New Budget Faces Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—With a hard-fought compromise finally at hand, House and Senate negotiators face a bigger battle ahead as they try to sell the full Congress a 1981 budget that outlines a huge increase in defense spending and projects the first federal surplus in 12 years.

When it reaches the House floor next Wednesday or Thursday, Rep. Robert N. Giaimo, D-Conn., House Budget Committee chairman, conceded, that House approval would be "very difficult."

The House-passed budget called for $611.8 billion in spending and a $2 billion surplus. The Senate favored a $613.1 billion package that was balanced by using $100 million from Carter's 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline fee, which was blocked by a federal judge before it could take effect May 15. The administration is appealing that ruling. Although favoring broad cuts in domestic programs, the 1981 budget compromise would not cut as deeply as the Senate had recommended into food stamps and public service job programs. The agreement also dropped a Senate proposal to reduce food stamp benefits for families whose children receive free school lunches.

Earlier, the conferees agreed to delete money for Saturday mail delivery, revenue sharing to state governments and grants to local police departments. The negotiators also agreed Wednesday to raise the 1980 budget ceiling, which already had been reached, by about $25 billion to $572.3 billion to accommodate higher-than-expected government spending due mainly to inflation. The revised 1980 budget projects a $46.6-billion deficit, up from a $29.8 billion deficit approved last fall.

In Elementary Schools...

Music Staff Unchanged

Except for a maintenance project at the football stadium, everything remained "as-is" following a special meeting of the Snyder School Board last night.

The board voted to continue the elementary music program with a music teacher assigned to each school, to halt efforts to revive the competitive gymnastics program in the secondary schools, and to abandon plans for renovating the board's meeting room in the administration building.

The elementary music program got approval on a 3-2 vote following a presentation by Verna West, representing the Musical Coterie. Mrs. West, wife of Presbyterian Minister Gary West, cited a list of advantages to the community that are attributed to the music program in the elementary schools.

Following the discussion last night, Lillie Sullivan, G.A. Parks Jr. and Mike Reed voted to keep the elementary music program as it is, while Bill Eiland and Jerry Rice voted against the motion which was made by Sullivan and seconded by Parks.

Daoudy Off To Discuss Release Of Hostages

By The Associated Press. Syrian diplomat Adib Daoudy left Damascus today for a meeting in Geneva with U.N. Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim before flying to Iran to begin the latest U.N. effort to win the freedom of the 53 American hostages now in their 201st day in captivity.

Walheim named Daoudy last weekend as his envoy in efforts to negotiate a settlement of the crisis.

But Iran insists Daoudy's mission "is completely separate" from the hostage issue. An Iranian spokesman said Monday that the Syrian's mission to Iran was limited to considering "the shah's and American crimes" in Iran.

Daoudy was a member of the five-man U.N. commission that visited Iran in March to look into Iranian grievances against the United States and deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi. The effort collapsed when Iranian authorities refused to let the commission talk with the captive Americans.

Nature can put on performances that baffle mankind, despite a dazzling array of scientific and technological achievements.

The Mt. St. Helens eruption and a variety of earthquakes in recent years are good examples. They create situations within minutes, or even seconds, that leave men in awe.

The most unusual and mysterious episode during the recent flood here was related by Eldon Perry, County Commissioner in Precinct No. 1. Some of the heaviest rains of Thursday, May 15, occurred in his precinct. After the floodwaters subsided, he went out in the precinct to check road damage and found that two "whistles" (metal culverts) six feet in diameter had disappeared from a crossing on Rough Creek.

A few days later, he enticed the other three county commissioners to accompany him on another inspection trip and they decided to search for the missing culverts. But they were nowhere in sight.

Where could they be? Well, if they kept moving along with the tide, they could end up in Possum Kingdom Lake, since they were on the Brazos River watershed which flows into that reservoir.

But more probably they got buried in silt somewhere downstream.

The volcano eruption in Washington state reminded us of a story about the Texan who saw his first volcano during World War II when he was sent to Hawaii. He had already made his presence known by making some of the traditional comments about the greatness of his home state. So, a Hawaiian was anxious to hear what he had to say when he saw the smoldering volcano.

"I'll bet you don't have anything like that in Texas," said the Hawaiian.

The Texan paused a moment—but only for a moment—and confessed that he had never seen anything like it in the bigger and better state.

"But," he continued, "we have a fire department in Snyder that could put that thing out."

Panel Votes Gasoline Fee Down, 27-7

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee voted 27-7 today for legislation to block President Carter's dime-a-gallon gasoline fee.

The vote, which had been expected, readies the measure for a vote by the full House, however House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. has vowed to "sit on it" to try to avoid that showdown.

Opponents of the gasoline fee claimed they had overwhelming support in the House for the measure killing the levy and urged House leaders to permit a vote.

Prime Rate Drops Percentage Point

NEW YORK (AP)—Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's third-largest commercial bank, today cut its prime rate one full percentage point to 15 1/2 percent, pushing the prime to its lowest level in months.

Bankers Trust Co., the eighth-largest bank, quickly matched the new rate. Although most banks are currently quoting a prime rate of 16 1/2 percent, analysts said they expect the lower rate to spread throughout the banking industry soon.

No. 5 Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. on Monday lowered its prime to 16 percent but no other major banks followed.

The prime—the interest rate banks charge on loans to their most credit-worthy corporate customers—peaked at 20 percent in early April and has since been on the decline.

The prime applies only to loans to such blue-chip corporations as American Telephone & Telegraph Co. or Exxon Corp., while most other businesses pay at least one percentage point above the prime.

The prime is not tied to rates on consumer loans, but is considered a key indicator of trends in all kinds of interest rates because, when the prime changes, most other rates do also.

Thursday update

Carter Raps Hotel Rates
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carter says hotels have not been complying with his voluntary anti-inflation program.

"The actions you have taken have not been pleasing to me or helpful to the country," Carter said Wednesday during a meeting with industry representatives at the White House. The president said hotel occupancy rates have been the "highest in 20 years" and said profits are up, too. But Albert McDermott of the American Hotel and Motel Association, a trade group, said the administration is exaggerating the increases.

Contribution Approved
WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has approved a contribution of $3.6 billion to the world development banks.

The compromise measure passed 224-181 Wednesday and sent to the Senate provides $412 million less than President Carter had originally asked. The measure includes $3.1 billion for the Inter-American Development Bank, $378 million for the Asian Development Bank and $18 million for the African Development Fund. The Senate approved Carter's full $4-billion request but the House cut it to $2.7 billion and House-Senate conferees worked out the $3.6 billion compromise.

Bill Curbs FTC Power
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed and sent to President Carter a bill restricting the powers of the Federal Trade Commission and increasing congressional control over the consumer protection agency.

The Senate vote Wednesday was 74-15. The bill passed the House by a 272-127 margin a day earlier. The three-year money bill gives the FTC, an independent regulatory agency, a clearcut congressional mandate for the first time since 1976. It was the first time Congress has permitted a legislative veto of all the rules passed by an independent regulatory agency. The bill also restricts some FTC proceedings, including one aimed at regulating television advertising for children.

cooked up answers

Is an answer to the fuel shortage going to come out of the kitchen? Possibly, if an experiment at Ohio State University proves out. A bus there, a recent Wall Street Journal briefly reports, is being run on a novel mixture of 80 percent diesel fuel and 20 percent used cooking oil collected from campus cafeterias.

Are we a government "by the people"? I have scanned all recent public opinion surveys by all professional pollsters - George Gallup - Lou Harris - Sindlinger

They report what we say we want - yet courts, Congress, the White House - nobody seems to pay any attention to what we want. That Americans do not want busing does not seem to matter.

by the people" somehow has become instead "government by the government." Now, however, we are concerned with an influx of unwanted, uninvited and many undesirable outsiders sneaking in back doors or smashing down front doors in such numbers that our immigration officials are helpless to prevent "invasion by immigration."

So the tens of thousands - on their way to becoming hundreds of thousands - swarm ashore as surely as though Castro had mounted a purposeful invasion of the American mainland. Our nation's now non-policy where immigration is concerned was conspicuously apparent when, during a day when illegal Cubans were coming ashore 300 an hour - 500 Mexican aliens were rounded up in Chula Vista, California, and bused back to Mexico.

(Editor's Note: This is the last of four articles investigating the Social Security Program.) WASHINGTON, D.C. - Remembering that the Social Security Program originally was based on the concept of being an income supplement program (not a retirement program) and was designed as a "pay as you go" program, we can easily see that a serious shift in the program's balance has occurred since its inception in the 1930's.

The system itself is not broken beyond repair, but does need some mending. The political question facing the Congress is: At which end of the see-saw do you either add or subtract weight to achieve the necessary balance? We must first face the political reality that even mentioning the reduction of any benefits in Social Security causes most re-election-minded Congressmen to stop dead in their tracks, even those of us who realize that the program has become overburdened with social welfare related programs never originally intended.

On the other side, the work force that is trying desperately to support the program, cannot be expected to continue to carry the full load and continue to bear larger and larger increases in the cost of the program. Some changes, such as taxing of Social Security payments, which I oppose, are not the answer. Changes in the long range future of the program should come in incremental stages. I agree with the recent report by the National Retired Teachers Association and the American Association of Retired Persons when it recommended that "Whenever benefits are reduced or deliberalized (and I would place personal emphases on the latter) or the rules governing eligibility or benefit computation are changed in any manner, lengthy transition periods must be provided to protect the reasonable benefits expectations of people." If the program is on an unbalanced see-saw, we must not ignore the inflation is the crucial fulcrum - or balancing point in the center. Until inflation, with its ramifications on either end of the Social Security see-saw, is brought under control, neither the worker nor the beneficiary is going to be positively affected. At that time, in whatever legislative form advisable, can be gradually phased-in to restore balance to a system that is vital to our ever-increasing elderly population and other deserving disabled and survivor beneficiaries.

Try eliminating caffeine

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - About a year ago my gynecologist discovered a lump in my breast and sent me to a surgeon. It was benign and subsequently I've been told I have fibrocystic disease. Since then I've noticed a great many lumps and I've been told that that's characteristic of the disease. Lately I've heard a lot about coffee, colas and chocolate increasing these cysts. My doctor said the condition was related to hormones. But I do drink eight cups of coffee a day and I'm 32 years old and have been a heavy coffee drinker for 14 years. What do you think?

DEAR READER - There are many causes for lumps in the breast. There have been some encouraging reports recently that complete elimination of caffeine as found in coffee, tea, colas and chocolate results in a marked reduction of the lumps and in some instances total disappearance.

Since you drink eight cups of coffee a day I certainly think it's worth a trial. Remember you have to eliminate all of these items to eliminate all caffeine that you might be consuming. That includes chocolate in candy and baked items. Stick with it for six months to a year and see what happens. It certainly beats going in periodically to have the suspicious lump removed only to find out that it was a cyst.

Women who have lumpy breasts from fibrocystic disease should have more frequent examinations. Why? Because it's more difficult to detect when a new lump develops and whether it might represent breast cancer or not. Breast cancer is still the leading cause of cancer deaths in women. During 10 years of the Vietnam war there were 37,000 American service men killed, but during the same period of time there were 310,000 women in the United States who died from cancer of the breast. That makes you realize the enormity of the problem.

In the rest of your letter you mentioned a sensitive spot. Any woman who has a soreness of the skin or any other disorder of her breast that she doesn't understand should seek medical attention at once.

I'm sending you The Health Letter number 14-8, Cancer: A Fact of Life. It's not specifically on breast cancer but will give you general information about cancer that I think everyone should know. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Fibrocystic disease of the breast is not cancer but it certainly makes it more difficult for early detection of cancer, and early detection is important in obtaining the best opportunity for a cure.

Although opinions differ if you have breast disease, mammography is often a big help to the physician in finding any new suspicious spots or lumps. When the procedure is used carefully in selected cases, particularly in women more likely to develop breast cancer, it can improve a woman's outlook.

radical change

NEW YORK (AP) - A common thread connects their fates - the brothers Hunt after their silver speculation collapsed, Chrysler Corp. after it misread the market, First Pennsylvania bank after it misinvested.

Today, even the most conservative business people support some degree of regulation. Some, in fact, seek it. When regulation helps a company retain privileges, philosophical opposition often goes out the window.

Health Administration challenged the right of private property owners to forbid inspection of their premises without a search warrant.

In each instance public or private resources were rushed to their aid because, it was said, the collapse of any could hurt many. They benefitted from the size of their mistakes, and fears of the impact.

A very large number of people, however, fear regulation. The Center for the study of American Business at Washington University, St. Louis wonders if regulatory growth hasn't itself gotten out of control.

Economic incentives. Business and labor disagree more than they agree on incentives. Labor claims incentives for big profits are too readily available in the tax code. Business insists investment is discouraged by taxes.

To reward inefficiency or failure is just one example of how the U.S. economic system is changing in ways that alarm some while earning the praise of others. Some foresee in such practices an erosion of the market system; others say it is our humane duty to temper the system.

It states that the number of federal regulatory agencies established between 1970 and 1979, twenty-one, is more than twice as many as in any previous decade, including the New Deal years of the 1930s.

But there is one aspect of the situation that touches almost everyone. Individual savings, which are needed to support investments in private enterprises, are thwarted by inflation and to some extent by taxes too.

Whatever, the system is changing, and here are a few, and only a few, of the possible reasons why.

Not only are the agencies proliferating, but so are budgets. During the 1970s they grew at an annual rate of about $250 million in constant dollars more than a half-billion if inflation is included. Fiscal 1981 spending is budgeted at $6.9 billion, and could amount to more.

Debt, however, is encouraged because the borrower pays back in cheaper dollars. In addition, while the saver pays taxes on some of his savings, the borrower receives a tax deduction on his borrowings.

To do without regulation, say its supporters, is to return to longer hours, lower wages, child labor, dangerous work sites, pollution of air and water, monopolies, and dozens more undesirable practices.

While regulation protects, critics say it also destroys. Until the Supreme Court ruled otherwise, officers of the Occupational Safety and

The British Parliament introduced the Stamp Act in 13 American colonies in 1765. It was passed without consulting American colonists. It taxed all legal documents and contracts to raise money for the soldiers holding the colonies against the French.

East took his ace of spades and led back the jack of diamonds. This collected the queen, king and ace and left South with a slight problem. He solved it by cashing the ace, king of trumps and ace, king of clubs. Then ruffed a club, led a spade to dummy's king, ruffed another club, ruffed his last spade with dummy's last trump and discarded a diamond on the last club to wind up making game. It was a workman like job, but a really brilliant defense would have beaten him. All East had to do was to duck the first spade. South's best play is to play a second spade. Now East wins and leads back that same jack of diamonds.

South must play his ace-king of trumps right away to stop an overruff of the third club. Then he leads clubs and ruffs the third one. He gets back to dummy by ruffing his last spade, plays another club and ruffs it. The fifth club is now established in dummy, but he has no way to get there to cash it. East's duck at trick one has deprived him of one entry to dummy. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Dear Abby

"King Heroin" Makes A Lousy Ruler

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am enclosing a column you ran eight years ago when I was in high school. It helped me make a decision about drugs I have never forgotten. I wasn't a drug user, but some of my friends were into drugs and trying to get me to join them.

Now that kids in their pre-teens are trying drugs, I hope you will reprint it. You have been so good about reprinting articles that have helped people, please don't let me down. If it helps just one kid like it helped me, it will be worth it. Thank you.

TAMMY IN LITTLE ROCK

DEAR TAMMY: The article you enclosed is indeed worth a rerun, and here it is:

"King Heroin is my shepherd, I shall always want. These tragic words, part of a twisted rewording of the beloved 23rd Psalm, were discovered recently in Reidsville, N.C., in a closed car alongside a dead heroin addict. She was 23 years old. Her death was ruled a suicide. A hookup with the car's exhaust had sent carbon monoxide fumes from a running motor into the vehicle. Here's the complete "psalm."

"King Heroin is my shepherd, I shall always want. He maketh me to lie down in the gutters.

"He leadeth me beside the troubled waters. He destroyeth my soul.

"He leadeth me in the paths of wickedness.

"Yea, I shall walk through the valley of poverty and will fear no evil, for thou, Heroin, art with me.

"Thy Needle and Capsule Comfort me. Thou strippedst the table of groceries in the presence of my family. Thou robbest my head of reason.

"My cup of sorrow runneth over. Surely heroin addiction shall stalk me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the House of the Damned forever."

Also found in the car with the dead woman was the written message:

"Jail didn't cure me. Nor did hospitalization help me for long. The doctor told my family it would have been better, and indeed kinder, if the person who got me hooked on dope had taken a gun and blown my brains out. And I wish to God he had. My God, how I wish it."

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who keeps her late husband's ashes in a fancy porcelain jar on the mantel in her living room. Perhaps I should say that she claims they are her late husband's ashes, because this lady has a rather wild imagination.

The jar containing the so-called "ashes" is not tightly capped. In fact, my friend frequently shows it around, it looks (and smells) exactly like cigarette ashes to me!

Do you think they could be her husband's remains?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If the cremated remains look (and smell) like cigarette ashes, that's probably what they are.

It's a common misconception that after cremation the body is reduced to fine ashes. Actually, what remains is a combination of bone fragments and ashes.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WANTS TO BE POPULAR": When you enter a room, do you say, "There YOU are," or "Here I am?" Ponder that a while.

Do you wish you had more friends? Get Abby's booklet, "How To Be Popular; You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send $1 with a long, self-addressed, stamped (28 cents) envelope to: Abby, Popularity, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Waitresses Begin Annual Flag Sale

Waitresses in restaurants throughout West Texas are gearing up for the ninth annual Memorial Day Coffee Project to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

As in the past, restaurants will be selling plastic American flag pins for one dollar each between now and Memorial Day (May 26). Those purchasing a flag pin are entitled to a free cup of coffee on Memorial Day in any of the participating restaurants.

A set of American Tourister luggage will be awarded to the three waitresses selling the most flag pins.

All of the proceeds from this project come to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center to be used to underwrite a special five-week summer program for about 100 handicapped youngsters at the Center.

Brief Notice

Ires Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials are angry that the United States was given only brief prior notice by France of the Warsaw summit meeting between French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

The United States was officially notified of the meeting Saturday. U.S. officials said Monday that French Foreign Minister Jean François Poncet made no mention of the session during his talks Friday in Vienna with Secretary of State Edmund Muskie.

The Great Fire of London began in a bakery in 1666.

ASTRO-GRAPH
Bernice Bede Osol

May 23, 1980
Your unusual talents can be put to good use this coming year, but don't let anyone stop you from taking advantage of opportunities just because they may be different. Believe in yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Take disruptions around home on stride. Complainers who can't handle them may be a little harder for you to deal with. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You're full of zest when it comes to social activities, but chores or errands leave you yawning. Get a pal to talk to you while you work.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) What you gain on one hand today may quickly fly out the window on other ventures. As long as you understand what you're doing, it's all right.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Idlers may be extremely difficult to tolerate today because you are a go-getter. Don't feel badly about leaving them behind if they're pokey.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's best not to make extensive plans today. Play everything by ear. Following a blueprint would only frustrate you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Make it a point to draw a line between business and pleasure today. Situations involving money and friends could result in someone's feelings being hurt.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In challenging situations you can win if you rely on your capabilities and are not intimidated by what others would have you believe about their talents.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Don't sound out plans you feel hopeful about on negative associates today. Their cynicism may demean your enthusiasm.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Clarify the role each will play in any involvements with friends. A misunderstanding could occur if details are taken for granted.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Although you may know exactly what you are doing and enjoy every minute of it, inconsistency on your part will annoy friends. Explain before you act.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Clever ideas you have may never get off the ground because you have a tendency to procrastinate today. By tomorrow they might be forgotten.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) While you enjoy having fun and meeting new people today, those who put on false airs turn you off. You'll recognize the phonies easily.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASS'N.)

It was a 30-30 rifle that was taken at 1706 Ave. R, said Jessie Wells. The rifle carried with it a value of about $500. That matter was reported to officer Don Cheek.

Also yesterday, Kim Hines, 1801 Scott St., told police officer Joe Bob Martinez that her fence had been struck by a vehicle which fled the scene.

Music Program At First Christian

George and Judy Dudley, who have been full-time musicians for some time and more recently in the Christian ministry with their talent, will present a program Friday night at the First Christian Church in Snyder. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. Dudley grew up in Wellesley Hills, Mass., and his wife in Niagara Falls, N.Y. They played guitar and sang songs for their personal enjoyment and later began playing and singing in night clubs. They moved to Florida with a club contract to perform and it was there that they got involved with Central Brevard Christian Church in Merritt Island. Subsequently, they turned their music to a Christian ministry. They do not preach or lecture, but their ministry in music has been impressive. Their program includes such songs as "You Light Up My Life," "I Don't Know How to Love Him," "On Top of the Lord," "One Day at a Time," "Just a Closer Walk with Thee," "Amazing Grace," and many original selections. The public has been invited to the program Friday night, said the Rev. Gary Dudder, minister. There will be no admission fee charge. However, a freewill offering will be taken.

Zumberge Leaving SMU

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist University President James Zumberge stunned students, faculty and some school officials when he announced abruptly he was resigning to take a similar position with the University of Southern California.

Zumberge, who has been president of SMU for almost five years, announced his decision Wednesday during a joint news conference in Los Angeles with outgoing USC President John Hubbard. "Six weeks ago, I had every intention of finishing my career in academic administration at SMU," Zumberge said in a statement released by SMU. "When the presidential selection committee of the University of Southern California first approached me, I was very surprised," said Zumberge. "I was not a contender for the USC presidency, and did not even know that I was being considered." He said after he was approached he realized USC presented him with a new dimension in administration. "If there were a career move for me, this would be the logical step. At age 56, I decided that it was unlikely that a similar opportunity would be presented again in my lifetime," he said. Zumberge, 56, will take over at the California school after Hubbard retires Aug. 3.

Co-op Default Ties Up Grain

CAMPO, Colo. (AP)—Claud Chick says he owns enough grain to pay for seeds, fertilizer and fuel this season, if only he could sell it. The problem is, a Kansas bank and the U.S. government say they own the grain, too. Chick is one of more than 700 farmers in five states who stand to suffer heavy losses allegedly because their grain was mortgaged by the Boise City Farmers Co-op and Grainary for loans the co-op cannot pay back.

The co-op, near Boise City, Okla., allegedly borrowed money from the Wichita Bank for Cooperatives in Wichita, Kan., and secured the bank notes by falsifying grain warehouse receipts showing ownership by the co-op. Officials say the mortgaged grain may have belonged not to the co-op but to farmers like Chick, who contracted his last year's grain crop to Boise City Farmers.

The Wichita bank has moved to foreclose on the cooperative for outstanding notes totaling $1.4 million, and has threatened to tie up the contested grain for years if the farmers go to court to prove that they are the rightful owners of the grain.

At the moment, the farmers, the Wichita Bank for Cooperatives and the U.S. government's Farmers Home Administration—all hold receipts for the grain. Farmers in Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Kansas say they contracted grain to the co-op.

Ralph Casteel, coordinator on behalf of the Boise City Co-op members, said Farmers in Baca County were counting on the grain sales to provide them with up to $1 million for mortgage payments and operating funds.

He said farmers in Cimarron County in the Oklahoma Panhandle have an even greater amount of money tied up in the contracted grain.

A creditor committee of six farmers has been appointed by the Federal Bankruptcy Court in Oklahoma.

homa City to devise a plan through which the farmers will seek some relief from the problem. In the meantime Chick, who was born on his property east of Campo 59 years ago, has had to borrow money at 14.5 percent interest in order to survive.

Guadalupe Church Ready To Rebuild

A bigger and better Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church will be built to replace the one gutted in a fire last year.

Father Thomas Jordan, pastor of the Roman Catholic church located on 13th St. in North Snyder, said construction of the new church is expected to begin after soil tests have been conducted and bids have been examined by the contracting company, although no specific date was cited.

The new church, said Jordan, will be built east of the presbytery at 13th St. and Ave. K. It will be a brick-finished building and will require about seven months' construction.

The old Guadalupe church, Jordan added, will be converted into a children's gym. That building was gutted, but its four walls still remain. "I guess you could call it a fitting reward for the many sacrifices of hard-working people," said Jordan. "In the interim of waiting for the new church to be built, out of tragedy has been born a real church, a church of community, of mutual sharing, and caring."

Jordan added, "The donations by many people, even non-Catholic, have been very edifying, and we would like to recognize that fact." The new church will have a seating capacity of about 470, compared to 330 for the old church. Construction will cost about $200,000.

China has almost halved its population-growth rate in the past seven years, according to Vice-Premier Chen Muhua, who said the government would introduce a family planning law that would economically penalize people with large families.

Lewis Coach Of Year; 9 Tigers All-District

Albert Lewis, who has taken Snyder High School to four consecutive conference titles, was named District 3-AAA's baseball Coach of the Year for 1980 yesterday. Lewis heads a list of nine Snyder players who were named to the elite all-district squad, including the entire infield. Four of the Snyder selections are repeat performers, including outfielder Bobby Degrate, catcher Toby Neves, pitcher Tony Degrate and Pete Willis. Willis made the team as a designated hitter last year and as a first baseman in 1980. The other Tiger all-district members include shortstop Paul Gafford, second baseman Mike Roemisch, third baseman Kyle Short, designated hitter Shawn Ragland and pitcher William Robinson. Stacey Terrell, Brownfield catcher, was named Newcomer of the year. Teammate Kelly Reid, pitcher-infielder, was Player of the Year. Tony Lara, Lamesa sophomore, was named as all-district second baseman along with Roemisch, Snyder's only junior to make the squad of Brownfield and Jim Smith of Brownfield. Honorable mention players were Tommy Williams and Raymond Gibson, Brownfield, and Steve Teague, Lamesa. Ross Whitley, Lamesa, made honorable mention as a pitcher.

Weatherford's Kangaroos have a one game edge over Snyder in their best-of-three, bi-district playoff series, but Tiger Coach Albert Lewis thinks his Tigers are capable of setting them hopping Friday.

It's been like this all season for us," he said during workouts Wednesday afternoon. "Look at our record. We don't seem to get anything easy this year. At least we're used to the pressure. Weatherford took the first game of the series by blanking Snyder 1-0 and giving the Tigers a 16-13 record for the year. Lewis is confident his Tigers have the ability to beat the Roos, but he'll need one special ingredient he hasn't seen a lot of lately... hitting. "We've got to get some hits. You can't win ball games when you don't score," he said, reflecting back to Tuesday's loss. With that in mind, Lewis was toying with the idea of changing the Tiger batting order, but has made no definite switches as yet. With the exception of pinch-hitter Barry Davis,

Only four Tigers have raised or kept their averages during the playoffs, including Ricky Gambol, who is up to a healthy .364. Catcher Toby Neves has been the most consistent, hitting .380 through district play and .385 during the playoffs. Paul Gafford, shortstop, has raised his from a .245 to a .250. The rest of the crew has been off their hitting paces, and it is those Lewis needs if he's to win a second consecutive bi-district crown this year. William Robinson, 6-6, was pegged as the Tiger pitcher for Game Two at 2 p.m. Friday. Weatherford coaches have indicated they'll go with sophomore Tommy Pina, 4-2. "That's what is planned," said Lewis. "But if they put Ray back on we'll go with Tony (Degrate) and use Will in

Talks Resume Though No Success Expected

NEW YORK (AP)—With a strike deadline only hours away, baseball negotiators faced a nearly impossible task today, meeting for one last time in an effort to reach an agreement on a new contract that would prevent a play stoppage. There was little hope that a strike could be averted after another round of fruitless talks Wednesday. "Unless there is a complete change of heart, we're headed pell mell for a strike," said federal mediator Kenneth Moffett. "We're in deep trouble."

if we were a month away from a deadline instead of hours," the mediator said. Marvin Miller, executive director of the union, said there would be no avoiding the deadline in his talks with management. "A strike creates pressure," Miller said. "Removing the deadline creates no pressure." Miller said player representatives of all 26 major league teams had been sent telegrams restating the will of the union's executive board which voted unanimously on April 1 to strike unless a contract is negotiated by May 23. "Games Thursday night will be completed. The strike begins May 23," Miller said. "Nothing changes that except an agreement."

Weatherization Aid Available Through PPI

The Energy Department of People for Progress, Inc. in Sweetwater will have an outreach worker in Snyder each Wednesday to accept applications. The energy department is accepting applications of low-income households wishing to apply for either weatherization or energy assistance.

Weatherization is an energy conservation measure taken to improve the internal climate of a house. Energy conservation measures may include weatherstripping doors and windows, storm windows on the north windows and insulation in the ceiling. The energy assistance is aimed at helping low-income households pay their household fuel and electric bills. Those who wish to apply for either or both of these programs, may see Ann Gregory between 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Wednesday at the Senior Citizens Center in Snyder.

When coming to apply, be sure to bring: 1) proof of income; 2) most recent utility bills; and, 3) for weatherization, bring your bill of sale or deed to house. Both homeowners and renters are eligible to apply if they meet income guidelines. For more information, call the energy department of PPI in Sweetwater at 235-8455.

Severinsen Takes No. 3

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The "Tonight Show's" brightly dressed bandleader tied the knot for the third time, his manager says.

Carl "Doc" Severinsen married television writer Emily Marshall in a pool-side ceremony at his home, Bud Robinson said Wednesday. The May 17 ceremony was witnessed by actor John Ritter and his wife, Nancy.

Severinsen met his wife who has written for "The Bob Newhart Show" and the "Angie" TV shows when she was secretary to "Tonight Show" producer Fred DeCordova, Robinson said.

It was Ms. Marshall's second marriage.

Edward Albee Adds Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—Playwright Edward Albee, winner of two Pulitzer Prizes, has added the gold medal of the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters to his list of drama awards.

Albee was among 56 artists, writers, composers and architects honored by the academy at its 39th annual awards ceremony Wednesday.

Other major winners included Peggy Bacon, awarded the gold medal for graphic arts, and novelist William Maxwell, who won the William Dean Howells medal for fiction.

The academy is limited to 50 members chosen for special distinction from the institute.

The Russian Revolution began in 1917.

Specialty Act Slated For Justiceburg Show

Vanderbilt Says Racism Caused Veto

NEW YORK (AP)—Gloria Vanderbilt, who parlayed a glittering name into a jeans empire, says a co-op's directors vetoed her purchase of a $1.1 million duplex because they felt she might marry black entertainer Bobby Short.

Miss Vanderbilt charged in papers filed with Manhattan Supreme Court and with the city Human Rights Commission that the rejection was "a purely racist act."

She obtained a temporary restraining order Wednesday against the sale of the River House apartment on East 52nd Street to anyone else.

There was no immediate comment from River House spokesmen. The building's shareholders include former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Broadway director Joshua Logan.

rough stuff to the younger men. He was not, however, ready to hang up his baggy pants and funny face, so gathered up his animals and hit the circuit with both comedy and dress acts to bring entertainment to the audiences with his paint mare, Calico Miss, and his balky, miniature mule, Babe.

Thurman, a 36-year rodeo veteran, does all of his own training and usually has, in addition to the performing animals, several others in the training pen. Thurman will appear at all performances of the Miller Bros and Lone Star Wild West and American Heritage Show at Justiceburg.

Performances are set for 2 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. Admission price is $4 per person, with those under 12 admitted free.

The Miller Bros. have announced that their proceeds from the show will go to a special fund for Amy Pratt, eight-year-old daughter of Jim Pratt, who is a patient in the M.D. Anderson Hospital at Houston.
