

9 Games Are Listed On Probable F. H. S. Gridiron Schedule

Tentative schedule calling for 9 games for the Floydada High School Whirlwind football team was prepared last week by Coach R. P. Terrell and Superintendent A. D. Cummings.

The probable contests include four official Interscholastic League games. Of the nine games planned four will be at home and four on foreign fields. November 24 is an open date and it was indicated that the Green and White likely would meet Slaton this year if Floydada is not still in the running for district honors at that time.

Training will likely be started August 28, it was stated. Among the lettermen who will be back for the season are Floyd Murray, Lloyd Murray, Otho Johnston, Marion Heald, Buck Jackson, J. R. deCoroda. These experienced men will furnish the nucleus for this year's team.

Following is the probable schedule:

- Oct. 1—Silverton at Floydada
Oct. 7—Plainview at Floydada
Oct. 14—Paducah at Paducah
Oct. 21—Memphis at Floydada
Oct. 28—Post at Floydada
Nov. 4—Matador at Matador
Nov. 11—Lockney at Lockney
Nov. 18—Clarendon at Clarendon
Nov. 24—Open date.

It is possible that the Clarendon game will be played at Floydada. Arrangements have not been made on the game, it was stated.

Easy Winner

Everybody Gets Vote For Constable Pre. 1

Cleo Stephens and J. E. Swinson Lead Ticket in This Race, To Be in Run-Off.

If you didn't get a vote for constable in Precinct One of Floyd County, it was just an oversight. All the rest of them got at least one in the general primary Saturday. But J. E. Swinson and Cleo Stephens led the ticket and will be in the run-off contest in August. Swinson in the lead, has thirty-three votes, and Stephens twenty-eight. The two "candidates" tied in North Floydada with nine votes each, but in South Floydada Swinson got twenty-four votes to his "opponent's" nineteen.

Some of the others who got one or more votes were W. D. Dooley 4, J. J. Davis 6, Curley Stephens 1, J. A. Swinson 1, Geo. Sherrill 1, Calvin Steen 2, Roy L. Snodgrass 1, W. W. Pierce 1, J. R. McPeak 1, Geo. Finkner 1, Bob Henry 1, L. C. King 1, Lee Howard 4, J. R. Archer 1, Jack Scott 1, Tom Bishop 1, John Flawer 1, John R. Gray 1, Zant Scott 1, Minter Gray 2.

In the general scattering vote the "boys" were just having their "fun." Stephens and Swinson were being pushed, however, by different groups, although neither was a candidate.

Stolen Money Orders Floating In Texas

Against the possibility that somebody in Floyd County might be victimized by persons who are cashing stolen money orders in Texas, Postmaster J. D. Starks of the local postoffice this week issued a warning to any persons or business firm not to cash any money orders unless they can obtain thoroughly satisfactory identification of the person offering the postal money order.

A lot of money orders were stolen recently and are somewhere in the country, Mr. Starks pointed out, and the precaution is issued for the benefit of the people of this section, whom the thieves might attempt to victimize.

Mrs. Davis' mother, Mrs. T. A. Brown, of Knox City, is visiting here this week. Her father, of Knox City, and her sister, Mrs. Chester Bowden, of Munday, spent Sunday in Floydada.

A combination of reduced valuations of thirty per cent and a state rate that is five cents lower than the figures for 1931, will lower the tax bill for Floyd County people more than $50,000 for 1932 under that of last year.

This fact developed Wednesday when the Commissioners' Court in session set the county tax rate at 56 cents, the same as last year, following receipt of notice from the State Tax Board that a reduction of five cents on the $100 valuation would be made in the state rate. The state rate this year will be 69 cents. It was 74 cents last year. This gives a total state and county rate of 1.25.

The county tax rate of 56 cents is divided up for the various funds on the same basis as last year as follows:
General Fund, 25c
Road and Bridge, 15c
Jury, 10c
Jail, 5c
Court house upkeep, 5c
Paving Bonds, 3c
Total, 56c

The reduction of the state rate to 69 cents by the Automatic Tax Board was due to a special act of the legislature which put the rate at a figure not to exceed 69 cents and a deficit of upward of $5,000,000 is anticipated in state revenues by August of next year, unless the cost of operation of state's business is cut to that extent, according to estimates made by the comptroller's department.

County Values Lowered
While the reduced state tax rate will effect some saving in tax bills to Floyd County people, the actual figures being $6,350, the big reduction in the local taxes is coming about through reduced valuations. The saving by this means on the state tax will be upward of $30,000 and the reduction in the county taxes will be upward of $20,000.

The valuations in 1930 were $13,320,000 for the county. In 1931 this was reduced by $620,000 to $12,700,000 and this year the cut will be $3,700,000 or more. Although the valuations are put at $9,000,000 this year for the county in round numbers, Roe McCleskey, county tax assessor, is of the belief that the actual figures will be lower than this amount when the totals are run. Active work on preparation of the tax rolls will begin next week in his office.

Revenues for the county from taxation for all purposes on real and personal property based on $9,000,000 estimated valuations, will be $49,400 less commissions if 100 per cent collections are made. The property owners will pay into the state treasury $62,100, less expenses of collection, if 100 per cent collections are made. This compares with $71,120 last year for the county and $93,980 for the state.

School Rates Not Set

A very considerable proportion of the taxpayers' bill annually is involved in the school taxes for the maintenance of schools. The rates for the school districts are recommended by the various school boards themselves. Except for the independent districts the valuations set for state and county taxes are used, and the school boards usually set their rates after they learn what their district valuations will total.

Plans Go Forward On Seventh Reunion For West Texas Pioneers

Arrangements are going forward for the seventh annual reunion of the West Texas Pioneers' Association to be held Friday and Saturday, August 12 and 13, at the Hank Smith Memorial Park in Blanco Canyon.

The change in the date from August 15, Uncle Hank Smith's birthday and in honor of whose memory the annual reunion is held, was announced last week by R. B. Smith, son of the late pioneer settler of West Texas.

Mr. Smith, who is vice-president of the association, said that the directors deemed it best to make the change this year so that the celebration could be held on the weekend.

Percy Webb, of Crosbyton, has purchased all concession rights, it was stated.

City Property Owners Asked To Meet Board Of Equalization Mon.

City property owners have been notified to meet the Board of Equalization of the City of Floydada Monday, August 1, in a number of instances, to show cause why the valuations on the property rendered for taxation in the city for 1932 should not be raised.

Members of the board include J. H. Shurbet, B. O. Cloud, and A. C. Goen. They have been studying the valuations and renditions of city property since July 11.

The property owners have been asked to appear before the board at the City Hall.

Completed Totals in 21 Precincts Leave Outcome of County's Races Unchanged; 14 on Run-Off Ticket

Statistics For Dopesters Given On Former Races

With Mrs. Ferguson leading the ticket for governor of Texas in the Saturday primary many persons are seeking statistical data on her standing in prior races. When elected governor in 1924 Mrs. Ferguson received in the second primary 413,751 votes to her opponent, Felix D. Robertson's 316,019.

In 1926, running against Dan Moody, she received 283,482 in the first primary to Moody's 409,732 and Lynch Davidson's 122,449. While in the second primary that year she was defeated 270,595 votes to Moody's 495,723.

She today is leading the primary with more votes than were polled for her when she and Moody ran it out in the second primary in 1926.

Running against Sterling, Small and Love in 1930 Mrs. Ferguson received in the first primary 242,959 votes, Small 138,934, Sterling 170,754, Love 87,068, Young 73,385, to go into the second primary with Sterling, who defeated her 473,371 to 384,402.

In Floyd County in 1930 in the first primary the following totals were shown: Small 1613; Ferguson 828; Love 468; Mayfield 176; Sterling 87; Miller 84; Young 48; Putnam 11; Moody 11; Lovern 5; and Walker 3.

In the run-off August 24, 1930, the following vote was cast: Sterling 1,941 and Ferguson 1,451.

Now you can take this year's figures and dope it all out.

Avery In Commanding Lead For Legislature Tarwater In Run-Off

Judge M. R. Avery, of Dimmitt, is the leading candidate for state representative from this district, according to the latest unofficial figures available this morning. These figures include complete reports from every county except Lamb, from which county repeated efforts at getting the figures have been altogether unavailable.

These totals, tabulated in Plainview by The News-Herald, give Avery's vote at 4,334, Tarwater 4,234 and Johnston 3,648.

In the race Tarwater carried his home county of Hale, Johnston carried his home county of Floyd, and Avery carried Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Farmer, Bailey.

Judge Avery, who was a visitor in Floydada Tuesday said that he made a special trip to five towns in his district Monday in an effort to get the complete totals in his race. Of the towns visited he was leading with the exception of Olton, he said. He made a trip to Olton, Littlefield, Earth, Amherst, and Sudan.

Figures were not available even on the local races in Lamb County, he stated, the election officials still being engaged in counting Monday.

At Olton Judge Avery said the following vote had been tabulated: Tarwater, 424; Avery, 136, and Johnston, 83.

SCOTT AT A. & M.

Price Scott, county school superintendent, is this week in attendance at the annual Farmers Short Course being held at College Station. He left with representatives of the Home Demonstration Clubs Sunday morning.

Less Than 3,000 Votes Cast In First Primary

Unusually Long Ballot Hampered Tabulations; Final Box Reported Monday.

Completed totals of the unofficial returns on Saturday's Democratic primary election did not change appreciably the standing of all candidates as previously announced in the county races. Less than 3,000 ballots were cast in Floyd County's 21 voting precincts.

Returns from the Fairmount box in northeast Floyd County was the last box to be received and the returns were announced late Monday morning. Lakeview was completed at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and South Floydada at 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

Did Good Job

In spite of a sea of figures and limited help the election judges and their assistants made an excellent job of it all. They were handicapped by the longest list of candidates ever stuck under the noses of local voters and it was a mammoth job to work out the totals.

Returns came in fairly fast considering the magnitude of the job.

Following is the story of the results at a glance in the county races:

The Winners

County Clerk—A. B. (Byron) Clark.

Tax Collector—Frank L. Moore. Public Weigher, 1-4—A. E. Shelton.

Public Weigher, 2-3—J. M. Floyd. County Com. Pre. 2—E. R. Harris.

In the Run-Off County Judge—J. W. Howard and C. J. McCollum.

Sheriff—E. S. Randerson and W. A. (Bill) Brewster.

County Com. Pre. 1—A. S. Cummings and W. A. Cates.

County Com. Pre. 3—M. H. Taylor and Walter Wood.

County Com. Pre. 4—Geo. L. Fawver and Henry Bloodworth.

Constable Pre. 1—J. E. Swinson and Cleo Stephens.

Constable Pre. 2—W. V. Smith and M. M. Day.

Unopposed Winners County Attorney—Tony B. Maxey Tax Assessor—Roe McCleskey.

County Treasurer—Mrs. Maud Merrick. County Surveyor—Geo. A. Lider. Justice of Peace Pre. 1—J. S. Solomon.

Justice of Peace Pre. 2—D. C. Lowe.

In the sheriff's race, the heaviest vote was cast with the total on the four candidates totaling 2,805, according to a compilation of the unofficial returns by The Hesperian.

The race for Public Weigher of Precincts 1 and 4 developed into the feature event with the final outcome between the two candidates, G. Scott King and A. E. Shelton, showing a majority of three votes for Shelton.

A total of 14 names remain on the ballot for the run-off in the August primary in the county division of seven offices yet to be filled.

The candidates have started their campaigns and the race is on again in preparation for the decisive round next month.

A complete tabulation of the vote in Floyd County for all state, county and precinct offices appears on another page in this issue of The Hesperian. The figures given are revisions and corrections to date of the totals given in the extra issued Sunday morning.

TWO NEGROES ARE CHARGED WITH THEFT; STOLE SHOES AT LOCKNEY TUESDAY

Two negroes, giving their names as Walter Bennett and Son Mayfield, of Childress, were taken into custody Tuesday by Deputy Morgan Wright, of Lockney, after they were alleged to have stolen two pairs of $10 shoes from the Baker Mercantile Company at Lockney.

They were brought to Floydada Tuesday afternoon by Deputy Wright and Robin Baker and lodged in the Floyd County jail. Charges of theft were filed against them in county court.

The theft was said to have occurred during the noon hour. One of the negroes was caught at the rear of the store and the other was captured just out of Lockney on the highway to Floydada.

AT THE SHORT COURSE

Several representative Floyd County people are at the annual Farmers' Short Course again this year, a good omen for the county's welfare. Not necessarily because of the actual things learned, although this is not an inconsiderable matter itself, but in the study of ways and means of making farm life broader and better.

The thinking and the planning on Floyd County farms has been worth more the past three or five years than has all the hard labor, necessary as the latter is. Ideas have made America. Thought, study, research have produced the miracles of modern civilization. Farmers are studying and thinking in a well-balanced manner under most adverse conditions.

The short course is one of the means of producing new thought, new means of approach at the problem of maintaining rural America, the foundations of which, it must be admitted, are threatened.

THE SECOND HEAT

With the sweepstakes over Saturday night the second heat to determine the ultimate winners of democratic nomination has gotten under way this week. Several races were determined in the first primary. Several remain yet to be decided.

The second thirty days is said to be the hardest for the candidates, although some take the wear and tear of a campaign more easily than others.

Texas people are taking their politics more seriously although more quietly this year. They will finish the job next month.

YOURS AND MINE

Several good men were chosen in the first primary for offices of trust in Floyd County. These officers represent the composite will of the people in their place and in this sense are the choice of us all.

Practically without exception the men who go into office take with them the high resolution of being the best officers for the places that have ever been chosen, whether or not they say it openly. So that, truly, since the nomination in this county has always meant election later on, we can say we have chosen our men, they are the servants of all of us.

—AND THIRTY TO GO

While it is true as regards some of the offices the servants have been chosen, there are still some choices to make. A sheriff, a judge, two commissioners, two constables, possibly others are yet to be named. The boys are down the field, first down and thirty days to go for the goal. Some will win, some will lose. The crowd has its favorites, and the crowd will name the winner, thumbs up or down. The cooler the crowd keeps the smarter they will act when it comes time to name the winner. What is true in business is also true in elections, namely that the man who keeps his head is the man who does the smartest thing. A lot of mistakes have been made in the name of righteous indignation.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

ISSUE OF JULY 25, 1918

The first absentee votes to be cast in the primary election to be held next Saturday were presented to County Clerk Tom W. Deen Tuesday morning, four persons taking advantage of the absentee law to cast a ballot. They were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowry, Ross Henry and R. L. Robinson, who left immediately east and north to be gone until after the primary.

That corn syrup is a good substitute for sugar in the making of pies seems to be borne out by the experience of W. J. Davis, of the Davis Cafe.

Judge Fred Cockrell, of Abilene, addressed a large audience in the District Court Room at Floydada last Thursday afternoon favoring the candidacy of ex-governor Jas. E. Ferguson.

"I congratulate the Hobby voters of Floyd County over the landslide for him all over the state," J. C. Gaither, Chairman Hobby Campaign Committee, Floyd County.

The Foster Bros. Dry Goods Company today began invoicing their stock of dry goods, and when this is completed the business will change hands. Barrier Bros. of Lubbock are the purchasers, who will take charge immediately after the invoice is completed.

That's That

The Round-up
 By The Cowhand Scribe

Me and the frogs have been on the hop for the past few days. Candidates ain't ther only ones that got hot under ther collar. It wuzint no snap in ther Hesperian ranch even with just lolsa kind hearted folks helping out.

Shore wuz a funny joke on me. I got all excited and never noticed whut I wuz doing and smoked four nickle cigars that different ones handed me, and coutin the ones I asked for where I saw a feller had as many as two, and as a result I got white under ther gills and almost fad from ther picture. Gosh, I shore did feel sea sick fer about two hours.

When I git ready ter run fer a state office I am gonner change my name to Terrell. I have been watching the elections for the past few years and this year the same thing happened agin—every man on the ticket what wuz named Terrell wuz elected or got in the run-off.

I heard one feller say that he always voted fer any body named Bailey. Must be ther same with folks when they see the name Terrell.

Samuel Rutledge wuz out ploughing up wheat stubble ther other night and he had a time with ther muskeeters. He had a big hole in his hat and when he drove along, he said ther skeeters would jump down off of a big limb on the weeds and go right in through the hole. He had knots all over his dome.

"I always been hearing about ther 'widder's might' and I kinda wondered whut it meant. I know now. They 'mite not,' too."

Down at Abilene ther other day a feller told a visitor that they had plenty to eat—jist worlds of vegetables, fried chicken, eggs and butter. "But you come back through here this time next year and you'll see some of the fattest naked people you ever saw in your life," said the native to the visitor.

"I ain't no nudist by choice but my duds is gettin me to ther point where I can't be very choicy."

Hay fever is about to blow this country plumb up.

It makes me so doggone mad to see somebody take advantage of a free service that I almost pop. What I got in mind in particular is free filling station service. Why this week I saw a feller drive his car up in a driveway with a flat tire. He borrowed the station operator's tire tools and took off the flat. Patched the hole with his own cold patch, took the tube around and tested it in the tub of water and then put it back on the rim. He used the free air to pump up the tire and then filled his car up with free water. To cap it all off he drove away without even thanking the service station man for the use of everything he had in sight.

Now that's my idee of human cheapness. Sure ther water and air is free but the filling station boys don't get them free. They have to pay for that water and it takes plenty of electric juice to keep the air tanks filled. Ther point is they don't mind doing things fer folks and furnishing these services to ther patrons but doggone it that ain't no reason anybody should take advantage of them.

These filling station boys are a purty doggone decent lot o' fellers and they usually don't say anything if somebody come along and treats 'em like they wuz niggers but it don't make 'em feel no better ter be treated in any sich way. They're mighty nice about it.

Of course ther air exceptions to cases and I don't mean you gotta fill up with gas and oil ever time you drive in a filling station but you know what I'm talkin about. There may be times when air and water is all a feller needs but he outta make it a point to get it at ther place where he does his trading.

Be a fair motorist and if you can't do that—then put up the bus and walk.

I ast C. J. Hollingsworth if he felt any change since he got back from his vacation.

And he said: "Not a nickle."

Just a few more weeks now and Coach R. P. Terrell will have his huskies out poundin the pigskin getting ready for the new football season. We should have a wov of a team this year and with that new playing field to covort on the lads should do a real job of these home games.

Hope we get to play that district championship game here this year—we'll show 'em how the cow et the cabbage.

Out In Polly Ticks

Well sire, I am a candidate fer cowketcher. Yessir, I'm gonna be in the run-off next month and you can bet on me. Bet W. C. Grogby will vote fer me. Somebody's mama wuz vote in his garden early in the year and et it all up but the rows.

As fer qualifications I jist refer you to my past record as bull thrower. I have held this office fer 12 years and have been without an equal throughout our native land. I have never met my peer when it comes ter bein ther worst in ther entire state. I feel qualified ter hold this office of cowketcher and

I've worked up enough nerve to ast fer it.

I am not making my race on a plank—I maintain that a dirt road is better. I am both wet and dry and I got a new scheme that I think will elect me—I belong to both parties—Democratic and Republican. I got this idee from a suggestion jist ther other day that some folks had got in on ther doings o' both parties and it jist occurred to me that I could get folks on both sides supportin me that way and thus create harmony.

That's it—harmony. Why hadn't somebody thot o' that before. Instead o' so much party strife we can all unite and be one big happy family, and I'll thus be promoted from bull thrower to cowketcher.

I am running fer this office fer several reasons: I stand fer lower taxes, more economy, fewer laws, less expenditure of money, protection of the common people, better schools, shorter hours fer farmers and better prices fer their products, less depression, more prosperity, less bills, more money, cancelled debts (all except Europe's), less mortgages, nicer landlords, more to eat, more to wear, muskeeter extermination, and relief from hayfever.

I guarantee if elected ter get folks a remedy fer permanent relief from their hayfever and extra change. I will reform ther government from top to bottom, get everybody's son and daughter a job as page and stenographer at the legislature and get ther country back on its feet in less than 100 years.

I might add that I'm interested in getting as much money out of this job as I can. I will keep office hours at regular intervals. You will always find me on the job if I'm not out. I plan to open up every morning about 11:55 and will go to lunch at 12 sharp. If I have time from my household duties I will be back sometime in the afternoon, daylight savings time.

And right there is another one of my platforms. I aim ter standardize time throughout ther United States and I may be able ter make it world wide. Whoever heard of sich a foolish idee as changing ther time at some foolish imaginary line.

When you elect me cowketcher and you want ter make a cross country trip you won't be bothered having ter stop and change yer watch and thus out down on the wear and tear on your time pieces—thus saving millions of dollars. And besides think of all ther football and prize fight fans that will vote fer me.

If we all want ter listen to a football game er a fite in New York or Callifornia we'll know it will be at 8 o'clock ther jist as it is here at home and we won't have ter be running around like a bunch o' chickens with ther heads off tryin ter figure out what time it is some where else.

I aim ter standardize prices on farm products by doing away with ther Farm Board. And I ain't right sure but I kinder reckon we'd be better off without any Congress.

Vote fer me at ther next run-off time and I'll give you ther best hornswooglin cowketcher public nuisance you ever had.

"There shall be no greets or regrets" is my motto until I think up somethin else. I ain't got no cards ter hand out but I got mine in roll ticket form. Watch fer yours.

Yours fer relief—
 C. S.

DR. KNAPP TO TEXAS

The Texas Weekly Announcement that Dr. Bradford Knapp has accepted the presidency of Texas Technological College at Lubbock, and will take up his duties at that institution in the fall, is of importance to the entire State. The Board of Directors of the college is to be congratulated in that it has provided the institution with an executive head who is one of the educational leaders of the South. But Dr. Knapp is more than that. He is one of the most able leaders of economic progress in the South, and his coming to Texas is an event on which the entire State is to be congratulated. The board has done something for West Texas and for the State as a whole, and not merely something for the college, in inducing Dr. Knapp to move to Lubbock.

For the past twenty-three years Dr. Knapp has been engaged in activities having for their object the raising of the standard of living among the people of the South. And he has lived with such work, so to speak, most of his life. For he is most decidedly the 'son of his father'—the distinguished Seaman A. Knapp, founder and pioneer of agricultural extension work in the South. Beginning as the assistant of his father with the United States Department of Agriculture in 1909, and succeeding him at his death, Dr. Knapp was with the department for ten years. For five years he was chief of the Office of Extension Work in the South, States Relations Service. For the past twelve years he has been a college executive, but during that period has been even more distinctly a leader of economic progress than when he was with the Department of Agriculture. He was dean of the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas, and director of the State Experiment Station, from the beginning of 1920 to the end of 1923, when he became President of Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College. In 1928 he became President of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, which post he will leave to go to Lubbock.

Texas has great need at this time of just such leadership as Dr. Knapp embodies. Few men understand the problems of the South as well as he does, and few have the capacity to inspire others that is his. We welcome him to Texas.

THE BEST PLATFORM

Shamrock Texan: No better platform for any party, or safer program for any worker with children may be found than that recently set forth as the aims of a health education program of the National Educational Association and the American Medical Association on Health Problems in Education. These aims are as follows:

1. To instruct children and youth so that they may conserve and improve their own health.
2. To establish in them the habits and principles of living which throughout their school life, and in later years will assure that abundant vigor and vitality which provide the basis for the greatest possible happiness and service in personal, family and community life.
3. To influence parents and other adults through the health education program for children, to better habits and attitudes so that the school may become an effective agency for the promotion of the social aspects of health education in the family and community, as well as in the school itself.
4. To improve the individual and community life of the future; to insure a better second generation, and a still better third generation; a healthier and better nation and race.

SOBER BUT DUMB

Wichita Falls Times: It is the sober but dumb driver who causes most of the automobile accidents in this country, according to the National Safety council's recently published statistics.

The figures show that drunken drivers figured in but two per cent of the fatal motor accidents; that truck drivers figured in fewer accidents, in proportion, than drivers of passenger vehicles; that women drivers, for all the scares they give you, figured in only six per cent of fatal accidents.

The biggest single cause of fatal accidents was the failure of motorists to stay on their own side of road. Disobedience of one of elemental rules of driving, caused per cent of all fatal accidents, in a vast majority of such accident the offending driver was sober, but dumb.

TURNIPS MAKE SAUERKRAUT

Good sauerkraut can be made from medium-sized, purple-top turnips. The turnips used should be firm, sweet, and juicy, so the fermentation and flavor will be satisfactory. The fleshy part of the root is ground or shredded and mixed with salt at the rate of 4 ounces of salt to 10 pounds of turnips. This is then packed down in stone jars, weighted down, and allowed to ferment. Turnip sauerkraut can be stored at low temperature for some time. It has a sharp flavor, closely resembling good cabbage sauerkraut. Most of the turnip flavor is lost when the kraut ferments.

Sunday School Lesson

THE GIVING OF THE MANNA

Sunday School Lesson for Sunday, July 31.

Golden Text.—Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, James 1:17.

Lesson Text.—Exodus 16:1-36. Verses 1-5, 14, 15, 35 are here printed.

Exodus 16:1-5— And they took their journey from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came unto the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

2 And the whole congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness:

3 And the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full! for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger.

4 Then said the Lord unto Moses, Behold, I will rain bread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather a certain rate every day, that I may prove them whether they will walk in my law, or no.

5 And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in; and it shall be twice as much as they gather daily.

14 And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay a small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ground.

15 And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat.

35 And the children of Israel did eat manna forty years, until they came to a land inhabited: they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Canaan.

Time.—B. C. 1418, near the middle of May.

Place.—The Wilderness of Sin, east of the Red Sea, on the way to Sinai.

The Lesson Comments Following their song of triumph at the Red Sea, the Children of Israel, after a three days march, came to a place where there was no water and began again to murmur and complain against Moses. Finally they found a spring of water, but its waters were bitter and they could not drink of it. Moses cried unto the Lord and He told Moses of a tree which, when dropped into the water would cause it to become sweet. So the people had water and were once more glad to go on toward Canaan.

Going westward from Marah (meaning bitterness) the Israelites finally reached the lovely oasis of Elim, which means palm tree. There were seventy palm trees here, and twelve wells of water. There were also other trees, and the weary travelers were no doubt glad to rest awhile before taking to the desert again.

When the Israelites had been a month on their journey, they reached the wilderness of Sin, which means bright shining manna.

again to complain and murmur against Moses. They wished they had died in Egypt, as they sat by the flesh pots and gorged themselves with food. Still crying for the temporal things of life, rather than to go on to their own country—a land flowing with milk and honey. Their faith reached only so far as they could see; the food brought from Egypt had been eaten and there was nothing else in sight. Had Moses brought them forth from Egypt to kill them in the wilderness with hunger? They knew little enough of this promised land, after all. And as for Moses, perhaps God had not sent him to lead them from bondage at all; they may have been foolish to imagine such a thing, and more foolish to follow him. But speaking against Moses was really speaking against God.

In spite of this heavenly bread, Israel continued to murmur. They still had so little faith, so little courage and nothing pleased them for long. Because of their dissatisfaction and their complaining, because it took so long to make them into a people strong enough to face and conquer their enemies, they had to wander in the wilderness for forty years before going into their own land to possess it.

THANK YOU, FOLKS

I take this method of thanking you for your loyal support during my campaign for Tax Collector of Floyd County which resulted in my election. I realize that a man cannot win a political race by himself and assure each and every one that I realize and appreciate every effort they gave me in the race.

To the voters who did not support me I want you to know that I have the kindest feeling for each and every one of you and assure you that I will be your officer just like every body else's. When I go into office January 1st, 1933 I want you all to feel that you are all welcome and I want you to feel at home at all times in the office and assure you that I will appreciate your visits.

With best personal regards for everyone.

I am, yours truly,

WHERE GOOD EGGS GET WHAT THEY DESERVE

Every day hundreds of thousands of eggs are delivered by farm patrons to more than 100 Swift & Company produce plants over the United States. Producers are paid cash for all they offer.

In these plants all eggs are carefully graded and packed in cases. Only the best, in size and quality, are destined eventually to go into cartons and be sold under the Brookfield label. Others, perhaps not so large or so even in color, are sorted to get the highest price for their grades.

Under refrigeration and in carload lots Swift & Company ships the eggs to more than 400 branch houses, each the distributing center for a great population. Every retailer customer of every branch house is a possible customer for any eggs that arrive at a produce plant.

In these branch houses the best eggs are packed in cartons with the Brookfield label. Thousands of salesmen daily make their rounds, selling eggs, poultry and butter as they sell meat. That means economy in sales cost. Deliveries are so frequent the eggs reach the consumer in perfect condition just as they were when Swift & Company selected them.

With Swift & Company as a guide, every egg has the chance to make the most of itself. Demand is dug up by the sales force and fostered by product advertising. Costs of service are as low as long experience and great volume can make them. Profits are low—over a period of years our profits from all sources have averaged only a fraction of a cent per pound.

RECIPES AND MENUS

SOME FAT IS NEEDED, EVEN IN SUMMERTIME

Midsummer, you may say, is no time to be talking about fatty foods. Cool drinks, green salads, or ripe watermelons seem much more reasonable. If, however, you happen to be living on a diet limited to the foods that cost the least (and not many of those) you will have to eat some fat to add the necessary calories and give staying power as well as palatability to your meals, says the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Moreover, it is probable that we depend on some of the cooking fats, even in summer, to a greater extent than we realize. What is more useful, at any season, for giving flavor to vegetables than bacon fat and salt pork? For an agreeable summer meal—a vegetable plate, for example—who does not relish, along with the boiled, creamed, baked or fried foods, something panned or fried? A fresh-fruit pie, or a blackberry roll, its pastry rich in "shortening," adds more fat to the summer diet.

Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief of the Bureau of Home Economics, is one of the home economists who "sets great store" by salt pork for seasoning. "Salt pork," she says, "is a food too little appreciated by most housewives. It keeps easily and is available in any home at all seasons. It has many different uses which add variety to cooking, and it contributes needed fat and flavor to the diet at small cost. Its concentrated form, good flavor, and variety uses make it invaluable on a camping trip. It packs easily, keeps under all usual conditions and adds variety, interest and flavor to camp pecially to "the homely old-time method of parboiling salt pork, then dipping the slices in corn meal and drying," which results in tasty, crisp slices and serves as a basis for making delicious gravy. Serve with hot biscuits or corn bread, with the gravy over hominy or rice, with some fruit for dessert, and a more satisfactory supper menu is hard to find.

Salt pork is the characteristic constituent of all chowders, which are often summer dishes. Diced and fried out, the salt pork furnishes flavor and crispness and adds to the nutritive value, making the chowder a whole meal in one dish. It is good in soups, especially bean soup and pea soup, "and then," says Doctor Stanley, "there are stuffings. You must taste salt pork stuffing to appreciate it. The fat is tried out and the pork browned slightly, bread crumbs and seasonings added, and you have a stuffing especially desirable in veal or lamb shoulder. Regulate the amount of bread to the salt pork in accordance with the fatness of the meat."

Bacon fat, for frying or for seasoning, crisped bacon broken in small bits—these give a smoked flavor along with the tang of the salt. A strip or two of bacon on a plate of boiled potatoes, poke greens, fried tomatoes, or sticks of raw carrots of cucumber is by no means too fat a meal for summertime.

Fried tomatoes, fried onions, fried potatoes—anything, almost, from the frying pan, tastes better for the flavor of bacon drippings. But lard now is the cheapest fat for use whenever the bacon flavor is not desired.

It is true that fried foods, because of poor frying methods, have come into some disfavor. But frying, the specialists of the Bureau of Home Economics point out, gives a texture and a flavor not obtainable by any other method of cooking. In deep-fat frying, temperature is the biggest factor, and the next factor is the preparation of the food for frying. Whatever fat is used, do not heat it until it smokes. And in preparing the food for frying, use as little fat as possible—it will be better when fried. A higher temperature is needed for frying foods already cooked (croquettes, potato cakes) than for uncooked meat vegetables, of fruits, because the purpose is merely to brown the outside and heat them through.

Political Announcements

The following announcements, subject to the Democratic Primary on Saturday, August 27, have been authorized to be made by The Hesperian:

For County Judge:
J. W. HOWARD

For Sheriff:
E. S. RANDERSON

For Commissioner Precinct No. 1:
A. S. CUMMINGS

For Commissioner Precinct No. 4:
GEO. L. FAWVER
HENRY BLOODWORTH

(See plain pie crust, below.) Put the pie in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 minutes, lower the temperature to more moderate heat (375 degrees F.) and bake the pie for 30 to 35 minutes, or until the apples are tender and the crust is golden brown.

Plain Pie Crust

- 1 1/2 cups sifted soft-wheat flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 5 or 6 tablespoons fat
- About 2 1/2 tablespoons water.

Mix the flour and salt and work in the fat with the tips of the fingers or a fork or biscuit cutter. When the flour and fat are "grainy," add the water slowly, and use no more than absolutely necessary to make a stiff dough. On a lightly floured board roll out a little more than half the dough into a thin sheet large enough to line the pie pan. Pat the sheet of dough very lightly into the pan so there will be no air bubbles underneath put in the pie filling, and moisten the rim of the dough. Roll out the dough for the upper crust, allowing about a half inch extra around the edge. Fold the sheet of dough in half, make a few slashes through both thicknesses near the center, lift onto the pie, and spread out over the filling. Press lightly around the edge of the pan, and if the filling is juicy allow enough dough to fold under well. Lift the pan up and trim off the surplus dough, holding the knife slantwise underneath the pan. With the tines of the fork, press the rim lightly down to the pan and the pie is ready to bake.

cided and growing preference for low-priced cigarettes made with American flue-cured tobacco, but it is only when the cigarettes are sold at extremely low prices that any large number of Chinese buy them. Although individual purchases of an article may be small, the very large population in China makes the total volume of sales high.

Although cigarettes are an outstanding example of American products sold in China, that nation is also a market for other essential American products. Chief among these are cotton for the spinning mills, wheat and flour from the Pacific Northwest, and fresh and canned fruit from the Pacific Coast. American canned goods are highly prized because of their excellent quality and are given as gifts at the celebration of the Chinese New Year.

Because her internal communications are undeveloped, most of China's trade with America is confined to the coast ports and regions.

Blind women all over the country can now have a cookbook of their own, something they have needed for a long time. Aunt Sammy's Radio Recipes, published two years ago by the United States Department of Agriculture (now out of print) has been reproduced in Braille, thus becoming the first cookbook to be press printed for those who can not see.

These recipes, worked out and tested in the laboratories of the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, are an important feature of the department's daily broadcasts for housewives. Sightless cooks are finding them as valuable as the members of the radio audience have, according to the letters received. It is now possible, they say, for them to use any recipe a second time without depending on memory or outside aid. The many new dishes described and the simple menus suggested are winning favorable comment.

Despite their handicap, blind women find it necessary to prepare meals for their families and many are excellent cooks. They are quick to establish fixed habits in the kitchen and can depend on their highly developed senses of touch and smell. Specially shaped containers for salt, pepper, sugar, and other staples assist them in their culinary operations.

The new cookbook was put into Braille by the Library of Congress, the official body in charge of the

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

I take this method of thanking each and everyone who so liberally supported me in the recent primary, and I am in the runoff August 27th, it being almost impossible for me to make a close canvas of the county in so short a time. I certainly will appreciate it very much for your help and support in this runoff, for my second term as County Judge, my lead over the nearest opponent is 115 votes.

Yours very truly,

I want to thank you for that vote and will say that if you can see your way clear to give me a majority when you go to the polls again no one would appreciate it more than I will. As you know, I am running for my second term. I have tried to make you a good commissioner since I went into office about nineteen months ago, and promise to do my very best again if you put me in.

NOT ONLY WILLING TO SERVE YOU HE KNOWS HOW!

Willingness to serve doesn't come through training; ability does. So Conoco chooses as station salesmen men who want to serve... who like it... and trains them to be experts.
When a Conoco man fills your gas tank or supplies oil, he gives you exactly the amount you want. There's no splashing, no muss.
He gauges the air in your tires accurately and supplies the proper pressure to each, including spares. He cleans your windshield spotlessly. He fills your radiator without splashing.

The Conoco man's information service is just as expert as these things he does with his hands. Ask him about roads, mileage, hotels, camps, sports, places to buy supplies. He is ready with accurate information on these and many other subjects. He keeps his station rest rooms clean and his station inviting. He checks parcels and cares for mail and telegrams. Everything he does for you is done cheerfully, expertly. He wants to make your stop at his station a pleasure for you... and he knows how!

Election time has come and gone and many good men have had to take their defeat, while the lucky ones have to start their worry and expense of candidating all over again.
I wonder if we women who sometime hesitate to answer the doorbell when we know its "only a candidate" if we could but know the significance of these calls and of what it means to the office seeker, even tho we just accept a card then we can have the satisfaction of knowing we've made someone feel better for having come our way.

Black-Draught
Clears Up Sluggish Feeling
"I have used Theford's Black-Draught for constipation for a long time," writes Mrs. Frank Champion, of Wynne, Ark.
"If I get up in the morning feeling dull and sluggish, a dose of Black-Draught taken three times a day will cause the feeling to pass away, and in a day or two I feel like a new person. After many years of use we would not exchange Black-Draught for any medicine."
P. S.—If you have CHILDREN, give them the new, pleasant-tasting SYRUP of Theford's Black-Draught.

LETTER FROM MISSIONARY TELLS OF WORK IN BRAZIL

Mrs. J. V. Daniel has received the following letter from her friend, Miss Bernice Neel, who is a missionary located in Rio de Janeiro, Miss Neel is a long time friend of Mrs. Daniel and the Bernice Neel circle of the W. S. Society of the Baptist church was named for her.

The letter concerning her work is as follows:
Rio de Janeiro, April 11, 1932.

I haven't just the pictures I would like to send you showing the different phases of our work here in Rio, but I am enclosing some views of the city and two of our college buildings. My work is at the girls department and the First church. At the school I am dean and teach educational and religious subjects.

Our girls in order to finish have to have the complete S. S. and B. Y. P. U. and W. M. U. diplomas. The books you use at home in these courses have been translated or adapted for our use. This year we have fifty seven christian girls preparing for special services. Most of them will teach in our Baptist college or church schools so we have to give them a good normal school training. We do our best to give them the necessary training for all kinds of school or church work.

Those that teach in the interior are not only teachers, but are almost pastors of the church services as we have so many more churches than pastors. These Baptist boys and girls must win Brazil, the missionaries can never do it. I feel that I can do most of Brazil by helping prepare these girls, thus, I can multiply myself many times over. I wish you could have heard the girls last Sunday in the college. Y. W. A. tell of their work during the summer. How happy it did make me to see how they had used their opportunity for service. They had put on daily vacation Bible schools, organized Sunday schools, B. Y. P. U.'s Woman's Societies, taught study courses directed the church music and tried to win others to Christ by personal work. What a happy group we were as we talked over the work of the summer. (School months are from the middle of March to the middle of December.)

At the church the Woman's work and my department of the Sunday school keep me busy. We missionaries are certainly blessed with unlimited opportunities for service. I have put your name on my mailing list for "Brazilian Snapshots," a quarterly paper we missionaries are publishing in order to give you at home fresh news from the fields.

With Love,
Bernice Neel.

TO THE PEOPLE OF PRECINCT 4

I want to thank you for the consideration you gave me in the first primary. Now, I am before you again as a candidate for Commissioner in the run-off campaign and I need and want your vote and support to be elected. I expect to make a complete canvass of the precinct. If I should fail to see any of you, it will be an oversight and my platform will be to keep the roads in as good shape as funds will permit and save all possible expense for the county.

The Pilgrims Originated Thanksgiving, But This Woman Made It a Holiday

When thanks are offered up in countless homes throughout the country on Thanksgiving Day, the chances are remote that some small word of gratefulness will also be said for Sarah Josepha Hale.

The reason of course, is that most people don't know it was Sarah Josepha Hale who made Thanksgiving a national holiday. This woman, who died only 51 years ago, has been forgotten by the present generation.

Everybody knows that Thanksgiving was originated by the Pilgrim Fathers in Massachusetts back in 1621. But it is not such common knowledge that the observance of the day had virtually passed out of existence at the time of the Civil War. At no time previous to this, for that matter, was the day celebrated universally.

How It Started
Now Sarah Hale, who was doing some writing for the Ladies' Magazine, a Boston publication, thought her position enabled her to start a movement for the national observance of the holiday. She was anxious to have the last Thursday in November set aside as a "common day for our whole nation to express and acknowledge that 'goodness beyond thought and as of power divine' which blesses the increase of the husbandmen, and keeps ward for the safety of the city."

For 20 years Mrs. Hale labored for the idea. She wrote editorials in her magazine and personal letters to governors and presidents with the persistency of a present-day publicity agent. Her efforts were rewarded finally when, in 1863, President Lincoln decided to adopt her plan. He issued a proclamation appointing the last Thursday in November, 1863, "as the day of national thanksgiving."

Mrs. Hale took her triumph modestly. She wrote that she was "convinced that the general estimate of feminine character throughout the United States will be far from finding it an objection that this idea of American Union Thanksgiving was suggested by a woman." For, she added, "God gave to man authority; to woman, influence; she inspires and persuades. He convinces and compels. It has always been my aim to use my influence in this wom-

August First Last Day For School Transfers

Calling attention to the fact that August 1 is the last day for transfers of public school students from one district to another, A. D. Cummings, superintendent of Floydada Public Schools this week issued a statement in which he declared that officials of Floydada Public Schools are anxious to have any pupils transfer to this school who may so desire.

"It is possible there are some who might intend to make a transfer of their children, but would forget it until too late," he said. "We extend an urgent invitation for rural pupils to attend school at Floydada, if they find it necessary to leave their districts to get the work they should have."

Attention is called to the fact that if the school of the district in which the pupil resides, does not teach moths or moth eggs, but because the bags can be closed so tightly that moths can not enter.

Garments stored in a so-called "moth proof" bag will be protected against the insects only if they go into the bag absolutely free of moth larvae, or moth eggs, and if the bag is not torn. Doctor Back gives the following suggestions for using garment bags:

First, cleanse the garment by laundering or by dry cleaning. If it is already clean, lay it in the sun for several hours and brush it thoroughly. Moths can not live long in the sunlight. A thorough brushing and shaking should dislodge any moth eggs that might be in the folds or seams. Cleaning with the vacuum cleaner attachment is an added precaution.

Next, put the garment into a bag on the hanger provided for it, and close the bag, making sure it is absolutely tight.

The hook part of the hanger usually extends through the opening at the top of the bag so that the bag with its contents can be hung over a hook or clothes pole in the closet. Unless this opening is closed, no matter how small it is, there is danger of moths entering the bag. So seal the opening, and in placing the hanger or moving it about, be careful not to enlarge or to tear out the opening itself.

LABELS TELL IMITATIONS USED IN MAKING CANDIES

Boys and girls who, 20 years ago, went to the store for a bag of sick candy, gumdrops, licorice, or other confectionery are now buying most of their sweets in boxes or in transparent wrappers, says J. W. Sale, of the Federal Food and Drug Administration. In those days, says Sale, there was little to be found on confectionery labels which would aid the buyer in making a purchase. But candy labels are more informative to-day.

"Chocolate-coated candies, such as bon-bons, creams, and fruits, generally bring the highest price of any confection on the market," Sale says. "And when the word 'chocolate' appears upon the label the purchaser may be sure that genuine chocolate was used. Cheaper ingredients, such as hydrogenated coconut oil, are sometimes used to adulterate chocolate coatings. When these substitutes are wholesome, as is usually the case, Federal food officials do not object to their use, provided the label plainly states this fact."

Many kinds of nuts also go into the manufacture of confections, and it is the duty of the Federal Food and Drug Administration to see that only sound and wholesome nuts are used. The administration removes from the market every year numerous shipments of imported and domestic nuts, because the goods have been found to be wormy, moldy, or otherwise unfit for food. The pure food law requires that all packed foods entering into interstate trade bear a plain quantity-of-contents statement upon the label. Some boxes of candy look as though they hold 14 ounces, but actually contain only 14 ounces.

During the past few years there has been a marked increase in the sale of candy bars boxed or wrapped in cellophane. These, too, must be labeled with a quantity-of-contents statement. Any other declarations made upon the label must be truthful. Packaged hard candies, such as fruit drops, or jelly beans with fruit centers, are also on sale. When the label on the confection bears the name of a fruit, unqualified, the flavor used must actually have been derived from that fruit. If imitation flavors are used, the name of the fruit must be preceded by the word "imitation."

CONCERNING GARMENT BAGS

There seems to be considerable misunderstanding on the part of housekeepers as to the real function of garment bags, says Dr. E. A. Back, of the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture. These bags, says Doctor Back, are frequently called "moth proof," because they are any property which will kill any way."

Helped Raise Monument
And Mrs. Hale used her womanly influence in other great causes. It was largely through her efforts that the Bunker Hill monument was elevated from a puny shaft of 40 feet to one of the most imposing war memorials in the country. She persuaded the women of New England to raise $50,000 for the purpose.

She inaugurated the plan for educating women for service in medical and missionary work in foreign lands. She also organized in Boston the Seaman's Aid Society, still going strong.

Mrs. Hale will also be remembered in connection with the popular pingle: "Mary Had a Little Lamb," which she either wrote or popularized. When the rhyme was included anonymously in an anthology of poetry she published, English critics contended it was of English authorship. Mrs. Hale's son, however, said that his mother had definitely told him that she wrote the rhyme.

Born in Newport, N. H., Oct. 24, 1788, she married when 25. David Hale, a prosperous lawyer. Nine years later she was left a widow with five children. It was then she went to work for the Ladies' Magazine which she successfully edited for nine years, when it was merged with Godey's Ladies' Book, published in Philadelphia.

It was while editing Godey's Book, the leading fashion publication of the day, that she won her fight for the establishment of Thanksgiving as a national holiday. She retired at the ripe old age of 89, and died two years later in Philadelphia.

J. M. Floyd Weigher In Pre. Two And Three

J. M. Floyd, of Lockney was nominated by voters of Precincts Two and Three as public weigher at Lockney, and his name will be so certified, if the official returns canvassed by the executive committee next Saturday are found to tally with the unofficial reports this week.

Floyd received eleven votes for the office out of a total of fifteen or eighteen cast. R. E. Patterson, Paul Box, Marian Jarnagin and J. D. Ruggins each received one vote for this office. No applications were made for places on the official ballot for the office, the names being written in.

COTTON DRIER SUCCESSFUL

Cotton which has become thoroughly water soaked in putting through a cotton house may be dried through a new seed-cotton drier developed by the United States Department of Agriculture, and then ginned without difficulty. More than 16,000 pounds of seed cotton which had become soaked in a fire was dried by this method recently and then ginned, and sold without any discount along with cotton which had not been wet.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnson of Irene left last Friday for their home after a visit of several days with his aunt, Mrs. Ella Johnson.
