Floyd County's Quota Will Be 93 Men

GOVERNMENT ESTIMATE OF TWO-THIRDS OF ONE PER CENT IS INCREASED

In a special wire to the Hesperian from The Fort Worth Star-Telegram, dated at 3:15 yesterday afternoon, the information is contained that State Adjutant General Hutchings has announced Floyd County's quota for the first draft army as ninety-three men. "This is an increase of twenty-seven men over the estimate made Wednesday of last week by Provost Marshal General Crowder, who stated that two thirds of one per cent of the population of each county would be taken as a basis for the number of men called, taking the census bureau's estimate of the 1917 population. For Floyd County this meant 66 men. The increase lacks only six men of being one-third over the first estimate.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC CUT TO AID WAR TRANSPORTATION

NEW YORK, July 17.—Passenger trains, representing 16,267,028 miles of train service a year have been eliminated by the railroads of the country to facilitate maximum transportation of freight for successful prosecution of the war, Fairfax Harrison, chairman of the railroads war board, Mr. Harrison pointed out, to save manpower, fuel and motive power to be applied to the transportation of necessities. Cutting off this volume of passenger service, he said, "would make available for other purposes over 1,120,000 tons of coal."

The Southern Railway has cut out 1,900,000 passenger train miles and will save 97,282 tons of coal.

R. T. Miller Died Tuesday While Visiting Brother

PIONEER OF FLOYD COUNTY SUCCUMBS TO CHOLERA MORBUS ATTACK—BURIAL TO-DAY

R. T. Miller, pioneer citizen of Floyd County, 70 years of age, died Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at Claude, Texas, at the home of his brother, W. E. Miller, after an illness of less than two days.

The remains were shipped home, reaching this place Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock where they remained in state until this morning at ten o'clock when the funeral services were held at the family home in northeast Floydada, conducted by Rev. W. M. Lane, pastor of the Methodist Church, interment in the Floydada Cemetery following. Pall bearers were composed of members of Mr. Miller's class in Sunday school.

Mr. Miller's death was directly due to cholera morbus, though he had been failing in health for more than six months. Physicians in Claude and a brother, Dr. J. P. Miller, of Cheyenne, Oklahoma, attended him but were unable to prevent death.

Mr. Miller was 70 years of age on July 16th. He has been a life-long member of the Methodist church, having joined that church in early life. He was a native of North Carolina, born at Hot Springs, in 1847.

He had gone to Claude, in company with other members of the family, to attend the wedding of his son, Olin, on Sunday evening, at 8:30. He became ill shortly before the ceremonial hour and was unable to attend, steadily growing worse till the end.

Mr. Miller moved to Floyd County in 1888, and was elected the first county clerk of the county upon its organization in 1890. He held this office for eight and a half years and was later county attorney. At the time of his death he was justice of the peace of this precinct.

He is survived by his wife, eight children, several grandchildren, three brothers and four sisters. Of the children, Mrs. W. A. Robbins, Mrs. S. P. Scott, Miss Sudie and Olin and Robert, were at his bedside when death came. The other children are: Mrs. W. A. Gound, of this city; Mrs. M. S. Green, of New Mexico, and Mrs. Morse, of South Dakota, only the last two mentioned being unable to attend the funeral services. Of his brothers and sisters, Dr. J. P. Miller, of Cheyenne, Oklahoma, W. E. Miller, of Claude, and Rev. J. G. Miller, of Stamford, Texas, are here today and attended the funeral services of their brother. Dr. Miller is accompanied by his wife, and Rev. Miller by his wife, and daughter, Lois. The sisters, Mrs. J. H. Keith, of Cleburne, Mrs. W. M. Armstrong, of Brown County; Mrs. J. H. Dorch of Keen, Texas, and Mrs. W. C. Dysart, of Melissa, Texas, were unable to reach this point in time for the funeral.

O. S. MILLER MARRIED AT HUGHLLIT SUNDAY EVENING

Olin S. Miller, of this city, was married at Hughllit, Tex., near Claude, on last Sunday evening at 8:30 to Miss Nora Duke, the wedding ceremony being held at the bride's home.

He was accompanied to that place for the wedding by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Robbins, W. A. Gound, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Scott, Miss Sudie and Robert Miller.

The bridal party was to have returned home Tuesday afternoon, and bride and groom were to have been the honor guests at a party of the family and immediate friends on Tuesday evening, when a big spread had been arranged. The sudden sickness and death of Mr. Olin's father caused these plans to be abandoned and they did not reach home until Wednesday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Olin S. Miller returning with their mother by train on which was the body of the deceased father, while the remainder of the party came through by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were to have left after a very brief stay here, for Durham County, North Carolina, where he is to take a place in the faculty of the Farm Life School of the county as principal, but their departure will be delayed by the death of his father.

David Besse, of Vernon, was here last midweek looking after his wheat farming terest southwest of town.

After the games we were taken into the house where we were treated to some good music and refreshments of peanuts, candy, wafers, lemonade and ice cream in cones. The past ten days has seen a most brilliant improvement in condition of crops in almost every section of the county, including both feed and cotton crops.

HOW DOES HE STAND AT THE BANK?

How often is this question asked, not only of the small, but the big business man?

If you have a small account at the bank mind to increase it. You cannot tell when you may need extra cash to extend your business. If you are right at the bank you not only have the cash at hand, but the bank will help you with a loan. A community is judged by the number and the standing of its banks. Successful merchants make successful banks. And successful banks help to make successful merchants.

SELECTIVE ARMY HAS BEEN DRAWN AT WASHINGTON

Order for Liability for Service Established by Historic Lottery.

258 FIRST NUMBER OUT

Secretary Baker Takes Out Initial Number—Drawing Continues All Day Friday and Throughout Night.

Long List of Numbers Given in Order as Drawn, From Which Those Who Will Be Called to Serve in First Army Will Be Selected.

Washington, July 21.—The drawing for the big United States army was not completed until early Saturday morning. The drawing began at 9:45 Friday morning, and continued throughout the day and night. Altogether 10,500 numbers were drawn from the big fish bowl. It was officially stated that the first 1,000 numbers drawn represented more than 1,000,000 men, and it is not considered probable that men representing any number drawn after the first 2,000 will be called before any exemption board for the first army. The first eight numbers were drawn respectively by Secretary of War Baker, Senator Chamberlain of the senate military committee, Congressman Dent of the house military committee, Senator Warren and Representative Kahn, ranking minority members of the senate and house military committees; Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, acting chief of staff of the army; Maj. Gen. Enoch Crowder, provost marshal of the army; and Major General McCaughan, adjutant general of the army. After the first eight numbers had been drawn the regular tellers took hold, and worked through until the long task was completed.

In only a small number of the largest districts will the numbers above a few thousand affect registrants. Of the 4,557 registration districts throughout the country the largest has something over 10,200 numbers, while the smallest has only about 185, and the average is about 3,000. As the drawing proceeded, 157 numbers were withdrawn before one low enough to affect the smallest district came out. It was 126, placing men numbered 126 on their local lists as 157 in order of liability.

The following list shows the number order in which they were drawn, first number in each case in which the second number was awfully. Four numbers in a line, beginning with the first number, which was drawn by Secretary Baker.

"The day has come to conquer or submit. If the forces of autocracy can divide us they will overcome us; if we stand together victory is certain and the liberty which victory will secure. We can afford then to be generous, but we cannot afford then or now to be weak."—President Wilson in an address to the Russian commission.

Flomot, in the extreme eastern edge of the county, was the hardest hit in the selective drawing in Floyd County. The first one hundred and fifty numbers include eight held by Flomot men. There are twenty-five registered in that precinct.

We must realize that the business we are entering,—the business of war,—is the most serious that has ever been undertaken by the American people. We can but face the future with a smile for that is the nature of our breed. But too much lightness, especially when the quaff is pointed at a prospective soldier who is to fight for humanity and the freedom of the nations, is not good. For instance, if you or I had been included on the list to be one of the first army, or if you or I had volunteered for army service we should consider it very rude, indeed, for a man who does not want to volunteer and is not drawn as a fighting man, to point his jibes our way. These fiends do not mean to hurt, but they do, however thoughtlessly. To realize this it would only be necessary to put the shoe on the other foot and turn the jibes the other way. If you are drawn you feel your lucky star uppermost and laugh about it. The other fellow is not entitled to any kind of feeling about it, now that the thing has come to a show-down, except appreciation.

HOW TO FIND YOURSELF IN THE DRAFT LIST

Your number appears somewhere in the Selective Draft List in this issue of The Hesperian. It was impossible to give each name and number without the probability of several errors, and the numbers are given.

Taken for granted that you know your serial number and the number of registrants in the county in which you live (in Floyd County the number registered is 924) it is only necessary that you count down from the beginning of the list (eliminating all numbers higher than the number of registrants in your county) to the number which represents yourself. This will be the order in which you will be called before the local board for examination. For instance, if your number is 258 your name appears first on the list and will be the first to be called before the board for examination. If your number be 600 and you reside in Floyd County, by checking off all the numbers higher than 924 and counting the remainder down to 600, you will find yourself to be the 23rd man to be called before the local board.

There is no need for any registrant to feel panicky about being fined or imprisoned for failure to appear before the board, providing you are trying to deal fair with the board. However, each registrant must realize that the burden is on the individual and that the board is not responsible if you fail to get the notice which the regulations provide to be mailed to you. Your name will be bulletined as having been called for examination on a specified day.

The board has a minutely specified duty to perform and each step they take is to be governed by regulations which they cannot alter, so that if you have any excuses to make be sure that they are justifiable and that any representations you may make can be substantiated by proofs of an undeniable relack of normal understanding is to be a sufficient cause for the rejection of a registrant. If that be true, if all the fellows you have called crazy within the past year are turned down, there won't be anybody drafted but yourself and two or three other fellows that you can't think of now.

SILVER FROM TEXAS MINES

The United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, reports that the Presidio silver mine, in Texas, was in continuous operation during the first six months of 1917, that mining was also carried on during that period in the Van Horn and Sierra Blanca districts, and that several shipments of copper ore were made from deposits in the "Red Beds" of Foard and Knox counties. The result was a small output of copper, lead, and zinc but a production of silver for the six months of fully 340,000 ounces.

STATE TAX RATE

WILL BE THE LIMIT

Heavy Expenditures for Departments and New Institutions Requires Big Fund.

It will not be necessary for the State Automatic Tax Board to face the issue of whether or not the University of Texas appropriation is in fact vetoed, because that board will have to levy the maximum rate permitted by the Constitution, regardless of that appropriation, was the opinion expressed yesterday by H. B. Terrell of Austin, State Comptroller. Mr. Terrell said it is practically certain that enough money will not be forthcoming, even with the application of the maximum tax rate of 35c, in view of the enormous appropriations made by the Thirty-Fifth Legislature, hence it will scarcely be necessary to take the University appropriation into consideration, since the maximum rate will be necessary even if that appropriation is vetoed.

In answer to an inquiry as to whether or not he would follow the ruling of the Attorney General that the University appropriation was not vetoed, honoring or refusing to pay vouchers against that appropriation, Mr. Terrell made no direct answer.

"All I care to say on that point," he replied, "is that I hope the matter will be settled before it comes to my department."

Mr. Terrell, Governor Ferguson and State Treasurer Edwards, are the members of the State Automatic Tax Board. That board probably will meet on July 20, Mr. Terrell said, at which time the tax rate will be set, if possible. As forty-eight counties have not yet submitted estimates of their respective counties, it is probable that the board will not have sufficient data available on that date and may have to take a recess until several days later before actually fixing the rate, even though it is practically certain to reach the maximum of 35c on the $100.

May Run on Deficit

It may be estimated that the general revenue fund in the State Treasury would be close to $3,000,000 as a cash balance on Sept. 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year. Notwithstanding this balance, Mr. Terrell said, even the maximum tax rate permitted by the Constitution may not yield sufficient revenue to take care of the heavy appropriations, and that at the end of two years the Government may be running on a deficit basis. The Thirty-Fifth Legislature made appropriations aggregating close to $25,000,000. Mr. Terrell estimates that the total assessed valuation of the State this year will be $40,000,000 higher than two years ago. This increase, however, is not expected to take care of the still greater increase in appropriations made by the Legislature.

Mr. Terrell has urged all County Tax Assessors to send in immediately preliminary estimates of assessed valuations, in order that the board may be in position as early as possible to determine exactly what tax rates will be necessary to yield sufficient funds for general purposes and for the State's share of the support of the public schools.

On the State school tax rate will depend to a large extent the per capita apportionment of school funds by the State Board of Education as the State's contribution to each school district, common and independent, throughout the State. This tax rate has usually been 20c on the $100 valuation. The number of schoolastics will be in the neighborhood of 1,500,000 and the apportionment probably will be at about $6 for each child with in the scholastic age.—Dallas News.

ECONOMY IN USE OF GASOLINE URGED BY GOVERNMENT

"Joy Riding" Must be Taboo.—Uncle Sam Needs the Gas for War.

Washington, July 22.—A warning is issued by the committee on petroleum of the Council of National Defense that the people will have to economize in the use of gasoline if the country's war demands are to be met. While the committee does not declare there is a grave probability that the public will find itself reduced to gasoline rations and a very strict curtailment of pleasure riding brought about.

The crude oil production of the country is about 300,000,000 barrels per year, with the consumption fixed around 335,000,000 barrels. The storage of all grades on May 1 was less than 166,000,000 barrels. The rapid development of the automobile is responsible for these conditions. There were 400,000 motor machines in 1910. Today more than 4,000,000, consuming 40,000,000 barrels of gasoline annually.

Other uses of gasoline and oil are expanding upon an enormous scale. The committee calls attention to the demand for oil products being greater than the supply of crude oil, resulting in an increase in the price and in stimulating the drilling of new wells. The cost of drilling has become much greater and the successes not as encouraging as heretofore. The wells brought in are producing less. A. C. Belford, speaking for the committee, says:

Must Curtail Joy Riding

"If the Government is to have the necessary petroleum to successfully prosecute the war and supply all necessities growing out of the war, two steps will have to be taken.

"1. The public will have to economize in the use of gasoline. Sufficient gasoline should be available to provide for all normal uses of automobiles, but pleasure riding should be curtailed. People should look upon their automobiles as necessities, to be used only when needed. Not a gallon of gasoline should be used in the present except for some useful end.

"2. Every oil producer in the country should be encouraged, as a patriotic effort, to secure the utmost possible output of crude oil."

AIMING A BIG GUN

Today there is about as much difference between aiming a big gun and aiming a rifle as there is between sailing a superdreadnaught and sailing a steam yacht. It was not very long ago, however, that a gun was aimed similarly to a rifle in that the direction in which it was painted was obtained by sighting along its barrel.

But now things are not done that way. The gunners are often far out of sight of what they are shooting at, and the remarkable hits that they make are only explained by the use they make of careful scientific calculations.

To direct the fire of one of the bigger guns, for example, requires that no less than 15 complicated corrections be made, says Popular Science Monthly. Each correction requires an average of five adjustments, all of which must first be exactly figured out by those in command. The most important corrections which are made are for the influence of the resistance of the air, the influence of the earth's curvature and the attraction of gravity on the distance the bullet may be carried.

In place of the guesswork of previous times is the use of the most advanced developments in the fields of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

Georgians of Transcaucasia Trace Direct Descent to Noah.

"The News that a political party in Transcaucasian Georgia has started a movement for the autonomy of this district of Russia brings into the focus of world interest one of the most historic divisions of the great Slav empire," says a war geography bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society.

"There are perhaps 350,000 Georgians in the Caucasus region, comprising fully one-half the population. They are the great aristocrats of the country, and with every reason for their pride in ancestry. Some ethnologists hold that they are a more ancient race than the Egyptians, while their own legends declare that they are the descendants of Thargamos, great grand-son of Japheth, son of Noah. Other traditions trace their origin to the Egyptian soldiers of Seostrius, who are supposed to have reached this region and intermarried with the aborigines. Still another legend says that some of the crusaders, becoming lost in the mountain wilds, left their imprint upon the handsome Georgians of today.

"The Georgian women have been famous for centuries as the foremost beauties of the near-east, and the men are the greatest dandies in the world. The latter are tall and athletic, the natural slenderness of their waists much accentuated by the custom of wearing their belts so tight that the use of their legs is hampered, giving a peculiar, jerky character to their carriage. The women, as a rule, have large eyes, delicate complexions, small hands and abundant black hair, which is worn in braids down the back, and is usually veiled. The men, especially the lower classes, are much addicted to the fiery wines produced in the country, and it is said that the regular daily 'dram' allotted to each field laborer used to be a half-gallon of the intoxicating beverage.

"While thievery is almost unknown among the Georgians themselves, there are highwaymen in the mountain fastnesses who make it extremely unpleasant for unprotected travelers, inasmuch as the bandits have a habit not only of depriving their victims of their valuables, but of their clothes as well. And there are said to be numerous instances where parties of men and women traveling in coaches have been ordered at pistol's point to divest themselves of all raiment and been forced to make their way to the nearest village in Adamic garb.

"The home of the Georgians is a region of many tongues, the priests declaring that it was in this land that the Tower of Babel was begun. They speak of it as the Babylonian Steeple. Even in the days of the Roman Republic the language difficulties of the region were notorious, and Pliny, quoting Timosthenes, says that here 300 tongues spoken in Colchis, necessitating the employment of 130 interpreters by the Roman administrators.

"Just as England had a Golden Age under Elizabeth, Austria under Maria Theresa and Russia under Catherine the Great, the Georgians enjoyed their greatest culture and prosperity during the reign of a woman—Queen Thamar (1184-1212). This gifted sovereign married a Russian Prince and thus initiated the Muscovite country's interest in Georgian affairs, an interest which culminated in the last year of the eighteenth century when George XIII. resigned his throne in favor of Tsar Paul. Three years later (1802) Czar Alexander proclaimed Georgia a Russian province. Prior to this conclusion to Georgia's national existence, however, the country had been subdivided, and at one time as many as twenty-six Princelings were ruling simultaneously. Today the title of Prince is very common throughout the land, and this fact has given rise to jocular saying among the Russians that 'every man among the Georgians is a Prince.'

"For many years the Georgians seemed to be quite content under their new masters in St. Petersburg, and the elder Dumas testified to the fact that 'the Georgian is a light-hearted slave, gay even in servitude.' In more recent times, however, the people have manifested a certain restlessness, and the Georgian papers have been fostering old traditions and encouraging all movements to break away from Russian influences. This tendency has been quickened from time to time by the shortsighted policy of the Czar's representatives, who endeavored to suppress the natural exuberance of the people, as, for example, the Georgian's delight in singing while working in the fields. This particular restriction was soon abandoned, however, for it was discovered that with the imposition of silence upon the laborers all work lagged."

Curtis Westcoat spent Sunday with his parents in Plainview.

J. M. Pack and wife returned home last week from a visit of several weeks in Hunt County.

MEETING CONTINUES.

The Baptist Revival Meeting, in progress since Sunday of this week continues with decided interest manifested, as evidenced by the number of people in attendance at each service.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh Hall's Catarrh Cure. This positive cure, now known as medical fraternity, Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the mucous membranes of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assuring natural health.

It is in this that it differs from other cures. The iron and mercury cures are so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF ELECTION

(Special School Tax)
THE STATE OF TEXAS,
County of Floyd,

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that an election will be held on the 17th day of August, 1917, at W. J. Hoyles residence, in Common School District 32 of this County, as established by order of the County Board of this County of date 21st day of August, 1917, which is recorded in Book 1, pages 9 and 10, of the Minutes of said Board to determine whether or not a School Tax of and at the rate of 50 cents on the $100 valuation of taxable property in said District shall be levied for the purpose of supplementing the State School funds apportioned to said district.

All persons who are legally qualified voters of this State and of this County, and who are resident property taxpayers of said District, shall be entitled to vote at said election.

Said election was ordered by the County Judge of this County by order made the 23rd day of July, 1917, and this notice is given in pursuance of said order.

Dated this 23rd day of July, 1917.
J. A. GRIGSBY,
20-4tc Sheriff, Floyd County, Texas.

ALL REGISTRANTS MUST APPEAR FOR EXAMINATION

All Floyd County men selected for the draft when the serial numbers are drawn in Washington will have to undergo the physical examination for military service, whether or not they are exempt.

This information came from Provost Marshal General Crowder's office in Washington to the local board last week in a 200-page pamphlet.

Those who expect to claim exemption will then be allowed seven days in which to file notice with the local boards. Ten more days will be allowed them for obtaining and filing affidavits and proof.

Those found to be physically disqualified will be given certificates by the board showing their condition.

Those found to be physically qualified and who are not exempt will find their names posted at the headquarters of the district board and in The Hesperian. This will come on the eighth day following the drawing. Notice also will be sent by the boards to the address given on the registration cards.

Some Claims to District Boards

Those who expect to claim exemption on account of being engaged in industry needed by the government for furtherance of the war must not file these claims with the local boards. They go to the district appeal boards. Such claims must be sent to the district board on or before the fifth day after posting of the notices that a man has been selected and neither exempted nor discharged. Industrial claims include agriculture.

Claims of appeal from district board decisions must be filed ten days after posting names of those persons who must serve. To make such an appeal a man must get a copy of forms from the local boards and send notice to the district board at once.

The district board then allows five days for laying before it additional evidence.

The notice that one is selected for military service does not necessarily order one into service. The notice to report for duty will come when the government is ready.

Those who fail to appear when their names are posted are liable to arrest, trial and imprisonment.

General Crowder has prescribed forms for exemption to meet every phase of claims and these forms must be obtained from each local board. Heavy penalties, from a year's imprisonment to $10,000 fine and five years in prison will be imposed for filing false affidavits or conspiracy to make false entries.

Requirements for Affidavits

A minister in making his affidavit for exemption must give his age, church, when and where he was ordained and binds himself to report to the board in case he changes his vocation. Two heads of families also must file affidavits supporting the preacher's claims.

The affidavit for a married man with a family who claims exemption is exhaustive and strict. He gives his age, street address, serial number, wife's name, children's names and their street addresses; where, and when he was married, his income, and binds himself to report if at any time the conditions exempting him cease to exist. A wife also files an affidavit in behalf of her husband saying she is dependent upon him for support. Similar affidavits are prepared for those claiming exemption on the ground of having infirm parent or parents, brothers and sisters to care for, or orphaned children to provide for.

Married men claiming exemption must also take down from the wall or wherever they have hidden it their marriage certificate to show the exemption board. However, they will be allowed to produce a certified copy of it. If the certificate or copy can't be shown then affidavits from persons who witnessed the marriage must be given.

The widowed mother of a son supporting her must make affidavit as well as the son.

The following are the only grounds for exemption:

1. That you are an officer, legislative, executive or judicial of the United States, a state or territory or the District of Columbia.

2. That you are a regular or duly ordained minister of religion.

3. That you were on May 18, 1917, a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school.

4. That you are in the military or naval service of the United States.

5. That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or not.

6. That you are a resident alien who has not taken out first papers.

In addition to claims for exemption, claims for discharge may be made on any of the following grounds, which are the only grounds for discharge by a local board.

1. That you are a county or municipal officer.

2. That you are a customhouse clerk.

3. That you are employed by the United States in the transmission of mails.

4. That you are an artificer or workman employed in an armory, arsenal or navy yard of the United States.

5. That you are employed in the service of the United States (under certain conditions.) See paragraph (e) or section 20, regulations.

6. That you are a licensed pilot regularly employed in the pursuit of your vocation.

7. That you are a mariner actually employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States.

8. That you are a married man with a wife or child dependent on you for support.

9. That you have a widowed mother dependent on your labor for support.

10. That you have aged or infirm parents dependent upon your labor for support.

11. That you are the father of a motherless child under 16 dependent upon your labor for support.

12. That you are a brother of an orphan, child or children under 16 dependent on your labor for support.

13. That you are a member of any well-recognized religious sect or organization organized and existing May 18, 1917, and whose creed forbids its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said religious organizations.

Another person can file a claim in your behalf, but must use different forms in filing the claim.

LOST! LOST!!

My son, today give me thine heart While in thy tender youth, Before 'tis scarred with sins of life And hardened against the truth.

Today I think that I'm too young; Time's abundant yet—

Just wait till I go into the world And some of its pleasures get; When I have drunk its pleasures deep And revelled in sin for a time, I'll give my heart and all to Thee,

Perhaps in manhood's prime." The Lord in sorrow turns away, And awhile he's left alone;

In manhood's prime he knocks again

And says, "My blood will atone"

My spirit not always strives with man To turn from his evil way;

The Savior gently pleads again:

"Give thy heart to-day."

Tomorrow's sun may never rise,

The accepted time is today—

Court well the cost of a soul that's lost

"Great danger is in delay."

Go, Spirit, for I have no time

To commit to thee mine all;

Perhaps when life is almost spent.

On Thee I then will call."

He is bent with age, yet the Master said,

"Come now ere 'tis too late."

And he says, "O Lord, I have waited too long—

Lost is my awful fate."

SEA FOODS

East Texas Register (Carthage):

Whale meat retails in Seattle at ten cents per pound. It is claimed that it looks like, tastes like and is like beef. Perhaps the next slogan offered the public will be, "Eat a whale and save a cow."

State Press in Dallas News:

Whale meat can not possibly taste like beef. All marine foods reflect their origin, which is to say that all fish foods taste like fish. The frog, though certainly not a fish, tastes like fish because he spends a good deal of his time in swimming, or camping on the bank of a stream. People who have eaten snakes declare the taste is "fishy." Jonah, you know, is reputed to have said after his adventure that he liked to have starved to death inside, until the whale swallowed a swordfish. "The swordfish," he said, "was kind enough to open my oysters for me, but I got sick of the taste of fish food I would have died if I hadn't got a little fresh milk from a sea cow, which mistook me for her calf."

Will Insure Soldiers Benefit of DependentsIN EFFORT TO AVOID EVILS OF
PENSION SYSTEM WILL COMPENSATE FOR WAR
INJURIES

Following a conference in Washington with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, a committee of prominent insurance men have drawn up a plan for pensions or compensation for casualties in the war, which will be submitted to congress.

The details are to be worked out in co-operation with the secretary of the treasury and officials of the war, navy and commerce departments, as well as the Council of National Defense. It was said they will conform as closely as possible to the principle of the workmen's compensation law.

To give some idea to soldiers, their families and the public of what the government, aided by the insurance men, was trying to work out, the head of one of the large companies, who deprecated any idea of self advertisement and therefore did not wish to be quoted by name, outlined the basis on which the experts are working.

"The government," he said, "is interested in putting something through in this matter that will be a happy solution of a difficult problem. It decided to appoint a committee of actuaries, with the agreement that the insurance companies would help the government. It is not life insurance that is sought. It is casualty insurance or, better still, it is compensatory insurance."

"That Uncle Sam is a great big employer was the idea finally agreed on by the insurance and casualty chemists' down in Washington, and the proposed insurance will in effect be a death benefit for the dependents of those who succumb in action."

To Avoid Evils of Old System

"The government, you see, is very eager to do something to avoid pensioning as it has formerly existed, to avoid the evils of the old pension system. What it wants to work out is compensatory insurance."

"Of course the companies might have gone into a pool or a bureau, and the government would be sending out checks after proof, but the desire now is to simplify the whole matter."

"In short, it is proposed to put the pension plan on a workingman's compensation basis. Of course it is up to congress, but I think it will go right through without a hitch. Mr. McAdoo stated what was wanted on behalf of the president, and the companies are willing to lend to the government their expert service, their statistics, etc. They have very recent statistics from Canada, where a great deal of insurance is carried."

"The government and the representatives are in co-operation to develop the simplest possible plan, such as one as is being carried out by big business through the workmen's compensation.

"The workmen's compensation law interposes between the workmen and the hazards of labor. By this plan it is desired to interpose between the soldier and the hazards of war. The plan when finally worked out may be varied, according to the condition of the family of a soldier. It might be a matter of compensation by installments."

Will be a Tax on Whole People

"The principle of the workmen's compensation is being recognized by the United States in this war. The government says: We'll meet the necessary tax to compensate, and it will be a tax on the whole people. It will be just the same as if the problem arose in a bridge factory, a shoe factory or on a railroad. We'll tax ourselves. Here's a whole army going up against these hazards, and some must meet them."

"Such acceptance of this principle amounts to a social evolution. It would be a victory to have it accepted without debate, and with this compensation principle granted for this war. It will help volunteering, for the volunteers nearly all have dependents and the drafted have not. It simply shows what a great democracy does for itself in this emergency."

"Such a system would supplement a soldier's per diem. His dependents would get his compensatory damages. That is why the government wants the plan crystallized in advance. The plan will probably be uniform, with out regard to previous occupation."

LOCKNEY NEWS

Lockney Beacon:
Fire Loss

Last Saturday morning fire alarm was given and on responding it was learned that Floyd Barber's barn was on fire. The barn was completely destroyed. It was a large building, frame structure and covered with sheet iron. Some feed was consumed also by the flames. No other damage was done.

The building belonged to J. T. Levey, say, and was insured in the sum of $400. No insurance on contents.

Father Died

Word was received last Thursday night that Mr. J. J. Guest, father of our townsmen, Drs. J. L. and J. C. Guest, had died suddenly at his home at Haskell. Dr. J. L. and family were visiting at Childress and went from there, and Dr. J. C. and family leaving from here Friday morning to attend the funeral.

Mr. Guest was here in June, visiting his sons, and was in excellent health. He was taken suddenly ill, and died in a few hours. Apoplexy was the cause of his death. He was 63 years old, and had resided in Haskell for a number of years.

Messrs. Durham and Matthews of Amarillo were here last Saturday and closed a land deal in which Will Brewster and Tab Meriwether bought the old Ramsey place east of town, comprising more than six hundred acres. The terms are private, but we understand that they envied a considerable bunch of money. The new owners will put in a large crop of wheat this fall.

HIGH NOON DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Shipley entertained with a dinner at high noon last Sunday honoring Mrs. Worth Shipley of Clovis, who is visiting with relatives here.

Other guests were Judge and Mrs. J. B. Bartley, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shipley and Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Curry.

Mrs. Gerald T. Masie is in Austin, for which place she left Friday following an attack of appendicitis. It is probable that she will have an operation while in that city.

J. J. Ryals is home after a two month's stay at points in Oklahoma.

The entire construction of the plow, the permanent alignments, rigid connections, free running discs and convenient levers are assurance of easy work both for horses and driver.

For transportation or when going down hill, rear wheel can be locked by means of brake hook without stopping the team. This means both safety and convenience.

A ONE, TWO, THREE OR FOUR DISC PLOW

The frame is convertible into a one, two, three or four disc plow. To add one disc, buy one beam, one disc and one bearing with scraper and connecting rods. These parts are easily put on with a wrench—no other tool required.

DISCS AND DISC BEARINGS

Twenty-four inch discs made of high grade steel are regularly supplied. Twenty-six and twenty-eight inch discs may also be used and are furnished on special order.

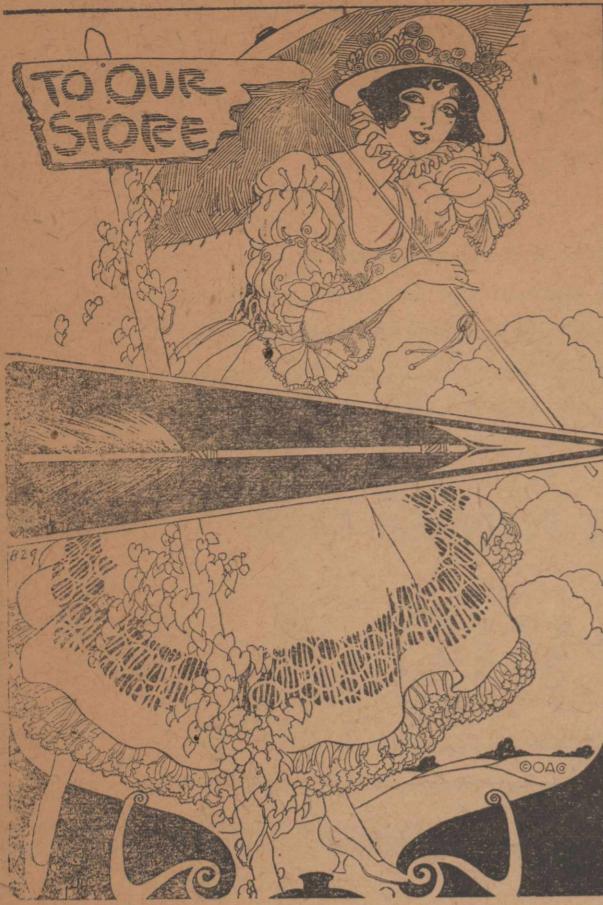

The discs are set at an angle to the furrow that will insure easy penetration, thorough pulverizing and light draft.

A double adjustment of the discs is provided on the John Deere Disc Plow. They may be adjusted up or down. This enables the operator to give them the proper penetrating angle for light or heavy soil or to meet other conditions.

FRICTION BEARINGS

Friction bearings are oil-tight and dust-proof. The hub and sleeve are full-chilled, and the sleeve is removable and reversible. The cap, which is bolted over the end of the sleeve, keeps out the dirt and retains the oil.

Bearings are fitted with hard oilers which insure long wear and easy running.

SOUND ADVICE

Sidney Smith's advice was to—

We hope he followed it himself. He said: "When you get up in the morning, make a vow to make that day a happy one for as many as you can." It's easy—a few kind words of sympathy or appreciation; a cast-off garment to a needy one; little more meat on the bone for Towser; keeping back the swift word that would hurt; a handful of fruit to the little ones—why, it's as easy to make folks happy as to fall off a round, smooth log!

As Sydney says, also: "If each day we send one person to bed happier than the day before, that is 365 people a year; we live forty years, it means that we have helped to make nearly 15,000 people happy! Let's do it.—Exchange.

FOR THE GIRLS

I wish to speak for a few moments with the young girls.

Dear Girl: You came as sunshine into the most heavenly place this side of heaven—the home. You are not an accident there; you are a home-maker or a home breaker.

Your father, called a strong man, may often wish, as you run out to meet him or play about him, that he was only half as strong as you, in your innocence and purity.

M. W. George, of San Angelo, Texas, has been here the past several days on a visit, the guest of Rev. W. J. McDaniel and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Herron, Misses Gentry and Overton, of Albany, Shackelford County, and Mrs. Barely, of Minoview, Colorado, stopped over with the family of R. Carter on their return home from a tour of California, Colorado and other states. Mr. Herron is brother-in-law to Mr. Carter's son who lives at Moran, Shackelford County.

Misses Sarah Little, Pearl White and Irma Wildering King attended a slumber party at Ralls last Thursday night.

B. W. Donaldson and wife, of Decatur, are here on a visit with W. H. Mason and family. They are Mrs. Mason's parents.

Hugh Adams and wife, and Miss Mattie Adams, Valley Mills, and Mrs. Martha Adams, of Meridian, are visiting here with Mrs. J. W. Adams and other relatives, having arrived Monday of this week. Hugh has been ill since reaching Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hood of Deport, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Rody of Milton, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Roberts of Deport, Texas are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maddox and family. Mr. and Mrs. Hood are father and mother of Mrs. Maddox and Mrs. Rody and Mrs. Roberts are sisters of Mrs. Maddox.

Mrs. S. Pelphrey, of Hillsboro, visited at the M. R. Pelphrey home last week, leaving Monday for Plainview and Abernathy to visit other relatives.

Lee Montague and family and I. C. Surginer, wife and son, left Wednesday for Colorado, which state they will tour by auto, spending several weeks on a vacation in the mountains.

The noblest thought my soul can claim,
The holiest word my tongue can frame,
Unworthy are to praise the name
More sacred than all other,
An infant when her love first came,
A man, I find it just the same;
Reverently I breathe her name,
The blessed name of "mother."—Ex.

"Better to be an hour too early than a minute too late."

Joe M. Warren, of Clarendon, sold the Clarendon News to Sam Braswell, of Venus, Johnson County, and Mr. Braswell has taken charge of the plant.

Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. Nuttall and daughter, Miss Mable, of Venus, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donaldson in Floydada since last week.
