RIO RICO, Mexico, Oct. 24.—Motorboats bucked the raging current of the Rio Grande today to begin the dangerous task of rescuing 80 persons marooned on a slowly-crumbling island in the middle of the treacherous stream.

The flooded Grande, striving violently to change its course, gobbled at the Mexican approach to the $66,000 international bridge, leaving only 60 yards of the earth fill unswayed.

Inhabitants Flee
The 500 inhabitants of this Mexican border town opposite Mercedes, Tex., fled their homes when the river overflowed through the main street. Banks gave way under 25 houses, which toppled into the stream.

Rescue workers were balked last night in their efforts to take the marooned persons from their fast-fading haven in the center of the stream. Cross-currents and

All To Be Removed
Belief was expressed all would be removed before the island crumbles. Huddled on the bridge were 75 persons with goats, cows, chickens and other household belongings. They may go to the U. S. side of the river if danger of collapse becomes imminent.

Heavy rains on the San Juan river watershed in Mexico caused the sudden upsurge in the Rio Grande. Cross-currents and

New Evidence Of Strained Relations Between U. S. And Japan Revealed Knox Claims "Collision" In Far East Inevitable

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Secretary Knox said today that a "collision" in the Far East was virtually inevitable. "The situation in the Far East is extremely strained," Knox told a group of naval munitions manufacturers. "We are satisfied in our own minds that the Japanese have no intention of giving up their plans for expansion. If they pursue that course a collision there is inevitable."

A cabinet member after weeks of Washington-Tokyo efforts to find a formula for settlement, was prompted by a discussion of ways by which munitions can be delivered from this country to Russia. Knox said he had "just hurried away from a conference"—he did not say with whom—at which British and Russian needs for war materials had been stressed as matters of great urgency.

The navy secretary declared that the manufacturers, including the chiefs of naval yards, must miss no opportunity to speed up production. "Keeping the Russian army fighting is one of the most vitally important things we have to do in this war," he said emphatically.

There are, Knox continued, "just three ways" of getting supplies to Russia. These he named as: Across the North Atlantic to the Arctic port of Archangel, across the Pacific to the Far Eastern port of Vladivostok and down through the South Atlantic and around Africa to Persia. The Archangel route, Knox said, is the best of the three despite great handicaps imposed by its extreme northern location. The port can be kept open only by the use of ice-breakers and this means, he said, that slow-moving supply ships make easy marks for German bombers which can readily reach the harbor. Moreover, Archangel offers but limited transport facilities.

United States Now Plans To Double Output

Figures Are Kept Secret; All Will Be Used By U. S.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Withholding all figures, President Roosevelt announced today that the American program for producing tanks for United States armed forces would be approximately doubled at once.

The chief executive told a press conference that the projected expansion was part of an overall revision of the defense picture. But the rest of it, he said, will not be ready until later in the fall or perhaps when Congress meets for a new session in January.

Information Secret
Mr. Roosevelt would not say what the present tank program called for, but that the increase would provide. That, he asserted, was information which the Axis would like to have.

It does call for many thousand more tanks, he asserted, along with certain items of ordnance relating to them. The principal reason for the decision to make a tremendous increase in tank output, the president disclosed, grew from the experience in the use of tanks in North Africa last year.

To Build New Plants
Some new plants will have to be built to turn out the enlarged volume of tanks. Mr. Roosevelt declared, while factories now making them will have to step up their operations.

Reminded that William S. Knudsen, director of the Office of Production Management, had mentioned a goal of 2,000 medium tanks monthly, Mr. Roosevelt said the new program went beyond it. The president held up the start of his press conference while he fumbled through a basket of papers on his desk, selected a memorandum on the tank situation and read it to himself before discussing it with the press.

To U. S. Armed Forces
He emphasized that the tanks would go only to our own armed forces, that they were distinct from those made for the lend-lease program and that a request for more of the lend-lease tanks would be made almost immediately to Congress. The tank program originally outlined a year ago last spring was believed adequate at that time, Mr. Roosevelt declared, but subsequent developments in the use of tanks showed the need for expansion. The original program is in full swing, he asserted, and actual deliveries have been made for several months.

50 HOSTAGES SHOT

100 Others In German Hands Gain Reprieve

(By The United Press) VICHY, France, Oct. 24.—Fifty French hostages were executed by German firing squads today for the slaying of a Nazi major at Bordeaux but a communique said that Marshal Henri Philippe Petain had secured postponement of the deadline for execution of 100 others.

The execution of 50 out of 100 the number of hostages put to death in retaliation for the slaying of German officers at Bordeaux and Nantes.

Four Groups Involved
Four hostage groups of 50 each have been involved in two incidents. The first group of 50 drawn from scattered parts of occupied

MAY SURRENDER
VICHY, Oct. 24.—A rumor swept Vichy tonight without official confirmation that Marshal Henri Philippe Petain will cross the French demarcation line and surrender himself as a hostage to the Germans if they execute any more French citizens in retaliation for anti-Nazi acts.

France was put to death earlier this week in retaliation for the Nantes assassination of Col. Karl Friedrich Holtz.

The second group of 50, according to Berlin, was put to death today for the Bordeaux assassination.

Two other groups of 50 each, however, were still held, one for each killing, and were scheduled to be shot if the assassins were not captured. These scheduled executions have now been postponed until next week on Vichy's plea, the communique said.

Search For Assassins
The communique said that after appeals by Petain and Vice-Premier Admiral Jean Francois Darlan the German authorities agreed to delay the execution of the complementary groups, which authorities in Vichy meant the second groups of 50 at each place.

This was done, the communique said, in order to permit time for a more thorough search for

Child Is Badly Hurt In Wreck

Parents Also Seriously Injured; Three Other Crashes Reported In City Today

A 19-months-old son was dangerously injured and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, seriously hurt Thursday night in an automobile mishap near Lovington, where they live.

Johnny, the son, suffered a skull fracture and concussion. The father, 34, had a broken right knee and cuts and abrasions. Mrs. Johnson, 22, suffered a broken right thigh and cuts and abrasions.

Injuries of the parents were not considered dangerous, however, it was said at West Texas hospital, where the three victims were taken early today.

Incomplete reports said the Johnson car was in collision with a machine stopped at the side of a road.

Details Are Unknown
State highway patrolmen here said details of the accident had not been learned, that the mishap had been investigated by officials of the Lovington area.

Wichita Falls relatives were reported en route to Lubbock, police said they had learned.

Football Fans Join Farmers Cussin' Rain

Football fans joined the farmers in worrying this morning as the weather in Lubbock and over the South Plains continued very much in the inclement side.

However, the worry for the football followers seemed needless despite rumors, declared wholly without foundation, that the weather might force cancellation or postponement of games—specifically the Texas Technological college-New Mexico university game in Tech stadium tonight and the Lubbock-Amarillo high school game in Amarillo Saturday afternoon.

Good Cause To Worry
For the farmers, there was good cause to worry, although the wet and dreary situation of last night and this morning did not make the crop situation much worse than it already was.

The rumor as to the Tech-New Mexico game apparently grew out of the fact that fire equipment was taken to the stadium this morning to pump water from the field. Tech officials explained, however, that most of the water was taken from the track surrounding the playing field and from the approaches to the stands.

Will Go Ahead
The turtle-back playing field, they reported, is in excellent condition, considering the weather. It will be somewhat soggy, they said, but will be in playable condition. The officials emphasized that the game will go ahead as scheduled, regardless.

Rumor that there was so much as thought of postponing the Lubbock-Amarillo game also were dispelled.

Five Men Killed As Big Bomber Crashes

HAMILTON FIELD, Calif., Oct. 24.—Five men were reported killed as a bomber crashed on the field of Twin Sisters peaks 25 miles from here today, killing its crew of five officers and men.

The plane, a B1G bomber from Fort Douglas at Salt Lake City, left Hamilton field at 9:15 a. m. after an overnight stay here. It was due at Sacramento at 9:50 a. m.

Wreckage of the plane was sighted by Hamilton field planes, officers said. They added the plane exploded and burned after it crashed.

Soviet Armies Hold Firm On Moscow Front

Great Masses Of Troops And Tanks Entering Fray

(By The Associated Press) Soviet front-line dispatches acknowledged that the situation was "alarming in all sectors" on the Ukraine front today, with heavy fighting raging on the approaches to Rostov-on-Don, while claims from both sides listed a staggering total of more than 10,000,000 men killed and wounded in the 4-months-old campaign.

Although the Red armies clearly appeared to be holding firmly before Moscow, the grave new danger to Russia's vital war foundries on the southern front was emphasized in reports to the army newspaper, Red Star.

Fighting Is Bloody
The newspaper reported "bloody hand-to-hand fighting" and "immense losses" in battles around Stalino, 100 miles northwest of Rostov, and at nearby Makeevka, with the Germans hurling great masses of tanks and troops into a drive to engulf the entire Donets river industrial basin.

"The situation on all the principal sectors of the southern front remains critical," Red Star's correspondent telegraphed. Pravda sounded the same note.

In Berlin, the authorized commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland, even went so far as to say that "the liberation of the Donets basin is imminent. If true, this would strike a hard blow at Russia's war supplies, since the Donets basin is the source of great iron, coal and manganese deposits, and Rostov, near the mouth of the Don river, is the key to the Caucasus oil fields."

Would Bring British
German conquest of the Donets basin would in all likelihood precipitate the long-awaited hour of British troops entering the conflict at Russia's side.

British Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell, commander-in-chief for India, has nearly 1,000,000 men in the Middle East awaiting the signal to march north through Iran (Persia) into the Caucasus to bolster the battered Red armies in the Ukraine.

The Russians declared officially that several hundred thousand Germans already had been killed in the 23-day-old drive on Moscow, and that Nazi losses in four months equaled the total casualties suffered by Kaiser Wilhelm's imperial armies in the four years of the world war.

According to U. S. state department figures, the Germans lost 1,773,700 killed and 4,216,058 wounded in the 1914-18 conflict—a total of 5,989,758.

"They have not taken and will not take any more," said Wavell. (Turn to Page 10, Column 4, Please)

Flooded Kansas Town Faces Milk Shortage

Basement Walls Of Many Homes Crushed By Rising Water; City Is Inundated

(By The United Press) HUTCHINSON, Kans., Oct. 24.—City officials reported today that the basement walls of many homes had been crushed by flood waters sweeping through Hutchinson and that the city was facing a milk shortage because dairymen could not get into the city.

Cow creek, a small stream which normally is not more than two or three feet deep, began flooding the city seriously late yesterday when a dike in the drainage canal broke. Since that time most of the city has been inundated by two or three feet of water.

Hundreds Are Rescued
Hundreds of families were rescued from their homes. Tractors pushing wagons and trucks were used in the rescue work. In some cases boats were used.

Trains either were routed around the town or their services were curtailed. All of the salt mines continued to operate despite difficulties in getting cars switched.

American Legion Volunteers Aided
Members of the state guard, the police department and a detail from the state reformatory in Hutchinson were called to duty. (Turn to Page 10, Column 6, Please)

Four Starving Kiddies Found

(By The United Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Children were waiting pitifully. The crying had been going on intermittently for hours. Neighbors thought it must be the Palmer flat. One went to see.

Mrs. Rose Palmer, 29, was gone. Huddled in the squalid apartment were her four children, aged 5 to five months. Their clothes were clean but so worn the patches had been patched. They had no shoes.

Children Were Starving
Nurses from the juvenile home came to get the children. The nurses, who said the children were starving, found a note on a ragged but freshly-washed pile of clothes. It read:

"To whom it may concern: Please do not think I am deliberately deserting my babies, but I see no other way out than this. I have tried everything under the sun to keep them and take proper care of them. But I cannot go on seeing my babies half eating and no shoes on their feet, and bed-bugs and snakes crawling all over them. And original program is put out, so we have nowhere to go."

Husband Deserted
"I've gone without food myself to give them more. I've gone to the papers and every relief agency I know of to get help, but to no avail." (Turn to Page 10, Column 8, Please)

Grasshopper Plague Threatening Plains

A plague of grasshoppers threatens the South Plains next spring unless eggs now in the soil are destroyed, according to warning sounded here Thursday.

The statement was made by O. B. Howell, professor of horticulture at Texas Technological college, Thursday following a survey by a plant industry class.

The survey, made on square yards of soil picked at random on the college farm, indicated an average of nine egg pods per square yard of soil. Each egg pod contains from 24 to 26 eggs.

Howell said he believed eggs had been laid in large numbers within about a 30-mile radius of Lubbock.

He expressed the belief farmers should attempt control measures. Deep plowing and thorough harrowing this fall will expose the eggs and many will be dried out by the sun and the wind, frozen, or eaten by birds. Also he suggested county agents be consulted regarding poison bait to be used next spring.

Howell said some students reported considerable damage to winter wheat by the grasshoppers, which arrived in this area in swarms several weeks ago. They were of the Rocky Mountain variety.

After laying eggs the grasshoppers die and Howell said numerous dead grasshoppers had been noted around the city.

LaGuardia Is Given President's Backing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt endorsed the candidacy of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, Republican and American labor nominee, to a third term as mayor of New York today, declaring that LaGuardia's administration had been "the most honest and most efficient" within his recollection.

The president skimmed through at his press conference a formal statement which he had prepared on LaGuardia's race for reelection and laughed with reporters when he said he was not taking part in the New York City election but felt that he was entitled to speak about it because the city contains about half the population of his state.

Plan To Flood City With Music During Yule Season Is Outlined

Holiday Idea Given Study

A plan for the broadcasting of appropriate music during the Christmas holiday season so that it will be heard throughout the downtown district was outlined in a letter from the chamber of commerce to members of the city commission at their semi-monthly meeting Thursday afternoon.

More specifically, the plan now under consideration, as related to the commission, is to erect a battery of loud speakers on some centrally located downtown elevation, and through them broadcast programs of carols and other appropriate music. Mentioned as possible "elevations" for the loudspeakers were the Myrick building, the Lubbock National bank building and an abandoned frame fire drill tower equal in height to a five-story building which might be placed temporarily on the court house lawn.

Opinion was expressed to the commission that if such an arrangement is made, the sound volume can be controlled so that harshness and excessive loudness can be avoided, and at the same time provide programs to be heard throughout the downtown district.

It was explained, also, that the plan would not contemplate continuous, blaring programs which might become irritating and disturbing to workers and visitors in the downtown district. On the contrary, programs would be "spotted" at carefully selected times with the best of them being given during the early night-giving downtown.

Members of the commission were informed that efforts are continuing to arrange more elaborate decorations for downtown Lubbock than the city ever has had before. But the carrying out of that phase of the plan, the officials were told, depends upon whether the equipment can be obtained during the national emergency. The present outlook is none too bright, the report to the commission said.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Commissioner W. B. Price and Hub Jones, who were present at the meeting, were enthusiastic for anything that might contribute further to the Christmas atmosphere in Lubbock. They and City Manager W. H. Rodgers and City Attorney Duwood H. Bradley explained, however, that the city's "anti-noise" ordinance may present difficulties—though perhaps none that cannot be surmounted legally.

They asked that developments in the Christmas plans be reported to them so that they can join in carrying them out.

The commission declined to approve indemnity insurance policies submitted on behalf of Yellow and Domino taxicab companies and instructed City Manager Rodgers to notify operators of the companies that their franchises will be considered for cancellation unless satisfactory policies are provided at once. Such policies, it was explained, are intended to provide indemnification for those who suffer personal injury or property damage as result of acts of the taxi companies.

Budget Approved
D. M. Coiten and L. F. Lively protested a recent amendment to the city building code which requires that insulating materials used in buildings in Lubbock must be approved by Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., as non-combustibles. The commission declined to alter the amendment.

Final approval was given the city budget and the 1941 city tax rate of $1.10 on the $100 of assessed valuations—an increase of 10 cents over the present tax rate. Both already had been discussed at great length and the final approval was given them in the form agreed upon when they were considered in detail.

K. N. Clapp, top sergeant of Lubbock unit of the Texas defense guard, reported that the unit has been instructed by J. Watt Page, state adjutant general, that officers in the guard must be uniformed and equipped as are officers in the regular army. The guard officers receive no compensation.

Clapp related that it will cost approximately $50 per man—about $600 for the 12 officers in Lubbock—to provide the required outfits. He reported that it is the intention to use for that purpose a part of the $4,000 appropriated jointly by the city and county commissions recently for the local guard unit. Members of the city commission said they would raise no objection.

An appropriation of $1,500 for the City-County Welfare association was authorized.

Contractor's bonds of the following were approved: E. L. Gabbard, general; Axinger Lumber company, house moving; and Nunn Electric company, gas fitter.

The word "panzer" referring to the German panzer division, means "armored."

There's Hallowe'en Magic In Refreshments To Bewitch Party Guests

Don't Forget Traditions

BY MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Don't let Hallowe'en slide in on you without planning some traditional trimmings.

Put in lunch boxes cup cakes frosted with chocolate icing with faces of candy corn. Dark bread with cream cheese and raisin filling, cut round, and with raisin features stuck on with cheese or butter, will cause merriment. Raisins or dates can, also, be used for making faces on popcorn balls. Stick them on with wood picks or syrup and wrap in black cellophane.

A Jack-o-Lantern does double duty, first filled with fruit for the center of the dining table, then for the youngsters to carry around the neighborhood.

Select for the lantern a large, flat pumpkin. Cut a square off the top, and remove seeds and pulp. Cut faces on two sides of the pumpkin, one frowning, the other grinning. Fit a wide candle in the bottom.

If it is first to hold fruit or cookies, line the inside with waxed paper.

Here is a HALLOWE'EN SALAD: Make a green-colored gelatin salad ring. Unmold on shredded lettuce. Center with small dish filled with mayonnaise or salad dressing - it must be a bright yellow - and top with cheese pumpkins, made by shaping and marking two-inch balls of yellow cream cheese. Trim with parsley.

BLACK MAGIC TARTS

2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1-1/3 cups sweetened condensed milk
1-2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon grated rind
2 oranges
8 baked tart shells.

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add milk and stir over boiling water until mixture thickens. Remove from heat. Add orange juice and rind, and blend thoroughly. Cut orange sections into small pieces, free from membrane and arrange in baked tart shells. Cover with chocolate mixture. Chill. Make a pattern of a witch, jack-o-lantern or cat. Cut with a sharp knife or a cookie cutter from pastry rolled 1-8 inch thick. Brown on a cookie sheet. Cool. Place one on each tart.

For the DOUGHNUT SPECIAL

of the day there are these grinning faces. Roll out doughnut batter as usual, but cut with a round cookie cutter. Fry until well browned, allowing an extra minute to cook the balls clear through. Cool and dip in a soft orange icing. Stick in wooden skewers and let dry.

Paint faces on the doughnut lolly pops with a wood pick, dipped in melted sweet chocolate.

A member of the family in the new home of Jenkins Jewelry.

Judson H. Bogue

The one and only. Judson is the man behind the scenes. The man that is responsible for the repairing of your watches. He has more than 16 years experience and is one of less than 500 members of the Horological Institute of America, which in plain English is a "certified watchmaker."

Judson is married and formerly worked for Kruger's in Wichita Falls. We feel very fortunate in having Judson with us as you get the best workmanship coupled with years of experience in watchmaking.

You probably will not see much of Judson in our new home but you will see the results of his workmanship when you bring your watches to Jenkins Jewelry for repair.

The opening is drawing near... and we may have something definite to tell you soon. Let's make it a date!

Sincerely yours,

Military Weakness Stymies Britain's Hope Of Creating New Front

English Hoping For U. S. Entry

By PAUL MANNING
NEA Service Staff Writer
LONDON, Oct. 24.—The average person in London today can not understand why Britain does not storm the continent, open up a real "Western Front" now that Germany is tied up in an all-out effort to smash the Russian armies.

But the big people, the generals, the air force chiefs, the men of the navy, the politicians of Whitehall, know the reason. Bluntly put, it's military weakness. These men in "authoritative circles" are not deluding themselves that the Maginot Line type of defense they have built up since the chaotic hours of Dunkirk is yet a striking force.

Officials Realize Task
England today could probably not land more than six fully equipped divisions in France. These would be met, despite the campaign in the east, by 20 to 30 German divisions.

Many critics of the current British military policy sense this, of course, but have had their outlook colored by the wishful thinking of refugees and the unrest in France. The latter, although possibly true, still remains too indecisive a military factor when planning a final campaign that could mean total victory or total defeat for Britain.

Stories, too, of enormous RAF bomb damage in Germany and German morale which is fast beginning to break, have also done their logic no good.

Need Naval Ground Attacks
For the logic of the matter is, RAF raids, like those of the Luftwaffe, will not win any war unless in conjunction with land and naval forces. Proof is the battering which England received from a numerically superior German air force stationed but some thirty miles from London during the winter of 1940-41.

Great damage was done to London and to the other important cities of Britain but after one long winter of almost constant battering, the vital western docks and the important industries of England still remained intact and the morale good.

Bombing Attacks Limited
The RAF has admittedly done great damage to the invasion ports and to the small cities which surround them. But because they do not have enough flying fortresses and British four-engine bombers, they cannot penetrate into inner Germany in sufficient numbers to do a job of mass destruction.

A large raid on Berlin two nights in a row just about represents an all-out effort, because only these four-engine bombers can carry enough bombs to make the trip worthwhile.

During the winter of 1940-41, when the RAF was striking at Berlin, it was being done with the two-engine planes that could remain over the target area no longer than 20 seconds, so close was the ratio of gasoline to bomb load.

During recent months, however, RAF activity has been, as official communiques state, "on an England today could not land more than six fully equipped divisions (against Germany's 20 to 30) in Europe. However, like the Royal Marines above, her forces are constantly practicing for a "cross-Channel attack. In addition to having inadequate numbers, British invaders would have to smash through strong coast defenses with which the Nazis have lined the Channel.

ever increasing scale." Unfortunately, the supply of flying fortresses from the U. S. has been small and not sufficient to overcome the big plane losses which the Royal Air Force has suffered over France and Germany.

And the reservoir of competent bomber pilots is not inexhaustible, either in England or in Germany. Many pilots I knew personally one year ago are now dead. No total figures of men killed in air action have ever been released.

As for the total effect of RAF raids to date on Germany, the reports I heard in Lisbon recently from several competent neutral observers are disquieting. Berliners, they said, are now taking air raids in stride.

Evidently, like those Londoners who showed signs of panic during the early September and October raids of 1940, many Berliners too gave evidence last spring of unrest as British planes continued to break through the Berlin anti-aircraft barrage. Now, however, they are settling down.

Hopes On U. S. Entry
As for the bomb damage, although great in some sections of France and Germany, it in no way approaches what has been done to England, and German production is being maintained.

What London's authoritative circles tacitly admit they seek most, of course, is an American declaration of war followed by an

Scout Leader Declares Enduring Safety Of The Nation Must Depend Upon Youth

The repeated emphasis that the enduring safety of the nation and the world must depend upon its youth marked the address of Dr. James E. West of New York City, chief executive of Boy Scouts of America, at a banquet attended by 243 people in Hilton hotel Thursday night.

The banquet was the closing event of an all-day leadership conference for the West-Texas-New Mexico section of the southwestern Boy Scout region.

In the 30-minute speech he found time to summarize his more than 30-year experience with scouting, including his personal contact with President Theodore Roosevelt, whose conquest of physical disabilities inspired the young West to overcome his own ailment.

He briefly alluded to his "six months that never expired"—six months of service as a Scout executive in New York which have yet to expire, after more than 30 years.

Presented Tie Clasp
He praised the progress of the United States in material things and commerce, in education and culture. But he emphasized that the three classes of American society, the slackers, the unselfish doers and the "non-participants" must be more largely converted to doers. "Scouting education for this purpose is sound and enormously effective."

Avary Funeral Is Set Today

Last rites for C. W. Avary, 54, of Meadow, who died of a heart ailment shortly after 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon en route to a hospital after the truck he was driving ran into a light pole and tree in the 2200-block Nineteenth street, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the First Methodist church at Meadow.

The pastor, Rev. H. G. Bryant, will officiate. Sanders Funeral home will direct burial in Meadow cemetery.

Witnesses said the heart attack struck Avary while he was driving west on Nineteenth street, floor of the truck's cab and that the truck rolled slowly across the street, striking the pole and tree on the northwest corner of the lawn at the Nineteenth street fire station.

Attack Responsible
Witnesses said apparently the death was caused by the heart attack rather than by the impact of the truck with the light pole, since Avary had "not even a scratch" on him. Authorities at the hospital blamed death on the heart attack.

Avary was removed from the truck to inside the fire station by Ben Casey, George Long and Mark Long of the fire department and Floyd Ward, collector for Avalanche-Journal publications, and a Sanders ambulance called.

By the time the ambulance reached West Texas hospital, Avary was dead, it was reported. He did not regain consciousness after the heart attack. Only damage to the truck was to the front end. The motor stopped after the collision. It was a tank truck.

Plains Pioneer
Avary, a resident of Meadow 21 years, was a wholesale oil agent for Meadow, Levelland and Sundown.

Avary is survived by his wife, a son, J. D. Avary, a student of Texas university at Austin; two daughters, Mrs. H. D. Chesler of Brownfield and Mrs. D. C. Flowers of Meadow; his mother, Mrs. E. D. Avary of Seymour; a brother, Otis Avary of Seymour; and four sisters, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. Morris Gilbert and Mrs. Nina Leg-

Dr. West left for Dallas on the 10:10 o'clock train Thursday night and will attend a conference there

Tech Men Planning To Attend Parley

Dr. A. W. Young and James G. Allen, dean of men, plan to represent Texas Technological college at a sectional conference of Alpha Phi Omega, a national Boy Scout service fellowship, Saturday afternoon and Sunday at SMU in Dallas.

They hope to take approximately 10 students with them, said Dr. Young.

There are four chapters in Louisiana, four in Oklahoma and six in Texas to be represented at the sectional conference.

Uncle Sam Must Substitute For Substitutes In Defense Program

Plastics Have Task To Fill

(Second of three articles on the way in which substitute materials are playing an increasingly important role in American life.)

By JOHN GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—This ersatz problem has U. S. manufacturers tearing their hair—no sooner do they find a substitute for some vital defense material than they have got to start hunting a substitute for the substitute.

Industry has long known acceptable replacements for most common materials. When OPM took key materials for munitions, manufacturers turned to substitutes, but found 'em scarcer than the originals in many instances.

For example, magnesium can be used in place of aluminum in many fabrications. Try and get it. It's even more desperately needed in airplane production.

Always Find A Way

Changing conditions also change the ersatz picture. The navy needed a big order of brass. So OPM talked the admirals into using red brass—containing less zinc—because zinc was scarce. By the time the order was signed, copper was scarcer than zinc, so they changed the order to yellow brass, which uses more zinc, less copper.

Those silver state senators who persuaded Congress to buy huge quantities of silver in 1933 unwittingly took some pressure off our short tin supply. Normally solder is half tin, half lead. It takes 13,000 tons of tin annually to supply U. S. solder needs. However, solder made of 97 per cent lead, 3 per cent silver works well enough.

Cork Is Headache

Cork is another headache. Its chief peacetime uses are in beer and pop bottle caps, engine gaskets, linoleum and insulation. The government has corralled the whole supply, which we import. What's left over after defense leaves the civilian supply only 10 per cent of normal.

There are satisfactory substitutes for cork in linoleum and insulation. The best substitute for bottle cap liners is a rubber derivative, and rubber is also super-scarce, so scientists are working on a plastic they think may do the trick.

Other Substitutes Noted

Look for lots of porcelain trim on a plastic they think may do the where you used to see chrome and nickel. Those metals are going into armor plate. Steel replaces aluminum in refrigerator trays. Enamelled steel does duty for aluminum in athletic shoe eye-lets. Zinc is saved by dipping galvanized goods three times instead GOING, GOING — are such fine underthings as these for milady. Fewer, less ornate styles and simple fabrics take their place.

THINNING TIN content of food containers is one way Uncle Sam is conserving limited supplies of vital materials. The can plating will be reduced 10 per cent, but tinned foods will taste just as good.

PAINLESS ERSATZ is substitution of new materials that you may not even notice in everyday things. But the saving of supplies through such simple steps will run into huge figures. Tin foil wrappers for candy and chewing gum are disappearing but youngsters won't mind. Neither will dad, although shaving cream comes in lead foil instead of tin tubes.

of five. Wood is making an ersatz-ersatz comeback in furniture. Laminated wood table tops are releasing steel for defense. Wood kitchen cabinets are doing the same. Steel—scarce but not unobtainable—is replacing scarcer copper in many consumer products. Cadmium trim is used in place of chrome and nickel, where trimming hasn't been eliminated.

Plastics Industry Loaded

What about plastics? When the defense metals shortage first loomed, there was loose talk that plastics would replace metals without a noticeable hitch. That's plain nonsense. In the first place, there just isn't the tonnage capacity for plastics to replace the metals tonnage now going into munitions. The plastics industry is expanding as rapidly as possible but priorities in building supplies and machine tools are holding up the show.

Secondly, there is also a scarcity of raw materials required in many plastics. Many of them come from the same test tubes where explosives are born.

Plastic Capacity Limited

Plastics are doing a whopping job. They're substituting for aluminum in refrigerator parts, for alloy steels in gears, in a hundred other places. They go as far as capacity permits in ersatz uses, but there's a limit to what baby can do. Remember, plastics are infants, compared to metals.

A final note on some other shortages: Mica is imported, is used largely in electrical equipment and radios. Civilian demand is three times the available supply. Molybdenum, which we have, is to some extent replacing tungsten in tool steels.

There will probably be some curtailment of mercury in civilian uses, such as the felt in your hat. It will probably be available for dental amalgam. Demand outstrips supply by 3 to 2. There is about a 50-50 split between demand and supply in lead, nitrates, electric power. Rubber demand is 10-7 over supply; manganese, 3-2; zinc 3-2; alloy steels 2-1.

(MONDAY) Ersatz upsets empires.

FALLACY?

The Pleiades cluster of bright stars has been known as "The Seven Stars" for several thousand years, yet there are only six visible to the naked eye.

So rare were steaks during the Klondike gold rush that they sold for between $200 and $300 each.

Big Oil Deal Is Reported

Sale of five producing wells on 160 acres of land in the Wasson field of southern Yoakum county for $290,000 was reported here Thursday.

Atlantic Refining company purchased the properties from American Liberty Oil company, Dallas. Acreage comprises the west half of the west half of section 38, block A, public school land, close to the Gaines county line. Nelson W. Willard owns the fee.

According to Atlantic, American Liberty already has been paid $200,000 and will receive the balance upon approval of titles.

Yoakum Wildcat Watched

Since Prairie—oil company No. 1 Charles J. Kleingr, closely watched wildcat four miles east of Plains in central Yoakum, is drilling at 4,609 feet in anhydrite and lime with top of the solid (San Andres) lime expected within the next 70 or 80 feet. It is running higher structurally than producers in the Ownby pool 3 1/2 miles to the southeast, having topped the Yoakum (Brown) lime at 4,420 feet, 690 feet below sea level and 85 feet above the pool wells.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1-13 L. H. Wright, wildcat in eastern Yoakum, is drilling unchanged below 5,364 feet in lime. A steel line measurement at 5,323 feet corrected depth to 5,333. The well filled 1,000 feet with sulphur water while bottomed at 5,344 feet and water rose to 1,200 feet as it drilled to 5,350 feet.

Well Is Completed

In the Wasson field proper, Drilling and Exploration Co., Inc., completed its No. 2-CCA Hudson for daily potential flow of 396.96 barrels of oil, plus 6.6 per cent water, and its No. 6-C Hudson for 330.52 barrels of oil, plus 3.9 per cent water.

San Andres lime was topped at 4,500 to 4,520 feet, calls varying, by American Drilling corporation No. 1 W. T. Huffnall, western Terry county wildcat, and it now is drilling past 4,600 feet in lime. The "big lime" marker is said to have occurred practically flat with that in Texaco No. 1 S. T. Murphy, Terry failure 4 1/2 miles to the southwest which for a while indicated opening of a new pool. No. 1 Huffnall had topped the Yoakum

SMOKE? DON'T DRIVE!

Czechoslovakian automobile drivers are forbidden to smoke while driving, as many road accidents are said to have been caused by this practice.

CHEMICAL MARVELS

Using growing solutions without soil, chemists could produce enough potatoes for the entire United States in an area of 15 square miles.

Callahan and Waggoner No. 1 E. M. Wahlenmaier, Crosby county wildcat 20 miles southwest of Crosbyton, picked up slight showings of oil in lime from 2,805-20 and from 2,900-20 feet. It now is drilling below 2,930 feet in lime. O'Neal drilling No. 1 Dela Slaughter, Wright, other south-eastern Cochran county discovery several miles north of the Slaughter field, is testing on pump bottomed at 4,983 feet in lime. Late last week it was given a 10-hour gauge, pumping 146 barrels of fluid, 60 per cent oil and the rest sediment and water.

Lubbock Wells Active

Lee C. Harrison et al No. 1 W. G. Nairn estate, central Lubbock county strike three and one-quarter miles northeast of Lubbock, is reliably reported to have pumped an average of 65 barrels of oil daily for six days. Oil is diluted from 4 to 6 per cent with salt water. The well is bottomed at 5,002 feet and is producing from Clear Fork, Lower Permian lime. Testing on pump still is in progress.

Three and one-quarter miles west by northwest of the discovery and two miles northeast of Lubbock, Harrison and Tobe Foster No. 1 E. L. Steck, a closed operation, is rumored drilling in lime below 4,200 feet.

Weiner et al No. 1 Kleen, Swisher county wildcat, encountered slight showing of oil and gas from 2,765-70 feet and a showing of oil from 2,945-56 feet. It last was reported drilling ahead below 3,055 feet in red rock and anhydrite, probably in the San Angelo formation.

Six miles south of Post in Garza county Ed McAdams No. 1 K. Stoker has been abandoned at 3,398 feet in lime, with hole full of sulphur water.

Sweden now has no sleeping cars.

Suez And Red Sea Pictured As "Ugony Terror" For U. S. Seamen

Axis Bombing Raids Deadly

(By The United Press)
HONOLULU, T. H., Oct. 24—Fierce and deliberate attacks of German and Italian bombers on United States flag ships have made Suez and the Red sea an "ugony terror" for American seamen, crew members of a returning freighter said today.

While their ship was docked at Suez two months ago, they said, three other American ships were hit by aerial bombs and a fourth struck a mine. One was sunk and the others were damaged so severely they were forced to drydock but there were no casualties.

Others Not Named
The sunk vessel was the Steel Seafarer and the mine victim was the Steel Inventor, they said. They did not name the other victims.

Maritime regulations forbade naming the returning freighter. The state department announced Sept. 7 the Steel Seafarer sank in the North Atlantic. John Stowe of Brooklyn, N. Y., quartermaster of the freighter, said that the only reason there were fewer sinkings of the clearly identified American ships was the poor marksmanship of the Nazi bombardiers.

"On the night of our arrival at Suez," he said, "we anchored to await dock space and soon German planes started dive-bombing—the ship. We weren't hit but we sought a quieter port to await dock space. We returned to Suez three days later. That night 300 German planes, plus Italians, bombed the harbor continuously more than six hours.

"The decks were littered with steel bomb splinters but there were no direct bomb hits and no casualties. Our ship was lifted almost clear of the water but these near misses only loosened some hull plates.

In this raid, he said, 48 persons were killed ashore at Suez. The poor German marksmanship was matched by that of the British anti-aircraft batteries which were ineffective in either hitting or driving off the planes, he said, even though spotlights were able to catch the raiders in their planes.

A week after the bombing raid, the planes returned and sowed the anchorage with mines, one of which the Steel Inventor hit the following day. A native tug towing the American ship was blown to bits with all its crew.

Stage Three Heavy Raid
Stowe said that one night the Axis bombers staged a three hour raid while the American freighter was tied next to a barge loaded with bombs and percussion caps. American ships have been called in to lead raids in the Red Sea. The British Middle Eastern force, under President Roosevelt five months ago declared the Red sea was not a combat zone. Early in July state department sources said that American shipments were arriving at Suez at the rate of a vessel a day.

Can We Believe Our Ears? Farmers Would Welcome Howling Sandstorm For Change

What this country needs most is not a good 5-cent cigar but, believe it or not, a howling sandstorm of several-days duration. Ask the farmers.
D. V. Travis of five miles west and three south of Brownfield may be taken as an example.
"My cotton has opened pretty well, but I can't get into the fields to pick it—so much rain," he said.

And:
"My feed made in bumper proportion, but it might as well be out in the middle of a lake. And it's sprouting in the head."
Mr. and Mrs. Travis were in Lubbock this morning, mired in the doorway of a store, blocks from where their automobile was parked.
Hail, adding insult to injury, was pelted down on fields in the Wellman, Seagraves and Brownfield sections Thursday, Travis said.

U. S. Sailor Declares Iceland Is No Place For An American

(By The United Press)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 24—George Reardon, jr., 19, first class seaman aboard the U. S. S. New Mexico, said today he was certain that a destroyer escorting his ship to Iceland four months ago had collided with and sunk a German submarine.
"On our way to Iceland," he said, "but two icecoring destroyers picked up the sub. We swung off and one of the destroyers went after the sub. She got right over the thing when it came up. It smashed into the destroyer's keel and went to the bottom."
Reardon was home on leave after three months aboard the New Mexico at anchor in an Iceland fjord. He expressed surprise that no official announcement had been made of the submarine incident.

He said that "none" of the Americans liked Iceland, that neither the British there nor the natives were friendly.

The British are "jumpy," he said, and have fired at American destroyers and aircraft before positively identifying them.
"This is just my impression," he said, "but those Iceland people hated our insides. From what we could gather, they were all pro-Nazi."
"The only time an American sailor or soldier got a tumble from the girls was when he showed a bottle of gin. Those Iceland girls are nuts about gin."

Oil Men Confident Price Boost Near

(By The United Press)
TULSA, Oct. 24—Oil men of the southwest felt confident today that a government approved crude oil price increase soon would be effected to stabilize the industry and permit an expansion of petroleum reserves. The question of actually obtaining the higher prices, they indicated, seemed past and the two matters remaining to be settled were (1) the amount of the price increase and (2) when it would be put into effect.

Are More Reassured
Most producers seemed far more reassured now than in past weeks that the problem was nearing solution, and they had confidence of a leading official in Defense Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes' office that the government was interested in their troubles.
More than 1,000 independents heard Deputy Coordinator Ralph K. Davie agree that proper price levels would be needed.
"For the additional drilling which must be done and particularly for the hazardous wildcatting which must be continued and increased," said Davies in a speech before the Independent Petroleum association of America's convention here, "you will need not only critical materials but also crude price levels which warrant expensive exploratory search and deep development."

Place Case Before Public
Davie also suggested that the industry might place its case for a price uplift before the public as well as the government.

"For the public has been led to believe that the rate of recovery of our known oil reserves is greater than most of us in the oil industry believe possible," he said. "If the public has not the facts, or has the wrong facts, the industry has some work to do."

Surveying the results of the IPAA convention, W. R. Ramsey, an Oklahoma independent and a leader in the price increase campaign, said he believed that higher crude oil prices were "just around the corner."
How Far Unknown
"But how far around the corner remains to be seen," he said.

A resolution adopted by the IPAA indicated that an increase of 10 to 15 cents a barrel had been suggested in some quarters during the meeting. The resolution specifically disapproved an increase that small, and individual reports indicated that it was generally disapproved.

Rio Grande
The town was ordered evacuated when the river began cutting a new course back of it which threatened to isolate the town and throw Rio Rico on the U. S. side of the stream.
Merchants, forewarned, rescued most of their stocks. The Mexican customs house was moved to the U. S. side. Some Rio Ricans fled to Matamoros and Reynosa, both in Mexico—others went to the U. S. side. Boats plied the swirling waters to take over more goods and evacuees.

Trucks Are Aiding
Four trucks were dispatched by the Mexican government from Matamoros, opposite Brownsville, Texas, to help the evacuation.

The current was deflected into the Mexican bank above the town by an island formed on the U. S. side during recent floods. Weakened levees let flood waters into the streets and soon a roaring current formed.

No More Naps For Her While In Car
RATON, N. M., Oct. 24.—Mrs. Margaret Dorsey won't take any more naps in a speeding automobile.

While snoozing in the back seat of a car she tumbled out of the machine, did a 60-mile-an-hour clip. Miraculously, she suffered no injuries.

Soviet Armies Holding Firm

not take Moscow," said S. Lozovsky, official Soviet spokesman.
Nevertheless, Premier Joseph Stalin delegated two of his key marshals to form new Red armies and Soviet dispatches "acknowledged that Moscow's position was grave."
The British radio quoted Pravda reports as saying:
"Today Moscow is in danger. We must never surrender. We must be prepared to see the streets of Moscow become the scene of violent fighting."
Claims Are Denied
Lozovsky asserted the Germans were still more than 80 miles from the U. S. S. R. capital, countering official German claims yesterday that Nazi spearheads had advanced to within 95 miles of the city.

Writing notes that "Russia was the last major power to tell foreign newsmen that Marshal Semeon Budenny and Marshal Klement Voroshilov, withdrawn from the battlefield, had already begun organizing new armies from the vast reservoir of Soviet manpower."

"Hitler promised to end the war before winter, then throw enormous forces against England. He has failed in both," Lozovsky said.
To Fight To End
"We fully realize the gravity of the situation," he said, "but the Soviet government and people will fight to the end."

Premier Stalin and the Soviet defense council, he said, are remaining at their posts in Moscow, directing the fight for Russia's life. Russian dispatches said fierce hand-to-hand fighting was raging in the streets of three cities around the beleaguered capital—Kaluga, 60 miles southwest; Moshkva, 97 miles west, and Kalinin, 95 miles northwest.

A Red army bulletin reported "especially stubborn fighting in Moshkva and Malyaroslavets directions." The latter is 65 miles southwest of Moscow.

Have Fallen Back
The Russians acknowledged they had fallen back under the assault of German mortar and automatic rifle squads at some points in the Moshkva battle zone, but declared that Red army motorcyclists in the same area had recaptured two villages and thrown the Nazis back across a river.

On the southern (Ukraine) front, Soviet reports said the Germans had renewed violent attempts to smash into a leading official in the Black sea naval base, site of the Sevastopol, but asserted that the invaders had been repulsed with more than 2,000 Nazis killed or wounded.

Germans Repelled
The Russian army troops defending the important city of Rostov-on-Don, gateway to the Caucasus, were engaging Axis troops under Field Marshal Ewald von Kleit in a violent battle near Taganrog, 30 miles west of Rostov, and declared that the Germans had been repelled at all points except one yesterday.

Soviet forces withdrew to a new defense line after inflicting heavy losses on the Nazis and their Italian, Hungarian and Rumanian allies, Moscow dispatches said.

Fatal Blast

to escape.
Barger, one of the men killed, was trapped at the top of a flight of stairs. Pettit perished when the blast came.

Firemen brought the flames under control quickly with little damage to the plant, itself, but thick clouds of smoke rolling up from heaps of scrap rubber overcame Capt. Todd Spence, Muskogee fireman. He was not injured seriously.

Victims Knocked Out
The force of the blast knocked out windows in the building, but only the tire patch department was damaged seriously. The flames were confined to scrap rubber, gasoline and other materials.

Firemen said the two victims apparently were knocked unconscious by the force of the explosion and perished in the flames that followed.

Approximately 40 persons were at work in the plant, which employs 114 persons. All the injured were taken to the pad and patch department.

Auto Wrecks

Harold Melrose and Ralph Goldwater, said.

Wrecks Are Reported
C. W. Davis, 30, of 1311 North street and E. F. Tichenor, 23, of 512 Avenue Q were drivers of machines in collision at 7:49 o'clock at Seventh street and Avenue N. At 8 o'clock at Sixteenth street and Avenue Q, Chester Lowrey, 21, of 21st Broadway and Mrs. A. L. Scoggin, about 50, of 2907 Sixteenth street were drivers of machines that bumped. ## Patrolmen To Be Increased

(By The United Press)
AUSTIN, Oct. 24—Expansion of the state highway patrol, financed by increased automobile drivers' license fees, will become effective Nov. 1.
As part of the state's safety drive at the regular session of the 47th legislature, increased fees and an enlarged patrol were authorized.

Thirty-one of 92 patrolmen trained at Camp Mabry will go on duty Nov. 1 and 70 new students will begin an eight-week training course.—The other 61 assigned to duty Nov. 1 will be driver's license examiners.

New Patrol Stations
Eight of the 92 new patrolmen will be assigned to new highway patrol stations to join seasoned patrolmen. These new stations are at Seymour, Refugio, Brownsville, Gattsville, Beville, Sweetwater, Linden and Mount Pleasant.

Renewals of drivers' licenses will begin this month for persons holding licenses numbered up to 450,000. After Jan. 1, new licenses must be obtained by those holding present licenses numbered 450,001 to 900,000; after April 1, by licensees 900,001 to 1,350,000; and beginning July 1, all licenses numbered above 1,350,000 must be renewed.

Plains Rain

cribed as entirely without foundation.
Reports to Dr. W. B. Irvin, city school superintendent, were to the effect this morning that the Amarillo field is in good condition, "considering," and that the weather forecast for Saturday is encouraging.

Will Reduce Traffic
Dr. Irvin says, however, that weather conditions doubtless will reduce automobile traffic between Lubbock and Amarillo, and will increase the number of passengers on the special train which will leave at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. He reported that approximately 500 tickets on the train already have been sold and that he has received a number of calls from out-of-town delegations that delegations from San Antonio, Roundtrip fare is $194.

Whether it may be necessary to operate the special in two sections was not discussed this morning. Dr. Irvin reported that possibilities will be guided by weather developments.

Paved Roads Open
Despite continuation of the moist weather, and the imminent threat of its further prolongation, all paved roads out of Lubbock were open for a time Thursday afternoon. For a time Thursday afternoon, the "lake" at Municipal airport five miles north of the city overflowed the pavement, but the water receded quickly.

The "lake" overflowed the pavement as a result of the heavy downpour shortly before noon. Water was about five inches deep over the pavement and still rising early this afternoon. Belief was expressed, however, that rain will have to be very heavy during the next 12 to 15 hours to cause such flooding as to make the highway at that point impassable.

May Overflow Again
However, if the rain should resume heavily, it likely will be overflowing again.

Only two state highways in the entire area were reported closed, according to information given at the division headquarters here of the state general highway department. Both are due to take overflows, and detours are necessary in each case. One is highway 86 eight miles east of Bovina and the other is highway 61 nine miles south of Dimmitt.

Although there was little interruption of traffic on the paved highways, it was a different story on the dirt roads. Many are virtually impassable and all are difficult of navigation. A number of rural schools in the area made no attempt to operate this morning. In all of them, including Lubbock city schools, buses were operated on restricted schedules. Few buses left on time.

OSLO, German-Occupied Norway (Via Berlin), Oct. 24 (AP)—Two Norwegian men were executed today by firing squad following conviction Oct. 5 by a German court martial on charges of espionage. They were identified as Karsten Wang and Ivar Dueland.

Workers Return As Steel Walkout Ends

Coal Miners Are Still Out

(By The Associated Press)
An eight-day interruption of operations at the Great Lakes Steel corporation in a Detroit suburb ended today when strikers accepted settlement terms and began returning to their jobs.

Other strikes, however, gripped coal mines in Alabama, held up welding operations at some shipyards in the northwest.

Cars Are Overturned
Several automobiles were overturned near Bendix, N. J., after a group of non-striking employees eluded CIO pickets in order to work in the plant of Air Associates, Inc., manufacturer of airplane parts.

CIO workers at the Great Lakes Steel corporation voted last night to go back to work as soon as the firm could call them, and men began reporting for the midnight shift.

The non-striking employees at Air Associates plant at Bendix had to outflank a CIO picket line twice yesterday, going to and coming from work in a caravan of 150 automobiles. A strike was called September 30 by 100 workers who charged the company with unfair labor practices and failure to sign a contract in hearings before the defense mediation board, the union insisted that 250 members be returned to work immediately.

Coal Miners Idle
More than 20,000 Alabama coal miners remained idle while their representatives and the joint conference of Alabama coal operators negotiated for a settlement of their differences. The CIO miners seek an increase of 40 cents a day above the current basic level of $5.50, also paid vacations and additional compensation for washer loss.

The mediation board has recommended a wage increase of 25 cents a day, an additional four cents a ton for washer loss, and $20 in two installments as vacation pay.

Operators of commercial mines in the state, representing about two-thirds of the diggings, announced acceptance of the mediation board's recommendations. However, the problem of captive mines remained. The Alabama captive workings, owned by steel companies, are included in the national captive mine strike called for Saturday midnight. Employees of the captive mines are demanding a union shop.

At Seattle and Tacoma 1,800 welders stayed away from their jobs in shipyards, seeking recognition of a separate union for welders and reinstatement of 177 welders at the Lake Washington shipyards. The 177 had been removed from their jobs by the Seattle Metal Trades council which has a closed shop agreement with the shipyards.

Name Of Lindsey Missing At Tech

For the first time since Texas Technological college opened in 1925, the name, "Lindsey," is missing from the student directory.

When Texas Tech opened its doors, a member of the J. A. Lindsey family of Lubbock entered and during that and the 15 succeeding sessions some member of the family was in college.

Last June the sixth received a degree from Tech. He was Robert Lee Lindsey, now employed with a steel corporation in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey, who live at 1908 Fourteenth street have won prizes several years at Parents' day observations for having had the greatest number of students in college.

Their other five children who have graduated from Texas Tech are Mrs. James Huffman, secretary in the office of Dean R. G. Goodwin, formerly Betty Lindsey, Mrs. Clyde Jones, teacher at Barstow, formerly Margaret Lindsey, Mrs. E. V. Middleton of Lubbock, formerly Miss Kathryn Lindsey, John A. Lindsey, Jr., of New Orleans, and James Lindsey, Jr., of San Antonio.

Mr. Lindsey, Jr., of New Orleans expressed his regret for the war department and Mrs. George E. Smith of Lubbock, formerly Alice Lindsey. Another daughter, Mrs. Eastwood of Lubbock attended San Marcos State Teachers college.

Their father did not attend college but as one daughter says, "can add things in his head quicker than we can on paper." Mrs. Lindsey attended Corn Hill college, now extinct, in Williamson county.

Stabilization Of Prices Sought

(By The United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 — Sen. John H. Bankhead, D. Ala., announced today that a committee of cotton state legislators has proposed that the government buy and store substantial quantities of shortening and other compounds made from cotton seed as a means of stabilizing prices.

The suggestion, he said, was made to Roy F. Hendrickson, president of the Surplus Marketing Administration. Bankhead said other members of the committee are Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., and Reps. Hampton Fulmer, D. S. C., Henry B. Steagall, D. Ala., and Sam Hobbs, D. Ala.

Cities World War Moves
Bankhead pointed out that during the World War cottonseed was stabilized at an average price of $68 a ton and the maximum price of cottonseed oil was fixed by agreement at 17-1/2 cents per pound.

"The members of the committee expressed their unanimous opinion that $60 a ton for cottonseed was under prevailing conditions a fair and reasonable price to be paid the farmers and that a price should be paid for cottonseed oil that would enable the

Wesley Hamilton Is Winner In Contest

It's Them Loboes Again!

By Collier Parris

COACH TED SHIPKEY of New Mexico, Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan, Coach Frank Kimbrough of Baylor and Coach Dutch Meyer of T. C. U. are such fine fellows that it's little short of disloyalty to vote against them, but the Dr. Parris Pungus Prognostication system is forced to leave them stranded this week while it picks the opposition to win.

Sympathies are with all the coaches named above, and a lot of coaches not named above, and best wishes are entertained for all except the first one named. We couldn't very well hope that New Mexico would win, but we would like to see them win.

Without the mamas and papas there wouldn't be much of a football team or much of a student body at Texas Tech, so here goes for the "parents day" celebration, and may it be a happy day for all of you!

Mexico-upsets Texas Tech, despite our regard for Coach Ted Shipkey and his Loboes and the University of New Mexico as a whole. Tech simply has too much power, speed and aerial acrobatics for the Loboes, which doesn't in the least detract from the personality and coaching ability of Shipkey and his assistants, nor from the efforts that will be made by the Loboes this night.

Otherwise, and strictly personally, we'd like to see Crisler's Michigan upset Minnesota, Meyer's Frogs surprise Fordham and Kimbrough's Bears kick the Aggies—but the dope doesn't indicate anything like that. And we must go by the old dope bucket in spite of personal preferences.

There's a personal preference, of course, for the Lubbock Westerners when they play the Amarillo Sandies in the very important District I game tomorrow, a personal hope that Goober Keyes' team will win—nevertheless there's the feeling, not entirely justified by the scores and figures so far, that the Sandies will take the game.

But this part of the column deals primarily with college games coming up today and tomorrow, so here goes with the weekly forecasts as figured out by this writer:

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Taking the customary wild swing at the week's football slate:

Michigan-Minnesota: The game of the week, maybe of the season. Both undefeated, both untied, both top-ranking outfits. The habit of victory is strong at Minnesota and it is the football guesser's habit of picking the Gophers to win. Accordingly, Minnesota—but those Gopher cripples had better be in shape.

Alabama-Georgia: A tough guess. The coin spins... Alabama, Fordham-Texas Christian. The loss of Kyle Gillespie was a terrific blow to Christian. Taking Fordham.

Washington-Stanford: Counting on cooperation from the weather makes Stanford the favorite.

Texas-Rice: Doubt if anyone's going to stop the Texas juggernaut, Texas.

Ohio State-Northwestern: Maybe this is where Ohio State gets off. Not too confidently, Northwestern.

Tulane-Mississippi: Two good Southeastern conference teams, and one of them, Tulane, may be great. Subject to revision, Tulane.

Harvard-Navy: Another real test for the Navy in view of Harvard's superior man-power should turn the tide toward Navy just as it did in the Cornell game. Navy.

Army-Columbia: Purely a guess, Columbia.

Vanderbilt-Princeton: The Tiggers are big and solid and seem no match for unbeaten Vanderbilt, which rates a decided nod.

Notre Dame-Illinois: Looks like the Irish will trip somewhere along the line and this might be the spot. But this corner strings along with Notre Dame.

Texas A. and M.-Baylor: Picking the Aggies.

Missouri-Nebraska: Plenty of scoring power in that Missouri lineup. The nod, extremely hesitant, goes to Missouri.

Purdue-Iowa: Purdue.

California-Southern California: Guess away... California.

U. C. L. A.-Oregon: Looks safe for Oregon.

Washington State-Oregon State: Like Oregon State.

Pitt-Duke: More woe for the Panthers, Duke.

Penn-Maryland: Shouldn't be too much trouble for Penn.

Yale-Dartmouth: Out of the hat, Dartmouth.

Cornell-Colgate: Picking Colgate.

Louisiana State-Florida: Those tigers really are roaring. L. S. U.

Kentucky-West Virginia: Kentucky.

Marquette-Duquesne: Tough test for the Dukes. Warily, Duquesne.

Detroit-Arkansas: Sticking with Detroit.

Oklahoma-Santa Clara: Santa Clara but not by much.

Kansas-Iowa State: Taking Iowa State.

Denver-Utah: Utah.

Forest-North Carolina: Wake Forest.

Georgia Tech-Auburn: Like Tech.

Manhattan-Villanova: The edge belongs to Villanova.

Temple-Bucknell: Ditto Temple.

Boston College-Georgetown: A couple of hollow shells compared with last year. Boston college.

Holy Cross-New York university: Holy Cross.

Syracuse-Rutgers: Syracuse.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Amherst over Wesleyan; Brown over Lafayette; Penn State over Lehigh; Michigan State over Wayne; Creighton over Drake; Tulsa over Oklahoma A. and M.; William and Mary over George Washington; Tennessee over Cincinnati; Mississippi State over Union; Furman over Davidson; Virginia Military over Richmond; Virginia Tech over Washington and Lee; North Carolina State over Newberry; San Francisco over Brigham Young; Idaho over Williams; Montana over Montana State; St. Mary's over Loyola; Colorado over Wyoming; Colorado State over Utah State.

Texas Tech To Battle Aggies

Texas Tech's freshman footballers keep the home gridiron fires burning Saturday afternoon, meeting the crack Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Okla., in their only game of the season on the local gridiron. Starting time is 2:30 o'clock.

It'll be the second game of the season for Coach Walker Nichols' Pioneers, and they'll be shooting for their second victory.

Have Stiff Opposition
But they'll have stiff opposition. The Aggies, perennial champions of the Oklahoma junior college conference, have won four games, lost one and tied one this season. They've beaten two senior college teams, East Central Oklahoma and Panhandle Aggies of Oklahoma, and their lonesome loss was to Southwestern of Oklahoma, also a senior college.

The tie was with John Tarleton, only last week. The Long-Whipped San Angelo Junior college, 14-7. The Pioneers, showing before the homeites for the first and only time this year, have a fine crop of high school performers.

There's Leete Jackson, and L. A. Steers, both former starters from Lubbock High. And there are plenty more good boys to back them up.

One interesting sidelight is the presence on opposite sides of the line of two boys who were teammates last year. End Desmond Monroe of the Pioneers and Guard Russell Abbott of the Aggs. Both played for Morton High last season.

Texas Gossip Is Profitable

Cash Customers Flock To Games

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 24.—They have a half million dollar secret at the University of Texas.

No one knows about it except the 120,000,000 or so persons living in the narrow confines of the United States.

In order to keep folks from imagining Texas might have Rose bowl aspirations, they're telling the press service the football team at the university isn't even thinking—or must not think—about any kind of bowl.

Take 'Em As They Come
"We're taking them as they come," says the Longhorns.

And they're coming.

All this shush-shush about the Rose bowl has already drawn 100,054 persons through the turnstiles for the four games Texas has played this season.

If they can keep it hushed up the next six weeks more than a quarter of a million fans will have paid to see for themselves and pick up some gossip that maybe, after all, Texas would like to go to the Rose bowl.

Just gossip, now mind you.

But Gossip Spreads
But you know how gossip spreads. For instance, it was bruited about so much that 15,000 saw Texas play Colorado, 18-0, at O'Donoghue Field in Austin, State game, 44,054 for the Oklahoma clash and 23,000 for the tilt with Arkansas.

And this gossip has already caused more than 40,000 to decide to see Texas play Rice Saturday.

The following week when Texas meets Southern Methodist at Dallas, 23,000—that's all they can take care of at Owenby stadium, Dallas—will turn out.

Then, an expected capacity of 18,000 is announced for Texas' game with Baylor at Waco. They're not certain how many will witness the Texas-Texas Christian game the following week but there ought to be 20,000 or more.

Tech Fish To Battle Aggies

The two coaches agreed last night in predicting a close, hard-fought game. Coach Nichols, head of the Tech team, said he expects a close, hard-fought game. Coach Nichols, head of the Tech team, said he expects a close, hard-fought game. Coach Nichols, head of the Tech team, said he expects a close, hard-fought game.

Should Be Good Game

"I realize that Texas Tech has a fine ball team, that it is rated about us, and that it has three mighty fine coaches. But it should be a good game. We're ready for a tough contest, and expect Texas Tech to be braced for us. Games in the past have shown that no matter what the odds indicated, the teams have played fast, hard football, and I expect the same thing Friday night."

Tech put the finishing touches on its week's practice last night with a drill under the lights. The drill was devoted mostly to offensive work, departing from the week's almost constant maneuvering against New Mexico's tricky offensive formations.

Has Won Five Times
In the six previous meetings of the teams, Lubbock has won five times, losing for the first time since the series started in 1931 last year. There was a very tight squeaky weather in 1938 at Albuquerque, and few will forget how Jodie Mark kicked and ran for ten points in the last minute of the game to break a 7-1 tie and boost Tech into the Cotton Bowl.

Advance ticket sales, despite unfavorable weather this week, indicate a large crowd for tonight's game. Ticket Manager Mule Dovel had but few choice seats remaining last night. He will be at his office at the Tech gymnasium today with the last of the reserved tickets on sale.

Plans for a special train from Albuquerque fell through, Coach Shipkey said last night, but a large delegation of New Mexico fans are due here, by chartered railroad car and automobiles.

Promotion Is Given Lieut. Bryan Harper

Promotion of Lieut. Bryan Harper from second to first lieutenant in the army air corps, effective last week, has been learned here.

Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Harper of 1610 Avenue Y, is stationed with the 56th bombardment squadron of the air corps at Savannah, Ga., where he was ordered after completing a tour of ferry duty recently. He has been in the air corps since 1937, receiving his commission from Kelly Field in October of that year.

Also revealed was the pending transfer of Lieut. Clarence Harper from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La., to the new air base at Albuquerque, N. M. Clarence Harper is a bombardment instructor.

Championship Of District I Likely To Be Decided As Old Rivals Meet Again

The event: Top athletic attraction of the year for West Texas. The opposing teams: Lubbock's Westerners and Amarillo's Sandies.

The time and place: 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Butler Field in Amarillo.

The significance: For five years of the last seven it's meant the state championship. It could happen this year.

The probable starting lineups, with numbers and weights:

LUBBOCK WESTERNERS				AMARILLO SANDIES
No.	Pos.	Name	Wt.	No.	Pos.	Name	Wt.
87	QB	Hubert Bechtol	155	15	QB	Bill Jolley	81
51	LT	Major Taylor	180	213	LT	Jim Warner	71
77	LG	J. D. Milner	177	174	LG	Burrell Collins	61
36	RB	Reinold Nabors	176	142	RB	Tom Bill Wrenchel	56
60	RB	Franklin Butler	160	173	RB	Therman Tigart	60
65	RT	Robert McKinley	152	183	RT	John Childs	70
88	J. A. Blackwell	147	RE	173	E. J. Watson	80
29	Max Walthall	155	QB	174	Irwin Wall	20
10	Howard Lanford	154	RB	160	Dwight Hoskins	12
16	Milner Thorne	162	LB	160	Glenn Quattlebaum	42
14	Billy Wright	160	FB	165	Leroy Boyter	39

Own Fine Records

Together, these two schools own the finest record in West Texas football history. Amarillo hasn't been beaten in four seasons—except by Lubbock. And with one exception, Lubbock has lost only to Amarillo in over two years.

Lubbock bears a better season's record, except for one scoreless tie, both offensively and defensively than do the Sandies. The Westerners have scored 114 points in five games, compared to 77 for the Sandies. Lubbock has yielded seven points. Amarillo has given up 32. Amarillo was hard pressed to win three of its five games; Lubbock was untroubled except against Vernon, when the loss—and a muddy field conspired to hold the Westerners scoreless.

But enough of this. Football games are still played on football fields, not in the newspapers. And if you weren't lucky enough to get a seat for tomorrow's game, you can listen to a direct from the field account by Wes Youngblood and R. B. McAlister, via KYFO.

More Rain Forecast

The weather man turned an unfavorable eye on the contest at latest available forecasts. Four inches of rain had fallen in Amarillo this week up to last night and predictions were for more rain.

That meant a probable muddy field for the battle something that everybody had hoped against. Heavy going would swing what ever advantage there is in the game Amarillo's way, because the Sandies boast a line that's the next thing to immovable, and it's com-

Family Arguments Tops In Southwest Conference

Leaders Worry About Upsets

TCU And Arkansas In For Trouble

This week's Southwest conference schedule:

FRIDAY
Arkansas vs. Detroit at Detroit (night).
SATURDAY
Texas Christian vs. Fordham at New York.
Texas vs. Rice at Austin.
Texas A. and M. vs. Baylor at College Station.

BY HAROLD V. RATELIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now is the time for all down-trodden football teams to come to the aid of their conference. Meaning it would be most opportune should Arkansas rise up in righteous rage and knock Detroit from the ranks of the unbeaten and undefeated.

It Looks Hopeless
Meaning also, that it would be deeply appreciated by the Southwest conference if Texas Christian university forgot all about that trimmings from Texas A. and M., and bounced Fordham's mighty Rams for a loop.

On the face of things, the inter-sectional standing in this area appears in top a couple of days. And after last week when Baylor lost to Villanova and Rice dropped before Louisiana State, the Southwest conference can't stand many more reversals and keep up all that loud talk about being the country's toughest football league.

Some Family Arguments
But while the inter-sectional games will be of major interest nationally, there are a couple of family arguments that will claim top interest for the home fans and of more than passing note to those who rank the teams according to the country's best.

Texas plays Rice in a game the Longhorns can't help but shiver over in view of past occurrences.

The Texas Aggies, riding high on a four-game winning streak that landed them among the top ten teams of the nation, are a little worried over their tussle with the Baylor Bears, always an outfit to be figured in when upsets are mentioned.

The week's play opens Friday night with Arkansas trying the Titans at Detroit with all forecasts against a Southwestern triumph. Detroit has won four games, among them a 14-7 victory over Indiana, which gave Texas Christian a suggested note to those who rank the teams according to the country's best.

Facts On Raiders-- Sophs Starring In Grid Wars Out At Tech

BY COLLIER PARRIS
Journal Sports Editor

IF YOU LIKE FIGURES, we're prepared to pass on a few individual and collective digits accounted for by the Red Raiders this season, as turned in at this desk by Bill Parker, the Red Raider Tom-tom specialist and keeper of the statistics after they are gathered by our star-football statistician, the Rev. W. G. Loesel, the preacher and the college professor without whom the press box gang would be lost.

In keeping with his plan to give sophomores and juniors the experience possible this year, with next year's schedule in view, Coach Morgan is pleased to note that one of his prize sophomores, J. R. Callahan from Wink, has played a prominent part in individual statistics so far. There are two reasons for this: Callahan has had the "go" sign and he has played a large number of minutes.

In actual scoring, Callahan runs a mere second, having scored but 13 points, with two touchdowns and one conversion in the first four games. Tied for first place are Roger Smith, with two touchdowns and four conversions, and Clarence Tillery, an end, with three touchdowns and one conversion, each with 19 points.

Until Callahan suddenly cut loose with his pitching arm in the ACC game, he wasn't seriously considered in these parts as more than an ordinary football chucker. He opened the eyes of the coaches that night, and since then has been doing considerable passing. In fact, he has attempted 19 forwards, completed six of them for gains amounting to 227 yards. He leads the field in yards gained from passes, with an average of nearly 38 yards per completion.

A better average for completions, however, is claimed by J. L. "Mailey" Bates, another sophomore, who has tried eight, completed four and had none intercepted. His passes have gained a total of 65 yards, second high in the figures. He has had none intercepted, while two of Callahan's throws have boomeranged.

Roger Smith, the star from Rising Star, and counted on as THE passer of the year, hasn't had as many chances, nor as much time on the field, as the others, but he has completed four out of nine for 63 yards. Smith of Tech will be one of

Portrait Of Sheppard Will Be On Display

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—A portrait of the late Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, painted by Bernhard Godwin, will be placed on exhibit Saturday in the office of Senator Q. Daniel (D-Tex.).

It is to be hung later in the office of the Senate military affairs committee, over which Sheppard presided at the time of his death last spring.

four Smiths on the field tonight when the Lobos bring their three Smiths here. And Smith, when things get rocky, is the steady little man you can depend on, whether you need passing, running or kicking.

Other Tech passers so far have been Glenn Lowe, with one attempt and one completion for a 1000 average and 22 yards, or the best of the lot; Peter Blanda with one out of three for 5 yards; Byron Mayfield with one attempt, Tom Douglas with one attempt, and Maxey McKnight, another sophomore, with two attempts and one completion for two yards. Tech has tried a total of 44 passes in four games, with 17 completions for 384 yards.

In the rushing game, Callahan leads in total yards with 160, but is tied by Tom Douglas in the net yards gained department, each with 148 on 26 tries. Callahan has been tossed for a total of 12 yards lost, Douglass for 4, and there's the difference. Charles Dvoracek, the fullback, has played very little, because he hasn't been needed, but he has carried the ball 26 times for 120 yards, and has lost only two. Don Austin has carried 18 times for 115 yards, and he'll do more carrying before the season is over. Other ball carriers: Glenn Lowe, 17 time for 87 yards; Red Amoneit, 14 for 60; Roger Smith, 12 for 7; Peter Blanda, 11 for 53; Bates, 7 for 13; Bob Phillips, 1 for 2; Byron Mayfield, 2 for 2; Walter Webster, 3 for 9; Will Albright, 1 for 9, and Ty Bain, 1 for zero. But those latter mentioned boys are blockers. They'll have you know, and not ball toters. In rushing plays, Tech backs have hauled the mail 177 times for 876 yards, and 89 points.

Sandies Given The Edge Over Lubbock

BY TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

Hold up your hand, friend, just one of them will do, and let's count off the number of football games that the Amarillo Sandies have lost to Texas high school teams in the last 10 years.

That's right, just five games lost to Texas eleven in 10 full years. Mighty good record, isn't it? And they say the Sandies are slipping.

Maybe. But this corner believes

Bold Jewel Burglary Reported In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Two "hit-and-run" burglars smashed a jewelry store show window with an iron pipe in downtown Dallas early yesterday, scooped up 16 expensive ladies wrist watches, some diamond-studded, and escaped.

"I was sitting in my cab, parked at the taxi stand, when I saw this car whip to the curb, stop and a man jump out," said L. Houston, a taxi driver.

"He ran over to the Linz (Linz Brothers Jewelry Co.) window and smashed it with something in his hand. He reached inside, fumbled for a few minutes, put objects in his pocket, then ran back to the car, and it took off like a rocket. I didn't have time to do more than yell."

Another driver, however, chased the thieves. J. D. Williams reported that he "lost them" a dozen blocks from the store.

Police found the iron bar inside the window. From witnesses they estimated the time of the robbery at shortly after 1 a. m.

Armanent Program Is Past World War Speed

BOSTON, Oct. 24 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Earl McFarland, assistant to the chief of ordnance, said today that the nation's armament program now is 10 months ahead of production for the entire World War.

He told the annual meeting of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts he is "confident that American industry can meet the tremendous load" it must now carry for national defense.

So it's Amarillo over Lubbock in the top game of the Texas schoolboy schedule. Other guesses: Wichita Falls over Fort Worth Riverside; Paris over Denison; Waco over Corsicana; McAllen over Harlingen; Dallas Sunset over Dallas Forest; Sweetwater over Abilene; El Paso over Yuleta; Goose Creek over Beaumont; Houston Lamar over Houston Stephen Austin; Lufkin over Livingston; Lamesa over San Angelo; Longview over Kilgore; Tyler over Texasboro; Temple over Emmis; Dallas Adamson over Dallas Woodrow Wilson; Austin over San Antonio Tech; Pampa over Childress; Breckenridge over Ranger; Conroe over Galveston; Highland Park over McKinney; Fort Arthur over Orange; Brownwood over Mineral Wells; Gladewater over Bonham.

People Of World Endangered By News Censorship

British Reject Control Plan

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

The flood of war-propaganda which is being let loose daily by foreign governmental sources, coupled with suppression of news, is vastly increasing the difficulty of general public everywhere in gauging the world crisis which is to affect our lives for generations to come.

Censorship in military matters there must be, but there is downright danger to the people in the withholding of legitimate news and in the dissemination of lies, and half-truths amounting to lies, as practiced by many governments which feed the public "what is good for it." Naturally this acts not only as a blindfold for the home public of these countries, but we in America are handicapped in arriving at the truth.

Proposal Is Rejected

Striking recognition of the essentiality of freedom of the press was registered in the British House of Commons when Minister of Information Bracken rejected a proposal to nationalize Reuters, for almost a century one of the largest and most influential news agencies.

"If the news agency is regarded throughout the world as the property of the British government," explained Bracken, "its news value is likely to be very small."

The minister speaks with the knowledge of a former newspaper editor. He is one of Britain's most brilliant personalities and is noted for his bold tongue. The fact that he holds a ministerial position at the age of forty bespeaks his capabilities. He is a close friend of Prime Minister Churchill and last year served as parliamentary secretary to the premier.

Exercises No Control

Bracken told the House that the government exercises no control over Reuters, excepting as one of the agency's chief customers. This reference probably had to do with the fact that Reuters supplies news to the government-owned British Broadcasting corporation. The minister's most significant statement, however, was this: "If the members think Reuters' position as a world news agency is equal to that of the Associated

RRR AND BOO!—No pre-Hallow'en horror is this. It's just a photographer for Douglas Aircraft at Santa Monica, Calif., emerging from the plant's cold room. Where temperatures have fallen to 104 below zero during tests of men and materials.

Press they are mistaken. Reuters to my mind have lost ground."

Now Bracken didn't explain what he had in mind by this blunt remark, and far be it from me to try to interpret it. However, I do know why the Associated Press has such a high reputation.

Is Cooperative Union

The A. P. is not a proprietary organization. It is a wholly cooperative union of persons representing more than 1,400 newspapers; it has no stock capital; makes no profits and declares no dividends.

The membership includes people of almost every conceivable political, economic and religious belief. The A. P. is impartial. It gives all sides of every situation with meticulous care. No government anywhere has any strings on the A. P.

News concerns which are controlled by governments are essentially propaganda agencies. Such an agency serves its government in exactly the same sense that a press agent serves a business house.

Constitutes Great Evil

That's what the reader is up against today in trying to evaluate dispatches which reach the public through government-controlled agencies. This propaganda may not be evil in itself, but in general it constitutes a great evil because it represents only the viewpoint of the government and suppresses everything which the government wishes to withhold.

In such a situation the reader may turn with confidence to the impartial report of the A. P., which is collected throughout the world by its own reporters. Many foreign government statements naturally have a news value and must be handled, but here the A. P. steps in and by digging up the circumstances surrounding these statements, places them in their true light.

Rains Cutting Fair Crowds

LEVELLAND, Oct. 24 (Special)—Most of the judging was completed Thursday in the annual Hockley county fair despite rain which cut deeply into the opening day attendance.

Attendance during the day was negligible owing to the heavy rains but officials were hoping for better weather during the remaining two days of the exposition. A total of $400 in prizes will be given exhibit winners.

Fine Exhibits Displayed

Although almost impassable roads prevented a large part of the exhibits from bringing in their products Thursday, the booths were expected to be all occupied today. Many fine exhibits of beautiful flowers, canned and preserved products, the home makers department, agricultural displays and considerable livestock were in place Thursday, and judging in some departments was completed.

Point-to-point community with 2,071 points was first place winner in the agricultural exhibits. Anton with 2,061 points, was second; Sundown, 2,052 third; Whitharral, 2,037, fourth; and Levelland, 2,033, fifth.

Officials Named

Geo. Samson of Post was judge in the agricultural department. Davis Pounds is superintendent. Other superintendents in the fair are: W. Massey, Byrd, sheep; Artie B. Forehand and Leo White, cattle; Herbert Hoover and Richard McCrystal, swine; Mrs. Jim Fisk, fruits; Mrs. D. H. Carpenter, handicrafts; Mrs. Perry Smith, flowers.

C. B. Edger, Whitharral stockman and farmer, is president of the fair. Melvin O. Sisk is secretary. Miss Fannie Brown Eaton, Hockley county home demonstration agent, is superintendent of the women's division. County Agent D. W. Sherrill is superintendent of the crops show.

The D. S. Dudley show was midway between the agricultural and livestock buildings of the fair and it was attracting a large number of visitors last night.

TRAFFIC DEATHS SOAR

AUSTIN, Oct. 24 (AP)—The ratio of automobile death fatalities in Texas is higher than British casualties from Nazi bombing raids, Col. Homer Garrison jr., director of state police, said today.

September bombing records, the latest available, report 217 persons killed in Great Britain, which has a population of more than 48,000,000. September's traffic fatalities in Texas numbered 476 from a population of approximately 6,000,000.

Garrison also computed that on the basis of gasoline consumption, the increase in Texas traffic fatalities and the increase in travel follow parallel lines.

WARNING ISSUED

DALLAS, Oct. 24 (AP)—Concerns having employees who re-tread or recap automobile tires for interstate commerce were warned today by wage-hour regional director Gus C. Street, jr., that such workers must be paid a minimum of 40 cents an hour.

"The minimum wage of 40 cents an hour was established for these employees July 18 when the 40-cent wage order for the rubber products manufacturing industry became effective," Street said. "I just want to remind employers of their responsibility."

There are more than 600 colleges and universities in the United States but only 33 have endowments exceeding $10,000,000.

Latin American Nations To Receive Arms Via Lend-Lease Program

Huge Sum For Plan Needed

BY LAWRENCE S. HAAS, U. P. Latin American Editor

The sum of $150,000,000 in the new Lend-Lease appropriations of $5,985,000,000 asked by President Roosevelt and pending in Congress, is to be allocated to the Latin American countries for the acquisition of military and naval armament and equipment.

This amount is equivalent to only slightly more than 2 1/2 per cent of the total appropriation. It cannot buy a large amount of armament as modern armament goes, but it is a step which may indicate that the Latin American countries are to share in a way future Lend-Lease appropriations, enabling them to acquire the arms, planes and ships they consider essential to carry out an appreciable role in the scheme of hemisphere defense.

It was disclosed that the U. S. army will allocate $100,000,000 of this sum for airplanes, ordnance and other materials, and that the balance of $50,000,000 will go for warships and naval material. The military arms and planes will be allocated among 18 Latin American countries, the naval armament among 16 countries.

Uruguay Agreed On Needs

Gen. Julio A. Roldan, Uruguay's minister of national defense, has announced that an arms purchasing commission had reached a decision as to the type and quantity of armament to be acquired, respectively, and they will include some Douglas bombers. Uruguay also will acquire field and anti-aircraft artillery, possibly some small arms, ammunition and radio equipment. The armament probably will be used largely to equip the newly projected air base at Punta del Este, which has a strategically commanding position on the Atlantic near the mouth of the River Plate.

Delivery Big Question

When the delivery of armament to the Latin American countries can be completed has not been specified. One indication that it may not be soon was seen in the War department expropriation at a Brooklyn, N. Y. pier of 18 bombing planes, acquired by Peru from the refugee Norwegian and Dutch governments in Canada. The aircraft were on the pier awaiting transportation to Peru at the time of their seizure.

The principal factor in aiding the Latin American countries to arm is not essentially a consideration of financing, but one of production, just as it has come to be in the effort of the United States to aid Great Britain, Russia and China.

Argentine Looks To U. S.

The Argentine government, for example, has appropriated more than $100,000,000 for a rearmament program, but there is only one source of supply—the United States where all facilities are under a tremendous strain in supplying the enemies of the Axis powers and in furnishing modern armament to the greatly expanded American army of approximately 1,500,000 men.

Supplying of armament to the Latin American countries on a scale larger than had hitherto been divulged would appear to introduce a number of newcomers to the growing field of priority claims for arms.

An obligation to supply armament to Latin American on a large scale adds to the existing priorities problem on industrial and agricultural goods ordered by Latin America. Chilean government officials recently warned that if essential goods are not forthcoming soon from the United States, the national economy of the country may be sorely affected, with consequent hardship, unemployment and misery.

Chile is not the only country feeling the effects of a shortage of essential products, and the United States, as the only great industrial producer of manufactured articles and many raw materials

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 24. (U.P.)—Neighbors believe that Mrs. Mary Chvojan, a 75-year-old grandmother, qualifies as an expert on the subject of thug-subduing, or the science of how to handle burglars.

A man entered the room of her granddaughter, Miss Marion Hill, one night. The 24-year-old girl screamed and her aged grandmother came running. She seized the prowler by the shoulder, spun him around and demanded: "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

Then Mrs. Chvojan started to hit the astonished thief with her fists. He raced for the stairs, but the grandmother continued to hit him as he fled to the first floor and out the window he had entered.

U. S., Mexico Set Theft Trap

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 17 (AP)—Mexico and the United States are cooperating to cope with international car thieves who shuttle stolen automobiles across the border, stretching from California to Texas.

Edward Gormley, of Dallas, chief of the southwest division of the National Auto Theft Bureau recently consulted with Mexican officials here on the theft traffic and on how to check it. Officials of both nations have agreed to increase the vigilance at border towns.

Mexican Cars Stolen
They will establish devices to deal with the traffic, such as the construction of artificial "bumps" in the highways near the border, to prevent such incidents as the recent crossing of the border at El Paso, by a stolen car which sped across the bridge, through the international gates at Ciudad Juarez and disappeared in the night at a speed of 60 miles an hour.

In the past, stolen car traffic has moved steadily southward from the United States into Mexico, but now the situation is beginning to reverse itself. Cars are being stolen more frequently in Mexico, and driven to the United States where they bring high prices in the second-hand car market, booming because of the potential car shortage as a result of defense production.

Mexican officials, principally Gen. Manuel Enriquez, director general of customs and Lieut. Col. Antonio Lozano Ruiz, chief of the Federal Police, are planning to erect huge, easily visible signs, marking the end of the so-called "free zone" for the entry of United States cars into Mexico without special credentials. This zone extends 14 miles into Mexico. Travelers passing the zone without credentials are liable to payment of a fine of 900 pesos (about $180).

Ban On Hunting Elk In Town Applauded

OURAY, Colo., Oct. 24. (AP)—"Rocking chair hunters" will be out of luck, but residents of this mountain town will feel a lot safer when the elk season starts Nov. 1, for elk hunting on Main street has been prohibited.

Explaining Deputy Game Warden Jack Fuller's ruling, the Ouray County Herald, under a headline "Hunting Elk Prohibited on Main Street," said:
"Promiscuous shooting endangering the lives of citizens going about their shopping and children on their way to school or playing in backyards, and not a desire to protect the elk that roam the streets of the city is the object of the new ruling."

"During the open season people were likely to have bullets from high-powered rifles ringing hymns of death about their ears."
"Last year hunters drove elk off the Main street and just across the corporation limits and slaughtered them as they might a farmer's Holstein cow."
"These rocking chair hunters will have to get out and look around a little to gratify their desire to kill a bull elk this year."

Dropped at an altitude of one mile, a bomb requires about 10 seconds to reach the earth.

Nurse's Aide Corps--100,000 Strong--Will Help Over-Taxed Hospitals Over Country

By ELEANOR B. GSDALE
NEA Service Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—No need for any bombs to drop on American cities to bring home the here-and-now need for more nursing training. Hospitals in every city throughout the United States are reporting understaffed, overcrowded conditions. The volunteer Nurse's Aide Corps is being recruited by a Joint Red Cross-Office of Civilian Defense Campaign, and leaders want 100,000 trainees to enlist for services.

It's a business-like undertaking with high standards and regular training discipline. The Nurse's Aide Corps. But it has to be for its members will be serving in situations where carelessness or laxity may cost lives.

Requirements Strict
To win the right to wear one of the new blue corps uniforms and the coveted arm insignia made up of the OCD circle-triangle and on which is mounted the Red Cross, a girl or woman must fulfill definite training requirements.
To start with, she must be between 18 and 50, and have made the high-school grade. Then she must go through a 40-hour intensive instruction course at a local Red Cross chapter, and then wind up her training with forty more hours of "supervised practice" in an approved local hospital.

Part Training In Practice
The first half is spread out over four weeks, with two-hour classes held five days a week. The second half may vary in length, according to the opportunities for suitable practice and supervision.
When she has reached her goal, she can help out in many ways around a hospital, making beds, carrying trays, bathing, wetting, registering patients, taking temperatures—in general relieving fully-trained nurses from routine tasks so they can concentrate on more difficult jobs.
Though Nurse's Aides are strictly volunteers and so can't take a cent for their work, that doesn't mean that they can rest on their laurels once they've earned their badge and uniform. In order to retain the right to their corps membership, they must serve at least 150 hours per year—or "lose their spurs," so to speak.

The impending fate of the Neutrality act reminds us that neutrality is always more popular in times of peace than in times of war.

THANKS to C. W. McMillan, of the Lubbock News Agency, The Plainsman got to read Gene Howe's article about his late father...

Reading where The Plainsman had a "mad" on the Post since boyhood days when he carried a roll for the publication...

That was mighty fine.

However, even if Mr. McMillan didn't been so generous, the Plainsman could still have kept his record clear as far as patronizing the Post is concerned.

Frank White, Lubbock electrician who also has a "mad" on the Post, wrote us the following note:

"Dear Plainsman: Don't break your 30-year old grout on the Post. Yours is older than mine, since mine is only about 20 years."

Have one of the boys take the enclosed jitney and buy you a copy carrying Gene Howe's article. I'll pay for it, but be-d-m if I will read it!

Many thanks to Mr. White for rushing to our rescue. With his permission, the jitney he sent will go to the little shoe shine boy who haunts the premises around and about The Avalanche Journal.

For The Love Of Pam

BY VIVIAN GREY (Copyright, 1941, For The Journal)

CHAPTER SEVEN TRAGEDY FOR PAM

Freda started. It was the first time she had been forced to think of Pam's and Jerry's evident attraction for each other as something permanent; something growing from roots that would give it a lasting quality.

"She looked down at her left hand Jerry's diamond was gleaming there. It gave her a sense of security. Nothing could actually happen as long as she had that."

"Danee, Freda!" It was Jerry standing beside her, smiling.

"Who are you making eyes at tonight?" Jerry asked as they moved smoothly away.

"Freda laughed. 'Anyhow, you'll admit I'm efficient! Why waste time putting into words things you can do with your eyes? Besides, what you don't say, you never have to be sorry for.'

"If that's the way you feel about it, I've noticed that native lad from the beach hanging around here. Why don't you pick on men that might have a chance? You're not being fair. It isn't nice of you."

"Jerry, you sound exactly like a maiden aunt!" she answered, still laughing at him.

Jerry was grateful to a cut-in who claimed her then. Looking around, he glimpsed Pam and made his way to her. He led her to a table at the side of the dance floor.

"Pam, you're lovely." "What would your answer be if I told you I loved you?" He waited for a moment for her to reply, then thought he saw it in her eyes, though she made no audible rejoinder.

"I'm telling you, Pam, I love you. I'll love you forever and ever. I'll love you all my life, little island flower."

Across the room he saw Freda, who was wearing his diamond. He knew she should not have spoken so to Pam, at least not until that diamond was reclaimed. Then Edmond Antoine asked Pam to dance.

Jerry watched them move away, scarcely conscious of the girl who had dropped into a chair at his table, a girl from Virginia. He remembered her. He'd met her at five and six and one-half and eleven, what is the one-half of twenty-six and the one-fourth of twenty-seven?"

Oh, Dr. Underwood, Tech's mathematical wizard, where are you at?

And another reader, who signs himself "Taxpayer," believes traffic conditions in the vicinity of Lubbock schools would be improved if youngsters were turned out for lunch at 11:45 a. m., instead of 12 noon.

Says he: "Take a trip to the schools 15 minutes before 12 o'clock and see how easy it would be for the kids to get across the streets. Then go back to the same schools at 12 noon, and see how hard it is for them."

However, there's his idea for whatever thought school authorities may wish to give it. There's no getting around the fact that noon jams around the schools do present a serious menace to life and limb.

Apparently our earnest reader has overlooked the fact that busy traffic conditions around the schools at noon are caused by the fact that the kids are being dismissed at that time by the hundreds.

From where we sit, jumping the noon recess up to 11:45 would merely change the time of the traffic jam by a quarter hour.

"Oh, no! Wait! I want to hear this! So Pam and Algar found chairs at an unoccupied table."

The orchestra had swung into a melody that cascaded and rippled through the room. Lenore Winthrop walked into a little circle of light that had been cleared on the dance floor.

She was breathtakingly lovely. All in white. Pam reflected that few girls were naturally equipped to wear white so dramatically.

Her dark hair was drawn back from her oval face and fell in soft curls on her shoulders. Her hands clasped a large bunch of violets. Pam recognized them. The violets she had given Lenore's mother.

Antoine directing his boys, brought the music to a swelling crescendo. The winds and brasses swept the melody clear and high. The strings shook it softly, mutedly. A dramatic pause. Then Antoine's fingers in that striking chromatic so characteristic of him. And Lenore started to sing.

Her voice was a low, compelling harmony, accompanied only by the mellow wood winds, sobbing softly about a man she'd young and lost again.

As Lenore stopped singing Pam led the applause. She clapped "But there were tears in her eyes! Real tears. That girl's got what it takes to put a song over."

Hold Everything!

"Chop wood? Certainly, lady—but kin I just run my eye over the bill of fare first?"

"THE HIT DOG ALWAYS HOWLS"

It is doubtful whether Breckenridge Long, assistant Secretary of State, placed much credence in certain gossip he repeated recently. He told of rumors that Germany hopes to get a million Italian soldiers on the Russian front, and then to attack Italy.

It sounded preposterous until Italy began talking. First of all, Italy denied there was any truth in the rumors—and by denying it, gave a certain dignity to the reports. If Italy is so sure of the "bonds of alliance and ideals" between the two nations, why does it go to the trouble of denying that it is fearful of a knife in the back?

Furthermore, if Italy places such trust in its German partner, why are its spokesmen so careful to emphasize that the nation has no intention of "emptying itself of fighting men?"

The Italian re-action suggests at least the possibility that there may be something more than wild gossip in the rumors Mr. Long repeated. The very least the repetition of the rumors has done has been to touch the squalling partner of the Axis on a surprisingly tender spot.

several smart places. She spoke in broken little phrases and Jerry recalled having kissed her one evening during a foolishly romantic interval in the shadows of a Spanish lime tree. She had seemed lovely then—but now there was something annoying about her.

She followed Jerry's eyes with a sort of helpless defeat in her own. She said finally in her fragile little voice:

"Understand. I've seen it myself just that way. A man comes up in your life like the moon in the sky, and he's just there—and what are you going to do about it? She's like that with you."

"But Jerry was staring out at the dancers.

"Let's dance," the girl said. She was that kind. A man never really minded dancing with her, but he never asked her.

Then Jerry's eyes caught Pam and he went to her.

"Oh, Jerry, she sings beautifully! Lenore's wonderful!"

"Yes, and I saw you leading the applause, angel. That was sweet of you, considering." He dropped down beside her.

"And she's so beautiful to look at, too," Pam said.

"Your violets were the touch that made that, darling. It took some persuasion to get Mother to let her have them for tonight. You're a sweet little thing, Pam—doing all that work for Mother. She adores you for it."

"You're such a lovely family, Jerry." The words were spoken wistfully, for in that moment Pam seemed to miss more than ever having no family of her own.

There were a thousand things that came to Jerry's mind then, a thousand eager ways to ask her to be one of that family. But Antoine had crashed into a swinging melody, dancers were moving about on the floor. A young man claimed Pam. And Jerry, remembering the ring on Freda's finger, stayed his words and let her go.

Almost immediately Algar Bruce was beside her again, cutting in.

"I want that dance I was cheated out of, beautiful," he said easily. "And, if they whirled away together, has anyone told you you're the most beautiful girl here?"

"No, I think everyone here is honest," Pam laughed.

"They can't be. There's a bunch of meanies, or they'd have told you long ago. Everybody here is raving about some little Conch gal that's supposed to be tops. They say she mows 'em down like nobody's business! I haven't seen her, yet, and I don't want to. I've seen you!"

The Bet— Pam caught only one word. She was Conch. She'd never been anything but proud of it. It meant that she had been born on the island. She was native to its beauty. But there had been something in the way Algar said it that caught her attention.

"Yes, Conch, beautiful. But let's not talk about her. Let's talk about you. You're the real thing. You're as real and wholesome as a bottle of certified milk. And so

They Were Too Late For The Last Fracas, All Right, But: 1918's Liberty Motors Driving Russian Tanks

EDITOR'S NOTE: Peter Edson, of The Evening Journal's regular Washington correspondent, is on vacation. During his absence, his place will be filled by various members of the staff of NEA Service.

BY WILLIS THORNTON NEA Staff Correspondent

Three years is a long time to wait for a dividend, but it's sweet when the dividend comes at last. The United States is now collecting some unexpected dividends on a huge investment in 1917-1918 in the Liberty motor—the motor that came to dominate the aviation field just too late to be the deciding factor in World War I that it was expected to be.

Certain of those Liberty motors, built in 1918, are now driving Russian tanks against the Germans. The Allison, outstanding liquid-cooled motor of the present air defense drive, is a direct descendant of the Liberty.

How Liberty motors designed to propel allied planes against the Germans in 1918 remained to propel Russian tanks against the Germans 23 years later is an absorbing story now being recalled by Detroit motor engineers.

FIRST OF THE FOURTH THE Liberty motor was to be America's answer to the German threat in the last war. The highest hopes were held out when the first pilot model was presented July 4, 1917. This 400-horsepower, 800-pound motor seemed good enough to give definite air superiority to any plane it propelled, so more than 22,000 were ordered from several plants.

The first production models came out at Thanksgiving time, but minor bugs developed, and mass production was set back. By spring of 1918, production was still lagging disappointingly. Great mass production of this really superior motor was just getting well under way when the Armistice came.

Well, there was the government with thousands of excellent Liberty motors on hand and no war to use them in. They were sold by thousands at "remainder" prices.

One of the buyers was the Allison Experimental Co., started in 1915 by James Allison, a founder of the Indianapolis Speedway. He had built many of them in the first place, and was well qualified to rebuild them for various uses. Some parts were strengthened, and superior bronze-and-steel bearings designed.

The old Liberties went all over the world and some of them are still in use in planes. One of the largest sales was to Soviet Russia during the Twenties. A large quantity of the rebuilt Liberties were bought for tank propulsion. Engineers believe it is these which are undoubtedly still in use on the Russian front today.

In the meantime Allison was going along in a modest way, building occasional racing cars, experimental motors and crankshaft bearings which gradually began to be standard in most aviation motors. In 1929, in order to acquire these bearings and other patents, as well as the skilled personnel Allison had gathered about him, General Motors bought the Allison plant after the founder's death.

By 1935 the plant began to expand in its old Indianapolis location, developing a liquid-cooled motor whose foundation was in an experimental model built for the Navy's dirigible program in 1930. There were traces of the old Lib-

The Love Of Pam

(Continued From Editorial Page) his crowd bet he couldn't. Well, he did. This supper tonight is the pay-off. Antoine was the one who bet against Jerry. So he gave the supper, and Jerry has the girl here somewhere. I haven't seen her yet. But the girl can't mean anything to Jerry. He's engaged to Freda Barington. Pam missed a step. "Engaged? Engaged to Freda Barington?" "Sure! Haven't you seen that diamond she's wearing? Big as a house. That's the engagement ring Jerry gave her." "Jerry Winthrop engaged?" The words came slowly from Pam. "Sure. Everybody knows that." "And he bet?" It seemed to Pam it was some other girl's voice she heard asking the question—the bet—about—about that Conch girl? She had almost said "about me."
