November election featuring eight statewide propositions

By ROGER CLINE Herald Staff Writer

This November's election will feature eight statewide propositions, as well as 20 Big Spring city propositions. and one proposition for rural Howard County residents, according to local elections administrator Jodi Duck.

"We have eight Texas Constitutional Amendments that we have to vote on, then there are 20 Big Spring Charter Amendments," Duck said. "Everyone in the city limits of Big Spring will get that on their ballot. If they are outside the city limits, not in Forsan city, not in Coahoma city, not in Big Spring city, they will all have the Howard County Assistance District Amendment on their ballot - and the state, only. So it will be the state and the county; or if they're in Big Spring city limits, they're going to have the state and Big Spring. If they're in Forsan or Coahoma cities, they're only going to have the state.'

Early voting in the election will begin October 18, and will take place on the first floor of the Howard County Courthouse. From Oct. 18 through 22, and from Oct. 25 through 27, early voters may cast ballots from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Oct. 28 and 29, the polls will open and 7 a.m. and remain open until 7 p.m.

On election day, Nov. 2, any registered Howard County voter can cast ballots at any of the following locations: Ryan Hall/St. Thomas Church, 605 N. Main St.; First Baptist Church, 705 W. FM 700; Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, 1001 Birdwell Lane; or the Coahoma Community Center, 306 North Ave. in Coahoma. No voting will be held at the Howard County Courthouse on Election Day. Election Day polls will be open 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

A voter must show one of the following forms of photo identification at the polling location in order to vote:

• Texas Driver's License issued by the Department of Public Safety;

• Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS;

• Texas Personal Identification Card issued by DPS;

• Texas Handgun License issued by DPS:

• U.S. Military Identification Card containing the voter's photograph;

• U.S. Citizenship Certificate containing the voter's photograph; or

• U.S. Passport.

With the exception of the U.S. Citizenship Certificate, the ID must be current or have expired no more than four years before being presented at the polling place.

If the voter doesn't have one of the above forms of ID, he or she may fill out a form and present an alternative ID including:

Herald Staff Report

The fall weather has arrived and as temperatures cool down, it creates the perfect setting for an art tour. The Big Spring Art Association has set up and unveiled the Members' Show and Sale, at the Hall Center for the Arts on the Howard College campus and the Found Object Art Show is at the Heritage Museum.

tion members' show opened Oct. 4 and features work from 10 local artists this year and a total of 28 pieces of art. The show can be viewed during regular Howard College business hours through Oct. 30.

"We ask that you come visit the show and maybe do some Christmas shopping for that special someone. All works are priced for sale," Bruns said.

According to Ruby Bruns, the Big Spring Art Associa-

Stanton Old Sorehead Days said Shawna Burch, director of the Old this weekend

Herald Staff Writer

For nearly 30 years, 3,000 friendly people and a few old soreheads have welcomed people to Stanton for the Old Sorehead Trade Days. This weekend - October 9 and 10 - Downtown Stanton's famous event will wrap up it's 29th year.

"We've got new vendors, returning vendors...we will span about nine city blocks in Downtown Stanton, and then we have seven buildings that we also put vendors in, in addition to our downtown businesses being open,'

Sorehead Trade Days.

Burch said the show will be open at 9 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. each day.

Food vendors at this weekend's iteration of Old Sorehead will be selling roasted corn, fajitas, funnel cakes, and more...including some cuisine with a New Orleans accent.

"I've got a guy that's coming that's supposed to be doing Cajun food," Burch said. "That's something fun and different. Typically with our food vendors, we have the usual kinds of fair food - Mexican food, barbecue. That typically stays the same because that's what people like."

Of course, vendors are always a major part of the Old Sorehead days.

"We have all kinds of stuff," Burch said. "It's hard for me to say, especially with new vendors, until I see their stuff, what's new and worth seeing. We've got arts and crafts, jewelry, clothing. All the stuff will be here for Halloween. Fall décor, Christmas, all that fun stuff."

The event will also feature live music on the courthouse lawn.

"It's mostly local acts," Burch said. "We've got a guy named Bill Drake, Gary Reid, we're a little skimpy this show, I think because of COVID, but it's mostly just local groups and family performers. Super family-friendly stuff."

Speaking of COVID-19, Burch said Old Sorehead has responded to the pandemic increasing opportunities for visitors to disinfect throughout the show.

"We have ramped up our hand washing stations and hand sanitizing stations," she said. "We are recommending that people wear masks when they go into buildings and our buildings are going to be one way in and one way out. And then we've changed some of our procedures for vendors coming into the office. But as far as shoppers go, mostly just wash your hands, stay away from people, and wash your hands again."

For those visitors new to the Trade Days, Burch has a bit of advice: "Bring your walking shoes," she said. "We're free admission and free parking... parking is crazy, so you're going to have to walk a ways. We span nine city blocks, so you're going to be walking a lot there too. But it's a fun way to get out with your family. It's free, so you can bring your babies and your grannies and everybody will have a good time. There's something for everyone."

Burch said she's excited to get the Old Sorehead Days up and running again.

"We're just excited to be back," she said. "April was gigantic. I think everyone was ready to be out kind of post-COVID, and now people are vaccinated, or they're just willing to be outside...they feel fairly safe at an outside event. I think it's going to be a great show. We are sold out on vendor booths, and we should max out at between 620 and 630 vendor booths. It's going to be big."

Buddy reading, studying biographies in class

Mrs. Kelso's ELAR class is pictured doing some buddy reading with a historical biography during their genre study of biographies.

The Postscript by Carrie Classon: Dozens of cousins

"We are cleaning up our stuff," Meshach, the tile layer who now more or less permanently resides in our home, informed me. "We are giving you more space."

"More space!" I said in mock amazement. "Why would I need more space? I see at least three square feet over there by the closet and another four feet behind the dining room table!"

Meshach squinted his eyes and looked at me seriously, as he does. He was again accompanied by his assistant, Yusefu, a recent immigrant from Kenya.

"Well, that is good," Meshach said. "Because we have invited Yusefu's cousins here to live."

Yusefu's eyes opened wide before he realized he was being teased. Then Yusefu smiled. "They are not large!" he insisted, gesturing with his arms. "I am the fattest one!"

This is now a running joke in our home—discussing how many of Yusefu's cousins would fit in our living room at any given time.

Last weekend we spent time with a dozen of my husband Peter's cousins at the funeral for Peter's sister, and I thought of how enduring these ties to cousins are—even if they are not sleeping on our floor. Peter was the youngest cousin on his father's side and so he remembers these cousins as the much older kids he grew up with. The older cousins were all cool or bossy and the younger cousins were all brats, to hear them tell it. It's funny to realize that these people in their 70s still think of one another as the children they once were, but I feel the same way about my cousins.

I have dozens of cousins on my mother's side and, like Peter, most of them are older than me. My cousin Jill will always be the super-cool girl with the dyed black hair ironing her peasant dress at the farmhouse. Her musician boyfriend would arrive in a VW Bug and I was awestruck. It doesn't matter that Jill is now a Lutheran minister with grandchildren. To me, she will always be that elegant young woman flipping back her jet-black hair as she toiled over the iron. I knew I would never be as cool as Jill. I never was.

My cousins and I formed bonds that survive today. Last week, my cousin Dane took me to look at audio equipment, as we needed amplification for the funeral service. Dane told me I'd be better off borrowing what I needed from him. And so I did. Dane has always been quiet. He'll wait for everyone to finish talking, then offer up an idea that begins with, "You know what you might do..." and it will be the most sensible thing said. It has always been this way.

Cousins are the friends I was given as a gift from my family. They are as different from me as they can possibly be, yet I will always keep a space for them in my life.

Meshach is pleased with the work he has done, and I don't think either of us is eager to say goodbye. I can tell his work is nearly concluded because we could stash at least a dozen cousins in the available space—assuming they are as small as Yusefu claims.

But Peter and I are looking forward to having our home back, to finally putting books on the shelves and inviting people over for dinner.

"I know what we should do, when everything is finally finished," I told Peter.

"What's that?"

"We should invite your cousins over!"

I think we will. There's plenty of room.

Till next time, Carrie

Student taken into custody hours after Texas school shooting

By JAMIE STENGLE and JILL BLEED

Associated Press

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — An 18-year-old student opened fire during a fight at his Dallas-area high school on Wednesday, injuring four people and then fleeing before being taken into custody hours later, authorities said.

Timothy George Simpkins was taken into custody without incident, the Arlington Police Department tweeted. He was booked in the Arlington jail on three counts of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and was being held on $75,000 bail.

One person was in critical condition, another his head down and be still to stay safe. When asked whether he had thought a shooting could happen at the school, he said his military training is also a reminder of life's dangerous realities.

"Obviously in America — in the world we live in today — it's always something. ... It's in the back of your mind," Rockhold said, adding that he was praying for the injured. "I'm just blessed today that my kid's safe."

The shooting happened just days after a shooting at a Houston charter school that injured an administrator. Texas' deadliest school shooting occurred in May of 2018 when a then-17-year-old armed with a shotgun and a pistol opened fire at Santa Fe High School near Houston, killing 10 people, most of whom were students.

was in good condition and a third person was treated for minor abrasions and was scheduled to be released from the hospital Wednesday afternoon, police said. A fourth person was hurt but did not require treatment at a hospital. Police said earlier that three of the four injured were students.

The shooting at Timberview High School, which is in Arlington but belongs to the school district in neighboring Mansfield, stemmed from a fight that broke out in a classroom, Arlington Assistant Police Chief Kevin Kolbye said at news conference before Simpkins' arrest.

"This is not a random act of violence," he said. "This is not somebody attacking our school."

Timberview serves about 1,900 students in the ninth through 12th grades. The sprawling complex opened in 2004.

After news of the shooting spread, parents gathered at the Mansfield Independent School District Center for the Performing Arts about 5 miles (8 kilometers) from the high school to be reunified with their kids, who were bused over. Among them was Justin Rockhold, whose ninth-grade son had texted him to let him know he was OK.

Rockhold said he has served in the military and he drew on that experience to instruct his son, telling him to keep a player's lifetime. Today's deal, which occurred in a national team championship, furnishes one of the few recorded specimens of this exceedingly rare genus.

At one table, the bidding went as shown, with East-West arriving at six spades after East had opened with a strong and artificial two-club bid. At this point, South, holding a considerably better-than-average hand of his own, opted to bid seven hearts, partly as a sacrifice and partly on the off chance that he might actually make the grand slam.

West now had to find the only opening lead that could defeat seven hearts — a diamond. With little to guide him, he tried his singleton club, a move that did not meet with great success. After winning the club, declarer drew trump and discarded his losing diamond on dummy's sixth club to score 2,470 points.

At the other table, the bidding was equally spirited, and East-West again reached six spades. But here South elected to double rather than try seven hearts. The defenders took their club trick, and declarer scored the rest for plus 1,660.

The combined total of the two results came to 4,130 points, breaking the 24-IMP barrier with a bit to spare. The lone saving grace for those on the losing side was that the practice, this highly unusual result is extra 130 points cost them nothing at experienced perhaps once or twice in all!

You can also explain to your sister that dating a felon could jeopardize the custody she has of her 16-yearold daughter, assuming the father is still in the picture.

Remember, forgiveness is one of the most powerful gifts we can offer -- but it would be foolish to give it to someone who hasn't earned it.

Sister Is Dating a Felon

Dear Annie: My mother died at the age of 67 from COVID-19 in January. My stepfather wanted to wait a year to have the memorial so everyone could attend. Since my mother's death, my stepfather has remarried. Yup, remarried. And now his new wife has moved into the house.

Annie's Mailbox 💩

Dear Remarried:

First, I'm so very sorry for the loss of your mother. Sixty-seven is too young, and I'm sure you miss her every day. Try to be happy that your stepfather has found another companion; everybody grieves at their own pace.

Inheritance laws vary state by state, so the best thing you can do is consult a lawyer. I

Dear Annie: My sister has recently become involved with an old high school boyfriend. Our family had issues with him 30 years ago. He now lives across the country from her. Recently, she went out to visit with him for a week, and she took her 21-yearold daughter and daughter's boyfriend with her.

My stepfather is now saying everything in the house is his and is being resistant about allowing me or my brothers into the house to get my mother's belongings that are sentimental to us. My mom, unfortunately, did not have a will. What do we do? -- Remarried after Death would give your stepfather the heads-up that you are doing this; it might persuade him to let you into the house and take items of sentimental value before getting lawyers involved.

And remember: No matter who lives in that house, no one will ever replace your mother.

We did some checking before she left. He was convicted of rape and assault about 10 years ago and served five years of a 16-year sentence. I confronted her, and she says she has known about it for years. I found some jailhouse letters from him when I cleaned her car.

And from your letter, it sounds like he's not much better today. The fact that he's giving your sister excuses shows he hasn't owned up to the pain he's caused. A second chance is already a big ask, and your sister shouldn't even consider it unless he takes accountability and proves he's taking steps to becoming a new, better

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

By DUSTIN POPE Special to the Herald

Last Friday, the Big Spring Steers again handled business on their home turf by beating the Littlefield High Wildcats 44 to 32. The game was an extraordinary night as Big Spring honored its seniors from the band, cheerleading, trainers, and, of course, the football team. It was a wonderful night for all the seniors to be recognized by the people that cared most about them. After the commemorations, it was time to play some football.

On a dull Friday night that had a few sprinkles of rain throughout the game, it was what we call excellent football weather. Big Spring wasted little time as they got on the board first. The Steers worked the ball down the field using that methodical passing offense coupled with a few runs to keep the defense honest. The result of the drive was a ten-yard run by quarterback Gabriel Baeza. I hope you like to hear Baez's name because I will allude to him throughout this article as he had a remarkable game. The extra point was no good for the Steers, so they had an early 6 to 0 lead. Littlefield would then get the ball back. The play of this Steers defense was too much on this drive for the Wildcats, and they gave the ball back to the Steers. Big Spring got the ball back and drove down the field once again. This time Baeza would run the ball from 15 yards out for his second rushing touchdown of the quarter. Giving the Steers a 13 to 0 lead after onequarter of play.

The Wildcats got time they could scored to make this a 7-0 game, but it was how well this defense played that stood out. The first quarter of play ended with the Forsan Buffaloes enjoying a 7-0 lead.

The Buffs poured it on even more to the Owls in the second quarter of play as they put up 14 more points. Just like all their games this season, it was the ground game that propelled this team. They can run the ball on any team in the state and do it adequately. They also have a great defense, so they will be hard to beat when running the ball effectively and playing for good defense. Forsan dominated this game by a final score of 43 to 0.

Earlier, it was the running game that continued to propel this team. The Buffaloes had a team total of 340 yards rushing. They were the ball eight times for 161 yards and two touchdowns, including a nice 66yard TD run. Nate Hernandez also had a great game with 16 carries for 77 yards, and he also has 2 TDs. This rushing attack will be brutal to stop first quarter of play, Forsan because of the great defense they play and the dominant offensive line these Buffs have. They are just able to control every game they play in. It will be exciting h when district play begins. Still, to this point of the season, the Forsan Buffaloes have been an exceptional team. They may have a great season in front of them.

The Buffs will have a bye week coming up this week. After the bye week, the games start to count as they will begin District play. Forsan does have a pretty tough district to play in. They will open district play on Oct 7 when they face off against the Colorado City Wolves. The Wolves have been struggling for a couple of years now as they have yet to win a game in over 20 games. Still, this being a district game, I'm sure the Buffs will not overlook the Wolves and will come out and handle business as usual. On Oct 14, they have their second game of district play when they face off with the Anson Tigers. The Tigers Reagan County Owls. The latter came led by Chris Mendez, who carried are 23 when I'm writing this and will always be a challenging game for Forsan. The Tigers have wins over

Bulldogs look to upset top ranked Idalou in district opener

Two Fridays ago, on Sept 24, the Coahoma Bulldogs were looking to keep the good time rolling. They were coming off a victory over the Colorado city Wolves 26 to 12. However, on this Friday, they found themselves going up against the Merkel badgers. Coahoma came in with a 2-2 record as well as the Badgers. The game was set to be an outstanding matchup of two excellent football teams. Unfortunately, the Bulldogs fell to the Badgers 37-20. The loss gives the Coahoma Bulldogs a 2-3 record on the season.

The game was on Sept 24, in Merkel. The Bulldogs came into the game ready to play against a game team from Merkel. Merkel got on the board first to take advantage of a short field, and they scored on an eight-yard TD run by running back Joey Zink. The badgers put the extra point through the uprights and took an early 7 to 0 lead with 9:46 left to play in the first quarter. After the score by the Badgers, the Bulldogs went to work on the offensive side of the ball. They performed the ball down the field and eventually found the pay dirt when quarterback Billy Bailey found Austin Perkins on a 30 yards pass for the TD. The Bulldogs extra point was good by kicker Reagan Chapman making this a tie game at 7-7. Thus, the first quarter would come to an end with a tie game at 7-7.

As the second quarter rolled around, it was clear that the Bulldogs Bulldog lost bringing their record to 2-3 were in a dog fight, and this would be a good game. This time, the Bulldogs struck first as they capped off a beautiful 80-yard drive to open the second quarter of play. The drive was finished off when Isaiah Eleda ran back from two yards out; Chapman put the extra point through again, giving the bulldogs a 14-7 lead. So with 10:00 minutes left to play in the first half, the Coahoma bulldogs enjoyed their first and only lead of the night. Merkel would answer right back when they scored on a 17 yard run by Elijah Salas. Merkel decided to go for two this time, and they were good with the conversion making this a 15 to 14 game with 8:18 left in the second quarter of play. However, the Badgers were not done scoring as they drove down the field once again, and this time punched it in the end zone when Joey Zink scored from two yards out. The extra point was no good, leaving the score at 21 to 14 in favor of the Merkel Badgers. That is how the first half would end as the Bulldogs trailed the Badgers 14 to 21.

As the second half started, the Bulldogs found there self trailing a good team on the road, not a good place to be. The Bulldogs continued to play their hearts out as they left it all on the field. Merkel was just the better team this

The Wildcats then went for the two-point conversion, and it was successful, making this a 13 to 8 game. The Steers then answered right back with a pleasant drive of their own. They did it through the air on this drive as QB Gabriel Baeza found his wide receiver, Eli Cobos, for a lovely 15-yard pass. The Steers then went for the two-point conversions but could not get across the line. So the score was now 18 to 8. The next drive for the Wildcats ended up as an interception when Devin Manning came up with a huge pick to deliver the ball right back to the Steers. Big Spring struck quickly as Baeza found Kaegen Mitchel on a 49-yard deep ball. Mitchell was just a stronger athlete than whoever was covering for Littlefield as he plucked the ball out of the air and strolled on into the end zone. The two-point conversion would be good for the Steers, making this a 27 to 8 lead for Big Spring. However, Littlefield would not go away quietly as they scored right before the end of the first half on a 12-yard touchdown pass. Making this a 27 to 15 game at the half.

Littlefield revived the second-half kickoff and drove a long way down the field until they would ultimately find pay dirt cutting into the lead once again. Making this a fivepoint game at 27 to 22. Littlefield seemed to have some life, so it was up to the Steers to have the drive to maintain control of this game. Big Spring took the ball down the field but encountered a crucial fourth down and short play. They went for it, and they got the first down to keep this drive going. The Steers took advantage of that fourth-down play as Baeza connected with Isaiah Holloway for a 37-yard touchdown pass, stretching the lead to 33 to 22. The Wildcats would not be satisfied as they took the ball, drove back down the field, and scored yet another touchdown. This one was a one-yard touchdown pass, making this a very close game at 33 to 29. Sensing that they needed to take control of this game and pressure, the Steers did just that as they showed they could finish a game. Big Spring got the ball back and drove down the field with ease this time as Baeza threw another touchdown pass on the night, this one from 15 yards out to Sa'Quan Fizer. The score pushed the lead to 40 to 29 at the end of the third quarter of play.

With the control back in the game, the Steers defense stepped back up and played outstanding football in the fourth quarter. Never allowing the Wildcats to get any closer in this game. Big Spring did, however, put up another touchdown on the night as Gabriel Baeza scored from 13 yards out on a QB run. Putting this game away with a final score of 47 to 29.

the Hawley Bearcats. Like Forsan, the Bearcats are undefeated at 5-0 and playing great football. This game Winters 24-6 and Hamlin could go on to see who wins this District, as both teams will expect to be still unbeaten by the time they meet up on Nov 4. There is little doubt how good the Buffaloes have been playing. They are playing great on both sides of the ball and have pretty much dominated every game this season. As they use this bye week to rest and prepare for District, I believe this team is set up for something extraordinary this season. They will be getting some key players back after the pletely healthy. While they have a very tough district, they are a much better team than years before and will look to take the District by storm. One thing is for sure it is going to be fun to see what lies in store for this team as I think they will go through district play undefeated and will make an intense playoff run. It's very few, and in between, we get to see a team as unique as the Forsan Buffs are this year. As well as they play as a complete team on and off the field, this is an extraordinary team, and we should enjoy being a part of it.

Another key receiver that the Steers have been using all season long is Eli Cobos.

This season, Cobos has been an enjoyable night. Merkel scored to open up the third quarter when Joey Zink scored his third TD of the night, this time on a 28-yard run pushing the Badger lead to 14-28. With 10:09 left in the third quarter of play, the Bulldogs found this game slipping away as the Badgers just seemed to have their number as they were able to contain the ever-dangerous Bulldog rushing offense. With 5:26 left in the third, the Badgers forced a safety which gave them two more pints making this a 30-14 game. The Badgers added on another TD with1:51 left in the third when Joey Zink scored again from one yard out, pushing the lead to 37-14. It was the fourth TD of the game for Zink.

The fourth quarter began, and the Bulldogs continued to show their heart as they would not back down. Finally, they could find the end zone when Ky Kemper scored on a 24-yard pass from QB Billy Bailey cutting the lead to 20-37. But, unfortunately, that would be the last for the Bull-dogs and the game. The Merkel Badgers went on to win this game 37 to 20. The loss dropped the Bulldogs to 2-23 on the season.

Despite the loss, Coahoma still had its moments in the game. They had a total of 217 yards rushing on the night. They were lead by RB Brysen Kerby, who had 25 carries for 86 yards. Isaiah Eleda chipped in with 12 carries for 79 yards and a TD. Ky Kemper added 57 yards on only three carries. On the passing side, Billy Bailey was 8 of 14 for 118 yards and two touchdowns. bye week and will look com-Coahoma will have a bye week and try to get everything on track before they begin district play. Despite the 2-3 record, this is a good Bulldog team who will be ready to play when the district rolls around in two weeks. The Bulldogs are too good of a football team and too well-coached not to put everything together and make a strong run for the district title. During the bye week, Coach Joslin will have this team clean up the minor mistakes they make. They will come out of the bye week a much better team, and as I said, they will make a run in this district then beyond.

The Bulldogs are ready to open up district play this week when they face a very dangerous Idalou team. The Wildcats are a perfect 5-0 in the season and are ranked #10 in 3A Division 2. This will undoubtedly be a tough test for a Bulldog team that has been a little up and down so far on the season. The Wildcats hold victories over Denver City in wee one 25-0. Clyde in the second week, 24-6. Brownfield in week three 49-13. Littlefield in the fourth week 56-13, then finally a win over New Deal 28-14. There is little doubt that this Idalou team is very dangerous. The Bulldogs will be ready to play and will have an upset in mind this Friday night when they will welcome Idalou to their home field. FRIDAY NIGHT SPORTS

Players of the Week WEST TEXAS STANDINGS

Gabriel Baeza

Braxton Pearson

Top Right: Well, this should not surprise this guy had another amazing football game this past Friday night. Gabriel Baeza is a man amongst boys at times on the field, and his play shows that. The top quarterback in this district and maybe all of 4A this season has been pretty much unstoppable. This past Friday against the Levelland Wildcats, Baeza was just simply amazing. Baeza was all over the field, both through the run game and through the air. The Wildcat defense had no answer for the do-it quarterback on the night. Baeza was a master class on the ground as he carried the ball 18 times for a fantastic 207 yards, and he also had three touchdowns on the ground. He did even better through the air as the Senior quarterback went 27 for 41 for 325 yards and four touchdowns through the air. That means the Big Spring QB accounted for 532 yards of total offense and an astonishing seven touchdowns on the night. That is pure dominance for one player. So far in the year of play, Gabriel Baeza has passed for 1498 yards on 133 for 205 attempts that breaks down to a completion percentage of 64.8%; he has 15 touchdowns on the season to only three interceptions. This is only six games, and it is five, being they only had one drive against Brownfield. He is also the leading rusher for the Steers as he has 65 carries for 478 yards on the season with nine touchdowns, to zero fumbles lost on the season. He is the leader of a team that has been playing good football so far this season. He has grown before our eyes as the Steers quarterback over the last couple of years, and now is his time to shine. Top Left: Braxton Pearson. If Baeza is the leader for the offense, then Pearson is the leader of a stout Big Spring Steer defense. Pearson is always in the mix of every single play. He flies around the field and makes plays all the time. This past Friday, the do it all linebacker had 13 total tackles on the night. He helped lead this team to a dominant victory over the Littlefield Wildcats by a final score of 44-32. Braxton is a senior leader on this team and is a massive part of why the Steers play such good football. With this team playing good ball on both sides of the ball, it's no wonder they have a record of 5-1 on the season.

Ex-Oklahoma QB Thompson's son leads Texas into rivalry game

By CLIFF BRUNT

AP Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. - Former Oklahoma quarterback Charles Thompson never imagined he'd even consider putting up the "Hook 'em Horns" hand gesture. He's done it now, and for good reason. His son, Casey, will start at quarterback for No. 21 Texas (4-1, 2-0 Big 12) against No. 6 Oklahoma (5-0, 2-0) in the annual rivalry game.

It's a strange situation for the elder Thompson, who lives in Moore, Oklahoma — a short drive from Oklahoma's campus. Charles ran the wishbone offense for coach Barry Switzer, playing a significant role in Sooner victories over Texas in 1987 and 1988.

"I've been an OU fan since I was six," Charles, a native of Lawton, Oklahoma, said. "Every year, this time of year, I've always rooted against Texas. Even the last few years with Casey on the team, I still kind of quietly wanted Oklahoma to win -- kind of a win/win situation for me. This will be the first year that honestly. I'm really rooting for Texas."

Charles said he catches some grief from his old teammates with his son playing for Oklahoma's biggest rival.

"I mean, there's surely some joking, kind of messing around a little bit, but I think all of them are kind of in support of him," he said. "They certainly want Casey to have a great game, but want Oklahoma to win.

"I get a mulligan. I want Casey to win."

Charles won't go so far as to wear Texas' burnt orange, and he said if you gut him open, he'll bleed Oklahoma crimson. He'll wear a custom-made black Texas shirt when he sits with the other parents.

"Well, I've never put on burnt orange," he said defiantly.

The situation has provided an opportunity for Charles to learn a few things about the rivalry from the Texas side.

"All my life, I've always called it the OU-Texas game," he said. "Ask anybody from Oklahoma, they'll say OU-Texas. I got sort of harassed a little bit in Austin because they say Texas-OU. They want Texas first."

Casey is in an odd situation, too. He wore Oklahoma's crimson and cream until his high school days. Another of Charles' sons, Kendal, played for the Sooners, further strengthening the bond between the family and the school.

Casey played high school football at Southmoore High School in Moore before playing his senior season at Newcastle High School in Newcastle, Oklahoma.

As he became a major prospect, his loyalty to Oklahoma waned. Former Texas coach Tom Herman recruited Thompson back when Herman was the head coach at Houston, and Tim Beck had recruited him when he was an assistant at Ohio State. When Herman took over at Texas and Beck became the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Texas, it made sense for Casey to take a look. He attended the 2017 Red River rivalry game as Longhorns prospect.

Naturally, the locals objected when Texas entered the picture.

"I remember even in high school when I was getting recruited, some of my teachers and best friends were like, 'If you go to that school, I'll never root for you, never cheer for you,'" Casey said. "But I'm really not worried about people who are hating. I'm trying to focus on this team and the people who care about me and love and support me."
