SUMMERTIME

Many, many times we have looked for a welcome sign. How nice it is to find a shady spot, to eat a sandwich, stretch our legs, and watch the children as they run and play.

Our park is clean. It would do well for all stations and service people on our highways to tell travelers of a good place to rest. They will spend other dollars in our town.

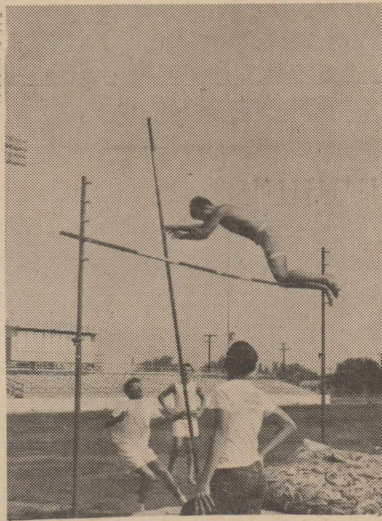

The Tax Story

The 1967-1968 proposed budget of the Seminole schools was studied carefully, item by item, by the Board of Trustees. There is a deficit of $25,350, which does not include any increase in salaries of teachers or auxiliary personnel. To cut the budget further would most surely damage our school system.

Drop in enrollment has been considered also, and we took advantage of this at mid-term of the 1966-67 school year. We had two teachers to resign in the departments where the enrollment had decreased the greatest, and we did not replace the two teachers.

Our children will be living in a "specialized world." In order for them to compete (or be successful) in this world, they must continue to be educated to the fullest extent. In order to provide this education, the school must be staffed with adequate and qualified personnel and have the needed teaching tools and supplies. Each year it becomes harder to staff schools with teachers. This is a situation that has become acute recently due to low salaries. In our area it is even harder to attract such teachers due to our location and the size of our town. Teachers must have in their classrooms good teaching materials and supplies to adequately present the subject matter. Such materials and supplies have increased in cost from year to year.

We all are aware of the increasing cost of living. Our school must meet this problem by increasing its tax rate. This is necessary in order to maintain the high level of education for which Seminole Schools have become known.

Most trials make us fume and fret. Most burdens make us groan and sweat are things that has not happened yet.

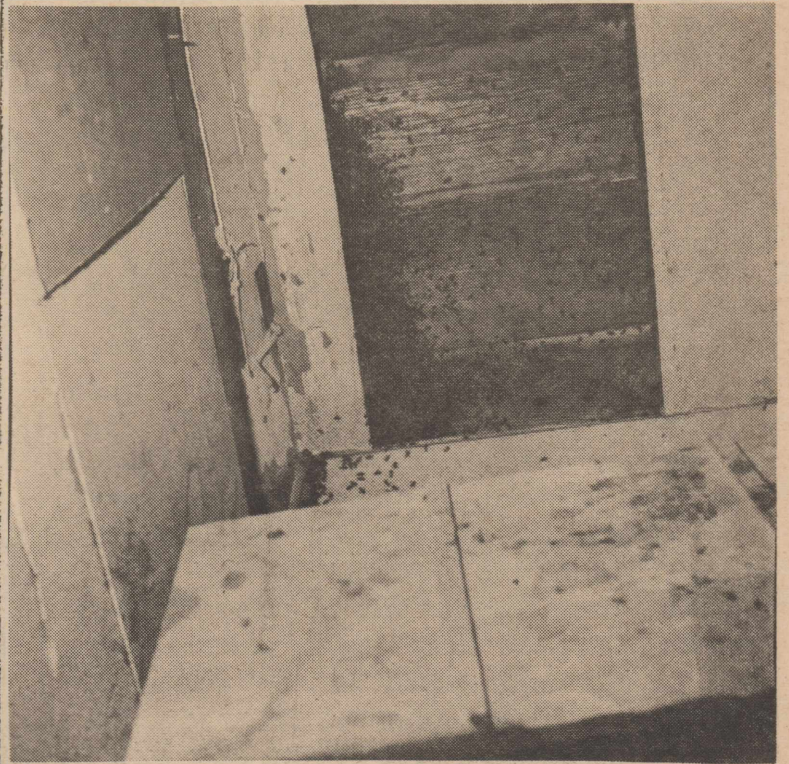

Jimmie and Vickie Wright were at church at Fairview Sunday.

The people of Fairview send their deepest sympathy to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Faresta Brock. These old timers have stood the test of pioneer days and have trusted the Lord for strength, and if we could be Christians and trusting in God as they have been, we would have a better world.

28,001 Workers Leave Seminole

THE HONEY HAS BEEN REMOVED. THE BOX IN THE FOREGROUND IS THE NEW HOME

To make one pound of honey, bees may have to travel a total distance of about 50,000 miles. This is more than twice the distance around the earth.

Last week about eighty to one hundred pounds of honey was removed from a house in Seminole. It was three feet wide and nine feet long or the distance between the eave of the house and the floor. A hive generally is made up of about two gallons of bees. The one found on the Lamesa highway, across the street from C. M. McCain was about a ten gallon size or about 28,000 to 30,000 bees. A party from Denver City removed about ten gallons of honey. The honey had been there for about two or three years.

Soon after coming out of its cell, the worker bee begins its life of hard work. It never stops working until it dies. Its first duty is to feed the grubs and pupae which are still developing in their cells. Young worker bees also guard the entrance of the hive to prevent insects enemies from entering. Some workers stand within the hive near its entrance and beat the air rapidly with their wings. Currents made in this way keep the air fresh and at the right temperature.

During their early lives, worker bees do not gather nectar. But after two or three weeks at home, they try their wings on short outdoor flights. They soon learn to know their surroundings and begin to gather nectar and pollen. They spend the rest of their short lives in this work.

The great times for making honey are Spring and summer, when flowers bloom in the largest number. During these seasons to be "as busy as a bee" is to be busy indeed.

When a bee returns to the hive with a full load of nectar it may carry a weight half as heavy as its own body. Con't Page 10

COTTON QUALITY IMPROVEMENT THROUGH BLOCK GINNING IN GAINES CO.

by Calvin D. Holcomb
County Agent

One of the major problems in marketing cotton produced on the South Plains and Gaines County is the lack of fiber uniformity -- within the bale and from bale to bale. Fiber uniformity can be improved through block ginning; and thereby, create a greater market demand for the area's cotton.

What is block ginning? This concept is the ginning of cotton from a single variety and with similar fiber properties in large lots (40 to 50 or more bales). One variety gins or communities would be classified, of course, as block ginning. However, this program can be carried out without all farms within the community being involved or even the total acreage of the participating growers.

The cotton grouped within a block should be not only of the same variety but also produced under similar conditions -- soil type, irrigation practices, planting date, etc. Hail, insect or disease damage should be considered. It should be remembered that the main objective is to obtain bales of uniform fiber quality to better supply and meet the demands of the market.

Advantages to be gained in block ginning.

As a result of uniform fiber quality, several advantages can be realized under this program in Gaines County.

1. By approaching the market with a large supply of uniform fiber, the producer, is in a better position to market cotton from a quality stand point.
2. The fiber properties -- length, strength, etc. -- can be represented to the mill with a good degree of reliability.
3. The movement of two-sided bales into market is avoided.
4. Ginning in large lots enables the producer and ginner to meeting mill demands. Specific markets may be attained through variety selection, production control and custom ginning.
5. As a group, quality problems which may arise between the producer and the mill can be solved more effectively. Also assistance from county agents, specialists and other agriculture leaders can be furnished more effectively under such programs.
6. The production of good planting seed is simplified. Varietal mixtures of seed are avoided by ginning in large lots.
7. Group action by producers can accomlish better insect and disease control in the area.

Development of a Block Ginning Program

Employing the block ginning concept will usually be initiated by producer groups in a county or community. The program may involve (1) cooperative effort between producers and ginners, (2) working through cotton breeders and seed producers, (3) cooperative organizations and (4) working independently as producers. The method employed to best meet their objectives must be determined by the local producers and county Agricultural leaders.

Factors to Consider by Producers Groups to Initiate Block Ginning

1. The producers must investigate the market potential of the variety to be considered in the program. This and the environment at hand -- soil, insects, diseases, availability of irrigation water -- should be used as the basis for selecting the variety.
 2. Producers under this program must agree on the major cultural practices to be conducted on their selected variety. This involves a similar planting date or similar soil type. The participating growers should agree on an irrigation schedule -- timing and the amount of water. Particularly, a starting and cutoff date for irrigating should be set.
 3. Planting seed must be of high viability and varietal purity and from a reputable source.
 4. Cotton subjected to damage from hail, insects, diseases, or late-planting which may lower fiber quality should not be included in the block program with undamaged cotton.
 5. To be successful, the participating producers must police themselves to exclude poor quality fiber or cotton of any other variety in order to market a uniform, high quality product.
 6. Each producer must be encourage to use the best cultural and management practices.
- The block ginning program will demand close cooperation between the producer, ginner, mill and the merchant, in order to meet a common goal, that of marketing cotton fiber of uniform quality.

(Q) Is it possible to paint on presdwood? Where may I find it?

(A) Yes: Presdwood (Masonite) is a reliable product that can be purchased from any building supply firm. It has a rough and a smooth side, the later preferred for painting purposes. It is manufactured in sheets 4 feet wide and come in lengths up to 12 feet. The smooth side should be painted with several coats of outside white house paint to cover up the brown undertone.

(Q) What is an Oil Blender brush and how is it used?

(A) The Oil Blender brush is a fan shape brush sometimes made of badger hair (Called Badger Blender). Indicative of its name, this brush is useful for smooth blending of colors after they have been applied to the canvas with the regular painting brushes. You will also find it handy for blurred or different effects such as the edges of distant foliage, etc.

"FROM YOUR COWTOWN KINNERY"

Dear Seminolians:

Your open letter gave us a genuine case of nostalgia and we awoke the following night, in the wee small hours, reminiscing about the "Good Ole Days", don't think we would want to go back to them now though. Even though your readers, most of them at least, haven't met your "Cowtown Kin", they can probably tell, from a glance at our picture, that we were not born yesterday. Actually we have lived through four pretty big wars and are now living in the fifth, though the officials in Washington didn't call the Korean conflict a war, nor do they admit that the hassle we are now having in Viet Nam is a war. But we say, "Try to tell that to the fellows who are fighting there." Yes, we can recall those Good Ole Days very vividly. After a person passes the three-score and ten mark in life, he or she is very apt to live a lot in the past. Heard a fellow say recently that "the reason so many of our senior citizens live in the past, is that so much of their future is already behind them." Sounds silly doesn't it? But come to think of it, a person 70 years old, or older, doesn't have much future, does he? At least not according to statistics.

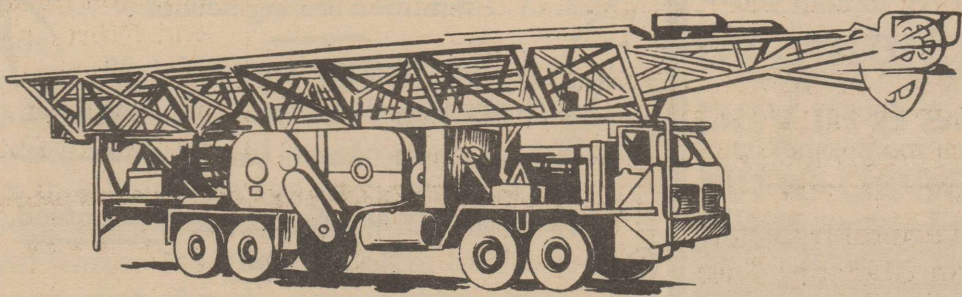

We recall the days of the covered wagon, the horse and buggy days, the first automobile that ever was owned in the County where we lived, the first airplane that ever flew in Texas, the first gramophone we ever saw or heard a sound over the crystal set radio and a number of other things that the present generation did not have the advantage of. We can recall the woodburning locomotives, then the coal burners, the hay balers and threshing machines operated by sure enough horsepower, before the days when steam or gas engines were in common use.

Being the 7th of 10 children in our family we remember getting out of bed in the wee small hours of the night, driving to the County Seat in time to watch the Circus unload from the train, the Big Tops being erected and then watching the street parade with its horsedrawn wagons, with the big brass band playing martial music and the steam caliope blaring away; the cry "Hold Your Horses" as the elephants came near. Our family, being very poort, that was all of the circus we got to see in those days, but it was thrill enough to warrant the time and trouble expended.

A worker bee does a "dance" in the hive after finding a patch of flowers. The dance seems to be a signal to the other bees to visit the same flowers.

The workers rule the hive. The large, egg-laying female in the queen, but the real rulers of the hive are the workers. They decide when to increase or decrease the number of young queens which are to be born. They guard the queen while she lays the eggs. When she grows too old, they press around her until she dies. It is they who bring in the honey and pollen. The community life of the honeybees could not exist if it were not for the workers.

GROUP SEEKS ANSWERS

Water Inc.

In Lubbock County two years ago wells were being pumped that made less than '200 gallons a minute that pumped 1000 to 1500 gallons a minute twenty-five years ago. In parts of Gaines County the water level has fallen twenty-five feet in the last ten years. So it is a real interest to all of us concerning water.

Twenty-five years ago someone dreamed a dream of diverting the waters of the Missouri and the Mississippi to arid New Mexico and West Texas.

people thought the dreamer crazy. Last Wednesday in Lubbock about 1600 people did more than dream about it. They formed a water group to study some of the answers for obtaining flood waters from the two rivers. To anyone that has ever seen the muddy Missouri and the Great Mississippi Rivers on rampages surely could believe the great good it could do that area plus the wonderful results it could have on our economy. It would replace lost water level, it would relieve a flooding condition there, it would add lakes along the water way, and would add to the profits of every community in this part of the country. Sure it would be expensive to bring in water in this manner. Let us also remember that a country without water is not much country. We hope for 'Water, Inc.', the group that was formed, success

Roy Cypert, Mr s. Leon Foote, and Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cypert of Brownfield attended the funeral of Hugh Cypert in Whitney, Tex. last Thursday. Hugh was the cousin of Roy Cypert and Mrs. Leon Foote and the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cypert.

In 1929 or the early part of 1930 Mr. J.M. Coker bought a new Hup-Mo-Bile, a two seater with curtains. S.D., his son, who lives at 600 S.E. 2nd, says in those days, one could drive about 50 miles per hour on the highway and about 20 or 30 miles per hour on our Gaines County roads

Beverly Ogle and Gay Foote are shown with the first license plate that was placed on the new car. It was uncovered on the old Coker farm by Gene Allen. Gene said, "This will make some kind of a story."

Mr. Coker, senior, was the third sheriff of Gaines County, Mr. Dee Coker said, "I was on the commissioners court at the time and they paid us $5.00 per day, when we worked. Some months it would take two or three days to take care of the business, some months just one day."

The plate is older than the combined age of the two young ladies who work for the NEWS.

The numbers were touched up with paint. The license plate was buried in the sand edge-wise. Had it been flat it would have rusted out or had it rained much since 1930, it would have been rusted to pieces.

Youngster Injured

Diana Price, daughter of Edgar and Betty Price, was released from the hospital Saturday. Diana had been in the hospital since May 21.

It was a Sunday afternoon and she was taking a nap, her daddy had been working around the place with the tractor and her little brother and sister had been riding on the draw bar of the tractor and they wanted Diana to have her turn, so they woke her up for her to have a ride. Diana was sitting on the draw bar when her foot got caught in the tread of the tractor tire and threw her over the tire and pulled her legs between the tire and fender. The fender had to be pried off with a cedar post. Gene, Stella, and Darwin McBeth, neighbors, came over and helped get Diana out. She almost lost her left foot. Her mother reports that she is on the mend and glad to be home from the hospital.

DARWIN'S SPORTS THEORY

The Texas University Interscholastic League is again making a deep study into the various high school classifications.

The usual method to determine what class a school is eligible to participate in is an average of daily attendance. There are now five classifications: 4A, 3A, 2A, A and B. Cut off figures are raised to allow for changes in attendance. If the figures are raised, the various districts in the Permian Basin will be greatly rearranged.

Average daily attendance, or ADA, for two years determines what particular class a school will play in the next two years.

During the last six years, similar committees, to the one that is now making a study, have raised the ADA requirements three times---this is once for each study.

As things stand now, a school with an average daily attendance of 1,050 students or more is placed in class AAAA. AAA reaches from 450-1049.

If the ADA rate continues to increase, Seminole may drop into 2A classification. Seminole High School's ADA is around the 525 mark. Indians teams, which have been strong champions and contenders in 2-AAA, will be stronger than the smaller 2A schools.

Seminole is the smallest ADA in its present district (2-AAA), but would become one of the largest 2A schools in the state.

A major solution which the experts have come up with is that of adding a 5A (AAAAA) class in which the largest 4A schools would be involved.

Then the largest 3A schools would move up to take the vacated 4A spots and so on down the line with major revampings coming in all parts of the state.

Anniversary

Our congratulations to the W.E. Cox family on their 17th anniversary of their Chief Drive-Inn Theater.

Mr. Cox has lived in Seminole since 1936, and Fronia has lived here since 1942. They have one son, Audy, 19. He is a 1966 graduate of Seminole High School and a student of Southern Methodist University in Dallas. The Cox family reside at 603 S.W. Avenue C.

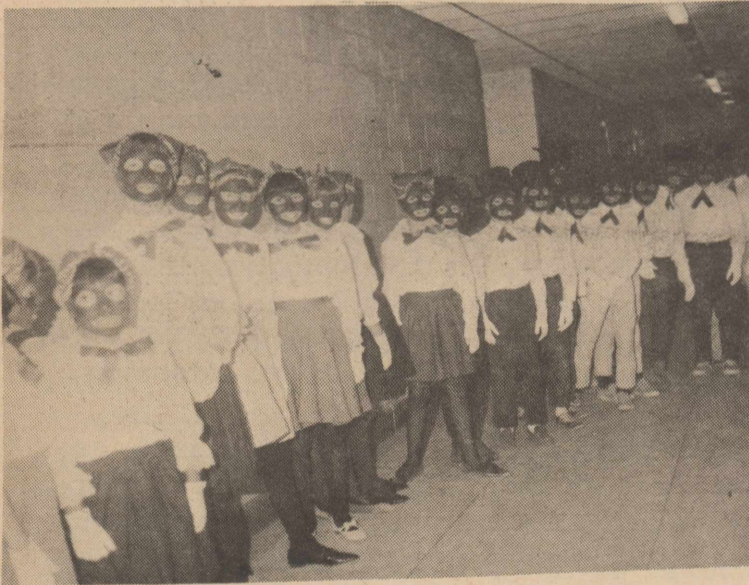

Mr. Cox is a rotarian and a member of the Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite. He is a former president of the School Board, and served for 4 years.

The Cox family have always been active in school affairs. They attend many of the athletic events and also the literary events. They have a keen interest in the youth of our community.

Mr. Cox and his brother, the late Audrey Cox, of Lamesa, opened the Tower Theater in 1940. The Chief Drive-Inn Theater opened June 6, 1950. A recent fire at the Drive-Inn caused considerable damage to the concession stand, but it has been completely remodeled and re-equipped. The Theater is now opened seven days a week.

The Coxes' are very careful in the selection of films shown at their theaters. They are proud of the fact that they always offer a variety of films suitable for the family.

We should be proud to have good citizens like the W.E. Coxes'. Again congratulations and thank you W.E., Fronia, and Audy.

THE GOAST

by Sara Jane

One night when I was sleeping I heard something so I got out of bed and looked all around but I could not see anything so I got back in bed. The next morning I still heard noises. But I just went on and ate my breakfast. Soon it got louder. Then I went to school and I set down in my chair but I couldn't. Nobody was there exsept me. So I tried everybodys chairs. But I could not set down in them. I tried the teachers chair. I tried every chair in the school but the same thing happened. Soon I got very scared.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Friends:

I want to thank each and all of you for every consideration and kindness shown us during our stay in Seminole and the association with the First Baptist Church as I nterim pastor. You have been unusually nice to us and we shall go away with the memory of these people lingering in our hearts for years to come.

May the very, very best be yours to enjoy from here on out.

LOCAL NEWS

The M.S. Doss Youth Center will begin its summer schedule of activities this Friday night June 2, with a dance from 8:00 to 12:00 for its senior high members. A novel feature of the occasion will be the band, an all girl aggregation from Albuquerque, New Mexico, who call themselves the "Feebees". The girls have played widely over New Mexico, including appearances at many of the colleges in the area, and will be proceeding on to Chicago for a round of engagements following their appearance here.

There will be a high school dance each Friday night through summer, as well as occasional dances for next years eighth, ninth, and tenth grade students. The first of these dances for the younger members of the center is scheduled for Saturday, June 10, with music to be provided by the "Minutemen," a combo of local lads composed of David Taylor, Harry Wallace, Jerry Thomas, Randy Dulin, and Bruce Agnew.

Wednesday nights will be movie nights. Beginning at 9:00 each Wednesday evening, a full length movie will be shown without charge with an appropriate accompaniment of free popcorn. Ordinarily the movie will last until about 11:00.

A special attraction during the month of June will be a program, Saturday night, June 17, featuring Biff Painter of Texas Tech. Biff is a 21 year old junior who has gained considerable attention by virtue of his skill as a hypnotist and sleight of hand artist. A picture of Biff and his attractive wife, Vivian, recently appeared on the front page of the Sunday Lubbock Avalanche Journal, with an extensive write-up concerning his, and also her, activities. Mrs. Painter assists her husband with his performances in such wifely ways as permitting herself to be floated over staircases, swimming pools, etc., a sword to be pushed through her neck or her head to be thrust into a Chinese head-chopper. This program at the center will be one to which the public is invited, (naturally at a slight charge).

The new outdoor concrete court should prove a very popular summer area of activity. Completed last fall, it has facilities for basketball, badmitton, volleyball, and tennis. With dimensions of 97' X 33' the court is not of a size to permit regulation play in all of these activities, but all of the sports can be enjoyed in at least a modified form. The area is lighted and is available both afternoons and evenings. A shuffleboard court is also available on the adjacent patio.

In addition to ping pong and pool, the center has a wide variety of table games. Special equipment designed for indoor use even permits a patented variety of baseball and football. Phonograph music, loud and lively, is available from a large record collection, and emits from speakers throughout the building inside, as well as on the outside court and patio.

Light refreshments, including fountain drinks, candy, ice cream, chips, etc., are available at the snack bar.

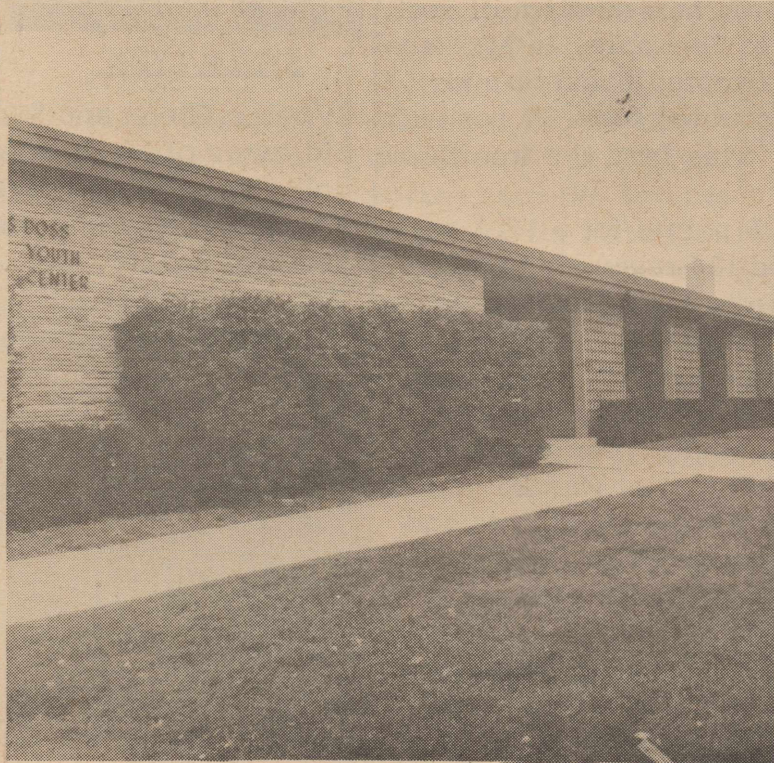

As of last December, televieing became an aspect of the entertainment the center affords, with the acquisition of a 25" color set. Mounted several feet high on a wall, and operated by remote control, the set can be watched from almost any part of the lounge area.

A magazine rack is supplied with the current and most popular teenage publications.

ing them. Anyone looking for teenage employees is invited to call the center at PL8-2779.

A full summer of recreational activity is in prospect for Youth Center members, and all young people wishing to attain membership are invited to get their cards as soon as possible. The new membership year begins June 1. Cards may be purchased at the center office for $3.00. They will not be required for attendance, however, until July 1. Last years graduating seniors are reminded that they will not need to buy a new card, but may now attend the center as honored guests.

The Youth Center will ordinarily be open for regular activities each afternoon Tuesday through Saturday at 1:30, and Sunday at 2:00, with closing time at 5:30. Regular evening sessions will be Tuesday through Thursday, and Saturday, from 7:30 to 11:00. The center is closed Monday and Sunday nights.

LOOKING AHEAD

The swimin' hole- is now the pool.
 The bestest way to keep one cool.
 The horse and buggy days are gone.
 The racing hot rod to us belong.
 The 'good o'le' days just sped away.
 But, really and truley, I like today.
 Today--to dream--to build to hope
 Forgetting the yesterday unless we grope.
 In a darkness, not real, of days gone by.
 In a muddle of maze, when before our eyes.
 The future looms, of brighter things.
 And backons us come take a fling.
 Remember the good, and the kindly ways.
 But launch on ahead, to make better days,
 For now just a dream, but the future holds,
 The drama of dreams, as they unfold.

TEENAGERS' 10 COMMANDMENTS

1. Stop and think before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down; they brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey. You will be giving orders yourself, some day.
4. At the first moment turn away from unclean thinking.
5. Don't show off driving. If you want to race, go to Indianapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The Creator gives you the week; give Him back an hour.
8. Choose your companions carefully. You are what they are.

65,000 'Ole Hens Seminole

Seminole's Ole' Hens, 65,000 of them, have been sold and shipped out of the county. On Sunday morning at 3:00 a.m. the big move started. Mrs. Mary Bennett and son, Earl, plus several of his friends went to the Circle H Poultry Farm to help load the hens. The truck arrived at 5:00 a.m. and over 11,000 hens were loaded.

The Circle H Poultry, was originally the McMurry Egg Farm. It is a part of the Hi-Line Poultry Company, (recent purchasers of the Robinett Egg Farm). Hi-Line Poultry has its main offices in Bryan, Texas. Gordon and Helen Kirkland are the local managers of the Poultry Farm. They have resided here three years. Bill Shafer of Lubbock has been in Seminole during the transaction.

There is a lot of activity out at the Circle H. The cages are being cleaned and double-deck cages are being added.

The ole' hens have probably arrive in Nebraska by now--that's where they were headed for. The Campbell Soup Company in Fremont, Nebraska purchased the hens.

We shouldn't feel badly about the ole' hens leaving. Due to arrive soon are 140,000 young chicks!!!

Seagraves To Observe 50th Anniversary

A golden anniversary of Seagraves founding celebration will be held June 22--the first day of the annual Gaines County Rodeo, officials have announced.

Bill Burt, Chamber of Commerce manager, said "50-year Pioneer Ribbons" would be given to residents, who were here when the railroad first arrived in 1917.

Residents in Seagraves 30 years or longer will wear special "Pioneer" ribbons.

A settlement named Blythe existed where Seagraves now stands several years before the coming of the railroad. But the golden anniversary here will celebrate the arrival of the Santa Fe and the naming of Seagraves, officials said.

The town was named for Charles L. Seagraves, then vice-president and colonization agent of the Santa Fe Railway.

How Creep Feeding may help your cattle profits

Lots of cattlemen in this area have found it pays to creep feed their calves. Helps the calves, and their mamas, too.

Here's proof from work with 2800 head of test cattle where calves were fed Purina Creep Rations:

1. 34% more choice and good grade calves.
2. Heavier calves. Every 10 calves creep-fed Purina returned weight equal to one extra calf. (No extra cow to breed, feed and care for, either.)
3. Better cow condition. Cows suckling creep-fed calves carried 44 lbs. of extra condition.
4. This extra cow condition meant 16% more calves the following season.

That's a big return for just a little outlay in creep feeding the Purina Way. Come in and let us talk over your operation. Prove to yourself Purina feeding can cost you less.

LIONS' CLUB
BASEBALL BEGINS
13 - Game Schedule
By Darwin McBeth

Summertime is here -- flowers are blooming and love is in many minds. With these thoughts of summer, another idea blossoms into many minds -- BASEBALL.

Such is the case with several hundred young Seminole men.

These young men are the objects of the Lions' Club summer baseball program. The Lions will once again sponsor two ball parks with eight teams in each park.

There will be four divisions: Pee Wee, Little League, Babe Ruth, and Pony leagues. Ages for the groups are 8 1/2 to 10, 10 to 11 1/2, 11 1/2 to 13, and 14 to 15, respectively.

Each of the teams will play 13 games which will begin May 29. With the exception of Pee Wee league, the leagues will play all-star games and championship games.

Many of the teams' rosters are, as yet, incomplete. Any boy still wishing to play should contact Henry Watkins or Melvin Caffey. Watkins will operate the Babe Ruth and Little League park while Caffey takes the Pony and Pee Wee Leagues in the County Park.

Efforts are being made this year to play all boys. Arrangements to let each boy play in every game have been made with the coaches. Officials ask that all parents please co-operate with the manager of your son's team. These men give their own time and effort for your kids.

This year, various businesses of Seminole will sponsor each of the teams. These sponsors provide refreshments, equipment, and caps and T-shirts for the boys.

Tax Vote June 17

Absentee voting will begin May 29, and end June 13th. The absentee ballots may be secured from Chester Browne at the County Clerk's office. If you should write in for a ballot, it will be necessary to include your registration number.

In order to be a qualified voter, you must be a property owner and a registered voter.

BEST DRIVING YEARS OF PERSON'S LIFE 30/60

Because married men and married and single women in the 30 to 60 age group have better than average driving records, Farmers Insurance Group is introducing a new auto policy that can mean dividend savings of 20% (currently) for those who qualify, it is announced by Herman B. Dirks, agent.

Dirks said that his organization pioneered the field with this policy designed to give drivers in this age group a special rate because National Safety Council statistics verified by his company's own accident experience records show that policyholders in the 30/60 age group have a lower accident frequency than other age groups. From this information, our actuaries were able to develop a policy designed to take care of this group at a cost which is considerably lower and in keeping with their known lower accident experience.

The 20% dividend Farmers Insurance Group is currently paying to this special class does not restrict use of the car either in annual mileage or going to and from work.

Those qualifying for the new policy will still be able to take advantage of the 15% second car discounts offered by the company.

Since the general civilization of mankind I believe there are more instances of the abridgment of the freedom of the people by gradual and silent encroachments of those in power than by violent and sudden usurpations.

ALCOHOL HAS NO EQUAL

A friend of labor said that he read a story in a newspaper that alcohol will remove stains from summer clothes. This is correct, he says, and just goes to prove the amazing versatility of alcohol. It will also remove winter clothes, spring clothes and fall clothes from a man, his wife and his children if used in sufficient quantity.

Alcohol will remove the furniture from the home, rugs from the floor, food from the table, the lining from the stomach, vision from the eyes, judgement from the mind. Alcohol will remove good reputations, good jobs, good friends, happiness from the children's hearts, sanity, freedom, man's ability to adjust and live with his fellow men--and even life itself. As a remover of things - alcohol has no equal.
