

Baird Homecoming Plans Are Completed For November 9

The first Saturday in November has been set as the date for homecoming activities of Baird High School with special honor going to those classes of graduates ending in 2 and 7. It is hoped that members of classes ending in those numbers will make a special effort to attend and each five years every class will have special recognition and a special year to be sure of seeing more of their class mates.

A committee meeting of the officers of the Ex-Students Association announced plans for the gala festivities which will climax with the annual Baird-Clyde game at the Bear's Den at 7:00. It was decided that particular emphasis would be placed on attendance of local exes in order to make those attending from out of town feel they are welcome and that Baird appreciates their efforts to return home. Ex-Students arriving from great distances have often asked why those living in Baird do not attend. A special effort will be made to eliminate this criticism and the officers are asking cooperation from all exes living in this area to make this an occasion worth attending.

Dr. Carl Yarbrough of Lubbock, Texas and class of 1943, has been selected as principal speaker for the day, which will begin with registration at 1:00 P.M. A change has been made in the program in order to avoid certain periods of time when visiting grads have no particular activity to attend. This has been done by changing the morning coffee to immediately after the business meeting at the auditorium. Instead of the morning meeting, exes of different years are being urged to have private morning coffees for their class or a period of classes and everyone interested in hosting such a coffee is asked to contact one of the officers.

The program which is planned is as follows:

- 10:00 Individual class meetings
- 1:00 Registration at High School
- 2:00 Business Meeting
- 3:00 Coffee in Library
- 5:00 Dinner by Senior Class
- 7:30 Baird vs. Clyde
- 10:30 Homecoming Party

It was announced that the Senior Class will serve its annual dinner at the Cafeteria. This year it has been decided to serve a ham plate with a charge of only one dollar per plate.

During the business meeting, a Homecoming Queen will be selected to be presented at the half-time activities of the annual Bear-Bulldog clash. Other important business to be decided is whether to continue with an annual homecoming or whether to have the affair only when the Baird-Clyde game is in Baird.

Officers of the organization for this year are: President, James Paul Shanks; 1st Vice-President, Charles Walker; 2nd Vice-President, Isadore Grimes; 3rd Vice-President, Margie Ray; Secretary, Irma Crow; Assistant Secretary, Cubelle Harris; Treasurer, Burma Warren and Publicity, Atrelle Dill. These are asking the interest, work and cooperation of all exes to make this year's homecoming a large meeting of all those who hold Baird High dear and near.

Farm Bureau Holds Annual Convention

The Annual Convention of the Callahan County Farm Bureau was held October 18, 1962 at Cross Plains in the School Cafeteria. A barbecue supper was served at 7:00 p.m. to sixty members and guests.

The president, C. Lee Smith, presided for the business session. He introduced special guest Ed Cumble, Field Representative of District seven and B. J. Gist, State Director of the Texas Farm Bureau. Mr. Cumble made a brief talk on the workings of Farm Bureau.

The convention went on record in favor of the following resolutions to be presented to the State Convention in November: We recommend that the speed limits on farm trailers weighing not more than 10,000 pounds gross weight be raised to 45 mph and be exempt from license fee purchase.

We recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau form a law giving the Texas Fish and Game Commission power to set open season and bag limits, and further recommend that the dove season be delayed until October 1, with option of the regulatory penalties as now prescribed by law.

We recommend that owners of motor vehicles be required to show proof of having liability insurance before auto license can be issued.

We recommend that the President of the United States always appoint to the Cabinet Post of Secretary of Agriculture a man from the field of Agriculture.

Hilton Tarrant, Eula and Sterling Odom, Rowden were re-elected as directors. Hick Edgington, Cross Plains and Wendell Smith, Admiral were elected new directors. Holdovers are Lee Smith and Tommy Milliron, Eula; Douglas Fry and Mark Burnam, Putnam; Nathan Foster and Roy Tatom, Atwell; Haden Payne, Cross Plains; and F. E. Shelnut, Baird.

W. E. Box, Jr. and Douglas Fry were elected delegates to the State Convention. Mrs. Box and Mrs. Fry as alternates.

Thanks were given to Mrs. Baird's Bakery of Abilene who donated the bread to serve with the barbecue.

DEMOCRATS, ALL — Three of Texas' most enthusiastic Democrats — former Vice President John Nance Garner, John Connally, Democratic nominee for governor, and Dolph Briscoe, former president of the Southwest Cattleman's Association, left to right — expressed confidence of a sweeping Democratic victory in November. Mr. Garner, who served two terms as Vice President of the United States, gave his unqualified support to Connally. He said he was supporting Connally because "he's best qualified," and announced he was going to vote the Democratic ticket "straight" on November 6.

Baird FFA and 4-H Students Place at Fair

Quantity and quality were the passports for the Texas State Fair this year as Boys and Girls from all over the state converged on Dallas for the 1962 show. Exhibiting all types of livestock were over two thousand FFA and 4-Hers.

The hog show was the largest with over 950 swine being shown. Richie Crow exhibited his Poland China barrow to eighteenth place in his class and sold the animal for 25 cents per pound in the hog sale Saturday.

There were 560 lambs shown and Gary Abernathy exhibited his Columbia muttons and placed thirteenth and fifteenth in his class. His lambs sold for 28 cents per pound at the sale. These lambs were bred by Jimmy Roy Hatchett of Baird.

The Steer show was competitive as to size and quality. Scotty Mitchell and Stanley McGowen had prime steers and sold them for 37 cents per pound. In addition to the sale money the boys received 54 dollars in prize money for their animals.

Baird Bears Take District Opener Over Eastland Mavericks, 38-14

The Baird Bears were held scoreless for 13 minutes and 15 seconds in Eastland Friday night before they could get their offense clicking, but went from there to win handily by a 38-14 tally. The hard Bears, displaying a great team effort, trailed the Eastland County School 8-0 at the end of the first 12 minute period.

The Bears methodically chewed up the Mavericks, and even while trailing their opponents by eight points, there was little doubt as to the final outcome.

Cotton Barnes, Baird's versatile quarterback, accounted for four of his team's touchdowns. The first came on a 27 yard scamper around Eastland's right end. Good blocking broke him loose and he went over standing up. The drive was set up on a pass interception by Jud Gilliland at the Eastland 38 and was given a push by a pass from Barnes to Halfback Tencil Scott for 11. Barnes passed to End Johnny Higgins for the two extra points.

Tommy Higgins scored the second Baird touchdown with four minutes left in the first half when he bulled his way over from four yards out. The drive began on the Eastland 34 following a punt from the one yard line. The Mavericks had held the Bears on the one foot line and kicked when two plays netted less than a yard. Higgins toted the ball over for the points after.

Eastland scored early in the first period when they took advantage of a misdirected Baird pass. Joe Cooper intercepted the Barnes pass at midfield and returned to the Baird five. Quarterback Tommy Beck carried over on the fourth play, then made the point after try. Eastland's second score came late in the second quarter when Jim Moylan, lanky Maverick fullback, went in from the 16. The point after try was no good and the half ended with Baird holding on to a two point lead.

After the intermission, the Bears took charge and the Mavericks were never able to move again. The first Bear counter came 2½ minutes deep in the third period when Barnes slipped through from the one. The score was set up on a brilliant 66 yard punt return by Eddie Childers. He was stopped four yards short of the goal line, and made it to the one on the next play on a hand-off from Barnes. Wally Harris took over for the two points after touchdown and the Bears went out in front 24-14.

Barnes scored again in the third period, this time with 3½ minutes left. He went in from the 2 yard line after the ball had been carried to that point on a nice run by Kelton Jones. Jones was injured on the play and did not return to action during the game. Childers made the extra points.

The final Baird touchdown came in the final quarter with 9½ minutes showing on the clock. This time Barnes carried over from the one yard line on a fourth and goal situation. An attempted pass for the points after touchdown was no good and the scoring was over for the game.

Harris, Jones, Scott, Higgins, Childers and Barnes all looked good on offense and the blocking and pass protection was outstanding. In the line, Johnny Higgins, Jud Gilliland, Philip Garcia, Robert Martin, Tommy Vines, Danny Ross, Ervin Bates, Ronald Robbins, Ed Ault, Tally Windham, looked good on offense and defense.

Baird had some five other scoring chances nullified by fumbles and penalties within spitting distance of the Maverick goal. At least three Bears suffered injuries which will hamper them for a few weeks. Scott and Jones suffered knee injuries and Ross received a broken bone in his hand. Barnes was suffering a shoulder injury as he entered the game and was kept out of defensive play most of the contest. He looked in top form when the game ended.

This week the Bears return to their own Den as they take on winless Cross Plains in a conference contest. Cross Plains held the potent Ranger Bulldogs well Friday night, and have been improving each week. Game time for the Cross Plains game, and all remaining regular games is 7:30 p.m.

SMOKE IN YOUR EYES

It was a clear, crisp fall afternoon, and Pete decided to rake his lawn. He carried the leaves to his back yard and burned them just at the entrance of the alley which ran along the rear of his lot.

The leaves were wet, and Pete found that he had to stir them occasionally in order for proper burning, resulting in a dense cloud of smoke.

Al intended to drive his car into the alley in which Pete was burning the leaves. As he approached the alley, he entered a dense cloud of smoke, so dense in fact that his vision was completely obscured. He nevertheless continued to drive his car into the alley, although he did reduce his speed.

As Al entered the alley Pete was standing next to the curb, completely engulfed by the smoke. Al's car struck Pete.

Pete sued Al claiming that he was negligent in driving into the smoke when he could not see. Al, on the other hand, said that Pete was negligent in standing in the alley in such a dense cloud of smoke when he knew that cars were driven in the alley.

Was Al negligent? Can Pete collect from him for his damages? Pete would not win his case, unless the jury found him not negligent in standing in the alley in a cloud of dense smoke. However, the courts have held that a driver must exercise care commensurate with the situation. It has been recognized in a number of cases that more care than normal is required of a driver traveling through smoke which limits his visibility.

It is the duty of the operator of a car to drive it at such a rate of speed that he can bring his car to a standstill within the distance he can plainly see objects or obstructions ahead of him. If he continues to proceed when he is unable to see because his vision is obscured, he is negligent. When the situation on a highway is such that one's vision is completely obscured, it is his duty to slow down to even stop until the cause of such obscured vision is a least in part removed.

Health . . . About Your

Arthropod envenomization is a technical phrase meaning injury produced by the bites or stings of, or contact with, certain kinds of insects and insect relatives such as spiders, scorpions, ticks, and mites.

Such injuries, or reactions, vary from person to person and are the results of toxin or poison gaining entry to the body. They range from mild responses to the toxin (venom) to severe allergic reactions and death.

In recent years more and more individuals have shown moderate to severe to fatal reactions as a direct result of insect stings and bites causing this public health problem to take on added interest among physicians and scientists.

Death caused by insect stings is not new. An ancient Egyptian ruler, King Menes, died of a wasp or hornet sting in 2642 B. C. Sensitivity to bee stings was reported in the United States in 1811.

A study of 215 human deaths from venomous animals reported from the United States in the five year period 1950-54 revealed that 40 per cent were caused by insects of the order Hymenoptera (bees, wasps, yellow jackets, hornets and ants.)

Poisonous snakes accounted for 23 percent; spiders, scorpions and other venomous animals accounted for 27 percent.

When the data are rearranged to eliminate deaths from snakebites, about 60 percent of the remaining 144 deaths were caused by wasps, bees, hornets and their relatives.

During 1958-61, 43 Texans died as a result of envenomization. Snake bites accounted for about two deaths per year except 1960 when nine fatalities resulted from the cause.

As a result of repeated exposure to the stings or bites of certain arthropods, individuals may develop an extreme sensitivity to these venoms. In such persons, the sting or bite of a single arthropod may suffice to cause a severe allergic reaction and death.

Individuals who show severe reactions to insect poisons may be desensitized by appropriate medical treatment. (A weekly feature from Public Health Education Division, Texas State Department of Health.)

Bookmobile Has Successful Year

An Early-day Texas Ranger, a pioneer physician and families of the same surname of this State's second largest colony are better known today because of the intellectual curiosity of Tri-County Bookmobile patrons, Dr. Dorman H. Winfrey, director and librarian, Texas State Library, announced.

Mrs. S. L. McElroy, Bookmobile librarian of the demonstration unit serving Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor counties through an agreement with Texas State Library, reported a "noticeable increase in the demands for books concerning our pioneer days and our heritage," she added. "It is pleasant to note that young people are showing a keen interest in knowing about the early days in America."

Historians will readily recognize that early day Ranger, the physician and the big family would have to be associated with the tri-counties of Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor.

Callahan county, organized in 1877 from the 1,858 acreage of Bexar, Travis and Bosque counties, was named for James Hughes Callahan, an early day Texas Ranger and soldier who participated in many battles.

Shackelford county, organized three years earlier, in 1874 from the 1,858 boundaries of Bosque county, was named in honor of Dr. John (Jack) Shackelford, who personally furnished the clothing and arms for more than 75 Red Rovers who fought many Texas battles.

And strangely enough, both Callahan and Shackelford were in the Battle of Goliad (known today as the Goliad Massacre) and both were spared because of their particular talents needed by the Mexican Army. Callahan was reported to have been an expert mechanic and Dr. Shackelford was spared for his medical skill. Later Dr. Shackelford wrote one of the best accounts of the Goliad event.

Taylor county, organized in 1878 from the 1,958 land in Bexar and Travis counties, was named for a number of families whose surname was Taylor, who were part of the famed Robertson Colony. This colony of more than 800 families was second in size only to Stephen F. Austin's largest colony.

"Indeed news editors of the various media that serve the Tri-County Bookmobile area may stop here and suppress a desire to 'blue-pencil' some of the above," Dr. Winfrey remarked. "but it is a fact that the Tri-County Bookmobile serving the citizens of Callahan, Shackelford and Taylor counties is supplying a library need and more than 4,000 books and recordings were checked out last month," he concluded. It was also noted that 45 reference transactions were handled by the Bookmobile staff.

Romantic days of the pioneers, or today's race for the first lunar landing, are all covered in information found in the jointly sponsored mobile information center. Citizens were reminded that the service is free for the asking.

Callahan patrons borrowed 907 books or records; Shackelford, 459 and Taylor 2,875. During the month 101 new patrons signed the brief registration form to become borrowers.

By Mrs. Lillian Crawford

Well, it's a little bit chilly this morning, just a reminder that winter is coming soon.

Van Harris has had a lot of company this week, all wishing him well, but has had much pain in his back the latter part of the week. His check up was set for Tuesday this week but he went to Abilene last Sunday in hopes he could see his doctor on Monday.

Those who have visited him in the last several days are Mr. and Mrs. Morten Whitley, Aunt Kate Crawford and Irene, Mr. and Mrs. Todd Windham and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan and Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stephenson, Charlie Yost and Lawson Armor, yes and Gladys, Bill, Elbert, Ira, Lillian and Lynda have been around at times. I'm sure of others that I have failed to get their names.

Oh yes, I knew I would forget some one and it just occurred to me how Lynda Crawford spoke when I (Lillian) ask her who had drove up. Just think of a gang coming on in when Lynda saw them, she said, "Well I don't know". Well her mother knew, and it was Norman and Myrtle Magill, Calif., and Alvin and Ruby Grantham from South Texas. It was good to see those kids, I mean they were kids a good many years past. They were just going around to see people marking short visits here and on down to the Harris, Norman says he don't hardly know where to turn at down here since the new roads have been built, for the corner posts was moved and the bridges that rattled when drove over had been replaced with better ones of concrete.

Demonstrating new '63 Chevrolet truck features the hard way!

When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this was!

Conventional light-duty units have coil-spring independent front suspension—easier on truck, load and driver.

Users of new conventional medium- and heavy-duty units who have to operate in close quarters are going to like the narrower front ends (up to 7 inches).

New engines, suspensions, frames and narrower front ends show their stuff on Mexico's tough Baja Run!

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (bah'ah) Peninsula? This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

Clyde Councilmen Study Plans For New Sewer Disposal Unit

A special meeting of the Clyde city council was held Monday night to discuss ways and means of improving the present sewer system which has become inadequate because of the rapid growth of the community.

The present system was built in 1929 and is both antiquated and inadequate, it was reported. It was built for a community much smaller than Clyde is at present, and officials feel that the system must be enlarged and modernized in order to take care of present needs and future expected growth.

Monday night's meeting was called to get an estimate of the cost of building a new plant, laying new sewer lines and laying some eight-inch and six-inch water lines where they might be needed in the city.

G. W. Parkhill of Lubbock, member of the engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper gave a "rough" estimate of $138,000 as the cost of such a project, a figure that is exclusive of possible cost of the construction of an outfall line and some 10 or 12 acres of land that might be required. Such a plant would be large enough for a city of 4,000 persons, Parkhill said.

C. M. Smith of Abilene, representative of First Southwest Company, told the council members that the project could be financed by a bond issue. He suggested an issue of $150,000.

pointing out that all bonds would not have to be sold at this time. Such an issue could be paid for by increasing the tax rate 40 cents on the $100 valuation, he said. The present rate is 60 cents on the $100 valuation on a total valuation of $2,128,438 in this city of about 1250 population.

Since present revenue is being used for operation of the city, Smith suggested that the additional rate would be used to pay off the bond issue and the present 60 cents per $100 for the operation of the city government. The city has no outstanding revenue bonds at this time and its present bonded indebtedness is only $39,600.

George B. Buescher, Jr., Abilene, representative of the First of Texas Corp., finance company asked to be considered when and if the city decides to vote bonds.

Parkhill said his firm will make a preliminary survey for $650 if it is employed to do all the work when and if the bonds are voted. The rate will be higher, he said if his firm is employed just to do the preliminary survey.

Mayor Harold Holden presided at the meeting. Other councilmen in attendance included Lyndon White, George Yantis, G. C. Pickart and Bill Shelton.

A decision will be made at the next meeting of the council on the second Thursday in November — November 8.
