These animals are being sold because the Government has no further use for them and not because they are worn out. A great number of excellent animals will be found among this lot and doubtless can be purchased at a reasonable figure. These animals all passed Government Inspection when purchased, have had very little if any service and have been at these Camps since first purchased. A good halter will be given with each animal. The terms of sale are either currency, certified or cashier's check.

It is the duty of every patriotic citizen to assist the Government in disposing of its surplus supplies to the best financial advantage. Therefore, as such citizen you are requested to give this sale as much publicity as is within your power. If your local paper will publish a news item to advise its readers of these sales, it will be doing a patriotic act that will be of great help to the Government.

HALE COUNTY TURNS DOWN AGRICULTURAL AGENT PLAN

The commissioners' court, which is now in session, has voted unanimously against further appropriations from the county treasury for the support of the agricultural demonstration work in Hale county, and also turned down a proposition to help in the support of a woman canning demonstrator. The members feel that the farmers of the county are not appreciative of the work of demonstrators, and that they do not desire their service.

Mr. R. R. Hand from Kansas has been county agricultural agent here since in January a year ago. The federal government, as a war proposition has paid his salary of $1,800 a year, and the county has paid $300. The war appropriation will cease July 1st, and John R. Edmondson from the A. & M. College at College Station, was before the court urging that the work here be continued. He made the proposition to continue the agent here until July 1st under the present agreement if the court will agree to pay $1,000 toward a county agent's salary the coming year, and it was this proposition that the court turned down. —Plainview News.

$16,000,000 FOR TEXAS WHEAT FARMERS

Here is a story of real interest in any community where wheat is sown. Government figures show that there was planted in Texas in the fall of 1918, 2,109,000 acres of winter wheat. The condition of the crop December, 1918 was 100 per cent. It follows then that on a conservative basis of ten bushels to the acre over twenty-one million bushels of this wheat will be placed on the market. Today's price of wheat is around $1.50 and the price is unlikely to rise. With a government guarantee of an average of $2.25 per bushel, it follows that the farmers of Texas are likely to receive a bonus of nearly sixteen million dollars over and above the current market price when this wheat is ready. The government which has singled out the wheat grower for special treatment and made a present to him of this kind has every right to expect that a very large proportion of this gift will be reinvested in Bonds of the Victory Loan.

OFFICIALS TO DESTROY $15,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 14.—Liquor valued at $15,000 will be poured into the Dallas sewers by United States marshals within the next few days. The liquor, hundreds of quarts of it, has been confiscated by department of justice agents, according to United States Marshal J. A. Baggett who will have charge of the operation.

ROAD MONEY WASTED

The Altus News, the oldest paper published in Altus, last week showed there has been something like $500,000 spent for roads and it has practically been wasted as the county has no roads fit to travel. It advocates using the money paid to the road fund in the future to hard surfaced roads and gradually build them all over the county so that when a dollar is spent the county will get a dollar's worth of service.—Grandfield (Okla.) Enterprise.

MUTUAL OIL COMPANY!

$25,000 CAPITAL, SHARES $50 PAR VALUE. Now is the time to buy while you can get them

Think of being able to buy an interest in a Company with 20 acres of holdings in approximately 2,700 feet of the famous Watkins Well,—the well, which at 675 feet is producing steadily about 200 barrels per day of the highest grade oil this side of the Pennsylvania Fields. Two other wells in this field closer than the Watkins Well are also reported in now, one of which is within about 1,500 feet of us and said to be a better producer than the Watkins itself. We are almost positive we are going to get oil. Can you see how we are going to miss it?

Drilling Soon to Start

We expect to begin drilling just as soon as we are able to make a contract. Driller is now ready to sign up as soon as we are ready to give him the word, which we think will not be later than April 1st. Judging from the history of all the wells in the Burkburnett and Iowa Park Fields our stock will be worth from 1 1-2 to 5 to one on the share, and we will not be offering it to you at par after drill starts. The main point we want you to consider in buying our stock is that we have acreage for as many as ten or fifteen wells right up against producing property, capitalized at only $25,000, giving your shares every opportunity to be worth 10 to 1 after we begin to bring in production.

Men Behind the Company :

The men behind this company are honest, capable men, competent to handle this business properly and to the interest of all stockholders.

We expect to drill one well on our 20 acre tract, and thereafter, with the consent of a majority of the stockholders, to set aside ten per cent of the production from this well and each succeeding well for further drilling until we have completely developed the entire tract.

Drillers have confidence in our tract, so much so that a competent driller has offered to drill five wells for us on a fifty-fifty basis of production, but we were advised by men who know the field thoroughly that this was too big a price to pay to get our holdings developed.

After the first well comes in and we get everything in operation it is our plan to pay out the income every thirty days in dividends, and this plan will be followed, if sanctioned by the stockholders.

20 ACRES
15 WELLS

We can drill as many as 15 wells on this tract without crowding. The first well, which the promoters agree to drill, will not only put the company in position to drill these additional wells, but at the same time pay handsome dividends as we go along.

We have the possibility of deeper oil as well, under our tract. Several deep tests are being made in our vicinity, one going 3,500 feet within about one-half mile of our lease. Should one of these come in a gusher our holdings will tremendously increase in value without putting a drill bit in the ground.

We propose to give our stockholders competent, economical, careful management and a fair run for their money in every way, and on this basis we ask your subscription for as many shares as you are in position to handle.

Clerk County Court, Floyd County.

NEWS OF LOCKNEY

From The Beacon:
Last week a Mr. Jackson, an oil promoter, was here, and spent the entire week, getting leases on land in the east part of the county, on which to develop oil. Sixteen thousand acres was leased in the Sunset community, in the east part of the county and it is proposed to put down a test well at once. The lands are tied up we understand for 12 months, and the work is to be done within that length of time.

It is said there are out-croppings of oil on the edge of the caprock, and other indications pointing to a very rich oil field. There would be no way to estimate the value of an oil field in Floyd county. It would make things hum, and would place Lockney in the midst of great activity.

We may expect some important developments in the near future, which the Beacon will announce from time to time. We understand that the parties leasing the land proposes to put down a test well at their own expense.
No stock company is to be organized for this purpose, no bonus asked for the proposed development.

Stalcup Gin Destroyed by Fire
The Stalcup cotton gin was destroyed by fire this morning about two o'clock. Origin of the fire is unknown at this writing. The gin building, machinery and a great quantity of seed and cake was a total loss.

The plant belonged to the Quanah Cotton Oil Company. The amount of insurance, if any, is not learned.
The alarm was not given until the fire was well underway. It was not generally known until after day break.
Water was not gotten to the fire until after daylight, when a line of hose
was laid at the corner of the Lockney State Bank, and at this writing it is ought that some seed will possibly be saved.

FLU DEADLIER THAN WAR

Washington, February 13.—Spanish influenza has caused more deaths in this country during the last four months than America's losses by death in nineteen months of war. That was revealed by figures made public here yesterday showing the extent of the disease and its companion disease, pneumonia, in this country.

The figures, compiled by the Public Health Service, disclosed that in forty-six cities of this country alone there were 125,562 deaths from September to January. These figures do not take into consideration any of the army camps or rural sections of the country or any of the small towns or cities. It is estimated that a complete census of the influenza's work in the United States would disclose between 250,000
and 300,000 deaths in the September-January period.

New York led the cities in which a census of deaths was taken, with a total of 27,362. In point of percentage San Francisco suffered most, having 28.8 deaths per 1,000 of population.

AN OKLA. PROPHETS SAYS:

From about February 5th to about March 5th storm forces have a tendency to increase in energy seven to nine hours past mid-day and seven to nine hours past mid-night. The nearer to February 20 the more pronounced is the tendency, making allowances for the difference between mid-winter and early spring the almost continuous warm weather we have had since about January 6th is similar to the summer weather we had during the last week of March 1907, that was followed by winter weather in April and May. The shin oak acorns failed that year. The only time in the history of Western Oklahoma. It is absolutely certain that the warm
we are now having (Feb.2) will be followed by a sharp reaction. We will have some real winter weather in March and probably in February. In my December forecast I said that the winter of 1918-19 would be the stormiest since the winter of 1911-12, and I still think so.—Alva Pressnell, in Arnet (Okla.) Capital.

JONES WANTS SOLDIERS' DISCHARGE PLEAS REVIEWED

Washington, Feb. 16.—The House of Representatives Saturday accepted
an amendment to the Military Appropriation Bill proposed by Representative Jones of Texas, which required that whenever an enlisted man makes application for discharge and his immediate officer refuses it, that officer must at once transmit to the Adjutant General of the Army all the papers in the case and his reasons in full for disapproving the application. Jones, who served as a private after declining a major's commission in the world war,
said he knew of innumerable cases where officers disapproved applications for discharge without having any reason for such arbitrary action.

CAMPAIGN BEGUN TO REDUCE COTTON ACREAGE

Dallas, Texas, Feb. 12.—At the conference held in this city February 11, for the purpose of organizing a campaign to secure a reduction of the cotton acreage to be planted in Texas this year, of not less than 33 1-3 per cent of that planted in 1918, Judge W. F. Ramsey, of the Federal Reserve Bank, was selected as chairman of the campaign and W. C. Barrickman, secretary of the Texas Industrial Congress, was made secretary.

The chairman was authorized to appoint an executive committee, composed of one representative from each of the thirty-one state senatorial districts and an organization committee in each county, consisting of the chairman of the county council of defense, a banker and the county agricultural agent. Each county committee is to conduct a local cotton acreage reduction campaign and to secure signatures of individual farmers to the following pledge:

"I hereby pledge myself and those whom I represent, to reduce my cotton acreage for the year 1919 not less than 33 1-3 per cent, as compared with the amount planted in 1918, and I further pledge myself to use all of my influence to secure a like reduction by my neighbors."

February 22 was agreed upon as "Pledge Day" and Governor Hobby has been requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the state to assemble at the school house in every district for the purpose of signing this pledge.

The following resolution was also unanimously adopted:

"We ask the co-operation of the press of Texas, not only in giving wide publicity to the purpose of this campaign, but to signalize February 22, commemorating the life of the Father of this Country, as a fit day upon which Texas and her people shall pledge themselves to so care for their interests as will enable them to command the respect of the world."

DRAGGING TO IMPROVE ROADS MUST BE PERSISTENT

The main trouble about dragging roads is that we do not drag them enough. What's everybody's business is nobody's business. A rain comes and the road is cut up. We drag it and improve it wonderfully, and the community is enthusiastic over good roads. Another rain comes and we drag again, but this time we are not so eager. Another rain comes, and somebody says, "What's the use?" so the road is left to remain in chuck-holes and ditches. Probably we have no more rain for several weeks, and we bounce over roads that a day's work would have smoothed.

Persistent dragging will keep any ordinary road in good shape, provided the road has been put in good condition with grader to begin with. Dragging must be done after every rain, if good results are expected. The ground should be dry, but not so dry that it will tear up in clods. Continually dragging gradually elevates the center of the road, and keeps the surface smooth, so that the water runs off. Usually, two rounds with a drag is all that is necessary.

A home made drag that does just as good work as the steel drag can be made very easily. This drag is made box fashion, out of 2x12 plank. These plank are bolted together securely with long bolts, about 18 inches apart. The bottom is left open, but the top is boxed over with plank stout enough to bear the weight of two or three men. The front runner is faced with a piece of steel to protect the plank and cut the dirt smoothly. The driver rides on the drag, and can change its position as desired, by shifting its weight from one end to the other.—The Progressive Farmer.

THE EDUCATIONAL VALUE OF BIBLE STUDY

This subject, like many others of vital interest to us, is not new, but as we so often say, "old as the hills," or, to choose a figure more appropriate for our great Panhandle country, ancient as the prairies or the canyons. The literary value of Bible study—how seriously do we take it in our daily lives? So many feel that to perfect oneself in the use of the mother tongue it is necessary for one to go to college, and if this does not seem possible, he feels that opportunity has barred her door against him. Do you realize that, on the shelf in the dining room or on the table in the living room too seldom opened, is the means, not only to spiritual growth, but also to cultural development?

If one doubts this, let him turn to the pages of the great English writers. They are filled with references to the Bible—allusions to the Psalms or the parables, references to the experiences of the children of Israel, to David and Saul, and to the beautiful life of the Man of Galilee. Shakespeare is full of such references. Frederick Warde, in a lecture on our great dramatist, has told an interesting incident. A prisoner in a state prison, becoming interested in the study of Shakespeare, began to notice how frequently he used Biblical language. Denied the use of writing material, he devised the following scheme: He read every one of Shakespeare's plays and every time he found a reference he punched a pinhole in a scrap of newspaper. When he finished he had more than eight hundred pin-pricks. The example of Bunyan is too well known to need mention. What chance had a member of pots and pans at an education? But the twelve years of unjust imprisonment in Bedford jail were not lost, and those days devoted to the eager searching of the Scriptures bore fruit in the noble and stately prose of "Pilgrim's Progress."

The lack of knowledge of the Bible displayed by many students in college English classes would be amusing if it were not almost tragic. One bright student thought that the story of Jason and the golden fleece belonged somewhere in the Bible, though she couldn't give chapter and verse. Another hunted diligently in the Old Testament for the book of Hebrews, while still another sought in vain through Proverbs for the quotation "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb." What is the trouble? Are the Sunday School teachers to blame? No, I should say not, but rather the superficial way the Sunday School lesson is too often studied. All too often its preparation consists of a hurried perusal, after Saturday night's picture show, of the few verses making up the mere text of the lesson.

The only way really to know anything about the Bible is to read it every day—not in a hurried, disjointed bedtime, snatching up the Book at bedtime to appease an accusing conscience and sticking down a finger wherever the volume happens to fall open—but somewhere in the vivid, wide awake hours of the day and with at least as much regularity and interest as we give to the daily paper. In this way can parents not only improve themselves by daily contact with an acknowledged source of literary and cultural value, but also lead their children to a love of the pages that shall never lose their inspiration for the English speaking race.—Hallie D. Walker, Adjunct Professor of English.

FEEDING HOGS FOR HEALTH

Aside from the communicable diseases, the owner of live stock will find that his greatest losses can be traced to the diseases and conditions arising from some form of abuse of the stomachs and intestines of his animals as a result of rations, therefore, has a material influence upon the health of stock. Continued feeding of a ration having a deficiency or excess of any of the elements of food may result in serious digestive disturbances.

Mineral material or ash is needed in proper proportion if the animals are to continue to grow and remain in good health. The necessity of bulk in the ration is of more importance than most people imagine. In fact much of the trouble experienced in hog feeding has been caused by rations lacking proper bulk. Succulence is another feature which should not be lacking in the ration. Feeds containing excessive quantities of hard, dry, woody fiber, unless accompanied by some form of succulent forage, produce stomach and intestinal troubles. Moldy feeds frequently produce forage poisoning. Excessive quantities of

Some feeds, as for example cottonseed meal, prove to be very satisfactory and economical when fed in reasonable quantities to certain animals, but if larger quantities are fed may result in sickness or even death. Any sudden change in feeds, such as from dry to wet feed, or an abrupt introduction of fresh, green grain, tends to derange the digestion, produce colic and other stomach and intestinal disorders, particularly among horses. Stock is sometimes poisoned through access to piles of lime, paint cans or fresh paint on walls.

Texas Claims Pig Club Champion

Williamson County claims the national pig club champion, according to the local county agent. The name of the claimant is Elton Sartor, who started with a 68 pound, registered big type, Poland China sow pig, selected from a famous herd in Kansas. It cost $25. The first litter from this sow was 11 pigs which were sold, when they were 6 months and 4 days old and weighed 2,233 pounds, for $527.85. From the second litter of 12 pigs the boy sold 9, for which he received $225. Adding $500, the amount fed bill for the sow, and deducting the feed bill of $172, the gain was $1,052.85, which was the profit made in 15 months on an initial investment of $25. Four of Elton's fellow club members made a profit of over $500; eight, over $250; and eleven, over $100 out of one sow pig each in the past ear.

SOLDIERS, HOLD ON TO WAR RISK INSURANCE

Camp Travis, Texas, Feb. 18.—"Discharged soldiers: Keep up your war risk insurance," Captain Royall R. Watkins, of the Judge Advocate General's Department, United States Army, thus urges the men who have served their country in the great war. Captain Watkins addresses men up for discharge at Camp Travis, Texas on the subject of War Risk Insurance, and has prepared the following synopsis of his talk:

You should keep up your government insurance for several reasons, he says. The main ones are:

It is the best insurance ever written, because all of Uncle Sam's resources are behind it.

It is the cheapest insurance ever written and even when converted into any other form of policies you will be able to get it cheaper than you can elsewhere.

The present form of insurance may be converted at any time within the term of five years from the date the president issues the peace proclamation. In order to continue the government insurance, you must convert the present form into some other form of policy before or at the end of that five year period.

My advice to you is to wait until the time comes for you to convert the present form of insurance into another form (the issuance of the Peace proclamation,) then change it as soon as possible in order to get the benefit of your early age.

It will be necessary for you to pay your premium periodically, as you choose. You may pay by the month, by the quarter, six months or even a year in advance.

The War Risk Insurance Bureau has a lot of information to be given out to the discharged soldier about the government insurance and I suggest that you get all the information you can from the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C. Write at once.

A great many men have an idea that the government will turn its insurance business over to other insurance companies. This is a mistaken idea. The government is in the insurance business for the men who have been in the service and for them alone, and as long as you live you will have the privilege and be permitted to carry this insurance. Keep it up.

Allotments and Allowances

Your allotments with the government will cease the day you are discharged. Your dependents, however, will receive the government allowance for the month after your discharge. If you have any delayed allotments or allowance, ask the home service section of the American Red Cross to help you get it straightened out. If you want to write about it yourself, write to Washington, D. C.

Compensation
The compensation section of the War Risk Insurance law is an improvement upon the old pension laws. It is separate and distinct from the insurance section of the law and they must not be confused with each other.

The compensation law provides—among other things—"That any man who has a disability which can be traced back to an injury or an illness received while in the service and in line of duty and not brought about by his own wilful act or misconduct, shall receive compensation from the government."

The government also will give free medical and hospital treatment, etc., and try to restore the injured or sick man to health. In addition to that, if his earning capacity at his old occupation is destroyed or impaired and he desires to learn a new occupation, the government will teach him any other occupation he may choose and he will be sent to school free and his family cared for while he is learning a new trade.

My advice to you, if you have a disability or one should develop within a year after your discharge, and such a disability can be traced back to any illness, injury accident or exposure incurred while in the service in line of duty and not brought about by your own wilful misconduct, write to the bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C., and ask that a blank form for claim for compensation be sent you. This should be attended to at as early date as possible.

The compensation paid for disabilities is a very liberal one and is paid each month. For further information concerning the compensation law, write to the Claim Section of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C.

Come With Us to McCulloch County, BRADY, TEXAS The Shallow Oil Field of the Southwest

We have 25 acres right in the heart of LOHN VALLEY right close to the shallow wells. There are up to date 4 of these wells producing 15 to 30 barrels per day at 215 feet, testing 42 1-2 gravity,—the same oil that they get in the Iowa Park field.

We propose to drill two wells, guaranteeing to go 400 feet unless oil or gas is found in paying quantities. We agree to finish these wells complete with engines, 150 barrel tank, you pay no more. We are after oil not money. We will get money later and you will share with us. We are putting our capital where you will get good dividends. There will be no watered stock. We have figured this close. We will pay dividends out of the first well in. We will then take the proceeds of the second well and drill another well and so on till we think that we will get all the oil out of the 25 acres. We are between the shallow wells, being only 1 1-2 miles from them, on the same structure and the big gas and oil well that is 7 miles south of us. We have no wild cat stuff. All we have to do is dig.

Our capital is only $8,000, fully paid and non-assessable. Figure this for yourself what your dividends will be on 10 wells at 25 barrels per day for one month.

Our shares will be $10 each. We are putting these this way so the little man can have a chance with the big man. You can buy one or as many as you want, up to 100 shares.

There are also deep wells going down all around us and you will have a chance at the deep stuff. It will be proven soon. If we get a gusher on a deep test you have made a fortune.

Come and go with us, we are going after oil and then after money.

We Reserve the Right to return checks if oversold.

EIGHTY THOUSAND BOYS AND GIRLS ENROLLED IN PIG CLUBS

Under Direction of Competent Leaders, Interested Juvenile Members
Learn How to Raise Better Pigs and Produce Gains Economically.

American boys and girls were not slackers when it came to answering the Nation's call for an increased production of food. About 2,000,000 boys and girls were connected with the agriculture and home economics clubs last year. Of this number more than 80,000 were enrolled in pig clubs, organized and conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural Colleges. Of the number who completed the year's work and made reports, 71 per cent raised pure bred pigs. Their records show that they know how to put fat on porkers, for more than 12,000 pigs belonging to these juvenile club members

Clubs Help Young and Old
The men and women who organize boys' and girls' clubs strive to interest and train the youth of the country in better methods of agriculture and better home-making. The developing generation is given an incentive and a spirit that in many cases have not only spurred them to high endeavor but have caused their elders to made an average gain of 1.14 pounds weight, which is considerably above results obtained on most farms. Under the supervision of 49 Department specialists, in addition to county agents and local club leaders, these boys and girls are learning the fundamentals of hog raising and are becoming interested in agriculture. They are taught all phases of the hog industry, and are making good in raising pigs and making economical gains. Many of the club members are teaching their fathers how rapid and economical gains can be made in raising pigs. The members of the two De Kalb County, Indiana, pig clubs, under the direction of the local county agent, have been able to almost double the results obtained by their fathers within the same length of time and feeding pigs of the same litter. The boys used self-feeders and the fathers did not; and the pigs which were allowed to select their own feed made gains of two pounds a day. The club members have proved beyond question the merits of the self-feeders, and hog raisers in the locality of many years' experience are beginning to copy the boys' methods. As a result of the club work, the county agent reports many fathers and sons are now planning to partnership and raise pure-

Find Self-Feeders Profitable

As a result of an increased pork production campaign carried on by county agents and farm bureaus in Maine, 745 self-feeders were built last year and 2,600 more hogs were raised in the state than during the previous year. Farmers who used self-feeders kept more hogs than they could otherwise, which suggested that the self-feeder be made the basis of a campaign for more pork. Building "bees," or demonstrations, were conducted and self-feeders were built with the help of the boys and their parents, and particular emphasis was placed on the advantage of using self-feeders in connection with pasturing hogs.

That boy and girl club members are making big records in fattening their animals is shown by a report of the work in Ames, Iowa. One Ames club boy made a gain of 2.39 pounds a day on his pig for a period of 123 days; another, 2.26 pounds a day, and 20 members succeeded in making an average daily gain of more than 2 pounds. Frank O. Reed, the pig club leader at Ames, says that this is the best record, from the standpoint of rate of gain, that the members have ever made. He also reports that some excellent gains and unusual profits were made in fattening beef, and that several members of the corn clubs produced over 100 bushels to the acre; one showing a yield of 135 bushels an acre, another 126 and another 124.

In Carroll county, Mississippi, where the Red Cross Pig Club was organized last year, in which boys and girls as well as older people were members, 600,000 pounds of pork were produced, and $10,000 from the sale of the animals were contributed to the Red Cross funds. The club had 3,000 members and shipped 30 cars of hogs to market. As a result of the work of this club, the people of the county have become enthusiastic over the possibilities of raising hogs. They are making a study of economical feeds; the use of tankage and self-feeders, and some of the members succeeded in producing as high as 118 pounds in gain on their hogs in a single month.

By no means must live stock production be allowed to lag. This is the best judgment of those who have studied the situation and who know that it is reasonable to look forward to the continuation of the European demand for meats after the close of the war. Boy and girl pig club members will play an important part in meeting this demand, for they are learning to raise better animals and produce gains economically, and many of them will be leaders in the industry of the future.

A LETTER FROM THE HEART OF YOUR FELLOW CITIZEN.

First, I want to thank my customers for your support in my business and your business. Second, have you ever stopped to think of my profit sharing plan with my customers? I am dividing my profits with my customers by giving them 25 cents per bushel on wheat above Government basis and 50 cents per 100 pounds on flour. Ask for coupon. Third, I don't claim to have the best flour in the world but I do claim and will back it up that I have as good flour as any in Town. Fourth, I want to ask everyone that has not tried my flour to give it a trial, since I quit making war flour.

Now this is to people who have hearts for forgiving mistakes. I know that I made some mistakes sometime ago in making war flour, but I hope to overcome that. One of my customers told me this week that he tried the second-sack on that mistake but since that he says it is the best flour he has ever used. Ask some of my customers about FLAVO FLOUR who are using it. This wheat is ground at home, milled at home and should be used at home.

Fifth, Now this mill is going to be just what we make out of it. In patronizing my mill you not only get the good flour, but you are helping build up a home industry, and keeping at home money which, if spent for foreign and inferior flour would be sent away from here never to return. Help us to keep the money at home. I guarantee FLAVO FLOUR to give satisfaction. If you are not pleased I am not. You are the judge, if not satisfied bring it back. My motto is to live and let live.

Yours most sincerely,

DEPLORES CONTINUED WAVING OF CIVIL WAR RED SHIRT

In a recent issue of Capper's Weekly appeared the following paragraph: "Capper's Weekly recently printed a paragraph noting that Major Wirtz, who starved Union soldiers to death at Andersonville prison, was a Prussian. John S. Wells, a member of Company K, 82nd Regiment, Indiana volunteers in the Civil War, writes from Harper, Kan., to Capper's Weekly that John H. Winder, a Confederate commissary general of prisoners, equaled Wirtz in barbarity. Winder could point to 3,081 new-made graves for the month and exultingly tell his hearers he was doing more for the Confederacy than 20 regiments. Mr. Wells goes on to say: 'Winder's lineage was in accordance with his character. His father was General William H. Winder, whose poltroonery at Bludensburg in 1814 gave Washington to the British and they buried the city. Winder, the son, was in command of federal prisoners at Libby prison and Bell Isle, and then was transferred to Andersonville, Ga. He obeyed the orders of Jeff Davis and Wirtz obeyed Winder.'" W. C. Fyffe, of Floydada, has written the following answer to this article, deploring the continued waving of the red shirt, in which he says:

To Capper's Weekly: Please allow me to offer this mild criticism. I am a life long Democrat. Born and reared in the sunny south where negro equality is not in the least tolerated. Have read Capper's Weekly six years and started in for three years more. I deny being afflicted with prejudice or narrowness. I like Arthur Capper. I believe him to be a true man if he is identified with the Republican party. Of course he has to say many things just in order to keep on good terms with his political party. I think more of Capper's weekly than any weekly paper I read. I think well of McNeal, and love to read after him, but can't see why he lets any obnoxious things get by him into the paper, unless it is because he, like Arthur, feels that he must do something to humor the G. O. P., or I might say to ease the mind of such fellows as John S. Wells. And right here comes in my kick. In Capper's Weekly of the 8th instant under caption "Two Civil War Huns" is reproduced a paragraph previously printed in the paper in regard to Major Wirtz who starved Union soldiers to death in Andersonville prison. You said he was a Prussian. Then follow what John S. Wells says that John H. Winder, a Confederate officer equaled Wirtz in barbarity. Wells made Winder and Wirtz out very bad men. Sure enough Prussians, all of which is admitted. But here's the sting. Wells says Winder obeyed the orders of Jeff Davis and Wirtz obeyed Winder. Now let John S. Wells have all the rope he wants, it is very plain what he will do with himself. It cannot be denied that Wells intended a dirty thrust at the south. If not why did he go to Andersonville, away over in Georgia, to show up Prussian brutality? Wells intelligence may be limited but he can't help but know that there was a dozen or more Prussians on the northern side in the Civil War to one in the Confederate army. Does John S. Wells think that all the men who suffered in Camp Douglas as prisoners of war are dead? Does he think there was no Prussian barbarity inflicted on prisoners there? I know space forbids, or I would tell a few things that happened in that awful prison. And I would ask John S. Wells did Prussians do the awful deeds? And whose orders were obeyed? Did John S. Wells ever hear of Sherman's infamous raid through Georgia to the sea? How homes were burned, all means of sustenance destroyed, women and helpless children left homeless without clothes, without food, without where to lay their heads? Was this the work of Prussianism and whose were the orders? I wonder if John S. Wells ever heard of the murder of General John Morgan, how he was shot as a prisoner and his body dragged up and down the muddy streets of the town. More Civil War Huns whose orders were obeyed. In East Tenn., near Calhoun lived Mrs. Macelrath and her daughter. She was wealthy. General Long was stationed at Calhoun. He with his wife had visited and dined with Mrs. McElreath and her daughter. The General framed an excuse to have the lady and her girls arrested and sent to Nashville to prison. The brave general then proceeded with wagons and men to break open the lady's house and moved her goods to Knoxville. Se the general and his wife thus got to be well fixed. Was this patriotic general a Civil War Hun? He must have been a Prussian. Under whose orders did he act? Jeff Davis, of course, did not give orders to General Long. Abe Lincoln! What did he do about it? Well, Mrs. McElreath escaped the prison at Nashville, boarded the train and went to Nashville to tell Honest Abe all about her troubles. I don't know all that was done to the Civil War Hun but I do know that he brought the goods and placed them as near as possible in the shape he found them, and Mrs. McElreath got to tell him what she thought of him. Well I could tell of thousands of Civil War Huns and never go to Andersonville, Georgia, to find them. But I think this is enough to satisfy John S. Wells that he is not the only man that got through the Civil War and still lives to tell about it. I am sure that he did not have to go away down to Georgia to find a Civil War Hun Really since he has come to think about it he wishes he had picked up a Civil War Hun closer home. And I imagine since John S. Wells has thought this matter over, looked into himself and seen the narrowness there that he is actually ashamed that he ever mentioned the matter at all. Especially is he ashamed that he made the dirty little fling towards the south. Some men are naturally narrow and can't help it. We should not be hard on them. We should pity them. But they should not be allowed on account of their depravity to bring their narrowness into print for fair-minded people to read. Now let us bury the bad of the past and cherish the good. The best and ablest men make mistakes. Let's overlook their mistakes and remember them for the good that was in them. We know that Washington, Lincoln, Lee, Jackson, Roosevelt, and Wilson, the Greatest of them all were merely human. We know they all made mistakes but there was and is too much goodness and greatness in all of them for us to worry about any shortcoming we may find in any of them. Politicians, both Democrats and Republicans, have kept the people antagonistic too long already by waving the bloody shirt. Let the people force them to take it down. I would love to know in the not far distant, Arthur Capper would be president of the United States. It is bad that conditions are such that men such as Woodrow Wilson and Arthur Capper have to be placed in a political party, such men are bound to appear different to what they really are in order to satisfy their political bosses.

W. C. FYFFE.

While unloading a car of potatoes at Wellington Tuesday, some men found a sixteen year old boy in the ice compartment of the refrigerator car. When taken from the car, the youth was more dead than alive. His story was that on four or five days before he had given a brakeman at Fort Worth a dollar to lock him in the car, with the understanding that he would be let out at Wichita Falls. He had been in the car all of the time without food or water. He said that his home was at Commerce, Texas. Medical attention was given the boy and his parents notified.—Hall County Herald.
