Rate dips to 4.2 percent ... Unemployment at lowest since 1985

Unemployment in Scurry County fell to 4.2 percent in September, its lowest point since 1985.

According to records from the local Texas Employment Commission office, the last time unemployment was this low was April of 1985 when the figure was also 4.2 percent. The previous low was 2.7 percent in November of 1984

According to the TEC, the county had a civilian labor force of 10,436 in September of this year, of which 9,996 were employed. The remainder, 440 county residents who are unemployed but seeking employ- and national averages. Statewide ment, represents 4.2 percent. Statistics from April of 1985 correspond well, showing a labor force of 10,279 at that time, of which 9,850 were employed and 429 unemployed.

Scurry County began 1990 with an unemployment rate of 4.8 percent. That shot up to 7.6 for February, but dropped again to 4.8 in March. Since that time, the unemployment rate has been relatively steady, showing 4.8 in March, 5.2 in April, 4.5 in May, 4.8 in June, 4.6 in July and 4.8 in August.

> Roby sets 3rd Quail Cookoff

ROBY - Chili cookoffs are a favorite pasttime among Texans but Fisher County holds something a little different.

Proclaimed as the "Quail Capital of Texas," Fisher County presents its third annual Quail Cookoff beginning at 9 a.m., Nov.

The event - scheduled on Veteran's Day weekend and a week after the opening of quail season - is held at the Cottonwood Recreational Vehicle Park, one mile south of Roby on Hwy. 70. Teams will compete for cash prizes and trophies.

"It's a day of fun for the contestants and spectators, to celebrate the traditions of quail cookery," said Beth Dannheim, Fisher County extension agent.

It begins with a breakfast for the contestants, prepared by the Roby Lions Club. Spectators can eat for $3. High school bands, singers and other performers will entertain during the day. There will be a quail calling contest and door prizes.

At 9 a.m., teams begin preparing their delicacies. Judging of the dishes by area celebrities and media personalities is at 11:30 (see COOKOFF, page 8)

European Community leaders meeting in Rome pledged not to send representatives to try to win freedom for the thousands of hostages held in Iraq and occupied Kuwait, reasoning that to do so would only support Saddam's efforts to try to divide the alliance arrayed against him.

The decision followed a trip to Baghdad last week by former British Prime Minister Edward Heath, who met with Saddam and helped secure the release of more than 30 British hostages.

Presidents Mikhail S. Gorbachev of the Soviet Union and Francois Mitterrand of France met over dinner in Paris on Sunday and discussed the nearly 3month-old crisis precipitated by Iraq's Aug. 2 seizure of Kuwait.

Gorbachev and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze had suggested on Saturday that Iraq may have softened its stand on the crisis.

But Shevardnadze was not sanguine in his description of Sunday's talks between Primakov and Saddam.

"For the moment, there are not many reasons for optimism" he said in Paris. He did not elaborate.

It was Primakov's second trip to Iraq this month, and he has emerged as the main shuttling diplomat in the standoff.

He was expected to travel to Saudi Arabia today to brief King Fahd on his talks with the Iraqi president, a Soviet diplomat said.

The official Iraqi News Agency announced the cancellation of gasoline rationing and said Oil Minister Issam Chalabi had been fired and replaced by Saddam's son-in-law, Hussein Kamel.

When the government announced rationing on Tuesday, it blamed the U.N.-ordered bargo on trade with Iraq.

DEAR ABBY: Your column sev- pack your bags and off you go. Several months ago about Down syndrome children had a profound effect on me. I especially appreciated the piece "Welcome to Holland." As a mother who has raised three special-needs children - now adults -I resented that awesome responsibility to the point where I could no longer enjoy life. I wanted to be able to do the things with my husband that any other "empty nest," middleaged couple did. Instead, I was cast in the role of a mother with adolescentlike children. It wasn't fair.

Their demands are small, but their love is enormous. These are the windmills, the tulips and the Rembrandts of Holland. I won't find them in Italy. Thank you, Abby, for sharing that wonderful piece with your readers.

WELCOME TO HOLLAND

"I am often asked to describe the experience of raising a child with a disability — to try to help people who have not shared that unique experience to understand it, to imagine how it would feel. It's like this ...

'When you're going to have a baby, it's like planning a fabulous vacation trip — to Italy. You buy a bunch of guidebooks and make your wonderful plans. The Coliseum, the Michelangelo David, the gondolas in Venice. You may learn some handy phrases in Italian. It's all very excit-

"After months of eager anticipation, the day finally arrives. You eral hours later, the plane lands. The stewardess comes in and says, 'Welcome to Holland.'

"Holland?!?' you say. What do you mean, Holland? I signed up for Italy! I'm supposed to be in Italy. All my life I've dreamed of going to Italy.

"But there's been a change in the flight plan. They've landed in Holland and there you must stay.

"The important thing is that they haven't taken you to a horrible, disgusting, filthy place, full of pestilence, famine and disease. It's just a different place.

"So you must go out and buy new guidebooks. And you must learn a whole new language. And you will meet a whole new group of people you would never have met.

"It's just a different place. It's slower-paced than Italy, less flashy than Italy. But after you've been there for a while and you catch your breath, you look around, and you begin to notice that Holland has windmills, Holland has tulips, Holland even has Rembrandts.

"But everyone you know is busy coming and going from Italy, and they're all bragging about what a wonderful time they had there. And for the rest of your life, you will say, Yes, that's where I was supposed to go. That's what I had planned.

"The pain of that will never, ever, ever go away, because the loss of that dream is a very significant loss.

"But if you spend your life mourning the fact that you didn't get to Italy, you may never be free to enjoy the very special, the very lovely things about Holland."

ethics scandals and ridiculed for a budget process that seemingly wouldn't end. But by the time it was over, lawmakers managed to pass legislation that had eluded enactment for many years.

"People ought to take some hope from that process instead of dumping all over it," said House Speaker Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash. "We have persevered on a hard, unpleasant, difficult process up to the very week before election."

In its final days before adjournment Sunday — during a time when all previous Congresses would have been home campaigning — the 101st Congress made its biggest accomplishments:

But what really marked the 101st Congress was the ugly political infighting and the ethics scandals.

"I think our Congress leaves Washington with a renewed sense of purpose as it relates to fulfilling our responsibilities to people who questioned our motives and questioned our integrity," said Rep. Vic Fazio, D-Calif.

It started last year with Senate rejection of President Bush's

The House became embroiled in a historic ethics scandal that culminated in the resignations of Speaker Jim Wright and Majority Whip Tony Coelho. Both were accused of ethical lapses in their personal finances.

This year, one House member was disciplined and a second forced to resign in sex scandals. One did favors for a homosexual lover; the other was convicted of having sex with a teenage girl and was accused of sexually harassing a congressional employee.

In the Senate, a group of lawmakers became known as the Keating Five, all under investigation for their ties to the head of a failed savings and loan institution.

Meanwhile, for most of its existence, legislation in this Congress crawled.

Democrats defeated Bush's proposed constitutional amendment to ban flag burning.

But the Democratic Congress couldn't overcome the president's veto of legislation guaranteeing workers six weeks paid leave for childbirth or fami y medical emergencies.

The 101st Congress never overrode any of 16 Bush vetoes.

The debate through the spring, summer and into the fall of this year was dominated by the budget. Even with Bush abandoning his no-new-taxes pledge, progress was slow.

The issue was not why, who to, or for what reason the $54,331.24 check was written. The issue was:

- 1. The check was not documented on the check registry.
- 2. The check was not reflected in Precinct 2's total 1989 actual expenditures in the official budget presented to taxpayers that is filed in public records.
- 3. The check was not initialed by the commissioner's court.
- 4. This check was used to show why our court needs a check registry that shows ALL checks.
- 5. This check emphasizes the importance of Scurry County implementing a Purchase Order System so purchases will be tied to the budget.

WTC takes seventh at golf tournament

TEXARKANA - Western Texas College placed seventh in a 17-team field with a team made up completely of freshmen in the weekend's Texarkana Fall Intercollegiate Golf Tournament played at Texarkana Country Club.

The Westerners, paced by alltournament selection Clint Winn, shot a 635 in the two-day, 36-hole event to finish behind Midland College's 614, a 619 from McClennan Community College, Navarro Junior College with a 625, a 630 from Grayson County College, San Jacinto Junior College's 632 and a 634 from Odessa College.

"It was a close tournament and we had a chance to finish in the top three," said WTC golf coach David Foster.

"We had a couple of guys get sick and, naturally, that hurt.

"It was a good tournament and some good experience for these freshmen."

Jon Roseberry and Greg Slicker came down with flu-like symptoms during the tournament. Roseberry fired a 78-80-158 and Slicker carded a 98-84-182 for the Westerners.

Winn's 76-74-150 was the best on the WTC squad and third best in the tourney.

The top seven players in the event were named to the alltournament team. Nick Duke of Texarkana was the medalist with his 74-73-147 followed by Paris JC's Russell Jenkins' 75-74-149, Winn's 150, Darren Eckhart of Midland with a 76-74-150, San Jacinto's Thomas Flynn, who had a 73-78-151, a 74-77-151 by David Mizzola of MCC and Paul Manco of Bossier City JC with an 81-71-152.

The Westerners will host a 27hole Western Junior College Athletic Conference tournament Friday and Saturday with tee time set for approximately 8:30 a.m. each day.

Besides two teams from WTC, Midland, Odessa, New Mexico Junior College and New Mexico Military Institute will be represented.

Wacker's Horned Frogs still have a shot at their first Cotton Bowl since 1959.

Standing in the way, however, are David Klingler and the No. 6 Houston Cougars, who have a goal of their own: national champions.

The Cougars are ineligible for the conference crown and the Cotton Bowl because of probation, but they're 7-0 overall and 6-0 against SWC teams. They own the nation's longest winning streak at 11 games.

The Cougars are trying for their first national title. Their best finish came in 1976 when they went 10-2 and defeated Maryland in the Cotton Bowl.

They're also making a case for their second straight Heisman Trophy winner. Last year it was quarterback Andre Ware. This year, it's Klingler, who tied a league record with seven touchdown passes as the Cougars 82 demolished Arkansas 62-28 Saturday. He was 34-of-51 for 457 yards.

The Razorbacks, two-time defending SWC champion, fell to rout of Rice. 2-5, their worst start since 1958, and 0-4 in the SWC

But with the Cougars on probation, No. 13 Texas emerged as the leading contender for a Cotton cond half. Bowl berth with a 52-13 rout of Southern Methodist in Austin.

In other games, Texas A&M stayed in the Cotton Bowl running by whipping Rice 41-15 in College Station; and eighth-ranked Miami, Fla., ripped Texas Tech 45-10 in Lubbock

In addition to next week's 4 p.m. matchup between TCU (5-2, 3-1) and Houston in the Astrodome, Texas (5-1, 3-0) visits Texas Tech (2-6, 1-4) for a noon showdown; A&M (5-2-1, 2-1-1) makes its first visit to Ownby Stadium since the 1940s for a 1 p.m. contest with Southern Methodist (1-6, 0-4); and Rice (4-5, 1-4) visits Arkansas at 7 p.m.

Baylor (4-3-1, 3-1-1) will take the day off.

"We're embarrassed," said Razorbacks first-year coach Jack Crowe. "We've come to the low part of the season. We have to see what we can do to come back from this.

When Arkansas got a 14-7 lead, we showed great character to come back and score, Houston coach John Jenkins said. "After that, we sort of over-

Baylor upsets Horned Frogs But at 3-1 in the SWC, Jim powered them the rest of the way.

The Razorbacks, who are joining the Southeastern Conference in 1992, have been outscored 214-115 in four SWC games. Houston's 62 points were the most ever scored against Arkansas in an SWC game, topping the 60 by Baylor in 1922.

Baylor's J.J. Joe ran five yards for a touchdown and hit Melvin Bonner with a 78-yard scoring pass in the upset over TCU.

"I really thought we were going to be able to pull it off again. I honestly did," Wacker said of his Comeback Kids, who own three come-from-behind victories. "But this time we just came up short.

In College Station, A&M's Darren Lewis became the SWC's alltime leading rusher with 176 yards on 25 carries. He now has 4,453 yards. Eric Dickerson of SMU had 4,450 yards from 1979-

A&M cornerback Kevin Smith shared the spotlight by returning interceptions 35 and 78 yards for touchdowns in the Aggies' 41-15

Texas staggered through the first half for a 17-0 lead over SMU, but the Longhorns overwhelmed the Mustangs in the se-

SMU quarterback Mike Romo was sacked eight times for 51 yards in losses. Romo also had his worst day of the year, passing for just 74 yards.

In Lubbock, Miami bounced back from a devastating loss to Notre Dame with a 45-10 whipping of the Red Raiders.

Craig Erickson threw four touchdowns and Miami's defense has 10 sacks.

Jets. The Oilers (4-4) had won four of their last five games and must now regroup on the road Sunday against the Los Angeles Rams. And Davis helped make it possible.

"I used my in-and-out move and it worked to perfection,' Davis said. "I faked in, pushed around him with my right arm and it worked just like I planned.

After hitting Moon, Davis said, he wasn't aware of the fumble.

The ball landed at my feet and fell on it, I didn't even see him fumble," he said.

Kén O'Brien completed a 42yard pass to Al Toon, who moved into third place on the Jets' alltime passing list, and the Jets took a 7-6 halftime lead.

Houston's first half scoring came on field goals of 42 and 49 yards by kicker Teddy Garcia, subbing for Tony Zendejas, who suffered a broken leg in last week's game against New Orleans.

Moon rallied the Oilers to a 12-7 lead in the third quarter, climaxing a 92-yard drive with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Haywood Jeffires at 10:39.

Davis' touchdown fumble recovery was the first for the Jets since 1984 when Mark Gastineau scored on a fumble recovery against Kansas City.

Pat Leahy's 32-yard field goal with 44 seconds left in the game removed the threat of the Oilers winning by a field goal. Leahy has now converted 71 of his last 75 field goals inside the 40-yard line

Moon completed 30 of 43 passes for 381 yards while O'Brien had more modest figures, finishing with 11 completions on 23 attempts for 142 yards.

"The difference in the game was the big plays, we came up with the plays when we needed them," Jets coach Bruce Coslet said. "Creating turnovers is the way you beat a team like Houston and that's what we did today."

The Jets sacked Moon five times for 39 yards in losses. In addition to Davis' fumble recovery, the Oilers reached the Jets' 1 where the Oilers fumbled on an exchange between Moon and running back Lorenzo White. James Hasty recovered at the 8.

"This is not the best season for us so far, but it is getting better," Toon said.

Snyder's Lady Tiger volleyball team will begin post-season play Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Amarillo Caprock High School against District 1-4A champion Dumas.

"I watched them play Hereford Saturday and I think we have a lot more power than they have, which would be to our advantage," said coach Patty Grimmett.

Snyder enters the bi-district tilt as District 2 runner-up with a 10-10 season mark and the Lady Demons are 23-4 for the campaign.

Lamesa, District 2 champion for 1990, will face Hereford in other playoff action Tuesday

Tuesday's match will mark the first appearance in post-season play of the SHS girls since 1985's state championship season.

Long-awaited arrival of 'killer bees' said to re-kindle long-running debate

HOUSTON (AP) - The first U.S. invasion of killer bees has sparked debate over a project designed to slow the threatening swarms.

Critics say the joint U.S.-Mexican program, operated by the Animal Plant and Health Inspection Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was a costly, ill-conceived venture that concentrated on trapping and killing Africanized bees as they advanced through Mexico.

"It didn't do anything, it didn't slow the bees down a drop they're here," said Roger Morse, a honeybee expert and professor of agriculture at Cornell University. "All I know is, as far as I can see, the bees have moved roughly the same speed they moved through Central America."

USDA scientists defend the program, noting they set out 65,000 baited traps and destroyed approximately 23,000 swarms of African bees.

"We never said we were going to stop them," said Elba Quintero, who is now in charge of the USDA effort to trap and kill swarms of Africanized bees in South Texas.

Carving pumpkins is Halloween tradition in your decorations for Halloween, so don't be afraid to get out your knife and start carving.

"Pumpkins are an easy medium," said Kent Garrett, an art instructor at the Waco Ninth Grade Center. "They are very forgiving about mistakes.'

He said many people are afraid to carve jack-o'-lanterns because they think they can't draw or carve properly. But Garrett said the wonderful thing about carving pumpkins is you use your own design, so who is to say it's wrong

"After all you are usually carving a demon that is ugly to begin with," said Garrett, who has been carving jack-o'-lanterns for The Art Center Pumpkin Event for three years.

This year, he's doing a Teenage Mutant Ninja Pumpkin.

'When we carve the mask, we won't carve all the way through the skin," said Garrett, who is bringing his class into the project and using pumpkins supplied by the school cafeteria. "That will give it a translucent effect. Then we'll cut out the eyes.'

Garrett likes conceptual designs.

He's got an idea for a punk-in ---a punk rock jack-o'-lantern with a mohawk wig, ragged eyes and a safety pin in its ear.

He said the pumpkin he carved for last year's Pumpkin Event had a face like an abstract painting because his students had all over the floor. been studying the abstract artist Picasso.

Even this year's Teen-age Mutant Ninja Pumpkin has a link to art. Like all the Ninja Turtles, this one is named after a famous artist - Michelangelo.

For those who still aren't convinced they can carve a pumpkin, Garrett suggests painting and decorating one instead.

"There are many people who o'-lantern can be scary element add wig, arms or have the pumpkin as the head for a stuffed body.

Then there are people who do both.

In the years he has carved pumpkins, Garrett has found several helpful tips.

First choose your pumpkin carefully. The best jack-o-lantern pumpkins weigh 15 to 20 pounds, have bright orange, blemish-free rinds and well-defined ribbing.

If you have a design in mind, choose a pumpkin with a shape to match it. For instance, some designs look best on round pumpkins while others are more suited to oblong pumpkins.

When you are ready to go to work on your jack-o'-lantern, Garrett suggests cutting into the bottom of the pumpkin instead of the top when making the initial hole to scrape out the insides.

"You can scoop out the pumpkin easier from the bottom and you don't have the mess at the top," Garrett said.

It's also easier to install a candle or even an electric light from the bottom than it is from the top. He recommends using a long sharp knife and making a hole about five inches in diameter.

Use a large soup spoon to scoop out the seeds and pulp. A cleanliness note: Spread lots of newspaper around before making the cut. There are many seeds and lots of juice and rind in a pumpkin that you won't want

Once the pumpkin is ready for carving, Garrett suggests drawing your design on the pumpkin with a felt tip pen to use as a guideline. Keep the design simple and practice on paper before moving to the pumpkin.

For those who don't feel comfortable drawing freehand, they can find a picture and transfer the design by wrapping it around the pumpkin and making pricks decorate pumpkins without carv- through the paper, Garrett said. ing them," he said. For instance When the paper is removed, do.

WACO, Texas (AP) - A jack- they might draw on a face, then follow the pricks with the felt tip pen.

> Garrett said an X-acto knife or a small paring khife work well for carving out the design.

> Besides the layering technique Garrett mentioned for the ninja mask, there are other tricks that produce nifty effects in jack-o'lanterns. One is reinserting. "For instance you can cut out holes for the eyes, then put them back in." Garrett said. "This leaves a hole around the eyes that allows light to come through.'

> Another trick is attaching other items to the carved pumpkin. For instance, a carrot can be inserted into a hole cut for a nose to become a menacing witch's snout. Toothpicks can be used to attach small gourds for ears.

> And don't forget hair. Corn husks make good hair when taped or glued to an old hat and placed on top of the pumpkin for a scarecrow effect. Or tape toothpicks onto long spiral pasta and stick them into the top of a pumpkin. It makes a great fright wig.

> Lastly, jack-o'-lanterns last longer when sprayed with a disinfectant. This cuts down the bacteria that causes pumpkins to rot.

Won't last long

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) - Peter Horton, who plays Gary on ABC's "thirtysomething," predicts the show will last no longer than another season.

"There's just so much this bucket of 'thirtysomething' can give out," said Horton in the Nov. 3 issue of TV Guide.

"We've been mining it for more than three years, and we're starting to scrape bottom. I don't know how much more there is to say about this group of people."

But Horton, who plays a college -professor who has trouble coming to grips with responsibility, said breaking up will be hard to

Emotions also unfurled when Rebel flag is flown in Texas

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) -The banner of the Confederacy still evokes strong feelings despite the Civil War's end some 125 years ago.

Battles continue to rage over the flag, only now they're taking place in some Texas high schools and Capitol domes of the deep South, rather than Bull Run or Chickamauga.

Few see the flag the same way. To some defenders, it is a symbol of honor for the fallen Confederate states and the heroes who fought for its cause.

To others, such as black students, it is a banner of bigotry.

"That flag evokes strong reaction. There is just something about it," said David Sansing, a Southern historian at the University of Mississippi who has studied the flag for nearly a decade.

"The modern South is supposed to have moved on and left the past. ... But Southerners simply cannot outlive our past," he said.

Sansing says that some white youngsters, "Southern by birth and osmosis," defend their Confederate heritage although they have no clear picture of what it entails.

"They may not be able to express it, but they can sense it and their past," Sansing said.

U.S. shifting support effort may be coming to end in Afghanistan conflict

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm taking Leukeran for chronic lymphocytic leukemia. My doctor tells me each month my blood is improving, yet I've heard there are serious side effects to this drug. Should I be reducing my dosage to ward off any potential problems?

DEAR READER: Chronic lymphocytic leukemia, a disorder marked by excessive numbers of lymphocytes in the bloodstream, does not resemble the kinds of leukemia that affect other types of white blood cells. For one thing, CLL can be present for years without causing serious complications; for another, the condition is easily treated.

To a large extent, the viscosity, or thickness, of the blood is determined by the number of blood cells it contains. Too many red corpuscles (erythremia or polycythemia) or too many white corpuscles (leukemia) cause the blood to become less liquid. In these circumstances, blood circulation is slowed (hyper-viscosity syndrome), and the various body organs do not receive adequate nutrition.

CLL is associated with an uncontrolled overgrowth of lymphocytes, small white blood cells that are part of the immune system. The normal lymphocyte count is about 5,000 per cubic millimeter, approximately 30 percent of the total white corpuscle count. In CLL, this number can rise to 50,000 or above; the blood then becomes thick and syrupy.

Leukeran and similar drugs depress the formation of lymphocytes, thereby relieving the hyperviscosity that characterizes CLL. Ordinarily, treatment is not administered until the lymphocyte count exceeds 70,000 and it is discontinued when the count falls below about 20,000. Some patients do well on "pulsed" (intermittent) doses of the drug, while others require small daily maintenance doses; during therapy, the white count is periodically tested.

It's true that Leukeran and other anti-metabolite drugs do have side effects, ranging from fatigue and loss of appetite to life-threatening suppression of the body's blood-forming tissues. Nonetheless, doctors must constantly assess the risk/benefit ratio: The risks of Leukeran therapy are outweighed by its advantages in treating CLL, which itself can be fatal if untreated.

Therefore, follow your doctor's advice. You seem to be receiving appropriate therapy. When your white count approaches normal, the physician will undoubtedly modify your treatment.

Since you are concerned about the long-term consequences of Leukeran (and the prognosis for CLL), I urge you to share these concerns with your doctor, who should be able to answer the specific questions about your case.

Look at it another way. Just come in and see the great cars we have to rent at reasonable rates, including insurance. And even if you didn't need a rental when you walked in, you might convince yourself that you do before you walk out. It's worth a try.

Being without wheels is more than an inconvenience in West Texas, and Wilson Motors has the answer with its Rent-A-Car program.

Wilson Motors, your transportation specialist in Scurry County for more than 30 years, has expanded its rental department which includes all 1991 models.

Available for rental on a daily, weekend, weekly or monthly basis is a 1991 four-door Escort, a 1991 Ford Explorer and a 1991 F-150 supercap pickup.

Bill Lockhart, Wilson Motors service manager, heads up the rental department which has grown over the last two years. "We want people to know that we stand ready to provide transportation when their vehicle either is out of service or doesn't fit the occasion.'

Lockhart said people are often left without transportation following an accident. "Be sure and check with the insurance company to see if the policy provides for a rental vehicle, because it often does." If in a collision, a motorist may also want to check the provision of the other driver's collision policy concerning rental while your vehicle is being repaired.
