Petaín's Future As Chief Of France At Stake In Growing Crisis

French People Are Oppressed

BY HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press Staff Writer

Marshal Henri Philippe Petaín's future as chief of the French state is at stake in a deepening economic crisis resulting from French "collaboration" with Germany.

This picture was provided by authentic advisers—reaching the United Press today from sources on the European continent.

According to this information, French industry, commerce and agriculture has been geared so completely to the Reich war machine that little more "collaboration" can be expected except some arrangement to allow France, as well as Germany, to benefit from the new set-up. So far, France has received virtually no benefits.

Working For Germany
With minor exceptions, the information reported, those French industries which are working are working for German account.

Meantime, German agents continue to scour both occupied and unoccupied France for food supplies and raw materials, shipping such vast quantities that France faces a winter of unparalleled suffering.

Economic repercussions of these developments, the advisers said, may prove extreme in the next few months, particularly if the Germans continue to manipulate the flow of raw materials to French industry, artificially provoking industrial crisis to back up their demands to the Vichy government.

Situation Is Explosive
Petaín, himself, it was said, regards the situation as explosive. A combination of food riots and unemployment this winter, it was said, might well bring down the whole Vichy regime, including Petaín.

The situation has been so delicate, it was added, that Petaín has hesitated to try the temper of French labor by introducing his medieval guild system under a new labor statute—part of the "revolution" by which Petaín hopes to return to France some thing of conditions which existed under the last Bourbon monarchs. The marshal, it is hinted, may entertain hopes, at least, that a Bourbon may restore the throne to France if the Vichy regime survives.

Charges Still Stand
The Germans are biting off huge chunks of French industry. In spite of a year of dickerings, there has been no reduction in the daily charge of 400,000,000 francs (roughly about $3,000,000) assessed by Germany as occupation charges.

Through use of the huge balances piled up in the Bank of France to her credit, the Germans have indirectly obtained virtual control of French finance. They have bought outright about 20 per cent of French heavy industry. They now own or have large stockholdings in more than 200 of the top French industrial concerns—steel, coal, rubber, textiles and fabricating industries.

The Germans buy vast quantities in the open market and requisition even more supplies. The Germans are estimated to have acquired at least half the meat supplies available in the occupied zone. The disposition of meat animals sold at the recent Saint Lo stock fair is believed typical. The Germans acquired 1,637 of the 2,878 head of beef, 775 of 5,435 head of calves, 61 of 2,127 sheep and 684 of 1,386 pigs—roughly half the beef and pigs, leaving the bulk of the calves and sheep to the French.

Take Surplus Horses
The Germans are said already to have drained almost all surplus horses from France and are threatening to requisition the rest. They have shipped 5,000 horses from Brittany alone. By negotiation, the German remount service obtained the right to buy horses to re-outfit motorized units in Russia with horses for winter service. The French had fixed a maximum price for horses at 36,000 francs—three times the price a year ago. The Germans did not get enough at that price so they boosted the offer to 40,000, then to 50,000 and finally to 35,000 francs.

Now the Germans are said to be advertising that if French farmers fail to strip their farms at present prices their horses will be requisitioned. The Germans have requisitioned 6,000,000 bottles of cognac and 14,000,000 bottles of champagne, some of which is shipped direct to Sweden for export.

Because of the shortage of bottles, France may not meet the quota demanded by the Nazis. Last year, in contrast, the Germans took only 51 carloads of cognac. In addition, the Germans are producing 30,000 quarts of alcohol daily from distillation of low grade French wines.

In one single order in the Charente region the Germans took 100 tons of butter, one third of annual production. In unoccupied France many farmers had gone back to primitive methods of threshing by hand-flail. They can get no gasoline or coal for mechanical threshers. Stock breeding is at a standstill due to lack of feed. Monthly figures show an average

WELL CLOTHED

It has been estimated that Britons expend an annual total of $2,000,000,000 on clothes in normal times, with women contributing $1,250,000,000 of this amount.

Decline of 4 per cent in horses and other livestock.

These developments may have serious repercussions. France has less than 30 per cent of her normal coal supplies, and industries not working on German war orders are said to find it most difficult to continue operation.

Aggravating this situation, it was said, is the fact that the Germans can choke off at will the supplies of raw materials which keep all French factories running and hence automatically can produce an unemployment crisis whenever they desire to bring pressure on Vichy.

Stevenson, Thompson And James Already Announced For '42 Races

O'Daniel And Mann Silent

BY GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Oct. 29.—Three candidates for the 1942 election of state officials already were announced informally today and numerous prospective candidates were in sight.

Coke R. Stevenson, shortly after succeeding to the governorship through promotion of W. Lee O'Daniel to the U. S. Senate, announced that he would seek the governorship by election.

Thompson To Run Again
Railroad Comm. Ernest Q. Thompson returned this week to Camp Bowie to resume his military service as an infantry colonel until Nov. 11. Then he will come back to his civil job and will seek re-election to it.

Jesse James of Cameron, recently appointed state treasurer by Governor Stevenson, has announced that he will seek election to the office, from which Charley Lockhart resigned. While not yet announced, Lon E. Alsop of Carthage is considering the race for treasurer. Alsop, blind former state representative, resigned from the legislature to supervise job placement for the physically handicapped through the Texas Employment Compensation commission.

Mann Is Undecided
Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann has been seeking advice from friends and has not announced his plans. Mann might ask for re-election. He might run again for the U. S. Senate; or he might run for governor.

Mann's decision may influence some other prospective candidates plans.
Sen. O'Daniel returned to Washington from his Texas airplane trip without saying whether he will seek a full Senate term or return to Texas to run for governor.

Allred Pushed For Senate
Meantime, friends of Federal Judge James V. Allred applauded the former governor as "our next U. S. Senator" when they "surprised and embarrassed" him with a dinner at Austin.

Congressman Lyndon Johnson, runner-up in the Senatorial race to O'Daniel, attended the Texas-Rice football game with Allred last week. Johnson said at Tyler that much water will go over the wheel before the next campaign, intimating that he might be in naval service by then.

State Land Commr. Bascom Giles has been mentioned as a possible candidate for congress to succeed Johnson if the congressman runs for the Senate or takes up active naval duty. Another mentioned as a potential congressional candidate from the Austin district is O. P. Lockhart, O'Daniel follower and chairman of the Texas Insurance commission.

Other elective state officials are expected to seek re-election, but there is a wide-open race for lieutenant-governor, an office left open when Stevenson became governor.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters containing libelous, defamatory or any individual, firm, or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot charge in correspondence returning them.)

WANTS MORE POLICE

Dear Plainsman: In spite of pleas by yourself and the general public, we have as yet been unable to get anything done about having too few policemen and our very bad traffic conditions. It's true we haven't had a fatality in nearly a year, but there have been only a few days in that length of time when there has not been one or more accidents, some of them bordering on fatalities and all potential death dealing collisions. It has not been better policing that has saved lives but mostly luck. Only recently the City commission voted on a tax raise and to enlarge the police department, among other things, and in their budget allowed for the addition of three more policemen, which I understand and correctly, have not even been put on. If we need any more men we certainly need more than three. We probably do have enough of the kind now on duty. We probably need 30 new ones to replace the ones we now have. We don't know what is wrong, have no way of finding out, and after all your faithful work on the problem, you can't come any nearer putting your finger on the cause of traffic and law enforcement problems than the man on the street. After all of your pleading and those of the public for protection, the boys at the City Hall have heard them not.

But there is no man who can blame it on any one of the departments. Can you find out who is to blame? Some say the city manager blames the chief; he blames the city manager; the commission blames both of them; and the mayor blames them all. The boys upstairs say, in a recent discussion, the chief was asked to submit his recommendations for the number of men to be added and he asked for the whole sum of three. The stories are common gossip of the street, and clubs. Why don't the boys wake up? Do they realize that some of their number are gambling with the well-being of people, who entrusted in their keeping by votes, the well-being and life of the people of Lubbock?

Maybe someone who does care will seek their places next April and maybe we can find a chief that won't let everybody shove him if that is the case.

At any rate let's pin the blame where it belongs. I don't know who is to blame and neither do others. Continue to help us, please Mr. Plainsman.

Road Projects For Area Are Planned

Contract was awarded to J. E. and Harry Barnhill of Turkey to construct 11.9 miles of flexible base shoulders on U. S. highway 81 from Lubbock south to the Lynn county line, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Austin Tuesday night.

The project was one of 14 in the state which totaled $1,659,226. If approved by the highway commission they will place $29,925,000 of state highway funds under contract.

Other projects included: Hale county, ordering that the tender of aid by the county, under the act of the 47th legislature, in the amount of $24,000 be accepted for improvements extending from Hale Center south to the Lubbock county line, and ordering that an appropriation of $11,000 state funds, along with the county funds, be utilized for extending structures, widening embankments and flattening slopes along the section. The work will be done by day labor.

Kent county will receive steel jetty bank protection at Butter creek on U. S. 380. The contract

Ground For Building To Be Broken Friday

Ground for the new agricultural building to be built at Texas Technological college will be broken Friday, according to plans announced Tuesday.

Dean A. H. Leidigh, President Clifford B. Jones and members of the Agricultural club will take part in the ceremony, definite time of which has not been set.

E. O. Ingle of Ingle and Sikes, contractors for the structure, announced Tuesday an excavator would be moved to the site today if weather permits. Moving of utility lines and other preliminary work has been under way since the recent award of contracts by the board of directors. Rainy weather has delayed opening of excavation.

The building, for which the legislature allocated $250,000, is to be completed in 300 calendar days from date the work order was awarded to Kellner Jetties company, Topeka, Kas.

Ex-Tech Students In Marine Corps

Graduates from the Marine corps training school at Quantico, Va., Saturday will include three former Texas Technological college students, according to announcements received here.

They are Lonnie (Primo) McCurry, former Red Raider and son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark V. McCurry of 2317 Fourth street; James Clamahan of Amarillo, nephew of Mrs. J. R. Cowser of Tahoka highway; and Maurice Goodpasture, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Goodpasture of Leveland.

The three will attend an advanced school at Quantico for four months.

Application for project rating in obtaining steel, reinforcing bars, hardware and other scarce materials for the structure was forwarded this week to the Office of Production Management, said President Jones.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "craving the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given Laxative-Senna in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your Laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this Laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even sickly children love the taste of this pleasant family Laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your druggist today. Try one Laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

NOT MUCH CHANCE for you to go clocking different brands of motor oil to prove which one flows fastest in Eskimo season. Yet the quicker the lubrication at every cold start, the less "dry rub" on delicate surfaces in your engine. Then why not change now to Conoco Nth oil for Winter and shun any bets on which oil flows fast, faster or fastest? For you get an OIL-PLATED engine from patented Conoco Nth motor oil, and OIL-PLATING is high up in the cylinders to fight fierce grind, much sooner than any plain oil-flow alone could even start wiggling.

Conoco Nth oil, you see—all in addition to speedy flow—fastens OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if by "magnetic attraction." This close-bonded OIL-PLATING doesn't all yearn to drain down—not the whole night long. So it's up to its topmost point before you even touch the starter—and that's "faster than fast," to aid you toward anti-friction starting, whatever the weather gets to be.

Even up in Iceland, of course, any engine's normal firing is hotter than the Land of the Hottentots. Yet you don't want to "burn up the oil." And Conoco Nth oil proved that it could last for more than twice the mileage averaged by the other big-name brands of oil that competed in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. When all five other quality brands in this certified test were used up—engines ruined as each strict 5-quart fill gave out—the Conoco Nth oil that competed under identical conditions was still up at 2.7 quarts! Certified!

A known economy record... plus a known aid to safe prompt starting... when you change to Conoco Nth for Winter OIL-PLATING, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Today, Continental Oil Company

Aluminum Is Big Problem

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Win, lose or draw, "Mother Russia" has astonished the world—air-minded Germany most of all—by hatching a brood of furiously fighting eagles: The Red Air Force. Success or failure for the Soviet—with all its implications for Britain and this country—will depend on the Russians' ability to "keep 'em flying."

This is the most important simple truth behind the welter of conflicting communications and muddled maps from the battle front. And information just received here indicates that the Nazis are now making a prodigious effort to clip Russia's wings, to ground the Red Air Force. If they succeed, Russia is beaten.

Red Air Force Good
Important though the present Nazi effort on the ground may be, this information indicates that partial success on the battlefield will only speed the final phase of the battle of Russia. In that phase, the battle of the air, the final decision will rest on the strategy of translating raw materials into air power.

Those above are but a few of the thousands of parachutists in the Red Air Force, schooled by an air-minded Russia that saw the potentialities of paratroops long before Germany did.

The crushingly superior air power of the German Luftwaffe, more than any single military factor, has settled the fate of virtually every country in Europe save Britain. This war has shown that against such crushing air superiority no army, no nation, can survive. The Russians have survived thus far because the astonishing Red Air Force has done almost as good a job in crossing up the Luftwaffe as has Britain's RAF.

Fought Like "Maniacs"
Aided by Russia's poor roads and marauding guerrillas, Russia's eagles have made the Nazi planes do double duty—as transports for men and supplies; and as artillery. The Red Air Force pulled out of the hat new types of planes, especially fighters, that flew around the Nazis' vaunted Messerschmitts like Britain's Spit-fires and Hurricanes have done. And the men at their controls were spittiers in action. They were well-trained airmen who fought so desperately that even the fanatical Nazi pilots, flabbergasted, saluted them as "maniacs." The Reds might keep on flabbergasting them but for one thing—aluminum.

You can't make fighting planes without aluminum. But the Russians have never produced enough of it. What they have come mostly from the Dnieper and Leningrad areas now captured or encircled. It was fabricated largely around Moscow, now encircled by panzers and bombers. The Soviet capital is also the heart of the aviation industry itself—to the dangerously high proportion of 60 per cent of the total. Hitler need only take Moscow or Leningrad to cause havoc.

Hasty Measures Taken
The remaining bauxite deposits (aluminum's most important ore) in the Urals will not suffice, say British and American authorities. They estimate that today Russia has lost 75 to 90 per cent of her capacity for producing and fabricating aluminum. Reserves are reported not large, though the Soviet has been importing some.

So now Russia and Britain are taking hasty measures. Russia is moving manufacturing machinery out of Moscow and sending new icebreakers to Archangel, whither, since the Finns hold the shorter Murmansk route, Britain is rushing aluminum. American aluminum men here report discussions of increasing shipments of our aluminum and planes.

Stalin Takes Interest
Fortunately Russia's airmen and workmen are familiar with American types of aircraft. Stalin personally takes a keen interest in aviation. He may have purged Russian designers but he has not discarded American ideas or planes. His dive-bombers include modified Vultees as well as improved Russian Chatoes. Among his medium bombers is a new type of rebuilt Douglas DC-3 airliner. His naval flyers have not only Martins, Douglases, and Vought-Sikorskys but Consolidated PBV flying boats resembling our Navy's patrol bombers.

Boast 25,000 Planes
Some say Russia's new heavy bombers match our flying fortresses with 300-mile speed, 3,700-mile range, two gun turrets and a good bomb load. Some giants have six motors. But Russian heavy bombers generally have proven slow and disappointing. Not so their new secret fighters, I-18, 20 and 21. These planes, mounting two cannon and six machine guns, have revealed speeds of 340 to plus 400 miles an hour.

Today, probably 25,000 planes fly the Red Star—10,000 first line. By speeding up production after the Finnish war, Russia started to overtake the Luftwaffe. The USSR was air-minded before Germany. In 1921 Osoaviakhim, a sort of Young Men's Flying association, began catching them early, fascinating young boys and girls with models and gliders until 20 million have gone through 1,500 flying schools. It was the Osoaviakhim women who developed the parachute troop idea which Germany so successfully borrowed. And Russia still claims more parachutists than Germany.

The Red Air Force is well schooled. Every airman—pilot, observer, gunner—can fly; every pilot can bomb.

Civil aviation claims more airway mileage over Russia's vast spaces than it does even in this country. Transport planes and pilots have gone to war, too. The planes fly ammunition to guerrillas behind the Nazi lines. The peacetime Moscow-Berlin pilots still fly Berlinward—now carrying with bombs.

But Russian aviation is stronger in the air than in factories. It takes twice the number of workmen to do any given production job in Russia as it takes in Germany. And then the job is cruder. Through skilled workers have been reinforced by conscripted boys, and though recent American observers are pleasantly surprised at factory conditions, output was recently estimated at less than a thousand planes a month—only half ours for all our delays.

Which helps explain what an aluminum shortage would mean to Russia, not for today's battle alone but for the whole war. If Russia loses aluminum and her planes are grounded, then Germany will race east to gain oil. Oil is the blitzkrieg fuel that today is the Nazi war machine's only crucial shortage.

BUICK BUILDS FOR DEFENSE

Our assignment: Building Ford & Whitney - value-in-kind through engine for defense use.

The buy for 1942 345???

WHEN we present this rugged Buick for 1942, we do so with no idea of "business as usual."

On the contrary, it is a decidedly unusual car built for unusual times, and you don't have to look far to see why.

Look at its frame—solid, substantial, husky, the sturdy sort of foundation every long-lasting structure must have.

Look at its drive—a durable one-piece steel shaft in a tightly-sealed full length torque tube.

Look at the springs—all-coil springs, that never lose their easy comfort.

Look at the new broadrim wheels that not only steady the ride but get maximum life from tires.

Look at the power plant. A valve-in-head straight-eight, with FIREBALL design—plus the top range-with-thrift of Compound Carburetion†.

Look at oil-cushioned bearings that go twice as long in engineers' tests under the same weight and load.

So—no matter how many years in your yardstick, lay them out beside Buick. See how this rugged traveler takes their measure with plenty to spare!

No other car has ALL THIS FOR YOU IN '42

- FIREBALL STRAIGHT-EIGHT VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE
- COMPOUND CARBURETION (standard on most models)
- OIL-CUSHIONED CRANKSHAFT PINS AND JOURNALS
- STURDI-LITE CONNECTING RODS * STEPPON PARKING BRAKE * BROADRIM WHEELS * FULLY ADJUSTABLE STEERING POST * BODY BY FISHER * WEATHERWARDEN VENTI-HEATER (accessory)

Hitler Seeking Turkish Military Cooperation For Soviet Battle

Turks Able To Strike Blow

BY FRED VANDERSCHMIDT
Journal War Analyst

While Turkey celebrates the 19th anniversary of the Republic, two Turk generals, ironically enough, have been visiting Adolf Hitler on the Russian front.

Turkish generals do not refuse invitations like this these days. But the Germans quite frankly say they "gave them an impressive picture of the achievements and successes of German troops and their Allies." Then the Turkish generals, Ali Fuad Erden and Huseyn Erkilet, had tea in Hitler's tent.

Nazi Allies Receiving Credit

It is easy to imagine what the German Fuehrer told them. For some days, the German high command has been showing Rumanians, Italians and Hungarians into the bloody battle of south Russia, and giving them frequent pats on the back in the daily communiques. Rumanians were permitted to take most of the credit for the capture of Odessa, and thus Rumanian military pride was given a strong hypodermic. Italian arms got a much needed compliment for reported advances in the Donets basin; a few days later the Hungarians, in turn, were credited with helping out in the same area.

So, this was a fine time for Hitler to tell the Turkish military men: "See—look what you could do if you were with us!"

Of Extreme Value

Turkey's two million bayonets could be of extreme value henceforth to the German army, which is occupied now from Murnansk to the Black Sea.

A Turkish thrust into Georgia would put a tremendous squeeze on the natural defenses of the Caucasus; a Turkish lunge into the Russian forces now manning the Leningrad-Turk front, would disrupt any plans of Britain and Russia for defense of the Caucasus by a joint British-Russian force; it would delay if not wreck the system which is being set up to get supplies to Russia via Iran.

Has Unhappy Memories

Any such Turkish-German military cooperation would bring much closer the day when Hitler's armies could swing in force through Asiatic Turkey and into Syria, in a scythe-like advance on Suez.

On the Turkish side, there is the unhappy memory of the Caucasian campaign of the last war, the unavenged defeat of the old Turkish army at the hands of the Russians in bitter winter campaigning, and the fact that the last peace deprived Turkey of such rich territorial prizes as the Russian oil port of Batum.

All this is perhaps premature and some of it even imaginative, since Turkey still has, on paper, a mutual assistance alliance with

Graduate Nurses Of Area Are To Gather

Business will be transacted and two motion pictures shown at a meeting of the district organization of Texas Graduate Nurses association in the chapel of First Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock.

The first picture shows the routine of a nurse, the other is an appeal for nurses to have insurance against the day when they become old.

The picture will be shown again at 8 o'clock Thursday morning in the same place.

All nurses, irrespective of whether they belong to the association, are invited to attend either or both meetings.

A temperance organization in England claims that the land now used for growing hops for brewers would grow 100,000 tons of potatoes and 2,400,000 bushels of oats.

Britain, and the British say—publicly at least—that they expect the Turks to stay friends.

But Turkey has a new friendship pact with Germany, conclusion of which barely preceded the German offensive on Russia, and there is no doubt but that Hitler has chosen this time to begin preliminary moves to get Turkey into an actual military alliance.

Mrs. Walker Nichols President Of Exes

Members of Lubbock county chapter of the Alumni and Ex-Students association of Texas Technological college elected Mrs. Walker Nichols president at a meeting in Lubbock hotel Tuesday night.

Other officers will be Edwin Butler, vice president; Miss Genevieve Whitte, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Hicks, reporter.

Bill Collins, retiring president, presided at the meeting. Lloyd Croslin, president of the Alumni association, addressed the chapter members, explaining functions of a chapter, including job-finding and assistance for the homecoming program Nov. 7 and 8. Tickets to the homecoming dance were distributed.

A meeting will be conducted next Wednesday night, it was announced. Collins and Walker Nichols will be program chairmen. Hop Halsey was named head of a committee to telephone chapter members.

Twenty-five persons were present.

DALLAS, Oct. 29.—High league highlights of the season's football highlights of the state high school football race this year and last. A year ago it was Amarillo against the field. The big Panhandle team was labeled invincible almost from the season's start. Sure enough, it was "Who's going to stop the Sandies?" everyone asked week after week as the Golden Sandstrom swirled on unchecked. Nobody did.

No Clear-Cut Standouts
Not so this year. There are a handful of teams which, so far, deserve a group ranking as "the best." Yet of them not one is a clear-cut standout over the others. Luckin stands out for good. But so does Corpus Christi. Or Sweetwater. Or Paris.

Eventually, when the district titles have been decided and the December playoffs begin, one team probably will emerge as "the team to beat."

But right now the interscholastic league's 22nd championship marathon is anybody's race.

Give 'Em Credit
Speaking of standouts, or the lack of them, few look upon this year's edition of the Amarillo Sandies as capable of repeating as state champions.

Let's give the Sandies credit, however, for extending one of the greatest records in the history of Texas schoolboy football.

Amarillo has had close squeaks this season—but the important thing is that the Sandies have not been beaten. They are riding the crest of a winning wave numbering 20 straight games, and under the combined leadership of Blair Cherry, their old coach, and Bull Lynch, their present one, have compiled a 10-year record that is a record.

Lubbock Did It
One blustery day back in 1931 Lubbock beat Amarillo 7 to 0 and won the title of district-1. Since then, in 10 years' hard campaigning, the Sandies have lost to Texas teams just five times. Masonic Home whipped them in 1932, in the semi-finals, 7-6. Then they put together a 27-game winning streak and though they once were shoved out of the district because of an ineligible player it was 1937 before a Texas team beat them again. That year they did it to the tune of 33-0. The Sandies won their district, nevertheless, but were beaten 21-6 by Wichita Falls in the playoffs. Lubbock turned the trick in 1938 and repeated Thanksgiving day, 1939, with a 9-7 victory.

But those were all.

Paris Also Tough
Another team boasts a fine streak. The Paris Wildcats whose backfield combination of Beryl Haty and Bucky Sheffield is a sort of high school edition of Jack Crain-Pete Layden teamwork, have not been outscored in 19 straight. Eighteen of those games the Wildcats won; the other, a quarterfinal clash last year with Masonic Home, ended 7-7, but the Masons won on penetrations.

DeCorrevont And Sweiger Will Be Trying For Starring Roles Both Players Have Meant Victory For Their Respective Teams In The Past

(By The Associated Press)
MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 29.—A pair of yardage-minded ball-carriers will be back trying for repeat performances when Minnesota and Northwestern tangle in one of the nation's football classics here Saturday.

They are Bill DeCorrevont, one-time victim of too many nice words with the Wildcats, and Minnesota's rock-ribbed line-defender, Bob Sweiger.

Ballyhooed as a young world-beater in 1939, DeCorrevont found the handicap a tough one in his sophomore season—except against the Gophers. In that game, he further mangled a badly mangled Minnesota season, by sprinting some 50 odd yards for a touchdown that provided a 14-7 victory margin.

Sweiger had his turn last year it was Sweiger's turn in a tight tussle at Evanston, with

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The football bookies risked a bad beating by making Navy a 15-10 favorite over Penn before last week's tie with Harvard. They're even money now . . . BUT IT COMES to a showdown between you duck hunters and the federal warden, you can't hold responsible for not rectifying the duck hunting rules. They appeared in this column two or three weeks ago, and here they are again, as if you didn't know:

The legal duck and goose hunting season for this part of the country begins at sunrise on Sunday, November 2, or next Sunday. The day's shooting ends, according to law, at 4 o'clock the same day, and every day thereafter through the last day of December, or the last day of this year. Sunrise to 4 p. m. — don't forget that.

Neither should you forget that the daily bag limit for ducks is 10 in the aggregate (including only one wood duck and not more than three either or both of redheads and buffleheads); for geese, three in the aggregate; three additional blue-geese only, or a total of not more than six blue geese if no other geese are taken. If you fail to determine the difference, before you shoot, between redheads, buffleheads, blue or white geese, and woe unto you if you don't see the pigment of their feathers before you shoot.

Both Run Up Heavy Scores Figures Compiled On Loop Leaders

(By The United Press)

The Texas Longhorns and the Texas Aggies, the Southwest conference's two all-conquering teams, have one thing in common—they win by top-heavy scores—but their methods are different.

The Longhorns like to run with the ball, the Aggies like to throw it.

Statistics compiled at Texas A. & M. showed today that for every five yards the Longhorns have gained through the air, they have advanced the ball 14 on the ground.

Aggies Best At Passing
Conversely, the Aggies have made nine yards with passes for each six yards the ball has gone forward on running plays.

Texas' ground attack has brought the Longhorns the amazing total of 1,396 yards in five games. The S. M. U. Mustangs are second in the conference with 779 yards; and its completion average is even better than A. & M.'s. Texas has made good 46 of 80 passes for a 57.5 average.

Killing Frost Fails To Hit

Heavy clouds and a light wind during the night removed a probable threat of an earlier than normal date of first frost...

Tuesday's maximum temperature was 61 degrees. Average date of first killing frost for the station is Nov. 4...

At midnight the mercury, according to the U. S. weather bureau at Texas Technological college, was down to 43 degrees...

Farmers expected to resume harvesting today. Heavy dews during the past several weeks have delayed most farmers from getting into their fields...

A 6 o'clock reading of the thermometer at the sub-station was 43 degrees. Jones said that in clear weather the thermometer dropped 15 to 20 degrees...

The earliest frost on record, Jones said, was Oct. 19. "We have recorded two that early, but both were before 1920. The first killing freeze last year was Nov. 11."

The official forecast by the United States Weather Bureau for West Texas was for continued cloudy, unsettled weather with little change in temperature.

Estimated 20 to 30 per cent of the cotton in the county open. K. N. Clapp, associated with Anderson-Clayton & Co., estimated half of the South Plains crop south of Lubbock was open...

The destruction of much of the leafy growth of the cotton, Jones pointed out, had hurt the fiber of the cotton. The lack of leaves, damaged by fungus diseases, has resulted in a shortage of starch in the cotton, damaging the fiber.

Cool Weather To Continue Jones said a light frost, which would stop growth, would help the crop, particularly if the killing frosts were delayed, giving the matured bolls time to open.

Russia Gets First Call On Munitions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Soviet Russia has first call today on munitions—planes, tanks and guns—which were ordered originally for the U. S. army.

The army will have to relinquish claims for prior delivery on much equipment so that there will be no delay in carrying forward the Russia-aid program, authoritative sources said.

Some officials believed that so far as aircraft is concerned, that procedure may delay equipment for the 84 combat groups which it is proposed to set up in the army air forces.

Although no official disclosure has been made of the details of the Russian-aid program developed at the recent Moscow conference, defense officials said these were among the general understandings:

1. United States aid to Britain not to be curtailed as the result of the program to supply Russia with war materials.

2. Britain to contribute a share of its own arms production to Russia.

3. An "open end" program, making it possible for Russia to augment its list of present requirements.

How Russian aid will be financed, but an official suggested that present arrangements—treasury and Reconstruction Finance corporation loans against future deliveries of Soviet gold and raw materials—will be continued for a while.

There is a good chance, it was said, that some of the new $5,000,000 lend-lease funds now available may be used to help the Russians.

Agricultural production in Japan increased over $12,000,000 in the last year.

FINES ARE ASSESSED IN COURT HEARINGS

Judgments aggregating $275 in fines, exclusive of costs, were filed this morning by County Judge G. V. Pardue.

Those named in judgments, some of them having entered pleas several days ago, were: Sam Harle, fined $100 and costs of court; W. L. Dulin, $100 and costs, judgment to be deferred until Feb. 1; and Frank Johnson, Lester Ward and Charles Clifton, $25 and costs each.

Records showed that one case had been dismissed and that another will be; that three check law violation charges had been placed on the dormant docket, one for theft, because no arrest had been made of defendants.

Two cases against Norma Parks, both charging liquor law violation, were continued until the next term of court because of the absence of a defense witness, said Ralph Brock, county attorney.

Fines of $100 and costs were assessed Tuesday against two defendants in liquor cases, and a third defendant was acquitted by a jury.

J. B. Fowler was found guilty by a jury of J. Q. Alvey, F. C. McArthur, G. R. Kennedy, J. O. Green, Bill Lamb and M. H. Williams. Two other cases against Fowler were continued, said Ralph Brock, county attorney.

Clifford Brown of Lubbock entered a plea of guilty and was fined $100 and costs by Judge G. V. Pardue.

A jury composed of A. H. Grigsby, Bill Lamb, J. O. Green, J. G. Burdett, M. H. Williams and A. H. Gearhart found Norma Parks innocent of a liquor law violation charge.

One thing is certain: You must have on you a duck stamp before you go round shooting ducks or geese. These cost a buck a piece, and you can buy one for your stamp collection even if you don't go out duck shooting.

The law also says: "Before hunting wild ducks, geese or brant a hunter must validate his stamp by signing his name in ink across the face of it," and such stamps, when properly validated, are "not transferable," same as passes to the circus.

ball carriers. Layden has gained 324 yards in 40 times with the ball. Crain's net gain is 277 yards in 33 tries. The "Jackrabbit" has a slight edge in average—8.39 yards per carry to Layden's 8.1.

Crain leads the scorers with 50 points; six touchdowns and 14 conversions. Cullen Rogers of the Aggies and Jack Wilton of Baylor are next with 36 each. Of note, however, is Jake Webster's record. The big Aggie placekicker hasn't crossed the goal-line yet but is among the scoring leaders with 22 successful extra points.

Wilson Leading Punter Wilson is the conference's leading punter, averaging 41.2 yards. Other leaders: Punt returns—Ross, Arkansas, 20-yard average on six returns.

Passers—Moser, Aggies, 36 completions of 67 passes for net 473 yards gain.

more than two days' bag limit of ducks or geese, and this goes for transportation, etc.

There are too many ifs and ands to cope with here, so to be safe you better send a caddy over to the federal office to bring back the load of "abbreviated" hunting laws.

The same caddy should drop by the state and county offices and take another caddy along with him to bring the laws from those offices.

So far as we have been able to ascertain, there is no rule against shooting at a duck, any duck, with a 20-gauge shotgun, loaded with No. 8 shot, at a distance of 200 yards. But you better be sure the gun is plugged so it won't hold more than three shells, chamber and magazine. Better check up on that guess, too, with your lawyer.

CHAPTER TEN PAM TO THE RESCUE Pam stepped back—so his hands couldn't quite touch hers. "You couldn't have anything to say to me that I'd want to listen to, Jerry. I think I'd better go in, now that you've untangled yourselves from my garden."

There'll Be No Panic If The Theorists Have Their Way

Planners Busy Working On Post-War Problems

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—In the very middle, or maybe it's only the beginning, of all this confusion over the readjustments of the defense effort, it may seem silly to worry about the readjustments of the post-war period, but since you aren't considered normal these days unless you're worrying about something, it's just as convenient to enlarge the acreage of your field spot worrying about the future as it is to confine yourself exclusively to present predicaments. So, putting a way your mournful oboe and un-sheathing the piping piccolo, here are random notes about the way the readjustments for peace are beginning to be worried about in Washington.

There'll Be No Panic If The Theorists Have Their Way

Planners Busy Working On Post-War Problems

One of the commonest complaints these days is that while these times are tough and while the depression was disastrous, the post-war country will be putting a worse than both put together. But after the war, look out for the deluge. War debts will be terrific, employment will sluff off, all these new-defense factories will have to shut down, Europe will be starving and it will be up to the western hemisphere to feed the world and rebuild bombed cities and never mind about the bill. So runs this forecast of doom.

The Plainsman

Incidentally, Lubbock soon will have opportunity of seeing another great picture, although there has been no announcement as these lines are written. The Lindsey has signed up for "Citizen Kane," movie brainchild of Orson Welles, which still is playing in many theatres. In just when "Citizen Kane" allegedly based upon the life and career of William Randolph Hearst, will show here is yet to be decided.

HUMOR

HUMOR has a habit of popping up in the damndest places. To wit: For months now, all employees of the War department in Washington have had to wear identification buttons, very much like those being worn by employees at the Lubbock Air base except the picture of each individual worker. The theory is, of course, that guards will watch the identification buttons and refuse entrance to all without them.

Today's Thought

Let us not therefore judge one another any more; but judge thus rather, that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way. — Romans 14:13

BAD MEDICINE LAST

THE most optimistic of these pessimists is that for a couple years after the armistice, if God speed it, business may be pretty good, for industry will have to do a lot of catching up producing the automobiles, refrigerators, radios, washing machines and such stuff the country will not be producing in this era of defense production. But after the few years, look out for the deluge. War debts will be terrific, employment will sluff off, all these new-defense factories will have to shut down, Europe will be starving and it will be up to the western hemisphere to feed the world and rebuild bombed cities and never mind about the bill. So runs this forecast of doom.

WASHINGTON ALMS

WASHINGTON hotels are beginning to raise rates. . . . United Auto workers program for meeting defense unemployment problems calls simply for increase of unemployment insurance, payment of full wages to learners, increased WPA appropriation and a moratorium on the debts of workers laid off. . . . Fluttering of pigeons' wings is used to separate ergot from rye at the Staten Island foreign trade zone. . . . Rhode Island is the only state with persons and more for each square mile. . . . John Curtin, Australia's new labor prime minister, is a member of the newspapermen's union.

Cuba shipped nearly 2,000,000 pounds of crude glycerin to the United States in the first six months of this year.

JACK DIDN'T THINK WE'D TAKE HIM UP

Jack didn't think we'd take him up. But when we countered with a plan to invite Jack and Eze Eye and John and Al and the rest of the boys to take over this space on successive Mondays, Jack got scared to death.

ADD OBITUARIES

We list his name among the dead—He used his horn but not his head!

HARDWORKING JERRY MALIN

HARDWORKING Jerry Malin, news editor of the Amarillo News, morning and the Amarillo Globe, evening, is the most fairly impartial sports writer The Plainsman knows about. Perhaps there are other sports writers over the country who are Mr. Malin's equal in impartial writing. But it's a cinch he has no superior in this regard.

Freda's Act

"Let's go in, Pam. I must talk to you," he said finally. There were things he wanted to settle. But Freda's voice cut through the soft Florida night. "Go into that house and I'll scream. I'll sound your car siren and scream for you so all Key West will know you're in there with her, Jerry Winthrop! And this isn't nice hour for a girl to have callers!"

President Roosevelt's

President Roosevelt's speeches, on the other hand, are never reported as news. Phrases are lifted from the text and the editorial writers go to work with "vigor and inventiveness." Example: The Zwoelf Uhr Uhr (Twelve o'Clock News) recently carried a front page streamer headline which read, "Mr. Roosevelt—You Are a Liar."

AN EXTREMIST SOLUTION

An extremist solution to the problem is that the country should be permitted to go through a period of uncontrolled inflation which would in effect permit the payment of the defense bills with the cheap currency, wiping all other clean and letting everything start all over again on a new basis. That is of course jungle law thinking, for any such program would wipe out all savings and eliminate the over-the-hill middle class the same time.

Both these stiffs have merely scratched the surface. They have nothing definite to report and it is a safe bet they will come up with no single panacea to make everything other than resort to soft tactics—the survival of the strong and sacrifice of the weak.

ANY SUCH CHANGE IN THE APPROACH TO THE POST-WAR PROBLEMS

ANY such change in the approach to the post-war problems naturally can not be effective if it takes the form of ivory tower planning from the top down. It's easy of course, to wish for world stability and say that it would be a nice thing to do. Doing anything constructive to believe that end is something else. Perhaps the most concrete expression of the theory is found in point IV of the Atlantic charter drawn up by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill. You will probably be hearing more and more about this point which provides for the "enjoyment" of the world by all states, "great or small, victor or vanquished."

The Love Of Pam

Idently at her eyes with the back of her hand. Freda mustn't see her crying. She was not sure she understood what Freda had just been saying. It might merely be more of her brittle young smartness. It might be Freda's idea of fun to trap her into further signs of affection for Jerry and then scoff at her.

"You — you must be frozen," Pam said not quite steadily. "I'll — I'll make some tea."

Gift From Freda

She hurried from the room. In the kitchen she found Melita in a crisp, fresh house dress. Its colorful pattern was blurred by the mist in Pam's dark eyes.

"Oh, Melita, it's so early. You shouldn't be up!"

"Hush, bambi," gently from Melita. "If it is early for Melita, twice early is it for her bambi."

"Look — the tea — things from Pam's hands. Tea, bambi? And strong?"

"Please. The China, Melita. With lime. And get the pretty cups Grandis brought from India."

"Yes. And now dry your eyes and go back to your strange company. I'll bring the tea."

Pam went back to Freda, a smile-wavering over her stricken young face.

"I hope you've forgiven me this tonight," Freda had the grace to beg in an humble voice.

Before Pam could reply, Melita glided in with tea things on a beautiful old silver tray. Freda glanced at Melita in surprise.

"Oh I'm sorry you had to help your help up," she said to Pam. "But I didn't," Pam said as she served the tea. "Melita just got up and came down. She's like that."

"Yes — Freda took the cup from Pam — she would. Your help would be like that. That's what I mean about you, Pam. You and Jerry. That's what I was trying to tell you."

"I'm afraid I don't know what you're talking about, though," Pam said.

"I mean, Pam, the difference between you and me. You're well, people would love you because you love them. It's the way with Jerry — You love him. You love him with such a selfishness. So you can give him what I never can. And I have my decent, generous moments, Pam, really I do. And I like Jerry too well to cheat him out of the happiness you can give him. See what I mean?"

Pam wondered if she did it. It was really hearing Freda's words and understanding them rightly.

"I," she said hesitantly, "I'm not sure."

Freda caught something of the doubt and distrust in Pam's eyes.

"I'm being honest with you, Pam. You can believe me. Jerry asked me for his ring. I'm going to give it to him. He's a good egg. I don't know that, he quite deserves you, but he certainly deserves better than a thrill-hound like me."

"I don't believe we can sit here and dispose of Jerry's future like this between us," Pam said quietly.

"After all, he'll take the woman he wants — if she'll have him."

"And that woman will be you. Take him, Pam. Don't let any hurt pride or anything keep you from it. Jerry's worth it, believe me. I've known him all my life, you see. Jerry needs someone like you. Don't let Lenore get you down."

"But I don't know why you're telling me all this," Pam said.

"Because I don't want you to miss the chance of a lifetime. I mean the chance to get Jerry. Winthrop."

American Use Of British Bases After War Asked

Doctrines For Peace Mapped

(By The United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—The United States was understood today to have asked Great Britain to make all British bases available for American use after the war.
The request was part of a broad program presented by the United States to Britain and China, in connection with lend-lease arrangements, to provide guarantees for a better world after the war.
Doctrines Are Listed
Post-war doctrines, in addition to use of bases, to which the United States has asked Britain to subscribe were said to include:
1. Removal of excessive trade restrictions.
2. Non-discrimination in international commercial relations.
3. Non-discriminatory use of raw materials.
4. Willingness to regulate supplies of commodities to protect interests of consumer nations and people.
5. International finance to aid essential enterprises and contribute to continuous development of all countries.

Eight men were to report from the two Lubbock boards today. Tomorrow, four negroes from the county, the only ones in the call, will report. Twenty-two counties were represented in today's schedule, and on Thursday there will be 27 counties represented, all of them from the North Plains.

Under a new set-up, selectees will be given a thorough medical examination from 20 to 30 days before they are to be called. Those who pass the tests, a regular army medical examination, will have approximately three weeks in which to close up their personal affairs before being inducted into the army. If they fail to pass the examination, they will not have to make definite plans for their army service, Major Peller pointed out.

Major O. W. English is expected to be in charge of the board of examiners. Capt. Clement Jayson of Fort Bliss, one of the regular army examiners there, will be here. Dr. M. B. Watkins is to be the eye, ear, nose and throat specialist on the board and Dr. G. H. Aker, the dental examiner.

Counties are the number of men to be sent here Wednesday, include: Burden, one; Cochrane, one; Cottle, one; Crosby, four; Fisher, two; Floyd, two; Hale, one; Haskell, four; Hockley, four; Jones, three; Kent, one; board 1, Lubbock, two; board 2, Lubbock, six; Lynn, two; Michael, three; Molley, one; Nolan, two; Scurry, three; Stonehall, one; Terry, four; Yoakum, three.

Shortage of coal has curtailed many railway cars in Sweden.

Draftees Are Called Here

Selective service men who expect to be called into military service next month, began arriving this morning for a physical examination at the El Paso district army recruiting office in the federal building here, said Major Joseph R. Peller, district officer in charge.

Army Men Are Here

Capt. Everett W. Bright of Fort Bliss induction center—formerly stationed here, headed a group of six enlisted men and a medical officer, who will assist Sgt. R. A. Jackson, chief clerk, and his staff, including Sgts. L. L. Strawbridge and Jack N. Costello, and a force of "NYA" clerks: Corporals Leo Cavthron, Jr., of Amarillo and H. M. Gist of Pampa, are here to assist also.

majority going bare-legged... These shortages, by the way, add to the romantic appeal of soldiers returning from occupied lands with shoes and stockings purchased with phony marks... Needless to say, the soldiers themselves wear handsome leather boots... Suits and dresses are a great problem, too, because of the lack of wool. The government runs drives for old clothing and rags, and the wool salvaged from this junk is then mixed with synthetic woolsens. They add up to suits and dresses which do not wear well and fit like so many ehreads.

CONDITIONS in the occupied countries... The German people are completely unaware of the revolts flaring in these lands, with the exception of Yugoslavia... That nation has been seething so long it was impossible to keep the news from leaking out. As far as the Germans know, all occupied lands were under the domination of Communists, and the Nazis and Quistings are busy eradicating these evils... However, they can see that much of the food, fruits, vegetables, etc., which they are now getting comes from the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Greece, Norway and Denmark. Thus they know that they are being fed before the miserably conquered are. The duration of the war... Learning, albeit slowly, how tough a nut the Russians have turned out, the German people are figuring on at least five more years of war. They feel that ultimate victory over the Soviet Union will require a long, long time. And sadly enough, they realize that, even if victory comes, the life in revitalized England and an awakened giant, the United States.

Assistance Of Tech To Get Men Asked

Assistance of Texas Technological college in obtaining men to assist in operation of industrial branches of the division of civilian supply of the Office of Production Management has been asked in a letter received at Lubbock from Joseph L. Weiner, deputy director of the division.
Men between 30 and 55 who are graduate engineers and economists and have had experience in production and sales of commodities, public contact and can carry on independent work in connection with national defense problems as they affect civilian supply were invited to address Norris B. Gaddess, acting executive officer of the division of civilian supply, GPM, Washington, D. C., about jobs in branches concerned with pulp and paper, printing and publicity, lumber and building materials, plumbing and heating, allotment of farm equipment and transportation, rubber and rubber products, electrical appliances and consumers' durable goods, industrial machinery and state and local government requirements.

ABOUT "TIME"

In olden days, time was given out to those who had no time-measuring devices by the ringing of bells and our word clock comes from "cloche," meaning bell.

AAA Officers To Meet Here

Plans seeking to increase food and feed production during the national emergency will be discussed at a district conference of Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials here Thursday and Friday, according to an announcement Tuesday.
First of the sessions to continue through Friday will open at 9 o'clock Thursday morning in Lubbock hotel, said Walter Y. Wells, AAA administrator.

Wide Area Represented
Representatives of the 19 counties of the South Plains district will attend. Delegates will include members of county AAA committees, administrative officers and one or two clerks in county offices, it was explained.

Campaign Is Planned
Wells said he was inviting all of the six community committees of the county to attend. Beginning Monday, a campaign to secure farmers to sign up for the program will start. Details are to be worked out Thursday.
Friday's meeting will include all government agencies cooperating, including besides the AAA and extension service, Farm Security Administration, U. S. soil conservation service, surplus marketing administration, Farm Bureau Federation, state department of vocational education, and farmers cooperative groups.

C. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent and Harvie D. Pool, his assistant; Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent and her assistant, Miss Mona Keeter, also will attend. Robert H. Gibson, assistant to Wells, will attend.

Farm-To-Farm Canvass

Chairman C. E. Lilley of the AAA committee, who is also county U. S. D. A. defense board head, will preside at a meeting of his group to discuss the sign-up campaign next week.
"We will undertake a farm-to-farm canvass in the food production pledge sign-up," said Lilley. "Farmers in the county will be asked to produce their share of the foods which are needed for defense and for aid to the nations resisting aggression."
"We are undertaking the greatest food production job in the history of the world. We have the goals to meet and we will meet them. I believe the farmers of this county will go all-out in their effort to do their share in the food-for-freedom campaign."
