Ask Us

Q—Will Western Texas College hold basketball camps for boys and girls this summer?

A—Yes. Although the dates have not been set, the camps are expected to be held in June. Women's coach Kelly Chadwick will direct camp for girls, and either he or the new men's coach will direct the boys.

In Brief

Roof collapses

LAKE JACKSON, Texas (AP) — Authorities say heavy rainfall apparently caused a portion of a roof to collapse at a discount retail store here early today.

Two employees inside the Service Merchandise store at Lake Jackson Mall escaped unharmed when a 41-foot-by-55-foot section of the roof caved in around 7:45 a.m., said Steve Schultz, Lake Jackson assistant fire chief.

The store was not yet opened for business.

Still on ballot

AUSTIN (AP) — An Austin mayoral candidate, who says he is a reformed Mafia hit man living under the federal Witness Protection Program, might remain on the May 4 election ballot, a city official says.

John Johnson, 53, one of eight candidates running in the election, disclosed his past at a news conference Wednesday at the Capitol.

He said he was born in Newark, N.J., as John Patrick Tully and worked for years in the Newark-based Campisi crime family.

Local

Immunization

There will be no immunization clinic Tuesday at Scurry County Health Unit.

PHSA meets

The West Texas Chapter 9 of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association, Inc. will meet for lunch and a business meeting at 12:30 p.m. Saturday at the Golden Corral.

Bake sale

Union Baptist Church Royal Ambassadors will hold a bake sale Saturday at Wal-Mart, beginning at 9 a.m.

Proceeds will help the boys attend camp.

Workday

The Operation Storm support group has scheduled a workday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at the National Guard Armory.

Volunteers are needed to help prepare banners and other items for the May 18 parade in honor of Operation Desert Shield and Desert Storm troops.

Atlantis blasts off

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Atlantis thundered into orbit today with five astronauts and an immense observatory that will stalk the hottest, most powerful rays in the heavens. Spewing flame from twin booster rockets, the shuttle roared from its seaside launch pad at 9:23 a.m. EST. It cleared the tower and headed out over the Atlantic Ocean.

The sky was cloudy after a morning of rain. The weather made the launch five minutes late.

The rockets burned for two minutes and dropped empty into the Atlantic about 130 miles downrange, where ships were waiting to pick them up. The 100-ton shuttle reached orbit 6½ minutes later on the thrust of its three main engines.

Except for the failure of one of several thrusters during ascent, a minor problem that was not expected to affect the flight, "all systems aboard Atlantis appear to be performing exceptionally well," said Mission Control's Jeff Carr.

It was the 39th launch of a shuttle and the first of 1991, after a hiatus of four months. Gone were worries over tiny cracks in a door-opening mechanism of Atlantis that had grounded another shuttle. The two doors on the belly of the orbiter shut tightly after the fuel tank dropped off, Carr said.

The main event of the 39th shuttle flight, which will last five days, is the release of the Gamma Ray Observatory. Mission commander Steven Nagel and his crew of four will place the spacecraft in a 279-mile-high orbit on Sunday.

On Monday, astronauts Jerry Ross and Jay Apt are scheduled to take the first space walk by Americans in more than five years. They are to spend six hours in the open cargo bay testing equipment that would be needed to build a space station.

Also during the mission, pilot Kenneth Cameron and other astronauts will use a ham radio to contact schoolchildren and other amateur radio operators around the world. They also hope to reach cosmonauts aboard the Soviet space station Mir.

Guilty pleas net 20-year sentences

Two men were sentenced to 20-year prison terms by 132nd District Judge Gene Dulaney at Scurry County Courthouse Thursday.

A 30-year-old former Snyder man pled guilty to the Feb. 22 burglary of a building and was sentenced to 20 years in Texas Department of Criminal Justice. Maverick Josh Dawson, who now lists a Kermit address, and his 32-year-old brother, Anthony Shane Dawson, were identified by local law enforcement authorities in a crime spree which began in November of 1990 and continued until they were apprehended in other counties.

Both were indicted on separate burglary charges by a Scurry County grand jury Monday.

The older Dawson remains in custody in Midland on other felony charges.

Also receiving a 20-year sentence was Gary Lydell Arnold, 33, of Snyder after pleading guilty to the June 19 delivery of a controlled substance, heroin. Arnold was also indicted on the charge earlier this week.

Receiving seven-year probated terms were David Guerrero, 18, for the Jan. 27 burglary of a vehicle and Yvonne Mills, 19, for the Jan. 15 burglary of a habitation.

Escape is reinacted by 'Mysteries' crew

By MISSY TRULL
SDN Staff Writer

For a few hours Thursday Hollywood came to Snyder as a film crew from "Unsolved Mysteries" visited the community to shoot scenes for an upcoming segment highlighting the escape of a Price Daniel Unit inmate last summer.

The June 20 escape of inmate Travis Dale Gray will be featured in a 10 minute segment of the show, to be aired at an undetermined date.

"The crime had to have an interesting twist (to be chosen for the show)," said the program's producer Mike Palazzolo.

"Here is a man convicted of the murder of his wife. He says it happened one way; the evidence says otherwise," Palazzolo added that details such as Gray's girlfriend, now his wife, and insurance policies add to the story's entertainment value.

The 31-year-old Gray escaped from the prison last June by hiding in a state prison furniture truck, authorities contend.

The truck was discovered just before 11 p.m. the same day at Abilene's Kiva Inn, where the driver had stopped to stay the night. A hole had been cut in the roof of the truck's trailer where a white prison-issued shirt was found.

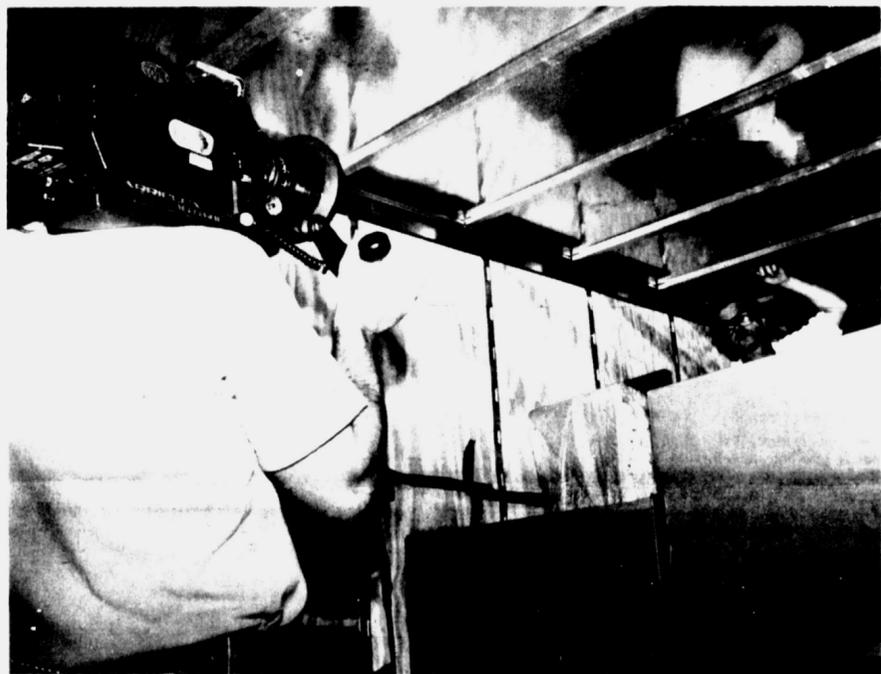

At the time of his escape, Gray was serving a 40-year sentence for the June 23, 1988, strangulation-drowning death of his first wife Tammy.

Gray had told authorities he had pulled his wife from Colorado City Lake when she was brought to the emergency room of the Colorado City hospital, where she died a short time later.

An autopsy later revealed she was the victim of strangulation and drowning. Gray was convicted of murder in March 1990.

Testimony during the trial supported law enforcement officials' theory that Gray had killed his wife in order to claim money from life insurance policies.

The initial search for Gray centered around Big Spring where his current wife, Melissa, was living at the time. Weeks (see ESCAPE, page 8)

Jaycees hold annual banquet this evening

Past Texas Jaycee president Larry Latham will be among the special guests at the Snyder Jaycees Banquet, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today in the National Guard Armory.

The banquet will include awards presentations and the presentation of new officers.

Tickets are $10 each and include a meal and dance.

Featured speaker for the event will be Marvin Longabaugh of the Richardson Jaycees. Longabaugh is the 1989-90 Texas Jaycees Speak-up winner and runner-up at the national convention.

Awards to be presented include Jaycee of the Year, Most Improved Jaycees and the Distinguished Service Award. Other awards include officer awards and a project of the year award.

Community awards include the Community Leader awards, for outstanding business involvement in the community; and Boss of the Year, an award presented to an employer who supports Jaycees by sponsoring members and providing the donation of items for projects.

Rudy Garza is the local chapter president.

Applicator training scheduled next week

A licensed private applicator training and testing has been scheduled for Thursday on the Western Texas College campus.

The training will begin at 8 a.m. in the Academic Science Building video room and should conclude about noon.

Producers who wish to participate should contact the Scurry County Extension Office at 573-5423 by Tuesday.

Representatives of the Texas Department of Agriculture will be on hand to administer a test following the training.

A licensed private applicator is defined as a person who uses or supervises the use of restricted-use or state limited-use pesticides for the purpose of producing an agricultural commodity. To complete requirements for the license, one must view an extension service slide/tape presentation and must take and pass a 100-question test with a grade of 70 or above.

Many producers may already be classified as certified private applicators. These licenses were issued prior to Dec. 31, 1989. Certified private applicators are authorized to use restricted-use or state limited-use pesticides but are not authorized to supervise use of these pesticides.

Those with certified private applicator licenses issued prior to Jan. 10, 1991, have until Dec. 31, 1995, to fulfill requirements to become a licensed private applicator. Those with certified private applicator licenses issued between Jan. 10, 1989, and Dec. 31, 1989, will be required to become a licensed private applicator by Dec. 31, 1994.

City, county pact discussed during Thursday workshop

Scurry County commissioners and Snyder City Council members discussed services related to their intragovernmental contract during a work session Thursday.

The two entities are involved in an intragovernmental contract in which the county pays the city $100,000 in exchange for services.

The $100,000 figure was agreed upon by city and county officials in 1984. Now the two local governments are working to update the cost of services provided by each to arrive at what they call a more "tangible" figure.

The city provides fire protection and landfill services for county residents. In turn, the county provides seal-coating and jail services and maintains the coliseum and local parks.

The cost of ambulance services is shared by the two.

Mayor Troy Williamson presented the group with a breakdown of city and county tax rolls prepared by Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler. Williamson said he would like to formulate costs of services based on the figures presented in the tax rolls.

"Most of the county taxes, excluding oil and commercial, are paid by residents of the city," said Williamson. "There has to be — to be fair — consideration for that."

During the work session, it was noted the equipment agreement had been beneficial for both the city and county.

City and county officials agreed to compile a list outlining services or potential services each can provide and to present them at the next meeting.

Attending the work session were Mayor Williamson and council members Jackie Greene, Mike Thornton and Jack Denman. County representatives included Judge Bob Doolittle and commissioners C.D. Gray Jr., Roy Idom and Jerry Gannaway.

Absent were council members Joe Coronado, Paul Zeck and Ernest Tippens and Commissioner Duaine Davis.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Those who have great aim in life must also know how to pull the trigger."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

Reform of the school finance system has been in the news for months. Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press Reporter, says the real issue is not getting sufficient attention.

Buckel claims the root of woes in the educational process is "parents."

"No one argues the point that school children should have the opportunity for a good education. But big dollars don't guarantee education. Some of the nation's finest minds came from one-room rural school houses and a dedicated teacher and supportive parents.

"You can carpet the classrooms, put in 22 computers, have three aides and everything else that money can buy, and still turn out a miserable lot of students.

"Education starts in the home. Without parental guidance and encouragement, no teacher, however brilliant and dedicated, can turn out students with a desire to achieve.

"Unfortunately in Texas and perhaps in many states, a large number of parents couldn't care less. The mindset seems to be to let the schools do the teaching, administer the discipline and everything else that goes into rearing a child.

"When parents realize education begins at home — that there must be motivation, encouragement and interest on the part of parents — then we have a start toward a good public school system.

"Texas needs to improve on education. But most of all, Texas needs to improve on parents. When parents...start thinking of reading, writing and arithmetic rather than how many videos we watch this weekend — then Texas education will have a chance.

"Education begins at home. We don't need more money, we need more homes."

Gene Dow, in the Seminole Sentinel, reported the Texas Research League found that the average student spends approximately 3.5 hours a week doing homework and 25 hours a week watching TV.

Small hog farmers lose out to big operations

WASHINGTON (AP) — In less than 40 years, the nation's small hog farmers have been rooted out by larger operators who are becoming bigger and more specialized than ever, an Agriculture Department economist says.

Fewer than 100,000 farms account for about 90 percent of the U.S. hog inventory, said Felix Spinelli of the department's Economic Research Service. And fewer than 11,000 of those account for 42 percent.

The trend is not new, nor should it come as a surprise to those who have seen huge hog operations spring up over the years. But the statistics of change still are impressive.

In 1954, for example, the United States had about 2.4 million hog producers. One-fourth of these had only four hogs per farm. But those accounted for 4 percent of all hogs.

The largest producers — one-fifth of the total — averaged 66 hogs per farm and produced more than 56 percent of the nation's hogs. Overall, the U.S. average in 1954 was 24 hogs per farm.

Spinelli said in the April issue of Farline magazine that by 1964, producers selling 1,000 or more head per year provided 7 percent of total hog production. And by 1979, those larger producers accounted for 40 percent.

The trend continued in the 1980s, with the number of hog producers declining to 346,890 in 1987 from 640,000 in 1980.

As past studies have shown, Spinelli said, the advantage of "economies of size" fell to the large operations.

Those economies included pounds of hogs produced per litter, pigs farrowed and weaned per litter, litters produced and pigs weaned per female per year, death loss, weight of hogs sold and pounds of concentrate feeds required for each 100 pounds of production.

Among the largest farrow-to-finish operation, total costs of production generally were $15 to $20 lower per hundredweight of sales, on a long-term basis, than the smallest birth-to-market hog farms.

For those operations that bought feeder pigs to fatten, or finish, for the market, volume feed purchasing and other economies also reduced production costs.

"Larger hog finishers realize economies from increased production efficiencies and output price advantages, mainly from year-round marketings compared to seasonal marketings for smaller producers," Spinelli said.

Concentration also has occurred in the packing industry, he said. In 1989, although there were more than 1,100 plants slaughtering hogs in the United States, 33 of them accounted for 76 percent of the total U.S. hog slaughter.

Two dozen of these plants each slaughtered more than 1.5 million hogs per year.

Meanwhile, Spinelli said, these changes have occurred in the face of a "relatively flat" per capita rate of pork consumption by Americans, as measured on a boneless equivalent basis.

Spinelli said the stagnant per capita pork consumption rate over time has been attributed partly to pork's "blue-collar" image among consumers.

Although total pork consumption has increased, its share of U.S. meat and poultry consumption has declined over the years.

Company charges finders fee

DALLAS (AP) — An Austin company is offering to help Texans recover money they are owed by a "public agency" for a price.

Funds Recovery Inc. offers to provide forms needed to get the money. In return, the firm charges the person half of the first refund received.

The activities of Funds Recovery are legal, authorities said. But in most cases consumers can search for unclaimed funds from local, state and federal agencies for free.

State Treasurer Kay Bailey Hutchison said the company is apparently offering assistance in collecting county money owed through homestead exemptions.

State law prohibits companies from charging a finders fee of more than 10 percent for state money. There is no limit for assistance with county funds, however.

The Funds Recovery letter says the money is not from the state treasury or the Internal Revenue Service. The letter said recipients can direct questions except the name of the agency to representatives at a toll-free number.

Several attempts to call the number by The Associated Press Thursday were met with a busy signal.

The Dallas Times Herald reported that a representative at the number said "We can't be real specific" when asked the source of the money.

Richard Andro, president of Funds Recovery, told The Dallas Morning News that the firm is doing a service to consumers who do not know the refunds exist.

Dr. Gott By Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Would you please discuss emphysema? I am the sole caretaker of my 58-year-old cousin and need to know what to expect.

DEAR READER: Emphysema is a chronic lung disease marked by destruction of the alveolar air sacs, the tiny compartments in the lungs where oxygen and carbon dioxide exchange takes place.

The lungs are really a huge, thin membrane that permits gasses to pass between the air and the bloodstream. By dividing this membrane into innumerable, microscopic pockets, Nature has provided far more surface area for gas exchange than would be possible with a single membranous sheet. Thus, the lungs are a natural marvel because they contain square yards of active membrane, compressed into a relatively small space. This results in an extremely efficient system of gas exchange within a limited area.

Emphysema destroys this efficiency. The disease is produced by infection and/or pulmonary irritants that break down the walls of the alveolar sacs, causing them to collapse and coalesce, which reduces breathing efficiency.

In the presence of emphysema, the lungs become over-filled with stale air, which is trapped in large, inefficient pouches called bullae. These bullae prevent oxygen from entering the bloodstream, as they expand, they also press on surrounding lung tissue, further reducing breathing capacity.

Therefore, emphysema patients are usually breathless at rest because they cannot obtain enough oxygen or expel enough waste carbon dioxide. Of course, any exercise merely aggravates the situation, so severe emphysema usually leads to marked pulmonary disability.

Emphysema patients also tend to have "barrel chests" because the rib cage expands to accommodate the accumulation of trapped, stale air. Eventually, emphysema leads to the consequences of low blood-oxygen, such as heart failure, mental deterioration and, at the end, respiratory failure.

Although the damage from emphysema is irreparable and incurable, the destruction of lung tissue can be arrested: Patients must stop smoking (the major cause of emphysema) and avoid air pollution (which can further damage the lungs). In my experience, patients who adopt these measures often experience a significant improvement in breathing, probably because avoidance of air pollution reduces mucus production and plugging in the remaining, functional pulmonary tissue.

Furthermore, treatment of emphysema itself is beneficial. This includes special breathing exercises, antibiotics to eradicate infection and supplemental oxygen delivered through a plastic hose to prongs placed in the nostrils.

In caring for your cousin, you can expect that he or she will need a lot of help in coping with the disease. The patient should follow the doctor's instructions, remain as independent as possible, stop smoking, avoid "passive" smoking, use medicines and oxygen as prescribed, and make every effort to avoid respiratory infections, which will worsen emphysema.

Something that you've hoped for in the past but were unable to attain might be reachable in the year ahead. However, this endeavor will have to be constantly monitored.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If you place a higher price tag on your wares than they're really worth, you won't find takers for what you have to offer today. This should be true in both esthetic and material areas. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) A critical decision you'll make today is apt to be the right one, but after discussing it with another, you may alter your judgment based on unrealistic advice. Think for yourself.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In a business dealing today, you could make an arrangement with someone who doesn't have the authority to cut the deal but who might make the commitment anyway. Be sure you know what you're doing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone who made you a promise may not be able to deliver on it. Furthermore, this individual won't know how to break the news and save face at the same time.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be careful today, or a third party — one who is not a factor in your arrangement — may cause some unnecessary complications in a matter that should be handled solely by those directly involved.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a possibility today that the little green imp of jealousy may tantalize you a bit, causing you to be overly possessive of someone you love. Don't let him have his way.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A disagreement might arise between you and your mate over something silly today. It could cause both of you to evaluate the situation from an emotional perspective rather than a realistic one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You are not a timid person, but self-doubts could cause you to behave ineffectively today in a situation where bolder measures are required. Get back in character.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You are not a good collector when it comes to retrieving what is owed to you by another. Don't be a Scrooge today, but, by the same token, don't let this rascal get away with anything.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Failing to include a sensitive buddy in social plans you're presently contemplating with other friends will hurt this individual's feelings. Don't inadvertently slight this pal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A favor that someone offers to do for you today may have strings attached to it. Before accepting, be certain that it's worth the cost.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you prematurely tip your hand today regarding your ideas and intentions, someone else may profit more from your creations than you will. Keep your thoughts to yourself.

Mayoral candidate remembered as mobster

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The mayoral candidate in Texas who confessed to being a former Mafia hit-man has some New Jersey authorities laughing back to the time he surrendered to them naked, with a bible in his hand.

Others could not believe John Patrick Tully, who pleaded guilty to murder in 1975, was seriously being considered for public office.

After more than a dozen years in hiding, the 53-year-old Tully surfaced Wednesday as John Johnson, owner of a hot dog and fajita vending business and Austin mayoral hopeful.

Draped in an American flag, Johnson held a press conference to say he had been given the new identity in 1975 in return for testimony against the Campisi crime family in Newark.

Edwin Stier, who was director of the New Jersey Division of Criminal Justice in the 1970s, said the candidacy stirred up his memories of "a professional killer for a very dangerous organized crime group."

"People tend to focus on his eccentricities and tend to forget he was a killer," Stier said Thursday. "He became a colorful character."

Other New Jersey authorities recalled the flamboyant Tully of yesteryear when he returned from being a fugitive in South America.

"I heard he came off the plane naked," said Stanley Kallmann, an assistant U.S. attorney at the time.

"He arrived someplace naked and with a bible in his hand so nobody could say he had a gun," said Kallmann, now a private attorney in Roseland.

So Kallmann was not surprised that Tully, a Harrison native who had entered the Witness Protection Program, would give away his secret now that he was a mayoral candidate alleging election.

Johnson accused police of punching and choking him, and breaking his thumb while in custody in 1987. He said he was forced to reveal his past to stop continued harassment for being a former gangster.

"I joined the mayoral race because I was in fear for my life," he said. "If they're going to hit me, they're going to hit me out in the limelight."

Austin police have denied the accusations.

Johnson is among eight candidates preparing for the May 4

"I'd like to know where I can make a contribution," said Tully's former attorney, Michael Marucci.

He laughed at the thought of the hit-man he knew running for mayor.

"The idea, of course, that somebody in the federal protection program would run for office is pretty funny," said Marucci, now a state defender in Passaic County. "I suppose it would be funnier if he were actually elected."

Texas attorney to fight grand jury bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Prosecutors will fight a bill that would allow a witness's lawyer into a grand jury room, if specifically allowed by the grand jury, says a spokesman for the Texas District and County Attorneys Association.

The provision on lawyers was added by the House Thursday to a bill by Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston. The measure now goes to the Senate.

"We just kind of feel like we were played for dupes," said Danny Hill, Potter County district attorney and secretary-treasurer of the association.

"It's not that the amendment is so bad," he said, but, "we don't know whose word we can trust."

Hill said he worked with lawmakers who wanted to change the grand jury process on a compromise measure that was tentatively passed Wednesday by the House.

As filed, Ms. Thompson's bill would have allowed lawyers to accompany witnesses before a grand jury.

However, it was changed to only require that an indicted person's grand jury testimony be recorded.

Hill said Thursday's amendment was not cleared with him. The bill now goes to the Senate.

"No question we'll work against the bill in the Senate. They have totally violated the agreement," Hill said.

The amendment by Rep. Robert Eckels, R-Houston, was accepted by Ms. Thompson.

Ms. Thompson and Eckels left the Capitol for their districts Thursday, after the House adjourned for the weekend.

There was no answer Thursday afternoon at Ms. Thompson's district office, and Eckels did not immediately answer a message left with his Capitol staff to telephone The Associated Press.

Eckels' amendment specified that the lawyer would be allowed into the grand jury room only for consultation. Hill said a number of district attorneys now give the grand jury that option, but some object to putting the provision into law.

"What it means is they make another step forward. It lets the troops move up another 10 yards, so they've got their foot in the door to go ahead and totally destroy the grand jury system," he said.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle had suggested the original bill by Ms. Thompson was aimed at him. He criticized the changes made in the bill.

Earle is heading an investigation into alleged influence peddling in the Legislature. A grand jury in that probe has indicted House Speaker Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, on two misdemeanor counts of alleged ethics violations. Lewis has denied any wrongdoing.

Bentsen: Texas farmers are still waiting for new crop regulations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crop regulations proposed on the eve of the spring planting season and the winter wheat harvest could seriously disadvantage farmers in Texas and other states with an early-planting season, said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

But Keith Bjerke, administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, says the proposals are just that — proposals, and that the actual regulations could be published next week.

"It's hard to say changes have been made until we've seen the final rule," Bjerke said Thursday.

Bentsen, D-Texas, says USDA has gone beyond modifying farm law based on 1990 legislation to proposing significant changes "that were not expected and are not required by law. ... In some areas, USDA even proposed major rules changes where no changes at all were made in the law."

Farmers, however, made their planting decisions on the assumption that the only major changes would be those ordered by Congress when it passed the 1990 farm bill, Bentsen said.

Cotton farmers in Texas have already prepared to plant this year's crop. But if the regulations are altered significantly now, Bentsen said they will have wasted much money and effort.

"Many farmers have told me that it will be very difficult and expensive for them if they are forced to comply with these unexpected regulatory changes after they have already plowed and put down costly herbicide," Bentsen said Wednesday in Anson.

Bjerke said Bentsen's concerns were considered during the drafting of the final rules, and that the intent of last year's law was the basis for the regulations.

"It's not possible to take a thousand-page farm bill, take it to the county offices, and say here's the law. We have to boil that down to handbooks, regulations and information to producers so everyone knows what the rules are to follow the law," Bjerke said.

Bentsen said USDA should consider delaying any significant changes in planting regulations until next year, so farmers would have time to adjust.

The final regulations will be published months after the deadline for various crops. The cotton program was to have been announced Nov. 1, while the wheat program was supposed to have been announced June 1, the feed grain program by Sept. 30, and the rice program by Jan. 31, Bentsen said.

Because the farm bill was not enacted until after some of those deadlines passed, farmers assumed they would largely continue to operate under existing regulations this year.

Bentsen said he was opposed to unnecessary changes in farm program rules after farmers have either already planted or have made irrevocable commitments to plant.

"I don't think the bankers, the seed, fertilizer and implement dealers, the landlords and others who rely on farmers' business are two thrilled about that idea, either," Bentsen said.

In a letter to Bjerke, Bentsen complained "substantive changes beyond those absolutely necessary by law would severely disadvantage farmers in Texas and other early-planting states."

In the letter, released Thursday, Bentsen also said that using the agriculture secretary's discretionary authority to "needlessly add to the regulatory burden of farmers would be outrageous and uncalled for under these circumstances."

D for danger

By Phillip Alder

There are people who love to live dangerously: spies, test pilots, hockey goalies, some bridge declarers. Others, like spy masters, airplane engineers and hockey referees, prefer a quieter life.

Into which category do you fall? Place your thumbs over the East-West cards and decide upon your line of play in four spades. West leading the five of clubs in answer to his partner's overcall.

Someone who likes to walk on the wild side will go down. Despite the two-level vulnerable overcall, he will play low from the dummy at trick one. After winning with the king, East has two winning defenses. He can return the jack of clubs, giving partner his ruff and at the same time making a suit-preference signal for a heart return. Alternatively East can switch to the king of hearts. Declarer must lose a trick in each suit when the spades break badly.

A spy master, i.e., a cautious declarer, will analyze the situation accurately. He will realize that he must get the diamond suit going, and that he must anticipate that the defender with the ace of diamonds will duck for one round. He rises with dummy's club ace, cashes the spade ace and leads a spade back to his queen. Next comes the diamond king, ducked by West, and another diamond. West wins with the ace and switches to a heart, but declarer wins with the ace, crosses to dummy with a trump, and plays off the three diamond winners. West ruffs the last of these, but by then declarer has discarded three of his four losers and the contract is made.

Howard College Rodeo...

Tibbs nabs saddle bronc lead

BIG SPRING — Saddle bronc riding turned out to be the strong event for Western Texas College as the Westerners placed a pair of competitors in the top five in the opening performance of the Howard College Rodeo here Thursday night.

WTC talent Shawn Tibbs rode to a 72 in the event to tie Howard cowboy Shane Criswell for first place after one round and Shane Gulbrandsen grabbed fourth for Western Texas with his 66 saddle bronc ride.

Renee Dollar of Burselon led the women's team from WTC with a pair of second place finishes Thursday.

Dollar scooted to a 4.3 time in breakaway roping and notched a 12.2 clocking in goat tying.

Raiders set to choose coach

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech will likely name a new basketball coach early next week, Athletic Director T. Jones said.

Jones said he would have preferred to name a coach sooner, but he has been unable to discuss the finalists with school President Robert W. Lawless, who recently criticized Jones' search as being too narrow.

"I have tried to get in and talk with him (Lawless)," Jones said. "But I understand his schedule is very tight and that he will not be back in town until Tuesday."

Jones has been looking for a coach since Gerald Myers was dismissed March 13 after four consecutive losing seasons.

Jones took issue with Lawless' comments that the search was not extensive enough.

"I think the days of an athletic director running his own domain are over, not that T. Jones has ever taken that tact," Lawless told the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

"Our board has the right to ask of me, 'Are you certain we've conducted an extensive search to find the best person for Tech?' I have to be in a position to say we have."

Other WTC cowboys in Thursday's rodeo included bareback rider Eric Mouton, who missed his spur-out, and bull rider Stacy Jennings who was bucked off.

Tonight's WTC entrants include Lisa Meloy and Jeff Johnson and Creed Johnson teaming up with Vernon Regional Junior College cowpoke Cory Wagenson in team roping, Russell Merchant, Brad Loesch and Scott Berger in calf roping and steer wrestling, and roughstock specialist Benji Fontenot in bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding.

Meloy will also compete in breakaway roping and Jennifer Lee is set to run the barrel race and is entered in breakaway roping and goat tying.

The rodeo's long go continues tonight and Saturday with 7:30 p.m. shows.

The finals are scheduled for Sunday at 1:30 p.m. and will feature the top ten times and scores in each event.

NBA roundup...

Jordan leads Bulls' comeback

by The Associated Press
A team mired in a 24-point second-period deficit — especially one graced by Michael Jordan — shouldn't be counted out.

Those points can always be made up. But in 11:43? That's exactly what happened Thursday night when the Chicago Bulls beat the New York Knicks 101-91.

"We always have confidence that we can come back, but you start to wonder when you get behind 24 or 25 points," Bulls coach Phil Jackson said.

"It was surprising..." said Jordan, who scored 34 points, including 25 in the second half.

After leading by as many as 24 points in the second quarter, the Knicks settled for a 62-44 halftime advantage.

Then along came Jordan. He personally matched the Knicks' third-quarter output as the Bulls rallied to outscore New York 30-12 in the period, during which they tied the game 70-70 on the strength of a 39-15 surge.

Elsewhere in the NBA, it was Boston 123, New Jersey 104; Charlotte 98, Atlanta 91; Portland 105, Washington 96; Minnesota 134, Denver 122; San Antonio 105, Milwaukee 101, and the Los Angeles Lakers 102, Phoenix 98.

Trail Blazers 105, Bulls 96
Clyde Drexler scored 25 points and had 10 of Portland's 30 at the free throw line.

Portland took 29 more free throws (40-11) and was whistled for 10 fewer fouls. As the game wore on, referee Steve Javie ejected Bulls Darrell Walker and Pervis Ellison as well as Washington coach Wes Unseld.

John Williams scored 24 points for the Bulls and Ellison had 17 points and 11 rebounds.

Spurs 105, Bucks 101
David Robinson scored 28 of his 35 points in the second half to rally San Antonio.

The Bucks led 98-94 with 1:36 left, but Robinson made a three-point play and Willie Anderson followed with a basket with 48.5 seconds remaining to give the Spurs their first lead of the game at 99-98.

Anderson finished with 22 points. Jay Humphries paced the Bucks with 20 points.

Lakers 102, Suns 98

James Worthy scored 20 of his 26 points in a one-sided first half and Los Angeles averted a second-half collapse to beat Phoenix, which never led.

Kevin Johnson paced the Suns with 33 points and 12 assists.

Celtics 123, Nets 104

Larry Bird scored eight of his 14 points in a 24-10 surge that ended the first half.

Levelland to host loop golf tourney

LEVELLAND — District 2-4A golf teams, including the Tigers and Lady Tigers from Snyder High School, will meet here Saturday for the Levelland stop of the loop tour.

Snyder's boys, currently in third place within the loop, captured third at last week's Lamesa tournament behind sophomore Brad Jacobi's 80, while the league-leading Lady Tigers took first at Lamesa with the top three individual scores coming from SHS.

The Snyder girls, Class 4A runners-up a season ago, carded a 396 to win the Lamesa tourney. They finished 20 strokes better than Levelland's second-place 416. Snyder's JV took third with a 421.

Kim Duncan, who turned in a 91 as medalist last week, and Amy Armstrong are tied for the top individual score of the season with identical 180s.

Snyder teammate Wendy Miller is third at 185. The Lady Tigers boast a season-total of 765, 88 strokes better than Levelland's 853 in second.

Snyder's boys are resting in third position in District 2-4A with a two-match total of 702 on the books.

The Tigers trail Levelland's 683 and a 692 from Lamesa in the overall standings.

Jacobi is in second place in the medalist rankings after registering rounds of 82 in Snyder and 80 in Lamesa for a 162 total.

He trails Lance Patton of Levelland who has notched a 152 season score on rounds of 75 and 77.

The Tigers and Lady Tigers will be at Elmwood Golf Course in Lubbock next week as Frenship hosts the final event of the campaign.

Snyder to entertain Dunbar in 2-4A tilt

The Snyder Tigers will make their District 2-4A home debut today at 7 p.m. against the Dunbar Panthers.

Snyder currently holds a 1-1 mark in loop contests after notching a 4-1 victory over Levelland Tuesday behind a 5-inning, 1-hit performance by starting pitcher Terry Stephens and two innings of almost flawless relief by Wacy Parks.

Senior Shelby Bufkin supplied enough offense to win the contest with a 2-out double in the fourth inning that scored Brian Crawford and Les Rinehart, who had both reached on singles.

The Tigers, now 5-13 on the season, will start junior David Patrick, whose fastball has been clocked at 86 mph, and go to set-up man Crawford should the need arise in the middle innings.

Parks would be Snyder's closer. Dunbar is winless in two loop starts this season losing to Estacado, 19-5, and Lamesa, 7-2.

In other district matchups tonight, Levelland, coming off the loss to the Tigers takes on Frenship, 12-7 winners over Estacado Tuesday, and Lamesa, holding a 2-0 loop record, hosts Estacado.

Barone applies for vacant Aggie job

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Tony Barone says he's got a great job at Creighton, but the vacant head basketball coach's position at Texas A&M was something he had to investigate.

Barone interviewed with the Aggies Thursday. He is one of several candidates being considered for the post left vacant by the forced resignation of Kermit Davis on March 15.

"This is the first time I've been to College Station and I've been impressed," Barone said in a statement released by the university. "This is a large university, but there is a closeness, a flavor to it and I've felt comfortable today."

"I have a great job at Creighton University," he added, "but this is an opportunity I felt I had to investigate."

Pearson chooses Arena assistants

DALLAS (AP) — New Dallas Texans coach Drew Pearson has selected three assistant coaches: offensive coordinator Mike Trigg; defensive coordinator John Fontes; and special teams coordinator Aaron Mitchell.

Trigg, 25, was quarterback in 1989-1990 for the defending Arena Football League champion Detroit Drive. He attended East Texas State University.

Fontes, 41, has 15 years' experience as defensive coach at Louisiana State, Miami, Northwestern and Oregon State. He most recently coached defensive backs at LSU.

Mitchell, 34, has seven years of NFL and USFL experience, including stints with the Dallas Cowboys and Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Senator Heinz, 6 others killed in fiery crash

MERION, Pa. (AP) — U.S. Sen. John Heinz III, heir to the Heinz food empire, died when his small plane collided with a helicopter in the air. Six other people were killed, including two schoolchildren hit by flaming debris.

The twin-engine plane carrying Heinz, R-Pa., from a news conference in Williamsport collided with a helicopter above Merion Elementary School just after noon Thursday. The plane had reportedly landed gear trouble shortly before the collision.

Heinz, his plane's two pilots, the two helicopter pilots and two elementary school students on the ground were killed. A shower of debris rained down on the campus and the adjacent neighborhood of old stone houses and manicured lawns. One child was hospitalized with serious burns. Two other children and two school employees suffered minor burns.

"The people of Pennsylvania have lost a great leader and the nation has lost a great senator," President Bush said in a statement from California.

Susan Coughlin, vice chairwoman of the National Transportation Safety Board, arrived on the scene Thursday and spoke to reporters as firefighters were plucking a red scarf and other debris out of a tree.

"We will be conducting this as a major accident investigation with a full team on board," she said.

Heinz, 52, was the second-ranking Republican on the Senate Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs Committee and the ranking GOP member of Banking's securities subcommittee.

First elected to the U.S. Senate in 1976, he was re-elected in 1982 and 1988.

He was the largest individual shareholder of H.J. Heinz Co., the international food company founded in 1869 by his great-grandfather.

His death threw Pennsylvania Republican politics into turmoil. State Auditor General Barbara Walter, a Republican, said party officials were discussing a possible successor.

"There were a lot of calls back and forth" she said, but declined to discuss those named.

Gov. Robert P. Casey may appoint a successor to serve until a special election can be held in November. Casey, a Democrat, called Heinz "a distinguished and dedicated son of Pennsylvania." He declined to say who he might appoint.

Coughlin said NTSB investigators would review everything from the pilots' qualifications and the condition of the aircraft, to the involvement of air traffic control.

Heinz was traveling from a Williamsport news conference to a meeting in Philadelphia with editors of The Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Sun Co. Bell 412 helicopter that collided with his plane was headed to Radnor to pick up members of the company's board of directors, said Sun Co. president Robert Campbell.

The senator's Aerostar PA60, a fixed-wing plane, had reported landing gear problems to the Philadelphia International Airport tower, said Lower Merion Township Manager David C. Latshaw.

The helicopter heard the report and tried to help, Latshaw said. "The helicopter attempted to view the fixed-wing aircraft from below and at that time a midair collision occurred," Latshaw said.

The helicopter pilots were identified as Charles J. Burke, 42, and Michael Pozzani, 43. Heinz's pilots were identified as Rick Shreck and Tron Stegan. Their ages were not immediately available.

The two schoolchildren were identified as Rachel Blum and Lauren Frenlich, both between 6 and 8 years old.

There were only a few students outside at the time of the fiery crash because most were in class or at lunch, said John Fowler, head custodian.

Late Thursday night, Heinz's widow, Teresa, and his three sons, John, Andre and Christopher, issued a statement thanking residents for their expressions of love and support.

Drugs were cited by over half of all teen-agers in a recent survey as the single biggest problem facing today's youth. A variety of other worries were mentioned far less frequently.

Environmental session slated Saturday at WTC

Western Texas College will be the site of an environmental issues and public participation workshop Saturday.

Texans United, Clean Water Action and Public Citizens of Texas are organizing the workshop, set to begin at 10 a.m. in the Science Education Building on campus.

During the workshop, participants will learn methods used to ensure regulatory agencies are protecting the environment and communicate with elected officials.

Topics expected to be covered include site selection and regulations of landfills, incinerators and deep injection wells; health effects of toxic pollution; how and where to get information on toxics; reducing the use of toxics; and the role of regulatory agencies.

In addition to information on pollution issues, the workshop will cover organizing citizens' groups and communicating with the media, elected officials and regulatory agencies.

A $10 registration fee will be charged for the session, which is scheduled to conclude at 3 p.m.

Anyone needing more information on the workshop is asked to call 806-894-2237.

after Gray's escape, Melissa also disappeared and is believed to be with Gray.

The two were apparently sited recently in Las Vegas.

"We have 35 million viewers a week, so our show is like a giant billboard," said Palazzolo, who hopes the segment will aid FBI agents and law enforcement officials in apprehending Gray.

"We all get very excited when we find out a crime has been solved...figuratively speaking, we

"pop out the champagne bottle."

The crew, including Palazzolo and director Dan Gomez, filmed scenes at the prison Thursday morning, which included an interview with Warden Les Woods. Scenes from the furniture truck were shot Thursday afternoon at Willow Park Inn.

Scenes and interviews were filmed earlier this week in Big Spring and additional footage was scheduled to be shot at Colorado City Lake.

"The study of gamma rays opens a new window not only to the universe but to a whole new realm of physical activities," said Charles Pellerin, director of NASA's astrophysics division.

"You have the real possibility of seeing phenomena that have not been observed before and perhaps have not been imagined before," NASA chief scientist Lennard Fisk said.

The Gamma Ray Observatory, known as GRO, is the second in NASA's series of Great Observatories. The first is the Hubble Space Telescope.

Snyder police work accident, burglary Thursday

Snyder police worked a minor accident and filed a burglary report Thursday.

Police responded at 7:58 a.m. to the Kingswood Apartments where Krystle McCarter said someone had stolen a purse from her parked vehicle. An offense report for burglary of a vehicle was filed.

At 12 p.m. at 3700 Beaumont, officers worked a minor accident involving a 1984 Oldsmobile driven by Killi Lockhart of 2711 26th St. and a 1979 Pontiac driven by Sherry Fisk of 3511 Ave. A.

At 5:52 p.m., Anissa Reed of 3311-B Ave. J contacted police in reference to someone entering her residence. An offense report was filed.

Speaker, Bullock will confer on school finance problems

AUSTIN (AP) — Hoping to avoid a possible court take-over of the school funding system, House Speaker Gib Lewis and Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock will try to work out a legislative compromise on school-finance reform over the weekend.

"What I'm concerned about is reaching some type of a reasonable agreement... Once the system is in place, it will be in place for years to come," Bullock said Thursday. "The system will be tattooed on Texas."

The House voted to allow Lewis to appoint new members to a school finance conference committee, and asked that the Senate also appoint lawmakers to continue working on the issue.

Senators may formally agree Monday to resume conference committee negotiations, Bullock said. But he said they are unwilling to do so unless the House finds a plan it can support.

The House last week rejected a school finance reform bill developed by a House-Senate conference committee.

The bill, which passed the Senate, would have shifted hundreds of millions of dollars in local property tax revenue from wealthier to poorer school districts. The money would have been redistributed among school districts in 183 new education taxing regions.

Lewis, D-Fort Worth, has met with lawmakers who voted against the bill to see if it could be modified slightly to meet their concerns. But he said the effort was not successful.

"So therefore, we're going back to conference at this time and trying to look for new angles," he said.

Lawmakers missed Monday's Texas Supreme Court deadline for devising a reform plan, triggering an order to shut off state funds to schools. The order's impact is delayed because the next state checks are not due to be sent to school districts until April 25.

Obituaries

Lee Powell

1902-1991
Graveside services will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Hillside Memorial Gardens for Charles Lee Powell, 88, who died at his home at approximately 1 a.m. Thursday.

Mr. Powell was born Sept. 15, 1902, in Paris, Tex. He moved to Snyder in 1970 from Pampa. He was a retired restaurant owner and operator.

Survivors include a daughter and son-in-law, Wanda Lee and E.D. Walton of Snyder; one grandson, Dalton Walton of Snyder; and two great-grandchildren.

Billy Max West

Services were set for 2 p.m. today at the First United Methodist Church for Billy Max West, 43, a rancher and life-long resident of Scurry County.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. David Robertson, pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Big Spring and former pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Snyder. Assisting was Dr. Wylie (Buff) Hearne, pastor of the Snyder FUMC. Burial was to follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens.

Mr. West died Wednesday afternoon at his home.

Born Feb. 17, 1948, in Scurry County, he was married to Pam Odom on Aug. 11, 1972, in Snyder. He was a rancher and a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Pam of the home; a daughter, Carrie; two sons, Clayton and Whitt, all of the home; his mother, Margaret Birdwell of Snyder; and a brother, Richard West of Manila, in the Philippines.

State District Judge F. Scott McCown, who is overseeing the case, set a new April 15 hearing date in the case. He appointed an expert to draw up a backup reform plan for his consideration if lawmakers again fail.

Poor school districts filed a class-action motion Thursday that, if granted, would ensure any court plan would apply to all Texas school districts. The judge on Monday suggested that the motion be filed.

Lawmakers will be involved in the school finance talks this weekend, Lewis said. He said conference committee members likely will be named Monday, and that some may be different from the previous committee.

Dear Abby

Teens' Shotgun Wedding May Have Missed Its Mark

DEAR ABBY: When I was barely 17 years old, I went with a very pretty girl who had a reputation for being easy. She wanted me to go all the way with her and I almost did; then she dropped me for a guy who was more "mature" (her words).

About three months later, on a hot summer night, she drove over to my house in a borrowed car (her brother's) and took me for a drive. She seemed very glad to see me and said things like, "I can't seem to get you out of my mind." We parked by the lake and she started to kiss me and rub me all over. She got me real excited and practically tore my clothes off. I told her I wasn't prepared for sex, so she said, "Don't worry — I'm on the pill." The whole thing didn't take 10 minutes. It all happened so fast I was almost in shock.

We saw each other almost every weekend for about a month, and then she told me she was pregnant! I'm a senior in high school and was in no position to get married; but I had to tell my folks. They got together with her folks and we had a quick wedding.

Well, five months later she had a baby. Now I realize she knew she was pregnant when she got me to have sex with her. The baby wasn't mine but I have to support "our" son until he is 18 because the law says I am the father. This mess blew my whole future.

I got a job parking cars and have had to forget about college for now. Maybe this letter will keep some other guy from being the kind of jerk I was.

STUCK IN A SMALL TOWN

DEAR STUCK: You and your parents should discuss this with an attorney. Perhaps you are not as "stuck" as you think you are. There are tests that can prove whether or not you are the baby's father. A blood sample from the baby and another from you is all that's necessary.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would print this for all fat wives to see: Do all you fat wives who have gained a lot of weight since your marriage believe your husbands when they say, "It's OK, honey, there's just that much more of you to love?"

When hubby's eye begins to wander, you can bet it's not toward another fat woman; it's a gal with a trim figure.

Women, don't let yourselves go! I did and nearly lost my husband. Thank heavens, I woke up just in time.

FORMERLY FAT PHYLLIS

DEAR FORMERLY FAT: Why limit the suggestion to women only? Plenty of fat men have gone under for the third time while their wives were eyeing the life-guard.

DEAR ABBY: Why all the fuss about being addressed by one's first name instead of "Mrs. So-and-so"?

In biblical times, apparently there were no last names — and if Matthew, Mark and Luke, and Mary and Sarah and Ruth, were good enough then, it's certainly good enough for me now.

Also, today, with so many women in executive positions, I'm sure they are all on a first-name basis with their co-workers. To me, it just seems friendlier.

TRUDY IN INDIANA

DEAR TRUDY: Most — but not all — business and professional women (like men) have no objection to being addressed by their first names. However, it is presumptuous to assume that such familiarity is acceptable to everyone. When in doubt, and especially on first being introduced, it's wise to ask, "And what shall I call you?"

Earth's ozone layer decreasing faster

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ozone layer protecting Earth from cancer-causing ultraviolet radiation is being destroyed about twice as fast as was previously believed, the government says.

The depletion is particularly severe over the United States, according to findings that one Environmental Protection Agency official Thursday called "pretty shocking."

The increased pace of ozone depletion could mean an additional 200,000 deaths from skin cancer in the United States over the next 50 years, EPA Administrator William K. Reilly said.

That would be a near-doubling of the current rate of 5,000 skin cancer deaths annually. "These data suggest depletion of 4 to 5 percent has occurred since 1978 over the United States," Reilly said. "Past studies had shown about half that amount."

"What's happening is close to the worst fears," said F. Sherwood Rowland, a chemistry professor at the University of California, Irvine, who discovered in 1974 that chlorofluorocarbons, or CFCs, were damaging the ozone layer.

Reilly said the EPA would step up efforts to halt production and use of CFCs and other industrial chemicals blamed for ozone depletion.

The new data on ozone came from global satellite monitoring begun in 1978. Rich McPeters, chairman of the ozone processing team at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Goddard Space Center, said details would be set out in two papers, one already submitted for publication and one still being revised.

The studies found a global decrease of 2.6 percent over 10 years, he said, with the effects concentrated in the middle latitudes of the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

"If you look at the equator there's nothing happening," McPeters said. "Above 20 degrees latitude north or south, you start seeing some very large decreases."

At 40 degrees north latitude — which cuts through the middle of the continental United States — ozone has been disappearing at a rate of about 0.5 percent per year, McPeters said.

"These are pretty shocking numbers," said Eileen Claussen, director of EPA's atmospheric and indoor air programs.

Ms. Claussen said helping developing countries reduce their emissions of ozone-depleting chemicals was "the biggest thing that can make a difference."

In addition, she said, EPA can encourage recycling of the chemicals — found in car air conditioners, for example — and can make sure that any substitutes developed are not ozone-destroying themselves.

Creditors force Copeland into Chapter 11

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The owner of Popeyes Famous Fried Chicken and Church's Fried Chicken was forced into bankruptcy by creditors owed nearly $400 million.

Creditors led by Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce and Merrill Lynch & Co. filed an involuntary Chapter 11 petition Thursday.

The action follows six months of negotiations between Copeland, a New Orleans magnate, and the creditors who bankrolled his 1989 purchase of Church's.

The creditors said they hope the filing will speed a recapitalization that leads to repayment of $390 million.

Copeland operates the second-largest fried chicken chain in the nation behind Kentucky Fried Chicken, with about 2,000 Church's and Popeyes outlets. Annual sales are about $415 million.

The Toronto-based bank lent $249 million and Merrill Lynch lent $142 million for Copeland to acquire Church's in 1989.

Copeland originally expected to sell high-yield "junk bonds" to repay the loans. But the junk bond market collapsed and the economic slowdown put additional pressure on the company's finances.

Eaton Vance Prime Rate Reserves and Pilgrim Prime Rate Trust joined in the involuntary petition, filed in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the Western District of Texas.

In a press release, the creditors said their negotiations with Copeland covered their debt only. The Chapter 11 filing affects all creditor claims against Copeland.

"Such a restructuring is not intended to adversely impact the operations of the company or its value to the communities served in approximately 35 states," the creditors said in the release.

Last fall, Copeland started missing deadlines for repayments to the large creditors.

Canadian Imperial, which holds liens on most of the company's property, threatened an involuntary filing after Copeland missed a deadline March 13.
