ONE OF THE MOST VALUED COMMERCIAL enterprises located in a town is its Chamber of Commerce. The purpose of the organization is to stimulate the growth and expansion of the town. Promoting and supporting all activities destined to build a better and more prosperous town and community. If it is not that type organization—only the sort that flaunts the name in gold leaf letters across a window pane, then it is far better the town have none at all.

The alertness of the organization and its usefulness to the town, is dependent upon the co-operative spirit of the people who make their home and raise their children in it. It is due to their willingness to give of their time and support whatever called on to contribute their services to the chamber of commerce.

The oft repeated remark, "A town or a community is just what the people living in them, want to make of them," is as true as one of the ten commandments.

From remarks dropped in short talks made by the top-level newly elected officials at the seventh annual Martin County Chamber of Commerce meeting and banquet last week, the organization starts off its activities for the new year with promise of getting more accomplished than at any period of time in the history of the local organization.

As its name implies the Martin County Chamber of Commerce has no line drawn as to TEXAS CANCER CONTROL MONTH — Dick Simpson of Sweetwater, left, and Edwin T. Phillips of Fort Worth, right, state co-chairmen of the 1958 Texas Cancer Crusade, look on as Governor Price Daniel signs a proclamation designating April as Cancer Control Month in Texas and April 15 as Texas Cancer Control Day. Noting in his proclamation that more than 10,000 Texans died from cancer in 1957, Governor Daniel called on each citizen "to join in the Crusade to control this disease." More than 80,000 Texas volunteers for the American Cancer Society will be engaged in the educational fund-raising campaign to continue support of society's three pronged attack on cancer through education, research and service to cancer patients.

Car Registration Lagging

Dan Saunders, county tax collector, said this week that the registration of cars was lagging behind.

Early Wednesday 971 passenger cars had been registered. He also said 215 commercial trucks and 246 farm trucks had been registered.

The deadline for registration is midnight Monday, March 31.

Last year a total of 1,620 passenger cars was registered with 350 commercial trucks and 354 farm truck tags being issued.

The tax collector's office is scheduled to remain open until 5 p. m. Saturday, March 29 to accommodate those who wish to buy their car tags on Saturday.

The state law in Texas makes it a violation to operate a motor vehicle subject to registration without the proper license tags after the expiration of current plates. Automobiles are required to carry the new tags by April 1.

Just 15 days later, on April 15, all automobiles and commercial vehicles in Texas are required to display an inspection sticker.

Wednesday found the day breaking crisp and clear with no forecast of rain for Thursday.

He is a fine, good-looking lad plenty full of spirit and energy. He hit the world weighing around the 8 pound figure and Jack says he was also 21 inches long—that's a good standard.

The general manager of The Reporter went up for a brief interview with Little Jack this week—placed a press card in his possession and in a few weeks "Tripp" Arrington (he is the third you know) ought to make a good staff writer.

Philosopher Comes Up With Some Advice For Cities Afraid Of Getting Old-Fashioned

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw, has some advice for cities this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:

I was out here on my farm last week watching spring arrive. I know spring will arrive whether you watch it or not, so will a flooded river rise if it keeps raining, but the same argument can be used on any night's tide...

So I left the buds to nature and took the paper home and read it.

According to an article I read in it, a city planner was worrying over the plight of big cities, saying it's going to take a tremendous amount of work to keep them abreast of modern times.

But I'd like to suggest to him that it's surprising how long you can keep patching up things and still get by. I've got one fence that's moved 30 feet east in the last 20 years...

I learned long ago whatever is modern today will be old-fashioned tomorrow, and if the

BIBLE COMMENT

Paul Found Life's True Purpose

Have you ever stopped to think about the purpose of your life? Have you ever stopped to think why you are doing the particular job that you are doing? Or have you ever thought why you are the kind of person you are?

There are a number of reasons why we chose to do certain things with our lives. Many of them are valid reasons and at the time of our choice I am certain that they were worthwhile reasons. Perhaps we made the choice because of certain talents or abilities which God had given us.

There are many reasons why we have chosen different purposes in life. Many of these reasons are good, yet sometimes our lives seem to be useless when we look at the total impression we make on the society in which we live.

The apostle Paul was one of the outstanding men of his day. He tells us that he was of a good family, had a good education, was a man of position and authority. In fact, Paul had as much right to boast about himself as any man. Yet there was something lacking. In spite of Paul's good intentions his life was meaningless.

It was not until Paul came face to face with Jesus of Nazareth that his life took on a purpose. After his experience with Christ, which included a fearful period of blindness, Paul began to see purpose in his life.

Paul explains this purpose for his life in a letter to his young friend Timothy and commends it to him as the purpose for his life. "The saying is sure and worthy of full acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners. And I am the foremost of sinners; but I received mercy for this reason, that in men, as the foremost, Jesus Christ might display his perfect patience for an example to those who were to believe in him for eternal life."

Perhaps we, like Paul, could find purpose in our lives through faith in Christ Jesus.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

New names. New faces. But same old problems plague the state insurance liquidation division.

Next Legislature undoubtedly will step in and try to assign authority and responsibility more definitely — possibly overhaul the whole system.

Latest chapter in the division's history of criss-crossed efforts is the appointment of a new general counsel to the liquidator. He is Cecil C. Rotsch, former assistant attorney general.

Significant aspect of this is that Rotsch was appointed by Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison. Whether the State Insurance Board, which Harrison represents, or judges of the receivership courts have the right to appoint attorneys for liquidation has been at issue for some years.

Last year Austin District Judge Charles O. Betts appointed ed Renne Alred Jr. counsel for receivership cases pending in his court.

This prompted the Insurance Board to institute a suit to get a Supreme Court ruling. But the high court's opinion didn't help. It said the Board was given authority to name the liquidator's attorney, but that the courts could step in and name one, too.

Which is just about what has happened with both Alred and Rotsch named by different persons to serve in apparently the same capacity.

FEE STUDY SET — Most interesting aspect of the liquidation study is the amount of money involved.

Senate investigating committee was told that liquidation attorney Renne Alred had received in 10½ months $22,350 in fees and $4,311.08 in expenses. Alred has been in charge of winding up the affairs of several large bankrupt firms, including ICT and US Trust and Guaranty.

Liquidation attorneys, unlike regular state employees, are not paid straight salaries, but receive fees taken from the assets of companies they handle.

Former State Liquidator J. D. Wheeler told the Senate panel that during his 3½ years in the post, the office collected $4,938,927 with an administrative cost of $2,102,590.

Senate committee asked for a list of attorney's fees paid out during the past two years. They said the list would be made public.

US TRUST PAYMENTS — One of the most celebrated bankruptcy cases in recent years has begun to unwind.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts has ordered the state liquidator to pay out $2,181,464 recovered from the assets of US Trust and Guaranty Co. This represents some 31 per cent of the $7,300,000 in claims made by creditors, mostly holders of US Trust "investment certificates."

Action was made possible after the Supreme Court made final its ruling that certificate holders had no priority in claims.

DOWN AGAIN — No miracle is yet in sight for the ailing Texas oil industry.

Railroad Commission cut the statewide allowable for April to 2,444,571 barrels a day. It's 120,203 barrels a day less than March.

Commission set this lowest-in-history producing schedule after hearing most major oil buyers say they could forego no substantial increase in demand for oil this year. Commission operates on the philosophy that oil should not be produced unless someone is willing to buy it.

Meanwhile, Texas officials seeking action to reduce importing of foreign oil, received some hope of help in Washington. Prospects is for reduction of import quotas in line with lessened U. S. demand.

MORE GROWTH SEEN — Recession or no, Texas' rate of industrial expansion exceeds the national average and possibly will gain steam and set a new record in 1959.

So says the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research in a survey of the state's major industries.

Cited as areas of expansion were chemicals, plastics, aircraft and missiles, electronics, construction materials, metal fabrication, apparel, food processing and furniture.

MORE NEW BUSINESSES — In the same vein the Texas Employment Commission reported an increase in new firms launched in Texas during February.

Begin last month were 103 new businesses employing 1,273 persons. In January, 62 new firms employing 910 persons.

LANDING FIELDS URGED — There will be 100 more landing strips in the Lone Star State if the Texas Aeronautics Commission has its way.

At a joint meeting of the commission and the State Aviation Advisory Council — representing all phases of aviation from glider pilots to aviation directors—a program for stimulating statewide enthusiasm for the construction of 100 additional landing strips was outlined by Chairman Paul M. Fulks of Wolfe City.

"Business in any town in Texas can be improved by the simple addition of an inexpensive landing field for airplanes," Fulks advised. "It's the commission's plan to advise and assist any town that's interested."

interest in flying, particularly on the part of businessmen, has centered attention on more access methods to smaller towns. Even a 2,000 foot grass strip alongside a highway will help, said a number of the airmen.

At present 99 county seat towns in Texas have no airports of any kind.

Also cited by the new commission chairman was the fact that there are 36 towns in the 3,000 and above population bracket, and 33 between 2,000 and 3,000, that are completely shut off from aviation.

NOW IT'S TOO WET — Prolonged wet winter weather is delaying land preparation for spring planting. In some areas the delay is reported becoming serious. Ahead: two more months characteristically wet.

Optimism is plentiful in other farm activities. Cattlemen conventioned in San Antonio in high spirits with beef prices high and pasture green. Prosperous outlook brought 958 new members into the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in advance of the meeting.

Easter Decoration Goes Modern

Even Junior Can Help Make This For Easter Party. An Easter party table calls for an unusual decoration. Here's one that's easy and fun to make.

All you need for the modern "do-it-yourself" Easter Chicks project is a sheet of Styrofoam, glue, "glitter," and some toothpicks.

Using a sharp paring knife, cut from the Styrofoam two right-angled triangles. Make the triangle for the rooster's body 10 inches high and 5 inches at the base, and the hen's 9 inches high and 3 inches at the base. For the heads, cut two smaller triangles. Then cut fan-shaped tails and scalloped "combs" to finish the chicks.

Decorate the heads and bodies by drawing a design with a pencil. Trace the lines with glue and sprinkle with glitter. Use only one color of glitter at a time. Wait 15 minutes for drying, then do a different color. For best results, use a polyvinyl resin glue such as "Elmer's Glue-All." Both the Glue-All and glitter may be purchased separately, or together in Borden's "Holiday Glitter Kit" at hardware, stationery, variety stores and other leading retailers.

For the "baby" chick, cut two circles of Styrofoam. All three Easter figurines can be put together with glue-covered toothpicks.

The "Easter Chicks" decoration was designed by Golden Chain Creations, P.O. Box 1560, Northport, L.L., New York, which offers a catalog listing full-size patterns for projects covering all holidays and other special occasions.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE FAMILY WAGON...PLYMOUTH

Plymouth carries more . . . does more . . . provides more family fun than any other wagon in the low-price 3 because it's BIGGEST IN THE LOW-PRICE 3. You can't buy bigger at any price!

Maybe you're a station wagon family right now. More Americans are each day! But do you know all the really astonishing facts about the Plymouth wagon . . . how much more it gives you than other wagons, at a low budget price?

Size alone is only part of it! The Plymouth wagon is big as wagons in the high-price field that cost $5500 and more . . . but, in addition to extra size, this glamorous beauty offers a wagonload of other features that are exclusively Plymouth in the low-price 3!

You simply can't get 'em anywhere else in the field. And once you try them . . . learn how little the years-ahead Plymouth wagon costs . . . you'll never settle for less! Why should you? Your Plymouth dealer has the money-saving story, and he's waiting for your visit.

5 big reasons why your wagon should be a Plymouth:

- 1 BIGGEST OF THE LOW-PRICE THREE: Big as wagons costing thousands of dollars more. You can't buy bigger at any price! 122" wheelbase.
- 2 HOLDS SO MUCH MORE THAN THE "OTHER TWO": Over 7 cu. ft. more passenger and cargo space. Extra "secret luggage" compartment in 6-passenger models.
- 3 REAR-FACING 3rd SEAT: Folds flush into the floor; you don't have to store it outside when it's not in use. Easy to enter.
- 4 DISAPPEARING REAR WINDOW: Rolls down into tailgate. Doesn't get in the way. Only Plymouth has it in the low-price field.
- 5 TORSION-AIRE RIDE—AT NO EXTRA COST: Only on Plymouth in the low-price 3. Big-car luxury. No sideway on turns or nose-dive on stops.

They don't come any bigger... Plymouth station wagons

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

The opening day of Spring hit this area dressed in its best and tucker so far as the behaviour of the weatherman. We could almost hear the Spring flowers bursting through the ground, and see the Spring lambs galloping over the velvety green grass sprouting on the range lands. The air was crisp and invigorating. The wind was calm for a change. The sky was clear, a refutation of the stormy weather predicted on the opening day of Spring by our calendar.

A recent announcement by the U. S. Agricultural Department, two moves have been made to make government money more readily available to farmers. One of the moves is extending the time another year to provide farmers easy-term loans to build new grain storage facilities on the farms. Under it farmers may borrow 80 per cent of the cost of storage bins, cribs or other approved structures. The loans run for five years with interest at 4 per cent.

The other action is for construction loans on farms. Of this action Secretary Benson said: "Construction loans will enable farmers to repair, alter, modernize, or erect new dwellings, needed grain storage facilities, or service buildings like machine sheds and barns."

Farm construction loans are made for periods up to 33 years at 4 per cent interest.

This scribe hopes his column will be read this week in peace by the subscriber as far as weatherwise is concerned. We have been writing the weather story a few days ahead of time when the elements were at peace with themselves, giving to the section bright warm sunshine weather, only to have the story read on its week of publication by the subscriber swathed in freezing weather and overcast skies.

The column was prepared for this week's publication on Wednesday. The sun is shining brightly through a veil of chilled air as bright as a newly minted silver dollar. It's elevating the hope of the farmers they will see favorable weather for getting into the fields and preparing their land for planting their crops.

Dr. A. W. Young Texas Tech agronomy department head, was asked whether it would be any advantage to list the ground prior to planting this year, stated that in his opinion it will be a disadvantage unless the farmed plans to water the ground.

Listing exposes more land surface to the winds and, consequently, more water can be lost to evaporation he adds.

His advice to the cotton and maize farmer in the sandy areas is to work the land with chisels and bring some of the leached clay to the top if it begins to blow after a rain—also to plow just deep enough to remix the sand and keep it from moving.

"In case of having to replant, as many did last spring, the flat planting leaves an area of soil moisture still undisturbed," Dr. Young points out. "This enables the farmer to 'bust the ridges' in replanting and still have moisture to get the seed."

The Ranchers Feed Yards, owned by Bert Kincaide, a prominent Fort Stockton ranchman, is announcing the enlargement of his feeding yard facilities. At present the yard will accommodate 7,000 lambs and 1,000 head of cattle. The expansion program will give the yard a capacity of 20,000 lambs and 3,000 cattle.

Kincaide said the plant will be the only one of its kind in Texas equipped to do custom mixing and feeding. It is designed to eliminate shipping feeder lambs and calves to the Midwest for feeding, and eventual slaughter.

A count of utility meters and connections reveals the population of Seminole is 6,600. The Seminole Sentinel says the chamber of commerce reports Seminole has 408 trailer camps in the city.

Roy V. Fox, contest committee chairman of the West Texas Press Association, has announced May 1, as the closing date for entries into the WTPA $400 Journalism Scholarship Contests.

Winners will receive $100 per year for each of his or her four years at any of 10 cooperating West Texas colleges and universities. Two previous winners are now studying college journalism on WTPA scholarships.

The Wink Bulletin states that highway 82, the north-south highway through Winkler County, will have its name changed to Highway 18. The State Highway Commission is taking this action in order to "provide better guidance" for motorists by establishing the same numerical designation for the roads which crosses the state of New Mexico and Winkler, Ward and Pecos Counties in Texas.

Colorado City has received approval from the Federal Government for slum clearance and low-rent housing program. Approval has been made on initial project of 75 units. The Record stated that funds for the actual construction of low-rent housing units will be supplied by the federal government in the form of a long-term loan. Rents from the units over the years will be used to pay off the loan at no direct expense to the city.

The County Judge of Coleman County as reported in the Coleman County Chronicle, announcing the county is in serious financial condition. The Judge stated there are "four principal reasons for the present financial predicament. First, the tax rate is at the constitutional maximum of 80 cents, secondly, the assessed valuation of real estate and personal property is extremely low and in some cases lower than it was 30 years ago; thirdly, everything the county has to buy has jumped considerably in price; and fourthly—and very important—has been the heavy drain on county finances for right-of-way funds."

The bank statement of the Crowell State Bank as published in the Foard County News, showed the bank's deposit gain over March of last year was almost $300,000. The call was made for March 4 in response made by the State Banking Authority and the Federal Reserve Bank of the District. The present deposits of the bank are $2,967,282.50.

Here's another West Texas County that suffered going through seven years of drought. The report published in the Four County News at Anton, in Hockley County, has it that with the five inches of snow falling in the area last week, makes the total snow fall received 35 inches.

It would seem that the Anton sector has the backbone of the drought broken, if not broken the total moisture has made a deep sway in its back.

The News said: "It would be impossible to estimate the worth of the snow in dollars and cents to the farmers of the Anton area."

Lampasas County is making a strenuous effort to raise its quota of $10,000 to the Red Cross fund. It has passed the 10 percent mark in reaching the goal. As published in the Lampasas Record, the chairman of the Red Cross campaign said that the organization spent over $200,000 in the flood disaster that visited Lampasas last year.

More Rate Increases Predicted

Within the last two years or so in many states, most automobile insurance companies have twice raised their rates because of increased losses and expenses. And, because there is nothing on the insurance horizon to indicate that these losses and expenses will not continue to mount, another round of rate increases appears to be in the books.

The reason for the increases is that the insurance companies have been paying out more in the form of claims and expenses than they have been taking in in premiums.

The millions of dollars which the industry lost during this extended period of rate adjustment are gone for good. There's no way to retrieve them. Because of the very nature of the business, changes in insurance rates always lag behind changes in the overall picture. Primarily, rates are based on the relationship of losses and expenses, on the one hand, to premium income on the other. Thus, when the former exceeds the latter, the company goes into the red. Because of delays in court cases and other things, it is often months, even years, before an insurer knows exactly how it fared during any given period.

By studying trends, insurance actuaries can determine with considerable accuracy accident frequencies and severity in terms of the number of automobile occupants who will be killed or injured on a per car basis. But there is no way to project the costs per accident under present circumstances when inflated costs have no basis in past experience. Unless something is done to curtail accidents and their costs, you can expect continuing increases in the cost of insurance.

A recent visit to Munday, in Knox County, by a delegation from Lorraine in Mitchell County, for knowledge in relation to vegetable growing, found that the Munday area had been growing vegetables the past three years. Several hundred acres in onions and cabbage had been planted and farmers were in the process of planting potatoes and cucumbers.

The delegation learned that the Munday vegetable growers had realized three to four hundred dollars an acre on the onion crop and a like figure was made off their potato crop.

The Munday growers are preparing to devote several hundred acres to cucumbers and with anything like a normal growing season, they hope to make a profit of two to three hundred dollars an acre on the crop.

The Munday vegetable growers informed the Mitchell County delegation that they had contracted their cucumbers to a concern in Fort Worth.

An effort will be made by the Mitchell County committee to contact specialists on vegetable growing to meet with them in a meeting to be called to explain the art of vegetable growing.

Cotton Farmers Urged To Plant More Acres

Texas cotton farmers, faced with the best prospects in both moisture and prices in a decade, are being urged to plant every allotted acre in cotton this year, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced this week.

A group of cotton industry leaders — including ginners, growers, shippers, buyers, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, representatives of the WTCC, and others—met in Dallas recently to appraise the outlook in view of a large soil bank participation.

They came up with a 2-point recommendation:

Plant every available acre in cotton.

Withdraw cotton acres from the soil bank while there is time.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, indicating belief that the soil bank sign up is greater than desirable, has extended the withdrawal date to March 28, in order to give more cotton producers more time to withdraw from the program.

Loyan H. Walker, WTCC agriculture and livestock department manager who attended the meeting, said the group is urging cotton farmers to reconsider their soil bank participation and place soil bank acres into production.

"Because of the excellent moisture we've received thus far, and due to the present shortage of quality cotton, the promise of cotton prices that will be considerably above government supports, it is highly likely that the farmer can make a larger net profit by putting his acres in production than he can by placing his land in the soil bank," Walker said.

"In addition, because the production will create jobs in harvesting, ginning and such, the farmer will be helping to insure West Texas from feeling the serious effects from the recession that is creating such hardships in other sections of the nation."

"Perhaps equally important is the long run," Walker stated. "is the fact that unless we produce quality cotton in the largest possible quantities, we will be losing more of our market to synthetics and foreign produced cotton."

Walker stated that presently there is a scarcity of high quality cotton, a condition brought about by last year's bad weather which lowered the cotton grade. Both domestic mills and foreign customers are bidding for cotton of high quality, he said.

"Increased world consumption, combined with the shortage of high grade lint, should cause the better grades of cotton to sell above the support price of $190 per bale (for middling inch)," the WTCC agriculturist said.

soliciting membership for the organization. The farmers of the county as well as the citizen of the smallest hamlet, is welcome to join the chamber and contribute their services in the support and the progress of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

RECENTLY, CHAS. ECKERT returned to Stanton from a visit to his old home town of Mason, the home of Fred Gipsen, author of the book, "Hound Dog Man" and others as interesting stories in book form. Charley was wearing a newly sprouting mustache. Quite a ground he was, too, that his upper lip had promise of supporting a mustache. He gave the excuse for the new lip adornment he had been approached by members of a "vigilante committee" while in Mason and warned to escape a dousing in the city's water trough, he must grow a beard of some sort. Fearing the area he had to work on wouldn't support a hirsute growth of whiskers, and also, realizing it would be easier to persuade his wife to permit him the customary privileges of the house, Charley selected the "fesser of the two evils" hence he came to Stanton wearing the mustache.

The occasion for this state of affairs Mason is preparing to celebrate its Centennial—100 years in existence. All citizens are required to wear a beard until the event is staged.

WHEN WE WERE A BOY WE were no different than the boys of today in our taste for paper back novels and flashy tabloid newspapers. The Police Gazette was a victim of our taste, whenever it was possible for us to escape the eagle eyes of mother and slip off to the barn and devour its pages of glamorous pictures of chorus girls and narratives of gunmen, prize fighters, etc. Mother thought her son was on the downhill slide to the badlands if he was caught reading such periodicals.

In later years that of the bad men has followed us to this very day.

In the county funds will be used to furnish complete work packets for leaders, help pay to send girls to summer camp, help maintain the Scout house and for other needed materials.
The West Texas Girl Scout fund is to help pay professional workers, help maintain Girl Scout camps, training, equipment, conferences and other different expenses. At the present there are three professional workers, but the council is trying to secure another. In 1952 there were 2,133 girls enrolled in Scout work in the council, but today there are 4,161 girls, so another worker is needed. Martin County's quota for the council is one of the lowest of the counties.
In Martin County there are 12 troops of Girl Scouts, 10 troops in Stanton and two at Grady. Scouting is carried on at three levels—Brownie, Intermediate Girl Scout and Senior Girl Scout. There are 144 girls enrolled with 25 registered leaders.
Training is provided along the lines of homemaking, citizenship, health, safety, good grooming, international friendship and other phases which make a well-rounded person.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

MARTIN-HOWARD SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jack Buchanan, Ollie Robertson, Bernard Houston, Edgar Phillips, J. D. Crawford.

Do I need a tree windbreak around my farm home? Would it hold down soil blowing? Would it help the looks of my home? Practically every farmer and rancher in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District can answer yes to the above questions. A tree windbreak serves more than one purpose. In addition to adding beauty to the home, it affords protection to shrubs, roses and annual flowers. It also keeps a lot of dust off the window sills, furniture and floors.

Why not have a farmstead windbreak? Is it drought? Work? Cost? None of these should prohibit any farm family from enjoying the benefits and comforts of this valuable improvement to the farm home. Yet in the Martin-Howard S. C. D. very few farmsteads have good windbreaks.

It takes lots of work to grow a good windbreak, but in this modern day of mechanization it is more a factor of time than hard labor. For good results ground preparation should start the year before you plan to plant the trees.

The heavier soil should be summer fallowed for a season to give best results. Soils susceptible to blowing should be planted to forage sorghum or other high residue producing crops to furnish a dead vegetative cover for protection of the tree seedlings.

Cultivation of the trees is the major item of labor involved in growing a good windbreak. Trees must be cultivated the same as any other crop if a high yield of benefits is to be reaped. Unlike the annual crops, trees cannot be "laid by" in three or four months but must be worked for five or six years until their growth has produced sufficient cover to shade out weed growth.

Modern equipment makes this job chiefly a matter of time to get it done. Such tools as the spring-toothed harrows, tandem disc, and various subsurface tillers do an excellent job of cultivation between the rows of trees.

AMMO-PHOS FERTILIZERS
ARE HIGHLY WATER SOLUBLE
Experiments prove that crops take up more phosphate from water soluble AMMO-PHOS fertilizers than from ordinary mixed fertilizers.

Let Us Demonstrate This Easy Test.
AMMO-PHOS fertilizers are highly water soluble and we can prove it by simply placing a small amount of AMMO-PHOS in water and placing the same amount of an ordinary fertilizer in another equal amount of water. You'll be able to see how water soluble AMMO-PHOS GOES INTO SOLUTION while the ordinary fertilizer collects at the bottom of the glass. You'll know then why AMMO-PHOS fertilizers give the quickest response to crops.
