

SNOOTER NOSE

LITTLE ABOUT EVERYTHING AND NOT MUCH ABOUT ANYTHING

MEN still prefer to think of women as the helpless sex. They like to dismiss them with: "Well, what can you expect of a woman driver?" But in face of the annual automobile accident records, many believe that conditions would improve if some husbands were to climb out from under the steering wheel and let their wives do the driving.

THE name of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson has been certified to by the Secretary of the State and it will go on the November 8th election ballot as the duly nominated governor of the Democratic Party of Texas.

The Republicans all are in glee over the fact they will secure a number of votes from Democrats who say they will not vote for Mrs. Miriam Ferguson. But their vote will not be of sufficient strength to elect the Republican candidate.

PRINTERS over the State are scheduled to have their hands full for a week printing the November 8th election ballot. The ballot will cover a sheet of paper somewhere the size of 20x30 inches. There will be a large number of candidates on the ticket whom the majority of the voters will find they never heard of. If the voter takes time to scan over the entire ballot rather minutely he will find that on entering the polls at 8 o'clock in the morning he will be leaving the booth about 12 o'clock noon. There will be eight columns, one column for each of the seven parties offering state candidates, and one blank column in which the voter may write his choice, should he not be able to find the candidate he wants, among the offerings of the seven parties.

The parties named on the ballot:
Democrat
Republican
Socialist Communist
Jacksonian
Liberty
Independent
This is probably more political parties than the Texas voter has seen on a ballot.

There are nine amendments to be voted either for or against. They will be found occupying space at the bottom of the ballot. It seems that the voter will have a pretty good job ahead of him when he goes to the polls to vote.

The Reporter has been awarded the job of printing the ballot, so if you don't see or hear anything of this scribe for the next few days, he's at work manufacturing a ticket for you to vote that is about the size of a side of a house.

THE REPORTER has received many compliments for making it possible for the people of Stanton and Martin county who had items to "swap" to advertise them in the paper with a penny cost to them. Several told us they had made "swaps" and secured the articles they wanted. It demonstrated that the classified columns of The Reporter are valuable to the fellow who has something to buy, sell, trade, rent, or for lost and found articles. The cost attached to placing a small advertisement in the Want column is very nominal, and in return it may pay you ten-fold.

THE REPORTER had hardly more than reached the home of a Martin county farmer last week, when, after reading the announcement of a price reduction on subscription he came in Saturday and handed us a $1 a year's renewal. He took time to compliment the paper, stating he had enjoyed reading it, and to his notion, was the best that had ever been published in Stanton. The present management has been in Stanton only two years and in that time he has striven to publish as good newspaper as ever how. About the time we saw the management of the Reporter began to show its strength it would be a as time passed the distress, and mapped out to by the board.

PLOWBOYS PLAY STANTON BUFFS TO SCORELESS TIE

ROScoe's ADVANTAGE WAS PENETRATION OF THE BUFFS' 20-YARD LINE BUT BUFFS GET MORE FIRST DOWNS.

(ELLIS ZIMMERMAN)

It would be natural that the fans would want to see the Buffaloes win every game they participated in, but if they can't win the game the next best thing the fans want them to do is to keep their opponents from scoring. This very thing happened in the Roscoe Plowboy-Buffaloe game last Friday afternoon on the local field. The teams were evenly matched in all departments, with the Plowboys showing the edge when they penetrated the Buffs' 20-yard line. The Buffaloes were accredited with making the most first downs.

A fifty per cent improvement was noted in the Bison Herd over the showing they made in the game with the Midland Bulldogs. The two teams put up a valiant fight. The Buffs had to fight every inch of ground to keep the opposing team from scoring.

There was a time when it looked like the Plowboys were certain to score. That period was when the Plowboys were on the Buffs' 20-yard line, but the Herd held them in their tracks.

Lindley Metcalf, center for the Buffaloes, sustained a fracture of the shoulder in the last half.

FIRST QUARTER

Roscoe kicks off, Bridges receives and returns 20 yards. First down, Epley loses 3 yards off right tackle; Bridges gains 3 yards over right tackle; Peters fumbles and loses 3 yards; Epley punts to Jones who returns gaining 3 yards; second down Jones makes no gain at center; Jones punts to Peters who fumbles and Roscoe recovers the ball; first down Long picks up 2 yards at center; Stanton receives penalty for off side; second down, Jones makes short pass to Anthony for 3 yards; Jones gains 1 yard around left end; (Henson substitutes for Peters); second down Jones gains 2 yards over center; Long downed for 8 yard loss by O'Connor; Jones punts to Henson. First down for Stanton, Epley loses 2 yards; Bridges gains 8 yards and on the third down picks up 4 more yards over right tackle. First down, Bridges loses 2 yards; Reid loses 1 yard around left end; Epley punts. (Nichols substitutes for Reid). Roscoe first down, Jones runs out of bounds for no gain; Jones passes and Epley intercepts. First down for Stanton, Epley loses 2 yards; Bridges gains 1 yard over left tackle; third down Bridges makes no gain at center; Epley's punt is blocked; first down for Roscoe, Long fumbles and O'Connor covers for Stanton. Hammer substitutes for Hogue.

SECOND QUARTER

But better times are coming—just the date we are not prepared to say—but they have always returned after a crisis.

We have great faith in this old country of ours. Many of those upon whom we depend for guidance in the economic world move in devious ways that are dark and mysterious, but the great mass of the people are fundamentally right.

Let us set our minds firmly against the crooks in public office, in politics, in finance and in trade, and demand that right and justice shall prevail.

When the people show their strength the wrong deer is quick to hunt cover.

Better times are coming, and soon—not only in agriculture, but in commerce and trade.

Hoover or Roosevelt, which will go into eclipse on November 8? No man knows for a certainty . . . but the nation-wide straw vote being conducted by this newspaper, together with some 2,000 weekly newspapers throughout the country, shows which is favored to "shine on." . . . Have you cast your vote yet? Why not do so today?

WEEKLY NEWSPAPERS COMBINE FOR SMALL TOWN STRAW VOTING

New York, Oct. 16. (Special)—From north, south, east and west come the reports of the launching of the nation-wide presidential poll conducted by the weekly newspapers. These first-week returns cover reports from twenty states—and with 28 states yet to be heard from. More than 2,000 weekly newspapers are cooperating in the poll, the object being to show the political sentiment and choice for president in small towns and rural America.

The first official votes in the actual poll come from Editor Herman P. Dean of the Wayne County (W. Va.) News. The vote there registered, Roosevelt 831, Hoover 84. Counting this is the acceptance of The Milan (Ill.) Independent's straw vote, where Editor O. D. Kendall reports, Hoover 851 to Roosevelt's 223. Both of these votes are of course from individual newspapers, with still many sections in their respective states to hear from.

In Ohio, Editor Charles L. Collett of the Ironton News, reports, Hoover 778, Roosevelt 1654 at the end of the fourth week of balloting.

This nation-wide presidential poll by weekly newspapers, in which the Stanton Reporter is cooperating, gives promise of piling up a big final vote which should fairly accurately indicate the preference of voters in small towns and rural districts throughout the nation.

A minimum of five weekly newspapers, to a maximum of 25 weeklies in the following states have reported to the New York offices of the Publishers Auto-caster Service that they are conducting this presidential poll. These weekly newspapers are located in the following states: Minnesota, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Arkansas, North Carolina, Michigan, Maine, Kentucky, Virginia, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Texas, Pennsylvania, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Missouri, and New York.

The reports from the above states is only an indication of the national scope in the weekly newspaper poll and how complete it will be when all the votes are recorded. The first tabulation of nation-wide straw-votes should be possible in time for publication next week. Taking first reports from West Virginia and Illinois, as shown above, indicate that possible surprises are in store for many of the political minded.

In Iowa, The Des Moines Register and Tribune has been conducting a state-wide poll—a total of more than 75,000 ballots having been received. The announcement of the total there, at the end of the first week in October, showed, Hoover 27,981, Roosevelt 45,509. This gives Roosevelt 60.5 percent and Hoover 37.2 percent of the vote cast, reversing the normal in Iowa, which ordinarily casts a 60 per cent Republican vote. It is very possible that the weekly newspaper poll, will level out the Des Moines vote and show Hoover running much closer to Roosevelt in Iowa.

Locally, the first returns in Stanton Reporter show, Roosevelt 3 and Hoover 0. Have you cast your vote for your favorite candidate? Let's all vote and show our fellow voters throughout the nation who we here in Stanton and Martin county want for our next president.

Clip out the Reporter's ballot below; vote for your favorite candidate and mail or bring your ballot to the Reporter office. It is a secret ballot. You don't have to sign your name, nor are you obligated in any manner.

Clip the ballot, vote as you wish and rush it along to The Reporter, today.

As I see it

By TOUCHDOWN

Touchdown witnessed an excellent Class B football game last Friday afternoon on the local field. The contest was waged between Coach McCullum's Roscoe Plowboys and Coach Hyde's Stanton Buffaloes. Had the Bison Herd put up the brand of football against the Midland Bulldogs the score that Coach Barry has tucked away in his trophy bag, as a memento of the 1932 clash in Stanton, would reveal a much closer score than the 20 to 0 mark.

The Buffaloes "snapped out of it" in the Plowboy game. They demonstrated several barrelsful of more pep and fight than in the Doggy game, and they also had their bearings more in control, and they co-operated by several points better than they exhibited in the Midland game.

Admitting the Plowboys penetrated the Buffaloes 20-yard line, and the game was played pretty muchly in the Bison's pasture, it signified to this dopster that the Buffaloes were a superior fighting team because the locals had to fight and fight hard every inch of ground to keep a yard from going over their goal line.

Several times during the progress of the game it looked like the boys were certain to "heave" a marker but the Hydemen packed forces, chinked up the holes and held the charging Plowhands in their furrows. When fight was absolutely essential these young sprouts of Hyde's displayed, and made it stick. That attribute has made this department chalk down in his diary the Buffaloes are made of material that with the bumps they will experience during the skirmishes preliminary to the opening conference game will have developed them into the fastest and classiest Class B contenders in this district.

Had the Buffaloes played a game or two before taking on the Midland Bulldogs, taking into account the quality of football they exhibited in the game with Roscoe, the score with Midland Class A team would have been something like 6 to 0, with a possibility the "6" would have been on the side of the Buffs.

Every member of the Buffalo squad played football. Bridges, stood out perhaps, more than any other individual on the team. He wore number 11, emulating Woodrow Wilson, the fleet-footed and long distance punter of last year's squad, who is making the boys down El Paso way sit up and take notice as he cavorts around on the School of Mines field. By the way, Wilson is slated for quarterback next year on the Miners team.

Bridges is fast, wiry and a fighter. His showing in the game Friday proved he was too fast for his interference. Timing himself that he may click with the men who are to open the way for him, is all that is now necessary to make him the fastest and most dangerous fullback of any member of a squad in this district.

This year he is not expecting the Buffaloes to win their game this afternoon with the Big Spring Steers, but he does feel that the local squad is going to make the Steers feel they have been to a football game. The Steers defeated the Plowboys 46 to 1, and the Buffs played Roscoe to a scoreless tie. But the score that the victorious team makes against one team will defeat another Class B team by such a marginal score. We figure the Steers are not so powerful over the Midland Bulldogs and that team defeated the Buffaloes 20 to 0. That figure will be somewhere near the score the Steers will run up on the Buffaloes this afternoon.

The first conference game the Buffaloes will play in this district comes with the Wink Wildcats on their grounds. The game is scheduled for Friday, October 21. Last year the Buffaloes had an easy walk away with the Wink game, but it may not be so this year. We understand the Cats played the Fort Stockton team last Friday and came away with the big end of a 6 to 0 score.

According to the schedule the Buffaloes are to participate in only three conference games, namely: Wink, October 21; Pecos, October 28, and Odessa, November 19.

Here is a winter coat which typifies every style line for the new season in cloth with fur. The collar and the sleeves are of course the feature which dramatizes the style, creating that "top-heavy" silhouette which stylists started out to create. Please note that the wide lapels can be buttoned up, thus accentuating the high neckline effect which is achieved singly and alone by the fur.

If the wearers wish lapels back, as shown in the illustration, the high neck line is still achieved.

The model shown is one of the newer winter fabrics, trimmed with Persian. The waistline is correct and the slightly flared skirt is the proper length. The sleeves with their above the elbow puff carry out a cape-line effect which is very much to be desired this season.

THE CHILD'S HAND WAS SAVED

Little Anne Fletcher, two years old, climbed to a chair beside her mother. Mrs. Fletcher, busy stirring hot taffy, didn't notice the child. Anne had eaten taffy before. Innocently she plunged a tiny hand into the sizzling mass. Screaming, she withdrew little fingers. Boiling molasses dripped to the floor. Almost frantic, Mrs. Fletcher ran to the telephone. A neighbor sped the child to the nearest physician. For eighteen days, treatment was given and the child's hand was

MATTERS OF INTEREST TO PUBLIC SCHOOLS

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a Series of Articles, Mr. Sone will Discuss Matters of Interest to Every Citizen as They Are Related to the Public Schools

(C. L. SONE, Superintendent of the Stanton Schools)

Why are public schools maintained? Sam Houston says: "The benefits of education and of useful knowledge, generally diffused through a community, are essential to the preservation of a free government." The continuance of our civilization depends upon the intelligence and enlightenment of its citizens. Those communities that are carrying on most successfully in matters of education are most progressive and happy. The highest ideals are established in such communities and those ideals attract the best of citizens who are prospecting for locations in which to rear their families. It seems entirely unnecessary to argue for the benefits derived from the presence of well organized and well functioning public schools in a community.

For whom are the schools maintained? Surely, only one answer: For the benefit of the present citizenship and for the future citizens of their several communities. They are not supported in one community because they are provided in another. They are not maintained as a mere matter of pride. The work they are supposed to do are as necessary to the well being of our children as our food and clothing.

Is there any substitute for the public school in our country? No. The task of educating the millions of our children is too great to be undertaken by any agency other than the state assisted by the local communities themselves.

The state proposes to pay out of its tax collections a liberal part to assist the local communities in maintaining schools adequate for the needs of the children. It does this on the supposition that the local groups will pay for the buildings, equipment and incidental expenses of the schools and in addition pay the necessary balances for the teachers' salaries. This cooperative plan has rapidly improved the Texas schools until they are much further up the scale of averages than they were only a few years ago.

Shall the children in our community in the year 1932 receive less opportunities than last year or the year before the last? It is possible. But can such a loss be afforded without permanent injury to the children? A question of serious concern to all parents and citizens.

The following questions will be taken up in the next issue of the Stanton Reporter:

"What Length of School Necessary?"

"The Sources of School Funds." "How School Funds Are Used."
