Winter-like weather sweeps through Snyder, West Texas

From local, wire reports
Winter weather moved eastward across northern portions of Texas with freezing temperatures expected to spread as far east as the Dallas-Fort Worth area and as far south as the Hill Country tonight and early Friday.

Freezing drizzle was being blamed on at least six accidents reported late Wednesday and this morning south and west of Snyder. Texas Department of Transportation personnel were busy today putting sand on bridges, which were particularly hazardous.

Motorists are advised to use extreme caution.

Snyder ISD buses did not run this morning and buses at Hermleigh and Ira were delayed as much as an hour and a half.

The temperature this morning was 27 degrees with the day's high expected in the 30s. Forecasts call for some sunshine and warmer weather Friday.

The early winter weather was being triggered by an upper level storm system located over northern New Mexico.

Temperatures dipped into the mid-teens across the Panhandle overnight. It was 14 at Dalhart and 16 at Amarillo before daybreak. Dalhart had 5 inches of snow on the ground and Amarillo had 1-2 inches of snow on the ground. Southeastern sections of the Panhandle had 1-2 inches of snow.

Light snow was reported at Amarillo and Lubbock, freezing rain fell at Childress and Abilene and freezing drizzle was reported at Midland and San Angelo during the pre-dawn hours.

Snow fell as far south as the Guadalupe Mountains and a mixture of freezing drizzle and snow

Company G back for 18th reunion

Matney's Raiders are back in Snyder.

The 18th annual reunion of Company G gets underway today with a Dutch treat dinner at Martha Ann Woman's Club at 6:30 p.m. Reunion activities will continue through Saturday.

Company G was a National Guard unit mobilized out of Snyder on Nov. 25, 1940. Some 110 members from Scurry County were among the unit. The company was part of the U.S. Army 142nd Regiment, 36th Division, which saw action in six European campaigns during World War II.

On Friday, a hospitality room will open at 4 p.m. at Willow Park Inn, which is headquarters for the reunion. A barbecue is scheduled for 6 p.m. in the county coliseum.

Registration for the annual business meeting related activities takes place at 9 a.m. on Saturday at Western Texas College. Reports, a business session and election of officers will follow. The reunion will conclude with a 6:30 p.m. banquet at the college.

Weather forces COT ceremony cancellation

Cerification ceremonies for Western Texas College's largest class of correctional officer trainees has been postponed, due to poor weather conditions.

Thirty-five students were to have received certificates during ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. at Trinity United Methodist Church with Joshua W. Allen Sr., TDCJ board member, as guest speaker.

Those having completed their certification requirements are Daniel J. Boyette, Sterling Kyle Burleson and Billy Ray Self of Snyder; Billy Shay Bailey, Ramon P. Castillo, Joe Michael McKinnon, Robert Lee Rainey, LaNita J. Rushing, Matthew D. Thompson, James Bradley Wall and Curtis Lee Wallace III of Abilene; Gwendolyn Marie Baker, Joel Thomas Barnett and Wanda Bethene Wade of Stamford; and Eldon Kenneth Andrews, Warren Gipson Crawford, Arnold Ray Dorman, Dennis Bradley Owens (see COT, page 8)

Serious disputes over land, future talks at conference

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir today invited the Arabs to Israel for the next phase of peace talks, but the invitation was quickly rejected.

On the second day of the historic gathering, convened under U.S.-Soviet auspices, Palestinian and Jordanian representatives took to the podium and demanded an end to Israeli settlement-building and a return of captured Arab lands.

"The settlements must stop now," the chief Palestinian negotiator, Haidar Abdul-Shafi, told the delegates.

The two days of talks have involved speeches rather than actual negotiations. Those are to follow the ceremonial opening, but their site is in serious dispute.

Israel insists they take place in the Middle East, and the Arabs demand they be held on neutral ground, preferably Madrid.

The dispute over locales for the next round of talks, as well as a dispute over whether the United States and the Soviet Union would be present, poses a major dilemma for Secretary of State James A. Baker III in his efforts to keep the peace process alive after this week.

In his address, Shamir said the land-for-peace formula that the Arabs seek should not be the focus (see PEACE, page 8)

'Long Day's Journey' opens tonight at WTC

"A Long Day's Journey Into Night" opens this evening at the Fine Arts Theatre on the Western Texas College campus.

The play is under the direction of Jim Rambo, WTC drama instructor, and is based on the life and family of author Eugene O'Neill. It will be WTC's fall entry in the American College Theatre Festival (ACTF) competition.

The play will be presented today through Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students at the box office. WTC students will be admitted free with their college identification.

The play takes place in a summer house in the year 1912. The characters, although appearing normal, have severe problems beneath the surface.

The father is an alcoholic and miser; the mother is addicted to morphine; one son is a drunk; while the other son has tuberculosis.

"The production is a very painful one," Rambo said, "because it makes one look beyond normal family life."

To help the cast prepare, Belva LaRoux, executive director of Snyder Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse and a recovering alcoholic herself, spoke to cast members about living with chemical dependency.

The play will also deal with the denial aspect of addiction.

4 nominated as chamber directors

Four persons have been nominated as directors for the Snyder chamber of commerce.

The chamber board, meeting in special session Wednesday afternoon, nominated Les Woods, Pearlene Stewart, Donna Gray and Travis Bunch to the chamber board.

Woods is warden at the Price Daniel unit, Stewart owns Stewart Insurance Services, Gray is a housewife and Bunch operates Bunch Oil Co.

Outgoing directors are Eddie Williams, Joe Sentell, Gary Sisson and Fran Farmer. Williams will remain on the board as past-president.

Chamber Manager Ricky Fritz said letters will go out to chamber members seeking additional nominations. If no other nominations are received, the proposed directors will be elected by acclamation.

You decide: Prop 12

PROPOSITION 12: "The constitutional amendment to increase from 20 percent to 50 percent the percentage of Texas water development bonds previously authorized by Texas voters that may be issued for economically distressed areas."

Background: This amendment deals with reallocating a percentage of the $500 million of Texas water development bonds that were approved by Texas voters in 1989. These bonds were to be issued to fund water supply, water quality, and flood control projects. Currently, the board is limited to issuing 20 percent of the $500 million (or $100 million) of these bonds to provide water and wastewater facilities to economically distressed areas of the state. If passed, this amendment will allow the board to issue up to 50 percent (see PROPOSITION, page 8)

ICE IN OCTOBER? — This year's early freeze found local residents thawing and scraping ice from vehicles on Halloween day. Lee Garza scrapes the ice from his mother's car this morning. The ice caused hazardous driving conditions throughout the day and resulted in many cancellations including regular bus routes to local schools. (SDN Staff Photo)

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Happy Halloween: It's always the darkest right after they cut off your electricity."

Despite its association with evil and the supernatural, Halloween has evolved into one of this nation's more popular days.

Over the years, Halloween has been associated with spirits, magicians, sorcerers, witches and goblins. There are black cats, toads, bats, moths, snakes and vampires.

All Hallows Eve, the witches sabbath, is the beginning of the modern-day Halloween. Trick-or-treating is said to have resulted from the ancient practices of little peasants running from house to house in search of food.

After a few years of serious incidents, most of the harmful pranks and evil overtones have disappeared from the observance. Now it is costumes, carnivals, parties and good eats.

An older sister was born on Oct. 31, and ole what's-her-named missed having a Halloween birthday by a mere day. It always made buying a birthday card more interesting.

Our favorite Halloween story is a repeat from several years ago.

A local primary school teacher asked her class what they wanted to be when they grew up. She got most of the traditional answers from her pupils—doctors, nurses, a fireman, a teacher, an astronaut.

One little boy sat quietly, giving no indication of his future plans. "What about you, Bubba?" the teacher asked. "What do you want to be when you grow up?"

The little guy shrugged, "Gee, I don't even know what I want to be for Halloween yet."

Pecos Co. grand jury indicts developer of private prisons

FORT STOCKTON, Texas (AP) — Pecos County grand jury indictments against a Houston-based private prison developer are "nonsense," an attorney representing two of the company's executives said.

The grand jury late Tuesday returned the multicount indictments, which allege the developer, its president and vice president bypassed Texas competitive bidding laws.

The indictments name N-Group Securities Inc. of Houston, which built six 500-bed facilities in La Salle, San Saba, Falls, Swisher, Angelina and Pecos counties. The only facility housing prisoners is in Angelina County.

Also named in the indictments were N-Group president Patrick Graham and his brother, Michael Graham, N-Group's vice president. Dan Cogdell, a Houston attorney representing the Graham brothers, called the indictments "nonsense" and said they were without merit.

"They had good lawyer after good lawyer advising them," Cogdell said Wednesday.

"And now, because the prisons are without inmates, which is the fault of the state, the district attorney is trying to make some political hay by indicting them," he said. "They're (his clients) the scapegoat."

The indictments follow an investigation by 83rd District Attorney Richard Barajas and the state attorney general's office.

In a news release, Barajas said the grand jury found probable cause that N-Group Securities and the Graham brothers bypassed Texas competitive bidding laws.

However, Texas competitive bidding laws only provide penalties for government officials so the grand jury indicted the defendants for antitrust violations, the district attorney said.

"It's quite an entertaining event," Pecos County Judge Fred Capers said Wednesday. "There's just something every day ... with noncompliance, non-communication."

State officials, just hours earlier Tuesday, had refused to help former Texas Prison Board Chairman Charles Terrell win federal funding for an unrelated private corrections project.

Terrell planned to hire N-Group to oversee financing and construction of his first private corrections project in Texas. He defended the company last week, calling them "specialists in the finance field" who have "not been treated correctly."

If convicted, N-Group would face fines up to $20,000. The Graham brothers each could face up to three years in prison and up to $5,000 in fines.

Cogdell said his two clients will be allowed to post bond — $10,000 each — Friday in Houston. Their arraignment probably will be scheduled in December, he said.

Man charged after being killed by state trooper

REFUGIO, Texas (AP) — District Attorney Wiley L. Cheatham managed to persuade a Refugio County grand jury to indict a dead man.

Cheatham won an indictment Wednesday of a Guatemalan killed in a Sept. 21 gunfight with a state trooper.

Lauro Zepeda Bonilla, 34, was charged with attempted capital murder and possession of marijuana.

"I might have to get him (the dead man) in the hereafter, but I will get him one way or the other," Cheatham said after the indictment was returned by a Refugio County Grand Jury.

Cheatham told the Victoria Advocate he asked for the indictment to help his prosecution of two co-defendants.

"As a practical matter, when you start talking to the jury, its easier to explain that three were acting together," the DA said.

Your Birthday

Several important changes could be in the offing for you in the year ahead. Some will develop slowly while others will appear in the twinkling of an eye. You'll be able to handle both, and the variations will appeal to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You might hear an interesting piece of gossip today that isn't based on facts. Even though it could liven up your conversation, you'd be doing another disservice by repeating it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You might be bored to tears today after running into a kind friend who does a lot of talking but seldom has anything to say. Strive to be polite.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The possibility of an adversary seeing your point of view is negligible today. If a controversial issue surfaces, drop it — pronto.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your powers of rationalization are rather pronounced today. Instead of jumping in and doing what needs doing, you're apt to figure out reasons why it shouldn't be done.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Financial or business information you get today might not be too reliable, regardless of the source. To be on the safe side, cross-check the facts whenever possible.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's best not to discuss a family issue that gets everyone uptight today. You're not likely to find any solutions, and it could create needless turmoil.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't assume that someone who has recently helped you knows you appreciate the assistance. A personal "thank you" is required, or else this individual is going to feel imposed on.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Small, non-essential expenses could add up to a tidy sum today — if you let them get out of control. Watch your nickels and dimes as closely as you do your dollars.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If those you're involved with do not understand your intentions today, you could create unnecessary opposition for yourself. Take time to explain your program.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Usually, you know how to monitor what you say so that you do not betray a confidence. Today, however, this mechanism might not be functioning, and you could let the cat out of the bag.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's nice to be generous, but don't waste your resources on ingrates today. Focus on recipients who are appreciative and as open-handed as you are.

Bush kicking off campaign in Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush is heading for his hometown of Houston tonight to launch a $30 million fund-raising blitz aimed at ensuring he gets to call the White House home for four more years.

Bush and Vice President Dan Quayle will make a rare joint out-of-town appearance at a $1,000-a-plate dinner expected to bring up to $1 million into the coffers of the recently inaugurated Bush-Quayle '92 committee.

The president, just back from the Mideast peace conference in Madrid and bound for Europe again next week, is not expected to formally declare he is a candidate for re-election until next year.

But he and his political lieutenants are laying the financial pillars for a full-bore campaign months before the Democrats even settle on their standard-bearer.

After tonight's campaign bash in Houston, Bush will head to Dallas on Friday for another $1,000-a-plate event. Two more big fund-raising dinners are scheduled for New York on Nov. 12 and Washington on Nov. 20.

Quayle, who has crisscrossed the country to raise more than $20 million for Republican causes in the past 33 months, will head

Man returns with written apology

ANGLETON, Texas (AP) — A man who robbed a convenience store and returned the next day with most of the money and a written apology has been described by a police investigator as a "half-way honest crook."

Officers said a man walked into the Charter Food Store early Monday and approached the counter holding two packages of candy.

After paying for the items he pushed clerk Albert Lukasheay aside, told him not to move and reached into the open cash register.

Lukasheay said the man made off with $46, running to a dark-colored car and driving away.

On Tuesday, Lukasheay was meeting with his supervisors when the man returned to the store, pulled a baseball cap down to shade his face, threw an envelope on the floor and ran out again.

"I hollered, 'That's the guy who robbed me!'" Lukasheay said.

"I can't believe what I did. I got home and I looked at the loved ones, thought of the ones that love me, and I cried," the man wrote in a letter police released Wednesday.

"We'd like to talk to him," said investigator Wayne Rickman. "It's not too often that you come across a half-way honest crook."

Store officials found $40 and the note in the envelope.

home to Indiana on Friday night for a separate fund-raiser in Indianapolis. It is the first of 10 he has planned before the end of the year.

GOP officials are hoping to raise $30 million by spring for the re-election drive, all in contributions of $1,000 or less. They can count on federal matching funds for the first $250 of each contribution.

Bush and his wife, Barbara, will spend the weekend in Houston, then fly to California on Monday morning for the dedication of the $60 million Reagan presidential library in Simi Valley.

Former Presidents Nixon and Ford will join Bush and Reagan at the event, but Jimmy Carter sent his regrets.

In addition to his own fund-raisers, Bush will attend a luncheon at the home of oilman T. Boone Pickens on Friday that is expected to pull in up to $500,000 to boost Republican reapportionment efforts in Texas.

Overall, the president should raise more than $2 million from GOP donors in just two days in the Lone Star state.

Bush registered his re-election campaign with the Federal Election Commission on Oct. 11 and designated Texas oilman Bobby Holt as finance chairman. The campaign has opened an office in Alexandria, Va., a Washington suburb, and mailed its first fund-raising letters last week.

"We figure it's going to take something in the neighborhood of six months to raise the maximum ($30 million) for the president," said Charles Black, a Republican consultant. By starting in October, the president could be out of the fund-raising marketplace by April, Black said.

That would allow GOP House, Senate and gubernatorial candidates to raise cash for the rest of the year without any competition from the White House. And for many candidates, Bush and Quayle will be the star attractions at their fund raisers.

Tonight's joint Bush-Quayle appearance will be only their second outside Washington since the inauguration in January 1989. They also shared a stage in Houston at last year's economic summit.

Royalty visits Ontario

OTTAWA (AP) — A weeklong visit to Ontario by the Prince and Princess of Wales had a rocky ending with a whale of an error in a press release, a visit to a patient-less hospital ward and rare political comments by Prince Charles.

The Canadian Museum of Nature said in a news release that the "Princess of Whales" had admired life-size models of whales suspended from the ceiling of an atrium at the World Exchange Plaza in Ottawa.

Museum director Alan Emery called the typo "a dreadful mistake."

Another awkward moment came when the princess toured a new unit at the Ottawa Heart Institute. There were no patients to fill the beds, so the hospital called in former patients.

It isn't just drugs. A recent speaker at Western Texas College said that abuse of alcohol is a greater problem in West Texas than is hard drugs. I see this weekly in city court, as alcohol-related violations often repeat themselves, thus eventually becoming a problem of the district court with the offender becoming an inmate in the TDCJ.

On Nov. 5, Texas voters will decide if 25,000 more prison beds can be built to help stop the tide of the rising crime rate. Perhaps the most cutting edge in Proposition 4 calls for the construction of drug and alcohol treatment facilities for 12,000. This would give Texas three times the capacity of the next largest program in the country.

The bonds needed to fund criminal justice reforms have been called a bitter pill, but it is the only pill we know that can make our prison system well, and our streets safe.

Canada collects the silver medals

By Phillip Alder

The Canadian team of Bronia Gmach, Mark Caplan, Fred Gitelman, Geoff Hampson, Michael Roberts and Eric Sutherland finished second in the third NEC World Junior Championship in Ann Arbor, Mich., last August.

In the semifinal, they beat an Australian team. Today's deal was played well by Gmach, who had won the North America Master Mixed Teams title in Las Vegas two weeks before.

Experts debate the advisability of opening one no-trump with a five-card major. Here South was able to show her fifth heart when North made a quantitative raise to two no-trump via Stayman. (An immediate two-no-trump response would have been conventional.)

The Australian declarer in the same contract covered the opening lead of the diamond queen with dummy's king. After that, he couldn't avoid losing one spade, one heart and two diamond tricks: 50 points to Canada.

Gmach did better, playing low from the dummy at trick one. West switched to the spade 10. Declarer won in hand with the ace and made the key play of leading a second diamond herself, ducking in the dummy and bringing down East's ace.

Back came the spade queen, declarer winning in the dummy and leading a trump to the king and ace. Now Gmach enjoyed the critical stroke of luck: West had no spade left. He chose to lead the diamond jack. But declarer played low from dummy and over-ruffed East's heart 10 with the queen. Now South guessed correctly, leading a heart to dummy's jack, which drew trumps, and discarding her spade loser on the diamond king for plus 420.

The worst marine disaster in U.S. history involved the Mississippi sidewheeler Sultana, which was carrying some 2,400 Union soldiers recently released from Confederate prison camps when in 1865 its boiler exploded and the ship burst into flames a few miles out of Memphis, Tenn. An estimated 1,547 lives were lost — more than the number who perished in the 1912 sinking of the Titanic.

Estacado hosts Levelland today...

2-4A teams heading into stretch run

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Playoff implications abound in this week's District 2-4A grid matchups as first-place Lubbock Estacado puts its 3-0 loop mark on the line against 2-1 Levelland, Snyder, tied for second in the district at 2-1 hosts a reeling Frenship squad, and Lamesa travels to Dunbar.

The Estacado-Levelland tilt begins district action on Thursday. The other games are slated for Friday. All games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Last week's results showed the Matadors of EHS whipping Frenship, 51-6; Snyder posting its second straight shutout, a 24-0 win over Dunbar, and Lamesa losing by three touchdowns to Levelland, 27-6.

Levelland (6-2, 2-1) at Estacado (7-1, 3-0)

Estacado and Levelland each had field days in last week's wins setting up this showdown.

A win by the Mats makes them virtually uncatchable in the race for the loop title, while a Lobo victory could throw three or four teams into the fray. Estacado rolled for 479 rushing yards, including 145 by Robert Johnson in its demolition of the Frenship Tigers.

The Mats' defense held the Tigers' vaunted passing attack to just 117 yards on the night and only 12 in the second half.

Levelland showed off its ground troops last Friday, as well, as speedy Estevan Gofightly scored on runs of 15 and 20 yards.

Quarterback Craig Black also hit paydirt twice, running in from 33 and 38 yards away. Lamesa was able to peek out just a three-yard TD dive by Louis Addison against the blue-collar Lobo defense.

Frenship (2-6, 1-2) at Snyder (5-3, 2-1)

The Frenship Tigers, short on offense against Estacado last week, will find it a tough chore to score on the Snyder Tiger "D", as well.

Snyder has not allowed a single point in its last eight quarters of play, shutting out district foes Levelland, 14-0, and Dunbar, 24-0, in that stretch.

Frenship will still field the airborne duo of quarterback Kendrick Hollie and split end Chris Matthews that can roll up the numbers.

Snyder's offense will be with, out leading rusher Will Clay. Clay has been suspended from the team for breaking team rules. He had accumulated 744 yards and four touchdowns rushing and was leading SHS in rushing at the time of his suspension.

Taking his place will be a trio of running backs, including senior

Mark King, who has played all three RB positions in the Tiger wing-T offense this year.

Lamesa (2-4-2, 0-3) at Dunbar (4-4, 1-2)

Both teams are coming off disappointing outings a week past, with Dunbar being blanked by Manager of the Year...

Twins' Kelly wins AL honor

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Even at the very end, Tom Kelly made all the right moves.

It was Kelly, the manager of Minnesota Twins, who sent Gene Larkin up as a pinch-hitter. And it was Kelly who gave Larkin the edge drive in the biggest run of 1991 by keeping the player sharp all season.

"I got almost 300 at-bats and I wasn't an everyday player," Larkin said after his bases-loaded single beat the Atlanta Braves 1-0 in Game 7 of the World Series. "T.K. does a great job of using everybody."

For that — and for guiding the Twins from last place in 1990 to the AL West championship in 1991 — Kelly on Wednesday was named American League Manager of the Year.

The Twins' victory over the Braves enabled Kelly to join Boston's Bill Carrigan and Pittsburgh's Danny Murtaugh on the list of those who have managed in Snyder and Lamesa generating very little offense against Levelland.

The Panthers' Typail McMullen, in a losing effort, picked up 111 yards on 21 carries against Snyder, and remains Dunbar's "franchise" back.

two World Series without a defeat. The Twins also won the title in 1987, Kelly's first season.

The Twins were 74-88 in 1990, last in the AL West. At Kelly's urging, they pursued free agents Jack Morris, Mike Pagliarulo and Chili Davis. After a 2-9 start that led to speculation the manager would be fired, the Twins had the majors' best record over the last 151 games.

Kelly said 1991 was more satisfying than 1987 because he was allowed to have more say about the club's makeup.

"I don't want to sound like I'm blowing my own horn, but I wanted (batting coach Terry) Crowley. I wanted Pagliarulo. I made a big push to get Chili and I campaigned for Jack," Kelly said.

"When the owner says, 'If you get Morris, you've got to guarantee me first, second or third,' what you're doing as a manager is putting your guts right up there on the table. Now, you've got to win."

WTC rodeo squad rides in Lubbock

Western Texas College rodeo team members will ride for the last time this fall season in the Texas Tech University Rodeo in Lubbock beginning tonight and lasting through Saturday.

Nightly performances are slated for 7:30 p.m.

Coach Bob Doty's Westerners are coming off a fourth-place finish at the Vernon Regional Junior College Rodeo two weeks past.

Nephi, Utah sophomore Troy Cattoor took third place in bareback riding at Vernon, pacing WTC's 95-point surge.

Steer wrestler Jim Phillips, an Iranian native, captured fourth place with a two-head clocking of 11.0 seconds.

Both Cattoor and Phillips were qualifiers in the 1991 College National Finals Rodeo in Bozeman, Mont.

Events at Texas Tech, a National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association sanctioned event, include bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, team roping, breakaway roping, goat tying and barrel racing.

Tickets for the rodeo, which will be held at the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, will be $7 nightly for reserved seats and $5 for general admission.

Dallas rookies nab starts versus Cards

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Cowboys coach Jimmy Johnson has added two more rookies to his starting lineup for Sunday's home game against the Phoenix Cardinals.

"We just felt we had two talented guys who needed to be in the lineup," Johnson said Wednesday as he announced that wide

SHS spikers face Dumas

Snyder's Lady Tigers will take on District 1 champion Dumas Tuesday in Plainview in the first round of the Class 4A volleyball playoffs.

Snyder, 16-6, finished the season in second place to loop champ Lamesa. Dumas posted a 29-2 season mark winning its second straight district crown.

The match will take place at the Wayland Baptist University gym at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

In other bi-district action, Lamesa, 21-4, will battle Hereford, District 1 runner-up, Tuesday at Lubbock Coronado.

Hereford brings a 23-4 mark into the playoffs.

receiver Alvin Harper and offensive tackle Erik Williams will be starting for Dallas.

Rookie cornerback Larry Brown is already a starter and has racked up 20 tackles, a fumble recovery and has broken up six passes.

Johnson has high hopes that Harper and Williams will be as effective — and soon.

"We're not making these moves for a down-the-road type of thinking," he said. "We're making these moves because it makes us a better football team for Phoenix Sunday."

Harper said he would try not to disappoint Johnson.

"This is my opportunity and it's on my shoulders to make the best of it," he said.

Harper, the 12th player chosen overall in this year's NFL draft, averaged almost 31 yards on five catches with two touchdowns in preseason play. But his average dropped in the regular season, as he caught only two of seven passes in the first seven games.

Against Detroit, Harper played a season-high 35 downs and caught one of two Troy Aikman passes. He had been splitting playing time with Alexander Wright, who caught three passes for only 18 yards.

Williams, the Cowboys' third pick in the third round in April, was surprised at his promotion.

"I didn't expect anything this soon," he said. "I'm just going to take it one week at a time."

Williams has been sharing the job at left tackle with Alan Veingrad, who will play on the right side as backup guard and tackle.

Dallas is 5-3, alone in second place in the NFC East, while Phoenix is 4-5. Washington, 8-0, is the division leader.

Coach draws suspension

ORANGE, Texas (AP) — West Orange-Stark coach Dan Hooks, accused of verbally abusing two referees, will be sidelined until the playoffs.

Hooks was suspended Wednesday for the rest of the regular season, but will be allowed to conduct practices sessions and return when the 6-2 Mustangs take part in the playoffs.

Defensive coordinator Cornel Thompson will coach the team in its games against Port Arthur Lincoln and Nederland, officials said.

Notice is hereby given that MIDWEST ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. ## AP news analysis...

Two senators mea culpas are not rated very highly

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the annals of political confessions, the latest entries by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, admitting personal shortcomings, and Sen. Alan K. Simpson, conceding cocky arrogance, rate as no more than footnotes.

All they did was confirm the obvious and say, as both have said before, that they'll do better.

Nothing there to rank with the repentance of a congressional alcoholic promising abstinence; a House powerhouse involved with a stripper saying he drank too much and would stop; or the former senator who offered to take the pledge on condition that he be confirmed to a top Cabinet job.

Nor was there eloquence to match Jesse Jackson's plea for Democratic forgiveness after a divisive 1984 campaign: "I am not a perfect servant... Be patient. God is not finished with me yet."

The stakes, personal or political, didn't match those involved when Kennedy himself told Massachusetts voters 22 years ago that he had behaved indefensibly at Chappaquiddick, and asked their advice on whether he ought to quit the Senate. Five days later he said he'd stay.

But the 1969 accident in which Mary Jo Kopechne drowned in Kennedy's car, an accident he did not report until the following morning, raised questions of character that have persisted ever since.

The episode effectively barred the way to the White House — Kennedy finally sought nomination in 1980 and failed — but he has won successive landslides at home, and says he has every intention of running for a seventh time in 1994.

A midsummer poll in Massachusetts reported that a majority of voters thought Kennedy should retire or be replaced, but soundings about an election more than two years away don't mean a lot.

Still, the glare that will go with the trial of his nephew in Palm Beach, accused of rape after a late-night bar stop with Kennedy and his son, will heighten the character issue. It is getting under way now, Kennedy will be a witness, and this case is being conducted in full televised view.

The legal side of Chappaquiddick was handled in brief court appearances, a suspended sentence and a suspended license, and a private inquest.

While Kennedy's problem involves what he has done, Simpson's stems from what he says. His reputation as a Senate wit has been overtaken by adverse ratings as a savage political infighter. He attacks and often atones, sometimes in successive sentences.

His style as on televised display at the Clarence Thomas hearings, with Simpson a tough point man challenging Anita Hill's credibility and character, along with her sexual harassment accusation. That stirred an argument with women to go with his longstanding feud with the press, which stretches from Cheyenne to Baghdad.

Visiting Iraq with a Senate delegation in April 1990, Simpson told Saddam Hussein that "your problems lie with the Western media and not with the U.S. government," a remark he later insisted was taken out of context.

Last February, he called CNN's Peter Arnett "a sympathizer" with Iraq for his reporting from Baghdad during the U.S. air war. He also said that Arnett's Pulitzer Prize-winning reporting in Vietnam was biased in favor of the Viet Cong. Simpson later apologized, in his fashion, saying he regretted the Vietnam accusation, and wished he'd called Arnett an Iraqi dupe instead of a sympathizer.

Last Saturday night in Cheyenne, Simpson told about 300 people at a Republican fund-raising dinner that the reaction to his Thomas role had been very painful, and that he was undertaking "a little honest reassessment...."

"I have been riding high, a bit too cocky, arrogant," he said. Simpson said he didn't blame his critics, the media or women's rights activists, for his problem. "The responsibility is mine, and I shall handle it and handle it well."

It wasn't a campaign conversion. Re-elected with 64 percent of the vote, Simpson doesn't have to run again until 1996. But Senate politics could be a factor; at 60, he's the No. 2 Republican leader and the better his image, the better his chances when there's an opening for No. 1.

Kennedy's problem is more immediate. His reputation undercut him as a Thomas opponent and a Hill defender in the sexual harassment hearings; at one point a Republican senator seemed to taunt his silence. Now there's the Palm Beach trial to withstand.

At Harvard University last Friday, at the school of government named for John F. Kennedy, the senator said he was painfully aware that he had disappointed friends and many others who "rely on me to fight the good fight" for liberal causes.

"To them I say: I recognize my own shortcomings — the faults in the conduct of my private life. "I realize that I alone am responsible for them, and I am the one who must confront them," said Kennedy, now 59.

That's hardly a breakthrough, just ordinary, everyday wisdom for the average man.

Will respond

NEW YORK (AP) — Norman Mailer has a few words for the critic who panned his latest book in The New York Times Book Review, and he's been given space to say them in print.

John Simon called "Harlot's Ghost," Mailer's 1,307-page novel about the CIA, a "lopsided, lumpy novel that outstays its welcome." He said Mailer came across "as a punch-drunk writer trying to outbox all competition, real or imaginary."

Mailer complained to the book review's editors that Simon was biased.

Editor Rebecca Sinkler said Wednesday that Mailer will get about a page Nov. 17 to rebut the Sept. 29 review.

Times spokesman William Adler said the paper's policy always has been to let aggrieved authors respond by letter. He added that Mailer's response probably will be run more prominently because of its news value.

Will record

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Frank Sinatra tuned up his 75-year-old voice to sing "Silent Night" on a Christmas album to benefit children's hospitals. It was his first recording in more than seven years.

"He may be 75 now — and he knows his voice isn't the same as it was when he was 25 — but the thing is, he's no less compelling than ever," said album producer Michael Lloyd.

Places in the News

THE WEST BANK

One stumbling block to a lasting peace between Israel and its Arab neighbors is Israel's ongoing settlement of the West Bank, part of the area known to the Arabs and Palestinians as the occupied territories.

In 1947, the United Nations envisioned separate Jewish and Arab states with the West Bank and Gaza Strip as part of a Palestinian nation. But after the first Arab-Israeli war in 1948, the West Bank became part of Jordan, and Egypt occupied the Gaza Strip. An armistice in 1949 between Israel and its Arab neighbors ruled out any separate Palestinian state.

The West Bank has been under Israeli control since the Six Day War in 1967 when Israel was invaded by all the surrounding Arab countries. In a massive counterattack, the Israelis captured Egypt's Sinai Peninsula, Old Jerusalem, Syria's Golan Heights and Jordan's West Bank.

The Sinai Peninsula, except for the Gaza Strip, was returned to Egypt in 1982 as part of the Camp David peace accords. But Israel has continued to occupy the remainder of the land that was captured in 1967.

About 900,000 Palestinians live in the West Bank, and 500,000 live within Israel's pre-1967 borders. So far, about 100,000 Jewish settlers have established permanent residence in the West Bank, mainly near Jerusalem. More new settlements are being built every day as Israel scrambles to find living space for the tens of thousands of arriving Soviet Jews.

U.S. Secretary of State James Baker has extracted a promise from some Arab leaders that they will end their boycott of Israel in exchange for stopping the building of settlements. But Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir has so far refused, maintaining that the two issues are not linked.

Proposition 12 on ballot for Nov. 5 election

of the $500 million (or $250 million) of these state bonds for this purpose.

Supporters Say: Proposition 12 would provide much-needed additional assistance for residents in economically distressed areas, specifically the colonias along the Rio Grande border. The $100 million already obligated for colonia projects will help an estimated 50,000 people, but at least 150,000 more are desperately in need of basic water and sewer service. Long-term financing is the most appropriate way to fund water projects because the infrastructure built will be used for many years to come. Most of the colonias were established by unscrupulous developers preying on low-income residents seeking inexpensive housing. The home buyers have not been provided with the water and sewer service promised. Texans should be ashamed to allow "Third World" conditions to endanger the health of residents of the state. The residents of these areas have tried to solve the problems on their own but do not have a large enough property-tax base to support repayment of local bonds issued by municipal utility districts or other taxing entities. Colonia residents who receive financial assistance for water improvements are required to pay back as much as they can afford to local units of government, which in turn repay the loans. The Water Development Board has determined that this is a good use for these funds.

Opponents Say: The state cannot afford to add to its soaring debt burden by authorizing general-obligation bonds that would not be self-supporting. The purpose of the 20 percent limit was to ensure that this program would not create too great a drain on general revenue. Expanding the water-development bond program to provide grants to clean up the colonias would undermine the "pay-as-you-go" nature of the current water development program. Recipients of the loans will not be able to repay the full amount, requiring that more taxpayer dollars be used to make up the difference when the state bonds must be repaid. The Legislative Budget Office assumes that general revenue will have to be used to pay back 75 percent of the debt. The colonias are a local problem that should be dealt with locally. Homeowners in these areas should organize municipal utility districts or nonprofit water supply corporations or else find some other means of financing.

Peace conference atmosphere tense

of negotiations.

"The issue is not territory but our existence," he told the delegates. Talks focusing primarily on trading land for peace would be "the quickest way to an impasse," he said.

Shamir also restated Israel's claim to Jerusalem, which the Palestinians also claim as their capital.

"If we can't talk about Jerusalem, if we can't talk about withdrawal, what on earth are we doing here?" an exasperated-sounding Jordanian foreign minister, Kamel

Abu Jaber, demanded at a news conference after the morning session.

In the ornate conference room at Spain's Royal Palace, the atmosphere was solemn and attentive during the Israeli and Jordanian speeches.

No Arabs were seen applauding Shamir's 30-minute address. A few Israelis applauded the Jordanian address, but Shamir was not among them.

Abu Jaber opened his remarks with an Arabic blessing; Shamir's first word was "shalom" — the Hebrew greeting that also means "peace." Both then went on to speak in English.

In his address, the Israeli leader challenged the Arabs to drop their resistance to holding face-to-face talks between Israel and Arab delegations — the conference's planned next phase — in the Middle East.

The site of future talks is the source of an increasingly bitter dispute.

No wrecker or ambulance was needed in any of the three mishaps.

At 9:35 a.m. Wednesday officers took a 24-year-old male into custody at Municipal Court and transported him to the county jail to lay out fines for unrestrained child.

Three people also reported lost rings to police, who took down descriptions of the jewelry.

Officers also advised the highway department of bridges in the area covered with ice and causing a traffic hazard.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. # Dear Abby

Man With Limited Experience Seeks Study of Female Form

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1991 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a 39-year-old divorced man. My ex-wife and present girlfriend are the only women I have ever had sex with, and both are extremely flat-chested. Therefore, I have never touched—or even seen—breasts of any size except in pictures.

Sometimes this bothers me, and I find myself staring at women with large breasts. My girlfriend is very understanding about this and even suggested that we go to a nudist camp so I could get an eyeful.

Abby, do you think going to a nudist camp would get this problem out of my system, or would it just aggravate it?

My decision depends on your reply.

MISSING OUT IN L.A.

DEAR MISSING OUT: Your girlfriend's "understanding" is admirable, but nudist camps are not peep shows. They are for people who sincerely enjoy the freedom of camping out in the buff. You will find naturalists—entire families—at nudist camps.

There are legitimate theaters that offer adult entertainment wherein you can see what you want to see.

***

DEAR ABBY: Your column about "no-shows" (people who do not show up at a wedding reception after having accepted) struck a raw nerve with me. I was recently married, and we had 40 no-shows at our reception.

We included postage-paid response cards with every invitation, and about 60 percent responded to those. I did a lot of telephoning, and held off the final count to the caterers until two days prior to the wedding. At that time I had to make the final florist order (for every table of eight there was a centerpiece) as well as the final champagne amounts for toasting. We figured that this cost us $1,000 extra.

To this day, we have only found out that one woman was ill, a man didn't get home from a business trip, another man left his wife, and one couple had the flu.

Only one couple informed us personally that they were unable to attend—three hours prior to the ceremony. At the reception, we learned that another couple had separated and he was too upset to attend.

Abby, please don't use my name or city; I'm hopeful this will alert some other folks, and there will be fewer no-shows.

AFFRONTED NEWLYWEDS

DEAR NEWLYWEDS: I wish! I have yet to hear how readers felt about my suggestion concerning no-shows at a catered affair: "Since the food is already paid for, why not pack up the goodies and take them home or to a homeless shelter?"

***

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HANGING IN THERE" IN HOLDENVILLE, OKLA.: I admire your fighting spirit, but an artist knows when a painting is finished, and a wise woman knows when the affair is over. Accept it with grace, and save face.

Killer in southern California preys on prostitutes, addicts

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—In five years, a killer has plucked at least 17 victims from among society's most vulnerable ranks: women caught up in drugs and prostitution.

Their bodies have been discarded on hillsides, in alleys and along freeways in Riverside County, a rapidly growing desert area about 90 minutes east of Los Angeles.

Authorities say they are optimistic the killer will be caught, but they acknowledge that finding a serial killer who preys on prostitutes is never easy.

In a "typical homicide," the victim has an established routine and a circle of contacts, said sheriff's Detective Henry Sawicki.

But prostitutes and addicts don't lead such well-ordered lives, he said. It isn't unusual for them to approach dangerous people, and their disappearances may go unnoticed for long periods of time.

Details of the investigation, being handled by a 14-member sheriff's task force, are closely guarded.

Police have released a list of victims, however, beginning with Michelle Gutierrez, 36, whose body was found Oct. 29, 1986. The body of the 17th victim, Catherine McDonald, 30, was found last month.

On Wednesday, the body of what is believed to be the 18th victim was discovered on a road near Riverside, Sawicki said. The 35-year-old woman's name was not immediately released.

Authorities no longer discuss how each victim was killed. Some of the earliest ones were found naked and were stabbed or strangled.

The way the women lived is part of what makes their deaths so tough to solve, experts said.

When prostitutes are involved, police are sometimes less likely to believe them when they try to provide information, said John Douglas, an FBI expert on serial slayings. He is chief of the investigative support unit for the bureau's National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime, based in Quantico, Va.

Overburdened police departments may also assign such cases a lower priority because public pressure to find a killer isn't as great, he said.

Most states may not set stricter limits

WASHINGTON (AP)—A decision by Eastern states to adopt California's strict air pollution controls may spur some additional states to follow in the same footsteps, but don't look for a bandwagon to form.

Federal officials and environmentalists say most states are likely to stick with the less-stringent pollution controls required last year by Congress when it rewrote the federal clean air law.

Except for areas suffering the worst air pollution, the federal requirements are likely to be enough to bring most of the nation into air quality compliance over the next decade as required by the new law, they say.

This week nine Northeastern and Middle Atlantic states, including several suffering from some of the country's worst air pollution, agreed to adopt California's control program. It includes stiffer automobile tailpipe emission limits and a phase-in of thousands of cars powered by fuels other than gasoline.

Environmentalists last year tried to get Congress to require the tougher California standards nationwide as part of the clean air bill, but they met strong opposition from industry and the Bush administration.

Finally, a compromise settled for a less burdensome anti-pollution program while specifically allowing for states to adopt the California standards if they choose.

Since the Eastern states suffer from some of the worst pollution from automobiles, it had been expected that these states would be first to follow the California lead.

At a meeting this week, officials of the Northeast Ozone Transportation Commission agreed to adopt the tougher California anti-pollution program.

They included officials from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, as well as the District of Columbia.

Don Zinger, a senior air pollution control official at the Environmental Protection Agency, said "everyone expected" the action by those states, but he doubted many others will follow.

"If you don't have a (fairly serious) air pollution problem there's no reason for states to go (to the California standard)," Zinger said in an interview. He added, however, that the EPA is trying to stay neutral on the subject.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 21-year-old female with human papillomavirus. My doctor doesn't seem to know much about this and indicates there are over 50 different types of the virus. What should I know, and what should my partner know, if anything?

DEAR READER: Actually, there are 46 types of human papillomavirus, a common virus infection that causes warts. Ordinarily, these warts—which may appear on any skin surface—are harmless nuisances.

However, types 16, 18, 31 and 33 are associated with venereal warts in both men and women. Recent studies have shown a strong relation between these warts and cancer of the penis, cervix and vaginal opening.

The infection is spread by direct contact, including sexual relations, with an infected person. Virus infection may be present in either partner when no warts are visible to the naked eye. Newborn infants can contract life-threatening respiratory infection (laryngeal papillomatosis) during birth if their mothers have venereal warts.

The diagnosis is confirmed by special testing, such as Pap tests and tissue biopsy.

Because of the risk of cancer, treatment of genital papillomavirus infection is mandatory. Therapy includes surgical excision, burning with liquid nitrogen, application of podophyllin or injection of a drug called interferon-alpha directly into the warts.

In my opinion, you should be under the care of a gynecologist who will aggressively treat your infection with one of the methods I mentioned. In addition, because your sexual partner—or partners—is almost surely infected, he should be examined by a urologist and treated to interrupt the cycle of infection/treatment/reinfection.

Human papillomavirus infection should not be taken lightly. And, I am convinced, your family doctor should refer you to a specialist. If you are already seeing a gynecologist and he or she is vague about what to do, ask for a referral to another gynecologist who is more familiar with papillomavirus infections. Once again, your sexual partners MUST be examined, too.

To provide further information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Vaginal Infections and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

5 former workers file sexual assault, harassment lawsuit

HOUSTON (AP)—A $5 million lawsuit has been filed against a prominent Houston law firm by five former female employees who claim they suffered a pattern of sexual assault and harassment by a partner.

Five former female employees filed the suit against Dunn, Kacal, Adams, Pappas & Law Wednesday.

The only plaintiff named is Helton Lureen Hopkins, 29, a paralegal fatally shot Oct. 14 after intervening in an attempted purse-snatching. The suit will be amended to name her estate as the plaintiff.

The suit states the firm fired Ms. Hopkins in 1988, three weeks after she complained about the conduct of her immediate supervisor, attorney Pete Andarsio.

The four other plaintiffs say Andarsio harassed, assaulted or slandered them, and claim the firm was negligent in supervising him.

But Randy Schaffer, attorney for Andarsio, said his client had consensual sexual relations with an undisclosed number of the plaintiffs, mostly resulting from "pairing off" after social occasions.

"Some of these allegations are things that occurred years ago, and they never complained," Schaffer said. "There wasn't even a hint of sexual assault."
