Override effort by House fails

AUSTIN (AP) — Moments after the House failed to override the governor's veto of the Legislature's school finance reform plan, one lawmaker voiced the words many said they fear: "Here comes the judge."

The judge is a former Supreme Court justice, William Kilgarlin, the court-appointed special master who will write a school finance plan if lawmakers and Gov. Bill Clements fail to do so by Friday.

"I can see the 'Today' show in the year 2002 when they make the announcement that the Texas Legislature — House, Senate and governor — have all quit and the Supreme Court's named a master to run the state of Texas because they can't get anything done down there at all," said Rep. Mark Stiles, D-Beaumont.

After the House failed on a 92-55 vote Tuesday to override Clements' veto of the Legislature's $555 million school finance plan, it adjourned its current special session. Senate leaders said they would follow suit.

But lawmakers will be called back to try again, Clements promised.

Those who urged the House to override Clements' veto said they (see HOUSE, page 8)

Local student receives academy appointment

Sam Shifflett, son of David and Kay Shifflett of Snyder, received a certificate of appointment to attend the United States Air Force Academy during ceremonies at Snyder High School.

Major I.C. Gilbert of San Angelo presented the certificate, which represents the equivalent of a full four-year scholarship, estimated in value at $200,000. Shifflett will enter the academy, located just outside Colorado Springs, Colo., this summer. He will begin a seven-week basic cadet training program prior to the start of academics.

While a student at Snyder, Shifflett participated in UIL science events, band, student council, the National Honor Society and the Key Club, and will graduate as salutatorian of his class.

Competing against more than 16,000 of the nation's best high school students, Shifflett is one of about 1,400 selectees to the academy's class of 1994.

The Air Force Academy trains, motivates and prepares young men and women for leadership roles as U.S. Air Force officers. Graduates earn a bachelor of science degree in one or more of 25 academic majors. Upon graduation, Shifflett will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Unemployment up slightly County total rises from 4.8 to 5.3 percent

Unemployment in Scurry County rose slightly for April, according to the Texas Employment Commission's monthly figures.

Unemployment went from 4.8 percent in March to 5.3 percent in April, the commission reported.

The unemployment rate is figured by comparing the estimated civilian labor force and comparing it to employment totals. According to the TEC, Scurry County had a civilian labor force of 9,454 for April, of which 8,956 were employed. The difference, 498, represents 5.3 percent of the population which was not employed, but seeking employment.

Statewide, unemployment for the month was at 6.0 percent. Texans lagged below the national average, which was 5.2 percent for April.

Scurry County's unemployment rate has paralleled that of the state. The county witnessed 4.8 percent unemployment in January, 7.6 in February and 4.8

percent again in March before April's 5.3 mark. The state went from 5.8 percent in January, to 7.0 in February, down again to 5.7 in March, and now 6.0 in April.

"Since January, we have bounced up twice and dropped back down each time but the height of the bounce is dwindling and that is good," said Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers.

Unemployment rates for April in area counties were as follows:

—Andrews: 5.1 percent, based on 6,669 employed from a labor force of 7,029.

—Borden: 3.0 percent, based on 359 employed from a labor force of 370.

—Dawson: 7.8 percent, based on 6,033 employed from a labor force of 6,544.

—Fisher: 7.2 percent, based on 2,233 employed from a labor force of 2,406.

—Garza: 5.6 percent, based on 1,877 employed from a labor force of 1,988.

—Howard: 5.0 percent, based on 13,260 employed from a work force of 13,958.

—Kent: 1.9 percent, based on 580 employed from a work force of 591.

—Lubbock: 4.2 percent, based on 108,786 employed from a work force of 113,577.

—Mitchell: 6.5 percent, based on 3,380 employed from a work force of 3,616.

—Nolan: 7.6 percent, based on 7,063 employed from a work force of 7,646.

—Taylor: 5.5 percent, based on 48,655 employed from a work force of 51,468.

Farm and ranch...

Land may be eligible for property tax relief

Your agricultural land may be eligible for property tax relief, according to the Scurry County Appraisal District.

According to Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler, qualified farmers and ranchers can apply for a special, lower appraisal of their land, based on what it will produce rather than what it would sell for in the open market.

The basis for the special appraisal is found in the Texas Constitution, Peveler said. Article 8, Sec. 1-d-1 addresses what is often known as open-space land appraisal.

Landowners must file completed, signed applications for special appraisal at the appraisal district office. Those who must file this year include landowners whose property did not previously receive 1-d-1 appraisal.

Applications were mailed in January for those tracts where new applications were required. To be considered for the 1990 tax year, applications must be received prior to the Appraisal Review Board meeting in mid-July.

Late-filed 1-d-1 appraisal applications will be considered until the day before the 1990 appraisal records are approved, but will draw a penalty.

To qualify for 1-d-1 appraisal, the land must be used for agriculture, timber growth or as an ecological laboratory. This form of appraisal does not restrict ownership to individuals (see LAND, page 8)

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The only sure thing about luck is that it will change."

Our son left yesterday on a six-week trip that includes Hong Kong, Singapore, Thailand and the Philippines. It should be educational for the group of Aggies, especially one who believes roughing it is eating French fries without catsup.

We were reminded of a recent article about the village of Bama in China that is said to have a higher concentration of hundred-year-olds than any other place. Senior residents there are said to have clear minds and are in good physical condition. A person 90 is likely to have the blood pressure of someone half that age.

It's not unusual to find someone 89 still working in the fields planting and harvesting maize and rice. The folks live to a ripe age despite heavy drinking, chain smoking and over-eating. Still, they're not fat.

The residents espouse a diet rich in wild grass, snakes and lizards, as well as a bovine they call the Wild Yellow Cow of the Mountains. Bama's oldest inhabitant is 130. She cooks and does housework. She says she was born in 1860.

Researchers have visited the remote village trying to discover the secret of their longevity. The local government is trying to capitalize by marketing a wine called "The Spirit of Longevity." Its main ingredients are rice, red-spotted lizards, three kinds of poisonous snakes, a couple of unmentionables and a couple of wild grasses and herbs.

The director of the winery, who is 49, confides that he doesn't drink much of the wine because of his own pet theory about longevity. His grandmother is 95 and her secret is beans—which she eats daily.

Betcha' those Aggies are already looking for a tacostand.

Q—When is the Towle Park swimming pool going to open?

A—Preparation work on the pool has begun, and the county is shooting for Saturday, June 9.

In Brief

Body found

CLAYTON, Texas (AP) — Autopsies will be performed on the bodies of two game wardens found dead in an East Texas lake, although authorities believe the men were victims of accidental drowning.

The body of Bruce Hill was pulled from Lake Murvaul around 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. The body of 44-year-old Barry Decker of Henderson was found the night before. They were reported missing early Sunday after their boat was found adrift.

"Both are veteran officers and this is just one of those things that happened," Texas Parks and Wildlife Capt. Larry Willford said Tuesday.

Services set

IRAAN, Texas (AP) — The Iraan High School auditorium has been selected as the site of the funeral of a Pecos County Sheriff's Deputy killed in a head-on collision, because it is the largest building in town.

The service for Willie Ward Christian, who died Tuesday, will be held Friday at 10 a.m. He will be buried Friday afternoon.

"I'm sure the auditorium probably will be full," said Joan Box, whose husband Richard W. Box is handling funeral arrangements. "Everyone knew him. Iraan is a small town, and he had worked in several West Texas towns."

Tower surgery

DALLAS (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. John Tower has had his cancerous prostate removed during surgery at Dallas.

Tower, 64, underwent surgery Tuesday at Zale Lipshy University Hospital.

"I was just damned lucky," Tower told The Dallas Morning News. "I'll be out of here in a week, and I'll be back to normal again real soon," Tower said. "And one thing for sure — I'll never have prostate cancer again because they took my prostate out."

Tower has had a previous brush with cancer.

Baby abductor turns herself in

WAXAHACHIE, Texas (AP) — The 14-year-old mother of a baby abducted from a Waxahachie hospital last Friday says she can almost sympathize with the woman accused of taking the infant.

Kimberly Denise Deckard, 19, of Dallas turned herself and a small child in to Abilene authorities late Tuesday.

Authorities were conducting tests to positively determine the baby's identity.

A kidnapping warrant has been issued for Ms. Deckard and bond has been set at $50,000, said Waxahachie Police Chief Ted Garber. He said Waxahachie detectives also took a set of the baby's footprints to Abilene to help identify him.

Abilene police say Ms. Deckard told them she took the baby from the Baylor Medical Center in Waxahachie to try to compensate for the child she recently lost to a miscarriage.

Michelle Hughes said although she could understand Ms. Deckard's plight, she was still upset by the incident.

"I am a little bit mad for her taking her because that put me through a lot of pressure," she said.

The infant was being held at the Abilene Police Department, and appeared to be in good condition, according to Sgt. Garland Wade.

"We're just working for a positive identification because we'd hate to turn the baby over to the wrong people," Wade said. "But it looks like this is the baby taken from Waxahachie."

Authorities had been searching for Davian Jamal Hughes since he was abducted May 25.

Seeing it all coming

By James Jacoby

After North and South had bid their hands to the hilt, South was on the right track to making six hearts. He won the opening diamond lead, ruffed a diamond and then played a low spade from dummy. When East played the eight-spot, South reasoned that East did not hold the king. So declarer put in the nine, West winning the 10.

If West now tamely returns a trump, declarer will win in his hand and lead the queen of spades. It does West no good to cover (all the spades in dummy will then become good), and declarer will let the queen ride. A diamond ruff will now be followed by the ruff of a low spade. Declarer can then pick up trumps, get to dummy with the ace of clubs, and play the ace of spades and the good seven of spades, discarding losing clubs.

If West plays another diamond after winning the 10 of spades, declarer can ruff, draw trumps by overtaking dummy's jack of hearts, and then pass the queen of spades as before. (Remember, if West covers, dummy's 7-6-5 of spades will all be good.) After the queen of spades holds, declarer plays out all his trumps. Eventually West must unguard either the spade king or the club king, and the slam makes.

Brian Glubok, who sat West, saw all this coming, so he led the king of clubs after winning his spade 10, sacrificing a trick. But after taking the ace of clubs, declarer could not work out a way to make a later trick with the ace of spades and still ruff his other diamond loser, and the enterprising slam had to fail.

James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. © 1990, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Johnson loses job as Mets' manager

CINCINNATI (AP) — Communication proved to be a big problem for Davey Johnson until the very end.

After Johnson was dismissed as manager of the New York Mets on Tuesday, he headed for his Florida home to see his daughters graduate.

"I would have liked to have met with the ballplayers to say goodbye but they (management) didn't want me to stay around," Johnson said. "I knew this was coming since last year. It was just a matter of when. I have no regrets."

Davey shouldn't, either. He guided the Mets to the 1986 World Series championship and was one of the winningest managers in baseball history with a .588 winning percentage. But the Mets got the tag as underachievers the last two seasons, and, as usual, the manager was the one to go. "We wanted to give Davey every chance to turn it around. Unfortunately, he didn't. Things were the same," senior vice president Al Harazin said.

The Mets made third-base coach Bud Harrelson the new manager, but things didn't look too much different under Buddy Ball.

Two hours after the Mets announced Johnson's dismissal, Gregg Jefferies opened the game at Riverfront Stadium against Tom Browning with a grounder to third. One out later, Tim Teufel homered.

SPORTS

Ponies whip Brownwood

LUBBOCK — District 4-4A baseball champions, the Andrews Mustangs, pounded out four runs in the third inning Tuesday en route to posting an impressive 11-1 win over No. 8 Brownwood in the opener of a three-game regional semifinal playoff series here.

Brownwood hurler Mike Smith put Jamie Emiliano on first base with an intentional walk to get to sophomore Rene Barrientes who tripled to center field to start the rout.

Brent Leffingwell got credit for the win and Smith took the loss Tuesday night.

The series will resume Friday beginning at 6 p.m. at Abilene's Hunter Field with a third game being played immediately after Game 2 if necessary.

Andrews is now 23-6 on the season and the Lions boast a 24-6 mark.

The winner of the series will advance to next week's state tournament in Austin.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Blazers take 3-2 playoff lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Portland Trail Blazers aren't blazing any trails when it comes to playoff success.

They're using a tried and true formula: Get the homecourt advantage and protect it with your life.

The Trail Blazers, 1-5 on the road, remained unbeaten in nine playoff games at home on Tuesday night, pulling away in the final minute for a 120-114 victory over the Phoenix Suns.

Portland, leading the best-of-7 Western Conference finals 3-2, can earn its first trip to the NBA Finals in 13 years by winning Thursday night in Phoenix.

Clyde Drexler, whose jump shot has been missing in action throughout the playoffs, broke out of his slump with a 32-point, 10-rebound effort, including the go-ahead free throws with 34 seconds to play.

"This is a gutsy team that just plays well together," he said.

For the Suns, it was the third straight cliff-hanging loss in Portland in the best-of-7 series.

"We always have close games but we never seem to pull them out," Kevin Johnson said.

After a pair of one-sided wins in Phoenix, the Suns were full of confidence for Game 5. And they had a 106-101 lead with 6:23 to go.

"I really believed we were going to come in here and win the ball game, and perhaps we should have," Johnson said. "But we keep saying that over and over again. The home court's really doing a lot for them."

"No matter how they play on the road, they have the security blanket of coming home."

Phoenix coach Cotton Fitzsimons made it clear he's had enough of the Blazers' homecourt transformation from a team that looks overmatched in the playoffs to one on the threshold of contending for the NBA title.

"Portland has done everything it had to up here but I think it's time they stop hiding behind the umbrella of the homecourt advantage," he said.

But if the Suns win at home Thursday night, they'll play Game 7 Saturday in Portland, where Phoenix has lost 20 in a row.

"The crowd helps, but you've got to win on the court," Portland coach Rick Adelman said.

Drexler had been shooting just 40 percent from the field in the playoffs, but Adelman had a talk with him before Tuesday night's game.

Hydrogen leak forces launch postponement

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA said it will be late tonight before engineers can pinpoint two hydrogen leaks that forced cancellation of today's launch of Columbia and its $150 million observatory.

The planned 12:28 a.m. liftoff was scrubbed just six hours before launch after sensors detected rising levels of hydrogen gas in Columbia's engine compartment. The gas leak occurred while the shuttle's rocket propellant tank was being loaded with liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen.

NASA spokesman Bruce Buckingham said today that all of the propellant must be vented from Columbia's big external tank before workers can search for leaks in the maze of plumbing in the spacecraft's aft engine compartment.

Buckingham said that it will be late tonight or early Thursday before NASA engineers know for certain what repairs are needed.

Earlier, NASA spokeswoman Lisa Malone said it will be "at least several days" before another launch attempt.

Columbia's seven astronauts were in their quarters several miles from the launch pad Tuesday when the hydrogen leaks were discovered. They were to have boarded the space shuttle about two hours before launch.

Four of the astronauts left the Kennedy Space Center this morning to fly to their home base at the Johnson Space Center near Houston. The other three crewmen were to follow later today.

Although concentrated hydrogen is highly explosive, Malone said Columbia "was never in an unsafe position at any time."

NASA engineers spent hours opening and closing valves and watching a network of sensors before finding the leaks about midnight. One was from a 17-inch valve in a pipe that carries fuel from the tank to the engines; the other was in ground equipment, Malone said.

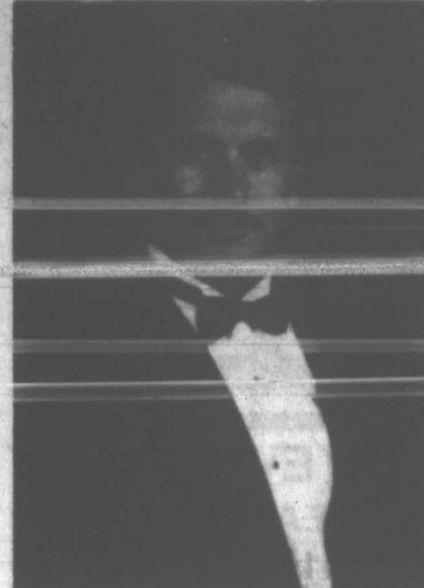

Shuttles have three main engines that burn a propellant of oxygen and hydrogen. The propellant, chilled to a liquid, is loaded into the external tank about five hours before launch. The tank actually contains two vessels, one for the oxygen and one for the hydrogen. The two elements are combined in the rocket engines, where they ignite and produce thrust.

About 5 percent of the liquid hydrogen — or nearly 20,000 gallons — had been pumped into the external tank when the scrub was announced, officials said. Less than 25 percent of the liquid oxygen — or 35,800 gallons — had been loaded.

Columbia is to be the first shuttle flight in five years devoted entirely to scientific research.

Its payload, an observatory called Astro, will study invisible radiation streaming from distant stars and galaxies. The crew will work an intense, around-the-clock schedule of observations during the nine-day mission.

Zalman will graduate from Tech in May of next year. He graduated from Snyder High School in 1987.

Two wrecks occur Tuesday

City police investigated two wrecks inside the city on Tuesday, one a major mishap at 37th St. and East Highway.

That accident occurred at 3:15 p.m. and involved a 1987 Oldsmobile driven by Raymond Beeks of Route 1, Hermleigh, and a 1988 Oldsmobile driven by Cynthia Esparza of Irving. Both vehicles had to be towed from the scene.

Esparza, 21, was transported to Cogdell Hospital by private vehicle where she was treated and released.

Another collision occurred at 11:46 a.m. in the 2400 Block of 40th St. It involved a 1987 Oldsmobile driven by Marie Mofett of 4513 El Paso and a 1990 Pontiac driven by Angela Burleson of 209 37th St. There were no injuries and damage was minor.

At 1:29 p.m. Glen Butler of Snyder reported that his vehicle had been struck by a large wooden cable spool that had fallen out of a pickup driven by Doug Smith. Butler said parties had reached an agreement on damages.

Police received a complaint of the theft of furniture from apartment 5 at 1905 Coleman. At 8:04 a.m. Tuesday, a woman came to the police station to report that a person had been enticing her daughter, and she was advised of steps to take to file charges.

Police were also called to a reported fight in the 2000 Block of Ave. N. Subjects had left the scene, but police made contact with persons involved and advised them of steps to take if charges are to be filed.

A billfold belonging to Melissa Trull of 2605 30th St. was found in the 2400 Block of 30th and turned in to the police station.

Typing class for beginners to start June 4

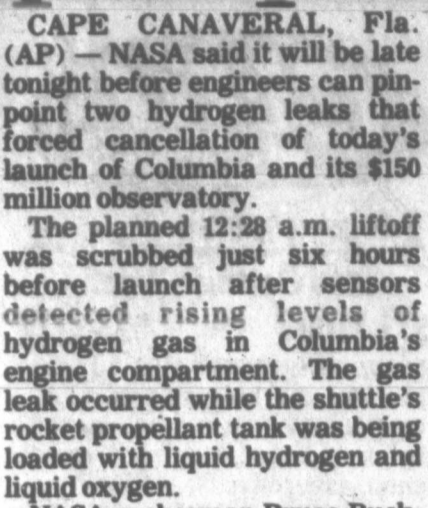

Beginning Typing (BUS 130) will be offered in summer classes starting June 4 at Western Texas College.

Classes will meet from 9:45-11:25 a.m. Monday through Thursday for six weeks. Lab times will be arranged with the instructor, Joann Snider.

This course is a good opportunity for high school students who will be seniors in the coming school year to prepare for college computer courses and other college courses calling for typing or keyboarding skills. Mrs. Snider said. These students can enroll under the Early Admission program for deferred college credit and will need permission from their high school principal and parents before enrolling.

Spring high school graduates who did not have to take typing could use this course to prepare for college as well, Mrs. Snider said.

Registration for summer school at WTC will be held Thursday.

Gorbachev arrives tonight for summit talks with Bush

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mikhail S. Gorbachev arrives tonight for summit talks with President Bush that may fail to produce trade and arms control accords, but the Soviet leader voiced optimism they will agree on terms for German unification.

As Gorbachev was winding up a brief visit to Canada before flying to his second Washington summit — the first was with Ronald Reagan in 1987 — Bush was spending his second consecutive day closeted with his advisers over summit negotiating strategy.

Before leaving Canada for three days of talks with Bush, the Soviet president acknowledged the emergence of a new domestic worry — the election of political maverick Boris N. Yeltsin as president of the Russian republic.

On the major international issue of a united Germany, however, Gorbachev was upbeat as he spoke to reporters Tuesday outside Prime Minister Brian Mulroney's residence in Ottawa. Gorbachev said he was confident that he and Bush will find a way to preserve the balance of power in Europe.

Asked if he was optimistic about agreement on Germany and its membership in NATO, the Soviet leader replied: "I am sure of that. And let that to the American people."

Administration officials worked on the final wording of a trade agreement which technically will be ready for signing, but it was unclear whether Bush will put it on the table in his meetings with Gorbachev, Thursday through Saturday.

Bush's reluctance stems from U.S. unhappiness over the Soviet Union's failure to enact free emigration legislation, and Gorbachev's economic crackdown on independence-minded Lithuania, officials said.

Arms control negotiators for the two countries, meanwhile, wrangled for more than two hours Tuesday over U.S. and Soviet conventional forces in Europe as well as their nuclear arsenals, including bombers and submarines.

Meeting in secrecy at the State Department, they made some progress toward reductions in both areas.

fear the results if the court master takes over.

They noted that in recent years the state has lost lawsuits and been placed under federal court supervision of prisons and mental health facilities.

"Do you want to let the courts run our schools?" asked Rep. Doyle Willis, D-Fort Worth, who called the override vote his most important in 35 years in the Legislature.

Last October, a 9-0 Texas Supreme Court ruled that the $13.5 billion-a-year school finance system was unconstitutional for discriminating against poor school districts.

The high court ordered that more money be made available to poor schools, and District Judge Scott McCown, who supervises the case, named Kilgarlin to write a finance plan if none is enacted by June 1.

"There are four great (state government) programs. You've got the highways, you've got the prisons, you've got the schools and you've got the hospitals," Willis said.

"The courts already have the prisons and the hospitals and if you don't vote to override this veto, they're going to have the schools ... There won't be anything left for us to do but dig a little caliche (gravel) for the highways," he said.

Clements — and the bill's legislative opponents — disagreed.

While Kilgarlin will propose the first draft of his reform blueprint on June 1, the Republican governor says he thinks the Legislature has until June 21 to act. That's the date Judge McCown is scheduled to receive the final version of Kilgarlin's plan.

and does not require agriculture to be the owner's primary business.

However, this form of appraisal requires that the land is used for a qualifying agricultural or timber purpose to the degree of intensity generally accepted in the area.

The chief appraiser, who is responsible for approving the application, must determine that the land has been devoted principally to a qualifying use for at least five of the preceding seven years.

"In addition, landowners need to be aware that the law provides specific penalties for taking qualified land out of agricultural or timber production," said Peveler.

A rollback tax can be triggered by changing the land's use to one that would not qualify for productivity appraisal. The additional taxes are levied for the five tax years preceding the year of the change.

The rollback tax is measured by the difference between taxes paid under productivity appraisal provisions and the taxes that would have been paid if the land had been put on the tax roll at market value, Peveler noted. The law also requires that an interest charge be levied.

Landowners also need to be aware that they must apply for productivity valuation with each appraisal district in which they have land. Failure to do so could result in taxing units assessing taxes on the land's full market value.

Additional information and application forms are available from the local appraisal district office. The staff will be able to assist landowners with the information necessary to determine if their property qualifies for the special appraisal.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

QUESTION: I get severe pain periodically from postoperative adhesions. Is there any type of medication I can take to help this condition? If not, is surgery the best solution?

DEAR READER: Surgery always results in scar tissue. In particular, abdominal surgery is associated with filmy but tough strands of scar that attach to the interior of the abdominal cavity. At times, these adhesions can press on portions of the bowel, causing partial or complete intestinal obstruction. In these circumstances, patients almost always require another operation to remove or sever the blocking strands.

Some people seem especially susceptible to postoperative bowel adhesions; the reason for this is not known. To my knowledge, there is no consistently effective medication to prevent adhesions, although some surgeons have tried cortisone, with inconsistent results.

The problem with re-operation is, of course, that new adhesions may form, perpetuating the cycle.

If you have periodic pain in the same area of your abdomen and your surgeon is convinced that your symptoms are due to adhesions, you may be helped by laparoscopy, during which the surgeon introduces a lighted tube through a small abdominal incision, identifies the adhesions and clips them. This might solve the problem and save you a more extensive operation.

In any case, you can obtain the most appropriate advice from your surgeon, who is most familiar with you and your health problems. Let me know what he says.

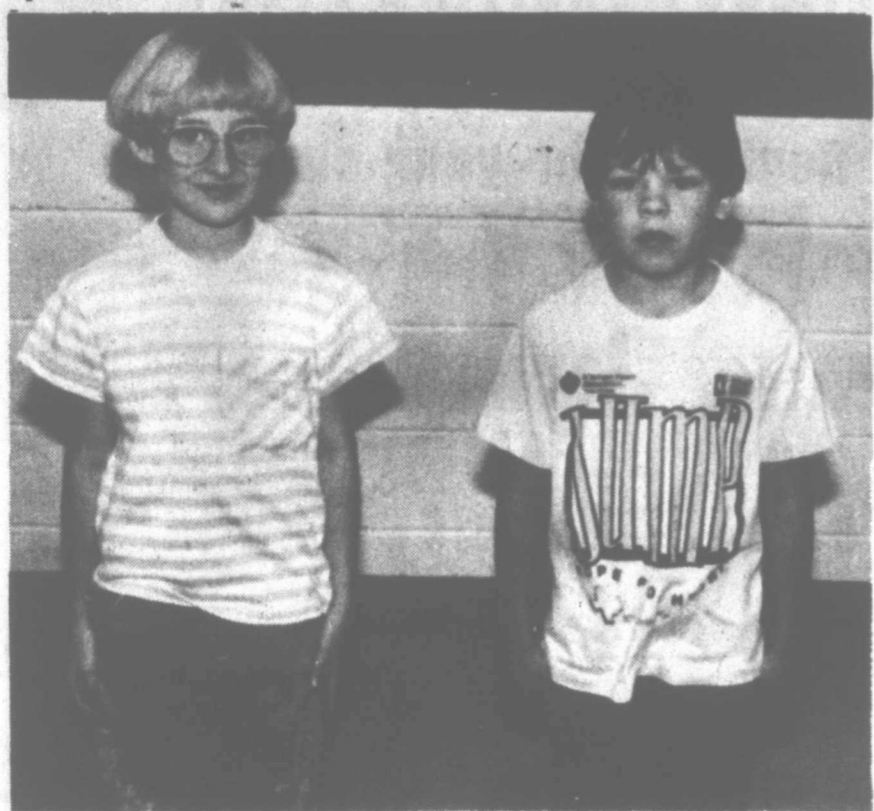

To give you further information, I am sending you free copies of my Health Reports "Managing Chronic Pain" and "An Informed Approach to Surgery." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title(s).

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is the external use of alcohol a sterilization medium? I always thought that swabbing an injection site (I'm a diabetic) was adequate. Now medical advisers suggest that the alcohol merely moves the germs around. What's your opinion?

DEAR READER: Alcohol kills most germs. While it may not sterilize an area — that is, render an area completely free of bacteria — it is appropriate to use as a cleansing agent prior to injection. Alcohol is cheap and dries rapidly. It has the further advantage of dissolving oils on the surface of the skin, thereby disrupting bacteria that may adhere to the skin.

I am certain alcohol "moves the germs around" as well as killing them. The bacteria are moved away from the injection site to a more remote, harmless location. I believe you can safely continue to use alcohol swabs in preparation for your insulin shot.

Eight-foot statue unveiled

BOSTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and other family members observed the 73rd anniversary of slain President John F. Kennedy's birth by unveiling an eight-foot statue of the state's native son.

The bronze statue, built with $175,000 in donations from citizens groups and schoolchildren, was dedicated outside the Statehouse on Tuesday. Designed by Massachusetts sculptor Isabel McIlvain, the statue depicts Kennedy in stride, one hand tucked into his suit pocket.

"By showing President Kennedy on the move, this remarkable statue not only represents my brother, it also symbolizes what he stood for and lived for — America on the move," Sen. Kennedy told hundreds at the dedication.

Videotapes reduce fraudulent claims

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A growing number of cities are secretly videotaping municipal employees on workers' compensation fixing roofs, shopping, lifting heavy objects and doing other things they claimed they couldn't do.

Pittsburgh hired private detectives last fall to tape employees suspected of faking injuries or occupational diseases.

So far, the project has reduced the number of workers' compensation recipients, helped slow the escalating costs of the program and provided city Finance Director Ben Hayllar with more than a few good stories to tell.

In March, for instance, the city stopped paying compensation to a man who held down a second job delivering packages even though he claimed he couldn't return to his city job because of an injured back and leg. The city captured the unidentified man on tape delivering heavy objects.

"While we had him under surveillance, he started to get paranoid and was convinced he was being followed. So he called city police. The police investigated and discovered he was being watched — but by us," Hayllar said.

"They told him, 'Hey, you are being followed, but the city's doing it.'"

Eventually, the man took himself off the workers' compensation rolls, said Bruce McKnight, Pittsburgh workers' compensation administrator.

The city hasn't been filing charges against the cheats but is using the evidence to get them back to work.

Pittsburgh's approach is not unusual, said John Moskal, vice president of Sedgwick James Inc., a company that administers workers' compensation programs for public and private employers across the nation. Moskal said the company also coordinates surveillance of suspected cheats.

About 299 of Pittsburgh's 5,400 employees receive workers' compensation, government-supervised insurance that pays medical bills and a percentage of salary to employees forced off their jobs. Before the surveillance, an average of 320 employees received it yearly, Hayllar said.

The city contributes about $17 million to the program annually.

Grandson of locals is honored

The U.S. Achievement Academy announced recently that William Powell, son of Connie Powell and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Wall of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Lindel Koonce of Vincent, has been named an All-American Scholar.

Powell, who attends Lee High School was nominated for this national award by Mr. Manning. Powell will appear in the All-American Scholar Dictionary which is published nationally.

The USAA has established the All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in academic disciplines.

All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average. Only scholars selected by a high school instructor or counselor, or other qualified sponsor are accepted. These scholars are also eligible for other awards given by the USAA.

CHEVY TRUCKS

NUMBER TWO FOR A LOT OF GOOD REASONS.

Chevy Full-Size Pick-Ups

- Chevy Trucks don't offer multi-port electronic fuel-injected engines.
- Smaller, standard six cylinder engine. Less load pulling torque.
- Chevy C/K 1500 models have a lower maximum payload capacity.
- Nope.
- Forget it.
- What difference does it make?

Jaycees get Jakes and other awards

Several Snyder Jaycees recently attended the state convention in Abilene, walking away with many awards, including six JAKES.

Local JAKE winners included Rudy Garza for outstanding community development vice president and for outstanding community development programming; Danny Engle, outstanding committee chairman; Elida Garza, outstanding treasurer; Sylvia Colvin, outstanding local director; Tommy Tullis, community fundraising, single project category.

Other local winners included Jackie Hall, first place in community improvement; Engle, first place in family and spiritual life, single project category.

Also Ruben Trevino received second place in individual development, single project category. Garza got third place in government involvement, single project category. Engle also won in the single project category in human services.

A total of seven single project category awards were received by members of the chapter.

Other awards received included Elida Garza winning second place in state with the C. William Brownfield Memorial Award which recognizes a most outstanding first year Jaycee. She was one of only three winners named for the state.

She also received a presidential award of honor by outstanding Texas Jaycee President Richard Hernandez for her "distinguished" work in the Jaycee movement for 1989-90.

Rudy Garza also received a white eagle award for outstanding community development vice president in Area I for the fourth quarter.

Local members will also attend the national and world Jaycees convention June 11-14 in Louisville, Ky., where six of their "books" will be entered in competition.

Jaycees entering competition have to submit well-documented "books" which tell all about all their projects.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: So "Slim and Satisfied" thinks no one would tell an obese person, "Gee, you're fat! Why don't you go on a diet?" Well, it's happened to me dozens of times. Total strangers have stopped me on the street and said, "You have such a pretty face, have you ever tried — (Weight Watchers, Optifast, Nutri-System, Overeaters Anonymous, TOPS, Diet Center, Jenny Craig, hypnosis, or that wonderful doctor who does stomach-stapling surgery)?"

I've had people come up to me in restaurants and say, "Do you really think you should be eating that?" (The "that" could be anything from a salad to dessert; they don't think a fat person should be eating anything, period.)

Hairdressers and makeup specialists have told me that it's pointless to bother about my hair or makeup, weighing as much as I do. And buying clothes is a nightmare. I either order mine by mail or have them made by a seamstress. If I enter a clothing store to buy a gift for someone, a salesperson is sure to approach me and say, "Sorry, we don't carry your size here."

I broke my arm in a car accident two years ago, and while I was waiting in the emergency room, a doctor appeared and said, "Boy, you really should lose some weight!" As if my weight had caused my broken arm! Most physicians believe that all fat people are lazy, weak-willed and undisciplined, rather than people who could be suffering from a genetic or metabolic problem.

I am 36 years old, and have been on more diets than I can count. A pediatrician put me on Metrecol when I was 8; another doctor gave me a 600-calorie-per-day diet when I was 11; still another put me in the hospital for a medically supervised fast when I was 13.

For the past year, I've been working with a great counselor who understands obesity. She has helped me more than all the diet doctors and weight-loss groups combined. I am learning to understand the connection between eating and hunger, which was lost in all those years of bingeing and dieting.

I know I'll never be thin because I'm genetically programmed to be fat — but I hope to find my natural weight through a program of learning to eat from hunger.

I hate exercising, but I do it every day, because I know it's important (for both fat and thin people) for health reasons.

Abby, you've done a terrific job in educating the public about obesity and discrimination against fat people. You have helped fat people stop hating themselves and to understand that they have a physical problem — not a lack of willpower. I know this is too long for your column and you'll have to trim it, but please try to print some of it. I speak for so many people.

LOOKING BEYOND LOOKS

DEAR LOOKING: I haven't trimmed a word, because every word you've written is essential to your message. Please write again when your mission has been accomplished — as I know it will be. I want to print your success story as an inspiration to others who are also "Looking Beyond Looks."
