SHS marches to region; set Saturday in Odessa

LUBBOCK — Snyder High School's "Pride of the West" took first division honors from the judges at the District 2-4A marching band contest here Wednesday and will advance to regional competition this weekend.

"I'm real proud of them," said Walter Reneau, SHS band director.

Franship will join Snyder as the two bands representing District 2-4A at Odessa's Ratliff Stadium on Saturday for the regional competition. Also competing will be Pampa and Hereford from District 1 and Pecos and Monahans from District 3.

"We're hoping to be at least better than four of them," said Reneau, noting that first and second place bands at region will advance to state.

Snyder's last trip to state was five years ago. Reneau wouldn't predict another trip but said, "If our kids do their best, I think we can be real competitive. If we make a mistake, we probably won't. But I think you could say that about all the bands there. It will be real competitive. If there's a bad (band) there, I'm not aware of it."

Snyder is scheduled to march at 5:45 p.m.

Absentee voting concludes Friday

Scurry County voters have only one more day to cast their ballots by the in-person absentee method for next Tuesday's general election.

Friday at 5 p.m. is the deadline for absentee voting in the county clerk's office. The office opens at 8:30 a.m.

As of noon today, 1,118 people had voted absentee, including 994 by the in-person method. The deadline to request a ballot by mail has passed. The county clerk's office reported that 47 ballots were still out as of today, but they will be valid if postmarked by Nov. 6.

There are four contested races in the county. They include the office of county judge, where Republican Bob Doolittle is challenging Democratic incumbent Bobby Goodwin.

Another incumbent being challenged is Precinct 2 Commissioner Tommy Pate, a Democrat. Pate is running against Republican Roy L. Idom.

Two women, Democrat Elois Pruitt, and Republican Patsy Williams, are running for the office of district clerk.

In the only other contested race, write-in candidate D.M. Foree is going against Democrat H.M. Lomax for justice of the peace in Precinct 2.

Also of area interest is the 78th District State Representative's race, which pits Democratic incumbent David Counts of Knox City against Republican challenger John Pennington of Sweetwater.

Among the unopposed races in the county, County Attorney Pete Greene, County Clerk Frances Billingsley and County Treasurer Rita Staton, all Democratic incumbents, are seeking re-

Water line repair key council topic

Snyder City Council will meet in an informal work session at 6:30 tonight at city hall. During the meeting, the council will preview topics on the agenda for its November meeting on Monday.

Topping the list is discussion of rehabilitating city water lines. The council is currently considering a contract with In-Place Lining Inc. of Fort Worth to lease equipment that would clean and line with cement city water lines.

City staff is expected to present the council with a priority list of areas in the city that need water line rehabilitation and a 12-month plan implementing the leased equipment.

It had been estimated that leasing the equipment for a year would cost approximately $250,000, including materials and labor. The monies would come from $302,000 the council budgeted for general water system improvements.

Also to be discussed will be the signing of an inter-local contract for the county's 911 system.

Earlier this month, County Judge Bobby Goodwin signed an inter-local contract for the system which will be housed at Snyder police station. The system is expected to be operational in January of 1992.

Members of the council are also scheduled to review a request from Snyder chamber of commerce and Western Texas College athletic department for $1,400 from the city's hotel and motel tax fund for the WTC-McDonald's Classic basketball tournament, scheduled Nov. 15-17.

The council will also look over an ordinance updating the city's participation in the Texas Municipal Retirement System and a request for a zone change.

No action is expected to be taken during the meeting. The council will meet at 6:30 p.m. Monday at city hall for its November meeting.

Company G...

Matney's Raiders return for 17th annual reunion

"Matney's Raiders" return to Snyder this evening to begin the annual Company G three-day get-together.

Company G was a National Guard Unit mobilized out of Snyder on Nov. 25, 1940. Some 110 members from Scurry County were among the unit. The company was a part of the U.S. Army 142nd Regiment, 36th Division, which saw action in six European campaigns during World War II.

The annual reunion — beginning its 17th year — will kickoff at 6:30 p.m. with a Dutch treat supper at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Friday, a barbecue meal catered by Reta's Cake Shop, will be served in Room A at the coliseum beginning at 6:30 p.m. Following the meal, an auction of donated items will held with proceeds to be donated to Charles Stimson of Plainview, who publishes a quarterly letter for all former Company G servicemen.

Registration for the final day of the reunion will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, in the Science Center on the Western Texas College campus. Coffee and cookies will be served.

Mayor Troy Williamson will welcome the veterans that day and a business meeting will begin at 9:45 a.m.

Saturday afternoon will remain open to enable veterans and visitors to Snyder to pursue activities of their own choice and interest.

A banquet at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the WTC Student Center will conclude the reunion.

The 36th Division saw action in Italy, southern France, central Europe and Germany during WWII. Division members were awarded 15 Congressional Medals of Honor, 2,354 Silver Stars, 80 Distinguished Service Crosses, 5,407 Bronze Stars, 88 Air Medals and 12 Unit Citations.

Villasana found guilty; sentencing set Nov. 13

A 37-year-old Snyder man was found guilty of one count of aggravated sexual assault of a child and one count of indecency with a child Wednesday afternoon in 132nd District Court.

The nine man, three woman jury took approximately two hours to find Encarnacion Villasana of 1801 15th St. guilty. The defendant has filed a petition to be sentenced by District Judge Gene Dulaney instead of the jury.

Judge Dulaney is expected to sentence Villasana during a hearing scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Nov.

13 in the 132nd District Court. Villasana faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment or 99 years and a $10,000 fine for the aggravated sexual assault conviction and up to 20 years and a fine not to exceed $10,000 for the indecency conviction.

According to prosecuting attorney Dana Cooley, Villasana is eligible for a probated sentence.

He was charged in connection with a March 15, 1989, incident involving a 13-year-old girl.

The defense was represented by Jesse Mendez of Lubbock.

Convention goers plan to plant wild flowers during activities Friday

The District 8 Garden Club Fall Convention, scheduled here Friday, will feature a wild flower planting at Western Texas College.

Local club officials, who along with the Roby and Colorado City garden clubs are sponsoring the convention, made plans for the planting earlier this week. Convention members will be planting yellow cone flower seeds in honor of military personnel in Saudi Arabia.

The planting will be held from 11 a.m. until noon near the Golf/Landscape Technology building.

Local garden club members are expecting about 150 District 8 garden club participants to attend the convention. District 8 is a part of the Texas State Garden Club. The theme for the convention is "Call of the West."

A pre-convention dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. today at Snyder Country Club. Cindy Nix will provide entertainment.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Friday at Scurry County Museum on the college campus. An executive board meeting will be held at 8:30 a.m., and a general assembly will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre.

Mrs. Jack Bryant, District 8 director from Abilene, will preside. The assembly will be followed by the wild flower planting at 11 a.m. and a luncheon at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Zoe Kirkpatrick, well-known authority on wild flowers, will be the guest speaker for the noon program.

She spoke at Wildflower Day at Western Texas College this past spring. She was the speaker for the first Wildflower Symposium at Texas Tech and addressed the State Native Plant Society of the Texas-El Paso District garden clubs. She also spoke at the Texas Wild Flower Day in Denton and the State Garden Club Convention in Odessa.

Ask Us

Q—Will Snyder be hosting any college or high school basketball tournaments this season?

A—Snyder will host the WTC/McDonald's Classic on Nov. 15-17 and the women's junior college Turkey Day Classic on Nov. 23-24. There are no high school varsity basketball tournaments scheduled this year, however.

Local

Congressman

Texas congressman Steve Bartlett is due in Snyder between 9 and 9:30 a.m. Friday to campaign for John Pennington, Sweetwater Republican running for state representative.

Bartlett, also a Republican, will arrive in Snyder by plane and will walk the business district with Pennington. The two will also campaign Friday in Sweetwater, Post and Stamford.

CROP walk organizer Dr. Tim Griffin reported Wednesday that some $2,000 was raised from Sunday's event in which 70 walkers from 10 groups and local organizations participated.

Griffin noted that next year's event will be scheduled earlier in the fall. He said he would like to thank McDonald's for refreshments and the local media for publicity.

'Candida'

Western Texas College's production of "Candida" begins its three-day run this evening at the Fine Arts Theatre on campus.

The show will be held nightly at 8 o'clock through Saturday. Tickets, on sale at the box office, are $5 for adults, $4 for senior citizens and $3 for students.

Hermleigh

Hermleigh Parents Booster Club is taking orders for red satin Cardinal-jackets.

Sizes run from youth small to adult extra large. Order forms are available at Hermleigh School and payment must be made upon ordering. The deadline to order is Nov. 16.

Cardinal caps are available from Chip Roemisch.

Pollution

Scurry County Residents Against Pollution (SCRAP) will meet at 7 p.m. today at Willow Park Inn.

Anyone concerned about the proposed hazardous waste incinerator and landfill in Mitchell County is invited to attend.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A bachelor is a person who has to look elsewhere for aggravation."

It's a bit unsettling, but we've noticed we're more interested in reading articles relating to Social Security.

We recently observed some good news-bad news facts about the government's retirement program.

The good news is that Social Security reserves are in excess of $170 billion.

The bad news: The money is invested in government securities.

A fellow in the coffee shop observed another contradiction about our system of government.

Noting a proposal for increases in "sin taxes," the guy said, "The government gets you coming and going. First they drive you to drinking and then they raise the tax on booze."

Another wag said sin taxes are a great way to balance the budget. He suggested creating an agency to promote people to develop more bad habits.

If the federal government wants to raise money, we'd suggest a hefty tax on those 900-number toll calls.

Television is full of commercials asking the viewer to call 900 numbers for everything from "free gifts" to "talk lines."

The caller is billed a buck or more for each minute. It's a big money maker, and many homes have experienced phone-bill shock.

There have been reports of thousand-dollar phone bills because of unauthorized calls.

One commercial invites teens to call and chat with other teens. One executive observed, teens and 900 numbers go together like matches and gasoline.

Gubernatorial race...

Candidates meet on TV, not face to face

AUSTIN (AP) — In their final televised meeting before Tuesday's election, the gubernatorial candidates each voiced disapproval of a state income tax and disagreed sharply on abortion.

Republican Clayton Williams said he would favor a state law requiring parents to be notified before minor daughters could obtain abortions.

Democrat Ann Richards said parents should be involved, but writing a law to require it was so difficult that some young women could be driven to "back-alley butchers."

The two participated in a "mini-debate" arranged by KDFW-TV and conducted in separate studios Wednesday night. They have not taken part in a face-to-face debate during the campaign.

Each candidate promised to build more prisons, start "boot camps" for first-time offenders and be generally tough on crime.

Williams asked Richards whether she would veto a state income tax, as he has promised to do. "I'm totally against an income tax, have said that consistently," Richards replied. The Republican said afterward that Richards still hasn't promised Texans a veto.

The two were at odds over parental consent for abortion. Richards has described herself as pro-choice on abortion, while Williams opposes abortion except in cases of rape, incest or danger to a mother's life.

butchers as we did in previous years, and no one wants that." But Williams disagreed.

Astrograph

by Bernice Bede Osol

Nov. 2, 1990

The year ahead could be a very significant one for you where your career and earnings are concerned. There are promising indications you might make more than ever before.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It might be very tough to hammer out a feasible agreement today. None of the parties involved are apt to be satisfied with the terms, making its prospects for survival very dubious. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Sometimes you're reasonably good at juggling several critical assignments simultaneously, but this is not likely to be one of those days. It's best to do less, but do that well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A small misunderstanding might arise between you and a good friend today. The event could be magnified beyond its significance if it turns into a clash of opposing wills.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If your timing and tactics are not in sync, it will be extremely difficult for you to fulfill ambitious objectives today. Try to do what's smart and effective at the right time.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Strive to be selective today regarding the issues you discuss with a temperamental friend. If this person's opinions are not in accord with yours, your pal could become very argumentative.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This is not a good time to assume new financial obligations if there are still some old accounts that haven't been cleared from your books. Be prudent and try not to overburden your budget.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) An important association must be handled with consideration and tact today. A misunderstanding or thoughtless behavior could put this relationship in jeopardy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's important at this time that you do not let your duties and responsibilities begin to pile up on you. If you fall behind, you could have a Dickens of a time trying to catch up later.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Usually you're a rather gregarious person who feels comfortable in a crowd. However, today if a bit of solitude appeals to you, it's best not to force yourself to mingle.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There is a strong indication that you might find yourself the center of attention today. Others will be scrutinizing your faults, however, rather than looking for things to admire.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There is a chance you might try to impose your opinions on an unresponsive listener today. This individual is slow to anger, but your intrusion could get this person really steamed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is not necessarily the best time to discuss financial matters with your mate. There is a possibility each party might feel it's the other one who is blowing too much money.

U.S. about to pay back dues to U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five years after it started withholding dues from the United Nations to force a belt-tightening in the world organization, the United States is paying up.

The 101st Congress, in its final days, passed legislation to pay nearly $800 million in current and back dues owed to the United Nations, its specialized agencies and other international regional bodies to which the United States belongs. President Bush has indicated he will sign the bill.

The United States pays one-fourth the cost of U.N. operations, the largest share of any country.

The congressional action underscores the increasingly important role the United Nations is playing in a changing world," Assistant Secretary of State John R. Bolton said Wednesday.

The administration has warmed toward the United Nations in recent months, largely because of tough stands the world organization has taken against Iraq following its invasion of Kuwait.

The bill also includes $33 million in current dues for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and $54 million in dues owed the Organization of American States.

But federal law requires the United States to withhold future dues from the United Nations or any U.N. agency that deviates from a new cost-screening system adopted under American pressure. Under that system, a U.N. budget subcommittee acts by consensus, rather than majority vote, providing a virtual veto to the United States and other major dues-paying countries.

Bush told the U.N. General Assembly on Oct. 1: "My administration is fully committed to supporting the United Nations and to paying what we are obliged to by our commitments to the charter. International peace and security — and international freedom and prosperity — require no less."

At a Senate hearing three weeks earlier, Secretary of State James A. Baker III appealed for full funding of the United Nations in a speech pointing out its revived importance in a world free of superpower rivalry but facing sharpened regional tension.

With the Iraq-Kuwait situation, Baker said, "we are faced with the first crisis of the post-Cold War era, and we are their biggest deadbeat in paying our dues to the United Nations — or at least we are among the biggest deadbeats, and it is outrageous."

Baker was treasury secretary when President Reagan decided to hold back U.S. dues in 1985. Three years later, Reagan pronounced the maneuver a success in forcing U.N. budget reforms and economies, but he left it to Bush and Congress to pay the back dues.

Williams said sued for one million dollars

FORT STOCKTON, Texas (AP) — Republican gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams, having already fended off attacks on his banking business, is now fending off a claim against his oil ventures.

A Fort Worth couple has filed a $1 million lawsuit against the Midland oilman, claiming that he extracted oil and gas from their property without compensation.

Williams, who has watched a sizable lead over Democratic opponent Ann Richards dwindle to a dead heat less than a week before the Nov. 6 election, said Wednesday the lawsuit was politically motivated.

"I don't know anything about it," he said. "It's nothing but politics. I can tell you I never stole anybody's land."

Florence Vivian Bradley and Joe A. Bradley are suing Williams for $1 million plus compensation for oil and gas Williams allegedly drilled in violation of a pool agreement.

Richness achieved with good pieces

A challenge for home decorators with a small budget is how to achieve a feeling of richness in a room that is all but characterless.

New York decorator Teri Seidman says use the good stuff, sparingly but dramatically — antique furnishings, luxury fabrics and accessories.

A few expensive needlepoint pillows, a small item of antique furniture, a collection of porcelain or crystal or a paisley shawl made from a yard of fabric and some trimming contribute far more than their cost to the overall effect of a room, she says.

Seidman put some of her best ideas to work in a nursery at Kinkora, a Westhampton, N.Y., mansion that was decorated as a charity showhouse. The room earned her an award from the American Society of Interior Designers.

A novel theme is one of the best ways to give a room distinction, says Seidman. For example, she chose a vivid black and white scheme for the nursery, then subordinated most of the other details to this theme. The ceiling is tented in black and white striped fabric; $3-a-yard white lining fabric is shirred on rods on the walls, and the rug is white with a black and white print border.

"Black and white is actually more appropriate than the typical pastel schemes for children's room because high color contrasts are more stimulating," she says.

To soften the strong color contrast somewhat, Seidman used peach as a secondary color, and the furniture is in bleached woods.

In general, says Seidman, co-author of the book, "Decorating Rich" (Villard Books, 1988), "a few rich details give the room a rich feeling, like good pearls on a plain black dress."

For example, in the nursery, she uses an expensive tassel on a cord used to hang artwork. Two French chairs and a framed architectural print also provide a feeling of luxury.

Within the boundaries of the general theme, rooms are more interesting when they hold a few surprises. An ornate Venetian console with a pale peach marble top is her unorthodox choice for a changing table. If this strikes some mothers as impractical for a wriggling infant, she suggests using a reproduction or antique base with a padded foam top added or a wicker reproduction or antique piece.

Any nursery needs shelves and drawers to hold toys and clothes, so a wall of the room is devoted to storage. The existing cupboards were painted white and fitted with new particleboard shelves by a closet installer.

Seidman says there are many products on the market that can be used to add interest to dull rooms. Fabric, lots of it, is one. She favors shirred fabric walls. It's also possible to staple fabric flat to the walls, thus eliminating the sewing.

Ready-made moldings can be added to featureless walls and painted a contrasting color. Screens covered in antique or reproduction fabric or wallpaper also create interesting surfaces.

Wallpaper borders in unexpected places, such as along the top of the baseboards, around a door frame or around the window frame, work well too. Paint the baseboard a different color from the wall, or give it a special finish such as marbling.

Wood floors can be given luxury treatment with paint — a faux border of marquetry and a medallion in the center. Coat the floor with polyurethane to make it durable. Copy designs from old books and antique furniture.

A handmade or antique accessory such as a rug or lacquered box lends distinction. "Handwork has a labor-intensive quality that adds something important," says Seidman. In museum shops, she sometimes finds authentic reproductions that retain the handmade feeling but are less costly than originals.

One of the most luxurious details in decorating is interesting lighting. All lighting should be on dimmers so lighting levels can be varied, she says. This change alone often transforms a room for the better.

Another secret is the degree of care that goes into selecting the finishes. It is important to see paint and fabric together in the room in which they will be used. Invest in a quart of paint and a yard of fabric to try them together in the room before proceeding further.

A small expenditure early on will minimize the chance of expensive failures later.

careless play. There is no reason to play only one round of clubs to the king. Instead declarer should play ace of clubs and then king of clubs. What a difference! West can no longer ruff the third spade, and declarer is still in dummy to take a heart finesse to his queen. After he picks up trumps, he plays ace of hearts, dropping East's king. He can then force out the jack of hearts and make the slam.

SCS helps with tree sales

By Michael Squires Range Conservationist

Once again, the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District is assisting the Mitchell SWCD in Colorado City by offering trees for sale for windbreak purposes, aesthetic uses, wildlife plantings or landscape reasons.

This is an extremely popular program offered to the public because it offers a wide selection of trees for sale at very reasonable prices.

In the bare-root seedling selection there are hardwoods such as Sand Cherry, Red Oak, Green Ash, Pecan and many more. These trees are seedlings and need to be cared for closely during the first two years to ensure survival.

Everygreens are also being offered in "rootpruned tube-paks." A partial list of trees includes Mondell Pine, Arizona Cypress and Austrian Pine.

In the last few years, the "Wildlife Packets" have become very popular to those interested in planting trees that specifically target wildlife. These packets offer trees that provide excellent food and cover for native birds and animals.

There are certain factors that should be considered when planting the trees. Spacing is important in order to achieve the results desired and give the trees ample room to grow. Protection to the trees is very important, especially during the first two years, because wind and rodents can cause low survivability of the trees. In this area of Texas, the most limiting factor is water. You should plan the area so that you can provide enough water for the trees until they establish an adequate root system to provide for themselves.

All orders must be received by the Mitchell SWCD no later than Feb. 12, 1991.

The Upper Colorado SWCD and the Mitchell SWCD will be glad to answer any questions you may have. In Snyder, forms for ordering may be picked up at the Soil Conservation Service Office located at 3423 Ave. T or by calling 573-6317.

Latin America's manufacturing sector, which had achieved an average growth rate of 5.2 percent during 1984-86, saw this rate dip to a very slow 2.1 percent in 1987, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. The bank added that the great majority of the region's countries have not succeeded in stabilizing manufacturing growth rates during the past few years, which increases uncertainty and tends to hinder the private sector's long-term investment plans.

Anger over jail releases grows

Houston Chronicle

400 felons may be released

John Pennington says. "When the liberal courts put our families and other innocent people at risk, it's time to fight back. Here's my three point plan to stop early release and really get tough on crime."

1. Close the prison doors and keep them closed.
2. Put prisoners in unused military facilities.
3. Make prison terms mandatory for drug crooks.

I will co-sponsor the legislation proposed by Republican Representative John Culberson which will nullify the court ordered 95% population cap in our prisons by raising the limit to the federal prison's 120% plus capacity cap. This will slam the prison doors and keep them closed.

I support Senator Buster Brown's plan to use abandoned military bases as Parole Release Centers to house criminals overflowing from our state prisons. This will relieve the pressure on our state prisons and county jails and keep dangerous criminals off our streets.

I support Clayton Williams' boot camp plan for first time offenders, his death penalty legislation for child killers and drug kingpins who kill our children with drugs, and Senator Phil Gramm's call for mandatory sentences for any drug pusher who sells drugs to our children.

Pittsburgh skipper receives NL award

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Leyland thought some changes might be good for himself and the Pittsburgh Pirates this year.

So he stopped screaming at his players, stopped smoking cigarettes and stopped drinking coffee. Calmed down, he then charged up his team and turned the Pirates from a fifth-place club into division champions.

On Wednesday, Leyland was rewarded with the National League Manager of the Year award.

"Sure, I'd thought about having a chance to win it," he said at Three Rivers Stadium soon after receiving the honor. "But it still was a shock. It was an unbelievable feeling."

Not much was expected from the Pirates this season after they went 74-88 in 1989. But they bounced back to become contenders, held up to the pressure of a stretch drive and held off the New York Mets in September to win the National League East. Pittsburgh finished 95-67, second-best in baseball to Oakland's 103-59.

Leading the way was Leyland, regarded as one of the most intense men in the majors. He was just as serious and studious this season, although he showed it in other ways.

"I took a little bit of a different approach. Everybody in the world has to make adjustments," Leyland said. "I stayed a little more low-key and I disciplined myself more."

"I think they were tired of hearing me yelling all the time and seeing hamburgers go flying across the clubhouse," he said. "I thought this club was at a point where it was important to keep things low-key and let the players stay focused on what they had to do."

Leyland had Barry Bonds and Bobby Bonilla for offense, but did not have a set starting rotation or a relief ace. Leyland juggled his staff and 18 pitchers wound up winning games.

Leyland got 17 of the 24 first-place votes and finished with 99 points. Lou Piniella, who led Cincinnati past Pittsburgh in the playoffs and sent the Reds to a sweep of Oakland in the World Series, got three first-place votes and was second with 49 points.

Montreal's Buck Rodgers also got three first-place votes and was tied for third with 32 points with Los Angeles' Tom Lasorda, who got the other first-place vote. San Francisco's Roger Craig and New York's Bud Harrelson tied for fourth with two points each.

No manager was named on all 24 ballots. Two members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in each NL city vote, and voting was completed before the start of the playoffs.

Jeff Torborg of the Chicago White Sox was selected the American League manager of the year on Tuesday.

"This is kind of like icing on the cake for this season," Leyland said. "But I still wish I was in the position Lou Piniella was."

"We never said we were going to go after Strawberry," Nederlander said Wednesday. "We will try to be fiscally responsible in this club's operations, but it does not mean we won't sign a free agent if it will help us."

Phils ink Daulton to $6 million pact

NEW YORK (AP) — If Darren Daulton can get more than $2 million per season, imagine how much it will take to get George Bell and Fernando Valenzuela.

It will cost a lot more to sign Darryl Strawberry, which is why the New York Yankees say they might not even try to lure him from the New York Mets.

In the first big deal of the off-season, Daulton and the Philadelphia Phillies showed that the salary spiral for free agents isn't likely to stop.

Daulton, a career .206 hitter before this year, and the Phillies agreed Wednesday to a three-year contract for $6.75 million. Daulton, valuable as a left-handed hitting catcher, batted .268 with 12 home runs, 30 doubles and 57 RBIs.

Daulton, 28, recently filed for free agency and although other teams were allowed this week to express interest, no club could make a financial offer until next week.

"We're glad to have him before he goes into the so-called mine field," Phillies general manager Lee Thomas said. "Once you get out there you don't know what can happen. You want to keep your own and that's what we did."

Daulton will get a $500,000 signing bonus, $1.75 million in 1991 and $2.25 million in each of the following two seasons.

"It makes him with Lance Parrish the highest-paid catcher in baseball," said Daulton's agent, Arn Tellum. "That's how we got to the number."

Parrish signed a $6.75 million, three-year deal with the California Angels last winter.

Greg Harris, 13-9 with a 4.00 ERA for Boston, was eligible to file for free agency. Instead, he re-signed with the Red Sox for $2.8 million over two years.

Bell, Valenzuela and Sid Bream each filed Wednesday, bringing the total of free agents to 89. Brian Downing is among nine other players eligible to submit their names by Sunday's midnight deadline.

Cincinnati declined to exercise its 1991 option on second baseman Ron Oester and Pittsburgh declined to exercise its option on pitcher Ted Power, and both players immediately filed for free agency.

Also, the Kansas City Royals, as expected, announced they would not offer a contract to free agent Willie Wilson for next season.

Strawberry is asking for a contract similar to Jose Canseco's five-year, $23.5 million deal. The Yankees, always a major player in the free-agent market, are one of the few teams that could afford it.

But Robert Nederlander, who has succeeded George Steinbrenner as the Yankees' managing partner, said the team may not pursue the Mets' power hitter.

District 2-4A preview...

Tiger squads tangle at FHS

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

Two teams of Tigers clash Friday in a key District 2-4A battle with playoff implications involved.

Snyder, 5-2-1 on the campaign and 2-1 in loop play, travels to 5-3, 2-1 Frenship in the regular season's next-to-last week.

In other action Friday, first-place Estacado is at Levelland and Dunbar is at Lamesa.

Last week's results saw Snyder pound Levelland, 35-12, while Estacado whipped Frenship, 37-12 and Levelland nudged Lamesa, 21-8.

All this week's games begin at 7:30 p.m.

Snyder at Frenship
After wrapping up an undefeated home season, Snyder looks to take its success on the road.

The matchup here is the SHS defense, namely the secondary, against the league's most prolific passer, Frenship's Brad Cade.

Cade has passed for 1139 yards and 12 touchdowns in 1990 and the Black and Gold defensive backfield has set a team mark with 11 interceptions.

Cade's favorite target, Chris Matthews has 36 catches on the season for 655 yards and eight TDs.

Brandon Bennett leads the FHS ground attack from his fullback spot. The 190-pound senior has picked up 704 yards this year for a 5.7 average and two scores.

The Frenship offense as a whole is averaging 314 yards per outing.

Snyder's defenders are among the best in the district giving up just 158.3 yards per game and only 46.1 yards passing.

Defensive back Mark King leads the SHS Tigers with four swiped aerials.

The Snyder offense relies on its backfield tandem of Bryan Brunson and Paul Anderson for rushing yardage. The duo has combined for 1114 yards rushing this season.

The Frenship defense, after carrying the team early in the year, may be the weak link at this point.

Last week Estacado was able to punch out 387 yards on the ground against FHS.

Estacado at Levelland
The Matadors bounced back last week from a 14-all tie with Lamesa to thrash Frenship, 37-12, and pick up over 450 offensive yards in the process.

Estacado tailback R.J. Johnson is nearing the 1,000 yard plateau while fullback Patrick Williams has quietly gained 696 yards on the season.

The EHS defense gave up just 202 yards to the potent Frenship attack last Friday.

Levelland took an early 21-0 lead over Lamesa last week and held on for a 21-8 win at home.

The defense of the Lobos gave up just a third quarter TD to the Tornados in the contest while the offense was led by a Lance Patton to Jody Fortner 12-yard TD pass and a 1-yard dive by fullback Steve Ochoa.

Estacado is 7-0-1 on the year and 2-0-1 in loop play while Levelland sits at 5-3 and 2-1.

Dunbar at Lamesa
The Panthers and the Golden Tornados are each looking for their first District 2-4A win of 1990.

Dunbar, 3-5 and 0-3, started off the season with three straight wins and has gone south since dropping five in a row including last week's 35-12 embarrassment to Snyder.

Lamesa, now 3-3-2 and 0-2-1, also started out quick but, in spite of a 14-14 tie with then second-ranked Estacado, has yet to post a W since league play began.

Lamesa's offense is led by running back Brandon Sheppard, who scored the only points for LHS against Levelland last week on a 1-yard run.

Dunbar's main strength is the play on offense and defense of senior Typhajl McMullan.

McMullan is the second-leading rusher in the district with 745 yards. He became the only back this season to crack the Snyder defense for over 100 yards when he ran for 118 yards last week.

McMullan is also a mainstay in the defensive backfield for the Panthers, gathering in three interceptions and returning one for a touchdown early in the year against Canyon Randall.

WTC-Navarro tilt slated at Reunion

Tickets are now on sale for the Western Texas College-Navarro Junior College basketball game set for Nov. 23 in Dallas' Reunion Arena.

The Westerners will face Navarro in a non-conference tilt scheduled to be played at 4:30 p.m. just before the Dallas Mavericks-San Antonio Spurs regular-season NBA contest.

"Usually we play in Dallas before a preseason game," said WTC coach Tony Mauldin; "but this year we get to play just before a regular season game."

Tickets, which include admission to both games, are $11 each. Mauldin also said that the Hampton Inn in nearby Garland will have a special $38 rate for fans attending the game and staying the night there.

For more information or to reserve tickets to the game contact the WTC Athletic Office at 573-8511.

Johnson optimistic about team's future

IRVING, Texas (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys have tripled last year's victory output and coach Jimmy Johnson sees nothing but improvement down a road leading to next April's bountiful NFL draft in which they have three first-round draft picks.

Dallas was 3-5 at mid-season and could have been at 5-0 if it wasn't for another Randall Cunningham football miracle which stole a 21-20 victory for the Philadelphia Eagles away from the Cowboys last Sunday.

Although Dallas is next to last in the NFL in total offense, Johnson said the Cowboys have avoided the panic button.

"We're already a much better football team than the one we had when the season started," Johnson said. "The second half of the season I think we can show what we can do offensively. We'll still be inconsistent at times because we have some players who didn't go to quarterback school or training camp."

Johnson was speaking of first-round draft pick Emmitt Smith of Florida, who made quarterback school but missed training camp; second-round draft pick Alexander Wright of Auburn, who missed some quarterback schools and training camp; fullback Alonzo Highsmith, who was obtained in a trade from Houston a week before the regular season began; and offensive guard John Gesek, who was obtained in a trade with the Los Angeles Raiders.

"We had three motion penalties last week against the Eagles and they were against players we didn't have in training camp," Johnson said. "They were critical penalties, too. That's the kind of thing that causes you to be inconsistent. With another training camp we can get rid of those kind of mistakes."

Smith is learning the NFL is tougher than the Southeastern Conference.

He averaged 5.6 yards per rush in his career at Florida. For the Cowboys, he's averaging 3.6 yards per carry.

"He's going to be a big-time back in this league," Johnson said. "But missing training camp hurt him a lot."

If Elected Commissioner Pct. 2 I Will Be Dedicated To:

Preserving all programs and services that have proved essential and important to our county by being a good financial planner and using good management practices.

Being conscientious and to giving my undivided attention to being a commissioner that will work for the welfare of Scurry County.

Vote For Roy Idom Commissioner, Pct. 2

Pol. Ad Paid For by Roy Idom, Snyder, Texas

Increasing efficiency in our county government with sound business principles and methods.

Search suspended as Coast Guard begins investigation

GRAND ISLE, La. (AP) — A search was discontinued for a sixth Texan presumed killed when a south Louisiana gas well exploded in flames. Four other men were known dead in the Tuesday accident, and a fifth was hospitalized.

All six of the workers were from Texas, authorities said.

The workers were trying to cap the well in Barataria Bay, about 15 miles north of Grand Isle, when the explosion touched off a fire that burned for about three hours, the Coast Guard said. There apparently was no blowout or pollution.

"I heard a loud explosion first," said Dr. Russell T. Ribando, a Marrero physician who was fishing nearby. "Then all of the pipes went up in the air like matchsticks."

The cause of the explosion and fire was not immediately known, but the Coast Guard said sparks from welding equipment on a nearby barge might be blame.

"That is one of the possibilities we have to check out," said Cmdr. Bill Riley of the Coast Guard Investigations Department. "We have to find out what flashed where and find out what the actual material was that burned, whether it was something from one of the barges or the well."

Three bodies were found within hours after the rig caught fire about 5 p.m. Tuesday. A fourth was found Wednesday.

Another of the workers remained in critical but stable condition at West Jefferson Medical Center in suburban New Orleans, where a nursing supervisor said he suffered multiple injuries and burns over 20 percent of his back. The supervisor said he is Hispanic, speaks no English and has told an interpreter nothing about the accident.

The Coast Guard said a search for the sixth worker was suspended Wednesday night.

Jefferson Parish coroner's investigator Bill Donovan identified the dead Wednesday as Travis Glover, 24, and James Hines, 38, both of Bryan, Texas; Fredrico Flores, of Smithville, Texas, and George Maldonado, whose age and Texas hometown were not immediately known.

Autopsies Wednesday showed traumatic injuries to Glover, Flores and Maldonado, said Donovan.

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter has developed anemia, and we question why and what treatment is available. Can you fill us in?

DEAR READER: Anemia has many causes. Either blood is being lost from the body, is being destroyed within the body, or is not being made in sufficient quantities by the bone marrow.

The first type of anemia — from blood loss — is the most common. It follows bleeding ulcers, injury and excessively heavy menstruation, to mention just three causes. Treatment includes correction of the blood loss (by transfusion, if necessary) and administration of iron supplements to stimulate the body to replace the blood that was lost.

The second type — destruction of blood — is more unusual and is seen in drug-allergy reactions and a variety of autoimmune diseases, when the body's immune system mistakenly attacks its own, normal blood, destroying healthy blood cells. Such conditions always require extensive testing, such as a bone marrow examination, for diagnosis — and patients almost always must be given strong drugs, such as cortisone, to correct the anemia.

The third type — insufficient production of blood cells — is often a consequence of vitamin deficiency (such as B-12, pernicious anemia), kidney failure or other serious diseases, such as hypothyroidism and cancer. It, too, requires extensive investigation, including X-rays and blood tests, but the treatment is usually quite straightforward: replacing the missing vitamin or correcting the underlying disease.

Even with this over-simplified explanation, you can understand that anemia is a real medical challenge. Therefore, I suggest you discuss this issue with your daughter's doctor. You will need to know why your daughter is anemic; then you can work with the doctor in treating the condition.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Help. I — Physical Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Are there any long-term effects expected from taking Accutane? Would it remain in the body long after use and cause problems such as birth defects?

DEAR READER: Accutane (isotretinoin) is a drug used for acne and related skin disorders. Its most glaring and serious side effect is damage to unborn fetuses if their mothers inadvertently take the medicine during pregnancy. Therefore, pregnancy (or contemplated pregnancy) is a strict contraindication to the use of Accutane. Moreover, the manufacturer warns that Accutane therapy should be terminated at least one month before pregnancy occurs.

Other side effects of Accutane include decreased night vision, visual difficulties, abdominal pain, elevated blood fats and liver damage. Therefore, the medicine should be administered only by a doctor familiar with its use, who can carefully monitor the patient's progress. The long-term consequences of Accutane are not known.

Teachers ask help for book

LEVELLAND, Texas (AP) — Elvis' influence on Buddy Holly is just one of the tidbits to be included in a book being written by two country bluegrass instructors about the history of West Texas music.

Joe Carr and Alan Munde, who teach at South Plains College, intend to explore nearly 200 years of pickin' on the plains with the help of locals and musicians familiar with this sprawling region.

Neither of the men are from West Texas, so they are depending largely on outside help.

The greatest tip so far has come from Sonny Curtis, a former musician in Holly's band, about Elvis Presley's influence on Holly, a Lubbock native.

"Buddy Holly was trying to get something going with country music when Elvis came to Lubbock in 1955," Carr said. "Curtis mentioned that Buddy was not playing rock 'n' roll before he had seen Elvis."

"But the day after the King came to town, Buddy was sold. He saw the reaction Elvis got and his rock 'n' roll career started taking off the next day."

Carr and Munde say Holly's quick transition has led them to conclude that "rock 'n' roll really is country music, just in a slightly different packaging."

Hundreds of letters to newspapers and radio stations have yielded valuable information.

"West Texas is a big place, and I would like to include as much of the history as possible in this book," Carr said. "It is relatively easy to research Bob Wills, Buddy Holly and music in the larger cities of West Texas."

Ranch hoedowns, square dances and tales of roughneck cowboys singing ballads that could make a stone blush are only a few of the tidbits Carr and Munde have received from area folks.

Scam operators alert given

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Scam operators offering home and yard repairs are working in the Amarillo area, the Texas Department of Public Safety says.

Four men were released from a Lubbock jail after pleading guilty to charges of deceptive business practices, Assistant District Attorney Russell Wasley said Wednesday.

In court documents, the four said they are currently staying in Amarillo hotels, Wasley told the Amarillo Globe-Times. The men are residents of Springfield, Mo., and Post Falls, Idaho, Wasley said.

Law enforcement authorities believe the men may try to stay in the Amarillo area and continue to work.

The men were arrested in Lubbock Oct. 24 after charging a 92-year-old Lubbock woman $12,000 for a "lightning protection system" that she didn't need, Wasley said.

After the woman paid for the lightning protection system, the four came back and began making repairs to her roof, telling the woman that her roof badly needed work, Wasley said.

Suspicious neighbors called police, who arrested the men and seized $13,600 in cash.

The four pleaded guilty to misdemeanor charges of deceptive business practices Tuesday before Judge Tom Cannon, County Court at Law No. 2, and were required to return the woman's $12,000 and pay more than $12,000 in court costs and fines, Wasley said.

The men were represented by Houston attorney Clyde Gordon, who brought the additional cash the men needed to settle their account, Wasley said.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "A Loving Mom in Durham," about using harnesses for her young children, I had to write.

Our son, Carl, was also a very active child — almost from birth. My mother-in-law suggested we consider a harness when we took him in large crowds, etc. I thought she was old-fashioned and cruel. Her insistence eventually caused a rift in our relationship.

When Carl was 3 years old, he and I were downtown waiting to cross a street when he noticed a large stuffed animal in a store window. He jerked his hand from mine and dashed into the street. Before I could catch him, he was struck by a car!

Both of his legs were broken; one was badly crushed. He also suffered head and chest injuries. At first, the doctors doubted that they could save him, but after three major surgeries and nine weeks in the hospital (three weeks in intensive care), Carl survived. He sustained some permanent loss of vision and balance, still suffers occasional headaches and walks with a limp.

Carl is now 5, and he is facing five more major surgeries over the next 11 to 15 years to deal with his crushed leg's inability to grow as quickly as the other.

Shortly after the accident, I was hospitalized for a nervous breakdown, and I'm still in therapy to help me deal with my feelings of guilt about the accident. The poor woman who struck Carl is still in touch — no one will ever convince her it was not her fault.

I must apologize for the length of this letter, Abby, but I just had to tell you how I feel about harnesses for hyperactive children.

When I see a child wearing a harness, I always smile and say, "Good for you!" to the adult at the other end.

A LOVING DAD IN TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: Please help me to impress on schoolteachers that the now popular idea of using baby pictures for graduations and yearbooks is not a good idea.

I have cared for many foster children in my home, and I also have four adopted children, all of whom have no baby pictures. All of our children's sixth-grade graduations used baby-picture slides. Some children are hurt by this. Often, the teachers would suggest that they bring in some other picture, but when everyone else brings in a cute baby picture, and your picture is of Little League a year ago, it's like announcing to everyone that you didn't have a family until a few years ago. These kids dread such occasions.

Don't get me wrong — I've seen many touching ceremonies done with baby pictures of the class, but I've also seen the tears, as a child desperately looks for a baby picture — anyone's baby picture — to take to school so he won't be different than the others.

SENSITIVE TEACHER,
BLACK CREEK, N.Y.

DEAR TEACHER: Thanks for your sensitivity. This never would have occurred to me, but you make a good point for other schoolteachers to consider.
