Ask Us

Q—Since tax notices were mailed out late, are discounts for early payment being extended?

A—County Tax Assessor-Collector Rona Sikes said the three percent early payment discount for October will be extended until Nov. 15. Any payments received postmarked by Nov. 15 will receive the discount. This applies only to taxes paid to the county tax office.

In Brief

No hearing set

HOUSTON (AP) — A hearing has been canceled on a defense motion for a new trial for Wanda Webb Holloway, found guilty last month of trying to hire a hit man to kill the mother of her daughter's cheerleading rival.

The Channelview woman was sentenced to 15 years in prison for solicitation of capital murder. The intended victim, Verna Heath, was not harmed.

A new date has not been scheduled for the hearing. State District Judge George Godwin could rule on the motion, filed by Mrs. Holloway's attorneys, without a hearing.

The defense contends the judge refused to allow certain witnesses to testify, there is new evidence discrediting the state's star witness and an ineligible juror was seated.

Civil rights bill compromise receives President's blessing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush today hailed a compromise civil rights bill as "a new standard against discrimination" that would end two years of political stalemate. Majority Leader George Mitchell said the accord had unanimous support among Senate Democrats.

"This is an historic first," Bush declared today at a news conference where he embraced the draft of a new civil rights bill, which emerged from long negotiations Thursday night between the administration and both Democratic and Republican senators.

Bush said he would "enthusiastically sign" the legislation if it emerges unchanged from Congress, saying the compromise bill "does not resort to quotas."

"Both the administration and the Congress can present this legislation to the people of America as a new standard against discrimination," the president said. Bush had said earlier, in a picture-taking session with Senate Republican Leader Bob Dole, that he "couldn't be happier."

Bush approved the compromise Thursday night after Senate negotiators and the White House worked out wording that, in the White House interpretation, no longer presents the inevitability of minority quotas in hiring and promotion.

Democrats, however, said they had not given up anything of substance in the changes. They suggested Bush had seized the political opportunity to embrace the bill.

"The administration relented. They finally stopped playing the quota card," said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

Kennedy negotiated into the night with White House officials, including chief of staff John Sununu and GOP senators, then recommended the package to a closed meeting of Senate Democrats.

Mitchell, D-Maine, said "Democrats unanimously support the compromise."

Kennedy and some other Democrats voiced regret that Bush had insisted on placing dollar limits on damages available to victims of sexual discrimination and harassment. Kennedy said he and others would immediately introduce a separate bill to wipe out those limits and predicted it would pass with enough support to override Bush's veto.

The key to the agreement were changes in legal language involving defenses for employers in unintentional discrimination cases. Bush and the administration had contended that by making those standards so restrictive on employers, businesses would be prompted to use quotas in hiring to avoid lawsuits.

Kennedy said the new provisions follow closely those in a rights-for-the-disabled bill enacted last year and were substantially in line with previous Democratic bills.

Local man arrested on burglary charge

Police have charged a 17-year-old Snyder man with burglary of a business in connection with the break-in of Everybody's Thriftway earlier this week.

Christopher Don Donaldson, of 117 34th St., was arrested at 2:06 p.m. Thursday at the police station and transported to the county jail. Bond was set at $5,000.

He is charged with the burglary of Everybody's Thriftway store at 1905 35th St., in which an undetermined amount of money and other items were taken. The burglary was reported at 7:26 a.m.

Tuesday. The identification of Donaldson as a suspect clears one of a rash of burglaries being investigated by local police.

These include residential burglaries at 2602 33rd St., 2011 Ave. N and 2604 33rd St. Those burglaries were reported to police on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively. In addition to those and the break-in at Everybody's police were notified Wednesday morning of burglaries occurring at ABC Rent All, Nix Auto and Johnson Exxon.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "All men make mistakes, but husbands just find out about them sooner."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Joe Thompson, writing in the Hood County News, says his wife of 23 years has provided plenty of material for columns, but only once has it gotten him in deep trouble.

She reacted negatively when he counted the number of shoes in her closet and then made a written comparison to the number of leathers in his.

There were other times when she was a better sport: --The time the new wife tossed out a whole pot of butter beans because she thought the eyes were worms.

--The cook who made gravy from cooked weiners, resulting in pink gravy.

The Abilene Rotary Club bulletin had a few items to help a person know when things are going wrong:

--You put both contact lenses in the same eye.

--You call your wife and tell her you would like to eat out and she says there'll be a sandwich on the front porch.

--The fortune teller looks at your palm, shakes her head, and offers to refund your money.

--Everyone avoids you the morning after the company office party.

--The worst player on the golf course wants to play you for money.

Stephen Henry, in the Levelland News-Press says childhood is when you make funny faces in the mirror.

Adulthood is when the mirror begins to get even.

O.G. Nieman, in the Hereford Brand, told about an epitaph on a rich man's tombstone:

"I struggled with arithmetic all my life. As a child, I learned to add. As a young man, I was a master at multiplying. As an adult I never learned to subtract. And now my relatives will divide."

County jobless rate said 6.2%

Unemployment in Scurry County rose slightly to 6.2 percent for September, according to figures released by the Texas Employment Commission.

TEC statistics indicate that of a civilian labor force of 10,910 for the month, 10,221 were employed. The remaining 672 who were unemployed but seeking work represents 6.2 percent.

Scurry County's jobless rate for August was 5.8 percent, down from a longtime high of 11.3 percent in July.

Unemployment for both the state and nation was at 6.4 percent for September.

What follows is a list of area counties and corresponding unemployment figures for September.

—Andrews, 6.7 percent, based on a labor force of 7,294, of which 6,803 were employed.

Cogdell board oks resolution, funds to paint 10 rooms

Cogdell Memorial Hospital managers approved a resolution as part of a grant requirement, heard a financial report and gave the go-ahead to paint 10 patient rooms during their monthly meeting Thursday.

The board unanimously approved a resolution supporting a grant request to the Abell-Hanger Foundation. Funds from the tentatively approved grant are to be used to link Cogdell with the Texas Tech Med-Net Group. Midwest Electric had previously donated a satellite dish, television and VCR for the program, which provides televised continuing education for medical staff. The grant money will go toward a $300 monthly fee for the service.

In other action, board members approved painting 10 rooms on the Medical II wing of the hospital in anticipation of an extra patient load. Tim Lancaster, hospital CEO, said the cost is expected to be about $275 per room, or $2,750.

A discussion of September's financial report revealed a loss in net income to the hospital of $58,201. Lancaster noted that revenue actually increased about $12,000 over the previous month, despite the loss of the Clements prison unit pharmaceutical contract, but explained that deductions included an abnormally high $135,589 in bad-debt. The hospital averages about $62,000 in bad debt per month.

The hospital cash balance stands at $1,139,798.

Other figures for the month indicate that Cogdell had an acute daily census of 13.1, a long term acute daily census of 30, performed 50 surgeries, had 22 newborns and 554 emergency room visits.

In other action Thursday, the board gave approval for Lancaster to accept a one-year term to serve on the American College Healthcare Executives Regent's Advisory Council. Lancaster will serve for Area D, West Texas.

Due to conflicting dates on or near Thanksgiving and Christmas, the board also approved changing (see COGDELL, page 8)

You decide: Prop 7

PROPOSITION 7: "The constitutional amendment to allow the board of trustees of a statewide public retirement system to invest the funds of the system in a manner that the board considers prudent."

Background: If passed, this amendment will change the way in which the board of trustees of each statewide public retirement system can invest the system's funds. Currently, a board can only invest its retirement funds in securities (stocks, bonds, etc.). However, if this amendment passes, a board may invest its retirement funds in any way that it determines is prudent.

Supporters Say: Proposition 7 would grant additional flexibility to allow the state retirement system boards to make a wider range of prudent investments to diversify systems holdings and boost the return on system funds, to the benefit of those served by the system. It would permit the Teacher Retirement System (TRS) and Employee Retirement System (ERS) to directly invest in real estate and investment vehicles such as placements and limited partnerships that could increase the investment return on retirement funds without undue risk. The real estate currently held by the TRS is performing adequately. Although the properties were not obtained by direct investment, the fund's ownership of real estate has not damaged the fund's total returns. Direct real estate investments would allow the pension funds to receive rental income that would grow with inflation, while mort- (see PROPOSITION, page 8)

Creator of 'Star Trek' dies at age 70

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gene Roddenberry, the TV producer who launched the Starship Enterprise and introduced a "Star Trek" cast of Vulcans, Klingons and human explorers in the 23rd century to generations of fans, died at age 70.

Roddenberry died Thursday at Santa Monica Hospital Medical Center minutes after having a heart attack at his doctor's office across the street, said hospital spokesman Ted Braun.

A decorated World War II flier, former Pan Am pilot and Los Angeles police sergeant, Roddenberry began his Hollywood career as a freelance TV and movie writer and created "Star Trek" in the mid 1960s.

The original series was a ratings flop, but it developed momentum in syndication — spawning six feature films and a new TV series — and became a cultural phenomenon complete with "Star Trek" conventions, books, clothing and lunch boxes. Fans are known as "Trekkies."

"Few widens in the annals of motion picture and television history have inspired more passion and allegiance on the part of the audience than has 'Star Trek,'" said Paramount Pictures chairman Brandon Tartikoff, whose studio made both series and all the "Star Trek" feature films.

The original "Star Trek" premiered Sept. 8, 1966. Set in the 23rd century, it featured a crew of intergalactic explorers on the Starship Enterprise, including the dashing Capt. James T. Kirk, played by William Shatner, and the logical, emotionless Vulcan first mate, Mr. Spock, played by Leonard Nimoy.

The show, which tackled such themes as discrimination, overpopulation and pollution, never rose above No. 52 in the ratings and was canceled in 1969.

A corps of zealous fans — the original "Trekkies" — launched letter-writing campaigns to keep the series alive. The 79 TV episodes gained great popularity in worldwide syndication and remain in syndication today.

The crew's mission — "To seek out new life and new civilizations. To boldly go where no man has gone before" — continued in the movies and in the new syndicated TV series "Star Trek: The Next Generation."

The 35,000 members of "Star Trek: The Official Fan Club" celebrated the series' 25th anniversary last month.

"It's rather sad that in the year that all us fans are celebrating ... we have to stop and sadly reminisce about the man who created the whole thing," said Dan Madson, president of the Aurora, Colo.-based club.

Roddenberry produced the first movie "Star Trek: The Motion Picture," and served as a consultant on the others. The newest, "Star Trek VI: The Undiscovered Country," is scheduled for a holiday season release.

He was executive producer of the new series.

Nimoy said Roddenberry "had an extraordinary vision about mankind and the potential of mankind's future."

"The 'Star Trek' phenomenon will be his legacy and will live on forever," said Shatner.

Roddenberry, a native of El Paso, Texas, was nearly as well known as the series he created and remained in demand as a speaker. He especially enjoyed contact with science fiction writers.

"You see, what 'Star Trek' has brought to me is more than just credit for the television show," he said in a 1989 interview with The Associated Press. "My friends are Isaac Asimov, Ray Bradbury, Arthur C. Clarke, and we sit together and explore our dreams of the future."

Roddenberry's other credits included the 1971 Rock Hudson thriller "Pretty Maids All in a Row" which he wrote and produced.

He is survived by his wife, Majel Barrett, an actress who appeared in both "Star Trek" series, a son, Rod, and daughters Darleen and Dawn.

Pet Owner Makes Her Case For Snakes' Obvious Charm

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1991 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: After reading your article about people who are afraid of pets, I had to write. I have dogs, cats and also snakes — all boa constrictors. While I was growing up, my brothers would come in from working the fields and get a big kick out of throwing snakes on me. I made up my mind I wasn't going to be afraid, so I studied up on snakes and learned everything I could about them — that's how I started keeping snakes as pets. Now I'm invited to bring my snakes to schools and talk to children so they can decide for themselves whether snakes are good or bad.

Snakes make loving pets. I took my 6 1/2-foot boa constrictor everywhere with me until she got so big I could no longer sneak her into my blouse. Boa constrictors are non-poisonous. They're intelligent, too. When I ask for a kiss, she kisses me on the corner of my mouth.

Once, when she was on the couch with me, she heard someone coming into the house through the sliding glass door — so she went right after him! (Afterward, the police refused to come in to make the report.) Dogs intimidate people by growling and showing their teeth, but most folks are terrified at the sight of a snake!

Snakes are much easier to care for than a dog or cat. They eat only once every eight or 10 days, and they're not slimy like most people think — they're smooth and silky.

Before closing, I want to commend you for telling the reader who was terrified to discover a snake coiled up in the corner of her attic, "Why kill it? People don't realize that snakes eat mice and rats, and they're good for the environment."

KAREN SMALL

DEAR KAREN: Snakes have gotten a bad rap ever since one made its debut in the Garden of Eden.

A few more reasons why snakes make good pets: They're quiet, you never have to walk them — and you'll never have to worry about anybody stealing them.

DEAR ABBY: "Not Perfect," who says non-smokers should assess their own bad habits before looking down at smokers, seems to think that being an irritant to others is an inevitable part of life. Baloney! The smell of cigarette smoke is repulsive, which is why, for 17 years, I carefully abstained around non-smokers.

Now that I am an ex-smoker, I still have plenty of bad habits, but I am grown up enough to shield other people from them. A partial list: I do not snap my gum, hum overtures or make noxious nasal noises in public. When my windows are open, I keep my stereo down. It is not unreasonable for me to expect such consideration in return, or to be outraged when I don't get it.

No smoker who exercises good manners should be treated like a leper. However, people who light up around strangers, as someone recently did in front of me in the post office, deserve to be treated like the insensitive clods they truly are.

IMPERFECT BUT POLITE,
STATE COLLEGE, PA.

DEAR IMPERFECT: You are right — it is simply a matter of "good manners," which calls to mind this time-honored quotation by Jonathan Swift (1687-1745), the witty English author of "Gulliver's Travels": "Good manners is the art of making those people easy with whom we converse. Whoever makes the fewest people uneasy is the best bred in the company."

"How to Be Popular" is an excellent guide to becoming a better conversationalist and a more attractive person. Man sentenced, fined for killing bird

AUSTIN (AP) — A Marble Falls man who said he mistakenly shot a whooping crane has been sentenced to 60 days in a federal facility and ordered to pay $23,100 in fines and restitution.

In addition, Billy Dale Inman was sentenced Thursday to five years probation by U.S. Magistrate Stephen Capelle of Austin. Inman must also complete 200 hours of community service for killing the endangered species of bird.

He was ordered to pay a $15,000 fine and $8,100 in restitution to the state.

Inman pleaded guilty to shooting a whooping crane in the neck with a 12-gauge shotgun during a fishing trip April 15th. The incident happened along the Colorado River in Lampasas County.

He said he didn't know the bird was one of the fewer than 140 wild whooping cranes that exist. The bird is protected by federal and state law.

Curtis Collier Sayers, also of Marble Falls, pleaded guilty to aiding in the killing. He has yet to be sentenced.

Newspaper rejects Cher's ad

PLEASANTVILLE, N.J. (AP) — The words under the picture of the scantily clad entertainer — facing away from the camera — say "Cher's Back."

It wasn't Cher's back The Press of Atlantic City objected to, but her tattooed buttocks — clearly visible through fishnet stockings and a thong.

The newspaper rejected the full-page advertisement promoting Cher's new video — "Save Up All Your Tears" — and her performances this weekend and next in Atlantic City.

It revised the ad for today's editions, covering Cher's buttocks with a black box with "censored" printed in white.

The untouched advertisement has been published by several newspapers.

Listen to the bidding

By Phillip Alder

If an opponent has bid, use the information to your advantage. Don't be deaf to the data dispensed.

If you would like to test yourself on today's deal, which was played at the Summer Nationals in Las Vegas, cover the East-West cards and plan the play in five clubs. West leading the diamond queen.

South didn't know what to bid after East surprised him with a weak two-bid in hearts (which, it is true, not everyone would choose, especially when vulnerable, with no picture card in the suit). In the end, South decided to take a shot at game in his other long suit.

The declarer was so happy to have dodged a spade lead that he took his eye off the ball momentarily. He discarded his spade king on dummy's diamond ace and immediately led a trump. However, the defenders drew two rounds of clubs before exiting with a diamond. When the hearts split 6-0, declarer could ruff only one of his heart losers in the dummy. On the sixth round of the suit, East's 10 beat declarer's nine to defeat the contract.

As the 6-0 heart split was a virtual certainty from the bidding, declarer's only chance was to find East with the singleton or doubleton spade ace. At trick two, he should have ruffed a spade in hand. Then, after two rounds of trumps and a diamond ruff in hand, declarer plays a heart to dummy's queen and ruffs another spade, bringing down the ace. Back to dummy with a heart ruff, and the heart nine disappears on the spade queen: contract made.

Ticket fixing investigated

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A municipal court bailiff has become the first person fired as the result of a continuing investigation into allegations that court employees have dismissed traffic tickets and kept fine money.

Anton Malish, 27, had been placed on leave and on Thursday tried to fight losing his job. But court acting director Frank Stromboe dismissed him, the San Antonio Express-News reports.

The investigation is being conducted by the San Antonio Office of Municipal Integrity and the San Antonio Police Department White Collar Crime Unit.

City Councilman Frank Wing, chairman of the council's Municipal Court committee, said he had discussed the investigation with Mayor Nelson Wolff, and he hopes to have ready an ordinance regarding court administration and the handling of tickets.

Profit reported up at motel chain

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — La Quinta Motor Inns Inc. had a 67 percent jump in third quarter profit due to efficiencies gained from a restructuring and expense-cutting measures, company officials said.

La Quinta earned $5.27 million, or 42 cents a share, on revenue of $68.2 million during the three months that ended Sept. 30. The company earned $3.16 million, 24 cents a share, on revenue of $63.3 million during the same period last year.

"We have begun to experience the improved results anticipated from our recent corporate restructuring," said Sam Barshop, president and chairman of the company.

Gunman's sister apologizes, is mystified by the shooting

DALLAS (AP) — The family of cafeteria gunman George Hennard is still trying to figure out what provoked the nation's worst mass shooting, his sister says.

Desiree Hennard also apologized to relatives of the 23 people killed during the Oct. 16 rampage in Killeen.

"I want to say I'm sorry to all those people who lost family and friends — we lost someone too," she said in an interview printed in today's edition of The Dallas Morning News.

"We're hurtin' real bad. My parents are really broken up. They can hardly take it," the 28-year-old cosmetologist said.

Ms. Hennard said her family is still baffled by her brother's actions, adding that some speculation is totally unfounded.

"Everyone wants to know why," she said. "So do we, and we knew him best," she said.

Commenting at the family's home in Belton, she said the family was digging for answers.

"We just don't know. There's no reason he would do that."

Hennard, who killed himself, had depressed, his sister said, but not enough to drive his pickup through the window of Luby's Cafeteria and begin shooting people with a semiautomatic 9mm pistol.

"He was depressed sometimes, but I don't want to take that out of perspective," she said. "Everyone gets depressed sometimes. I never thought he would do that, and I never could have imagined him taking anyone with him."

Ms. Hennard rejected reports that her brother had hated women in general and his mother in particular. She also denied he hated blacks, Hispanics and gays.

She explained one report that Hennard had shouted at a woman by saying the dispute recounted by neighbors was between her and her estranged husband.

Scurry Co. battle is featured 6-A tilt

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

The Ira Bulldogs and the Hermleigh Cardinals will battle for Scurry County six-man football bragging rights in a 7:30 p.m. District 6-A contest today at Cardinal Stadium.

The Bulldogs are coming off a big 47-38 win over Borden County a week past to remain undefeated in two loop games while Hermleigh is still trying to earn its first win of the season following a 48-0 shutout by Loraine last Friday.

Other matchups within the loop today include Trent at defending champion Borden County and Loraine at Highland.

Ira (3-4, 2-0) at Hermleigh (0-7, 0-2)

Hermleigh's first-year football coach, Bruce Kimball, is finding the sledding in District 6 pretty tough.

His Cardinals are standing at 0-7 with four shutouts and a forfeit in the loss column.

Coach Mike Cook's Ira Bulldogs, on the other hand, are getting plenty of points and are on a drive to a possible loop crown after knocking off Borden County, the defending title holder last week.

Brian Luna scored two touchdowns for the 'Dogs last week on offense, in addition to claiming three interceptions as a defensive back. Michael Lathem added a pair of TD scampers and Ronal White scored a six-pointer for Ira.

Hermleigh will play Ira for the first time in four years today, even though the teams have been in the same football district the whole time.

The Cards have been forced to cancel games at the end of the year, including against Ira, for the past three seasons due to injuries which left the team short-handed.

Trent (2-5, 2-0) at Borden County (4-3, 1-1)

Trent seems to have peaked at the right time winning both its district games, a 22-16 affair over Loraine two weeks ago and a 47-0 shutout of hapless Highland last Friday.

Borden County, picked to successfully defend its 1990 grid title, fell to Ira a week past in spite of touchdown runs by Brandon Adcock covering 14 and 65 yards.

Trent's easy win came over the Highland JV after the Hornet varsity cancelled Friday's game.

Jeff Samford of the Gorillas scored three TDs on runs of 66, 10 and 42 yards and David Samford added a pair of touchdowns, getting into the end zone on rushes of 7 and 36 yards, before the game was called at halftime.

Tigers attempt to stop DHS

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

The first thing that comes to mind when you think of the Dunbar Panthers of 1991 is the play of two-way sensation Typhail McMullen.

No one knows that better than Snyder coach David Baugh, who has been watching the 6-2, 192-pound tailback rip up opposing defenses on tape all week.

"We'll have to key on McMullen," Baugh reported, "but we have to stay aware. When you're defending a wing-T offense, and you just key on one guy, the others will hurt you."

"They play a wing-T like we do," the coach explained. "They run a tight slot set more than we do, though."

Another problem the SHS defenders will have with McMullen is where he'll be lining up.

"They use him everywhere in the backfield," Baugh stated. "He'll line up at fullback, at tailback and at wingback."

And he's pretty effective from all three positions. Last week, in Dunbar's 34-21 win over Frenship, McMullen picked up 196 yards and two touchdowns on 35 carries.

For the season, the DHS workhorse has gained 887 yards and has scored 13 touchdowns.

The Tiger defense proved up to the task of stopping a highly regarded runner a week ago when it limited speedy Esteven Goughly of Levelland to a mere 41 yards on 15 attempts.

"What we hope to do," Baugh said of the team's defensive plans, "is to keep him (McMullen) to around 100 yards and one touchdown."

"If we can do that, I think we have a good chance of beating them."

Other standouts on the Dunbar offense include sophomore fullback Willie Turner, who gained 109 yards against Frenship, and junior quarterback Shaft Davis.

"He's a pretty good quarterback," said the Snyder chief of the panthers' junior signal-caller.

"With their running attack, though, they don't throw the ball very much. I think they average about 50 yards (passing) a game."

The Panther defense, anchored by linebacker Aaron McConic and McMullen at free safety, will line up in a 4-3 set.

"They're an even-front team," coach Baugh stated. "They'll send their outside linebackers in just to try to give you a bad play and put pressure on you."

Snyder and Dunbar head into today's battle with identical 4-3 overall records and 1-1 marks in District 2-4A play.

Do the defending District 2-4A champion Tigers have to win this week to keep pace with league-leader Estacado?

"Well, yes," said Baugh, "but I'm not even thinking about Estacado. I'm just thinking about us."

"I look for our fullback (Wayland Harrison) and our tailback (Will Clay) to have a good game."

"What we can't do," Baugh continued, "is keep giving up ridiculous turnovers. We don't need to bobble or fumble snaps and handoffs.

"We've got to cut down on that sort of thing."

Snyder suffered three lost fumbles last week in the Tigers' 14-0 blanking of Levelland, on mishandled snaps and handoffs to running backs.

Preparations this week were hampered in the Tiger camp by sickness, starting cornerback Jason Green, first-string quarterback Chris Sutherland and noseguard Eddie Byrd are all probable for today's game, in spite of missing workouts with flu-like symptoms this week.

"Them being sick interfered with workouts," Baugh reported. "I just hope nobody else gets sick."

Tonight's contest begins at 7:30 p.m. at Lowrey Field in Lubbock. In other 2-4A games, Estacado is at Frenship and Levelland travels to Lamesa.

Braves claim 3-2 Series lead

ATLANTA (AP) — All the Atlanta Braves have to do now is figure out how to win one game in the Metrodome. Everything else is under control.

The Braves destroyed the Twins 14-5 in Game 5 of the World Series Thursday night to take a 3-2 lead back to Minnesota. The Twins don't seem too worried, though.

"It's going like 1987 again," manager Tom Kelly said. "We're confident we can win at home."

The Twins lost three straight at St. Louis four years ago, but won all four games at the Metrodome. It was the first time that had happened in Series history.

After losing the first two games of the Series, the Braves came back for a three-game sweep at Atlanta. The first two games under Georgia skies were true fall classics; the third game was just a classic flop for the Twins.

The Braves had 17 hits off five pitchers, including home runs by David Justice, Lonnie Smith and Brian Hunter. And it was another big night for little Mark Lemke, who had two triples and drove in three runs.

The 14 runs by the Braves set a Series record by a National League team and Atlanta had eight extra-base hits, one shy of the Series record. The Braves didn't need any miracles to win this game.

"I know they're a different team at home, but I think we can win one of two there," said Justice, who led the Braves with five RBIs. "We weren't quite ready for the first two games, but we're more comfortable now."

The Twins franchise is proving to be quite predictable in the World Series. The Twins-Senators combination has lost 14 straight Series games on the road, with the last victory coming in 1925 when Walter Johnson won Game 1 at Pittsburgh.

The Braves will start Steve Avery in Game 6 and a shaky Scott Erickson is scheduled to pitch for the Twins. There were some concerns in Game 3 that Erickson didn't have his best velocity.

Kevin Tapani pitched three scoreless innings in Game 5 before falling apart in the fourth inning. Ron Gant led off with a single and Justice hit an opposite-field homer that tipped the top of the left field fence over a leaping Dan Gladden.

"With Ronnie on first base, I know they're coming with a fastball," said Justice, who had only two opposite-field homers all year. "I got a fastball on the outside of the plate that I could go with. I didn't know it was gone."

Snyder netters nab consolation victory

LUBBOCK — Snyder High School's tennis team, eliminated from championship contention in Thursday's opening round of the Region I-4A tournament, came back to claim a 12-5 victory over Crowley in an afternoon consolation match.

Individual match results were unavailable at press time.

The Tigers were to have resumed play in the consolation bracket at 9 a.m. this morning against an opponent yet to be decided.

The Tigers' first-round loss came at the hands of the highly-touted Burkburnett squad, 10-8.

Other winners in Thursday action included Brownwood, which took a 10-8 victory against District 2-4A runner-up Estacado, and Big Spring which captured a 15-3 win over Saginaw Boswell and a 10-8 decision versus Brownwood in a second-round match.

In addition, Andrews hammered Ft. Worth Arlington Heights, 14-4.

The regional winner will advance to Austin in November for the state Class 4A tournament.

Levelland to host SHS Lady Tigers

Snyder's playoff-bound Lady Tigers will take on Levelland Saturday, on the Loboettes' home court, in matches beginning at 12:30 p.m. as their quest to improve on their second-place standing continues.

Snyder thumped Lubbock Estacado Tuesday, 15-2, 13-15, 15-4, to clinch, at least, the district's runner-up playoff post, with the possibility of a loop title still in the cards.

"This was a crucial game for us," said SHS coach Patty Grimmett. "The girls handled the pressure well."

"It (the win against Estacado) puts us in the playoffs," she continued. "The worst we can do is finish second (in District 2-4A)."

Amber Bowlin was Snyder's top offensive producer against the Lady Mats on Tuesday, serving 19 points, including four aces.

Following Bowlin were Joellen King, with nine points and an ace, and Melody Sargent, who was at the service line for eight points, including an ace.

Julie Johnson added three and Emma Skold and Stephanie Fambro put in a pair of points each.

Levelland's last outing was an 8-15, 15-7, 15-11 upset loss to last-place Dunbar on Tuesday.

The Loboettes bring an 8-13 overall slate and a 1-5 district mark into Saturday's contest.

Snyder is now 14-5 and 5-1.

In other loop action Saturday, Lamesa, 18-4 and 6-0, hosts Dunbar, 3-14 and 1-5. Estacado is idle.

Police kill Texas man carrying toy Uzi

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A construction worker inadvertently released two years ago from a Texas prison was shot and killed when he pointed a toy sub-machine gun at an Albuquerque policeman.

Albuquerque Police Chief Bob Stover said Kevin Dale Odom, 34, of Lubbock, was shot once when he encountered officer Stephen DeVoti while attempting to flee from his apartment through a bathroom window.

The shooting occurred Wednesday evening as officers tried to serve Odom with a felony arrest warrant for credit card fraud and grand larceny from Lubbock.

Odom was carrying a black, plastic replica of an Uzi sub-machine gun capable of firing plastic bullets that probably would leave a welt on skin, said Capt. Cliff Jenkins. The replica was not loaded.

"Basically it's a toy gun," Stover said at a news conference Thursday.

Tom Watson, an investigator with the Lubbock County Sheriff Department's Criminal Investigations Division, said in a telephone interview Odom at one time was serving a 13-year prison sentence for forgery.

Watson said Odom was released in June 1989 instead of being transferred back to prison after a hearing in Dallas because of a mistake in paperwork.

DeVoti shot Odom at the back of the apartment complex while three other officers looking for him questioned a woman who answered the apartment door, Stover said.

DeVoti was on his way to work in a patrol car when he responded to a call to help the officers serve the warrant.

DeVoti was stationed at the back of the apartment complex when Odom ran around a corner and confronted him, Stover said. He pointed what DeVoti described as an Uzi automatic weapon at him and ordered him to "freeze," the chief said.

"He didn't have time to say anything," Stover said of DeVoti.

STEPHENVILLE — Services are set for 10:30 a.m. Saturday at the First Nazarene Church for Randall Lawton Moseley, 92, who died Tuesday in Sapulpa, Okla. Burial will follow in the Pearl Cemetery.

He was the father of Linda Gu-tierrez of Snyder.

Born in Coryell County, Mr. Moseley had lived in Stephenville since 1954. He was a retired farmer and rancher and he operated Moseley Laundry in Stephenville from 1954 to 1974. He was a member of the First Nazarene Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mildred H. Moseley of Stephenville; another daughter, Deletta Washburn of Sapulpa, Okla.; two sons, Dr. Clayton Moseley of Huntsville and Kendall Van Moseley of Lufkin; nine grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

Suspect flees following mishap

Snyder police are investigating an incident in which a suspect fled after the pickup he was driving rammed a gate and fence at the City Barn early this morning.

Police became involved in pursuit of a black 1968 Ford pickup at 12:33 a.m. down 25th St. to Ave. L. The vehicle proceeded on Ave. L and struck the gate and fence at the City Barn. The driver then fled on foot and eluded officers.

A report of criminal mischief has been filed in the case and the vehicle has been impounded.

At 2:01 p.m. Thursday, officers worked a hit-and-run at the Plaza Truck Stop. Involved were a 1986 Freightliner tractor/trailer owned by Price Construction of Big Spring and a vehicle which left the scene.

At 2:36 p.m. Thursday, Charles Clinkinbeard reported that someone had damaged his vehicle at 402 35th St. Officers filed a report for criminal mischief.

In one other report Thursday, a woman came to the police department at 11:55 p.m. to complain that she had been assaulted by her brother. Police filed a report for family violence. No charges were filed.

employees and teachers. Many private investors, banks and savings and loans have gone bankrupt because of their speculative investments in Texas real estate in the past decade. The Teacher Retirement System already owns $2.3 billion of real estate, accumulated when mortgage loans made by TRS went bad. Proposition 7 would leave the door wide open for TRS and ERS trustees to gamble the pension funds of thousands of teachers and state employees with real estate speculators. It would also permit pension fund investments in such risky ventures as futures and commodity trading, venture capital investments, oil and gas exploration, timberland purchases and similar undertakings.

Police recordings released

AUSTIN (AP) — Police and gunman Georges Hennard exchanged fire for about seven minutes inside a Killen cafeteria before Hennard killed himself, according to police communication recordings.

Police released recordings of frantic phone calls from Oct. 16 reporting a "man shooting up the place" at the Luby's Cafeteria. Minutes later, 23 people plus the gunman were dead or fatally wounded in the worst mass shooting in U.S. history.

The first call came shortly after 12:39 p.m. from an unidentified caller who said, "There's a man on the loose." Hennard had just rammed his blue Ford pickup truck through a cafeteria window and began shooting patrons at random.

About 12 minutes later, an officer called the Killen police dispatcher and said: "The suspect is dead. Shot himself in the head. The suspect is down. We're going to need a lot of help in here guys."

Three Killen officers and one Texas Department of Public Safety trooper entered the restaurant about 12:44 p.m. and started shooting at Hennard. Police have said before that Hennard did not kill anyone after the gunfight began.

"We've got him cornered on the north side," said one radio call. "He says he's got hostages. We've got everybody evacuated. We're holding him at bay."

After the shooting stopped, one officer said: "We need Medivac ... ambulance to the front ... all the extra help we can get ... need as many paramedics as we can muster."

Before lawmen had even arrived, the police emergency line was ringing non-stop as patrons escaped from the restaurant and sought shelter in nearby businesses, according to the tapes.

One caller said, "Here's a woman who works in the restaurant ... (she says) there's a man shooting up the place."

Existing home sales reported down by 4.3%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sales of existing homes fell 4.3 percent in September, the third straight decline, due to sluggish job growth and consumer uncertainty over the economy, a real estate trade group said today.

All regions of the country experienced declining sales.

The National Association of Realtors said sales of used homes nationally totaled a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 3.11 million units, down from 3.25 million in August. Sales had tumbled to 3.32 million in July from 3.59 million in June.

Realtors president Harley E. Rouda said that despite the lowest mortgage rates in more than a decade, repeat buyers are waiting for signals of a solid economic rebound before they return to the housing market.

"When consumers decide that the economic recovery is here, housing will come back strong,"

he said. "Until then, the people who have to sell their homes will be the ones in the market. Those who would like to sell, but aren't forced to, will be more apt to wait."

Thirty-year conventional fixed-rate mortgages averaged 9.01 percent in September, down from 9.24 percent in August, according to the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp.

Round-Up slated in Colorado City

The Cattleman's Round-Up for Crippled Children sale to benefit West Texas Rehabilitation Center will be held at the Colorado City Livestock Auction at 1 p.m. Saturday.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Four years ago my husband suffered a ruptured appendix and has never regained his health or strength. Recently he has had "spells" with a sensation of disorientation, fright and an odor of ether that precedes each attack. An EEG and MRI were performed, and his doctor is speaking of transient ischemic attacks and partial seizures. Maybe you can direct us with your straightforward approach.

DEAR READER: A ruptured appendix invariably causes peritonitis, infection of the abdominal cavity. In its acute form, this complication is serious: It makes patients much sicker, can lead to bowel obstruction, requires intravenous antibiotics and greatly prolongs convalescence. However, once a person has recovered from peritonitis, he or she should suffer no long-term consequences.

Thus, I am not sure what is causing your husband's symptoms — but I doubt they are due to the appendix problem. Nonetheless, I may be able to assist you. He could be having anxiety attacks. An acute appendicitis is frightening enough without the added stress of perforation (rupture). Your husband may be re-living the entire unpleasant event, even though he probably didn't receive ether, as more modern anesthetics are universally used.

A second possibility is, as the doctor suggested, partial seizures. Often preceded by peculiar odors and fright, these neurological episodes — which are unrelated to the appendicitis — seldom culminate in actual seizures (twitching and loss of consciousness). The affliction can be controlled by anti-convalescent drugs, such as Dilantin.

Transient ischemic attacks (partial All proceeds will go to support the rehabilitation center.

Cakes, cookies, craft items, afghans, quilts and jellies will also be available at the auction barn during the sale.

strokes) typically cause rather prominent neurological signs (weakness, confusion, difficulty speaking) that disappear within 24 hours. Although TIAs are not by themselves serious, they herald more dangerous and permanent future consequences: stroke and marked handicaps.

Because of the confusion surrounding the cause of your husband's "spells," I believe he should be under the care of a neurologist, a specialist in disorders of the brain and nervous system. Your husband cannot receive proper treatment until a diagnosis is made.

To give you further information about seizures, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Epilepsy: The Falling Sickness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Revival to begin on Sunday at N. College Ave. Baptist

North College Avenue Baptist Church will host a revival this Sunday through Thursday. Dennis Teeters of the First Baptist Church in Abernathy will be the evangelist and Ralph Trevey of the First Baptist Church in Snyder will lead the singing.

Revival services will follow the regular Sunday schedule with Sunday School beginning at 9:45 a.m. followed with the 11 a.m. worship service and a 7 p.m. evening service. Monday through Thursday services will begin nightly at 7. A nursery will be provided for each service.

Teeters graduated from Tascosa High School in Amarillo, Amarillo College, the University of Texas of the Permian Basin in Odessa and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Teeters served as youth minister for the First Baptist Church in Coahoma, a Baptist Church in Big Spring, and Colonial Hill Baptist Church in Snyder.

He has pastored several Baptist churches in the area including the First Baptist Church in Jayton, Knapp Baptist Church, the First Baptist Church in Ira, and the First Baptist Church in Possum Kingdom.

Teeters, a native of Lamesa, is married to the former Susie Mayes of Snyder. They have three children, Caleb, 11; Summer, 9; and Nathan, 4.

Vote YES To Fight Crime!

Keith Collier - Scurry County Sheriff

Just how wide is the revolving door of the Texas prison system? Last year, some 46,000 inmates entered the system and just over 38,000 were released. At the end of 1990, the prison population was just over 49,000.

That means that 77 percent of the inmate population was released, the majority back on the streets and into local neighborhoods long before their sentenced terms were completed.

In fact, only four percent were discharged after completing their terms. At present capacity, when someone goes into the already full-capacity prison system, another felon must be released.

Some are ready for society, but many are not. Statistics show that many will commit new crimes and have their parole revoked. This is one reason that Texas needs additional prison capacity. To make our communities safe, vote yes on Proposition 4 on Nov. 5.

Texas AG Dan Morales:

Credit reporting firm laws need revamping

WASHINGTON (AP) — Credit reports "riddled with errors" are proof the nation must revamp its laws governing credit reporting agencies, says Texas Attorney General Dan Morales.

"The existing credit reporting system offers consumers little hope of finding their way through the maze," Morales testified Thursday before a House banking subcommittee considering changes to the nation's Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Morales said state and federal scrutiny is needed to stop "illegal practices" that result in damaged credit ratings for tens of thousands of Americans.

He blamed the country's major credit bureaus — TRW Inc., Equifax Inc. and Trans Union Corp. — for often disseminating credit reports rife with inaccuracies.

Consumers Union reported earlier this year that nearly half of the credit records it studied from the nation's largest credit bureaus contained inaccuracies.

Sixteen states, including Texas, have filed lawsuits against credit bureaus, said Vermont Attorney General Jeffrey Amestoy, who is president-elect of the National Association of Attorneys General.

TRW has filed countersuits in Dallas and New York federal courts, saying that state laws are superseded by the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Legislation being considered by the subcommittee would extend to states the authority to file cases against credit bureaus.

Amestoy said two cases in Vermont highlight the need for reform.

In July, all 1,500 property taxpayers in Norwich, Vermont, were inaccurately listed by TRW as being delinquent, he said. Two months later, over 600 property taxpayers in Woodstock, Vermont, faced the same problem. Twelve other Vermont towns have reported similar incidents, he said. "What kind of minimally competent system of internal review can there be when the credit of every person in a Vermont town is listed as bad and the computer doesn't even blink?" Amestoy asked.

He said TRW acted slowly to correct the errors once notified.

But TRW executive vice president D. Van Skilling said the company corrected its information in one day. The firm is spending more than $30 million over three years to improve its database, he said.

Amestoy proposed minimum civil penalties of $1,000 for credit agencies in cases where consumers suffered damages.

Your Birthday

Oct. 25, 1991

Social conditions look promising for the year ahead. You might become involved with two separate sets of friends, each of which can enrich your life in its own way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Take nothing for granted in your commercial or financial involvements today. Erroneous assumptions on your behalf could knock you out of the profit column — and fast. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences governing you in the year ahead. Send for Scorpio's Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You might be required to make a tough decision today that is for the good of both you and your mate. Once it is made, do not do anything to modify its impact.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are working on a complex assignment or task today, don't forsake quality for expediency. Take the necessary time to do things right.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is not a good day to take a chance on a questionable venture; you might risk a lot for a little and, if you lose, it could turn out to be a topsided loss.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't let a forceful companion pressure you into making a decision today that does not serve your best interest. Say "No!" in a way that leaves no doubt about your intentions.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Too much of a good thing could be bad for you today. Be disciplined where it is required, because overindulgence could easily gain the upper hand.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Resources must be prudently managed today so that you don't do something careless or extravagant that could offset what you have gained. It's a delicate balance.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Good intentions will count for little today if you fail to implement them as you should. Thinking has its place, but it must be accompanied by action.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Whatever you do today you're likely to do well, but you might not carry things through to the desirable conclusions of which you're capable.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This might not be one of your better days for negotiating important matters. You may not acknowledge your bargaining strengths, and you could give away more than is necessary.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If success does not come to you on the first try today, you may timidly back off rather than regroup and try until you succeed. Be tenacious.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The support you can expect from friends today will have definite limitations. If they feel you're merely riding on their coattails, they're apt to let you fend for yourself.

FCC ponders allowing phone companies to carry cable

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission is considering whether telephone companies should be allowed to carry cable programs and enhanced video services over their wires.

The move Thursday in that direction is sure to create a lively debate over an issue already endorsed by some members of Congress, the Bush administration and FCC Chairman Alfred Sikes as a means of increasing competition for the cable industry.

"We're talking about ground rules for future development," said Robert Pepper, the FCC's chief of planning and policy. He said an FCC ruling could eventually allow cable companies to offer telephone service.

"There's a real opportunity here to see competition move in both directions," he said.

But consumer groups and the cable industry already are poised to take shots at the proposal, which the commission voted to put forward for public comment.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader said allowing phone companies to carry cable programming would actually decrease competition, and the cable industry decried it as unfair.

FCC member Sherrie Marshall said allowing phone companies to offer "video dial tone" services would "ensure that cable operators face direct, head-to-head competition in the delivery of cable services to consumers."

But Marshall and most other commission members voiced reservations about the proposal, while voting unanimously to move forward with it.

Commissioner Ervin Duggan said he was concerned the technology "may not even exist today to provide the kind of video dial tone" envisioned. Duggan also said he wondered whether the proposal was driven by demand for the new service or "by mere desire."

Commissioner James Quello said the service could provide the "greatest in economies of scale" if voice, video services and cable could be transmitted to homes over one wire. However, he said, it also could create "the greatest monopoly known to man."

The FCC did not propose allowing phone companies to produce any type of programs or originate them. They would be allowed only to carry programs produced by others over their lines and would have to serve any qualified programmers.
