

Scurry says Williams, but state disagrees

ANN RICHARDS
Governor

From local, wire reports
Scurry County voters helped to unseat Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower but didn't get their way in the gubernatorial race, according to tabulations from Tuesday's general election.
In unofficial returns from the Secretary of State's office, Republican Rick Perry edged Hightower 49.1 percent to 47.9 percent for agriculture commissioner. Scurry County backed the Haskell native by an even greater margin, 3,455 votes to 1,390 — some 71 percent.
"We won because all the people out there that worked hard for us would not sit and stomach Jim Hightower's scandal, abuse and embarrassment," Perry said. "They took a candidate who was very ill-known and made him the winner of a statewide election. It's unbelievable."

Scurry County voters also strongly backed Republican Clayton Williams, but the statewide majority named Democrat Ann Richards as Texas' next governor. She claimed 51 percent while Williams had 49 percent of the state vote.
In Scurry County, Williams won 65 percent to 34 percent, or 3,107 votes to 1,614.
The county stayed with a Republican bent in favoring J.E. "Buster" Brown for state attorney general, but it was Democrat Dan Morales who was elected, becoming the first Hispanic to be elected to the post. Statewide, the 34-year-old Morales received 52 percent of the vote to knock Brown, who had 45 percent. Libertarian candidate Ray Dittmar of Houston took 3 percent. County residents favored Brown 2,638 votes to 2,050.

Morales also became the second Hispanic to ever win a statewide election. The only Hispanic previously voted into statewide office in Texas was Supreme Court Justice Raul Gonzalez, elected in 1986 and again in 1988 after first being appointed to the post.
Kay Bailey Hutchison will succeed Richards as state treasurer, defeating Democrat Nikki Van Hightower 49.9 percent to 46.7 percent. Libertarian candidate Suzanne Love received 3.5 percent. Scurry County residents agreed, giving Hutchinson an edge of over a thousand votes, 2,826 to 1,825.

Scurry County voters joined the state in re-electing U.S. Senator Phil Gramm, who was being opposed by Democrat Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth. Scurry called it Gramm, 3,000 votes to 1,059. Statewide, Gramm had 60.2 percent of the vote.
Democratic Land Commissioner Gary Mauro won a third term, defeating Republican challenger Wes Gilbreath by a 60 percent to 36 percent margin statewide. County voters concurred, favoring Mauro 2,813 votes to 1,680.
In the race for state comptroller, Democrat John Sharp claimed 63 percent of the vote to defeat Warren G. Harding Jr., (see STATE, page 8)

Counts wins all counties in district

State Rep. David Counts garnered 64 percent of the votes in the 12-county 78th District in earning a second term in the Texas House of Representatives.

Counts, a Democrat from Knox City, defeated Sweetwater insurance man John Pennington 16,973 to 9,590 in the hotly-contested race that centered mainly on public school financing.

Pennington, a Republican and a member of the Sweetwater school board, failed to carry his home county which Counts won by a 687-vote margin. Counts polled 2,484 while Pennington picked up 1,797.

Counts' most narrow margin came in Scurry County where he won by 369 votes, 2,634 to 2,265. Counts also represents Cottle, Fisher, Garza, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Lynn, Stonewall and rural Taylor County.

"John called me about 1 a.m. last night and congratulated me," Counts said. "I am very pleased that the people showed their confidence in me and I will continue to listen to their views."

Counts said he was somewhat surprised by the margins in both Scurry and Nolan counties. "I expected to win in both, but I had expected a larger margin in Scurry and a closer race in John's home county. I thought it would be reversed."

Counts' positive finish in Scurry County came despite strong showing by Republican candidates on the local ballot. Scurry elected a Republican judge and county commissioner and voted 65 percent for Republican Clayton Williams for governor.

In Scurry County, Counts carried 13 of 16 boxes, including the absentee box. Pennington carried boxes 8, 18 and 19 — all in southwest Snyder.

County court to see major shakeup; Doolittle, Idom unseat incumbents

Tuesday's general election featured a major shakeup in the commissioner's court as Scurry County voters replaced two Democrats with Republicans.

In January, a majority of the court will change with the election of Republicans Bob Doolittle and Roy L. Idom, who unseated incumbents, and the election of Democrat Jerry Gannaway in Precinct 4, who was running unopposed.

Doolittle becomes the county's first Republican county judge while Idom becomes only the second Republican to serve as county commissioner. Bernhard Bartels, a Republican, was elected Precinct 3 commissioner in 1980.

Tuesday's outcome was not totally unexpected. The court had suffered the wrath of some county citizens who mounted a successful rollback election last January. A county operational audit also put the court under public scrutiny.

Doolittle won by a scant 12 votes — 2,489 to 2,477 — but Democratic incumbent Bobby Goodwin said he will not ask for a recount.

"No, I accept the results. I have confidence in the election process. I congratulate Bob Doolittle and wish the new commissioners court every success. During the remainder of my term, I will continue to serve the people of Scurry County to the best of my ability."

The close total was reflected among the 16 county boxes as Doolittle won seven and Goodwin took eight. They each received 43 votes in Fluvanna.

"It's been a long 10 months but well worth it," said Doolittle. "Now we have to roll up our sleeves and go to work to improve on the things that are already good about Scurry County."

Fifty-six percent of voters sided with Idom in the Precinct 2 commissioner's race. Though Democratic incumbent Tommy Pate took boxes in Fluvanna and Union, Idom dominated the rest of the precinct, enjoying 781 total votes to Pate's 609.

"It had an effect," said Idom of the county rollback election. "I don't know how much. People are tax weary."

Idom said he felt the people responded because "There are 2,000 people in Precinct 2 and if they have a door, I've knocked on it twice."

Democrat Elois Pruitt defeated Republican Patsy

Williams in the bid for district clerk, 3,447 votes to 1,669. Pruitt will replace Polly Underwood, who had decided not to seek reelection.

"I felt a lot better when the absentee box came in," said Mrs. Pruitt, who had expected a closer race. She won the absentee box 963 votes to 499.

Nearly 60 percent cast votes in Scurry County

Voter turnout was almost 60 percent in Scurry County, but the day was not without its minor problems for county election officials.

A total of 5,103 votes were cast in the county, or 59.7 percent of the 8,535 eligible voters.

Tuesday morning, the county clerk's office received a complaint that political signs were inside the distance markers at the Northeast Community Center, Box 14. The violation was confirmed by the Secretary of State's office and the political signs were removed.

A flap also occurred at Box 13, the Hermleigh community center. The name of H.M. Lomax, the Democratic nominee for Precinct 2 Justice of the Peace, had been erased from the voting booth.

However, Lomax won the election with a total of 140 votes. A write-in candidate, D.M. Foree, collected 108 votes.

The county clerk's office reported about 10 persons who were not eligible to vote because they had not changed their address prior to the August deadline. About 800 voters were removed from the list in August, in accordance with state law.

Incumbents win in Borden

GAIL — The only two incumbents facing opponents in Borden County won their races Tuesday.

In the race for commissioner of Precinct 4, Democratic incumbent Hurston Lemons Jr., received 81 votes to hold off write-in candidate Don Massingill, who polled 56 votes. In the other race, that of county-wide constable, incumbent Royce Nance won big over write-in challenger Edward Zepeda, 161 votes to 72. Nance was finishing out a term after being appointed by the commissioner's court.

SHS hosts Career Day on Thursday

Congressman Charles Stenholm will be the guest speaker for Thursday's Career Day activities at Snyder High School.

The event is being sponsored by Snyder Rotary Club and the guidance departments of the community college and high school.

Career Day activities will begin at 8 a.m. with coffee and doughnuts in the school library. At 8:35 a.m., students and faculty will begin to assemble in Worsham Auditorium.

There will be three morning sessions. Some 90 professionals from 45 career fields will be involved in the sessions, which have been coordinated by Roy Baze and counselors from the high school and Western Texas College.

The first session will be from 9:20-10 a.m., the second from 10:10-10:50 a.m. and the third from 11-11:40 a.m. Students will then be dismissed for lunch. The speakers will be invited to lunch at Martha Ann Woman's Club as guests of Snyder Rotary Club.

Students will return to their regular class scheduled at 12:36 p.m.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "You can't fool all the people all the time, but some of those freeway signs in the city come pretty close."

Types of humor, like fashions, seem to run their course. Right now the trend is to make "light" of various occupations, so light bulb jokes are popular.

We don't expect light bulb jokes to replace Aggie jokes, but even the lights shine on the Aggies. Such as: "How many Aggies does it take to change a light bulb?" The response is, "Four. One to hold the bulb and three to turn the stool on which the fourth Aggie is standing." It's okay to substitute lawyers and editors if the situation calls for it.

Some occupations call for a change in the response. If you ask how many psychologists it takes to change a light bulb, here's the answer: "Only one, but the light bulb really has to want to change."

How many bureaucrats would it take to change a bulb? "One to stand on the floor of Congress and explain that everything that can possibly be done is being done, and a second one to screw the light bulb into the water faucet."

How many country and western singers: "One to insert the new bulb and four to sing about how they yearn for the old one."

Some day there may be a complete selection of "Bad Light Bulb Jokes." What a way to light up your life.

In Brief

Stolen painting

HIGHLAND PARK, Texas (AP) — As mysteriously as she disappeared seven years ago, the "Lady in Grey," a work of 19th-century painter William Merritt Chase, has reappeared at the Highland Park Town Hall.

The oil painting was found Friday, leaning against bookcases in plain view as the librarian was closing the reading room for the weekend.

The painting, valued at $40,000 when it was stolen, was the most valuable piece in the town's art collection.

"I can't tell you how strange it was when I unwrapped the paper and realized what it was," librarian Bonnie Case told The Dallas Morning News.

Woman may have boot camp

HOUSTON (AP) — The first woman sentenced to a military-style boot camp in Texas may also have to spend her three-month sentence in solitary confinement.

State officials may have to set up a personalized camp for the woman because no prison boot camps exist for women.

Patricia Manuel, 19, pleaded guilty to injury to a child and was sentenced to serve 90 days in a prison boot camp, which features rigorous exercises and work to provide young felons with a glimpse of prison life.

Ms Manuel was accused of rubbing her 1-year-old son's face in a carpet to punish him for defecating on it. The boy suffered rug burns.

Ms Manuel voluntarily surrendered Monday to the Gatesville prison unit, where she will undergo about two weeks of testing and evaluation.

Then, unless an appeals court decides otherwise, she is to be separated from other prisoners and placed in the boot camp.

State District Judge Joe Kegans, who sentenced Ms. Manuel, ruled in August that the state boot-camp law was unconstitutional because it limited the camp to men. The Houston judge ordered prison officials to provide a camp for women.

On Monday, the state attorney general's office asked the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to postpone imposing the sentence until it decides whether Ms. Kegans had the authority to send Ms. Manuel to a boot camp without hearing arguments from the state.

Judge Kegans can declare a law unconstitutional, but she cannot legislate a whole new program," said Bill Zapalac, an assistant attorney general.

Prison officials said they still have no physical setup for Ms. Manuel, but they added that a program will be designed just for her if necessary to avoid being held in contempt of court.

"But it will be kind of rough on the old gal, being in there alone," commented prison director James A. "Andy" Collins.

About half of the two male boot camp beds in Texas are now filled, prison officials said.

Houston lawyer Tom Moran, who represented Ms. Manuel, said he is interested in how the prison system resolves the issue.

"At this point, it's very much wait and see," Moran said. "It's their move."

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (AP) — David Letterman, whose house has been broken into six times by a fan, called police when he found a pair of autograph seekers waiting in his driveway.

No charges were filed in the incident, which occurred about 2 a.m. Saturday, authorities said.

Police said they didn't know if the fans got the talk show host's autograph.

Margaret Ray of Crawford, Colo., was sentenced to a year in prison after breaking into Letterman's home for a sixth time in March. She told authorities at one point that she was Letterman's wife.

Mary Kay sues one competitor alleging it conspired with Clairol

DALLAS (AP) — Things have turned downright ugly in the beauty products industry.

Mary Kay Cosmetics Inc has filed a federal antitrust lawsuit against BeautiControl Cosmetics Inc., alleging that it conspired with cosmetics giant Clairol Inc. to monopolize the skin care market.

The lawsuit, filed Monday in U.S. District Court in Dallas, seeks relief under federal and Texas antitrust laws for unspecified damages.

Mary Kay also is contesting a joint BeautiControl-Clairol color consulting program.

In recent years, skin coloring systems have become a popular way to sell cosmetics. The system matches different shades of cosmetics with a customer's skin tones and helps her arrive at a "logical" choice of makeup color.

BeautiControl Cosmetics officials did not immediately return phone calls from The Associated Press Tuesday.

Mary Kay said in the court filing that BeautiControl is a direct competitor. Both companies use in-home demonstrations and a skin coloring system in marketing products.

Mary Kay said the two companies are trying to block it from selling cosmetics using the "logic" skin coloring system.

The company said it learned of an alleged secret agreement between Clairol and BeautiControl to restrain trade after a trademark dispute arose with BeautiControl concerning the name of its skin coloring system.

Mary Kay had adopted the name ColorLogic for its color consulting program, but BeautiControl asserted exclusive ownership to "Logic" marks — Skinlogics, Sunlogics and Nailogics, the lawsuit said.

Mary Kay received a cease-and-desist letter from BeautiControl and from Clairol.

Mary Kay said it later learned that BeautiControl and Clairol entered into a joint agreement transferring the "Logics" trademark to Clairol.

Mary Kay alleges that BeautiControl actions have caused "loss, injury and damage" to the company.

Changes outlined for Customs Service

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — U.S. Customs Service has a bigger than expected budget this year and that means 400 more inspectors for the Southwestern border, the head of the agency said. "We, the U.S. Customs Service were treated very, very well in this budget," said Carol Hallett, U.S. Customs commissioner. "In fact our budget this year is going to be $1.1 billion. It's $700 million more than what I originally presented."

At a luncheon Tuesday, Hallett outlined for members of the El Paso Foreign Trade Association the initiatives planned by the Customs Service to respond to the push for a U.S.-Mexico free trade agreement.

She announced that Customs will add 400 new inspectors to the Southwestern border. Texas would get about 200 of those inspectors, with at least 50 and possibly as many as 116 going to El Paso.

Ms. Hallett's first visit to El Paso Tuesday included a tour of the Customs facilities.

Judy Turner, Customs spokeswoman, said Ms. Hallett has met with many trade groups to reassure them that Customs has not abandoned its role in trade for one in drug interdiction.

Dr. Gott Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT I'm a 72-year-old female with atrophic vaginitis of two years duration. I've used Premarin cream with... success. Since I can't take... else you would recommend?

DEAR READER Atrophic vaginitis, a common condition in post-menopausal women, is due to insufficient female hormone. Although it is not a hazard to health, the condition causes painful intercourse, vaginal irritation (with occasional discharge) and discomfort during urination. These symptoms are related to thinning, dryness and contraction of tissue in and around the vagina.

Most women with atrophic vaginitis will experience relief of symptoms when given female hormone supplements in cream, patch or pill form.

Estrogen creams, such as Premarin, can be applied daily to the vagina and external area. The cream is rubbed in well and also used in an applicator for internal treatment. After several weeks of therapy, reproductive tissues will become healthier, moister and less sensitive. In the majority of cases, symptoms disappear, and patients feel more comfortable.

The estrogen in the cream is not absorbed into the body in appreciable amounts, therefore, there is little or no risk of breast or uterine cancers, a minor but statistical hazard in women using hormone in other forms. The risk of this is small, however, if a woman is regularly examined by a gynecologist. Women who do not respond to topical treatment may have to consider estrogen patches or pills. Ordinarily, the strength of the preparations and their schedule of administration are decisions best left to a gynecologist. Improvement in the symptoms of atrophic vaginitis begins after a few days of treatment.

Patches and pills deliver estrogen to the body as a whole. Thus, they neutralize symptoms of menopause (hot flashes, moodiness and depression). Also, this medicine will help retard osteoporosis, bone brittleness that is accentuated by hormone deficiency. Because your atrophic vaginitis has not responded to Premarin cream, I suggest you ask your doctor to prescribe either patches or pills. The medicine will cure your discomfort.

I should add that Septra, a sulfa antibiotic, is used for treating urinary infections; it is not appropriate for atrophic vaginitis, which can cause urinary discomfort resembling infection. It's important to differentiate the two conditions (with a urine culture for bacteria) because they are treated differently.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Vaginal Infections and Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Astro-Graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Nov. 8, 1990

In the year ahead you could be more fortunate than you have been for some time in matters that pertain to your career and earnings. Luck will fill in spots your abilities were unable to cover.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your greatest benefits today are likely to come from things you manage for others and not just for yourself. If you do a good job, you'll be rewarded proportionately. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-2428.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) When you weigh and balance critical situations today, put the emphasis on the positive alternative. It's important that you appreciate the positives far more than the negatives.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In situations today where you earnestly strive to be of assistance to others, pleasant surprises could be in the offing, because the one you'll help the most is you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Conditions could take a turn for the better in the romance department today, especially if you haven't had much to cheer about lately. Cupid hasn't forgotten you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A new interest in which you're involved has far greater potential than you may realize. Today you might finally begin to see evidence of this.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You have the ability to deal with others extremely effectively today...They'll sense that you're a positive catalyst and something lucky could develop when you're around.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you have something important brewing that could be meaningful to you materially, don't put things off until tomorrow. Your chances of fulfilling your expectations are good now.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) How you perceive yourself to be will have a direct relationship to events today. If you envision yourself as lucky, it should manifest itself in reality.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Something good you already have going for yourself has chances of being improved upon today. While the trends are stirring in your favor, make the most of this opportunity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You are sometimes better able to handle things of a grand design much more capably than the mundane. Today you could be extremely fortunate where large endeavors are concerned.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) People with clout are the ones with whom you should deal today, especially where your career is concerned. With their support, you'll be able to accomplish things that couldn't be achieved otherwise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There is justification for your hopes and expectations running rather high today. You're in a fortunate cycle where desires could become realities.

Don Baylor, playing for Baltimore, was caught stealing twice in one inning in a 1974 game.

Overstreet wins state office

DALLAS (AP) — The first black to win statewide office in Texas since Reconstruction said he was confident his election to the Court of Criminal Appeals would inspire future generations of Texans.

"When little kids open up the history books and see my picture, they're going to make the connection and say, 'If Morris Overstreet could do it, I can do it, too,'" he said.

Overstreet, 40, a Democratic county court judge from Amarillo, defeated Republican incumbent Louis Sturns to win the 5th Place on the court Tuesday.

Sturns, 41, who also is black, was appointed March 16 to fill the seat by Gov. Bill Clements. The vacancy was created by the death of incumbent Judge M.P. "Rusty" Duncan in a Feb. 28 automobile accident.

Records from Reconstruction are unclear as to whether any blacks were elected to statewide office during that period. Overstreet is the first in the modern era.

"I see it as a real opportunity for other black, African-Americans who are qualified members of the judiciary to strive for bigger and better office," he said.

Also Tuesday, Dan Morales became the first Hispanic elected as attorney general and the second to win statewide office in Texas. The first is Supreme Court Justice Raul Gonzalez, elected in 1986 and again in 1988 after first being appointed to the post.

Morales, a 34-year-old state representative from San Antonio, headed the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee in the Legislature.

"I'm so pleased that our state has now matured and developed politically to the point where Texas voters select their political leaders based upon qualifications, experience and records of accomplishment irrespective of race and irrespective of ethnicity," he said.

"I think that Judge Gonzalez showed that to be the case four years ago when he was first elected. I am simply following in the judge's footsteps. There will be others following behind me."

In addition, Ann Richards was the first woman elected governor of Texas in more than 50 years, since Miriam "Ma" Ferguson won her second term in 1932.

Richards joined a cadre of female leaders in the Lone Star State, where mayors of the four

Jury says lawyer must relinquish Ruby's gun

DALLAS (AP) — A lawyer said he plans to appeal a jury's decision that effectively removed him as executor of Jack Ruby's estate.

The major asset of the estate is the 38-caliber Colt Cobra revolver the Dallas nightclub owner used to kill presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

A six-person jury on Tuesday ruled that Ruby's former attorney, Jules Mayer, grossly mismanaged the estate after Ruby died in 1967. Mayer continues to practice law at age 82.

Dallas County Probate Judge Robert E. Price must now decide how to distribute Ruby's assets. State law mandates that if he upholds the jury's decision, he must appoint a new executor. No hearing date was set.

Ruby's brother, Earl, filed the lawsuit, asking to be named executor of the estate. Ruby's heirs and Mayer have wrangled over the estate for 23 years.

And the fight may continue. "He's got a long way to go, because I'm going to appeal it," Mayer told The Dallas Morning News as he left court.

The gun Ruby used to kill Oswald in the Dallas County Jail two days after President Kennedy's assassination on Nov. 22, 1963, is stowed in a bank safe deposit box. Mayer has said it

Opponent helped Richards

AUSTIN (AP) — Ann Richards had many things going her way in the governor's race. But none was more important than her opponent's hoof-in-mouth disease.

Republican Clayton Williams, she said with understatement, "made a number of errors."

Attorney General Jim Mattox was more blunt: "I've never seen a candidate shoot himself and inflict so many wounds on himself."

Even the Republican candidate agreed.

"I think that Jim Mattox said it pretty well," Williams admitted. "I just would shoot myself in the foot and then I'd load up and try it again. I hold no blame against anyone."

Williams' campaign, which spent more than $20.4 million, had everything money could buy and enjoyed a 15-point lead in the polls with just six weeks to go.

But he couldn't stop making the gaffes that dated back to March, when he likened bad weather to rape and said if it were inevitable, "just relax and enjoy it."

More followed. And in the campaign's final week, he made two major missteps.

First, he admitted on a statewide TV broadcast that he didn't understand the proposed constitutional amendment on the ballot concerned with gubernatorial appointments. Then Friday, with the polls opening in only 84 hours, he acknowledged that he had paid no income taxes in 1986.

A CBS-TV exit poll said 25 percent of Tuesday's voters made their choice in those last seven days.

"He made so many mistakes, it's hard to pick out one," said

Mattox, a Democrat who had wanted to run against Williams while kinder to himself. Williams said he didn't see defeat as rejection of his values but conceded, "Maybe I'm a little too getting control of soaring health insurance rates and her experience in government.

And she rallied the Democrats she needed. She carried East and South Texas, and the CBS poll state Sen. Hugh Farmer of Fort Worth.

But neither Gramm nor President Bush, who calls Texas home and campaigned alongside Williams, could help their party hold onto the Governor's Mansion now occupied by retiring Republican Bill Clements.

Democrats again won many of the statewide offices — lieutenant governor, attorney general and comptroller — that they've held for more than 100 years.

However, the GOP did continue to make gains. Republicans in January will take control of two more offices that they haven't held this century.

Republican Kay Bailey Hutchison won the treasurer's race and the GOP's Rick Perry stunned a two-term Democratic Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower.

Republican candidates also scored some successes in the Supreme Court contests, with Chief Justice Tom Phillips being re-elected and John Cornyn winning the Place 1 election.

State Republican Chairman Fred Meyer said the governor's race "got off the issues and basically onto personalities. And that doesn't work for us."

So in the end, it all came back to Williams' mistakes.

Clayton Williams has apologized for that rape joke more than any remark in the history of American politics," said Williams consultant Bill Kenyon. "And yet it still comes up every week."

An AP news analysis

open, maybe straightforward. If there's anything that we've proven, it's that I'm not a politician."

For her part, Richards did many things well.

First, she raised more money than skeptics had thought she could. While being outspent nearly 2-to-1, she still raised more than $11 million, putting her on a par with the 1986 candidates, Mark White and Bill Clements.

She mobilized women. The CBS poll showed Richards capturing 61 percent of the women's vote, including 21 percent of Republican women.

She found issues that struck a nerve — improving education, found her winning 67 percent of the Hispanic vote and 89 percent of the black vote.

Down the ballot, Texas voters sent some mixed messages.

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, who reportedly may be readying for a 1996 presidential bid, breezed to re-election with more than 60 percent of the voter over Democratic

Romanian citizens make long trip to voting place

DALLAS (AP) — The 1,300-mile trip that Neiu and Virginia Prodan made with their three children and several friends was a small price to pay for the right to cast ballots in a free election.

The Prodans, who are Romanian citizens, had to drive to the Romanian Embassy in Washington, D.C. to vote in their country's election. But that didn't deter family members who said they never considered any alternative.

"We could have said it was too hard to go there," said Virginia Prodan. "And it was hard. It was windy and rainy the whole time. We had to make such a quick trip, we hardly had time to stop to use the bathroom. And the baby was only 10 months old."

Twenty-four hours after the Prodans left Dallas in a borrowed van, they arrived at their polling place. They had voted May 30 in the first Romanian free election held during their lifetimes.

Mrs. Prodan said the family knew the voting journey would be arduous, but possible, if they could find a way to get there. They borrowed a car from friends because they didn't think their 1983 Cutlass would make the long trip.

The family had to find someone to share the driving because Mrs. Prodan didn't have her American driver's license yet.

"But if we didn't go, after the elections we might have thought that if only we had gone to vote, maybe things would have turned out differently," she said.

"Before we went on the trip, we didn't think about what would happen in the election. We only thought about getting there and doing our part."

A 3-3 pipe dream

By James Jacoby

In his rush to make an overtrick, declarer missed the best chance for the contract. West got off to an apparently safe trump lead. Declarer played low from dummy and East played the nine. South won the 10 and cashed the ace, dropping East's queen. Next came the A-K of clubs, followed by a heart to dummy's jack. Next came a club ruff, in the hope that the defenders had both started with three clubs. No such luck. Declarer now had to struggle with a side-suit position in spades that just did not lend itself to producing more than one trick. So declarer lost two diamonds and two spade tricks for down one.

Sure, declarer would have had 11 tricks if the clubs had split. But rather than sacrifice his communication with dummy after playing the A-K of clubs, he should simply get off lead with a diamond. The defenders can take two diamonds in any order, but what is their next step? If East ends up on lead and plays a club, South can ruff, get to dummy and ruff another club, and dummy's last club is now set up for the game-going trick. A diamond continuation by either defender yields a sluff and a ruff. And if the defenders play the spade suit, South will be able to develop a second trick in spades via the strength of the J-10.

The defense can prevail only if the opening lead is the ace and a diamond. East can win the second diamond and play back a club, and declarer will surely lose two more spade tricks when he is forced to tackle that suit on his own.

Linemen are cited from Frenship tilt

Offensive linemen lead the list of Snyder football coaches' award winners from last Friday's 35-18 win over Frenship. The Tigers' line was in no small part responsible for Snyder piling up almost 300 yards rushing against FHS, including a 126 yard effort by senior tailback Paul Anderson.

Center Jeff Black receives a pair of helmet decals for registering 21 knockdowns as a blocker. Linemen get one award for each 10 enemy tacklers they take out.

Charlie Richardson notched 22 for a pair of decals, Hayward Clay gets one for 16 knockdowns, Chad Fox had 12 and Clint Haywood carded 11.

Fox and Richardson each also get a marker for having two pins each against Frenship.

Clint Haywood's six drives, pushing an opposing tackler back at least five yards, earns the SHS senior an award, as well.

Anderson's rushing total gets him an award for gaining over 100 yards. He and quarterback Ed Rios also were recognized by SHS coaches for great fakes, that is pulling at least four defenders off on a false move.

Defensive winners included Joe Martinez who was cited for two interceptions off District 2-4A's leading passer, Brad Cade.

Martinez also knocked one pass away as did defensive end Hayward Clay.

Will Clay, defensive end on the opposite side, caused a fumble and linebacker Blair Williams made the recovery. Both of them will get helmet decorations. Williams will get a second award as the Tigers' leading tackler hammering out 13 in the Friday contest.

Bryan Brunson earned three awards on special teams, one for his 43.0 punting average and one each for his two field goals at FHS.

Holder Jason Rios and long snapper Bay John Long each get decals for their parts in the field goals.

Dave Justice claims rookie award in NL

ATLANTA (AP) — Dave Justice is among those wondering what he could've done in a full year for the Atlanta Braves. Then again, he's just glad he got to play at all.

Justice, who began the season in the minors, didn't get a chance to start full-time until Dale Murphy was traded in early August. But once he broke into the lineup, he broke loose.

"If Dale had not been traded, I probably would still be platooning at first. I wouldn't be sitting here," Justice said Tuesday after winning the National League rookie of the year award in a near-unanimous vote.

Justice hit 28 homers, most of them after Murphy went to Philadelphia and right field opened up. Justice batted .282 with 78 RBIs in 439 at-bats in 127 games.

Justice got 23 of 24 first-place votes for 118 points. Montreal second baseman Delino DeShields got the other first-place vote and had 60 points.

Cincinnati first baseman Hal Morris (13 points) was third, followed by San Francisco pitcher John Burkett (12), Cubs pitcher Mike Harkey (7), St. Louis catcher Todd Zeile (4) and Montreal outfielders Marquis Grissom (1) and Larry Walker (1).

Justice, 24, joined Earl Williams (1971) and Bob Horner (1978) as Atlanta players to win the award. Two members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in each NL city voted.

The American League rookie of the year will be announced today. While the Braves began the season touting their young pitchers, Justice did not figure prominently in Atlanta's plans, especially since the club had signed power-hitting free agent Nick Esasky.

In spring training, Justice got another blow — he was hit in the face by a ball and sustained a broken cheekbone and nose, requiring plastic surgery. When he healed, Justice started the year at Triple-A Richmond.

The Braves got off to a bad start and Esasky played only a few games before being sidelined for the rest of the year with vertigo. On May 16, Atlanta brought up Justice and put him at first base, a position he had played only a few times in his pro career.

Justice, Atlanta's fourth-round choice in the 1985 draft, had never hit more than 12 home runs for one team in a season before this year. He had hit only eight homers and was batting .243 when Murphy was traded.

The Braves moved Justice to right field, and he played like the two-time Most Valuable Player he replaced.

In the outfield "my natural position ... I was able to concentrate on my hitting," he said.

Justice went on a tear and hit .335 with 20 home runs and 49 RBIs for the rest of the season.

"I'm basically a line-drive hitter," he said. "I'm not going to change my game plan. I think about the line drive."

Westerners to play in Reunion Arena

Tickets are now on sale for the Western Texas College-Navarro Junior College basketball game set for Nov. 23 in Dallas' Reunion Arena.

The Westerners, 1-0 after Monday's 148-103 thrashing of Cedar Valley College, will face Navarro, a perennial cage power, in a non-conference tilt scheduled to be played at 4:30 p.m. just before the Dallas Mavericks-San Antonio Spurs regular-season NBA contest.

Tickets, which include admission to both games, are $11 each. Mauldin also said that the Hampton Inn in nearby Garland will have a special $38 rate for fans attending the game and staying the night there.

For more information or to reserve tickets to the game contact the WTC Athletic Office at 573-8511.

Dallas notches comeback win

Mavericks beat New York, 96-91, after trailing by 16

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Mavericks, who scored 85 points in losing their opener and 140 points in winning their second game, were at an early-season crossroads late in the second quarter of Game 3.

Trailing 49-33 to the New York

Knicks on Tuesday night, the Mavericks scored the final seven points of the first half to get within nine, then faced the wrath of coach Richie Adubato at halftime.

"We didn't play very hard in the first half. We didn't get back on defense or contest any shots," Adubato said. "That shows a lack of energy and at halftime I let them know they weren't playing very well."

The Mavericks continued the rally in the second half, tying the score eight times before taking the lead with less than two minutes remaining, then handing the Knicks their second straight home loss, 96-91.

In the previous loss, on Saturday night against Boston, the Knicks blew a 19-point advantage.

"We knew from watching them against Boston that they had blown a big lead once before," Roy Tarpley said after scoring 29 points for the Mavericks. "We thought it was only a matter of time until we clicked."

Rolando Blackman scored 20 points, including a go-ahead layup with 37 seconds left, as the Mavericks outscored New York 10-3 down the stretch.

"Anytime you lose a big lead, you tend to get tentative, and that's magnified when it's happened before," Blackman said. "But it eventually makes a team stronger when they overcome it."

"Losing the leads has been a combination of mental and physical execution," said Knicks center Patrick Ewing, who had 26 points, 10 rebounds and six blocked shots. "Once we get a big lead, we start to relax, get careless and let teams back into the game. If losing doesn't wake us up, nothing will."

"We're capable of playing good basketball, but I think when we have the lead, we don't continue to do the same things that we did to get the lead," Knicks coach Stu Jackson said.

Dallas took its first lead of the second half at 90-89 on Blackman's two free throws with 1:55 left.

Charles Oakley's rebound dunk gave the Knicks a one-point lead with 1:38 remaining, but Blackman put Dallas ahead for good with his layup. He was fouled on the play, but missed the free throw.

"I was really conscious of Ewing being there when I took the pass," Blackman said. "I knew I had to take the ball up quickly."

James Donaldson and Herb Williams each hit two free throws in the final 14 seconds as the Knicks misfired on their last three possessions.

Adubato said when Oakley, who had 18 rebounds, got in foul trouble in the second half, it gave Dallas a big opportunity.

"Our intensity picked up, especially when Oakley got in foul trouble," Adubato said.

"We had better wake up soon, because we gave away two home games we should have won," Oakley said. "We all have to concentrate harder, including myself."

win, lose & DREW

Estacado falls to eighth...

McKinney slips from Top 10

by The Associated Press
The McKinney Lions two weeks ago were 7-0 and ranked third among Class 4A teams in the Associated Press Schoolboy Poll.

This week they'll be fighting just to qualify for the playoffs.

Paul Oatts ran for 96 yards and a 13-yard touchdown Friday, leading Gainesville to a 14-9 victory over McKinney. The Leopards held James Thornton, the top rusher in 4A, to 72 yards and the McKinney offense managed only 153.

The Lions, who lost to Denison the previous week, tumbled from the poll and suddenly are third in District 9-4A.

In order to make the playoffs, McKinney must beat Coppell in its season finale this week and both Gainesville and Denison must lose. That scenario could create a four-way tie for first place.

McKinney coach Ron Poe has seen this situation before. His team finished as tri-champion last season, only to miss the playoffs on a coin flip.

Five other ranked teams lost last week, while all five No. 1 schools survived Week Nine undefeated.

Plano, previously No. 10 in 5A, dropped a 25-14 thriller to No. 7 Lake Highlands.

Lake Highlands, which trailed 14-0 at halftime, beat the Wildcats in Plano for the first time in its 25-year history.

In 4A, Lubbock Estacado fell from fifth to eighth after a 9-7 loss to Levelland, while No. 5 Austin Reagan slapped Austin Westlake from the 10th spot in the poll with its 14-3 victory.

No. 9 Wilmer-Hutchins (8-1) and No. 10 Athens (7-1-1) debuted in the 4A rankings.

In 2A, Post lost to Crosbyton 18-17 and fell from the poll, while Era was beaten 31-0 by Muenster and fell from fourth to ninth in Class A.

Aldine, No. 1 in 5A, smashed Eisenhower 48-7. The Mustangs received 27 of 29 first-place votes and 288 overall.

Top 4 teams hold rankings

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — The top four teams remained the same for the fourth consecutive week in six-man high school football poll conducted by The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, but previously unbeaten Bosqueville took a plunge in the rankings.

The Bulldogs tumbled from No. 5 to No. 10 after dropping a 65-53 decision to Bynum Friday in a District 16 contest.

Bosqueville (8-1) had been ranked fifth for the past seven weeks. The Bulldogs' fall in the poll was the largest since Jayton slipped from fourth to ninth during the fourth voting period after being upset by Trent.

There was no shuffling at the top, however, in the weekly poll of seven Texas sports writers. Fort Hancock, a 51-6 victor against Sierra Blanca, maintained its No. 1 ranking. The Mustangs garnered 68 of a possible 70 points and five of seven first-place votes.

Christoval, Guthrie and McLean won their games Friday by a combined 160-6 and held on to the second through fourth spots, respectively.

Rule moved up a notch and replaced Bosqueville at No. 5. Also advancing one spot apiece were Sands, Covington, Jayton and Zephyr, respectively.

Rule (9-0) squares off against Jayton (7-1) Friday at Jayton to decide the District 9 championship.

Here is the weekly Lubbock Avalanche-Journal high school six-man football poll of Texas sports writers with records, first-place votes in parentheses, total points (tabulated on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis) and last week's ranking:

Bullock wins, gets ready for work

AUSTIN (AP) — Democratic political warhorse Bob Bullock outdistanced his well-connected, well-financed Republican rival Rob Mosbacher to become the first new lieutenant governor-elect in Texas in 18 years.

With 95 percent of Tuesday's vote counted, Bullock led Mosbacher 1,895,975 votes to 1,637,571, or 51.9 percent to 44.8 percent.

Libertarian candidate Tom Owens of Midland had 122,620 votes, or 3.4 percent.

Bullock will take over the job from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, a Democrat who held the post a record 18 years and shaped it into what some describe as the most powerful position in state government.

Bullock, 61, the state's comptroller for the past 15 years, said he looked forward to his new duties as presiding officer of the Senate during the regular legislative session that starts in January.

"I'm going to work in the morning and start meeting with the senators so the day the session starts we're ready to do business," he said Tuesday. "I'm really worried about Texas and what happens to it this next year."

For Mosbacher, 39, it was a second failure for a statewide office. In 1984, he ran a distant third in the GOP primary against U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm.

"I started 25 points down. I knew Bob was going to be tough to beat all along. We did everything, I know to do," he said. "I'm proud of the race we ran."

Bullock, who has been in state government more than half his life, campaigned on his experience while Mosbacher claimed to have the fresh perspective needed to face the state's problems.

Both candidates were as different on the issues as they were different in background and it didn't take long for the race to become a bitter affair, fueled by negative ads and counterattacks.

It was Bullock, the political insider and a recovering alcoholic who has been married five times, against Mosbacher, the young scion of a wealthy family, whose father Robert Mosbacher Sr. is U.S. Commerce Secretary.

Mosbacher said Bullock's longevity in public service was a liability. But Bullock derisively referred to Mosbacher as "Junior" throughout the campaign, and said the younger Mosbacher failed the one time he was given a responsible position.

chief of the state welfare board. Mosbacher leveled charges that Bullock favored a state income tax and had wasted taxpayer dollars on personal jaunts.

Bullock blamed Mosbacher for the chronic problems at the state welfare agency, which include a $340 million deficit and a litany of management mistakes, and accused him of pollution violations through his family's barge company.

Phil Gramm tallies 60 percent of vote

DALLAS (AP) — U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm escaped unscathed from this fall's anti-incumbent sentiment, cleaning up with a landmark victory instead of being swept out of office.

"Tonight all over America, the American people are saying, 'Throw the rascals out,'" Gramm said late Tuesday. "And I am very grateful that the people of Texas did not consider me to be one of the rascals."

Although pre-election attention had focused on fears voters would turn against incumbents because of the budget boondoggle, the anti-incumbent sentiment did not show itself to be widespread in Tuesday's voting.

According to unofficial results from the Secretary of State's Office, Gramm, a Republican, was elected to his second term in the Senate Tuesday with 60.1 percent of the vote. Democratic challenger state Sen. Hugh Parmer had 37.6 percent, while Libertarian Gary Johnson had 2.3 percent.

With 99 percent of the precincts reporting, Gramm had 2,270,438 votes, Parmer had 1,416,252, and Johnson, 88,167. Gramm won in all the state's major cities except Austin, the heavily Democratic state capital.

By apparently achieving his victory target of 60 percent, Gramm became the first Texas senator in decades to be elected with such a high level of support.

"The people of Texas appear to have given us a landslide of historic proportion," Gramm said. "It's a strong mandate."

"I can't have more influence in Washington than I have in Texas, and this strong show of support will give me a bigger shovel to work with in Washington on behalf of the people of Texas," he said.

While the governor's race grabbed most of the political attention, Bullock and Mosbacher slugged it out on the airwaves, spending millions of dollars on attack ads.

A week before the election, Mosbacher reported spending $4.9 million in the race; $1.3 million of which he loaned the campaign. Bullock had reported spending about $4.3 million.

State election results

who received 31 percent. Libertarian candidate William E. Grisham had 5 percent. Scurry County voters were even stronger for Sharp, giving him an edge of 3,170 to 1,382 over Harding.

The county also mirrored the state by choosing Democrat Bob Krueger over Beau Boulter in the race to replace Republican Kent Hance on the Texas Railroad Commission. Statewide, Krueger received 56 percent of the vote while Boulter had 40 percent. In Scurry, the margin was Krueger by 2,447 votes to 2,167.

In the race for lieutenant governor, Democrat Bob Bullock, 61, the state's comptroller for the past 15 years, had 52 percent of the vote statewide to beat Republican Rob Mosbacher, 39, a Houston businessman and chairman of the state welfare agency, who received 45 percent.

Bullock took Scurry County, too, but only by 40 votes — 2,397 to 2,384.

In races for the Texas Supreme Court:

—Incumbent Republican Tom Phillips beat Democratic challenger Oscar Mauzy in the race for the chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court. Phillips had 59 percent of the vote to Mauzy's 41 percent. Phillips took Scurry County, 3,005 votes to 1,716 for Mauzy.

Borden

Also re-elected, unopposed, were County Judge Van L. York, District/County Clerk Dorothy Browne, County Treasurer Melissa Ludecke, Justice of the Peace Carolyn F. Stone and Precinct 2 Commissioner Larry D. Smith — all Democrats.

—In Place 1, Republican John Cornyn, a state district judge in San Antonio, had 55 percent to beat Democrat Gene Kelly, a former Air Force judge from Universal City, had 45 percent. Scurry concurred, giving Cornyn 2,630 votes to 1,935 for Kelly.

—In Place 2, Democrat Bob Gammage won with 57 percent of the vote, while Republican Charles Ben Howell had 43 percent. Scurry agreed, giving Gammage 2,406 votes to 2,065 for Howell.

And in the five races for seats on the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals:

—Republican Joseph A. Devany lost to Democrat Frank Maloney, 55 percent to 45 percent for the Place 1 seat. Scurry favored Maloney 2,431 to 1,907.

—Democrat Sam Houston Clinton beat Republican Oliver Kitzman in the race for the Place 2 spot, 51 percent to 49 percent. Scurry County had it close for Clinton, 2,174 votes to 2,144 for Kitzman.

—In Place 3, Democrat Bill White tallied 85 percent, while Libertarian Carol Caul had 15 percent. White won overwhelmingly in Scurry County, 3,582 votes to 420.

—In Place 4, Democrat Charles F. Baird defeated Republican David Berchelmann 52 percent to 48 percent. Scurry voters favored Berchelmann, but only by a slim margin, 2,130 votes to 2,200.

—In Place 5, Morris L. Overstreet won with 51 percent of the vote to Republican Louis E. Sturns' 49 percent. In an equally close battle, Scurry had it 2,214 for Sturns and 2,129 for Overstreet.

Scurry County also joined the state in passing the only proposed state constitutional amendment, voting 2,181 in favor and 1,379 against.

Boosted by national name recognition and a 9-to-1 spending advantage, Gramm held a commanding lead over Parmer throughout the campaign. During the final days of the campaign, Parmer, former mayor of Fort Worth, had said he hoped the opposition to incumbents could boost him into office.

Despite his defeat, Parmer said he felt he had achieved his objective of protecting down-ballot Democratic candidates.

"I think we did awfully well tonight, given the odds," Parmer said. "Obviously, I would've rather won than not. But I think we got more for our money than in any other campaign in the United States, and ran a good race."

"I think we cut (Gramm's) coattails off, and I'm feeling pretty good right now," he said.

Gramm, a 48-year-old former economics professor, grabbed national attention in 1985, when he authored the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings budget-balancing law. The law, which mandates automatic spending cuts if deficit-reduction goals are not met, triggered the recent budget battle in Washington.

It has been modified every year since it took effect, and the deficit has continued to grow. But Gramm said the law can be deemed a success because the government's share of GNP has fallen from 23.9 percent to 22.6 percent since its passage.

Gramm raised nearly $14 million for re-election, the most of any incumbent senator. Parmer, a 51-year-old businessman, raised more than $1.5 million, one of the highest amounts of any challenger.

During the campaign, Parmer repeatedly attacked Gramm, a member of the Senate Banking Committee, for ties to troubled financial institutions.

But Gramm virtually ignored Parmer. The two never debated and Gramm answered most of Parmer's criticisms through a spokesman.

Snyder police arrest three

Snyder police made three arrests on Tuesday and investigated one early-morning traffic accident on North College Ave.

At 3:50 p.m. at the Great Western, Leroy Spires III of Abilene was arrested for possession of a firearm by a felon and for parole violation out of Taylor County. The 35-year-old man was taken to the Scurry County jail.

At 9:25 p.m., a 35-year-old female was arrested on a misdemeanor Class B theft. The woman was charged with theft of cable television services.

At 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, a woman was arrested in the 3000 Block of Ave. K for Class A assault, also a misdemeanor.

At 10:34 a.m., police were called to a disturbance in the 2100 Block of 41st where a woman said she had been assaulted, but she refused to file charges.

At 12:39 a.m. Wednesday, police were called to another disturbance in the 600 Block of 34th St., but found all in order.

At 8:30 a.m. Tuesday in the 700 Block of North College Ave., a 1986 Ford driven by J.R. Jones of Route 2, Snyder, was in collision with a 1980 Chevrolet tractor driven by Timmy Grant of San Angelo. Jones refused medical treatment, and his vehicle had to be towed.

No injuries in rural accident

Three persons escaped injury in a two-vehicle accident 6.4 miles south of Snyder on U.S. 350.

A 1986 Ford driven by Bradley Phillip Morris of Snyder failed to observe a stop sign as the vehicle approached the Big Spring highway from the west. The vehicle struck a 1981 Ford driven by Larry Williams of Colorado City.

A passenger in the Williams vehicle, Albert Rodriguez, also was not injured.

Award presented

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Filmmaker Oliver Stone, author Norman Cousins and actor Dennis Weaver received the Inside Edge Humanitarian Awards for helping "stretch their concept of what's possible."

The awards were given Tuesday by the Inside Edge Foundation, a group of 500 Southern California leaders.

tested race, H.M. Lomax held off write-in candidate D.M. Foree, 140 votes to 108, for justice of the peace in Precinct 2.

Three Democratic incumbents, running unopposed, will each serve another term. They are County Attorney Lealand "Pete" Greene, who received 3,580 votes; County Clerk Frances Billingsley, 4,248 votes; and County Treasurer Rita Staton, 4,134 votes.

Gannaway, who defeated several challengers in the primary but was unopposed in the general election, received 936 votes in his Precinct 4 commissioner's race. Democrat Wanda Rushing, who also ran unopposed in the general election, will become justice of the peace in Precinct 1. She received 3,742 votes.

Obituaries

Vivian Clark

1902-1990
Services are pending at Bell-Cypert-Seale Funeral Home for lifetime Gail resident Vivian L. Clark, 87. Burial will be in Gail Cemetery.

Mr. Clark died at 11:05 p.m. Tuesday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Born Nov. 27, 1902, in Gail, he married Pauline Jenkins in May of 1937 in Snyder. ## Fiancee's Way Into Family May Be Through the Kitchen

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My son is engaged to a girl I'll call Lucy. Lucy has eaten dinner at our house every Sunday for the last seven months. I fix good meals and she eats heartily and acts like she enjoys the meal, but she has never once offered to help me with the dishes, or even take her plate into the kitchen.

My son says Lucy is a guest and she's not supposed to. I say he's wrong. What do you say?

A DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

DEAR DIFFERENCE: Who's right and who's wrong is not nearly as important as developing a good relationship with your future daughter-in-law.

Try treating Lucy more like a member of the family than a guest. For openers, after dinner, say, "Let's clear the table—many hands make light work." Or, "How about giving me a hand with these dishes, Lucy? It's been a long day; besides I'd appreciate the company."

It will make Lucy feel useful and will do wonders for your relationship with your future daughter-in-law.

counseling and went to AA. He used to ask me why I didn't go to Al-Anon, and I would say, "Because I am not the one with the problem, you are!" How I wish I had gone!

Now I have recriminations. Why did I lock him out of his home the night before he died? Was he ill and dying and looking for help? Had I not interfered in his life and left him in the city, would he be alive today? How I wish I had another chance!

Please, tell either parents of alcoholic children that alcoholics are ill. Why isn't more done for alcoholism and finding a cure? I would bet it kills more young people than all the other diseases combined. Sign me ...

GRIEF-STRICKEN

DEAR GRIEF-STRICKEN: Please don't beat yourself up with recriminations. You did what you thought was best.

I am printing your letter to let others know that Al-Anon is there for friends and relatives of alcoholics. Unless they've given Al-Anon a chance, they haven't done all they can for their alcoholic loved ones.

DEAR ABBY: How come all those wise guys who claim to know how to run the country are driving taxicabs and cutting hair?

AVERAGE CITIZEN

DEAR AVERAGE CITIZEN: Be thankful that all those wise guys who claim to know how to run the country are driving taxicabs and cutting hair — and not running the country.

For Richards, campaign was a beating

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — After a grueling 18-month gubernatorial campaign in which she was dogged by personal attacks, Democrat Ann Richards says she wouldn't be surprised if her own children don't recognize her.

But Ms. Richards, who on Tuesday defeated millionaire Republican oilman Clayton Williams, knew what was coming when she ran for governor of a state where she describes politics as "a very tough contact sport." "I think it's an awful thing for anybody to have to go through," Ms. Richards said during the campaign's final week. "I had to tell the kids when we made the decision, 'You're not going to recognize your mother by the time they get through with me.'"

Ms. Richards, 57, entered the race after soaring to national fame as the keynote speaker at the 1988 Democratic National Convention and a friend of Hollywood celebrities.

But a bitter, mudslinging Democratic primary and an equally tough general election campaign took a toll.

Ms. Richards found herself recalling her divorce, talking about her history as a recovering alcoholic, disputing accusations of drug use, and facing attacks that she was a "liberal" and defender of gay rights.

A poll in the fall of 1988 showed more than half of Texas voters could identify her and only 14 percent didn't like her. A week before the election, a Gallup Poll put her unfavorable rating at 53 percent.

Bemoaning the negative tone, she called her race a "no-win situation" and said candidates are afraid to even make a joke for fear of it becoming front-page news.

Born and raised near Waco, Texas, Ms. Richards received a bachelor's degree from Baylor University. She was married for 30 years to civil rights lawyer David Richards. The two were divorced in 1984. They have four children.

Her politicking began in the late 1950s, when she volunteered in the gubernatorial campaign of Henry B. Gonzalez. In the 1970s, she helped direct the successful legislative campaign of Sarah Weddington, the Austin lawyer who won the precedent-setting Roe vs. Wade abortion case.

Ms. Richards first ran for public office in 1976, winning a seat as a county commissioner. She won terms as state treasurer in 1982 and 1986.

Humor has always been an essential ingredient in her politics, and that was a key reason then-Democratic Party boss Paul Kirk tapped Ms. Richards to keynote the Atlanta convention.

There, she charmed the crowd by saying, "After listening to George Bush all these years I figured you needed to know what a real Texas accent sounds like."

Castor beans likely to make a comeback

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — Seedsman Jeane Browning wants to bring back an old crop he says can have a wide market today — castor beans.

After two years of negotiations, Browning says, he has multi-year contracts with castor oil users and processors he says will assure long-term price stability for producers.

"Our negotiations with the castor oil companies and the mill have been with producers in mind," Browning said. "Our objective has been to develop a stable and profitable crop for Texas farmers."

"We will limit our production contracts in 1991 to 35,000 to 40,000 (acres), but we expect that it will expand after 1991," he said. "We are excited about the potential."

Based on current prices for other crops, castor can show a net income advantage of $5 to $104 per acre on Texas farms, said Elbert Harp, whose consulting firm did economic studies on bringing castor bean production back to the area.

Production costs, except for seed and harvesting, are normally comparable with grain sorghum, Harp said. Irrigation and fertilizer costs are more than for cotton, he says, but less than for corn.

Castor oil derivatives are essential ingredients in hundreds of everyday products, Harp said, including lubricants, corrosion inhibitors and some plastics. And castor meal, produced as a byproduct of oil extraction, will be a high-quality protein feed for livestock, he said.

Browning said in 1991 Castor

Oil Inc. will contract to pay 15 cents per pound based on clean seed, 50 percent oil content, 6 percent moisture and delivery to the processing plant in Plainview.

The plant, built in 1962 for castor oil, has been purchased by the Southern Cotton Oil Division of Archer Daniels Midland Co. and is being reactivated to process the oil and meal.

Browning said the mill will be operational by the time the 1991 crop is harvested next fall and is expected to employ 25 to 30 people.

Harp said research has eliminated some of earlier drawbacks to castor production.

For instance, he said, Texas A&M University researchers have developed a system to remove 99 percent of the allergens that were a serious problem in handling castor meal in the past.

Browning's Castor Oil Inc. will produce a de-allergized, detoxified castor meal that will be 35 to 60 percent protein, depending on whether the hulls are removed, Harp said.

Browning Seed Inc. of Plainview also has launched a major research and development program to make improved hybrid varieties available to farmers. Browning has about 1,000 acres of seed stock in production in Hale County, Hondo and Uvalde areas.

Harp said another major advance in castor production is in improved harvesting, where Browning has been working on a new threshing combine.
