Famous English Warship, Ark Royal, Finally Sunk

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 14.—The three-year-old $16,000,000 aircraft carrier Ark Royal was torpedoed late yesterday east of Gibraltar, probably by an Italian submarine, and sank early today despite a desperate effort to bring the listing giant safely to port.

She carried down with her an undisclosed number of men of her crew of about 1,600 men who remained aboard in the struggle to save the ship.

"A very large number of the ship's company was taken off," the admiral said, and indications were that personnel losses were "fortunately not heavy."

The story of the sinking pieced together from the admiral's brief announcement and word in authoritative quarters was that the Ark Royal was not in action when she was torpedoed and that she was en route to Gibraltar.

The strong suggestion was that an Italian submarine was the victor, although there was no positive identification.

Worked To The End
Many of the company remained aboard after the hit or hits and helped to keep the Ark Royal afloat in low, during the hours of darkness as she listed further and further. Many worked to the very end. She finally rolled under the sea east of Gibraltar and safety.

The loss was belated fulfillment of many a German claim, since the beginning of the war, that the carrier had been sunk.

Third Aircraft Carrier Lost
She was the third aircraft carrier lost by Britain in the war and the new of them all.

Loss of the Ark Royal was the greatest single blow suffered by the British navy since the sinking of the battle cruiser Hood, by the German battleship Bismarck, between Greenland and Iceland last May 24.

The loss of the Ark Royal left the British, however, with more aircraft carriers than they had at the start of the conflict—seven in commission and two scheduled for completion in 1942, as indicated by the annual Jane's fighting ships.

One Repaired In U. S.
Those believed in operation are the Eagle, 22,600 tons, and the Furious, 22,450, both converted battleships; the 23,000-ton Illustrious, which has been repaired after a pounding in the Mediterranean; the "Illustrated" new sisterhips, the Victorious, Formidable and Indomitable, and the small, 10,850-ton Hermes which carries 15 planes.

Scheduled for completion in 1942 and possibly completed after the war.

U. S. Far East Forces Are To Give Up Posts

FDR Says America Aware Of Crisis In Pacific Area

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Roosevelt announced today the United States government had decided to withdraw American marines from Shanghai, Tientsin and Peiping, China.

That will take all the American marines out of China, the chief executive told a press conference.

About 970 of them have been stationed in the three cities. The president would not discuss capital speculation about the withdrawal of the troops being linked with efforts to obtain a better understanding between this country and Japan.

Hopes For Settlement
He said he had no definite plans yet to see Japan's special envoy, Saburo Kurusu, who is flying to the United States to discuss the Far Eastern situation.

Asked whether he thought war could be avoided in the Pacific, Mr. Roosevelt said he certainly hoped so.

But he declined to give a yes or no answer to an inquiry regarding how this might be done.

No One Knows Answer
If he said no, he remarked, somebody might use interpretation on his answer. And if he said yes, he added, it would be pure guessing. He said he did not know, his questioner did not, and neither did any interpreter.

In response to another question Mr. Roosevelt said he thought the American people were aware of the seriousness of the problem in the Far East. But he said it was difficult to answer whether anyone overrated its seriousness.

He asked what "overrated" meant and what "seriousness" meant in that connection.

"It might be war," a reporter remarked.

Mr. Roosevelt said he sincerely trusted not.

The president was handed a memorandum during the conference by acting Press Secretary William D. Hassett, which he read. It said the government had decided to take marine detachments which have been maintained ashore out of the three Chinese cities. He said submarines operating on the Yangtze river would not be affected because they were naval forces.

San Antonio Man Is Named State Auditor
AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—C. H. Cavness of San Antonio was appointed state auditor today by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and will take office on Jan. 1.

Mr. Cavness was appointed for a term to end Sept. 13, 1943. He will succeed Buford D. Battle of Longview, who was chosen by former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.

Stanolind May Buy Oil Lands
FORT WORTH, Nov. 14.—The Fort Worth Star-Telegram says the Stanolind Oil and Gas association, which has acquired large additional holdings in West Texas this year through purchase, Friday was negotiating with the Landreth Production corporation for the acquisition of its properties in the Permian basin. Consideration was being given.

Stanolind has been checking the properties lying in the North Cowden, Gotschmin and Penwell pools of Ector county, Taylor-Link pool of Pecos county, Ward county and Lea county, N. M. It is understood that Landreth's allowable production is 4,500 barrels daily from 189 producers.

Big Victories Are Reported For Russians

Nazi Siege Lines Broken; Furious Raids Launched

(By The Associated Press)
Russia's Red armies claimed the most extensive series of victories in the war with Germany today, covering every major theater from Rostov-on-Don in the far south to the frozen Arctic regions of Murmansk.

Only in the Crimea, by Soviet accounts, was the situation still critical.

Before Moscow, the Red armies pressing a furious counter-offensive were reported to have stormed and recaptured 20 villages in the past 24 hours in the Kainin sector, and German military dispatches admitted that the Russians were attacking "in considerable force" with tanks and infantry.

Nazi Almost Stalled
In the battle of Leningrad, the Soviet radio said Russian troops had broken clear through Nazi siege lines around the old czarist capital, which the Germans had said was virtually sealed off from the rest of the U. S. S. R.

At Rostov, guarding the northern approach to the Caucasus, the Russians said they had routed a motorized division of Hitler's elite guards. The entire Nazi drive in that key sector was reported all but stalled.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported, also that tanked German shock troops had been thrown back from the outskirts of Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow, after a bloody two-weeks battle.

The Germans were here yesterday, today only their corpses are here, Tass said.

The news agency said the Germans hurled 15 consecutive tank attacks at the little village of Rodezhnyy, on the southern outskirts of Tula, and gained a temporary foothold before being smashed back with heavy casualties.

Axis reaction to the revision of the U. S. neutrality act—lifting a two-year ban against American merchant ships—causing combat zones—was high-lighted by an explosive warning from Berlin.

Authorized Nazi quarters declared the next few days would show what a dangerous path the "Chamber officials said they expected the price money will be increased by other voluntary contributions to $75 or $100.

To Work Out Details
All details for the contest must be worked out and a committee for that purpose will be named within the next few days, officials added. Numerous suggestions in connection with the event already have been submitted, they said.

Meanwhile, officials urged again that block committees working for the general decorations in their downtown district make their reports without delay. Orders for all the decorations that will be required, they said, should be placed not later than Tuesday or Wednesday to insure delivery. About half of the decorations that will be required for this purpose already have been ordered.

Two Tremors Strike; Heavy Damage Likely

No Casualties Are Reported; Danger Of Fire Is Great

(By The United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Two of the heaviest earthquakes to strike the Los Angeles area in years today wrecked at least 100 small buildings and a huge oil storage tank, broke gas and water mains and damaged homes in the suburban Torrance-Gardena area.

"The whole business district is a shambles," said Torrance Chief of Police J. H. Stroh.

Hardly a building was left undamaged, and many were knocked flat. Most of the damage was in the business district. Many parked automobiles were crushed when store fronts fell into the street.

The quakes struck at 12:41 and 1:30 a. m. PST (2:41 and 3:30 a. m. CST) today, when theaters and business buildings were vacant. If they had come earlier there certainly would have been a casualty list, Stroh said, but he had received no reports of any deaths or serious injuries.

A gasoline storage tank broke and flooded Torrance Pueblo, a hamlet of about 150 Mexican families. The fire department ordered the Columbia Street company shut off its furnaces because the area was saturated with gasoline.

Residents were evacuated and housed in the Torrance auditorium.

Rubble Piled In Streets
The Torrance-Gardena area is between 15 and 17 miles southwest of the Los Angeles business district, and was the most severely affected area.

The entire business district was roped off and no one was allowed to enter as a precaution against looting and the danger of falling debris.

Rubble was piled high in the streets. Vehicles could not pass.

Danger Of Fire Great
The danger of a major conflagration in the debris was great. Gas mains broken by the shock sent their inflammable fumes over the scene and several thousand barrels of crude oil were spilled.

FDR Warns That "Coal Must Be Produced!"

"Government Will Never Force Non-Union Miners To Join Union," President Says

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Roosevelt, asking the CIO United Mine Workers and steel company heads to continue negotiations to avert a strike in the captive coal mines, told them today that "the government will never compel" the minority non-union miners affected by the dispute to join the union.

"I tell you frankly," he said, "that the government of the United States will not order, nor will Congress pass legislation ordering, a so-called closed shop."

Asks Report By Monday
The union is asking a union shop in the mines, which supply coal to steel mills busy on defense orders. Such an arrangement would require that all employees become members of the union after a probationary period.

The closed shop, in labor parlance, provides that the employer may not hire any man who is not a union member.

The president asked the mine union leaders and the steel representatives to give him a report on an agreement to continue production by Monday, or at least a progress report.

Direct Negotiations Planned
A spokesman for the mine workers announced soon afterward that they would accede to the request for three days of direct negotiation on the dispute.

The chief executive released a statement which declared unequivocally that the cessation of production of coal would create a further danger to American defense and that it was the "indefeasible obligation of the president" to see that "necessary coal production be continued and not stopped."

Legislation Chief Alternative
With no element of threat, the chief executive disclosed that he had told three representatives of the CIO and three of big steel firms in a White House conference that if legislation became necessary to keep coal production going, Congress would be asked to pass it.

The White House conference took place shortly after the policy committee of the CIO-United Mine Workers voted to continue the fight for a union shop in the captive mines, which supply the nation's big steel mills.

Axis Is Bitter At Neutrality Act's Repeal

(By The Associated Press)
Bitter reaction exploded in the capitals of the Axis alliance today over revision of the United States neutrality act, with the Germans declaring bluntly that the next few days would show what a dangerous path the American Congress had taken.

In Rome, Fascist quarters voiced a similar theme, asserting that Congress' action in permitting U. S. ships to enter the blockade zones soon would result in attacks on those vessels.

Stage Set For War
In Tokyo, Japanese attitude was expressed by the news agency Domei, which quoted well-informed circles as declaring that the revision "aggravates the situation not only in the Atlantic but in the Pacific" and that "the stage is set for commencement of a shooting war."

Authorized Berlin quarters charged President Roosevelt and with-drawing Congress by a false representation of facts, and said that in any case Germany would shoot at American ships carrying munitions.

British Acclaim Action
British public and press acclaimed the action as a step toward fuller American collaboration in the war. Authoritative quarters said that it would "refresh and reinvigorate the will of the British people to fight the war to victory" and that it had removed an obstacle which impeded fulfillment of America's determination to play a leading role in the overthrow of Hitlerism.

The London Evening News, in a typical comment, said it was "some of the great decisions of the war, a decision whose consequences tower into the future."

In Ottawa, Canada's Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King hailed it as "the handwriting on the wall."

Pioneer Texan Is Claimed By Death
FORT WORTH, Nov. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Taylor Noble, 83, granddaughter of the first white woman to settle in Dallas, died at her home early today.

She was the widow of the late Robert Noble, and aunt of Thomas E. Gouch, president of the Dallas Times-Herald.

Mrs. Noble was a resident of Fort Worth for 60 years. Her father, Col. Robert Taylor of Bonham, was a member of the 1860 Texas legislature which impeached Gov. Sam Houston for opposing Texas secession, which Taylor also opposed.

Taylor later became a law partner of J. W. Throckmorton, who became governor.

"Wolf Pack's" Savage Assault Is Described

Fifteen Survivors Of Bold Venture Are Ready To Go To Sea Again After Escape

(By The United Press)
BOSTON, Nov. 14.—Fifteen bedraggled survivors of the torpedoed American-owned freighter Bold Venture arrived here today with the story of how a "wolf pack" of about 15 submarines trailed their convoy in the North Atlantic and sank 13 ships within 72 hours.

So swiftly and savagely did the underwater fleet strike in the dark that the survivors expressed belief that the Bold Venture—one of the 13 ships sunk—would have been powerless even had she been armed.

Sank In 10 Minutes
Most of the 35 crew members of the Bold Venture, enroute from Baltimore to Liverpool, were in their bunks at 12:20 a. m. on Oct. 17 when the torpedo struck stern, opening a gaping hole and blowing the poop deck completely off.

The freighter sank within 10 minutes after being attacked 450 miles northwest of Ireland, the survivors said.

In addition to the 15 brought here from Reykjavik, Iceland by the S. S. Stone Street, two other survivors were taken to England. The remaining 18 crew members are believed to have perished.

Represented Many Points
Clad in rough seamen's garb provided by the Red Cross, the 15 survivors gave home addresses in the United States, Denmark, Canada, Norway and Finland. To a man, they expressed readiness to return to sea as soon as possible.

Donald MacLeod, 40, of Roxbury, N. H., was the only survivor to open a gaping hole and blowing the poop deck completely off.

The survivors said they were in the North Atlantic and sank 13 ships within 72 hours.

Yule Contest Planned Here

Plans for a Christmas-decorations test for downtown business establishments were announced at the chamber of commerce this morning.

The contest was suggested, chamber officials said, by Dr. J. C. Anderson of Anderson Bros. Jewelers, who posted $50 in cash for prizes.

Chamber officials said they expected the price money will be increased by other voluntary contributions to $75 or $100.

To Work Out Details
All details for the contest must be worked out and a committee for that purpose will be named within the next few days, officials added.

Doors, Windows Rattle To Alarm Lubbock Residents--Mysterious Disturbance Reported In City

(By OPAL McMAHON Journal Staff Writer)
A mysterious disturbance which caused windows and dishes to rattle puzzled Lubbock residents this morning.

Telephone calls to the newspaper and fire department this morning started an investigation which revealed—

That no explosions in vicinity of Lubbock had been reported to any official agencies in the city.

earthquake might have had far-reaching effects resulting in vibration in Lubbock.

That an explosion of a meteor might have occurred in the air above Lubbock.

Only one thing was certain, however, that was that some disturbance which caused vibration and rumbling did occur at approximately 9:30 o'clock this morning. It was not sufficient to cause great alarm, but did cause residents in widely separated parts of the city to seek an explanation.

German War Machine Must Keep Rolling

Caucasus' Oil Vital Booty

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Journal War Analyst

Hitler's constant, nervous thrusts at the long Russian battle-line present an interesting phenomenon—a sort of military St. Vitus' dance over which he has no control.

The feehrer is in that peculiar position—which is not without its advantages—of being unable to stop attacking even if he wished. On that score the probabilities are that the necessity fits his desires.

No Time To Pause

The thing is well summed up by General H. S. Sewell, the military expert, who remarks that "with the initiative still in her hands, Germany must strike in some direction. England is growing stronger and Russia is unbent, and there is no time even to pause." In other words, the great war machine which Hitler built is a perpetual-motion affair, and the minute it stops churning out attacks it will be done for.

Leningrad—Moscow—the Crimea—all along the Red line the Nazis have been prodding and testing to see if they could find a weak spot worth developing, despite the early winter weather which already is making military operations difficult and turning the life of the soldier into one of bitter hardship. Thus far, apart from the Crimea the Nazis seem to have set a bunch of Tartars into action.

Claim Success In Crimea

A Russian report from Leningrad tells of the Bolsheviks breaking through the enemy siege lines. Northwest and southeast of Moscow the Reds answered the German thrusts with fierce counterattacks which the Soviet capital reports have flung the invaders back with heavy losses.

Down in the Crimea, however, the German claim success is meeting their offensive. This really represents the crucial engagement of the moment, for the German objective is the Caucasus—that oil-laden strip of land which separates the Black and the Caspian seas. And there is more than oil involved, for the Caucasus is one of the gateways into the Middle East, a vast military base of surpassing importance for operations against Egypt and India.

Hitler's immediate concern is the oil, and the prize for which he is reaching is titanic. The National Geographic Society of Washington points out that between 80 per cent and 90 per cent of Russia's oil comes from the Caucasus—and the Soviet union ranks next to the United States in world production.

Would Be Great Conquest

Nazi commentators say that the Caucasus is important not so much for the new oil it would bring to Germany as for the effect the loss of this oil would have on Russia. Well, that's a natural way for an official commentator to put the position, but let some believe that this oil doesn't represent one of the greatest conquests which Hitler could achieve.

This column has pointed out before that great oil experts say Germany's back of lubricating oil is her greatest danger at this time. Don't forget that all machinery—both for war and industry—depends on oil.

So it is with an eager heart that the feehrer urges his troops on to the difficult offensive in the south. If he can capture the vast oil supplies of the Caucasus, they will float him far.

Brownfield Woman Dies Here Thursday

Body of Mrs. John F. Andrews, 29, of Brownfield, who died at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night in Lubbock sanitarium, was taken to a Spur funeral home, where arrangements were to be completed this morning.

Death was attributed to a blood-stream infection.

Survivors are the husband; four children, Jonell, Darleen, Jackie Donald and Dannie Frank; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Benham of Afton; three sisters, Mrs. Martile Laney of Portales, N. M., Mrs. Lucille Floyd of Brownfield and Mrs. Hazel Clark of Gurdon, Ark.; a brother, G. A. Benham, jr., of Afton; and a cousin, Mrs. Juanice Cook of Sundown. All were at the bedside.

Formal Opening For Food Market Held

Formal opening of Miller's Food market, operated by B. D. Miller, took place this morning in the new building located at Nineteenth street and Avenue S.

With a gleaming market under direction of Jack Grimes, butcher with more than 10 years' experience in Lubbock, the food store is completely stocked and ready for business.

The new store, in addition to a complete stock of groceries, will feature such added services as adequate parking space, double-decked rolling baskets for ease in purchasing, and a well-lighted interior.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller recently moved to Lubbock from Wink, where he had been in the grocery business six years. For five years before that he had been a grocer at Crowell. They started construction on the stucco building early in the fall and it has just recently been completed.

City Will Aid Repair Work

Cooperation of the city commission was asked by Edgar E. Gray, county commissioner, and was assured in repairing flood damage to the paved farm-to-market Acuff road at the city commission's semi-monthly meeting Thursday.

Gray said he will need machinery belonging to the city of a type that he seldom uses, and also some caliche because the pits from which he usually obtains the materials are flooded.

Zoning Change Asked

George S. Berry, Roche Newton and Antonio Ferris ask the commission to change the zoning of a tract in the vicinity of Twenty-sixth street and Texas avenue so that a warehouse can be built. It now is in a residence-apartment house zone. Approval was given with the stipulation that it also must be approved by the city zoning commission, of which L. Wesley Read is chairman.

Liability Insurance Policies for Yellow and Domino Taxicab Companies were approved after having been submitted by E. G. Abbott. The policies indemnify passengers in the company cabs against personal injury up to $5,000 and against property damage up to $1,000 in case of accident.

Platting Is Okayed

Platting of the S. G. Brown subdivision, located about a half-mile beyond the west-city limits, was approved.

Green Acres Addition, which recently was brought into the city limits, was designated as a zone in which one and two-family residences may be built. A small portion of the addition at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Adams was zoned for retail business. The addition is the site of houses being built for rental to officers stationed at the air base under construction west of the city.

City Engineer Merlin R. Smith, Jr., reported to the commission that water and sewer lines to serve 40 houses planned for immediate construction in the addition will cost approximately $7,700.

A group of approximately 20 members of the fire department advised the commission of their intent to take advantage of recent state legislation creating a fireman's relief and retirement fund. Two per cent of their salaries are to be deducted from their salaries for payment into the fund.

Bonds Are Approved

The commission voted to pay the expense of G. G. Hunter, city folk sanitarian, to the recent convention of the State Association of Milk Sanitarians in Corpus Christi. Hunter was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. The

Technique Of "Preserving" A Snowflake Proves Interesting

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 14—If you would like to save snow flakes—for cool contemplation on hot mid-summer days, or if you want to preserve the delicate pattern of your own or baby's breath, then you should know about the simple technique announced by Vincent J. Schaefer of the General Electric research laboratory.

By covering an unsuspecting snowflake with a drop of a solution of Formvar, transparent plastic resin commonly used in electric insulation, and allowing the drop to dry, a perfect cast of the snowflake crystal can be obtained, says Mr. Schaefer.

Process Explained

A slight modification of the snowflake ossification method "provides an equally easy way to make a permanent record of breath patterns and any other structures, such as frost crystals, expense item amounted to $20.16. A contribution of $1,500 to the City-County Welfare association was approved.

Contractor's bonds for the following were approved: C. A. Ross, Elmer Terry and Ingle and Sikes Construction company, general; and T. W. Waddill, gas fitter.

Present at the meeting were Commissioners W. B. Price, W. G. McMillan, Hub Jones and Garland Newsom, City Manager W. H. Rogers, City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley and City Secretary Lavenia Williams.

Mayor Carl E. Slaton, absent because of urgent business, missed his first regular meeting of the commission in more than a year.

CALL TO ARMS

Dear Plainsman: Knowing your insuperable aversion to all kinds of verse—even the good as well as mine—and remembering your complete lack of sympathy for people whose ideas may stamp them as interventionists, I present these lines without hope of their passing your wastepaper basket. Nevertheless, here is the picture as I see it, a picture made dim to you by my poor attempt at a sonnet.

ARMISTICE END

A weary bleeding world cried out for peace... Its sons were lattered, torn, and battle-faint. Each home had known deep sorrow's scarring taint. And anguished mothers prayed for Time's release. While crime played wanton hunger for increase. Destruction ravaged, free from all restraint— To God each moment rose a soul's complaint. That hated Hell should reign without surcease.

A score of greedy years have jostled by In fog of burnt-out hope and phantom truce... We slept to wake at clang of wild alarms! We hear the martyred nations' dying cry. Where Nazi hell of Hitler's hordes runs loose... Full late we sound our country's call to arms! Jack Wester, Lubbock.

Local Ginnings Total 4,434 Bales

Only 4,434 bales of cotton were ginned in Lubbock county before Nov. 1, according to report Thursday by A. L. King, statistician here of the bureau of the census. Last year for the corresponding date the ginnings were 33,223 bales. Lateness of the crop this year caused the great difference between ginnings, it is explained. A few glass microscope slides, a toothpick or wire and a weak solution of a suitable resin are all the equipment necessary. The only other essential is an occasional snow flurry. "As soon as a suitable flake is observed on the dark background a drop of solution is placed on the glass slide with the toothpick or wire, and the flake is lifted with the same tool and placed in contact with the drop. The solution should wet the flake completely. After wetting the flake in this manner, the solvent—water—evaporates, leaving the snowflake encased within a shell of resin."

Fay Williams Named As FFA Sweetheart

Members of the Cooper Rural High school chapter of Future Farmers of America have elected Miss Fay Williams chapter sweetheart. They announced Thursday. Committee reports were heard and 10 freshman students were initiated as greenhands. It was said, Tolbert Coleman was named to represent the local chapter at a district chapter meeting. After the meeting, motion pictures were shown by Jesse M. Johnson, agriculture teacher. Seven guests were present.

"No telling how long I may drive my next car—so I changed to Pontiac"

GENERAL MOTORS' MASTERPIECE

THE FINE CAR WITH THE LOW PRICE

MANY OF THE PEOPLE now driving new Pontiacs are former owners of both higher and lower priced cars who have changed to Pontiac in a mass preparedness move. Unable to foresee how long they may drive their new cars, these motorists are turning to Pontiac for the proved long life and operating economy which have made Pontiac owners so overwhelmingly enthusiastic. They quickly learned that the new Pontiacs have the same important operating features as past, successful Pontiacs. They learned, too, that Pontiac prices remain only slightly higher than the lowest—only a few dollars more per month on available terms. Hence their far-sighted selection of Pontiac—a choice which you yourself will make once you discover how little it costs.

Proud To Be Doing Our Part

Pontiac is doing its part for National Defense by building a new type of rapid-fire cannon for the United States Navy. Two complete plants have been devoted to the exclusive manufacture of these cannon. Thousands of skilled craftsmen have been trained to operate the highly technical machines. Over two hundred sub-contracts have been awarded in order to get necessary materials in the shortest possible time. This means building fewer cars—but Pontiac places defense work ahead of everything else.

The ideal combination of Proved and Improved Features

- Triple-Cushioned Ride—even further improved in still years in 1942.
- New Bodies by Fisher provide the same strength and quality for which they have long been famous.
- Vital engine parts are unchanged for 1942 except for an improved oil cleaner.
- Level of the gearshift lever has been reduced 30 per cent.
- Pontiac's gas and oil economy remains the same high peak.
- For 1942 Pontiac front wheel brakes have been increased in size and all are now triple-acting.

AVAILABLE AS A SIX OR AN EIGHT IN ANY MODEL

Activities Of Parent-Teacher Associations Fill American Education Week

Group To Buy Defense Bond

Hundreds of patrons have attended meetings of parent-teacher associations this week during American Education week. Parents evening have been observed, study groups have met and room mothers have been organized. Several parent-teacher units met Thursday.

Plans to purchase a defense bond were discussed Thursday afternoon when George R. Bean P-T-A met at the school. The group also is to purchase an electric phonograph and records for the school.

A new study course is to begin Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the school. Mrs. Cleo Cope reported on the course under way at present and pupils from Mrs. Ardath Smith's room gave a program.

Rev. H. G. Gantz of the First Christian church, guest speaker, talked on "Character and Inner Defense."

Thirty-Nine were present Mrs. Arch Lamb of the home economics faculty at Texas Technological college discussed "Diets for Children and Growups" at a meeting of Sanders association at the school in the afternoon. Twenty-five mothers and eleven teachers were present. Mrs. E. B. Speck presided.

On Respect For Work Mrs. C. C. Schmidt led a discussion of "Creating Respect for Work in the Home" Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Junior High school parent-teacher association. Mothers participated in the discussion.

Members of the speech and music departments presented a play on "Our Part in National Defense." The seventh grade mixed chorus sang several numbers.

Seventy-five mothers attended. The association honored mothers who have recently moved to Lubbock and who were present for the program.

Work Is On Exhibit Punch and cookies were served parents who called at the Hunt school open house.

Each teacher compiled an exhibit representative of each student's work and placed this on the individual desks in the classroom. Serving as a receiving line in each home room were the home room teacher and the room mothers. About 300 patrons called at the reception open house.

On Safety Education Roscoe Wilson Parent-Teacher association meeting at the school Thursday afternoon, heard sixth grade pupils present a program under direction of Miss Claudia Neelley.

Patrolman E. S. Rowe spoke to members on "Parent-Teacher associations and Safety Education." A report on the Texas Congress of Parent-Teachers was made by Mrs. K. S. Blackford.

Mrs. C. B. Qualla reported on the rhythm class in the Billy Nation studio which is being sponsored by the P-T-A. Fifty students are enrolled in the class.

The association will sponsor a rummage sale Saturday.

Mothers Club Meet There were meetings of four mothers clubs at K. Carter school Thursday afternoon. Seventy-five were present, representing rooms of the second and third years of the primary level and the first year of the elementary level.

Speakers were Mesdames T. A. Rogers, Leroy Waite and J. H. Miles. The Mothers club of Miss Pearl Jackson's room was entertained with music by the class rhythm band.

All of the 30 women who enrolled for the George M. Hunt Parent study course have completed requirements for graduation, it was announced Thursday. Twenty-eight members attended a make-up course Thursday afternoon to hear McElroy Ray discuss "Parents and Part-Time Parents."

A mothers club was organized Thursday afternoon when mothers of pupils in "Senior's" room at Central Ward school met. Purpose of the club is that moth-

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

The average married man is richer than he thinks. It never occurs to him that, like the wealthy men he sometimes envies, he has a private cook, valet and chauffeur to cater to his comfort.

The average wife is all those things to the average man. She not only cooks his meals, but she plans them with his personal likes and dislikes—and no matter about the rest of the family—in mind.

And she assumes the job of valet the day the honeymoon is over, taking on herself the job of seeing that her husband's suits are kept cleaned and pressed, his shirts laundered to please him, his socks darned and his necktie rack kept filled. About the only valet duties she balks at are shining his shoes and closing the windows on cold mornings.

SARCASTIC TONE SPEEDS HUBBY

She even goes, a valet one better by doing his shopping for him and "try to better" than any hired servant could be about seeing that he gets his haircuts when he should, since she can use a sarcastic tone to speed things up that no person working for wages would dare to use to an employer.

Nor does she let him down when it comes to reminding him of each day's special duties. "Don't forget, dear . . ." is the last thing the average wife says to the average husband as he leaves home each morning.

And she is a willing chauffeur, driving him to work, or to his train, each morning and meeting him each night—meanwhile running all the family's errands in the family's automobile, and chauffeur-ing his children everywhere they have to go.

And yet in spite of all this service the average husband doesn't consider himself a rich, indulged fellow, waited on and catered to at every turn.

In England old cars are converted into tractors and put to work on wartime farms.

ers might become better acquainted with the school and the children. Objectives listed were: that members might become active in the Association of Childhood Education; that an interest in Christmas activities might be developed and that attendance at the Rufus Rose players might be encouraged.

Mothers attending were Mesdames J. Olin Hill, president, Eugene Terrell, secretary, J. W. Pharr, M. W. Hobbs, L. C. Karnes, L. S. Secret, E. A. Nichols and H. Shoreman.

Faith Needed Says Speaker

Although she feels that shadows darker than deafness and blindness envelop the world at present, mankind will eventually emerge from darkness into a better unthreatening western hemisphere, Keller told an audience of several hundred persons Thursday night at Senior High school.

This revelation will come about through man arming himself with heroic faith, Miss Keller said. Because Americans have shirked their responsibility and faith has been left to preachers and dreamers, we find ourselves in the precarious position of dictatorship threatening the western hemisphere. But shouldered with responsibility and girded by faith man will overcome disaster and a new made world will result.

Through faith we will search for new paths to life; we will determine to do good and will enjoy the liberty to think, she said.

Miss Polly Thomson, companion and secretary of the famous blind woman, stood with her as she lectured and repeated many her words. Prior to the talk on "Let There Be Faith" Miss Keller and Miss Thomson had conversed on many subjects: Her early life, her love of flowers and music, her favorite study which is philosophy and her sorrow that the world is in such a state.

Philosophy is her favorite study because it has given her power over limitations and through it she has been able to construct a "beautiful and satisfying world," and the Bible is her favorite book, flowing into her life a "great river of light."

Edouard Blitz, cellist, played two selections before Miss Keller came to the platform. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz. At the close of the lecture, the audience sang one verse of "Nearer My God to Thee," directed by Miss Keller.

Abram Is To Give Recital

South Plains Civic Music association is presenting Jacques Abram, 26-year-old pianist who is a native Texan, in concert Monday night at 8 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium.

Born near Houston in 1915, Abram became a protege and pupil of Arthur Shattuck at the age of six. At ten he was awarded a scholarship by the Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, where he studied three years and then entered the Juilliard School of Music where he studied with Ernest Hutcheson for the next six years.

In 1937 he was winner of the thousand dollar prize awarded by the National Federation of Music clubs. He also won the Schubert Memorial Award, which entitled him to three appearances as guest soloist with the Philadelphia orchestra, one in New York and two in Philadelphia.

He has given many recitals and has appeared with the Houston Symphony orchestra, the New York Symphony, the Chicago Symphony and the NBC Summer Symphony orchestra.

Recreational Project Contest Is To Close

Deadline for the backyard recreational project contest, sponsored by the City Parent-Teacher council, is Saturday, Mrs. John W. Wilson, chairman of the contest, has announced.

Prizes will be offered for the winner in two divisions for the contest. Judges are Mesdames I. H. Kirby, Jay Gordon and Mary Laura Power.

Those who have entered the division of projects costing under ten dollars are Mesdames Roy Calicut, C. H. Burton, A. L. Butler, V. L. Eakins, Raymond Allen, R. J. Cheatham, J. J. Nelson, O. A. Other officers are: Mrs. Velma Morris, vice president; Mrs. Paul Ward, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Stalaker, reporter.

Mrs. Bowles gave a history of the club. A gift was presented to the retiring president, Mrs. T. A. McLroy.

Members attending were Mesdames J. W. Christie, R. E. Guthrie, J. R. Hartfield, W. A. Lindsay, Jack Ray, W. C. Strong, Wayne Thrush and J. A. Hall. Mrs. E. J. Dresser was a guest.

Mrs. Dingus Club Speaker

Problems of international good-will were discussed by Mrs. William Dingus Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the Lubbock Women's Forum in the home of Mrs. Bea Thomson, 2513 Twenty-fourth street.

Mrs. Herschel Moxey sang, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Marshall.

Mesdames Ray Livesay and Bob Fuller were co-hostesses with Mrs. Thomson. Refreshments were served to 36 members and one guest.

Gene Stalaker Honored On His Third Birthday

Gene Stalaker was honored on his third birthday Wednesday when his mother, Mrs. D. Noel Stalaker, entertained at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Arch L. King, 1717 Thirty-first street.

Pictures of the group were taken. Games were played and favors of balls and candy were presented to Tom Ford, Kent Apple, Eva Ann Kerr, Jimmy Watts, Douglas and Dorothy Dell Rogers, Royce Newsom, Charles Lemons, Pauline Harding and Don King. Mothers present were Mesdames Vernice Ford, Vance Apple, Lewis Kerr, Roy Watts, Alden Rogers, Sara Lemons and E. W. Hunt. Lora Ann Kerr sent a gift.

Guest Artist To Sing Here

Mrs. Mary Louise Beltz of Belton, contralto, head of the department of voice at Mary Hardin-Baylor college, will be presented in concert at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the lounge of Tech Women's Dormitory—No. 2. She is appearing under auspices of the Lubbock Music club, the Allegro Music club and the Treble Clef chorus.

Miss Beltz won first place in Los Angeles last summer in the young artists' competition sponsored by the National Federation of Music clubs and prior to that she had been state winner in a vocal contest sponsored by the Texas Federation of Music clubs.

Each member of the sponsor group is inviting a guest. Miss Beltz's accompaniment and her program has been announced as follows:

Green River (Carpenter); Ah Love, But a Day (Beach); A Little Song of Life (Malotte); aria from "Rinaldo" (Handel); Les Berceaux (Faure); Les Cloches (Saint-Saens); Psyche (Paderewski); Disenchantment (Charles); Nocturne (Curran); Take Joy Home (Bassett).

Work Rushed On Enormous Aircraft Assembly Plant At Fort Worth

50 Planes Per Month Is Goal

(By The United Press)
FORT WORTH, Nov. 14 — Giant cranes tomorrow lift into place the last 120-foot steel span of the main building of the $13,000,000 Consolidated Aircraft assembly plant soon to start production of four-motored bombers.

Six months ago Brahma steers used the bald prairie for fattening ground. Today more than 2,500 workers are toiling around the clock to complete the 4,000-foot-long plant, the world's largest fibreglass structure.

Well Ahead Of Schedule
With the plant well ahead of schedule, Consolidated officials hope to start production of the pre-fabricated bombers early next year. The first bombers will roll off the assembly line even before the great air-conditioned factory has been finished.

At the peak of its output Consolidated believes the plant can produce more than 50 giant land bombers a month. The factory has been built on the shores of Lake Worth, a factor that has caused many to speculate that Consolidated may turn out flying boats as well.

Today the great plant goes on view for the nation's outstanding aviation editors who were flown by chartered plane from New York to participate in the inspection tour.

Factory Is Enormous
So large is the factory that 19 football games could be played simultaneously inside and perhaps a few baseball contests on the side. Walls are a foot thick constructed of three types of glass fiber and pre-fabricated steel panels to insure insulation and exclude noise.

Length of the plant equals the combined length of the world's four largest ocean liners—the Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mary, the Normandie and the Bremen. Thirty-three super-theaters with stages and a seating capacity of more than 213,000 persons could be housed on the 1,294,000 square feet of building area.

Seven thousand tons of refrigeration—more than enough to run 250,000 household units—will be used to air condition the factory.

To Employ 15,000 Persons
It took seven foundries of the Bethlehem steel corporation to turn out the 27,000 tons of structural steel required to erect the giant framework. The assembly building will have 17,000 two-tube, 200-watt fluorescent units.

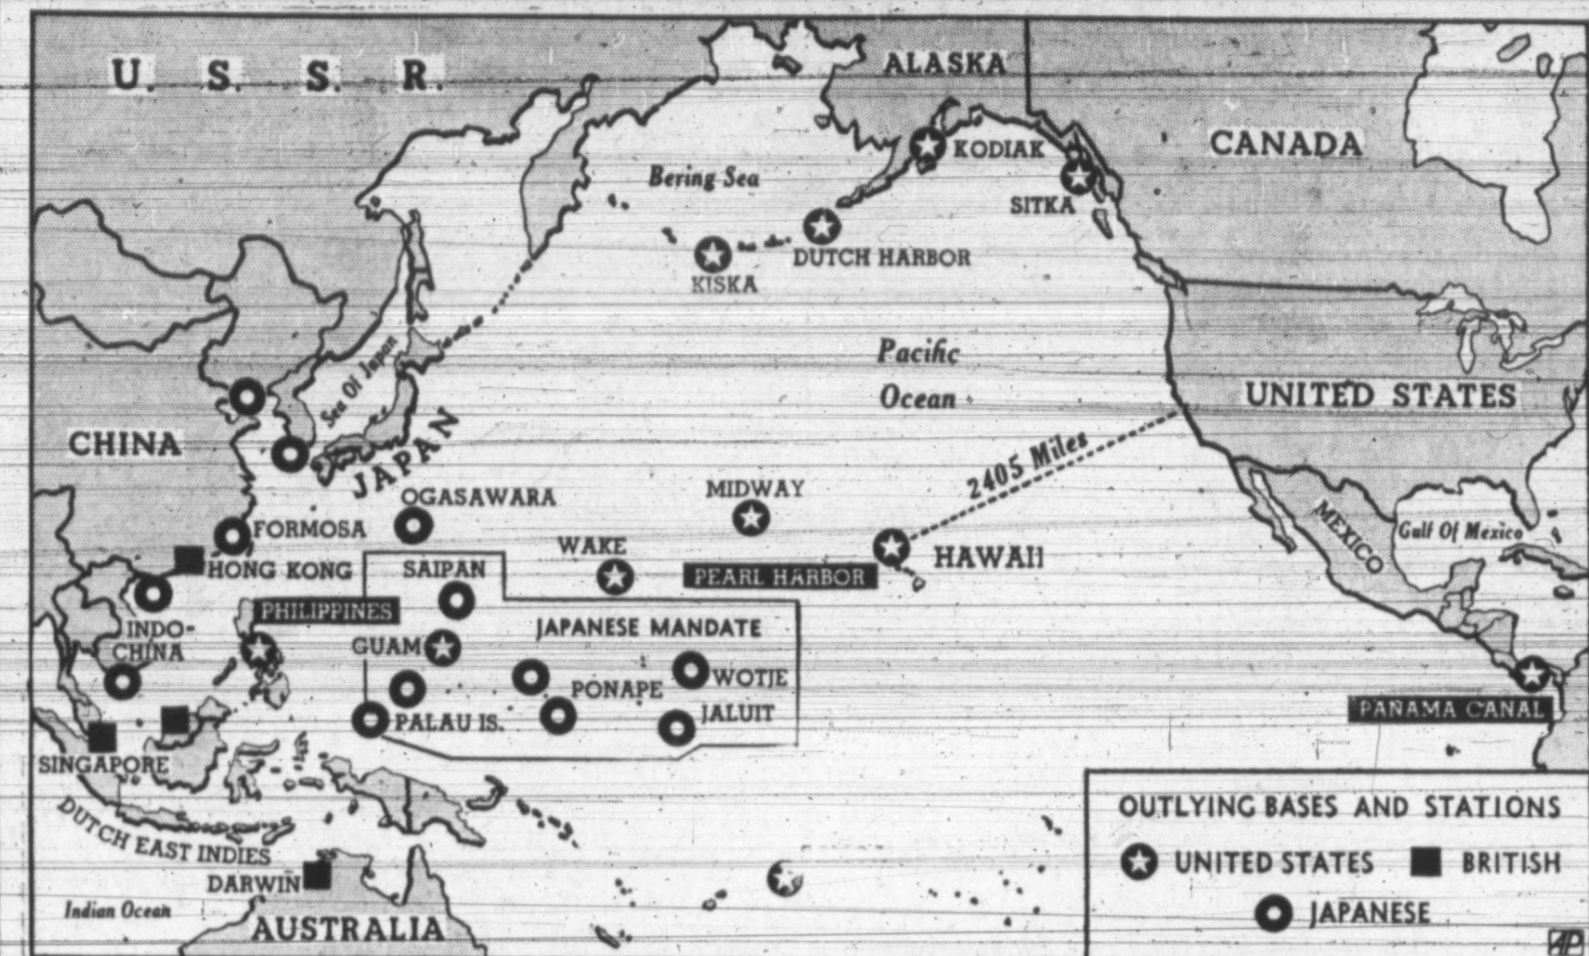

The assembly plant is one of four such Midwestern factories which will produce planes from pre-fabricated parts manufactured largely by automobile plants in Michigan and other eastern industrial centers. Parts will be shipped to Fort Worth by rail and put together on a monorail assembly line.

More than 15,000 men were expected to find employment at the plant when production gets underway.

Tooling of the plant will start next month, army officials said. Aviation editors who visit the plant today include Clinton Harrower, Wall Street Journal; William Shenkel, Newsweek Magazine; Fred Graham, New York Times; and Ansil Talbert, New York Herald-Tribune.

They were guests of Austin and Company, contractors, who are building the plant for the government. The government in turn leases the factory to Consolidated.

The Pacific—Is War To Spread There?

JAPAN, fortifying herself with new bases in strategic Indo-China, has been talking as if she might challenge American and British might in the vast Pacific. In any clash the bases for naval operations would dominate the strategy of all participants. The long string of American naval bases and air stations stretching from Panama to the Philippines all have been assigned roles in a master plan for keeping most of the Pacific secure. Britain's bases, centered on armed-to-the-teeth Singapore, keep an eye on the East Indies corner. But Japanese roots stretch farther and farther from Tokyo. And Nipponese vessels cross and recross vital British-American trade lanes. This is why, in a day of armed neutrality and strong diplomatic language, the waters of the Pacific are getting hotter.

Brief Bits Of News

College Singers Coming—Thirty McHenry college chatters from Abilene will sing at First Methodist church in Lubbock Sunday night, in connection with a nine-day tour of West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Big Crowd To Game—Harley Sadler, Sweetwater stock company actor, said a large crowd from Sweetwater and the Abilene district would be in Lubbock next week for the football game between "Hardy" Simmons' university and Texas Technological college.

Major To Get Release—Major L. G. Court Comes Out On Top In This Fight

CARLSBAD, N. M., Nov. 14 (AP)—Who won the fight wasn't revealed, but the court won on two counts.

John Boeglin, jr., filed an assault and battery complaint against James Kyle. Kyle pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

Then he filed a complaint against Boeglin for using abusive and profane language. Boeglin pleaded guilty. He, too, was fined $10.

Gadget To Snuff Out Cigarettes Invented

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Nov. 14 (AP)—Anthony J. Millet, 31-year-old inventor, has devised a gadget he believes will prove a boon to absent-minded smokers—a cigaret "snuffer-outer."

The invention consists of a narrow band of fire-resistant material around the paper of the cigaret. The band is movable.

Millet said that with every cigaret equipped with a snuffer, there would be no reason to toss a lighted one out a car window, possibly to start a forest fire. The band merely would be slipped down over the burning tobacco before tossing.

He has applied for a patent.

JAPANESE ORBS
The "Lido eye operation" is becoming popular in Tokyo, where one surgeon is prospering because Japanese women want their eyes to open wider and give them a "soulful look."

Students Will Have Exhibits

Art exhibit in connection with the convention of the Texas State Teachers association in Houston Nov. 20-22 will include about 150 items made by Lubbock pupils.

Arrangements and displays are to be made by Mrs. Bruce Bryan, coordinator of art in Junior and Senior High schools, and Miss Claudine Cook, coordinator in the elementary schools. All schools exhibits will be in the coliseum.

The display, which is the first one of its kind to be sent from the Lubbock schools to a state teachers' convention, will be representative of work of students for the last two years, particularly of last year. Some of the pieces have won prizes at the Children's Art show at Texas Technological college.

Miss Marjorie Pöndexter, R. H. Williams, both instructors at Texas Tech, and Mrs. Chester Hubbard, a local artist, selected most of the work which is to go to Houston.

To Be Hung On Cloth

Art work from Senior High and Junior High school includes pottery, which was made by the students in the schools' art departments; wood carvings of pine, mahogany and mahogany woods, which consist of bowls, boxes, pins, belts, jewel, and plaques; luncheon sets and scarfs made through the use of tie-dying and block printing on cloth; with the use of block-printing on paper, pictures and Christmas cards were made; and the metal work of copper, nickel, silver, brass, aluminum and tin consists of trays, plates, bracelets, and mirror frames.

Works from the elementary schools represent water color, tempera, torn-paper painting, fresco, chalk, crayon, cut-paper, potato printing, linoleum block-printing, and spatter work.

In order that the pieces of work will appear more as individuals, or as pictures, they will be hung on cloth rather than mounted on cardboard, the usual way.

Students Listed

The following Senior High school students will have work on display: Betty Jean Ater, Walton Rogers, Virginia La Traylor, Marilyn Cantelero, Mary Langford, Christine Sullivan, Frances Clark, Mary Bell Morgan, Laverne Irwin, Frances Rogers, Winifred Morgan, Doris Crim, Dorothy Forson, Yvonne Vickery, Jeanne Hines, Jeanne Kizlar, Doris Marie Weir, Marion Stratton, Dorothy Richardson, Patsy Chadwick, Erlaine Moore, Wilma Jean Freeman, Effie-Lee Turner, Bernice Smart, Charles Smart, Conny McDonald, Betty McDonald, Dorothy Daniel, Willella Nelson, Betty Maxwell, Beverly Mooney, Dana Faye Ware, Helen Brophy, Lois Himsley, Eugenia Hopper, Maxine Denham, Erma Teal, Jean Chapelle, L. His Zulu Majesty Breaks With Past; Plans "Big Doings" For New Orleans Mardi Gras

(By The United Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14. — Neh mind dat change in de weather and dat change in de sea, just cast a gim at his Zulu majesty—next Mardi Gras, that is, if you want to see sumpin'—in de way of changes.

The society organization, the Zulu Aid and Pleasure Club, has got a new potentate for its annual parade—Clemont J. Vandage, and he is the kind of a man that when he gets an idea, brother, he gets an idea.

So the King of the Zulus no longer will follow in the footsteps of his white majesty, Rex.

Will Dazzle Subjects

Zulu used to make his appearance in a costume with a long train. Not this year. Vandage is going to dazzle his subjects with a gown adorned by the plumage of multiple feathered friends. The only thing he'll lack is wings.

The regular "diamond" crown is out, too. The kingly brow of '42 will be adorned by a wreath of classic laurel.

Even the traditional scepter will have to go. Scepters are all right for some kings, but when Vandage I wants a symbol of authority, he'll take a club any day. And, for those subjects who might not get the idea, the end of the club will be adorned by a death's head.

The king didn't say whether this scepter substitution had anything to do with the general bawling among members of the court which ended last year's parade in the middle of the route.

Makes Big Plans

Last year the present King Vandage was a witch doctor and "if I do say it myself," he says himself, "I took the play away from the king."

He's now in the funeral business and his royal position will bring social prestige to his aunt's funeral parlor, of which he is director. But he prefers waiter jobs.

"Really," he says, "I 'nke' to work for a white man. I think they are so much inspiration to a fellow. I'd really like to be a waiter for a rich man. Nothing I'd like

Log House Gives Up Link To Washington

CANONSBURG, Pa., Nov. 14. (AP)—Materials from the historic old log house of David Reed—scene of proceedings in a land dispute involving George Washington—have been incorporated into a new home built here by Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Zeman.

The Zemans purchased the Reed house in Mt. Pleasant township recently and transferred some of the contents to their new home in nearby Mapleview.

The old home was the scene of a meeting in 1784, attended by Washington, and a group of "squatters" who insisted they had rights to some property which Washington had obtained from Iroquois Indians of the Six Nations group.

Washington's claim was to 2,813 acres of land "west of the Alleghenies." The settlers disputed the claim on the grounds that the Indians could not stand up in court and that their settling on the tract and their development of it constituted reasons for permanent possession.

The Revolutionary leader, five years later to become "the father of his country," refused to give ground, and the Washington county court upheld his right to the tract and that decision was upheld by the Supreme court following a subsequent appeal by the group of settlers.

Early Thanksgiving sermons in the United States were often of a political nature.

better. Guess you'd say that was my hobby, working for white men."

His wife, Ruby, hasn't seen a carnival parade for 14 years because of her main job at the Southern Yacht club, "but," she declares, "I'm going to this year. I'll be in the reviewing stand, keeping my eye on my man and the young girl they select for queen."

Ruby will have plenty of help if the kingly plans materialize because everybody will be watching him. In 1942 it'll take a mighty hi-jinxing witch doctor to take the play away from the king.

Arizona Fliers Search Wide Area For Pilots Of Missing Planes

Large Bomber Is Unreported

(By The Associated Press)
 TUCSON, Ariz., Nov. 14—Fliers from two Arizona air bases set out today systematically to cover an area of several thousand square miles in a desperate effort to locate the pilots of a DB7 bomber, destined for Britain, and a P64 army pursuit plane.
 The bomber, with Lt. Lawrence Barrett, jr., address unknown, at the controls, has been missing since Wednesday night when it disappeared in a storm. Barrett's ship was one of four being ferried from Long Beach, Calif., to Britain. One of his companion fliers, Lt. Ivan J. May, 24, was killed when his bomber cracked up near Mohawk, Ariz.
 The other missing pilot is Cadet John C. H. Lantz, Paris, Tex., long overdue on a solo training flight from Luke field advanced air corps training base near Phoenix. Lantz left the field yesterday at 2 p. m. on an hour's flight. Officials said his fuel supply was sufficient for four hours.
 His parents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lantz of Paris.

Report Given By Red Cross

The Red Cross membership drive in Lubbock county has obtained 406 members and $795.65 in money, according to reports Thursday night to Olen Stewart, drive chairman.
 Most of that total was from the residential and business divisions, it was said.
 Hope was expressed that the business division and special groups will follow up on their prospects over the week end.
 "We have received indications that many residents are desirous of contributing but have hesitated to do so before the end of the week," Stewart said. "Therefore it is urged that in special groups and business divisions especially the workers will hold their reports until after the week end."
 Workers also were reminded of the importance of "call-backs"—second visits to residences and business establishments—whose owner or manager was not at home or at which no results were obtained on the first call.
 Reports Are Made
 By groups, the following reports were turned in:
 Special groups, two workers obtained 26 members; special gifts, three members, 29 members; business division, 23 workers, 253 residential division, 53 workers, 298 members.
 The temporary headquarters at Allen Bros. American Legion home will remain open today and Saturday with Mrs. Jack Reeves as office secretary. Supplies may be obtained there.
 A drive at Texas Technological college begins among the students this morning and will continue through Saturday, it was announced. Harold Thompson, student president, earlier in the week sent letters to council clubs urging participation in the roll call.

Club Organized For Tall Boys And Girls

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 14 (AP)—Comely Esther Jacobi, 21, a Milwaukee stenographer, thought the fellows "needed a break," so she is organizing a "Stratoliner" club for tall young people, which operates strictly on a "dutch treat" basis.
 Still in the formulative stage, Miss Jacobi's organization already has eight young men over 6 feet tall and 12 girls over 5 feet 8 inches, who are interested in "just getting together and having fun." Their ages range from 20 to 25 years, and most of them are cooped up in offices all day, Miss Jacobi said.
 The "stratoliners" plan to meet once a week for an evening of dancing, sleigh rides, skating, picnics, or "whatever the weather or season affords," their founder explained.
 "Everything will be definitely dutch treat," Miss Jacobi emphasized. "The fellows take us out the other six days of the week and they deserve a break once in a while," she said. By the time of the first official meeting Miss Jacobi anticipated many more would take advantage of her social club. Dues are 5 cents a week.

Mills College Girls Entertain Soldiers

OAKLAND, Cal., Nov. 14 (AP)—Girls of Mills college, oldest women's college west of the Mississippi, are doing their bit for national defense by entertaining groups of soldiers from nearby army posts.
 The first group of 25 service men were entertained at tennis, bridge, badminton and swimming in the afternoon; served a buffet supper, and were guests at informal dancing in the evening.
 Rosemary Gnaedinger of Oak Park, Ill., chairman of student social activities, said that by the end of the year each girl student will have had at least one service man as her guest.

United States And British Navies Are Busting Axis U-Boats

Campaign Said Being Slowed

(By The United Press)
LONDON, Nov. 14.—The United States and British navies were reported by British sources today to have carried out "highly successful action" against a new German U-boat and airplane offensive in the battle of the Atlantic.

The destruction of "many U-boats" due to improved patrol work by the British and American naval forces was reported.

Three Factors Responsible
The lack of success of a new German offensive in which submarine attacks on convoys have been increased recently may be attributed to three factors, one British naval source said.

"First, there has been an increase in efficiency of escorts for convoys."

"Secondly, there has been increased destruction of the long-range German Focke-Wulf airplane spotters which tip off the submarines as to convoy positions."

"Thirdly, the Germans have suffered a decrease in personnel for manning submarines."

U-Boats Crew Needed
British naval sources said that the American and British naval patrols at present were "excellent" and that many U-boats have been destroyed while operating from French ports on the Atlantic.

(A United Press dispatch from Vichy said that the Germans, under direction of Dr. Fritz Todt, the builder of the Siegfried line, had constructed a string of submarine bases along the French coast to service new fleets of U-boats ordered into the Atlantic by Hitler. The bases were said to be part of preparations for an "all-out" submarine and airplane offensive in the Atlantic in an effort to cut off American supplies to Britain.)

British naval sources said that longer nights recently had given German submarines an excellent opportunity to strike at Atlantic convoys but that "most of the attacks have been futile."

"Wolf Pack's" Attack

bury, 2nd engineer, said that several crew members were in the forecastle playing a phonograph when the torpedo struck.

"A regular wolf pack of the submarines had been trailing our 63-ship convoy," MacLeod related.

Canadian Ship Praised
"About 800 miles off the coast of Scotland, they began to harass and attack us in the first two nights we lost three boats."

"I don't know the names of all the ships that went down by being torpedoed," MacLeod said, "but among them were the Bar Fonn, a tanker; the Silver Cedar, a freighter, and the Norwegian freighter Islay. Twenty of the Bar Fonn's crew were saved by the Canadian corvette Wetakwin."

The same vessel that rescued a number of our men, Lieut. Comdr. George Windeyer, who was in charge of the corvette, certainly did a great job."

Has Hope For Steward
MacLeod said he was in the engine room when the Bold Venture was torpedoed, and that when he reached deck he found it awash in the stern.

"She was on the way to the bottom in 10 minutes," he said. "I jumped overboard because all the lifeboats had pulled away. I floundered around the water for a couple of minutes, until one of the lifeboats picked me up."

Although 18 of the Bold Venture's crew were reported missing, MacLeod believed that Karl Clausen, chief steward, might have survived.

"The last I saw of Clausen," he said, "was on deck with a life belt on and could have been picked up by some other ship which I wouldn't have heard about."

United States had taken and asserted Congress had been duped by a false presentation of facts by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

On the Russo-German war front, Soviet dispatches reported a series of smashing counter-blows at Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow, at Maloyaroslavl, 65 miles southwest of the capital, and in the far north around the Arctic port of Murmansk.

The Soviet radio said the initiative in the 43-day-old battle of Moscow had now definitely passed into Red army hands.

City Is Under Fire
In the Crimea campaign, a bulletin from Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted that German troops were "in front of Kerch," gateway to the Caucasus oil fields, with the city and harbor under the fire of Nazi artillery.

Yesterday, the high command declared German assault troops actually were storming the port. Soviet reinforcements, some of them drawn from the Rostov-on-Don sector, were reported racing to defend the Caucasus coast against a German drive across the narrow Kerch strait from the Crimea.

Nazis Are Dislodged
Dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper, said Gen. Gregory K. Zhukov's central front armies had driven the Germans from the east bank of the Narva river in the Maloyaroslavl sector, and dislodged the Nazis from a fortified height there in fierce hand-to-hand fighting.

On the Leningrad front, BBC reported that "Russian infantry, with artillery and dive-bombing support, stormed through the enemy lines and broke through to the rear in the face of strong resistance."

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said Russian troops in the Arctic Murmansk zone had captured several strategic heights and forced the Germans to retreat several kilometers.

No casualties were reported from anywhere in the stricken region but minor damage was extensive throughout. The 50-mile long and 40-mile wide area which felt the long rolling motion of the quakes.

Los Angeles Shaken
The tremors lasted from 15 to 30 seconds. Downtown Los Angeles was shaken for 20 seconds in the first quake. It was not affected by the second shock which apparently was limited to the suburban area between here and Long Beach.

The quakes were believed centered in the area which runs from Inglewood west to the sea, Riverside, 45 miles east of here, and Laguna beach, 55 miles south, were the extremities of the quake zone.

Damage In Long Beach
Long Beach, which suffered the heaviest damage and loss of life in 1933, felt the shock. There was some damage.

"It was without question the hardest shock since 1933," police said Inglewood police agreed.

San Diego did not feel the shock. Santa Ana police reported "quite a good swing" but no serious damage.

Palms Verdes, Laguna and Compton also felt the shock. Compton authorities said the quake was so strong they feared there may be serious damage in outlying sections.

Buildings Sway
Bricks toppled from some buildings here. Plaster fell from many ceilings and was cracked from some walls. Dishes and glassware were shaken from shelves. Police said that early surveys indicated that damage would be confined to much minor losses.

Telephone operators in the comparatively tall 12-story exchange here said they were swayed by "a sickening motion."

Hotel fire escapes were crowded with partially-dressed guests seeking safety. Guests of a Redondo beach hotel, west of Los Angeles, fled into the street in their nightclothes when plaster cracked from the building's ceilings.

Mystery Force Hits Enemy For British

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP) — The ministry of information announced today that the newly formed "Commandos"—Britain's toughest fighting force—already have been used "on occasions" including one raid on Bardia last April.

It said the Commandos, who have been trained for sabotage and raiding, are "still rather a mystery force and the work they do is the sort, which, in so far as it is deceptive, cannot be revealed so long as telling of it might give information to the enemy."

Japanese Claims Are Rejected By Russia

TOKYO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Russia replied today to Japan's protest on the sinking of the liner Kehl Maru in the sea of Japan on Nov. 11 and informed sources said they understood that all major Japanese claims were rejected.

Ambassador Constantin Smetunin handed the reply to Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo in a brief foreign office meeting.

Japan's protest alleged that the Kehl Maru sank after hitting a drifting Russian mine. It held the Soviet government responsible. Japanese accounts put the total of dead and missing at 126.

Armed Merchant Ships Are To Face New Methods Of Warfare

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Armed American ships of 1941 face a different type of naval warfare from that which produced scores of heroic and hard-fought engagements in 1917-18.

As many naval authorities view the situation now, merchantmen must be prepared to defend themselves not only against U-boats operating with vastly improved devices for attacking but also against swift Nazi bombers that harass the sea lanes for hundreds of miles off the British coast.

And the raiders are much more numerous today. Prime Minister Churchill declared earlier this week that "there never have been more U-boats or long-range aircraft than are working now."

During the first World war cargo ships participated in some of the most bitterly contested sea actions recorded and in many cases the attacking submarine either was balked or came off second best.

The fierceness of one of these encounters made a stirring pace in the log of the S.S. J. L. Luckenbach. The steamer was attacked by a U-boat shortly after sunrise on Oct. 19, 1917, and the ensuing battle raged four hours.

The submarine fired 225 rounds and the Luckenbach 202. The steamer's engines were disabled and part of the ship was set afire. Many of her seamen, including some of the gun crew, were wounded, and the fight finally ended only when the approach of a destroyer scared off the submarine, but the battle-scarred Luckenbach finally made port in France.

The effects here were not pronounced enough to attract the attention of all residents. Several telephone calls were made at random to inquire as to whether it had been noticed. Mrs. Penton Harding at 3022 Twentieth street said she had heard a rumbling, but she had not paid any great attention. Mrs. George Sawyer at 2017 Tenth street and Mrs. H. A. Watson at 3003 Nineteenth street had noticed nothing unusual, either a noise or vibration.

It was believed at the fire station on Nineteenth street that the explosion or other disturbance occurred southwest of the city.

LAND BOUGHT

Committee To Lead Recreation Plans

Plans for an inter-organization committee to take the lead in providing recreation facilities for men to be stationed at the air base under construction west of the city were approved at a meeting of the air base committee of the chamber of commerce this morning.

Organizations which will be asked to name representatives to the committee will include the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, American Business and Optimist clubs, the junior chamber of commerce, City Federation of Women's Clubs, the Junior Welfare league, Lubbock Minister's association, Texas Technological college, the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and probably others.

Expectation is, members of the chamber committee said, that the new committee can be formed in time for a meeting in about two weeks. Meanwhile, staff members of the chamber of commerce will continue to gather information relative to the handling of recreation problems of army camps for submission to the committee.

STOCK MARKET
MARKET STAGES RALLY
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Hope for a labor armistice, a sharp rally in the coal field where a threatened shutdown menaced production, and a decline in the stock market kept the market in a state of uncertainty.

The conference called at the White House between steel and union heads touched off a rally trend in the forenoon that advanced leaders fractions to more than 2 points.

Dealers expanded briskly for a while. The ticker later fell, but a sharp rally on word a statement from the president would be issued soon.

Those who had been looking for the disclosure of an agreement between the steel and union representatives appeared a little less disappointed. Some workers' delegates, for the most part, refrained from peak levels. Closing prices: 300 stocks were well on the rising side. Transfers, 10,000,000 shares.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—Wheat prices were steady to 1/4 cent higher today but early gains of almost two cents a bushel, which broke through the 1.25 mark, were reversed by a return of the neutrality of the market.

Weakness of corn, which sagged a full cent as a result of increased receipts at principal markets and hedging sales to offset the neutrality of Chicago dealers at various country points, influenced the wheat trade.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent higher than yesterday, December 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1 1/4; August 81 1/4-1 1/4; September 81 1/4-1 1/4; October 81 1/4-1 1/4; November 81 1/4-1 1/4; December 81 1/4-1 1/4; January 81 1/4-1 1/4; February 81 1/4-1 1/4; March 81 1/4-1 1/4; April 81 1/4-1 1/4; May 81 1/4-1 1/4; June 81 1/4-1 1/4; July 81 1/4-1

Programs Are Staged Here

Forty-eight guidance groups in Senior High schools have conducted special programs this week in observance of American Education week, according to report Thursday.

Guidance groups of Miss Margaret Henderson and Mrs. W. A. Sides, in joint meeting, heard Dan W. Powers, dean of boys, on "The Vocational Opportunities Offered by Lubbock Senior High School." Major Taylor, Roger Hall and Billie Brundage were also on the program.

Questions And Answers
Meeting together, the guidance classes of Mrs. R. M. Burford, Ishmael Hill, E. M. Barnett and J. W. Reid held a question-and-answer program on the origin and importance of National Education week. Joy McSpadden reviewed an article "Who Left the Light on Again?" Yvonne Balentine led a discussion on "A Ten-Point Program" for observance of National Education week. Gene Box and Brac Biggers debated the question of the desirability of compulsory arbitration of strikes in the defense effort.

Kilme Nall's guidance group held a discussion of "Opportunities in Vocations." Orvil Schofner spoke on "Opportunities in Law," Jerrene Verner, "Business," Thelbert Miller, "Agriculture," Jean Spencer, "Home Economics," and James Gilbert, "White," "Engineering." They are Texas Technological students.

A Joint Program
The guidance classes of Miss Marie Miles and Miss Mary Maegee held a joint program. Betty Johnston, Wanda Hicks, Jimmie Terrell, Mildred Chism, and La Rue Hall participated in a panel discussion of the week; at the conclusion of the discussion Miss Miles presented a chart on "Vocational Possibilities for Lubbock High Students." The data was taken from a survey made by Mrs. W. A. Sides of the Senior High faculty.

J. D. Wynn, Bennie Nell Cave, George Ater, and John Flannagan gave talks in C. C. Cox's group. Patriotic songs led by Bennie Rhodes opened the program for Miss Arletta Hargis's class, with talks by Don McIntire, Dale Odam, and Grace Wilborn following.

Subject Is Debated
Resolved: That the farmers of the South Plains are more independent than the citizens of Lubbock was the topic of a debate held in W. C. Watts' group. Participating were Jack Edwin, Dorothy Nell Reese, Phillip Mitchell, Helen Comolty, and Worth Zachary.

In D. M. Howell's group the following members took part in the program: Wendell Morrison, Betty Jo Mangum, Mary Lou Godbehere, Fowler Fielder, Wilda Jean McDill, Ross Berry, and Jackie Carr. A round-table discussion on "What America Has to Defend" was the feature of the program of Mrs. R. P. Johnson's class. Students taking part were Dimple Mickey, Imogene Vincent, Theda Beth Porter, Dan O'Brian, and Martha Jean Elliott.

Charles Akeres presided at the meeting of Miss Marie Cook's group. Mildred Faye Whatley spoke on "Education in Defense," Wanda Barker, "What America Has to Defend"; Joe Walden, "What United States Saving Bonds Are"; and Betty Jane Williams, "Educating Education."

Creates Interest
A program which created great interest among the guidance members, according to Mrs. Bruce Bryan, sponsor, was introduced by Lucille Lancaster, class president. Individual parts were "The Origin of American Education Week" by Peggy Badley, "How Education is Related to Common Defense" by Elmer Fite, and "What Does America Have to Defend" by Ladora Williams. Harlin Daniels led the song "America, I Love You" and the pledge to the flag was conducted by Jerry Crawford.

Nine members of Miss Lincol Hilliard's guidance class gave a

Students taking part were Billie Lou Abel, Evelyn Prater, Theda Faye Bell, C. A. Putman, John McLarty, Billy Walker, Philip Snider, Bennie Dora Johnson, and Leonard Stacy.

Play Is Presented
Hershal Maupin presented a play, "Correct and Incorrect Ways to Apply for a Job," for Mrs. Ruby Payne's group. Mr. O. O. Williams' class devoted the entire program to a discussion on National Defense. Parts were taken by Marilyn Wheeler, Julian Ward, Allen Ater, Joe Phillips, Lovern Curlee and Allen T. Stewart.

Following recitation of a creed, "The School of National Defense," and the singing of "God Bless America," members of Miss Gertrude Watson's class heard talks on "What America Has to Defend" and "What is Education for the Common Defense?" by Frances Chance; "What Do We Cherish for America?" by Ella Frances Norman; "How Can We Improve Economic Well-Being?" by Bob Lowery. A questionnaire on "Home Social Problems of Lubbock" was led by Mary Jane Eger to complete the program.

Home And Defense
John R. Freeman's guidance group held discussions on "The Part of the Home, School, and Pupil in Defense," and the question, "Which is more interdependent, the farmer or the city dweller?" Emma Gene Tonn, Zola Mae Elliott, and Louise Wilson led the discussions.

Panel discussion on vocational problems highlighted the program of Mr. G. E. Dawson's group. Sam Forbes spoke on "Prepare for Jobs." Jim Kuykendall, Bob Renner, Betty Jayne Morton and La Fayette McKay took part in the discussions.

In E. J. Lowrey's guidance class, Berle Browne spoke on "The School's Job in Preparing for a Vocation"; Jo Cobb, on "What America Has to Defend"; Posey Lu Gainer, on "Converting our National Resources"; Edward Hillburn, on "What Are the Schools Doing in Educating Americans to be Strong"; and Paula Hoffman, on "The Purpose of National Education Week."

Armed U. S. Ships Given Permission To Sail Anywhere In World

Neutrality Ad Changes Made

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14—American merchantmen regained complete freedom of the seas today by act of Congress, and with it the right to mount guns and shoot if attacked.

The House finished the legislative job in a suspense-packed, historic session yesterday by scrapping the neutrality act amendments which since 1939 have prohibited American shipping from entering the combat zones or belligerent harbors.

Majority Is 8 Votes—The vote was 212 to 194—a very sweet victory to administration. A photo finish where two or three votes could mean defeat. The final roll call climaxed the hardest battle yet waged to uphold President Roosevelt's hand in a matter affecting foreign policy. And it came after the tense House heard a dramatic, last-minute appeal from the president.

By its vote the House joined the House ship-arming bill to end all neutrality act restrictions on the movement of vessels flying the stars and stripes.

Final Signing Postponed—Just as soon as the legislation was approved, Speaker Rayburn quickly affixed his signature, and the strokes of the pen began the official scratching of the neutrality act bans from the statute books.

There remained the formality of adding the signature of Vice President Wallace before the measure could go to the White House for the final name. Franklin D. Roosevelt. However, an objection by Senator McNary (R-Ore), the minority leader, made it necessary for Wallace to wait until the Senate reconvenes Monday before signing.

Speed Is Planned—Nevertheless, there was abundant evidence that the technicality of the brief, three-day delay would prevent the administration from putting the legislation into speedy effect.

On the contrary, reports were current that the preliminary work for the arming of cargo vessels may already be under way. The navy department said merely that plans were ready to proceed at once.

Secretary Knox declared that the vote meant that both "ships and the men will be available to deliver defense aid and materials" in such quantity and at such places as to aid materially those who oppose "Hitler and his attempted domination of the world."

President Roosevelt sent his personal thanks to Rayburn and Democratic Floor Leader McCormack of Massachusetts for their victory in the strenuous battle. A secretary said the chief executive was "naturally pleased with the result."

Secretary Hull, whose services had been requested to win over fence-straddling members who looked as though the legislation might be defeated, hailed the House's action as "an exceedingly wise and timely decision."

Crime Expert Probes Death

HOUSTON, Nov. 14—A state crime expert arrived today to assist local officers in investigating the mysterious death of J. C. Franklin, 65, investment broker and attorney, in a flaming automobile.

A. C. Martindale, district attorney's investigator, said a technician from the state crime laboratory was brought here to examine the car to determine what caused the fire.

Although no motive has been developed, officers continued to work on the theory that Franklin was murdered and his car set afire on the banks of San Jacinto river east of here Wednesday.

Two gallons of gasoline remained in the car's tank and the gasoline lines were intact after the fire which was so hot that it melted the window glass and reduced Franklin's body to ashes.

The expert will check the car and its contents thoroughly to determine, if possible, whether any combustible substance, such as gasoline or kerosene, had been poured over the car, Martindale said.

Investigators said they still had no clues as to how Franklin met his death. Eight auto insurance adjusters inspected the car and concluded that it was not set afire by accident.

Officers have been unable to trace Franklin's movements between the time he left his office at mid-morning and when the car was found burning on the highway. Proctor of Highlander discovered the burning car in late afternoon. Franklin had no known enemies and he never carried any large sums of money, his relatives and associates said.

Funeral services were held in Galveston yesterday.

NEW THEATER MANAGER—LORENZO—Hubert Craddock, formerly of Sundown, has come here as manager of the Wallace theater. It is now owned by Wallace Blankenship of Levelland, who owns several other South Plains theaters. Recently the Sundown theater was destroyed by fire.

NEW EQUIPMENT—ROPERVILLE—The home economic department of the high school has installed two new gas ranges and an electric refrigerator as a part of the equipment. Miss Hazel Moore, teacher, reports. Members of the class have agreed to raise half of the total cost.

Russian Plane Still Missing

(By The Associated Press) TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 13 (AP)—The Soviet embassy said this evening that it still had no news of the plane in which U. S. Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt, Russian Ambassador Maxim Litvinoff and about a dozen others are reported missing en route here from Kaitlyshev, Russia.

The British legation here reported that an American woman journalist, Alice Moats, and an American magazine writer, Quentin Reynolds, were among the passengers.

The Russian embassy said it had received up to tonight no reports from either south Russian or north Iranian airfields along the route.

Caution Against Alarm—Officials cautioned against alarm, however. A report yesterday that the plane had landed at Pahlevi, Iranian Caspian seaport, proved erroneous, the embassy said. A shuttle plane flying from the Caucasian port of Baku had been mistakenly identified as the plane carrying the ambassadors, officials explained.

However, communications with the interior of Russia are considerably delayed and a Moslem holiday today prevented a thorough check of northern Iran by native telegraph authorities. Therefore, Russian and British sources said alarm over the lack of news was not justified.

The U. S. legation said that two telegrams had been received from Steinhardt. One, dated Nov. 7, said he would arrive in Teheran Nov. 9, while the second, sent Nov. 11, said he would arrive yesterday.

Officials in London pointed out that such trips are carried out in secrecy because of wartime precautions, and that the plane might have taken a different route not touching at Teheran at all.

Japan Rushes Conscription

(By The Associated Press) TOKYO, Nov. 14—The war office announced today a drastic revision of Japan's conscription regulations, making scores of thousands hitherto exempted liable to early summons to military service.

The revision provides that all men in the last ten military classes who were exempted because of inferior physical condition shall be called for re-examination and possible induction into the forces. This applies to all classes back to and including that of 1931—men between the ages of 20 and 30.

The new regulations also change the status of certain officers and non-commissioned officers of the reserve, making them more readily available for duty. This applies to noncoms up to 41 years old and officers up to 51.

Official estimates of the numbers of men involved were not immediately available.

service, the Agricultural Adjustment administration and other governmental agencies, will speak. They will discuss the proposed increases in production of milk and by-products, poultry and eggs, pigs and garden products.

Financial Lift Is Given Soldier By Great White Father

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Great White Father has given Lieut. Charles A. Allen a financial lift.

He's just received his annual check from the United States interior department. It seems that Allen is part Onida Indian. Under an old treaty members of his tribe and their descendants each year must be given five yards of calico—or a cash equivalent. This time it amounted to $7 cents.

Condition Of Clyde Terrell Is Critical
Condition of Clyde Terrell, 33, of 620 Avenue M was critical this morning in St. Mary's hospital, where examination revealed he had a left hip fracture, punctured left lung and right kidney injury.

Terrell was brought to Lubbock Thursday afternoon from a Tulsa hospital, where he was taken after suffering the injuries in an accident three miles south of Tulsa at 11:50 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The accident happened after the truck Terrell was driving ran out of gasoline on the highway, said the injured man's twin brother, Claude Terrell. Another truck driver stopped to help and was backing up to fit his rear bumper to the front bumper of the truck which was out of gasoline. Terrell was caught between the two machines. He is an employe of Dalby Motor Freight lines. Both Clyde and Claude Terrell recently were awarded certificates of merit by the state safety division for their safety in driving.

Financial Lift Is Given Soldier By Great White Father
FORT BRAGG, N. C., Nov. 14 (AP)—The Great White Father has given Lieut. Charles A. Allen a financial lift.

He's just received his annual check from the United States interior department. It seems that Allen is part Onida Indian. Under an old treaty members of his tribe and their descendants each year must be given five yards of calico—or a cash equivalent. This time it amounted to $7 cents.

Nation To Pay High Prices For Turkeys

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Nov. 14—The first of the nation's dual Thanksgiving days comes next week and it finds turkey prices the highest in six years.

A little quiet research in the rapidly expanding market for dressed turkeys—birds already on their way to retail counters for next week's big trade—found prices 1/2 to two cents a pound higher than a week ago. Wholesale prices ranged from 20 1/2 to 29 cents a pound, the latter on choice hens. A year ago, prices were from 13 to 24 cents.

Lowest In 1936
In 1936 turkeys sold as low as 21 1/2 for best quality just before Thanksgiving, but that was the cheapest they have been in recent years. In 1935 they were up to 30 and 31 cents and poultry dealers said the current market is comparable to that.

Geese and ducks, still were considered reasonably priced. Geese were quoted at 11 to 17 cents a pound, compared to 14 to 18 a year ago, and ducks 12 to 18, or only slightly above last year's quotations.

Dealers said the movement of turkeys to market has been late. Quality is very good. The 41 class of birds was fattened on ample supplies of feed. Weights are running heavy, as was the case last year. In fact, dealers said, there is somewhat of a shortage of lighter birds. Weights had been tending smaller until last year, when the so-called streamlined apartment house turkey lost favor.

The 1937 crop is estimated only slightly larger than last year, or around 35,000,000 head, largest on record. A year ago an unexpected cold snap just before Thanksgiving cost the lives of about a billion birds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Norcross of Long Beach arrived this morning for a visit with his mother, Mrs. H. S. Hood, and family, 1938 Texas avenue.

Barker Gives Nod To Northwestern, Missouri, Stanford And Tech This Week

Sportometer Hi, Panthers & Billikens By Collier Parris

IF AMARILLO COULD DO IT by one point, the Westerners can do it by a dozen—and that's the margin by which this corner figures Lubbock High will defeat Austin High of El Paso here this afternoon.

It ought to be an interesting ball game, due to the aerial antics in which the Panthers specialize, and which will keep the Westerners on their toes on every down, and due to the all-round effectiveness of the Westerners, best team in District One, who have both defense and offense.

Here's your last chance to see the Westerners in action this season, unless you go to Plainview next Thursday—and unless the totally unexpected happens. Plainview of Pampa might upset the Sandies of Amarillo, but the hope of that, and a three-way tie including Lubbock, is more forlorn than Baylor's tie with Texas or Pittsburgh's victory over Fordham or Odessa's win over Sweetwater. Those things did happen, though, and even stranger things have happened.

WHY CAN'T PLAINVIEW SCHOOL OFFICIALS CHANGE THE DATE OF THE LUBBOCK-PLAINVIEW GAME? IT'S SCHEDULED FOR NEXT THURSDAY. WHEN TEXAS TECH PLAYS HARDING-SIMMONS HERE, LUBBOCK WOULD BE WILLING, WE'RE QUITE SURE, TO PLAY ON FRIDAY OR SATURDAY, PREFERABLY SATURDAY. IT WOULDN'T BE THANKSGIVING, BUT IT WOULD DRAW A LARGER CROWD, ESPECIALLY FROM LUBBOCK!

Please excuse us, Coach Dukes and your St. Louis university Billikens, for putting off the welcome until the fifth paragraph. At least it's not a fifth column, and no sabotage is planned.

WHAT WE MEAN, Coach Duford and you Billikens, is: Welcome to our town, and make yourselves at home. It's your first visit here, and we hope you enjoy all but about two hours of it. We're glad to have you here, and we hope you leave with a good impression of Lubbock and West Texas hospitality, if not with a victory. We have been telling the folks that you will give them an interesting game tomorrow afternoon. It's only fair to state that the "dope" is against you, but the dope was against Miami university the other night, too, and the Red Raiders didn't know what hit them when the game was over.

Coach W. J. DUKES
DUFORD
ST. LOUIS UNIVERSITY

The Red Raiders are the No. 1 defensive team of the nation, as you know if you read the papers, and they're supposed to be the hot stuff in this region. Third largest school in the state you know, albeit the youngest senior college in the state. We haven't reached the voting age yet, being only 17 years old as of last September, but give us a little time, and give Coach Dell Morgan the material, and we'll be holding up our heads with Southwest conference teams before long.

IN KEEPING WITH CUSTOM, the column here with relatives, or repeats, some of the facts regarding the St. Louis university and its football department.

The university was founded in 1818, which ranks it with the ancients. It didn't go out for football until more than half a century later, but it claims to be the first team to compete in an intercollegiate football game west of the Mississippi, which was in 1889.

Rivaling Texas Tech for enrollment, St. Louis university lists 274 men and 2086 women in its enrollment of 4830 students. It's a Roman Catholic institution, conducted by Society of Jesus; the president is Rev. Harry B. Crimmins, S. J. The school colors are royal blue and white, and the nickname is Billikens, as discussed in this space earlier this week.

St. Louis university boasts a 20,000 capacity brick and concrete stadium, the Edward J. Walsh Memorial stadium, at 5200 Oakland Avenue in St. Louis. The Texas Tech Red Raiders worked out there a season or so ago enroute to Buffalo for a game with Duquesne.

The athletic director and head football coach is W. J. "Dukes" Duford, who rallied from a serious malady early this season, after nearly all hope was given up, and after the team had played three or four games, and you hear a lot of nice things about Coach Duford. He is a graduate of Marquette, class of '24; he is assisted by Robert G. Klenck, who works with the backfield, and Don W. Geyer, who works with the line. Klenck is from St. Ambrose, '32, and Geyer from Northwestern, '37.

Klenck also coaches basketball and baseball, and Geyer coaches track and field. Director of physical education at St. Louis U. is Walter C. Eberhardt, who is also the golf and tennis coach. Director of publicity is J. N. Fueglin, who has supplied us with most of the above facts and who got out a very fine brochure at the start of the season, for which we are grateful.

St. Louis has played in the Missouri Valley conference for some 30-and-so years, and has made a good record, although winning few championships. So far this season, the Billikens have managed for only two victories, defeating Missouri, Mines and Loyola university of Los Angeles. They tied Drake university, 6-6, lost to Tulsa, Xavier and Oklahoma A. & M.

Coach Duford is in his second year as head man of the Billikens, and he is follower of a long list of famous footballers and coaches, such as Marti Delaney, who coached from 1899 to 1905; Eddie Dowd, Eddie Cochems, Bill Warner, John Bender, Fred Dennis, George Keagan, Earl Painter, Charles Hindmeyer, Ernie Quigley, Steve O'Rourke, Dan Savage, Robert L. Mathew, Hartley "Hunk" Anderson, Charles (Chile) Walsh and Cecil Muellerfeld, direct antecedent of Duford, who took over last year.

TIME NOW TO STICK THE NECK OUT, so here are the predictions, with probable difference in score, for games this weekend:

Billikens Are Seeking Upset Visitors Boosting Backfield Threats

(Special To The Journal)
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14.—St. Louis university resumes its recent but ardent feud with the Red Raiders of Texas Tech at Lubbock Saturday afternoon on the last lap of the most ambitious road schedule ever undertaken by a Billikens football team.

The St. Louis U. squad of 31 players left here at 4:01 p. m. Thursday and will have covered 7,500 miles by the time it returns to St. Louis at 7:10 a. m. Monday. The Billikens are scheduled to arrive in Lubbock (via Santa Fe) at 3:55 p. m. Friday and will put up at Hotel Hilton.

Other road trips this season have taken the team to Los Angeles, Tulsa, and Omaha.

Boosting an undefeated record against the Billikens for the first time last year, the Red Raiders had to battle every inch of the way to win 7-6 on the margin of Halback Roger Smith's point after touchdown.

They marched through the over-awed Billikens for their lone marker in the first few minutes of play but an inspired St. Louis U. team came to life in the second quarter and moved half the field to score on a four-yard end run by Dick Pfuhl.

They carried the ball on left half, Dick Weber, Billikens left halfback, after scoring six consecutive extra points in other games, boosted wide of the goal as his boot-laden cleats slipped on the soggy turf.

Seven Red Raiders and six Billikens who squared off against each other at the opening kickoff of last year's thriller will be back in the starting lineup when the gun barks Saturday, and Smith, a triple-threat back, will resume his personal feud with Weber, the Billikens' chief backfield threat, who played the full 60 minutes last year, carried the ball on 39 plays and handled all the passing and kicking for the Bills.

Two sophomores, "Big John" Gurczinski at right tackle and Joe Glover at fullback—will be in the Billikens' starting lineup but Texas Tech will present an all-veteran combination, ably backed up by capable replacements, who may turn the tide for the Red Raiders. Among these are such dependable backs as Thayne Amnett, Tom Douglass, Glenn Lowe, Walter Webster, J. B. Callahan and Ed Harris, the latter two sophomores. Douglass, Amnett and Webster performed against the Billikens last year.

Red Raiders Favored
On the basis of comparative scores between common foes, Texas Tech rates a definite edge over the Billikens, having defeated Oklahoma A. & M. 16-6, Loyola of the Coast 14-0 and Creighton 13-6. The Billikens won over Loyola 21-13 but lost to Oklahoma A. & M. 13-7 and to Creighton 13-6. The Red Raiders have lost but a single game this season, 6-0, while piling up 138 points to the opposition's 18 in seven games. The Billikens, on the other hand, have lost four, won two and tied one game but have been showing constant improvement as the season progresses.

Westerners Meet El Paso Team Today

INTRODUCING THE WESTERNERS—Names of prominent local men precede them, and above are pictured two Lubbock High footballers who are doing a swell job of living up to the names. No. 50 is A. Riley, 154-pound halfback, and No. 48 is Amos Howard, 150-pound quarterback, and you're likely to see them perform this afternoon against the Austin High Panthers of El Paso.

H-SU Fish Nip Tech Eleven

The Texas Tech freshman football squad today feels the same humiliation that the Texas Tech varsity felt nearly two weeks ago.

At Abilene last night, the Tech frosh, considered one of the strongest freshman teams ever registered here, went down to the Hardin-Simmons university first year men, the Cowhans, nothing to six, and they're still trying to figure out why they couldn't score.

Two Cowhans, Parramore Sellers of Abilene and Rudolph Mobley of Paducah, slashed and drove through the Tech's Tech fish line for gains that drew blood early in the second period for the only tally.

The H-SU frosh started their goal-bound drive from their own 22-yard line, and with Sellers and Mobley alternating in ball-carrying duties, drove to the Picador 12-yard marker from where a penalty for roughness placed the ball one yard from pay dirt. Two plays lost two yards, and Mobley dropped back and passed to Johnson over the goal line.

Sellers' try for extra point was wide, and the scoring for the evening was all over.

The Picadors were three short on first downs and several tons of yards short in scrimmage, but they made threats in the second, third and fourth periods.

After a 62-yard quick kick by Johnson of the Cowhans that was dead on the Picador 2-yard line, Walter Schlinkman of Dumas skirted right end for 20 yards, then Leete Jackson of Lubbock bruised his way up the middle for 16 more. A pass from Amarillo's Clyde Clark to Jackson moved the ball to the 48-yard line, but the Picadors were held for three tries and forced to kick from near mid-field.

Lubbocks Face Aerial Threat

Keyesmen Seeking To Protect Record

Football visitors today are Coach W. J. "Chule" Milner and his pass-throwing Panthers of Austin High school from El Paso, and they are here to challenge the long record of "un-defeatism" on the home field of the Lubbock High Westerners. The game, closing out Lubbock's home season, starts at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Austin High team arrived in Lubbock late yesterday afternoon. Coach Milner took his boys out to the Texas Tech freshman practice field and sent them through a light drill.

The Westerners worked out early this morning and passed for slightly more than an hour.

They Throw The Ball
The Panthers are justly renowned for their aerial attack, which has few equals in high school football. Starting pitcher for the visitors will be Mario Castorena, a left-hander who in his first season of football has developed into a deadly passer.

For relief, the Panthers can call upon Bill Bridger, starter at left half, Lavender Humphrey, a letterman of last season who has been crowded to the sidelines by Castorena.

Bridger is the top back of the Panthers. He's more than a triple-threat, because he runs, passes, kicks and receives passes. He has scored 99 points this season, far more than his nearest competitor in District 4-A.

If they follow the pattern set in winning five straight games played this season, the Panthers will be throwing on just about every other down, and completing about half of their passes. Against Amarillo, for instance, Austin threw 37 passes, completed 24 for a gain of over 300 yards.

Same Starters
Coach Goober Keyes of the Westerners indicated last night that he'd start the same boys that opened against Brackenside.

Co-Capt. Ty Bain, possible exception, is troubled with an injured foot; if he is not able to start, Quarterback Max Walthall will be moved to fullback and the blocking back charged with the blocking back chores.

In this ninth game of the season, the Westerners will be shooting for their seventh victory, against a scoreless tie with Verano and a 3-0 defeat by Amarillo.

Border Teams Seek Additional Honors
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 14.—Four Border conference teams, led by Arizona university, make bids for intersectional football laurels tomorrow.

Arizona, assured of a Border championship and currently topping the nation for ground and passing gains, invades Stillwater, Okla., for a game against Oklahoma A. & M.

The Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene, also unbeaten in the sagebrush circuit, go into the deep south for a contest with Louisiana Tech at Ruston. The Cowboys can share the Border title with Arizona by a victory over Arizona State of Tempe on December 6.

The rest of the intersectional program sends third place New Mexico university to Milwaukee against Marquette university and the Texas Tech-Red Raiders, not eligible for the Border title, against St. Louis university at Lubbock.

This Afternoon's Sports Parade— Buddy Baer Takes Big Risk In Crawling In Ring With Louis After Hurting Bomber's Pride

BY HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—If I were an insurance agent and Buddy Baer asked me to sell him an accident policy, I would turn him down cold. The man just isn't a good risk now that he has signed to fight Joe Louis again.

He is young and in the best of health, but he is going to become involved in a horrible accident on the evening of Jan. 9. He will emerge from it with lacerations around the mouth and eyes, contusions of the face and a mild coagulation of the brain caused by repeated and violent blows upon the chin. It won't be an automobile or a locomotive that hit him, either.

Louis is usually an even-tempered citizen, but some things happened during his bout with Baer in Washington last spring that hurt his pride. Once before in his career his pride was hurt—by Max Schmeling—and the things that happened to Maxie in the return bout made the rigors of the German parachute corps seem like a picnic in the spring.

Baer, unlike his brother Max who headed for a storm cellar early, decided to stand up and fight Louis. In the course of the hostilities two things occurred: (a) Louis suffered a cut over his eye—one of the rare times in his career that his blood has been shed in the ring.

(b) Baer hit the Brown Bomber when he was backed up against the ropes and knocked him over the second strand onto the apron of the ring.

Louis came crawling back through the ropes and fortunately, or unfortunately if you are frightened easily—your agent got a square look at his face. It was all coiled into knots of hatred. I had a sudden surge of pity for the purchase choice seats. Just before I would be ready to record the time of the knockout, no matter if he loses all his money, Louis never will die broke. He can always take the face he wore that night and sent it out to people who want to do some scaring on Halloween.

Time may have cooled his rage a bit, but I think he is going to see an unusual fight between Louis and Baer on Jan. 9. It may be one of those fights where only four rounds are heard. They are, in the order of their appearance: (1) The bell, (2) Louis' left landing, (3) Louis' right landing, and (4) Baer landing—on the floor.

You should be in your seat early if you don't want to have the same experience that befell a Texas oil millionaire at the second Louis-Schmeling fight. He had chartered an airplane and brought 15 friends to the fight. He had expended a small fortune for purchase choice seats. Just before the main bout started he hauled a dollar cigar from his pocket, bit off the end and struck a match. When the cigar was lit, he threw away the match and looked up—all set to watch the fight. It was over.

One interesting angle of the bout is that Louis is turning his entire purse over to the navy relief organization. The prospect of watching a heavyweight champion fight for nothing more than the love of the game should attract quite a throng to Madison Square Garden. Among them should be any astronomers anxious to do research work on certain phenomena associated with his science. You know—the study of falling bodies.

A person standing still on the earth's surface is whirling with the earth's rotation—14 miles an hour, speeding around the sun at 68,000 miles an hour, and moving straight through space with the entire solar system at 43,000 miles an hour.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Guessing the week's football slate (and after last week's debacle we do mean guess):

Northwestern-Notre Dame: Two good teams meet in the log game of the schedule. The Irish are tough and their offense, so long as Angelo Bertelli is tossing that ball, is difficult to halt. Northwestern can counter with another sophomore sensation, Otto Graham, but the Wildcats have been unlucky in their major tests this year. Still, maybe their luck will change. A flier on Northwestern Stanford-Washington on State: Thanks to Bill Sewell, Washington State has seen a giant killer on occasion this season. Having said that, this corner stubbornly casts the customary vote for Stanford.

Duke-North Carolina: This thing almost never comes up as expected. But how are you going to pick against the undefeated Blue Devils in this one? Duke.

Favors Aggies Over Rice
Iowa-Minnesota: The Gophers, crippled as they are, figure to have no walkover against improving Iowa but the ballot must be cast for Minnesota.

Missouri-Oklahoma: As tough a choice as any on the schedule, Oklahoma has come far since its trouncing by Texas; Missouri, beaten only by Ohio State, rates as one of the nation's strong teams. Out of the hat, Missouri.

Rice-Texas A. and M.: Prepared for anything, Texas A. and M. Texas-Texas Christian: Expecting the Longhorns to return to form, Texas.

Columbia-Michigan: Doubting the Lions have enough depth to meet this foe on even terms, Michigan.

Boston College Picked
Boston College-Tennessee: The Eagles have been impressive in recent weeks. Boston College but not by much.

Duquesne-Mississippi State: Both unbeaten, although State has been tied. That long trip back from the West Coast won't help Duquesne in a dense fog, Duquesne.

New York University-Tulane: Even erratic Tulane hardly can blow this one, Tulane.

Alabama-Georgia Tech: It's a question if Alabama can stay up on the same level it reached last week against Tulane. Still, Alabama.

Pitt Over Nebraska
California-Oregon State: Off the records, Oregon State.

Ohio State-Illinois: Can't see any hope for the Illini. Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Purdue: This corner is trying to figure Wisconsin after the Badgers' opening game, the coin spins . . . Wisconsin.

Nebraska-Pitt: Both were "up" last week which is of positively no help now. Ennie, meenie . . . Pitt.

Michigan State-Temple: Probably close, Temple.

Kansas-Kansas State: Picking State.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist: This one—at Fayetteville where many hope for Alabama, has the dust. Risking the jinx, Southern Methodist.

Louisiana State-Auburn: Auburn's improving rapidly but this hesitant vote goes to L. S. U.

Selects Penn Against Army
Cornell-Dartmouth: The nod goes to Cornell.

Georgetown-North Carolina State: Pretty even but we'll take Georgetown.

Harvard-Brown: Spot for a sure.

Stretch Drive Toward Title Under Way In Southwest Conference

Steers Likely To Storm Back

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Marking that Baylor thing off as a bad dream but hoping it won't turn into a nightmare, Texas moves tomorrow against the final Southwest conference barrier to a showdown with the Texas Aggies.

Standing in the road are the upsurging Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university, a team that has every incentive to stamp out Texas' hopes of a championship after ten years of waiting.

Could Win Championship

Because T.C.U. still is in the conference race and a victory over the Longhorns would put the Frogs in a position to tie for the title pending the result of the Texas-Aggie battle of Turkey day.

In fact, it might give them the championship should the Aggies stumble before their arch-rivals, the Rice Owls at Houston tomorrow. And such a result as that would put Rice back in the race, too.

It's the stretch drive now and unless Texas has recovered from that 7-7 tie with Baylor sufficiently to knock off the Horned Frog menace, it's curtains for Longhorn hopes. Defeat by T.C.U. would leave Texas without a chance of the championship should the Aggies win over Rice.

Anything Can Happen

Texas and A. and M. will be highly favored to win but Rice and T.C.U. might put it like this: "If Pittsburgh can beat Fordham and Baylor can tie Texas, then anything can happen."

While the powers of the conference race are battling it out, there will be a cellar brawl going on over at Fayetteville between Southern Methodist and Arkansas, neither of which has won a game in championship warfare.

This one is difficult to gauge. Southern Methodist played at its "high" last week in leading the mighty Aggies into the waning minutes. Arkansas had its inspiration the week before in holding the Aggies to a touchdown victory.

75,000 To See Games

Arkansas, therefore, has had more chance to be up again. Moreover, Southern Methodist is badly crippled.

However, on the basis of the season's record, S.M.U. rates as the favorite.

Baylor's upsetting Bears play a hard one, journeying to Tulsa for a crack at the Tulsa Golden Hurricane, which has lost but one game this season—that to T. C. U., the team that also beat Baylor.

But the Bruins should stand an even chance of knocking over Tulsa with the backwash of that magnificent stand against Texas last week.

More than 75,000 fans will witness the four games. Here's how they look from this corner (anticipated attendance in parentheses):

Texas vs. Texas Christian at Austin (22,000)—Baylor tore the mask of invincibility from Texas last week but against a Texas team with too many key men out. We'll take the Longhorns and believe they'll look like they did before the Baylor upset.

Texas A. and M. vs. Rice at Houston (22,000)—It won't be easy but the Aggies ought to win in the stretch.

Southern Methodist vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville (10,000)—Either way it goes won't be surprising but we'll string along with S.M.U. Baylor vs. Tulsa (18,000)—Quite a battle but Baylor is back in stride. We'll take the Bears in a photo finish.

Junior High Cowboys Continue Win Streak

Those high-flying Cowboys did it again!

The Lubbock Junior High school gridders marked up their sixth victory of the season and their 22nd in their last 23 starts with a 35-6 victory over the Sundown Junior High team yesterday at Chapman Field.

Coaches Mule Davis and Lovie Liston used every one of their 34 players, and allowed the first-stringers to play only about six minutes.

Billy Van Wolfe scored the first touchdown, and plunged for the extra point. George Brewer ran for the second, and R. W. Moyer plunged for the point. N. W. Elston pushed over the third touchdown, with Jimmy Lowrey scoring the point, running.

Two Plays, Two Scores

The Cowboy first-stringers ran only two plays in the second half and scored two touchdowns. Early in the fourth, Paul (Trigger) Teas, a tackle, who is sometimes pulled out of the line to run from the fullback slot, ran 90 yards for a touchdown. On the last play of the game curly-headed J. D. Wooten, hustling Cowboy halfback, took the kickoff after Sundown's lone touchdown and ran it back 75 yards for a touchdown, following good interference.

Wooten scored one extra point and George Brewer one in the second half.

Oren Peden, who did some very nice bare-footed ball-carrying for the visitors, intercepted a pass thrown by Jimmy Lowrey and ran it 70 yards for a touchdown in the last minute of the game, but a plunge for the point failed.

The Cowboys have one more game this season, at Sweetwater Nov. 25.

Grid Selections

Harvard's the selection. Penn State-West Virginia: State's coming along fast and gets this vote.

Penn-Army: Very even but we'll stick with Penn.

Syracuse-Colgate: Another traditional rivalry in which form means absolutely nothing. Guessing, Syracuse.

Yale-Princeton: Ditto this one. Princeton.

Villanova-Detroit: Exceptionally close. Detroit.

Baylor Named To Win

Tulsa-Baylor: Storm signals hoisted on this one. Baylor.

Clemson-Wake Forest: Probably close. Clemson.

South Carolina-Furman: The Gamecocks seem a little frayed at the edges but we'll stay with them. South Carolina.

Maryland-Virginia Military: Taking V. M. I.

Santa Clara-St. Mary's: Santa Clara rates the edge.

Holy Cross-Manhattan: Sticking with Holy Cross.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Bucknell over George Washington; Lafayette over West-ern-Maryland; Rutgers over Connecticut; Williams over Amherst; Marquette over New Mexico; Iowa State over Drake; Oklahoma A. and M. over Arizona; Washington (St. Louis) over Butler; Texas Tech over St. Louis; Washington and Lee over Davidson; Virginia over Lehigh; Florida over Miami; Georgia over Centre; Kentucky over Southwestern; Vanderbilt over Louisville; Utah over Colorado State; Brigham Young over Colorado; Utah State over Wyoming; Denver over Colorado Mines; Montana over Idaho.

Home-made jellies and jams were luxuries in Great Britain in the early 18th century.

His victory put him in the somewhat unusual position of being recognized all around as king of the light heavies.

Fort Worth, Dallas Hockey Teams Clash

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Fort Worth Rangers, who haven't lost a game, and the Dallas Texans, who haven't won one, meet in Dallas' ice area tonight in an American association hockey game.

It will be the second game in a winter-long series between the two newcomers to big-time ice hockey. At Fort Worth last week the Rangers shut out the Texans 5 to 0.

West Texas Press Clinic Opens On College Campus

Two-Day Meet Attracts 300

Attendance of approximately 300 delegates was indicated this morning as staff members and sponsors of West Texas public school newspapers and yearbooks began arriving at Texas Technological college for the fifth annual convention of the West Texas Scholastic Press Clinic.

Advance reservations were received for a few more than 300 delegates from 27 schools, said Joseph B. Cowan, assistant professor of journalism at Texas Tech and director of the clinic.

Izzard Principal Speaker
The visitors were to be welcomed by Cecil Horne, head professor of journalism, and Chas. A. Guy, editor of Avalanche-Journal publications, and to hear an address by DeWitt Landis, manager of KFYO, at 2 o'clock this afternoon in the opening session in room 206 of the press building.

Howard Schmidt, Lubbock Senior High school student and president of the clinic, was to preside this afternoon and will be the toastmaster at a banquet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lubbock hotel.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Wesley S. Izzard, assistant to the publisher of the Amarillo News-Globe. Dancing will follow the banquet.

Program Outlined
Today's program otherwise includes group meetings at 3 o'clock in the press building and a party at which Tech chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary women's journalism sorority, will be host at 4 o'clock in the gymnasium.

Chairmen for the group meetings were announced as follows: Printed papers, Paul Patterson; Crane sponsor, advertising, V. R. Howard, Amarillo sponsor; mimeographed papers, Mrs. A. F. Razor, Junior High school sponsor; yearbooks, Winston Reeves, Lubbock photographer.

Staff of the Western World, Lubbock Senior High school newspaper, has edited the Clinic News, convention newspaper which will be distributed at the banquet tonight.

The program will continue Saturday morning. The Western World staff is to present a skit on "How To Conduct an Interview" and students from Plainview are to offer a skit on "How To Find a Feature Story" at 9:30 o'clock. Delegates will write stories based on the Western World skit. Awards will be given to one boy and one girl for the best stories. Delegates not interested in news writing will write advertisements for Texas Tech and the boy and girl submitting the best advertisements will receive awards.

To Be Guests At Games
Committees will report at 10:30 o'clock, after which resolutions

ATLANTIC RESCUES—Tossing on storm-swept seas, clinging to makeshift rafts, capsized lifeboats, bits of wreckage, or perhaps drifting for days in open boats with the most meager of rations—then rescue, welcome rescue, by strong-armed sailors and hot coffee, warm blankets, sleep. That's the pattern of life on the Atlantic for sailors cast adrift from torpedoed ships. These pictures of rescues made by British warships portray some of that daily drama of wartime seas.

British warship on patrol snatched these survivors of a torpedoed ship from the rolling Atlantic.

Exhausted seamen picked up from bombed freighter load British destroyer's whaleboat to overflow.

Welcome rescue came to this sailor who had clung to overturned lifeboat after his vessel was sunk.

will be adopted and officers elected. Delegates will receive tickets from the athletic council to the Tech-St. Louis university football game Saturday afternoon.

Registration for the clinic opened at 10 o'clock this morning and continued until 2 o'clock. Most of the delegates registering were those for whom advanced reservations had been received.

Schools from which reservations have been received, the number of delegates expected from each, and the sponsors are: Canyon, 18; Mrs. Carl T. York; Shal-lowater, 9; B. T. Rucker, Amarillo, 6; C. A. Records Of Hitler's Speeches Preserved

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14 (AP)—Photographic records of speeches by Adolf Hitler and other German leaders during the early part of the Nazi regime have been presented to the University of Pennsylvania.

The recordings, believed to be the only ones now in existence, were donated to the university by Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, who was legal adviser to the Prussian police under the Weimar Republic. They were confiscated by state police in raids on early Nazi headquarters in Berlin.

Professors at the university plan to use the records in the teaching of European history and political science.

Classics Now Vying With Army's 'Jive'

FORT RILEY, Kas., Nov. 14 (AP)—The classics are holding their own with "jive" in the army. Three times a week selections here are entertained with sonatas, concertos, Viennese waltzes and operatic arias.

A group of former professional musicians, now in service, give the concerts Monday and Thursday evenings and Saturday afternoon. Scott Watson, Baltimore, concert pianist; Irving Burky, Cleveland, violinist; and Bill Fischer, Akron, pianist, are the instrumentalists of the group. Singers are Marty Fineman, Chicago, and Frank Ambrose, Youngstown, Ohio.

U. S. Declaration Of War Against Nazis Now Seen As Blow To Allies

Ship's Sinking Hitler's Ace

BY MORGAN M. BEATTY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — To Americans, the Reuben James is a tragic hulk lying on the floor of the North Atlantic ocean, but to Adolf Hitler and his strategists, the destroyer is a live pawn of immense strategic value in the world-filing mosaic of war.

That's the considered opinion of observers here.

The principal value of the sinking to Hitler is the possibility — conceded on all sides — that it brings us closer to an actual declaration of war.

New Pressure On U. S.

A declaration of war on our part should help Hitler now. It should help him more than any strategy he could possibly plan and carry out himself.

A declaration would impose on the president the pressing duty of conserving all defense materials for the use of our own naval and military forces.

This means the president might have to cut down lend-lease aid to the British, the Chinese and the Russians. If he failed to do this he would be running dangerous risks. Suppose, for instance, that we should declare war and our forces should suffer reverses. The cry would go up that we had sent our weapons to other nations, and left our own men helpless against the enemy. Whether the charge would be accurate is beside the point.

Blow To Russians

Consider also the fact that most military observers are leaning to the belief that Hitler cannot annihilate the Russian armies this winter. He'll have to carry on until spring, and then try to deliver the coup de grace he supposedly held poised a few weeks ago when he told the world the Russian armies were whipped. Joseph Goebbels, the German propaganda chief, bears out the strategists. He has officially notified the German people they can expect another tough winter.

If the United States should declare war on Hitler at this time, and lend-lease aid should be shut off, the very shot in the arm the Russians need for next spring might be denied them. Hitler would then still have a tremendous advantage when action started after the thaw.

Japs Must Be Watched

But there is another strategic reason why the Reuben James becomes a live pawn in Hitler's hands.

The sinking of the destroyer imposes on the United States navy the duty of tightening up our forces protecting our convoys to Iceland. They must keep intact the fleet they now have in the Atlantic. They might even be tempted to withdraw ships from the Pacific.

If we lower the strength of our Pacific fleet, the Japanese might be encouraged to strike a blow at Russia's rear. Vladivostok is their dearest desire. It's a knife pointed at Tokyo. Or, if the Japanese should strike at Singapore, we would have a two-ocean war on our hands — with only a one-ocean navy to fight it.

Might Unite Nation

Doubtless a declaration of war by the United States at this time would have — from the standpoint of our defense effort — some advantages. A people at war are usually a united people. Strikes, discord, debate are usually forgotten. Whatever the course ahead, the majority usually follows that course to the bitter end.

But that's another matter — a domestic matter for the president and the Congress to decide. They will have to weigh both advantages and disadvantages — and decide also what the American public wants to do at this moment.

But regardless of the domestic aspects of the case, an actual declaration of war by the United States now would be more help than hindrance to the Nazi dictator, however much hindrance we should generate later on.

Alexandria Is On Big Spree

(By The Associated Press)

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Nov. 14 — Not since the lush days of World war I has this ancient city—Egypt's "second capital"—seen such mad spending, such dizzily soaring prices, such roaring night life.

The tens of thousands of dollars that pour daily from the pockets of British seamen off warships based here have swollen the cash boxes of theaters, restaurants, hotels and night clubs to bursting. Axis bombing of the battleships in the harbor, the rigidly enforced blackout and the fact that Alexandria, like all Egypt, is under martial law have failed to curb the spending spree.

More westernized than Cairo, Alexandria does most things American style. Men and women wear American clothes, drink American beer, smoke American and English cigarettes and the movies are almost exclusively American with French subtitles and a special screen alongside flashing titles in Arabic and Greek.

Local breweries couldn't meet the demand of British armed forces for beer so dealers get their beer off ships from New York. It is the main source of profit for cafe owners.

Food prices mount almost daily despite government warnings and severe penalties for profiteers. The government has requisitioned all wheat supplies in its drive against food speculators. The average lunch in an Alexandria restaurant costs 30 piastres or roughly $1.20 as compared with 18 piastres a

Interview Technique Stressed In Movie

HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 14 (U.P.)—Unemployed youths in engineering defense training courses are "going to the movies" to learn proper interview technique.

Dr. Joseph W. Bird, placement director for graduates of defense training course in Pennsylvania, is using a film, "I Want a Job," to aid students trained for defense work seeking employment.

Six Lakes Projects In Amarillo Area Give New Life To Panhandle

Land Benefits From Program

(By The United Press)
AMARILLO, Nov. 14—Back in 1930 dirt farmers on the Texas Panhandle faced dark times—both figuratively and literally. Crops and pastures scorched under a constant sun that darkened only when the wind came up and scooped millions of tons of land into the air and blew it into a black duster. Cattle and crops were dead or dying for lack of water. Hundreds had given up and hit John Steinbeck's storied Highway 281 to the West Coast where they became Okies. It was a dark picture.

It would have done "a man a lot of good to see a large body of cool water." But even when the drought finally was broken and rains came in torrents, there was no body of water. The roaring rains—like the roaring winds—scooped off hundreds of tons of rich top soil and a few hours after the storm there was none of the water to be seen. It ran off that quickly.

Sponsored by Gene Howe of Amarillo, the Panhandle had been advanced back in the 1920s by Gene Howe, Amarillo publisher, but it wasn't until the droughts of the 1930s that people really became lake-conscious. W. A. Warren, head of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, held the first meeting of the lake-conscious persons. Other meetings followed throughout the vast Panhandle, and out of these conferences came an organization known as the Panhandle Water Conservation association.

John McCarty, Amarillo newspaperman, and Carl Hinton, Amarillo civic leader, became president and secretary, respectively, and have held their positions since. Hinton first went to Washington in 1936. He called on several officials and asked government help to construct lakes and reclaim the land back in the Panhandle.

No one listened, so he came back and another meeting was held. At this meeting—near the back of the room—sat a man named Will Lawrence. He said not a word, but was impressed by the earnestness of the Panhandle dirt farmers, and it happened that he had been director of lake construction under Rexford Tugwell's resettlement administration.

Washington Aid Enlisted Between jobs he had passed through Amarillo and attended the meeting. When he returned to Washington he called on several government officials and did a little evangelical work for the dirt farmers.

Finally H. H. Bennett, chief of the Soil Conservation service, listened. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics became interested, too.

Thus, early in 1937 the No. 1 project—a dam across Tierra Blanca creek near Amarillo—was started. In 1938 construction began on Lake Marvin dam across Boggy creek in Hemphill county.

Work followed on a McClelland creek dam in Gray county, on a dam across Rita Blanca southeast of Dalhart in Dallam county, on Tule creek dam in Swisher county, and Wolf creek dam in Ochiltree county.

Work For Farmers Destitute farmers cancelled their migration to California and applied for and received work on the dams. More than 1,500 men were employed on the projects. It enabled many to keep their farms.

Today the six lakes dot the Panhandle. Four more are planned in order that no plains community will ever be more than 75 miles from a body of water. Boat clubs are numerous. There is plenty of water for irrigation and the residents here hope the water will attract more water from the clouds. The lakes are paying for themselves by soil conservation but, to use the words of Wilson Cowen, regional director of the Farm Security administration and originally one of the lake boosters: "In this dry country it does a man a lot of good just to see a large body of cool water. It does something to him to be able just to sit on the banks of a lake, relax, or fry a steak or eat picnic lunches."

Deadly Coral Snake Caught By Soldiers

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—The St. Louis zoo, long proud of its collection of snakes, has a new donation coming—a coral snake captured in Louisiana by two East St. Louis soldiers during army maneuvers.

The soldiers, Curt Ulrich and Paul Anderson, both called into service with the Illinois National guard, offered to donate their prize to the zoo. So the zoo board immediately sent a container to them to ship the snake back.

The reptile, snake house officials said, would be the first at the zoo. They explained coral snakes were hard to keep in captivity because they are difficult to feed and handle. Their bite causes death—in from five to seven minutes.

Before the war a cellar at Epervay, France, with 24 miles of storage racks, sometimes contained 15,000,000 bottles of champagne.

BY VIVIAN GREY (Copyright 1941, For The Journal)

That Girl on Broadway says the reason many folks hate to face facts is because most of those facts are so ugly.

According to a news item, a North Texan recently slept right through a tornado which tore the roof off his house.

HERE are a couple of "open letters" in which the general public of Lubbock might quite conceivably find some interest.

Doubtless because the offices of the chamber of commerce are a little "off the beaten path,"

CHAPTER 22 RESIGNATION

"Oh, no it isn't, Leo!" Pam objected. "You're the one who deserves happiness more than anyone else."

"Perhaps it isn't only a half loaf, Pam," Leo said quietly. "I'm not fooling you."

"I don't know, my dear. Your heart can tell you that—and only your heart, And since I've gone this far, Pam, it's only fair to say you can go a long way on just kindness."

WRAPPING PAPER SHORTAGE

The council of the Texas Retailers' association in Dallas reports that wrapping paper is becoming so scarce that housewives soon may be asked to carry shopping bags when they go buying.

There need be no fear that the housewives of Texas will not be ready and anxious to do whatever they can toward the national defense.

But the merchants of Texas taken as an overwhelming whole are good enough business men to realize that this is a step not to be taken except as a matter of defense patriotism and necessity.

But the merchants of Texas taken as an overwhelming whole are good enough business men to realize that this is a step not to be taken except as a matter of defense patriotism and necessity.

There need be no fear that the housewives of Texas will not be ready and anxious to do whatever they can toward the national defense.

ON BROADWAY (Copyright 1941, for The Journal)

IN Lindy's Danny Kaye, Paul Draper and Lou Holtz were talking show business as usual when a columnist remarked:

"What do you hear about 'Banjo Eyes' I hear Eddie Cantor has a lot of dough in that show."

"Cantor," said Holtz, "never has money in anything but banks."

Pat C. Flick was reminded of another star's mint. "I hear," he said, "he has an even five million—and doesn't wanna break it."

The other night at Cafe Montparnasse, He was enchanted with the panels in the room, which give the impression of stained glass.

Henry Youngman would have you believe that this happened in Berlin. A storm trooper carelessly stepped on the foot of one of Youngman's relatives trapped in Germany.

It so infuriated him he socked the trooper right on the nose. His pal took a sock at him, too.

For which they were arrested. In court the judge asked the defendant why he hit the Nazi.

"Judge," said the man, "he stepped on my foot, the one with the corn, and it hurt me. I lost my temper and hit him."

"Your friend had a reason," said the judge to the other fellow. "Why did you hit this storm trooper?"

"I thought," said the retort, "it was allowed again."

Then there's the one about the visitor to Berlin who asked a native "Is it true that Germans are eating horsemeat?"

"Ah," said the Nazi, "those were the good old days!"

HOW housing the Imperial, the chief of the house, has removed the holders under the seats? Have the Messrs. Schubert a cut in the lid-concession too?

Observation: The man who ran for mayor on the Anti-War Ticket was named Cannon.

Sally Fields, who headlined the best bit of vaudeville was wonderful, resumes soon at the Red Mill in the Bronx.

Government Seeks Accurate Picture Of "Beat Hitler Drive" Defense Needs "Adder-Uppers" Hard At Work

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—With the next month or so the government hopes to have its first real picture of how much of a supply of what materials it's going to take to make the United States safe from a defense standpoint, or to put it bluntly, what it will take to lick Hitler.

It has been rumored in a few places that this was a new "victory program."

It may be a victory program all right, but it isn't particularly new.

Donald M. Nelson, executive director of the Supply, Priorities and Allocations board, who is in charge of this compilation just after SPAB was created two months ago.

Army, Navy and civilian statisticians have figured—frantically ever since and the fact that the compilation won't be completed for another month indicates just how big the job has been.

When the compilation of finished products is completed it will then have to be added up so the totals can be broken down three ways for schedules of the nation's civilian and military requirements in terms of raw materials, labor and machinery needed for production.

When that's done, the government will begin to know a little bit about where the country stands and can figure accordingly.

In case you wonder why this hasn't been done before a lot of other people have been bothered by the same question.

The idea of defense production—the proper conception of what all-out defense really meant—crept up on the country so gradually that nobody knew the problem was there until, like a Halloween ghost, it reared its ugly head and said, "Boo!"

You'll recall the old talk about business as usual. It was thought then by government planners and business men as well that defense production could be piled on civilian production and merely take up the slack caused by the depression. The idea is very dead now.

The Love Of Pam

from the window where their table was placed, they watched the sun sink down into the water. The drove back through the cool, early evening, going slowly over the long bridges as Pam could look down into the crystal water and see the starfish lying quietly on the sand. It was when they reached the peaceful old house on Division Street that Jerry took Pam's hand and said: "Pam, what would you say if I told you that I'm poor, that this day marks the end of cars, yachts, luxury, for me?"

There was a silence. Then Pam's voice came through the scented quiet.

"I'd know of course that you were joking, Jerry," she said. "And I'd probably say it wasn't in the best taste, either. After our beautiful day, how can you?"

Jerry's face was suddenly white under its tan. He looked at Pam for a moment—then he said: "But I'm not joking, Pam." He said, "Something about his voice caught her attention.

"Jerry!" she said sharply. "I'm not, Pam. I mean it."

It was Pam's turn to stare, to search his face and to find no vestige of humor in it.

"But things like this don't happen, Jerry," she said. "If you're up to something—" Then she broke off suddenly. "Oh, Jerry, if you only took life a little more seriously! If only you didn't have so much money! It's almost been the ruin of you! I doubt if there's anything that sacred to you, beyond joking about beyond making sport of. If you'd only find one serious interest!"

Blaze lifted gentle eyes to look from the face of her loved master to that of the girl who was speaking so sharply. She moved closer to Pam and touched the girl's hand with her moist black nose, as if to see whether this impatient person was really the girl she had spent such a lovely day with.

Pam stroked the animal's head. "But it has happened, Pam," Jerry said earnestly. "It has."

Winter Season Falls On Vichy; Regime's Return To Paris Blocked

French Remain In New Capital

BY RALPH HEINZEN
United Press Staff Writer

VICHY, Nov. 14.—The refugee French government, which has spent 16 months outside Paris, has made preparations to settle down for another winter in Vichy. Hopes for the return of the migratory government to Paris have been dashed by the long-stymied Franco-German political negotiations.

Vichy is a summer resort, ill-prepared to handle a year-around population of 70,000 government functionaries and others. In normal times, the town's resident population is 25,000 and it can accommodate 55,000 transient visitors at a time. But normally, the Vichy season is three months and its hotels are not fitted with winter comforts, nor are lodgers fitted for year-around appetites.

A famous old cafe in the Vichy thermal park, "la Restauration," was converted into a schoolhouse and after desks, replaced by tables, the glassed-in building became a Vichy branch of the Blaise Pascal lycee of Clermont-Ferrand as a school for the sons of diplomats and civil servants.

Coal Trucks Watched
As the first chill winds blow down off the Auvergne mountains, indicating an early winter, they are moving days in Vichy. Every one tries to find a room for the winter with central heating. There is little coal, and only a few hotels will be heated all winter.

The more alert visitors, indicating the movement of coal delivery trucks and when they see one back up and empty its load into the cellars of a hotel, they rush there and take an option on a room.

The same tactics are employed to eat well. Vichy never had the reputation of being a gourmet's paradise. Transients came here by the thousands to take treatments.

Yellowed-faced patients suffering from liver troubles were put on a diet of which the principal element was a locally-grown carrot. Vichy chefs, it is said, have never gotten beyond the carrot phase. Whenever a delivery man enters a restaurant kitchen door bearing any vegetables not resembling carrots, he provokes a run on the restaurant.

The government circumvented its food difficulty by setting up "messes" for each ministry, but the thousands of others still have to struggle to eat. For the diplomats of the 34 embassies and legations still accredited to the Vichy government, the problem was solved by setting aside one hotel, Des Ambassadeurs, naturally enough, for the heads of missions and high-ranking secretaries and another hotel, Gallia, for the lower-ranking men. Both hotels receive considerable leeway with the food restrictions so that the diplomatic corps does not show signs of under-nourishment.

Clerks Sleep In Office
In the same way, the government solved the lodging problem by allowing most of the government clerks to sleep in their offices. Their offices are merely the normal bedrooms of ordinary Vichy hotels. The beds were replaced by divans, which were covered with a spread in the daytime. Thus the average government clerk has no excuse for being late, but he has to leave his door open so that inspectors making the round can see that he is at his desk and not on his divan during work hours.

Vichy with an involuntary population of 70,000 ex-Parisians, most of whom are bachelor men or girls, is devoid of night life. There is no cabaret or dance hall in town. Cafes must look up at 11 p. m. There are but six movies and they are jammed by queues an hour before the evening shows start. At best, they had only pres-war films to offer but since October programs have been less interesting because the government enacted a decree forbidding the showing of any film which had been made before July, 1936. Since none has been made in France since 1939, and American film imports ceased long before the armistice, the quality is low.

Police Are Everywhere
No capital in the world could be more policed than Vichy, unless it were Rome and Berlin. The ship-shod police methods of the Third Republic, which followed the old national slogan of "Fraternity - Equality - Liberty," have been replaced by a super-police control. There are uniformed police and police out of uniform—the latter by far the most numerous.

Every cafe and bar or other public gathering place is watched by police in plain clothes. Their role is to find out what people say about the government in general, Germany, Italy, the food situation, restrictions and everything except the weather. They make voluminous reports every morning.

Every one in Vichy knows these secret police are about, so each takes precautions. If he sees a stranger in the next chair at a cafe, he immediately goes off into diatribes about the regime and will watch his words. If a stranger strikes up a conversation, he will talk about nothing but the weather, and Vichy's weather is something anyone can talk about with feeling. It was no accident that Napoleon III who,

AMERICAN MAN-O-WAR WATCHES SUNSET OVER ICELAND—Against the spectacular backdrop of a northern sunset, an American destroyer rides at anchor off Iceland, guarding the U. S.-British protected North Atlantic island.

20 years before the Franco-Prussian War of 1870 brought a premature ending to Napoleon's "cures" at Vichy came here every year, had a half-mile-long covered walk laid out in the park. Vichy and Brest are the two wettest towns in France and in Vichy, from now on when it does not rain it snows.

Mistake Each Other
There are so many secret police, and they are changed so often that not infrequently they make mistakes and trait each other around the park or through the cafes. They wear on secret police is enormous. They cannot go into a cafe without drinking, because it would be too obvious, and even though the mineral waters are handy, they end up with "blitz liver trouble." Or they become too well-known and have to be shunted to greener—and less wet—fields.

There is almost no social life in Vichy. During the first few weeks, various ambassadors entertained each other at cocktails or dinner. The idea wore itself out after the first month. By common consent, the diplomats agreed to suspend social obligations until they get back to Paris.

Vichy tries in many ways to go Parisian without losing caste. That is fairly simple now that restrictions have taken care of bad habits. There is no cognac to be bought, no whiskey except some Auvergne Mountain "dew" which travels under a false label of "Whisky—Made in France." Cigarettes may be bought by men, but a law forbids a woman to buy them. It is not simple, even for men to buy enough. There is a limit of two packages of cigarettes every 10 days.

Cigarette Prices Soar
If you want to smoke more than two you have to be more than friendly with your favorite barman and then a pack of a popular American brand will cost up to $2 at the official rate of exchange. Ordinary French brands sell for about half that price on the black market. But even they are few.

Going Parisian, Vichy has imported bicycle-taxicabs. There are green cycle-taxicabs and yellow ones. The difference is that in the green cyclecabs the driver is out front on the single forward wheel of a tricycle, while in the yellow cyclecabs the passenger looks and feels like a paying load. He sits in a trailer drawn behind a bicycle and has ample time to meditate on the social side of a fellow-human straining at the pedals for a paltry 5 francs per voyage.

Diplomats are allowed their cars and an unlimited ration of gasoline from France's dwindling stores, but all other automobiles exceeding 10 horsepower rating have been put into garages. That is a hardship on owners of American automobiles, none of which qualify under that rating. And at the same time all the shoe merchants have closed their shops because of a leather shortage. The streets are made noisy by wooden shoes.

ALPHABETICAL MONTHS
In alphabetical order, the months of the year are April, August, December, February, January, July, June, March, May, November, October and September.

INNUNERABLE LAKES
Finland contains so many lakes that they never have been counted. The country often is called the "world's greatest land-of-lakes."

The quadruplets of Dunedin, New Zealand, are now 6 1-2 years old.

WHAT YOU DO

A psychologist has estimated that the average 70-year life consists of 25 years of work, 20 years sleep, 7 years of sports and walking, 5 years of shaving and dressing, 7 years of pleasure, 3 years of waiting, 2 years eating, 1 year telephoning, 30 hours annually looking in mirrors, and 4 hours annually wiping one's nose.

There is one other U. S. A. in the world; the Union of South Africa.

BATHROOMS may be visibly clean yet harbor millions of germs!

HEALTH authorities advocate more than visible cleanliness in bathrooms. They recommend hygienic cleanliness... the type provided by Clorox... for added health protection. Ultra-refined Clorox is outstanding in germicidal efficiency... it disinfects, deodorizes, removes numerous stains from tile, enamel, porcelain, linoleum, wood surfaces. And Clorox is effective yet gentle in its many personal uses. Simply follow directions on label.

It's just surprising how winter colds and drafts disappeared after we put in the Clow Gasteam Radiators

Steam Radiator Heat

Steam Radiator Heat provides complete, uniform heat distribution without drafts or overheated air. This helps prevent colds and other ailments due to inadequate, unbalanced heating. The even, penetrating warmth of Clow Gasteam Radiators is the most healthful heat you can get, and by heating the house uniformly, you don't pass from a warm room to a cold one and catch cold.

Clow Gasteam Radiators make their own steam heat with gas. They are installed under windows or near doors where they warm-cold air as it enters the room. The heat is then distributed through the lower or "living zone" of the room instead of to the ceiling, as with other forms of heating. For commercial heating, Gasteam Radiators are durable, simple, and require small space. The vented type radiators are recommended for the prevention of excessive moisture on windows. For industrial or commercial heating, investigate the Clow Unit Heaters.

You can't fail to make perfect frosting the KARO way!

For frosting that's fluffy, flavorful—frosting that doesn't get sugary and crack—frosting that piles up nicely, looks beautiful and cuts smoothly—follow this fool-proof Karo recipe:

PERFECT KARO FROSTING
2 cups granulated sugar—1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup Karo (red label) 1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup water
Cook sugar, Karo, and water over low heat, stirring only until sugar is dissolved. Then boil rapidly, without stirring, to 242 degrees F., or until syrup forms a firm ball when a small amount is dropped in cold water. Add vanilla and salt to egg whites, and beat until stiff but not dry. Pour syrup slowly in a thin stream into beaten egg whites, beating constantly. Continue beating until mixture will stand in peaks and is of consistency to spread. Makes enough frosting for filling, top and sides of 3 (9-inch) cake layers.
