SISD board approves bids; tables request for secretary

Snyder public schools trustees on Monday okayed bids totaling almost $30,000, approved a core committee to monitor the district's Effective Schools plan and amended the budget to accommodate Hobbs School expenses, but tabled a request to hire an additional secretary at the administration building.

The board also approved a UIL sponsor supplement, gave permission to take bids for roof repair to the administration building and handled several other topics during a two-and-a-half-hour meeting. The meeting began in executive session. No action was taken during the special session, which convened to hear an administrative personnel request.

The request to hire a secretary in the administration building led to the only controversy of the meeting. Addressing the board during opening comments, West Elementary instructor Francene Allen asked trustees to consider several questions, including, what would the new secretary's salary be compared to elementary school secretaries in the system; would the new secretary alleviate any of the workload of secretaries at any of the district campuses; and has the position been offered to any secretaries currently within the system?

When the topic came up as the 13th item on the agenda, the board tabled "for an indefinite period" it without discussion.

The board accepted a bid of $12,800 from Anthony Mechanical Services, Inc. to overhaul the chiller at the high school. Also accepted by the board were bids totaling some $16,685.50 for classroom furniture. Broken down, the board accepted bids from Hoover Brothers of $4,902 for 60 study top desks, $4,595 for 100 open front study desks and $1,252.50 for 30 17½" solid plastic chairs. From Stephens Office Supply, bids were accepted of $2,275 for 100 15½" stacking chairs, $2,375 for 100 17½" stacking chairs, $995 for

SHS band will move across way

Snyder High School's "Pride of the West" band will be seated on the visitor's side of Tiger Stadium, facing the home fans, when the Tigers battle Levelland in a varsity football game Friday night.

SISD Superintendent Dalton Moseley said the move has been made largely so that the elementary-age students can be better supervised. The young children, which have been sitting in the small stands at the south end of the home side, will be moved to the area vacated by the band.

"We think this will allow better supervision of the younger kids, which has been a problem at other games, and we think the fans will enjoy having the band face them," said Moseley.

Moseley said the band will be moved for Friday's game and the final home game, scheduled for Oct. 26.

Turfgrass conference set to open Wednesday

The fourth annual West Texas Turfgrass Conference will be held Wednesday and Thursday at Western Texas College.

A golf tournament for those attending was to begin at 1:30 p.m. today on the college course.

Registration for the conference will be from 8-9 a.m. Wednesday in the Fine Arts Theatre.

The conference will offer sessions dealing with the maintenance of golf courses, lawns, athletic fields and up-to-date reports on research in the turfgrass industry. It is co-sponsored by the West Texas Golf Course Superintendents Association (WTGCSA) and the Western Texas College Golf and Landscape Technology Department.

Registration is $45 for WTGCSA members or $10 for students, including dues. The cost of the conference only is $25.

In compliance with the Texas Department of Agriculture, the conference will offer attendees the opportunity to gain three continuing education units for pesticide applicator licensing.

Four chamber board members nominated

Snyder Chamber of Commerce nominating committee on Monday released a slate of candidates to replace four directors whose terms will be expiring.

Nominees are Bobby Beard, Betty House, Jerry Baird and Nelda Huddleston. Outgoing board members are Gary Landes, Bill Davies, Harry Krenek and Billy Huddleston.

Chamber members will be informed of the committee's selections by mail and will be given the opportunity to petition for other nominees. If no petitions are filed by the November board meeting, the committee's nominees will be approved.

Other discussion during the board meeting centered around various upcoming activities. Board members were reminded of today's 7 p.m. candidate forum at Western Texas College and Saturday's TDCJ Appreciation Day at Scurry County Coliseum.

Larry Schwarz, chairman of the agri-business committee said plans are being formulated for the annual Ag Day, expected to be scheduled sometime in February of 1991. The committee will also meet to discuss goals and public relations for the upcoming year.

The board was advised of a tourism and development meeting scheduled for 10 a.m. (see CHAMBER, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A boy becomes a man when he decides it's more fun to steal a kiss than to steal second base."

A recent study has produced findings to support a long-held theory — vacations are hazardous to your health.

A study of a group of computer center workers concludes that strain on vacation is equal to being on the job. The study said most workers perceived vacation as a time for relaxation. However, anxiety, depression and elevated blood pressure didn't subside while on vacation.

The study concluded, "For many workers, being at home is no picnic." Some see vacations as a form of "imposed disengagement from work."

It added, "It is likely that job stress carries over to vacation time much more than vacation joy spills over to post-vacation work."

If you're determined to be uptight, you might as well stay home and be productive.

Suspect ID'd in funds missing from library

A 23-year-old Snyder woman has been identified as a suspect in the theft of funds missing from Scurry County Library. No charges have been filed, but the case is expected to be presented to the Scurry County grand jury when it meets in November.

The funds in question total $1,955.63, and investigators say the money was taken over a period of about four months, starting in July.

Sheriff's Deputy Kerry Fritz said the missing funds case was reported to the sheriff's office on Thursday after an official in the county treasurer's office and auditor's office became suspicious when going over routine monthly reports. The funds included fees and fines collected by the library.

Mason Warner and Co., the county's outside audit firm, next week will conduct an audit of library funds to determine an exact amount. The audit is expected to take two days.

The suspect is no longer employed by the county. On Monday, the suspect made full restitution of the funds. She had been an employee of the library since July, 1988.

Candidates to speak at forum this evening

Western Texas College is hosting a candidate forum this evening — just one day before in-person absentee voting begins in the Nov. 6 general election.

The public is invited to the forum, set for 7 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

Absentee voting begins in the county clerk's office Wednesday morning and runs through Friday, Nov. 2. Any registered voter may vote by the in-person absentee method.

The format for this evening's forum will allow each candidate to speak. Uncontested candidates will speak first, for about three to five minutes each. Contested candidates will follow, with about a 10-minute time limit. The final county speakers will be Democratic candidate Bobby Goodwin, incumbent for county judge, and his Republican opponent Bob Doolittle. Finishing out the speeches will be incumbent State Rep. David Counts, a Democrat, and Republican challenger John Pennington.

Following all of the speeches, the public will be invited to participate in a question and answer period.

Other contested county offices include Pct. 2 commissioner, which features Democratic incumbent Tommy Pate against Republican Roy L. Idom, and (see CANDIDATES, page 8)

Glenn Tate gins first bale in '90

Glenn Tate of Hermleigh is the first Scurry County farmer to gin his cotton for 1990.

He ginned 16 bales at Inadale Co-op Monday. Ginning continued today. Tate's cotton comes from 2¼ miles north of Hermleigh.

A son, Donald Tate, whose farm is located near his father's place, had ginned some 20 bales also on Monday.

Glenn Tate averaged half a bale to the acre with a 24½ percent turnout for cotton per bale.

Also ginning cotton this week at Inadale is Steve Moore who lives about two miles west of the gin.

According to a brief telephone survey of other gins in the area, no other gin has started receiving cotton as of Tuesday morning.

State Jaycees leader plans visit to Snyder

Texas Jaycees President Jim Murphy will be in Snyder on Wednesday to visit with local chapter members and community leaders.

"He had heard about Snyder and how the chapter is doing here and wanted to come visit with us," said Elida Garza, chapter secretary.

A breakfast has been scheduled for Murphy at 7 a.m. at the Spanish Inn.

The state president also plans to tour Western Texas College, the local financial institutions and possibly Price Daniel Unit.

Murphy was Area III vice president in 1989-90 and IIIB regional manager prior to that. He was also state program manager for the Jaycees holiday rest stops in 1987-88, as well as program manager for Operation Livesaver.

Rudy Garza is the Snyder Jaycees president.

In Brief

SSC funds

DALLAS (AP) — Superconducting super collider supporters are negotiating with Texas officials and Congress to restore $50 million in proposed cuts in the project's 1991 budget, officials said.

"Overall, signs are quite encouraging," Dr. Roy Schwitters, director of the SSC Laboratory in DeSoto, told about 400 scientists gathering in Fort Worth this week. "We'll get them next year."

The project originally was slated to receive about $318 million.

"We just learned about (the proposed cut) Friday, so we haven't assessed all the impacts," Schwitters said.

Local

Grid contest

Two members of the same family had four misses each to garner first and second prizes in last week's SDN Football Contest, with the tie-breaker separating their two entries.

Frank McCravey of 4101 Avondale won the first place $50, and Joe McCravey won the second place $25.

A number of entrants had five misses but Eric Perez of 2218 Sunset picked the correct tie-breaker score to win $15 for third place.

Winners will receive their checks in the mail. Another contest appears in this issue.

The conflict in the Middle East has had its impact on the travel industry.

A magazine for travel agents bemoans the fact that Americans are notorious for their poor sense of geography. Fear has caused a decline in cruise business.

The travel agents says that the poor grasp of geography is the biggest threat to their business — more than fuel prices and bullets. To combat this, the article suggested that travel agents use their own secret defensive weapon — larger maps.

Gasoline prices aren't the only thing to increase in price. On the whole, the price of men's ties are up $5. In addition, new tie fashions are bolder in florals and colors and wider by about half an inch.

The best thing about a wider tie — it provides your white shirt more protection from food stains.

To campaign...

Legislators aren't in any rush

WASHINGTON (AP) — At a recent House Democratic leadership meeting, lawmakers were asked to raise their hands if they were eager to adjourn and hit the campaign trail back home. Nobody did.

In fact, one member joked: "We want to be held hostage here, and don't pay any ransom," according to one official who attended the closed-door session.

The show of hands and the comment that followed were in a lighthearted vein, but they spoke a serious truth: incumbents are finding Washington a good place to ride out the election-season budget storm.

"It's easier to campaign here, doing your work in Washington, than out on the stump," said Rep. David Bonior, a Michigan Democrat who faces a stiff re-election challenge. "I prefer to be doing my job, what the people sent me here to do."

This year there's a new survival strategy for incumbents: stay in Washington, keep your nose to the grindstone, appear to be above politics and stay in touch through television and radio advertising and news coverage.

It is a congressional variant of the Rose Garden strategy sometimes used by incumbent presidents. Such an approach not only keeps challengers at bay, but angry voters as well; members of Congress can avoid the prospect of facing boos and angry interrogation at live public events.

Incumbents are not anxious to return home while the government is in crisis, particularly when the government is being shut down and President Bush is laying the blame on Congress.

A measure of the public discontent came when vandals spray-painted "Cut Taxes, Deficit" and "Repeal — Stolen Pay Raise" on the house of House Republican Leader Robert Michel in Peoria, Ill.

House Speaker Thomas Foley, D-Wash., bristled when asked Monday about the budget standoff, another sign of the heat it has generated for lawmakers.

"The president often takes the stance of standing aside as if he's not a participant in these budget negotiations, as if it's somehow a congressional activity," he said.

Thumping his desk for emphasis, Foley added: "It was the presidential veto (earlier this month) that shut down the government. He bears full responsibility for that, and he will bear full responsibility" if it happens again.

The threat of another government shutdown this weekend, together with a general anti-incumbent mood and a sparse list of accomplishments for the 101st Congress, has made home a less-than-hospitable place for lawmakers.

"They're pretty darn vitriolic," said a senior Midwestern Republican. He said constituents were calling his office and screaming epithets at his staff.

A legislator whose image is beamed home in the televised House floor proceedings might think, "Shoot, I can make more points here doing this," said the congressman, who requested anonymity. "And besides, if he's getting challenged to debate his opponent, it's a good excuse not to."

That feeling is not universal. Rep. George Brown, D-Calif., who many regard as among the most endangered incumbents this year, has been thrashed by challenger Bob Hammock for missing important budget votes while out campaigning.

"I can't be in both places at the same time, so I have to make tough choices," Brown countered.

Republican Sen. Pete Wilson, who is running for governor of California, also has been chastised for missing votes. His Democratic opponent, Dianne Feinstein, said of Wilson: "If he's not going to do his duty, then he should resign his job in the United States Senate."

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm old enough to remember when mineral oil was given as a laxative. I now notice skin lotions, bath crystals and most medicated creams all have a mineral oil base. Has any research been done to determine if vitamins and minerals are lost in the use of mineral oil on the skin?

DEAR READER: Any kind of oil makes a good laxative; castor oil, mineral oil and olive oil are proven favorites. However, oils have lost their allure (remember when having a daily bowel movement was almost more important than going to church) because of two reasons: They have been superseded by more palatable, gentler laxatives (such as Milk of Magnesia, Dulcolax and phenolphthalein), and oil-based laxatives lead to health problems.

These health problems include damage to the intestinal lining, habituation (chronic use leads to dependency on oils with resulting constipation when the product is discontinued) and vitamin deficiency. Mineral oil, in particular, can lead to nutritional imbalance because it binds oil-soluble vitamins (A, D, E and K) in the intestine and prevents their absorption into the body.

Mineral oil applied to the skin does not interfere with digestion and vitamin absorption, however. Therefore, the answer to your question is: yes. Research has shown that topical use of mineral oil in bath preparations, cosmetics and so forth is completely harmless.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Fads I — Vitamins and Minerals." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband and I lost a full-term baby due to a congenital heart defect. Is it possible for a rubella vaccination taken during the first three months to be the cause of this defect? All information received is difficult for us to understand.

DEAR READER: Embryonic heart development takes place within the first few months of pregnancy. Any factor — such as illness or vaccines containing live viruses — can affect the developing heart during this period, resulting in congenital defects.

In my opinion, a rubella (German measles) vaccine that is administered to a woman during the first trimester (three months) of pregnancy is a likely cause of the tragic situation you describe. This is why the vaccine's manufacturer urges women to avoid pregnancy for at least three months following vaccination. Although congenital heart defects can occur without apparent cause, the risk for such events is heightened by inappropriate timing of this and other vaccines.

State accused of not reporting rape

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A federal judge verbally reprimanded the state Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation for trying to hide the rape and pregnancy of a profoundly retarded woman at the Lubbock State School.

U.S. District Judge Barefoot Sanders said in his 15-page order Monday that the Department of Mental Health ignored terms of an agreement stemming from a 16-year-old lawsuit over conditions in the state schools for mentally retarded.

He charged that the state hid the woman's "tragedy" from sociologist Linda O'Neill, who is assigned to oversee the settlement agreement. The judge said he will decide later on the "appropriate remedy" for the state's violation.

Judge Sanders also empowered the victim's attorney to begin his own investigation into the rape and pregnancy.

The 32-year-old Lubbock woman, who has an IQ of 12, does not know how women become pregnant. She is so profoundly mentally retarded that she does not even know she is pregnant.

She apparently was raped sometime in late April or May, and is expecting to deliver a child in January. The woman remains in the care of the state school. The victim's sister has filed a writ of habeas corpus, seeking the victim's release from the facility.

On Oct. 1, Judge Sanders ordered an investigation into the care of the woman.

He said Ms. O'Neill was "not notified until three months after (the woman's) rape and pregnancy were reported to the Lubbock Police Department, Rape Crisis Center and Adult Protective Services."

The state "clearly had every opportunity for three months to provide the court with information regarding (the retarded woman's) condition and treatment," the judges said.

Attorneys for the state argued last week the rape was not a "confirmed" case of abuse because no Lubbock State School employee had been charged as her assailant. The attorneys also said that a relative of the woman is a suspect.

Judge Sanders said the state has refused to perform tests on the woman to determine whether any of the state school employees raped her and has failed to present evidence to support the allegation that a relative raped her.

Your Birthday

Oct. 17, 1990

The year ahead can be a very rewarding one for you materially, provided you finish that which you start. Don't try to balance several enterprises in the air simultaneously. Focus on the best.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll valiantly defend that which you believe to be right today, but make certain, however, you take into consideration other people's viewpoints and not just your own. Libra, treat yourself to a birthday gift.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Even though your powers to probe, research and detect will be sharp today, you might still be too negative to take full advantage of what your investigations uncover.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If a friend who assisted you in the past requests a favor from you today, go out of your way to help this person, even if you have to incur expenses in doing so.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Your problems won't be centered on your inability to achieve your objectives today, because attaining goals will come rather easily for you. The hard part will be knowing what to do with your victories.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Being open-minded and friendly today is well and good, yet it would be wise to be cautious regarding who you take into your confidence. Someone you least suspect might betray you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It might prove very wise to stay out of the business affairs of friends today and to keep them out of yours. Each could throw a monkey wrench into the other's commercial machinery.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A partnership arrangement can be productive today, provided you and your counterpart are both on the same wavelength. A harmony of purpose is a must.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your monetary prospects look reasonably encouraging today, but there is a possibility you might not capitalize on things to your maximum advantage. Don't get careless.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Desirable results will be achieved today in situations you personally direct, but the same might not be true in developments where you have to share your authority with another.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Methods and procedures that are effective for you might not work equally well for your associates. Don't do things to please them, make your primary concern getting the job done.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It might be a trifle difficult for you to concentrate on your mundane assignments today, because your energies may be geared to active friends who are bent upon having fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In order to advance your personal interest today, it might be necessary for you to be a bit bolder and more assertive than usual. However, what works in the world of commerce won't play socially.

Altrurians host minister

Altrurian Daughters Club met for a luncheon at Martha Ann Woman's Club on Oct. 10, with Virginia Clark as hostess.

Sharon Applin, of the Gentle Dove Ministry, presented the program in which she related the story of the founding and growth of the ministry. She said that she began by visiting women in the local jail. When some of these women went on to prison, she corresponded with them and they passed her letters on to other prisoners. In this manner, her ministry has spread through correspondence to several other states.

She has moved from a small office with one desk, donated by a local business woman, to a building on the Clairemont highway, and finally to the large building on 25th street, which the ministry now enjoys.

The building has a sanctuary, where her husband holds Sunday services. There is also a kitchen area, where daily meals are served, and the Snyder Ministerial Society houses its food pantry there. The building also has a storeroom for clothing, bedding and other donated items; an office, with space adequate for the still-growing ministry; and space for a very limited number of over-night beds.

She said that the Gentle Dove Ministry meets the needs of an area between Lubbock and Abilene, where it is the only organization of its kind, as well as carrying on its long-distance ministry, out of state.

After the program, president Evelyn Davies, conducted a business meeting, at which Georgene Galloway served as vice president, replacing Lanelle Rabin who resigned. Joyce Bass was appointed parliamentarian.

Club members made plans to bring Christmas gifts, for the Big Spring State Hospital patients, to the November meeting and to make donations to a fund to buy toys for children in the Noah Project at Christmas.

Watercolors are program

Vernell Leach of San Antonio was guest artist at the Oct. 11 meeting of the Snyder Palette Club. Ms. Leach is a member of West Texas Watercolor Society, San Antonio Watercolor Group, and has been a signature member of Southwestern Watercolor Society for five years. She is represented by Art, Inc. of San Antonio.

Ms. Leach demonstrated the technique of opaque watercolor painting and gave examples of design principles found in prize-winning paintings.

Hostesses were Lila Guinn and Anna Belle Drum. Twelve members were present.

Snyder Palette club meets the second and fourth Thursdays of the month from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Tricking declarer

By James Jacoby

It's usually not a good idea to waste your high cards, but West Coast expert Kemp Hiatt found a defensive exception to this principle, as he led declarer astray in a three-no-trump contract.

West led the eight of clubs and dummy's 10 won the trick. South now guessed to play a diamond back to his 10. He followed with a diamond to dummy's ace and then led the spade jack. When declarer played low from his hand, Hiatt won the trick with the ace rather than the queen. West continued with the jack of clubs. Declarer won, played a heart to dummy's king and then took another finesse in the spade suit. After all, since the jack had forced West's ace, East must hold the queen. Surprise! West won the queen of spades and cashed three more club tricks to set the contract.

If West wins the first spade trick with the queen, declarer will surely play hearts before playing a second spade. Since hearts split, declarer will take four heart tricks, two clubs and three diamonds to safely make his contract before letting a defender get back in with the ace of spades.

Even after West deceptively won the spade ace, if declarer's life depended upon his making the contract, he would surely play three rounds of hearts ending in the dummy. When they split, he would not bother with a second spade finesse, but would simply go up with the king and make 10 tricks. But overtricks are crucial in tournament competition, and it's rare indeed that a player wins a trick with an ace when he could take it with a queen.

Convention attended

Homemakers from cross Texas, gathered at the Amarillo Civic Center Oct. 2-4 for the 1990 Texas Extension Homemakers Association State Convention.

Joyce McCoy, Pearle Waller and Scurry County TEHA Chairman, Virginia Humphrey, attended as delegates from the local Extension Homemakers Clubs.

Dr. Jennie C. Kitching, assistant director for Home Economics, spoke to those assembled on Tuesday night.

The keynote address was given on Wednesday morning by Barby Fairbanks Eide of Professional Productions. She spoke on "Volunteerism and the Butterfly Effect."

Delegate sessions were held on Wednesday afternoon. They covered "What Can You Accomplish With a Resolution?," "Literacy: The Situation; Extension Homemakers: The Solution," and "Associated Country Women of the World/Our World Association."

While delegates attended their work sessions, others watched demonstrations on Home Based Business, Body Recall and Festive Breads.

Wednesday evening, TEHA directors gave reports on the activities of the Extension Homemakers in their area this past year. Speaker Jan Roper then showed the group how to get through the tough times by "Laughing Through Life Stages."

The State Program of Work Committee chairman presented workshops on Thursday morning. They covered subjects on recycling, how to lead a group, how to find what your rights are in a given situation and other timely information. Delegates who attended these workshops will carry the information back to their counties. EH clubs will present programs in these areas next year.

Lady Tigers take non-district battle

Snyder's Lady Tiger volleyball team, fresh off a 15-12, 10-15, 15-12 non-district win over Brownfield Saturday, continues its quest for a post-season berth in Lubbock against Estacado today at 6:30 p.m.

The Lady Tigers avenged a season opening 6-15, 9-15 loss to the Lady Cubs as Robbie Brazier smacked 13 service points to lead the SHS attack.

"This was probably our best blocking game of the season," said SHS chief Patty Grimmett.

"The girls played really well. We stopped their big hitter and our blocking was the key."

Angee Crawford added eight points followed by Dayla Church with seven, Amber Bowlin's six, five from Camille Thompson and Liz Greathouse with one.

Action gets underway today at 6:30 p.m. at EHS with the junior varsity tilt. The varsity game follows 20 minutes after the conclusion of the JV match.

Series begins in Cincy

Stewart, Rijo tabbed to start in Game One

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dave Stewart and Jose Rijo go way back together.

Tonight, they will also be on the mound for Game 1 of the World Series between Oakland and Cincinnati at Riverfront Stadium.

"I was playing in the Dominican Republic in 1978 when I first met Jose," Stewart said. "He was too young to play, so he had to watch."

Pitching in big games is nothing new for Stewart. He is 5-1 lifetime in the American League playoffs and was the World Series MVP last season when he beat San Francisco twice.

The leaves changing color in October and Stewart pitching in the World Series are quickly becoming synonymous.

"Dave Stewart was one of the best teammates I've had in my short career in baseball," Rijo said. "He was one of the few guys to come to me when I struggled."

The A's haven't struggled too much since Stewart arrived. They have won three straight AL pennants and are trying to become the first team to win consecutive World Series since the 1977-78 New York Yankees.

This time, they will have to do it without sure-handed shortstop Walt Weiss. Weiss, as expected, will miss the World Series with a knee injury. But they do have Stewart for three games, if necessary.

Stewart signed with the A's on May 23, 1986, after being released by the Philadelphia Phillies. Six weeks later, Jackie Moore was fired as manager and Tony La Russa took over.

La Russa's first move as manager was to name Stewart his starting pitcher for a game at Boston against Roger Clemens. It seemed to set the tone for a very successful run.

"With Tony, my first conversation was by telephone when he was still in Florida," Stewart said. "He asked me if I knew who I'd be pitching against and I said, 'That's fine, I'll be ready.'"

Stewart has been ready ever since, too. He has won 20 games in each of the last four seasons, averaging 36 starts and 265 innings a season. Since La Russa asked him to make that start in Boston, Stewart has not missed a turn in the rotation.

Like teammate Dennis Eckersley, Stewart is building a Hall of Fame career after turning 30 and being placed on baseball's scrap heap.

game a week ago for 100 percent, 12 of 12, serving including a pair of aces while Thompson was listed for eight receptions, one ace and 100 percent setting versus the Lady Lobos. Brandon earned her spot this week for an intimidating eight kills in the Levelland match. (SDN Staff Photos)

Ft. Hancock takes top spot

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — A changing of the guard took place this week in The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal six-man high school football poll as two-time defending state champion Fort Hancock wrested the No.1 spot from Christoval.

Fort Hancock gained five first-place votes and 68 of a possible 70 points in the weekly poll of seven Texas sports writers.

Christoval, which had been the top-ranked team all season, garnered the other two first-place votes and 64 points.

Fort Hancock scored its sixth convincing victory in a row Friday, beating Balmorhea 60-8.

The Mustangs have not allowed more than 14 points in a game all season and have outscored their opponents 332-41. Christoval, by comparison, has outscored its foes 299-161. The Cougars, however, have played a more difficult schedule, one that includes state-ranked Sands and Zephyr.

Christoval beat Panther Creek 63-49 Friday.

The third through seventh spots remained unchanged, with Guthrie, McLean, Bosqueville, Rule and Sands, respectively.

Jayton and Zephyr jumped one slot apiece to eighth and ninth, respectively.

Unbeaten Covington cracked the rankings for the first time this season at No.10.

Here is the weekly Lubbock Avalanche-Journal high school six-man football poll of Texas sports writers with records, first-place votes in parentheses, total points (tabulated on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis) and last week's ranking:

1. Fort Hancock (5) 6-0-0 68-2
2. x-Christoval (2) 3-2-0 64-1
3. Guthrie 6-0-0 56-3
4. McLean 6-0-0 47-4
5. Bosqueville 6-0-0 41-5
6. y-Rule 6-0-0 36-6
7. z-Sands 6-0-0 27-7
8. Jayton 4-1-0 16-9
9. Zephyr 4-2-0 12-10
10. Covington 6-0-0 8-11

Other teams receiving votes: Milford 5, Wilson 3, Panther Creek 2.

z—includes forfeit victory against Christoval.

Organizers lose $1 million in tourney

DALLAS (AP) — A controversial million-dollar bass tournament on Lake Sam Rayburn on Oct. 6-7 turned into the debacle his organization had feared, the president of the Texas Association of Bass Clubs said today.

"We warned them. We told them, but they just wouldn't listen," Ken Knott of Corsicana, Texas, said in a telephone interview.

A spokesman for the company that promoted the "Big Sam Big Bass Super Derby," with its $500,000 prize for the biggest fish caught, confirmed Monday that Jimmy Dunne, the company's only investor, has filed for protection from creditors under Chapter 11 of the federal bankruptcy code.

"Our suppliers, vendors and big bass winners will have to petition the court for payment," Mark Scheidell of New York, the tournament's vice president for operations, told the Beaumont Enterprise. "Or in our present state of Chapter 11, that's the way I understand the law."

The tournament, with two categories and entry fees of either $100 or $200 a day, was expected to draw at least 5,000 entrants, and possibly as many as 15,000 for the tournament, promoters said before the contest.

Scheidell said organizers were taken back when the contest drew only 2,921 entries. Scheidell said the tournament lost about $1 million.

DeWayne Morrison of Deer Park, Texas, who won the first prize of $500,000 for a 10.5-pound bass he caught, said he received only $200,000, with the rest of the money coming in two post-dated checks that apparently won't be honored.

Also left wondering whether they will be paid are Rudy Gateaux of Baker, La., who won second place money of $82,500 for a 9.9-pound bass and Stan Lilly of Conroe, Texas, who won third place money of $75,000 for a 9.8-pound bass.

Scheidell, who says his profession is producing events, said the second and third place checks of $82,500 and $75,000, respectively, have not been paid because of the Chapter 11 bankruptcy filing.

In all, 497 people won cash awards totaling about $800,000. Scheidell said all but first, second and third place winners were given checks that could be cashed immediately.

"Right now, we need a million-dollar investor to clear the decks of all debts and keep the Super Derby alive," Scheidell said.

Jasper County District Attorney Guy James Gray said he talked Monday to officials of Eventerprises, Inc., and was told the company is in Chapter 11.

Gray said he called the company's Dallas office after several people who worked at the company asked him to help them collect payment for their services.

"The woman who runs Rayburn Country, a big resort, they walked away owing her $6,700. The fellow that put up the computers for the tournament, as I understand it, they owe him $40,000," Knott said.

"A bunch of the local people down there, who were left owed thousands of dollars, are torn up about this and very mad. They are chewing nails," Knott said.

Westerners nab 4th in WJCAC tourney

ODESSA — Western Texas College golfers competed in a dual match here Oct. 12-15 taking fourth in Western Junior College Athletic Conference competition and eleventh place overall.

The initial results, compiled after 27 holes of play at the par-72 Mission Dorado Country Club, found the Westerners with a 309-153-462 total.

Host Odessa College won the WJCAC part of the tourney with a 301-151-452. Midland College came in as runner-up with its 308-144-452 trailed by New Mexico Military Institute's 308-147-455, WTC and a 308-157-465 from defending conference champion New Mexico Junior College.

Conference standings have Midland in the lead with 9½ points followed by Odessa with 7½, NMMI with seven and WTC and NMJC with three each.

Medalist for the event was Midland's Dean Robertson, who also tied Central Alabama's David Bathgate for overall winner with a 215 tally.

Robertson carded a 71-36-107 to win the WJCAC portion.

Tony Lara paced the Westerners, individually, with a 78-37-115 score.

In the overall tournament, defending champion Central Alabama won over second place Midland Gold by 26 strokes, 874-900 on 54 holes.

Odessa took third with 907 and WTC came in at No. 11 in the 18-team field with a 929 total.

The Westerners' next action is slated to be in the 36-hole Texarkana Fall Intercollegiate that runs from Oct. 24 to Oct. 26.

The next conference match is set for Nov. 15 when WTC will host WJCAC opponents in Snyder.

Teacher's aides charged in case

HOUSTON (AP) — Two teacher's aides were charged with scalding a 12-year-old mentally retarded boy and muffling his cries after he soiled his pants twice.
A third worker was charged with failing to report the Oct. 4 incident, which left the boy hospitalized.
The boy suffered second- and third-degree burns when workers at Reynolds Elementary School, where he was in a special education program, held his right hand under hot water. The boy had placed his soiled hand in his mouth.
The aides, Virginia Gray Blade, 34, and Anita Marie Brown, 29, were charged Saturday with injury to a child, a felony. Each was released on personal recognizance bond.
Willie Faye Nelson, 36, was charged with failure to report child abuse, a misdemeanor. Her bond was $500.
Ms. Blade and Ms. Brown were suspended without pay and recommended for fire, said Houston Independent School District spokeswoman Ria Griffin.

Houston police spokesman Sgt. Ralph Gonzales said the aides cleaned up the boy once after he soiled his clothes, hands and mouth.
"When it happened a second time," he said, "they took him to the bathroom again, and Blade held his right hand under hot water while the other one held him by the right shoulder."
The employees took a bib with them to cover his mouth in event he cried out, Gonzales said.
Prosecutor Kelly Siegler said Brown covered the boy's mouth to muffle his screams while Blade ran 130-degree water over his hand. Siegler said Brown "has this theory" that putting the child's hand under hot water would stop the behavior.

A District Educational Improvement Council, consisting of the core committee, a parent from each campus, all counselors and board president Luann Burleson, will meet every third Thursday of each month.
The board also approved new UIL sponsor supplements. The district will pay UIL sponsors $600 for the first event plus $300 for each additional event which has three or more practice meets. In the past, sponsors received $600 regardless of how many events they sponsored. Some were sponsoring as many as six events some years.
Trustees approved the supplements but stipulated that any changes in the structure of the system should be brought back before the board for approval. The point was made that one teacher will be receiving $1,500 for four events under the current system but if the events were taken separately in future years, the district would have to pay $2,400.
The board also amended the 1990-91 budget in the amount of $120,000 for extra costs pertaining to the Hobbs Cooperative School. Snyder ISD will receive some $80,000 in ADA monies for those students, resulting in an estimated difference of some $40,000. Snyder ISD contracts with the Hobbs Co-op to fulfill guidelines of the state-mandated alternative school setting.
In other action, the board approved a textbook committee consisting of Linda Gartman, Judy Moss, Elvira Gonzales, Jeanelle Hammack, Martha Floyd, Magdalena Aguirre, Theresa Vest, Stewart Long, Lisa Williams and Thomas Strayhorn.
Also, the board did the following:
—heard a curriculum report on East Elementary from Principal Jim Ewling, —approved a request to ask for bids for repair of the administration building roof,
—approved a request to ask for bids for the sale of a station wagon,
—accepted a bid of $1,510 from David Shifflett for a four-wheeler,
—granted permission for the Masons to use the high school auditorium for an area-wide conference on a date to be determined,
—granted permission for Colonial Hill Baptist Church to use the auditorium for a Christmas concert on Dec. 8.
—scheduled a superintendent's evaluation meeting for noon on Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Snyder Country Club, and,
—approved the payment of the bills and past minutes.
Present at the meeting were trustees Burleson, Billy Bob McMullan, Ann Walton, Glen Clarady, Terry Martin and Sam Robertson. Mike Jordan was absent.

Boy Scouts sued over death of son

DALLAS (AP) — A Fort Worth woman sued the Boy Scouts of America, claiming advertisements in its magazine contributed to her 12-year-old son's accidental shooting death in 1988. Jan Way claims in the lawsuit that a special 16-page shooting advertisement in the September 1988 issue of Boys Life "influenced and motivated" her son, Rocky William Miller, and other boys to experiment with a bullet and rifle. "After reading the shooting supplements and particularly the Remington advertisement, several young boys, including the decedent, Rocky Miller, located an old gun and a .22 cartridge and accidentally shot Rocky Miller to death," the lawsuit states.

Dallas lawyer Windle Turley, who filed the lawsuit, said Miller had been a member of the Boy Scouts in Fort Worth. He said the lawsuit sought to stop the Boy Scouts from "promoting shooting and the sale of ammunitions and firearms to impressionable youth."

The exact amount of damages sought by Ms. Way had not been determined, Turley said. But he said the amount would be in the millions. "But more importantly, we hope that something can be done about the promotion of shooting and firearms and ammunition among pre-teenage children by the Boy Scouts," Turley said.

Parent alert said rescinded

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — The Lubbock Independent School District has rescinded its "parent alert" handout — a leaflet depicting what were said to be satanic symbols — and issued an apology to Jewish members of the community who were offended by the handout. "We felt like the wisest course of action was to go ahead and rescind it," superintendent Mike Moses said Monday.

Helen Mann of Temple Beth Shalom said, "We feel that the steps Dr. Moses is taking to remove the handout from the school system will correct the wrong that has been done." In a Monday new release the district also announced the formation of a committee to review the dress code and make recommendations regarding continuing or modifying the code to Moses by Nov. 1.

The handout had come under public attack from some members of the Jewish community because it included a hexagram — a design matching the Star of David. Jewish residents said the handout bred prejudice toward Jews, and they threatened a lawsuit if the code were not revised.

The dress code also has drawn occasional picketers in front of school district administrative offices, and two parents have appeared before the school board to unsuccessfully challenge the code's restrictions on hair length. Moses said the school district's dress policy remains intact, "but the handout will no longer be used to help interpret or anyway serve as a resource for the dress policy." Moses apologized to people of the Jewish faith, or any other religious group, who might have been offended by the handout.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Suramericano" who wanted to know if he should tell his family that he had tested HIV-positive for the AIDS virus. I cast my vote for a resounding yes!

Our son tested positive nearly three years before he felt any ill effects from the disease. I, his mother, learned about his illness only 23 days before he died. He had lost a little weight — that's all.

When he first learned that he tested positive, he told his sister, who was his best friend. He swore her to secrecy because he didn't want to worry me. I could never understand why he had episodes when he would run a high fever, miss a day or two of work, and be fine the next day. He had his own home, so I didn't know the suffering he endured. If only he had told me, perhaps I could have helped him physically and spiritually. He needed no financial help because he was a very successful decorator and had the best insurance available. God took him from us a year ago.

I know that he thought it best that I didn't know, but it hurt me more not knowing. He deprived me of the opportunity to tell him how very proud I was of him and how much I loved him.

STILL GRIEVING

DEAR GRIEVING: My readers voted overwhelmingly in favor of telling the family. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: In response to "Suramericano's" letter wondering whether to tell his family that he had tested positive for AIDS, I can offer the viewpoint of a family member who wasn't told until it was too late.

My dear cousin chose to tell only his parents and siblings, and then only after the AIDS virus had become active. By the time he died, I could only guess why he was ill, but felt helpless not being able to cross the line that he had drawn between us.

I respect my cousin's right to make this decision, but knowing now that he was gay and died of AIDS doesn't cause me to cherish his memory less. However, many things continue to haunt me — the visits I would have made, the things I might have said, the understanding that was never achieved. Was he ashamed? Or did he think I would be ashamed? Was it really necessary for him and his immediate family to be so isolated during his final ordeal?

My choice as a family member would have been to know the truth (however painful) and to have dealt with it. It would have been far better to have been there, offering words of love, knowing I did everything I could — than to have been shut out.

HURT IN SAN FRANCISCO

READERS: The few letters I received advising "Suramericano" not to tell his family were different variations on the same theme:

DEAR ABBY: Before giving "Suramericano" any advice, I would have to know what kind of relationship he has with his family. If it's anything like mine, I would vote no. Here's my story:

I am a gay male. I've always been a good son and didn't want to live a lie, so when I was 17, I told my parents I was gay, hoping they would not judge me. Our priest came with me for moral support, explaining that no one chooses his or her sexuality — it is something inborn in all of us. They refused to believe him. Instead they quoted Scripture, labeled me a sinner and told me I was no longer their son.

I envy my gay friends whose parents accept and love them just the way they are. Unfortunately I wasn't that lucky.

"Our heat pump keeps the house comfortable all year long. And saves us money, too."

—James and Jami Haest
Midland, Texas

A Heat Pump cools, heats and saves. Honest talk from your neighbors about heat pumps.

Texas is heat pump territory. And your neighbors are spreading the word that the amazing electric heat pump is today's most efficient, money-saving way to keep their homes comfortable all year long.

In the summer, the heat pump is a high efficiency air conditioner.

And in the winter, it keeps your home comfortable and saves money on your heating bills. The heat pump actually costs less to operate than a gas furnace.

Plus, today's heat pumps are made to last. Their proven reliability assures you virtually years of trouble-free service.

So when you're looking for a new home, or when it's time to replace your old air conditioner, check out the amazing heat pump. It cools, heats and saves. And has people talking.

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, Snyder Daily News, Box 949, or bring it by the news office at 3600 College Ave. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 5:00 p.m. Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the total points of the score for that game and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second and third place winners. In the case of a perfect score, the formula would apply for that cash prize.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all that person's entries. Entries must be on the official entry blank (No Copies Please). Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the winner's story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the SDN and their families are not eligible to enter.
