

THE UMPIRE'S SHOUT, "PLAY BALL," will rent the air along about June 1, when members of Stanton Little League teams face each other in battle array on the ball diamond. There will be imitators of the baseball greats, both past and present, in the field and at bat, represented by players in the Little League.

The Little League is composed of four teams — the Reds, Blues, Greens and Golds. A wonderful sport for young boys to exhaust their energy and engage their minds in a profitable undertaking, instead of devoting it to idleness, which, as the old saying goes, "an idle mind is the devil's workshop."

AS THE AFTERMATH OF THE week long cleanup campaign we've heard of no injuries to foot through a misguided stroke of the hoe or the dismembering of the big toe from pushing a gas powered lawn mower. Some complaints have come in from the field of operations of citizens suffering with lame backs.

Ackerly Votes To Incorporate

Ackerly is to become an incorporated town.

Voters Saturday stamped their approval of a plan to incorporate. The vote was 33 for and 25 against the incorporation.

The vote was extremely light. However, it was said that all needed to put the program into effect was a simple majority.

The next step, it was believed, will be to select a slate of city officials. When this will be undertaken is not definitely known.

Ackerly has an estimated population of around 300. It is located astride the Martin and Dawson county lines and about half of the community is located in each county.

Sponsors of the incorporation plan have retained the services of a Lamesa attorney to prepare all papers and comply with any legal requirements necessary to changing the village into a town.

A. Elmore Johnson of the Church of Christ will pronounce the benediction.

Playing the processional and recessional will be Mrs. John Wood.

Ruidoso Downs Opening Season

Ruidoso Downs will open its thirteenth season on Friday, May 29. The meet consists of 49-days—with racing every Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Holidays—through the middle of September.

This year the 'Downs' will again offer another new look to the racing public. The grandstand, which was the last remnant of the old original track, has been replaced by a new and larger modern concrete and steel structure. The new stand was designed by Gene Hensley and offers the racing public more freedom of movement than any other stand in the Southwest.

The old concession stands were also thrown in the trash pile and these have been replaced by new ones with double their former capacity.

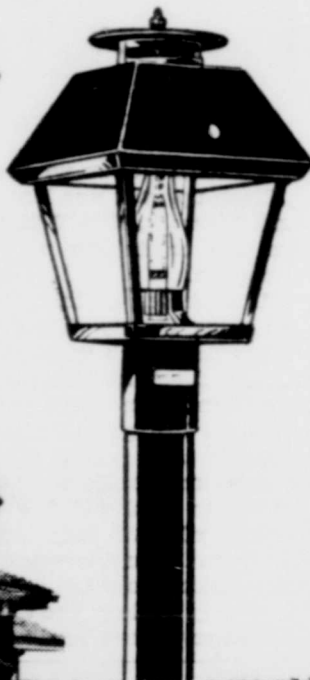

Along with the new physical structure, a new method of wagering has been added in the twelfth race called the "Quinella." This is very similar to the Daily Double—only the better tries to pick the horses that run 1-2.

FARM & RANCH REVIEW

The "outstanding conservation farmer for 1958" in the San Saba-Brady Conservation District is Marion F. Deans, 30, of the Voca community. He farmed in partnership with his father until last year when he bought his father's interest. He helped turn a worn-out 251-acre sandy land farm into a highly profitable operation.

In 1940 the father bought the farm for $11 an acre. Marion says he would not sell for $200 an acre.

Statistics covering farm accidents rise with the temperature, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Council. The reason — farm activities hit an unusual peak and very often due to the rush required to keep up with farm jobs, some farmer or family members become careless.

Just remember when your small son leaves the parental roof with his BB gun in hand, he is on a mission to kill something that is alive. His favorite target among the live objects is the bird. A warning from you may spare the life of a bird which has proved "man's chief ally" according to the following statement appearing in Cheer, a monthly publication printed by

County Philosopher Comes To Defense Of Senators With Those Doors That Won't Close

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw comes to the defense of the U. S. Senate this week. At least, that's what he claims.

Dear editor:

A lot of people have been having a lot of fun laughing about the plight of the U. S. Senators in their new office building, on account of when the building was finished and they decided they wanted rugs on the floors over the rubber tile, they found they'd have to saw half an inch off the bottom of 600 doors before they'd open and close.

Now everybody is having a field day over this, but I don't see why, and would like to come to the defense of the United States Senate. There's nothing wrong with sawing off the bottom of a door to make it close, I've been doing it for years.

If the Senators will come to my Mustang Draw grass farm out here, I can show them a door that's not only had half an inch cut off the bottom, but two inches off the top and an inch off the side, and if the house settles in a different direction, I may have to saw some more off in some other place.

What a lot of people don't understand about me and the U. S. Senate is that we've learned that you have to adapt yourself to life as you find it. I know some people would argue that instead of sawing off a door to make it fit after the house settles, it would be better to jack the house up and restore it to the same level it was when the door was first swung, but that's the trouble with the world, it's always trying to retain the status quo when all us thinkers know life consists of constant change. Me and the Senate know that when the foundation shifts, shift with it. You ain't going to catch me and the U. S. Senate crawling under the house to jack it up as long as we've got a saw handy.

I don't suppose the Senate has any trouble with gates too, but out here, while I don't have 600 sagging gates, the one's I've got are just as hard to close as the 600 doors in the new Senate office building, but the difference is, I can't vote an appropriation to fix mine. Which reminds me, if Congress can vote funds to help cities improve unsightly slums and Senators to get their doors to swing properly and farmers to improve their land, why can't the Department of Agriculture set up a Sagging Gate Fund? It's something to think about, although it's not an emergency. I've got gates that have sagged through two world wars and probably will sag through the next.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Between now and the middle of June the Legislature has only one goal to shoot at — getting the state "fiscally fit."

Gov. Price Daniel limited topics for the 30-day special session to (1) paying off the $65,000,000 deficit from the 1958-59 biennium, (2) passing an appropriation bill for 1960-61 and (3) passing a tax program to cover appropriations.

When these things are taken care of, the governor indicated he might submit such items as the Hale-Aikin school program and medical payments for the aged. He favors both these programs, said Governor Daniel, but believes in taking "first things first."

To cover these "first" needs, the governor is pushing a tax program very similar to what he proposed last January. This includes the "bookkeeping bill" (to cut down the deficit by crediting more money to this year), a 3 per cent severance tax on natural gas, a higher corporation franchise tax and the abandoned property bill, under which the state would take over unclaimed bank accounts and property.

He is willing to revise the abandoned property bill to meet some of the objections that caused it to be defeated during the last session.

Absolute deadline for getting the money problems solved is September 1, when the state begins a new fiscal year. Unless new appropriations are provided by then, the government, including schools, hospitals, etc., will grind to a halt.

HOPE SPRINGS ETERNAL—Legislators are again asking the people for a pay raise—this time a more modest amount.

A proposed constitutional amendment, approved on the last day of the regular session, would give lawmakers an annual salary of $4,800. In addition, they would get $12 a day expense money for a 120-day session every other year.

Last November a proposal for annual salaries of $7,500 and annual sessions was decisively swatted down at the polls.

At present, both senators and representatives get $25 a day for a 120-day session plus $25 a day for each called session. It's a minimum total of $3,000 for two years when there are no special sessions. Under the new proposal, the minimum for two years would be $11,040. People will vote on this plan at the general election in November, 1960.

"NO SWEAT" ELECTIONS — One of Texas' oldest traditions—scorching hot election days—is passing into history.

Governor Daniel signed into law a measure moving primary elections up to the first Saturday in May and the first Saturday in June. Under the old law they were the fourth Saturdays in July and August.

State conventions will be the second Tuesday after the runoff primary—or about the middle of June. This is the convention to name delegates to the national presidential nominating convention.

Earlier elections had the strong backing of U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's friends and supporters. As a possible presidential nominee, he would be in a stronger position if his race for a new senatorial term were behind him at national convention time.

Governor Daniel took exception to and got the Legislature to change certain provisions of the bill before he signed it. He objected to having Democratic executive committee members elected by district caucuses rather than the whole convention. This provision was removed and the law remains as it was.

He also didn't like the Legislature's proposal to have state conventions before the second primary, so the date was changed to 10 days after the second primary.

NEW LAWS — These changes in Texas' way of doing things result from bills passed in the final days of the regular session.

STATE INSPECTION of livestock at auctions was provided. An amendment to assess livestock owners for cost of the program, estimated at nearly a half-million a year, failed.

INTERIM STUDIES have been authorized for the investment of the Teachers Retirement Fund, laws governing formation of water districts, financing of the Board of Water Engineers and fees charged by state agencies.

ADVERTISING PRICES as wholesale has been outlawed, unless the goods are intended for resale and a bona fide wholesale price is listed.

CALF-ROPING CONTESTS will be legal under a new law. Unknown to many people, they apparently were not legal before.

A STATE ADVERTISING PROGRAM, under the joint direction of the State Highway Department and Texas Industrial Commission, was set up. An appropriation to get it going will have to come later.

PENSIONS of $80 a month were voted for some 100 former Texas Rangers and widows.

YOUR OPINION SOUGHT — Governor Daniel has invited all Texans to share with him their ideas on how to meet the problem of children and youth. He has appointed a statewide study committee and has urged the organization of local groups. Persons with suggestions and ideas may send them to the governor's office or work through local groups.

BIBLE COMMENT

Resurrection Was Start Of Jesus' Mission

If one thinks of the earthly life of Jesus as lived in its Palestine homeland, the Resurrection was its triumphant climax. It was not only the victory over those who sought to destroy Him. But for the world at large, into which Jesus had come, it was not a climax, but a beginning. It was now that He told His disciples to go forth and preach the gospel. In obedience to that great commission, 20 centuries have seen the growth of Christianity. But even greater than the outward power of churches and organizations is the mystic fellowship of all believers, who have taken to themselves the Christian name and who have sought to live according to the teaching and example of the Master. The evil that Jesus fought and that crucified Him is still abroad in the world, seeking to destroy His teaching, setting up other standards of selfishness, violence, worldly power, and caring nothing for justice, mercy and right. So great is this evil, so apparently overwhelming and successful, that it is easy to underestimate the power of good, the forces of righteousness and the strength of Christian progress toward what may still be a faroff goal. But the power and impulse of Christianity are not in the past. Jesus still lives and leads in every devout soul whose daily life, no matter how lowly or great its place and environment, is attuned to love. He lives and leads in every service for one's fellowmen, in the schools and colleges and in the missionaries. We sing in our prayer, "Jesus Still Leads On," and that prayer has its answer before it is spoken, for the surest, truest, most hopeful thing in all the world that Jesus is still leading on.

Martin County Farm Bureau Sets Presidents' Insurance Campaign

Mr. Earl Douglas, President of the Martin County Farm Bureau, has announced a Presidents' Drive for more Blue Cross-Blue Shield members. All applications for the Drive must be in the hands of the Dallas office of Blue Cross-Blue Shield by June 13.

The Presidents' Drive is being carried out in the form of a state-wide contest with prizes available for winning County Presidents and winning State Directors. In addition, the County Farm Bureau treasury will receive an extra bonus if the County meets its quota of 1/2 increase in their Blue Cross-Blue Shield membership as of April 1, 1959, or a minimum of thirty (30) applications, whichever is greater.

Details of the contest prizes and rules are available from Mr. Douglas or Mrs. Lewis Carlile.

The Texas Farm Bureau, working with Blue Cross and Blue Shield, has offered a program of prepaid hospital and medical-surgical care since June 1, 1944. This program was, and still is, based on a deep conviction that farm families have as great a need for prepaid health care as anyone. With the cooperation of Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Texas, it has been possible for the Farm Bureau to obtain such a program on terms that are equal to, and in some instances, better than, similar plans being offered by groups in industrial firms. The present program offers to its Farm Bureau members the finest prepaid health protection that has ever been made available to them.

In participating in this program the Farm Bureau is joining with over 56 million other people who have chosen Blue Cross as the most satisfactory prepaid hospital care available. Hospital costs have been steadily increasing, along with other living expenses, and more than most other services for reasons that are peculiar to the special job that the hospital does. The hospital is open 24 hours a day, every day, offering to its patients the most modern of equipment and all, or most, of the newest drugs and techniques that have become available. Budgeting for prepaid health care has become the accepted method of spreading the risk of hospital costs, together with the major portion of the bill for doctors' services. One hundred twenty million Americans now have some kind of prepaid health care and in Texas, one million one hundred fifty-seven thousand of these carry Blue Cross-Blue Shield prepaid protection.

The weather has contributed its service to the cleanup campaign by holding off sandstorms or high winds during the cleanup.

No report has come in as to the amount of rubbish that was collected but from the survey of the land before the cleanup drive started, the rubbish hauled off would amount to several truck loads.

F. O. Rhodes, selected by the Civic Committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce to make all arrangements for the cleanup campaign, emerged from his task with congratulations in order for the superior work he accomplished. This goes to all helpers in the cleanup drive.

The next move that would mean a big improvement to the attractiveness of the town and the easy movement of motor traffic and pedestrians, would be a campaign to iron out the chug holes developed in the streets both downtown and in the residence districts.

JIM GLASSCOCK, EDITOR-PUBLISHER of the Alpine Avalanche, commented in his "Ambly Around" column, that recently an advertisement appeared in the Avalanche that inspired an editorial to be written and appear in the Gazette, Emporia, Kansas, the newspaper that was made famous by William Allen White. The advertisement was one of a series sponsored by the Texas Press Association.

We let Glasscock take it from here.

"The advertisement quoted Mr. White as comparing the ringing of church bells to advertising. People know the church is there, he wrote, but the bell is a constant reminder for folks to come to church, just as newspaper advertising 'is a reminder to come and do business with that store'."

RIGHT NOW SPRING IS IN the air. Nature, in her annual awakening, is doing her best to beautify the community. The area has been visited by good rains and a good season is in the ground from recent rains. The farmers are planting their acres to cotton and feed stuff. Some farmers report their cotton is showing above ground.

Just how well Martin County will fare with its yield of crops will largely depend upon the amount of rainfall and the scope of territory it covers.

At the present time much of the county has a good season in the soil, while other parts of the county haven't fared so well — the moisture is light.

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before.

We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact that more truck owners put their faith, and their payloads, in Chevrolets than in any other make.

Take your load and schedule figures to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Now's the time—see your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for a real truck buy!

Origin Of The Dogie

Neither the origin of the term "dogie," nor the menial social position of the "dogie" on the ranch, according to Texas cowboys, justifies the place to which the scrawny, motherless calf has been exalted. There is nothing romantic about the miserable little creature, whose chance of living is very small, cowboys say, and which are a thorn in the life of every cowboy, despite the lofty plane to which the "dogie" has been elevated in the popularizing of old cowboy songs and the "Tin Pan Alley" imitations of them.

The writer was a close friend of the late John B. Hendrix. Our first acquaintance with him was at Quannah, Texas, in Hardeman County, then a cattlemen's paradise. Hendrix was a young cowboy on his father's ranch holdings in Hardeman and Foard Counties. In later years he became secretary of the Sweetwater Board of Development. He wrote many feature stories on ranch life and Western stories, etc. He wrote and contributed feature stories to the Cattleman, a stockman's magazine, published in Fort Worth.

In was while he was living in Sweetwater the writer visited Hendrix. That was in June of that year. Hendrix had written a story on the origin of the "dogie" and gave us a copy. On June 6, 1934, the story was published in The Stanton Reporter of which we were editor-publisher.

For the benefit of the younger generation who have heard the name "dogie" but knew nothing of the part the little critter played in the cattle herds of its day, we are republishing Hendrix's story of the "dogie" as given the writer on that day in June, 1934.

"It would have been a wonderful thing if the song writers, radio crooners, and paraphraser who have succeeded in bringing about the furor over the word 'dogie,' had taken the time to get the opinion of a few of the old cowmen of Texas.

"They are really worthless little creatures, trailing in the herd behind the drags, and causing no end of trouble," Hendrix said.

"The old cowman may tell you that you can carry all the motherless calves on the ranch miles and miles in front of your saddle to get them to headquarters, and try to raise them on a bottle, but that they will 'dogie' on you in spite of the devil, and that you just as well knock them in the head where you find them.

"What's meant by the use of 'dogie' as a verb, is explained in the traditional origin of the strange word.

"Old cowmen of Clay and Montague Counties back in the 80's explain the origin of the word in this way:

"A kind old ranch lady instructed her cowboys to bring in all the motherless calves so that she might attempt to raise them by the gentle cows or the bottle."

"It is common knowledge Hendrix wrote, 'that the stunted animal, when given an unusual amount of food, develops an abnormal paunch, which is sometimes referred to as 'pot' or 'dough-belly'.

"According to those old cowboys, none too well pleased with the idea of lugging a bawling, squirming calf eight or ten miles in the saddle, began to refer to her orphan calves as 'dough-guts', which by common usage became 'dogie'."
