Community Watch Meeting set for August 21

A Robert Lee Community Watch meeting is set for Tuesday, August 21, at 6 pm in the Family Life Center at First United Methodist Church.

The group is comprised of neighbors looking out for neighbors and the community. Here's your chance to help our Sheriff's Office, your neighbors, and your community work together to fight crime in Robert Lee. The more members they have, the better this program works and the safer our community will be. Businesses are welcome too.

Crystal Stanford, President of RL4Restoration Foundation, will be the guest speaker and Sheriff Wayne McCutchen will be there to answer any questions you may have.

Neighborhood Watch is one of the oldest and most well-known crime prevention concepts in North America. The program has roots dating back to the days of colonial settlements, when night watchmen patrolled the streets. In the late 1960s, Neighborhood Watch came to prominence due to an increase in crime rates. The National Sheriffs' Association (NSA) saw a need for a neighborhood crime prevention organization and created the National Neighborhood Watch Program in 1972 to assist citizens and law enforcement.

For the last four decades, the National Sheriffs' Association has helped neighbors band together to create Watch Groups. These groups understand that active participation of community residents is a critical element in neighborhood safety. Watch groups make their communities a better place to live simply by looking out for suspicious activity in their neighborhood and reporting that activity to law enforcement.

In the aftermath of the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks, the need for strengthening and securing our communities has become more critical and, as a result, Neighborhood Watch groups have taken on greater significance. In addition to serving a crime prevention role, Neighborhood Watch can also be used as the basis for bringing neighborhood residents together to focus on disaster preparedness, emergency response, and terrorism awareness.

The national program changed with the transforming role of the Neighborhood Watch groups. That is why in 2002, the National Sheriffs' Association, with a grant from the Bureau of Justice Assistance, Office of Justice Programs, U.S. Department of Justice launched USAonWatch.org.

In 2013, the funding from the grant came to an end and the National Sheriffs' Association absorbed USAonWatch into National Neighborhood Watch—A Division of the National Sheriffs' Association. National Neighborhood Watch is a membership based program in which citizens can join and gain access to resources to support, start, or re-vitalize their Neighborhood Watch groups.

Water well owner training set for August 22

A Texas Well Owner Network training has been scheduled for August 22 in San Angelo.

The Texas Well Owner Network, or TWON, program is for Texas residents who depend on household wells for their water needs, allowing them to learn more about how to improve and protect their community water resources.

The Well Educated training, which is free and open to the public, will be from 8 am until noon at the Tom Green 4-H Center, 3168 N. U.S. Highway 67.

"The TWON program was established to help well owners become familiar with Texas groundwater resources, septic system maintenance, well maintenance and construction, and water quality and treatment," said Dr. Drew Gholson, Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service program specialist and the program's coordinator, College Station.

Gholson said participants may bring well-water samples to the training for screening. There is a fee per sample, which is due at the time samples are turned in.

"Water samples will be screened for nitrates, total dissolved solids and bacteria," he said.

Well owners who would like to have their well water sampled can pick up two sample containers from the AgriLife Extension offices in the following counties and addresses:

- Coke County, 13 E. 7th St., Robert Lee
- Tom Green County, 113 W. Beaugard Ave., San Angelo
- Irion County, 209 N. Parkview, Mertzon
- Schleicher County, 203 S. W. Main, Eldorado
- Runnels County, 608 Sealy Ave., Suite A, Ballinger
- Sterling County, 609 4th St., Sterling City
- Concho County, 159 N. Roberts St., Paint Rock.

Gholson said bringing water samples to the training is not required, but those wanting to have water samples analyzed must attend. Attendees can register at <http://twon.tamu.edu/training> or by calling 979-845-1461.

The training is one of several being conducted statewide through the Texas Well Owner Network program.

"The core content of this program is the same as other trainings, but the information is tailored to local water quality issues and aquifers," Gholson said.

More than a million private water wells in Texas provide water to citizens in rural areas and increasingly to those living on small acreages at the growing rural-urban interface. Private well owners are independently responsible for monitoring the quality of their wells.

"They are responsible for all aspects of ensuring their drinking water system is safe - testing, inspecting, maintaining it," Gholson said. "This training will help private well owners to understand and care for their wells."

Funding for the Texas Well Owner Network is through a Clean Water Act nonpoint source grant provided by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The project is managed by the Texas Water Resources Institute, part of Texas A&M AgriLife Research, AgriLife Extension and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Texas A&M University.

Imposing Your Will

by James M. Decker

It's no secret that I'm a fan of University of Alabama head football coach Nick Saban. Perhaps the greatest college football coach of all time, Saban is also a master of leadership and management. Far beyond relying on coaching clichés and worn-out motivational tropes, Saban is a student of psychology and management science who truly understands how to make people better for the good of the individual and the larger organization.

Recently, after one of Alabama's August football practices, Saban told the media something that struck me as particularly meaningful right now. Coaches often talk about their team "imposing their will" on an opponent; that is, the team, not the opponent, dictates the outcome of the game. Every team strives for this, but as with all greatness, it's easier said than done. Nick Saban, seeing the big picture, said this:

"If you're going to impose your will on someone else, the first thing you have to do is impose your will on yourself."

Whether we use this lingo or not, those of us in community leadership desire something akin to a football team imposing its will on its opponent. We have ideas to improve our community that we believe to be worthwhile. We seek to implement those ideas and influence the community's future, rather than sitting back and letting others dictate the future.

But before we can influence the future of our community, we have to impose our will on ourselves. Do we have what it takes to actually accomplish our goals? Plenty of people have great ideas, but do we have the respect and trust within our community that will allow the community to listen to us? Do we have the confidence in our ideas and the necessary self-discipline to persevere when the going gets tough? There's a long line of folks who showed up in a new town, or back in their hometown, and, without any respect or trust, their great ideas promptly fell on deaf ears. Others started a great idea, got some support, and then when they hit a wall, rather than persevering, they got frustrated and gave up.

Moreover, do we have the discipline to actually live out the ideals that we're projecting onto the community? Are we agitating about junked-up properties but somewhat lax about mowing our own high weeds? Are we personally encouraging local business by shopping locally? What if we're campaigning for people to visit our town and move here, but we personally spend most of our weekends out of town?

These are not easy, comfortable questions. All of us, myself included, can likely stand to improve in some form or fashion. But when we DO live out the ideals we have for our community and when we ARE willing to do what it takes to improve our community, that's when we start imposing our will on our own lives and great things will blossom around us.

VP meetings held

Vision with A Purpose has been busy with meetings the month of July.

On July 18, two back-to-back meetings were held with the first being a Long Range Planning meeting, chaired by Floyd Pettitt. The second was the Executive meeting, chaired by President Nancy Wilson and made up of VP officers. Budgets were discussed and assigned and future programs and ideas are being planned.

The Hunter's Bar-B-Q committee met at their offices in Robert Lee on Monday, July 23. Jeffie Roberts, chairman, called the meeting to order. The Bar-B-Q will be held opening day of hunting season, Saturday, November 3. Again, VP is asking for help and cooperation from the community. It was a great success last year because of lots of involvement from organizations and the community and it is needed this year in order to put on a successful event. This is a community-sponsored event, not just VP.

On July 27, the 2018 Christmas committee met at their headquarters. They want to expand the celebration this year, starting with opening the new office where food will be available and more decorations up and down Austin Street and in the downtown area. VP is opening up the opportunity for organizations to set up for food and/or activity booths. More information will follow. Santa, pictures, and hayrides are in the works also. The celebration will be held Saturday, December 8, and all are invited to this very family-friendly event.

Bronte ISD Free and Reduced-Price Meals Information

Bronte ISD announced its policy today for providing free and reduced-price meals for children served under the attached current income eligibility guidelines. Each school/site or the central office has a copy of the policy, which may be reviewed by anyone on request.

Starting on August 15, 2018, Bronte ISD will begin distributing letters to the households of the children in the district about eligibility benefits and any actions households need to take to apply for these benefits. Applications also are available Bronte ISD, 210 South Jefferson, Bronte, TX at the Principal's Office.

Criteria for Free and Reduced-Price Meal Benefits

The following criteria will be used to determine a child's eligibility for free or reduced-price meal benefits:

Income

1. Household income that is at or below the income eligibility levels

Categorical or Automatic Eligibility

2. Household receiving Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF); or Food Distribution Program on Indian Reservations (FDPIR)

Program Participant

3. Child's status as a foster child, homeless, runaway, migrant, or displaced by a declared disaster

4. Child's enrollment in Head Start or Even Start

Income Eligibility

For those households that qualify for free or reduced-price meals based on income, an adult in the household must fill out free and reduced-price meal application and return it to John Phillips, Principal, phone (325) 473-2511 ext. 121. Those individuals filling out the application will need to provide the following information:

1. Names of all household members
2. Amount, frequency, and source of current income for each household member
3. Last 4 digits of the Social Security number of the adult household member who signs the application or, if the adult does not have a social security number, check the box for "No Social Security number"
4. Signature of an adult household member attesting that the information provided is correct

Categorical or Program Eligibility

Bronte ISD is working with local agencies to identify all children who are categorically and program eligible. Bronte ISD will notify the households of these children that they do not need to complete an application. Any household that does not receive a letter and feels it should have should contact Danielle Queen, Food Service Director, Phone 325-473-2511 ext. 116.

Any household that wishes to decline benefits should contact Laurie Austin, 325-473-2511 ext. 130.

Applications may be submitted anytime during the school year. The information households provide on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility. Applications may also be verified by the school officials at any time during the school year.

Determining Eligibility

Under the provisions of the free and reduced-price meal policy, Danielle Queen, Food Service Director, will review applications and determine eligibility. Households or guardians dissatisfied with the Reviewing Official's eligibility determination may wish to discuss the decision with the Reviewing Official on an informal basis. Households wishing to make a formal appeal for a hearing on the decision may make a request either orally or in writing to Tim Siler, Superintendent - Bronte ISD, 325-473-2511 ext. 111.

Unexpected Circumstances

If a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases, the household should contact the school. Such changes may make household's income falls at or the children of the household below the attached current income eligible for benefits if the eligibility guidelines.
