

Mine Wrecked By Terrific Explosion; 15 Men Missing

17 DEAD IN ARKANSAS STORMS

Sixteen Make Escape After Deadly Blast

Survivor Says All Men In His Group Were Knocked Out

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Oct. 27.—Sixteen miners were rescued and 29 others were reported safe today following an explosion in the mine of the Sterling Coal company at Daniel Boone, a small mining community 11 miles southwest of Madisonville.

Fifteen men were reported missing. The mine was badly wrecked by the blast. The cause of which officials said, was not immediately determined.

Brought Out By Barrels
The rescued men were brought to the surface in barrels to which ropes had been attached. The mine cage was put out of order by the explosion.

A full shift crew of 60 men was in the workings at the time of the blast.

The 16 men were reported 2,800 feet back from the main shaft and out of harm from that entrance.

Missing Are Listed
The missing men listed as Albert Keys, Robert Jacey, William Compton, Gus Proyer, Bert Cunningham, Edgar Adams, Naly Todd, Junior Gamblin, Obey Wells, Otto Sisk, Bennie Martin, Robert Dunning, Dan Pearson, Ike White, and Goldie Gamblin.

One of the rescued men, whose name was not ascertained, told a reporter that the explosion was terrific, that it knocked out all the men in his group; that it tore out all the mine car tracks and tore down all the wiring.

Rescue Work Rushed
Rescue workers from throughout western Kentucky were rushed here to help local squads at attempt to reach the missing men.

Carroll Patterson of Westernport, Md., president of the company owning the mine, said it employed 125 men and that he planned to leave immediately for Daniel Boone.

Miners Ignore FDR's Appeal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—The United Mine Workers claimed today that practically all of the 50,000 coal miners in this country are in answer to a strike order of President John F. Roosevelt to a second appeal by President Roosevelt that the miners accept all the appeal.

The UMW claimed it had about 95 per cent of the miners in the eastern mines, organized, with nearly 100 per cent strength in some mines. Captive mines are so-called because they are owned by steel and other corporations which use product of all the output.

Demand Union Shop
Principal issue at stake was the union demand for a union shop, under which all miners must become union members after serving a probationary period of employment.

U. M. W. officials at Pittsburgh said 5,000 miners at the Jones and Laughlin and Allegheny Ludlum mines, which have already granted the union shop, were at work, but that 25,000 others were idle. There was no picketing at the western Pennsylvania mines. A few miners showed up for work at southwestern Pennsylvania mines.

FIRE IS COSTLY
SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 27.—Fire in a warehouse of the Alamo Cotton Oil company yesterday destroyed cotton seed and peanuts which L. C. Jennings, cotton mill manager, said were worth $250,000.

Hull Says Nation Now Acting Only In Self Defense

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Saying that American naval vessels "are being sunk by the brutal and murderous doctrine of unrestricted submarine warfare," Senator Connally (D-Tex.) told the Senate today that "as a proud nation, the United States must claim its rights to the seas."

Before crowded galleries, the chairman of the Senate relations committee opened debate on legislation granting American merchant vessels the right to carry arms and to sail to any port in the world. Ship arming now is forbidden by the 1919 neutrality act, which prevents American merchantmen from entering the combat zone.

Quick Passage Seen
Democratic leaders, who discussed the neutrality measure with the House, reported they had told the chief executive that the bill probably would be passed in less than two weeks.

Statement By Hull
Before the vote, the Senate received a statement by Secretary Hull that "we won't be in any way until Hitler decrees that we shall."

Cows Linger Awhile To Enjoy Music But Experiment Failure

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Oct. 27.—John Hall installed a radio in his barn, and evidently the cows enjoy the music as they linger in the barn after milking time.

But, confesses Hall, the real purpose of the experiment was a rank failure—he hoped to induce his wife and daughter to help with the milking.

Stolen Check Is Recovered

Secret service officials in Dallas informed Lubbock police this morning they would take over protection of a young man who, spoken down by Amarillo police after having been caught peddling automobiles there, was found in possession of a $767 check stolen by the government to Mrs. Joseph Gibson of Lubbock.

Mrs. Gibson, a social worker for the WPA, told police here this morning the check had been recovered from her car Friday night when she was watching a football game at Tech stadium. The bag had been broken from her car, and a rock was found in the machine.

Glasses Also Taken
Also taken from the car was a pair of glasses.

Whether the check was endorsed or not—and that point had not been cleared—makes no difference, Dallas federal officials said Uncle Sam is particularly about how his business transactions are handled.

A black mammy and her daughter, who said she was 15 but appeared to be 20, were detained briefly this morning in police station after a negro man had been "solaced."

"No Retreat!" Is Grim Order For Russians

Fighting under "no retreat" orders, the Red army was reported today to have driven across the Mafa river in a counter-attack south of Moscow and retaken a village.

The fastest action yet contemplated on the Russian side was on the southern approach to the capital as the battle for Moscow now is being fought.

"Not A Step Back"
Gen. Gerasimov, chief of staff of the Russian central front army, ordering Moscow, issued an order to his troops yesterday: "Do not let them reach Moscow. No man must retreat one step."

Russia announced today that a small Japanese patrol had attacked a guard post on her Far Eastern frontier.

The clash, like many in the past, may have been merely an isolated incident, but against the background of Japanese troop concentration in Manchukuo and the growing question of Japan's intentions as a partner of Germany, it bulked larger in its implications.

Pleads For Solidarity
Yesterday the new soldier-journalist of Japan, General Hatake, pleading for internal solidarity for Japan to meet her destiny, declared for an "ever-expanding progression" for the empire.

Second Reprieve Is Given To Hostages

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Oct. 27.—A second reprieve granted by the Germans today temporarily spared the lives of 50 hostages who had faced execution at midnight by firing squads in Nantes in reprisal for the assassination of a German officer.

It was understood that the new reprieve also applied to 50 other hostages at Bordeaux, scheduled for execution after midnight, Oct. 31.

The reprieve was said to be intended to "permit the investigation to continue."

High Water In Western Texas

Astronomers And Engineers At McDonald Observatory Isolated; Roads Destroyed

FORT DAVIS, Oct. 27.—Limpia creek, whose Spanish name means "clear," was a muddy flood today as it received after heavy rain of acres of Davis mountain orchard and range land with West Texas.

The creek rose up in a 12-foot wall of water yesterday to run down Limpia canyon, tearing up roadsides, interrupting the fall round-up, maturing apple orchards and isolating astronomers and engineers at McDonald observatory.

All telephone lines to the observatory atop Mount Locke, 17 miles from here, were cut off by the flooded creek. The high water had been driven to safety.

Ranchers said the bulk of the cattle and sheep in the danger area had been driven to safety. They were worried, however, by cloudy skies which brought threats of added rainfall to the unusually heavy precipitation that sent Limpia creek out of its banks.

The Lubbock county chapter of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college was announced this morning by George Langford, chairman of the nomination committee.

The accident occurred yesterday morning when the bus, a Crown company coach bound for Kansas City, failed to make a curve on U. S. highway 71, five miles north of Neosho. The highway was wet and the bus skidded, overturning five times.

BY RUTH MILLETT

Maybe the men who want to relieve the soldier of such domestic duties as peeling potatoes and cleaning up around an army camp are right in their argument that there are more important ways for the soldier to spend his time.

But just the same, women can't help but be amused by this masculine desire to get rid of the "housework" side of soldiering. It is just what men have been doing for generations.

Men didn't care about the job of cooking, keeping the places where they lived clean, and in general making life livable. So they told their mates that attending to all those duties is "woman's work"—even though some housekeeping tasks are actually back-breaking.

Then when big business came into being, the men decided they didn't want to look with the job of office housekeeping—filing, answering the telephone, typing letters, and getting rid of unwelcome visitors—so they created another type of "wife" to do the dirty work, and called her a stenographer.

Now they have reached the point where they are maneuvering to get hired help into army camps to do their housekeeping for them. They have found it is no more fun to do the household chores around an army camp than around a home—and they are set on finding a way of pushing them off on someone else.

MASCUINE VS. FEMINE "LOGIC"

Maybe there's logic in their reasoning. At least the men commenting on the proposed move to relieve soldiers of "domestic" duties all seem to think so.

But it is purely masculine logic. How many mothers of families use the same logic to argue that the job of motherhood—which certainly is as important as the job of soldiering—is too important for the mother to be wasting her time on doing housework and catering to the physical comfort of a grunting man? Not many.

Women still aren't "logical" enough to reason that they can't afford to do any job that doesn't seem worthy of their ability and talents.

Keeping U. S. Shelves Well-Stocked Has Industry Bearing Down

Defense Spurs Vast Changes

East of three articles on how and why substitute materials are playing an increasingly important role in American life.

BY JOHN GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Filling U. S. shelves and counters with ersatz to replace normal supplies drafted for defense needs makes the labors of Hercules look like simple parlor-tricks.

It means dislocating established industrial empires, upsetting commercial relationships across the seven seas. The weather, transportation—capacity, touchy diplomatic problems are involved.

Many Angles Involved
Sometimes ersatz production results in new jobs; mercury mined in this country is replacing foreign imports. Sometimes ersatz abolishes old jobs, creates a local unemployment problem. In many instances it increases the cost to the consumer.

For instance, one of the lusty newcomers in the paint pigment field is titanium. It has been cutting into the white lead market. The processors got their raw material (ilmenite) from India. The government commandeered ilmenite ships to move rubber and tin. It looked like curtains for titanium.

Crops Affect Supplies
The processors scrambled around and found new resources in South America, in Virginia, in New England. Not as rich ore, but useable. The switch made new jobs. Prices will probably be higher because the lower grade ore costs more to process.

Take another involved case. There are indications you will be using more lard in place of vegetable shortening because of weather conditions in the deep south the winter of 1940-41. The weather was ideal for boll weevils and there was the first serious infestation in several years.

Agricultural estimates put the 1941 cotton crop lower than usual. That means less cottonseed oil, principal ingredient of some shortenings; and in turn, a boost for lard.

Designs Standardized
The ersatz program is going to be tough on salesmen. With buyers eager for any part of the short supplies offered, high-powered sales forces are not necessary. Furthermore, the federal plan to simplify design will put a crimp in selling talks.

Here is the way that works: There were 885 kinds and sizes of wood screws on the market

Railroad Uses Mike To Speed Switching

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Oct. 27 (U.P.)—A $15,000 loudspeaker system has been installed in the Alton & Southern Railroad's East St. Louis yards to speed up switching of cars and facilitate movement of trains.

The system, railroad officials say, was developed when a need for greater speed in handling stock as business increased sharply under the national defense program.

The system is based in the office of the yardmaster where the main microphone for the setup is located. Speakers are placed throughout the yard, usually 175 feet apart, and each has a two-way communication system so that workers can converse with the yardmaster.

Under the previous switching procedure switchmen had to go to the yardmaster's office for orders.

Now the yardmaster can remain in his tower over the mile and one-half long yards and maintain speedy contact with the workmen.

The yard handles daily 3,500 cars and 100 trains.

What makes a Leader in Laxatives?

Laxatives, like people, are quite different. Some are quick, some are strong, some are gentle. Leaders among them must have something of all three qualities, and be adaptable to individual needs.

Adaptable BLACK-DRAUGHT has been a best-seller with four generations in the Southwest. This spicy, aromatic powder may be taken dry followed by water, or made into a tea. Either way, it is easy to take, and you regulate the strength to suit your needs.

And either way, you get the full benefit of a "tonic-laxative" herb in BLACK-DRAUGHT that helps to tone lazy intestinal muscles.

IS EVERY DAY LABOR DAY FOR YOUR EYES?

To many "Labor Day," the first Monday in September, was a day of fun and rest. But to others, it was just a matter of suffering at home rather than at the office—their eyes just refuse to take a holiday from strain.

Proper care of your eyes includes regular eyesight examinations by your eye physician (Oculist). The best interpretation we know for your Oculist's prescription is the Tillyer "vision clear-to-the-edge" lens. Unlike ordinary lenses which are correct only at their centers, the Tillyer lens is designed to give your eyes the full benefit of your prescription clear-to-the-edge of the lens.

Two High-Powered Offensive Teams, Lufkin And Corpus, Collide This Week

Dozen Squads Still At Top

Lamesa Star Will Again Show Stuff

BY TOM W. MILLER United Press Staff Writer Lufkin and Corpus Christi, ranked by some of the No. 1 and No. 2 high school football teams in Texas, meet this week, and the game will end slamming into each other the two highest-powered offenses in the state.

The encounter will not mean a thing in the standings — it is strictly an inter-district scrap — but it could be a preview of a semi-final playoff in mid-December, for there are many who look for these two unbeaten, untied teams to sweep all district and playoff opposition before them until they reach each other in a battle for the title.

Average 49 Points A Game Lufkin's Panthers, the fastest scoring team in the state, has rolled up 296 points in six games. That is an average of 49 points a game — a point a minute with a 60-second minute.

Not far behind are Corpus Christi's Buccaneers. In six games they have totaled 245 points in 19 for the opposition. That is 41 points a game.

The Lufkin-Corpus Christi struggle will be Friday at the gymnasium, and it overshadows the nearly 30 conference games which will clarify further district races. Along with their play as odds-on favorites to gain the playoff round, and in only three districts is the situation still muddled.

12 Have Perfect Records An even dozen teams remained with perfect records. They are Lufkin, Corpus Christi, Sweetwater, Paris, Goose Creek, McAllen, Conroe, Amarillo, Dallas Sunset, Temple, Waco, and Masonic Home.

October has been, except for two or three stunning upsets, a great month for form in the high school race. Two weeks' campaigning has pared the perfect record list by only three.

On basis of form shown to date, these are Texas' district leaders: 1—Amarillo, 2—Wichita Falls, 3—Sweetwater, 4—Paris, 5—Denton, 6—Highland Park, 7—Masonic Home, 8—Dallas Sunset, 9—Breckenridge and Mineral Wells, 10—Waco and Temple, 11—Tyler, with Kilgore a dark horse, 12—Lufkin, 13—Houston, Jeff Davis, with Lamar close behind.

15 games at Austin between the hometown Maroons and San Antonio Brackenridge. Also expect most of the unbeaten teams to win again.

Rattlers Victorious Over Regis, 20-13 DENVER, Oct. 27 (AP) — St. Mary's Rattlers of San Antonio, Texas, often called the biggest little football team in the United States, had the wits scared out of them yesterday.

The Rattlers, having kept their goal line uncrossed in five games, punched over a quick first period touchdown, but Regis college of Denver came back to take a 13 to 6 lead. Only two desperate stands in the final period on the one and four yard lines gave St. Mary's a 20-13 victory.

Mustangs Next "Victim" To Be Fed To Longhorns; Razorbacks Can Just Hope Against Aggies

BY RICHARD M. MOREHEAD United Press Staff Writer

Two gridiron giants with touchdowns in every pocket towered today over the Southwest conference race.

The great ones are Texas and the Texas Aggies, and you can't even buy a ticket for their game next Thanksgiving day.

That May End Soon —And that dark horse status may last no longer than next Saturday, when the Methodists open their conference season against Texas at Dallas.

For five games each this season, the Texas and Aggie records show: Texas 196 points, opponents 27; Aggies 206, opponents 7.

SMU's Coach Matty Bell, one of the smartest defensive blowers in football business, will work out his strategy for the Texas game from notes taken personally at the Texas-Rice game.

The Aggies this week will play Arkansas at Little Rock, while two A- and M- victims, Texas Christian and Baylor meet at Waco. After losing to Louisiana State and Texas, Rice ought to have smoother sailing against Centenary at Houston.

Plenty Of Everything Texas and the Aggies, if you will pardon the somewhat overused phrase, have displayed plenty of everything. Pete Layden, Jack Crain, and Spec Sanders, a reserve half-back, led Texas to a stunning 40 to 0 victory Saturday over the Rice team that upset Tulane through the air, and the only dissatisfaction for the Texas fans was that they only saw the first team perform for 20 minutes.

The Aggies' 48 to 0 triumph over Baylor was just as convincing. Four A- and M. teams, assisted by Baylor with everything, capitalizing on pass interceptions and recovered fumbles. The Aggie offense moved powerfully whenever it was needed, either running or passing. Willie Zapala and Slick Rogers, a couple of boys who played second fiddle to 1940's now-graduated stars, each scored twice.

Surprise of last week's award must go to Arkansas, which outplayed Detroit, previously undefeated, for a 9 to 6 victory. Chick Forte, Arkansas back who has recovered from injuries, led his team's attack. But the climactic thrill was a last minute field goal which Dave Scarborough booted from the 20-yard line.

Teachers And Arizona Lead Tech Travels To Miami For Game

Both in Title Running Headliner matches Hardin-Simmons with West Texas State Teachers at Abilene Saturday afternoon.

West Texas, as a matter of fact, is the title favorite after an impressive series of conference victories, and Hardin-Simmons made a fine showing in its league debut against Texas Mines, winning 44-14.

Arizona and Texas Mines play in another tie fray at Tucson Saturday night. Arizona is still unbeaten in the conference, and after this game must face only Flagstaff and figures to finish the season unbeaten in conference play.

Tech Goes To Miami The other conference game sends New Mexico Aggies against Flagstaff in a cellar championship game at Flagstaff Saturday afternoon.

Incidental Intelligence When Pappy Joe DiMaggio heard the good news the other day, he wired tavern-keeper Toots to look up the cigar man, Antonio Fernandez, South American welter and middleweight champion, is going to Havana next month to warm up a bit and also to take on Joe Leon, the Cuban contender.

Sportometer That Race Isn't Over Yet

By Collier Parriss

LUBBOCK FOOTBALL FANS should consider their gridiron "aliveness" for last week well spent. Every one of the four teams in action over the week-end should have won their ball games.

The Lubbock High Cowhands started things by defeating the Plainview "B" squad for the second time in a row—a highly encouraging sign in view of future West-sider teaming the Texas Tech Red Raiders did their best to hold down the score, but played colorfully in the mud to confound New Mexico university's Lobos, 38 to 10.

While we had predicted a defeat for the Westsiders, more to make the kids mad than for any other reason, deep down we felt, or maybe hoped is the word, that the Westsiders defense, one of the best in the state, by gum, and bar none, could prevent Amarillo from scoring, and that Thorne or Wright or somebody would shake loose to put over a winning counter. The "strategy" worked only halfway.

Unqualified as an "expert" since we neither saw nor heard the game, we are nevertheless inclined to doubt the spur-of-the-moment opinions of some fans who charged Lubbock's defeat to "poor quarterbacking." We heard enough of that talk to warrant a phone call to Coach Coaker Keys, where he returned from Amarillo Saturday night.

Yeah, I've been listening to that story all evening," said Coaker—"But it's a bunch of baloney, and I wish they wouldn't talk like that.

Some of the fans, especially those who stayed home and listened to the game by radio, must not have realized that the game was about to result in a scoreless tie—but with Amarillo leading in penetrations, two to our none. There's always the possibility, of course, that the race will result in another three-way tie, or maybe a two-way tie, in which case Lubbock would have to be considered in the choosing of a champion. There are those, including Coach Keys, who figure that Pampa or Plainview might upset the Sandies applicat. Pampa's line, for instance, is just about as big as, maybe bigger than, Ama-

MIDWEST
Minnesota, with Capt. Bruce Smith and a horde of others bruised in the 7 to 0 win over Michigan, hopes to be in shape again for the visit of Northwestern, in the third chapter of the Big Ten title mystery. The Wildcats pulled Ohio State out of the all-victorious class, 14 to 7, last Saturday.

The Buckeyes take on Pittsburgh, which scored its first touchdown of the year in losing to Duke, 27 to 7, and the Wolverines seek solace in their contest with Illinois, bounced by Notre Dame, 49 to 14.

Iowa, spilled by Purdue 7 to 6, and Indiana, loser to Wisconsin in a 27 to 25 thriller, tangle at Iowa City while the Badgers entertain Syracuse and the potent Y formation that shoved Rutgers among the beaten teams, 49 to 7. Missouri, 46 to 0 winner over Nebraska, takes on Michigan State, Detroit, beaten 9 to 6 by Arkansas, seeks to start another winning streak against Manhattan.

SOUTH
Duke, with only three second-division Southern conferences remaining after this week, has its toughest remaining nuzzle in Georgia Tech, 28 to 14 winner over Auburn.

Vanderbilt will be tested thoroughly by Tulane, spilled by Mississippi, 20 to 13, but still a Southern powerhouse.

Louisiana State, barely able to sneak by Florida, 10 to 7, opposes the Tennessee Vols, who weren't too impressive in their 21 to 6 victory over little Cincinnati. Mississippi State plays Southwestern.

Clemson, beaten for the first time by South Carolina, has a Southern conference engagement with George Washington. North Carolina, loser by 13 to 0 to Wake Forest, meets North Carolina State, 44 to 0 winner over Newberry. Wake Forest mixes with Marshall college, and Georgia, beaten 27 to 14 by Alabama despite Frank Sinkwich's heroic efforts, visits Auburn.

Stanford, back on the conference top with a 19 to 7 win over Washington, steps outside the league boundaries for a meeting with Santa Clara, smarting from a 16 to 6 setback by Oklahoma. That upset almost equalled the noise caused by Oregon's 14 to 7 loss to UCLA which resulted in a second-place tie between the two clubs.

Friday afternoon. According to a ruling announced by the conference authorities last week, the two conference games played by Texas Tech will not count in the conference standings since Tech does not compete for the title. Thus, New Mexico's loss to Tech will not count against the Lobos in the league standings, nor will the Tech-Hardin-Simmons game of Nov. 20 figure in the league won-and-lost columns.

COME UP WITH THREAT
Hardin-Simmons roared a threat to the rest of the conference Saturday by swamping Texas Mines, 44-14, in a conference game. The Cowboys play West Texas this week, and later in the season will meet Tech and Arizona State of Tempe.

Tech showed its power with an easy 36-0 victory over New Mexico on a muddy field. West Texas continued its run of victories by taking Flagstaff, 27-0. Arizona remained unbeaten in the conference with a 27-0 triumph over Tempe, and in the only inter-sectional game of the week, New Mexico Aggies bowed to Bradley Tech, 26-0.

TAHOKE—Approximately 8,000 acres of black-eyed peas are to be harvested this fall out of a 12,000-acre planting. Heavy rains and some hail materially reduced the planted acreage. Farmers of this section of Lynn county have grown peas for a number of years. A local plant processes the peas for market.

Pampa, incidentally, is Lubbock's next football foe. The Harvesters appear here this very coming Saturday in another conference game. We look for the Westerners to do some mopping up. Don't fail to get your tickets for that game, friends—this race isn't over yet!

THE RED RAIDERS, now one of the few unbeaten, untied teams of the country, take off tomorrow afternoon for the long trek to Miami, Florida, for a Friday night match, and the "rubber" game, with the likewise unbeaten, untied University of Miami Hurricanes. The Hurricanes won their fourth victory in as many starts by tramping Howard college last week. So far, they have scored 98 points to the opposition's six, a scoring record comparing favorably with Texas Tech's.

And the Raiders may be assured that the Miamians will be primed to the hilt Friday night, recalling their monstrous defeat here last year.

Friday afternoon. According to a ruling announced by the conference authorities last week, the two conference games played by Texas Tech will not count in the conference standings since Tech does not compete for the title. Thus, New Mexico's loss to Tech will not count against the Lobos in the league standings, nor will the Tech-Hardin-Simmons game of Nov. 20 figure in the league won-and-lost columns.

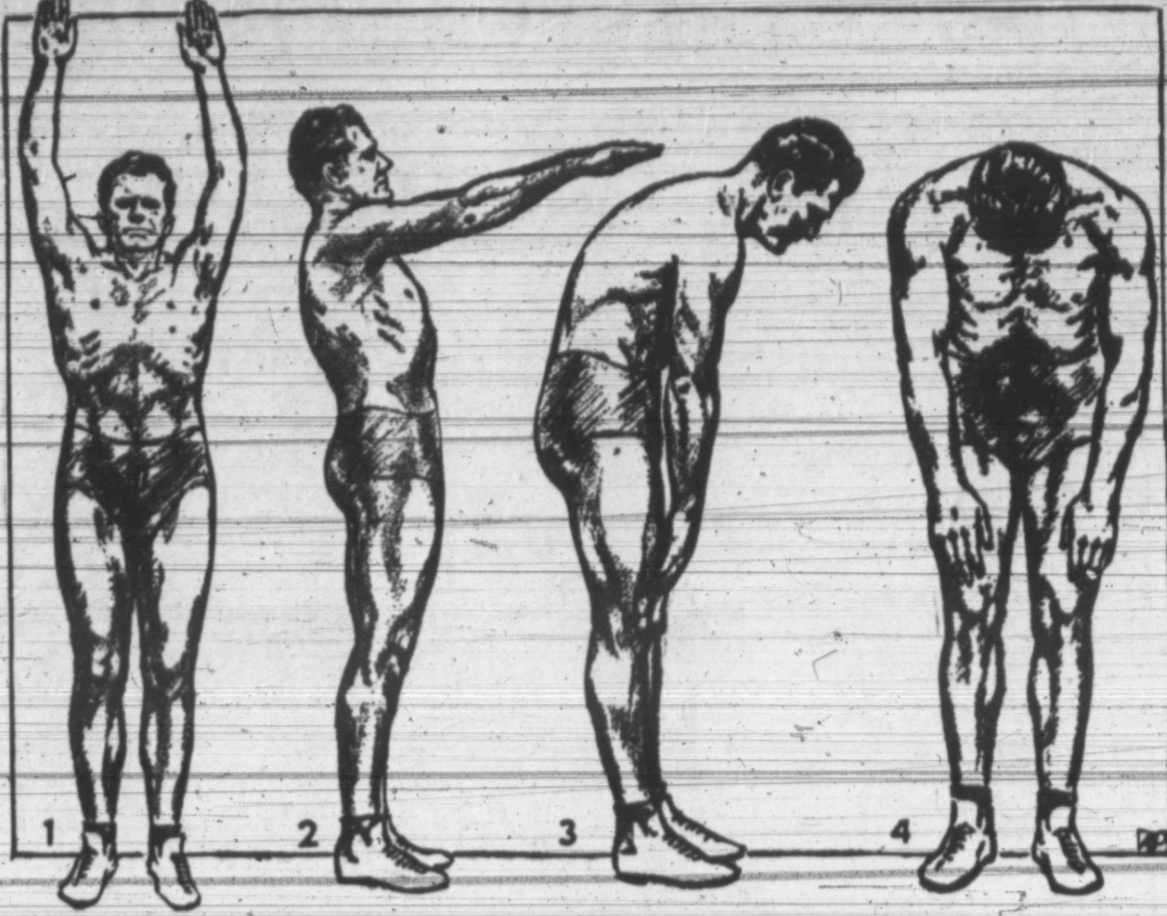

COME UP WITH THREAT
Hardin-Simmons roared a threat to the rest of the conference Saturday by swamping Texas Mines, 44-14, in a conference game. The Cowboys play West Texas this week, and later in the season will meet Tech and Arizona State of Tempe.

Tech showed its power with an easy 36-0 victory over New Mexico on a muddy field. West Texas continued its run of victories by taking Flagstaff, 27-0. Arizona remained unbeaten in the conference with a 27-0 triumph over Tempe, and in the only inter-sectional game of the week, New Mexico Aggies bowed to Bradley Tech, 26-0.

IF YOU TEND TO BULGE AT THE BELT—Ex-heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, now Lieutenant-Commander in charge of the U. S. Navy physical training program, in his new book, "Arms For Living," prescribes this routine for strengthening abdominal muscles. (1) Raise arms and bend deeply, filling lungs. (2) Don't bend at the hips. (3) Bend at the diaphragm and suck up the stomach. (4) Touch your knees with hand. That's as much as you can do when bending at the diaphragm. The essential part of the exercise: "Suck up your stomach."

NO TIME FOR PEACE TALK NOW

One suggestion to which scant attention will be paid was that by John Cudahy, former United States ambassador to Belgium and Poland, that this nation, Great Britain and France should seek a negotiated peace.

It isn't that the democracies do not want peace. Their reluctance in being drawn into war proves that. But every evidence that can be imagined has been given by the United States and Britain that they do not want and will not seek the kind of peace that might be negotiated with a man like Adolf Hitler.

Nor should democratic nations risk the appearance that they are becoming weakened, thus strengthening the morale among Axis peoples, by taking the initiative in peace negotiations now. They must not take the chance of crushing the spirits of conquered people among whom the will to rebel at the first opportunity still exists. They must have no hand in seeking a peace which, at best, would be a peace of insecurity and, at worst, a peace of surrender.

The only peace to which democracies can give thought now is the peace of complete and unquestioned victory.

Neither was Lenore visible anywhere on the dance floor. But that meant nothing. "I don't believe you," he said finally.

Freda smiled. "All right, my darling, let's make up. I don't really mind your being gay with the girls down here. Know it's only window dressing. See, I've got a pretty kiss for you! Come and get it!"

Jerry laughed gently. "Mink! I hadn't fallen so in love with you, Freda, as you look Freda, and give me back my ring, or at least the promise it stands for. I don't really want the diamond, Freda. Accept that with my best wishes."

"It isn't best wishes I want from you, Jerry."

He looked at the girl earnestly. His arm was around her as they began a slow stepping to the music.

"I can't give you what you should have from the man you marry, Freda. The least and the most any girl can get out of marriage is love. I mean real love, Freda. I'd never thought much of that sort of thing until Pam began to do things to my ideas and ideals."

They had danced through the door and out onto the piazza that looked down over the garden, lovely under its soft lights. A far-off boat-whistle sounded faintly through the night. A white Persian cat moved through the shadows, like something floating, disembodied. Scent of the flowers came in waves on the breeze. The sky was gemmed with an infinity of stars. Jerry's voice came through the quiet beauty:

"Freda, make an honest man of me. Release me."

She turned to him impatiently. "What a one-track mind you have! Darling, can't you put some other record on that precious mouth-organ of yours?"

"All right. So you won't. Is that? Well, I'm releasing myself then, this minute. I'm serving no one, Freda. You and I are no longer engaged."

"That's only one man's opinion, darling. It takes two to make a bargain and two to break it. Anyhow, I'm going to save you from yourself. From your foolishness."

"Words from words, thought Jerry. Would he ever be able to untangle his life? Would Freda never come to her senses and see that he was asking something that was the best for both of them?"

Meanwhile Pam moved on alone through the beauty of the night. Once out of the building and off the premises, she didn't hurry. There was a friendliness about the early morning quiet of Key West that Pam liked. She knew every nook and corner of the town so well she had no fear.

Pam didn't turn at the sound of a car behind her. But she started when a voice spoke her name.

"Pam! Wait a minute!" The car stopped beside her.

German. Sentiment rises for Sicilian autonomy, fanned by the famous secret society, the Mafia, which Mussolini boasted he had suppressed.

For help Sicilians look across the Mediterranean to the British, always popular in the lovely island. The nearest large British force, in North Africa, is now 750 miles away. But that distance would be shortened if the British could again advance westward in Libya as they did last year. The desert campaigning season is about to reopen, with the British reinforced from South Africa and India, and from America with planes and especially tanks believed to be superior to the German tanks that stopped General Wavell's last year.

Prisoners Join Free Italians

If the British drive close enough to Sicily to use Malta as a stepping-stone, not only planes and tanks but troops might come from America, and through Italian American efforts. A Free Italian army begins to take shape. In Canada officers and men are gathering, including Volunteers from the U. S.

There has been no publicity for this crusade, nor for its counterpart on the other side of the world. 200,000 Italian prisoners taken by the British, among them the Italian army for a Free Italy is being spread by Italian-American members of the Mazzini Society, newly-arrived in India to recruit volunteers to the Army of Liberation.

They report very good results indeed. Free Italian parachutists have already landed in Italy, although that meant death if they were caught. All Free Italians are eager not only to free Italy from the yoke of Fascism and the Gestapo, but to show the world that in such a cause, Italian will-fight, not run away or surrender.

Italian-Americans in New York and elsewhere are optimistic of success. They believe a British-Free Italian invasion of Sicily would be an excellent diversion, forcing the Nazis to withdraw troops from Russian front to "defend" Italy. They believe also that the sight of more of the hated Germans walking in on them would further infuriate the Italians and might even help precipitate revolt. Unlike the Czechs and Poles and others, the Italians still have arms. Italians here hope the revolt would spread to the Italian Navy, where there is considerably pro-British sentiment—born partly of reluctant admiration.

To be ready for even the possibility of such events, although they realize the efforts and difficulties involved, democratic Italians all over the world are talking of forming a Free Italian government-in-exile in which former minister Count Carlo Sforza might be a leader.

The Love Of Pam

Someone was getting out and coming around toward her. Pam knew a momentary impulse to run, but forced herself to stand and wait. That not giving way to her fears or impulses was something she had inherited from her mother who had, in turn, inherited it from her own New England grandmother.

"Pam, I saw you go." It was Edmund Antoine's voice. "You frightened me. Alone on the street at this hour..." Pam smiled through the faint light. There was no use of being angry at Antoine. He'd been a party to that bet, but he hadn't done what Jerry had—made love to her, tried to make her think he was sincere while the others of his set looked on and laughed. "But there's nothing to be afraid of," she said easily. "That's what you think." He caught her hands. "If you knew how I feel this minute, you'd be frightened to death. I'd like to steal you."

Pam forced laughter to her lips, above tears she'd been struggling against. "You're lovely, Pam. As lovely as a Chopin waltz." Then, bending closer, "Pam, I believe you're crying! What happened?" "I'm not crying! Don't be silly!" The tears that she had been holding back refused to be held longer.

"I'm sorry," was his quick and understanding reply. "I beg your pardon for a stupid mistake. Now will you let me take you back to the party? You see, it's my party and I really want you there very much." "No, I'd rather go home right now." "Don't you like my party? Wasn't it a nice one?" "It was," she acknowledged hesitantly. Then she decided to be frank with him. "But you see I just don't belong there. She was sorry the minute she said it, and rushed on trying to cover it. "You see, I'm a working girl. I have things to do, so I've got to get home and get some rest. But it was a lovely party."

Antoine looked down through the dim light at her and seemed to read something in her voice and eyes that had not been in her words. "Then you will let me take you home?" he asked. And when she hesitated, "Please, I'm not comfortable about your being on the street alone."

There was something so sincere and so nice about his voice Pam knew he meant only what he had said. She allowed him to help her into the car.

"I don't know what I'll tell Jerry about this," he said as he opened the door for her in her own drive. "I mean, taking you home instead of back to the party."

"Don't tell him anything, please," Pam begged.

Antoine looked down at her. "Am I allowed to say I wish Jerry had not seen you first?" he asked gently.

Hitler Breaks Another Promise To His Soldiers

Moscow Battle Still Not Won

BY FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

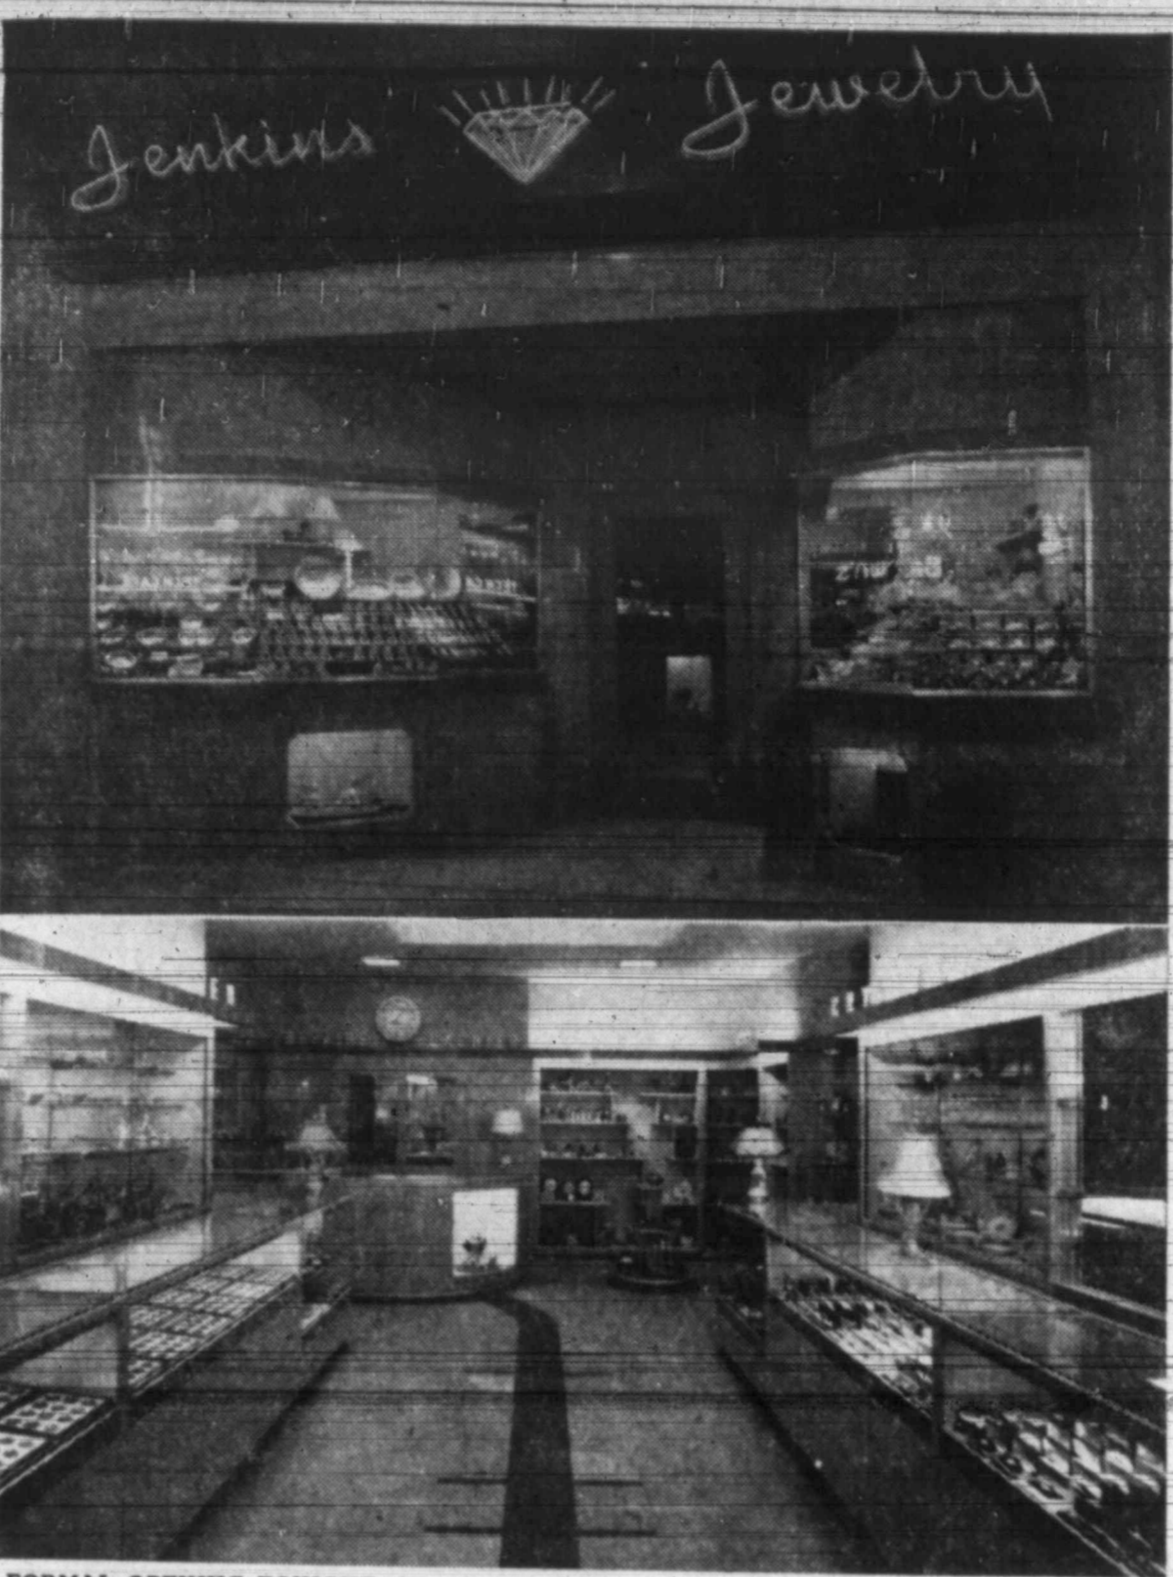

It was 25 days ago that Adolf Hitler sent a tremendous army into the battle of Moscow, promising the tired soldiers in field grey that they were beginning "the last great decisive battle of this year."

A week later, on Oct. 9, he felt able to give out through his propaganda machine the claim that this battle was won, that seventy Russian divisions were hopelessly entrapped before Moscow, that Russia's power to resist had been utterly destroyed. One Berlin spokesman went so far as to say that the Russian had no army left in Europe which could be dangerous "for more than two weeks."

Just Round Up Prisoners
The clear implication was given to the world that all the Germans then had to do was round up hundreds of thousands of prisoners in the pockets on the Moscow front and walk right into Moscow where, it was hinted, speedy capitulation was in order.

In other words, the Germans said on October 9 that Hitler's "last great decisive battle of this year" was over.

But today, 25 days after the battle began and 18 days after German propaganda "ended" it, the Russian armies of Moscow are offering the most powerful sort of FORMAL OPENING TONIGHT—New home of Jenkins Jewelry, 1206 Broadway, will be formally opened tonight from 6 until 10 P. M. resistance, Joseph Stalin's marshals are organizing a second line of resistance, Stalin himself sits in the Kremlin and Hitler has broken his latest promise to his soldiers.

None Of Them Edible
Just about all the German people have had out of the "last great decisive battle of this year" are rows of figures intended to represent Russian prisoners, Russian tanks, Russian planes and Russian cannon, none of them edible and few of them exhilarating.

More significant is the fact that the German soldier, whose faith is all-important to the Fuehrer, is provided with yet another example of a Hitler promise. In other words, he can see for himself that Hitler's "last great decisive battle of this year" was in precisely the same category with Hitler's promise to the Czechs at Munich: "This is the last territorial demand I have to make in Europe."

Pork And Butter On Food Stamp Schedule

Fresh pork and butter will be added to the list of foods obtainable with federal food stamps Nov. 1, according to announcement this morning by Forrest W. Wright, Lubbock area supervisor of the Surplus-Marketing association.

It will be the first time since July that pork and butter have been on the available list, he said. Other foods procurable with stamps during November follows: fresh pears, apples and oranges, fresh vegetables, including potatoes, corn, meal, shell eggs, raisins, dried pears, hominy, split, dry beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self rising flour, enriched self rising flour and whole wheat flour.

NURSERY SHELL
The bitterling fish lays its eggs on the mussel shell. The young hatch out in the mussel's gills and use its shell as a nursery.

Parity Checks Are Received

Receipt of 402 cotton parity checks for the 1941 crop, amounting to $49,297.77, was announced this morning by Walter Y. Wells, administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment administration for the county.

At the same time he said that 69 additional parity applications were to be mailed tonight to the state office at College Station. This will bring the total to 1,537.

Larger Checks Awaited
Total payments amount to $179,502.65. The county is expected to receive approximately $450,000, said Wells. Most of the larger producers have not received their payments and the latter portion of checks should amount to more than half of the total expected.

Several hundred more applications for parity payments are being prepared in the office for signature and farmers are to be asked this week to come in and sign them, Wells explained. Just as rapidly as can be done, the preparing of applications will be completed. Unavoidable delays have arisen to prevent completion of land measurement for compliance.

DIRECT SCHOOL BAND

MULESHOE—W. J. Finley, who as a band director has conducted musical organizations in 48 states, has come here from Pampa to direct the high school band. He had his own band for 14 years and was with the famous Sousa band for two years. He is a Scotchman by birth.

Fancy Auto Gadgets To Be Eliminated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—New car buyers who dote on shine and glamour have until Dec. 15 to satisfy their desires for "bright work." Chrome grilles, decorative trim, fancy hub caps and the like will be eliminated after that date.

OPM Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson, who recently ordered the industry to halve 1942 model production, issued the latest edict to manufacturers.
