

OPEC Agrees To Hike Price Of Oil

BALI, Indonesia (AP) — The 13-nation OPEC oil cartel met today in a bid to restore "at least a facade of unity" despite the 85-day-old war between two of its members, Iran and Iraq. The oil producers were also expected to make plans for a new round of price increases.

Opening the first major OPEC meeting since the Persian Gulf war erupted Sept. 22, Indonesia's President Suharto appealed to Iran and Iraq "to seek the best conceivable solution to their conflict as soon as possible."

"Hopefully, the current OPEC meeting in Bali could produce fresh wind for mutual understanding, fraternal relations and close harmony amongst its members," he said.

The delegates from Iran and Iraq, confronting each other on this idyllic palm-dotted tourist island, showed no outward response to Suharto's plea.

Their conflict has cut off a combined total of 4 million barrels a day in oil exports and spurred disarray among other members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

"We must be vigilant that this OPEC meeting does not become an arena which weakens the unity and integrity of our organization," Suharto said. "We are obliged to restrain ourselves and to act calmly."

The challenge before OPEC is "to restore unity,"

Venezuelan Oil Minister Humberto Calderon Berti said Sunday, on the eve of the meeting. "We are going to avoid any points which can lead to confrontation. I don't believe the problems we have had will last forever. I am optimistic."

OPEC protocol experts took the unusual step of separating Iran and Iraq, whose delegates traditionally were seated side-by-side in the alphabetic arrangement of past meetings.

Iran was expected to use the meeting to repeat its demand for the return of Iranian Oil Minister Mohammed Jawad Bequir Tunguyen, who was captured by Iraqi troops in late October near the Iranian oil refinery center of Abadan.

Chapman Fearful Of Food

NEW YORK (AP) — Apparently frightened by a possible death threat, the man accused of slaying former Beatle John Lennon refused to eat during the weekend until his prison food was checked for poison, according to a corrections spokesman.

Mark D. Chapman, transferred from Bellevue Hospital to the more secure Rikers Island facility on Friday, ate late Sunday afternoon only after his attorney, Jonathan Marks, and a civilian chef watched his meal being prepared, said Correction Department spokesman Edward Hershey.

The Honolulu man's fear apparently arose from a cryptic threat Chapman found scrawled on the wall of his cell, Hershey said.

The misspelled scrawl apparently was addressed to Chapman. It may have been left by one of a dozen inmates moved out of the prison infirmary so Chapman could be isolated.

Cancer To Claim 420,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Cancer, the No. 2 killer in the United States, will claim 420,000 lives in 1981 — 1,151 people a day or about one every 75 seconds, according to the American Cancer Society.

But of the 420,000 projected victims, 134,000 might be saved by earlier diagnosis and prompt treatment, according to the society's 1981 "Cancer Facts and Figures" report, released Sunday.

The report said cancer causes one in five deaths and is second only to heart disease as a killer of Americans.

Although cancer deaths have risen steadily over the years, not all the news in the society's report was gloomy.

Of the 805,000 people who will be discovered to have cancer in 1981, a third will survive at least five years after treatment begins, the report said.

Budget Watcher Farm Critic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man President-elect Ronald Reagan has chosen to be his chief budget watcher and federal pennypincher can be expected to be highly skeptical of new or larger subsidies to farmers.

Reagan announced last week his nomination of Rep. David A. Stockman, R-Mich., considered at age 34 one of the brightest young members of Congress.

Stockman is a leading advocate of "supply-side" economics, which calls for the use of tax cuts to spur investment, raise productivity and employment and reduce inflation.

He also, as outlined in a letter two years ago, can be a stern critic of federal farm programs and what he called "cry-baby commodity groups" that keep asking for government help.

Fog Shrouds Texas Morning

By The Associated Press
Dense fog reduced visibility to near zero early today over parts of West Texas, and to a half mile in central Texas.

Fog and showers extended from the Rio Grande Valley to near Austin, and clouds covered much of the rest of the state. Skies were fair in the Panhandle and East Texas.

Winds were 20 mph or less statewide.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the low 30s in the Panhandle to the upper 60s in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Light rain and drizzle was expected to continue over South Texas, with partly cloudy skies elsewhere. Highs were predicted in the 60s in the north and the 70s in the south.

Royalty Loss Hurt College

HAWKINS, Texas (AP) — Officials of a small church school established 68 years ago in East Texas say they may have to sharply curtail operations because of a reduction in royalty checks by Exxon.

The school's attorney said the royalty checks make up 23 percent of the budget at Jarvis Christian School, an institution operated by the Disciples of Christ.

Exxon, accused by the U.S. Department of Energy of overpricing its products, has said it will withhold 40 to 45 percent of monthly royalties until next October.

If the DOE charges are true, the company has been paying too much to the 2,200 royalty holders in the Hawkins oil field, including Jarvis Christian School, Exxon says.

Nearly all of the school's 612 students are on some type of student aid program, which gets its funds from royalty payments, said attorney John C. Hardy.

Liberals Closing Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Liberal organizations, far from giving in after last month's election debacle, are fighting back, buoyed by dramatic surges in membership and contributions.

"We're going on the offensive," says Harry Margolis of the Americans for Democratic Action.

Throngs Gathered To Mourn Lennon

By SCOTT KRAFT
Associated Press Writer
Some had shrieked at the mop-haired Beatles 20 years ago; others were too young to remember. But they gathered by the hundreds of thousands from California to Australia to stand in silent prayer and weep in the arms of strangers for John Lennon, whose music shaped a generation and was silenced in a hail of bullets.

In the city parks and on the ocean beaches, his voice in song reached out to his mourners.

Lennon was slain outside his New York apartment Dec. 8. Sunday's vigils were organized after Yoko Ono, widow of the 40-year-old musician, asked for a 10-minute period of silence at 2 p. m. to "pray for John's soul ... wherever you are."

Many didn't want to be alone with their memories of Lennon and of the most successful rock group of all time, whose innovative music and non-conformist style represented the passion of the 1960s.

At least 100,000 huddled in New York's Central Park, a few blocks from where Lennon lived and died. They sang, cried and prayed and for 10 remarkable minutes the only sounds were the wind, the helicopters overhead and the sound of weeping.

Some protested the lack of gun-control legislation. An hour later, the silence of the park was shattered as two teen-agers were wounded when a drug-related argument burst into gunfire, police said.

During a memorial concert in Liverpool, England, where the foursome got its start, an angry crowd rushed a band that began playing non-Beatles tunes. About 100 people were injured or fainted, and three were admitted to local hospitals, police said.

Man Found Hanging In Jail Dies

William Jerrall McCormick, 37, who police said hanged himself last Thursday in the Snyder city jail, died at 10:15 a. m. Sunday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The body was forwarded by Bell-Seale Funeral Home to Lumberton, N. C., where funeral arrangements will be announced by Biggs Funeral Home.

An oilfield worker, McCormick had lived most of his life at Lumberton, and had been here a few months.

He was found hanging in a city jail cell after he had been arrested on a public intoxication charge. Police said he used his clothing to hang himself, but he was revived by officers and taken to the hospital.

Surviving are: his wife, Vivian, of Snyder; a daughter, Angelo Rene McCormick of Snyder; two step-daughters, Con Brown and LaWanna Brown, both of Snyder; a son, Wilbur McCormick Jr. of Snyder; His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McCormick of Lumberton, N. C.; a sister, Margie Cribb of Lumberton; and a brother, Glenn McCormick, serving with the U. S. Army.

A.—Medical reasons are the prime consideration in school policy on this subject. The board considers requests for these transfers at its regular meeting in August.

Reagan, Bush Are Elected Officially

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ronald W. Reagan of California will be elected president of the United States today.

George Bush of Texas will be elected vice president. Today's the day the electors who were elected on Nov. 4 meet in the capitals of the 50 states and in the District of Columbia to cast the votes that actually elect the president.

The Constitution calls for them to meet on the first Monday after the second Wednesday in December. Together, they're called the Electoral College, but they're never together.

The votes they cast today will be certified, and forwarded to Washington. On Jan. 6, Vice President Walter F. Mondale, in his role as president of the Senate, will open the ballots and announce the totals.

Ambulance Contract To Be Considered

The Snyder City Council has scheduled a special session for 5 p. m. Tuesday to consider applications for an ambulance contract and to consider on second reading an ordinance of flood plane regulations.

The city, which serves as the contracting agent for local ambulance service, received two applications before the deadline last Friday. The present ambulance service contract with Kerrie Palmer of Palmer EMS, will be terminated at midnight Dec. 31. Mrs. Palmer advised the council that she planned to discontinue service at that time after her request for a subsidy increase was rejected. The city and county have been subsidizing the ambulance service in the amount of $1,550 per month.

Communist Newspaper Makes Appeal For Calm

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The Polish Communist Party newspaper appealed today for calm as Poles commemorate the anniversary of a worker uprising put down with bloody force 10 years ago.

Commenting on the upcoming two days of "nationwide reflection" Tuesday and Wednesday, an editorial in the party daily Trybuna Ludu said, "It lies in the interest of Poland ... that this reflection should be a constructive one."

The commentary appeared to indicate official concern that commemorative ceremonies could spark new troubles in this tense nation.

The editorial came a day after an organization of private farmers threatened to strike at the end of December if the government refuses to register their independent union, as it has registered the independent workers' group Solidarity in the aftermath of widespread strikes last August.

The Trybuna Ludu commentary pledged that the recognition of Solidarity and other agreements reached with workers as a result of those strikes would be honored.

"There is and there can be no return to the situation (existing) before the summer of 1980," it said.

An announcement carried by local radios in Gdansk and other northern cities appealed for "discipline and responsibility, law and order" during the commemoration.

Delegates claiming to represent 600,000 of the nation's 4.5 million private farmers spelled out a string of demands at a boisterous meeting Sunday that followed weekend appeals for calm and national unity from the Roman Catholic Church and Solidarity, the nation's largest independent trade union.

Spokesmen for the farmers demanded that the Polish Supreme Court register their union, named Country Solidarity, as a legal organization in a ruling expected Dec. 30. They also demanded that the 1.1 million workers on state and collective farms be allowed to join their union.

The meeting by a show of hands also adopted a resolution demanding that their right to own property be guaranteed and that the government give equal support to private and state farms.

Delegates said the specific form of the threatened strike action had not been decided. But because of fears of Soviet intervention and Solidarity's appeals for a moratorium on labor unrest, it was believed that attempts would be made to limit disruption of food deliveries.

10 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Winston Animals Draw Top Prices

Top price paid for an animal at Saturday's Anxiety 4th Hereford Association's annual sale was purely a Scurry County transaction.

Evelyn McLaughlin Knox of Diamond M Ranch paid $2,900 for WH Superior Anxiety 1087, a two-year-old bull consigned by Winston Hereford Ranch to top the list.

Winston Hereford Ranch, owned by John Jarrell and Rex Robinson, also got the top price for a female in the auction, which was held in the livestock-agriculture building at the Scurry County Coliseum.

W. F. Whittenburg of Graham paid $2,500 for a three-year-old Winston Ranch cow with a 545 pound bull calf at side.

A total of 47 bulls brought $51,055 to average $1,086, while five pairs brought $7,325 to average $1,464.

Sixteen bred heifers sold for $9,525 to average $595 and six open heifers brought $2,895 to average $482.

Volume buyers at the sale include Billy Huddleston of Snyder, who bought five bulls for $7,600, and Bill Eiland of Snyder who bought four bulls for $6,725.

W. C. Hart and Cecil Sellers judged the animals prior to the sale and gave the high score to a bull owned by Leland Wallace of Big Spring. This animal was purchased by Eiland for $2,700.

The second place bull was consigned by Pied Piper Hereford Farms of Hamlin and was purchased by Winston Hereford Ranch for $1,700.

Board Plans Interviews

Scurry County Junior College District Trustees made plans this morning to conduct more interviews of applicants for the position of president of Western Texas College.

First of the interviews were conducted last week, and indications were that at least three more applicants would be interviewed this week.

The board is seeking a president to succeed Dr. Robert Clinton, president of the college since it began operation 10 years ago. He has resigned to accept the position of director of the Texas Public Community Junior College Association.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — From Anaheim to Amsterdam, from Zanesville to Zurich, millions of would-be homeowners throughout the world are becoming increasingly desperate in their search for adequate, affordable and convenient housing.

In the Netherlands, police repeatedly have battled frustrated young people who are among Amsterdam's estimated 10,000 squatters living in abandoned center-city buildings because of a severe shortage of permanent housing.

In Zurich and other usually placid Swiss cities, a similar lack of housing has triggered demonstrations by home seekers demanding government action to provide more moderately priced living quarters.

Violence has not erupted in Anaheim, Calif., or Zanesville, Ohio, but pressure is building on the housing market there and in thousands of other communities across the nation as millions of members of the post-World War II "baby-boom" generation reach the homesteading phase of their lives.

"Unless the problems are dealt with successfully, housing may become the Vietnam of the 1980s," warns Leon N. Weiner, a Wilmington, Del., real estate developer and member of the Council on Development Choices for the '80s.

In a report recently made public, the 37-member panel proposed a wide range of innovative actions that differ drastically from the land-development practices of recent decades.

The sprawling single-family detached home that long has been an integral part of "the American dream" must be supplemented by townhouses, duplexes, multi-plexes and other forms of cluster housing, the council says.

"The battle of the '70s was over-urban, sprawl," says John Horsley, county commissioner in Kitsap County, Wash. "The battle of the '80s will be over density."

Other members of the council include the governors of Arizona, Arkansas, Connecticut and Michigan as well as mayors, state legislators, land developers, urban planners and members of city and county councils.

"We must do more with less," the council warns. "Competition for scarce economic, land and energy resources will have a major impact on our quality of life in the 1980s and beyond."

Organized by the Urban Land Institute and funded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, the council offers a wide range of recommendations. Among them:

-All governmental jurisdictions - including cities, small towns, regional agencies and states - must take the lead in promoting rational development goals.

-The processes of infill (utilizing urban space passed by during earlier stages of development) and redevelopment must be accelerated in the nation's cities.

-Government regulations should be modified to allow increased housing density, reduced lot-size requirements and removal of rent controls and condominium-conversion bans.

-Restrictions on manufactured housing (factory-produced components assembled at the home site) should be eliminated, as should laws prohibiting conversion of single-family homes to include small rental units.

-A new type of special savings account should be authorized, allowing potential home buyers to set aside for a down payment funds that would be exempt from income taxes.

-Far more emphasis must be placed on the development of mass-transit systems, giving them priority over highway construction in fast-growing areas.

Attached townhouses and cluster housing with common green space are becoming commonplace in the country's most crowded urban areas, where the scarcity of land has led to rapidly escalating housing costs. But if smaller cities don't follow that lead, there is a very real danger that the dream of home ownership will elude too many families in the coming decades.

Castro County commissioners and County Judge M.L. Simpson said they will meet Monday to determine how to replace Mitchell.

a bid to over-extend

A report prepared for president-elect Reagan by a group of national security advisers contains some disturbing and potentially dangerous statements. "No area of the world is beyond the scope of American interest," it says, and it states further that the U.S. needs "sufficient military standing to cope with any level of violence" around the world.

Richard V. Allen, Reagan's top security adviser, has emphasized that the report has no official standing in the administration. Nonetheless it represents an arrogant mode of thinking that has for several decades caused our reach to exceed our grasp around the world.

Is it America's job to decide how to settle the civil war in Northern Ireland? Is it America's job to impose peace on centuries-old disputes in the Middle East? Is it America's job to decide which dictator will rule a country in South America? Is it America's job to determine the outcome of elections in Italy? Is it America's job to defend a prosperous Western Europe?

We suspect that different people will have different answers to those and other questions. We don't suppose that everybody agrees with us that American interest lies with defense of its own borders and fair and impartial dealing with the other countries of the world. But we would like to see a much more careful definition of just what America's interests are.

"No area of the world is beyond the scope of American interest." That's a pretty sweeping statement. But the report doesn't even stop there. It also says our foreign policy "must be supported by a defense policy adequate that American interests are protected under any plausible assault by a hostile power or coalition of powers." That statement is so sweeping as to be literally meaningless. If our interests are everywhere, and we have to be able to protect them "under any plausible assault" the implication is that we need a military force capable of subduing the entire world on a moment's notice. That's absurd.

We don't think America is an imperialist power. We don't think the American people have any notion of dreams of empire or military intervention wherever some foreign policy planners' idea of our interest is affected. We know we have potential adversaries out there.

But sweeping statements like those in the unofficial advisory paper reflect a kind of sloppy thinking and disinclination to grapple with the problem of means and ends that is dangerous. It can't help but give ammunition to the two-bit dictators and ideologues around the world who build their power on the fear of a mythical imperialist America.

Reagan ought to repudiate those statements post-haste.

I've rewritten my tombstone a thousand times.

It went from "I told you I was sick!" to "I can't hear you with long hair" to "You want thin! You're looking at thin!"

Scratch those. I'm going for "Saint Erma: Our Lady of Perpetual Holiday Shopping." When you push a button, a recording will play, "What I Did for Love."

Parents are such saps. Every year we gather our children around our knees and inquire, "What do you want for Christmas this year, sweetheart?"

An infant who has no control over his bladder, is unable to feed himself and cannot focus both eyes in the same direction, says clearly, "I want the Rattell Pirate Ship, Catalogue No. 90456, made of non-toxic super-constructed balsa and equipped with a two-masted square rigger, a crew of 14, a dinghy, treasure chest, cannons, adjustable sails, working anchor, derrick for hoisting, and a crow's nest, cost $85. Don't accept a substitute. Look for the stores in our area on Channel 4."

You'd think once in awhile your child would ask for a nondescript "dolly" or a no-name car, but they never do. I remember one year when all about me my contemporaries had goals of world peace and restoring America to its place of trust. You know what my goal was? Finding a doll for my daughter that drank milk, burped, rolled its eyes, said "I'm sleepy" and deposited something very disgusting in its diaper. The stores sold out of them in August. There is no doubt in my mind that's how "Mommie Dearest" books are born.

Do children ever really appreciate what mothers go through to accommodate their desires? They do not. I walked myself to death one year in search of an electronic game called "Whacko" that cost $42. (Batteries and sanity certification not included.) Our local stores were all sold out and as I had business in New York, my first act was to rush into the largest department store, then lug the thing, 3,000 miles on my lap. Two days later, Whacko was sentenced to death by dust under the bed.

Shopping for teens is no easier. I've rummaged through "kinky" little shops where I've been the only person wearing shoes. I've been overused by incense and waited on by a guy with a ring in his nose and a tattoo of a snake on his tongue. I have been in record stores with the decibels so high that not only my teeth became loose, but my child-bearing years came to a halt.

I'll be glad when they won't have Saint Erma to kick around anymore.

NEW YORK (ap) — When the prime rate hits 20 percent you begin to lose your perspective as well as your shirt. You know that 20 percent is high, but how high? Would you believe it was 2 percent in 1949?

Losing one's economic reference point is common today, because most of the usual measurements of economic health are bouncing around like a dinghy in a squall.

It took 17 years, until 1966, for the prime rate to reach 5 percent. But in less than 8 months this year that same measure of borrowing costs fell from 20 percent to under 11 and then back to 20 percent.

Where it will go from here is really a matter of guesswork. There are some who foresee 30 percent, and others who say the rate is now close to its top.

Whichever way it moves, you may be certain that nobody for a very long while will have any idea of where the prime rate "should" be.

More familiar, but equally confusing these days, is the consumer price index, a measurement that from 1959 through 1965 never rose as much as 2 percent in a year. Even in 1967 it rose only 3.4 percent.

That latter year is important, because it is the base year for determining relative prices. For most purposes you can pick any year, say its prices equal 100, and then measure future changes from it.

Since the federal government chooses to use 1967, we are able to calculate that prices today are at an all-time level of 254.1, or that they were in October. That is, according to federal officials, retail prices today are about 2½ times what they were in 1967.

Nevertheless, the once slow-moving CPI is so volatile now that its rise in just one month sometimes exceed the changes for entire years during the early 1960s. In fact, so swiftly do prices change today that few people can say what a can of beans "should" cost.

They find it difficult also to relate to the size of federal budgets deficits, to increases in retail sales, to declines in productivity, to the low rate of savings... maybe even to their own paychecks.

For the sake of perspective, consider this: In fiscal 1974 the federal budget deficit was $4.7 billion, but in fiscal 1980 it was $59 billion, and the combined deficits since 1974, including the anticipated deficit for fiscal 1981, will exceed $300 billion.

Such contrasts give some indication of direction, and probably serve as navigation guides of a sort. But now hear this: All those big budget numbers are to some extent distorted by inflation. And for rough calculations, the CPI is a measure of the distortion.

Those budget figures include a lot of inflation. The dollar used to measure deficits today is not the dollar used to measure deficits yesterday. Its like measuring the depth of the snow with a 12-inch foot one day and a 10-inch foot the next.

And the same distortions apply to the level of retail sales, to the measurement of gross national product, and of course to the nation's income. Your paycheck proves that when you take it to the store.

No wonder at all that people feel adrift in uncharted waters. All the buoys have lost their anchors and the landmarks have faded into the mists. And we sit here lost, wondering when the fog will lift.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

A trace of albumin

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Our 15-year-old son just had a medical examination and the doctor said he has albumin in his urine. Is that dangerous? He didn't say if he had kidney disease or not and I'm worried about it. Our son seems healthy and is active in sports. He had the examination because he is wrestling on the high school team. The doctor didn't say what to do about it either. Can you shed some light on this for a worried mom?

DEAR READER — Since your doctor did not suggest anything to be done, I infer that he didn't think it was really important in your son's case. If he had thought it was serious, he would have asked for additional tests, if he had not already done them in the course of his examination and found the results normal.

Albumin is a blood protein. We all have it; it is essential in helping control the flow of fluid into and out of our circulation into the tissues. The kidneys are filters. A small amount of albumin leaks through the kidney mechanism in everyone. The amount can be increased in some diseases. It can also occur in some people from just standing, as discussed in The Health Letter number 12-12, Your Kidneys and How They Work, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

If there is more than a trace of albumin present the urine can be collected for 24 hours and the amount eliminated over a 24-hour period can be measured. If that shows there is really an increased amount, then a sample can be collected after being in bed several hours and compared to a sample obtained after standing. If the standing sample has a lot of albumin in it and the resting one does not, then it is probably a postural effect without any medical significance.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I need to know if it is possible to firm up muscles if they have been flabby for more than five years. I am a 30-year-old female. I lost 50 pounds five years ago without any exercise and it shows, especially on my bottom. There is almost no muscle tone and it sags. I have had good luck with toning up all other areas. Do you know any good exercises for this problem, which I can do at home?

DEAR READER — You can firm up muscles at any age. The principle is to exercise the muscles you want to firm up. Particularly it is important to use fairly strong contractions. You have not had much success with your buttocks because the sit-ups, leg lifts and the exercise that you may have done for the rest of your body, have not affected it. To contract the gluteal muscles over the buttocks, you must do exercises that belong to the "bumps" that a stripper might use. That literally means contracting your gluteal muscles as you thrust your pelvis forward, relax and repeat.

Of course, you may still have fat in that area. In that case, you won't improve your bottom until you lose more weight. In that case, you are back to calorie control by diet and general exercise. If you were desperate, you might consider the services of a plastic surgeon who does cosmetic surgery. They are quite skilled in shaping bottoms. But you can't develop firm muscles unless you use them.

Congratulations on losing your excess pounds. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Dear Abby

No Down-at-the-Count Wearing Boxer Shorts

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from CHILDLESS COUPLE, who were considering artificial insemination. This may help.

For four years my wife and I tried without success to have a child. We were both tested. She was fine, but the doctor said that because my sperm count was so low, my chances for fathering a child were slim. That's when we considered artificial insemination.

I saw a fertility specialist. He asked me what kind of shorts I wore. I told him I had worn jockey shorts for years. He suggested that I switch to boxer shorts — the loose-fitting kind, instead of the snugly fitting jockey type. When he explained why, I thought he was crazy, but I took his suggestion, and four months later my wife conceived! Our baby is due in March. I'm signing my real name, but please don't use it. Just sign me

FUTURE FATHER

DEAR FUTURE: When I read your letter, I laughed and threw it into my wastebasket. But I quit laughing (and quickly retrieved your letter) after reading several more bearing the same incredible message! Read on for a short story that may help some of whom pregnancy is inconceivable:

DEAR ABBY: There may be an easier solution to the low sperm-count problem than artificial insemination. First, the poor guy should try to increase his sperm count by having a more balanced diet. And secondly, he should discard his tight-fitting jockey shorts and wear old-fashioned, loose-fitting underwear.

A doctor told me that in order for sperm to multiply properly, they need a slightly lower temperature than normal body temperature, that's why nature placed the testes outside the body. Jockey shorts tend to make the testes almost part of the body, while loose-fitting shorts allow the air to circulate, thereby reducing the temperature of the sperm below that of body temperature.

My wife had prayed for a baby for 13 years, but only after I changed my style of underwear was she rewarded!

FATHER OF 9, GRANDFATHER OF 4

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I live together, and it's gotten to the point where I think we need a referee. I am 28, and never been married; he's 30 and divorced. We fight constantly over the division of the household chores. I work from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday. He runs a catering business, involving long, irregular hours, sometimes seven days a week.

I think the housework should be shared on a regular basis. He insists that housework is not his job — that since he works longer hours and more days he shouldn't have to do anything around the house. What do you think?

BELIEVES IN SHARING

DEAR BELIEVES: Your live-in friend should not be exempt from domestic chores because he works longer hours on an irregular basis. When he's home he should pitch in and do what he can. In a partnership (and that's what living together is) the chores should be shared.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your opinion that female police officers are not a threat to the wives of male police officers. We were happily married until my husband was assigned to work with a female officer. He told me not to be jealous of her, that she was a real "dog."

Well, to make a long story short, he divorced me and married her, and now they have a puppy.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Oswald: "In looking over 1931 Bridge Worlds, I find an article by Robert P. Foster who was 78 in that year. He was the oldest of the Whist-auction bridge authorities who tried to learn contract, and did write on it."

Alan: "Can you explain North's 13-point notrump?" Oswald: "Foster opened notrump any time he had an opening bid and no biddable suit. A biddable suit had to have at least king-jack at its head. Actually, Foster sat East."

Alan: "Modern bidding might get South to three notrump on the sequence one diamond-three diamonds-three notrump. East would be on lead and probably open his fourth-best heart and declarer would make five odd."

Oswald: "I'll quote from Foster: 'Partner led the king of spades and I started an echo and a warning by playing the nine. He played the ace. I played the six. He blithely led a third spade. South ruffed, drew trumps, ran his clubs to discard dummy's king and queen of hearts and made his game.' Foster felt that he was marked with the deuce since it had not appeared so East should have led a heart."

Alan: "I guess declarer was not allowed to false card when he held the deuce. Incidentally, a modern defender would play 6-9 whereupon his partner just might find the heart shift."

This season, eye makeup is more colorful than ever. The newest shadows range from pink to plum, and magenta and violet are being used to line the eye instead of traditional brown and black. For a fresh, sensational look, try orchid shadow on the lid, pink blush along the eyebrow, violet liner and (surprise) violet mascara. If you like a sultry look for evening, switch to a grayed mauve on the lid with dusty rose in the crease.

Dallas Family Says New Home Haunted By Burglar From Past

DALLAS (AP) — A wealthy Dallas family believes a mystery resident who "haunted" their 19-room mansion before they moved in last year is responsible for the disappearance of about $2,200 in cash and $5,000 in jewelry over the past year.

Mary Banner and her husband, a Dallas criminal defense attorney, moved into the exclusive neighborhood hoping for security and privacy. Mrs. Banner said she was excited about renovating the old home, but the couple's three children "thought the house was haunted."

Soon after the family moved in, they began hearing noises in the attic. Mrs. Banner said she first believed raccoons, squirrels, or mice were responsible.

But then cash and jewelry started trickling out, she said.

Unable to find any sign of forced entry, police believed the thefts were the work of someone who was legitimately in the house. But maids, workmen and two students who are tenants passed polygraph tests, she said.

Two weeks ago, $500 in cash disappeared after Mrs. Banner had wrapped the money in a pair of jeans and stashed it in the bottom of a chest of drawers.

"I remember thinking at that moment (when the money was put away), 'I feel like someone is watching me,'" the 31-year-old woman said.

Mrs. Banner decided her 4-year-old son had told the truth when he said he had seen a strange man in a remote part of the house.

A few days later, she said she found peepholes in a backyard fence that would give a watcher "a perfect view of the wing of the house that included the master bedroom."

Shortly after the $500 disappeared, an alarm company serviceman found a small room made of sheetrock in a corner of the attic, Mrs. Banner said. Under the floor of the four-by-six room was a trap door that led from the attic to the top of a bedroom closet.

Inside the secret room was a hammer, nails, a rusty saw, a beer can and a whiskey bottle, she said.

Mrs. Banner tore down the sheetrock room and nailed shut the attic window. But her troubles didn't stop.

Several times she said the family has come home to find outside doors open, alarm system wires disconnected and more valuables missing.

"The situation seems to be that I've invaded this man's house," she said.

The family began to suspect the burglar might be a former patient of the psychiatrist — Dr. Robert Glen — who previously owned the house. Glen, now superintendent of Rusk State Hospital in East Texas, often treated patients in the house, Mrs. Banner said.

"He (the burglar) is probably so highly intelligent that he's crazy," she said. "He's been able to figure out the alarm system. And he knows more about the house than I do."

Mrs. Banner says the family will try to outlast and outwit the tricky burglar.

KIT 'N' CARLYLE

Chase Leaves 3 Dead

DALLAS (AP) — A car being pursued by police raced the wrong way up a Dallas expressway early today and crashed into a car, killing three of the four women occupants.

Authorities said they were preparing charges against the 33-year-old suspect, a Dallas man, on three counts of manslaughter, possession of marijuana, evading arrest and speeding.

Two policemen and three other people were injured in another accident moments earlier. The car driven by the suspect narrowly avoided hitting an oncoming car, but the police car did collide with the vehicle.

Officers Craig Kidd and Willie Cherry were reported in fair condition at the emergency room of Parkland Hospital. The three others injured in the first accident also were reported in fair condition.

No identity was given immediately on the victims or the injured in the accident in which the three women died.

Woman Hangs Self In Jail Cell At Longview

LONGVIEW, Texas (AP) — A woman who had been arrested on a misdemeanor trespass charge was found hanging in her jail cell here Saturday, Gregg County officials said.

Gregg County Sheriff Bobby Weaver said the body of a woman identified as Patsy Ann Shirley, 32, of Longview, was found hanging in her cell about 8:10 a.m. He said a note was found in the cell, but declined to release its contents.

He also would not say how she managed to hang herself.

An autopsy was conducted Saturday afternoon, but results were not released.

Mrs. Shirley was arrested Friday afternoon on a criminal trespass charge, Weaver said. She was incarcerated at the request of the Harrison County Sheriff's Office, which asked that she be held for probation violations.

Mrs. Shirley talked to the jailer about 10 p.m. Friday night, Weaver said, "and at that time everything appeared to be quite OK."

He said he would not discuss the incident until investigations by Texas Ranger Stuart Dowell and the Gregg County sheriff's department had been completed.

Vikings, Falcons First NFC Teams To Win Division Titles

by The Associated Press
The Minnesota Vikings and Atlanta Falcons have clinched division titles, and with a victory tonight the Los Angeles Rams can join them — as well as Philadelphia and Dallas — in the National Football League playoffs.

That's in the nice, neat National Conference, where everything is done in proper, orderly fashion. Even the New Orleans Saints, whose play in losing their first 14 games had prompted some fans at the Louisiana Superdome to wear paper bags over their heads, wiped out their embarrassment by edging the New York Jets 21-20 Sunday.

But over in the American Conference, it's an entirely different story. If NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle says he wants parity and down-to-the-wire races, he's certainly got it in the AFC.

With one week left to go in the regular season, not a single division championship has been decided. What's more, not a single team is even assured of a playoff spot.

Seven AFC clubs head into the final weekend in contention for the five playoff berths — Buffalo, Cleveland, Houston, Oakland and San Diego, all with 10-5 records, and New England and Pittsburgh, both 9-6.

In the NFC, Minnesota won the Central Division title for the 11th time in the last 13 years and moved into the playoffs by beating the Cleveland Browns 28-23 — but it didn't come easily. The Vikings needed a one-handed grab by Ahmad Rashad of a deflected, desperation 46-yard heave by Tommy Kramer after time had expired to overcome the Browns.

Division titles may be old hat to the Vikings, but not to the Falcons, Atlanta, which previously had clinched a spot in the playoffs, won the first AFC West championship in its 15-year history by beating the San Francisco 49ers 35-10 behind three second-half touchdown passes by Steve Bartkowski.

Despite the victory, Atlanta's ninth in a row, there was no great celebration.

"The champagne comes after the Super Bowl," explained Falcons Coach Leeman Bennett.

The Saints weren't drinking champagne, either. Their celebration took the form of a long sigh of relief after Tony Galbreath's two 1-yard scoring dives in the final period lifted them over the Jets.

Meanwhile, Buffalo and Cleveland missed chances to wrap up AFC division titles by losing Sunday.

The Bills dropped a 24-2 decision to New England. They still lead the Patriots by one game, but must beat San Francisco next week to win the division. If the 49ers win and New England beats New Orleans, the Patriots would win the title because of a better record within the division.

By losing to Minnesota, Cleveland blew a chance to wrap up the AFC Central and dropped into a tie at 10-5 with Houston, which beat Green Bay 22-3. If those teams finish in a tie, Cleveland would be the division winner because of a better conference record.

In other Sunday games, the Oakland Raiders edged the Denver Broncos 24-21, the Philadelphia Eagles beat the St. Louis Cardinals 17-3, the Cincinnati Bengals trimmed the Chicago Bears 17-14 in overtime and the Miami Dolphins defeated the Baltimore Colts 24-14.

On Saturday, San Diego beat Seattle 21-14 and Washington defeated the New York Giants 16-13. Vikings 28, Browns 23.

Minnesota's Tommy Kramer completed 38 of 49 passes for 456 yards and four touchdowns, setting club records for completions and passing yardage.

Oilers 22, Packers 3.

Earl Campbell carried 36 times for 181 yards and two TDs for the Oilers. Steelers 21, Chiefs 16.

Pittsburgh rallied for two touchdowns in the final period.

to beat Kansas City, Rocky Bleier scoring the game-winner on an 11-yard run. Eagles 17, Cardinals 3.

After a scoreless first half, Philadelphia capitalized on two St. Louis turnovers for a 9-yard touchdown run by Wilkins Montgomery and a 19-yard field goal by Tony Franklin to beat the Cardinals.

Permian, Jefferson In Top Schoolboy Battle

By ALAN SAYRE
Associated Press Writer
Odessa Permian, which shattered Highland Park's dreams of a state crown, and Port Arthur Jefferson, a Southeast Texas powerhouse which swooped down Custer-style on San Antonio Holmes, meet Saturday at Texas Stadium to decide the state 5A schoolboy football championship.

And Permian Coach John Wilkins has a warning for Jefferson.

Bengals, Lee Meet Tonight

Snyder High School will get no rest from Canyon Reef Tournament play early this week as the Tigers return to Scurry County Coliseum tonight to take on Midland Lee.

A sophomore contest begins the triple-header at 4:30, followed by a junior varsity game at 6:15 and the varsity tilt at 8.

Mike Crow's 22-yard field goal gave Highland Park a 3-0 first-quarter lead, but Permian dominated the game after that — including a 98-yard stand that stopped a 98-yard Scot drive just before the half.

Tickets are $2 adults and $1 students.

Snyder, 3-10, fell to Sweetwater in its last effort out, 36-35 Saturday in a consolation round of the Canyon Reef Tournament.

Running backs Don Holloway and Bruce Miller combined for 237 yards and three touchdowns as Port Arthur Jefferson rolled to a 34-7 win over San Antonio Holmes.

The Tigers got eight point help from Barry Blackmon and six each from John Wilson and Kris Seagle. Sweetwater was led by Gilbert Gerst's 18 points.

Snyder took a 12-8 lead early, but fell behind 18-17 at halftime. Both teams, playing very deliberate ball, came up with 18 points in the second half.

Jefferson's chief offensive weapon is quarterback Tood Dodge, who has set a 5A season record with 2,935 yards and also set a career record for completions with 372.

Borger Takes Reef Title

Borger High School, consolation winners here just a year ago, took it the distance this time around to down Lubbock Estacado, 64-56 and win the 26th Annual Canyon Reef Tournament.

The Bulldogs, 12-0, were the only school to have two athletes on the All-Tournament team, including Most Valuable Player Gregg Belton, and guard Scott Hunt.

Lubbock High netted third place honors by defeating Morton, 77-70 in overtime, while consolation went to Odessa Permian, a 71-63 victor over Abernathy.

Borger took top honors by holding down Estacado's strong running game, keyed by all-tourney player James Barbett.

The teams locked 10-10 totals after the first period and exchanged the lead four times in the second before Hunt and Jeff Forrester combined for four straight points and a 29-26 Borger advantage at intermission.

Belton, a 6-6 standout, scored 16 points for the 'Dogs in the first half.

Borger opened the third period with three straight buckets and a 35-26 lead from which Estacado would never recover. The Matadors cut the lead to 42-40 as Barnett scored late in the period, but with 36 seconds left, Belton came up with a three-point play to stretch the margin to 45-40.

The lead was challenged again midway through the final stanza as Estacado came up with six straight points — four by Barnett — to make the score 50-46.

Belton answered with a freethrow and Borger rattled off eight more points to Eatacádo's four for a 59-52 tally with 1:22 left, to seal the championship.

Earlier in the evening, Lubbock High's Kirk Cole, another all-tournament choice, scored 21 points and teammates Andy Marquez and Brad Ruff added 18 and 16 to help defeat Morton and win third place in the tournament, 77-70 in overtime.

Morton, making its first appearance a strong one here, was led by Todd Willingham's 18 points. The Indians got 14 point help from Billy Cadenhead and 10 each from Kelly Taylor and Bruce Johnson. Ronnie Patton of the Indians was another all-tournament selection.

Odessa Permian, upset by Morton in Thursday's first round, rallied to win consolation honors Saturday, defeating Abernathy, 71-63. Mike Woolley led with 16 points while Mike Anderson and David Woolley added 14 and 10 points for the Panthers.

Roger Pinson scored 17 points for Abernathy before fouling out. All-tournament choice Joey Garcia sank 15 and Cletus Irbeck added 13.

Other all-tourney selections were Ian Hyslop of Lubbock Monterey, Paul Hayes of San Angelo Central, Tye Sasin of Abilene High and Chuck Brooks of Mineral Wells.

Ram Chances For Playoff On Line

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — With no shot at the NFC West title they had won the last seven years, the Los Angeles Rams hope to clinch a wild-card berth in the National Football League playoffs tonight by beating the Dallas Cowboys.

The Atlanta Falcons already have clinched the West title, but the 9-5 Rams would earn a playoff spot by defeating the 11-3 Cowboys — or Atlanta next Sunday.

Meanwhile, Dallas needs a victory in the nationally televised contest to keep pace with the Philadelphia Eagles in the NFC East, though it has clinched at least a wild-card spot. The Cowboys and Eagles play in Dallas in next Sunday's season finale.

Los Angeles, which beat the Cowboys in the playoffs last season on its way to a Super Bowl date with Pittsburgh, comes into this meeting hobbled by injuries. Quarterback Vince Ferragamo, who suffered bruised ribs against Buffalo, eight days ago, will be able to start against Dallas, but that's about the only good news for the Rams.

Los Angeles' first three running backs — Wendell Tyler, Elvis Peacock and Eddie Hill — are all out for the year. Cornerback Pat Thomas is questionable with an ankle injury. Defensive end Fred Dryer, linebacker Jim Youngblood and safety Nolan Cromwell are all ailing and expected to be at less than peak efficiency.

"I know our football team and I know they'll be ready for Dallas," said Rams Coach

Ray Malavasi. "We're going to go after it."

"We're a little beat up, but this team has come back before. Time does good things."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, who has called the Rams "the most explosive" team in the league, said he's been somewhat surprised at the Cowboys' success this season. Dallas, with Danny White replacing the retired Roger Staubach at quarterback, will be making its 14th NFL playoff appearance in the last 15 years.

"The team is better than any of us expected," said Landry. "I thought last summer that anything over .500 would have been a good year."

In the last Rams-Cowboys meeting, Ferragamo threw touchdown passes of 32, 43 and 50 yards to give Los Angeles a 21-19 victory in the opening round of the 1979 playoffs.

OBITUARIES

Hays Rites

She is survived by two daughters: Wanda Talley of Garland, Iris Savio of Camrout, Africa; two sons, Jim Hays of Irving, Earl Hays of Alaska; two sisters, Mimmie Rylander of Snyder, Lillie Lipham of Rock Rapids, Iowa; one brother, Ernest Ferguson of Hermleigh; five half brothers, John Hoyle of Gardena, Calif., Lester Hoyle of Rotan, and Dale, Ralph, and Neil Hoyle, all of Snyder; and eight grandchildren.

Wishert Rites

Funeral service was held at 2 p.m. today at the Primitive Baptist Church in Snyder for Mrs. Alice Wishert, 80, a former Snyder resident who died Saturday in an Andrews hospital following a long illness.

Elder Cleveland Bass of Levelland officiated at the service and burial was in the Snyder Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

She was married on Oct. 13, 1913, at McCaulley, to Dave Wishert. He preceded her in death on Dec. 20, 1963.

A minor traffic accident was worked Saturday afternoon by city police.

On fire were two mops. The fire was reported at 8:15 a.m.

Keep Tools In Car

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — Every car on the road should have emergency tools such as screwdrivers, electrical tapes and wrenches, advises Dick Berggren, editor of a car-carrying magazine.

"Even if you don't know how to fix the car, this may enable someone else to do quick repairs that can save you aggravation and possibly a towing fee," he said.

"Spraying lug nuts with rust penetrant several times a year will allow for faster changing of tires," he added.

Hermleigh Crossing Discussed

Jerry Church, superintendent of Hermleigh Schools, met with Scurry County Commissioners, this morning to discuss railroad crossing warning devices on a school bus route at Hermleigh.

Church said federal regulations may require a gate apparatus as well as flashing lights at a Santa Fe crossing, which has two railroad tracks side-by-side.

While meeting with commissioners, Church also advised that the Hermleigh Community Association wants to arrange for an engineering survey to determine what may be needed to assure a plentiful supply of water for the Hermleigh system next summer. He said the association would pay for such a survey if commissioners approved.

Commissioners gave their approval and suggested that such a survey might be arranged through a council of governments. County Judge Preston Wilson is to check on this source.

Two Injured In Plant Explosion

KERENS, Texas (AP) — An explosion at an East Texas chemical plant Sunday blew off the roof of one building and slightly injured two workers, authorities said.

A high pressure line apparently ruptured at the Marsco Energy Corp., causing a hydrogen gas explosion about 3:50 p.m., said Bobby Ross, Navarro County sheriff.

Flames shot up 100 feet through the damaged roof of the plant.

YOU CAN PROBABLY forget about a balanced federal budget for fiscal 1981, says Sen. Ernest Hollings, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee. The South Carolina Democrat predicts that rising unemployment and reduced taxes may push the budget deficit as high as $50 billion.

First Graders' Recipes For Turkey

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — First-grade teacher Sydel Rudner of the El Paso Hebrew Day School asked her class to describe how to cook a turkey for a holiday dinner and received these written responses from her 6-year-old pupils:

"Go to a store and get a turkey. Put the things that go in the turkey in it. Cook it in the oven for a long time. When it smells like a lot of hot take it out. Eat it." Ruben Kain.
 "First you shoot it. Pull off its feathers. Wash it. Put it in a big pan. Put it in the oven for 10 to 15 minutes at 105 degrees. Take it out and eat it." Jason Chayes.
 "Go to the market and get a turkey. Take it home and cook it in the oven at 67 degrees for 16 minutes. Make a hole and put some stuffing in. Take it out and put it on the table. Eat it." Dara Neumann.

 "Put it in the oven until 4:30. Make the oven be five degrees. Take it out. Cut it on a plate. Then eat it." Raquel Yardeni.
 "Put a turkey in the oven. Bake it. Put sauce on it. Get it out when it's ready. Put it on the table. Eat it." Michal Tal (cq).
 "Go to a farm. Have a turkey killed. Bring it home. Cut off its legs and its head. Cook it in a big pot in the oven. Make the oven 60 degrees. Keep it there for one hour. Take it out of the oven and eat it." Joy Daniels.

 "Catch one. Then cook it in an oven. Keep it there until it's done. If it's not done put it back. Take it out and eat it." Jodi Amar.
 "Buy a turkey. Put it in the car. Put it on the oven. Make the oven a little hot. Keep the turkey there for 10 seconds. Open the oven to see when it's ready. Eat it. Have dessert." Bryan Goldman.

 "First cut off the fat. Then cook it in the oven for 15 minutes. Keep the oven at 90 degrees. You will know that it's done when you smell that it's hot. Then eat it at Gran-dma's house." Rachael Goodman.

 A total of 77 different types of blackberries — including a yellow blackberry — have been found growing in the Czech-Moravian highlands. In contrast, while the wild rose is regarded as the typical flower of the region, only 27 different kinds of wild rose have been found.
