SNOOTER KNOWS

LITTLE ABOUT EVERY THING AND NOT MUCH ABOUT ANYTHING

THERE is a depression on in Scurry county no one could tell by glancing at the pages of the Scurry County Times, published at Snyder. Owing to a liberal amount of advertising from the local merchants, the Times was compelled to issue ten pages couple of weeks ago. Last week the regular edition of eight pages was loaded to the brim with paid messages from the local merchants.

The Times is an 8-page, 8-columns to the page, columns 21 1/2 inches long requiring an immense amount of reading matter and advertising to fill the paper, and the Times, always has both.

It stands to reason that Snyder merchants are not paying out good hard earned dollars in advertising for the pleasure they get out of seeing their names in large and bold ad type, or solely, as a measure to put dollars in the pockets of the publishers of the Times. They are patronizing their home town newspaper because their advertising is bringing results. They are enjoying a good business in return for the business they are giving to the Times. If advertising were not a paying investment, is anyone so void of intelligence to harbor the idea the merchants are advertising with the Times just because the Times is an institution whose alms must come from the charitable inclined? Not not on your taintype! Snyder merchants are broad-gauged business men. They are wise to the fact if they expect to compete with keen competition that is setup in the larger cities close by, they must adopt the method employed by their competitive merchants—that is advertise their wares, and make their messages so attractive that the trading public will beat a path to their stores.

Last week the Pecos Enterprise, a newspaper that carries 8-columns to the page, and its regular edition 8-pages, arrived at this office with four additional pages, making 12 pages in all. The four pages were in a section to themselves, given over entirely to advertising and reading matter of one of the oldest and largest mercantile establishments of that city. The advertisements of the firm covered every department, the grocery, the furniture, the hardware and the dry goods consuming space from a quarter page to a double page. The reading matter exploited the various brands of goods handled, as well as photos and short write-ups of the managers of the various departments.

The Pecos business institution is one of the oldest in that city. In its many years of operation it has encountered lean years with the fat ones, and it has lived to face the most trying times in the history of nations, yet it has never lost sight of continuing to use very weapon that has safeguarded successful institutions thru all these years—that weapon, liberal and judicious advertising in its home town newspaper.

If this Pecos institution, perhaps the largest general merchandising institution in West Texas, didn't believe it was receiving valuable returns on the money invested in advertising, it would continue to dump its money into a non-revenue bearing proposition? Hardly!

The successful merchant advertises because he has found advertising to have been one of the major elements that has made his business a success. He has learned that if he is to carry on his business successfully he must adopt the method employed by successful merchants. He reasons that if the methods the big merchant follows has piloted his business to a successful career, why not he adopt the same plan, only on a smaller scale?

If there ever was an opportune time for a merchant to advertise it is in a time like the present—when money is scarce and when the shopper is looking for the place where she can make her dollar go the furthest, and the progressive merchant is taking advantage of this opportunity to inform the shopper the place where her dollar will be more elastic.

REPORTER SELECTED AS ONE OF MANY NEWSPAPERS CARRY GULF ADVERTISING

In this issue of The Reporter will be found the first of a series of advertising to be carried in this newspaper for the Gulf Refining Company. The contract for this advertising comes from the Gulf States Advertising Agency, Inc., at Houston. The local distributors for the products in Stanton, is the Gulf Service Station with Willis Whitson proprietor, and Stanley and Johnny Whitson, his able assistants.

We are so proud of the foreign advertising carried in this issue we can't help refrain from telling it to our readers. They are: The Chevrolet Company, local distributors, Park Auto Co, the advertising contract from Campbell-Ewald Co, Detroit Mich., Conoco, local representative, Harry Haislip of the Conoco filling station, and Henry Hull, wholesale The Gulf Refining Co., with the Gulf States Advertising Agency, Inc.

TEACHERS ENTERTAINED BY TRUSTEES AND WIVES

The Glasscock county teachers were entertained Friday evening, April 28, at Garden City, by the county trustees and their wives.

An electrically lighted croquet furnished a great deal of amusement, and many other games, such as Needle's-eye, Three Deep, Little White House, Over the Hill, and Flying Dutchman, helped to complete the evening's entertainment.

The supper of roast pig, salad, celery, lettuce, pickles, bread, coffee, orange pie, angel food cake, and ice cream and cake were served in the dining room of the Home Economics cottage.

The table was decorated with lovely red, white, and pink roses. A whole roast pig with an apple in his mouth was placed in the center of the table giving it a very festive appearance.

The trustees and their wives were declared the best hosts and hostesses of the year.

It is with regret that we see the Association year end, but we are eagerly looking forward to the meetings for another year.

Paul Jones, Shorty Louder, C. E. Laird and Leo Turner formed a group of Stanton fishermen who returned Wednesday from the Rio Grande. They caught one fish that weighed 15 pounds and several that tipped the scale beam at 8 and 10 pounds. Now that's according to the story given out by Paul Jones.

The vehicle the merchant employs to carry this information is advertised in his home town paper.

IF THE proposed curtailment of the work of the Post Office Department becomes a reality, economy in the operation of the government, instead of the daily mail, will be brought home to every man's door. The Postmaster General thinks that four deliveries per day in the business sections of cities, three in localities that have a mixture of stores and homes, and two in strictly residential sections, are too many, considering the times. Some of the country people, now served by rural carrier, may have to foot it to the post office. It may be that the city folks have become too highly educated in the matter of receiving mail, but a trimming of the rural carrier system would be a calamity. If money must be saved through a cutting down of the distribution of mail, why not put everyone on the same basis, one call by the carrier per day? The notion that big business must have a continue influx of letters from the rising of the sun to the going down of the same is something that has been fostered by convention, rather than necessity. For the comparatively small amount of correspondence in which minutes count, there are the telephone and the telegraph. As a matter of fact, the world would turn on its axis just as evenly if, in the future, the department stores, factories, and lawyers offices in the big cities had to content themselves with the mail accommodations which the farmers now accept as a great convenience and a highly efficient service.

OPENING OF TWO STORES HERALDED AS SUCCESS

The openings of two stores held in Stanton, Saturday, were pronounced by their owners, as successes.

The Wilson 5c to $1.00 Store, celebrated the opening in their new location, handing out 369 kows of ice cream to the women and children that visited the store, and 200 cigars to the men folk.

Mr. Wilson attempted to take down the names of all who visited the store but upon reaching the 600 count the people were coming so fast the plan was abandoned in order to wait upon their purchases. Wilson reports one of the biggest business days for the store since coming to Stanton.

O. B. Bryan, of the Bryan Cash Grocery, opened his new grocery store for Stanton, Saturday. All items of grocery he advertised on his circulars for opening day were sold out before noon, necessitating the dispatch of a motor vehicle to the wholesale house at Big Spring to replenish the articles sold.

J. A. Walker, representing the Woman's Club coffee, served coffee all day at the store, and C. W. Floyd, representing the Merchants Biscuit Co., from J. M. Radford Grocery, wholesalers of Abilene, served crackers and cakes.

In this issue of The Reporter will be found an advertisement of the Bryan Cash Grocery.

RAIL DETECTOR PASSES THRU OVER T&P RAILROAD

A machine that attracted considerable attention to those who happened to be looking toward the T&P tracks, Tuesday afternoon, was a rail detector, passing over the rails of the railroad. It is the first time a machine of this kind has been over the rails through Stanton since E. Price, has been stationed here, and that has been a long time.

The detector is powered by a Diesel engine equipped with a number of instruments to detect a rail that is defective while passing over it. Whenever the defect is located the defective rail removed had a new one put in its place.

Following behind the machine was a crew of men with rails on a couple of small 110 or 120 cars.

STANTON BOY MARRIES N. M. TENNIS CHAMPION

Carlsbad, N. M., May 10.—Last week, Miss Annie Maude King, for the third consecutive year was declared the undefeated New Mexico tennis champion in singles, and with her sister, Dorothy, brought back to Carlsbad the winning trophy for the girls' doubles in tennis.

Early Sunday morning, Miss Annie Maude King won another "double" when she became the wife of C. H. Millegan, local chemist and bacteriologist. The newly married couple will continue to reside in the Cavern City.

Mr. Millegan, is a Stanton boy, his parents now living south of town.

W. TEXAS C. OF C. CONVENTION BEGAN THIS THURSDAY

THOUSANDS OF VISITORS ARE TREKKING INTO BIG SPRING FROM WEST AND CENTRAL TEXAS.

(Special to Reporter)

Big Spring, May 12.—Thousands of visitors are in Big Spring today, attending the fifteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which began Thursday and will continue over Saturday of this week.

The multitude of preparations for the numerous phases of the job of entertaining the convention has been made, and beginning last Wednesday Big Spring people started buying convention registrations with a spirit and in a volume that has cheered the score of active workers to the point that they confidently expect a successful convention from every viewpoint.

The officers' committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has arranged a work program for the three days that is calculated to concentrate in Big Spring and in the convention sessions and group conferences several thousands of the leading citizens of West Texas.

Direct, personal invitations have been extended county relief committees, local beautification committees, county judges, bankers, city and county commissioners, school trustees and superintendents, chambers of commerce secretaries, presidents of local chambers of commerce and others to attend the convention not only for the entertainment offered, but more especially that they may make group conferences on the program of wide benefit.

The conferences will be:

Friday, 2 p. m.—Public Expenditures; a meeting of 900 West Texans serving on local committees on Public Expenditures, affiliated with the W. T. C. C., for the purpose of exchanging ideas and reviewing financial situation of local governments, as well as state government.

Another program feature that is stimulating wide interest is the awarding of the Harte trophy to the community winning the first year of the W. T. C. C.'s five year inter-community beautification contest. Scores of towns have been entered for months in this contest and the local committees are expected to attend the convention.

Thirty-seven boys and girls had been entered Thursday afternoon in the "My Home Town Speaking" contest. Preliminaries began Thursday and continue Friday evening at the First Methodist church. Finals will occur at the Saturday morning convention session in the municipal auditorium.

The West Texas Revue, featuring the Court of Nation, started Thursday evening and will conclude Friday evening. Included in this event are some of the best musical organizations and individual entertainers in West Texas. With the Court of Nations, composed of girls representing West Texas towns and cities, as a nucleus, and stage settings that are described not only as being very beautiful, but very unique.

Besides the auditorium show, eight dances, two boxing and wrestling exhibitions, a bridge tea at the Big Spring Country Club for visiting ladies, and golf and trapshooting will be offered all who register during the convention.

Dances will be held both Thursday and Friday evenings in the crystal ballroom of the Settles hotel, at the Crawford ballroom, at the Casino, popular dancing pavillion, and at the Albert Fisher building down town, where old-time square dances will be features.

Ray Simmons, in charge of arrangements for the boxing and wrestling show, announced Thursday he had closed negotiations for four boxing bouts each night with popular fighters of Dallas, Fort Worth, and San Antonio as the principals.

County Commissioner Hughes was in town Monday with his right shoulder in a sling, the result of a horse pitching him off at his farm home. The shoulder blade was dislocated.

Cars Made Exceeds That of A Year Ago

For the fourth consecutive month this year the number of cars and trucks built by the Chevrolet Motor Company for consumption in the domestic market exceeded the corresponding month last year when April production went 4,000 units ahead of April, 1932. W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager announced today Total production in the month just ended was 59,953 new cars and trucks, compared with 38,665 in March and 55,433 in April last year. Mr. Knudsen announced. Of this number, all but 5,000 units were shipped to dealers in the United States.

Up to the end of April his company had built 208,000 units this year, compared with 188,000 in the first four months of 1932. This is a gain of eleven per cent. The percentage gain in April over last April was eight per cent and in April over March fifty-five per cent.

Owing to unsettled conditions in the field following the National bank moratorium this company entered April on a restricted production basis, Mr. Knudsen, said. A quick pickup in orders from dealers, however, necessitated several schedule increases during the month, with the result that since the second week of the month practically all his company's plants have been operating on a normal basis of a five-day week, he said.

Mr. Knudsen said his own organization was considerably heartened by the sharp and sustained demand experienced in April and expressed gratitude for the public response accorded the cars and trucks his company manufactures.

Again this week will be found a large advertisement sent to The Reporter by the Chevrolet Co., over the signature of the Parks Auto Company, local distributors for Chevrolets.

DOLLAR BILLS IN THE AIR MONDAY

It may be an ill wind that blows nobody any good, but but the wind of Monday bode no good for Clark Hamilton of the Conoco station.

Clark had several dollar bills rolled up in his shirt pocket, and they all jumped out unbeknowns to Clark and sped away on the wings of a brisk wind that was blowing Monday afternoon. Reaching into his shirt pocket for the bills he discovered them gone. It is supposed that when Clark pulled out from the same pocket his glass shades the bills came too. S. C. Widner, with others, sitting at the Magnolia filling station, one block east of the Conoco station, saw an object blow up and land at the front of the station that resembled a dollar bill, and sure enough it was. Viewing the landscape minutely around the station, six one dollar bills were picked up. The ill wind was blowing some good to Mr. Widner and others as it showered dollar bills at their feet. Hamilton appeared shortly on the scene inquiring of the filling station boys if they had seen any dollar bills going down this way. The six were handed over to Clark. Just how many Hamilton had in his shirt pocket he was not able to state definitely, but a check up Monday evening, Harry Haislip, of the Conoco station, believed the roll contained $10 or $12. There are four or six one dollar bills yet.

The Reporter office is just across the street from the Magnolia station and the editor has been looking for the missing dollars until he has just about gone blind, but so far the search around this office hasn't brought to light anything that bears the semblance of a dollar bill.

Mrs. E. P. Whitson and children, spent Sunday in Midland, visiting her son, Dick, and mother, Mrs. B. T. Stanley.

SHOOT'S HOLE IN ONE

Hall Kennedy, in a match with Buck Henson, the other afternoon, on the local golf course, shot a hole-in-one. It was made on the No. 5 green.

Mr. Kennedy is not one of the regular players, which made his luck the more spectacular.

It is the first time in the history of Stanton golfdom that a hole-in-one has been shot on the local course.

Ranch Notes (BY 'HOLD 'EM COWBOY')

Capt. Timmons has shorn his sheep at his home place in town, and Kirt Flanagan, has followed suit with his flock. The wool was sold Monday in San Angelo for 16 cents.

Orday Bartlett has been called from his labors on the Bar-X ranch to Colorado in response to a message that his uncle was seriously ill.

Here's the way a dispatch from Chicago, Saturday, put it: Factory whistles today are playing a tune of good times. Railroads were finding business where none had been for many months; farm prices swelling and employment increasing. Then follows the news story from San Angelo that wool had been sold in that city for 22 1/2c pound.

The following item is clipped from the "Chuck Wagon Gossip," in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram:

Spence Jewel of Kent, sold the Producers Commission Company of Kansas City a car of steer yearlings at 5 cents a pound and two cars of 2-year old steers at 4 cents a pound. At one time Jewel ran the old J A J ranch on the New Mexico-Texas line.

Several years ago Spence Jewel, a number of cowboys, made a trip to South America and staged a rodeo. Frequently their spectators became so enthusiastic over the performance or over a winner they were inclined to take things over. This gave considerable trouble. However, the rodeo was getting along pretty well until a revolution started and performers were about to be permitted—without their consent—to join the army. They left between suns and practically without funds or any of their equipment and caught passage on a boat bound for San Francisco around Cape Horn. They paid their fare by polishing shovel handles. When the boat landed at one port in South America they put on a rodeo, and for the lack of something better they rode the street car mules. After that they had money to buy tobacco. The boat carried some passengers and among the lot was an Englishman who became very much interested in them. Naturally he was told some tall stories. When the boat reached San Francisco the Englishman got hold of the ship reporter and gave him a very vivid story of how a fire broke out on the ship during the voyage and was about to get into a big supply of gun powder when the Texas cowboys took their ropes, whipped out the fire and saved the ship.

The T&P have a construction crew at work doing repair work on the stock pens. John Lewis is having the loading scales repaired and a house built over them. The little house that did enclose the scales was stolen and some parts of the scales missing. It is thought the scale house was carried off to be used for fire wood.

John McWhorter, shipped a car of cattle Sunday to the Fort Worth market.

Dick Houston worked his cattle Sunday and had his two top cow-punchers, Morgan Hall and Phil Berry. The only bad after effects experienced by either of the two young men, Phil suffered corns on his feet.
