Community Fair September 15th.

COMMUNITY BOOTHS FOR FAIR ENCOURAGED

One week from Saturday is the date for the big Community Fair in Hermleigh. The Fair Association is to be permanent, and whatever is done this year, therefore, will be to the future interest of the Fair Association. We cannot do all we want to do this year so, what we are to do is being done with the Association's future in view. To encourage participation of local communities as such in the permanent Fair Association, we are offering two small prizes for the two best community booths this year. The first will be $15.00 and the second $10.00. We are anxious to have communities to enter for these prizes, because we want to encourage the community spirit. Only a little time and work will be required to arrange this booth. So begin now and be ready.

Ford Acts On Own Initiative

Sunday morning Joe Neal drove up to the back door of the City Cafe and got out for a minute and, owing to his batteries being a little weak, he left the car running. Some how the lever slipped and it threw the machine into gear. The car started in high and ran a test race against the swift Milford Davis and gaining ground on the footsman directed itself across the town south, being checked only by the wire fence at the Higginbotham home south of town. Joe said the Ford had a crazy spell of the Henry's. No harm was done except the fence was slightly torn down.

Business Dissolution

The business firm of Drennon and McQuaid has dissolved partnership, Drennon having bought the entire one-half interest belonging to McQuaid. The business will retain the name "King Eagle Garage" but Mr. Drennon will be sole owner and manager.

Honors the School

Major Kimzey and family have moved into town for the school term at least. Major says he doesn't know how city life is going to suit him. Glad to have you, Mr. Kimzey.

Hill-Brawley Nuptial

Mr. A. D. Hill and Miss Alma Brawley of this place motored to Snyder and were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage Saturday night. They left Sunday for the groom's home at Sylvester where they will spend a few days after which they will be at home in Post City.

Mr. Hill is well known here, having taught as principle in the high school here last year. The cunning cupid laid his soft hand upon these and this inseparable union was formed in the meantime. The pretty bride is the daughter of our own Mrs. Wilsie Gobel and is one of the most popular young ladies in town.

Their many friends join in extending their well wishes to the 'happy twain'.

Baby's Foot Prints

The Herald did a new job of printing last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lon Hamil and little daughter, Francis Jane, accompanied by Dr. Ward came in the office to have baby Francis Jane's foot prints printed upon the stainless page of the "Baby Book." The Herald ink placed the foot prints of this young lady indelibly upon the pretty page. We have heard of man's foot prints upon the sands of time, and now we see them printed with printers' ink upon the sweet pages of the "Baby Book."

Mrs. Boone Takes Hotel

Mrs. Callis and Miss Sparks, former occupants of the Hotel Hermleigh, are leaving this week for Snyder, and Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Boone will occupy the hotel and will be its managers for the ensuing year, at the least. Mrs. Boone is a former hotel keeper, it is understood, and knows the business well.

Mrs. B. D. Smith who has been in a sanitarium at Abilene for several days is home again. She is feeling well, she says.

SCHOOL OPENS WITH MUCH ENTHUSIASM

The Hermleigh school opened with 'pep' Monday morning. The auditorium was filled with anxious spectators and school enthusiasts and the spirit of the occasion was the very best. Supt. Kerr, pulsating with energy and attuned to the music of the fine occasion growing out of the hope of the best school year in the history of the school, echoed the fine sentiment of his boosting patrons.

The opening program follows: Song, America. Devotional. Principle Newman, Board's Welcome, C. P. Williams, Complimentary. A. A. Bullock and John R. Covey, Snyder Principle

The address of welcome from Mr. Williams was said by all who heard it to have been the best opening address ever delivered by the School Board at an opening exercise here.

Out of a total of 264 scholastics enrolled, 250 were present Monday morning.

The classes in Home Economics and Agricultural Training enrolled heavily first day.

The school community is a unit and which promises a season of good things this year.

CLIFF FAMILY HAS HOME-COMING

The home of W. A. Cliff, one mile east of town, is open this week to a home-coming of all the seven children. This is the first occasion of the kind the family has enjoyed since 1919, it is understood.

The personnel is as follows: Wray and Vance, Hermleigh; Hugh and Miss Ruth of McMurry College, Abilene; Mrs. J. R. Armstrong and little son, Fort Worth; Mrs. Morris Eubanks and two children, Hale Center, and Mrs. D. A. Snellings, husband and children of San Marcos. Mr. Snellings is a teacher in the State Teachers Normal in his home town, it is understood.

Miss Ruth will leave Wednesday for Hale Center where she will teach this winter. Hugh will leave the 19th. for McCouley where he will take up his school work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Randals of Abilene, former residents of our city, were visitors in town for a short while Monday.

THE COMMUNITY FAIR

We have always possessed a good case of the "COMMUNITY SPIRIT. There is nothing we enjoy so much as reaching out and getting into touch with more people with the view of helping them, if not otherwise,
 by exchanging words of friendly greeting and smiles of cheer with them. We believe that every church should be a community church (we have lost a job or two by preaching this but we believe it just the same).
 We believe that every town
 should be a community center,
 and as such we believe it should champion the interests of all the people just as far as it can get into touch with them. "He that is greatest among you let him become servant of all."

If we are going to have a Community Fair Hermleigh, as a matter of course, should be the place to hold it, because it is the center of all the local communities which go to make up the community. And, if the Fair is to be held in Hermleigh, Hermleigh people should consider themselves as host to all the communities represented. If we are to be host to the people of our community upon the occasion of a Fair for all the people, we should offer worthy prizes to the communities which are representing the agricultural interests of our people. This we propose to do. We do it because we believe we owe it to our people to do it. We want those attending the Fair to make the very best of the occasion and enjoy at our expense the very best we are able to offer.

We are offering two nice prizes for the best and second best arranged booths representing the various local community centers within reach of Hermleigh. We are proud of what we know these community centers can do, and we are willing to offer prizes for their efforts.

After we have had our Fair here, we should like to see our Community Fair Association
 go as a whole to the County fair, and from the County Fair to the State Fair as a part of the County Fair. We shall go to the County Fair as a District association, but when we leave the the county for the State Fair we shall all go as one county, Scurry.

The Herald advances its greetings to the Community Fair Sept.
 the 15th.

'We'll be-dogged' if the fellow wine, nor does anything whereby his 'modern' brother is offended

Growing Demand for Black Walnut Logs

With the growing popularity of black walnut furniture and the increasing use of ply wood or veneer by the manufacturers, the United States forest service points to the great demand for high grade walnut logs suitable for this use, says the Pathfinder Magazine. Logs suitable for cutting into veneer must be 18 to 24 inches in diameter at the small end and practically clear of defects in order to bring a price of from $150 to $200 a thousand board feet at the mill. Larger logs of good quality naturally bring higher prices, but smaller logs do not bring more than about $100 a thousand board feet at the mill.

Logs at the mills bring higher prices than logs in the woods or delivered at a shipping point, as freight is a very large item of cost. The value of standing timber depends greatly on the distance from the mill to where it is to be converted into timber or veneer. The price for standing walnut trees is about $50 a thousand board feet less on the average than at the mill.

Seemed Like Ghostly Visit

An inflated automobile tire became unfastened from an automobile driven by W. Frisbie at Middle town, Ohio. The tire bounded through a window at the home of Carly Anders, went through another window on the opposite side of the house, shattering the glass, and disappeared. Members of the family who were asleep, could not imagine what had happened until the owner of the tire called to pay for the damage.

Turning Cutover Lands Into Redwood Forests

Redwood trees, imported from California and planted in the Grays Harbor district of western Washington 14 years ago by one of the large logging concerns of the Pacific Northwest, have proved a pronounced success, according to company officials. As a result, plans are under way to transform large areas of cutover lands in the Grays Harbor region into redwood forests. In the 14 years a redwood tree has attained a diameter of 18 inches showing more rapid growth than that of any other variety of tree planted at the same time. The tree also shows every indication of being high-grade lumber stock. Other varieties planted included spruce, fir, pine and red and white oak. Encouraged by these results, the company is undertaking the growing of the redwood trees from seed, and in addition has planted more than 1,000 acres with spruce, fir and pine seed. Success in these seeding operations will lead to reforestation on a large scale, lumber officials say.

ROBINSON ASKS CONTEST BE ON ETHICAL PLANE

Vice Presidential Nominee Finds "Political Serpents Hissing;" Would Arouse Hatreds.

SEES FARM PROBLEM AS MAIN CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Accepts Nomination Stressing Need of Real Law Enforcement and Honesty in Government—Scores Hoover Stand.

Hot Springs, Ark., August 30.—Senator Joe T. Robinson of this state accepted the Democratic nomination for vice president here tonight in an address pledging his party to adequate farm relief, an honest endeavor to enforce prohibition, the maintenance of a merchant marine and the eradication of corruption from the national government.

Claude G. Bowers of New York, the temporary chairman at the Houston convention delivered the notification address as chairman of the notification committee. The ceremonies took place at the Arlington Hotel before one of the largest gatherings in the history of Arkansas.

The nominee made a plea for a frank discussion of all the issues of the campaign without bitterness. Public attention has been concentrated on political affairs to a degree of intensity never before known, he said. In this campaign, he said, voters are interested not only in the issues, but in the personal characteristics of the candidates.

"The preliminary events of the contest indicate that in order to avoid bitterness, the leaders on both sides must display a sense of justice and fairness by refusing to become the beneficiaries of political influences and processes which they themselves are unwilling to employ," he continued. "In this way, and in no other, may the poisons of slander and libel be counteracted and overcome."

Arouse Prejudices

The quadrennial contest presents an inspiring spectacle when conducted with high standards of ethics, Senator Robinson said. But, he continued:

"Numerous political serpents are hissing in the dark and striking from cover, and with venomous malice seek to poison the thoughts and arouse the prejudice of those who will decide issues of far-reaching importance."

The spokesman of a party has a duty to tell the whole truth, he added, but "he proves himself unworthy if he knowingly accepts advantage from falsehood, even though not uttered or inspired by himself."

Senator Robinson characterized the attitude of the two parties with respect to the agricultural problem, the outstanding issue of the campaign. Both platforms recognize the distressed condition and hold out promises the relative value of which is apparent, he said.

The Republican party in 1924 gave virtually the same promise. It gives this year, "to take whatever steps are necessary to bring back a balanced condition between agriculture, industry and labor," Senator Robinson asserted. However, the McNary-Haugen bill, prepared under the direction of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had just been defeated and to regain the confidence of the farmers President Coolidge, in the 1924 campaign promised to call a conference to consider legislation for the next Congress.

The doctrine which Mr. Hoover has adopted originated from the conference which followed, Senator Robinson said. This doctrine provided that agricultural production should be limited to the demands of the domestic market "and with only such foreign markets as may be profitable."

The Capper-Williams bill followed the general lines of this recommendation. It was supported by Mr. Hoover, Senator Robinson said, but was opposed by the farm organizations and defeated.

As further evidence of Mr. Hoover's stand, Senator Robinson quoted from a statement by Mr. Hoover in the Pacific Ruralist of February 7, 1924: "Generally the fundamental need is a balancing of agricultural production to our home demand."

The 69th Congress passed the McNary-Haugen bill, with a vote of 57 per cent of the Democrats and 52 per cent of the Republicans, he said. President Coolidge vetoed it. In the last session after it had been modified to meet some of the objections to it, the bill was passed again with increased majorities. Again the President vetoed it.

"These facts prove that the Republican party is either incapable of successfully dealing with the question or has deliberately violated its express promises to the farmers of the nation," Senator Robinson declared.

"Mr. Hoover now asserts that 'an adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief,' that inland waterways must be developed to assist the farmer and co-operative marketing must be stimulated by the extension of federal credits, Senator Robinson continued.

Increased tariffs can afford no relief, he argued, and the farmer will scarcely wait for the development of waterways. If co-operative marketing is the solution why has the administration failed to apply it, he asked.

In contrast, he said, the Democratic party recognizes the principle of distributing the cost of control of surplus crops over the marketed units whose producers are benefited. The party further recognizes "the right of farmers to lead in the development of farm policies," and "that adequate credit facilities and better administration of the farm loan system" must be assured in the interest of the farmers. Senator Robinson said.

"We repudiate Mr. Hoover's proposal to limit farm production to the domestic demand, as calculated to be little, rather than to encourage the great industry of agriculture," he said.

"If a more equitable and executive plan than that comprised by the equalization fee is discovered, it should be adopted," Senator Robinson continued. "The time has come, however, when an economic adventure is justified in behalf of the millions who engage in that industry without which civilization could not survive. The Democratic nominee for President has committed himself to prompt and decisive action in accordance with the principles outlined in our platform."

Senator Robinson declared there had always been room in the Democratic Party for a difference of opinion as to the best means of promoting temperance and suppressing traffic in alcoholic beverages. He pointed out that a proposal for changes in the existing system was submitted to the resolutions committee at Houston but was rejected. The convention, realizing the futility of attempting to secure unanimity on the proposal, he said. The platform provision as finally adopted condemns the Republican party for insincerity in promising

STRIKING EXCERPTS FROM SENATOR ROBINSON'S SPEECH OF ACCEPTANCE.

"The leaders on both sides must display a sense of justice and fairness by refusing to become the beneficiaries of political influences and processes which they themselves are unwilling to employ."

"Numerous political serpents are hissing in the dark. . . . Sound public policy encourages full, frank and fearless discussion of issues and records."

"The spokesman of a party has the duty to tell the whole truth. . . . He proves himself unworthy if he knowingly accepts advantage from falsehood even though not uttered or inspired by himself."

"The Republican party is either incapable of successfully dealing with the (agricultural) question or has deliberately violated its express promises to the farmers of the nation."

"If a more equitable and effective plan than that comprised by the equalization fee is discovered, it should be adopted."

Governor Smith's statement "is an unqualified acceptance of the obligation to enforce the law to the best of his ability."

obedience to the Eighteenth Amendment, "after having flagrantly disregarded for eight years that amendment and the law for its enforcement. . . . "The convention platform," he said, "that the Republican party is neither a prohibition nor an anti-prohibition organization but if entrusted with power its duty would be to enforce all laws."

"To one who for twenty-five years has uniformly supported measures for prohibition, it has been disappointing to note the methods and agencies employed by the Republican party in the enforcement of the national prohibition laws," Senator Robinson continued.

He said the question should be treated as moral and economic rather than political and that many claiming to be reformers have clouded the subject with confusion and misunderstanding. These people, he said, have discredited the motives of those who display moderation and fairness in the discussions on the subject and of those who are dissatisfied with present conditions.

"President Wilson vetoed the Volstead Act," said Senator Robinson. "The integrity of his purpose was not questioned; his good faith was generally conceded."

Senator Robinson then referred to Governor Smith's telegram to the Houston convention in which he pledged himself to enforce prohibition "to the limit of my ability without reservation or evasion."

"This language is an unqualified acceptance of the obligation to enforce the law to the best of his ability," declared Senator Robinson.

The vice-presidential nominee pointed out that the enforcement of prohibition under the best two Republican administrations has been under the Treasury Department, "whose head, prior to national prohibition was largely in the liquor business." He referred to the fact that Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, whose action in swinging to Mr. Hoover at Kansas City was largely responsible for the nomination of the Republican candidate, was elected on a platform containing a single plank, the repeal of national prohibition.

"If he said that, Governor Smith believes that it is returning to the old evils of the saloon, temperance and respect for law can be promoted through changes in the existing system. He is a nullificationist and an enemy of the Constitution," he asked. "Such arguments impeach the intelligence of their authors," he declared.

Senator Robinson pointed out that only such modifications as meet with the approval of public opinion are possible no matter why they are made.

Senator Robinson continued: "Having in mind the law for enforcement of prohibition has been discredited because the laws have not been made for its enforcement, the conclusion is reached that a breakdown is not threatened by mere proposals for modification, but rather by indifference of the public to proper execution and by corruption and inefficiency of many enforcement officers. It is recognized that the people constitute the reservoir of all political power and have the right, in the constitutional manner to call for changes in either or both the Constitution and the law. The executive has no power to modify either. It is in no sense an attempt at nullification to suggest changes in the Constitution or the law. Nullification exists in refusal or willful failure to enforce."

Honest Enforcement

"To summarize, the Democratic platform does not commit the party for or against modification. It does pledge the nominees to an honest effort to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment and the laws enacted pursuant thereto. Governor Smith has promised his best efforts to enforce prohibition. His personal opinion that the law or the Constitution should be changed to make certain better observance and enforcement, does not affect his disposition or ability to perform that duty."

On the subject of the Merchant Marine, Senator Robinson asserted: "While the necessity for Government ships continues, and until they can be transferred under satisfactory conditions for private operation, the service should be kept efficient and should be improved to meet competition with foreign lines and to provide for the expansion of our commerce."

He said the Democratic party recognizes that an adequate merchant marine is essential to the safety of the nation and the independence of its commerce. However, he said, Democrats have never advocated as a permanent policy Government ownership and operation of shipping. The party has refused to approve "reckless sacrifice and favor. . . . The platform of the Republican party recognized that the corruption at Washington was a major issue of this campaign. . . . The subject by the Democratic party, Senator Robinson said.

"While rare cases of fraud may be regarded as unavoidable in any business comparable in volume to that of the United States, it became a matter of general political concern when the party in power proved so disposed as to fail to prevent such repeated departures from standards of common honesty in the transaction of the public business," asserted Senator Robinson.

If the principle enunciated in the Republican platform had been applied by the Republican administration it would have been unnecessary for a Senate to advise the discharge of an Attorney General who had "utterly disregarded the obligations of his office and contributed to the pollution of the fountain of justice," Senator Robinson continued. "The country would have been spared the spectacle of an executive sustaining this faithless officer until public sentiment compelled dismissal, and the dismissal would have been made with an expression of confidence in the faithless officer by the chief executive," he said.

Smith's Record

Likewise, he said, there would have been no need for the Secretary of the Navy who had approved a contract by which the shipyard were given to pay bribes to the bribery of a favored contractor, the Secretary of the Interior.

"Throughout almost four terms the Democratic nominee for Vice President served as chief executive of New York," Senator Robinson said. "During all his service the searching and hostile scrutiny has been through a full glare on his administration. Governor Smith's record has stood a test is evidence of that. . . . executive ability and fearlessness required in a President of the United States, who is expected to lead the Government against such crooks and crooks as have plundered during recent years."

In conclusion Senator Robinson said: "The safety of our political institutions depends on fair elections and honest government. You may never expect clean government if nominations or elections are to be bought and sold. Of course, such methods do not meet with approval by the majority of the Republican party. Many Republicans condemn the indifference of their leaders to the ignominious record mentioned—a record which never could have been made if the watchmen on the towers had not fallen asleep."

"The Democratic party invites the cooperation of all who desire the administration of national affairs reformed in accordance with the principles set forth in its platform."

"Mr. Chairman Bowers, and ladies and gentlemen of the Committee, the nomination for Vice President is accepted with sincere appreciation of the honor and the responsibilities that are associated with it."

We are in receipt of a letter from "down the country"
which reads in part as follows:

Dear Mr. Editor:
"I presume the streets of Hermleigh have been cleared of "tin cans" since I have noticed nothing more about them in any recent issue of the Herald. I should like to know about this. -A Subscriber.

Our Dear Reader:
No, the "tin cans" have not been removed. They are still 17 feet deep in places, but weeds have grown so high since the recent rains that one can not see the cans any more--but all these monstrous
"high weeds" don't worry us Hermleigh folk for we know that "jack frost" will take care of these for us some time
this winter.

Our friend Watts and the Mrs
are very pleasant parishioners to preach to.

Mothers, here is the very soap you need for the children's hands. Removes the dirt quickly, a quality that boys demand in soap they use. Its economy to buy it by the box.

FRITZ R. SMITH

"Inasmuch as it is physically impossible for me to express my appreciation to the hundreds of friends and voters who loyally supported me in the campaign just ended, I am taking this method of expressing my gratitude to all those who supported me. I have only the kindest feeling for all the citizens of the 32nd District and it shall be my ambition to devote my entire time for the next four years in an earnest effort to make you the District Judge you have ever had"

Sincerely,
Fritz R. Smith.
