Ask Us

Q—I have seen license plates with both the handicapped emblem and sticker and plates with just the sticker without the handicapped emblem on the plate. What is the difference?

A—Currently, those that qualify for the handicapped designation on plates are given the choice of the license plate with the emblem and sticker or just the sticker. It's a matter of choice, according to the county tax collector's office.

In Brief

Stop payments

HOUSTON (AP)— Harris County commissioners say they will no longer pay six rural counties to house state felons because the state has been slow to reimburse the county for the costs.

The county had contracted with the jails to house more than 1,000 state felons from the Harris County jail as a way to ease crowding.

Post appointed to council seat

Former Councilman Mike Post was appointed to fill the unexpired term of District 3 Councilman Joe Coronado during a special meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

The council also approved a franchise agreement, an agreement for seismicographic surveying of some city property and met in a work session on the bylaws of the economic development corporation.

Post will serve in the District 3 seat, the same seat he held from 1986-1988. The seat was vacated with the October resignation of Coronado, who moved out of the district. It was Coronado who succeeded Post in the council position

House votes for delay...

HCFA, states square off over new Medicaid rules

by The Associated Press
The states have squared off with the Health Care Financing Administration over new Medicaid rules which governors say will cost states billions if implemented.

HCFA officials say without the new rules, states are abusing the system with skyrocketing requests for matching funds.

The states are negotiating with the administration to find a workable solution to the Medicaid problem, which erupted when the HCFA issued its new regulations in September.

HCFA wants to restrict states from getting extra Medicaid funds through provider taxes or "voluntary" donations from hospitals and nursing homes.

The government contends many states are undermining Medicaid by getting the federal matching funds then returning to the providers the tax and donations they originally paid.

The House voted 348-71 Tuesday to delay implementation of the

Inform county clerk of address changes

County Clerk Frances Billingsley has requested the assistance of all voters whose addresses have recently been changed by postal authorities.

New voter registration certificates are due to be mailed out in early December, and all addresses need to be corrected by that date, if possible.

The local post office states the following changes have been made:

Polar Route, Dermott, to HCR 63.

Clairemont Route to HCR 67.

Arah Route to HCR 68.

Flovanna Route to HCR 69.

Anyone that has any one of the above changes should contact the county clerk's office in person or call 573-5332. Those who have actually moved will need to go by the clerk's office to sign a change of address form.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Be suspicious of a guy who pays cash—his credit may not be good."

Jokes are entering the hi-tech age—humor with a byte.

A news release that came in the mail says a company is working on a computerized joke book. According to the release, it's not an ordinary collection of gags, but rather a program of "24,000 classic racy jokes in a fast, fun, easy-to-use format."

Just like the world needs a five-cent cigar, Americans can soon have a dirty joke at the touch of a keyboard. The firm, Allspice Productions, says the company is motivated by two facts: jokes are the icebreakers of business communications and 99.2 percent of people in America admit they can't tell a joke.

The company calls its joke program, "Raskal." The software, they say, is based on the historic two volume collection, "The Rationale of the Dirty Joke," by G. Legman who gathered stories, quips, shaggy dog tales and one-liners over a 40-year period.

Like most computer programs, the jokes are sorted into several categories such as marriage, sick jokes, tricks of the trade, money, brides, politics, sports, drunks, courtroom, divorce, etc.

The fact that such jokes will be available at the touch of a key is not all that impressive to us, but get this: The comprehensive nature of the software program includes a certain code to instantly camouflage your computer screen.

With the stroke of a key, your screen will look like word processing or a spreadsheet, just in case a hard-nosed boss comes by while it's in the joke program.

Technological progress is wonderful, but a bad joke is a bad joke even if you can blame it on a computer.

Doty receives annual award

Western Texas College Assistant Professor Bob Doty was selected Tuesday for the Founder's Day Award, given to an employee that has "gone above and beyond" for students at the college. The annual award is sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa and the WTC Student Senate.

Doty is in his 13th year at Western Texas College, and serves as rodeo coach and assistant professor of agriculture. He is president of the WTC Faculty Association. Students from his rodeo teams have qualified for the College National Finals Rodeo for 11 consecutive years, and his 1986 men's team won the national title.

He was national faculty president of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association from 1989-90. He was honored by Snyder Independent School District in May of 1990 for the rodeo he plans each year for exceptional students in the local school system.

Doty has played a major role in developing the college agriculture complex and arena southwest of Snyder.

He is sponsor/advisor of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at WTC.

Doty received his bachelor's degree from Abilene Christian University and his master's degree from Sam Houston State. He graduated from Lueders-Avoca High School.

He and his wife Darla have two sons, Jay and Sterling.

Presenting the award was Brad Loesch, student body president.

Investigation focuses on employee's pickup

With no new developments in the whereabouts of a Snyder businessman, his employee and the employee's girlfriend, police are focusing on efforts to locate the pickup of Arthur Lee Harding.

Forty-three-year-old Harding, his 28-year-old girlfriend, Jonell Henderson, and 49-year-old Paul Edward Milford, the owner of Last Oil Change where Harding was employed, have been missing since Nov. 4.

"The pickup is either hidden or left the area," said Snyder Police Chief Lannie Lee of efforts to locate Harding's 1982 Chevrolet pickup. Lee said a description of the pickup and its license have been entered into a national computer system used by law enforcement.

The pickup is described as brown, two-tone, with license plate 5535 JK.

Milford's 1982 Suburban was found in a parking lot at Sam's Wholesale Club in Abilene on Thursday where it had been for a week to 10 days, according to Sam's employees. A billfold belonging to Milford was also found in Abilene, leaving local law enforcement officials to speculate foul play in Milford's disappearance.

"It's just speculation," Lee said, explaining there seems to be no local crime scene. He noted (see SEARCH, page 8).

Annual 'Smokeout' planned Thursday

Thousands of Texans and millions of other smokers across the country will attempt to put down their packs for 24 hours Thursday during the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout.

Information about the Smokeout, including stickers, tips on quitting smoking and "adoption" papers for those who want to help others quit, are available locally at Fri Rascals, 1806 26th St. Snyder High School FHA will conduct a balloon release in front of the school at noon Thursday to promote the Great American Smokeout.

Tips to help smokers get through the 24-hour period include:

Hide all ashtrays, matches and lighters.

Keep a supply of sugarless gum, carrot sticks or other edibles. Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee and alcohol.

Tell everyone you're quitting for the day.

When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for 10 seconds and release it slowly.

Exercise to relieve the tension.

Try the "buddy system," and ask a friend to quit too.

Memo to Bush: loose lips sink ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush's suggestion that banks cut credit-card interest rates was an offhand remark. But it set off a stampede that rocked the stock market and raised new questions about Bush's grip on economic policymaking.

The Plastic Panic of 1991 may wind up as just a footnote in economic and political textbooks, but it served to indicate the fragility of the stock market and of the underlying economy.

Many saw it as one more illustration of the paralysis that seems to be gripping the administration on dealing with the economy.

"There's no question that people are concerned by the lack of recovery and the lack of a coordinated response to it," said David Wyss, chief financial economist for DRI-McGraw-Hill, a Lexington, Mass., consulting firm.

It wasn't as if Bush didn't already have troubles enough.

The faltering economy was eating away at his popularity and he was getting swiped at from conservatives within his own party even before he traveled to New York early last week for a $2 million Bush-Quayle '92 fund-raising luncheon.

When he left Washington, there was nothing in his speech text about credit-card rates, nor had the subject yet been broached in any White House utterances on the economy.

Before beginning in New York, Bush added some remarks to his 5x7 speech cards and this is what came out: "I was talking to some businessmen earlier and I'd frankly like to see credit card rates come down."

Bush was quick to take credit the next day when American Telephone and Telegraph announced it was dropping rates on its Universal Card by a full percentage point.

Then things got ugly.

Sen. Alfonse D'Amato, R-N.Y., who was at the head table for the Oct. 11 luncheon in New York, quickly introduced a measure to cap credit-card rates at 14 percent, hinting at Bush's leadership on the issue.

It passed the Senate in short order. House leaders predicted it would pass their chamber too, perhaps in the following week.

The president's damage-control team was sent out to douse the fires, but not before the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fell 120 points on Friday. After a modest 30-point rally Monday, it plunged another 41 points on Tuesday.

The prospect of imminent congressional action on credit cards was cited by many analysts as a main reason for Friday's initial slide and perhaps had an indirect bearing on Tuesday's further decline.

"That never occurred to me that somebody was going to introduce legislation," Bush told a group of reporters Monday. "I didn't think about it then. Maybe I should

Richards doesn't want nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Gov. Ann Richards says she loves her job and has no intention of seeking the Democratic vice presidential nomination next year.

Richards made the comments Tuesday in response to former Gov. Bill Clements' claim she is interested in a national post.

"I love what I'm doing. I am not involved in these presidential politics," Richards said after she testified before a Senate committee probing Medicaid funding.

"I don't have any interest in it."

Clements, a Republican who served two terms as governor, predicted last week that Richards would be New York Gov. Mario Cuomo's running mate.

"Ann Richards is going to make a strong, strong run at vice president," Clements had said. "She's doing everything she can to get on that ticket as vice president."

Cuomo, who has been the butt of national jokes for his indecision over whether to enter the race, has yet to announce his intention.

Richards said she is quite happy in the governor's mansion, where she is focusing her attention on health care, criminal justice and education.

have.

In the end, House Democratic leaders joined with the White House in agreeing that the bill — however noble it sounded — probably was a bad idea. It was put on a back burner fast, but the damage already had been done.

Bankers argued that rather than spurring consumer spending, the legislation could have the opposite effect: forcing banks to cut off credit to thousands of cardholders. The White House and congressional leaders seemed to agree.

DEAR, DR. GOTT: Please provide information on post-polio syndrome.

DEAR READER: Polio was a frightening epidemic in the prevaccination era of my childhood. A lot of people were infected with the polio virus, and many of them developed paralysis. Of the paralyzed group, fewer than 25 percent suffered severe permanent disability.

Linares will direct lottery

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Comptroller John Sharp has selected one of his top deputies to direct the state's lottery after a nationwide search, a Houston newspaper reported today.

The Houston Chronicle quoted sources as saying Nora Linares, head of the Lottery Implementation Task Force, has been selected for the job.

Sources also told the newspaper that Sharp also has decided to sign a $1.3 million contract with Georgia-based Lottery Support Group Inc. to be the state's consultant on starting the games.

Both decisions will be announced at a news conference today, the newspaper reported.

Ms. Linares, 37, a San Antonio native, headed the Mexican-American Democrats of Texas for the last two years. She was Sharp's liaison with the Legislature during the last session and is director of research for the comptroller's office.

Ms. Linares received a bachelor of arts degree from Southwest Texas State University in 1976 and serves on a number of appointed boards and commissions. Before joining Sharp's staff, she worked for six years at the Texas Department of Agriculture.

As head of the task force, she led a group assigned to study other lotteries around the country and to talk to other candidates for the director's job.

Sharp examined 640 resumes and began interviewing top candidates about two weeks ago.

The General Court is the legislature in Massachusetts.

The most common consequences of paralytic polio were leg and arm weakness. While they were young, these polio patients could compensate for the handicaps by using special equipment and physical therapy.

However, as they grew older — and muscle strength began its age-related decline — these patients became much weaker and more handicapped, sometimes out of proportion to the aging process. Called "post-polio syndrome," the condition is believed to be an age-related accentuation of the weakness caused by polio.

Also, there is some question whether the polio viruses may continue to damage nerves, especially those that control swallowing. This complication is common in post-polio syndrome. There is no cure for this affliction, but patients can be helped by some of the newer equipment, such as electric wheelchairs, and by intensive physical therapy. For more information, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The International Polio Network, 4502 Maryland Ave., St. Louis, MO 63108.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My sister has diabetes and complains of numbness and tingling in her hands and arms and drooling from the mouth. She also has an allergy to some cottons and synthetic fabrics. Could the building materials in her new house have been treated with formaldehyde, causing such problems?

DEAR READER: In rare instances, patients develop allergic reactions to formaldehyde/urethane material used in constructing houses. However, such a reaction would not explain your sister's numbness and tingling in the arms and hands. These symptoms could result from diabetic neuropathy, the malfunction of nerves in the extremities, caused by the poor circulation that characterizes diabetes.

She should bring these complaints to her doctor's attention. Closer control over her diabetes might help her symptoms; also, she needs to be tested for anemia and a mineral imbalance, both of which can also cause these symptoms. The doctor can order the necessary tests and suggest treatment.

To provide more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Diabetes Mellitus." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

LP-gas regulators should be checked

With the arrival of the winter heating season, Texas homeowners who fuel furnaces and appliances with liquefied petroleum gas should double check to make sure the regulator on their LP-gas tank is properly installed.

Smith enlists in U.S. Navy's delayed plan

Jerry J. Smith recently enlisted in the United States Navy for guaranteed training at the Navy's Hospital Corpsman school.

Smith, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Smith, is a 1991 graduate of Ira High School. Enlisting under the Delayed Entry Program, he will report to Recruit Training Center Great Lakes in March for active duty, where he will undergo basic training.

Following basic training, Smith will begin 14 weeks of schooling and training in the hospital corpsman field.

Hospital corpsmen assist professionals in providing health care to service members and their families. They act as pharmacists, medical technicians, food service personnel, nurses' aids, battlefield medics, x-ray technicians, physicians' or dentists' assistants, and more.

Their work falls into several categories: first aid and minor surgery, patient transportation, patient care, prescriptions and laboratory work, food service inspections and clerical duties.

Petty officer David Giddens of the Abilene Recruiting Station, Smith's recruiter, noted that Smith may go on to additional schooling, or be assigned to any of the Navy's duty stations around the world.

directly to home appliances. A normal 3/4-inch blue flame on an appliance could suddenly surge, becoming a dangerous torch. Over the past few winters, several fires have been caused by such regulator freeze-ups, officials say. Regulators on many home tanks are located under a protective metal dome on the top of the tank, shielding them from weather and insects. However, homeowners with tanks where the circular regulator has been installed outside the dome cover should check to make sure that the regulator vent is pointing down toward the ground, away from the elements.

If homeowners are concerned about whether or not their regulator is properly installed, they would contact the local LP-gas dealer that fills or services their tank.

For economic reasons, some consumers are buying propane in portable tanks for use as a supplemental heat source. However, a dangerous and potentially deadly situation can develop when homeowners bring LP-gas portable cylinders indoors. Railroad Commission safety regulations prohibit portable LP-gas containers indoors because of the danger of explosion or fire if stored too close to a heat source.

Cylinders and containers must be installed outside in accordance with the Commission's LP-gas safety rules.

LP-gas, more commonly known as propane or butane, is used as a residential and commercial fuel in areas where natural gas utility service is not available. Propane, butane tanks

Courage never to submit or yield

By Phillip Alder

Bridge isn't a game for the weak-willed — you need strength of character to succeed. For example, in a matchpointed pair game, it can be right to risk going down in your guaranteed contract in quest of a vital overtrick. And if you make a light opening bid, you must see it through: don't lie about your aces if partner uses Blackwood. And when your prospects as declarer look grim, you should still play for any chance of victory, however unlikely it might be.

Cover the East-West cards in the diagram. Against six spades, West leads the heart king. You win with dummy's ace and cash your two top trumps, but East discards a club on the second. How do you continue?

North's four no-trump was Roman Key Card Blackwood. South's response showed three key cards, counting the four aces and the trump king as key cards. Five diamonds asked for the trump queen, and five spades denied that card.

With a guaranteed trump loser, declarer had to discard both of his low hearts before West could ruff in and cash the heart queen. That required finding West with four diamonds and East with a singleton nine, 10 or jack. At trick four, South cashed the diamond queen, unblocking the seven from the dummy. The fall of East's 10 was a hopeful sign. Next came the diamond six. When West played the four, declarer didn't submit or yield: he called for dummy's five. The six won.

Now declarer played three more rounds of diamonds, discarding his heart losers, and claimed.

Snyder Go-Getters roll to area bowling honors

ABILENE — Tim Collins, Delbert Johnson, Jonathan Barrow, Loretta Mireles, Susie Mullen, Stephanie Guerrero, Tom Crawley, R.L. Higdon, Randy Underwood and Elaine Sharp, all members of the Snyder Go-Getters Special Olympics team, captured first place at the Area 14 bowling tournament here, recently.

Second place honors belong to Snyder bowlers Raydene Brown, Jo Anne Conley, Hope Martinez, Helen Everts, Ernie Crede and Michael Cotton while Russell Loyd, Marvin Butler and Lela Stevens captured third.

Local fourth-place winners included Mae Farmer and Shane Harmon.

Bowlers 12 years and older who finished first, second or third at the area event are eligible to compete in the state tournament in Austin Dec. 13-15.

Six named in boys' singles...

Tigers honored on all-district net team

LUBBOCK — District 2-4A coaches met recently and voted 10 members of the loop champion Snyder tennis team, including all six boys' singles competitors, to the 1991 fall all-district squad.

Included in the selections are Marcus Best, Kevin McMillan, Sam Cain, Michael Hess, Jason Warren and Chris Gayle in boys' singles and Cain and Hess and Cody Shields and Warren in boys' doubles.

Honorees in girls' singles include Lauri Allen and honorable mention picks Robin Cave and Hope Papay.

"I'm real proud for the Snyder tennis team," said Tiger net coach Jerry Tucker, "and for all these fine players."

"I believe the boys played up to their expectations and the girls went beyond expectations."

Joining the Snyder choices in boys' singles are Alan Davis and Joe Bryan Davis of Lamesa and Estacado standout James Gibson.

Charles Cortez and Gibson represented EHS in doubles.

Suzi Gomez, Becky Hernandez and Hollie Haynes of Estacado were tabbed all-district in girls' singles, as were Lamesa netters Bella Estrada and M'Liss Vogler. The doubles team of Estrada and Vogler were awarded all-loop honors and were joined by the Estacado teams of Gomez and Hernandez and Haynes and Trishanna Tucker.

Snyder raced through the fall team tennis season with an unblemished 5-0 district record to earn a berth in regional competition. District 2-4A's runner-up was Estacado, 3-2, who also appeared at the late October Region I tournament here.

Estacado was named the Sportsmanship Award winner at

The Snyder Lady Tigers fell behind early in their basketball season-opener Tuesday, and couldn't quite catch up, as Sweetwater beat them, 52-34.

The Lady Mustangs took a 19-4 lead after the first quarter, which, according to Snyder coach Laurie Welch, turned out to be the difference.

"Well, we came out a little shaky and didn't play very well, defensively," she said. "We were manning them and they were pretty tough against that defense."

"I really think our slow start in the first quarter was the difference in the ball game."

"We are not working well enough together with our man-to-man defense," the coach continued, "but that'll come with time and experience."

"We went to the zone in the second quarter and pretty much shut them down. After that we stayed with them for most of the game and even outscored them in two quarters."

The Lady Tigers came back with 12 second-quarter points to the visitors' 10, then outscored Sweetwater, 8-7, in the third period.

An 8-2 run capped by senior guard Schanekka Thompson's six-foot bank shot pulled Snyder to within seven at 31-24 with less than three minutes to go in the third.

However, five unanswered points by the Lady Mustangs put the game almost out of reach by the time the final stanza even began.

Coach Welch, in spite of her team's loss, remains optimistic.

"I was really pleased with our performance," she stated. "We are still an inexperienced team. I have two seniors and the rest juniors and sophomores, but they did some good things tonight. I was not disappointed at all. I was really impressed with their efforts."

Welch pointed to the play of point guard Deana Ball and the Lady Tigers' post game as being the highlights of Tuesday's game for Snyder.

"Deana did a pretty good job at the point," Welch said. "Melanie Duncan performed well, even though her shots didn't fall tonight. She's going to come around. Jennifer Kime was playing her first game since eighth grade. I felt like she came in and did us a good job."

Ball tied Thompson for team scoring honors with eight each. Annie Ragland put in six followed by four each from Stephanie Fambro and Daisy Brazier. Shalawn Smith had two as did Kime. Sweetwater's Adrienne Armstrong led all scorers with 21 points on the night.

Snyder's JV, behind a 12-point effort from Brigitte Brazier and nine points by Kayla Walker, edged Sweetwater in Tuesday's early game, 36-33.

The Lady Tigers will be back on the court Tuesday, Nov. 26, when they host Abilene High in varsity and JV games, beginning at 5 p.m. at Scurry County coliseum.

Their previously scheduled game against Seminole, slated for Friday, was cancelled due to the Maidens' participation in the state volleyball playoffs.

Ripken named '91 AL MVP selection

BALTIMORE (AP) — A little over a year ago, Cal Ripken had hit rock bottom. He was in a lengthy slump that had him wondering just how long he could stay in the game.

Today, the Baltimore Orioles' shortstop is on top of the baseball world. He won his second American League MVP award on Tuesday, becoming the first AL player ever to win the award with a losing team.

Ripken's statistics in 1991 — a

.323 batting average with 34 homers and 114 RBIs — evidently were more important to the voters than the Orioles' numbers: A 67-95 record and a sixth-place finish in the seven-team AL East.

Ripken received 15 first-place votes, eight seconds, four thirds and one seventh for 318 points in balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Cecil Fielder of the Detroit Tigers, who led the majors with 133 RBIs and tied for the major-league lead in homers with 44, was second with 286 points. Fielder, the runner-up last year to Oakland's Rickey Henderson, got nine first-place votes, 12 seconds, six thirds and one seventh.

Frank Thomas of the Chicago White Sox was third with 181 points, Jose Canseco of the Athletics was fourth with 145 and Joe Carter of the Toronto Blue Jays was fifth with 136.

Ripken was the AL Rookie of the Year in 1982 and MVP in 1983.

FUTURE AGGIE — Western Texas College golfer, Mark Wood, has signed a scholarship agreement to attend Texas A&M University. The Pampa sophomore will study either business or engineering while competing for the Aggies golf team. (SDN Staff Photo)

Klingler, Brooks claim SWC honors

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston quarterback David Klingler dropped out of the Heisman Trophy race early this season. Now he's into heavy mettle.

Klingler has been forced to show his grit as much as his passing arm after being battered most of the season because of a porous offensive line that has made him a target.

Klingler, playing with a painful rib injury, finally got some protection last Saturday against Rice and in less than three full quarters completed 27 of 37 passes for 395 yards, rallying the Cougars to a 41-21 victory.

Klingler's pain-filled performance earned him The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week honor.

Texas Tech's Donnie Brooks earned the Defensive Player of the Week honor for his 99-yard fumble return for a touchdown in the Red Raiders' 31-24 victory over Baylor.

Soccer Tour sets tryouts in Snyder

Bobby Moffatt's 1992 England Soccer Tour tryouts will be held Thursday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. at the Snyder Soccer Association fields near Snyder Junior High School.

Tryouts are slated for boys and girls under 11 to under 19. The tour is scheduled for July 18 through Aug. 4. For more information, call Moffatt Tours at 214-699-3653.

SHS cage squads announce changes

Changes in Snyder High School's early-season basketball schedules have been announced including cancellations for boys' and girls' games and rescheduling.

The SHS boys junior varsity was to have played Andrews at 6:30 p.m. Friday at SHS. That game has been called off and the freshman tilt has been moved up from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m.

The varsity contest, originally set for 8 p.m., will be played at 7:30 p.m.

Also, Saturday's games between the Tigers and San Angelo Central, to be played at Scurry County Coliseum, have been pushed up to 2 p.m. for the JV and 3:30 p.m. for the varsity, due to the WTC Lady Duster Classic, being played Friday and Saturday nights at the coliseum.

Snyder's Lady Tigers were to have played Seminole Friday but that game has also been cancelled. The Maidens' volleyball team is currently in the state playoffs, making the basketball squad short-handed and forcing the cancellation.

Harris County may ok no smoking ban in county buildings

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County commissioners are considering making all of the county's more than 100 facilities entirely smoke-free by next July, a move that officials say may upset jail inmates and the judges who send them there.

If the smoking ban is approved following two hearings next month, it would mean that the estimated 7,000 smokers in the jail would have to kick the habit.

Nicotine-addicted inmates who are suddenly deprived of cigarettes could pose a safety threat in the jail, Sheriff Johnny Klevenhagen, a non-smoker, said Tuesday.

"There will be an increase in jail violence if you take those people off nicotine cold turkey," said Klevenhagen.

It was unclear Tuesday how any treatment programs for inmates or employees will be funded. Also unresolved is what penalty will be imposed on those caught smoking in county buildings.

"Who's going to tell the district judges?" asked Commissioner Jim Fonteno.

Officials say about one-third of district judges in Harris County smoke either cigarettes or cigars. Any new policy would also apply to the courthouses.

"The cigarette ashtray is going the way of the courthouse spittoon," said District Judge Ted Poe, a non-smoker. No judges who smoke could be reached for comment, the Houston Chronicle reported today.

County Clerk Anita Rodeheaver, one of the highest-ranking county government officials and a smoker, declined to say if she'll quit or take "butt breaks" outdoors.

"I'll just wait until the time comes and see what happens," Rodeheaver said.

A recent county survey indicated that an estimated 29 percent of the county employees smoke and 68 percent of them said they want to quit.

Harris County currently allows smoking in certain areas in most buildings, but lacks a comprehensive policy. None of the commissioners smoke, although some of their staff members do.

Infertility doctor accused of using his own sperm

WASHINGTON (AP) — An infertility specialist accused of fraud fathered numerous children by artificially inseminating his patients with his own sperm, prosecutors say.

Dr. Cecil B. Jacobson provided his own sperm after telling the women that the donors were men carefully selected because their physical characteristics resembled the patients' husbands, according to an indictment returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury in Alexandria, Va.

Police work 2 accidents

Police worked two traffic accidents Tuesday and responded to several domestic disputes but made no arrests.

At 12:52 p.m., officers worked an accident at 600 East Hwy. Involved were a 1979 Oldsmobile driven by Rose Contella of 707 26th St. and a 1979 Cadillac driven by Merle Riggs of 3605 41st St. The Oldsmobile was towed from the scene. No ambulance was needed.

At 5:44 p.m., police cleared a case which had been classified as a hit and run. Involved in the accident at 2100 37th St. was a 1991 Ford driven by Jerry Lee Webb of 4014 Houston and a retaining wall owned by the City of Snyder.

Jacobson operated an infertility clinic in suburban Tysons Corner, Va., until an investigation by state authorities forced him to stop practicing medicine in 1989. He also is charged with fraud and lying under oath when patients sued him for malpractice.

Tests showed that Jacobson was the biological father of "one or more children" of seven couples, the indictment said. Jacobson impregnated patients with his sperm "over a period of years, thereby leading to the birth of numerous children for which he was the biological father."

Jacobson, 55, provided false assurances of confidentiality by telling patients that sperm donors would not be told the names of the recipients, the indictment said.

He also was accused of defrauding patients by leading other women to believe they were pregnant when they were not.

U.S. Attorney Richard Cullen said in a statement that Jacobson's alleged misconduct was "a gross abuse of the trust relationship between a doctor and his patients."

The criminal charges carry a maximum penalty of 285 years in prison and a $500,000 fine.

Rotan plans dinner theatre for Christmas

ROTAN — Theatre on the Brazos will present its third annual dinner theatre performance on Dec. 5 and 7, and dessert theatre performance on Dec. 8 at the Rotan Community Center. A Friday night performance is not planned due to a possible conflict with a football game.

The Thursday and Saturday night performances begin at 7 p.m. The $12 ticket includes the play performance and dinner. The Sunday afternoon dessert performance begins at 2 p.m. at $6 a ticket and will consist of dessert and the play performance.

Tickets are by reservation only until Nov. 27 and may be purchased from the following: Janiece Peace, 309 E. Beauregard, Rotan, Tx. 79546 or 735-3115; Glenda Wright at Farm Tractor and Service, 735-2252; Beth Martin at the Fisher County Courthouse, 776-2151; Joe Dickson at the City of Rotan, 735-2251; or Jaye Neice Clements, 735-2010. The above numbers all have the 915 area code.

A Christmas play in one act under the direction of Linda Dickson, "Second Marriage of Santa Claus" by John Kirkpatrick is not the traditional type of holiday production. In this play, a mixture of realism and fantasy, the author deplores the lack of true sentiment in today's Christmas. The play is filled with characters who have frayed nerves, short tempers, good intentions and a couple who really know what Christmas is all about.

Starved boy's dad denied request
by The Associated Press
A criminal district judge in Fort Worth today denied a man's request to attend the funeral of a son he is accused of chaining and starving.

Judge Bill Burdock rejected a motion by Jay Hill's court-appointed attorney, Larry Moore, that would have permitted Hill to be at private family services scheduled today for Stephen Hill, 13.

George Campbell, a chief deputy to Tarrant County Sheriff Don Carpenter, testified during the brief morning hearing on possible problems such a move could cause.

News Briefs

Atlantis may lift off on Sunday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Space shuttle Atlantis could lift off as early as Sunday if all goes well with repairs to a rocket needed to boost a military spy satellite into an orbit high above Earth, NASA says.

NASA canceled Tuesday night's launch attempt after a navigation unit in the satellite rocket malfunctioned. Workers were about to start fueling the spaceship when the countdown was halted, nine hours before liftoff.

The space agency said it hopes to replace the navigation unit with a spare in time for a 6:31 p.m. EST liftoff on Sunday.

The delay could last much longer is Atlantis is not off the ground by midweek. Budget-conscious NASA doesn't want to have to pay the launch team hundreds of thousands of dollars in holiday pay for working over the Thanksgiving weekend, said William Lenoir, head of NASA's spaceflight program.

During the 10-day flight, Atlantis' six astronauts will deliver a $300 million satellite designed to warn of missile attacks and nuclear explosions.

Dog prods boys in coma to awaken

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — An 11-year-old who suffered a near-fatal head injury two weeks ago put two words together for the first time since the accident, thanks to his dog, Rusty.

"Bad Rusty," Donny Tomei said Tuesday as the frisky chow-collie puppy leaped onto him while he sat in a recliner.

"This is really 'a boy and his dog story,'" said Dr. Charles Duncan, a neurosurgeon.

Donny, who also ate his first food Tuesday since the accident, was hit by a car Nov. 4 and was in a coma for several days. He hadn't reacted to anything until last Thursday when Rusty licked his face and the boy smiled.

Although he still doesn't respond to all commands, "he clearly is not in a coma now," Duncan said.

Donny's condition began to improve markedly after his family got permission to bring his beloved dog to the hospital.

"Lots of people have known for a long time that after a head injury like this, patients tend to respond to their families, people they know well, far sooner than they do to the nurses and doctors talking care of them," Duncan said.

Half of the people with head injuries as severe as Donny's die, and only half of the survivors make meaningful recoveries, Duncan said. He said that Donny has a good chance for such a recovery, but it could take years.

"Now that you can see the progress it sure makes it a lot easier," said the boy's 23-year-old sister, Angela Manacchio.

The story of Donny and Rusty has brought an outpouring of sympathy.

Pet stores have offered such gifts as dog food and a lifetime's grooming for Rusty. Hundreds of cards and balloons and more than $3,000 in donations have arrived, and many people have sent pictures of their dogs.

Milford's residence and business have been searched several times. "Something happened between Saturday night and Monday morning," said Lee. Milford was reported missing after he failed to open his business Monday morning, Nov. 4. He was last seen in Snyder on Nov. 2, according to police.

Taylor county records indicate that Harding and Henderson obtained a marriage license in Abilene on Nov. 1. Friends told police that the couple said they were going to get married. Other acquaintances have said the couple was going out of town to a doctor.

Medicaid controversy

tee, said he would support a brief moratorium if a compromise cannot be reached "in the last few days of the session."

Bentsen urged HCFA to withdraw its regulations.

Gail Wilensky, the head of HCFA, testified she would prefer to withdraw the rules and have Congress tackle the problem, which she said is rapidly worsening.

"There is no limit how big this thing can get," she said.

Wilensky cautioned against a moratorium, saying such a move would give states "unrestrained ability" to obtain matching funds.

Medicaid was designed to reimburse states for up to 83 percent of their Medicaid spending, but in at least one state the government is paying $4 for every $1 contributed by the state, Wilensky testified.

In October 1990, states sought $497 million in matching funds. Seven months later, the requests had skyrocketed to $2.5 billion and by July 1991 $3.8 billion had been requested, she said.

"HCFA currently estimates states will request at least $5.5 billion in federal matching funds for donation and tax programs in fiscal year 1992," she testified.

States no longer are receiving Medicaid funding on the basis of poverty or need, but on "how aggressively they have been going after this new 100 percent federal money," she said.

But Richards noted the states are being hit equally hard. In 1984, Texas spent $691 million on Medicaid. "The best estimates tell us that within the next two years, our share of that cost will be two and a half billion dollars," she said.

"It gets so easy to get within this beltway and suddenly start thinking about them and us — them being the states," Richards said. "As if our taxpayers were different. They're not, they are the same people."

"Until we work cooperatively together, the American people are getting the shaft. They think the government's crazy and I don't blame them."

Council position filled

portunity to vote on a proposed 1/2-cent sales tax Jan. 18. A majority of the tax, 1/4-cent, will be used for economic development. The remaining 1/4-cent will be earmarked for ad valorem tax relief.

Local voters voted down a similar proposal in August 1990.

If passed, the tax will start being collected by local merchants in July with the first rebate checks arriving Sept. 10.

The council is proposing appointing the five-member board with two members serving three years, two other members serving two years and one member serving one year. After initial appointments, members will serve three-year terms, and a member will be limited to two consecutive three-year terms.

Board members could be dismissed with a vote from the council. Appointments could come as early as May.

The group will be subject to the Open Meetings Act.

City officials have said that the tax could generate some $300,000 for economic development and another $100,000 for ad valorem tax relief annually.

White House: economy will improve in '92

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers has dismissed fears of a double-dip recession, saying virtually no private economists see a repeat of what happened in the early 1980s.

"I don't think there's very much similar about the recent situation and 1982," Michael Boskin said at a news conference Tuesday before speaking to the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

"In 1982, the unemployment rate peaked at almost 11 percent. It started at a higher rate. The decline in gross national product was twice as great as the most recent recession that appears to have ended in May," he said.

Boskin said the nation's recovery from recession has been too slow but predicts things will be getting better next year.

"The economy will continue to improve," he said. "We think it's been very sluggish over the last three months."

Boskin noted that the economy came out of recession in the spring and grew modestly for several months before slowing.

"The improvement is at too slow a pace," he said. "We believe it will begin picking up in 1992 over 1991."

Boskin also said he agreed with some private forecasts that have trimmed the level of economic growth in the fourth quarter of the year to 1.9 percent.

"I would have no quarrel with that at this stage," he said. "It may be the fourth quarter may be a little lower than expected. Our forecasts for the year have been for a recovery that was modest and below the average rate of recovery and I think that's still likely to be the case."

In his speech to more than 1,000 oil industry officials, Boskin said the nation needs a balance between both domestic and imported oil supplies, noting that the effect of oil price shocks depends on how much oil the economy uses, the nation's capacity for fuel switching, the size of oil stocks and how fast spare production capacity can be brought on-line.

Smokeout Clears the Way For Smokers Hoping to Quit

DEAR ABBY: In 1990, you gave the nation's smokers a wonderful gift the week before Thanksgiving: a column encouraging them to participate in the American Cancer Society's Great American Smokeout. Your support helped millions across the country make the decision to quit smoking, at least for the day. Your column was a terrific morale-booster for our 2.5 million American Cancer Society volunteers in the United States.

Would you please run that lovely Smokeout column again? And thank you for your continued help in the fight against cancer.

LINDA S. HAASE, ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS, AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY, ILLINOIS DIVISION

DEAR MS. HAASE: With pleasure!

DEAR READERS: Tomorrow, Nov. 21, 1991, will mark the 15th Annual Great American Smokeout, a one-day campaign to encourage smokers to quit smoking for 24 hours, just to prove they can do it.

Last year, 19 million smokers tried to quit for the day. This represents 38 percent of the nation's 50 million smokers. Breast cancer used to be the biggest killer for women. But the No. 1 cause of cancer death among women and men today is lung cancer. Tobacco claims one life every 13 seconds. An estimated 143,000 will die of lung cancer in 1991.

And now, a word about smoking-related diseases — emphysema, chronic bronchitis and heart disease: This year an estimated 434,000 will die from one of these. This total exceeds the number of U.S. battle deaths in World War II — nine times as many people who die in automobile accidents every year. A congressional study has reported that health costs from the adverse effects of smoking have reached a new high of $100 billion a year in increased medical bills and lost productivity. The loss in death and disability cannot be measured.

What about "secondhand" smoke? Is it damaging to non-smokers to be in the presence of those of you who are smoking? Yes! One non-smoker dies of secondhand smoke for every eight smokers. And studies reveal that the children of smokers are more prone to lung problems and allergies than are children of non-smokers.

For years I have begged my young readers, "If you smoke, quit now. If you don't smoke, don't start!" Yet an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 kids light up for the first time every day. Why? Peer pressure, no doubt. Cigarette companies sell $1 billion of cigarettes to children each year.

Quitting "cold turkey" is the hardest way to quit, but my readers tell me it's the most effective, and in the long run, the easiest. Those who need help to break their habit: Call your local chapter of the American Cancer Society or call (800) 227-2345 for information.

If you're hooked, and have been telling yourself, "One of these days I'm going to quit," why not start tomorrow? It won't be easy, but it will be the best Thanksgiving present you can give yourself — and those who love you.

Love, Abby

Astrograph by Bernice Bede Osol

Nov. 20, 1991

You could be extremely lucky fulfilling your hopes and expectations in the year ahead. They may not be of a material nature, but they could be more valuable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) As long as companions are cooperative and make concessions, you'll be easy to get along with today. You're not apt to respond congenially, however, when contradicted. Scorpio, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for Scorpio's Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44110-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) The probabilities for fulfilling your ambitious objectives are favorable today, provided you don't take on something you're ill-equipped to handle. Operate within your known capabilities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Think twice about attending a social involvement today where there may be people you dislike. It might turn out to be a waste of both time and money.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It's extremely important you reassess your objectives today. There is a possibility you might be striving for something that will not gratify you once it is achieved.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't waste your valuable time today arguing with someone about an issue to which this individual has a closed mind. It could upset you emotionally and accomplish nothing.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Temporarily set aside involvements today that distract you from your own interests and focus on the affairs of another. In order to succeed, you must be dedicated to personal goals.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Strive to be self-sufficient today instead of relying on the support of another. Even if it is forthcoming, you might be better off without it.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In order to be successful today, you must be consistent. Guard against tendencies to slack off on your endeavors just when your objectives are within reach.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Just because friends aren't totally in accord with your interests today doesn't mean they dislike you. Try not to let your emotions dictate your reasoning. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Certain advantages that can be gained today could be lost or minimized — if you exert too much pressure. Know when to stop pushing and to start pleasing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Keep an open mind today and give associates credit for being at least as smart as you are. If you discount their views and suggestions, it could prove counterproductive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you allow the other party to propose the offer, you're likely to get better terms today. People might treat you more generously than you had anticipated.

TIPS ON STAYING SAFE AND SOUND WITH NATURAL GAS.

For more than 80 years, Lone Star Gas has been providing safe, dependable energy to its customers. By following a few simple rules, you can help make sure you and your family stay safe and sound with natural gas:

- Always have qualified service people install, regularly check and maintain all gas heaters and appliances, following the manufacturer's instructions for installation, ventilation, and operation.
- Always use a gas appliance only for its intended purpose. An oven, for example, should not be used to heat a room.
- Always keep flammable materials and substances away from gas heaters and appliances. Remember, a pilot light is constantly burning.
- If you smell gas in your home, or know you have a gas leak, follow these rules:
  - Everyone should leave the house immediately, leaving the doors open for ventilation.
  - Do not switch anything electrical on or off.
  - Do not use your telephone (telephones use small amounts of electricity).

Do not strike a match or do anything else that might cause a spark.

- Go to the nearest telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the cause of the gas leak before returning to your home.
- Since gas lines run underground, you should take precautions against disrupting these lines, particularly if you plan to:
  - Put in a new fence.
  - Install an underground sprinkler system.
  - Perform any major landscape renovation.
- Before you dig, call your local Lone Star Gas Office, and we'll help you avoid any potential problems.
- If you smell gas while you're outside, contact Lone Star Gas immediately.

At Lone Star Gas Company the safety of our customers is important. Please follow these simple guidelines and enjoy the benefits of natural gas.

McDonnell-Douglas signs overseas pact

ST. LOUIS (AP) — McDonnell Douglas Corp., the nation's No. 1 defense contractor, signed a deal to sell 40 percent of its commercial jet manufacturing business to a Taiwan government-backed venture for $2 billion.

The preliminary agreement, announced Tuesday, calls for the formation of a company that will be jointly owned by St. Louis-based McDonnell Douglas and the Taiwan Aerospace Corp.

McDonnell Douglas, a distant third in the world's commercial airplane manufacturing business, hopes its new financial partner will allow the cash-short company to build its new jumbo jet, the MD-12. McDonnell has said it cannot afford the estimated $4 billion it will take to develop the aircraft.

McDonnell Douglas said it will retain majority interest and management control of the new company and will keep its commercial aircraft business separate from its U.S. defense-related programs to ensure that U.S. military technology is preserved.

The long-rumored deal has aroused criticism in the United States, where some lawmakers have said it threatens one of the few remaining dominant export technologies.

The defense contractor said it hopes to complete the deal by Jan. 31. Any final agreement will be subject to government approvals in the United States and Taiwan.

Oil execs criticize environmental rules

HOUSTON (AP) — Consumers will pick up the $23 billion annual tab for new federal environmental requirements by paying an estimated 15 to 20 cents more per gallon of gasoline by the end of the decade, a top oil industry executive has predicted.

A study by the American Petroleum Institute, which wound up its annual meeting Tuesday in Houston, determined that oil industry annual costs would rise $15 billion to $23 billion because of the requirements.

The study cited 19 new regulations that govern air emissions, waste, water pollution and storage tanks through the year 2015. One regulation that requires double-hull tankers would cost $4 billion in capital expenditures alone, the institute estimated.

The study found another 21 new and potential federal requirements for which little or no cost information is available.

Consumers will pick up the tab or petroleum industry plants will flee overseas, oil executives warned.

"We want to emphasize this is not to complain about environmental improvements, the need for them or the benefit that may be derived when taking steps in that direction," Texaco Inc. Chairman Alfred DeCrane said.

"I think it also is important to recognize the public; the taxpayer is the eventual payer. That is where the money comes into any business."

Kenneth Riley, vice president of business management and new ventures for ARCO Products Co., estimated the new environmental regulations to take effect later in the decade would add 15 to 20 cents to a gallon of gasoline.

"There's no question in our view that the costs can't possibly be thought of as coming out of some kind of infamous oil company profits," said Riley, who put his company's profits at 2 to 3 cents per gallon. "That's not even conceivable. The costs will in fact be born by all of us. Every American is a consumer in some way of petroleum products."

Michael Canes, chief economist for the API, said it would be difficult for U.S. companies to compete if they are required to make extensive changes.

"It could mean that over the longer term, some facilities will be moved offshore. And that will have implications for the American business scene as well," Canes said.

DeCrane singled out 1990 Clean Air Act Amendments for criticism, saying some of the provisions were enacted by Congress even before studies of environmental problems were complete.

"Congress, without benefit of the results of that study, formulated a fuel that is to be in the marketplace by 1995," he said.

"What was overlooked in the analysis was that already the 1992 automobiles in the showrooms eliminate 97 percent of exhaust emissions. What is already programmed to be on 1995 automobiles will reduce that minor emission by another 50 percent."

"Yet another fuel formulation by Congress will be in place which will cost the public a significant amount and a second further modification of fuel later in this decade is also mandated by that act," DeCrane said.

DeCrane said 50 percent of air pollution from cars comes from 10 percent of the old vehicles still on the road. The problem, he said, could be remedied by stiffer inspections and adhering to maintenance standards, rather than billions of dollars spent by the oil industry to develop new fuels.

"We're not here in any possible way to suggest that because the cost is high, it would somehow be better to sacrifice the environment and have dirty air," Riley said. "For the most part, we do not disagree with environmental standards. We do, however, disagree in many cases with the overly specific and detailed and bureaucratic and over-direction by the regulatory agencies."
