AF Academy Has 27 Grads In Class 62-B

Graduates of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Military Academy at West Point and Naval Academy at Annapolis make up the majority of Class 62-G which began pilot training Wednesday at Reese.

The Air Force Academy supplied 27 of the 56 United States students, West Point has 2 graduates in the class and Annapolis 2. Each USAF member of the class is a college graduate and a second lieutenant.

Also in 62-B are three officers from Afghanistan, two cadets from Pakistan and two from Peru. Training in T-33 jet aircraft will continue until September.

Twenty-two states are represented by students, California sending eight and Pennsylvania seven. Five students are from Illinois, four from New York and three from Colorado. One lives in the Dominican Republic. Student officers came from 24 colleges and universities.

Members of the class received primary pilot training in civilian contract schools at Moore Air Base, Texas, Bartow AB, Fla., Spence AB, Ga., and Bainbridge AB, Ga., prior to being assigned to Reese.

Credit Union Sets Meeting

Officers and members of principal committees will be elected by the Reese Credit Union at a 7 p.m. meeting next Tuesday in the NCO Club. All members of the union are being urged to attend.

Financial and other reports are to be submitted and announcement of an annual dividend will be made. Directors also have made some policy changes which will be reported to the membership.

The Reese Credit Union, reports Jack House, president, is in a sound condition and a recent inspection by officers in Dallas disclosed only a few minor discrepancies which have been corrected.

Refreshments will be served at the annual meeting next Tuesday.

Census Of School Children Underway

The Frenship School District census is underway this month and all children of school age must be listed, announced Joe Harper, principal of the Reese Elementary School.

Census takers will call at homes, but parents of children who will reach their sixth birthday before next Sept. 1 are asked to call Harper at Extension 3141 to make sure the children are listed. The census will end Jan. 31.

Little League Work Will Start Monday

The 1961 Little League activities will get underway at 4:45 p.m. Monday with a meeting of fathers and other interested persons in the Mathis Service Club. A council to direct the summer's activities will be elected. A large attendance is expected.

FIRST APPLICANT—Mrs. Betti Puckett, secretary to the wing commander, is the first civilian applicant for Reese Aero Club membership. Lt. Col. Dwain Rockie, club president, receives the application. Civilians became eligible for membership Jan. 1 and many are expected to become club members.

Pakistan Air Force Officers Study Reese Pilot Training

The Chief of Staff of the Pakistan Air Force, Air Commodore Mirza A. Rahman, and four other senior Pakistan Air Force officers arrived at Reese AFB Tuesday night for a brief study of the pilot training program. The visitors are touring United States Air Force units for a general orientation in USAF operations, organization and training.

Accompanying Commodore Rahman were Group Captain Masroor Hasain, station commander, PAF Station, Peshawar; Group Captain Abdul Majeed Khan, Station Commander, PAF Station, Drigh Road, Wing Commander Mohammad Taqi, Maintenance - Technical - Engineering, Air Headquarters, Peshawar; and Wing Commander Mohammad Llyas Khan, Station Commander, PAF Station, Malir. Col. John R. Hoover, USAF representative also was in the party.

The Pakistan officers, before leaving Thursday morning, visited many areas of Reese AFB. They were briefed on aero repair, jet engine build-up, airborne communications, base supply activities, and testing of aircraft.

They toured cadet barracks and nearby areas and visited the mobile training control unit, aircraft scheduling section, periodic maintenance section and flight line section.

Wednesday afternoon they visited with the 13 Pakistan pilot training students assigned to Reese AFB. Wednesday night Air Commodore Rahman and other visiting officers were guests of Col. L. C. Hess, Reese commander, at a dinner in the Officers Mess. Staff officers of the base attended.

Air Commodore Rahman, 40, has been in Air Force service since 1944. He is a graduate of the USAF Air Command and Staff School course and the Imperial Defense College of England.

Ribbons Become Mandatory Part Of AF Uniform

Reese uniforms, starting March 1, will blossom forth with perhaps thousands of ribbons. On that date ribbons denoting decorations and awards will be considered a part of the Air Force uniform and wearing of ribbons will be mandatory.

The "dress up" order came from the Director of military personnel in USAF and all active duty and retired members, including members of the reserves, will wear authorized ribbons. They will appear on winter and summer coat and trouser combinations, cotton summer service jacket and trouser combinations, winter and semi-formal dress uniform.

Ribbons will not be worn on the outer-garment shirt, overcoat, topcoat or raincoat. Effective June 1, the wearing of miniature medals will be mandatory with formal evening and mess dress uniforms.

DANCE SCHEDULED

A backward dance will be held from 7 to 11 p.m. Saturday in the Teen Club. No teen ager will be admitted without a date. Maj. and Mrs. Bruce McCall are to chaperone.

Six Teams Battle For Title; Sheppard Named As Favorite

Reese AFB this weekend is hosting the Northern District Squadron Level Basketball Tournament of Air Training Command, with entries from six bases. The schedule called for three games Thursday and other contests for Friday and Saturday nights, with the finals Sunday.

Squadron intramural winners of Reese, Lowry, Amarillo, Sheppard, Mather and Perrin AFBs were starting play in the district meeting. Winners will represent the district in the ATC tournament Jan. 20 to 23 at Lackland AFB, San Antonio.

ATC headquarters sent officials for the Reese tournament. Supervising is 1st Lt. Clarence Doane, Reese personnel services officer. Attendance at all sessions of the tourney is free to base people and others who care to witness games.

Activities started Wednesday night with a dinner in the NCO Mess when the schedule was drawn and details of play were worked out.

The undefeated M&S Headquarters Squadron Section Team is representing Reese in the tournament by virtue of leadership in intramural play and a tournament of leaders in the league.

Amarillo AFB is defending champion, but Sheppard AFB was the pre-tournament favorite.

Reese Office Rated Highest

A superior rating on handling of military pay records has been given the Reese accounting and finance office under the wing comptroller, Lt. Col. Wayne Willis.

Air Training Command has advised that the Air Force Accounting and Finance Center has given the superior rating and "personnel involved are congratulated on the high quality of work accomplished." The standing was for the last fiscal year.

Maj. Frank Fleming is base accounting and finance officer.

Reese Gray Ladies Hostesses For Tea

The Reese Red Cross Gray Ladies were hostesses at a tea honoring Gen. Alfred Gruenther Wednesday in the Pioneer Hotel in Lubbock. Mrs. Frederick F. Shriner attended the regional Red Cross board meeting prior to the tea and gave a talk on Reese activities. Gen. Gruenther, Army, retired, is president of the Red Cross.

TIRES REPLACED

During periods of good weather, about 70 tires are replaced weekly on T-33 aircraft.

Arnette Breakfast Hour Ends In Sadness

The Sunday morning children's breakfast hour has ended in the home of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John W. Arnette at Reese Air Force Base, and the youngsters are sad.

For two years Col. Arnette has been host to the neighborhood youngsters each Sunday morning for breakfast. He has been the chef and the "boss." Each Saturday night he has made up big pans of waffle and pancake batters. Each Sunday morning he has cooked ham and bacon, waffles and pancakes for neighborhood children.

The colonel is leaving this week for Washington and new duty in the plans and programing section of the Air Force courier service. Since August, 1958, he has been wing adjutant at Reese AFB.

The Arnettes have been active in many kinds of work to benefit children of Reese families. But the Sunday morning breakfasts have made up the highlight. This week 22 boys and girls, from 5 to 16 years of age, came for breakfast at eight.

All ate until they were full. They followed the weekly routine. Six boys and girls ate. Then six others took their places. Then six more, until all were fed. As each finished he was herded into the bathroom to wash away the syrup which may have lingered on the hands. Hair was brushed, and at 9:05 a.m. the entire group marched out and boarded the base bus to go to Sunday School.

Requirements to participate in the Arnette breakfast group have been proper behavior and attendance at Sunday School. If behavior is bad, then no breakfast at 311 Harmon next Sunday. If no attendance at Sunday School, then the boy or girl wasn't a member of the Breakfast Club.

Some of the boys and girls, their parents said, didn't eat much breakfast at home. At the Arnettes, they were hard to fill.

Supervisors Given Praise In Program

Fourteen supervisors of Reese Air Force Base have been given letters of appreciation for achievement of 50 per cent or better in the Management Improvement suggestion program on the base. Their activities, they have been told, were instrumental in bringing recognition to Reese AFB for a participation rate of better than 30 per cent during Fiscal Year 1960.

In the program, all people at Reese are asked to submit all suggestions for management improvements which will assist in operation, further efficiency, and bring economies. Suggestions in which the 14 supervisors assisted brought first year annual savings in manhours and materials of $84,000. Base employees earned $1,675 in awards for their ideas.

Twice as many suggestions as employees came from the Air Base Group section headed by Billy W. Muncy, to give 200 per cent participation. A 167 per cent mark was set by the civilian personnel section headed by Mary H. Lundy.

Recognized for 100 per cent participation were Elizabeth R. Rendleman, TSgt. James C. Samples, TSgt. Walter O. Coln, Harold B. Williams and Joe J. Lopez.

Others praised were Winston D. Williams, 90 per cent; Roy W. McNeese, 57; James S. Hamaker, 50; Annie L. Sasser and Hal P. Spencer, 67 per cent each; Charles E. Daugherty, 83; and Sinia R. Harris, 75.

Three suggestions have just been approved. MSgt. William M. Dye further safety with his proposal on a safety harness for window washers. Robert B. Davis received $110 for a suggestion on a T-33 aircraft door which is estimated to save $2,299 a year in materials and manhours. Harold B. Williams received $10 for a safety proposal on an inspection line book shelf.

Larger Promotion Quotas Given Base

Increased quotas for airman first and second class and a slightly decreased quota for staff sergeant have been given Reese AFB for February.

Eighty promotions to airman second class are authorized for Feb. 1, as compared with 49 for Sept. 1. Five men will move to staff sergeant next month, as compared with nine four months ago. An additional three are being nominated to Air Training Command for promotion in frozen fields.

The airman first quota is 50, as against 36 for September.

Boards have begun to meet in squadrons to select best qualified airmen for promotion.

CAPTAIN REASSIGNED

Capt. Amos O. Fox, Reese accident investigating officer, has been reassigned to Williams AFB, Ariz., reporting Feb. 10. He has been assigned here since 1955.

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

Effective communication is an area in which much improvement can be made in the Air Force. The ability to communicate effectively, be it in writing or orally, does not just happen, but is the result of study, hard work and constant attention to this vital subject.

We all communicate daily whether it be in the office, on the flight line, or off duty. The word "communicate" means to make known. The word also assumes a further meaning that what is made known is understood. Too often misunderstandings are a direct result of not communicating.

Good management is completely dependent on effective communication. Every officer, airman and civilian assigned to Reese should continually strive to improve himself in this vital area.

How About Neglect?

One of the most important, and often most neglected, areas of responsibility that we as members of the Air Force must attend to is that of our personal affairs. Many of us put off bringing our affairs up on date, and thereby we and our dependents may lose benefits and entitlements either entirely or in part.

A man who does not "put off until tomorrow" will, for example, have an adequate insurance program, keep his Record of Emergency Data current, be informed on such matters as Survivor's Benefits, Social Security, the Uniformed Services Contingency Option Act and in-service FHA home loans, and know the status of his government life insurance. Above all, he will have copies of all vital documents in a safe and accessible place, and will keep his wife instructed on what to do in an emergency.

A man who knows that his affairs are in order has a sense of direction and well-being that will be reflected in his work and his value to the Air Force. When did you last visit your Personal Affairs office?

'Issues At Stake . . .'

A statement of Maj. Gen. O. J. Ritland, commander, Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, might well be taken to heart by all people of America. The general outlined for the American Engineering Conference how industry and the armed forces must work together. He told how the military had brought benefits to industry through research on scientific advancements.

"Ninety per cent of the scientists the world has trained since the beginning of history are alive today," he concluded. "Scientific knowledge is doubling every decade. Our country's mental and physical resources are multiplying. And in these critical times, human resources are what count.

"By vigorous application to the problems of today, we shall arrive at the aerospace systems of tomorrow. We cannot afford detours, distractions, or half-hearted efforts. The issues at stake are too important to merit anything less than our very best. They are the issue basic to democracy: national freedom, human dignity, and prosperity through peace."

For all America today, for every person assigned to contribute to the mission at Reese AFB, for military and civilians alike the statement should be remembered.

"We cannot afford detours, distractions, or half-hearted efforts; the issues at stake are too important." The Reese contribution to world peace must not falter or lag.

TV Production Trainees Sought

An urgent requirement exists for personnel qualified for training into the television and radio production specialist field, wing personnel has been advised. Interested and qualified Reese airmen are being urged to apply.

Airmen sought should have experience or training in TV or radio production and have held responsible positions in the field. Substitution of experience is possible.

Complete information on means of qualifying and other details of the program are available in the wing personnel office.

BEST AIRMAN—Tommy Schuetz receives congratulations of his commander, Maj. John J. Garrett, on selection as Airman of the Month. He also receives a savings bond.

Christian Home Happiest Place On Earth Today

By Chaplain Henry C. Bielski

The most beautiful place that ever was upon this earth was the earthly Paradise where God placed our first parents. The happiest place that ever was in this world was the little house of Nazareth, the home of Jesus, Mary and Joseph.

Which and where is the most beautiful and happiest place on earth today? It is the house of every truly Christian family, of every family which is modelled after the Holy Family of Nazareth. It is the home where parents respect and love each other and where children respect and obey and love their parents.

Today the nations and people are most unhappy, discontented and desperate, because the families are no longer families after the Heart of God. The family is the smaller unit from which society develops. As its families, so the nation! God therefore began the redemption of the world by first sanctifying the family, placing before the world the example of the Holy Family, and with it the highest ideals for every Christian home.

Oh, if the nations of the world would only understand the importance of the home and family!

In the families God rears His saints. From the families also come the God-haters and the persecutors of the Church. From the family come the blessing and the sin of society.

As long as faith and religion reign supreme in our families, as long as Christian virtue rules in our homes and the love of God binds the members of the family together, so long will society be prosperous and happy and in peace.

May this be our daily prayer: "Enlighten us, O Lord, by the examples of Thy family, and direct our feet in the ways of peace."

'God's Trombones' Presented Sunday

Fred Waring's dramatic presentation, "God's Trombones," will be presented at the evening service of the Base Chapel at 7:30 p.m. Sunday with the Protestant Youth of the Chapel as sponsor.

The conductor of the world famous "Pennsylvanians" granted permission for the presentation here. Reese people who have heard the record have been high in praise of the quality and message.

The offering taken at the Sunday service will be used to finance a Spiritual Life Retreat for the Protestant Youth group.

Duplicating Chief Named Top Airman

AIC Tommy D. Schuetz, airman in charge of the duplicating facilities branch for the base, has been selected as Airman of the Month, mainly on the basis of praise given his branch during Air Training Command inspections.

He was credited with maintaining a fine record in his branch and in seeking broader knowledge through ECI enrollment.

Also nominated for Airman of the Month were AIC Kenneth Rankin of the Air Police and AIC Darold A. Dougal, machinist in the 3505th Field Maintenance Squadron. Both are students in the NCO Academy.

Contractor Named For Building Work

H. C. Lewis of Lubbock has been awarded contracts for modifying, sound-proofing and air-conditioning of three buildings on the Reese Air Force Base flight line. The work will assist in the consolidated pilot training program going into effect on the base.

Six bids were offered on altering Building T-52, used for engine build-up. Bids were solicited from 25 firms. Five bids were received from 26 solicited for work on Building T-60, a hangar. There were four bidders on Building T-51, used by Base Supply. Bids were asked of 26 firms.

Golf Notes

By Ken McGuire
 The 3502nd Flight Line Maintenance Squadron holds first place in intramural golfing with 38 points, trailed by PTW with 32 points and Air Police, 23½.

Intramural competition was resumed after the holidays and in last week's competition Air Base Group beat Weather/AACS, 4 to 2; PTW took M&S, 3½-2½; and the 3500th PTS upset PTW, 3½-2½.

The weather over the weekend was nice and a large number of golfers were out swinging. The greens and fairways were in good shape and while the weather holds good everyone should get in as much golf as possible. Heavy winds are due soon for a couple months.

Effective this month handicaps will be figured on the 15th of each month.

The golf course snack bar is open each day except Monday and lunches are being served. There are mighty good hamburgers, sandwiches, soup, milk shakes, and atmosphere. No juke box noise. Come in for a welcome change.

Rifle, Pistol Teams Schedule Gathering

Team members and other military personnel interested in becoming members of the base rifle and pistol teams are invited to attend a meeting on Jan. 18 at 3 p.m. in the Small Arms Branch building.

"Additional members are needed at the present time to fill spots on the pistol team," said MSgt. Berlin Brown, NCOIC of Small Arms. He stated further that all base personnel have an equal opportunity to reach the top standings on the team.
