

Bidders told to 'proceed'...

Prison utility line project underway as funding okayed

A "notice to proceed" was given to contractors Wednesday morning at a pre-construction conference related to the laying of water and sewer utility lines to the TDC Daniel Unit. On hand were representatives of low bidder for the utility line work, Panhandle Construction of Lubbock, and the low bidder to construct a 150,000 gallon overhead water tower, Pittsburg Tank of Henderson, Ky.

On Tuesday, an agreement was "closed" to loan the City of Snyder some $2.3 million to finance the work. These funds will be in the form of revenue bonds issued through the Texas Water Development Board. In addition to the two 5 mile lines and the 150,000 gallon elevated storage tank, the project involves a 15,000 gallon ground storage tank, a booster See TDC, page 10

Trouble mounts for Tower nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary-designate Joyn Tower visited the White House this morning as senior Democrats on the Senate Armed Services Committee said the nomination was beset with new allegations on Tower's finances and drinking habits. Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., the committee's chairman, said today he met with President Bush at the White House on Tuesday night and the administration now agreed that the panel should put off a vote on the nomination. "I told the president frankly that I have serious concerns, and I also stated that if a vote was held immediately as some have urged, I would vote no because of these concerns," Nunn told reporters. The administration had been pushing for a vote this week, but delayed the request after Nunn and the ranking Republican on the Armed Services panel, Sen. John Warner of Virginia, met with the president. The second-ranking Democrat on the committee, Sen. James Exon of Nebraska, said the latest FBI report on Tower could not be complete by Friday, when the Senate is scheduled to begin a week-long recess. "As a practical matter, they can't draw it out too long," said Exon. The latest allegations concern Tower's drinking and financial affairs, Exon said, but he added he would not know the specifics until the FBI report is complete. "Ninety percent of the allegations are garbage," said Exon, specifically disputing a rumor that Tower had an affair with a dancer who had defected from the Soviet bloc. The remaining allegations, he said, concerned Tower's drinking habits and his ability to avoid a conflict of interest with defense contractors from whom he collected more than $1 million as a consultant. The White House stood by the Tower nomination today.

School reopens as big chill subsides

From Local, Wire Reports The big chill appears to be over as local temperatures rose to 38 degrees on Tuesday, a gas curtailment for Snyder public schools was lifted and local students returned to the classroom Wednesday morning. The National Weather Service isn't predicting spring-like weather yet, but all of West Texas is forecast to be fair from Friday through the weekend. For the Snyder area, readings by Saturday are expected to rise into the 50s. On Sunday, those will cool slightly back into the 40s. Wednesday night, overnight lows near 20 are forecast with temperatures rising Thursday into the upper 30s. This is in contrast to frigid readings which began here last Friday when the 7 a.m.

temperature was 10 degrees. On Saturday, the low reading was 7 degrees and, on Sunday and Monday, 8 degrees. This past weekend, the mercury never rose above 22 degrees and, on Monday, the high was 28. Throughout the period, the Snyder area received no measurable precipitation. In other regions Wednesday night, some light snow flurries are expected across the Texas Panhandle while some scattered showers are possible across South Texas. Skies will be partly to mostly cloudy statewide through Wednesday night. Overnight lows will be mostly in the 20s and 30s, ranging from near 10 in the Panhandle to the 40s in extreme South Texas.

AD staff pay hike denied

After lengthy discussion Tuesday and two split votes, Scurry County Appraisal District board members opted to freeze staff salaries at current levels for 1989.

Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler had proposed pay raises ranging from 5 to 10 percent among his staff. He noted that reductions in staff last year would mean a lower district payroll in '89 even with his proposed salary increases.

During discussion, three directors had agreed that "something," at least a bonus, needed to be done to bring salaries to a more equitable level with other tax-supported offices.

When the issue came to a vote, however, board member Mickey Sterling made a motion to leave salaries frozen. It passed in a 3-2 split. Voting for it were Sterling, Julius Roemisch and Dwain Williams and voting against it were E.D. (Doug) Flynn and Mairl McFaul.

Following this, Flynn made a motion that the staff be granted a $500 pay bonus. This measure was defeated 3-2 with the same voting pattern.

In other business, the appraisal board selected the Abilene firm of Davis, Kinard & Co., P.C., to complete outside audits during 1989 for both the district's appraisal and collection operations.

A proposal from the firm was presented by representative Carol McDonald.

Jerry Church, Hermleigh ISD superintendent, offered a recommendation for the firm saying he had used its services for some eight years and its fees had lowered over the years.

Two other audit proposals were offered also, vestal and Company of Snyder and Joe Morren of Colorado City.

Bills payable were passed without discussion. Vinyl protectors for the district's extensive map collection will be purchased See APPRAISAL, page 10

In Brief

AIDS study

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AIDS epidemic will extend well into the next century, and to combat it America must conduct extensive sex surveys, provide sex education in plain language and distribute condoms widely, according to a study released today. The study by the National Research Council says the nation's war against acquired immune deficiency syndrome and the virus that causes it, human immunodeficiency virus, is handicapped by outdated data on the sex habits of Americans and by poor studies on precisely how many people now carry the AIDS virus.

Acid spills

CARROLLTON, Texas (AP) — A manufacturing company worker was burned by acid from a leaking tank and at least seven others were hospitalized while authorities evacuated about 600 people from the area.

The sulfuric acid leaked from a 1,500-gallon tank at Western Extrusions Corp. shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday after a valve being opened by the worker broke off.

Local

TDC visit

Texas Department of Corrections officials will tour Cogdell Memorial Hospital Thursday as part of the local facility's application to provide medical services for TDC's Daniel Unit.

The tour is slated for 2 until 4 p.m.

Among the group will be James Riley, assistant director of TDC's Health Services Division; Dr. Glenn Johnson, chief of professional services for TDC; and Dr. Al LeBlanc, vice president of hospital affairs at the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

Medical fund

A medical fund account has been established at Snyder National Bank to aid H.E. (Slim) Morris, now hospitalized at Hendrick Medical Center in Abilene.

FFA, 4-Hers due at Houston show

The three Scurry County chapters for FFA, to include Snyder, Hermleigh and Ira, will send 38 members and the local 4-H chapter will send another 21 to compete in the upcoming Houston Livestock Show slated Feb. 16 through March 5. The 4-Hers and FFA exhibitors will compete in one of two divisions at the Houston event, the junior show division. The other competition, the open show, will attract exhibitors from the world's agricultural industry to include professional breeders and ranchers. Entries in both the open and junior shows combine with horse show entries to make the Houston

Livestock Show the world's largest. The number of animal entries scheduled to compete from the Snyder FFA chapter total 32 and include, in market lambs, Celia Feinsod, Greg Kiker and Jeff Mitchell; and in market barrows, Elizabeth Ann Alvis, Charles Cribbs, Cody Cribbs, Amy Dixon, Jimmy L. Kitchens, Christopher McDonald, Ray Turner and Allen Ward. Sponsor for the Snyder FFA See HOUSTON, page 10

The feller on Deep Creek says, "It's time to diet when you nod one chin and the other one seconds the motion."

Time has a way of changing one's perspective. Older folks remember looking forward to the day when they turned 21. That used to be the milestone for becoming a man—you know, making your own decisions.

Age 13 was also an important happening. It meant becoming a teenager, and teens looked forward to that time when they could fulfill all the adult talk about what terror they could provoke during those seven years.

Age 10 has a neat memory. It was the first time to be in double-digits and sports-minded young men, at least then, wanted to be in double-digits. At that age, sports was more important than anything—even girls.

By age 22, girls had definitely replaced sports as number one on the boy's hit parade. It was also a sobering time—formal education was over and the real education was about to begin—a job, military service, car payments, house payments, your first pharmacy bill and the realization that cars had to be repaired, not necessarily replaced.

By age 33, one could read you were in the prime of life—at the top of your earning capacity, plenty of ambition and still enough of a dreamer to take chances. A guy at this point may reason he could go broke and still have time to rebound.

By age 44, one forgets that he thought about girls at age 22, and he remembers that he shouldn't have taken that chance at age 33—because he still owes the bank and the IRS for it.

Ambition is getting through the day without a major conflict, getting the kids through college, and keeping one's health so he can pay for those age 33 miscues.

And 44 is a time in life to start appreciating the finer things of life—a warm home, a manicured back yard, bogey golf, a cheerful wife, and good friends who really do hope you make it to 55.

Aid for S. Texas sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas lawmakers are proposing legislation that would funnel federal money into the Rio Grande Valley to help communities cope with the wave of Central American refugees seeking political asylum.

"Since most Central Americans enter the United States through South Texas, that economically depressed area of my state has been particularly hard hit," Democratic Sen. Lloyd Bentsen said Tuesday in introducing the bill.

The proposal would make federal money available for medical, food and housing assistance to the refugees while their applications for asylum are pending.

A federal judge is expected to rule Feb. 20 that the Immigration and Naturalization Service can reinstate its policy requiring refugee-seekers to have their initial asylum petitions resolved in the Harlingen area.

Between the time the INS instituted the policy in December and when U.S. District Judge Filemon Vela temporarily blocked it in January, asylum-seekers piled up in the Rio Grande Valley and sought shelter in fields and abandoned buildings.

Bentsen said he estimates the cost to local governments, charities and churches in South Texas at $6 million a year if the INS policy is reimposed.

To help the area cope, Bentsen and other lawmakers are proposing that part of a $20 million fund at the Justice Department be funneled to South Texas and other areas hit by large numbers of refugees such as Miami and Los Angeles.

The Community Relations Service, a Justice agency, is barred from using the fund in South Texas because the law restricts such expenditures to Cuban or Haitian immigrants, or unaccompanied minor immigrants, said Bentsen.

A Bentsen spokesman said the Texas chose to expand the fund because he believes the bill has a good chance of passing Congress quickly.

"He'll be pushing as hard as he can. He understands the need for speed," the spokesman said.

Bentsen said the number of people seeking political asylum has jumped 130 percent over the past year, from 26,107 in fiscal year 1987 to 60,736 last year. Refugees from El Salvador, Nicaragua and Guatemala account for 82 percent of the applicants.

Dear Abby

Winter Romance Turns Chilly Following Summertime Fling

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Last winter, I began dating a girl I'll call Janet. She said she loved me, too. We are both in college. In June, Janet went to Maine to work at a summer camp for the season. There she met a young man from Canada who had also come to work at the camp. Janet and Rolf soon became very close and started sleeping together. Everyone at camp knew it, and, naturally, it got back to me, which hurt me deeply.

After the camp closed, Rolf went back to Canada and Janet came home. She called me, of course, asking if we could get together. I was hesitant. While I still cared for her, I didn't trust her and I told her so. After much discussion, I agreed to see her again.

We had a long talk. Janet said she still loved me, but when two people are in love they should ask for nothing in return. She admitted to being intimate with Rolf, but insisted it had nothing to do with her feelings for me. She thought I should just forget about her camp experience and pretend it never happened. Abby, while I still love and forgive her, I don't think I can ever trust her again.

I need your advice. Were my expectations too high? Can girls love one person and sleep with someone else? Should I continue seeing her? And will things ever be the same between us again?
HURTING IN WAUKEGAN

DEAR HURTING: Were your expectations too high? Obviously they were with Janet. Can girls love one person and sleep with someone else? You will have to define "love" — what it means to you, and what it means to Janet — but girls are capable of the same behavior as boys.

Continue seeing her only if it gives you more pleasure than pain. Things will never be the same unless you can truly forgive and forget, and then forget what you forgave.

DEAR ABBY: (I've read those words so many times, but never thought I'd be writing them.) I'm a third-grade teacher, and my class took your advice and wrote to our men and women in the armed forces over the holidays. Since we were studying Japan, we chose Okinawa. Abby, we heard from men and women in the armed forces in Okinawa who wrote such warm and wonderful letters to these children, we could not believe it!

One little girl received a fabulous Christmas gift from a Marine who received her letter. The mail from Okinawa touched these children's lives in a very special way.

Operation Dear Abby was the best thing we did this year. We have learned a valuable lesson in friendship, and the children have developed a deep sense of admiration and respect for our military.

Consumers lukewarm to plan

DALLAS (AP) — Depositors at thrifts in downtown Dallas greeted President Bush's proposal for dealing with the ailing savings and loan industry with caution, but many said they were glad some steps were being taken.

Bush on Monday proposed raising the deposit insurance premiums paid by banks and thrifts, rejecting a fee on depositors.

Cheryl Harris, 33, a depositor at Murray Savings, said Tuesday she is worried about interest on her savings account. "I can finally put something (savings) away and now it looks like it won't be worth it."

"It'll probably end up the money I save will go to new taxes," she said.

"One way or another, we'll still end up paying for it — either through lower interest rates (on accounts) or higher service charges," said Jeff Estrachan, another Murray Savings depositor.

Estrachan said he doesn't know if anyone will find a better way to solve the thrift crisis, "but I'm glad somebody's doing something."

Bush's plan was immediately felt. Regulators from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. on Tuesday began taking over four troubled thrifts including Hondo-based Gill Savings Association.

Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, described Bush's plan as "sort of like kissing your mother-in-law," but said it had his support.

'Lonesome Dove' has top spot in Nielsens

NEW YORK (AP) — Viewers returned to olden days in CBS' "Lonesome Dove," and so did network ratings thanks to the hot competition sparked by the critically acclaimed Western miniseries.

"Lonesome Dove" headed off NBC's competition, a sexy made-for-TV movie, on Sunday and a bunch of high-rated comedies on Monday, and made NBC worry about losing its 30-week hold on first place in the A.C. Nielsen Co. ratings.

ABC put up "Ruthless People" on Sunday and the new "Columbo" on Monday.

Sunday's bonanza of programming drew 86 percent of the viewing audience to the three networks. Monday's drew 80 percent. The networks have averaged shares in the high 60s so far this season, as audiences have defected to cable and videocassettes. "Lonesome Dove" seemed to prove that a big event can still draw viewers to network television.

Sunday night's opening installment of the four-part miniseries was No. 1 in the Nielsen ratings, with a 28.5 rating. Monday's installment dropped to 23.8, still respectable. "Lonesome Dove" stars Robert Duvall, Tommy Lee Jones and Anjelica Huston and is based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Larry McMurtry.

NBC had an average, prime-time rating of 16.0; ABC 13.9, and CBS 13.0. Mid-week last week marked the beginning of the important February sweeps, one of four months when local affiliates' ratings are measured to determine advertising rates.

Each rating point represents 904,000 households with televisions.

NBC has now won 30 weeks in a row. But Gerald Jaffe, NBC's vice president for research projects, was worried that the last three installments of the miniseries would break NBC's streak.

"I would say this week is in jeopardy for us," Jaffe said. "Especially with the president pre-empting us on Thursday."

The networks will interrupt programming to cover President George Bush's address to Congress in prime time on Thursday, NBC's best night for ratings.

Fox Broadcasting Co. had its highest rating yet, an 11.6 for "America's Most Wanted," which ranked 45th among the network shows. "Married ... With Children" had its highest rating ever, 10.9, and ranked 53rd.

tie in five clubs. But when North showed one ace, South could easily visualize a grand slam. North would not have supported clubs without four of them, and the solid heart suit held by South should be able to take care of any spade losers in dummy. So South bid seven clubs.

Because the hand looks much too easy, many declarers would go set. The unthinking play is to win the ace of diamonds and play a round of trumps. Anyone who does that deserves the fate that befalls him. In this deal the only danger is a 4-0 trump break, but dummy's strong holding of J-10-9-7 provides the means of guaranteeing 13 tricks even against such a calamitous split. But precautions must be taken immediately. At trick two, a diamond should be ruffed with a high club. A low club is played to dummy's nine, and another diamond ruffed with declarer's trump honor. Now South can play the remaining high club, continue with a low trump to dummy and pick up the defender's trump. On dummy's last trump declarer discards his losing spade and takes the rest of the tricks with his high major-suit cards.

Easy hand sets a snare

By James Jacoby

Today's deal from the new book "Spingold Challenge" carries with it an important lesson against carelessness. Since South had all the requirements for a strong forcing-to-game bid, he started with an artificial two clubs. He was able to bid his heart suit, and then, after partner bid two no-trump, to introduce his second suit — clubs. When North raised to four clubs, Blackwood seemed appropriate. If partner had no aces, South would set-

Cold may hurt wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The frigid push of arctic weather may have damaged winter wheat in parts of the central and southern plains, says a government report.

But winter wheat in the northern plains and the Corn Belt benefited from a protective layer of snow during the week of Jan. 30-Feb. 5 as the huge arctic system caused temperatures to plummet.

"In Kansas, winter wheat was mostly poor to fair," said the report released Tuesday. "Extreme cold temperatures late in the week may have caused widespread winterkill, but the extent of the damage was still unknown."

Cold weather "greatly reduced greenbug activity" in the Oklahoma winter wheat crop, but raised the possibility of winterkill in the western area of the state, the report said.

Severe cold also put heavy stress on livestock in the Northwest and Great Plains. The low temperatures and wind were especially hard on newborn calves and lambs, and above-normal losses were expected in some areas, the report said.

On the Chicago Board of Trade, grain and soybean futures on Tuesday closed about unchanged from the day before. Analysts said the markets had anticipated some wheat winterkill because of the cold.

Moreover, forecasts for more snow in the Great Plains have had a dampening effect on commodity markets.

"There is a growing realization among traders that the odds of a back-to-back crop adversity in (the) Midwest are extremely small," said Richard Feltes of Refco Inc., a Chicago-based commodities brokerage firm.

The Agriculture Department has been saying for months that a repeat of last year's heavy drought losses is unlikely.

Red wolves brought to Texas

GLEN ROSE, Texas (AP) — Officials have moved eight of the 84 red wolves left in the world into mating pens near this North Texas town in an attempt to breed the native Texas species back from the brink of extinction.

The shy wolves, whose population was decimated by bounty hunters and encroaching civilization in the 1800s and early 1900s, were sent from a zoo in Tacoma, Wash., to the Fossil Rim Foundation wildlife center, 45 miles southwest of Fort Worth.

"There are fewer red wolves than whooping cranes or even giant pandas," said Bruce Williams, director of the non-profit center, which has bred such rare and endangered species as the cheetah, white rhinoceros and Grevy's zebra.

"The red wolf is the most endangered mammal in the United States," Williams said.

The four male and four female wolves were placed in large pens, and will live in dog houses and eat dog food. Foundation officials hope the wolves will have offspring this spring and that the pups can be released into the wild.

In 1973, when Congress passed the Endangered Species Act, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service rounded up all the red wolves believed alive. The 40 wolves were put in a captive breeding program at the Point Defiance Zoo and Aquarium in Tacoma.

Beginning with a litter born in 1977, the wolves have increased their numbers to 84. None of the wolves are living in nature, wildlife officials say.

The wolves arrived in plastic carriers on a jet at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport Tuesday.

The wolves were taken by trucks to Glen Rose and put in yards in an area closed to the public. The foundation expects to receive another pair of red wolves and house them in an area open to the public in about three months.

The red wolves, weighing about 60 pounds, are bigger than coyotes but smaller than timber wolves.

"They're not particularly aggressive to people," said Jim Jackson, president of the Fossil Rim center. "They just stay away from you."

Tigers struggle from free throw line but hold off Lake View for 59-50 win

SAN ANGELO — A shaky night from the free throw line kept things interesting here Tuesday as Snyder's Tigers held off San Angelo Lake View 59-50 in District 4-4A basketball action.

The game was Snyder's last road trip of the season. The Tigers return to Scurry County Coliseum for their final three contests, beginning with Friday's game against Monahans.

"They're all behind us now," said Coach Larry Scott of Snyder's exhausting road schedule this season. "It's good to have them over with and it will be good to be home now."

The Tigers have been on the road for 18 of their 26 games.

Snyder opened Tuesday's game here in strong fashion and built a 13-point first-half lead which bulged to 16 in the third quarter. Lake View's strategy turned to fouling in the fourth period, however, and it almost worked.

"We missed the front end of five one-in-ones (bonus free throw situations) in the fourth quarter," said Scott, after watching the Tiger lead dwindle to six points with two minutes to play. They were able to halt the Chiefs' comeback and improve to 7-4 in district play.

Snyder hit 9 of 17 free throws for the quarter and 12 of 28, 43 percent, for the game.

Scott said he saw a lot of positives in the game, which helped Snyder take its 14th victory in 26 outings.

"We felt like we had to control Tony Allen. He was one of the leading scorers in the district and Tyrone (Durst) and Michael (Riggins) did a real good job on him," said Coach Scott.

Allen came into the game with a 22.3 scoring average, unofficially. The Tigers held him scoreless in the first quarter and to 15 points for the game.

"I thought we controlled the boards real well, too," added the coach. "Tracy Braziel had a real good game with 15 rebounds and he had 29 points, too."

Braziel's 29 led all scorers. Hayward Clay added 11 points and 12 boards while Jeff Franklin scored 8 points and contributed 5 assists.

Lake View, 13-15 overall now and 4-7 in district play, was paced by Allen's 15. Carlos Garcia added 9.

The Chiefs were beaten on the boards 40 to 31.

Earlier in the evening, Carlton Sanders scored 9 points and Edward Rios added 8 to help Snyder clip Lake View 41-39 in a junior varsity game. Toby Goodwin added 7 points for the young Tigers.

Friday's action will begin at 6 p.m. with a junior varsity contest. The varsity game will start at 7:30 p.m. A freshman game is also scheduled against Monahans for 6 p.m. in the high school gym:

Texas tries Arkansas in key contest tonight

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - The Southwest Conference race may end when Texas visits Arkansas tonight. Or it may just be getting started.

The conference-leading Longhorns would open up a two-game lead with a victory over Arkansas, but the Razorbacks would move into a tie for the league lead with a win.

Texas is 8-1 in the SWC and was mired in a three-way tie atop the conference with Arkansas and Texas Christian last week. Then Texas Tech beat Arkansas, who dropped to 7-2, and Texas Christian, 6-3, fell to Texas and Texas A&M. The Horned Frogs play Arkansas in Fayetteville on Saturday.

Todd Duncan scored 23 points to lead the Red Raiders. Arkansas made only 39 percent of its shots from the field in the loss at Lubbock.

"We have to shoot the ball better than we did at Tech," Arkansas Coach Nolan Richardson said. "We've got to shoot the ball better than 45 percent if we're going to have a chance to win. Defense can only carry you so far."

Arkansas whipped the Longhorns earlier this season, 99-92. The Razorbacks shot 55 percent from the field and 85 percent from the free throw line in that game.

"The race is still a tough one for all the teams," Richardson said. "Anyone with five or more losses is out of it at this point. I'd say everyone else still has a chance."

By Richardson's calculations, that leaves Baylor, Rice and Texas A&M out.

Each of those teams faces conference-leader contenders Wednesday night; Baylor visits TCU, Rice is at Texas Tech and Texas A&M hosts SMU.

Southern Methodist is fresh from a last-second non-conference win over North Carolina-Charlotte. The Mustangs' Glenn Puddy made two free throws with one second left for the 68-66 victory.

"The big guy came to play," SMU coach John Shumate said of Puddy. "He hit the big two down the stretch."

Rice beat Houston 67-66 behind David Willie's 18 points. The Cougars had a chance to win with five seconds left but Derrick Daniels missed an 18-foot jump shot.

"Traditionally, Rice has always come up on the short end in these types of games," Rice coach Scott Thompson said of Sunday's win. "Today was our day."

Coyotes set playoff date

GAIL — Borden County's Lady Coyotes will play Grand Falls Royalty in a Class A bi-district playoff game at Midland's Chaparral Center.

The contest is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, Feb. 16. Borden, which completed regular-season play with a 48-36 win over Klondike on Tuesday, is 25-1 for the season. The Lady Coyotes, coached by Bill May, went 10-0 to wrap up the District 16-A title.

Strait inks with Baylor Bears

by The Associated Press

Cuero's Robert Strait, the No. 2 all-time rusher in Texas schoolboy history, signed a scholarship agreement with the Baylor Bears today.

The Texas Longhorns took the early lead for the mythical Southwest Conference recruiting crown by signing blue chip cornerback Grady Cavness of Sugar Land Willowridge and defensive end David Condon of Arlington Lamar.

Cavness and Condon were first team picks on the Associated Press Super Team.

The Longhorns also signed Commerce running back Phil Brown; Austin Westlake quarterback Jimmy Saxton, son of former Texas All-American James Saxton, and Ken Neal, a running back from Memphis (Tenn.) Catholic.

Neal gained 1,900 all purpose yards last season.

The Texas Aggies signed defensive back Kenneth Norman of Sweetwater and kicker Deer Park's Terry Venetoulas.

Lance Landry of Port Arthur Jefferson, rated one of Texas' better high school quarterbacks, signed with Abilene Christian University.

SWC signings

Here are Wednesday's Southwest Conference football signings, both high school and junior college:

Bass Club slates meeting

Snyder Bass Club will make plans for the 1989 year when members meet Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Snyder National Bank.

Anyone interested in bass fishing is encouraged to attend. The February tournament will be a month-long, Roadrunner event which allows members to fish any lake within a 150-mile radius of Snyder. Entry fee is $15 plus $1 for the Big Bass entry and must be paid prior to fishing.

WTC men battle NMMI

ROSWELL, N.M. — Western Texas College's Westerner hoopsters, their victory string broken at two games, will attempt to find the win column here Thursday when they take on New Mexico Military Institute at 8:30 p.m. CST.

WTC's women, the Lady Dusters, are idle Thursday but will join the Westerners for home doubleheaders against South Plains and New Mexico Junior College next week.

Western's men are 12-14 overall and 3-9 in conference play after top-ranked Odessa defeated them 115-89 on Monday. The loss snapped a two-game winning streak for Coach Tony Mauldin's team.

New Mexico Military also comes into the game following a loss. The Broncos, 7-17 and 2-8, fell to Midland 99-88 on Monday.

In other men's conference games Thursday, Odessa travels to Borger to play Frank Phillips, Howard is at Clarendon and New Mexico JC visits Midland.

In the only women's game scheduled for Thursday, Howard is at Clarendon. Friday, Howard's women play Frank Phillips in Borger.

Second-half surge lifts Lady Tigers to victory

Snyder's Lady Tigers put their claws out in the second half here Tuesday night and ripped San Angelo Lake View 73-57.

"We had a pretty good first quarter and the second quarter wasn't bad except that we kind of got hung up for awhile at 14 or 16. The third quarter we came out and really had a good quarter," said Coach Ken Housden as his Lady Tigers made their final home appearance of the season.

Snyder led 28-26 at intermission and broke the game open by out-gunning the Maidens 25-10 in the third period. The Tigers were able to do damage inside in the second half, and Lake View could not respond.

Anne Osborn scored 16 of her 21 points in the second half. She also had 11 of Snyder's 33 rebounds.

Melody Pickering dropped 14 points through the hoop while Evette Housden pitched in 13 and Holly Fuller added 8 for the Tigers.

Coach Housden noted that the team got good support from the bench.

"Cindy Srna came off the bench and helped out a lot at the post. Dana Fenton and Jodie Dunk came in for us outside and did a real fine job also," said the coach, whose squad improved to 11-14 overall and 5-8 in District 4-4A play. "Everybody played well."

Dunk had five assists. Lake View, 7-16 and 5-8, was led by Vernetra Allen's 21 points. Tiffany Thomas added 8.

Housden's Lady Tigers conclude the 1988-89 season Friday in Monahans and the coach is hoping for a bright finish.

"Hopefully we'll go out there and be ready to play. They have a real nice complex and it really hasn't bothered us going up there for awhile. It's always tough going on the road that final game and on a long trip but I'm sure the girls would like to finish the season with a win in their last game."

Tipoff will be 7:30 p.m. A junior varsity contest is set for 6 p.m.

Speaker touts need for state lawmakers' pay raise

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas House speaker and lieutenant governor say the salary for state lawmakers should be raised from $7,200 annually because the pay limit precludes some people from serving in the Legislature.

"I think it's a sad state of affairs when only the wealthy can serve in government, and that's exactly what's developing," House Speaker Gib Lewis said Tuesday.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said the effect of the current salary level is "to restrict the pool of people who can afford to serve in the Legislature."

But Gov. Bill Clements disagreed, saying, "Some people say they're overpaid ... I don't think they need a raise. I sure don't."

Lewis said some people have written to him concerning the pay issue, but they apparently confused state lawmakers' salary with a controversial proposal to raise the pay for members of Congress from $89,500 to $135,000. While Congress sets its salary, the salary for state lawmakers is set in the Texas Constitution and would require an amendment to change.

"Unfortunately, I think the congressional pay raise has put some type of restraint on what action we can take here, but I hope that the Legislature will pass a constitutional amendment that will be submitted to the voters and ... let them make the decision," Lewis said.

President Bush set to work on new pay raise proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush says he still wants some sort of pay raise for Congress, judges and top federal officials, even though he signed the death warrant for a 51 percent increase he initially endorsed.

Bush was "inviting suggestions" for future raise proposals at a meeting with Republican senators Tuesday, according to Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska.

And in a White House statement released after he signed the resolution defeating the raise, Bush said: "I believe that some level of pay increase is in order, and I will be working with the House and Senate leadership to develop proposals to achieve that end. I would also like to express my special concern about the level of compensation for members of our federal judiciary."

The House voted 380-48 Tuesday, and the Senate followed suit, 94-6, in passing legislation to reject a pay raise plan for lawmakers, top bureaucrats and members of the federal bench.

Bush signed the measure several hours before the midnight deadline that would have allowed the raises to become law, including a boost in congressional salary from $89,500 to $135,000.

The pay issue got the 101st Congress off to a rocky start as public scorn was heaped upon lawmakers — who were presented with a pay package recommended by a presidential commission, and endorsed by former President Reagan and Bush.

By day's end Tuesday many lawmakers appeared drained, but at least one still had a sense of humor.

"I wish I was as thin as my wallet," said Sen. Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., in recognition of her being on the plump side.

House members especially faced an outraged public, because the Democratic leadership — without protest from Republican leaders — had planned to let the raise become law without a vote.

Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, tried to accommodate them with a strategy to let the full raise become law Wednesday and schedule a vote Thursday to scale it back to 30 percent.

The plan collapsed, and Wright scheduled Tuesday's rejection vote, after anti-raise lawmakers won a procedural vote Monday that showed they had the strength to win.

The Senate handled the problem differently, voting 95-5 last week to reject the raise at a time it appeared the House would let the increase become law without a vote.

While some House members called the Senate vote hypocritical, it put the senators on record against the raise. They had little choice but to repeat the sentiment Tuesday when they voted again in order to conform to the House language.

Sen. James Jeffords, R-Vt., who had voted against the raise the first time, supported it Tuesday.

Jeffords said he cast his vote Tuesday in part to make clear his view that judges are badly in need of a pay raise.

The other senators voting to sustain the raise were Democrats Christopher Dodd of Connecticut, Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts and Spark Matsunaga of Hawaii; and Republicans Stevens and Frank Murkowski of Alaska.

During House debate, several lawmakers focused not on themselves, but on warnings that defeat of the raise proposal would accelerate an exodus of jurists and top managers from government service.

Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist weighed in too, commenting: "I deeply regret the congressional action, which has prevented the federal judges in this country from receiving a well-deserved pay raise. ... We will not be able to attract and retain the kind of judges we need ... unless we pay our judges fairly and equitably."

pump station, a right-of-way acquisition and a booster pump station.

Tuesday afternoon, the city's financial depository, West Texas State Bank, received a draft from TWDB in the amount of $2,320,000.

A 120-day schedule is planned, putting the end of the project around June 8.

Following this schedule, the city will be completed with the project approximately three weeks before the unit itself is to be opened.

Two separate bonds will be sold by TWDB to finance both aspects of the project. The bond estimate for the water line is $1,225,000 and, for the sewer project, $1,095,000.

The bonds will be paid back over a 20-year period. The city's annual payment involving both principal and interest will be $217,984.

The interest rate on this loan will vary from 6.4 to 8.5 percent through the year 2011. The interest is on an escalating rate with the higher percentage coming at the end of the bond's repayment.

Suspect noted

A city police detective said Tuesday night that he had identified a suspect in the Jan. 23 theft of Maria Peterson's purse at Elizabeth Potts Realtors.

He said a 23-year-old woman is the suspect and that the case had been forwarded to the county attorney for prosecution.

Deputies take burglary report

Sheriff's deputies are investigating a burglary that was reported Tuesday in the 800 Block of 19th St.

Connie Wilson of 805 19th told officers that her home was broken into sometime between last Friday morning and Tuesday morning and that several brass "knick-knacks" and an antique AM-FM radio were stolen.

Regina Walls of the Kingswood Apartments, No. 3, told police at 1:50 p.m. Tuesday that a former roommate had stolen some of her clothing.

Two in collision

A 1986 Mercury driven by Charlotte McDorman of 104 Peach St. was in collision with a 1983 Chevrolet pickup driven by Christopher B. Titus of Rt. 1 at 3:01 p.m. Tuesday in the 3700 Block of College Ave.

Guilguer Cordero, the airport dispatcher at Santa Maria Airport, said in a telephone interview with The Associated Press that the jet was bound for the United States, but he did not say what state.

"They're flying from Bergamo, Italy, to Santa Maria, Azores, for a technical landing, then would proceed to Smyrna in the United States," he said. But an emergency services official on the Azores island of Terceira said the jet was flying from Bergamo to the Dominican Republic.

The Portuguese news agency Lusa said the aircraft belonged to the U.S. airline Independent Air Corp., based in Smyrna, Tenn.

An Independent Air official confirmed one of the company's jets had crashed in the Azores but provided no other details. "We have confirmation that it was one of our jets, but that's all the information we have at this time," the official, Jan Shoemaker, told The Associated Press.

The emergency services official, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the jet slammed into the 1,794-foot Pico Alto Mountain on Santa Maria Island.

Asked if there were any radio messages or warnings before the plane went down, Cordero replied, "No, no, no, no." The Azores is an island chain located 1,200 miles west of Portugal.

Federal officials are taking control of insolvent S&Ls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials trying to contain the multibillion-dollar cost of the savings and loan bailout are mobilizing more than 1,200 regulators to take control of all remaining insolvent S&Ls over the next few weeks.

The massive government takeover was announced Tuesday as financial regulators scrambled to implement the first portions of President Bush's S&L overhaul package.

Meanwhile, the Bush proposals were receiving initial favorable reactions from Congress although some lawmakers said they had reservations about some aspects of the proposals, in particular the $40 billion estimated cost to taxpayers.

Officials of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., which insures deposits at S&Ls, and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which performs the same function at banks, predicted that within a month they would have joint regulatory teams in place at approximately 224 insolvent S&Ls.

The government takeover will transfer control of the S&Ls to the federal regulators, who will oversee policy decisions made by local managers of the insolvent institutions.

In most cases government regulators will keep the insolvent institutions open until Congress funds a rescue package. At that time, the institutions are to be sold with government assistance to new investors.

These institutions have been allowed to stay open even though they were losing billions of dollars annually because regulators did not have the money to close them down.

The Bush proposal, in addition to revamping the government regulatory structure, proposes raising $90 billion to bail out insolvent institutions through a combination of $40 billion in tax dollars and higher insurance premiums paid by banks and S&Ls.

Both Senate Banking Committee Chairman Donald Riegle, D-Mich., and House Banking Committee Chairman Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Texas, pledged on Tuesday that their committees would move quickly to vote on the Bush plan.

"When we are losing on the order of $33 million a day (from S&L operating losses), all of us are under enormous responsibilities to get this package done," Riegle said.

Gonzalez predicted his panel could vote on the proposal by the first week in March.

The government takeover of insolvent S&Ls had been urged last week by the General Accounting Office, which said the sick S&Ls were offering high interest rates to attract deposits, thus driving up costs for the healthy part of the industry and increasing the ultimate bailout cost to the government.

Four insolvent S&Ls in Maryland, Texas, California and Florida were taken over by the regulatory teams on Tuesday with officials saying they were working off a priority list targeting the largest insolvent S&Ls with the biggest rate of losses first.

The announcement of the takeovers, coming just one day after Bush unveiled his plan to deal with the S&L crisis, reflected the impact the president's proposals were already having.

Officials said they planned to mobilize between 1,200 and 1,500 regulators from four different federal agencies to handle the takeover job in coming weeks.

Bush has called on Congress to abolish the FSLIC as a separate insurance agency and have its functions taken over by the bank insurance agency, the FDIC.

FDIC Chairman L. William Seidman said he had sent out letters to all employees of the beleaguered FSLIC fund assuring them of employment with his agency.

M. Danny Wall, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which currently runs the FSLIC fund, said that the two agencies were working in "full cooperation and harmony."

Wall said he supported Bush's proposals, which include abolishing the three-member bank board and putting Wall and the bank board regulatory apparatus under the supervision of the Treasury Department.

While this transfer and the actual takeover of the FSLIC by the FDIC would require congressional approval, the joint supervisory effort did not need congressional authorization.

Regulators from the two insurance funds said they were also receiving assistance from bank auditors with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the Federal Reserve.

The four institutions the government took control of on Tuesday were Baltimore Federal Financial of Maryland; Freedom Savings and Loan Association of Tampa, Fla.; Pacific Savings Bank of Costa Mesa, Calif., and Gill Savings Association of Hondo, Texas.

Two of the institutions, Freedom and Gill, were already under government control in a supervisory program run by S&L regulators. Under the new initiative, the S&L regulators will be joined by regulators from the FDIC.

Seidman said the government regulators will try to minimize operating losses, eliminate speculative lending practices and ferret out any continuing examples of insider abuse and fraud.

On Aug. 28, 1963, about 200,000 people joined in a peaceful civil rights rally in Washington, where they heard Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. deliver his "I have a dream" speech in front of the Lincoln Memorial.

Most Texans think decision to turn down raise was good

WASHINGTON (AP) — After the firestorm fades over a $45,000 pay raise, Texas congressmen say they hope a saner way of granting congressional salary increases can be crafted.

At the same time, several say they don't want to see interest fade in efforts to ban honoraria — the fees members collect for speeches and appearances before special interests.

"We have to look at a turnkey package that has everything," says Rep. Solomon Ortiz, "one that does away with honorariums completely. There is no way you can serve two masters. I've taken some honorariums but I'm afraid people are going to be critical."

Rep. Michael Andrews, a Houston Democrat, is among the many backers of letting pay raises approved by one Congress take effect in the next session.

Other reforms mentioned by various Texans include untying congressional pay raises from increases for federal judges and other top government executives, and forcing Congress to take a roll call vote on all pay raises.

After a storm of criticism, House Speaker Jim Wright backed away from his original plan of letting the raise take effect automatically at 12:01 a.m. today, without a vote.

In a vote on the 51 percent increase Tuesday, only three Texas congressmen stood up for the raise — Democratic Reps. Jack Brooks of Beaumont, Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio, and Mickey Leland of Houston. Of the remaining 24 Texas House members, all but Jim Wright voted down the increase.

Wright, a Fort Worth Democrat, has suffered incredible pressure throughout the wrangling, Texas congressmen say, but some Democrats don't expect any lasting damage.

Can tetracycline be used over time?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have folliculitis on my head for which I take tetracycline. How long can I safely take this drug?

DEAR READER: Folliculitis, infection of skin pores and swelling of the hair follicles, often responds to chronic low-dose antibiotic therapy. Like acne, folliculitis is frequently helped by tetracycline. This therapy is appropriate for adults and can be continued, without harm, indefinitely — unless the patient develops a side effect, such as allergy to tetracycline or a yeast infection.

Tetracycline should not be prescribed for children whose permanent teeth have not erupted because the drug can stain growing teeth gray.

Although you can safely take tetracycline for years, your doctor will want to monitor your health status at periodic intervals.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I read with interest the letter from the gentleman who had a terrible cough. He also said he had high blood pressure. A co-worker's wife had exactly the same problem and it turned out she was allergic to new high blood pressure medicine. Within a week of changing medication her coughing stopped. What do you make of this?

DEAR READER: A new class of drugs for treating hypertension, the angiotensin-converting enzyme, or ACE, inhibitors, can cause chronic, dry cough in some patients. This symptom can be so troublesome that patients may have to change medication. Although cough from ACE inhibitors does not occur frequently, it is a recognized side effect, not an allergy.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My daughter is 40 and sleeps all the time. Her blood tests were fine. Where do we go from here?

DEAR READER: Sleepiness has many causes, ranging from depression and excessive stress to physical ailments, such as narcolepsy, seizure disorders and brain afflictions leading to desynchronization of sleep patterns. If your daughter has been examined by her physician and her routine blood tests are normal, I think she should be referred to a neurologist. Such a specialist can diagnose unusual sleep conditions.

For example, narcolepsy is a syndrome characterized by repeated attacks of sleep that appear at inappropriate times; the condition is readily treated with time-release stimulant drugs.

City considers purchase

WACO, Texas (AP) — The city of Waco is negotiating to buy some of the most famous guns that won the West.

Former banker and cotton broker Gaines de Graffenried, the unpaid curator of the Texas Ranger Hall of Fame and Museum, is glad the collection may be kept intact.

"I knew I couldn't take it with me," de Graffenried said.

About 75 percent to 80 percent of the 3,240 rare and historic guns and artifacts displayed in the city-owned Ranger museum are part of the collection owned by de Graffenried and his sons, Tommy and Flem, both of Houston.

Most of the other artifacts in the museum — including a Bowie knife and other treasures of Western weaponry — have been donated by people who fell victim to de Graffenried's good-ol'-boy charm, or his ability as a trader.

"I never found much stuff I wanted that I eventually didn't get a hold of," de Graffenried said, pointing to a 1920 saddle on display. "I stayed on that thing 20 years before I finally got it."

"He's the only curator we've ever had, and we've never paid him anything," said former City Manager David Smith, who is negotiating the purchase. "He's acquired a lot of collections down there for the city."

"We started looking at what belonged to him down there, and looking at Gaines' age and we thought, 'Now what are we going to do when Gaines is gone?'"

Your Birthday

Feb. 9, 1989

In the year ahead you may become involved in several small enterprises that will be designed to contribute to your material well-being. Individually they might not look like much, but collectively, their impact could be substantial.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even though what you do today will be done for the good of everyone concerned, there's a possibility your tactics will not win their approval or gratitude. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This might not be the right day to bring a proposal you're sponsoring to the attention of your friends if it will end up costing them money.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Take time today to size up critical career developments. Don't let yourself be drawn into a situation where you are championing an unrealistic cause against heavy odds.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In your dealings with others today try to keep all that you do out in the open. If your associates think you are withholding information from them, it could cost you their support.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Conditions could undergo a reversal today and people who were previously easy to get along with may now cause problems. Don't let your friends think you're taking them for granted.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Disagreements between you and your mate should be resolved as promptly as possible today, because with time these issues could magnify in intensity and importance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you do not attend to your duties and responsibilities early in the day, there is a good chance you will not get around to them later, and what you neglect could create a logjam tomorrow.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's a chance you might be caught off guard today when you are refused a request by an associate for whom you'd do the same thing if the roles were reversed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) In order to be effective and productive today you must rely more upon yourself and less upon others. People you're hoping will back you up might not be there when needed.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Not much of substance is apt to be accomplished if you select only the lines of least resistance. It will take a determined effort to win rewards today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be prudent and cautious in business dealings today as well as in the management of your own resources. If you get careless, there's a possibility it could hurt your bank balance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're a reasonably good starter today, but you might not be a strong finisher. Unless you are dedicated and determined, loose threads are likely to be left hanging.
