

Council gives okay to secure financing for treatment plant

Authorization to take an initial step to secure state financing for the upgrade of Snyder's wastewater treatment plant was given Monday night during the July meeting of the Snyder city council.

The council unanimously directed staff to secure a pre-application conference with the Texas Water Development Board to discuss requirements of the State Revolving Fund.

Meeting with representatives of the city's engineering firm — Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock — the city took the first step in what would be a $3.6 million, low-interest loan to fund the construction of a new wastewater treatment facility.

John Kelley, an engineer with the firm, said the planning actually began in 1988 when the council authorized a preliminary engineering study.

The study was prompted by changes in regulatory requirements and the requirement that the city's Texas Water Commission permit would have to be renewed in September 1990.

Kelley said the firm looked at three alternatives and decided that a complete plant replacement would be the most cost-effective for the city.

4 indicted; 1 no billed

Four indictments and one no bill were issued Monday by a 132nd District Court grand jury meeting in its regular July session.

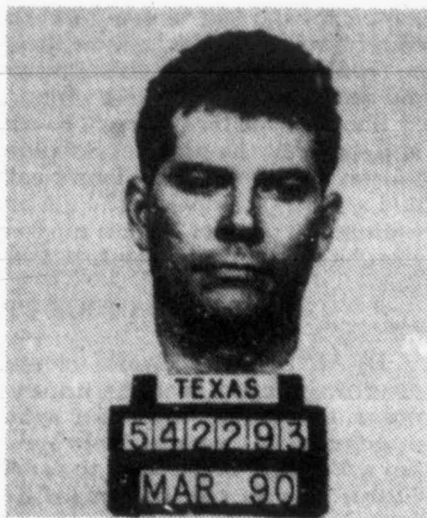

Those indicted included an inmate who escaped from the Price Daniel unit, and a Snyder man who was charged with delivery of marijuana. Also indicted were two persons on one count each of felony driving while intoxicated.

The grand jury failed to indict 38-year-old Gary Don Parks of Snyder who was charged with the theft of jewelry from his parents' home north of Snyder. Parks had been charged on June 24 and was in Scurry County Jail with bond set at $25,000.

Indicted Monday was 31-year-old Travis Dale Gray who left the Snyder unit of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice on June 20 in a truck hauling furniture manufactured at the Snyder unit. Prison officials and area law enforcement officers have conducted an around-the-clock search for Gray who was serving a 40-year sentence for the murder of his wife at Lake Colorado City. Gray was indicted for escape and bond was set at $10,000.

Also indicted was 58-year-old Earnest James for delivery of Independence Day prompts activities throughout Snyder

Snyder's Fourth of July Celebration activities are centered around Towle Park, but the Prayer Breakfast at Scurry County Coliseum, open house ceremonies for the Dermott Schoolhouse adjacent to the coliseum, and the quilt display at the county museum on the Western Texas College campus will be among the highlights as well.

The third annual Prayer Breakfast opens the day's activities at 8 a.m. Dallas Cowboys Chaplain Gordon Banks is guest speaker for the program, during which various local churches will recognize their respective Laypersons of the Year.

Immediately following the program will be the first public opening of the Dermott Schoolhouse, located west of the coliseum. A brief ceremony is planned, followed by an open house from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. The Cornelius-Dodson House will also be open for tours, and will feature an exhibit of old quilts.

Quilts are the theme also for the current display at Scurry County Museum, located on the college campus. The museum will be open from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Wednesday's fare at Towle Park is from morning until dark, beginning with registration for the Jaycees-sponsored fishing

Appraisal district budget okayed

Following an amendment concerning employee insurance and a public hearing, the Scurry County Appraisal District board of directors approved the proposed 1991 budget in the amount of $364,949 this morning.

Appraisal board members met with Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler at 7 a.m. at Willow Park Inn for their monthly business meeting and final discussion on the proposed budget.

During the meeting, Peveler presented the group with nine different employee insurance plans from four local insurance agencies. Peveler explained to the members that because of a 35 percent increase in the present policy premiums, he found it necessary to arrange for the bids. Approved effective August 1, was an Employers policy from Williamson-Steakley Insurance Agency. Board member Doug Flynn abstained from the vote.

Also approved were bills (see BUDGET, page 11)

Holiday prompts some closings

Most city, state and federal buildings will be closed Wednesday in honor of Independence Day, but Scurry County Museum will be open and classes will be held as usual at Western Texas College.

While a number of retail merchants plan to take advantage of Independence Day crowds, some will be closing at 6 p.m. instead of 9 p.m. Most other businesses will be closed, including Snyder Daily News.

July 4 is one of two holidays traditionally celebrated by the newspaper. The other is Christmas. The newspaper office will be closed Wednesday and no papers will be delivered.

Financial institutions throughout the city will be closed

Wednesday.

Snyder Chamber of Commerce will be closed Wednesday but chamber employees have said they will be in Towle Park helping with the annual Fourth of July Celebration, if they are needed. The chamber will close Friday, in recognition of Independence Day. (see CLOSED, page 11)

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "By the time kids reach an age to stop embarrassing you, you're at an age to start embarrassing them."

Somebody recently did a survey on who's coming to dinner.

Randomly selected citizens were asked, if given a choice, who they would like to have dinner with. If you looked at the results from an international sense, the U.S. was a clear winner. President George Bush was listed 79 percent of the time while Soviet President Gorbachev was listed only 27 percent.

In declaring that the survey could have a variance of a plus or minus three points, it was quickly pointed out that the American president's dislike for broccoli had no influence on the results.

Among ex-U.S. presidents, Ronald Reagan and Jimmy Carter are virtually tied as the second guest of choice. Only 14 percent chose former President Ford, and most of those likely were golf fanatics who figured they could get a sandwich at the end of the first nine holes. Close behind as a choice of dinner companions was former President Richard Nixon.

Tomorrow is a traditional picnic day, so we did a little survey of our own. Nobody wanted to eat with hospital administrator Tom Hochwalt because he prefers tuna fish.

Nobody wants to eat with Jack Denman for fear of being stuck with the tab. And most likely, you will want to avoid Jack Smart because he'll eat off your plate.

Eating a hamburger in the park tomorrow sounds like a terrific idea. The only thing that could tear us away from Towle Park on the Fourth would be a dinner date with Connie Chung—even if she insists on Chinese food.

Q—When the hospital makes its budget, do they take into consideration some people not paying their bills or taking a long time to pay them?

A—Yes, the hospital does budget for what they anticipate will not be collected. Total revenue deductions from bad debt, indigent care, Medicare and Medicaid contractuals and other allowances amounts to approximately 37.6 cents from each dollar of gross patient revenue.

BASTROP, Texas (AP) — Ten years after arriving in the United States as part of the Mariel boatlift, Cuban refugee Andres Falimas-Ramirez has killed himself in a cell in the Federal Correction Institution in Bastrop.

A guard who discovered Falimas-Ramirez last week attempted to give him mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but couldn't revive him, authorities said Monday.

MANILA, Philippines (AP) — The acquittal of Imelda Marcos on racketeering and fraud charges throws Philippine politics into disarray at a time when President Corazon Aquino's government faces a growing public crisis of confidence.

Nine of the group's 11 directors approved the move unanimously in a conference call on Saturday. The other two board members were out of the country and did not vote, said Joe Mabee, the CAF chief of staff.

No end in sight for scorching heat in state

Dry conditions continue in South Texas

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Here in the South Plains, the sun's rays roast the back of your neck like char-broiled barbecue. You can almost taste the sauna-like air steaming across the withering cotton fields.

Even rocks appear to melt in the ripples of heat shimmering off the road.

After nearly three weeks of 100-plus degree heat last month — the South Plains' hottest June in history, officials say July will keep on cookin'.

Above normal highs and below normal rainfall is the forecast, said Bob Lacy, spokesman for the National Weather Service in Lubbock.

"It just doesn't look like it is going to let up," he said.

June made 90-degree weather seem like a dream with the mercury soaring past the century mark a record 19 times, including a blistering 110 degrees on June 24 — the hottest day ever recorded in Lubbock.

The record replaced the old mark of 109 degrees on June 15, 1939. Lacy said Lubbock's average maximum temperature in June was 99.3 degrees.

Only a trace of rain was recorded last month, making it the driest June in the South Plains history. The previous record was 21 inches of rain in June 1933.

Lacy said a trace could be defined as less than .0005 of an inch.

"That's about a drop of rain," he said. "And June is usually one of the bigger months for precipitation."

Until this year, June averaged 2.81 inches of rain, Lacy said.

The thirsty conditions have left cotton farmers in the South Plains, which produces a quarter of the nation's cotton, fearing devastating losses.

More than 500,000 acres of the crop already have been pronounced dead and farmers say each rainless day means more acres lost.

"It's a bad situation," said Don Johnson, a cotton farmer and executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers Inc. "Everyone who can irrigate is irrigating. And the ones who are depending on rain with dryland acreage are about as far as they can go without a good soaking rain."

Lacy said the chances of scattered evening showers will improve in July but won't produce substantial precipitation.

Outlook grim for farmers in S. Texas

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — The National Weather Service can wrap up the bad news for South Texas farmers in a single word: grim.

Despite abundant rain in the spring, South Texas is being hit by a drought so severe that virtually no moisture exists in the upper or lower soil zones anywhere in the region.

The rainfall this spring was substantial, measuring 125 to 175 percent of normal totals in most places for the first four months of the year. Farmers south of the Hill Country had been optimistic about crop prospects after two frustrating years of almost non-existent crops, the NWS said.

But weather service officials said in a special statement on Monday that the spring rain was "in the overall picture, useless."

The moisture was stored in the top 24 to 30 inches of soil, but it was baked away by searing heat in June.

Ninja-crazed kids snap up real turtles

DALLAS (AP) — The "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles" craze has consumers snapping up the real things at a pace that's leaving pet store owners shellshocked.

But some animal enthusiasts suspect the fad, and the turtles, will be short-lived.

"Ever since Ninja Turtles got popular, we can't keep turtles in stock," Petland Galleria manager Steven Bowles said.

His store capitalizes on the television and movie success by advertising the turtles as their cartoon counterparts.

"We get phone calls all the time from parents desperately seeking turtles," Bowles told the Dallas Times Herald. "The kids go to the movie, get out and come over here to get one."

But when youngsters find out their turtles don't eat pizza, practice martial arts or look like their movie counterparts, the result may be turtle abandonment, some say.

"When they find out they can't talk, what are they going to do with them?" asked Pat Davis director of the suburban Garland Humane Society. "It's a fad and a lot of the turtles are going to die."

Lawyer Pronounced Guilty For Charging Family Rate

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press-Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Recently, my sister's son (I'll call him Steve) was in minor trouble with the law, and my husband, who is an attorney, represented him in court. It involved only a few hours of his time, but it took time away from other things he was working on. When my husband presented Steve with a bill for $75, my sister was furious. She thought he should have represented her son for nothing because he was family. Normally, my husband would have charged at least $300, but he gave his nephew the family rate. Incidentally, Steve is 20 years old and works full time.

Now, instead of appreciating the fact that my husband saved her son $225, she thinks he took advantage by charging him anything at all, and they aren't speaking to us. I realize that your opinion won't change things, but I'm curious. Who do you think is right?

IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: I think your husband was more than generous to have charged his nephew only $75. And if that money does not come out of Steve's paycheck (if it's only $10 a week), it should! He needs to learn that he is responsible for his own actions and his own bills.

For your sister and her family to stop speaking to you and your husband because he didn't represent his nephew for nothing, shows them to be unbelievably ungrateful and petty.

DEAR ABBY: Last night, I got a telephone call from a man who said his name was "John," but he wouldn't tell me his last name.

He said he was calling to tell me that my husband had been cheating on me for quite some time, and he thought I should know because I have three children. (It's true, I have.)

John said my husband had given this woman an engagement ring last Christmas, and that she had followed my husband to Florida so she could be near him while we were there on vacation! Abby, I couldn't believe I was getting this call, but I kept calm and let the man talk. He said he was mailing me some proof so I could get a divorce. (It's true; we did vacation in Florida last winter.)

Should I file for divorce, or wait and see what the proof is? Should I tell my husband about John's call and ask him to explain it? I am all confused and upset. Please answer soon, as I need to know how to handle this.

ALL SHOOK UP

DEAR SHOOK: Don't accept anything as fact from an anonymous telephone informer who appears very eager to "help" you get a divorce! First, wait to see if "John" sends you the proof he promised.

Proof or no proof, however, tell your husband about this call, and give him a chance to explain it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO V.N.: You know you're getting old when a lady you've never met before is seated next to you at a dinner party and she asks which is your good ear.

Want your phone to ring? Get Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular" — for people of all ages. To order, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.99 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Popularity Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. Pocket found in tree

ATLANTA (AP) — In the forest products industry, a pitch pocket is not necessarily found in a baseball catcher's glove.

A pitch pocket is an opening in a tree, which contains solid or liquid pitch, according to Georgia-Pacific Corp. Pitch is a translucent, resinous sap that exudes from softwoods, such as pines and firs.

ed diamonds and followed with the three-spot, showing an odd number of cards in the suit. So West switched to a heart trick and play back a club. That left it up to declarer, who could certainly hope that East might hold the queen of clubs. But there was a better play. Declarer rose with dummy's heart ace and played queen of diamonds from dummy, pitching his jack of hearts. West won and led a spade. Declarer won in dummy, ruffed a heart with a high trump, and led a spade to dummy's ace. Another heart ruff set up the heart suit, and declarer could get back to the queen of spades to take three good heart tricks.

Had West made the more obvious play of another high diamond at trick two, it would have been necessary for South to throw a heart away on that diamond. After that approach, with the hearts splitting 3-2, four spades would still make.

Garrison upsets Seles at Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Monica Seles' assault on the top spot in women's tennis was stopped in its tracks today by Zina Garrison, who advanced to the Wimbledon semifinals with top-seeded Steffi Graf.

Garrison, the fifth seed but overlooked by most when it came to naming the contenders for Graf's crown, ended the 16-year-old Seles' winning streak at 36 matches with a 3-6, 6-3, 9-7 victory.

The victory secured Garrison's fourth berth in a Grand Slam semifinal and her second at Wimbledon. She reached this stage in 1985. But it wiped out the chance of another big matchup between Seles and Graf, who had lost to the Yugoslav teen-ager the last two times they met, in the finals of the German and French Opens.

Graf survived an early scare and advanced to the semifinals of her 15th consecutive Grand Slam tournament with a 7-5, 6-2 victory over Jana Novotna of Czechoslovakia.

Garrison, a 26-year-old from Houston, has had a good year, despite a first-round loss at the French Open. She won a grass-court warmup tournament in Birmingham, England, last month and then declared: "Maybe I can win Wimbledon."

Not many took her seriously, even fewer when the Wimbledon draw put her in the same half as Graf. Seles and 14-year-old challenger Jennifer Capriati. But Graf beat Capriati on Monday and, 24 hours later, Garrison beat Seles. The woman who ended Chris Evert's Grand Slam career in the U.S. Open quarterfinals last year had done it again, a big win over a big favorite in an important match.

Rose's sentencing slated for July 19

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Rose's illicit activities cost him a place in baseball. In two weeks, he'll find out whether they cost him his freedom as well.

A federal judge will sentence Rose on July 19 for his admitted tax offenses. Baseball's career hits leader could get up to six years in prison and a maximum fine of $500,000 on two felony counts of filing false tax returns.

Rose has been getting treatment for a gambling disorder and waiting for the other shoe to drop from his April 20 guilty plea in U.S. District Court. Aside from his weekly radio sports show in Cincinnati, Rose has been keeping a low profile lately.

"At this point, he doesn't have anything on his calendar for July," spokeswoman Barbara Pinzka said Monday.

Pinzka called Rose on Monday to inform him of the sentencing date. Although he's not expected to get the maximum sentence, there's a possibility Rose could be sentenced to some prison time under federal guidelines. The judge also could allow him to avoid jail.

"He's concerned and very much aware of the seriousness of the situation he's in right now," Pinzka said.

U.S. District Judge S. Arthur Spiegel, who accepted Rose's guilty plea April 20, has given no indication how he'll rule.

Rose admitted in federal court that he failed to report income from autograph appearances, memorabilia sales and gambling. He has paid the Internal Revenue Service $366,043 in back taxes, interest and penalties.

Rose, the former Cincinnati Reds manager, was banned from baseball for life last August after admitting to illegal gambling. He's eligible to apply for reinstatement next month, but has said he's not thinking about applying at this time.

Soviets annihilated by minor leaguers

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — It started looking bad for the first Soviet football team to play on American soil when the players heard the Turkish national anthem played in their honor.

It went downhill from there. The year-old Tacoma Express, a minor-league football team, whipped the Soviet national champion Moscow Bears 61-0 Monday night in an exhibition game before 1,300 spectators in the Tacoma Dome.

The game was billed by promoters as Glasnost on the Gridiron.

Bears coach John Ralston, a former Denver Broncos head coach, didn't talk strategy or give his players a fiery pep talk before the game. He explained to them how to suit up in full pads.

"Don't forget, you need your thigh pads, your knee pads and your elbow pads," he said through an interpreter. "You don't want to land on that AstroTurf without your elbow pads."

For the past eight weeks, Ralston has been trying to mold a group of Soviet rugby players, shot-putters, javelin throwers and decathletes into a professional football team.

After Monday night, it was clear he still has a ways to go.

"I'm disappointed in our fundamentals," he said after the game. "I don't think we do the fundamentals very well."

The Bears are playing at least four American exhibition games arranged by an Alabama sports promotion company. The team is to play in Fresno, Calif., Oklahoma City and Macon, Ga., with a possible match in Charlotte, N.C.

The starting-quarterback first touched a football seven months ago, and he's the veteran. Ralston's biggest player tips the scales at 250 pounds.

Ralston had said he mainly wanted to ensure his players finished the game intact — especially his starting tight end, since both backups had been detained in the Soviet Union by the KGB the night before departure.

The Bears suffered no major injuries.

The anthem mixup wasn't the only glitch. Fans found their programs carried no numbers for the Soviet players.

on grit and sheer luck, losing some of the luster and gleam they accumulated during their soccer history.

Of the final four, only West Germany and Italy performed up to standards throughout. Both were in control in quarterfinal games, despite the closeness of the scores in 1-0 victories against Czechoslovakia and Ireland, respectively.

Mercifully, the two World Cup powerhouses do not meet in the semifinals. Italy plays defending champion Argentina in Naples today, and West Germany plays England in Turin on Wednesday. Argentina, Italy and West Germany have won at least two World Cups each and England, which invented the game, has won it once and also oozes experience.

John and Suzy Reed nailed down first place in the Snyder Country Club's Swingers Target Points event played June 8 on the club golf course.

John Greene and Nanette Arena tied Shawn and Teresa Ragland for second pace followed by Dutch and Donna Stehley in fourth.

The Low Ball Net played June 15 saw John and Evelyn Thomas nab first place while three teams, including John and Carolyn Greene, Dutch and Donna Stehley and John and Suzy Reed, tied for second position.

Blind Partners was the format June 29 as Rick Hall and Xan Harris won top honors in First Flight and Pete Greene and Carolyn Greene combined for second place.

Second Flight winners were Bill Seale and Kaye Cypert in first place while Marvin Sentell and Bobbie Hargrove took the runner-up spot.

The group's monthly couples match was won by Dutch and Donna Stehley in the First Flight. Alton Patterson and Xan Harris claimed second place.

The duo of Bill and Margie Briggs finished first and Rex and Marsha Robinson took second in Second Flight competition.

can the world of soccer ask for?" West German coach Franz Beckenbauer said.

How about better soccer, for a start, with less conservatism? From Italy, such a style is more acceptable because the team is built around the defense, making 1-0 games the norm.

But England and Argentina supposedly possess strong attacks. Where have they been?

England used its savvy and more than a little luck to survive in a World Cup in which upsets were the order of the day until the burden of achievement became too heavy.

The Indomitable Lions, considered a 500-1 outsider before the tournament, outwitted and looked ready to beat England until eight minutes remained. Cameroon produced darting runs, joyful combination play and creative moves to dominate an often dour England. But the Africans committed an elementary error, neglecting defense when their feet pushed them to look for a clinching goal.

A&I gridder convicted

Fields accuses RB Bailey of dealing crack

KINGSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Former Texas A&I University football player Ray Anthony Fields was convicted of selling cocaine and faces up to life in prison.

Also, a statement entered into evidence at his trial accuses former teammate and star running back Johnny Bailey of selling cocaine on several occasions.

Fields, 21, the first of three former A&I football players to face trial on felony charges of selling crack cocaine, admitted on the witness stand that he sold cocaine to an undercover agent from the Kleberg County Sheriff's Department on March 7 and March 27.

The jury delivered a guilty verdict after 10 minutes of deliberation Monday, but adjourned without having agreed on a sentence. Deliberations will resume at 9 a.m. today.

Fields faces up to life in prison and a fine of up to $10,000. The defense is asking for probation and the prosecution is asking for a five or six-year prison term.

A statement made by Fields to Texas Ranger Ray Cano on April 27, the day he was arrested, said that Bailey, a former roommate of Fields, sold cocaine in his presence "two or three times" and that Bailey also sold cocaine to Fields on at least one occasion.

Bailey was a ninth-round draft pick by the Chicago Bears in April. He could not be reached for comment early this morning. A Houston operator said his number was unlisted.

Fields pleaded innocent to two charges of selling cocaine, but said under oath that he did sell the cocaine and that he obtained it from another former player, Dyas Evans, 23, who is scheduled to be arraigned Thursday on the same charge.

A third ex-football player, Johnny Eaton, 22, and Rocky Runnels, a 20-year-old A&I student, also face trial this week on related charges of selling cocaine.

Runnels' lawyer, Sam Fugate, told the Corpus Christi Caller-Times that Runnels will plead guilty today to the three counts of selling cocaine.

Eaton, Evans, Fields and Runnels were arrested after a four-month investigation by the Kleberg County Sheriff's Department.

Fields acknowledged during the trial that he made a statement about Bailey to Cano. But he said he wasn't sure if his questioners recorded his statements about Bailey accurately.

In the three-page, typewritten statement, which Fields signed, Fields said that Bailey on one occasion sold him $250 worth of cocaine for $50.

In the statement, Fields also said that Bailey traveled to Houston and brought back crack cocaine to Kingsville on several occasions. He also said he witnessed Bailey selling cocaine.

"I know of at least two or three times when I was with him at his apartment that he made a narcotics transaction," the statement said. "I know that he had crack in his apartment because I would buy it from him."

After the jury returned the guilty verdict, Fields' lawyer, Roy Turcotte, called Fields' father, Landrus Fields, his mother, Beverly Harrison, and pregnant wife, Karen Fields, to testify during the sentencing phase of the trial.

The roofer you choose is a decision you will have to live with for many years. Take your time and choose the best one for you. Here are a few helpful hints for choosing a Roofing Contractor:

1. Choose a roofer who was interested in Snyder before the hail storm, he is the one most likely to service your roof after the storm work is over.
2. Ask for several local references on roofs that are at least a few years old. And check those references.
3. If a roofer has had many roof problems, he will not use those as references, be prepared to ask questions.
4. Find out what area the roofer worked in last, and check them out with the Better Business Bureau in that area.
5. If a roofers price sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

New Shield Roofing Systems has many roofs in Snyder that are several years old, we were involved here before the storm.

We purchase our asphalt in 6,000 gallon semi-tankers, we are the only West Texas roofing company that does. That means we get a much better price on materials, we pass the savings on to you.

City council gives approval

Kelley noted that the current plant is in excess of 40 years old and that some parts of the plant were used when installed.

Because the city has not been out of compliance, it was first believed the city would not be eligible for loan funds in 1990. However, the city was notified in April that SRF money would be available.

State funding would be contingent on approval of permit applications. Engineers also noted that rules would become more stringent in future years, and that competition for financing would also be more keen in the future.

In response to a question about what would happen if Snyder did not proceed with updating its plant, Kelley said the state will and has imposed substantial fines on cities out of compliance.

"The key is that you are doing something," commented Mayor Troy Williamson.

The proposed plant would process two million gallons per day compared to the 1.1 million which the present plant can handle. Engineers also said the plant would turn out a clean end product, and would take care of future growth.

It was estimated that interest rate on such a loan would be 5 1/2 to 6 percent and would be retired over 20 years.

Once the application conference is held, the city would submit Texas Water Commission permit applications in August and the EPA permit amendment in August 1991.

Bids for the project would be opened in May 1991 with construction to begin in October of the same year. Estimated completion would be October 1992.

"We are fortunate to have a plant that has served us well for 40 years," said Councilman Paul Zeck who made the motion to seek the pre-application conference.

In other business, the council heard a report from Lt. Col. Ron Skaggs concerning plans for a Texas State Guard company to be located in Snyder.

Purpose of the unit would be to assist civil authorities in the event of an emergency or disaster. The 18-man unit is all volunteer and members receive no pay.

The unit would be allowed to use the local National Guard Armory. Skaggs also asked the city to consider funding of up to $100 per month.

The council was reminded of a budget work session to be held July 16 at 6:30 p.m.

Present for the city council meeting were Mayor Williamson, Zeck, Mike Thornton and Jack Denman. Absent were Vernest Tippens, Joe Coronado and Jackie Greene.

One arrest made Monday

City of Snyder police officers made only one arrest Monday, but investigated numerous complaints of fireworks being discharged in the city limits.

A 24-year-old female was arrested shortly after 1 p.m. at her Park Village apartment for outstanding DPS warrants from Midland County. The warrants were for speeding and failure to appear.

Officers returned to the apartment complex on College Ave. at 8:09 p.m. where a woman told officers she had been assaulted by her brother, but the woman declined to file charges.

At 9:49 a.m. Monday, officers went to 811 29th St. where a woman said neighborhood children were removing mail from her mailbox and putting it in a water fountain.

At 10:32 a.m., an employee with Furr's Plus in Varsity Square Shopping Center asked the department to make contact with a subject who had failed to return two video tapes.

Officers were also asked for a close patrol of the Pal-O-Mar Motel on the East Highway as several doors to rooms were found open. The motel currently is not being operated.

At 1:34 p.m., Dywone Stokes of 116 Browning reported criminal mischief as her car had been scratched. Another criminal mischief report came at 6:05 p.m. when David Arazamandi of 1906 Coleman said juveniles were shooting out windows with a BB gun. At 11:57 p.m., Viridie Patrick of 2416 Gilmore said damage to his fence had possibly been caused by criminal mischief.

At 7:53 p.m., Melissa Shatney of 4007 Houston reported the loss of her wallet. Shortly after midnight, officers were called to two separate disturbances, but no arrests were made.

School renamed McMurry University

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — It's taking a while for some employees at McMurry University to get used to the school's new name.

"I catch myself at least twice a day saying, 'McMurry College, may I help you?'" Genie Henson, the switchboard supervisor at McMurry, told the Abilene Reporter-News.

Ms. Henson has been the chief operator at the school for the last 26 years.

She has attempted to train herself since last year not to say "McMurry College," and she even stares at a note warning herself not to say it, she said.

"These days her stock answer is, 'McMurry, may I help you?'"

Thomas K. Kim, the president of 76-year-old McMurry, said the name switch was made, in part, to keep students from identifying the school as a junior college.

"A rising number of junior colleges, particularly in Texas have assumed the name 'college,' rather than 'junior college,'" Kim said Monday. "Most of the traditional colleges have changed to university. It is a sign of the times and we decided to do the same thing."

Legally the school is already recognized as McMurry University, Kim said. But a gala scheduled for Sept. 4, will formally acknowledge the new title.

"This is more than a cosmetic change," Kim said. "This is a substance change."

Kim said the new moniker fits into a plan of "upgrading several programs" at McMurry.

McMurry officials have restructured the curriculum to create a business school, an arts and sciences school and a school of education.

"We have a vision of a student body with no more than 2,000 students," Kim said of McMurry, which last year had an enrollment of 1,700. "I think removing ambiguity and confusion from the school's name will help us reach our goal."

McMurry College goods sold out at the school's bookstore long ago, said store employee Lisa Evans.

Last fall's homecoming put a large dent in bookstore stock bearing the college name, as old graduates came in buying keepsakes, Ms. Evans said.

payable. The group then recessed to meet again at the appraisal office for a public hearing on the district's proposed budget. After revising some figures regarding the newly adopted insurance policy, the new budget totaled $364,878 — some $70 less than the previously proposed $365,019.

Because no one appeared before the board with comments concerning the budget, members finished their business meeting.

The board voted to conduct monthly meetings in the morning as opposed to traditional evening meetings.

Board members present were Julius Roemisch, Mickey Sterling, John Reed and Doug Flynn. Absent was Bill Voss.

Summit officials to close Houston streets

HOUSTON (AP) — Traffic tie-ups are destined to be a problem for many motorists during the Economic Summit next week as foreign dignitaries are ferried through the city, but organizers hope they can help ease the confusion a little.

Organizers released plans Monday on how participants and residents can avoid the expected traffic jams — something for which the city already is renowned.

Matt Haynes to Army basic Matthew W. Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Haynes of Snyder, has enlisted in the U.S. Army.

Upon successfully completing the Army eight-week basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., he will receive technical training in the Army's cannon crewman field.

He will receive also a $4,000 cash bonus upon successfully completing his technical training, according to SFC Arthur

Although the entire city won't be affected by the summit traffic, certain areas will be blocked off for hours at a time for motorcades.

"We released this so motorists could avoid those streets," said Roxanne Casscells, 1990 summit press secretary. "The local papers will come up with maps and I'm hoping that people will look at the maps and abide by these restrictions."

The Secret Service and

Williams, Army recruiter located in Sweetwater.

Haynes will be stationed in Europe after his training is complete.

A 1989 graduate of Snyder High School, he will be earning credits toward an associates degree in applied science through the Community College of the Army while attending basic and technical training schools.

Houston law enforcement officials conducted traffic surveys and security checks to reroute traffic July 8-11. They want to provide clear passage for delegations of foreign dignitaries from their Galleria-area hotels to Rice University, where the meetings will take place, and back.

The routes involve closing large portions of the Interstate 610 Loop for up to three hours, as well as Memorial Drive, a main thoroughfare that runs from downtown Houston to the Galleria area.

"It will have dramatic impact on thousands of people. These are not like isolated closures. It is covering a large area. The sooner they know, the better off we all will be," said Janelle Gbur, Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation spokeswoman.

Summit officials had been reluctant to announce plans early on for fear of a security risk for the dignitaries.

"Any time you have eight heads of state or eight world leaders with their motorcades in one city, it's going to disrupt traffic," said Ray Viator, vice president of communications for the Greater Houston Partnership. "We're trying to notify people of the routes and approximately what times this will be in effect."

The summit involves the leaders of the world's seven richest industrial countries: The United States, Japan, West Germany, Britain, France, Italy and Canada. They have been meeting

1990 graduate joins U.S. Army

Ruben S. Oliva of Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Salazar, has enlisted in the U.S. Army.

Upon successfully completing the Army's eight-week basic training at Ft. Benning, Ga., he will receive technical training as an infantryman.

According to SFC Arthur Williams, Army recruiter located in Sweetwater, he will receive training as an Army paratrooper as well and be stationed at Ft. Bragg, N.C., where he can become a boxer on the Army team.

A 1990 graduate of Snyder High School, Oliva will be earning credits toward an associates degree in applied science through the Community College of the Army while attending basic and technical training schools.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 72-year-old female. About five years ago, I began having dizzy spells with sudden onset. An MRI found a calcium build-up in the left carotid artery. In lieu of surgery, my doctor prescribed Persantine and one baby aspirin daily, which has solved the problem, but I'm concerned about the long-range effects of this medication. Should I just have the surgery? Is it safe to remain on this medication?

DEAR READER: The presence of a calcified plaque in your carotid artery, one of the major blood vessels to the brain, suggests that you are experiencing a progressive blockage in the artery. Aside from the obstruction itself, the calcium deposit has a rough surface on which small blood clots may form. When these clots break off, they are carried in the bloodstream to the brain, where they cause temporary neurological abnormalities, called transient ischemic attacks, which are often associated with sudden dizziness.

Treatment involves two basic approaches: medicine to reduce the incidence of blood clots and surgery to remove the calcified plaque.

In my opinion, your doctor is correct in trying to solve your problem without surgery. The operation is called carotid endarterectomy, during which a surgeon reams out the artery; the procedure is associated with a high incidence of complications, such as permanent stroke. I believe this operation should be reserved for patients with severe arterial narrowing, who have repeated TIAs that are not controlled by medicine.

Your doctor has properly chosen to give you low-dose aspirin and Persantine (dipyridamole), both of which inhibit platelet adhesion, in other words, the drugs reduce the stickiness of platelets, the tiny blood cells that adhere to form the basis for a clot.

As a result of this combined therapy, blood is far less likely to coagulate on the plaque in your carotid artery. You may notice a slightly increased tendency to bruise or to bleed, but both aspirin and Persantine have few other significant side effects. As long as your therapy is effective, you can safely remain on the medicine and avoid surgery.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Would you elaborate on interstitial cystitis? I understand it is more prevalent in women than in men, however, our doctor doesn't seem to know very much about it. Is there a cure?

DEAR READER: Interstitial cystitis causes urinary bleeding, burning and frequency — symptoms similar to those produced by infectious cystitis (bladder infection). However, interstitial cystitis is not an infectious disease. It is more common in women and is associated with an irritated bladder lining that can, over time, shrink and scar, leading to diminished urinary capacity. The cause is unknown.

Treatment consists of fulguration (burning of the inflamed tissue) in conjunction with repeated stretching of the bladder wall (to prevent contraction). Because interstitial cystitis is difficult to treat, patients with the affliction should be under the care of urologists.
