Ask Us

Q—How many Snyder fans were at last Saturday's ballgame in Sweetwater? How much money will that generate for the local school district?

A—Local school officials said that Snyder sold 3,006 advance tickets for the game. A number of other Tiger supporters bought tickets at the gate. Although final tabulations won't be in until later in the week, Snyder ISD could realize from between $10,000-$15,000 in proceeds. Basically, the two schools will split the money after paying the officials, sideline crew, etc. The UIL also gets 15 percent.

In Brief

MCA bought

TOKYO (AP) — In the largest Japanese purchase of a U.S. company, Matsushita Electric Industrial Co. announced today that it is buying MCA Corp., owner of Universal Studios, for $6.1 billion.

Matsushita, a $27 billion giant known for such brand names as Panasonic, Quasar and Technics, is Japan's biggest manufacturer of consumer electronics equipment.

Record storm

SEATTLE (AP) — Floodwaters started to back down today after a weekend deluge left thousands of people scrambling for higher ground.

Twenty rivers overflowed their banks and highwater marks for five of them set records. Rainfall set records too, with 5.82 inches in Olympia and 3.56 inches at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport during the 24 hours ending Saturday afternoon.

Local

ARC tests

American Red Cross will be sponsoring a cholesterol and glucose screening for the public from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Tuesday at Snyder National Bank.

The cost per test will be a $5 donation. Free blood pressure checks will also be offered.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Sunday, 80 degrees; low, 39 degrees; high Sunday, 80 degrees; low, 42 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Monday, 61 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for November, 1.57 inches; total precipitation for 1990 to date, 29.07 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight, cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers or thunderstorms. Low near 60. West to southwest wind 10 to 20 mph and gusty. Tuesday, mostly cloudy and turning cooler with isolated showers or thunderstorms. Rain chance less than 20 percent. High in the lower 70s. West wind 10 to 20 mph and gusty.

Tiger defense keys Area win over Mustangs

By PHIL RIDDLE SDN Sports Editor SWEETWATER — Snyder's Tigers put up an effective defensive front and took advantage of three Sweetwater mistakes to claim a 17-3 Area playoff victory in a jam-packed Mustang Bowl here last Saturday.

An estimated crowd of over 8,000 was on hand to witness Snyder's first win over Sweetwater in 11 years.

The victory sends the Tigers, now 9-2-1, against the Stephenville Yellow Jackets in a Regional semi-final matchup Saturday at 1 p.m. at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene. Stephenville defeated Ft. Worth Brewer, 28-21, last Friday to advance.

Sweetwater broke on top, 3-0, early in the game after pinning the Tigers down with a wind-aided kickoff and a tough defensive series to start the game. Kicker Gregg Ruffin put the ball between the uprights with just 4:28 gone in the first quarter.

Snyder's initial points came on an Ed Rios to Les Rinehart pass that covered 24 yards for a TD.

"I split out left on the play before," said Rinehart. "Then we went without a huddle and I came to the right. The cornerback picked up the wingback and nobody covered me."

"He was so open it was almost scary to throw it to him," said senior signal-caller Rios.

"We just put that play in this week," said Tiger head coach David Baugh. "No. 88 looked right at him (Rinehart) and I thought to myself, 'This ain't gonna work', but nobody picked him up."

Bryan Brunson's point-after kick put the Tigers in front, 7-3 with 9:50 left in the first half.

Brunson scored later in the second quarter on a 2-yard burst, following a fumbled punt by the Mustangs.

Return specialist James Moore let Brunson's fourth-down kick (see TIGERS, page 9)

Playoff tickets on sale

Tickets for Saturday's Regional semi-final football playoff game between Snyder and Stephenville are on sale now at the SISD Administration Building on 37th St.

Advance tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for students. All tickets will be $6 at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene, prior to Saturday's 1 p.m. kickoff.

No reserve tickets will be sold.

Snyder will be the home team and Tiger fans will sit on the west side of the stadium.

Resolution needed for center to gain some state funding

Shirley Fritz, director of Snyder Child Day Care Center, told Scurry County Commissioners today that a resolution was needed stating the court's support for the center's board in its efforts to receive state funds to service low income and indigent Scurry County citizens.

Fritz, along with Darryl Calley and Roger Sullenger, addressed the court last week regarding possible changes at the center to better serve county residents. Possible changes could include a merger with Lincoln Community Center Board and the start of programs such as public transportation, weatherization for low income housing, emergency utility aid, adult day care and Head Start for children.

In today's meeting, Fritz explained that a resolution was needed from the commissioners in order that grant monies might be applied for by the group.

Fritz told the court that possible new services would be available to all residents of the county and not limited to Snyder residents.

During a meeting of the center's board last week, members of the board voted to change its name to Scurry County Service, Inc. It currently has a budget of about $135,000 and is funded by the county, United (see FUNDING, page 9)

CRNA contract main topic for hospital board tonight

Cogdell Memorial Hospital board of managers will meet this evening to discuss and act on a variety of issues, including a possible agreement for CRNA (certified registered nurse anesthetist) coverage.

During the 6:30 p.m. meeting, the board will also consider approval of a safety management plan, a computer and replacing the roof on the critical care unit wing.

During informational items, Tom Hochwalt, administrator, and G.A. Parks Jr., board chairman, will update the board on a recruitment trip to Texas Tech University as well as a report on a visit by a family practitioner. The board will also be advised that Dr. Victor Hoang of Sweetwater will be performing obstetrics at the hospital beginning Dec. 1.

The board will also handle routine items such as the minutes, a medical staff and the financial report, and adjourn to a Foundation meeting to discuss an increase in allocation for an ENT chair and the annual employee awards banquet.

Hochwalt had told the board in a previous meeting that the hospital was looking for a CRNA to replace Joann Norred, who left Cogdell in early October to take a position in Big Spring. Her absence leaves only one CRNA, Bill Erwin, available. Currently, Erwin is on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The hospital's efforts at recruiting a CRNA have not been successful, and the board will discuss the option of a 12-month agreement with a firm to provide the coverage.

Iraq accuses U.S. of using blackmail by The Associated Press Iraq today accused the United States of using blackmail to win U.N. backing for a military strike to free Kuwait, and Saddam Hussein met relatives of some American hostages and told them their loved ones were free to go.

Baghdad Radio, which reported on the meeting between Saddam and the Americans, did not say how many hostages would be allowed to leave. The report did not name the hostages or their relatives.

However, Dennis Trundy of Brockton, Mass., said Saddam promised to free his brother-in-law, John Stevenson. Trundy's (see IRAQ, page 9)

Wreck sends 3 to hospital for treatment

Three people — including two members of Snyder's Area championship football team — were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Snyder EMS following a one-vehicle accident just after 1 a.m. Sunday.

Charged with felony driving while intoxicated in the accident was 17-year-old Eurdist Stephen Rinehart of 100 East 37th St. Rinehart was not booked into county jail pending medical treatment.

UNIFIED WAY GO 'N UP $55,000

Astro-Graph
By Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Nov 27, 1990

Your social scope of interests will expand considerably in the year ahead. New activities, sports, hobbies and people will occupy your leisure hours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Select activities today that are inexpensive as well as enjoyable. Fun pursuits with a large price tag will give you spender's remorse later when you tally up the costs. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you are selfishly motivated today, the results aren't apt to amount to much. Conversely, when the concerns of others have parity with your own, it's to everyone's benefit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you have to contend with frustrations today, it's not likely to be the handwork of others. This is one of those days when you're better at hammering your own thumb than the nail.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your financial prospects look extremely encouraging today, provided your expectations are not predicated upon chance. Success requires a positive game plan.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions in general should be much to your liking today, yet you will still have to guard against erratic behavior. Don't let impulses govern your rationality.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) When others do favors for you today, don't feel you are under obligation to reciprocate instantly. You'll have ample time to express your gratitude at a later date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Friends will be interwoven into various facets of your life today. In most cases they will prove helpful adjuncts, but in two situations they might be counterproductive.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Guard against inclinations to oversell today. There is a possibility you might continue pitching after you've already gotten your prospect's nod of approval and put the sale in jeopardy.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It might be a bit difficult for you to put your priorities in proper order today. Fun involvements could be at the top of your list with responsibilities and duties at the bottom.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's best not to let your heart rule your head when conducting business today. The results you desire can be realized only through realistic negotiations.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Minor setbacks or disappointments should not be viewed disproportionately today. Realistically speaking, they'll have little influence over the outcome of events.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your special talents and expertise are not nominal attributes. Keep this uppermost in your mind today if someone is negotiating for your services.

Deficit-cutting lawmakers can't touch Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lawmakers looking for ways to trim the federal deficit can cut defense spending and even raise taxes if they have to. But they have found they'd better not touch Social Security.

This year, Social Security will dispense about $265 billion — more than one-fifth of all federal spending. But the program was untouched in the deficit-reduction package enacted last month.

And new budget rules make Social Security virtually untouchable in the future.

The reason has much to do with the political power of the elderly, but also with the program's overall popularity, analysts and lawmakers say.

"It's a real gut issue," said Sen. John D. Rockefeller, D-W.Va.

Both Social Security and Medicare, the health care program for the elderly, are "enormously popular programs," noted Henry Aaron, director of economic studies at the Brookings Institution. "The public opinion polls indicate that people would prefer to cut the deficit in any other way."

That explains why, as lawmakers were voting billions of dollars in new taxes and defense cuts to cut the budget deficit last month, Social Security recipients being told their benefits would increase 5.4 percent in January.

The Bush administration announced this month it was looking at ways to shift government benefits from the wealthy to the poor, but it specifically excluded Social Security.

Rep. Ron Wyden, D-Ore., noted that "members of Congress are still pretty sensitive" after having to repeal the Medicare catastrophic illness program last year after an outcry by senior citizens who didn't want to pay for it. The program was designed to protect the elderly from financial ruin if they were struck by a devastating illness.

A fight over Medicare cuts was one issue that delayed last month's budget agreement. In the final version, Medicare takes a $42 billion hit over five years. About $10 billion of that comes from beneficiaries' pockets.

Social Security and Medicare are widely considered the most effective government programs ever to improve the lives of senior citizens.

A 1988 Census Bureau report said Social Security benefits lifted 15 million elderly citizens out of poverty in 1986 and cut the poverty rate among the elderly from 47 percent to 14 percent.

"It's done a fantastic job of reducing poverty among the elderly," said Robert Ball, former Social Security commissioner. "About two thirds of beneficiaries get more than half their income from Social Security."

Social Security and the hospital part of the Medicare program are funded in the same way — with a payroll tax held in a trust fund earmarked solely for that program.

Neither program is run like welfare; benefits are given to rich and poor alike. Rather, the criteria are related to age or disability, plus a person's lifetime contributions to the program.

Judy Schub, senior economic lobbyist at the American Association of Retired Persons, said the elderly tend to think of their Social Security benefits as money that was put away for them, "that there's a piggy bank with my name on it."

However, the system is an inter-generational plan, with today's recipients receiving far more than they ever paid into the system. Current workers are paying those benefits.

Reaction mixed to Odessa story

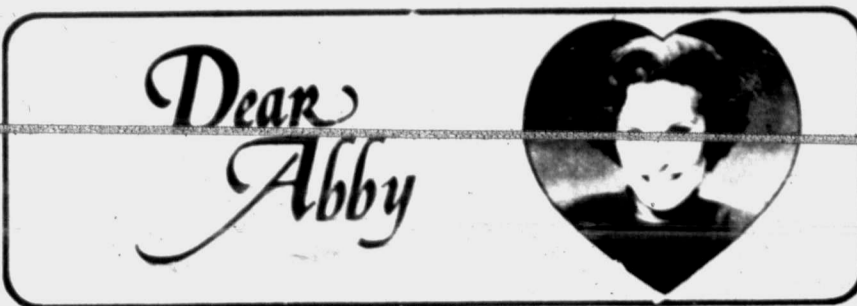

ODESSA, Texas (AP) — Mayor Lorraine Bonner and other civic leaders say "60 Minutes" provided a fair portrayal of this West Texas town and the controversy surrounding its love of high school football.

The 15-minute segment aired Sunday with CBS newsman Mike Wallace examining the fallout resulting from H.G. Bissinger's recent best seller, "Friday Night Lights."

"I was skeptical about (Wallace's) intentions when he came because he was one of the endorsees on the book flap," Ms. Bonner said. "He said, 'That's why I'm coming. Because I want to give you people a fair chance and I will not be biased' and I said, 'Well, the proof's in the pudding.'"

In a blurb on the book jacket, Wallace wrote: "'Friday Night Lights' is reportage at its finest, for it is engrossing, entertaining ... but most of all revealing. A slice of American life. It reads like fiction; unhappily it is fact."

But Ms. Bonner, who watched the show at the home of school board president Lee Buice, said she was happy with Wallace's report.

Letters From Home Bring Good Cheer to U.S. Forces

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1990 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Letters from Dear Abby readers of all ages and all walks of life are flooding the Saudi Arabian desert!

I am a technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force, serving my country proudly in Operation Desert Shield. The support and patriotism conveyed in those letters is overwhelming. Some letters are from veterans who tell us to stand tall and be proud. Some letters are from families who just want to say they care. All of them thank us for the job we are doing.

We appreciate all the mail and packages, but the letters that send a tingle down the spine and bring a tear to the toughest of us are from America's children. They tell us their names and thank us for keeping America safe. They tell us they hope there will not be a war, but if there is, they trust us to "get it right." They draw pictures of flowers and trees so we won't forget what trees and flowers look like.

Abby, please let your readers know that their mail is getting here, but as diligent as we are, we doubt that all of it can be individually answered. We apologize for that, but please convey this message:

"Our love right back at ya, America! Your letters have warmed our hearts and made life a little more tolerable for so many of us in this desolate desert. And to answer the children, we hope there isn't a shooting war, but be assured, if there is, we will get it right. God bless America!"

socialism, capitalism and a few other "isms." My students love it.

BARBARA HALPERN, VAN NUYS.

DEAR BARBARA: Thanks for your thank-you. Run it again for others to enjoy. Here it is:

DEAR ABBY: A friend gave me these definitions of the various forms of government, and I thought you might want to share them with your readers:

COMMUNISM: You have two cows. The government takes both of them and gives you part of the milk.

SOCIALISM: You have two cows. The government takes one and gives it to your neighbor.

FASCISM: You have two cows. The government takes both cows and sells you the milk.

NAZISM: You have two cows. The government takes both cows, then shoots you.

BUREAUCRACY: You have two cows. The government takes both of them, shoots one, milks the other, then pours the milk down the drain.

CAPITALISM: You have two cows. You sell one of them and buy a bull.

Abby, what happens in a democracy?

MRS. J. McC.

DEAR MRS. McC.: In a democracy, everyone has two cows, then a vote is taken, and whatever the majority decides to do, you do, and that's no bull!

Abby's family recipes are included in her cookbooklet. Send a long, business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Cookbooklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Americans spend more time watching TV than on any other leisure activity — about 15 hours per week. As a pastime, listening to the radio isn't very popular — it's usually accompanied by a particular task or chore.

2 figures charged

BEIJING (AP) — Authorities have charged two prominent figures in last year's pro-democracy movement with plotting to overthrow the government, a crime punishable by death, Chinese sources said today.

The charges against Chen Zeming, publisher of the now-banned Economic Studies Weekly, and Wang Juntao, its editor, are the most serious to be brought so far against intellectuals involved in the pro-democracy movement.

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have blood in my stool, yet I have had a colonoscopy and gastroduodenoscopy, both of which were normal. Should I be concerned with the positive results of the Hemoccult test? Should another procedure be done?

DEAR READER: Blood in the stool is always abnormal, may lead to severe anemia and can arise from any source in the intestinal tract, from the mouth to the anus. Therefore, you should be tested further because colonoscopy (examination of your colon) and gastroduodenoscopy (examination of your esophagus, stomach and part of the small intestine) are not sufficient. For instance, you may be bleeding from the lower small intestine; this should be evaluated by means of a small-bowel X-ray.

To complicate matters further, intestinal bleeding is often the result of fragile, malformed blood vessels that are not readily visible (once they have stopped bleeding) during the tests you have had. Called "dysplasia," this condition often requires special examinations (such as angiography, X-ray studies of blood circulation to the bowel) for diagnosis.

The answer to your question is "yes" — you should be tested further — if your bleeding is significant (frequent or severe enough to cause anemia). However, if you have an occasional trace of blood in your stools (by Hemoccult testing), you can probably delay further testing unless and until the bleeding becomes more pronounced.

Because your problem is common and often difficult to diagnose, I suggest you see a gastroenterologist (if you haven't already) for follow-up and further advice.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Will you please explain the symptoms of prolonged use of Calan twice daily for blood pressure? I've been taking it for over a year now, and I am concerned.

DEAR READER: Calan (verapamil) is a calcium-channel blocker used for treating hypertension, angina and irregularities of heartbeat. It is considered to be an effective and safe prescription medication. Nonetheless, the manufacturer warns against using it in the presence of severe liver disease, certain neurological disorders and kidney malfunction. Also, patients may experience constipation, dizziness, headache, nausea, fatigue and fluid retention.

Because Calan has been available for only a few years, no one knows its potential, long-term consequences. In my experience, no significant complications have developed in patients using Calan for extended periods. Further, symptoms — such as constipation and fatigue — are usually inconsequential. I believe you can safely continue Calan under your doctor's supervision.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their names and addresses to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

South American weed may repel Texas cockroaches

HOUSTON (AP) — A researcher at Texas A&I University keeps a terrarium full of insects he calls "a Club Med for roaches," but he's hoping the meals he feeds them will be among their last.

Researchers are studying the secretions from two South American weeds, plants related to okra and cotton, that could thrive in Southeast Texas and provide safe, effective insecticides.

Charles Burandt, an assistant professor of biology, happened upon the plants in 1987 while gathering information in Ecuador and Peru for his dissertation.

Sida jatrophioides, a desert plant that grows up to 4 feet high, depending on moisture, has a lot in common with sida palmata, a plant that could thrive in Houston — the apparent ability to repel or kill insects.

Burandt said the plants are covered with 116th-inch hairs that ooze a dew-like liquid.

"An insect," he noted, "has to go through a whole minefield of these hairs and droplets to get to a leaf."

Burandt collected seed samples, which he planted when he returned to Kingsville. When the plants matured, he collected the secretions and brushed them onto the nearest insects at hand — roaches and ants.

They died — the roaches in five hours, ants in seven.

Burandt's experiments became public recently when he advertised to pay 25 cents each for German cockroaches.

He now has an ample supply in a terrarium he calls "Club Med." He tests the secretions he collects on the roaches.

Burandt theorizes the active agents are proteins or toxic sugar-based substances.

"We've got a lot of research to do," he said, adding it may take years to unlock the secrets of the mystery secretion while he and colleagues continue to teach classes and conduct other research. "I'd like some chemical company to throw $100,000 at me and speed things up."

Another colleague soon will start a project — using microscopic amounts of the liquid applied to different insect parts — to determine precisely how the liquid kills them, what parts of their bodies are most sensitive and how much it takes to kill them.

Among the things researchers have to ascertain is how toxic the liquid and the plants might be to humans and domestic animals, and how the liquid could be applied to kill household pests. Researchers also need to determine if it is toxic to other insects.

Teachers want to save school

EMERALD, Neb. (AP) — Two antique-loving teachers are making a major addition to their collection — a historic one-room schoolhouse.

The 96-year-old Lane School must be moved 21 miles to their farm, where Tom Lutzi and his wife, Judy, plan to fix it up.

"One-room schoolhouses are kind of like dinosaurs; they'll be extinct before too long," Lutzi said. "We wanted to save one. You almost have to be a teacher to appreciate it."

Lutzi and his wife, both second-generation teachers, intend to outfit the schoolhouse with a stove, school bell, desks and slate chalkboards to re-create the classroom as it was when it opened nearly 100 years ago.

Lane School was built in 1894, said 82-year-old Leo Taylor, who attended classes at the first-through eighth-grade schoolhouse and later taught there for five years.

Fort Worth minister chosen as pastor of FBC in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Joel Gregory of Fort Worth has been selected as pastor of the First Baptist Church in Dallas, succeeding Dr. W.A. Criswell, who served the largest church in the Southern Baptist Convention for the past 46 years.

The entire congregation was called into a church conference meeting Sunday night, and 3,500 people voted in favor of Gregory by standing in unison.

Before the vote, Gregory delivered the evening sermon.

For the past five years, Gregory has been pastor of the Travis Avenue Baptist Church in Fort Worth.

Criswell will become senior pastor.

Gregory becomes only the third pastor of the First Baptist Church in Dallas in the past 94 years.

The church called a news conference for noon Monday at the church's Ruth Ray Hunt youth building in connection with Gregory's selection as pastor.

In 1949, President Harry S. Truman signed the Mutual Defense Assistance act, totaling $1.3 billion in military aid to NATO countries.

Shoppers' check-writing up slightly on first shopping day

HOUSTON (AP) — Shoppers in Texas wrote far more checks than their counterparts in the Southeast on the day after Thanksgiving, the traditional first day of the Christmas shopping center, economists say.

Still, retailers in the Lone Star State say they expect no more than a flat Christmas season. "What's happened in Texas was we have built a much stronger economy and more diverse economy. We'll weather the storm a little better than the Eastern states," said Ken Wait, vice chairman and co-founder of TeleCheck Southwest.

Wait theorized that the Persian Gulf crisis, near-record warm temperatures and concern over the national debt may be keeping shoppers out of the stores.

Statewide, the dollar amount of checks written by shoppers on Friday was up 0.8 percent, said Wait said.

"I would have said the figure would have been much higher," Wait said Sunday. "Something happened in mid-September that caused customers to be more reticent."

The figures reflect the total dollar amount of checks written by customers at about 2,500 test stores throughout Texas. Figures for the entire Thanksgiving weekend will be available Tuesday, Wait said.

ten by Texas shoppers on Friday totaled $2.5 million, Wait said.

In Dallas, the number of checks written was up 3.1 percent from last year, and in Houston, the number of checks written was up 3.8 percent, he said. Figures compiled for San Antonio-Austin showed the number of checks written dropped 1.4 percent.

Wait said Houston residents traditionally begin their shopping later in the season, and the figures may pick up by mid-December.

The average amount of checks written in Texas rose 2 percent, to $113.12. In Dallas, the dollar figure was up 1.2 percent, to $124.89, but in Houston, the average amount dropped 2 percent to $111.98. In San Antonio-Austin, the amount of checks written by Christmas shoppers dropped 0.9 percent, to $104.45.

But even on the first day, Texas retailers have done far better than their counterparts in seven Southeastern states, Wait said.

The number of checks written in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee dropped 8.2 percent. The average dollar amount of the checks written in those states edged up 0.2 percent to $100.51.

Los Angeles experienced a relative boom, with the number of checks written soaring 4.5 to 5 percent, Wait said.

Morning blast delays service

TOKYO (AP) — An early morning explosion delayed service on an express "bullet train" line today but did not prevent Emperor Akihito from taking the railroad hours later to an ancient shrine for a rite of enthronement.

Police found batteries at the site of the explosion and suspect the bombing was the work of ultra-leftist radicals who oppose the monarchy.

A loud explosion was heard at about 6 a.m. near Shin Yokohama Station, about 12 miles west of Tokyo. Pieces of a concrete wall were thrown as far as 110 yards and blocked the tracks, halting the train service for two hours, police said. No injuries were reported.

Akihito and Empress Michiko boarded an express train on the line six hours after the explosion, bound to pay their respects to the imperial family's ancestral deities enshrined in Ise in central Japan. They were not delayed.

An exception to the rule

By James Jacoby

When you feel your cards justify an overcall, it is customary to bid your longer suit first. Partner will usually assume that the first suit you bid is as long as or longer than any subsequent suit you introduce into the auction. However, in pairs competition, where your result is weighed against what has occurred at many other tables, there are other practical considerations.

Look at the action taken by today's East. After North opened one diamond, East felt compelled to compete. His longer suit was clubs, but bidding clubs would drive him to the two-level immediately, with not too strong a five-card suit. So East elected instead to make a quiet one-heart bid. The result? When South reached four spades, an opening heart lead gave the defenders two heart tricks and a ruff. (The club ace was the setting trick.)

At tables where East timidly stayed out of the bidding, many of the South players who reached four spades had the benefit of a friendly jack of clubs opening lead. They made the game easily.

If South had been more cautious, merely exploring game possibilities after the one-heart overcall, surely North would have rejected any game invitation, discounting the value of his heart king after the opposing bidding. But the safest and best results would be obtained by four-card-major openers. One spade by North would be raised to four by South, and East would be stymied on opening lead.

Tigers dump Sweetwater, 17-3, in playoff tilt

SDN Sports Editor
SWEETWATER — The Snyder Tigers' defense, led by Blair Williams' two interceptions and a fumble recovery, bounced the Sweetwater Mustangs Saturday in Area Class 4A playoff action, 17-3.

"It was being in the right place at the right time, and quality coaching," said the senior linebacker, who picked off one pass from each of the Mustangs' two quarterbacks. "They couldn't run the option," said defensive coordinator Jack Dorsett. "They didn't run the option the whole second half because of the way we played it. They couldn't run up the mid-do because of our three tackles. They couldn't run to the ends because of great support from our secondary kids and our defensive ends.

"It was assignment football," Dorsett continued. "If everybody does their assignment right, they can't move the ball."

Sweetwater and Snyder both, in fact had a hard time moving the football.

On the afternoon, the Tigers were able to manage just five first downs and the Ponies picked up just seven.

Snyder was able to capitalize on a pair of second quarter breaks after going down 3-0 on a first-quarter, 26-yard field goal by Gregg Ruffin.

First on what was aptly named the Mustang series, wide-out Les Rinehart moved from the left side of the formation to right on a play when the Tigers went without a huddle.

The defense did not shift and a pair of Sweetwater defenders looked at Rinehart but declined to cover him on the play.

Quarterback Ed Rios found the wide-open Rinehart for the game's first touchdown, a 24-yarder with 9:50 left in the second period.

Following the kickoff, Sweetwater netted minus seven yards on three attempts on the ground, the last being a reverse snuffed out by defensive end Will Clay and cornerback Terry Snyder that was the Mustangs' 10-yard loss and set up a fourth-and-17 punting situation.

The ensuing punt died on the Ponies' 41-yard line, where the Tigers took over.

Mark King took the handoff for a yard, followed by a crunching 8-yard gain by senior fullback Bryan Brunson.

On third and a yard, the Tigers jumped early and were forced in to a third-and-six situation after the penalty was assessed.

Brunson got the call and was dropped after two yards, which brought in the Snyder punting team.

Brunson kicked the ball toward the right-side coffin corner where dangerous Sweetwater return man, James Moore, let the ball hit and then mishandled the bounce.

An alert Shelby Bufkin pounced on the football and Snyder had new life at the Mustang 4.

Three plays later, Brunson banged over from two yards out for the TD. He also added the point-after and the Tigers held a 14-3 advantage with under four minutes left in the half.

The rest of the half saw Snyder fighting off a determined Sweetwater passing attack.

The Tiger defense held Sweetwater and forced them to punt from their own 32, but a roughing the kicker penalty gave the Ponies a first down at the 47.

Ruffin threw six consecutive passes at the end of the first two quarters before Williams claimed his first interception.

The Mustangs had been looking in the direction of Moore who had caught three short out passes on the drive.

This time Moore went out and up hoping to over-commit cornerback Terry Snyder to the out pattern.

Snyder hung in with the coverage and tipped the pass to Williams.

As dominating as the defensive teams were in the first two quarters, they were even more so in the last 24 minutes of the game.

The Tigers gained just 11 total yards in the half and were not able to scratch out a first down.

Sweetwater's offensive squad was limited to a 23 yards rushing after scrapping it's vaunted option attack after the first half.

The Mustangs passed for 72 yards in the final two quarters but accounted for just three first downs.

Ruffin, who had been injured in the second period and replaced by junior David Ritchey at quarterback, came in for a 37-yard field goal attempt in the third. The kick sailed wide.

The Tigers could get nowhere either and punts were traded until the middle of the final period.

Snyder was called for pass interference, setting the hometowners with a fresh set of downs at their 32.

Randall Leopard, Sweetwater's tailback, went for six on first down and a leaping Hayward Clay charged in from his defensive end spot and blocked an attempted pass by Ritchey on second down.

Ritchey threw the ball past the line of scrimmage on third down to set up a fourth-and-15 play for the Mustangs.

Mark King next broke up a Ritchey-to-Leopard pass, handing the ball back to Snyder.

Snyder started in a deep hole, though. On the fourth-down pass by Sweetwater, Snyder had been called for unsportsmanlike conduct after the play, penalizing the offense and setting up a first-and-25 call for the Tigers.

Ritchey threw the ball past the line of scrimmage on third down to set up a fourth-and-15 play for the Mustangs.

Minutes later, however, senior noseguard Damien Haywood recovered a Ritchey fumble on a second-and-one play and Snyder had recorded another turnover, this time in good field position at the Mustangs' 15.

With a brisk wind at the Tigers' back, coach David Baugh called three plays into the line and then sent Brunson back for a 33-yard field goal.

The kick was true, to wind up the day's scoring.

Snyder's defense was called upon late in the game to save the day on a desperation play by the Ponies.

Ritchey took the snap from center, threw a bouncing backward pass to fullback Jeff Briscoe and then relaxed, trying to get the defensive crew to stop as if the play were dead, allowing Briscoe a chance to throw long to a probably-open receiver.

With no whistle, defensive back Shelby Bufkin blew in and smacked Briscoe to the turf, ending the final threat by Sweetwater.

The Tigers will advance to Regional Semi-final play against Stephenville, 28-21 winners over Ft. Worth Brewer Friday, at 1 p.m. Saturday in Abilene's Shotwell Stadium.

Turkey Day Classic...

Lady Dusters fall to Angelina

By PHIL RIDDLE
SDN Sports Editor

The Lady Dusters of Western Texas College fell to Angelina College, 75-64, in the final game of the WTC Turkey Day Basketball Classic, Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum.

"I thought the kids played a pretty good game tonight," said WTC coach Kelly Chadwick.

"We missed some shots. We missed some free-throws or we'd been right in there with them.

"They're a pretty good team," he stated of the Angelina squad.

"They were so quick, we just had a hard time guarding them."

Angelina jumped to a 35-27 lead at the half but the Dusters closed the gap to just two points with 10:35 left in the second half on a free-throw by Monica Ramirez.

The lead grew to 11 on a 9-0 run by the Lady Roadrunners. The streak was capped when Tanya Davis was good on both ends of her one-and-one to set Angelina on top, 59-48.

The Dusters never quite recovered from their dry spell, getting as close as seven points just once.

Kristi Risinger popped a short jumper with under two minutes remaining to pull Western Texas to within 71-64.

In other Saturday action at the WTC tournament, No. 2 ranked South Plains College blasted San Jacinto, 110-68.

The Lady Dusters travel to Cisco Junior College today for a 6 p.m. non-conference meeting with the Lady Wranglers.

Western Junior College

Athletic Conference play begins Thursday as the Dusters are hosted by Howard College.

Georgia Tech moves to No. 2 in latest college football poll

Unbeaten and unsung Georgia Tech took a significant step toward a possible national championship today by jumping over Miami and moving into second place in The Associated Press college football poll.

Although Miami stomped Syracuse 33-7 and Georgia Tech was idle Saturday, the Yellow Jackets rose one spot and the Hurricanes fell one notch to third in the national survey of sports writers and broadcasters.

Tech, which trailed Miami by 11 points in last week's poll, got six more points than the Hurricanes this week. The Yellow Jackets (9-0-1) received 10 first-place votes and 1,338 points, while the Hurricanes (8-2) got two first-place votes and 1,332 points.

Colorado (10-1-1), which has completed its regular season, remained No. 1 with 41 first-place votes and 1,468 points.

The unexpected shuffling puts Tech in better position to win the NFL glance national title if Colorado loses to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl and the Yellow Jackets beat Georgia and Nebraska, their New Year's Day opponent in the Citrus Bowl.

Until now, it was assumed that Miami would win the national championship if it beat Texas in the Cotton Bowl and Colorado lost in the Orange. The Hurricanes, who have a game remaining at San Diego State, might still leapfrog over Tech if they both win the rest of their games because fifth-ranked Texas (9-1) is considered a stronger bowl opponent than No. 19 Nebraska (9-2).

But by moving ahead of Miami in the poll, Tech can now claim it is the logical choice to replace Colorado as the No. 1 team if the Buffaloes lose.

Why did Tech gain two first-place votes following an off week and Miami lose a first-place vote after easily beating Syracuse? Since voters are not required to list reasons for their picks, you can only guess.

However, two explanations seem likely. First, some voters who have been skeptical of Tech may have decided that in a year with no dominant team, the only major school without a loss may be as good a No. 1 pick as any. Second, there may be a minor backlash against Miami because athletic director Sam Jankovich has been campaigning so hard to convince voters that the Hurricanes should win the national title if they beat Texas.

Brigham Young, which will play Texas A&M in the Holiday Bowl, remained fourth after beating Utah State 45-10. The Cougars (10-1) received three first-place votes and 1,275 points to edge Texas, which rose from sixth to fifth with three first-place votes and 1,260 points.

Florida (9-1), which was idle, fell from fifth to sixth. The Gators, who can't play in a bowl because of NCAA probation, got one first-place vote and 1,218 points.

Notre Dame (9-2) stayed No. 7 after beating Southern Cal 10-6, while Florida State (8-2) and Washington (9-2) continued to hold down the next two positions. Rounding out the Top 10 is Penn State (9-2), which moved up one spot after beating Pittsburgh 22-17.

Houston is 11th, followed by Tennessee, Michigan, Clemson, Mississippi, Illinois, Louisville, Iowa, Nebraska, Auburn, Southern Cal, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Southern Mississippi and Ohio State.

Iowa fell five spots to 18th after losing to Minnesota 31-24 and Nebraska plunged nine notches to 19th following a 45-10 loss to Oklahoma, which moved back into the Top 25 after a four-week absence.

Virginia, which was No. 1 earlier this month, dropped out of the poll after losing for the third time in four games.

Cisco JC entertains WTC basketballers

Both Western Texas College basketball teams will be in action today at Cisco Junior College as the Lady Duster tangle with the CJC women at 6 p.m. and the Westerners knock heads with the Wranglers at 8 p.m.

The Western Texas men, 9-2 on the season, are coming off a 144-132 win over Navarro Junior College last Friday in Reunion Arena in Dallas.

Returning sophomore Dominick Byrd scored 39 points for the Westerners to lead a group of five WTC cagers in double figures on the night.

Michael Richardson nailed 27 followed by 24 from Jeff Shelley, Paul Johnson's 21 and 16 by Allen Smith.

The Lady Dusters, who hosted the WTC Turkey Day Classic over the weekend, are trying to rebound from a 75-64 loss to Angelina College in the event's final tilt.

In that game, coach Kelly Chadwick's Dusters were led by freshman Kristi Risinger who hit for 17 points on the game.

Risinger banged in seven buckets from the floor and went 3 of 4 from the free-throw line Saturday night.

An incorrect listing in Sunday's SDN Sports Week stated that the WTC squads would host Cisco.

Conference play begins Thursday as both teams head to Big Spring for an early-season showdown with Howard College.

The next home appearance is scheduled for Dec. 3 when the Dusters and Westerners host Odessa College.

Hallman to replace current LSU coach

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Hudson "Curley" Hallman, 43, head football coach at the University of Southern Mississippi the last three years, will probably replace Mike Archer as coach at Louisiana State, say key members of the LSU Board of Supervisors.

"For the first time in my memory, a (football) coaching change has been handled properly," Bo Campbell of Shreveport, chairman of the board's athletic committee, told The Times-Picayune on Sunday.

"The athletic director and chancellor handled it, and the board stayed out of it," he said.

Archer announced Nov. 15 that he was stepping down after the Nov. 24 season-ending game with Tulane.

Reportedly, Athletic Director Joe Dean chose Hallman last week and Chancellor William E. "Bud" Davis approved the selection.

Although approval seems a formality, Hallman must go through a three-step process to receive final approval.

His name will be submitted to the LSU athletic council — a liaison between the athletic department and the faculty-administration — then the supervisors' athletic committee, and the full board.

"(Approval) should take about 15 seconds," board member Charles Cusimano of New Orleans said. "As long as Joe (Dean) has the good graces of the chancellor, it is a cut-and-dried situation."

Walesa 'hesitating' on runoff

NEW MADRID FAULT
Many residents of St. Louis and Memphis have decided to take an early December vacation after a scientist predicted a major earthquake will occur along the New Madrid (pronounced MAD-rid) fault line on Dec. 3.

The New Madrid fault runs from Arkansas through southeastern Missouri into southern Illinois. Although not as well known as California's San Andreas fault, the New Madrid fault has produced what were probably the strongest earthquakes ever to hit the United States. One 1811 quake had an estimated strength of 8.8 on the Richter scale (which was not invented until a century later). The quake was felt as far away as Boston, where it caused church bells to chime.

The scientist predicting the Dec. 3 quake is Iben Browning, who is credited with predicting the northern California quake last year. His theories involve the position of the sun and moon and their combined effect on the earth's gravity and tidal pulls. Browning says that on Dec. 3 the gravitational pull on the earth will be the greatest in the last 60 years, resulting in a better than 50 percent chance of significant quakes along the New Madrid fault and in Japan.

The earth's surface is made up of huge plates, some 60 to 70 miles thick, which sit on top of the earth's mantle. Fault lines exist where these plates meet, and earthquakes occur when one plate moves against an adjoining plate.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Lech Walesa won the first round in presidential elections but, in a startling upset, Prime Minister Tadeusz Mazowiecki was shut out of next month's runoff by a wealthy, enigmatic emigre.

Walesa, the favorite in Sunday's balloting, had 39 percent of the vote with 48 of 49 provinces reporting.

The emigre businessman, Stanislaw Tyminski, won nearly 24 percent to Mazowiecki's 17.5 percent, according to provincial election commission results reported by the official PAP news agency. Three minor candidates split the rest. Turnout was about 60 percent.

It was a stunning setback for Mazowiecki, the East bloc's first non-Communist head of government, who during 15 months in office had spearheaded an economic "shock therapy" reform program.

The election, Poland's first popular presidential vote, was the first in Eastern Europe to focus not on defeating communism but on choosing between visions for the post-Communist future.

The new president will take over from Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, who ordered martial law to crush Solidarity and imprisoned Walesa and Mazowiecki in December 1981. Jaruzelski is retiring early to complete the democratic transformation.

Tyminski, a 42-year-old virtual political unknown, returned to his homeland this fall after 21 years in Canada and Peru.

He apparently impressed Poles worn by economic hardship and the political scrap that split Solidarity. The free-spending head of the fringe Libertarian Party of Canada has promised Poles a quick cure for their economic woes and accused the government of incompetence.

Walesa told reporters at Solidarity headquarters in Gdansk today that he is "hesitating" about contesting the Dec. 9 runoff with Tyminski, and said he does not consider him "a serious man."

"I wouldn't like to run but one has to think over what is good for Poland," Walesa said. "For the last 10 years, I was at the helm of Polish reforms. There were victims and sacrifices and it wouldn't be proper to leave it now."

Tyminski was confident. "I will win these elections," he said as he arrived at his headquarters this morning. "I want to want to make this country rich and prosperous. ... It will be better within a month."

Walesa, a shipyard electrician who as Solidarity leader marshaled the forces that ended four decades of Communist rule, has said it would be "horrible" to face Tyminski in a runoff.

He has described the emigre as "a man straight from the bush," an apparent reference to the challenger's experiences in Peru's interior.

In the country's largest newspaper, Gazeta Wyborcza, commentator Piotr Pacewicz attributed Tyminski's showing to "a second Poland" of disaffected rural and small-town voters. He said Tyminski backers were enticed by this man "who arrived 'clean,' from outside the situation ... who came from the world of success, from the Americas."

An exit poll by state television indicated that farmers, who represent 40 percent of Polish society, deserted Mazowiecki en masse, angry at the abolition of guaranteed prices for their produce. Mazowiecki also fared poorly among workers, winning only among intellectuals.

accepted the hard-live ball, but Bufkin made a stall tackle to stop the threat and hang on for the win.

"It's the old Aggie dump-off," said Bufkin of the play. "I saw it and just tried to take off and rap the guy. I heard later that there was a guy open deep. I'm glad I made the play."

"Shelby made a great read," said linebacker Blair Williams, who had two interceptions and a fumble recovery on the day. "Everybody else just stopped and he did a great job of knocking the guy down."

Former Tiger player Jody Iglehart, a 1990 graduate of Snyder High School, said afterwards, "I had chill bumps all down me all through the game. You just knew we were gonna win. It felt good to know we won against them for the first time since 1979."

hit the ground, and mishandled the bounce. Shelby Bufkin found the pigskin and claimed it for the Tigers at the Ponies' 4-yard line.

Three plays later Brunson hit paydirt.

His PAT gave the Black Attack a 14-3 bulge.

The second half was even more defense-oriented than the first.

"It was a real good defensive effort," Baugh said of his crew. "They really kept us in the game."

Defensive coordinator Jack Dorsett said, "We took them right out of their option because of the way we played. It was assignment football."

The Tigers gave up a minus 23 yards rushing in the second period.

The Mustangs' defense wreaked havoc on Snyder offensive plans in the last half, allowing just 11 total yards in the last 24 minutes.

Sweetwater's last hurrah came on a fourth-and-23 situation late in the final quarter.

Quarterback David Ritchey threw a bounce pass to fullback Jeff Briscoe. When the ball hit the turf, the Tiger defense, except for Bufkin, relaxed. Briscoe wife and her two other brothers are in Baghdad and called with the news.

"She and her two brothers met with Saddam Hussein sometime this morning and he said 'sure, take him,'" Trundy said.

Also today, oil prices — which have fluctuated wildly since Iraq seized the oil-rich emirate — rose about $2 a barrel on the futures market, as traders speculated the United Nations was about to authorize the use of force against Iraq.

By late morning, light sweet crude was up $2.05 at $33.95 on contracts for delivery in January. Contracts for delivery in later months were sharply higher.

The Soviet Union, meanwhile, which has advised patience in dealing with Iraq, today threatened to take a "tougher attitude" because Saddam failed to allow 1,000 Soviets to leave in November.

Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman Vitaly Churkin spoke at a news briefing that coincided with a four-hour meeting in Moscow between Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard A. Shevardnadze and the Iraqi foreign minister.

Churkin said Iraq allowed 350 Soviets to depart this month, adding:

"If Iraq does not immediately remove obstacles and allow our citizens to leave, this will complicate the present situation even further and force us to take a tougher attitude."

Anti-Semitic violence noted

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Jewish college students who share a kosher kitchen that was defiled with anti-Semitic slurs and human waste said the incident has left them united.

"If we can continue having kosher meals together... then there's still the sense of community, and of Jewish people as survivors," student Aline Iskander said Sunday.

Police classified the vandalism in a section of Macalester College's Kirk Hall dormitory as a bias crime against Jews. The dormitory section is known as Hebrew House.

Ted Leventhal, 21, a former director of Hebrew House, said he and two friends who live there found an obscene note and a mixing bowl filled with feces in the kitchen Friday night.

of Big Spring were all taken by Snyder EMS to Cogdell where Reeves was admitted for a possible nose fracture and concussion. He was released Sunday afternoon.

Fox was treated and released for a sprained ankle, ankle and knee contusions and forehead abrasions. Rinehart was treated for facial injuries and transferred to Humana Hospital in Abilene by private vehicle and referred to an oral surgeon, according to a hospital spokesman.

Department of Public Safety Trooper Steve Torres said that none of the men were wearing safety belts at the time of the accident.

According to the accident report, Rinehart failed to negotiate a turn in the 1987 Chevrolet he was driving while traveling east on U.S. 84, approximately seven miles north of Snyder. The car traveled across the median and struck what was described as a large cylindrical concrete object used in road construction.

The car was towed from the scene.

Torres said that the case would be referred to the county attorney. As of mid-morning the county attorney's office had not yet received a report.

SHS Coach David Baugh could not be reached for comment, however, Fox is expected to be able to play in Saturday's Regional semi-final game against Stephenville. Rinehart's status with the team is unknown.

The court approved a motion in which County Judge Bobby Goodwin was instructed to prepare a resolution for review by the commissioners during their Dec. 3 meeting.

In addition to approving the minutes and bills payable, commissioners heard from Linda Franklin, county auditor, and Rita Staton, county treasurer, regarding insurance coverage of retired county employees and their spouses. It was noted that there is no written policy addressing the situation.

Commissioners asked Staton and Franklin to write a policy and submit it to the court for review.

Present were Goodwin and Commissioners C.D. Gray Jr., Tommy Pate, Duaine Davis and Ted Billingsley.

Obituaries

Ted Bigham
1901-1990

He was the father of Ted Bigham of Snyder.

Born in Taylor County, Mr. Bigham lived near Ovalo and was a stock farmer and Baptist minister. He pastored in Shep for more than 20 years and in Burkett for 15 years.

He was a member of the Burkett Baptist Church. He was preceded in death by his first wife, Effie Cordelia Rister.

Survivors include his wife, Adell Bigham of Ovalo; two other sons, Ed Bigham of Ovalo and Troy Watson of McCaulley; three daughters, Ruby Sneed of Shep, Mary Gowdy of Bronte and Doris Pippin of McCaulley; two sisters, Eva Lee Dixon of Clyde and Marietta Newton of Merkel; 19 grandchildren; and 31 great-grandchildren.

Charles May

1908-1990

SWEETWATER — Graveside services are set for 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Sweetwater Cemetery for Charles Franklin May, 82, who died Saturday in a Sweetwater hospital.

He was the brother of Ruby Roggenstein of Snyder.

Born in Mitchell County, Mr. May was a former resident of the Camp Springs community, but had lived in Sweetwater since 1950. He was a retired farmer, auto body repairman and retired from the Ranch House Motel in 1983.

Other survivors include his wife, Beatrice May of Sweetwater; three brothers, J.T. May of Las Vegas, Nev., J.W. May of Abilene and Raymond May of Irving.

Police kept busy with reports of burglaries, thefts

Criminal activity — which included several burglaries and thefts — kept Snyder police busy over the weekend.

Eneida Gomez of 1909 1/2 Ave. M, told officers at 1:47 p.m. Sunday that stereo speakers from her residence had been stolen. A report was filed.

At 9:15 p.m., Mike Kirby of 2002 28th St. reported to officers that a blue Huffy 10-speed bicycle had been stolen from the residence. Kirby said that the house was entered through a boarded-up window.

A caller reported a suspicious vehicle parked at Scurry County Library at 11:47 p.m. Saturday. Upon investigation, police found a window at the library broken out. A report for Class A criminal mischief was filed.

A 30-year-old male was arrested at 6:09 p.m. at Travel Inn for public intoxication.

A 6:03 p.m., police received a call of a burglary in progress in the 2700 block of Ave. O. The subject was gone upon the arrival of officers.

A 38-year-old male was arrested in the 1400 block of Ave. K at 3:35 p.m. for driving while license suspended.

The burglary of a business was reported to police at 9:05 a.m. Buck Woollever said that jewelry, knives and assorted items of and undetermined value had been stolen.

Lanny Wadleigh reported at 8:44 a.m. Saturday that the canvas bed cover from his pickup had been stolen while parked in the 2500 block of College Ave. A report for Class B theft was filed.

At 8:09 a.m. at 26th St. and Ave. F, a 20-year-old male was arrested on outstanding DPS warrants from Lubbock for speeding, minor in possession and failure to appear.

Theft of tools reported to SO

Scurry County sheriff's office investigated a report Sunday morning from Robert Hinkle of 308 32nd St. Hinkle advised that tools had been stolen from the tool box of his pickup sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The tools were Snap-On, Craftsman and Allied, and most had Hinkle's name engraved on them.

The SO received a report from a woman at 9:44 a.m. Saturday that she had made out a check to a local restaurant for $2.24 and that her bank statement indicated the check was for $24.24. She said she would be in later to file a report for forgery.

Police investigate weekend mishaps

Local police worked four minor mishaps — including three hit-and-run accidents — over the weekend.

At 3:19 p.m. Sunday, police were advised that an unknown vehicle had struck and hit a parked 1989 Chevrolet owned by Jason Cooper of Arah Route. Location of the accident was not reported. Damage was minor.

A city dumpster in the 700 block of 30th St. was struck by an unknown vehicle. The accident was reported at 6:39 p.m.

Police were called to a two-vehicle mishap at 9:43 a.m. Saturday in the 3200 block of Ave. E. Involved were a 1981 Honda driven by Evelyn Ware of 510 33rd St. and a 1986 Chevrolet driven by Marvin Stephenie of 2608 42nd St. There were no injuries and damage was described as minor.

At 6:09 p.m. in the 100 block of Peach, a parked 1980 Rover, owned by Guy Allen of 121 Peach, was struck by an unknown vehicle. Damage was minor.

Alcohol can be removed from over-the-counter items

HOUSTON (AP) — A Texas company has found a way to improve the taste of health aids and over-the-counter medicines by eliminating alcohol and other solvents, a report says.

Spectrum Consumer Products Co. said the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office has awarded it with a patent covering the new technology.

The patent covers the use of "ingestible surface acting agents," to replace alcohol solvents in formulating and delivering finished medicinal products, the Houston-based company said.

Mark E. Wilson, chairman and chief executive of Spectrum, said he got the idea after "a bottle of mouthwash broke inside a suitcase during a business trip.

Removing alcohol from products such as mouthwashes eliminates potential health risks, particularly for children, diabetics and the elderly, the company said.

Spectrum already markets a

More layoffs said considered likely

DETROIT (AP) — The Big Three automakers are blaming economic uncertainty and dealer backlogs for the temporary layoff of 38,800 employees.

General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp. said the layoffs would begin today and run through Dec. 7 at 14 assembly plants in eight states.

"We are watching the marketplace and then we adjust production to meet those needs," Kathy Tanner, spokeswoman for GM's Chevrolet-Pontiac-Canada mouthwash, called Spritz, that uses the technology.

Other products using the developing technology include pain relievers, cough and cold remedies, and antacids, Wilson said.

Group, said Sunday. Additional layoffs would be announced five to 10 days before they were to be imposed, officials said.

"I wouldn't be surprised to see more," said Joel Pitcoff, Ford's research and analysis manager.

The shutdowns won't put a big pinch on workers' wallets. Contract agreements with the United Auto Workers union provide laid-off workers with up to 95 percent pay during shutdowns.
