DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Saddam Hussein, his armies reeling from a monumental allied air and land assault, said today he had begun withdrawing his forces from Kuwait. But President Bush accused Saddam of "trying to claim victory in the midst of a rout," and pledged the war would not stop.

The Kuwaiti Information Ministry claimed Kuwait City was free, and CBS-TV reported that allied troops had entered the capital to a welcome of honking horns and waving flags. But the U.S. military said while many Iraqis were fleeing, others were still there and offering "stiff resistance," and tanks battled for the city's airport.

"Today we will complete the withdrawal of our forces, God willing," Saddam told his war-wrecked nation in an address on Baghdad radio. He said the emirate he annexed in August was no longer part of Iraq.

But Bush, reading a statement in the White House Rose Garden, said Saddam's statement was "an outrage" — that Saddam had not agreed to U.N. resolutions on Kuwait, had expressed no remorse, and had accepted no responsibility for "the awful consequences" of his nation's aggression.

"Saddam is not interested in peace, but only to regroup and fight another day," he said.

Bush called on all Iraqi soldiers to lay down their arms, and said they would not be fired upon if they did.

The British War Cabinet agreed with Bush's assessment. But the Soviets urged an immediate cease-fire. President Mikhail S. Gorbachev suggested that superpower relations could suffer unless "a great sense of responsibility" guided U.S. efforts to end the war.

Even as Saddam spoke, allied troops in the third day of a huge ground offensive were surging north into Iraq.

U.S. military officials in the Saudi capital, Riyadh, said Iraqi forces in Kuwait were fleeing under fire.

"There are signs of Iraqi retreat as a result of pressure from coalition attacks," said a senior military official, speaking on condition of anonymity. "This is to prevent annihilation."

A senior Pentagon official said coalition forces had engaged key units of the Republican Guard, and were blocking their attempt to retreat toward Baghdad. The official said allied troops had ranged as far north as the Euphrates River to cut off the Guard's "fighting withdrawal."

"They're not fighting real well by our standards, but they are fighting," the official said of Iraq's best troops.

"We're outflanking them, we're outmaneuvering them and destroying them in place," said Marine Brig. Gen. Richard Neal, at an early evening briefing.

"Let there be no mistake, the war is not over," said the general, the chief of staff for the (see WAR, page 9)

Ask Us

Q—How did Rep. David Counts vote on the lottery constitutional amendment which failed Monday?

A—Counts voted against placing the amendment on the May 4 ballot for voter ratification.

In Brief

Ethics bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A Senate committee has unanimously approved an ethics reform bill over objections to tighter restrictions on lobbyists and lawmakers.

Sen. Bob Glasgow, D-Stephenville, authored the bill and complained that some lobbyists with several special interest clients are making $1 million each legislative session.

"Their clients may not know they don't have to spend that kind of money for access to government," Glasgow said.

Sen. O.H. "Ike" Harris, R-Dallas, disagreed.

"If they choose to be foolish enough to hire people at those prices, who are we to question it?" Harris asked.

New taxes

AUSTIN (AP) — By failing to place a lottery proposal on the May 4 election ballot, lawmakers will be forced to consider new taxes, Gov. Ann Richards contends.

Despite her last-minute lobbying during Monday's session, the House rebuffed Richards' first major legislative push. It voted only 90-56 for the lottery proposition.

Because starting a lottery takes a constitutional amendment, 100 members of the 150-member House were required to vote to place the question on the ballot for voter ratification.

Anxiety sale tops $125,800

Some $125,870 was grossed on 93½ lots during the 42nd Annual National Anxiety 4th Hereford Breeders Bull and Female Sale, held Monday at the Scurry County Coliseum annex.

A special Anxiety 4th Female Sale is scheduled in the annex on May 5.

During Monday's event, Leland Wallace, credited with being instrumental in staging the annual National Anxiety 4th sale, presented a scholarship on behalf of the Hereford group to Western Texas College instructor Bob Doty.

The sale averaged $1,346 per lot, with 7½ bulls selling for $97,170 for an average of $1,359. Twenty-two females sold for $28,700; an average of $1,304.

Charlie Moscutella of Victoria got high bid on the top-selling bull, "PPF L1 Prime 0004," which brought $3,400 for three-quarter interest and full possession. The bull was consigned by Pied Piper Farms of Hamlin.

"L1 Mark K777" was the second-highest selling bull, going to Teddy Hines of Brenham for $3,100. The bull was consigned to the auction by Wallace.

The top selling pair in the female sale was consigned by the Koonsman Ranch of Snyder. The cow-calf pair went to Patterson Ranch of Benjamin for $3,700.

MDA 'lockup' set at IGA Thursday

Some Snyder citizens will be "jailed" Thursday in an effort to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

They have volunteered to be locked up and sentenced before an honorary judge at IGA Supermarket. The event is sponsored by IGA Supermarkets and Coca Cola/Dr. Pepper Bottling Companies.

Western Texas College drama students will serve as judges and bailiffs.

Among the local citizens to be arrested are Elois Pruitt, Paul Zeck, Joe Coronado, Ernest Tippins, Edna Anderson, Dr. Paul Thompson, Sue Travis, Charlie Streetman, Perry Westmoreland, Helen McLeod and Mike O'Keefe.

Bail will be set at a minimum of $200, and will be $350 for the "Most Wanted." Anyone can make a donation or pledge to help bail them out of jail.

The funds will be used locally to help children and adults with neuromuscular diseases. MDA provides patients with medical care and orthopedic equipment at no cost to the patients. MDA also funds several research programs and an annual summer camp.

Those interested in obtaining more information about MDA may call 806-793-5632.

WTC receives okay to institute officer training in Abilene

Western Texas College will begin offering correctional officer training in Abilene this May, Mike Thornton, dean of continuing education, said today.

Thornton, Dr. Harry Krenek, college president, and Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction, met with the Northwest Higher Education Council in Wichita Falls on Monday where Western Texas College was given final approval to hold the officer training courses.

"Being one of nine schools approved in Texas to offer (Texas Department of Criminal Justice) correctional officer training, we are extremely pleased to enter Abilene," said Thornton this morning. "It is good for Western Texas in terms of revenues both from tuition and fees and contact hours. It also means Western Texas is providing jobs or job opportunities for Abilene."

Western will utilize facilities of the Cisco Junior College extension campus for classroom training and will use the Abilene Police Department gun range for weapons training.

The first class to be offered will be an evening course, meeting Tuesday and Thursday nights and Saturdays. Applications will be taken beginning April 22 with the class to begin May 25.

"We are offering the evening course so that people interested in the correctional officer training can remain employed at their present jobs," Thornton said.

The 144.5-hour course lasts roughly nine weeks, with a July 27 graduation date. Those certified through the program are eligible for employment at Texas Department of Criminal Justice's correctional facilities.

Thornton also noted that the class is for people who would be willing to transfer, meaning that they would not immediately be (see TRAINING, page 9)

WTC exes plan rodeo on April 21

The newly formed Western Texas College Rodeo Exes Association is making plans for the first annual WTC Exes Rodeo on April 21, Kenny Foreman, association president, has announced.

Information concerning events and entry forms will be ready soon.

Other officers of the organization are Jesse Rollins, vice president; Lori Kincheloe, recording secretary; Gayla Newton, corresponding secretary; and John Bill Hedrick, treasurer. Members of the executive committee are Daryl Drain, Barry Byrd, Rowdy Rasberry, Jeff Gilbert, Thad Springer and Adam Brewster.

The exes will hold their next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the WTC student center. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The romance is over when he opens the car door for you — while it's heading down the highway."

Somebody, likely a junior high school science teacher, left the following on our desk. It's a collection of answers from students on a variety of subjects.

--Volcanoes give us hot java.
--Quartz — it takes four quartz to make a gallon.
--Many holes in the ocean would be famous as mountains if they were not turned upside down.
--Maine is slowly sinking. When it was first noticed, we fought Spain, thinking they were causing the sinking of Maine.
--The axis is only a make-believe line but the earth still manages to turn on it somehow.
--There is a lot of weight pressing down on the center of the earth because of so many people stomping around.

--For as long as the moon has been here, it makes a trip around the earth once a month since there is not much else to do.

--The worst thing about longitude and latitude and the equator is they are only imaginary places.

Domestic policy on back burner

DALLAS (AP) — With the nation's attention riveted on the Persian Gulf War, domestic issues often neglected in peacetime are receiving even less concern, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says.

The nation's recession coupled with problems in health care, education and day care continue to be ignored, Bentsen said Monday at a Democratic forum.

"We have successfully defended Saudi Arabia. We are in the process of liberating Kuwait," said Bentsen, D-Texas. "But here at home — right here in our own back yard — there is no defense, and little apparent concern, for the millions of our own people who are falling prey to joblessness, despair, ignorance and disease."

Bentsen and other Texas Democratic Leadership Council forum participants, including U.S. Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Georgia, assailed the administration's record on child and health care. One million Americans have lost their jobs in the past seven months and a recession threatens more, Bentsen said.

"Parents believe things are worse for their children now than they were a decade ago," said Dr. Barbara Whitehead, a cultural historian. "That's not just nostalgia."

She said her discussions with parents in focus groups showed they were concerned with a degeneration of America's moral fabric through increasing greed, sexuality and violence.

Those are factors in a "cultural squeeze" gripping parents and children today, she said. Parents complain increasing job demands give them no time to spend with their children, who cite rising materialism and other peer pressures.

"We're saying that you cannot substitute government for parents. But we're saying that the 1948 tax break for young children is greatly outmoded, and that we need to update a lot of the governmental policies and make them family-sensitive," said Nunn, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Lottery vote in House falls short

AUSTIN (AP) — By failing to place a lottery proposal on the May 4 election ballot, lawmakers will be forced to consider new taxes, Gov. Ann Richards contends. Despite her last-minute lobbying during Monday's session, the House rebuffed Richards' first major legislative push. It voted only 90-56 for the lottery proposition.

Because starting a lottery takes a constitutional amendment, 100 members of the 150-member House were required to vote to place the question on the ballot for voter ratification.

Although lottery backers said the gambling game's revenue wouldn't be a cure-all for the state's projected $4.6 billion deficit, Richards charged that lottery opponents "have assured the necessity of a sizeable tax (increase) bill."

"I hope that the 56 members of the House who voted against this bill will now join together to find the necessary new revenue to meet the needs of this state," she said.

Speaker Gib Lewis indicated that under House rules, another vote could be taken. But he said the House would have to take such action today to let voters decide on May 4.

"Ten votes (to reach 100), that's a big swing ... It's going to be very difficult to do," said Lewis, D-Fort Worth.

"If we don't do it (today), we cannot get it on this upcoming election. If we cannot do that, that's going to be a large gap as far as revenue is concerned ... There's a good possibility there will be a tax bill without a lottery," Lewis said.

State's top court split on finance

AUSTIN (AP) — Lawmakers scrambling to solve the school finance dilemma today were studying a new Texas Supreme Court ruling that said the state constitution allows rich districts to raise more supplemental education funds than poor ones.

"On first reading, it appears there's some leeway given" on local spending to enrich programs, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock said. "Just how much, I can't say at this time."

In a new opinion issued Monday night, the court did not back away from an earlier ruling that the Texas school finance system is unconstitutional.

However, it said in a 5-4 opinion, "The current system remains unconstitutional not because any unequalized local supplementation is employed, but because the state relies so heavily on unequalized local funding" to pay for education.

"Once the Legislature provides an efficient system ... it may, so long as efficiency is maintained, authorize local school districts to supplement their educational resources if local property owners approve an additional local property tax," it said.

The majority opinion was authored by Chief Justice Tom Phillips. In a footnote, it adds that the Texas Constitution forbids "vast disparities" resulting when rich school districts can tax low, while poor districts that tax high cannot get enough money "to meet even minimum standards."

Dissenting, Justice Lloyd Doggett decried the opinion as overstepping the court's jurisdiction. Doggett also called it a reaction to political pressure. Others dissenting were Justices Oscar Mauzy, Robert Gammage and Raul Gonzalez.

The court issued the latest opinion after poor school districts asked the justices to rule it constitutional to redistribute local school districts' property tax revenue statewide.

Such a "Robin Hood" plan would shift money from rich to poor districts without consolidating their tax bases.

The court refused to do so, then went further in ruling on supplemental education funding. It also said it would not consider any more motions for rehearing in the case.

Al Kauffman, an attorney representing the poor school districts who originally challenged the school finance system, said Monday's ruling had little effect on the poor districts.

"We don't really see the opinion as any major change from what they've said before," Kauffman said.

"All they've said here is if you have a constitutional efficient system then you can have supplementation based on local tax bases, but they again said that an efficient system can't be based on districts with wildly different tax bases."

DEAR ABBY: If you ever get tired of writing your advice column, you should consider the legal profession.

You had a letter in your column recently concerning an engagement ring. The question: If a man gives a girl an engagement ring and four hours later they break up, should the woman return the ring?

You said, "The gentleman has every right to expect the lady to return the ring. And if she doesn't, she's no lady."

I recently read an item in the Iowa City Press-Citizen that said, "Engagement rings become real gifts only when the wedding happens, and most otherwise be returned, the Iowa Court of Appeals has ruled."

The judges said it didn't matter who did the jilting. The court rejected as sexist and archaic earlier rulings that let courts award an engagement ring to the person who was jilted.

IOWA ABBY FAN

DEAR FAN: I've had that "who owns the ring" question put to me in a variety of situations. Examples: The couple enjoyed a three-year engagement with "sleeping-over privileges," so the woman felt that she had earned the diamond engagement ring. (Well, if she "earned" it, that makes her a professional.)

In another situation, after a two-year engagement, "Romeo" met another damsel who stole his heart. So, as a consolation prize and to assuage his guilt, he told Damsel No. 1 she could keep the ring.

I'm with the Iowa judge. An engagement ring is more than just a ring — it signifies a promise to wed. And if the wedding does not take place, the ring should be returned to the person who paid for it.

DEAR ABBY: "Shocked," "Educated" and "Disillusioned Teacher" were all addressing the lack of educated high-school graduates in this country. This is not a new issue. Politicians, educators and businessmen have been lamenting this problem for years. I do not pretend to have the solution to this crisis; however, there is something every parent could do to alleviate the problem.

When my son's first-grade teacher told us that "John" was not doing very well in school, my wife and I allocated one to two hours an evening to help him study while we actively coached him. John was not happy about the loss of his free time for play or television. (And we were not happy about our own loss of relaxation time.) We felt that the sacrifice was necessary to make him a good student before he developed bad attitudes or bad habits.

I am happy to report that our study time has made the family closer. John is now doing better in school. He no longer needs a lot of time to complete his studies, and we have not missed the time that we spent with him. Sign me ...

CATCH THEM WHILE THEY'RE YOUNG IN MUNDELEIN, ILL.

DEAR CATCH THEM: You are absolutely right. One cannot expect children with poor study habits to blossom miraculously into scholars without supervision and additional coaching from a caring parent or caretaker. You made an investment in time and patience, and it paid off. Congratulations.

Loser-on-loser play

By James Jacoby

When North made a forcing raise of three spades, South knew he was going to bid at least a small slam. Since North could easily be holding the right cards to produce 13 tricks, South investigated. The four-heart cue-bid drew a five-club bid from North, showing the ace. South bid five diamonds, and if North could have shown second-round control of hearts, South's next bid would have been five no-trump, asking North to bid seven with A-K of spades. But North denied such heart control, instead jumping to six spades. When West foolishly doubled, South happily redoubled.

The king of clubs lead allowed declarer to succeed with the help of an unusual loser-on-loser play. Declarer won dummy's club ace and played back the jack, pitching hearts on both these tricks. West won the queen of clubs and played a trump. Declarer won this trick in his hand, cashed the ace of hearts and went to dummy with another trump. He cashed the other good club, throwing his queen of hearts away. Then he ruffed a heart,

Discounts good for March

Texas consumers will find some supermarket discounts on meats, fish and frozen foods in March, but higher fuel costs stemming from the Persian Gulf War will continue to impact some food prices.

Dr. Dick Edwards, a food marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said the fuel surcharge imposed by trucking companies several months ago means higher costs for imported and certain other foods at checkout counters.

But some new produce items, including strawberries, will be arriving at markets in March as a reminder that spring and its fresh fruits and vegetables are very near, Edwards said. "March is National Frozen Food Month, and special sales with coupons will be in progress every week," he said. "Some fish products will be discounted during Lent, and beef and pork prices will continue to favor consumers at the beginning of the month. Poultry prices will also remain attractive."

Frozen foods discounted in March will include desserts and toppings, vegetables, breads, pizza, juices and breakfast items. "Orange juice prices continue to drop, driven by the California freeze that caused frozen fruit to be diverted into juice. Also, the price of imported concentrate from Brazil has been reduced, resulting in some chilled juice sales each week."

A hint of better things to come, Edwards said, will be the arrival of the first shipments of domestic cantaloupes and honeydew melons. Also making spring appearances will be pineapples, zucchini, yellow squash and green beans.

Fresh vegetables that will be on sale include broccoli, brussels sprouts, cucumbers, egg plant, bell peppers, tomatoes and green peas. Apples, pears and potatoes will also be marked down.

SCS Notes

By Michael Squires,
 Range Conservationist

In this week's Scurry County Country, James Wesson, district clerk with the Upper Colorado Soil & Water Conservation District, describes the basic functions of the district and some of the activities in which the district is involved.

The Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District was organized on March 25, 1941. It is a political sub-division of the State of Texas, serving both Scurry and Borden counties. The district is governed by five elected landowners, who make up the board of directors.

The board directs the activities of the district and coordinates the conservation efforts of local, state and federal agencies. There are approximately 990 operating units in the district, containing 1,166,720 acres. It is funded by donations from individuals, county contributions, state matching funds and rent from district-owned equipment. The purpose of the district is to carry out a sound soil and water conservation program within the framework of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation District law.

The district works closely with Soil Conservation Service personnel in the application of conservation practices to farms, ranches and other units of land within the district, for which conservation plans have been developed. Staking terraces, ponds, waterways, and diversions, checking CRP contracts and FSA plans, and assisting the Snyder Field Office staff in all phases of soil and water conservation are a part of the work performed by district employees.

In addition, the district places great emphasis on educating the youth of the district as to the importance of soil and water conservation. Providing conservation book covers to all of the schools in the district, buying conservation pamphlets for all sixth graders in the district, and an annual Poster and Essay Contest, are a part of this effort.

The district recognizes a Conservation Farmer of the Year, a Conservation Rancher of the Year, and two Conservation Teachers of the Year, as well as contest winners, at its annual awards banquet.

The district co-sponsors, with Ezell-Key, two Ranch Breakfasts each year, and also co-sponsors, with Western Texas College, a land judging contest.

During the past two years, 200 windbreak trees for the City of Snyder and local elementary schools have been purchased by the district.

The district owns and maintains a grass drill for rent to district farmers and ranchers for planting permanent grass in fields and pastures.

The current board of directors consists of Walter Stirl, Zone 1; Leon Sterling, Zone 2; Charlie Henderson, Zone 3; Burl Belew, Zone 4; and W.L. Wilson Jr., Zone 5.

Monthly meetings are held ever third Thursday at noon at The Shack. The meetings are open to the public and the board welcomes visitors.

NOTE: Programs and services of the Soil Conservation Service are offered on a non-discriminatory basis without regard for race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, marital status or handicap.

Tigers set to face Monahans squad

Snyder High School junior Jason Rios is expected to take the mound today as the Tigers travel to Monahans for a 6 p.m. non-district baseball game with the Lobos.

Monahans is expected to counter with senior Chris Carasco. The Tigers, 0-3 on the young season, were on the losing end of both games of a double-header against Andrews Saturday.

Snyder dropped the second tilt by an 8-6 score after being shut out in Game One, 13-0.

Coach Albert Lewis said Monday that pitcher Terry Stephens will be resting from a sore shoulder for at least a couple of weeks.

To take his place on the Tigers' roster, Raymond Ware, a left-hander, will move up from the SHS junior varsity and is expected to relieve starter Rios.

David Patrick will come in as the Tigers' stopper, should he be needed.

After three games Snyder holds a team batting average of just .235.

While the team numbers look bleak to start, a few individuals appear to be in mid-season form.

Senior all-district first-baseman John Wright is hitting at a .500 clip while leadoff batter and shortstop Mark King and left fielder Bobby Clinkinbeard each boast a .300 mark.

Following today's game at MHS, Snyder will compete in the Thursday through Saturday Big Spring Tournament.

FPC nips Dusters in overtime

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

A valiant effort by the Western Texas College Lady Dusters ended Monday night when Frank Phillips' Stacy Schroeder hit a 3-point bucket at the buzzer in the night's second overtime period, giving the Lady Plainsmen an 80-79 Western Junior College Athletic Conference win.

Coach Kelly Chadwick of WTC was justifiably proud of his squad after last night's game.

"They played as hard as they could play and they kept coming back at them," he said.

"We had a pretty good game defensively, we just had a few too many turnovers and mental errors at crucial times in the game."

The Lady Dusters came out with a crisp-passing offensive attack that turned into a 20-8 lead with over 12 minutes gone in the first half.

An 8-2 run by the Lady Plainsmen, capped by a basket by trailer Marva Lindsay, brought the game back to within three, 22-19, at the 4:29 mark.

Frank Phillips' Lynette Barber notched a put-back with 1:25 left in the half to set the score at 28-27 before Sherry Hoffpauir and Diane Mendez of Western Texas each canned a pair of free throws to edge out to a 32-29 halftime lead for the Dusters.

The two teams battled within a few points of each other for the entire second half.

A driving layup by Monica Ramirez and another two freebies from Mendez gave the Dusters a 55-48 lead with just over five minutes to go.

Jill Forrest was good from the stripe for two for WTC before the Lady Plainsmen began a comeback flurry.

Sophomore Paulette King hit one of two from the line followed by a steal and coast-to-coast hoop and a three by forward Yelle Pierau.

With 4:45 to go in regulation the Western Texas lead had dwindled to 57-54.

Pierau struck again with 3:10 left when the sophomore from the Republic of Suriname made a deuce in the lane, was fouled and converted the ensuing free shot to put FPC in front, 62-61.

With just over a minute to go, Mendez nailed a big 3-pointer for the Dusters that tied the game after a King lay-in gave Frank Phillips a 66-63 advantage.

The Lady Plainsmen had a chance to win before OT when Lindsay and Schroeder each came to the line with only seconds remaining and missed twice.

Fatigue began showing on both teams in the second extra period after each squad scored nine in the first.

Shots began falling short and passes weren't as sharp.

Neither team could put in a bucket until the 1:58 mark when WTC's La Shunta Jackson nailed a 12-footer to give the Dusters a 77-75 lead.

Jana Mullins of FPC answered immediately with a two-pointer from inside the lane and, once again, the score was tied.

Jackson found the hole from 16 feet out to lift Western Texas to a 79-77 margin with only 21 seconds to go.

The Dusters' defense kept FPC out of the paint and made Schroeder take a desperation shot she didn't really want to take from well outside the 3-point line on the left side.

The shot hit the back of the rim, bounced on top of the backboard and fell through the net as the buzzer sounded giving the Lady Plainsmen the victory.

Ramirez finished the night with 18 points to lead the Dusters followed by Jackson's 12, 11 by Mendez and Melissa Sutton's 10.

Pierau's 35 led all scorers followed by teammates Lesley Hinds with 15, Schroeder's 13 and 11 by King.

The loss drops WTC out of the race for post-season play and eases Frank Phillips into the fourth spot for the time being.

The Dusters are 9-20 overall and 2-9 in WJAC games while FPC moves to 12-8 and 4-7.

In the other Western Conference game Monday, South Plains nudged Howard, 68-61, in a shootout at the top of the standings.

Odessa maintains its hold on first place with an 11-1 league mark followed by South Plains at 10-2 and Howard's 9-3.

The top four teams in the WJAC will compete in the Region V NJCAA Tournament against the Northern Conference's top squads in Waco the first week in March.

FRANK PHILLIPS — Lindsay 2 0-0 4; Schroeder 3 3-5 13; Pierau 11 8-13 35; Barber 1 0-0 2; Mayorga 0 0-1 0; Hinds 6 1-3 15; King 5 1-2 11; Mitchell 0 2-3 5; TOTALS 29 19-27 80.

WESTERN TEXAS — Sutton 4 0-0 10; Hinson 2 2-7 18; Hoffpauir 0 2-2 2; Raiser 2 0-0 4; Ramirez 3 4-11 12; Jackson 6 0-1 12; TOTALS 29 17-22 78.

3-point goals: WTC's (Sutton 2, Mendez 2, Hinson 1), FPC's (Pierau 4, Lindsay 1, Schroeder 1, Hinds 1). Total fouls: WTC 28, FPC 23. Fouled out: none. Halftime score: WTC 32, FPC 29. End regulation: WTC 66, FPC 66. End first OT: WTC 75, FPC 75. Records: WTC 9-20, 2-9; FPC 12-8, 4-7.

Last second shot sinks WTC

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Zach Herring of Frank Phillips College snapped the cords of the net for a 3-point basket at the buzzer Monday in Scurry County Coliseum as the Plainsmen nipped Western Texas College, 94-92 in a Western Junior College Athletic Conference matchup.

"We played a pretty good ballgame," said an obviously frustrated WTC coach Tony Mauldin after last night's loss.

"Defensively, we were getting back down the floor, we cut down on the number of turnovers, we just couldn't get it done."

"I don't know what else to say." The game was a nip-and-tuck affair through the opening minutes.

The Plainsmen moved out front by a 20-15 score on a back-door layup by Robert Torrence.

The Westerners staged a quick 6-0 strike that ended on a pair of successful free throws by Dominick Byrd and gave WTC a 21-20 advantage.

Western Texas moved in front, 27-24, on a six-foot jumper by Isaac Davis then expanded the margin on a driving layup by Paul Johnson and a putback credited to Davis.

Byrd's 3-point play, a hoop and a freebie with 8:30 left in the first half, gave The Westerners a 10-point pad, 34-24.

The lead was quickly whittled to just four on successive shots inside by FPC's Eduardo Abreu, Herring and Torrence.

Jacoby Garmon slammed home a dunk for WTC followed by a trey from Byrd, who wound up with 30 points on the night, and the Westerners had bolted to a 49-38 lead with about two-and-a-half minutes to play before intermission.

By halftime the score had moved to 55-45, in favor of the Westerners.

The WTC margin grew to 14 early in the second when Micheal Richardson registered a rim-rattling dunk to stake the home squad to a 73-59 lead.

The Plainsmen fought back to within five, 85-80, on a Torrence bucket with just over seven minutes to go.

Johnson responded with a two-pointer for the Westerners and FPC's Maurice Toliver slipped in a 3-point goal to narrow the gap to four.

It was Torrence again, with five minutes left, that hit a key basket.

His 8-footer pulled the tally to within two at 87-85, setting up teammate Magno Couto's tying bucket on the next possession.

Allen Smith and Byrd each drilled short jump shots for the Westerners to break the tie and give WTC a 4-point edge.

Torrence contributed another two from the paint and Joel Alexander grabbed a steal for the Plainsmen and went the length of the floor for the tying score.

Johnson made one of two free tosses for a 92-91 Westerner lead with 1:10 to go before Herring's heroics at the horn.

Byrd's 30 paced the Westerners on the night followed by Jeff Shelley with 16, Richardson's 14 and 10 by Johnson.

Frank Phillips' leading scorer was Toliver, who contributed a whopping 39 followed by 32 from Torrence. In other WJAC action Monday, No. 3 Howard upset No. 2 South Plains, 87-78, and New Mexico JC edged Midland College, 99-92.

South Plains leads Howard by a half-game for the league's top spot.

The Texans are 15-1 in conference games and the Hawks boast a 14-1 slate.

Odessa, idle last night, has nailed down a third-place finish with a 10-5 mark.

Midland and NMJC are tied for fourth place at 8-7 and Frank Phillips is just a game back with a 7-8 record.

The top four teams in the conference will battle the Northern Conference's top squads in Waco minutes.

Four WTC students in competition

Four speech students from Western Texas College took part in the North Texas University Performance Festival in Denton last weekend.

WTC was one of seven group shows presented by invitation at the Festival, according to Jan McCathern, speech instructor.

The WTC students used a script adapted from "Darkroom," a mystery by local writer Deanie Francis Mills. Local performances of "Darkroom" are planned for April 19-20 in the Fine Arts Theatre at WTC.

Bob Gerrard from Florida was critic for the festival performances. He was complimentary of the WTC group, Mrs. McCathern said, and commented that they were "gutsy" for doing a thriller.

Students in the group were Andra McKinney of Colorado City, Joe Gloria of Sweetwater, Scott Carothers of Patton Springs and Christi Wilcox of Monahans.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 22-year-old female with scoliosis. I was treated with a Boston back brace for three years and have been out of the brace for six years now. A recent spinal film showed the curve had not changed. A free spinal exam by a local chiropractor was performed, and he strongly recommends treatment. Does the chiropractor have anything to offer me?

DEAR READER: Since you have stopped growing, braces and exercise will not cure your spinal curvature (scoliosis). This condition is permanent and can only be altered by surgery to re-align the bones that are mal-positioned.

Such an operation is delicate and extensive; it should be undertaken only by an orthopedic specialist or neurosurgeon who is familiar with the surgical treatment of scoliosis. Also, the operation is usually reserved for patients with severe or disfiguring spinal abnormalities.

In most cases, scoliosis patients do not need surgery. As I'm sure you have discovered, scoliosis is often associated with chronic back pain because the heavy back muscles must perform extra work (to help support the curved spine), and they readily spasm from this additional burden. Therefore, the back pain of scoliosis can be helped by massage, special exercises, physical therapy, heat and — in many cases — chiropractic manipulation, which reduces muscle tension and spasm.

As long as your orthopedic surgeon agrees that chiropractic therapy will not lead to further harm, such as nerve damage, I see no reason why you shouldn't have this treatment. Remember, however, that the chiropractor will not affect or cure the ba-

AUSTIN (AP) — Intentional interference with animal research facilities could prompt criminal charges under a bill passed by the Texas Senate.

Among the measure's supporters is Texas Tech University in Lubbock, said Sen. Bill Sims, D-San Angelo, sponsor of the

Exes

The Exes Rodeo will follow the college rodeo, set for April 18-20 in the county coliseum. Exes who cannot compete but would like to volunteer to assist are asked to contact officers or executive committee members.

A team roping and barrel race for exes are also being planned for the afternoon of April 20.

Providing rodeo scholarships for WTC is the main purpose of the organization, with membership open to all former full-time WTC students, whether they participated in rodeo or not. A support group to be known as the Spurs is also to be formed. Spurs will be associate members of the Rodeo Exes Association and anyone interested in promoting the WTC rodeo program is invited to join.

Persons who join now will be recognized as charter members. Categories of membership are set up according to the amount of the donation. Donations of $501 to $1,000, for example, will entitle the donor to a Gold Spur designation along with a scholarship in the amount to the donor's name, a WTC rodeo cap and eight tickets to the exes rodeo. The Silver Spur donation of $201 to $500 entitles the donor to the cap and six tickets to the exes rodeo. Other categories begin at $5.

Information concerning the Rodeo Exes Association can be obtained by contacting any of the officers, WTC rodeo coach Bob Doty, or WTC student activities director Mickey Baird.

50 seniors sign up for class

About 50 senior citizens have signed up to study in one of two "55 Alive" driver training classes.

The first class will be held this Wednesday and Thursday. The second class will be held March 6 and 7. Each class meets daily from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1-2 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center.

The maximum number for each class is 30. The first week is almost filled. Several spots are open for the class in March. Cost for the course is $8. Most insurance companies will allow a discount on auto insurance for three years to all who complete the course.

Classes will be taught by Tom Ricklenon of Abilene and Laura Linaman of Roscoe.

Difficulty, which is a mechanical malpositioning of your spinal bones. The chiropractic manipulation — and the other methods I mentioned — may make you more comfortable by relieving muscle spasm.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Recently the drug company I work for has adopted a random drug-testing policy. Will they be able to detect marijuana in my system through urine testing and if so, how long will the drug reside in my body?

DEAR READER: The psychoactive ingredient in marijuana, tetrahydrocannabinol, can be measured in the urine. Traces of urinary THC can be detected up to three weeks after smoking the drug. More important, THC remains in the body much longer than a matter of weeks; it is stored in fatty tissue, especially in the brain and the reproductive tract, for years.

Therefore, while urinary excretion of THC may cease after a few weeks, the drug remains bound in the body's organs. The significance of this finding is unknown. As an example, experts are not sure if brain-bound THC continues to affect thinking and behavior. For this reason, I urge you to discontinue smoking marijuana; if you are unable to do so, I advise you to get help.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Help II — Mental/Substance Abuse." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

legislation approved Monday.

On July 4, 1989, animal rights activists broke into a Texas Tech sleep research laboratory, taking several cats. Equipment was damaged, windows broken and messages spray painted on the walls.

"If we can discourage people from doing something like this, we want to," Sims said.

"Everybody that's related to research has been lobbying about this one," Sims said.

Those who oppose using animals in research contend it inflicts pain and is used even when not necessary to achieve a medical breakthrough.

Sims said those who damage facilities can be prosecuted under current laws. But he said "his measure, which creates the specific criminal offense, is tougher."

Under his bill, it would be a Class A misdemeanor to enter an animal research facility without sent to the Abilene area prison, which is currently under construction. That 2,250-bed unit, the French Robertson Unit, is scheduled to open in May of 1992.

Thornton said classes in Abilene will be covered by current WTC full and part-time staff and no new personnel will be hired at this time.

Western had to gain approval to enter another service area. Cisco and Ranger, key members of the service area, gave their okay earlier this month. Monday, the Northwest Higher Education Council approved of the move, with the support of Vernon, Weatherford, Tarleton State University and Midwestern University.

The classes in Abilene will not affect local correctional officer training. Applications for the next WTC daytime academy in Snyder will become available March 18 with the class to begin April 22.

Desert Storm Update

DAY 41

Scud attack kills 28 Americans

DHAHRAN, Saudi Arabia (AP) — The soldiers' belongings were gathered from the debris of death and packed in their duffel bags.

The small American flags they waved when they arrived in Saudi Arabia were tucked into the tops of some of the bags that would accompany 28 of them on their final journey home.

In a moment's flash, a single Iraqi Scud missile inflicted more casualties on American soldiers than its million-man army and thousands of tanks have in two days of ground combat.

Only hours before Iraq announced it was withdrawing from Kuwait, it skyrocketed the ballistic weapon into a metal warehouse converted into an American barracks and mess hall.

Baghdad radio hailed the attack against "the coward traitors who mortgage the sacred places of the nation ... and turn Arab youth into shields of flesh."

The U.S. command said 28 American servicemen were killed and 100 were wounded Monday night in by far the deadliest of nearly 70 Scud attacks. Four Americans were reported killed and 21 wounded in the opening days of the allied ground drive into Iraq and Kuwait.

Most of Scuds, including an attack Monday on the island-nation of Bahrain, have been intercepted by U.S.-supplied Patriot defense missiles.

Iraq early today also fired its first Scud at Qatar, an Arab member of the multinational coalition. It crashed in a deserted area and no damage was reported, according to the official Qatari news agency.

George Manes, the Middle East bureau chief for the military newspaper Stars & Stripes, said an air-raid siren gave scant warning of the Scud that hit the barracks. Less than a minute after the sirens sounded, the missile broke apart in a shower of fire orange streaks, he reported.

The Scud broke up in flight and what appeared to be its warhead plunged into the building, which is 3 miles from a major U.S. air base, while many of the soldiers were eating and relaxing.

A single sign at the entrance marked it as the home of the 475th Quartermaster Group, a reserve unit from Farrell, Pa., north of Pittsburgh. But U.S. officials refused to say what unit was inside because relatives of victims had not been notified.

The explosion crumpled the building's girders. No Patriot missile was fired to intercept the Scud, said sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

A convoy of ambulances and medical evacuation helicopters carried away the wounded amid sirens that wailed non-stop through the night. A chaplain moved among the dead to pray for them and among the living to console them. Soldiers cried and embraced each other in anguish.

An Army soldier sat weeping near the skeleton of a building that a short time ago had been her home.

Nearby, a military policeman whispered something into the ear of a female colleague as she strapped her M-16 over her shoulder. She took a deep breath and said to no one in particular, "I have to prepare myself for this."

A bleary-eyed private walked past, his desert camouflage uniform rumpled and dirty, hair matted to his head, tears running down his left cheek.

"Try to take a break, man," a burly MP told him, offering a pat on the back.

Amidst the rubble, four pairs of boots poked out from under blankets. The charred floor was littered with sleeping bags, cots and military uniform belts. Near the body of one soldier was a letter addressed to a woman in Petersburg, Va. She would share his last moments of life.

Around the Gulf

On the third day of a huge U.S.-led allied ground offensive, President Saddam Hussein said Tuesday that Iraqi forces had begun withdrawing from Kuwait, the oil-rich emirate Iraq seized nearly seven months ago.

U.S. military officers said Iraqi troops in Kuwait were fleeing under allied assault, not conducting an organized withdrawal.

President Bush said the war will go on because the Iraqi leader, rather than yielding, is trying to regroup and preserve "the remnants of power." He said Saddam must agree to all 12 U.N. resolutions, especially to pay war reparations and renounce Iraq's declared annexation of Kuwait.

U.S., Saudi, Kuwait and Omani troops were reported to be beginning to enter Kuwait City and were being welcomed with waving Kuwaiti flags and blaring automobile horns.

More than 100,000 U.S. forces in Iraq surged north into Iraq and toward Saddam's Republican Guard in an effort to encircle Kuwait and block the elite unit from retreating toward Baghdad.

The casualty toll from a Scud missile that scored a direct hit Monday on a U.S. barracks in the eastern Saudi city of Dhahran rose to 28 dead. At the front, four American and six allied servicemen have been killed. Saudi officials said Iraqi POWs number more than 25,000.

The U.S. command said 18,000 Iraqi troops were taken prisoner in the first two days of the all-out ground offensive to free Kuwait of Iraq's control.

U.S. losses were "extremely light" — four Americans killed and 21 wounded, the U.S. command said. It also reported the loss of four U.S. aircraft, three of whose pilots were rescued.

Demands raised by White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush is raising his demands as allied troops plunge deeper into Iraq, saying Saddam Hussein must make a personal and public statement of defeat before allies will halt their attack.

The White House said Saddam must agree in particular that Iraq will pay war reparations and renounce its declared annexation of Kuwait.

"We ask him to be up front publicly and let the whole world know exactly what his intentions are," presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said.

Bush, speaking through Fitzwater on Monday night, dismissed a late Iraqi bid for a fighting withdrawal of its embattled troops from Kuwait and said there was no evidence the offer was genuine.

"We continue to prosecute the war. We have heard no reason to change that," Fitzwater said.

In New York, the U.N. Security Council met early today to consider Iraq's proposal to withdraw from Kuwait, after the Soviet Union presented a new initiative for a peaceful settlement of the Persian Gulf War. Details of the plan were not made public.

Bush met with his war advisers for 90 minutes late Monday to consider the Iraqi move. It came in a Baghdad radio report that Saddam had ordered his troops occupying Kuwait to "fight with force and courage to make their withdrawal organized and honorable."

After the White House meeting, Fitzwater read a statement that said, "The only way Saddam Hussein can persuade the coalition of the seriousness of his intentions would be for him personally and publicly to agree to the terms of the proposal we issued" before last weekend's ground assault.

The response marked the first time the United States has demanded a personal announcement from Saddam. Previously, it has said something authoritative must be presented at the United Nations.

Beyond personally accepting that proposal for total and unconditional withdrawal, Fitzwater said Saddam must "accept explicitly all relevant U.N. Security Council resolutions," especially those renouncing his declared annexation of Kuwait and calling for war compensation to Kuwait and others.

The White House invited Iraqi troops to lay down their arms.

"The statement out of Baghdad today says that Saddam Hussein's forces will fight their way out while retreating," Fitzwater said.

"We will not attack unarmed soldiers in retreat. But we will consider retreating combat units as a movement of war," he said.

Pentagon officials said they were trying to evaluate intelligence reports hinting of Iraqi movement north, but could not say whether the troops were retreating or simply repositioning.

Fitzwater said the allies have no evidence the Iraqis are in retreat. But he added: "We hope it's true. We want him to get out."

The apparent Iraqi request for respite from the allies' swift and broad attack came as U.S. military officials were counting the dead and wounded from a Scud missile strike on a U.S. Army barracks in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia. Fitzwater said the deaths "offer silent testimony to the intentions of Saddam Hussein."

The deadly Scud attack seemed to harden U.S. sentiment that the time had passed in which the Iraqi leader could be granted a cease-fire that would allow him to take his military equipment out of Kuwait and preserve what he could of his Iraqi war machine.

"There's no way you're going to have him get out of Kuwait and have a cease-fire if he's still shooting (Scuds) at Israel and Saudi Arabia," said Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Troops surprised by lack of fight

MINA AL ZOUR, Kuwait (AP) — To the advancing allied soldiers, the formidable "Saddam Line" seemed almost a pitiful farce, like finding a lone flimflam man behind the facade of the Wizard of Oz.

The coils of razor wire, oil-filled trenches and high berms, all peppered with deadly mines, were real enough. "There hasn't been a barrier like that since Stalingrad," said one U.S. Marine captain.

But, unlike Russian troops holding off Hitler's men in World War II, many of Iraq's first-tier legions turned and fled or simply gave up.

For months, allied troops dreaded Saddam Hussein's much-vaunted chemical weapons. When the assault came, the only reported evidence of their use was a trace of poison gas from an exploded land mine.

"I was very surprised at how little resistance there was," said Maj. Robert Schoenwetter, a U.S. Marine who directed air naval gunfire at any Iraqi armor or artillery that showed itself.

He spoke near a burnt-out truck stop near this desert settlement 40 miles south of Kuwait City.

The road to Kuwait was littered with evidence of the five-week air war: charred hulks of tanks and trucks, deep craters, twisted metal protruding from collapsed bunkers.

The remains of a low-boy tank carrier was jackknifed across the blacktop highway, which had been sliced deeply at intervals to stop an allied advance.

A system of pipes to bring oil to the defensive moats was mangled. Berms were breached and bridged.

Tanks of explosive propane gas lined the road at regular intervals, but no one had stayed behind to detonate them.

"They did not fight much, and none of our friends had casualties," said Col. Palal al-Johany, commander of the Saudi battalion that recaptured the border town of Khafji last month.

"The Iraqis have maybe three days' more fight in them," he said. "Their morale is going down. They do not want to have war anymore."

Oil firm is hiring

HOUSTON (AP) — Saudi Arabian Oil Co. wants to hire 1,000 new workers this year as part of their plans to boost production capacity to 10 million barrels a day by 1995, five years ahead of schedule because of uncertainty surrounding the Persian Gulf War.

Saudi Aramco said Monday they are advertising for engineers, nurses, helicopter pilots and other workers.

"We're recruiting everybody it takes to run an oil company and a community associated with it," said Bill Tracy, spokesman for Aramco Services Co., the Houston subsidiary of Saudi Aramco, which handles recruiting and purchasing of goods and services.

Tracy said Saudi Arabia wants to be prepared in case it needs to pump up its oil production after the war to help meet the world's needs as Iraq and Kuwait undergo reconstruction before returning to the oil markets.

Aramco hired only about 300 workers last year, Tracy said.

Today, Saudi Aramco is producing about 8 million barrels a day. The company, which is running national advertisements for workers, has gotten a strong response, Tracy said.

Bagdad radio...

Following is the text of Bagdad Radio's announcement aired on Saddam Hussein's order to his troops to withdraw from Kuwait. It was translated by the Associated Press.

IN THE NAME OF GOD, the almighty, the compassionate: Our armed forces have completed their duty of Jihad, of rejecting compliance with the logic of evil, force and aggression. They have been engaged in an epic, valiant battle which will be recorded by history in letters of light.

The leadership had stressed its acceptance to withdraw in accordance with U.N. Security Council Resolution 660 when it agreed to the Soviet peace proposal. On this basis, and in compliance with this decision, orders were issued to the armed forces for an organized withdrawal to the positions in which they were before the 1st of August 1990.

This is regarded as a practical compliance with Resolution 660.

The spokesman emphasized that our forces, which have proved their fighting and steadfastness ability, will confront any attempt to attack them while implementing the withdrawal order.

They will fight with force and courage to make their withdrawal organized and honorable.

The Iraqi News Agency has learned that the foreign minister informed the Soviet ambassador of this decision, which constitutes a compliance with the U.N. Security Council's Resolution 660. The foreign minister asked that a message be conveyed from leader President Saddam Hussein and the Revolutionary Command Council to President Gorbachev requesting him to exert efforts at the U.N. Security Council to achieve a cease-fire and put an end to the criminal behavior of the United States and its allies and collaborators.
