered, and the National Palace.

Lubbock High Gets Top Spot In Race

Poe, Verner Lead Lubbock Past Plainview For Sixth Loop Win

By CARLTON STOWERS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Staff

Mixing an impressive outside offensive attack with a successful brand of delay ball, Coach Max O'Banion's Lubbock High Westerners blew down the Plainview Bulldogs, 44-34, in Municipal Coliseum Monday, setting the stage for a head-to-head battle with unbeaten Amarillo Friday night.

The victory, sixth in a row against loop opponents, keeps the Westerners in strong contention for first round honors. The Sandies, 5-0 in league play, are favored over Pampa tonight. Lubbock High is now 14-2 for the year.

Control Ball In Fourth Quarter

Ripping the nets for 20 field goals in 38 attempts, the Hub City crew rolled up all but two of its points in the first three periods of play, then displayed a well executed brand of control ball through the final eight minutes to insure their victory. A short jumper by lanky Don Burrell with 57 seconds left to play was the only bucket credited to the LHS quintet in the last period.

Stocky Bill Verner and Jimmy Poe led the Westerner scorers with 10 points each while Freddy Dickson and Don Burrell each contributed eight each. Verner and Dickson were the leading rebounders with 15 each.

Things were nip and tuck through the first four minutes of play before Ronnie Shuffield, Verner, and Armstrong combined efforts to boost the locals into a 9-4 lead with 58 seconds remaining.

Plainview, stymied by the defensive efforts of Verner and reserve Nello Armstrong most of the period, narrowed the gap to two points in the waning stages as Bob Boulding and John Roberts each canned a pair of charity tosses.

The Westerners took over in the second stanza as Verner hit on a free throw and Burrell and Poe annexed field goals to up the LHS lead to 14-9.

Coach Bob Clendaniel's Bulldogs made one mild charge to narrow it to 14-11 before Dickson joined Poe, Burrell and Verner to open the gap to 26-13 as the first half ended.

Both squads fought on a pretty even scale in the third quarter with Lubbock outscoring the desperate Bulldogs, 16-12, to take a 16 point edge into the final period.

Little Jimmy Poe, again showing signs of brilliance as the Westerner quarterback, hit for three crowd pleasing set shots to lead the third period assault then confined his efforts to directing the LHS stall through the final eight minutes.

Baxter McAllister and Boulding came on strong for the 'Dogs in the third, scoring five and

GATOR BOWL

Tech Share Is $100,000

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Each team in the Gator Bowl football game last Friday will collect about $161,000—a record high since the stadium was enlarged to 60,000 capacity after last year's game.

Georgia Tech, as an independent, will get to keep all of its $161,000. Texas Tech, a member of the Southwest Conference, will keep $100,000 and split the rest with other members of the conference.

Exact figures are not complete, but bowl officials said each team's 37.5 per cent of the gross is certain to be high.

Gator Bowl officials also said one record set in Georgia Tech's 31-21 victory is also a record for all major bowls. Lenny Snow, See GATOR Page 4

With the conference opener also comes the use of closed-circuit television to take the pressure off demands for Coliseum seats.

Tonight's game—just as was the case last year—will be piped into the adjoining auditorium and projected on a 10x20 foot screen, with KFYO's radio broadcast furnishing the commentary.

Tickets to the Auditorium are priced at $1.50 and 75 cents and may be purchased at the athletic ticket office after 8 a.m. today and at 6:30 p.m. at the coliseum boxoffice. Any general admission duets available will go on sale at the Coliseum after 7:30 p.m.

Whether Coach Gene Gibson's charges can live up to the lefty billing handed them by sports writers around the conference could become quite evident here tonight.

"We're certainly not hurting for incentive," Gibson said Monday. "In fact, our main worry may center around having too much incentive."

Lost Twice Last Year

"There's no question that we'll have more inspiration than we've had all year. Baylor beat us twice last season to prevent us from having a perfect conference record. Many of our players have that fresh on their mind."

Exciting Bowl Games
Dished Out For Fans

THE POSTSEASON FOOTBALL games this year had to be the best played in many a season because so many had the issue in doubt going into the final minutes of play.

It all started Christmas Day with the Blue-Gray and North-South battles where the Southerners rallied in the final minutes in each contest to stage stirring victories.

Then came the three games of New Year's eve, the Gator Bowl, the Sun Bowl and the East-West Shrine game. Of these, only one was not really close and that was the All-Star game on the Coast.

Tech still had a chance against Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl until it was stopped on the Jacket 24-yard line with about five minutes and TCU was still trying to come back as the clock ran off the final second.

Oddly enough, all three of the teams that lost on Dec. 31 went into the games as favorites, although Tech was just a point pick over Georgia Tech.

THIS SET THE STAGE for the finale, the four major bowl games the following day and what contests they were. Even Florida removed the red from the faces of the Sugar Bowl sponsors by scoring three times in the final period, only to fall to Missouri, 20-18.

Missouri had completely dominated play the first three quarters and those who had screamed "mismatch" were having their day. But it didn't last.

LSU did what a lot of people said couldn't happen — beat Arkansas — and the Tigers did it in the most surprising way, smashing through the heretofore defense that had been tough on running attacks.

This was probably the biggest upset of the day because the Hogs were considered by many the best in the country, contrary to what the polls had said.

LSU wasn't regarded as a tough team with its 7-3 record, but the Tigers didn't jell until late in the year and they finished with a bang.

Then UCLA and Alabama put on the finishing touches with victories to climax the day. Actually, Alabama was favored to win, but not as handily as it did in whipping Nebraska, 39-28.

UCLA had the Rose Bowl in control until the last minute when Michigan State pushed over another touchdown to cut it to 14-12, then missed the tying conversion try.

Both Arkansas and Florida had the ball when time ran out, but only the Razorbacks were making any kind of a threat. They were within 25 yards of a tying score when the clock stopped, but Florida was deep in its end of the field.

THERE WERE SEVERAL oddities during the games, two missed field goal attempts from inside the three-yard lines by LSU and Alabama, while UCLA got three delay of the game penalties in the first half. And Alabama recovered two onside kicks.

The one missed by LSU gave Arkansas one last ray of hope for had it split the uprights, the Hogs would have been down by 10 points and time was against them as it was.

Alabama's missed kick hurt at the time, but not when the final counting was over because the Tide won by 11 points as it was. The onside kicks recovered by Alabama (and it should have had another one, but the officials ruled it didn't go the 10 yards) led to enough points to turn the tide.

TCU, in a sense, came out closer than it should have, because Texas Western went for sure three pointers rather than touchdowns twice in the second half and they paid off in the 13-12 win.

Twice, Western had the ball first and goal inside the Frog five, but they got to the one and that was it, so it went for field goals.

The Joe Cook who kicked those extra points for Texas Western has grandparents living in Lubbock and his mother is a former resident.

And the Curt Parsons who turned in several key defensive plays for the Miners is from Spur.

THE SOUTHWEST CONFERENCE, which did all right against inter-sectional foes, saw all three of its representatives bite the dust in the bowl games, but if you check back, the league hasn't done too well in post-season bowls the past few years.

Only two games are left on the schedules for the collegians, the Hula Bowl game Friday night and the Senior Bowl Saturday. If they're anything like the rest, it should be a great finale for a fine season.

Too bad it doesn't last longer.

Packers Came Up With Big Plays In Contest

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Packers made the big plays and that was the difference in Green Bay's 23-12 conquest of Cleveland Sunday for the National Football League championship. Vince Lombardi said Monday.

The Packer coach said, "I never put great credence in turning points, but I do think there are the big plays. There may have been more big plays in that game than you usually get, and fortunately they were all by us."

Kentucky Second To Duke In Cage Poll

Vanderbilt Is Third

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Powerful Kentucky, one of the two remaining undefeated major-college teams, moved into second place behind once-beaten Duke in The Associated Press basketball poll Monday.

Texas Western Advances
Tournament winners St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania, Providence, Texas Western and UCLA also advanced.

Duke remained a solid leader, collecting 34 votes for first place and 339 points in the balloting by a special panel of 42 regional experts. The Blue Devils have won seven in a row, including victories over Notre Dame and Wake Forest last week that boosted their record to 9-1.

Kentucky climbed three places after beating Notre Dame 103-69. The Wildcats, 8-0, drew five first place votes and 299 points, the latter on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, nine for second, etc. The voting was based on games through last Saturday.

Vanderbilt, which lost to Southern California in the Los Angeles Classic for its first setback of the season, fell to third. The Commodores are followed by St. Joseph's, Bradley, Providence, Iowa, Brigham Young, Texas Western and UCLA in that order.

St. Joseph's jumped four places to fourth. The Hawks, winners of the Quaker City Tournament, defeated Niagara, Minnesota and Temple for a 9-2 record.

Bradley Fifth
Bradley, surprisingly set back 104-87 by Indiana, slipped to fourth. It was the Braves' first defeat after 10 victories. Providence, with an 8-2 mark after winning the ECAC Holiday Festival Tournament, climbed from 10th to sixth.

Texas Western's triumph over Iowa in the Sun Bowl affected the rankings of both teams. Texas Western, unbeaten in 10 games, moved into ninth place.

The Miners were unranked a week ago. Iowa dropped three places to seventh.

Brigham Young fell from sixth to eighth after losing for the first time this season, 71-69 to LaSalle UCLA, last year's national champion, climbed back into the rankings, taking over 10th place after winning the Los Angeles Classic for the fourth consecutive time.

Michigan and Minnesota of the Big Ten dropped out of the rankings. The Wolverines, seventh last week, lost for the fourth time to Arizona State, Minnesota, No. 9 a week ago, was beaten by Chicago Loyola and St. Joseph's and are 7-3.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes to winners, records through games of Saturday, Jan. 2, are as follows: Duke, 34; Kentucky, 339; Vanderbilt, 299; St. Joseph's, 299; Providence, 299; Iowa, 299; Brigham Young, 299; Texas Western, 299; Michigan, 299; Minnesota, 299.

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Arkansas, Boston College, Chicago Loyola, Cincinnati, Davidson, Dayton, DePaul, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan State, Minnesota, North Carolina State, Oklahoma City, Princeton, San Francisco, South Carolina, Southern Illinois, Syracuse, Utah, Virginia Tech, Washington State, Western Kentucky.

Collier May Coach Bills

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Juel Collier assumed Monday as a favorite to succeed Lou Saban, who quit as coach of the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills.

Collier, Saban's assistant for nine years, was quick to announce he wanted the Buffalo job.

"Yes, I consider myself a candidate," the specialist in defensive tactics told a reporter.

He immediately received the support of a group of Bills' players, who said they would urge owner Ralph C. Wilson Jr. to elevate Collier.

"We don't want to be in the position of telling Ralph Wilson how to run his team," one player said, "but we want to let him know how we feel."

None of the players wanted his name used.

In Detroit, where he conducts his business, Wilson said he had made no decision on choosing a coach.

Collier, an end at Northwestern, joined Saban as an assistant in 1957 at Western Illinois University. They moved to Boston in 1960, when the AFL was formed, and came here the following year.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Miami Dolphins of the American Football League announced Monday night they have signed their 19th draft choice, Doug Moreau of Louisiana State University. Moreau, a split end and kicker.

Farrell Named Chisox Coach

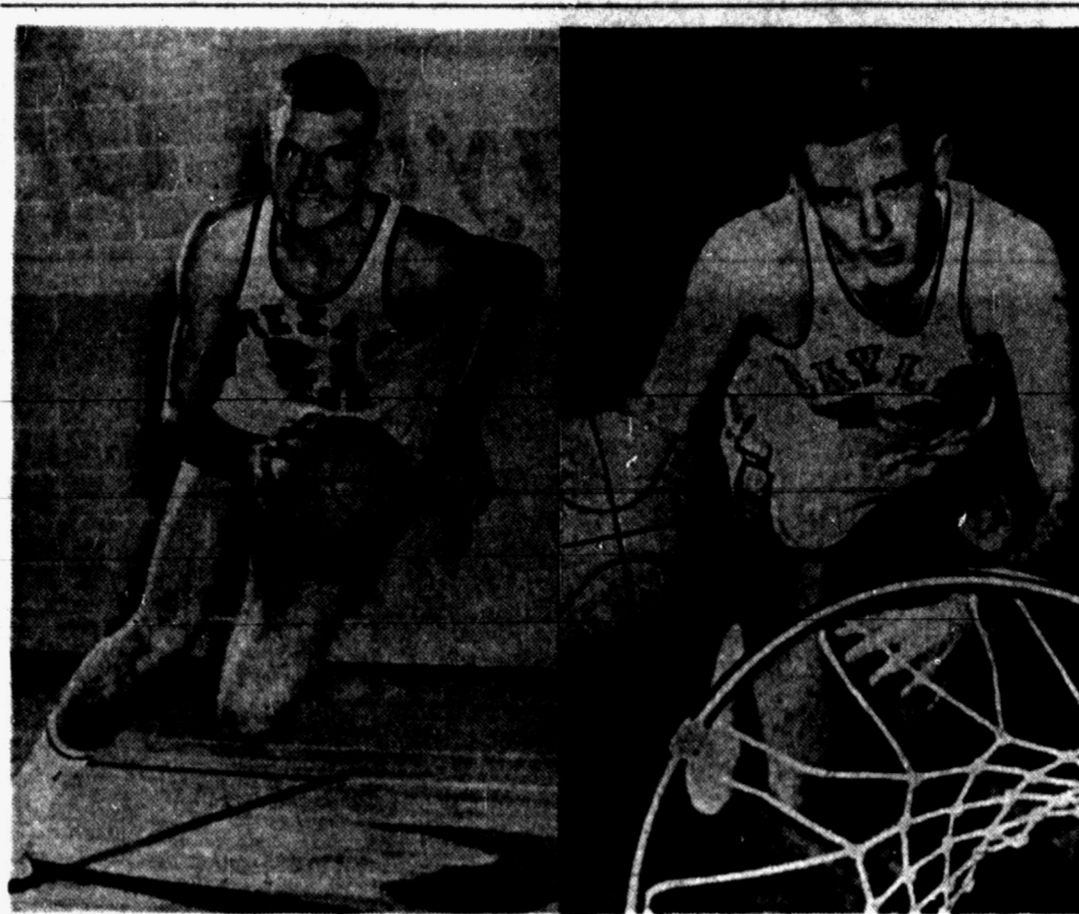

CHICAGO (AP)—Kerby Farrell, manager of the Cleveland Indians in 1957 and a first baseman for the Chicago White Sox in 1945, was named a Sox coach Monday by Manager Eddie Stanky.

Farrell, 52, had been with the New York Mets organization and had been slated to pilot the Mets' International League farm affiliate, the Jacksonville, Fla., Suns, this season.

Solly Hemus, simultaneously with the Farrell move, was named manager of the Jacksonville club. Hemus, 41, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was third base coach of the Mets in 1962 and 1963 and served the Indians in the same capacity the last two years.

Farrell hired Stanky as his third base coach when he took over the Cleveland reins in 1957. When Stanky succeeded Al Lopez as White Sox skipper last month, he asked permission to approach Farrell for his services. The Mets granted it but asked for time to get a replacement.

"We hate to lose a valuable man like Farrell," George Weiss, Mets' president, said in New York. "But it has been our policy never to stand in the way of advancement of any of the people in our organization."

SET FOR SWC OPENER — Texas Tech's Bobby Measells, left, and Baylor's Darrell Hardy will both be in the opening lineups in Municipal Coliseum when the Raiders and Bears open the SWC season at 8 p.m. Measells, a junior from Seminole, crashed into the starting lineup last week and scored 32 points against New Mexico State. Hardy, sophomore of the year in the SWC last season, leads Baylor in both scoring and rebounding.

Saban, Takes Job To Rebuild Maryland's Grid Fortunes

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Lou Saban, the American Football League Coach of the Year who quit the champion Buffalo Bills in a surprise move, was named Monday as head coach at the University of Maryland.

Saban resigned Sunday night from the Bills, winners of the last two AFL titles.

Less than 24 hours later, the 44-year-old Saban appeared at a Maryland news conference to confirm an Associated Press report he was pulling a unique reverse by going from head pro coach to collegiate.

Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, university president, announced that Saban had been signed to a four-year contract.

Salary Not Listed
Dr. Elkins did not include in his prepared statement any mention of salary. Saban had been receiving a reported $30,000 a year at Buffalo.

At Maryland, Saban succeeds Tom Nugent, who was released after posting a 4-6 record with what he had described as his best squad in his seven seasons.

Maryland's surprising grab of a successful pro coach underscored its desire to regain national football stature. The Terps have not ranked in grid glory since the late Jim Tatum resigned in 1956.

During Tatum's nine seasons, Maryland won 73 games, lost 15, tied four and never had a losing season. It was undefeated twice, played in five post season bowls and was national champion in 1953.

Hommy Mont, an alumnae, succeeded Tatum for two years and was fired after winning seven out of 20 games. Nugent was hired after a successful record at Florida State but was able to post winning slates in only three of seven seasons.

Still Looking
The university announced last month its contract, which expires Jan. 15, would not be renewed. Nugent has not yet obtained another coaching job. One of his assistants, Lew Corso, has moved over to Navy.

Saban moved into professional football tutoring with the formation of the AFL in 1960 as coach of the Boston Patriots. His first season record was 5-9 and he was fired in 1961 after losing three of the first five games.

Buffalo took him on as director of player personnel and named him head coach the next season. He posted records of 7-6-1 in both 1962 and 1963. The next season, Buffalo won the Eastern Division title with a 12-2 mark and the championship 20-7 over San Diego.

This season, Buffalo repeated as Eastern winner with a 10-3-1 record and again defeated San Diego, 23-0, for the championship. Saban was voted Coach of the Year for the performance.

Saban played for Indiana University and four seasons with the Cleveland Browns in the former All-American Conference. His college coaching included stints at Case, Washington, Northwestern and Western Illinois.

LCC Battles Amarillo

The Lubbock Christian College Chapparals, off to one of their better starts, open Western Junior College Conference play tonight in Amarillo against the Amarillo College Badgers.

Coach Lester Perrin's cagers are 6-5 for the year and the locals could be the darkhorse entry in the race where South Plains College, NMMI and Howard County are favorites.

Coach Perrin plans to start 6-1½ Robert Evans, Jim Harp, Marvin Levels, Ernest Chessire and Gene Hight against the Badgers, who are 4-6 for the year.

However, LCC has never beaten Amarillo on its home court since the two clubs started playing each other some six years ago.

Evans is the team's leading scorer with a 26.1 average, while Harp has been hitting at 18.2 clip. Levels, a freshman, has averaged 11.8 per game. Chessire, also a first year man, has a 10.0 mark and Hight is right behind him at 9.1.

Chessire and Hight give the Chapparals height under the basket as both are 6-4 and Levels is 6-4.

Amarillo will counter with 6-3 Charles Johnson (13.9), 6-3 Jay Christopher (14.2), 5-8 Duane Pittman (8.9), 6-2 Mickey Vaclav (14.1) and 5-8 Sammy Gast (7.5).

Former Monterey cager Bill Abernathy will not start in this contest because of a sprained ankle received in a game last week. The 6-6 freshman probably will see some action.

After tonight's game, LCC returns home to prepare for Thursday's contest with Howard County in the LCC field-house.

Van Brocklin Gets Five-Year Pact

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota Vikings owners, stunned in November when Coach Norm Van Brocklin walked out on them for 24 hours, decided the Dutchman for his decision to return by giving him a new five-year contract Monday.

They tore up a three-year contract which had one year to run and hired Van Brocklin through the 1970 National Football League season.

The terms were not made public, but Vikings President Max Winter said Van Brocklin "Received and earned a good bonus and an increase in salary."

More Money, Too
Van Brocklin, the only head coach Minnesota has had in its five-year history, received an estimated $40,000 annually under his old contract. Speculation placed his salary under the new pact at near $50,000.

"I'm very grateful and thankful," Van Brocklin said, "for this vote of confidence in me and my assistants. We're anxious to finish the job we started here. Now we have the chance."

The Vikings posted an 8-5-1 record in 1964 but slipped to 7-7 this season.

Winter said there was no change in the policy of permitting Van Brocklin to hire his own assistant coaches. Van Brocklin said Walt Yowarsky, Marion Campbell, Lew Carpenter, Tom McCormick and Jack Faulkner will return next season.

In his statement Winter said: "We are thankful for the way the team came back after some setbacks and completed the season in a sensational way. We are looking ahead with pleasant eagerness to the coming season."

"We offered Van Brocklin a new five-year contract and he accepted it and earned a good bonus and an increase in salary."

"We are grateful to have a fellow like (general manager) Jim Finks and we are satisfied that we are operating in better style than the rest of the teams in the league."

Finks has two years to go on a three-year contract he received when he joined the Vikings in the fall of 1964.

Injury Didn't Keep Her From Seeing Contest

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—A dyed-in-the-wool woman fan sat with her leg in a splint, oblivious to pain, as the Green Bay Packers beat Cleveland for the National Football League title Sunday.

Mrs. Art Mueller fell en route to the stadium. A first aid crew told her she probably had a broken leg, but she refused to leave. Attendants argued but to no avail and finally compromised by putting her leg in a plastic splint.

After the Packers had won the title, the 36-year-old Green Bay woman consented to go to a hospital by ambulance. It was discovered only then that she had suffered a severe sprain rather than a break.

Looking to next season, Van Brocklin cited the signing of nine of Minnesota's top 10 draft choices as a reason for optimism.

"We didn't lose anybody who constituted a major disappointment in the signing race. We got everybody we really wanted," he said.

Kansas State Is 78-59 Winner

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Kansas State opened up a 20-point margin by halftime and coasted to a 78-59 victory over cold-shooting Missouri Monday night in the opener of their Big Eight basketball campaign.

The victory gave K-State a 6-5 season record, Missouri 2-8. Missouri stayed with the Wildcats the first 10 minutes and had a 20-17 lead at that stage. Then Missouri turned cold and K-State ran up a 27-20 advantage and kept going. The halftime score was 45-24.

Nick Pino, K-State's 7-foot-1 sophomore, scored 19 points and took 10 rebounds while playing about three-fourths of the game. Tom Olfert led Missouri with 17 points, and Ron Coleman got 14. Charlie Rudd was the Tigers' best rebounder with 12.

Yale University was the first American school to adopt canoe. Lewis said he was very optimistic about holding the next heavyweight championship bout in England.

Terrell is recognized as heavyweight champion by the World Boxing Association and London is the fourth ranked challenger in the WBA ratings. Grafton also said Solomon and Lewis would have to come up with some answers such as a guarantee and when the fight could be held.

"We have to know what kind of money is available in England," Grafton said. "We are very, very hopeful indeed," Lewis said, "that Clay will meet London."

Lewis would not disclose how much money Grafton was asking but indicated all demands could be met. "It's a lot of money, let me put it that way," he said. "I will discuss it with Solomon but if it were up to me I would say yes right away."

Lewis said if the fight materialized it would probably be held in March in the 11,000 seat Wembley Arena. "We intend to pipe the fight into every city in Great Britain over closed circuit television," he said. "Then we have the whole of the European market also."

Lewis said London is the toughest fighter Clay will meet and "I think he will beat Clay." Clay hasn't said anything—not yet anyway.

Other players named by Owner K. S. (Bud) Adams are flankerback Charlie Hennigan and middle linebacker Doug Cline. He said the fourth player is a recent signee, a free agent the Chargers also were after.

Adams said he will make the proposal to Charger Owner Baron Hilton next week when the American Football League meets here.

Ladd, a 315-pound native of Orange, Tex., wrestles in Houston during the winter months and has been playing out his option this season. San Diego has until May 1, 1966, to sign him or, technically, he becomes a free agent.

Sid Gilman, Charger coach and general manager, has made several offers for Blanda the past two years. "I think he is anxious to get Blanda again," Adams said. "After all, John Hadl (Charger quarterback) didn't have a particularly good day against Buffalo in the playoff game."

Buffalo defeated the Chargers 23-0 in the championship game. "Ladd is the next big target in our re-building program," Adams said. "We'll make the Chargers an offer they can't refuse."

Blanda, who is in the second half of a two-car contract for $38,000 a season, has a clause in the contract saying he cannot be traded without his permission. "I'm sure George wouldn't mind going on a team that figures to be in contention next fall," said Adams. "At age 37 he doesn't seem to have a place in the Oilers' rebuilding program."

USC Aide, Giddings, Hired By Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Mike Giddings, assistant football coach at the University of Southern California, accepted the head coaching job at the University of Utah Monday.

"I'm already doing some recruiting in California for Utah," Giddings told Utah officials during a telephone conversation from Los Angeles after his selection.

Giddings, 32, was chosen over Bill Taylor, assistant at the University of Illinois, who was the other top prospect. Four other candidates were interviewed.

Giddings salary was set at $16,000 a year on a three-year contract. It was identical to the contract of Ray Nagel, who resigned last month to accept the head football coaching job at the University of Iowa.

such a fine university as Utah," Giddings told university officials. He said he had picked several assistants but would talk with Bud Jack, Utah athletic director, before announcing their names.

A member of the Board of Regents Executive Committee said one factor favoring Giddings was that he was an honor student at the University of California in Berkeley.

Jack said "I'm sure Giddings will bring a brand of football to Utah that we want to see. He's an outstanding scholar of the game."

A native of Los Angeles, Giddings graduated with varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball from South Pasadena, Calif., High School. Lettered At Cal He won letters in 1953 and 1954 as guard and tackle at the University of California at Berkeley. He was graduated from college in 1955, enlisted in the Marines and was discharged as a first lieutenant in 1957.

Giddings became lightweight team coach at Monrovia High School in California, moved to the varsity in 1959, had an 11-1 record and captured a league title.

Before moving to Southern California, he was head coach at Glendale, Calif., City College and posted the school's best record ever at 7-2.

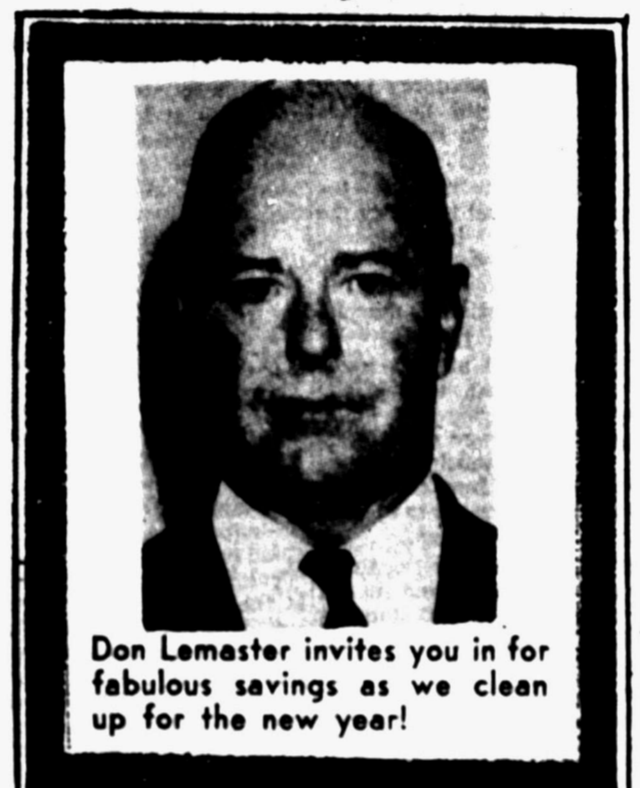

Giddings joined the Trojan First in Quality! NUNN & BUSH LENA STEPHENS, INC. 34th & Indiana

Athletic Department in the summer of 1961. He has been in charge of defensive tactics for USC, working with the defensive backfield and line coaches.

He lives at Newport Beach, Calif., with his wife, Donna; two daughters, Victoria, 10, and Jacqueline, 7; and son, Mike, 3.

GIBSON ALTERS LINEUP

Red Raiders Host Baylor In Opening SWC Contest

(Continued From Page One) high for that. I think our main worry may be in getting too high, being too tight to play well.

Baylor does not bring into the contest an impressive record; however, the Bears have four starters averaging in the double digits and should be able to match the Raiders in both height and speed.

Gibson has altered his opening lineup "for defensive purposes," and will be starting a team considerably shorter than the usual Raider quintet.

Contrarily, Coach Bill Menefee has made a shift that will provide his team with more height and rebounding power.

Opening for the Raiders tonight will be Dud Malaise and Bobby Measells in the backcourt, Bob Glover at center, and Billy Tapp and Norman Reuther at forwards.

"I'm putting Billy at forward to give us more speed and better defensive ability," Gibson said. Ordinarily, Vernon Paul would have opened at that position.

Menefee has moved Jerry Evans, a 6-7 transfer from Modesto, Calif., into his starting lineup to team with Darrell Hardie, a 6-7, 200-pounder who last year was named SWC sophomore of the year.

"We had to get the tallest team possible together for this game," Menefee said Monday. "Tech has great height, and we need all we can get to compete with them at the boards."

Injuries and illness have caused Menefee, last season's coach of the year, considerable headaches. Usual starter Bob Porter, a 6-3 forward, suffered a sprained ankle against Trinity, and Mike Fisher, who at 6-8, 220 is the largest on the squad, is sidelined with mononucleosis.

Neither is expected to make the trip here today. Menefee said Monday that the Raider 4-5 record in non-league play has not changed his opinion of Tech.

"I still feel the same way I've felt all along. Tech is the team to beat, and SMU is the top contender. Tech's record isn't a true reading of its ability. They have just played tougher competition than the rest."

"And once they begin competing with SMU, they'll be in for a rough time," Menefee said.

ference play, that competition they've had is going to help them. They'll have another great year."

Baylor last year used a zone press to create mistakes in Tech's back court, then went on to down the Raiders, 77-72, here last year to end a 13-game winning streak in the Coliseum.

"We're using the same thing this year," Menefee said, "but people have been chasing us out of it pretty early."

Baylor's two victories have come over Nevada Southern (85-81) and University of California, Santa Barbara (78-75). They have lost to New Mexico (74-84), North Texas State (60-75), College of Pacific (66-83), Arizona State (87-90), Colorado (77-83), Connecticut (88-96) and Trinity (77-78).

"Their losses aren't a true picture of their ball club," Gibson said, sounding much like a coach. "They played Colorado much closer than we did (Tech lost to the Buffs, 77-85), and they came within ten points of New Mexico in Albuquerque. That's something we've never done."

Baylor has been very tough on Raider championship teams in Coliseum games. In 1961, Polk Robinson's last year at the helm, Tech had to rally for a 65-59 win. The following season, the Bears played the Raider co-championship team to a 55-51 decision.

"They always shoot like this when they're home court," Gibson said Monday. "Ever since I can remember, they've hit at least 50 per cent out here."

The Picadors have no formal game schedule for tonight; however, they will play the red shirts beginning at 5:45 p.m.

The previous high for major bowls was 34 by Jim Dietz of Washington State in a 14-0 victory over Brown in the 1916 Rose Bowl, and equaled by Ernie Nevers of Stanford in a 27-10 loss to Notre Dame in the 1925 Rose Bowl.

Marin, Lewis Spark Duke By Penn State (Continued From Page One) Jack Marin scored 25 points and Mike Lewis 21 as Duke's top-ranked Blue Devils routed Penn State's basketball team 83-58 Monday night.

Duke took a 9-2 lead in the early minutes and Penn State never threatened. Three times the Blue Devils pushed their lead to 26 points in the second half.

Lewis shared game rebounding honors with Penn State's Paul Mickey, with 12 each, as Duke swept the boards 72-51.

Bob Verga sat out nine minutes of the first half but still contributed 17 points for Duke. Verga also held Penn State's high-scoring Carver Clinton to 13 points.

Cincinnati Rips St. Louis Hawks

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The Cincinnati Royals quelled a St. Louis surge in the second quarter and went on to defeat the Hawks 120-114 in a National Basketball Association game Monday night.

The Royals moved ahead 35-19 at the end of the first quarter, but St. Louis took over the lead 45-40 with less than six minutes remaining in the half. Len Wilkerson paced the Hawk outburst with eight points.

Cincinnati rallied for a 47-45 lead with 2:41 remaining in the half on a jumper by Jim McGlocklin and stayed ahead the rest of the way.

It was the Royals' third victory over St. Louis in four games and the Hawks' third straight loss in Memphis.

The Royals built a 59-58 half-time lead and pulled away to a 115-97 advantage with eight minutes left in the third quarter.

St. Louis rallied in the fourth quarter, cutting the deficit to 108-104 with 6:41 left. Happy Hairston and McGlocklin each hit a field goal to put Cincinnati safely in front.

Oscar Robertson, hitting 18 points in the third quarter for high game honors, Jerry Lucas contributed 22 points and 19 rebounds. High point man for the Hawks was Cliff Hagan with 30.

Wayne Embury of Cincinnati was injured during the first half and taken to a Memphis hospital. He hurt his eye in a collision with Jim Washington of St. Louis.

Michigan's point-a-minute football team of 1961 outscored its opponents 555-0 in 11 games.

Mart Opens Year Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made its 1966 debut Monday with a scrambled pattern, highlighted by strength in coppers and aerospace issues and weakness in steels.

Volume was dampened by the New York City transit but not nearly as much as some had expected. Turnover was 5.95 million shares.

Bethlehem and Inland Steel were targets of selling because their price increase for structural steel drew fire not only from government economists but also from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara who directed structural steel away from any firm which raised prices.

In early trading the steels showed certain islands of strength but most of these faded and the group was down on the day. A surprising exception was Crucible Steel which jumped 2 1/2% as third most active stock. The heavy buying could not immediately be tagged with a reason by Wall Street specialists.

Coppers advanced as prices for the red metal were boosted in Africa and Chile. The defense stocks continued to discount the possible success of the U.S. "peace offensive" in regard to Viet Nam, investors seemed to anticipate booming military business for some time to come.

While most stocks rose than fell, the averages told a contradictory story.

The Dow Jones industrial average took a small loss of .72 at 968.54.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks edged up 2 to a new closing high of 358.7 with individuals off 1, rising up 6 and utilities off 1.

Standard & Poor's broad 500-stock index dropped .25 to 92.18.

Jittery Bandit Arrested One Hour After Holdup

HOUSTON (UPI) — A jittery bandit — so nervous that he whispered "that's enough" to the bank clerk frantically filling a sack with money — was arrested Monday just one hour after he robbed the Westmont National Bank of $19,490.

Police arrested Cecil Morgan Pierce, 48, about an hour after the robbery. Wanted in Albuquerque, N. M., said Pierce was charged there with the Dec. 21 holdup of a downtown Albuquerque finance company. Police said the Albuquerque bandit tried to jump into several automobiles after the holdup and finally commended one driven by Daniel Dunagan, an agent of the Internal Revenue Service. Dunagan was released unharmed a short time later.

The Houston robbery followed much the same pattern. Nothing went right. The bandit, sprinted from the small bank while a frightened teller still had more money ready to stuff into a brown paper bag, failed to intimidate a bank customer into driving him from the scene, and then commandeered a getaway car with a woman acquaintance in it.

The crestfallen Pierce was arrested about an hour after the holdup, standing dejectedly on a curb.

Customers and tellers in the small bank hardly knew the robbery was under way at the beginning of the holdup.

Bank teller Floyd Mikeska said the robber told him not to "push any alarms or I'll shoot you." Mikeska stuffed $19,490 into a bag for the gunman and still had a few $50 bills to go when the robber said "that's enough" and scurried out of the bank.

Donny Ashford, 43, one of six customers and four tellers in the bank during the quiet mid-morning holdup, was confronted by the gunman as he got into his car.

"Get this thing moving," Ash-ford quoted the bandit as saying. "I'm going to shoot you." "What's wrong with you? Are you crazy?" Ashford asked the gunman.

"I told him to hell with you," Ashford said. "You take it (the car) yourself."

That was too much for the bandit, who trotted a few cars down to a drug store where Mrs. Christina Britt, 25, a divorcee, and a friend, David Hagen, 23, were pulling into a parking spot.

The gunman forced Hagen to drive about five blocks, then made Hagen get out of the car.

Mrs. Britt, left waiting at the curb, said, "I recognized him immediately as Cecil Pierce."

The suspect abandoned the automobile about five blocks later and was arrested by two uniformed policemen. He did not put up a fight, police said, and was still holding the bag with the bank's money in it.

Unusually Mild December Weather Blanketed Texas

(By The Associated Press) Unseasonably mild weather covered Texas through December, continuing a long Indian Summer that began in November.

Inclement and violent weather was almost non-existent. Temperature averages for the month were 4 to 6 degrees above normal generally in North Texas and about 2 to 4 degree above normal in the state's southern half.

Fort Worth had its warmest December since 1933, and southeast Texas around Beaumont-Port Arthur had its warmest December since 1956.

Good rains fell from Wichita Falls, Abilene and Del Rio southeastward to the Gulf Coast during December's first week with general rains over the state about the middle of the month.

A man drowned and creeks flooded Dec. 2 in the San Antonio area. Two tornadoes struck near Marshall in East Texas on Dec. 11, injuring two persons when one twister struck their home.

Thunderstorms Rare Thunderstorms, rare for so late in the season, rumbled across the eastern portions of the High Plains Dec. 23, producing light hail in some sections and a tornado about 15 miles south of Slaton.

For the year, North Central Texas and South Central Texas, plus portions of the Panhandle received above normal rainfall. Elsewhere, Texas had subnormal precipitation.

Members of the grand jury are B. B. Hobbgood, M. J. Williams, Naff Preston, Bob Grice, Fay Hudson, W. F. Pruett, Maurice Scott, S. S. Gallegos, Andrew Rice, Mrs. A. C. Verner, H. A. Padgett Jr. and Mrs. T. B. Simmons.

Jury commissioners previously appointed by Judge Ellis to select a panel, were G. T. Doggett of Shallowater, M. N. Lasater of Slaton, and Robert M. Lubo, C. S. Denham and Jack Glatton, all of Lubbock.
