

Islamic group claims it is responsible for recent plant explosion

AP) — An extremist Islamic group today claimed responsibility for an explosion at a suburban Houston chemical plant July 5 that killed 17 people.

Atlantic Richfield Co. said from its headquarters in Newtown, Pa., that it had not heard of the claim and did not know whether it was valid.

The cause of the blast is under investigation, and no signs of sabotage at the plant have been reported.

A spokesman for the Islamic Liberation Front told The Associated Press the ARCO

Chemical Co. plant in Channelview, Texas, was attacked because the United States supports Israel despite "its killings and terrorism against our Palestinian families" in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Washington "ignores the human rights of our Palestinian people," said the official, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "We want Washington to taste the pain of the deaths of its people the same way we feel the pain of the killings of our Palestinian families at the hands of the Zionist criminals," he said.

Limones pleads guilty in Thanksgiving murder

A 23-year-old Sweetwater man Friday morning pled guilty to voluntary manslaughter and was sentenced to 16 years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice.

Francisco Delores Limones Jr. had been indicted for murder by a Scurry County grand jury in the Thanksgiving Day death of Oscar Garza Jr. The charge was reduced in the plea bargain in 132nd District Court.

Limones was charged in the death of the 19-year-old Garza whose body was found in the contents from a trash truck at the City of Snyder landfill.

Police received a tip about 11 a.m. Nov. 24 that a body was in a dumpster in the 400 Block of 20th St. near the Coleman Apartments in northeast Snyder.

Officers searched dumpsters in the area and found one freshly emptied container with a large amount of blood inside.

The trash truck was contacted by radio and was escorted to the city landfill east of Snyder where police directed an operation in which the contents were spread out in a long line. The unwrapped body was found about 11:30 a.m.

Peace Justice Dan Callaway pronounced Garza dead of a gunshot wound in the forehead.

Police then began a search for Limones after several persons interviewed said they had witnessed the shooting. Limones was arrested two days later in Sweetwater.

On Wednesday, three guilty pleas were heard in district court and one charge was dismissed.

Second test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA partly filled Atlantis' external tank with liquid hydrogen today in an attempt to locate a leak that has grounded the spacecraft and has all shuttle missions on hold.

The procedure was delayed for two hours this morning because of problems with two bottles of gaseous hydrogen used to calibrate test instruments.

After the faulty equipment was replaced, the space agency slowly pumped liquid hydrogen into the tank. The rate was to be increased to 8,400 gallons per minute. The leak was detected at that rate in a similar test two weeks ago.

Only a small portion of the huge tank was to be filled with the super-cold, volatile fuel.

Man was dead

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Thousands of motorists who saw a man who appeared to be leaning against a highway railing beneath an overpass on Interstate 35 for two days didn't realize the man was dead, police said.

Officers said Thursday they discovered the man was dead after a woman who saw him in the same position for two days on the busy highway near downtown San Antonio decided something wasn't right.

Bill is okayed

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Lawmakers voted today to quickly sell off more than 80 percent of state-owned industries, a major step in the Solidarity-led government's 7-month-old radical reform program.

The Sejm, or the lower house of parliament, passed the legislation 328-2, with 39 abstentions. The vote came one day after the long-delayed measure reached the floor.

Committee expresses concerns over AJRA

Members of the chamber's tourism committee expressed concerns Thursday that Snyder might lose the annual AJRA National Rodeo Finals unless chamber and community leaders show more support.

Three representatives of the AJRA committee were on hand during the monthly meeting of the tourism and retirement committee to voice concerns about reports of higher motel rates during rodeo week.

Present from the AJRA committee were C.D. Gray Jr., Randy Head and Larry Schwartz. Gray, the first to speak, told the group that the local AJRA committee is receiving complaints that motels have doubled and even tripled rates while the national event is in town.

The early focus of the discussion centered around the Great Western Motel. However, discussion was tabled until Nadine White, motel manager, was contacted and asked to address the committee.

Upon arrival, White told the group of about 20 that the motel's rates were not raised from last year and that she "felt they are fair." She said flat rates are set on rooms during the event and that the room price is the same no matter how many people stay in the room. White further explained that it is impossible to monitor the number of occupants in a room and therefore this policy was implemented.

Head expressed fear that Snyder may lose the AJRA rodeo, which had become one of the biggest weeks for local businesses, with bids for the event expected from Abilene and El Paso.

"Abilene will take it away from us given half the chance," said Randy Perkins, manager of the Shack Restaurant. "The week of the rodeo is the best week I have."

Court votes to apply for grant to finance water system study

Continued problems with Hermleigh's 61-year-old water works system drew some 30 residents of that community to the courthouse Thursday night for a public hearing in which the Commissioners Court unanimously voted to apply for a planning grant to finance a base study of Hermleigh's water system.

Commissioner Ted Billingsley, who represents Hermleigh, was not present for the meeting.

This action will delay applying for a grant to repair the system until 1991.

The commissioners' vote came after a majority of the Hermleigh residents agreed that a study would be necessary even though it means delaying repairs.

Hermleigh will need to pay for half of the planning grant as well as come up with an additional $25,000 if the larger grant — for $250,000 — is approved a year from now.

With this in mind, commissioners also agreed to change Hermleigh's water rates in the future so that the water works account can begin accruing the $25,000 which the city will have to put up if the grant is okayed.

At present, $12,000 exists in the account. As much as half of those funds may be needed to fund half of the planning study which Kay Howard of Lubbock, who is with the consulting firm of Jerry R.

Traylor and Associates, has estimated will be from $10,000 to $12,000.

Howard said she has only been involved with three planning studies in her region since "cities don't always want to pay for such

The IRS was conducting an audit of the man's individual tax return. The agent noted that the individual listed a substantial contribution to his church.

The auditor called the church office and asked the preacher, "One of your members indicated he made a $50,000 contribution to the church building fund. Can you verify that contribution?"

The preacher was quick, even with the IRS on the line. "Well, the records are in the other office, but I can assure you that if he didn't, he soon

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What kind of tests are given to determine the beginning of Parkinson's disease and multiple sclerosis? My right hand shakes involuntarily, and the muscles in my arms and legs are becoming increasingly weaker, thin and flabby. DEAR READER: Like many neurological disorders, Parkinson's disease and multiple sclerosis are usually diagnosed by "clinical presentation": how the patient looks, feels and acts.

Parkinson's disease is a common, slowly progressive neurological affliction marked by slow movements, muscular rigidity, resting tremor and postural instability. In its typical form, the diagnosis is unmistakable. Early Parkinson's is less obvious and usually presents as an involuntary "pill-rolling" repetitive motion of the hand, infrequent blinking, slow gait and difficulty initiating movement.

Over time, this progresses to the familiar picture of resting tremor (especially of the head and arms), lack of facial expression, stooped posture, a tendency to fall forward, monotonous speech with stuttering, inability to perform fine motor tasks (such as writing) and gradual inability to meet the demands of daily living. There are no tests to diagnose Parkinson's disease.

Multiple sclerosis is also a progressive neurological disease but, unlike Parkinson's disease, it is marked by periods of remission. MS is more difficult to diagnose than Parkinson's disease because larger areas of the brain are affected, resulting in a wide range of neurological abnormalities.

For example, MS causes numbness, weakness, clumsiness, emotional disturbances, dizziness and loss of bladder control — all of which may antedate the full-blown form of the disease. Also, symptoms may disappear for weeks or months, only to return without warning. Therefore, the disease may not be recognized for years.

The basis of MS is a patchy loss of the insulating material (myelin) of nerves. Magnetic resonance imaging, a complicated technique of "seeing" inside the body by using electromagnetic waves, is the most sensitive diagnostic test. MRI pictures will often show the plaques of demyelination.

I won't speculate on the cause of your tremor and weakness. You should be examined by a neurologist.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Multiple Sclerosis." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas (AP) — The Japanese are dumping low-priced automobiles on the U.S. market, financing their scheme on the backs of middle class Japanese workers who pay more for Japanese cars than Americans, Texas oilman T. Boone Pickens said.

Pickens said Thursday that the Japanese have a closed economy which not only blocks U.S. business from competing on Japanese soil, but unfairly rigs prices abroad.

To back up his claim of automobile dumping, Pickens quoted a German BMW automotive engineer who claimed to have taken apart, piece by piece, a $40,000 Toyota-made Lexus, to prove it could not be produced at a profit for less than $60,000.

"What that tells me is, somebody's buying market share," Pickens said.

The oilman failed last month in an attempt to land a board seat in a Japanese company in which his firm holds a 26 percent interest.

"We have an economic injustice going on. The American people know it and they are fed down," Pickens said.

Pickens also said that the average Japanese citizen is becoming wise to the fact that his 14-hour-a-day, six-day workweek undermines a standard of living falsely depicted as being superior to that of U.S. workers.

The patience of Japanese workers is wearing thin and they can not much longer be expected to "work themselves to death" in the name of post-World War II sacrifice.

Pickens spoke at a meeting of the Gulf Coast Council of Boy Scouts of America at a program honoring James C. "Jimmy" Storm, a Corpus Christi Scout benefactor and former business associate of Pickens.

The Dallas oilman, who is continuing to push for board representation on the Koito Manufacturing Co. in Tokyo, said he was appalled during the company's board meeting last month when Japanese company executives not only limited his recognition from the floor, but hurled abuse and epithets at the American delegation.

"They actually called us 'SOBs,' called us bastards," Pickens said. "They said: 'America has lost the economic war. You're stupid people.'"

If the Japanese government allowed the U.S. to compete fairly in Japanese markets, the U.S. trade deficit could be eliminated, Pickens said.

Suspect killed during chase

DALHART, Texas (AP) — A South Dakota man suspected of stealing $10 worth of gasoline was killed after a 40-minute chase with police when he rammed a tractor-trailer truck, authorities said.

Robert Theodore Mayer, 42, of Sioux Falls, S.D., was killed when his sedan struck the truck Tuesday night about 31 miles southwest of Dalhart on U.S. Highway 54, authorities said.

Mayer was suspected of stealing the gasoline from a station in a neighboring county.

A state Department of Public Safety trooper tried to pull over Mayer. But Mayer instead sped up to about 75 mph, said trooper Ben Urbanczyk.

Mayer left the highway and traveled on several dirt roads south of Dalhart before re-entering U.S. 54, and forcing Urbanczyk's patrol car into a ditch.

Mayer also veered into an oncoming lane, forcing a truck into a ditch, before crashing.

Urbanczyk told the Amarillo Globe-News that Mayer had ample money in his billfold to pay for the gas.

Mayer was scheduled to appear at a preliminary court hearing in Mitchell, S.D., Thursday on charges of simple assault and making a false bomb report.

Ronald James Frische, 25, of Dalhart, the driver of the truck that Mayer rammed, was treated for minor knee injuries at Coon Memorial Hospital in Dalhart and later released.

Hartley County Justice of the Peace Yvonne Whiteaker ordered an autopsy.

Dalhart is 90 miles northwest of Amarillo in West Texas.

Clements says Williams will win race

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements has gazed into his political crystal ball. He likes what he sees.

"I think Clayton Williams is the clear leader right now, without any question whatsoever," says Texas' only Republican governor this century. "He will be the next governor, in my opinion."

Clements said Williams' early lead over Democrat Ann Richards in opinion polls, combined with a relatively small number of undecided voters, would help the GOP candidate win November's election.

"The people of Texas, in a historic sense, seem to have consolidated their views and made their mind up. There's only about a 10 or 11 percentage point undecided vote out there. I can't even remember where this has been the situation before," Clements said Thursday.

"I think Clayton Williams is just doing great. I'm going to help him every way I can. He has maintained his poll lead over a long period of time and it's rock solid."

Elected in 1978 and 1986, Clements is the only Republican to hold the Texas governor's office since Reconstruction. He said he based his prediction on several opinion polls, along with a preview he received of Williams' campaign strategy.

Clements also discounts what some suggest is "foot-in-mouth disease" — the frequency with which Williams makes highly controversial remarks, including an admission that he patronized prostitutes as a young man.

"I don't think there's any problem whatsoever," the governor said. "He's a great candidate."

But Clements did say it is too early to say whether a Williams victory would help other Republicans capture offices this fall. If Williams wins big, however, Clements said that would be good news for other GOP candidates.

"If it's a very narrow race, and I'm talking about a 51 percent (majority) race, I don't think he will have coattails ... If the win is in the magnitude of the 55, 56 (percent) range, there will be coattails," he said.

The governor also said he was glad Vice President Dan Quayle is coming to Texas next week to campaign for two other GOP hopefuls, agriculture commissioner candidate Rick Perry and attorney general nominee J.E. "Buster" Brown.

"I think Dan Quayle is an asset to President Bush and he will be an asset to any of the candidates in Texas with whom he campaigns ... He's welcome any time," Clements said.

Clements said he hoped Ms. Richards would ask the 1988 Democratic presidential candidate, Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis, to campaign for her.

"I hope that Dukakis comes down to help Ann, too ... The more that Dukakis and some of his compatriots on the Democratic side are in Texas, the more I like it," Clements said.

Retail sales up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail sales, bolstered by a big jump in department store sales, shot up 0.5 percent in June, posting the first increase in five months, the government said today.

The Commerce Department said sales rose to a seasonally adjusted $147.82 billion last month, up $784 million from the May sales level.

The June increase came after a string of three consecutive declines, something that had not happened since 1981, during the last recession.

Sheriff, 2 others are charged

PAMPA, Texas (AP) — The Gray County sheriff will be arraigned July 31 on a felony charge of tampering with government documents and three counts of hiring unlicensed deputies.

Sheriff Jimmy Leroy Free, chief deputy Ken Keith and chief jailer Othel Hicks were indicted this week by a grand jury investigating department actions.

County Judge Carl Kennedy said that the indictments stem from an investigation by the Texas Rangers into Free's suspension of three staff members of the Gray County Sheriff's Department in April.

The three will be arraigned in 223rd state District Court, said District Clerk Vicki Walls.

The charge of tampering with government documents alleges that Free tampered with Hicks' law enforcement certification, Ms. Walls said.

The three misdemeanor charges allege Free appointed unlicensed officers James Walker, Carol L. Cobb and Michael A. Lane with the knowledge they lacked approved licenses from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Standards, the Amarillo Globe-News reported.

Keith was indicted on two counts of tampering with government documents and one count of perjury in front of a notary. The tampering charges stem from the alteration of his own high school diploma to represent that of Hicks. The misdemeanor charges stem from perjury in front of notary, when he swore he had nothing to do with altering his diploma, Ms. Walls said.

Hicks was indicted on one count of tampering with governmental records and committing perjury in front of a notary.

Tampering with government documents is a third degree felony punishable by two to 10 years in prison and fines up to $5,000. The hiring of unlicensed deputies and committing perjury in front of a notary are misdemeanors punishable by up to a year in prison and a $1,000 fine.

Keith, Hicks and secretary Sue Matthew were suspended in April amid allegations that Keith altered his own high school diploma to make it look like it was that of the jailer, who never was graduated from high school. Keith resigned from the sheriff's office on Feb. 26.

Waco Baptists may withdraw financial support from SBC

WACO, Texas (AP) — Displeasure over the recent actions of Southern Baptist fundamentalists has led the congregation of First Baptist Church of Waco to take the first steps in what could be the end of the church's financial affiliation with the Southern Baptist Convention.

The Rev. John Wood, pastor of the 139-year-old church attended by Baylor University football coach Grant Teaff and other high-profile Baylor leaders, said Thursday the congregation voted to create a committee on denominational relations.

The committee will make a recommendation to the congregation on whether or not to change the process by which it supports the 24 institutions and agencies affiliated with the SBC, he said.

Wood, who says he has tried to remain neutral in the moderate-fundamentalist controversy that has split the 14 million member denomination, said recent attacks upon the leaders of the Baptist Press and actions taken against the Baptist Joint Committee have forced him to take issue with the fundamentalists.

Moderate and fundamentalist factions have battled for more than a decade over control of the denomination. Both factions claim the Bible is the true word of God. However, moderates allow for error through translations and fundamentalists call for a literal interpretation of the Bible.

The congregation also voted to withhold any future contribution to the SBC cooperative fund until it hears the committee's report. The church had regularly designated 10 percent, or $8,800, of its monthly income to the cooperative fund.

The cooperative fund of the Southern Baptist Convention is the general fund for the financial support of the denomination's affiliated agencies and institutions. Local churches vote to send a portion of their annual proceeds to the state convention. The state convention in turn votes to send a portion of its proceeds to the national organization.

Cooperative fund money pays for the salaries and other expenses of the 24 agencies and institutions, such as the foreign and home missions boards and the denomination's six seminaries. In 1989, churches donated $137 million for the cooperative fund.

"We are moving very prudently," said Wood. "All we have done is that the deacon fellowship discussed the current situation of the denomination. They determined to recommend to the committee on committees to nominate a committee on denominational relations which will study and make recommendations to the church."

Marijuana laws will retain low-priority

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Marijuana laws will remain a low priority in this city of '60s love-ins and leftist politics after anti-pot activists failed in a try at stiffening enforcement.

Black leaders and others this week didn't gather enough signatures for a November ballot measure that would let voters repeal a 1979 law directing police to make marijuana busts their lowest priority.

Opponents of that law argued that it sends youngsters the wrong message about drugs. Proponents contended marijuana does not necessarily lead to harder drugs.

"I think this shows the depth of indifference to any anti-marijuana movement," said Dale Griegeringer, California coordinator of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, or NORML.

"Originally, the ordinance was sort of a declaration of principle that marijuana use was no big deal," he said. "Enforcing marijuana laws is certainly not a priority with the public and certainly not in Berkeley."

Jim Smith, president of the Black Property Owners Association, which led the drive to repeal the law, said he plans another try in 1992.

"Drugs have become a very devastating problem here," he said. "We don't feel we can tell our kids, 'Say no to some drugs, but not to others.'"

Smith and his followers did not make the Tuesday deadline for submitting the required 2,304 signatures to put the initiative on the ballot in this community of 106,000 residents. The city clerk's office said the petition drive fell 222 signatures short.

The 1979 law makes enforcement of marijuana laws the lowest priority for police. It also commits the city to work for legalization and legal, private cultivation of the drug.

About 70 percent of the city's voters approved the ordinance, which grew out of the freewheeling Age of Aquarius typified by Berkeley, a site of anti-war student protests, love-ins, leftist politics and flower power.

"Berkeley was the hallmark of progressive movement in the nation," City Manager Michael Brown said. "I think what has happened, though, is some young liberals have become old conservatives."

U.S. House race...

Cambodian issues crop up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chester Atkins' congressional district in Massachusetts is a long way from Cambodia, but the convoluted politics of the Southeast Asian nation are complicating his re-election race.

The three-term Democrat, a congressional expert on Cambodia, is being criticized on two fronts.

First, his Republican opponent, state Rep. Jack MacGovern, charges that Atkins opened the floodgates for a surge of Cambodian immigrants to the district, putting a drain on local resources.

The district's largest city, Lowell, has roughly 20,000 Cambodian immigrants, second in the United States only to Long Beach, Calif.

At the same time, Atkins is drawing fire from Cambodian refugees because he has tried to block any aid from going to Cambodia. A group of about 100 Cambodians recently staged a protest outside Atkins' Lowell office.

Atkins, 42, is known for helping refugees escape to the United States. He opposes sending financial assistance to Cambodia because he fears it may end up helping the Khmer Rouge, one of the guerrilla groups fighting for control of Phnom Penh.

The Chinese-backed Khmer Rouge were responsible for the genocidal killing of nearly 1 million Cambodians when they ruled the country in the 1970s.

Last month, Atkins led an unsuccessful floor fight to block $7 million in "non-lethal" aid to Cambodian revolutionary forces.

"Atkins is getting hit by both sides up in this city," said MacGovern, 38. "You cannot be surprised when you have certain hostilities arise when all that (non-Cambodians) see is the burden side of it and the fact that they have to hire teachers who speak Cambodian."

Atkins bitterly accuses MacGovern of waving the flag of racism and fostering resentment of the Cambodian immigrants.

MacGovern has "fallen in with...people who have really played to the very darkest instincts and fears that people have," the congressman said.

Atkins denies that he has encouraged Cambodians to come to Lowell, saying that they were attracted by jobs in the working-class city. Once the city's Cambodian community was established, it served as a magnet to other immigrants, he said.

He defends his interest in foreign policy, particularly his efforts to encourage Cambodians to find a peaceful solution to their political problems. If Cambodia is stable, many refugees from Lowell could return to their homeland, he says.

MacGovern says he's pro-Lowell, not anti-Cambodian.

"A lot of people feel that the city has been left alone and has not received enough help," MacGovern said. "My position is there ought to be federal impact aid for a city like Lowell."

Atkins acknowledges "widespread anger and resentment" to the Cambodian population in Lowell, but he insists he has made sure the city received $1.7 million in extra federal help in the last 18 months.

With fewer than 2,000 of Lowell's Cambodians registered to vote, they will have little say in deciding the election.

Attorneys near agreement

DALLAS (AP) — As soon as minor technical changes are made, a Dallas museum apparently will get the go-ahead to take temporary custody of medieval art treasures that were taken from Germany during World War II.

Once at the Dallas Museum of Art, the trove would be put on public display for the first time in 45 years, officials said.

Attorneys for an East German church and the heirs of a Texas soldier accused of stealing the art spent Thursday ironing out details in an agreement to allow the museum to store the disputed items while a court decides upon ownership.

"From my perspective we're through," said attorney Randal Mathis, who represents the heirs of Lt. Joe T. Meador of Whitewright, a town about 60 miles northeast of Dallas.

A Lutheran church, Stiftskirche-Domgemeinde of Quedlinburg, contends Meador stole the trove in the closing days of World War II while his unit was guarding a mine shaft where the artwork was hidden. Meador died in 1980, leaving the treasure to his brother, Jack Meador, and his sister, Jane Meador Cook.

The items, gifts to the church from Germany's first kings, are considered priceless for their historical value.

Mathis said he and Allen Harris, an attorney for the Quedlinburg church, probably would be ready today for U.S. District Judge Sidney Fitzwater's signature on the agreement allowing the Dallas Museum of Art to take temporary custody of the treasures and begin displaying them.

Mathis said attorneys were haggling over details such as insurance and transportation for the treasures.

"We were very pleased with the basic agreement and proposal from the museum," Mathis said Thursday. "It's positive in the sense that it provides security for the items until we resolve the lawsuit. For that reason we're very pleased."

Attorneys representing the church did not return a phone call from The Associated Press on Thursday.

Monday, Fitzwater ordered the heirs and the church to agree on a facility to store the items until the case is settled.

The heirs claim to have only several of the 14 treasures sought by the church.

The Meadors say they have a 9th- or 10th-century wooden reliquary of German's second king, Henry I, decorated with silver, gold, ivory and precious stones; a jeweled ivory-and-gold comb of Henry I; a Byzantine rock-crystal flask; four small reliquaries in the form of turrets; and a small reliquary in the form of a heart.

The artwork has been stored recently in safe deposit boxes in two bank vaults in Whitewright and Dallas.

Fools ruff in; the wise wait

By James Jacoby

Too bad that East-West could make three hearts, and here they were defending against two spades. But what they could do in hearts went by the wayside. The responsibility of East was to defend two spades so that his side got a plus score if possible. And West at least got off to a good start with the lead of the king of diamonds.

When a second diamond was led, East won the ace and gave West a ruff. Later East made tricks with his black aces, but that was still eight tricks — two spades made by South. Did something go wrong?

East had a chance to beat the contract. He should play for South to hold three or four clubs. After winning the ace of diamonds, East should not be in a rush to give West his ruff. Instead East should now shoot back ace and a club. Upon winning the ace of spades, he will then give West a ruff, and West will return the favor, letting East take the setting trick by ruffing a club.

Even though West had a minimum raise, he should probably have competed with a three-heart bid. His strong trump support made it highly unlikely that the opponents would double and inflict a nasty penalty, and the general strength of his hand suggested that North-South would make a plus score at two spades.

Little League event halted by wet field

HAMLIN — Bad weather here forced the postponement of Thursday's and Friday's Area II Little League All-Star Tournament.

Snyder was scheduled to play Colorado City in the winners' bracket tonight at 8 p.m. but due to Thursday's rain the contest has been slated for tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Stonewall-Kent was to have faced host Hamlin in Thursday's 6 p.m. battle while the 8 p.m. contest was to have pitted Rotan against Sweetwater.

Both games have been rescheduled for the same times tonight with the losers having their seasons ended.

Snyder advanced to Saturday's third round game with an opening round bye and an 11-4 win over host Hamlin Tuesday night.

Snyder's win came with Lee Idom on the mound and hitting help from Wayne Braziel, Jeff Hobbs and Jeremy House, among others.

Idom went the distance fanning nine Hamlin batters, including the last three outs of the game to take the win.

House and Hobbs furnished offensive punch with RBI doubles in Snyder's decisive six-run fifth inning Tuesday and Braziel pounded a two-run homer.

Colorado City also accepted a bye in the first round before edging Sweetwater, 3-1, in the squad's second game.

The winner of the Snyder-City battle will qualify for the July 17 championship contest in the double elimination tourney.

AL roundup...

Perez no-hits N.Y.

by The Associated Press
When it comes to no-hitters, the Perez family seems to get the short end. They don't lose them, they just can't get them finished.

Melido Perez matched his brother's feat of two years ago when he pitched a rain-shortened, six-inning no-hitter against the New York Yankees on Thursday night. His brother, Pascual, pitched a five-inning no-hitter for Montreal against Philadelphia on Sept. 24, 1988.

"I wanted him to pitch well, but I wanted us to win," said Pascual, who watched Chicago's 8-0 victory from the Yankees' dugout. "Maybe it would have been better if he had pitched a no-hitter and lost."

That's what happened last week to Yankees starter Andy Hawkins (1-7). He held the White Sox hitless on July 1 at Comiskey Park but lost the game 4-0 when Chicago scored four runs in the eighth inning on two walks and three errors.

In other games, Toronto beat California 5-0, Oakland beat Milwaukee 5-3, Cleveland beat Seattle 5-4 and Texas beat Detroit 11-1. Rain postponed Minnesota's game at Baltimore and Kansas City's game at Boston.

Melido Perez (8-7), struck out nine and walked four. The closest the Yankees came to a hit was with two outs in the fifth inning when Alvaro Espinoza hit a high drive to right-center field. Center fielder Lance Johnson made a running, one-handed catch.

Rangers 11, Tigers 7
Ruben Sierra matched a career-high five RBIs.

Kevin Brown, Craig McMurtry and Jamie Moyer combined on a six-hitter for the Rangers. Brown (11-6) gave up six hits in seven innings and struck out five.

Jack Morris (8-10), who pitched a one-hitter in his last start, gave up seven runs and eight hits in 4 1-3 innings. Sierra had a three-run homer and a two-run double.

Blue Jays 5, Angels 0
Fred McGriff homered twice, giving him seven in his last 12 games, and David Wells (7-2) allowed five hits in eight innings.

Kirk McCaskill (6-6) lasted only 3 2-3 innings.

Athletics 5, Brewers 3
Mike Moore went over .500 for the first time this season and Jose Canseco put the Athletics ahead with a two-run single in the fourth inning.

Moore (8-7) allowed six hits in eight-plus innings, walked six and struck out three.

Ted Higuera (6-3) retired the first nine batters but was knocked out after 4 1-3 innings, six hits and four runs.

Indians 5, Mariners 4
Mitch Webster hit a two-run double as visiting Cleveland rallied with two outs in the ninth.

With the Indians trailing 4-3, Mike Schooler (1-1) walked Carlos Baerga and Jerry Browne with two outs and Webster doubled down the left-field line just past a diving Edgar Martinez at third.

Rudy Seanez (2-1) got the victory by getting two outs in the eighth.

UA may stay in SWC

"It's a strong possibility", says AD Broyles

GRAPEVINE, Texas (AP) — Talk in the Southwest Conference about aggressively pursuing a playing alliance or even a merger with the Big Eight and other conferences is causing the University of Arkansas to have second thoughts about a proposed move to the Southeastern Conference.

Razorbacks athletic director Frank Broyles emerged from a meeting of SWC faculty representatives on Thursday with nothing but praise for the league's rough roadmap for the 1990s.

Asked if there is still a possibility that Arkansas will remain in the SWC rather than accept an invitation from the SEC, Broyles said: "It's not just a possibility we'll stay. It's a strong possibility."

Representatives from all nine

SWC schools met for six hours in a hotel at the Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport and hammered out possible options to increase attendance at sporting events.

Arkansas and two other schools being courted by the SEC — Texas and Texas A&M — have sounded the need for a more lucrative TV football contract.

Among the possibilities the SWC are considering are scuttling the conference's round-robin schedule so teams could arrange games with opponents that would be more attractive for television and fans.

SWC commissioner Fred Jacoby said in looking at expansion, the league has no specific number of new teams in mind "but it will be a significant number."

"We discussed the possibility of expansion of the conference. There has been some interaction between our conference and other institutions and our conference and other conferences," said SWC president Dr. James Vick, the faculty representative of the University of Texas.

"I won't say specifically which schools or which conferences. All of these items are under active consideration and will be pursued as we go into the next couple of months," he said.

The Dallas Morning News quoted several SWC sources as indicating the league would pursue a playing alliance or merger with the Big Eight, and perhaps a playing alliance with the Western Athletic Conference.

Individual schools mentioned as expansion candidates have been Oklahoma, Tulane, Texas-El Paso and Tulsa.

Jacoby noted that Arkansas was an active participant in Thursday's discussions and was supportive of the suggestions which were set forth and which now will be put before league presidents, who meet next week in Dallas.

Rookie Gardner nabs victory

by The Associated Press
Montreal rookie Mark Gardner's third shutout of the season wasn't as easy as it seemed.

First, Gardner had to wait out a rain delay of one hour and three minutes at Fulton County Stadium. The rain went away but the heat and humidity stayed. But when the game was over, Gardner had a four-hitter and a 3-0 win over Atlanta.

"Mentally, it was one of my best games, but the heat got to me for the first few innings," Gardner said.

He also struck out 10 and walked none to improve to 6-4.

Elsewhere in the NL it was Pittsburgh 4, San Diego 3 in 15 innings; Los Angeles 6, Chicago 3; Houston 7, Philadelphia 4; San Francisco 4, St. Louis 2; and New York and Cincinnati split a doubleheader. The Mets won the opener 10-3 and the Reds the nightcap, 3-2.

Marquis Grissom and Tim Lincecum opened the top of the seventh with singles off Atlanta starter Tom Glavine (5-6) and Tim Wallach followed with his 14th homer.

Astros 7, Phillies 4
Rookie Javier Ortiz borrowed teammate's Eric Anthony's bat, hit his first major league homer and drove in three runs.

Ortiz, who had 25 at-bats since being called up from Tucson on June 13, got his first major league RBI with a first-inning double and put Houston ahead with his homer in the third.

Golf pro Stewart dies

DALLAS (AP) — Earl Stewart, who in 1961 became the first host pro in PGA history to win a tour event on his home course, has died at age 68.

The former golf coach at Southern Methodist University died Wednesday after a long illness.

In the 1961 Dallas Open, while working at Oak Cliff Country Club, Stewart edged Arnold Palmer and Gay Brewer by one shot. That victory earned Stewart an invitation to the 1962 Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, where he finished third behind Palmer and Billy Casper.

An accomplished player, Stewart won the first two Texas high school golf championships, in 1937 and 1938 at Dallas Sunset High School.

He became SMU's first full-time golf coach in 1975 when he took over both the men's and women's teams. His top men's player was Payne Stewart, no relation, who became one of golf's top money-winners. He coached the men until 1980 and the women until 1987.

During his 12-year tenure as women's coach, Stewart produced a national championship team in 1979 and a Southwest Conference title in 1986, as well as six All-America golfers.

He is survived by his wife, Dot, and two sons, Chip and Mark. Funeral services are scheduled for 1 p.m. Monday at Sparkman-Hillcrest in Dallas.

Hunt for Zodiac killer fails to draw out suspect

NEW YORK (AP) — A police dragnet based on astrological research failed to turn up the Zodiac killer and cost the city as much as $30,000 in overtime for undercover officers sent out as decoy prey.

"Maybe he read in the papers that we were beefing up," Chief of Detectives Joseph Borrelli said Thursday after the all-night hunt.

"I'm happy he didn't shoot anyone. I'm not happy we haven't caught him yet," Police Commissioner Lee P. Brown said.

Investigators activated "Operation Watchdog" because they feared the gunman would strike according to a 21-day, Thursday pattern he has followed over four months in attacks on four people.

In another prominent New York crime spree, police arrested a 33-year-old man with a history of psychiatric problems as a suspect in the "Dartman" dart-blowing attacks.

In the past few weeks, 55 well-dressed women have reported being jabbed by homemade darts in the buttocks, legs and arms as they walked down streets, mostly in midtown Manhattan.

Of the "Night of the Zodiac," Borrelli refused to say how many officers scoured the city in search of the gunman, who said in letters to police and news organizations that he chooses his victims by their astrological signs.

All four of the Zodiac's victims, including one who died, were shot on Thursday nights between midnight and dawn.

classified as regular teachers. These would include aides, secretaries, maintenance, administrators, central office workers and others. Exempt from the increase will be Keith Gentry, assistant transportation director; Charlene Light, high school counselor; and Ray Courtney, North Elementary principal.

Trustees also approved a $2,000 supplement for Lawton Taylor, maintenance and transportation director; a $500 increase for Kellye Starnes, junior high counselor; a $500 increase for Margaret Presswood, assistant principal at junior high; a $500 increase for Barbara Granato, director of special programs; and a $710 increase for Gary Patterson, junior high school principal.

Total amount of the increases is about $70,000.

In five personnel re-assignments, the board okayed the transfer of Deborah Judah, from fourth grade at West to librarian at East and Northeast; Vanessa Taylor, from fifth grade at Central to fifth grade at Northeast; Elaine Byrd, from fifth grade at Northeast to fifth grade at Central; Irene Masters, from fourth grade at West to English at the high school; and Clovis Brown, from fifth grade at East to industrial arts at the junior high.

The district's report on out-of-district transfers indicates that 80 students transferred into the district for the 1989-90 school year but only 60 are expected to transfer in for the 1990-91 year. Some 16 of these students were from the Hobbs ISD, however, which recently dissolved.

The report also shows that there will be more students transferring out of the district in 1990-91 — 68 — as compared to 60 last year.

Summer purchases to be paid from the 1990-91 budget total $20,641.51. Of that, a little over $13,000 is from the high school, including $5,300 for shop lathes and sander repair, $5,000 for instructional and administrative supplies and $1,900 for cheerleading supplies. Almost $3,500 is from the junior high library and $2,200 from Central Elementary.

The eligibility income scale for lunches ranges on an annual income basis of $0-$8,164 based on a family of one to $0-$27,638 for a family of eight, for free meals. Those eligible for reduced-price meals include those earning from $8,164-$11,618 based on a family of one to $27,638-$39,331 based on a family of eight.

There are provisions for families of more than eight members, as well as guidelines based on monthly and weekly incomes.

Board members present included Luann Burleson, Ann Walton, Mike Jordan, Terry Martin, Sam Robertson and Billy Bob McMullan. Absent was Glen Clarady.

Three minor wrecks, three PI arrests occur here Thursday

Three minor wrecks and three arrests for public intoxication led police activity for the 24-hour period starting at 7 a.m. Thursday.

At 9:20 a.m. in the 3200 Block of Ave. I, a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Guadalupe Mundoz of Rt. 3, Snyder, was in collision with a 1989 Pontiac driven by Billie Alvarado of 604 32nd St.

At 4:31 p.m. in the Lawrence IGA parking lot, a 1988 Chevrolet driven by Paula Martin Rodriguez of Rt. 2, Snyder, was in collision with a parked 1990 Chevrolet owned by Charlotte Davis of Abilene.

At 6:18 p.m. in the 1700 Block of Cogdell Blvd., a 1978 Ford driven by Emile Favreau of Rt. 2, Snyder, was in collision with a parked 1985 Oldsmobile owned by Martha Neeley of 2303 42nd St.

There were no injuries as a result of the three mishaps, and damage to all vehicles was minor.

At 3:02 p.m., C. W. Carlan of 507 28th St. reported a case of criminal mischief. Sometime Wednesday night, someone had entered his garden and cracked four watermelons. He requested a close patrol.

Officers were called to The Texan Restaurant at 6:55 p.m. Thursday where four subjects were involved in a disturbance. However, the four had left the scene before officers arrived.

At 6:20 p.m., Julie Williams told police officers that she had lost, or perhaps had had $300 stolen. She said she last had it at Long John Silver's.

The first arrest for public intoxication came at 9:37 p.m. in the 2400 Block of 26th St. Arrested was a 35-year-old female.

At 1:50 a.m., officers were called to the 1500 Block of Ave. I where the caller reported that a subject would not leave the residence. A 28-year-old male and a 27-year-old female were arrested for public intoxication.

Officers were called to another disturbance in the 1200 Block of 20th St., but the subjects had left the area.

The department received two calls concerning reckless drivers and two complaints of harassing telephone calls.

The police department received three calls from employees of Cogdell Hospital about a woman staying around the hospital and possibly sleeping in an empty room. Officers were unable to locate the woman.

Campbell likes small town ministry

By Missy Trull
SDN Staff Writer

He's laid back and easy going — so the rural location of Fluvanna suits him just fine.

"It's hard for people to comprehend rural life...nobody gets in a hurry for anything," said Don Campbell, minister of Fluvanna Church of Christ.

His love for the rural lifestyle and the community of Fluvanna has helped keep Campbell there for his 13-year ministerial career.

"When I got here (Fluvanna), my goal was to become a part of the community, and I feel like I've accomplished that goal," said Campbell who is also a member of Fluvanna's Volunteer Fire Department.

"It seems as though whenever someone needs marrying or burying out there, I'm in on it," he said.

Yes, Campbell is a part of the community indeed because with his store, Don's Repair and Supply, he makes up roughly one-fifth of the commercial business in the rural community of approximately 200.

There is no doubt that he is proud to be from Fluvanna. "Everywhere I go I meet somebody who had lived or known someone who has lived in Fluvanna," he said noting that he has traveled all over the southwest.

Campbell admits that he hates to come to "town" (Snyder), and rarely does if he can get his wife, Freda, to instead.

If you are looking for the rural minister, you needn't bother trying the church office. "I haven't spent more than a half a day in the office in 10 years," he said. "My office is where the people are."

So he can likely be found at his store, in someone's living room or on a tractor.

If the rural way of life is his first love, then traveling must be his second because Campbell said that someday he wouldn't mind traveling around the country to preach at a different town each week. "That way, I wouldn't have to have more than one or two good sermons," he joked.

Campbell might be labeled a late bloomer. He decided he wanted a career in the ministry at the age of 35, just eight months after being baptized.

He said his father, who is a Baptist minister, had no problem accepting that his son became a minister of another faith.

In fact, Campbell explains, if it had not been for the care packages sent by his family while he attended preaching school, "We may not have made it."

Campbell and Freda have two daughters — Brandi and her husband, Roy, live in Las Vegas with their daughter, Bridgette, and Casey who will be a freshman at Snyder High School this fall.

Study: some memories are the same

NEW YORK (AP) — Elderly people remember as well as young people to do tasks like stopping to buy milk on the way home, says a new study that surprised memory experts.

The result appeared in two laboratory tests of prospective memory, which involves remembering to carry out a task at the right time.

Prospective memory is important for older adults who must remember to take medications and show up for medical appointments, but research has not clearly shown whether it declines with age, co-authors of the new study wrote.

The new results were unexpected because some other kinds of memory worsen with age, and "some of the prominent theories in the area suggest that this kind of memory ought to be especially difficult for the elderly," said study co-author Gilles Einstein.

Tourism committee meets

White agreed concerning the importance of AJRA business saying her motel is able to operate for three months from the business brought in by the event.

Almost everyone in attendance echoed the feeling that losing the AJRA event would be a significant blow to the economic climate. Perkins said it would create a "domino effect."

Dennis and Blanche Chisum of Willow Park Inn, Art Feinsod of the Purple Sage Motel and White agreed to meet with the AJRA committee and work out problems through the local rodeo committee.

Feinsod then voiced his dissatisfaction with the job being done by specific leaders of the chamber. Chamber President Fran Farmer suggested that those with complaints submit them to the chamber board in writing so that they may be considered. Feinsod and White said they would file complaints.

Shirley Lettwich, director of the Scurry County Museum, presented the committee with a breakdown of out-of-town visitors to the museum. The breakdown, taken from a month at random, showed that the museum hosted visitors from dozens of Texas cities and communities, 10 states and Japan.

Addressing the entire group, Lettwich said that because of the tax rollback, the museum is in need of $2,300 and urged support for the museum noting the tourism impact the community receives from the museum.

In what turned into almost a two-hour meeting, the committee adjourned shortly before noon.

McBirney released on recognizance

DALLAS (AP) — The executive once known as "Fast Eddie" for his flamboyant deals and lifestyle had little to say as he appeared in federal court on charges stemming from efforts to secure a $700 million loan.

"Yes, your honor," a subdued Edwin T. McBirney III answered as U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders asked if he understood the charges and his rights on Thursday.

"I'll let my attorney speak for me," McBirney, the former head of Sunbelt Savings Association of Texas, repeated later when reporters asked his reaction to Wednesday's indictment on 17 counts of bank fraud, misapplication of funds, false entries and making false statements to regulators.

"In was a sobering day," said lawyer Paul Coggins, who Wednesday called the indictment "a typical case of government overkill."

He said McBirney will plead innocent to the charges.

If convicted, McBirney could be sentenced to 85 years in prison and fined $4.25 million.

Arraignment was set for July 19 before U.S. District Judge Robert Maloney, who will hear the case.

Sanders released McBirney, 37, on his recognizance, after ordering him to surrender his passport and not travel outside Texas without permission.

The indictment, returned by one of three Dallas grand juries investigating bank and thrift fraud, centers on an attempt by McBirney to secure a $700 million loan for Sunbelt subsidiary Sun Cal to buy property in California.

McBirney is accused of guaranteeing Western Savings Association a $6 million profit on the sale of any property of its choosing in return for Western providing $30 million in financing to Sun Cal.

The indictment claims McBirney then falsified records at Sunbelt to hide the arrangements from regulators.

Washington Today...

Bush doesn't think he's soft on China

WASHINGTON (AP) — Except when asked about his son Neil's business problems or his own relaxed view of global warming, President Bush is rarely as agitated as when he is challenged on his policy toward China.

"The pressure is still on," he said during the Houston economic summit.

AP analysis

Having served a one-year stint as head of the U.S. liaison office — before there were formal diplomatic relations and full-fledged ambassadors — Bush fancies himself an expert on the complex land that has perplexed Westerners for centuries.

He doesn't appreciate being questioned about his moves on China, and especially resents the widely held notion that he is soft on Beijing.

"They are wrong," was Bush's answer this week to those who detected a double standard in supporting loans to China but opposing more than technical assistance to the Soviet Union.

Yet when it comes to China, Bush is feeling his way, lurching from respectful deference to the leaders of the world's most populous country to criticism of their record on human rights.

Universal disgust with the brutal treatment of pro-democracy forces in Beijing in June 1989 drove Bush into sanctions that he was reluctant to impose.

He then joined leaders of the seven industrial democracies who in July 1989 adopted a declaration freezing most loans to China and offering extended visas to Chinese students.

But that same month, without any sign of change in China, Bush undercut his own sanctions by secretly dispatching Brent Scowcroft, his national security adviser, and Lawrence Eagleburger, the deputy secretary of state, to Beijing for high-level talks.

At the Houston summit, Bush joined in giving Japan a free hand to resume a $5.6 billion loan program to China. Also, the seven democracies authorized the World Bank to consider other loans.

At a news conference, Bush said those actions did not mean the sanctions imposed in Paris had been lifted. The loans the World Bank will consider deal with the environment and with promoting reform in China, he said.

"We have offered the hope that if they take further steps in the human rights field, more can be done," the president said.

Bush's next test on China will come in Congress.

In May, responding to urgent appeals from Beijing, he extended for a year what is called most-favored-nation status. That means imports from China are not priced out of the market with artificially high U.S. tariffs.

Congress has until Aug. 31 to pass a resolution disapproving the decision. At stake is $18 billion a year in U.S.-China trade.

Meanwhile, the House Appropriations and Banking committees have passed legislation to deduct the U.S. share of any World Bank loans to China that are not made on the basis of basic human needs.

The outcome will depend on whether Congress can figure out where Bush stands on China and if that stand is considered tough enough.

When fear no longer binds, President Bush succeeded by persuading others

HOUSTON (AP) — In the midst of furious negotiations at the seven-nation Houston summit, the Europeans balked at U.S. pressure to yield on farm subsidies. The White House negotiators finessed the moment and it passed.

"The Europeans were being critical, but in fact they were complimenting President Bush. They kept saying that this is the least pushy of the White House administrations in many years," said a Canadian official who recounted the moment.

"Bush is exactly suited to bridging the gap by persuasion," the official said.

At the Houston meeting this ability proved crucial.

The U.S. president met this week with the leaders of the other major industrialized democracies in radically changed circumstances.

The Cold War, which for decades kept the militarily mighty United States as the undisputed leader of the West, is over.

And gone, too, is America's once unquestioned economic dominance.

For Bush it amounted to a unique challenge: would the others still accord the United States a pre-eminent role, and would they still feel they need Washington in quite the same way?

At the end of three-day meeting with the leaders of Canada, Japan, West Germany, France, Britain and Italy, the answer appeared to be an unqualified yes, despite the subtly changing dynamics.

The Europeans, apart from Britain's unswervingly pro-American Margaret Thatcher, are often prickly about U.S. muscle. But they were full of praise this time.

West Germany, whose dominance in Europe is soon to be enhanced in a united Germany, bowed gracefully to U.S.

rejection of its urgings for direct financial assistance now to the Soviet Union.

"George Bush continues to be the most reliable friend the Germans have," said Hans Klein, spokesman for West German

Civil rights bill for handicapped approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate gave final congressional approval today to legislation guaranteeing a full range of civil rights for disabled Americans. The measure now goes to President Bush, who is expected to sign it.

The Senate passed the bill 91-6 a day after the House approved it 377-28, culminating two years of legislative efforts.

The measure guarantees the nation's estimated 43 million disabled people access to jobs, transportation, telephone service and stores, restaurants, shopping malls and other public accommodations.

Bush earlier this year urged Congress to speed passage of the bill, which has been called the most significant piece of civil rights legislation since the 1964 act that guaranteed rights for blacks and other racial minorities.

Voting against the legislation were Sens. Christopher S. Bond, R-Mo.; Sens. Jake Garn, R-Utah, Jesse Helms, R-N.C., Gordon Humphrey, R-N.H., Steve Symms, R-Idaho, and Malcolm Wallop, R-Wyo.

Not voting were Sens. Jay Rockefeller, D-W.Va.; James A.

McClure, R-Idaho, and Alan K. Simpson, R-Wyo.

The vote followed a brief debate that included a speech in sign language by Sen. Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, the chief Senate sponsor of the bill.

Harkin paid the silent tribute to his deaf brother. Harkin later explained, "I wanted to say to my brother Frank that today was my proudest day in 16 years in Congress."

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said the bill "ensures that millions of men and women and children can look forward to the day when they will be judged by the strength of their abilities, not misconceptions about their disabilities."

"It is a comprehensive piece of legislation that will have a dramatic impact not only on the disabled but on the consciousness of America as well," Rep. Steny Hoyer, D-Md., the lead House sponsor of the bill, said after the House vote.

Hoyer added that Bush "will be ecstatic to sign this bill with the largest possible crowd he can invite."

Bush has vetoed other major domestic legislation — minimum wage and family medical leave.

Chancellor Helmut Kohl.

"But someone like Helmut Kohl understands that his actions sometimes have to be guided by different considerations from ours."

And Japan, which has already replaced the United States as the world's largest creditor country, said Bush showed at Houston that America can lead by persuasion.

"He is showing himself to be very, very competent and has an ability to be very considerate to the feelings of other nations," said Japanese Foreign Ministry spokesman Taizo Watanabe.

The summit had its sticky moments. There was tough talking to find a compromise between American demands for a real commitment to cut agricultural subsidies and European resistance.

West Germany wanted to go a lot farther than the United States on environmental measures. And while Britain, Japan and Canada lined up with the United States on the Soviet aid issue, West Germany, France and Italy had strong opposing views.

"There were real breakthroughs that I wouldn't have thought possible a week ago," said the Canadian official, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

"And much of this was due to George Bush. He gives the impression of being an erudite Ivy League professor. He is very well-briefed, seldom speaks from notes, and uses logic and argument, not strongarm."

"George Bush's chairmanship was very relaxed," said British Foreign Secretary Douglas Hurd. "It's been very clear-headed and conciliatory."

School rules changes mullied

Gillespie said he would include academic penalties if the board desired but not, "Personally I think 30 points is too much..."

"I have a real problem disciplining them twice — once by ISS and another time saying, 'now we're going to (also) take 30 points,'" said Trustee Terry Martin.

The ISS penalty was discussed as to number of days, with the majority of trustees first appearing to favor 15 days. Following an unrelated executive meeting, however, Trustee Billy Bob McMullan noted, "I think 10 days is enough. And if he does it (the infraction) again, then I'm for throwing the book at him."

As proposed by Gillespie, expulsion proceedings would be implemented with the second offense.

Some trustees questioned whether ISS is effective but Gillespie assured them, "It is an incarceration. There is no other way to say it. If they are in ISS, they are monitored. They don't leave. They eat at the school. They participate in no school activities. If they are under ISS but are sick and can't be at school, then they make that day up."

In other discussion concerning the handbook, trustees seemed to favor allowing students to wear the longer-type shorts such as bermuda shorts, walking shorts and "skorts" which are the type of longer skirt-length split shorts.

"If they (trustees) approve this, it will send a message to the kids that says 'we're listening to what you have to say and we're responding,'" Gillespie said afterward.

Also discussed were tougher penalties for tardiness, further discipline guidelines, homework and report cards. Trustees also advised Gillespie to divide the alphabetized handbook into divisions or chapters which they felt would be easier to follow.

The board took no action on the handbook Thursday, but may address the topic again as early as Tuesday. A special meeting and budget workshop have been called for 12:30 p.m. and Gillespie said he may present a more finalized version of the handbook at that time.

Hermleigh water system

When asked why an engineer needs to study the system when they already know that problems exist, Howard explained that in Hermleigh's case no original plans exist for the present water system. She said the engineer consulted about Hermleigh's water problems, David Todd of Abilene, needs an exact blueprint of the water system so that the correct repairs can be made. Without such a study, she said it would be possible for some of the problems to be overlooked which could result in citizens being unhappy that all the problems weren't resolved.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin also suggested that an advisory board for the Hermleigh Water Works be created so that it could act as the liaison between the commissioners and the community of Hermleigh.

The commissioners and a majority of Hermleigh residents favored this suggestion. Goodwin said he would have to check to make sure such a board would be legal and that if it is then the item will be put on the agenda for the commissioners meeting one week from Monday. This Monday would not have been possible because the deadline for placing items on the agenda was Thursday.

The city's application for the planning grant is due Aug. 28.

Many Hermleigh residents were unhappy that the county was unwilling to pay for half of the cost of the planning study as well as the other $25,000 which may be needed a year or so from now.

Commissioner C.D. Gray Jr. explained that no county funds were going to be used to repair the Hermleigh system since none were used for the Union, Ira or Fluvanna systems. He said it was the court's intention that the Hermleigh Water Works System support itself.

When the time comes, Gray said he had no objection to the court borrowing the $25,000 and having Hermleigh pay back the loan from funds accrued in the water works account because this is the way the court has dealt with other communities in the county.

Residents were also told that Union, Ira and Fluvanna residents were paying double the water rates that Hermleigh is now being assessed. Hermleigh pays $8 per month for the first 2,000 gallons. Union, Ira and Fluvanna pay about twice that amount.

It was noted that some Hermleigh residents might not be hurt by a water rate increase, but that people on fixed incomes might find it hard to come up with even a few more dollars each month. It was said that if the court can appoint an advisory board, coming up with suggestions for a new rate structure could be one its first duties.

Preacher of the Good Book Can't Be Judged by Cover

DEAR ABBY: Some time ago, you ran a wonderful article about a group of church people who were looking for a new pastor, but couldn't decide on which one to choose. Then they came across an application from a man who admitted having been in jail, never having stayed in one place for longer than three years, and causing a lot of trouble wherever he had been. I can't remember the rest of it, but it had a very good message. Will you please run it again?

JESSIE JOHNSON, THORNFIELD, MO.

DEAR JESSIE: I recall the letter well. It was submitted by the Rev. C.W. Kirkpatrick, Union Church of Christ, Ludlow, Mass.

I gave permission to hundreds of people who wanted to include it in their church bulletins. And here's the letter:

DEAR ABBY: One of the toughest tasks a church faces is choosing a good minister. A member of an official board undergoing this painful process finally lost patience. He'd watched the Pastoral Relations Committee reject applicant after applicant for some fault, alleged or otherwise. It was time for a bit of soul-searching on the part of the committee. So he stood up and read a letter purporting to be from another applicant.

"Gentlemen: Understanding your pulpit is vacant, I should like to apply for the position. I have many qualifications. I've been a preacher with much success and also have had some success as a writer. Some say I'm a good organizer. I've been a leader most places I've been.

"I'm over 50 years of age. I have never preached in one place for more than three years. In some places I have left town after my work caused riots and disturbances. I must admit I have been in jail three or four times, but not because of any real wrongdoing.

"My health is not too good, though I still get a great deal done. The churches I have preached in have been small, though located in several large cities.

"I've not gotten along well with religious leaders in towns where I have preached. In fact, some have threatened me and even attacked me physically. I am not too good at keeping records. I have been known to forget whom I have baptized.

"However, if you can use me, I shall do my best for you."

The board member looked over the committee. "Well, what do you think? Shall we call him?"

The good church folks were aghast. Call an unhealthy, trouble-making, absent-minded ex-jailbird? Was the board member crazy? Who signed the application? Who had such colossal nerve?

The board member eyed them all keenly before he answered. "It's signed, 'the Apostle Paul.'"

DEAR ABBY: Last year, my grandson had open-heart surgery. My son was advised by the doctors to arrange for direct blood donors for the operation. Family members and many friends were more than willing to donate blood, but the majority did not know their own blood type.

Abby, wouldn't it be a good idea to have our blood type on our birth certificate or driver's license? In our case, it would have saved much time and aggravation.

My birth certificate has my father's occupation on it. Who cares? GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: I agree. One's blood type should be carried with a person's identification. I'll bet not one in 1,000 persons knows what his or her blood type is. (I don't know mine.) Readers?

People are eating them up! For Abby's favorite recipes, send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Cookbooklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

AUSTIN (AP) — Republican Clayton Williams says Democratic opponent Ann Richards is slinging "trash" in the governor's race, and Ms. Richards claims Williams is letting women do his political fighting for him.

On Thursday, Williams state co-chairwoman Carole Rylander complained about a fund-raising letter from Democratic National Committee Chairman Ron Brown.

The letter tries to inaccurately compare state Rep. David Duke of Metairie, La., "and his record of racial hatred," to Williams, "and his long-standing commitment to racial harmony," Ms. Rylander said.

Duke, a candidate for a Louisiana U.S. Senate seat, is a founder of the National Association for the Advancement of White People.

Brown's letter also described Williams as a man who jokes about rape, brags about being "serviced" by prostitutes and is an "ardent opponent of a woman's right to choose" abortion.

Williams' election, Brown said, "would be a truly frightening development." Ms. Rylander wrote Brown on Thursday, saying, "You and Ann Richards are the ones who are guilty of introducing a mean and despicable tone into this race and injecting the ugly stain of racism into a Texas political campaign."

"I don't know anything about the (Brown) letter," Ms. Richards said Thursday, but she accused Williams of hiding behind women.

"Clayton Williams is still hiding behind the skirts of various women that he trots out to do his attacks, and I think that if he wants to fight, he really ought to come out, do it personally, and he ought to fight like a man," Ms. Richards told a news conference.

Asked if she thought Williams was a racist, Ms. Richards replied, "No."

A spokesman for the Richards campaign, Glenn Smith, said, "I don't know why they would want to call attention to similarities between Clayton Williams and David Duke, but I'm glad they did."

Williams said criticism is one thing, but when Ms. Richards and the Democrats "begin slinging the same kind of trash at me, like she did to Mark White, I'm not going to stand for it — and I'm not going to forget it."

White, a former governor, lost in the Democratic primary this year after Ms. Richards accused him of profiteering from the office he held in 1983-87. Williams has been urging White to put aside party differences and support him in the general election in November.

"That racism and the innuendo of racism have been injected into this campaign shows me that Richards and the Democrats are out of control," Williams said in a statement. Ms. Richards received the endorsement Thursday of a group of disabled Texans. The group's spokesman, Bob Kafka, said he knew they could count on her "to work with and for us."

Ms. Richards said, "We must work not only to help people with disabilities but to do everything in our power to prevent disabilities."

"When we invest in prevention, we save individuals and families the conce... and hard work that comes with a disabling condition, and in the long haul we save money."

State may intervene if water is not rationed

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Commission will intervene if the Edwards Underground Water District fails to enforce emergency water-rationing measures because of a low water in the Edwards Aquifer, a commission member said.

District directors voted Wednesday to adopt an emergency water rationing plan for Bexar, Comal and Hays counties.

"We will enforce the plan in the counties," said Russell Masters, general manager of the district.

The conservation measures restrict lawn watering and car washing to designated days and prohibit filling hot tubs and swimming pools. Watering of golf courses is prohibited except once every five days on tees and greens.

The plan also bans washing sidewalks, driveways and other impervious surfaces and prohibits inside and outside fountains unless they reuse water.

The emergency plan expires Dec. 31. It was drawn up by the Texas Water Commission under Commissioner John Birdwell's direction.

"We are going to go in there and correct these rules if they are not stringent enough or are not being enforced. Everyone needs to know that," Birdwell said Thursday. "The district ought to make an example of the first violators to prove that they are serious. This is an emergency situation," Birdwell said during a commission meeting.

Board member Cliff Johnson said the board is serious about intending to see that the emergency plan is carried out.
