Reappraisal Of Property Due Here In 1984

Equalization Of Tax Is Ultimate Goal

On April 5, a public meeting was held in Muleshoe to allow for discussion of a proposed re-appraisal for the Bailey County Appraisal District.

Following up on a "yes" vote, the members of the Bailey County Appraisal District board have met twice in connection with obtaining a firm to perform the reappraisals. The results of these meetings will be announced at a final meeting on this May 3.

Contrary to circulating stories, re-appraisal is designed specifically to equalize values, making the scales balance. Re-appraisal, while formerly not implemented except in an effort to raise operating funds, is as of January 1, 1984 mandated by law. A re-appraisal will then be done every four years.

The results of a re-appraisal might show that some taxes will go up, and some down; but, the main priority is to achieve equalization.

Another item on the plus side of re-appraisal is the fact that when a District achieves equalization, market value is also achieved, thereby making greater amounts of State funding available for schools, and easing the tax burden of local taxpayers. At the same time, unequaled values could cause reductions in state aid for schools.

Chief Appraiser of Bailey County Appraisal District, Dale Jones told the Journal that in the re-appraisal process, the market values to be applied will be derived from only local sources. For those persons who are elderly (over 65) Jones says, "Regardless of values, they will not pay more school taxes."

A farm equipment exemption, formally designated as Senate Joint Resolution No. 8, and passed under Proposition 3 was voted into law last November locally and state wide. As a result of this bill, schools will lose great amounts of their tax bases. This makes equalization an even more important factor due to the state aid available to these schools.

The farm equipment constitutional amendment exempted the implements of husbandry (ag machinery and equipment) from ad valorem taxation. There are no dollar limits of exemption at this time.

According to figures compiled in the Bailey County Appraisal District, at least $17,219,526, in farm and ranch equipment will be exempted from the tax rolls of Bailey County. A tax levy loss of $82,653 will result for 1983.

The Muleshoe Independent School District will lose a tax base of $13,611,547 which will result in a $119,781 loss in tax levy for 1983.

Thus, the re-appraisal becomes even more important as State financial funding for the Bailey County Schools could relieve the tax burden left from the farm exemptions.

The Three Way Independent School District tax base loss will be $5,253,034 leaving them with a $47,277, inadequacy in Cont. Page 8, Col. 2

Bill Yung To Speak At Super Sunday Service

Coach Bill Yung will be the pulpit guest of First Baptist Church, Muleshoe, for the church's Super Sunday, April 24. Coach Yung will speak during both the morning and evening services which begin respectively at 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

As coach at West Texas State University, Bill Yung enjoyed great success. He completed a five-year stint at West Texas State where his teams had a 26-27 record. During 1977 and 1979 he was named Missouri Valley Coach of the Year.

Bill Yung later became the 18th coach of the University of Texas at El Paso.

Services will be held on Daylight Savings Time and members of the church and guests are reminded to advance their clocks one hour on Saturday night, according to Rev. J.E. Meeks, Pastor.

Local Farmers File Reserve PIK Bids

Around 375 Bailey County farmers filed "Reserve PIK" bids here in the Bailey County ASCS office as the sign-up date drew near, according to ASCS Executive Director Rusty Williamson. The reserve bid program allowed farmers to offer their loan grain for sales contracts with the USDA.

Bailey County did not have the rush that some other counties had, but his was attributed to the additional grain acreage in many counties.

Under the reserve program, any Bailey County farmer with grain in the farmer-owned reserve or under regular price support had the option to make a bid to sell that grain to the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), to enable the government to fulfill all of the now outstanding Payment In Kind agreements. A farmer was given the opportunity to either bid a "zero" percentage - or to make a competitive bid.

Williamson stated that a few Bailey County producers submitted a zero bid, but that the majority of the bids were on a percentage basis.

All offers of zero percent were scheduled for acceptance immediately by the government. In this method, the farmer agrees to turn over his loan grain (above the amount required to fulfill his PIK contract) and in return, the government forgives the loan and any interest charges against the farmer's account.

Williamson said that farmers who offered competitive bids would be notified at the end of April as to whether their bids had been accepted by the USDA.

Spring Forward Fall Back

Daylight Saving Time will once again take over the clock at 2 a.m. on Sunday morning. Two will become three immediately.

For those who are not early risers, nor eager to awaken - setting the clock forward one hour before you retire on Saturday night might work.

That lost hour will not be regained until October 30, when time will return to Standard Time. Federal law requires that all states switch to daylight time simultaneously, except for those whose legislatures specifically exempt them.

The law is administered by the Transportation Department, because time zones were originally started by the railroads in the last century in order to regulate their schedules.

Local Educators Hold Joint Banquet

On Tuesday, April 12th the Muleshoe chapters of Texas State Teachers Association and Classroom Teachers Association held a joint banquet to honor their retiring members and install their officers for 1983-84. The banquet was held at the Civic Center meeting room.

School board members and their spouses were introduced as the special guests by CTA president Bettie Chamberlain. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Royce Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Cage, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Angeley.

Pat Black, TSTA president, welcomed everyone to the banquet and introduced the entertainment, four MHS speech students. Betsy Lunsford, a sophomore, read a poetry selection from "Insane Asylum" that she took to regional UIL in Odessa this year. Kevin Grant, a senior at MHS, read a poetry selection "Giddy-Up Go", also read at regional UIL. Finally, seniors Michael Isaac and Freddy Vela did duet acting scene from

"Dangerous Strangers."

According to Ms. Borgia, "The top law advisers on the board and council of NCSC have informed us that as many as 150,000 children are disappearing in the county each year."

She continued, "The 'Kiddy Porn' racket is estimated to be a billion and half dollar annual operation and the most desirable children fall in the five to nine year old range."

"NCSC has revised most of the safety materials used in the fall program. The general message is 'jump fast and get away' from suspicious strangers."

Also planned is a special spring program before school is out where each child from kindergarten through fifth grade will receive a book titled, "How To Tell The Good Guys From The Bad Guys."

Texas Livestock Receipts Good, But Below 1981

Sales of livestock products which totaled some $5.1 billion made up more than half of Texas' agricultural receipts last year. Total sales of agricultural products are estimated at about $9.6 billion for the state in 1982, says Dr. Carl G. Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Overall, cash receipts from meat animals were down about $300 million from 1981 while dairy product receipts increased a little and poultry and egg receipts dropped $10,000. Cattle and calves sold for $3.8 billion; sheep, $54 million; goats, $11 million; and hogs, $113 million. Traditionally, Texas ranks first in sales from marketing of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair, says Anderson. Cattle and calf marketing brought in the largest total sales of any farm commodity. However, this was some $300 million below 1981. Fed beef had the largest total cash receipts in the Panhandle, almost $564 million. North Central Texas led the market for other types of beef with almost $260 million total cash receipts. Dairymen, numbering about 2,600, marketed some 12 million pounds of milk daily from an estimated 330,000 cows. Northeast Texas led in sales of milk products and milk cows in the state with total cash receipts of almost $161 million. Total receipts from dairy products stood at $545 million last year, up $4 million from 1981. Cash receipts from broilers and farm chicks totaled $125 million and $7 million, respectively, in East Texas, the state's leading region. Turkey receipts were the highest in Central Texas, at $60.4 million. The Coastal Bend area led the state in egg sales.

at almost $45 million. Chicken hen sales at $759,000 were highest in the Upper Coast area, where receipts from honey also led the state at $1.5 million. Sheep and goat numbers increased slightly after many years of decline. Mohair receipts of $25 million exceeded wool sales of $16 million. West Central Texas was the leader in cash receipts from sheep and wool with sheep sales at $28.5 million and wool sales at almost $7 million. Southwest Texas led in cash receipts from goats at $7 million and in mohair receipts of $14.5 million. Hog sales were the highest in South Central Texas at $24.8 million. **** Nothing is ever accomplished tomorrow.

Claudine's Country Club Comments

By Claudine Elliot

Here's hoping winter has had it's last fling and our warm days are here to stay. This has been a busy month for the ladies. Our City Tournament has been going with the light snow taking one week's play-so we had to extend it another week. All our ladies haven't finished their match yet, but we do have the Championship Flight finished for first and second. Our new City Champion for the ladies is Dixie Gosner with Dorothy St. Clair in second place.

We want to say congratulations to Dixie, she played some real good golf because as she says, the competition was something else!

Our winner of the First Flight was Marlene St. Clair with Anita Foster in second place. Consolation for both flights are not complete yet. The ladies all had such fun in this tournament this year and competing with each other in their match really brought them some good times together.

Our monthly meeting for April was Wednesday, April 20th. Jeanette Precure, our president, presided over the meeting. All business was discussed and all committees made their reports. Dorothy and Cooke announced the Naomi and Marie Memorial Tournament will be on our next luncheon date, May 18.

Neats Foster reported that nine ladies went to Dimmitt on April 13th. for the first Hi Plains Association meeting this year. The day was so cold, with sleet even-that they played cards and had lunch. All nine ladies went over in Melzine's Winnebago, so they had loads of fun on the trip.

Land Productivity Valuation

MAY BRING YOU TAX RELIEF ON YOUR PROPERTY TAXES

Under the Texas Property Tax Code, farmers and ranchers who qualify may have their agricultural land taxed on the basis of productivity rather than market value. Productivity valuation may lower the 1983 taxes on your agricultural or open-space land.

There are two types of productivity valuation. Qualifications for open-space (1-d-1) valuation is determined by the land's usage. Agricultural (1-d) valuation qualification is determined by usage and proof that agriculture is the owner's primary occupation and source of income.

To receive either type of valuation this year, you must make application to the appraisal district office in this county by May 2, 1983. If you qualified for open-space (1-d-1) valuation in 1982, you will not need to reapply unless the usage or ownership of the land changes. Annual applications are required, however, for agricultural (1-d) valuation.

Flowering Trees Record Seasons

Many trees are planted in towns and cities for more than shade or fruit. Often, they are planted for the beautiful flowers they produce.

"Flowering is one of the ways trees record the seasons," according to Ann Holland, urban forester with the Texas Forest Service in San Antonio.

"However, the flowering of a particular tree is not automatic each year. It is influenced by several factors, both physiological and ecological," she said.

A tree will not flower until it reaches its physiological maturity, which may be in just a few years or after twenty or more years. Only then will the tree flower.

Environmentally, many things influence the flowering of a tree, according to Ms. Holland.

"Transplant shock may prevent a tree from flowering for a year or more. Late frosts or freezes just before or during budbreak can kill the flower buds. This is not uncommon in Texas, where freezes often occur in March and early April," she said.

Environmental conditions that favor the best growth for a tree -- adequate sunlight, soil moisture, nutrition, root space and proper temperatures -- also favor flowering.

Flowers on trees come in all shapes and sizes. Some trees, such as the southern magnolia, are known for their large, fragrant, and showy flowers. Other trees produce flowers which are hardly noticed due to their small size or their color which blends with the surroundings.

Sassafras trees produce very small, inconspicuous flowers that most people have never seen, though the tree is common in much of Texas," Ms. Holland said.

On the other hand, what are called flowers may not actually be the flowers.

"The flowering dogwood, known throughout East Texas, has flowers, but the actual flowers are very small and greenish-yellow or white. They are surrounded by four large bracts, which are modified leaves. The bracts, colored either white or pink depending upon the variety, are what most people refer to as the flower," she said.

Trees record different seasons of the year with their flowers. Early spring is announced with the flowers of eastern redbuds and most fruit trees, such as peach, pear and plum.

"These species flower before their leaves appear. They usually are the first signs of a welcome spring," said Ms. Holland.

Other species flower later in spring or during the summer, after new leaves have come on the trees. Southern magnolia, crape myrtle, and catalpa are examples.

"Crape myrtle trees flower in mid-summer and keep their flowers on longer than almost any other species. Their flowers may be any of several colors, ranging from white to deep red," according to Ms. Holland.

She added, "Whatever their time of appearance, their duration, color, and size, a tree's flowers are just one of many things to consider when selecting an ornamental tree for planting in an urban setting."

Life in the United States is not what the society and theatrically-minded people think and do.

Bentsen Urges Action

On Texas Farm Loans

U.S. Senator Lloyd Bentsen urged Friday that President Reagan take emergency administrative action to provide Farmers Home Administration loans to farmers in Texas.

Bentsen, in a letter to the President, noted that the FmHA on Thursday ordered its offices in 17 states, including Texas, to stop processing loan applications under its operating loan program. The FmHA is a lender of last resort to U.S. farmers.

"This cutoff could not have come at a more critical time. Texas farmers are in the middle of their planting season, and if their crops cannot be planted on time there will be little chance of making a profitable crop this year," the Senator said.

"Many Texas farmers were counting on FmHA, as the lender of last resort, to finance this year's crop. It is totally unfair to deny these loan funds to farmers in the northern part of Texas, who plant later and whose loans are still being processed, while making needed credit available to farmers in other sections of the country who have already planted."

"This problem can and should be addressed immediately by shifting available funds into Texas and other states which are now planting crops. This will allow needed loans to go forward until such time as FmHA can determine whether legislation is needed and, if needed, such legislation can be passed," Bentsen said.

"Farmers must plant according to weather and soil conditions, not according to the whim and problems of the bureaucracy. I urge you to order immediate action to resume the processing and issuing of FmHA's operating loans pending a decision on a longer-term solution to this problem," Senator Bentsen said.

Tower Co-Sponsor Grain Agreement

U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) announced today he has joined in sponsoring a resolution urging the President to begin negotiations with the Soviet Union on a new long-term grain agreement.

"This action is a crucial step toward re-establishing the United States as a reliable supplier of agricultural commodities to the Soviet Union, as well as easing the downward pressure of farm prices caused by our large surpluses," Tower said in a statement prepared for delivery on the U.S. Senate floor.

Noting that the Soviet Union is expected to import more than 40 million tons of grain, or nearly one-fourth of all the grain fed to the Soviet people and livestock, Senator Tower said, "The Soviet Union represents a market for our agricultural commodities that has great potential, and it is crucial that we take advantage of the superior efficiency of the U.S. farmer to regain part of our past market share."

"The Soviet Union has in the past bought as much as 15.5 million metric tons of U.S. corn and wheat per year and has depended on the U.S. for up to 70 percent of its total needs of these commodities. Last year, the Soviets purchased only the minimum level of corn and wheat from the U.S. under a one-year extension of the previous grain agreement. Recently, the Soviets signed long-term grain agreements with five other nations that have filled the void created by the declining U.S. share of the market," Tower noted.

Senator Tower also pointed out that a long-term grain agreement with the Soviet Union would help restore the health of U.S. agricultural exports.

"Increasing and expanding export markets for U.S. farm goods should be our first priority in restoring economic health to our farmers and rural communities. The efficiency of the U.S. farmer has allowed us to enjoy a comparative advantage in many agricultural goods. Taking advantage of this efficiency by retaining established markets, developing new ones and recovering past market shares is crucial to long-term stability in American agriculture," Tower said.

"The President's decision in April 1981 to lift the previous Soviet grain embargo, combined with his recent signing of contract sanctity legislation last year, demonstrates a wisely cautious, yet firm, move to recover our market position in the Soviet Union. I feel a new long-term agreement is a natural step in continuing to re-establish this valuable agricultural market," Tower continued.

"Our failure to compete with the full force of our highly efficient agricultural industry and a renegotiated long-term grain agreement, would only hurt American farmers and encourage the Soviet Union to continue to seek other suppliers. This commitment to renegotiate the current long-term agreement will provide a base for re-establishing this key market for U.S. farm goods," Tower concluded.

Child Safety

Muleshoe Police Department has received from NCSC a "Child Print" program procedure. This voluntary fingerprint operation is planned to be a safeguard, especially where more than 50,000 young children are reported as missing in the United States each year. The fingerprints are taken, transposed to a card and the card will be given to the parents of the child printed for safekeeping. Despite much opposition because of "invasion of privacy" the fingerprinting program is touted as one of the best methods for future safety of all children.

An FBI spokesman said recently that one of the most dangerous trends in this country today is children wearing their name on skirts and belts.

Whereas, most children have been trained to not speak to strangers, the FBI believes that the trend of wearing names allows strangers to call the child by name, thus lulling them into the false belief that the stranger knows them. Children are susceptible, says the FBI agent, to persons who can call them by name, not realizing that the stranger is merely calling the child by the name they read on their shirt or or with the problem, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Georgia Pena wrote and conducted a joint installation ceremony for the officers of both TSTA and CTA. She based the installation on the word "thanks." Officers installed for TSTA were President, Jane Rudd; President-Elect, Norma Jo Prather; Vice-President, Tracy Ellis; Secretary, Eloise Wilson; Treasurer, Virginia Bowers; and Parliamentarian, Debbi Hutto. CTA officers for next year are President, Vowery Dodd; President-Elect, Alice Liles; Vice-President, Stephen Johnson; Secretary, Chera Foster; Treasurer, Beulah Mimms; and Parliamentarian, Pat Black.

First, seedling disease is more severe when soils are cold even though this is not the basic cause. When plants are placed at a disadvantage and soil borne disease organisms are favored, an ideal condition exists for the seedling disease complex.

Seed function differently in cold soils than they do in warm soils. In cold soils germination is slow and seedlings emerge slowly, making them vulnerable to soil organisms over a long

WHAT ARE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS?

This public service message from the State Property Tax Board, local taxing authorities and this newspaper explains exemptions.

A homestead exemption is a reduction in the taxable value of your residence homestead. Various types of homestead exemptions are available in Texas and, if you qualify, they can reduce your total property tax bill. Read on for details.

What Exemptions Are Available?

School districts offer a residence homestead exemption to all homeowners and additional exemptions to persons who are disabled or over 65.

Counties offer homestead exemptions on their farm-to-market or flood control tax rate, and may offer optional exemptions to the disabled and elderly.

Cities and other taxing districts may offer optional exemptions for the disabled and elderly.

All local taxing units offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property. Additionally, many taxing units offer a local option, percentage homestead exemption to resident homeowners.

How Do I Apply?

Applications for the disabled veterans' exemption must be filed annually with the county appraisal district office.

For other exemptions, if you received a residence homestead exemption on your present homestead in 1982, it will not be necessary for you to make a new application for 1983 in this appraisal district.

If you were 65 or disabled on January 1 and have not previously filed for the over-65 or disability homestead exemption, you will need to make application this year.

Or, if you have never received a homestead exemption on your present home, an original application should be filed in 1983.

Applications should be made to the county appraisal district at the address shown below. Forms are available from the appraisal office.

Is There a Deadline?

For 1983, applications should be filed on or before May 2. While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in certain instances, you can fully protect your rights by applying before the May 2 rendition deadline.

The State Property Tax Board has a pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities, to help you understand your local property taxes. Get a free copy at the appraisal district office or contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Spring Brings Tractor Accidents

Spring brings a sharp increase in agricultural activities, and that means more tractor accidents. Overturns still cause the most tractor-related deaths, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Soft ground from spring rains combined with irregular terrain can trigger a tractor overturn," says Nelson.

Also, sudden bumps due to ruts and washouts can cause extra riders to fall off and often be run over by the tractor or a trailing implement. Of course, extra riders should not be allowed on tractors in the first place, he cautions.

The specialist points out that vegetation can hide a washout or deep rut. And side slopes of hills require extra driving care even under the best of conditions. A sudden drop of just a few inches of the downhill wheel into a hole or rut can flip a tractor before the operator can react to the situation.

"A good defense against sudden tripping is to avoid irregular ground, ruts and holes while operating at reduced speeds," advises-

Nelson. "Speed can turn a small bump into a real trouble spot. Quick turns even at medium speeds on rough ground also can lead to overturns."

"Slowing down helps you see trouble spots while reducing the motion that can send you into an overturn," he says. "Also, if your tractor has a rollover protective structure, wear your seat belt to keep you

Area Basketball Camps Planned In June, July

A combined total of six weeks of intensive basketball training will be offered in the 1983 Flying Queens and Pioneer basketball camps this summer at Wayland Baptist University.

The Flying Queens camp gets underway first with sessions scheduled June 13-18, June 20-25, and June 27-July 2. Prospective campers are girls from fifth grade through high school, with the exception of varsity athletes. Cost of the camp is $125, $50 of which is paid as a deposit with the remainder due at registration on the opening day of each session.

The registration fee will provide room, meals, insurance, tuition, entertainment and a personalized camp T-shirt for each camper. Participants will be housed in a modern residence hall on campus and will dine in Wayland's new University Center. In addition to the Flying Queens coaching staff, several other highly successful college and high school coaches and members of the Flying Queens will serve as the camp faculty.

Because enrollment is limited to 135 campers weekly, reservations will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Applicants are urged to mail registrations early to insure placement in the session of their choice. Registration will be held on Monday of each session from 8:30-11:30 a.m. at Hutcherson Center, site of the camps. Departure will be on Saturday after camp demonstrations and All-Star inside the protective device."

Nelson gives these additional reminders for safe tractor operation:

1. Be prepared for a safe day at the wheel. Get enough rest. Take occasional breaks to reduce fatigue. Limit or avoid tractor operation when you are ill or taking medication. Dress appropriately for the weather and work conditions, including safety shoes or boots and a bump cap. If your tractor doesn't have a protective cab, you may need a dust respirator at times and acoustic ear muffs or plugs.

2. Give the tractor a safety "once over" before starting work. Check belts, lights, wipers, steering, tires and hydraulics. See that it's properly serviced.

3. Make sure that all youth and employed tractor operations are trained and competent. Only those with a driver's license should take farm equipment on the highway.

4. Do not allow riders. Keep children and non-workers safely away. See that everyone is clear before moving.

5. Always hitch drawbar loads to the drawbar, not the axle or an elevated three-point hitch.

6. Match ground speed to operating conditions. Cut your speed on turns, when near ditches and obstacles, on rough, hilly or muddy ground, and when visibility is poor.

7. Always disengage the PTO and turn off the engine before unclogging or working on a power-driven machine. Keep all guards in place.

8. Turn off the engine before refueling. Set the brakes when parking and remove the key to keep children or thieves from starting the tractor. Never jump-start a tractor without making certain it's out of gear and the brakes are locked.

9. Make certain the tractor is securely blocked so it cannot fall when wheels are removed. Get plenty of help or use mechanical aids when handling big drive wheels as they can pin or even crush someone.

Treat Garbage Fed To Swine

Food waste to be fed to swine in Texas should be treated properly before feeding to prevent disease problems.

Dr. Bruce Lawhorn, swine veterinarian with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, says that recent regulations by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are designed to prevent the introduction and spread of domestic and foreign animal diseases through the feeding of raw or improperly treated food waste to swine. Foreign diseases such as hog cholera, African swine fever, foot-and-mouth disease or swine vesicular disease are real threats to the swine industry.

Regulations prohibit the feeding of garbage to swine unless heat treated at a licensed facility, says Lawhorn. Treatment consists of boiling food waste for at least 30 minutes.

Applicants for a license will have to demonstrate that their premises, facilities and equipment comply with the regulations. Facilities will have to be constructed to prevent access of swine to garbage handling and treating areas. And the garbage will have to be covered until treated. Regulations also spell out how licenses can be suspended or revoked.

Under the Swine Health Protection Act, states have primary responsibility for enforcing regulations on treating garbage to be fed to swine. USDA and state officials usually have a cooperative agreement that coordinates the administration and enforcement of regulations.

Garbage is defined as all waste material derived from or associated with the meat of any animal, including fish and poultry, resulting from the handling and preparation of food. Food waste from ordinary household operations fed to swine on the same premises is exempt, notes Lawhorn.

In making your future plans, don't count heavily on what you think other people will do for you.

While a number of states specifically prohibit the feeding of garbage to swine, the practice is permissible in Texas if the food waste is treated properly, says Lawhorn.

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Acres takes a side-long glance at satellites this week.

Dear editor:
As I understand it, the purpose of that 100-million dollar satellite launched from the space ship, if they ever get it to behave, is to step up communications between other satellites and us people here on earth. If that one works all right, they're going to send up two more, at a total cost of 300 million dollars.

What I want to know is, when they're all in place and communicating with each other and us people down here, what are we going to do with all that information? We've already got so much a person can tune in news 24 hours a day and still not find out what's going on.

There's already so much information stored in libraries around the world that nobody could read it all even if he lived to be 10,000 years old and his eyes held out.

We've stacked up so much information it makes you feel sorry for a newborn baby, knowing he's got so much to learn and most of it will be wrong.

But, some people argue, those satellites are going to help mankind for example by furnishing more weather information.

I'm not sure 24 weather forecasts a day would be any better than 2 if they're all wrong.

Speaking of weather forecasts, there's nothing more maddening than hearing a city weather man on TV along about Friday saying "Well, we're in luck. It looks like a bright, sunny weekend ahead," when farmers tuned in are desperate for a rain.

I guess those satellites up there are good for example at photographing the path of a tornado, but people in that path looking at their shattered houses already know it's been there.

Today the world is overwhelmed with information, but most of it arrives too late. How was I to know the steer I sold last week would have brought a little more this week? Or that Washington would try to balance the budget by tripling the deficit?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

New Program Offer For HS Graduates

Of the 1982 high school graduates attending Amarillo College, who were reading between 9th and 12th grade level, 48 percent went on probation after the first semester.

Because of these statistics, the Access department of AC will offer a special program for May graduates of area high schools, who are planning to enter any college or university this fall. The program will provide entering freshmen with information and skill building techniques to help their transition into college.

Only 60 entering freshmen whose aptitude tests (SAT, ACT or Nelson Denney) scores place them above the eighth grade reading level may participate in the program. Day enrollment is limited to 40 students, while night enrollment is limited to 20 students. Students can enroll for the five hour elective-credit courses during pre-registration April 4-22.

The program consists of classes in College Reading Techniques, Strategies for Learning, Using Learning Resources and Phonics and Spelling. Using Learning Resources will be available only to the day students, while Phonics and Spelling will be available only to night students.

Along with the courses, a College Success Seminar is planned to cover information dealing with the "nuts and bolts" aspects of college life.

Further information is available by calling Dr. Kay Henard or Nancy Moreland at AC, 376-5111, extension 2446.

Cotton Leads Decline In Sales

Texas farmers got about $800 million less from crop sales last year compared to 1981, with cotton sales taking the sharpest nosedive -- from $1.4 billion to $875 million.

Estimated crop sales totaled almost $3.8 billion in 1982 but were down due to poor prices caused by huge stockpiles of most farm commodities, together with sagging domestic demand and decreased exports, says Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Also, weather losses were heavy in some areas, particularly in the South Plains where more than half the cotton acreage was lost to hail.

Despite these heavy losses, cotton (both lint and cottonseed) was still the leading cash crop last year, with the South Plains leading the state at more than $270 million in cash receipts.

Grain sorghum was the second leading cash crop with receipts of $619 million. The Panhandle was the leading area with a $165.5 million crop.

The Panhandle also led in cash receipts from wheat, ensilage and sugar beets. Wheat sales totaled $169 million; ensilage, $11.6 million; and sugar beets, $10.4 million for the district.

Wheat was the third leading cash crop in the state last year with receipts totaling more than $499 million. Cash receipts from corn came in at $310.2 million.

Along with its cotton crop, the South Plains was the leading producer of corn, soybeans and sunflowers. Cash receipts from corn surpassed $130.5 million, soybeans brought in $64.9 million, and sunflowers sales reached $24.4 million.

Total cash receipts from hay were the largest in North Central Texas, totaling $22 million. That region also led in cash receipts from plums and peaches at $515,000 and $3.5 million, respectively. Cloverseed sales in North Central Texas totaled $595,000 and led the state.

Alfalfa and guar crops brought top cash receipts in the Rolling Plains at $3.2 million and $24.9 million, respectively.

Far West Texas led in barley production with sales of $1.6 million.

Texas' pecan crop dropped sharply in 1982. The leading pecan region was Central Texas with cash receipts totaling $7.2 million. Central Texas also led in cash receipts from watermelons, $4.4 million; rye, $275,000; and oats, $5 million.

The Upper Coast area led in rice sales of $223 million and in nursery product sales of $87.5 million.

Cash receipts from melons, vegetables, grapefruit, oranges and sugarcane were largest in South Texas. Vegetable sales totaled $100.2 million; sugarcane, $14.5 million; grapefruit, $33 million; oranges, $15 million; and melons, $3.2 million.

Peanut sales were tops in Southwest Texas at $20.7 million. That area also led in receipts from cowpeas at $1.2 million.

Texas farmers should see some improvement in farm prices as huge stockpiles of farm commodities are reduced through the PIK (payment-in-kind) program, says Anderson. Increased domestic and export demand as a result of improving economic conditions in the U.S. and abroad should also strengthen farm prices.

In Fashion

Skirts are gaining popularity on the fashion scene as the weather gets warmer. Cotton-blends are being shown in many styles-free floating with gathers at the waistband, the wrap skirt and the ever popular A-line skirt.

DPS Levels Blast At Deferred Adjudication For DWI Drivers

"Only 17 percent of persons arrested for driving while intoxicated in Texas in 1981 received a final conviction and a meaningful punishment," according to Colonel James B. Adams, chairman of the Texas Task Force on Traffic Safety and the director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. "The use of deferred adjudication for DWI is a major contributing factor for that percentage," he said.

effect puts the judicial process on hold, short of the court's pronouncement of guilt, and in the case of DWI, it contributes to a tragic revolving door situation for many habitual offenders," Adams said.

"Of the total 1981 DWI arrests, 10,833 persons received deferred adjudication. It is a significant problem," he said.

"The probation under deferred adjudication may be unsupervised and is much easier to complete successfully than other types of probation. The final judgment of the court is based on the known actions of the defendant during the interim. The problem is that the court which is withholding the pronouncement often does not have full information on the actions of the offender. That person can be arrested for DWI and brought into a different court without having the pending or deferred judicial proceedings affected," Adams said.

"To further add to the revolving door effect, following successful completion of deferred adjudication, the defendant's court record is either removed or excluded from use as evidence in subsequent offenses. Thus, a person cannot be charged with a repeat offense if the first offense never becomes a matter of record. Some individuals have been charged with first offense DWI as many as 10 or 15 times," he continued.

Adams pointed out that the existing use of deferred adjudication of DWI offenses allows those persons to avoid significant consequences of their illegal and antisocial behavior of drunk driving. Even more important, deferred adjudication for DWI makes it easy for habitual offenders to return to the streets and highways, endangering themselves and others," he said.

In most discussions, those who talk most can be eliminated.

Mobile seafood lab aids small processors

COLLEGE STATION — A two-ton mobile seafood quality lab has been launched by Texas A&M University to solve short-term problems for seafood processors and outlets that can't justify or support a full-time lab of their own.

"This unit can pull up, plug in and leave seafood processors with microbiological information and processing specifications after two or three days," said Ranzell Nickelson, a seafood technology specialist.

Mounted on a truck, the facility is equipped with microscopes, incubators, temperature records and other analytical tools.

The unit is supported by Texas A&M's Sea Grant College Program and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Its services are free and can be scheduled by contacting Nickelson through Texas A&M's Marine Advisory Service, a part of Sea Grant.

As part of the Marine Advisory Services program, the mobile lab is available for workshops, demonstrations and for marine-related research along the coast.

OPPORTUNITY KEEPS KNOCKING!

THAT'S RIGHT, we said opportunity keeps knocking. It does so because there is no limit to God's love for man. Our Creator is Not One who wound up this old world and then left it and its inhabitants abandoned like a forgotten toy. He is the One who cares most of all about us. He is the One who will leave the ninety-nine sheep in the fold and come searching for the one that is lost. As a poet once put it, "He pursues us down the days and down the years." He wants us for Himself because He loves us and He will never give up the pursuit. Most wonderful of all, His chase is that we may have life and have it more abundantly. Only when we stop running away and let Him into our lives can they be fulfilled. Go to Church Sunday and meet with God who has always loved you.

Is something wrong with your life... an inner restlessness? The answer is every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and restore. Through the church God has commanded the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relationship no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone.

Cotton Market Drop Blamed On Lack Of Available Credit

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., says that lack of available credit has caused the U.S. share of South Korea's cotton market to drop from 95 to 79.8 percent in the last six months alone.

"Korea is the second largest user of U.S. cotton, buying more than a million bales annually over the past several years," he said. "Now, just when we need to move our excess supply, we're losing out, and it's especially disheartening to us because a lot of High Plains cotton is involved in Korean purchases.

The cause of the loss, Johnson explained, is a decision by a sub-cabinet group rejecting Korea's request for $20 million in blended credit as part of a $100 million credit package to buy U.S. cotton.

"The Korean package was strongly supported by the Agriculture and State departments. But it was vetoed by Treasury on the basis that it was not needed," he said.

"That doesn't make sense. U.S. cotton growers are losing an important market because the Koreans, who are among our most faithful customers, are being denied credit at the same time that credit is being extended to other countries, one of which hasn't bought any U.S. cotton in years," he explained.

Johnson said that a total of 149 Senators and Representatives have written to President Reagan and Agriculture Secretary John Block asking that the loan be granted.

Senators John Tower and Lloyd Bentsen and their staffs are working to get the decision reversed. Congressmen Charles Stenholm and Kent Hance are among other Texans urging a reversal of the decision.

WHAT IS TAX RENDITION?

This public service message from the State Property Tax Board, local taxing authorities and this newspaper explains the process.

Rendition is the method through which a taxpayer reports or lists the taxable property he owned or managed and controlled on January 1 of the current tax year. It is also the means by which a taxpayer is allowed to record his own opinion of what the value of that property should be.

Not every taxpayer is required to file a rendition, but there are important reasons why a taxpayer may wish to do so.

Renditions must be filed: (1) for all tangible personal property used for the production of income; or (2) on any other taxable property if required by the chief appraiser.

Renditions may be filed by any taxpayer who wishes to preserve certain valuable rights.

Even if you aren't required to prepare and file a rendition on your property, there are several good reasons why you should do so:

- As previously noted, by filing a rendition, you have placed into the record your own opinion as to the value of your property.
- You create a responsibility on the part of the chief appraiser and the appraisal review board to notify you if they intend to increase the value of your property by any amount over what you have rendered. Further, you have the right to protest to the appraisal review board either the increase in value or any other decision affecting the taxability of your property.
- For property that is not rendered by the owner, the chief appraiser makes his own decision on the property's value and places that value on the appraisal roll.

In addition to a rendition, you also may file a special report called a report of decreased value if the value of your property decreased during the preceding tax year for any reason other than normal depreciation. The appraisal office will view the property and verify any reported change in appraised value and its cause and nature.

Renditions and other property reports may ordinarily be filed with the county appraisal district office at any time from January 1 through April 30. This year, since April 30 falls on a Saturday, the deadline is extended by law to May 2, 1983.

Rendition forms for various types of property, as well as other property report forms, are available from the appraisal district office. Your appraisal district can also give you a free copy of the Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities pamphlet which explains exemptions, appeal rights, and other details of the local property tax system in Texas. Or, contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.
