HOUSEWIVES URGED TO GROW BEAN SPROUTS IN THE KITCHEN

Large and roomy country kitchens and tiny kitchenettes can serve as emergency gardens this winter and produce a most valuable and delicious food—bean sprouts—at the cost of a few cents, according to the Bureau of Home Economics, of the United States Department of Agriculture.
 A pound of beans, costing from five to eighteen cents, will produce enough sprouts to serve four of five persons the bureau points out. Very little extra work or space is necessary, and the sprouts are a valuable source of that very important vitamin, C, which is also found in tomatoes and citrus fruits. Dried beans, peas, corn, and even the smaller cereal grains can be used for this purpose, though if the latter are sprouted a much larger quantity has to be handled.
 Sprouting changes legumes and grains into an entirely different type of vegetable. Some of the starch present in dried beans is used up in the sprouting process and the remainder is changed into a simpler form. Bean sprouts are an old story in the Chinese dietary but the accidental has made little use of this source of vegetables. The bureau suggests that they have a regular place in the diet, especially where families are living on limited incomes and are not likely to get sufficient supply of Vitamin C.
 One method for sprouting, as outlined by the bureau, is as follows:—wet some cheesecloth and sprinkle it with dried beans. Roll the cloth, with the beans in it, around a stick about a foot long, and place an end of the roll in water. Occasionally the whole roll should be dampened. Another way is to place the beans in any receptacle that has holes in it for draining and which can be covered, as a strainer or granite or aluminum colander. Do not fill the receptacle, for the beans will swell to at least six times their original size. Soak the beans to be sprouted over night. The next morning place them in the container. Keep them covered in a warm place and flood them with warm water at least four or five times a day.
 The beans are ready to use when the sprouts are about one inch long. Different varieties of beans require different time to sprout—pinto beans take about one week; mung beans, which are the sprouts found in chow mein, sprout in three or four days; and soy beans require four to six days. Only enough for the immediate use should be sprouted at one time, for they are as perishable as other fresh vegetables. Sprouts may be served as any leafy vegetable or combined with meat or other vegetables; used raw or cooked in omelets or cheese dishes.

The low cost market basket this week is planned for a family of four adults. With each item the largest quantity given was used for calculation. For instance, 20 to 25 pounds of bread is allowed in the guide for one week, so the total allows for 25 pounds of bread rather than 20. The average figure for this family of four was found to be $8.66 for filling the market basket for one week. Figures were gathered from 14 cities throughout the country at inexpensive or average stores, rather than at more expensive sources.
 Following are the cities in the order of the expense found in buying the foods outlined in the above list: St. Louis, $7.89; Chicago, $8.01; Kansas City, $8.12; Pittsburgh, $8.47; Detroit, $8.49; Washington, D. C., $8.60; Los Angeles, $8.72; New Orleans, $8.76; Atlanta, $8.80; Boston, $8.81; Philadelphia, $8.83; Dallas, $8.92; Charlotte, $9.10; New York,

Sort the whole wheat grains and wash thoroughly. For each cup of wheat add 1½ cups of water and soak 12 hours. Then add 3 cups of water and 1 teaspoon of salt to each cup of soaked wheat. Boil gently over direct heat for 3½ hours or until it is tender and has no uncooked starchy flavor. If necessary, add more boiling water during the cooking, to keep the right consistency. This can be reheated in the morning and served steaming hot with top milk and sugar.

CORNED BEEF WITH BEAN SPROUTS

½ pound corned beef
 2 tablespoons diced salt pork
 1 onion
 dash of Cayenne
 1 tablespoon flour
 Cook the corned beef in small quantity of water until tender. Fry the salt pork until crisp. Remove the pork. Brown the onion in the fat. Stir in the flour, mix well, then add the liquid in which the meat was cooked and enough more water to make two cups. Stir until thickened, add diced meat, pork, bean sprouts, and the cayenne. Heat about 5 minutes, stirring constantly, taking care not to break the tender sprouts.
 Prepare 2 cups dried beans, peas, or corn as outlined above. Sprouts from this amount should serve 4 persons.

APPLE SHORT-CAKE

1 cup sifted flour
 ½ teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 2 tablespoons fat
 ½ cup milk
 ¾ pound apples
 2 tablespoons sugar
 ½ teaspoons cinnamon
 Sift the flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in the fat with a biscuit cutter. Add the milk, stirring with a fork until well mixed. Spread the mixture in a greased pan with a spoon. Core and pare apples. Cut in thin slices and arrange in parallel rows on the short cake mixture. Sprinkle with the mixed sugar and cinnamon. Bake in a moderately hot oven 20 to 30 minutes, until apples are soft and cake is done.

EGG SALAD

4 hard cooked eggs
 ½ head lettuce
 2 tablespoons French dressing
 Remove the shells and cut the eggs in half. Place the eggs on crisp lettuce and pour the dressing over the eggs and lettuce.

Undaunted by the warning of his late distinguished father, Enrico Caruso, Jr., is studying for grand opera, under Adolph de la Huerta, once provisional president of Mexico but now a singing teacher in Los Angeles. Young Caruso says his father once told him: "The cemeteries are full of tenors who tried to sing Otello." And that makes him all the more determined to sing it.

Prince, a police dog owned by Abe Goldstein of Niagara Falls, is the latest canine hero. Playing with other dogs on shore ice which broke away and started to drift over the falls, Prince and all the others except one jumped into the water and easily swam ashore. The remaining dog would not leave the ice until Prince swam back to it and dragged the dumb animal into the water with his teeth. Both then swam to safety.

Farm News

Farmers Of West Texas To Profit By Census Bill

That vast grain and livestock section which has achieved picturesque and distinctive unity under the name "West Texas" would perhaps be the greatest beneficiary of the Farm Census Bill pending in the legislature, according to its sponsors.
 It was pointed out that an annual census of natural resources such as is planned would be of special value in the industrial and commercial development of those areas of potential great value as farming and ranching sections. The census would furnish authoritative statistics to railroads planning to penetrate new territory; to flour mills seeking a new location; to a hundred other industries whose interest are so closely tied to the land.

Texas now has no means of collecting data annually on crop acreage, prospective acreage, production of principal crops, numbers of livestock, and other vital farm and ranch data by counties. Cities in the newer, seeking to induce business to locate with them, must make expensive agricultural surveys, or depend upon the federal census. This census is highly unsatisfactory, as it is taken only every five years and does NOT keep pace with a country developing as rapidly as West Texas.

Officials of both the state and federal departments of agriculture, the University of Texas and Texas A. & M. college are co-operating in seeking enactment of the measure.

Support was drawn from an unexpected quarter when officials of the state department of public health gave the bill their approval, since pertinent health information might be included in the bulletins to be sent out under government frank by the terms of the bill to disseminate agricultural information.

Fight Low Prices By Feeding Yourself, Farmers Are Told

Farmers who feed the world and sometimes starve themselves are urged by J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, to try to feed themselves first this year.

"More than ever before in the recent history of Texas agriculture," McDonald said, "The need should be impressed upon the minds of all thinking persons that farmers must raise their own foodstuffs in preparation for the coming winter."

"There is no occasion to be optimistic over the agricultural outlook. In Texas we start with surpluses of grain and cotton, and with practically all major crops sub-normal in price. Few enterprises promise the farmer a profit.

"Regardless of what may develop during this year, farmers should judge future conditions by the present and make ready for the winter in the way closest at hand. The best preparation the farmer can make is to store up food—potatoes, canned fruits and vegetables, cured meats.

"Should farm prices stage a comeback, these efforts will not be amiss. I venture that every can of fruit or vegetables, every jar of pickled meat, every cured ham, every keg of sauerkraut, prepared this spring, summer and fall will be eaten and relished next winter, regardless of the general condition of agriculture.
 "Land owners, with tenants, should especially look to the future. They have a decided responsibility in the feeding of persons on their lands. They should not only urge their renters to have garden plots, raise a few hogs, a yearling or two, but should absolutely demand it."

McDonald Lauds Solons' Action

Action of the Texas House of Representatives in allotting $3,500 to the inspection of methods used by Texas creameries in testing milk for cream and butterfat content was praised by Commissioner of Agriculture, J. E. McDonald. The house, he said, has made it possible for the department to perform a long needed service.

Many complaints have been received, he said, but the division of weights and measures was powerless to determine whether they were well founded, having no inspectors. With these funds, the division will be able to say whether complaints are justified. Regardless of inspectors' findings, he pointed out, state inspection will give dairymen renewed confidence in local stations.

Representative W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, who proposed the inspection service, declared many dairymen shipped to Kansas City because they believed they obtained a better price.

Red Tag Assures Seed Is Certified

Persons desiring state certified planting seed were warned by R. V. Miller, seed certification chief in the department of Agriculture, to demand that each bag bear the red tag, showing the imprint of the state seal and signed by state officials.

Report received here were that seed has been offered for sale and designated "Registered Seed." "First Year from Certified Seed" and other phrases apparently intended to confuse the purchaser and create the impression that the seed were state approved. Miller said a list of certified breeders may be obtained from him.

THE PARADE OF THE MANIKINS

OPENING day in the grand salon of one of the fashionable Parisian dressmaking shops. Dazzling lights, gorgeous draperies, gilded chairs, flashing jewels... Church of Christ

Services at the Church of Christ were well attended Sunday. The singing in the afternoon was good. Next Sunday morning the subject will be "Unity."
Don't let the radio, the newspaper, the Sunday dinner, nor visiting friends keep you away. If we love these better than Christ we are not worthy of Him.

Methodist Revival To Begin Sunday At Putnam

The annual revival of the Methodist Church will begin at Putnam Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock hour. Most every one in our part of the county will remember the revival of last year. We are indeed fortunate in that we have been able to engage the services again of Rev. Bascom Morton, Conference Evangelist, of Abilene, Texas, who was with us last year. Bro. Morton needs no introduction to the people of this part of the country. He served as pastor at Scranton for a number of years and is held high in the esteem of all who know him.

Those who attended our meeting last year know of the great gospel messages he brings and of his Scriptural messages given from memory. We are going to follow our usual custom in our revivals, that of making this everybody's meeting. You don't have to be a Methodist to take part in this revival, neither do you have to be a Christian in order to attend the services and enjoy the messages and the fellowship that we want to hold sway in the revival. We are going to do our DEAD-LEVEL-BEST, to make you feel perfectly at home. We will endeavor not to embarrass you, in any way if you are not a Christian, but want you to come, listen, meditate, find your self, give God a chance to bless you and we will feel that our work shall not be in vain. We are sorely pressed in these days in a material way, and do not know which way to turn. But one thing we are sure of, and that is that we must turn back to Spiritual things, if God prospers us again.

Mr. Babson, the great American Statacian, said, that America will not be able to come back until it turns to Spiritual things again. If men like that, our greatest thinkers, realize the need of a SPIRITUAL UPLIFT, ought we not also strive to GIVE GOD a chance in our own lives. We read in Malachi, 3:7-11, these words, Even from the days of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, sayeth the Lord of Hosts. But ye said, wherein shall we return? Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings, and service. For this reason, Ye are cursed with a curse; for ye have robbed me, neglected my salvation, even this whole nation. Bring ye all the tithes into the store-house, that there may be meat in my house, and prove me now herewith, sayeth the Lord of Hosts. If I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

Then he goes on to say: And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, sayeth the Lord of Hosts. The Lord of Hosts has been withholding his blessings and we must turn back to God, again if we wish to prosper. There will be two services a day throughout two weeks, make your arrangements to get into the meeting in the very first part of the revival. The building will be heated and comfortable. WE WANT YOU TO COME, God wants you to give him a chance in your life, in your business, in your home life and your social life. As pastor of the Methodist Church I shall be disappointed in you if you do not come. Let us pray for a great revival of old time religion.

Cecil Fox, Pastor

With Baird Baptist

Considering the bad weather we got along fine, our crowds were off considerable but the services were good.

Today (Tuesday) we had our Workers meeting at Putnam and it was one glorious time. Our visitors gave us the program and it was excellent. The next meeting will be held with our church in April and we look forward to that time with anticipation of another good time.

Our visitors were: Dr. W. R. White, of Dallas; Dr. W. W. Chancellor, Dr. C. E. Matthews, Bro. Ross Smith, Dr. R. E. Pender, and C. D. Owen, of Abilene; Bro. Hershel Caldwell and wife of Breckenridge; Bro. H. D. Blair and wife, of Cisco. We all had a glorious time.

The Putnam Church did themselves nobly in the entertainment, it could not have been better. We are always glad to go to Putnam.

We hope our people will not forget our next Sunday's services, just remember that it is very important that each one be in his place in the Lord's house on the Lord's day.

I will preach next Sunday morning on the subject "My Stewardship." Come friend and see what I think of my responsibilities to God.

I will preach at Midway next Sunday afternoon if the Lord is willing and the weather will permit, and will appreciate a good crowd.

All are invited to our Sunday night service. The subject will be "What Shall I Do With Jesus?" Come worship with us.

Sincerely,
Joe R. Mayes

DR. CALDWELL'S THREE RULES

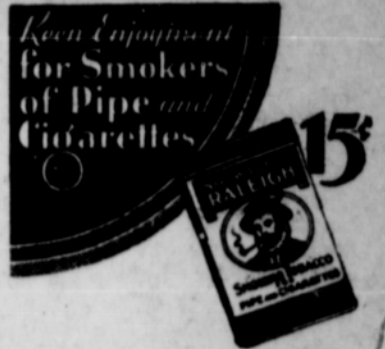

Dr. Caldwell watched the results of constipation for 47 years, and believed that no matter how careful people are of their health, diet and exercise, constipation will occur from time to time. Of next importance, then, is how to treat it when it comes. Dr. Caldwell always was in favor of getting as close to nature as possible, hence his remedy for constipation is a mild vegetable compound. It can not harm the most delicate system and is not habit forming.

The Doctor never did approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. Use Syrup Pepsin for yourself and members of the family in constipation, biliousness, sour and crampy stomach, bad breath, no appetite, headaches, and to break up fevers and colds. Get a bottle today, at any drugstore and observe these three rules of health: Keep the head cool, the feet warm, the bowels open. For a free trial bottle, just write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois.

Motor Busses, Railroads and Taxes

Railroads, even though openly conducting a drive to raise taxes on all forms of motor transportation in order to turn the tide of transportation back to rail, are handling twice the tonnage in freight today that they handled 20 years ago as a result of automotive industry, according to C. E. Wickman, president of the Greyhound Corporation in a statement made public recently.

"The automotive industry gives the railroads directly over 3,000,000 carloads of freight annually," said Wickman. "In fact, railroads are handling twice the tonnage of freight today that they transported twenty years ago. Without the automotive industry, and all that it has meant to the development of the nation, the railroads would be in very severe circumstances."

"A test of whether or not the railroads are being injured more than are being benefitted by the automotive industry rest in a question, 'would the railways be better off if the automobiles, busses and trucks which entirely eliminated?'"

"The size of the great automotive industry and the history of railroad transportation the last generation is a sufficient answer to this question."

"The railroads complain that commercial highway transportation is subsidized competition. That is not the case. Those who utilize the public highways today pay nearly all of their construction and maintenance. General property, including that of railroads, pays very little of the highway costs."

"Motor busses, which have made the object of railroad attack, today pay larger taxes than do the railroads themselves. In many of the states, the proportion of the gross income paid for taxes by motor busses is twice as large as the proportion paid by the railroads. On the basis of the value of the property used in transportation, the motor busses pay from five to ten times as much in most cases more, for the construction and maintenance of the public highways than do those who ride in automobiles.

"Instead of receiving a subsidy from the public, motor busses give to that public which does not own its own cars the use of the public highways. Without busses, many would not get any benefit from highways which the public owns."

Wickman said that the bus operators of the country demanded, in the interest of the millions of persons which they handle annually, that taxation and regulation be "imposed strictly in the public interest, and not in the interest of a competing form of transportation."

"The motor bus industry is willing to continue to submit to all fair and reasonable regulation by state or federal authorities," he said.

Wickman said that it was the out spoken plan of certain railroads to "impose unwise restrictions and unfair taxation" upon all forms of highway transportation.

"If railroad can make the transportation of either people or products more expensive, it is believed that some of the transportation now going to the highways will go to the rails," he said.

"Fundamentally, the railroads have not met the increased demand for transportation. The railroad mileage of today is about the same as twenty years ago, despite an increase of one-third in population. The advent of the automobiles brought about new requirements in transportation. Railroads have made little effort to supply either the convenience or the other usual elements of highway transportation. The growth of highway transportation has taken away some business from the railroads, but the business that is being lost is largely local passenger transportation; a service which the automobile and bus render more conveniently and economically."

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

Bankers Foresee Prosperity

Texas bankers in session at Galveston were unanimous in the opinion that 1930 should be an object lesson and that 1931 would be the beginning of an era of great prosperity for the entire country. If so, we should spend no time in vain regrets about losses of last year, but should get busy to recoup them. In this the bankers can play a big part if they will. They should do their utmost, within the limits of conservative banking, to help the poor fellow who is trying to help himself. There is a feeling, somewhat justified too, that the little fellow wanting a small loan, even though he may be financially good for all that he asks, has to pay more than the big fellow who borrows in bulk. This may be good business for the bankers, but it works a hardship on the people of small means to have to pay about twice as much for money as big business pays, and when the little fellows suffer the whole country suffers. The country would be far better off if every fellow could be assured of having "an even run for his money."

Panhandle Prosperity

Spearman, in Hansford county, is to have a new $75,000 courthouse, a new 40 room hotel and several new store buildings. Newspaper reports are that the people of all that section of Texas feel encouraged over the prospects for a fine year's business, and there is every reason why they should feel that way.
