Flooding forces evacuations in some Texas communities

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Cotton farmers on the South Plains braced for more rain today after their fields weathered up to six inches of precipitation, and authorities in Southwest Texas were evacuating some residents from high water.

Several Texas cities reported flooding this morning, as heavy rains sent creeks over their banks. Evacuations were reported in Del Rio, where roads were under water.

Heavy rains in the Lubbock area Wednesday, including winds gusting up to 30 mph and temperatures in the 40s, set off a chain of traffic accidents and forced some motorists to abandon their cars in three feet of water.

A Canadian air mass pushed a cold front deep into South Texas today, producing record lows in several cities for this date.

Among the record lows were 42 at Midland, 45 at Abilene and 49 at Wichita Falls. The previous records of 46 at Midland and 47 at Abilene were set 20 years ago, while Wichita Falls' previous low of 51 for Sept. 19 had stood for 33 years.

Del Rio authorities were evacuating residents from an undetermined number of homes after heavy rains sent San Felipe Creek over its bank north of the city.

Officials said Texas 163 and Farm Road 1024 north of Comstock, about 30 miles northwest of Del Rio, were closed, with water four feet over the road in some places.

Meanwhile, 3½ inches of rain fell overnight on Lake Brownwood, and water at Pecan Bayou near Brownwood rose to its banks.

Shortly before 9 a.m., rain described as very heavy was falling in the Temple and Killeen area of Bell area. There were numerous reports of street flooding and stalled vehicles in Copperas Cove and Killeen. Small creeks were overflowing throughout the area.

Snyder rain total near annual average already

When the skies finally clear over Snyder — and forecasters say they will — the city will likely have reached its average rainfall for a year's time.

Snyder passed the 20-inch mark for the year early this morning, according to measurements taken from the water pump and treatment plant. The city picked up 1.08 inches of precipitation between 7 a.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. today, totaling 20.25 inches for 1991.

The average yearly rainfall for the city is 20.8 inches. Rainfall totals for Snyder date back some 79 years, since 1912.

Walter Stirl, who has kept rainfall records at his residence seven miles south of Hermleigh for over 40 years, has recorded 22.4 inches so far in 1991.

Despite the seemingly unending wet weather recently, Snyder residents may recall that the city experienced 30.49 inches in 1990. A key difference however, is that those rains were of a timely nature to the cotton farmer, whereas Scurry County cotton needs a dry, warm spell soon to make a decent 1991 crop.

For the record, Snyder picked up a low of 8.15 inches of rain in 1917 and a high of 44.02 inches in 1941.

Weather permitting...

SHS homecoming activities to begin with parade today

An early evening parade today was to kick off the annual homecoming celebration for Snyder High School, weather permitting.

Parade organizers said they would wait until early afternoon to determine whether the parade would still be held. The parade is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. in the Kmart parking lot and proceed north on College Ave. to the city square.

A community pep rally, steak supper, varsity football game and naming of the 1991-92 queen are other highlights. In addition, homecoming reunions for various classes are expected throughout the weekend.

A community wide pep rally will be held at 3:15 p.m. Friday in Tiger Stadium. The annual All-Sports Booster Club Steak Supper will follow at 5:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Serving will continue until 7:30 p.m. The meal includes steak, potato salad, beans, dessert and tea. Tickets are $5 each. Children under age 3 are free.

At 8 p.m., Snyder's varsity Tigers play host to the Littlefield Wildcats in the stadium.

Reserved tickets for the game have been sold out since Tuesday, according to the business administration office. General admission tickets are $4 each at the gate. All general admission seats are on the east side, or visitor's side, of the stadium.

Crowning of the 1991-92 homecoming queen will be held at halftime. Nominees are Tonya Warren, Kristie Pruitt, Tisha Evans, Tammy Voss, Jennifer Purcell, Amy Richardson and Julie Johnson, all seniors.

Following the game will be a dance in the student center. All current students and recent graduates are welcome. Tickets are $2.50 per person.

BCD mulls policies; sets appreciation day

Scurry County Board of Development set a date for Texas Department of Criminal Justice Day, discussed two requests and heard from Chamber President Eddie Williams, during its noon meeting Tuesday at chamber offices.

Saturday, Oct. 26, was set as the third annual TDCJ Appreciation Day. The event will honor local TDCJ employees with a free barbecue meal at Scurry County Coliseum. Tickets for the meal will be sold to the public.

A request to advertise in the Western Texas College sports program was referred back to the chamber but not before a lengthy discussion on budgeting and advertising policy.

Board members noted that they currently have no policy on local advertising and sponsorships and a separate budget line-item was needed to fund such requests.

Some board members were concerned whether the purpose of the BCD — to promote Snyder and Scurry County — was in line with such requests.

"We need to set a policy and stick with it," said board member Tim Riggan. Riggan also expressed the need to designate monies for such requests and solicitations in a budget line-item.

No action was taken on a membership request from Scurry County Museum. Further discussion of a related policy and (see BCD, page 12)

Convicted killer put to death for '74 slaying

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Texas death row inmate James "Sugarman" Russell was executed early today for abducting and killing a store manager who had identified the two-time convict to police as the robber of his shop.

Russell, 42, gave a three-minute final statement in which he thanked his supporters and death penalty opponents worldwide and expressed love to his family.

"I'm going to take your love with me beyond this madness," he said. "Don't be sad. After 17 years of struggle, my little stream has been consumed by the sea. We'll meet again and sing a sweeter song."

"Wherever the death penalty is, there will be no civilization. There will be no respect for human life."

Russell, who was pronounced dead at 12:20 a.m., five minutes after the lethal drugs began flowing through needles inserted into his arms, made no reference to his crime.

Russell was convicted and sentenced to death for killing Thomas Stearns, 24, of Houston in 1974.

Stearns had identified Russell as the man who three years earlier held up the Radio Shack store he managed. The day before Russell was to go on trial for the robbery, Stearns was abducted and taken to a rural area of Fort Bend County, southwest of Houston, where he was sexually abused and shot twice in the head at point-blank range.

"Good, good," Robert Stearns, of Round Rock, the victim's father, said early today when informed of the execution. "I guess we go on to the next stop of our lives now."

Russell, from Sugar Land, twice convicted of robbery, contended he was a victim of racism, since his trial was heard by an all-white jury. Russell was black. His victim was white.

He also insisted the evidence used against him was totally circumstantial and witnesses against him were unreliable. He was out of jail on bond at the time of the shooting.

The case languished for years in the appeals courts. Last week, attorneys for the NAACP Legal Defense Fund filed new appeals.

"It's hard for me to live with the belief it's perfectly proper to bring forward a bunch of complaints about the trial, run them through the judicial system, which takes four or five years, and then when that fails, come up with some more objections," Robert Stearns said.

Stearns, who became active in the victims' rights movement, said he preferred the activist role rather than turning to bitterness.

"I should be bitter. I really should be," he said. "But that's an emotion that's really draining and destructive. I have not allowed myself to be bitter. During the period when we should have been so mad at Russell, we were so numb that we weren't mad at anybody. We just hurt."

Thomas Stearns was married and the father of an 18-month-old daughter at the time of his slaying. The daughter now is 18 years old.

Book-signing for D.F. Mills set Saturday

Local author Deanie Francis Mills will be featured at a book-signing for her latest novel of suspense, "Deadline," at Walmart from 2-4 p.m. on Saturday.

"Deadline," published under the name D.F. Mills, is set in a fictional town in West Central Texas and features scenes in Abilene, Lubbock, Midland and the Caprock. The main character is Tess Alexander, a struggling young author with the opportunity to write the true-crime account of a sensational murder trial — the shocking case of a former governor, Ross Chandler, accused of the arson/murder of his wife, daughter and granddaughter.

Though the case seems made-to-order for Tess, she has strange misgivings about it, which are borne out as she encounters hostility from her younger sister, confusion from her Alzheimer's-afflicted mother and threatening notes from an unknown source. What she unravels as she investigates this case begins to reveal horrible secrets — about her own life.

Southwestern Bell drops part of directory assistance plan

AUSTIN (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. dropped a proposal to begin charging 25 cents for directory assistance calls from pay phones, but still wants to increase the charge for such calls from homes or businesses.

The Public Utility Commission is scheduled to consider the case in October.

Southwestern Bell told the Public Utility Commission about its revised request Wednesday, after reaching an agreement with private companies that own pay telephones and provide operator service.

Those companies consequently are dropping out of the case, spokesmen for both sides said.

Richard Dietz, a Southwestern Bell assistant vice president, said that besides the other companies' opposition, customers had filed letters with the PUC against the proposed charge for directory assistance calls from pay telephones.

"We didn't see the sense of plowing ground that wasn't going to harvest anything, so we've decided to back off of this portion of this request," Dietz said.

The telephone company does not provide phone books at every pay phone. Southwestern Bell currently does not charge for directory assistance calls from pay phones.

The remaining proposal to raise rates for directory assistance calls from homes or businesses by a dime, to 40 cents per call, would give Southwestern Bell an additional $10 million to $11 million a year, Dietz said. The first three calls per month would remain free.

That increase would cover Southwestern Bell's cost of providing directory assistance, Dietz said. Southwestern Bell maintains that current charges fall short of that cost.

Opponents have said that providing directory assistance is part of Southwestern Bell's overall cost of doing business, and that any increase should have been considered in the company's latest rate case. The PUC approved a settlement in that case.

The charge for directory assistance from pay phones would have yielded the company an extra $4 million to $5 million, Dietz said. That would have contributed to keeping down the cost of basic service, he said.

"We're delighted that Southwestern Bell saw the light ... Our concern was that it (the increase) would have made people less likely to want to use pay phones, but more than that, we were tired of having Bell continue to ask for money every time they think they need it," said Alan Kaniss, president of the Texas Payphone Association.

PUC spokesman Jeff Lambert said the company was reviewing its options and had not decided whether to propose making up the revenue through other directory assistance price increases.

The state's lawyer for residential and small business utility customers is opposing Southwestern Bell's remaining proposal to increase the charge for directory assistance.

Clarence Johnson, chief economist for the Office of Public Utility Counsel, said his office had not seen the agreement that Southwestern Bell reached with the companies but that it would be closely reviewed.

Johnson contended that the company "is unjustifiably increasing charges at a time when it really doesn't need the money."

It's priced right to boot.

the expert will get on with the game, hoping the possibility becomes an actuality.

Cover the East-West cards in the diagram. When West leads a low trump to your 10, how do you continue?

North's one-no-trump response was forcing for one round. His subsequent jump to four spades showed a limit raise in spades (about 11 points) with three trumps and probably a relatively balanced hand. South decided that was enough for a slam.

Things look grim. You have at least one diamond to lose, and probably a club loser. East did well to retain his spade jack at trick one. Now you hope it will fall as you lead the spade king and overtake with dummy's ace. If it does fall, the spade nine becomes another dummy entry. Unlucky — the jack lives. Now you lead dummy's heart king, ruffing away East's ace, and draw the last trump. What next?

You have no dummy entry, leaving you but one hope: Lead the diamond king from your hand. Finally some luck — the diamond queen falls singleton. The diamond 10 becomes a guaranteed dummy entry, and you bring home the slam.

West said that next time he would lead the diamond ace and another diamond. Do you believe him? I don't.

Reynolds speaks to local ABWA

Deputy Charlie Reynolds, instructor for the DARE program, into its third year in the Snyder schools, was speaker at Deep Creek ABWA meeting held recently at The Shack.

After three years in the elementary and junior high schools, positive results are evident, he noted. Juvenile officer Larry Thompson said there is a great difference in his case work load. Reynolds commented on letters he has received from children thanking him for the friendship and help he gave them through this program.

"At first I was reluctant to head DARE," Reynolds said, "but now it has become my life because kids are special."

The vocational talk was given by Vivian Cochran, secretary at Cochran Construction. She is also a member of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, chairman of Scurry County Extension Homemakers Council, Patchwork Squares Club member, a 15-year member of ABWA and the first president of the Deep Creek Chapter.

During the meeting, a membership campaign for 1991 retention and ABWA 1991 standard of achievement awards were placed on the chapter's banner.

Visitors included Inez Teaff, from Scurry County Charter Chapter, and Pat Reynolds. Receiving the hostess gifts were Johnnie Pyburn and Michelle Krop.

Apple Computer will move service center to Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — Apple Computer Inc.'s planned customer service center in Austin will be the company's only one in the nation, offering technical support to Apple customers over the telephone and other functions.

Apple announced Wednesday that it would relocate its Campbell, Calif., support center to Austin and consolidate some other functions here.

"We have decided to actually relocate that operation to Austin and expand it in the process," Apple USA president Bob Puette said. "We'll also be adding some of the activities that we do from several other cities, in terms of phone support around the country, and bring those here."

The center, which will employ more than 300 people, should be open by mid-1992, Puette said. About 10 percent to 20 percent of the employees will be moved from other Apple facilities and the rest will be hired from the Austin area, he said.

Apple, with annual sales of more than $5 billion, is the second-largest personal computer maker and an innovator in turning out easy-to-use computers like the Macintosh.

The relocation hinges on city and Travis County officials approving Apple's requests for tax abatements, Puette said.

Austin Mayor Bruce Todd said "100 percent" of the commissioner's court and city council members have approved those measures.

"It's simply a matter of getting a resolution adopted," Todd said.

Gov. Ann Richards was among hundreds of people who cheered Apple's announcement at a news conference Wednesday.

"Apple and Texas I think are a perfect match. Apple is the kind of company that we want to have here," Richards said.

Astrograph By Bernice Bede Osol

Sept. 19, 1991
You have excellent possibilities for opening up an additional channel for earnings in the year ahead. This is the type of sideline that might turn out to be the tail that wags the dog.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is financial opportunity around you today, but you'll have to be bold and enterprising in order to claim your share. Don't expect others to look out for your interests. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Members of the opposite gender will find you extremely appealing today. Be a bit more outgoing than usual — if there is someone in particular whose interests you'd like to stimulate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you have the courage to do so, a frustrating development you've had to contend with can be terminated today. The outcome of this matter is in your hands.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't be dismayed if things have been a trifle dull for you lately. There are strong indications you may become involved in an exciting new endeavor with a very dynamic individual.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Obstacles and challenges will be kept in proper perspective today; you'll be prepared to put forth whatever effort is necessary to achieve your aims and objectives.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a special knowledge or expertise you've acquired over the past few years that could prove profitable for others as well as yourself. However, you must make your wares known.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) The indifferent approach could be the most effective tactic in business dealings today. Don't do anything devious, but, by the same token, don't be too obvious or too eager.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) An alliance you may enter at this time will be both constructive and enduring, even though it might be formed for an exclusive purpose.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Conditions are rather interesting where your work is concerned. You might experience some unusual developments that can be constructively channeled to your advantage. Be ready to move.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Things will work out to your general satisfaction today — if you treat both triumph and failure with the indifference they deserve. Your well-being is determined by your attitude, not outside events.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Focus your efforts on reorganizing your personal affairs and putting your house in order today. Progress is the partner of sound methods and procedures.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be the motivating force in a partnership today; it will be up to you to initiate the action. Don't wait for your cohort to rev up the engine.

Court overturns appeals court ruling on testimony of girl

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld one aspect of a child giving testimony via closed-circuit television in a San Antonio man's murder trial. But the court called for further consideration of the case.

The appeals court ruled Wednesday that the 10-year-old's testimony didn't violate Antonio Gonzales' constitutional rights to confront his accuser.

The court, on a 6-3 vote, overturned a 4th Court of Appeals ruling in the case of Gonzales, convicted in the August 1987 beating death of a 5-year-old girl identified in court records as Yvette.

That court had reversed Gonzales' conviction.

The case was returned to the 4th Court of Appeals to consider due process claims brought by Gonzales. His attorney, Larry Zinn of San Antonio, said those claims also concern the television testimony.

Yvette's 10-year-old sister testified and was cross-examined during Gonzales' trial from another room, using a two-way television system.

State law allows the use of such a system for child victims of certain offenses, including sexual assault, but not for children who are murder witnesses, the judges wrote. Since the 10-year-old was the alleged victim in a sexual assault case then pending against Gonzales in another court, the trial judge allowed the use of the TV system, the criminal appeals court wrote.

The court said that Gonzales was the live-in boyfriend of the girls' mother.

Yvette's body was "very thin with a bloated stomach," unkempt, and "covered with bruises and abrasions" when paramedics found it, the court said. The finding of a three-foot-long wooden club with human blood on it in the adults' bedroom led to the indictment of both Gonzales and the mother for the death, they said.

According to the 10-year-old's testimony, she was forced to help hold her sister as Gonzales beat Yvette on the head with the club, then watched as he sexually assaulted her. The 10-year-old also said she was sexually assaulted by Gonzales for two years, the last time on the morning of Yvette's death.

Barbara Hervey, assistant criminal district attorney for Bexar County, said Gonzales had been convicted of sexual assault against the 10-year-old and a brother and was given three stacked 99-year terms for the three cases. All were on appeal, Ms. Hervey said.

The mother also was convicted and sentenced to 99 years in Yvette's death, Ms. Hervey said.

The 10-year-old was receiving psychological counseling and was intimidated by Gonzales, who she said had threatened to kill her if she told what happened the day Yvette was killed, the court said.

Tomorrow will arrive for sequel to novel about Scarlett O'Hara

ATLANTA (AP) — Tomorrow has finally come for Scarlett O'Hara. Rhett Butler is dumping her — again — only this time he'll pay her $500,000 to stay out of his life forever.

Scarlett will never go hungry again with that kind of money. But can she live without Rhett? Thousands of die-hard fans of "Gone With the Wind," awaiting the answer to that and other questions, have already reserved copies of the book's long-awaited sequel, "Scarlett."

Others aren't so anxious to see the book arrive in stores Sept. 25. Five writers recently denounced "Scarlett," written by Alexandra Ripley, in essays published in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution.

Other people have proposed their own sequels, including one in which Scarlett becomes a "Mommie Dearest" character who is exposed by her children.

Meanwhile, the Clayton County town of Jonesboro — the real-life model for the first book's Tara, the place where Rhett wooed Scarlett amid plantation splendor — is ignoring the whole thing.

"In the new 'Gone With the Wind,' attention is drawn away from Clayton County, away from the true roots of Margaret Mitchell," said Allison Scholly, marketing coordinator of the county's Convention and Tourism Bureau.

Mitchell's family hired Ms. Ripley to write the sequel and hopes it will help raise $1.5 million to restore the dilapidated Atlanta house in which Mitchell, who died in 1949, wrote the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel.

Warner Books bid almost $5 million for the publishing rights, and thousands of fans are expected at a benefit showing Sunday of the 1939 film version of "Gone With the Wind."

"It's perfect timing," said Mitchell's cousin, Lillian Clarke. "It's a good excuse for us to be playing on, but I don't feel like, even if people don't like the sequel, it will have a detrimental effect on us."

Clarke says she isn't sure she'll like the book.

"I'm already disappointed," she said after reading excerpts. "This is terrible."

Ripley's plot has Rhett reunited with Scarlett in Charleston, S.C., then offering her $500,000 to leave him. He also saves her life at sea, divorces her and marries another woman.

Other people, responding to a request from The Birmingham (Ala.) News for proposed sequels, had other ideas.

Bernice Downs imagined that Scarlett's two children, Wade Hamilton and Ella Kennedy, took "tales of abusive neglect to the airwaves."

Meanwhile, Scarlett's sister, Careen, became a partner in a restaurant, using a sure-fire recipe for sweet-and-sour chitlins.

Pearl Cleage, one of the five Southern writers who wrote opinions of the book based on excerpts published by Life magazine, didn't mince words.

Cleage, author of "Mad at Miles: A Blackwoman's Guide to Truth," called the sequel "one of the worst things I've ever read."

Public Notice

On June 28, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to add a new optional service offering for business Private Branch Exchange (PBX) Trunk customers called Digital Loop Service. The application has been assigned Docket No. 10461.

Digital Loop Service provides digital transmission of circuit switched voice and data communications between the customer's premises and the central office. This service allows the customer to use a 1.544 Mbps facility capable of delivering up to 24 line terminations. Southwestern Bell will provide Digital Loop Service within the customer's serving central office where facilities are available.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for the Digital Loop Service facilities will be $445 per month for each digital transmission loop arrangement which provides a capacity of up to 24 line terminations, plus $3 per month for each line termination and $9 per month for each channel termination. The proposed rate for the unlimited use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each line termination depending on the rate group classification, determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.1 million from this offering during the first year.

As proposed by Southwestern Bell, customers who currently receive digital loop compatibility through facilities installed under a special construction agreement will have the option to receive their current digital loop arrangements pursuant to the Digital Loop Service Tariff or continue to pay their current charges until they make a change of location or account. Any increase in the number of line terminations to a customer's current digital transmission loop arrangement will be provided pursuant to the proposed Digital Loop Service Tariff; however, the customer will continue to have the option of paying current charges for the existing digital transmission loop capacity. Southwestern Bell's proposal to "grandfather" existing digital loop facility arrangements is subject to review and approval by the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than October 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. The telecommunications device for the deaf (TDD) number is (512) 458-0221.

Snyder hosts Littlefield...

Non-district grid schedule continues

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

The team picked to finish at the top of District 2-4A wound up losing last Friday while the team expected to wind up in the loop cellar posted a 35-0 win.

Such was the case in last week's topsy turvy results from district football games in which Estacado, ranked No. 5 in the state, was upset by Big Spring, 21-18, and Lamesa, picked to finish dead last in the district, hammered Amarillo Caprock.

Other results from last week's games include Snyder's 13-0 win over Clyde, Levelland's 10-point win over Canyon Randall, 24-14, and a 28-6 loss by Frenship to Class 5A Lubbock Coronado.

In Saturday's game, Dunbar broke into the win column by beating San Angelo Lake View, 19-11.

This week's competition starts Friday with Snyder hosting Littlefield in a homecoming battle, Levelland visiting Seminole,

Littlefield at Snyder
The Tigers accomplished two things last week in a rain-drenched win over Clyde, they posted their first win of the season and they found a quarterback to effectively run coach David Baugh's offense.

Junior Chris Sutherland hit six of 11 passes for 91 yards on the night.

The SHS defense, long a strength of Snyder teams, allowed the Bulldogs' wishbone just 91 total yards.

Littlefield, a preseason pick to challenge for the District 2-3A crown this year, was turned back by Abernathy, 30-26, last Friday, to go to 0-1-1 on the season.

Levelland at Seminole
The Lobos, led by Estevan Golightly's 78 yards and two touchdowns rushing, moved to 1-1 on the year by beating Canyon Randall last week.

Quarterback Craig Black of Levelland added a 64-yard scoring dash to finish off the Raiders. Andrews dismantled the hapless Seminole squad last week, 49-0.

Seminole fell to 0-2 on the campaign with the loss.

Lamesa at Crane
The Lamesa Golden Tors exploded for 28 unanswered points in the third quarter last Friday to flatten Amarillo Caprock, 35-0.

The Tors' Tony Brown started the second-half onslaught early in the third period when he rumbled 69 yards to give Lamesa a 14-0 margin.

Crane, expected to repeat as District 6-3A champion in 1991, will depend on Ricardo Garza, who gained 1,200 yards as a running back last season to carry the offensive load.

Frenship at Monahans
Frenship's offensive problems continued against Coronado last week as the Tigers were able to gather just one TD.

FHS quarterback Chris Matthews did find wide-out Kendrick Hollie for a 64-yard scoring strike, but it was simply too little, too late.

Monahans, now 2-0, boasts wins over '90 District 2-4A champ Snyder and Class 5A Midland High in the young grid season.

Dunbar at Caprock
Dunbar and its franchise tailback, Typhail McMullen, rolled to a 19-11 non-district win over District 3 also-ran San Angelo Lake View last Saturday.

McMullen wound up with a game-high 161 yards and two TDs on 11 carries to pace the Panthers in the win.

Caprock floundered in a 35-zip loss to District 2-4A Lamesa Friday, to fall to 0-2 on the year.

Dunbar is now 1-1.

Dumas at Estacado
The Estacado offense had three drives bog down inside the Big Spring 5-yard line last Friday in a loss that could possibly knock the Matadors out of the top 10 in Class 4A in Texas.

Junior quarterback Zebbie Lethridge was limited to just two completions in 13 passes for 25 yards and an interception in the loss.

Estacado slipped to 1-1 on the year.

Dumas is trying to rebound from last season's 1-9 disaster. The Demons, coached by Ron Rogers, bring back 20 lettermen, including six offensive and eight defensive starters from the 1990 squad.

WHOA! — Ira defenders wrestle a Midland Christian Academy ball carrier in last Friday's non-district encounter at Bulldog Stadium. Ira lost, 60-59, but will try to break into the win column Friday at Grady. (SDN Staff Photo)

By fans' votes...

Supreme Team to be named

DALLAS (AP) — The Southwest Conference released the names Wednesday of 105 nominees for a first-ever all-SWC team to be selected by fans.

SWC commissioner Fred Jacoby announced last month that the league was joining with Exxon Co. U.S.A. in creating a "SWC Supreme Team" that would be based on voting by fans in Texas and Arkansas.

Ballots will be available Oct. 5 through Nov. 3 at 2,500 participating Exxon stations in Texas and Arkansas. No purchase will be necessary to vote, but customers will be limited to one ballot per visit.

In addition to being honored on the team, Exxon will award scholarships that will be distributed among the league's nine schools.

Vols' grid program penalized by NCAA

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The NCAA hammer fell softly on Tennessee.

The NCAA said Wednesday that it accepted the self-imposed penalties Tennessee announced in August, and placed the Volunteer football program on probation for two years.

The Vols thus avoided harsher punishment, such as a ban on television or bowl appearances.

A bowl ban would have made the No. 6 Volunteers ineligible to defend the Southeastern Conference title they've won or shared the last two years.

"All of us at the university certainly regret those things occurred that led to the NCAA investigation. But we are satisfied with the conclusions of the infractions committee and do not plan any sort of appeal," university president Joe Johnson said.

"Most encouraging to me was the committee's decision to adopt several of the actions we imposed on ourselves following the in-house investigation," he said.

Tennessee had been accused of six recruiting violations and with running an improper summer football camp. After its investigation, Tennessee admitted most of the recruiting violations and fired Jack Sells, the assistant coach involved in all of them, on June 7.

Witt to miss remainder of season

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Texas Rangers pitcher Bobby Witt, sidelined much of the year with a partially torn right rotator cuff, says his season is over because of a possible bone spur in his right elbow.

Witt will have an arthrogram today and faces possible surgery, the Dallas Times Herald reported.

"It's something that has been there for the last couple years, but I've always been able to deal with it," Witt said. "Tuesday night when I was pitching, I threw a couple sliders, and it felt worse than usual. I remembered what happened with my shoulder, and I decided I'd better not push it anymore."

Witt won just three games in 1991 after signing a three-year, $6.8 million deal before the season. Last year he was 17-10.

He missed two months after tests on his shoulder revealed a slight rotator-cuff tear. The injury did not require surgery, but Witt was ineffective when he returned to the rotation and eventually was sent to the bullpen.

Wednesday rainout is rescheduled

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Wednesday night's game between the California Angels and Texas Rangers was postponed by rain and rescheduled as part of a doubleheader on Thursday starting at 5:05 p.m. CDT.

Chuck Finley (17-8) and Jim Abbott (16-9) are scheduled to pitch for the Angels against Nolan Ryan (10-6) and Kevin Brown (9-10).

Houston hit hard by injuries

HOUSTON (AP) — Two of five injured Houston Oilers offensive players have been scratched from the roster for at least a month, but team officials say two others probably will play in this weekend's game at New England.

Oilers spokesman Martin Lewis said Wednesday guard Mike Munchak and wide receiver Leonard Harris each will be out with leg injuries, while wide receiver Ernest Givins, who has a right arm injury, is questionable for the Patriots' game.

Munchak underwent arthroscopic surgery Wednesday after developing a problem with his left knee in Monday night's 17-7 victory over Kansas City.

Lewis said Munchak suffered a torn lateral meniscus and doctors removed five loose pieces of cartilage in the back of the knee. Munchak could be back in time for the Oct. 6 home game against Denver.

Harris, who has a shin fracture, requires no surgery and will be out between four and five weeks, Lewis said.

Wide receiver Haywood Jeffires, who suffered a left knee injury, and running back Gary Brown, who injured his left hamstring, both are expected to recover in time for Sunday's game.

Helmick resigns as USOC president

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Helmick resigned after seven years as president of the U.S. Olympic Committee in order to end a disruptive controversy concerning possible conflict of interest.

In a statement released Wednesday night by the USOC, Helmick said, "It is time for the Olympic family and my family to get on with their lives."

He said the "recent trial by media has made it impossible for me to continue to function effectively and I just cannot allow this organization, to which I have given so much, to be paralyzed by this situation."

Braves, L.A. locked in battle

by The Associated Press
The Braves couldn't have put this one away much earlier.

Atlanta, in danger of falling 1½ games behind Los Angeles, got hits from seven of its first eight batters Wednesday night, scoring five runs in the first inning. That was enough for Tom Glavine, who became the first 19-game winner in the majors, leading the Braves to a 6-4 victory over the San Diego Padres.

"It's a big win, with everything that's happened the last few games and the pennant race," Glavine said. "This took a little pressure off."

Atlanta had blown a 1½-game lead over the Dodgers in the NL West. This time, they kept pace, remaining a half-game out as Los Angeles beat Houston 5-4 on the West Coast.

The Braves were fired up, "probably because of the two games we lost in San Francisco," said Lonnie Smith, who singled on the first pitch of both the first and second innings.

Glavine (19-10) allowed three hits in the first seven innings, then allowed two runs and four hits in the eighth. Alejandro Pena got Benito Santiago on an inning-ending groundout and finished for his ninth save.

In other games, Chicago beat New York 4-1, Pittsburgh beat St. Louis 6-5, Philadelphia beat Mon-real 1-0 and San Francisco beat Cincinnati 7-2.

Ricky Bones (4-4) was hit hard in the first inning as Terry Pendleton bounced into a run-scoring double play, Sid Bream hit an RBI single, Greg Olson hit an RBI double and Rafael Belliard hit a two-run single.

"I was feeling good, but they were swinging at everything and hitting the good pitches I made," Bones said. "They weren't hitting the ball hard, but they were putting it in play. They found the right spot. There's nothing I could do about that."

Dodgers 5, Astros 4

Mike Sharperson hit a go-ahead single in the seventh inning off Rob Mallicoat (0-1) and Eddie Murray hit a two-run homer.

Mike Morgan (13-9) won his third consecutive decision and matched his career high for victories, allowing three runs and seven hits in seven innings.

Roger McDowell gave up an RBI single in the ninth to Casey Candaele before Steve Wilson got Rafael Ramirez to hit into a game-ending double play.

Pirates 6, Cardinals 5

Cecil Espy hit a sacrifice fly in the ninth off Willie Fraser (3-2) as Pittsburgh rallied from a 5-0 deficit and reduced its magic number to six.

The Pirates, who scored two runs in the fifth and three in the sixth, increased their NL East lead to a season-high 11½ games. Roger Mason (3-0) pitched 1 1-3 innings of perfect relief for the victory.

WTC 'pokes start fall rodeo season

The fall rodeo season begins today for the Western Texas College team when competition commences at the Eastern New Mexico University Rodeo in Portales.

Though the Westerners failed to make the College National Finals Rodeo for the first time in 11 years last spring, a core of experienced and proven performers return to lead the team in 1991-92.

Bareback rider Troy Cattoor, bull rider Darrin Cook and steer wrestlers Jim Phillips and Scott Berger, all CNFR qualifiers last year, are back to try to get WTC back on the winning track.

Cattoor, a native of Nephi, Utah, wound up last season tied for second place in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association's Southwest Region to earn a berth at the Bozeman, Mont. CNFR where he finished as runner-up in his event.

Cook, an Australian bull rider took second in the region last season to get to Bozeman.

Berger, from Kearney, Neb. copped the Southwest championship in steer wrestling in the spring of '91 followed by teammate Phillips, from Iraan, in third.

Phillips won the first go in his initial appearance at the CNFR in June.

Nightly performances, scheduled through Saturday, will be held at 7:30 p.m. MDT with Sunday's finals, featuring the top ten finishers in each event, scheduled for 1 p.m.

Toronto maintains AL East advantage

by The Associated Press
Toronto finally found the secret to beating Seattle: Play 12 innings.

After losing two consecutive games at the Kingdome in 11 innings, the Blue Jays survived blowing the lead twice to beat the Mariners 5-3 Wednesday night in 12.

The victory kept Toronto 2½ games ahead of Boston in the AL East. The surging Red Sox defeated Baltimore 7-5 at Fenway Park.

Seattle tied the score 1-1 in the eighth and rallied for two runs in the 11th after Toronto took the lead in the top of the inning on Greg Myers' two-run double.

In the 12th inning, Roberto Alomar doubled off Scott Bankhead (2-6) and Joe Carter walked. Kelly Gruber then singled to score Alomar and move Carter to third. Rookie Derek Bell followed with an RBI single.

Duane Ward (7-5) got the victory, getting two outs in the 11th inning, and Jim Acker finished for his first save.

It was a much-needed win for the Blue Jays, but hardly a confidence booster. Relief ace Tom Henke blew save opportunities to the Mariners in the previous two games.

"Our bullpen has to pitch better than it did in this series," Gruber added.

Elsewhere in the AL it was Kansas City 10, Minnesota 4; Chicago 6, Oakland 0; Cleveland 3, Detroit 2; and New York 2, Milwaukee 1 in 10 innings. California at Texas was postponed by rain.

The Twins' lead in the AL West has been sliced to six games by the White Sox.

Iraq won't fight with U.S.-Allied forces

Schwarzkopf tells Dallas audience during lecture

DALLAS (AP) — Retired Gen. Norman Schwarzkopf says he does not believe a major conflict will develop between Iraq and the United States over Saddam Hussein's efforts to block U.N. inspectors overseeing arms destruction.

"They aren't going to try to take us on again. They saw the first time what happened," the commander of Operation Desert Storm said Wednesday night. "But there's always the possibility that some crazy might try to shoot down a U.N. helicopter."

"But there's no chance of a major confrontation."

President Bush declared Wednesday he will send warplanes to escort the U.N. inspectors if Saddam continues to impede their progress. Bush said he was "plenty fed up," but not looking for a new war.

Schwarzkopf, speaking to an enthusiastic crowd of about 6,000 at Southern Methodist University, said Iraqi's interference is not unusual. Typically, he said, it can be difficult for countries that have verification treaties.

"So it's not a surprise when one side is not collaborating. This is not a new problem," he said.

Schwarzkopf, who entertained the crowd with war stories and tales of his return to civilian life, spent much of the 45-minute lecture recapping the events of the Persian Gulf War and praising the armed forces.

He said he was dismayed recently by news magazines that questioned if the war was worth it. The retired general pointed out that if Saddam had not been stopped he would have continued his aggression.

"But instead, his arsenals have been destroyed. The Iraqi military is no longer a threat to anybody outside their borders. A bully has had his teeth kicked in. He's now a joke in the Arab world and he's a liar to the rest of the world."

"Was it worth it? You bet it was worth it," Schwarzkopf said. The remark was greeted with thunderous applause.

After the lecture the crowd was allowed to ask a few questions that ranged from women in the military to the logistical problems of Operation Desert Storm.

Declining to directly answer a question whether he intends to seek public office, Schwarzkopf quoted Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who said, "Old soldiers never die. They just fade away."

"I would rather not fade," Schwarzkopf said, adding he would consider his options carefully.

He attributed the allied victory to three reasons — "superior technology, our troops were superbly trained and we had overwhelming support from the American people."

Schwarzkopf also praised the high-tech weapons arrayed against the Iraqis — Patriot missiles, Tomahawk missiles and stealth bombers.

"We could move faster and fire more accurately and we could do it all day and all night. The Iraqis like to fight during the day and resupply at night and we took the night away from them and they couldn't deal with it," he said.

To resounding applause, he said, "When the war started Iraq had the fourth largest army in the world, and when the war ended they had the second largest army in Iraq. That's because we were the biggest army in Iraq."

About 50 peace activists participated in a candlelight vigil outside Moody Coliseum before Schwarzkopf spoke. They called on the United Nations to lift economic sanctions against Iraq.

Schwarzkopf's speech, "Desert Storm: Lessons Learned for All of Us," was part of SMU's annual Willis M. Tate Distinguished Lecture Series.

Dr. Gott
Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 58 years old and have noticed that one testicle is much smaller than the other. Is this normal, or should I be concerned?

DEAR READER: As men age, one or both testicles often shrink and become softer. This is normal.

On the other hand, I remember a man in his 60s who came to me with a similar complaint. On examination, I discovered that his "smaller" testicle was normal; the larger one was actually the problem: He had a tumor in it. Thus, although it may sound strange for me to say so, I worry less about the apparent shrinkage of your small testicle, and more about the "normal" one.

You should see your family doctor for an exam. In the event that one testicle has, indeed, become smaller, you needn't worry. But I'd feel more comfortable knowing that the other one hasn't enlarged.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Are there any exercises that would help claudication? I'm 75 and love to walk, yet the condition causes knots in my calves and constant pain.

DEAR READER: Claudication, the appearance of muscle cramps and severe leg pains during exercise, is due to inadequate circulation caused by arterial blockage from arteriosclerosis. Although walking and other similar activities benefit patients with this affliction, such physical exertion is sometimes impossible because of discomfort.

In such cases, I recommend walking to the point of pain, resting and then continuing. Regular exercise will frequently improve circulation but, in my experience, it is not particularly effective treatment for claudication. Rather, surgery to remove the blockage or to bypass the obstruction is much more helpful.

See your doctor for specific recommendations. In the meantime, continue to walk within the limits imposed by your condition. There are no special exercises to aid claudication, which is a mechanical problem usually requiring a mechanical solution.

Because arteriosclerotic blockage is often related to high blood cholesterol, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Understanding Cholesterol." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Victims' relatives have formed bond

SANTA FE (AP) — A small group of spectators at the Gregg Francis Braun sentencing trial have a single, tragic link: They believe their loved ones lost their lives at Braun's hands.

The family members of the New Mexico woman Braun has admitted killing and others in whose deaths he is accused are a tight-knit group.

They have comforted one another, kept one another informed and shared long hours of waiting in courthouse corridors.

They have stayed in touch during the months-long lapses between legal proceedings in the case.

"We have sort of a hotline, from one to another," said Dolores Spurrier of Pampa, Texas, widow of one of Braun's alleged victims.

"There's a lot of ways that you form bonds with people," she said. "I think tragedy makes bonds tighter."

Mrs. Spurrier arrived here Wednesday in time to see the selection of the jury that will decide whether Braun will face death or life in prison.

She said she wasn't really sure why she had made the trip.

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 5, 1991

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 114 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize home rule cities having a population of 5,000 or fewer inhabitants to amend their city charters by a majority vote of a city's qualified voters at an election held for that purpose. The amendment makes clear that home rule cities that have declined in population below the population required to initially adopt a charter may nevertheless continue to amend their charters.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing home-rule cities with a population of 5,000 or less to amend their charters by popular vote."

tion institutions, and youth corrections institutions, to repair and renovate existing facilities of those institutions and to acquire, repair, or renovate other facilities for use as state prisons or substance abuse felony punishment facilities. The $1.1 billion is in addition to the $900 million currently authorized by the constitution to be expended on bond issues for facilities of correctional and mental health and mental retardation institutions. The bonds would constitute a general obligation of the state. The bonds and interest on the bonds would be paid from the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in a sinking fund at the end of the preceding fiscal year that is pledged to payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new prisons or other punishment facilities to confine criminals, mental health and mental retardation institutions, and youth corrections institutions, for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those institutions, and for the acquisition of, major repair to, or renovation of other facilities for use as state prisons or other punishment facilities."

members of different political parties appointed by the governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the senate from each major political party; two members of different political parties appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the house from each major political party; and two members of different political parties appointed by the lieutenant governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the senate from each major political party. A major political party is a political party required by law to hold a primary. With the exception of the initial appointees, commission members would serve for four-year terms. A member who has served for one term and any part of a second term would not be eligible for reappointment. The commission would be authorized to recommend the salary of the members of the legislature and may recommend that the salary of the speaker of the house of representatives and the lieutenant governor be set at an amount higher than that of other members. If the commission recommends a change in salary, the voters would be authorized to accept or reject the salary change at the next general election for state and county officers. If the voters approve the recommended salary, that salary would take effect January 1 of the next odd-numbered year; if the voters reject the recommended salary, no change in salary would occur. The commission would set the per diem of the members of the legislature and of the lieutenant governor. The per diem could be raised or lowered biennially as necessary to pay members' costs, but could not exceed the amount allowed as of January 1 that year as a federal income tax deduction for living expenses incurred in a legislative day in connection with a member's business as a legislator, disregarding any federal income tax exception for legislators residing near the Capitol. The commission would have other powers and duties provided by the commission's enabling act (Senate Bill 1, 72nd Legislature, Regular Session). The amendment would also provide that an increase in the emoluments of the office of Lieutenant Governor would not make a legislator ineligible to serve in the office of Lieutenant Governor.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment creating the Texas Ethics Commission and authorizing the commission to recommend the salary for members of the legislature and the lieutenant governor, subject to voter approval, and to set the per diem for those officials, subject to a limit."

not be exceeded and may not be renewed unless the right to exceed or renew is stated in the proposition. The legislature may enact laws necessary to implement the authority granted by a proposition. A law enacted in anticipation of the election on a proposition is valid if, by its terms, it is enacted subject to approval of the related proposition. State debt that is created following voter approval of a proposition and that is approved by the Attorney General is incontestable for any reason.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the voters of this state to consider state debt questions in the form of ballot propositions that must clearly describe the amounts, purposes, and sources of payment of the debt only after approval of the propositions by a two-thirds vote of each house of the legislature."

on dissolution, the assets remaining after the discharge of the corporation's indebtedness will be transferred to an entity providing water supply or wastewater service, or both, which is exempt from ad valorem taxation. The transferred assets must be property that is reasonably necessary for and used for water supply and wastewater services.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxes certain property of a nonprofit corporation that supplies water or provides wastewater service."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 10 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the Texas Department of Transportation to expend money, from any source available, for the costs of the turnpikes, toll roads, or toll bridges of the Texas Turnpike Authority, provided that any monies expended from the state highway fund shall be repaid to the fund from tolls or other turnpike revenue.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment mandating the repayment to the Department of Transportation of monies expended to assist the Texas Turnpike Authority in the construction, maintenance, and operation of turnpikes, toll roads and toll bridges."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 26 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Veterans' Land Board to invest, as authorized by law, moneys of the Veterans' Land Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board, the purchase of lands, or the payment of expenses. Investment of such moneys would no longer be restricted to investments in bonds or obligations of the United States. The proposed amendment would also authorize the Veterans' Land Board to invest, as authorized by law, moneys of the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on general obligation bonds issued by the Veterans' Land Board for the benefit of the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund, the making of home mortgage loans, or the payment of expenses. Investment of such moneys would no longer be restricted to investments in bonds or obligations of the United States. The proposed amendment gives the legislature power to implement the amendment and to delegate such duties and authority to the Veterans' Land Board as it deems necessary.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to further implement and enhance the administration of the veterans' housing assistance and land programs and to expand the investment authority of the Veterans' Land Board."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of a maximum of $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds. The proceeds of the bonds are to be used to acquire, construct, or equip new prisons and substance abuse felony punishment facilities, mental health and mental retarda-

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 39 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow a county, junior college district, or municipality to exempt tangible personal property from ad valorem taxation if: (1) the property is acquired or brought into the state in an enterprise zone to be forwarded outside the state, (2) the property is assembled, stored, repaired, maintained, manufactured, processed, or fabricated in the enterprise zone, (3) the property is transported outside the state not later than 175 days after being acquired or brought into an enterprise zone, and (4) the person who acquired or brought the property into an enterprise zone is a qualified business. A county, junior college district, or municipality may exempt such property by entering into a written agreement with a qualified business that states the duration of the exemption and the terms on which the exemption is granted. Any action to exempt property must be taken before April 1 of the first year in which the property would otherwise be taxed. The term "enterprise zone" means an area that (1) has been designated as such by a state agency responsible for economic development, and (2) has pervasive poverty, unemployment, and economic distress. The term "qualified business" means a business that meets the qualification established by general law, and requires that the qualified business is actively engaged in a new business in the enterprise zone or is expanding a business that is already active in the enterprise zone. An enterprise zone is created to foster economic development in an area of pervasive poverty and unemployment.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the exemption for ad valorem taxes of certain property in an enterprise zone."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would establish a Texas Ethics Commission with the powers and duties provided by law. The commission would consist of eight appointed members selected as follows: two members of different political parties appointed by the governor from a list of at least ten names submitted by the members of the house of representatives from each major political party; two

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the board of trustees of each statewide public retirement system to invest the funds of the system in such manner as the board considers prudent. The board would no longer be limited to investing the funds of the system in securities.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the board of trustees of a statewide public retirement system to invest the funds of the system in a manner that the board considers prudent."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to create debt by or on behalf of the state if the legislature submitted the debt question to the voters of the state in the form of a proposition and a majority of those voting approved the proposition. The legislature may call the election, by joint resolution approved by at least two-thirds of the members of each house, during any regular session or during any special session if the subject of the proposition is included in the Governor's proclamation for that special session. A proposition must clearly describe the amount and purpose for which debt is to be created and must describe the source of payment for the debt. The amount of debt stated in the proposition may

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 11 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land for which there is not a valid transfer of title from either the State or the Republic of Texas to a private party. A patent is a document of title issued by the state. On application to the School Land Board, a person is entitled to receive a patent if: (1) the land is surveyed public free school fund land, (2) the land was not patentable under the law before the adoption of this proposed amendment, (3) the person acquired the land without knowledge of the title defect out of the State of Texas or the Republic of Texas and held the land under color of title, the chain of which dates from at least January 1, 1941, (4) the person has a recorded deed on file in the county courthouse and, in conjunction with his predecessor in interest, has claimed the land for at least fifty years as of January 1, 1991, and (5) the person, in conjunction with his predecessor in interest, for at least 50 years has paid taxes on the land together with all interest and penalties associated with any delinquency. If the applicant is denied a patent, the applicant may file suit against the School Land Board in a district court in the county where the land is located within 60 days from the date of denial. The proposed amendment does not apply to beach land, submerged land, or islands, and may not be used to resolve a boundary dispute. The proposed amendment also does not apply to land found by a court to be state-owned or to land on which the state has given a mineral lease that is in effect when a patent is sought. A patent under this proposed amendment for land within five miles of mineral production shall reserve minerals to the state in the manner provided by law for reservations of minerals in sales to claimants of unsurveyed school land within five miles of production. An application for a patent under this proposed amendment must be filed with the School Land Board before January 1, 1993.

This proposed constitutional amendment is similar to the version of article VII, section 4A, that was in effect between 1981 and 1990. The main difference is that under the earlier version the applicant for a patent to land had to have a chain of title that dated back to at least as early as January 1, 1932.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land held in good faith under color of title for at least 50 years."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws to exempt property owned by a nonprofit corporation organized to supply water or provide wastewater service from ad valorem taxation. A nonprofit corporation would be eligible for the exemption if its bylaws provide that

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass laws to authorize the State of Texas to operate lotteries and to enter into a contract with one or more legal entities that will operate lotteries on behalf of the State of Texas.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing a state lottery."

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 34 proposes a constitutional amendment that would increase the total amount of bonds that may be issued by the Texas Water Development Board to provide wholesale and retail water and wastewater facilities to economically distressed areas of the state. The proposed amendment increases the maximum principal amount of the bonds from 20 percent to 50 percent of the $500 million amount authorized by article III, section 49-d-7, of the Texas Constitution. The proposed amendment would increase the maximum aggregate dollar amount of bonds that the Texas Water Development Board could issue from $100 million to $250 million.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to increase from 20 percent to 50 percent the percentage of Texas water development bonds previously authorized by Texas voters that may be issued for economically distressed areas."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 2 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws authorizing Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor to issue and sell up to $300 million of general obligation bonds to finance education loans to students. The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interests.

The proposed amendment will be described on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds not to exceed $300,000,000 to continue existing programs to provide educational loans to students, with repayments of student loans applied toward retirement of the bonds."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize the issuance of a maximum of $1.1 billion in general obligation bonds. The proceeds of the bonds are to be used to acquire, construct, or equip new prisons and substance abuse felony punishment facilities, mental health and mental retarda-

Coup-plotters getting taste of Soviet detention centers

MOSCOW (AP) — The hard-line coup plotters have been evicted from their luxurious offices and country dachas and are now spending their days and nights in cramped cells reeking of unwashed bodies, human waste and spoiled food.

Magazine editor Vladislav Starkov took readers behind the aging, drab gray walls of the Matrosskaya Tishina detention center, which he visited this spring to investigate a complaint of brutality.

The picture he painted in the current issue of Arguments and Facts, a weekly that sells more than 30 million copies, mirrors a report by the Helsinki Watch human rights monitoring group on appalling conditions in Soviet pre-trial detention centers.

Helsinki Watch called it "a bitter paradox" that facilities for Soviets still presumed innocent are the worst in the country, while prisons for convicted murderers and rapists are the best.

Matrosskaya Tishina emerged from obscurity with the arrival of its famous inmates. Former Defense Minister Dmitri Yazov, former KGB chief Vladimir Kryuchkov and others accused as plotters are being held there pending trial on treason charges in the Aug. 18-21 botched coup against Soviet President Mikhail

S. Gorbachev. Starkov, also a member of the Russian Federation's parliament, described dimly lit corridors redolent with "acute, unpleasant odors." He reported dark, damp military confinement cells where the single bench is chained to the wall during the day so prisoners can't sleep.

"At the bottom of the door is a hole. I asked to open the hole and I saw a young man from Georgia on his knees. He pleaded to the (prison) director: 'Please let me out of here. I'm frozen in here, and I have kidney trouble,'" Starkov wrote.

"I asked why they have such inhuman conditions in these solitary confinement cells. Even the animals in the zoos are kept under better conditions. The director said this is punishment for people who violate prison rules."

Starkov was never allowed to visit Igor Trofimov, a constituent who complained he was cruelly beaten during detention. The editor said the director denied any beatings and said only Trofimov's lawyer could visit.

Russian Prosecutor Valentin Stepankov told the newspaper Nezavisimaya Gazeta the coup plotters live "no worse and no better than that of the other inmates." They share cells with accused criminals, eating the same 3,000-calorie daily diet of barely edible food, and cannot have visitors, Soviet papers reported.

"Wake-up time is 6 a.m. Bedtime is 10 p.m. Each is allowed an hour-long walk in the open air. Their only privilege is a heavier guard," Stepankov told Rossiskaya Gazeta.

Izvestia reported Saturday that Kryuchkov and others complained about the small quantity of food, and said Yazov's eyes hurt from a light burning night and day in his cell.

Helsinki Watch said people accused of crimes "can be held for years awaiting trial in ancient, overcrowded dungeons, packed into small, hot or cold airless cells, for 23 hours a day, with almost nothing to do but wait."

Soviet law has no effective pre-trial release procedure. Bail is almost never granted. Defendants languish sometimes for years because the strict time limits for trials to start "are uniformly ignored," it said.

But Helsinki Watch said, "Prison reforms are being seriously attempted and changes are evident." It cited a reduction in systematic abuse of detained people by staff, as well as distribution of Bibles and other religious books at some facilities.

Iraq's evasion of inspections leaves Bush 'plenty fed up'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — President Bush today held out hope for "a new era of peace and prosperity" after warning Saddam Hussein that he could again face U.S. warplanes if he impedes United Nations inspections of his nuclear facilities.

In remarks prepared for a political breakfast here, Bush bypassed the new dispute with Iraq and focused instead on democratic changes in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

"We have an unprecedented opportunity to build a new era of peace and prosperity here and abroad, to build a new world order where the rule of law prevails over the use of force," Bush said.

His comments came a day after he disclosed a plan to protect U.N. inspection helicopters in Iraq with U.S. military aircraft if Saddam continues to restrict the inspectors.

The U.N. team is trying to inspect Iraq's nuclear, chemical and biological weapons capability, which is to be destroyed under U.N. cease-fire resolutions that ended the war. "He knows better than to take on the United States of America," the president said.

The president also has agreed to Saudi Arabia's request for Patriot anti-missile missiles to be placed as a defense against possible Iraqi aggression, the White House said.

Spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the United States believes Iraq still has "several hundred Scud missiles" like those used against Saudi Arabia and Israel during the Gulf War.

Bush said he was "plenty fed up" with Saddam's evasion of inspections of his nuclear facilities that are required by the U.N. cease-fire resolutions.

Flooding

cold temperatures extending from eastern New Mexico to the East Coast were expected to linger across most of Texas today, leaving the chance for more showers.

That was bad news for growers on the South Plains, where a quarter of the nation's cotton is grown annually. Farmers have been desperate for sunny, dry weather to nourish a late-planted, 3-million-acre crop that is already showing signs of premature aging.

"Cotton stops growing below 70 degrees," said Ronnie Brown, assistant general manager of the Farmers Cooperative Compress in Lubbock. "Too much cold weather could permanently stunt the growth."

Meanwhile in El Paso, rain-soaked Interstate-10 resulted in a rush-hour gridlock as a jackknifed truck closed a portion of the highway. No other major traffic problems were reported due to the rain.

The latest rainfall came a day after Southwest Texas began drying out from torrential downpours earlier in the week.

On streets throughout the South Plains, motorists abandoned cars as standing water reached three feet in some areas, making intersections impassable.

Sgt. Wayne Bullock of the Lubbock Police Department said about 34 minor accidents were reported Wednesday, but there were no reports of injuries, Bullock said.

Bullock said about 20 cars had to be pulled out of standing water and several major intersections throughout Lubbock were closed.

Fred Story's magic show slated Saturday

"The Elegant Magic of Fred Story," a 90 minute program featuring traditional feats of magic, will be presented at 2 p.m. Saturday in Worsham Auditorium.

This event is again being sponsored by the Snyder Jaycees and all proceeds will benefit the Toys for Tots program.

Local businesses and individuals will be contacted by telephone to ask for their support by purchasing children's and senior citizens' tickets. Contributions can also be mailed to Snyder Jaycees, P.O. Box 312. For further information about the show and/or advance sales of tickets call 573-8904.

Adult, senior citizen and student tickets may also be purchased at the door.

During the performance Story will make a woman float in mid-air and birds, rabbits and ducks disappear.

Members of the audience will also be invited to participate in various magical effects throughout the performance.

One highlight includes someone participating in the famous "French Guillotine Illusion." Fred Story's magic show includes comedy, special lighting, costuming and stage sets. This show has been labeled "as the cleanest and best family show on the road today."

Case closed; two arrested

Snyder police closed a case, made two arrests and worked a couple of traffic accidents Wednesday.

Officers cleared a case of criminal mischief when a male came into the department at 9 a.m. to give a voluntary statement. The statement was in reference to a broken window in a pickup owned by Neil Rinehart. The window was broken during the Diez y Seis fiesta. The case has been forwarded to the county attorney.

Officers arrested a 30-year-old female at 4:11 p.m. Wednesday in the 1200 block of 25th St. for driving while license suspended. Also arrested Wednesday was a 28-year-old male for public intoxication at 9:57 p.m. in the 400 block of 23rd St. Both subjects were transported to the county jail.

At 6:36 p.m. police investigated a felony theft at 4102 Ave. U. Kenneth Pierce reported that 15 redwood fencing panels had been stolen from the back yard of the residence.

Officers worked a minor accident at 12:19 p.m. Wednesday in the 2700 block of 38th St. Involved were a Dodge driven by Patricia McCowan of 4116 Kerrville and a 1988 Toyota driven by Erin Rambo of 3105 41st St. No wrecker or ambulance was needed.

At 9:32 p.m. officers worked a one-vehicle accident at 300 23rd St. in which the driver of a 1978 Ford left the scene. The vehicle struck a fence post and a mail box owned by Richard Kruger of West 37th St. and a utility pole owned by TU Electric. The vehicle was towed from the scene.

In one other report, officers investigated a gas drive off at Albert's Fina at 1:05 p.m.

Dr. Wallace H. Carothers, a research chemist for Du Pont who invented nylon, received a patent in 1937 for the synthetic fiber.

Kids' Backyard Toy Causes Insurance to Jump Sky-High

DEAR ABBY: I am very angry! We have just met with our insurance agent who has advised us that we need an additional policy.

We recently purchased a trampoline for our children, which we are now told is a huge liability to us. It stands about 3 1/2 feet off the ground, so it is not likely that a small child could get on without assistance.

What infuriates me is that the children who could get on are old enough to know they would be trespassing. Should a child hurt him or herself while using it without supervision, we would be responsible.

Why couldn't we sue the parents for not watching their children or teaching them to respect other people's property? Our system has made it a liability to drive the Boy Scouts to the zoo, or have play equipment in our own back yard. Granted, laws are made for the protection of others—but what about my rights? I could lose my home, my car and all of my savings because the newspaper boy decided to jump on our trampoline while delivering newspapers.

We, the public, have made it so easy to sue. Who cares? The insurance company has plenty of money. Wrong! You and I pay for it through higher premiums. It is time the lawyers, judges and jurors stood up and shouted, "Enough! Quit wasting my time and the taxpayers' money!"

For crying out loud, America, use some common sense! All we wanted to do was give our children a fun toy—not make someone rich because his kids broke our safety rules and trespassed on our property. Thank you, Abby, for letting me get this off my chest.

A VERY DISAPPOINTED TRAMPOLINE OWNER

DEAR DISAPPOINTED OWNER: As your insurance agent has probably informed you, a trampoline on your property is what is known as an "attractive nuisance." It is "attractive" because it is accessible to children in your neighborhood who may find it fun and can use it unsupervised. And it's a "nuisance" because should an accident occur, you are, indeed, liable.

You should install a fence around your property, making the trampoline inaccessible to uninvited people. And be sure your fence has a lock on it.

DEAR ABBY: Like 100,000 other men in the United States each year, I was diagnosed recently as having cancer of the prostate through the use of a digital examination, a blood test for the measurement of prostatic-specific antigen, and an ultrasound examination of the prostate. Soon after, I went to the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore for surgery, where Dr. Patrick Walsh has devised a procedure for the removal of cancerous prostates with a nerve-sparing technique, leaving most of his patients potent and continent. His procedure is widely used by other urologists.

One urologist told me that had I not had the prostatic-specific antigen test and the ultrasound examination, the detection of the malignancy through a digital examination alone would have taken 10 years, at which time I would have been dead. Instead, I am cancer-free and in perfect health because of early detection.

Real estate whiz spends one day in jail

DALLAS (AP) — Real estate developer Craig T. Hall, jailed after being found in contempt of a court during a bitter divorce, says he has paid an average of $34,000 a month to his wife and daughter.

Hall, who was released Wednesday after posting $5,000 pretrial bond, said the dispute concerns whether he should be paying his wife's bills or making payments to her.

He went to jail Tuesday after a six-day hearing over his refusal to pay nearly $24,000 a month to his wife, MaryAnna, and daughter since March. A judge found Hall owed $144,000 in child and spousal support.

But, Hall said Wednesday night, "I paid the payments. I don't believe I should pay them twice."

Hall, 41, leads Dallas-based Hall Financial Group, one of the nation's largest private real estate syndicators. Last year, he wrote a book about the collapse of real estate in Texas and subsequent rebuilding of his company.

During the 1980s, the group of 10,000 investors Hall led owned 60,000 apartment units and several million square feet of office space with a value exceeding $2 billion.

When real estate values fell, problems grew for Hall and his investors. When he was linked to one of the first failed thrifts in California, a broker told a national newspaper that Hall's efforts to stem the tide of losses were like "trying to rearrange the deck chairs on the Titanic."

That quote haunted him, he wrote last year in the book "News of My Death Was Greatly Exaggerated."

The book, he said last December, was "a way for me to try to make sense of what I thought was a very unusual, kind of upside down period of time both in history and in my life."

Hall also wrote books about real estate investing in 1979 and 1982.

The Halls have been involved in divorce proceedings since December 1989, a battle that has dragged on despite a pre-nuptial agreement and a marriage agreement he and his wife signed in 1978, Hall said.

In March, a state judge ordered Hall to pay $23,982.75 a month to his wife and 11-year-old daughter while the case progressed. The amount is less than 5 percent of Hall's monthly resources, according Mrs. Hall's attorney, Paul Fanning.

"He wants to win the point," Fanning said of Hall. "He wants to see if he can get an appellate court to overturn (the order)."

Hall said he had paid $204,000 since March to support his wife and daughter Kristina.

Hall said he stayed awake during his nearly 40 hours in jail.

"I feel like I lived 10 years in the last 2 1/2 days," he said.

Cereal maker says slander suit against official resolved

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Kellogg Co. said Wednesday it has resolved its slander suit against a Texas official who badmouthed the company in an article in The New York Times.

Texas Assistant Attorney General Stephen Gardner wrote to Kellogg Chairman William LaMothe, apparently apologizing for remarks he made in February about the cereal maker.

Gardner's remarks published Feb. 27 included the statements: "Kellogg constantly lies about its products. I don't believe anything Kellogg tells me. They've lied to me too many times." Kellogg refused to release the contents of Gardner's letter. Gardner could not be reached at his Dallas office Wednesday evening.

"The issue has been our reputation and integrity," Kellogg spokesman Richard Lovell said. "Those issues have been addressed to the satisfaction of the chairman's office and the board of directors."

Lovell said Kellogg lawyers will withdraw the suit from U.S. District Court in Kalamazoo this week. It was originally filed in a state court March 25.

No trial date had been set, but Judge Richard Enslin had denied motions by Gardner's attorneys to move the case to Texas and to rule in Gardner's favor without a trial. The Times was not a defendant in Kellogg's suit. Texas is one of six states in-olved in a pending federal court suit in Iowa that alleges Kellogg made deceptive nutritional claims about its Special K, a cereal formerly named 40+ Bran Flakes and Frosted Flakes.

Gardner said in April that his remarks were in reaction to Kellogg's response in the Iowa case. Attorneys general in Minnesota, California, Florida and Wisconsin intervened.
