Dal-Paso To Operate Motorcade This Fall

Snyder, Texas, June 21. — Arrangements are now under way to operate a huge motorcade over the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway this fall that will in a measure be larger than the recent Broadway of America motorcade that traversed that wonderful highway several weeks ago. Plans now contemplated call for the start of the motorcade at Dallas and continuing west through the various county seat towns until arrival is made at the Carlsbad Caverns.

After a trip through the Caverns, H. W. Stanley, manager of the Gateway Club, El Paso, has asked the motorcade to come to that city for a meeting. The date for the trip has not yet been named, but will be some time following the West Texas Chamber of Commerce motorcade that will assemble at Snyder in August.

Just a little over a year ago the Dal-Paso Highway Association was formed at Lamesa. At its meeting every city from Breckenridge to El Paso was represented, together with a number of New Mexico towns. At the organization, more than two hundred delegates attended according to Secretary Wm. A. Wilson of Lamesa.

The object of this association is to make a straight and practical route for east, central, south and West Texas to the Carlsbad Caverns, which is now well known as a National Monument. To this end the association set its goal and started its work.

Let's see if it has so far failed to function or if the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway is indeed a highway reality.

First. Three meetings of this association have been held in towns along the route during 1 year's time. Each meeting was especially well attended and such enthusiasm for the route was demonstrated and considerable business attended to.

Second. Highway signs, State Highway markers, and general highway maintenance has been secured and maintained on the route since the date of organization of the association.

Third. The crooks and corners have been practically eliminated in this air line route during the past year.

Fourth. More than 50,000 words of publicity have gone out to the state press and eastern papers for this highway during the past 12 months.

Fifth. State highway designation from Lamesa west to the state line has been granted this route by the State Highway Department during the first fiscal year of the highway association.

Sixth. The Anson Fireman's Band has been designated by the highway association as the official musical organization for this body.

Seventh. The association has succeeded in persuading the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to change its annual motorcade thru West Texas to New Mexico and Southwest Texas from the Bankhead to the Dal Paso Cavern Highway, and this organization will form its motorcade this year at Snyder and pass to the Carlsbad Caverns by way of this route.

Eighth. This association will run this year the largest motorcade beginning at the East Texas line passing through Dallas and Fort Worth to the Carlsbad Caverns meeting there a large motorcade over this route from El Paso. This will be the largest motorcade ever motored over West Texas, according to plans now under way.

Ninth. The association has adopted an official highway marker, which is attractive and will be permanently located along the route as soon as a sufficient number of these signs can be made and distributed.

No one can read the above who would not readily come to the conclusion that the Dal-Paso Cavern Highway Association is by no means inactive. Today and at no time will it cease to function as an organization and at no time in the future will the Dal Paso Cavern Highway be considered as a thing of the past or as a route that "failed to function." Plans are under way at the present time and the association is reasonably sure that Federal designation of this route is to be granted due to the fact that it is the straightest, shortest and most practical route to the Carlsbad Cavern and El Paso, Texas.

More power to the Dal Paso Cavern Highway, its officers and friends! —Geo. F. Smith.

Scurry County Cotton Crop Looking Good

Cotton is doing well, considering the late start it has. The season has been late. The nights are still cool for cotton to do well. Some fields have small patches which are just coming up. If this late cotton does well all our farmers will want to keep some of the seed. This will be a splendid chance to breed some 'optimistic' cotton. If a plant can come up at this time of the year and fight back all difficulties and finally succeed in making a crop, the seed will be exceedingly valuable. The best cotton will have an opportunity to prove itself this year. It is thought by cotton scientists that the recent destructive winds was of great benefit to cotton at large. Wet May's and dry June's are thought to be right for cotton. This year we had the reverse, but it is thought that the hot blowing winds which have been endured will counteract the effects of a wet June and result in a good crop this year. Insects destroy more crops than does dry weather. The outlook for the country is good.

"If the wind blows, let it blow, that is its business."

DISTRICT COURT IN NOLAN COUNTY HAS MANY CONVICTIONS

That Nolan County officers and courts have been diligent in enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment was brought to light this week in the report of District Clerk J. R. Cornelius to the attorney general's office in reply to a questionnaire from the attorney general regarding the disposition of liquor cases in that county.

This report covers the period from January 1, 1927, to date, and covers practically all cases of any nature upon which the grand jury returned indictments. Some of these cases included in the totals are cases that have been on the docket for a period of time and have been continued from one term of court to another.

Since January 1, 1927, according to the report, 70 felony cases have been returned by the grand jury and three misdemeanor cases. Forty seven cases have been tried; forty three convictions have been obtained; two cases were mistrials due to inability of the jury to agree; 27 cases are pending, and in 6 cases no arrests have been made due to the person or persons indicated having left the country. Several old cases which have been on the docket for some time were dismissed by District Judge Fritz R. Smith for lack of prosecution and failure of complaining witnesses to appear.

During the same period which covers three terms of court, 27 liquor indictments have been returned by the Nolan County grand jury, which are included in the 70 felony cases returned.

As a result of liquor indictments, 17 cases have been tried; 15 cases have resulted in convictions; two cases resulted in mistrials; and 10 cases are pending. In the ten cases pending the sheriff's department and the state have announced ready but continuation has been granted on motion of defense attorneys. No liquor case brought to trial during this period has resulted in an acquittal, which is a record it is believed for three consecutive court terms.

Kerr Gets A. B. Degree

Supt. E. E. Kerr was in town this week looking after the interests of the school. Mr. Kerr will take examination for his A. B. degree at the Abilene Christian College this week. He says the A. B. degree is nothing compared with what he desires to have, but it is exceeding hard to get.

Supt. Kerr is a very fine man, indeed, and is facing a very fine school year here next year. Mr. Kerr is well known here, having taught in the school two years previous to this. The students and the patrons will not have to learn to love Mr. Kerr. This has already been accomplished. He is held in the very highest regards here.

With reference to school activities, Hermleigh faces its brightest future. Many people are moving into town already and others are planning to come here for the school. The public schools of today are setting pace for the ongoing of every thing else.

WHAT TEXAS SCIENTISTS SAY ABOUT PRESENT CROP OUTLOOK

Eight of the ten questionnaires sent this week to the superintendents of Texas agricultural experiment stations in the various cotton divisions of the State show cotton to be doing well.

One questionnaire from the Weslaco station in the lower Rio Grande Valley says cotton is not doing well, too much rain and angular leaf spot present in many fields with the cotton condition as critical. The other questionnaire from Greenville states cotton to be doing only fair, due to previous excessive rainfall, followed by high winds which are destroying leaves and fruit; a few weevils present but with cotton lice disappearing. Open cotton expected about August 15.

The Lubbock station reports high winds to be damaging cotton, some by drying out the top soil and some covering of plants by drifting soil. First open cotton expected September 1, with crop five to ten days late.

The Spur station reports crop as twenty days late with some injury from sandstorms, cotton two to eight inches tall and making vigorous growth.

The Denton station reports cotton two weeks late but doing quite well; first open cotton expected Aug. 10, plant ten inches tall and growing vigorously.

The Troup station reports cotton as not being far from normal, with some fields rather grassy; boll weevils present in usual numbers; plants ten to twelve inches tall; first open cotton expected Aug. 15.

The Central Texas stations report as follows:

Temple Station — Cotton doing well, but two to four weeks late; with fields grassy account heavy rains; first open cotton expected about Aug. 31.

College Station — Cotton doing well, but ten days to two weeks late; behavior of plant normal; growth vigorous; first open cotton expected about Aug. 5.

The Beville station in South Texas reports cotton as doing well, but three weeks late; fruiting heavily; two feet tall and vigorous; first open cotton expected about Aug. 10.

Has "Goose-Neck" Party

W. H. McQuaid is having a "weed chopping" this week. He is hoping it will result in the death of all his huge enemies among the fast growing weeds and grasses. He has a weed which he says is the thriest weed in Wet Texas. And there are a few species of grass which do well on his farm, he says. He is not able, he says, to breed up the quality of cotton and cane like he can develop weeds and grass.

The editor has had a special invitation to attend the big occasion but he could not accept owing to a previous engagement (see article on editorial page). If Mr. McQuaid thinks we do not know how to handle a "goose neck" he is mistaken.

General green is hard to whip Mr. McQuaid. It takes the very best generals among us to handle him successfully. "Be not weary in well doing, for ye shall reap if ye faint not."

Fine Jersey Cows To Make Scurry County Home

Last Friday afternoon 23 head of registered Jerseys arrived to make Scurry County their home. These cattle, 18 heifers, three cows and two calves, were received with much scrutiny but with little ceremony. They arrived by way of the Santa Fe, and Saturday each one had been adopted into some home in various parts of the country.

The ringside comment was for the most part critical, but it is a safe bet that time will prove the value and improve the appreciation of these registered Jersey cattle. One year and one month ago a similar shipment received and placed around Hermleigh, these two shipments of registered female stock was representing the bulk of the registered Jerseys that are in the country today, because previous to this time the only introduction of registered stock, save bulls and a cow or two that a man would bring with him to this country, was a shipment of registered cattle that was sold by D. H. Holley of Wolfe City, Texas. The registered cattle that have been in the country have proved their worth. The cows that were sold by Mr. Holley are as a whole the best cows the country has. It is unusual that all of the registered stock that have been introduced to date have come from the same general section of Texas, excepting the bulls which came from the Fulfurrias Dairy Farm and from the northern states and that all of them are of practically the same blood lines, blood lines that are famous for their production. The last shipment of cattle was bought and loaded at Van Alstyne, Texas, as were the cattle shipped last year. They were purchased for the most part from Carl Umphress, who makes a specialty of breeding, selecting selling and showing Jersey cattle. Mr. Umphress has shown at the Dallas Fair and at the Fort Worth Stock Show for the last several years, and has always made a profitable showing against leading breeders of the state.

Mr. Umphress attributes this success to the high quality of bulls that are used by the people in his community who have on three occasions imported bulls of the highest production records almost possible to secure. They have paid as much as

Dr. & Mrs. Ward Visit Here

Dr., and Mrs. Earnest Ward of Raleigh, N. C., son and daughter of our Dr. and Mrs. Ward, are visiting in the home of the latter here this week. They will spend their vacation of two months here. The young Mrs. Ward is a North Carolina girl and is visiting Texas for the first time. She has heard of the Texas insects and reptiles and her chief dread is to meet the Texas "Spider," the Dr. says.

They left Raleigh last Wednesday morning at 6:00 and drove into Hermleigh Sunday morning about 2:00 o'clock, a distance of 1700 miles. They made the drive in one of the $1300 for one of these bulls and a very high price for two more. He has had a number of cows that he has tested, and each time they have made the register of merit record. This bit of history briefly shows the breeding that is back of the Jersey cattle imported into the county and emphasizes the importance of using good bulls.

This county is supplied with a few of these very best bulls and they are distributed that almost everyone in the county has access to them. It is a matter of general interest that the largest part of the heifers and cows imported are of similar breeding to the circle bulls, and trace back more remotely than do the bulls who are grandsires to that great Sophie Agnes Cow considered by most authorities the greatest cow of the Jersey breed. This cow was not only a 1,000 pound butterfat cow, but she reproduced many that have approached her record even through her dams and sons.

When one considers the small number of registered Jerseys in the country, some 100 head, as compared with 5,000 or 6,000 cows in the country with the importance of this breeding, there is small likelihood of over production.

An interesting characteristic of the last shipment was the placing of six calves with club boys which start will make for these boys a registered herd if they are able to keep their offspring by the time they are able to embark in the battle of life for themselves, and certainly there will be no better armor

Also an interesting fact that no doubt reflects with value has been the importation of five cars of high class grade Jersey cattle that have been imported by Scott & Huffman, Dwight Monroe, and Bert Brothers that will ultimately reach various portions of the country.

Buyers of registered cattle in car load shipped in on the club plan sponsored by County Agent Willis were: Ben Brooks, C. W. Morton, W. W. Early, Lee Sturdivant, Charlie Eastman, Weldon Jeffries, M. O. Nail, Garland Amos, J. M. Stewart, C. E. Trussel, Eldon Birdwell, Algie Steveson, Odell Fuller, W. M. Sturdivant, A. C. Alexander, Mrs. W. N. Davis and Mrs. T. J. Fuller.

new Fords. Dr. Ward took membership in the A. A. A. motor club before leaving and was routed via Charlotte, Ashville, N. C.; Noxville and Chattanooga, Tenn.; Maridian, Jackson and Vicksburg, Miss.; crossing the Mississippi river at Vicksburg on a ferry boat. They spent their last night on the road at Monroe, La., coming through Shreveport, La., striking their first Texas town at Marshall. They drove from Monroe, La. to Hermleigh at one sitting, a distance of 611 miles.

Dr. Ward is an army physician and surgeon in the employ of the government and is stationed at Raleigh. This is his first visit home in some time.

DON'T WORRY ABOUT ATTENDING

If we do not have a change for the better we are planning to "kick off" one day this week. It doesn't matter particularly if it doesn't happen on press day. No publisher would have time to be buried on press day. We prefer to be 'dagged' out among the stones and the cactus for, "As the tree falleth, so shall it lie."

We do not care for a long procession for the occasion will not justify it; but we want a short and timely ceremony. We want Major Kimzey to deliver the eulogy—Major doesn't care what he says. We want the happy choir, led by R. C. Watts, to sing this good old hymn, "Just Where We Need Him Worst!" We want John Mason to say the benediction—John will make it stick.

Dr. Ward says he shall not be surprised if this should happen. He says that in "Adam all die" and, in his opinion, we have a real good case of 'it,' he said. We have known all these years that we had something but we didn't know it was a case of the "Adam's." We suspect that Dr.

Ward is right. "In the day thou eatest thereof, thou shalt surely die." We have eaten a forbidden dish of some sort, we are sure, for we have had a bitter taste in our mouth for weeks. We are not expecting a large of mourners to attend this scene for we "laugh with those who laugh."

WE DON'T KNOW WHAT A DEMOCRAT IS.

Some newspaper some place is offering a prize for the best short essay on the subject of "What is a Democrat." We shall not try for the prize for the task is too great for us. We have an idea what a Democrat is. An old American politician had seven sons. These all went coon hunting one night. They caught only one coon and each boy wanted it. They left it up to their dad to settle the matter for them. The old Democrat said: "The boy who can give the best reason why he is a Democrat shall have the coon." The first gave his reason, the second, the third, and on down to the last little fellow. The little fellow hesitated for a n instant and then replied, "I am a Democrat simply because I want the "coon."

The old dad gave him the coon. We do not know what a Democrat is, but we have an idea. Jim Reynolds, candidate for Sheriff, says that he is a Democrat because he wants to be sheriff next term.

We do not know what a Democrat is, but we have a faint imagination. When a fellow decides he wants an office, he is a real good Democrat. If he has a kinsman or close friend in the race he is a Democrat. If he is to support a Nominee against whom his chosen politician has something unpleasant to say, —oh, hush now that is enough of that!

It doesn't require a sage to see that Democrats don't float around except on election year.

LET'S GET OUTSIDE FOR A WHILE.

It does us good sometimes to get out into the open and look around. Seclusion breeds pessimism. Imprison a man excluding him from the liberty of light and the free use of the eye, and you ruin his life. Imprison him behind the walls of narrow thinking where no forms of the better life are seen, you develop a hurtful pessimism. There is nothing which has quite the bad effect which provincialism has. Shut up from the ongoing world without! Such tragedy! No doubt ill health is the underlying cause of much of this and if so, there is a much greater need of knowledge of the human anatomy than we have thought in times past. The physical and the moral man are very closely connected, indeed. Physical handicaps often affect the moral man. The reason Helen Keller is such a marvelous character is because her moral character was strong enough to overcome the handicaps of the physical life.

We hadn't realized until recently the bad effect of staying housed up here in this shop was having over our own life. Shut off from the world without, one becomes unfit for society. We drew a clear clean breath and looked around and were impressed with the things in our own town more than ever before. There is a lot here that some of us do not realize. One is forced to love the town when he gets out and looks at it with an open eye.

"We must sometimes dare to do; but the power for good is not in the 'dare', it is in the 'do'

Your Vote and Influence Respectfully Solicited

I will greatly appreciate your vote and influence for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Scurry County. I believe in a consistent and continuous enforcement of the law. If elected to this office I shall endeavor to faithfully perform the duties there of. I believe the best way to enforce the law is to be always on the job and never let down in enforcement. If elected, I promise to give the whole county a square deal. I shall do my best to keep peace in every community. The small community is entitled to the sheriff as well as the large towns.

I promise, if elected, not to embarrass any good citizen of this county by requiring him to sign complaints when they wish to have some disorder investigated. This is mainly the sheriff duty. Citizens have a right to open avenues without being molested by lawbreakers.

I should greatly appreciate it if the readers the Herald would investigate my record as a citizen and my ability to perform the duties of this office before casting your votes. GIVE ME A CHANCE.

CHURCH IS DEDICATED

The service at the Methodist Church Sunday in which the building was dedicated, was a very impressive one. The Rev. Lipscomb, Presiding Elder of the district, was in the best of trim for the occasion. The dedicatory address turned out to be a revival sermon. The Rev. Lipscomb is so overcome of the spirit of evangelism that he can not avoid letting it get into his message, whatever the occasion might be. The revival spirit is the most becoming of any other in the pulpit. If all our preachers would preach the simple gospel message everytime they go into the pulpit, we should have better churches. The simple gospel will revive. It begets spiritual life.
