Officers Given Reassignments As Instructors

Fourteen Reese AFB officers are being reassigned to other bases soon.

Going to Okinawa is Lt. Col. Edwin C. Myers, base dental surgeon.

Reassigned to Williams AFB as instructor pilots, also reporting in April, are Capt. Joe B. Davis, Capt. Troy G. Ross, 1st Lt. Donald C. Patch and 1st Lt. Donald R. Brown.

Going to Randolph AFB in March, also as instructors, are Capt. Thomas E. Wizoreck, Capt. Donald L. Tarver and 1st Lt. John R. Dick.

Reassigned to Moody AFB, reporting April 1 as instructors, are Capt. Kenneth A. Hartle, Capt. Roger W. Englebretson, Capt. Calvin O. Stoner, 1st Lt. Carl R. Gregory, 1st Lt. James T. Jones and 2nd Lt. Kinsley G. Wood.

Reese Civilians Get Honors

Two Reese civilians received honors last weekend at the regular meeting of the Lubbock Federal Business Association.

Mike Elliott of the Reese commissary was installed as president, succeeding Ellis Huse, internal revenue director in Lubbock.

Tom Ireland, civilian personnel officer, was awarded a certificate for outstanding work during 1960 in furthering interests of federal employees. Ireland, in accepting, said federal employees "are members of the most honored and hardest working people in America."

CAPTAIN REASSIGNED

Capt. William A. Bryan, Jr., flight commander, has been reassigned to Fairchild AFB, Wash., for SAC duty. He will take combat crew training enroute at Castle AFB, Calif.

White Lighting Used In T-38 Talons

Distinguishing instrument and map colors has long been a problem in night flying, and what promises to be the answer might be the obvious — white illumination of the cockpit.

White light has been used experimentally in the cockpit before, but now the white light is being put to its first operational use on T-38A jet trainers entering ATC as pilot trainers and scheduled to come to Reese AFB next year.

The current cockpit illumination set-up is diffusion of light through a red filter. In this

PRE-TRAINING—When the Air Force Academy swimming team came to Reese AFB recently enroute to a meet with Texas Tech, its members had opportunity to see what was in store for them after graduation. They conferred with and were briefed by Academy graduates in pilot training here. Shown above are Academy Cadets Byron Bartlett, Robert A. Breckenridge and John C. Burwell discussing flying training with their former upperclassmen at the Academy, 2nd Lt. John D. Macartney and Anthony H. Long.

Orientation Course Planned

A Dependents' Orientation course is being planned by the Family Service Center for March 6 and 7. The course will be from 7 to 10 p.m. in the Reese Elementary School. Registration will take up the first half hour.

The course will consist of lectures and questions aimed at aiding dependents. Talks by qualified speakers will deal with legal aid, housing, Red Cross, personal affairs, Air Force Aid, casualty benefits, Family Services and base facilities, passports and visas, overseas counseling, Medicare, transportation and moving.

The orientation is aimed at acquainting dependents with many departments which may aid them in the future. It also will stress what the Family Service Center offers and duties of volunteer workers.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served and free nursery services are offered. Nursery reservations should be made as soon as possible.

"Mark your calendar for this course; this is a service for your benefit and it is to your advantage to use it," said 1st Lt. Elmer Simons, personal affairs officer.

Certificates of attendance will be given each dependent upon completion of the course.

Scout, Sweetheart Service Scheduled

Boy Scout Sunday and Sweetheart Sunday will be marked in the Base Chapel at the morning service Sunday.

Boy Scouts will attend in a body and will serve as ushers.

Sweethearts will be honored with corsages. A corsage will go to the couple married the longest and attending the service, another to the couple married the shortest time, and a third to the family with the most children attending the service.

Chaplain James D. Taylor will deliver a special sermon.

WEATHERMEN PROMOTED

Several airmen in Detachment 17, 8th Weather Group, here were promoted this month. They were: Jack Barr to airman first class and Gary Leggiere, Rodney Woody and Mark Rector to airman second class. All are weather observers.

Two Training Units Assigned Here For June, July Study

Two summer encampments of AFROTC students are scheduled for Reese AFB in 1961, Col. L. C. Hess, base commander, has been informed.

The first training unit is scheduled to begin work here on June 18 and the second on July 30. Each session will last 28 days and about 200 AFROTC students of various colleges will be assigned.

Lt. Col. Dwain Rockie has been named project officer and will be assisted by a staff of officers and NCO's from AFROTC units, sent here for the summer. Other Reese AFB people also are to assist.

In each of the summer encampments throughout the country the AFROTC students gain intimate knowledge of training activities with the training aimed at making them better officers. A majority of the students, on graduation from college, enter pilot training.

This base will provide training facilities, housing, messing, and other support.

The last AFROTC summer training unit was at Reese in 1955, the third such organization sent here.

Aero Club Schedules Meeting On Tuesday

Movies, hangar talk and refreshments will feature the regular meeting of the Reese Aero Club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the club lounge. Lt. Col. Dwain Rockie, president, will preside at the business session. All members and other interested persons are invited to attend.

Base Hospital Hosts Association Meeting

The 3500th USAF Hospital at Reese AFB was host for the quarterly meeting of the South Plains Hospital Association last Thursday, with 21 hospital administrators attending.

Discussion of numerous policies and problems was held in the hospital library, following a roast beef dinner in the dining hall. Attendants represented 14 hospitals in the South Plains area.

Communications Command Planned

The Air Force will add another major air command to its roll of 18 with establishment on July 1 of the Air Force Communications Service (AFCS), with headquarters at Scott AFB.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Chief of Staff, estimates about 58,000 persons will be in the new command, including officers, airmen and civilian technicians.

Creation of the command followed several years of study aimed at securing reliable, adequate, secure and instantaneous communications, considered a vital need in an age of ICBM's,

'Sweetheart' To Be Named At Club Fete

Festivities, highlighted by a grand march and presentation of the base "Sweetheart", will be the climax of a Valentine Sweetheart Contest, during a dance next Thursday at the Mathis Service Club.

Entertainment for the dance will be supplied by a live dance combo and all base personnel are invited to attend. Dress for the evening will be semi-formal.

Following the grand march of contestants and escorts, the winner will be presented with a floral bouquet by her escort on the playing of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" by the band.

Contestants for the contest are entered by the various squadrons on base. Each squadron also provides an escort.

Nominees are Shirley Bishop, 3500th Civil Engineering Group; Seliece Cartwright, PTW; Sandra Rutledge, 3505th Field Maintenance Squadron; Mrs. Sharron Lea Kersenbrack, Air Police; and Miss Mary Ellen Lea, 3500th Hospital Squadron.

The dance will follow an 8 p.m. birthday party for all airmen born in February. A birthday cake will be cut.

The service club has a full schedule of events. A floral design planning session is set for 8 p.m. Tuesday to discuss types of flowers and arrangements for spring classes.

Program Announced For Financial Aid To Dependent Children In College

Reese officials this week awaited further direction on the Air Force program to provide college scholarships to service children. The program was announced late last week, but details of procedure have not been received. The base education office will supervise actions, but will be unable to give advice or aid, pending arrival of further directions.

The program of financial assistance using Central Welfare funds to provide scholarships and loans for children of active military members was announced from USAF headquarters. Comprehensive guidance material will be forthcoming later.

Both scholarships and loans will be available for the 1961-62 school year. The program will be administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

To be eligible for this year's competition, high school seniors must have taken the National Merit scholarship qualification test as juniors to qualify and deviations can be made this year for high school seniors to compete if they did not take the NMSQT as juniors.

However, if a senior does not intend to enter college until the 1952-63 school year he may take the test as a senior and compete for next year's scholarship.

Loans will be made available to all students entering college and those already enrolled. Students who have taken the NMSQT or are presently enrolled in college and desire loans should indicate their interest to USAF headquarters, Attention AFPMP-12-B.

Seniors who did not take the test as seniors to qualify and desire loans must take the NMSQT as seniors to qualify for a loan.

All testing will be administered by the NMSC. Selection for scholarships is based primarily upon test scores. The NMSQT is required for loans primarily to determine potential to complete colleges. The NMSQT is administered in most high schools in the United States. The 1961 NMSQT will be given March 7 and 11. Students where the test will not be administered should make arrangements to take the test at another school.

Students already in college need not take the test but must have a favorable recommendation from their college officials.

From The COMMANDER'S DESK

By Col. L. C. Hess, Base Commander

An article about Safety recently appeared in the 20 January issue of TIG Brief No. 2, Vol. 12, which is worthy of the attention of everyone assigned to Reese. The article in part states that "Safety is everybody's business, from the basic airman right on up to the commander, and each has responsibilities which determine the effectiveness or failure of the program.

"The airman who carries his safety goggles in his tool kit instead of wearing them; the AF civilian who thinks wearing a "hard hat" is not for the he-man; the supervisor who sees these practices going on and does nothing to correct them; and the commander who knows his organization is having accidents due to this negative attitude and fails to insist on compliance, are all working to defeat their own efforts and the purpose of the safety program."

Accidents are expensive and we cannot afford them. Whether it be in the office, at home, on the flight line, or in your automobile, the safety program at Reese depends on everyone. It is a team effort. Make sure that "SAFETY IS YOUR BUSINESS."

How Fit Are We?

Failures Hit High Percentage

(Written in USAF Chaplain's Office)

"Is over-addiction to television, automobiles and other vehicles of soft living slowly draining our children of their strength and vitality?"

This question was asked in a newspaper editorial in one of our large American cities last fall. The writer had been shocked to find that 56 per cent of 2,328 local youths had failed to pass a specially designed muscular fitness test. It was small comfort to him to discover that the percentage of failures corresponded exactly with our national average.

In comparison, the same six-part test had been given to more than 2,000 children in Europe. They showed an 8 per cent failure and 92 per cent passing grade.

Parents and youth leaders in the test city wanted to know the reasons for the failures. Had they not fed their children the best of foods? Given them proper shelter and clothing? Provided medical and dental care? Then why were there physical fitness failures — and why on such a huge scale?

One youth director came up with these answers: More parents drive their children to school these days and deprive them of the healthy exercises to be gained from walking; many children spend their leisure time in front of the TV screen instead of taking part in sports and games in the fresh air; with modern urban conveniences, children no longer have strenuous household chores such as their fathers and mothers had in years gone by.

These conclusions most probably do not provide the complete answer at all. What is your opinion on the 56 per cent failure rate among American children?

'Ham' Helps Astronauts By Flight

America's astronaut program for a manned flight into space took a giant step forward Jan. 30, following the successful space flight of "Ham", the chimpanzee.

Ham's now historic accomplishments were going 155 miles high, travelling over 5,000 mph, streaking 420 miles down the South Atlantic Missile testing range, and most important surviving and performing the tests required of him without a bobble.

Behind this performance lies a careful of hard animal training work at Holloman AFB, N. M., where "Ham" and other chimps have been trained for the human being simulating space flights.

Chimpanzees are important to space research because they are physiologically and anatomically closer to man than gorillas and other anthropoid apes. While the chimp's brain averages only half that of man, the chimpanzee is in relative proportion to man and its sensory capacities have been evaluated as close. Moreover, sociologists have found chimps in intelligence equal to and surpassing young children up to the age of three, when child and chimp have been raised together.

With this approximation of the human astronaut, the chimp also answered the space question: Would a living creature be able to manipulate the necessary controls while in space flight? Ham did, and it's presumed its human counterpart will do even better in this category. Ham and other chimps were trained on a modified Pavlov reflex reaction system. Ham had to move levers to answer various light signals to thwart electric shock punishments. His correct moves were rewarded in the form of banana coated pills.

The human astronaut would be left, of course, with his thinking intelligence . . . sans shocks and banana pills. USAF veterinarians who work with the chimps at Holloman AFB are selected for the program not only for their technical competence but also for their natural love of animals. Only the young chimps — the cream of the crop — are tabbed for space flights. And USAF specialists find they are lovable animals.

In the case of "Ham," he is destined to go down in history as the first chimp space-voyager.

Taste Experience For Non-Christian Changes His Life

By Chaplain Jerry L. Rice

Today's word is "Taste". I am sure you have at some time been informed in a dictatorial way — "But that's in bad taste!" We may agree or disagree as to whether the thing we have done is in good or bad taste, nevertheless, these are cutting words. They have a funny way of making us feel small.

The word "taste" can be used in a slightly different way. To taste is to experience. You have heard it said, "Wait until you get a taste of Army life." It is another way of saying, "Wait until you experience what it is to be in the Army."

When we taste food, we are experiencing a certain kind of food. There is not one more irksome than the person who blurts out, while you are eating your favorite dish, "How in the world can you stand to eat oysters?" If you inquire as to whether this person has ever tasted the delicacy, you may find out that he has never tried an oyster in his life.

In the 34th Psalms, verse 8, we read: "Taste and see that the Lord is good . . ." Here is an invitation to experience the goodness of the Lord. How about the person who calls Christianity worthless, yet has never experienced the goodness of the Lord? Isn't this a challenge to him to taste before talking? It is well known that the closer we get to anything, the better able we are to evaluate and judge it. When it comes to Christianity, however, it seems that there are no requisites as to whom can pronounce doom upon it. Anyone and everyone is an authority. Christianity's answer is — "Taste and see."

The cry goes up — explain Christianity to us. Give it to us in a nutshell, then we will consider it. A columnist has said that a good painting is like good food. It can be tasted but not explained. The best you can do is search for words to describe the sensation you experience. Christianity is somewhat like that. Taste and see that the Lord is good. No one can taste for you.

What does your life consist of — does it include the experience of God? If not, reach out in prayer to the God who hears every prayer. Taste and see that the Lord is good.

Teen Club

The Tornados will play for the Teen Club's Valentine Dance next Friday night. Plans for the dance, as well as election of officers for a new term, will be laid at the senior and junior club meetings at 7 p.m. tonight and Saturday.

A1C Glenn Whitsett has been appointed club director.

Leonard Maranto, Youth Activities Director, announced that the Reese Cub Scouts will have a Relay Carnival at the base gymnasium. The meet will be from 4 to 5 p.m. Feb. 16.

Competing in the meet are five Cub Scout Dens. Winners will receive an award at the scout's monthly meeting.

All Cub Scout members are asked to wear suitable gymnasium clothing and shoes.

ANG Steps Up Its Transport Activity

The Air National Guard has stepped up its transport mission role, with aircrews of two squadrons beginning C-97 Stratofreighter training at Randolph AFB.

Also in the ANG speedup are conversion of five more ANG squadrons to C-97 transport roles and four additional squadrons to C-119 or C-121 aero-medical missions by spring.

Scouts Hold Honor Court

Col. Roscoe Woodruff presented 26 awards to members of Reese Troop 148, Boy Scouts, at a Court of Honor in the Scout House. He then proceeded to recall past talents by playing mess call on the bugle to announce refreshment time.

As Scoutmaster E. W. Bohl read the citations, the colonel presented junior leader training certificates to Mike and Joey Hritz, Barry Patterson, Robert Beaty and Terry King. Mike Wagner advanced to first class scout, while Joe Davis, Bobby Yordani and Terry Chandler achieved second class badges.

Ben Barone and Gregory Philippe received dual awards of tenderfoot and second class. Dwight Hall received a tenderfoot badge.

Merit badges were presented Robert Beaty, Charles Hill, Terry King, Van Grady, Richard Ford, Rockie DiAgostino, Sidney Falk and Roger Myers.

Troop 148 will participate in the annual Scout Circus on Friday and Saturday, March 10, and 11, at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

Bowling Results

Officers League

A four-way tie for leadership developed this week in the Officers Bowling League. On top with 7 wins, 1 loss, were the Medics, Pinbusters, Flight 2 Mohawks and Wing Wizards. The Flight 3 Comanches hold a 6-2 record.

First Lt. Dick Corbin rolled the 596 high series and 222 high game. Second Lt. Wolfram Wislicenus had 552 series and Lt. Col. Wayne Wills a 214 game.

The Pinbusters marked the 2,493 high series and 893 high game, while the Bad Guys had a 2,392 series and 835 game.

Intramural League

"King of the Hill" in individual bowling action this past week was 1st Lt. William Eaves of the 3501 PTS, hitting 220.

SSgt. Chuck Braden, of the Hospital Squadron, was high man in the week's series competition with a 577 score. High team series was rolled by Air Base Group, showing a score of 2506. It also hit high team game with an 853.

Officers Wives League

The Cherry Pickers took a one game lead in the Officers Wives Bowling League Tuesday, with the Gutter Gals in second. The leaders have won 9, lost 3 games, while the second place holders have 8-4. The Pin Topplers and Bowling Bags were in a 7-5 tie for third.

The Mark X team rolled high game of 565 and high series of 1,611. The Strickettes had a 553 second high game.

Peg Wachtel rolled the 178 high game and 473 series. Lucille O'Rourke hit a 176 game and Peggy Hooper 171, while Jane Ellis rolled a 462 series.

DANCE SCHEDULED

Youth Activities On Base Discussed

Programs for youth activities at Reese were discussed early this week with Miss Helen Dauncey, representative of the National Recreation Association, participating.

Miss Dauncey, on a tour of Air Force installations, met with youth leaders in individual sessions and spoke to a general meeting Monday afternoon in Mathis Service Club. She demonstrated several games and outlined activities which will enliven parties and increase interest among boys and girls.

During the Monday and Tuesday visit, the association representative met with Boy Scout and Girl Scout leaders, Cub Scout den mothers, Brownie supervisors, Teen Club sponsors and others.

Woman's Chatter

By Mrs. William Roth

Parties at Reese have taken a back seat to houseguests and visits out of town.

Maj. and Mrs. Russell C. Hainline returned this week from a visit with their son-in-law and daughter, 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Donald W. Dill, at Little Rock AFB, and their new grandson, Jeffrey. The lieutenant was a cadet in Class 59-E at Reese.

Maj. and Mrs. Joseph B. Burdick have had as houseguests 1st Lt. Garret Sampson of Webb AFB and his mother, Mrs. Ross T. Sampson. The lieutenant's father, Col. Sampson, recently retired and is employed by USAF in Paris, France. Mrs. Sampson will join him soon.

Mrs. W. V. Stewart of Bryan, Tex., has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, 1st Lt. and Mrs. Charles F. Allen.

Mrs. E. W. Lauck of Luray, Va., is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. William Harris, Jr.

Mrs. William Little returned this week from visiting her parents in Palm Beach, Fla. The Littles will move to Dallas in August, where the doctor has been accepted for residency in oral surgery at Parkland Hospital.

Mrs. Robert Bosman was honored last week with a personal shower given by Mmse. Richard B. Corbin, Charles F. Allen, William L. Eaves and Joseph E. Fidler. Eighteen guests were invited to bid her farewell before she and Lt. Bosman left for Shaw AFB.

OWC golf resumes this weekend with a tournament beginning last Tuesday and extending through April 2. Interested women are reminded that free golf lessons are given at the golf club at 10 a.m. every Tuesday morning.

The Protestant Women of the Chapel will have their regular monthly salad luncheon next Tuesday in the Chapel Annex. Mmes. Elwin G. Kirby and Foch J. Benevent will be hostesses and all Protestant women are invited.

The OWC Newcomers' coffee will be at 9:30 a.m. next Thursday at the club with Mmes. Allen and Fidler as hostesses. Wives of all group and squadron commanders, OWC council members, and regular club members are urged to attend.

The monthly M&S Group wives luncheon will be at 1 p.m., Feb. 17, at the club. Bridge and canasta will be played after lunch and hostesses are Mmes. Foch J. Benevent and Clark E. Dufield.

The Wing Wives will have their regular monthly coffee at 10 a.m. next Wednesday at the club. Hostesses will be Mmes. Delmar Atchison, Gary Alden, Phillip Brown and Richard Corbin.

Mrs. L. C. Hess entertained about 45 newcomers at her home Wednesday.
