Lions Select Matador For Meeting In June At Gathering Here Tuesday

Six Clubs Represented in Peppy Zone Meeting With Floydada Club.

Matador's newly organized Lions Club will act as host to the third quarterly meeting of Zone Eleven, District Two, Lions International on a date to be set sometime in June, it was decided at the second meeting of this organization in this city last Tuesday. Six clubs were represented by approximately twenty-five visitors in this city at the Lions Zone meeting, which continued through Tuesday afternoon.

"Service To Others" "Service to Others" was the keynote of Tuesday's meeting in Floydada. Lions clubs not only have as their purpose the up-building of towns and the betterment of local living conditions, but their major purpose is to relieve suffering humanity. Community Chests and child work in the form of cripple and blind children relief enter into the major activities of all Lions Clubs.

These and other things relative to the work of Lions Clubs were explained by Sam Braswell, of Clarendon, District Deputy Governor of this zone, who was present at Tuesday's meeting. Among other things, Mr. Braswell said that the Floydada Lions Club had made more progress in a shorter length of time than any other club in the district. "Zones 10 and 11 are proud of the work of this club and appreciate their efforts to advance Lionism on the South Plains," he said.

Interesting Luncheon Program

Featuring the meeting in Floydada, was the regular noon-day luncheon served at 1:15 o'clock to approximately eighty-five local Lions and visitors. George McWhirter, local Lion, lead a number of peppy songs that started the meeting off on the right foot. Rev. G. E. Schmid read the invocation.

Typical Lion pep and humor entered into the luncheon and both guests and local members were kept well entertained. Following the two-course dinner, Mrs. Robert A. Sone gave an appropriate reading that was heartily enjoyed.

Lion Boss Patty, who presided at the dinner, called upon representatives from the various visiting clubs and each responded with a short talk on Lionism and what their clubs were doing. Each speaker was high in his praise of the local club and congratulated this city on its organizations. Among those who spoke at the luncheon were W. C. Davis, president of the Childress club, Homer Mulkey, president of the Clarendon club, Joe Landers, president of the Estelline club, Joe Merrill, president of the Matador club, John S. Fisher, president of the Silverton club, J. M. Baggett, Ozono, J. F. Clouse, of Dallas, and Wm. Peck of Kansas.

Business Meeting Helpful Immediately following the luncheon, the business meeting of the zone gathering was held in the auditorium of the Baptist church. Lion Braswell presided at the business meeting, and assisted with the discussion of the subjects. "Club Records" was the subject for discussion, and F. A. Westmoreland, of Clarendon, district secretary, lead the discussion.

A round table discussion of methods of keeping records brought out many interesting activities of the various clubs. Especially was the report of Homer Mulkey, of Clarendon, interesting. The Clarendon club had had a total of sixteen absentees since the first of the year, the records show.

Records were read from the Floydada, Estelline, Silverton, Childress Matador and Clarendon clubs and each presented a short summary of the work of each club. It was unanimously agreed that the minutes of the clubs were the life of the clubs.

A vote on the next meeting place was held and invitations were extended by both the Estelline and Matador clubs. Matador won the next convention by one vote. Matador has the youngest club in the zone, having been organized only three weeks.

A resolution of thanks were voted to the Floydada club for their entertainment Tuesday and this city was declared a true "Lions Den." Visiting delegates to the Floydada meeting were: Sam Braswell, Homer Mulkey, F. L. Stallings, S. R. McClung and Lion Fink, of Clarendon; T. A. Westmoreland and W. C. Davis, of Childress; W. M. Tucker and Joe Landers, of Estelline; E. M. Rice, Joe Merrill, Henry Pipkin, J. R. Whitworth, W. C. Bird, Lion Leeman and Lion Bradley, of Matador; and Lion John S. Fisher, of Silverton.

Spring Showing Of General Motors Cars

A nationwide exhibition of all General Motors passenger cars, to take place during the week beginning April 20th, and ending April 27th, was an innovation announced today by Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., President, General Motors. The exhibition is to be known as the General Motors Spring Showing, and from the plans already outlined promises to be the largest and most comprehensive showing in the history of the automotive industry.

Twenty-three thousand General Motors dealers are to participate in the event, each acting as an individual exhibitor of the line of cars he merchandises in his particular location. Allotting a minimum of five display cars for each dealer, this will mean that during the week more than 125,000 General Motors cars will be on view simultaneously. The event will be suitably announced by nationwide magazine, newspaper and outdoor advertising. The Corporation's motor car divisions—Cadillac, Buick, Oldsmobile, Oakland and Chevrolet, are co-operating to make this Spring Showing a memorable event.

Burglars Enter Store Of Baker Mercantile

Baker Mercantile Company of Lockney have been in business for thirty-five years, and they had the experience Tuesday of realizing they had been robbed for the first time in that period of years.

Burglars effected entry into the building through the sky lights, using a rope to let themselves down into the store. A check up of the stock Tuesday morning disclosed that $20 to $30 worth of merchandise had been taken in addition to a small amount of cash in the register. Artie Baker said.

"So far as we have ever known we had never experienced a theft or burglary from our store in the thirty-five years our family has been in business until Monday night," Mr. Baker said.

Four suits of clothes, several hats and some shoes were among the articles missing from the store, revealed by the check up made by the sales force Tuesday.

PASSION PLAY IN ENGLISH COMING TO WICHITA FALLS

For the first time in the South, the Passion play, spoken in English, is to be presented in Wichita Falls on May 1, 2 and 3 in the Memorial auditorium under the auspices of Masket temple of the Shrine, by a colossal company under the direction of Clarence E. Cramer of Chicago.

The Passion play has been presented, of course, in motion pictures and has been presented in German in a number of the leading cities of the South but this will be the first time it has been presented by a company of professional actors and singers in the leading parts in the English language.

The Passion play depicts the story of the betrayal, trials, crucifixion, burial and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

As a great tragedy, it has no superior in the world. But, unlike all other tragedies whose Hero is killed, the Passion play closes with the most jubilant of scenes, "For He Is Risen."

The great chorus of 200 voices to sing in the performance at the Memorial auditorium where it will be given the first three days in May, sings the well-known and loved, "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah."

The Cramer production is reverently staged and creates a vivid and lasting impression.

Audiences leave with the song on their lips, singing from their own jubilant hearts, for it is a tragedy whose Hero alone of all men rose from the dead.

The musical numbers are all sung in English, so as to bring to the entire North Texas territory the most potent of dramas in a way which will be understood readily by a child.

The first performance will be given the evening of May 1, followed by the evening of Thursday, May 2, and the matinee and night of May 3.

Tickets are now on sale at the Passion play headquarters, Hamilton building, Wichita Falls.

Royal Entertainment Accorded Members of Delegation Yesterday.

Members of the Floydada delegation who reached home this morning from Oklahoma City, after an absence of a day and two nights for a visit to make a study of that city and to acquaint business interests there more with the resources of this section, were certain that the Oklahomans are in earnest about paying back the visit and are elated over the opportunities afforded by this personal contact.

Are Royally Entertained Never perhaps was a delegation on a good will trip more royally entertained than were the plainsmen of Texas and southwestern Oklahoma on their visit to the capitol of the Sooner state yesterday.

From their arrival promptly on time at 7:30 yesterday morning, when breakfast was served in the spacious dining room on the ninth floor of the Commerce Exchange Building to nearly 400 Texans and Oklahomans, until the departure of the train at ten-thirty last night, scores of the Oklahoma City residents put themselves at the service of the delegations from the various cities and towns. The entertainment was unusual in that every meal served to the delegation was compliments of the business interests there, and another innovation for local people was the use of hostesses, representing the various clubs and many homes of the city, who joined in making the welcome a most cordial one.

At the closing session last night, presided over by Ed Overholser, president of the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce, talks explaining the resources and accomplishments of the cities and towns of the plains and panhandle area were featured. Ed Bishop, chosen to speak for the local citizenship, made a clever talk which he invited the Oklahomans to turn the visit at the earliest which would serve their own ends. Nearly a hundred Oklahomans, City business people present, held up their hands indicating an intention to visit Floydada and the other cities and towns on the route, as well as to make a side trip to Lubbock.

Seven Pullmans On Trip On the trip to Oklahoma City there were seven cities represented by Pullman coaches, the Lubbock coach carrying twenty-seven passengers, the Floydada coach thirty-five and the others also being well-filled. Paducah, Quanah, Altus, Snyder and Lawton, Oklahoma, were the other cities represented on the train by full coaches. W. L. Richardson, general freight and passenger agent of the Quanah, Acme & Pacific Railway Company, had charge of the train and looked well after the convenience of his passengers.

The program for the forenoon included a thirty-mile trip through various sections of Oklahoma City and the adjacent oil field, winding up at 11 o'clock at the Wilson & Company packing plant, where a trip of inspection was made through the plant and a barbecue dinner was served compliments of the packing company on a spacious lawn adjacent.

The afternoon was given over to visits to various business institutions by the Floydada delegations, where valuable acquaintanceships are believed to have been made through personal contact. Some of the party helped to celebrate the opening of the baseball season in the Western League, attending the game between Oklahoma City and Des Moines. Erie Sherman of the Sherman Machine & Iron Works was among the City men who helped to make the afternoon a pleasant one for the visitors.

Plans, as tentatively outlined for the trip of the Oklahomans back to Floydada, include a special train which will make stops enroute and pick delegations from other cities. From Floydada the train load of people will be taken by automobile caravan to Lubbock to include that city also in the itinerary.

Personnel of Delegation Personnel of the Floydada delegation on the trip included S. N. Tawater, J. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Snodgrass, Robert McGuire, Kight Dickcey, Ed Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, E. C. Nelson, W. H. Henderson, A. B. Keim, T. P. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Stevenson, J. U. Borum, Homer Steen, J. E. Newton, of Lakeview, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Lon M. Davis, P. G. Stegall, L. B. Maxey, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. A. Garrett, Tom W. Deen, Wm. McGehee, Mrs. B. P. Woody, Mrs. W. D. Standifer, Kenneth Umberson, Minolee Solomon, Eldon Gray and L. M. Readhimer, the last two named of Dougherty.

Miss Blanche Bass left Sunday for Haskell where she will spend some two weeks visiting her brother, J. Horace Bass. Her mother, Mrs. Grace Bass, who is there visiting will accompany her daughter home.

MUST GROW WITHIN

John C. Daniel, President of the Sherman Chamber of Commerce says, "Regarding the financing of our manufacturing plants, I wish to state that we are proud that there is no city in the South in the class of Sherman industry. Most of our plants started in a small way with local capital and have grown to institutions that do from $1,000,000.00 to $5,000,000.00 worth of business annually. As these plants have developed it creates demand for allied industries and there is where the Chamber of Commerce has come in. We get out and organize a new plant and our local folks take the stock from $100.00 up and start plants, such as our Box Factory, our Knitting Mill and other plants. In other words, we are not waiting for someone to come and bring us factories. As we see an opportunity we just do it ourselves. The cities of the south must grow within."

TEACHING THEM TO LIVE

Calling attention to the loose joints in the public school system of today—criticism that does not carry with it any constructive ideas—has become so common as to become trite. But really, many of the folks who just say mean things about the way the schools are run, are not nearly so severe on the schools as are the men who are connected with them in an official capacity. They criticize but they try to get the folk to see some things that could be done to improve the school for the benefit of the growing generation.

For instance, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of the public schools at Lubbock, told an audience in Floydada that there were a number of things done in the schools and in the colleges of the country that a good reason cannot be given for, except that certain things are traditional and as such are difficult to root out of the system. The school system of that good day when the schools are what they should be will teach boys and girls how to live, he said.

TAKE CARE OF THEM

The blind, lame and halt, the insane and the tubercular have no "big brother" to lobby for them in the legislative halls, and as a result we are told the institutions in Texas responsible for the care of its unfortunates are hopelessly behind the demands made of them. Is it a mean thing to say that while somebody's school is getting ample funds to run its summer sessions or build an additional building, that the helpless of our state go uncared for? It is within our knowledge that epileptics and insane have had to wait in jails until room could be made for them at proper places for their care and treatment. Certain, also, that there is a long waiting list for treatment at the tuberculosis hospitals.

Better schools, colleges, universities, finer public buildings, adequately maintained commissions of one kind and other to promote the health and happiness of the people are desirable. But these most certainly should pro-rate what is left after we care for our helpless. Texas people should awake to the needs of those who depend solely on the mercy of the taxpayers.

If you think this is right why not write your representative or senator as much? If somebody must wait why not let it be those who can help themselves?

THE I'M ALONE INCIDENT

People who are afraid the "I'm Alone" incident may embroil the United States in trouble with Canada, Great Britain and France may calm themselves for at least two good reasons. One is that the boat was a notorious rum runner, its operators making their living running contraband liquor into the country; the other is that the boat was cleared with false papers when it left from British Honduras.

The captain of the I'm Alone will retire for life if he wants to with plenty of money made from exploiting his daring as a rum-runner and over the seven seas of the earth, so those who feel their sympathies getting the better of them on his behalf, can also be consoled.

HARD HEADED, TOO

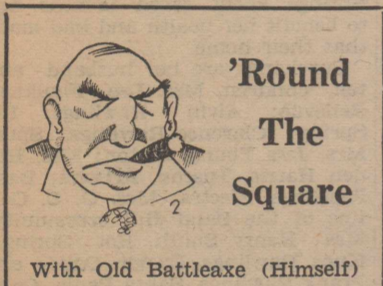

A militant minority of Floyd County people very definitely have indicated three times that they do not want a hard-surfaced highway through Floyd County the only way it can be built at present.

We are not a mind to scold them for this attitude. They know for themselves they are saving Floyd County from a foolish majority. For them to think about however: There are people all over the nation who are not going to move to a country and put their money into improvements where there are no hard-surfaced roads and no prospect for them. If you think there are not plenty other places for them to cast their respective lots and enjoy the privileges and satisfactions that go with good roads, all you need to do is get out and look around a little.

ROAD SIDE PROPERTY

A substantial man the other day called our attention to a condition, which he said was more or less prevalent on roads carrying rural route traffic, and which condition he thought might be helped some if the attention of the local public were called to it. This is the carelessness with regard to rural route boxes. Somebody is mighty careless about these boxes. They knock them down, tear them down or do something to cause them to get down at any rate. The box owner begins to wonder why he doesn't get any mail and finds, upon investigation what has happened. Of course the route man can't leave mail unless the box is in condition to receive it.

Whether this is general over Floydada's numerous routes we can't say. We can say for at least one route. It's probably all a matter of carelessness or wanton recklessness. It isn't right.

With Old Battleaxe (Himself)

Well, folks, O. B. has been wanting to write about a certain subject for a long time, but to be honest the skipper of this column likes to be liked by everyone—even the Saliva Slingers, and he was just afraid that we would be laughed at. But since O. B. is laughed with, at and about anyway, here goes—Floydada needs and is going to have a modern, up-to-the-minute Air Port. Now laugh, dog gone you.

Few people realize the possibilities of air transportation and air mail in this section. And all of the development isn't going to be in some "fer off country" either. Why, right now, air transportation service is being established out of Lubbock by the Lubbock Air Service, Incorporated. Air mail routes are being mapped out of the principal cities of Texas and the towns with good air ports are getting the routes their way. If we want in on the ground floor, we are going to have to walk in right now, but if we wait, we will have a long flight of stairs to climb. If we are going to get the cream of air service, we better jump into the pitcher and go to churning. Am I right or Amarillo?

A middle aged lady started to go for a little flight in one of the planes here last Sunday and was plumb scared. "Are you sure that you will bring me safely to earth?" she asked the pilot.

"Why, lady, I ain't never left anybody up there yet" was the reply.

And by-the-way, any time any of you farmers want any rain, just let us know and Old Battleaxe will wash his car.

O. B. gets laughed at for wanting to sing and whistle. Well, dog gone it, you don't have to know how to sing, it's the feeling as though you want to, that makes everything a success.

All three of the readers of this column said last week that O. B. was all wet in advocating a tax to build a municipal auditorium. Well, maybe so. But the fact still stands that we need one and need one bad.

Honestly, now, as a Lion to a Rotarian, aren't the Rotarians of Floydada just rotating in a circle without getting anywhere and the Lions just roaring to hear the echo? Let's get action! Action, we crave action!

And if these Mexicans don't behave themselves, we may have it, too.

It's a long way from here to Juarez, but if this thing gets any worse it's entirely too close.

And another thing about this air port. If we have some plane to stay here permanently, we might persuade him to fly over the court house and spill a bucket of paint. It might streak it a little, but at any rate, it would beat the present condition of "that outfit."

Believe it or not: If all the newspaper editorials written in Floyd County on paving the highways of this county, were placed end to end they would reach—well, they would reach a bond issue defeated by "popular vote." For reference see the non-pavers of aforesaid county.

ISSUE OF APRIL 22, 1915

At a meeting of fans and ball players at Triplett's Drug Store Tuesday, ways and means were discussed for making Floydada Baseball Team a winner this season. C. H. Featherston was elected as manager and Stokie Bishop was selected captain of the team. Stokie will return in May Will Salsbury will captain during the interval. Other officials of the team elected were Tom E. Triplett, secretary and treasurer and Homer Steen assistant manager.

Mrs. Tom Shaw, and child, of Shannon, are visiting with Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Felton.

The past three weeks the exportation situation cleared up considerably and cotton has been returning to normal prices. Middling is around 10 cents at the markets.

It has been announced that Mrs. J. M. Massie and Miss Anna Erick, teachers respectively of reading and piano, will give a joint recital at the public school auditorium on Saturday evening, May 1st.

J. C. Lackey, of the northeast portion of the county, was in Floydada Monday transacting business.

Let's Settle This Tire Question Now

Tire makers to-day claim "the better tire." True enough—better than 1907 and 1917.

But what's the best tire sold To-day? That's what the tire buyer asks.

"Here it is—a bargain"—"I've got it with a special discount." Every kind of claim and "deal."

But here's the Real Evidence. It convinces the intelligent buyer:

MORE PEOPLE BUY GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ANY OTHER KIND

Goodyear Tires are supreme on the road where Performance is sole judge.

Goodyears out-perform other tires.

Goodyears sell at fair prices—no "bargains," "discounts," cuts in quality.

Goodyears are backed by a standard, friendly, expert service—the kind we give you at all times.

It's a pleasure to demonstrate both Tires and Service to you.

There Are 197 Different Grades of Satin!

We have just learned that fact from a current magazine. 197 different grades of satin!

And the thought just strikes us that if we were to enter one of Floydada's dry goods stores to buy some satin, how could we tell what grade we were getting?

As a matter of fact, we couldn't tell whether we were getting Grade 25, or Grade 167.

For that very reason, we prefer to buy our merchandise at home. We prefer to buy it from our local merchants who know the merchandise and in whom we have explicit confidence.

We don't know the various grades of satin or silk or muslin. It isn't necessary that we know them. We have dry goods merchants here in Floydada on whom we can depend for that information when we need it.

In dry goods, or other lines, the merchants of Floydada are ready to give any information you might desire about their merchandise. We know, because we have asked them many times for such information.

Floydada School News

Reporters from the various Classes and Departments of Floydada Public Schools, the English Class of the High School, and the typing class of the Commercial Department co-operating.

Editor.....Virginia MeachumAsso. Editor.....Ruth Jenkins

We, the senior class of Floydada High School, wish to thank all of the pastors of Floydada, who have consented to postpone their Mother's Day program so that we may have our Baccalaureate Sermon on May 12.

Don't miss the High School Follies!

Friday, April 26th, Floydada will enter contestants in the District Meet at Lubbock. We are sending twenty-five students to this meet. From this meet we expect to send many students to the State Meet. Out of this group, the debaters, essayist, extemporaneous speaker, typing team, declaimer, boys tennis team, and track boys will compete with other winners of the district.

High School Follies!

Freshman Edition

Editor, Samuel Rutledge
Reporters, Dorothy Scott and Alice

Mae Fyffe.

Scraps from a Freshman Waste-basket

For the last three weeks the school has been talking in terms of loving cups (on account of the county meet). Last week every now and then when Buster Smalley got too cute Miss Brock yelled at him, "Pull in your ears! You look like a loving cup!"

Mr. McWhirter's back in school after a seige of school boy mumps. The freshmen are afraid of catching them even now but he says that's all right, he's had 'em in one jaw for five days and the other jaw hasn't caught 'em yet!

Woe Freshmen! They're tightening on us. Example: Verne East-ridge's been run out of Miss (Rommate) Keeton's second period Spanish class.

Talk like the Freshmen are not all round good men. Listen to these reports:

We came through the County Meet with flying colors this year. Our freshmen track and baseball team with Arnold Nichols starring, won second only to Andrews Ward and Sand Hill! When we become seniors we will be the idols of the State of Texas.

The freshmen were well represented in declamation.

And the freshmen sent a man to Canyon Friday to the Latin Tournament. Speaking of Latin that reminds us of a joke. Aviator to negro, "How would you like a ride, Sambo?"

Negro, "No sah! I stay on 'terra firma' and de mo firma de less 'terra!'"

Bright saying from Dumb Fish: Don't worry if your job is small And your reward's are few Remember that the mighty oak Was once a nut like you. It's the little things that bother us. You can sit on a mountain but not on a tack.

Miss Brock: "Pat, did your father help you on that problem?" Pat: "No, I got it wrong myself."

Miss Keeton (in Spanish class) "Truit, what is a vitaphone?" "Truit: (Looking diligently in a Spanish Dictionary) "I can't find it here."

OUR GANG

By Arnold Nickles

"Hey, you fellows come here," yelled Mickey over the top of an old dusty box.

"Whatta you want?" came from little Jimmie, who was a very recent member of the gang.

"Don't ask what I want. Come on over here."

After the gang had all gathered around, Mickey said, "We are going to make a car that will out run Stinky Davis!"

A shout of "Hurray" came from all of the gang but gloomy Bob, who always looked at the dark side of things.

"How are you going to get the stuff to make it?"

"Idiot, at the junk yard of course."

The next day the junk yard received the worst raiding in its history.

"Here's the boiler, if we can make it hold water," shouted Mickey.

"Here's the wheels," came from distant part of the junk yard.

"And here's the smoke stack."

"Here's a belt to pull the wheels by."

"Here's a box of tacks," said little Jimmie weakly.

"Aw, what good will a box of tacks do?" said the smarty Bob.

"Shut up," snapped Mickey.

A week later the queerest car that ever ran stood smoking at the starting line ready for a race.

"Here comes Stinky in his new car," shouted little Jim.

"Stinky, I'll run you a race to the city limits if you'll bet me three cents you can beat me," said Mickey as soon as Stinky had stopped.

"All right, I'll bet three dollars to your three cents," was the reply.

"One, two, three, go," shouted the starter, after everything had been arranged.

Almost half way Stinky had engine trouble and Mickey gained a block on him.

"Hey, we're carrying too much weight. Take some off," Mickey yelled to Jimmy, his helper.

When Stinky came along a few seconds later, he had four punctures.

"I won the three dollars," yelled Mickey in excitement.

In his hurry to lose his weight Jim had thrown away his box of tacks.

"You didn't win and I'm not going to give it to you," said Stinky.

"Yes, you will or I'll knock you cold as a door knob."

"You ain't big enough."

With that challenge Mickey found his ability for a fight.

After searching his pockets they found exactly three dollars and twenty-five cents.

"I'll get the quarter for my trouble of knocking him out," said Mickey, "though I enjoyed it very much."

The Latin Tournament

Who says that Latin is a dead language? Well, if that person could have been in Canyon Friday at the Latin Tournament, that person would have soon found out that Latin is one of the most wide awake most enthusiastic, and most interesting courses that one can study. Latin is a necessary language. Some people who know nothing about the language say that it is a dead language and that no one has any use for it; but if you will stop to consider that about ninety percent of the English Italian, and Spanish language combined is taken from the Latin, you will understand what a necessary language Latin is.

The winners of the Floydada High School Tourney were: Dave Lutral Robinette Ridgeway with Samuel Rutledge and Mozelle Brown as substitutes, from the first year class; Ruth Rutledge, Hazel Probasco, with Winona Felton as substitute. Friday morning we were moving to Canyon.

After registering, we were entertained each minute. Even during the examinations we were pointed out by the teachers of other towns because of what the State Inspector Miss Cotham, said about our school. We were, indeed happy to hear her say that we were putting Floydada High School on the map educationally. We felt as Lindy felt when he crossed the Atlantic. We are also happy to be the ones—as Miss Cotham said, who have broken the ice into the Latin Tournament.

The day was climaxed by a Latin banquet Friday evening. We were ushered into the banquet hall by a Roman slave but our table was not hard to find because "Floydada" naturally stands out. The Roman customs were carried out to the fullest extent—even to Latin songs in which our melodious voices resounded—especially "Dear Floydada High". The place cards were very unique Roman Chariots. A well planned program, bearing always upon the importance of Latin, was very entertaining. We heartily agreed with Miss Cotham in that we could not live without Latin. Next year the tournament is to be held in Lubbock and even now the competition is being started as to one who will be entertained and examined on that eventful day.

The Res Publica Romana wish to thank Mrs. Rutledge for taking us and also Mr. Willis for his car and we wish to say that they helped to make one of our happiest days.

Farm Labor Supply Ample, Survey Shows

Agriculture enters the spring season with a farm labor supply slightly in excess of the demand in all parts of the country, reports the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture. Farm wages also are reported at a fraction higher than on April 1 for three years past.

The bureau's index shows the supply of farm labor on April 1 at approximately 4 per cent larger than the demand. The excess is somewhat smaller than on April 1 a year ago, the difference being attributed to the higher volume of industrial employment this spring compared with last. The farm labor supply on April 1 last year was 7 1/2 per cent more than the demand.

The index of the general level of farm wages on April 1 is placed at 167 per cent of the pre-war level on that date, compared with 166 on new industry in Farm & Fireside, relates how one film was continually harassed by noises appearing in a drawing room scene. One expedient after another was tried but that harsh, swishing noise continued to mar the picture. A research man who was called in finally pointed to the woman star and declared that she must be wearing silk underclothes. The star admitted that she was wearing silk underclothes and said she would like to see the director, manager or president of a company who could make her stop wearing them. She insisted that it was ridiculous to think that silk undergarments could make noise enough to spoil a picture.

The incident served to show, however, the keenness of the "ears" of the modern talkie camera. The microphones are especially sensitive to the rustle of silk, and it is magnified to tremendous proportions in comparison with other sounds. Recently in a picture with Jeanne Eagels playing the murderer two days were required to figure out a method by which she could light a cigarette. The scratch of a match or the click of a lighter came out with the violence of explosions.

Other films have found it necessary to make their stars wear rubber jewelry, as the clicking of a bracelet or of friction between two stones are magnified to the most grotesque proportions. In a recent picture, "The Letter," a cat was made to paw gently at a door. To the ear of the company and the director this made no sound. Reproduced, it sounded like a thunderstorm. Composition gears for the cameras are the latest invention in the fight against sound.

THIS SHOT HAS BEEN DUBBED BEFORE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, TO THE SHERIFF OR ANY CONSTABLE OF FLOYD COUNTY—GREETING:

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED, that you summon, by making Publication of this Citation in some newspaper published in the County of Floyd, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once a week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, J. D. 1929, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court on the 17th. day of April, A. D. 1929, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 2139, wherein The Security State Bank of Plainview, Texas, a corporation, is plaintiff, and J. W. Mullins, Commercial Credit Company, Inc., Clifton M. Keeler, James Shaw as he is Banking Commissioner of the State of Texas, R. M. Franklin, A. V. Nelson, L. V. Nelson and M. E. Nelson, are defendants.

The nature of the Plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff alleges that J. C. Terry, Trustee, did on the 1st. day of January, 1924, convey to J. W. Mullins the North one-half and the South-east one-fourth of Section No. TEN (10) in Block C. 9, Cert. No. 1/122, G. C. & S. F. Ry. Co., containing 499 1/2 acres of land, situated in Floyd County, Texas, and fully described in said petition by proper field notes, to which reference is made; that said J. W. Mullins, as part payment for said land made, executed and delivered to the Guaranty State Bank of Plainview, his seven notes for the sum of $3,287.46, except the last note which was for the sum of $3,287.50 bearing six per cent interest from date, payable annually, said notes being due January 1st, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1931 and 1932 respectively, of even date with said deed, and reserving a vendor's lien in said deed and said notes to secure the payment thereof, said notes containing the usual 10% attorney's fee clause and the usual accelerating clause. That the plaintiff is now the legal owner and holder of said notes and the said lien and superior title to said land by being the successor to the said Guaranty State Bank of Plainview and the assignee of all of its assets; that the superior legal title to said land was preserved and reserved in said deed to secure said notes, and until the same were fully paid according to their face, tenor and effect. That plaintiff has exercised its right to declare said notes due and has so declared the same to be due and payable, and elects to recover the title and possession of said land, to rescind said contract, and to recover under its superior right to said land, or, in the event that the court should find that it cannot so recover the superior title, then that it have judgment against J. W. Mullins on its said notes, and for foreclosure of its lien as against all of said defendants in accordance with law. Plaintiff further alleges that the said defendant, Clifton M. Keeler, as well as the other defendants, save an excepting the defendant, Mullins, are claiming some interest or lien in and to said land by reason of judgments held by them as against the said J. W. Mullins and the abstracting and recording of same, but that whatever right, title, claim or demand that said defendants, or each thereof, may have to said land, the same is inferior to and subordinate to the plaintiff's claim and title to said land. Plant Criminals Traced By Pennsylvania Botanist Sleuthing in the botanical world—tracing plant criminals to their lairs—is a new profession that has been developed by Dr. Rodney H. True of the University of Pennsylvania. He has saved millions of dollars to farmers, manufacturers, home owners and seed experts by his detective work as a member of the United States Department of Agriculture and in his present position.

"When I was at the University of Wisconsin," says Dr. True, telling of his work in The American Magazine, "one of my instructors was wont to tell us that the most excellent form of preparation for a scientific career was the reading of first class detective stories for three-fourths of the work of a botanist is along detective lines."

One of the hardest jobs Dr. True has encountered, he says, was fighting an epidemic among sheep in Idaho. Although there was no trace of disease to be found, the animals continued to die by the hundreds, whole flocks being mysteriously wiped out. Dr. True and his assistants worked on the strange case until they discovered a low larkspur plant, warned herders against it and the epidemic came to a sudden end. Dr. True says that chemists have never been able to analyze the poison that lurks in the loco weed so well known for its disastrous effects in the West.

Why Girls Leave Home Told
By New York Police Officer

Seven thousand girls ran away from home to New York and proportionately the same number to the other large cities of the country last year, according to Captain John Ayres of the New York Department of the Bureau of Missing Persons. The number is the largest ever recorded, he added, due to the wider social and economic chasm that has come between young girls and their elders and the increased facilities for reaching the big cities and for obtaining work there.

Captain Ayres declared, however, that ninety-nine out of every one hundred girls who run away are caught and either returned to their homes or given places in other homes and helpful institutions, whereas runaways formerly fought unsuccessful battles with city life and finally became submerged.

"From what kind of homes do girls run away?" Captain Ayres was asked by an interviewer for the Woman's Home Companion. "And why?"

"From all kinds," he replied, "and for many reasons, principally the lack of understanding of adolescence. Runaway girls of today seldom fall prey to scheming men," added Captain Ayres. "They are a high spirited, hard boiled lot and few men can put anything over on them. But it is becoming harder and harder for girls to remain runaways for long. They go to the large centers, such as Hollywood, for example, and find that thousands of others of their own kind are looking for all the opportunities that are offered. Their only resort is to apply to some social service institution and the men and women in charge of them have become expert in detecting runaway girls. They are not returned as 'bad' girls, but under the sympathetic supervision of persons or organizations who are willing to look at the other side of the case."

Women Now More Sensible
About Feet, Says Writer

With the incoming style of changing shoes with every frock, there is less foot trouble today among women than heretofore, declares Helen Rawson Cades, beauty expert, writing in the Woman's Home Companion. The condition is also due, she adds, to the fact that pedicuring has become a scientific process instead of mere "corn doctoring."

"The no stocking craze and the barefoot candel have made women think more of the looks of their feet," continues Miss Cades. "I notice that the foot doctors are busier these days and I think it won't be long before the beauty specialists include pedicures as well as manicures in their service to the well groomed. As a matter of fact, one manufacturer who has previously specialized in hands has now turned his attention also to feet and issues instructions for their grooming which includes directions for cutting and polishing the nails.

"One of the worst things one can do for the feet is to wear shoes that are too short," warns a noted specialist. And astounding as it may seem, women have accepted the dictum and are no longer embarrassed to ask for size seven-and-one-half or even eight. Insidiously they have been converted to the idea that it's smart to have a long foot. And there you are."

Most manufacturers, the writer says, are keenly interested in developing hygienic as well as smart shoes, for customers are growing less and less tolerant of shoes that require painful "breaking in." The younger generation has the advantage of emancipated foot coverings and of more exercise than their elders had and both boys and girls are growing up with correct ideas of how to walk, all of which contribute to better feet. "Getting into a pair of comfortable shoes" should have no basis of necessity, Miss Cades concludes.

Cattle exceed all other domestic animals in number and value, totaling about 629,000,000 head. Asia has about two-fifths of the world's cattle, Europe about one-fifth, with South America, North America, Africa and Oceania following in the order given. This estimate includes all bovine animals, and in some countries, notably India, buffaloes are included.

A good-sized piece of seed potato is preferable to a small-sized piece. Seed pieces with 1 to 3 eyes and weighing 1 to 2 ounces will, if planted from 12 to 14 inches apart in the row, give better results than smaller pieces cut to single eyes. Cut seed pieces are liable to rot if the ground is cold and wet after they are planted. Under this condition the small-sized pieces will not furnish as much plant food to the young plant as the larger pieces and they are also more likely to dry up and fail to germinate if the ground is very dry or poorly prepared.

1929 High School Follies Scheduled Tuesday Night

Tuesday night, April 23, at eight o'clock, the annual event known as the "High School Follies" will be staged in the High School auditorium. This contest enlists the eager enthusiasm of every member of the student body as well as the interest of the parents, because in this program each class is represented by a one-act play which is the culmination of the united endeavor of sponsors and cast to create the most outstanding production of the evening. The audience decides by ballot which play is the best.

The Seniors are presenting "The Dwellers in the Darkness" by Berkeley, a representative of the type of "spooks" play which is being written for broadcasting, but which is equally suitable for production before visible audiences. The cast, consisting of Robbie Archer, Thelma Covington, Woodrow Goen, Charles Mathews, Clinton Fyffe and N. B. Stansell is prepared to make you hold your breath for thirty minutes and then send you home wondering how it all happened.

The juniors have selected for their play a very entertaining comedy, "A Wedding," by John Kirkpatrick. It has to do with the amusing mishaps occurring on the day of a wedding. Collar buttons, temper, best man, bridegroom, and bride, mixed almost beyond recognition are the cause of near-calamity which can only be explained by the last line of the play.

The characters are: Bob Tisdale, the Bride Groom, Alsie Carlton, Archie Craig, the best man, E. B. Massie, Alice Grayson, the bride, Eulella Burrus; Ted Hill, a groomsman, Ernie Widener; Mrs. Tisdale the bridegroom's mother, Juanita Shirey; Mr. Grayson, the bride's father, Dave Luttrall; Miss Grayson, the bride's aunt—Lois Siton.

The sophomores have given evidence in the past of the existence of dramatic talent among them. They promise a performance equally as good as that of last year's Follies in the play of this year—"The Trusting Place" written by Booth Tarkington. A brief review of the play will give but a faint suggestion of its ability to entertain.

In a pleasure resort hotel of the kind at which the "Rocking Chair Brigade" is easily scandalized and where secret meeting places are affected with difficulty Lancelot Briggs, the infantile hero, becomes enamored of Mrs. Curtis, a young and charming widow toward whom he says he has a sort of drown feeling because she is a woman that's had some experience of life. His mother—Thelma Crawford—and sister Jessie, Ruth Rutledge—naturally disapprove intensely of the young widow's cradle snatching. However, Jessie is too much involved in planning a successful secret meeting place with her sweetheart, Pupert Smith, Doc Massie—and Mrs. Briggs in the same kind of rendezvous with an old flame Mr. Ingoldsby, O. B. Olson—to pay very much attention to the young man. How each person attempts to keep his tryst in spite of innumerable obstacles and how finally the plans were disrupted by "The Mysterious Voice" is unfolded during the action of the play.

The Freshman class have selected as their play "The Red Lamp." Several people arrange to use the same lamp as a signal, each unaware that the lamp is being used by some one else. The complications which result furnish forty minutes of delightful entertainment.

The characters are as follows: Matilda Deering—an old maid—Alice Mae Fyffe; Alice Deering—her niece—Jamaeah Sullivan; Bill Worth—a tramp—Dan Fondy; Archie Clark—a young lawyer—Hunter King; Annie O'Shane—an Irish maid—Lurlyne Clonts.

Hillcrest News

Hillcrest, April 15.—Attendance in our school is more regular than it has been in quite a while. We have only five more weeks of school. We have begun to review for final examinations and to prepare our closing program.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Bartlett had as their guests Sunday her brothers, Roy and Ollie Meek, of Fairview.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hopkins and children left for Oklahoma last week to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Hix and children spent the week-end with her parents in Foard County.

Mrs. J. D. Holladay and son, Tom, Grandmother Holladay, and Miss Janey Mae Elliott went to Lamesa Saturday. Mrs. Holladay and Tom spent Saturday night with relatives in Sweetwater and returned home Sunday. The others remained in Lamesa, where they will visit indefinitely with relatives and friends.

Jewell Ford left Friday for Amarillo and other points to be gone probably for several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Killough and children have returned to Foard County to make their home. They have been living in this community for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and daughters spent a part of last week with relatives in Hall County. Their sons, Carl and Odell, are visiting there this week.

Allmon News

Allmon, April 15.—The first annual banquet of Allmon High School was given Friday night in the spacious dining room of C. L. Allmon's home. Gladys Allmon gave the welcome address; J. D. Wester, superintendent of schools at Petersburg, gave the main address, his subject being "Your chance and mine." All enjoyed his talk and also the other numbers on the program.

Other numbers on the program were rendered by Faye Williams, Effie Brooks, Ruby Brooks, Frankie Mae Case, V. A. Simmons, Alice E. Odell and Edna Jones. Grandama Allmon sat at the speakers table as an honor guest.

The class sponsoring the banquet feel greatly indebted to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Allmon for allowing them to use their home freely, and to Mrs. Ed Case, Miss Faye Wristen and Miss Blanche Wartes for preparing and serving the food. We feel that it was a great success.

A singing was called for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 at Allmon School but due to showers around the singers from off failed to get here. A large crowd gathered and sang a few old-time songs found in the school song books. All enjoyed hearing the Ramsey family. We hope they and all who came will visit us again.

The Adams family will soon be able to return to school, after having been absent a week because of the measles.

Sounds Like Something to Eat
Two good ways of cooking sauergraut are suggested by the Woman's Home Companion—"first, fried with warmed-up baked beans, and second, friend with weenies."

New Sargon Quickly Routed Her Neuritis

"Sargon is the only medicine that relieved me of neuritis after suffering for six years.

"Then, I commenced to suffer with stomach trouble and everything I ate disagreed with me. I had taken so many medicines without lasting relief, and was so tired worn and distressed with pain, that I was on the verge of despair. But I will never cease to be thankful for Sargon. If it had done nothing but end my neuritis, that would have been enough, but it helped me in every way, and I am feeling better than in years. I eat and enjoy hearty meals, and nothing disagrees with me. Every ache and pain is gone, my strength and energy have returned, and I feel like a different woman.

"While the Sargon tonic was building back my strength, Sargon Soft Mass Pills cleansed my system of poisons and ended my constipation. I can never say too much in praise of this wonderful new treatment."

The above statement was made recently by Mrs. Gertrude McDonald, highly esteemed resident of 737 Melba St., Dallas.

Sargon may be obtained in Floydada at Floydada Drug Co., and in Lockney at Stewart Drug Co.

The TOWN DOCTOR

(The Doctor of Towns)

SAYS

If ever there was a time when it behooved small cities and towns to prepare for a big opportunity, it is right now.

Big men, big industry and big town people are looking to the smaller cities as they have never looked before.

You may call it trend of the times if you like, but whatever you call it, it is one big grand opportunity for those who are wise enough to see it and do something to get ready for it. Leading publications everywhere are printing special articles on it and it is more and more a subject of conversation wherever big men get together publicly or in private conference.

In a recent issue of The American Magazine, Henry Ford said: "Is it efficient for business to pay high land prices and high taxes in congested cities where its workers must pay exorbitant rents? By moving out, business could get lower land prices, lower taxes and lower rents—and far better living conditions for its people."

A bulletin recently issued by the American Highway Educational Bureau says: "Dependable all-weather transportation has already begun to work wonders in the decentralization of manufacturing, with the result that more diversified forms of employment are being brought to the country." This development, like many changes in these whirligig days, has been going on so quietly and steadily as to pass almost unnoticed. It has come to be a common remark among motorists upon entering an unfamiliar town to ask, "What do they make here?" It is no longer enough to say that it is an agricultural town or an educational center, for surely they must be making some product or another which the world at large uses. "It is often said, and with some degree of truth, the bulletin admits, that the drift of population from farm to city remains unchecked, but the facts are that this drift is stopping short of the larger cities and has begun to build up the towns and villages that lie so close to and form such an integral part of the open country."

The lesson to be learned is that highway transportation is a going business and still greater returns will come from further improvement. It will not be economy to let down in highway extension programs because our state systems are so well under way. There are the main arteries, which, if widened—and they will be—hold even greater possibilities as trade channels.

GET READY—you never know when a scout for a big man or a big business will be among you. He may be in your town now. He will not come among you with blare of trumpets; his report will not be based on your individual likableness, or good fellowship of the few shining lights, but on your town as it is—not as you believe it to be, if you have ever thought about it at all.

Big men are not interested in Hickville or the Hickvilleites. They believe as they have a right to believe, that the automobile and good roads, radio, telephone and free mail delivery should have, by now, taken the Hick out of Hickville. If it hasn't, if such things have not awakened in the minds of towns the possibilities in the new order of things, then some other town is where they must investigate.

Stand back and look at the picture of your community. Are you ready for big things?

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF FLOYDADA, TEXAS: That

SECTION 1. By the term "Signal System" as used herein means a system of controlling traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian, by the use of signal units, consisting of red lights, green lights and yellow lights, used in connection with a bell.

SECTION 2. Hereafter, when directed so to do by the City Council of the City of Floydada, The Mayor of the City of Floydada shall cause to be installed at street intersections designated by the City Council a "Signal System" unit which shall be displayed near the center of said street intersection, by causing same to be suspended from wires over such street intersections, and in connection with said installation the Mayor shall cause to be erected an electric bell at or near such street intersections, which shall be operated in connection with said "Signal System" and shall be a part thereof.

SECTION 3. All persons driving or operating automobiles or other vehicles, and all pedestrians, approaching any street intersection where such signal units have been installed, shall observe such signal unit, and

(a) When a red light is exhibited in said signal system unit which is visible to approaching vehicular and pedestrian traffic, all such traffic shall come to a stop and remain stationary (except where otherwise herein expressly permitted) outside the street intersection until a green light is exhibited to such traffic in said unit.

(b) No traffic, vehicular or pedestrian, shall enter a street intersection when a yellow light is exhibited in said signal system unit. All such traffic that is within such street intersection at the time a yellow light is exhibited in said signal system unit shall continue, and promptly clear said intersection.

(c) All traffic, both vehicular and pedestrian, when halted, by a red light exhibited in said signal system unit, shall remain stationary (except where otherwise herein expressly permitted) during the time the red and yellow lights are visible to such traffic and during the time the electric bell is being operated in connection with such unit system, and shall prepare to move promptly forward when a green light is exhibited in said unit system.

(d) When a green light is exhibited and becomes visible, both vehicular and pedestrian traffic shall move promptly forward.

SECTION 4. When a red light is visible to approaching vehicular traffic such vehicular traffic shall be permitted to make a right hand turn, but in so doing such vehicular traffic shall first come to a complete stop, and shall have due regard for pedestrian traffic crossing at and near such street intersections.

SECTION 5. Whenever there is placed on such signal units, under the direction of the City Council or Mayor, a sign visible to approaching traffic which reads "No Left Turn" it shall be unlawful for any person driving or operating an automobile, or other vehicle, to make a left hand turn at that point.

SECTION 6. All vehicular traffic is permitted to make a left turn at any street intersections where a signal system unit has been installed, except where a sign has been placed on said signal unit system reading "No Left Turn."

SECTION 7. Whenever there is placed on such signal units or on the pavement under such signal units, under the direction of the City Council or Mayor, a sign visible to approaching traffic which reads "NO-U-TURN" it shall be unlawful for any person driving or operating an automobile or other vehicle, to make a "U" turn at that point.

SECTION 8. In approaching a street intersection where a signal system unit has been installed, there shall be two lanes of vehicular traffic. All vehicles approaching such street intersection, with the intention of making a right turn, shall approach within the right lane of traffic; vehicles approaching said street intersection, with the intention of making a left turn, shall approach same with the left lane of traffic. A "right lane of traffic" is that lane of traffic nearest the curb or the line of vehicles parked against the curb; a "left lane of traffic" is that lane of traffic which is nearest the center of the street.

SECTION 9.—No vehicular traffic shall drive through any adjacent drive-way used in connection with a filling station or other business for the purpose of avoiding coming to a stop under the preceding paragraphs of this Ordinance.

SECTION 10. All pedestrians using the streets of Floydada where such units have been installed, shall cross the streets promptly and on cross walks at such intersections, and shall not walk across such streets in a diagonal direction.

SECTION 11. In case of emergency, any policeman or traffic officer of the City of Floydada shall have the right to direct traffic in such manner as to prevent accidents or stopping of such traffic.

SECTION 12. All persons driving and operating automobiles and other vehicles, and all pedestrians using the streets of the City of Floydada, are hereby required to observe the rules and traffic regulations prescribed in this Ordinance, and any person violating any provision of this Ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00.

The Testimony of An Expert

In the beginning I wish to say that I am not in any way connected with the HUDSON MOTOR CO. or any of their dealers. Driving road test is my business and it is possible that I might drive another make car over the same course in the future.

March 18th, I took the car (An ESSEX CHALLENGER COACH) STRICTLY A STOCK MODEL off the sales room floor of the Philips Motor Co., Pampa, Texas and covered about twenty-one hundred miles before making the drive calling on dealers in New Mexico and Texas. Oil was changed every two hundred miles while breaking in, but the ONLY ADJUSTMENTS that were made BEFORE or AFTER the drive were minor ones such as tappets, carburetor, timing, etc. The car was driven more than three hundred miles at top speed before the test. This was for my information, and I was positive on leaving El Paso that she would come through without a bobble and she did that very thing.

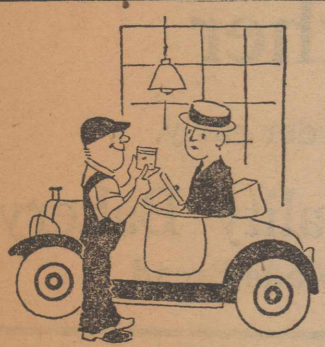

I have made NINETY-TWO TESTS OF MORE THAN FIVE HUNDRED MILES, using several different makes of automobiles but NOT A ONE WAS MADE WITHOUT SOME TROUBLE THAT GREATLY HINDERED MY MAKING A BETTER AVERAGE, until the drive reported April 2nd by Western Union Tel. Co., with the ESSEX CHALLENGER COACH. My top speed was seventy-six miles per hour which was a correct reading of the speedometer as I was using eight ply DUNLOP TIRES that stand about one and one half inches higher than stock tires. A speed of from SEVENTY to SEVENTY-SIX was kept up for more than THIRTY MILES on one stretch of road between Roswell and Clovis, New Mexico. The Roswell dealer checked my time from El Paso to Roswell at which point I had an average of 60.8. From El Paso to Clovis, 341 miles I averaged 57 miles per hour. Road conditions from the New Mexico line to Pampa were terrible, a distance of one hundred seventy-seven miles all dirt roads with the exception of twenty-six miles of pavement going out of Amarillo, and none of them had been dragged since heavy rains. Such roads kept me from making a nine hour run without struggle. Mr. Philips the Pampa dealer was offered a new car price for the test car which was evidence enough of it's condition.

Very truly,
JACK CALLAWAY,

Amarillo, Texas.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Church With a Program"
Dick O'Brien, Pastor

Divers and sundry interference have affected our regular programs for the past several Sundays but we expect to be back to normal by next Sunday. Our Sunday school attendance fell a little under the 400 mark last Sunday, but we confidently expect 450 next Sunday. Remember our goal is 500 by the Second Sunday in May which is Mother's day. Let all officials and teachers remember that we are making this Friday night loyalty night to the Sunday school. At this time we are meeting in the dining room of the church for a paper bag luncheon, after which we want to set ourselves to the serious task of planning and building a better school. No pastor ever had a more loyal group of workers than make up the official and teaching ranks of our teaching program. Heaven bless every one of you.

We had the best attendance in the training service Sunday evening that we have ever had. There were 153 present in the nine unions in time to be counted. Joe Breed, our efficient director, tells us that he is organizing another primary union next Sunday evening. The present primary union, under the able leadership of Mrs. W. T. Hamilton, has grown too large to be handled by one leader.

Both preaching services were well attended last Sunday, and we hope to have a steady increase all along. We have had 97 additions to the church since last September, and we expect to go above the 100 mark next Sunday. We expect to continue our expository messages from the book of 2nd Timothy, and give the evening hour to evangelistic efforts.

There is to be a baptismal service on the church lawn Sunday afternoon at 4:30. A temporary baptistry has been secured, and we invite the public to witness this scene. On Sunday night the Lord's Supper will be observed. The public is cordially invited to worship with us in all of our services.

The group meeting of this zone will meet with our church in an all day session on Thursday, April 25. The opening service will be at 9:30 o'clock. There will be an interesting subject discussed with preaching in the morning at 11 and in the evening at 7:30.

Basket dinner at noon. Come, bring your dinner and stay all day.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

The Church of Christ was blessed with a fine audience on last Lord's day two more came and placed membership and we sincerely trust there will be a goodly number do likewise soon. Coming Attraction At Royal Excites Interest

Zella, Who Answers All Questions, Will Reply to Queries of Readers.

Zella, the mystery girl, is billed to appear as a vaudeville attraction at the Royal Theatre the first three days of next week.

you live, your occupation and many details of your past life, then answers questions you write in your own home. Questions pertaining to business matters, love affairs, investments, health, lost articles, missing relatives or anything you want to know.

Zella has received some extraordinary press notices in large cities where she has performed. Following are some of the editorial comments in well known papers:

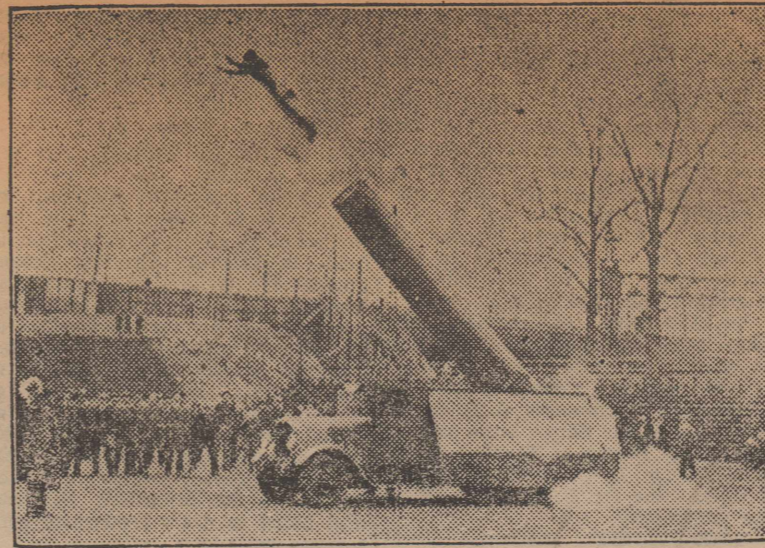

"Zella," the girl of mystery at the Pickwick Theatre this week, is giving the most accomplished demonstration of psychic phenomena ever seen in this city—San Diego Times. Dr. Alzada and Zella, the mystery girl returned to the Palace Theatre Sunday for one more week. The crowded house that greeted them sat spellbound while Zella answered dozens of questions in lightning rapidity.—Daily Oklahoman.

The Mysterious Zella, is here again, and from the hundreds of questions she is answering from the stage and by mail, it looks as if most everyone in Dallas was trying to ask her a question.—Dallas Morning News.

"Zella" the Crystal Gazer at the Crescent Theatre this week, is not only entertaining, she is marvelous. Stories of Zella have reached here, but they failed to do her justice.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Zella offers the most remarkable demonstration of mental science and the most baffling exhibition of telepathy seen here in some time.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

CHANGES WILL TEST ABILITY OF FARMERS

Machine methods of harvesting cotton and wheat probably will change the world's agriculture more profoundly during the next 10 years than any other machine developments, according to a writer in the April 1 Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman. Furthermore, these two changes probably will affect Oklahoma agriculture as much as they will the farming of any other portion of the world.

The combine is sure to bring the keenest sore of competition to our wheat farmers; while the perfection of a practical mechanical cotton picker doubtless will mean that our western cotton farmers will develop the most damaging competition for the remainder of the cotton growing world.

In short, our wheat farmers are likely to find themselves on the short end of the competition saw; while our cotton farmers will be on the long end—will have a decided advantage over foreign competitors.

We can reasonably expect to see successful mechanical cotton pickers gathering cotton. We can also expect the use of the combine, which has spread like wild-fire over our wheat belt during the last five years, to be employed in large measure in practically every important wheat growing country of the world. These two changes will test to the utmost our natural resources and our human ability to make adjustments to them.

Soybeans, when properly cultivated, make almost as good hay as alfalfa and are less particular about the soil in which they grow. They succeed on nearly all types of soil, though do best on mellow, fertile loams or sandy loams. For hay, soybeans should be sown rather thickly—about 6 pecks to the acre—so that too large stems will not develop. Under usual spring conditions comparatively shallow seeding is best. Poor stands often result from covering too deeply. In general, the land should be prepared as for corn. On land giving good yields of corn, or when soybeans are sown following corn, they should produce a good crop without direct applications of fertilizer. On sandy soils of low fertility, however, fertilizers are needed.
