

Memorial dedication planned for tomorrow

Building 220, one of three airmen's dormitories at Reese, will officially be named Bartlett Hall in dedication ceremonies to be held in front of the building at 10 a.m., tomorrow.

The dormitory will be named in memory of the late Capt. Dennis R. Bartlett, a former Reese instructor pilot who died in an aircraft accident while on a cross-country mission Feb. 22, 1969.

The captain's wife, Eileen M. Bartlett, her mother, Mrs. Marcella Miller, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Bartlett will be at the dedication to witness the honoring of the fallen pilot.

Guest Speakers

Guest speakers for the ceremony will be Col. (retired) Clyde J. Morganti, former Reese wing commander, and TSgt. Darrell E. LaMontagne, base NCO career advisor. Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, will officially name the dormitory.

Flying over Reese tomorrow will be the ceremonial flag which draped Captain Bartlett's casket during his funeral services. Reese pilots will honor the captain by performing a "missing man" formation over the building during the dedication.

A reception will be held after the ceremony in the NCO Open Mess.

Captain Bartlett was born Nov. 15, 1942 in Chicago. He was graduated from Elmhurst College at Elmhurst, Ill. with a bachelor of science degree in economics in 1964. He was commissioned as a second lieutenant Feb. 10, 1965, and graduated from the Reese Undergraduate Pilot Training course in March 1966.

Assigned to Fighters

After supplementary pilot training in the McDonnell F4-C, Captain Bartlett was assigned as a fighter pilot in the 559th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Cam Ranh AB, Republic of Vietnam

(RVN) in November 1966, flying 250 combat missions.

He then served as squadron forward air controller for the 21st Tactical Air Support Squadron, Nha Trang AB, RVN.

Captain Bartlett was later reassigned to Reese as an instructor pilot. While thus assigned he was killed in an aircraft accident during a cross-country flight near Mosca Peak, N.M.

Medal Holder

Captain Bartlett was the holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star Medal, and the Air Medal with 13 Oak Leaf Clusters.

The dormitory is the second to be named after Reese personnel who have died in the line of duty while stationed here. Alexander Hall, bldg. 420, was named in honor of the late Capt. James E. Alexander in ceremonies Feb. 17 of this year. Building 320 is scheduled to be named in honor of the late Capt. William R. Price Jr., June 16.

Bond drive scheduled for Tuesday kickoff

SAVINGS BOND PROGRESS—Maj. James Erickson, 1973 Savings Bond drive project officer, adds to the percentage of participation column for the 54th Flying Training Squadron (FTS). The chart represents the regular participation rate and is expected to take a big increase in each column as the Savings Bond drive begins Tuesday. See story at right. (U. S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Howard Fritzsche)

U.S. Savings Bonds will be brought to the attention of everyone during the month of May as the annual drive for more participation gets underway Tuesday.

Goals of the 1973 campaign will be "maximum voluntary participation," according to Maj. James Erickson, chief of the Operations Plans Branch and project officer for this year's drive.

Unit Representatives

As in the past each unit will have representatives whose duty it will be to contact each member of his unit and make sure each has the opportunity to participate in the program.

During the entire month Reese personnel will be informed in many ways—by the unit representatives and through such medias as the Roundup—of such current advantages as the 5½ per cent interest rate being offered on U.S. Savings Bonds and the ease in which they can participate in the program through the military and civilian bond allotment program.

Safe Investment

Major Erickson pointed out that due to the effective rate of 5½ per cent, bonds now mature in five years and 10 months. There are no state or local taxes on interest and participants may defer federal tax until the bonds are redeemed. Bonds are also considered an extremely safe investment by many in that if a bond is lost or stolen, the participant will receive a replacement with principal and interest guaranteed.

The major explained that personnel may sign up under the payroll deduction program for as little as $6.25 per month, which will buy the participant a $25 bond each quarter. At the end of a year he has saved $76, and at the end of three years, $237. By the time the first bond matures—in five years and 10 months—he has saved $494.

Increase Urged

Those currently participating in the payroll savings plan for the purchase of bonds will be urged to increase their allotment, according to Major Erickson. An investment of say $75 per month will reap a harvest at the end of five years and 10 months of nearly $6,000," the major concluded.

Anyone having questions about the U.S. Savings Bond program should contact his unit bond representative or Major Erickson, ext. 2405.

Captain Dakin

By Capt. Timothy J. Dakin
Staff Judge Advocate

Tuesday is Law Day. The theme of this year's observation is "Help Your Courts—Assure Justice."

Since its inauguration in 1958, the first day of May has been recognized as Law Day. The purpose of Law Day is threefold: first, to advance equality and justice under law; second, to encourage citizen support of law observance and law enforcement and thirdly, to foster respect for law and understanding of its essential place in the life of every citizen of the United States.

Law has been described in various ways, as an attempt systematically to order social relations, as a force to make freedom and progress possible and generally as the legal housekeeper of the community. However, the mere passing of a law cannot solve social problems or prevent the commission of crimes. Therefore, courts must be established to interpret and apply these laws, to preserve individual rights and freedoms and to resolve disputes between various persons or organizations.

The United States Constitution established three separate-but-equal branches of government: legislative, executive and judicial. It is the function of the judicial branch, that is, the court system, to apply the laws as enacted by the other branches to individual cases before them and to provide a means by which disputes may be settled. These courts are, however, limited in that they may not perform the tasks of the legislative branch, which is to enact the laws, nor may they take action to enforce the law, which is one of the functions of the executive branch.

In order to be effective and responsive, a court system, in addition to having qualified judges in sufficient numbers to handle its caseload, and having efficient administrative procedures for the orderly handling of this caseload, must function with the support and approval of the public. Efforts must be made to educate people so as to set aside false notions regarding the courts, to explain the tremendous problems facing our courts and to explain what is being done by concerned persons to better the situation.

There is no question that our system of justice is imperfect. It is properly administered by human beings and therefore subject to human frailties and shortcomings. Nevertheless, it is a system which its almost 200-year history has clearly shown that it provides more freedom and justice, more individual opportunity than any other system yet devised by man. It can nevertheless be improved upon.

You as a private citizen have certain very important obligations in this regard. You must temper your criticism of the courts with an understanding of the positive accomplishments made in the administration of justice. Finally, it is your duty and responsibility to give your support to all corrective legislation which will have the effect of further strengthening America's court systems.

letters

To All Reese Personnel:

I received the following letter from Col. Bill Montgomery with great pleasure and personal pride in the members of Reese AFB. This letter only confirms my belief that the people at Reese are the best in the Air Force. Thanks for another job well done.

Col. Walter H. Baxter,
Wing Commander

To Col. Walter H. Baxter,

We in Rescue are now experiencing a major realignment of assets following an Air Force analysis of mission requirements. A significant reduction in the number of Local Base Rescue detachments is considered justified because of your outstanding safety records and the production of new Air Force equipment that possesses a much greater reliability factor.

I would like to extend my personal appreciation to all members of your organization for the outstanding manner in which they have supported the requirements of the rescue detachment assigned to your base during the past years. Without this continuous wholehearted cooperation and support in all facets of our operation it would have been impossible for us to perform our mission.

A special thanks should be given to the hospital commander and base fire chief for providing our detachment with highly qualified and motivated aircrew members. The sacrifices made by these commanders to their own manning in insuring that our rescue detachment had the qualified personnel necessary to perform our mission is worthy of special note.

It has been our pleasure to provide the Local Base Rescue coverage for your unit in the past and again I thank you and your personnel for your outstanding cooperation and support.

Col. Bill A. Montgomery,
Commander 43rd Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron

Colonel Boze named outstanding reservist

Col. Floyd D. Boze, U.S. Air Force Reserve, the Dean of Admissions for Texas Tech University, has been selected as the Air Training Command Outstanding Reservist of the Year.

Colonel Boze, although a resident of Lubbock, is assigned as Mobilization Augmentee to the Commander for Sheppard AFB, Tex. The award covers the period of calendar year 1972.

Wartime Service

The colonel entered the Air Force Sept. 18, 1942 and received officer training at Yale University in New Haven, Conn. During World War II, Colonel Boze served in Australia, the India-Burma-China Theatre, Egypt and many other fronts. He was recalled to active duty as a captain during the Korean Conflict. He was released from active duty in 1954 and has progressed to the grade he holds now as a colonel in the Air Force active reserves.

He is currently a member of the Advisory Committee to the local Air Force Reserve Center and has been the Air Force Academy liaison officer coordinator for the West Texas area for the last 14 years. Colonel Boze has also been instrumental in the development of the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF).

Presentation Planned

The award presentation will be made to Colonel Boze by Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, vice commander of the Technical Training Center at Sheppard AFB, in an official ceremony at that base today.

When informed of the pending award, the reserve colonel said he was "tremendously happy, excited and anxious for the presentation. This is the high point of my military career," Colonel Boze commented, "and the cooperation from Reese has been a great help as long as I've been here."

Award Criteria

One of the criteria for a recipient of the award is that he must be active in civic organizations and affairs. Colonel Boze served as president of the Southern Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers from 1967 until 1968. He was the Longhorn District Commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America from 1958 until 1965, and presently serves on the Armed Services Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. In addition to many other civic positions, Colonel Boze served as president of the Rotary Club of Lubbock and was a representative to the First World Congress of Comparative Education Societies held in Ottawa, Canada in 1970.

The reserve colonel is married to the former Miss Nancy A. Smith. The Bozes have two children and reside in Lubbock.

Col. Floyd D. Boze

Law Day slated for Tuesday

Reese AFB will join Americans throughout the nation in observing "Law Day U.S.A." Tuesday.

Since the inauguration of the event by presidential proclamation in 1958, the first day of May has been recognized as Law Day. The threefold purpose of the observance is to "advance equality and justice under law, encourage citizen support of law observance and law enforcement and foster respect for law and understanding of its essential place in the life of every citizen of the United States", according to Capt. Tomothy J. Dakin, Reese Staff Judge Advocate.

The national theme for this year's observance will be "Help Your Courts—Assure Justice".

Air Force judge advocates agree that good Security Police work is vital to law enforcement. Regarding this belief, Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, Air Training Command commander, wrote a letter to Capt. Dennis S. Kelley, chief of Reese Security Police. The letter stated, in part, "I want to express my thanks to you and your personnel for the fine work you are doing daily. Your expert handling of your area of responsibility has had a positive impact on the image of the Air Force. Your work with our courts has definitely aided justice in the Air Force and local community . . . my appreciation to your personnel for their hard work and good results."

ATC chief's visit slated for Tuesday

Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, ATC commander, will arrive at Reese Tuesday to attend a dinner in his honor that evening sponsored by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. He is also scheduled to visit the Legal Office while here in commemoration of Law Day.

The dinner will be held at the Lubbock Country Club beginning with a reception at 7 p.m.

The husband-wife affair will host 26 officers from Reese, the Lubbock Armed Services Committee, the Board of Directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and the Lubbock City Council.

According to Dick Moseley, Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, the purpose of the dinner is to "demonstrate our interest in Air Training Command and Reese AFB."

General McBride will address the group briefly and be presented a gift of appreciation from the Armed Services Committee.

Clock-setting time planned for Sunday

Reese personnel are reminded to turn their clocks and watches forward Saturday night before going to bed as most of the nation goes on daylight savings time.

The change officially takes place at 2 a.m. Sunday morning, but before bedtime Saturday will do. As an example, if you retire at 10 p.m., turn your clock ahead to 11 p.m. and when you awake Sunday morning you will be on schedule with such things as television—and the working schedule at Reese Monday morning.

The change allows an extra hour of daylight in the evenings during the spring and summer months. The clocks are turned back in the fall.

Wing to honor airmen in ceremony today

First Lieutenant Ronald L. Kuhl of the 35th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) will receive the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC) and the Bronze Star Medal today along with the Air Medal at the monthly awards ceremony scheduled for 3 p.m. in front of wing headquarters, bldg. T-1.

Lieutenant Kuhl will be cited along with 22 other Reese officers and airmen at today's recognition ceremonies. The lieutenant will receive the honors for his efforts while assigned to Southeast Asia in 1972.

Capt. Eugene A. Bardal of the 35th FTS will receive the second through the fifth Oak Leaf Clusters to the DFC at the ceremony. Also scheduled to be awarded the DFC are Capt. Brian C. Dugle of the 64th Student Squadron and 1st Lt. Gary M. Boystel of the 35th FTS.

The second through the 10th Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal will also be awarded to Captain Bardal. Capt. Dale F. Stevens of the 64th Student Squadron will receive the second Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal and the 13th through the 16th Oak Leaf Clusters will be added to the Air Medal for Capt. John E. Stovall of the 64th Student Squadron.

In addition to his DFC, Lieutenant Boystel will receive the first through the eighth, and the ninth and 10th Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal. First Lt. William R. Slattery will be awarded the Air Medal basic and the third and fourth Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal will be presented to SSgt. Robby R. Harvill of the 64th Air Base Group (ABGp).

Maj. Albert L. Vermette will have the Air Force Commendation Medal (AFCM) pinned on him at the ceremony today.

Capt. Joe Nix of the 64th ABGp will receive the second Oak Leaf Cluster to the AFCM, and Capt. James W. Evans of the Reese USAF Hospital will be presented the first Oak Leaf Cluster to his AFCM. The AFCM will also be awarded to Captain Dugle in addition to the DFC.

Also scheduled to receive the AFCM today is 1st Lt. Mark C. Whitelaw of the 64th Student Squadron. MSgt. William L. Stevick of the 64th Supply Squadron will be presented the third Oak Leaf Cluster to the AFCM and TSgt. Joel L. Dubois, also from the 64th Supply Squadron, will be awarded the first Oak Leaf Cluster to his AFCM.

SSgt. Paul R. Yeske of the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) will also receive the Commendation Medal today as will SSgt. Cornell Dinkins, also of OMS. Three more AFCMs will be awarded at the event this afternoon. SSgt. Joseph E. Siniscalchi of OMS, SSgt. William D. Olson of the 2053rd Communications Squadron and Sgt. Tony Garcia of the 64th ABGp will be awarded the Commendation Medal.

Also scheduled for recognition today will be TSgt. Patrick T. M. Forrest of the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron. He will receive a certificate of achievement from the Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG) of the Republic of China. He will be cited for assistance he gave in that country during December 1972 and January 1973. During that period, Sergeant Forrest was responsible for training many Chinese Air Force maintenance personnel on the instrument systems of the Northrop T-38 Talon.

SMSgt. Charles W. Skipper will be recognized for his selection as Senior NCO of the Quarter as will the NCO of the Quarter, TSgt. Rufus W. Feury. The Wing Airman of the Month for April, A1C Virgil A. Weers, will also be recognized today.

CCAF observes anniversary, increased interest foreseen

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS) —One year ago on April 1, a small group of hand-picked Air Force educators from Air Training Command, with assistance from the Air Force Academy and the Air University, banded together at Randolph AFB to form a new educational institution—the Community College of the Air Force (CCAF).

Under the direction of Col. John L. Phipps, the first President of the CCAF, the staff set out to integrate airmen's on-duty technical training and voluntary education into meaningful patterns of career growth, to have Air Force instruction recognized for its full value, and to improve the educational and career related incentives for recruitment and retention.

Now, during a normal four-year enlistment in the Air Force, an ambitious airman can attain a sufficient number of semester hours to make him eligible for the award of a Career Education Certificate (CEC) in one of 77 major areas. The CEC program, modeled after a two-year college program, requires the completion of a minimum of 64 semester hours.

Credits for completing both Air Force and civilian instruction can be consolidated at the CCAF on a transcript which provides a single record of the individual's education achievements. Transcripts may be mailed to the airman or, should he or she decide to leave the service, to potential employers. Official transcripts—embossed with the seal of the College—may be mailed directly to colleges and universities for consideration in further academic placement.

Approximately 3,000 Air Force courses have been evaluated by the Careers Division of the CCAF, assigned semester hours credit, and entered into the computer system for transcript service.

When the first CCAF General Catalog is distributed in July, College officials expect interest in the CCAF to increase. The catalog will describe in detail the 77 majors (related to Air Force job specialties) where Career Education Certificates may be awarded.

During its first full year of operation, the Community College of the Air Force has grown in stature to where it is recognized as both innovative in the field of education and vital to the needs of the Air Force and of its enlisted corps.

Members urged to vote in their state elections

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) —Eligible Air Force members, spouses and dependents are encouraged to vote in six state elections remaining to be held during 1973.

Voting officials here said, "The limited scope for the 1973 elections precludes an extensive informational program similar to the one conducted in 1972. However, voting information will be provided, as it is received from the Department of Defense."

States and types of elections to be held in 1973 are:

Kentucky—primary election will be held May 29 to choose candidates for one-half of the State Senate membership and for the entire State House of Representatives. General election will be held Nov. 6.

New Jersey—A primary election will be held June 5 to choose candidates for governor and for the entire State Legislature. General election will be held Nov. 6.

New York—One Court of Appeals judge will be elected in the general election Nov. 6.

Ohio—Eight State Board of Education members will be elected in the general election Nov. 6.

Pennsylvania—A primary election will be held May 15 to choose candidates for two judgeships in the Commonwealth Court and two judgeships in the Superior Court. General election will be held Nov. 6.

Virginia—A primary election will be held June 12 to choose candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general and the entire House of Representatives. General election will be held Nov. 6.

Voting officers or personnel customer service centers can assist in obtaining more information.

Balmy Easter weekend brings surprise comment

By Capt. Charles Thrash

The Easter weekend arrived to the tune of fair skies and calm winds. Many of us had relatives who came to the South Plains for the holiday and were pleased to see the weather so nice. However, I was a little surprised when my father mentioned that Lubbock must really be a great place to be stationed—the weather here is really great.

Three of our people were notified they will be leaving the South Plains and its great weather for San Antonio and Randolph AFB soon. Captains John Sullivan and Lester Smith, and 1st Lt. James Killen will be leaving in June for Pilot Instructor Training (PIT). If you're interested in buying a house, see John; he believes he should only make about $1,000 for each month he has been in his house. A hard deal to beat especially since he vacuumed the rugs last October.

For the past couple of months I've been providing you readers with pin by pin descriptions of how our bowling team had been doing. Well last week they had a roll-off for the championship with Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS) team 1. FMS, the champs the past two years, managed to retain their title in an exciting match. Capt. Skip Franklin, the team captain, says they were beaten by a great team.

Surprise! Surprise! It seems some of our young IPs who stayed here at Reese after graduating from pilot training have been informed they are getting a couple of weeks free leave. The only catch is that the leave will be taking place around Fairchild AFB, Wash.—home of the Air Force survival school. Good luck, men, and don't forget to take your baby bottles.

The Gee-Whiz-Award this week goes to the stud who was picked to fly with ATC Stan/Eval. He said he had difficulty finding the IP because he thought instructors from Stan/Eval would be wearing a black flight suit.

Quote of the week comes from 1st Lt. Dave Senner of E Flight when he asked in the stag bar, "Are there any girls in Thailand?"

Job changes keep a hot man hopping

By Capt. Bugs Forsythe

Whew—trying to keep up with personnel changes in the squadron keeps you moving around faster than a peg-legged man in a forest fire.

If I leave someone out or move somebody that didn't know he was being moved, please accept my apologies. The cleaning lady said this information was accurate, and if she doesn't know then we're all lost.

Section I will soon be ruled by the iron-fisted, "think pink", Capt. Bernie Clark. His assistant will be Capt. Fred Doubet who leaves C Flight to Capt. Bob Wallick and Capt. Gary Stein. Fred replaces Capt. Johnny Barbara who is off to the land of white ascots, 610s and no-notices in Stan/Eval (ought to be a load of fun on a no-flap with little Johnny in the front seat!). Capt. Butch Hansen is departing the Goats to become the Dawg's new leader. His assistance will come from

Capt. James Nuber.

Before you studs start celebrating the departure of Captain Clark—look at his replacement. Capt. Eric Steffensen, the canny canuck, will be the new head of Check Section (commonly referred to as the place where you take your chances and get your buff!). Eric's assistant will be Capt. Mike "Hammer" Sanford who leaves the Elves to Capt. Harry Allen, fresh from SOS with new ideas on how to shuffle paper.

In the sporting news category, the bowling team made an outstanding showing with the Voss-Kishler team nailing down first place. Fox Flight's studs challenged "Spot's Sportsters" to a softball game last Friday. It was quite obvious to all bystanders that the "Sportsters" were about to rally when the game was called due to high wind. Also, the studs were almost winded from running the bases, as the score was 47-3.

Martha's Method
Fashion Sewing

MARTHA'S SEWING TIPS

A very common problem is seams that are too thick or bulky. This is especially true with knits and other wove fabrics with spongy fibers which have more bulk.

Standard seam allowances of 5/8" should be used only for your main construction seams and all others should be 3/8" and 1/4" trimmed and graded or layered.

Make a sample seam with regular 5/8" allowance (as shown in figure sketch), then trim both thicknesses at once to 3/8"—then trim one side to 1/4". Turn the piece over so that the seam is enclosed (as in a collar) and notice that the seam is smoother and flatter.

You can also reduce bulk, even after trimming and grading, by pounding with a tailors clapper (or block of wood). Steam the sewn seam until fibers are very moist then pound the fabric from the inside. If more flatness is needed, pound on the right side also.

Original paintings given to Open Mess

Mrs. Norman N. White recently presented an original oil painting entitled, "Windswept Heights" to the Reese Officers Open Mess.

Mrs. White, the wife of Lt. Col. Norman N. White, Reese Special Services officer, presented another oil of a Northrop T-38 Talon in 1969 which was later used as the cover photo of the Reese unofficial base guide.

According to Mrs. White, "I've been painting aircraft for about four and a half years. My first effort was a North American F-100 Supersabre that I did as a Christmas gift for my husband." The T-38 painting was presented to Foster T. Secord, open mess manager, along with a Cessna T-37 subject entitled "The Tweet".

The two frames were donated by local specialty shops. The T-37 picture was framed by the N.K. Gift Shop and the T-38 by The Country Framer.

Mrs. White continued, "In the past few years I have painted almost every type of aircraft conceivable. Some of my subjects date back to World War II and even earlier. I do almost as many landscapes and seascapes, and I find all my work to be a rewarding and enjoyable hobby."

Ladies Golf Association holds season's elections

The Reese Ladies Golf Association met April 10 at the NCO Open Mess for the election of its officers and the planning of events for the golf season.

Mrs. Gerry Waldrop is the newly-elected president and Mrs. John Piazza is the vice-president. The new secretary-treasurer is Mrs. John Beasley, the tournament chairman is Mrs. Thomas Rogers, the rules chairman is Mrs. Rich White, handicap chairman is Mrs. Ken McGuire and Mrs. Gee Roberts was elected publicity chairman.

The first luncheon of the season has been slated for noon,

May 8, in the NCO Open Mess. A free luncheon will be served by the association after a morning of golf. All dependent ladies as well as civil service employees are encouraged to attend.

Regular golf sessions will be played each Tuesday beginning at 9:30 a.m. The season will continue until Sept. 4. Dues for the association will be $1 per month, green fees are $1 and pull carts are 50 cents for each use.

More information on the Ladies Golf Association may be obtained by calling Mrs. Gerry Waldrop at 797-2829 or Mrs. Gee Roberts at 792-8958.

Flicks celebrate anniversary

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS) —The Palace Flicks personnel miniature movie program is one year old this month.

Air Force Military Personnel Center officials said the program has become the base personnel offices' most valuable communications tool and a primary source of disseminating a wide variety of personnel information to members of all ranks.

There are now 58 narrated color film reports ranging in subjects from the Weighted Airman Promotion System (WAPS) to officer rated programs. Any airman or officer can stop by his base personnel office, pick up a cartridge, drop it into a projector, and receive information on the subject desired. There's no projection room, threading or certain schedule involved. Each base has a complete set of flicks and at least two projectors.

Typical of the films are the three which have recently been distributed. For airmen, there's a seven-minute report on WAPS supplemental processing, explaining why it exists and what the individual can do to prevent it. On the other hand, the two areas covered for officers include 10 minutes of footage on pilot assignments and a five-minute film on officer retraining programs.

Subjects now in production are survivor benefits, dependent travel, hardship discharges and equal opportunity.

Lubbock has many restaurants catering to all occasions, from the big evening out—to hamburgers for the family. The restaurants whose ads appear in the Roundup have made a special effort to invite you into their establishments in the sincere belief that you'll like what they serve and that you'll be back. On your next time out—try one of the places that want your business and tell them you appreciate their support.

FOR TWO-CENTS—Eddie Hardy explains the workings of a gasoline pump to pretty Lynn Smith, station attendant at Reese AFB. Hardy, owner-operator of E-Con Electric Company in Lubbock, had the contract on converting the pumps to self-service at which patrons can save two cents per gallon. Lynn is one of three female attendants, now attired in their new uniforms, who will be resetting the pumps and collecting for the gas. See story below. (U.S. Air Force Photo)

Self-service gas pumps to bring 2-cent discount

Reese AFB motor vehicle operators now are in a position to beat spiraling prices by filling up their own gasoline tanks at the Reese service station and saving two cents a gallon in the process. Vaughn Mongan, base exchange services manager, instituted the self-service idea as an economy measure—both for the base and the patrons. The self-service began yesterday, but an official ceremony set for today, the time of which was not determined at news time, will officially institute the procedure.

Mongan said the middle and east lanes would be self-service but that the west lane (the one on the right as you enter the station) would remain full service. At the self-service lanes, patrons may fill their own gasoline tanks by following these three steps: 1. The attendant on duty resets the pump. 2. You fill your own tank. 3. You then pay the attendant on duty and drive off.

Patrons are also asked to leave the lanes immediately after filling up their tanks so as to avoid clogging the self-service lanes. Those desiring oil or other services should drive to the rear or east parking lot, park and perform those services there.

The two cent per gallon saving will be realized straight across the board—for regular, low-lead and premium gasolines. Those who use the full services lane will, of course, continue to pay the prevailing full rate.

Entries being accepted for shuffleboard action

Intramural Shuffleboard League competition will begin May 7 at the Mathis Recreation Center.

The league will be based on the number of entries received. Each unit on base may submit one entry for the action. Each entry should consist of two men.

League standings at the end of the season will be the basis of awarding points toward the Commander's Trophy.

Unit's desiring to enter a team should forward their entries to the Mathis Recreation Center, SSR (Stop # 51) before Tuesday. Further information may be obtained by calling Ken Hyde at Mathis at ext. 2722 or 2787.

Approaches set records

The men of the Reese Ground Controlled Approach (CGA) were kept busy during March, logging a record number of aircraft approaches. GCA controllers assisted aircraft 3,320 times during the month, besting their old record by more than 300.

The unit is operated by the Flight Facilities Section of the 2053rd Communications Squadron.

Logging the most assists was Sgt. James L. Ripley of C Crew, with 342 approaches, followed by TSgt. Mickey Hallman, A Crew senior controller, with 255.

In addition to their regular duties, GCA controllers guided over 20 visitors through the facility.

Lieutenant Copeland cited

The 54th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) at Reese has selected 1st Lt. Melvin L. Copeland as the April Instructor Pilot of the Month.

Capt. Richard Boyle, D Flight commander, cited Lieutenant

Copeland's "outstanding instructional abilities and his proven leadership qualities." Captain Boyle stated, "he is one of the finest young officers in the Air Force today. His flying ability and leadership characteristics inspire respect from both his students and his fellow instructors."

In addition to his regular duties as an IP, Lieutenant Copeland has served as flight briefing officer, computer control officer, and flight scheduler. He also serves on the Junior Officers Council and the Base Exchange Advisory Council.

The 25-year-old native of Lubbock is a 1966 graduate of Monterey High School and a 1970 graduate of Texas Tech University where he received his bachelors degree in civil engineering. Since that time, Lieutenant Copeland has received the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps distinguished graduate award and was selected top graduate in his undergraduate pilot training class.

The Lieutenant also received the Daedalian Award. Due to the fact that he has already completed the minimum time requirement as a Northrop T-38 Talon instructor pilot, Lieutenant Copeland has been positioned on the 64th Flying Training Wing Stan/Eval board.

The lieutenant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Copeland Jr., of Lubbock. He is married to the former Miss Nancy J. Woodward, also of Lubbock.

'Women only' time announced

The Reese AFB Golf Council met April 19, hearing committee reports and establishing a "women only" time at the course for the first time. The council went along with a request by the president of the Ladies Golf Association to have the course open to women only from 8 to 11 a.m. each Tuesday, the morning the association holds its weekly get-together. This was done after it was pointed out that the course is closed to women golfers from 7 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Saturdays.

The council also heard a report that the fees charged at the golf course would be the same as last year. The only change would be a 75 cent fee for use of Special Services golf clubs. There will be no charge for golf club storage or lockers.

Committee reports included a rundown on tournaments, marshalling and golf course maintenance.

During the council meeting it was announced that a new manager for the golf course had been hired and would report on the base May 7 to take up his new duties. He is Earl Hutchins, who is now the golf course manager at Holloman AFB, N.M. Hutchins is a retired Air Force technical sergeant with five years experience managing golf courses.

The council voted to hold its next meeting May 18, then adjourned.

flick flack

This week's schedule of entertainment at the base theater will be initiated with the showing of "The Train Robbers" tonight.

The base theater is open Tuesday through Sunday, with showings at 7 p.m. The Saturday matinee begins at 2 p.m.

Tonight
 John Wayne, Ann-Margret and Rod Taylor star in "The Train Robbers". This is the story of a quest for $500,000 in stolen gold. Led by a beautiful widow, the only person who knows the gold's location, a group of men travel to Mexico, where adventures await. The show is rated PG, parental guidance suggested.

Saturday
 Both the matinee and the evening performances will feature Walt Disney's classic, "Bedknobs and Broomsticks", which stars Angela Lansbury, Roddy McDowall and David Tomlinson. An apprentice witch in England rides her World War II broomstick against Hitler, and is suddenly saddled with the guardianship of three refugee children. Magic and merriment abound in the G-rated flick, all ages admitted.

Sunday
 "Vanishing Point", starring Barry Newman, Cleavon Little and Dean Jagger, tells the story of a maximum speed cross-country police chase from Denver to San Francisco. The man being chased creams a motorcycle policeman in Colorado, wipes out a Jaguar XK-E in Utah and wrecks a squad car in Nevada, before meeting up with a bulldozer duet. The show is rated PG.

Tuesday
 "Asylum" is a horrifying bundle of four stories centered around the attempt of the head of an asylum for the criminally insane to identify a former director. In his interviews with four people, he runs across the same number of macabre tales, each one more eerie than the one before. The feature stars Peter Cushing, Britt Ekland and Barbara Parkins, and is rated PG.

Wednesday
 Fred Williamson and Bernie Hamilton star in "Hammer", the story of a tough dock worker who catches the eye of a local syndicate leader who enlists him into the mob as a prize fighter. Just when Hammer is up for the big fight, the mob puts the screws to his manager, who then leans on Hammer to throw the fight. That's when the blows hit like anvils. "Hammer" is rated R, patrons under 17 require accompanying parent or guardian.

Thursday
 "Across 110th Street" tells the story of the Harlem policemen, contrasting an about-to-be-retired head-buster cop with a young black cop, one of the new breed. Working side-by-side, the two enter a race with the mafia without knowing it. Savage violence and language abound in this R-rated feature which stars Anthony Quinn, Tony Franciosa and Yaphet Kotto.

at Mathis

The entertainment schedule at the Mathis Recreation Center is highlighted with a special soul dance planned for tonight featuring "Shadowfax".

Tonight - A soul dance will be presented from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Music will be provided by "Shadowfax".

Tomorrow - The weekly pool tournament will be presented beginning at 5:30 p.m.

Sunday - The monthly table tennis and pool championships will be held at Mathis. Table tennis competition will get underway at 2 p.m. and pool action will begin at 5 p.m.

Monday - The Take Off Pounds Sensibly (TOPS) Society will hold a bazaar from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. at Mathis.

Tuesday - Meetings of all of the Reese wives clubs will be held at 10 a.m. Kentucky Derby Week begins at Mathis. It will continue until the annual classic is held, May 5. Horse racing films will begin the festivities at 8 p.m.

Wednesday - Ladies' Night Out will be presented at Mathis featuring shuffleboard, table tennis, darts and pool competition. The event will start at 7 p.m.

Thursday - The regular meeting of the Lubbock Chess Club will be held at 7 p.m.

at Open Mess

Pete Morales will kick off entertainment tonight at the NCO Open Mess, followed tomorrow night by "The Nivicos".

The happy hour game begins at 5:45 p.m. Monday through Friday. Sunday and Thursday night will host discotheque with Gerald Lewis.

The mess dining room is open from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 5 until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. Saturday the dining room will be open from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., and it will be closed Sunday.

Sports Bug

The VW that's something else.

On rare occasions we blow our minds and put out a limited production run of a real fun car.

This is one of those rare occasions. The Sports Bug. Special paint job. Custom striping.

Rallye bucket seats that hold you when you're cornering. Oversize sports-type radial tires and rims that give you high performance traction. Steering that's nimble. Lock to lock, 2.7 turns.

But the Sports Bug is more than fun-loving. Like all Volkswagens, it's dependable, and considerate of your budget. Because even when we blow our minds, we don't lose touch with reality.

Only one problem. When we said the Sports Bug is a limited production car, weren't putting you on.

We made a small number, and then, so to speak, we broke the mold. So if you want one, let's hear it. Like, now?

Just for a minute, imagine yourself streaking down the highway in a Mazda Rotary engine car. The tachometer climbs quickly to the 7,000 RPM Redline just as the speedometer passes 95 MPH. It's time to shift up to fourth gear, but you'd never know it from the smooth purr of the engine. You go ahead and shift anyway and cruise along in silent comfort. You have the fully reclining bucket seat adjusted just the way you like it, and the only noise you notice is your favorite song on the radio.

The steering wheel feels good in your hands, and there's no more vibration than you'd feel sitting on your living room floor. Your moving fast now, but your confidence is way up, because Radial tires and disc brakes can help pull you out of a tight, and you know you ain't gonna hurt that engine! You're off on an adventure; and no other car in the world meets the challenge like Mazda.

FMS bowling team takes third intramural crown

For the third straight time, the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS) team has walked off with the Intramural Bowling League championship.

This year's victory didn't come as easy as the previous two. At one time during the season, things seemed hopeless for FMS. The 35th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) team held an 11-game lead at the midway point in the season.

It wasn't until the second to the last week of the season that the FMS team caught up to the two pilots in the standings.

Down to Wire

The league title race went all the way down to the wire. The first game of the championship series went to the pilots by 60 pins. FMS fought back to win the second bout . . . but by only 25 pins. The third and final game was to be sudden death. About five frames into the final game both teams were even. Something had to give and it did as luck moved to one side and the FMS team wound up on top by 73 pins at the end of the final game.

Standouts in the championship series for FMS were: Chuck Jones with a 527; Joe Smith with a 539; Paul Lewis, 502; Larry Hoyt, 552; and Bill McCandless with a 452.

Top keglers for the 35th FTS team were: Skip Franklin with a 574; John Herbert with a 540 series; Dave Skakal, 473; Dennis Williams, 460; and Mike Chapman with an even 400 to round out the scores.

Season Leader

With all of the stats in for the intramural season, Skip Franklin was cited as season leader, boasting a 184 average. Larry Hoyt followed closely behind with a 181 average. The high series for the season was logged by Ken Van Epps with a three-game total of 681 and the high game of the season was rolled by Warren Spanyard with a 256.

The final season standings showed a highly competitive season with no more than nine games separating any two competitors. There were many differences of only one game separating rungs on the season ladder and many ties were also logged for the 16 teams competing.

Top Five

The top five teams at the end of the season were: FMS team 1, 91-37; 35th FTS team 2, 89-39; 64th Student Squadron, 83-45; 64th Air Base Group (ABGp), 80-48 and the 2053rd Communications Squadron team, 71-57.

The remainder of the standings in consecutive order of the final standings are: 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) team 2; 64th Supply Squadron; FMS team 2; Civil Engineering Division of the 64th ABGp; 35th FTS team 1; Reese USAF Hospital; Detachment 11, 24th Weather Squadron; OMS team 1; Detachment 3, 43rd Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron; Physiology Training Unit and Security Police Division of the 64th ABGp.

Challengers cause changes on ladder

The Reese AFB golf ladder has undergone some changes through three weeks of challenge.

Brian Prigmore, reigning base champion, still sits atop the ladder but is beginning to feel pressure from those below who believe there is "room at the top". Prigmore has put down on challenge—that from Neal Venters, who himself fell victim to a later challenge from Dan Walters.

In other challenge activity, Walters beat Bill Benson to go on the ladder. Joe Reiner the number 4 man put down challenges by Denver Parrett and Harry Eastus. The ladder, as it stands through April 24, is as follows:

1. Brian Prigmore
2. Jim Nickel
3. Dan Walters
4. Joe Reiner
5. Harry Eastus
6. Neal Venters
7. Denver Parrett
8. Bill Benson
9. Bob Murio
10. Tony Guerresco

21 MANUFACTURERS ARE TRYING TO COPY THIS ENGINE.

IF IT WASN'T BETTER THEY WOULDN'T EVEN TRY

They know that the MAZDA rotary engine has revolutionized the auto industry just as the jet engine did for aircraft. It has no pistons, no valves, and no rods. No camshaft, no lifters and no problems.

Just three moving parts quietly spin out gobs of power from a small space. Even though it is the most emission free car on the road, it gets very good economy on the cheapest gasoline.

Test Hop a MAZDA Today.
