

Junior College Project Gathers Some Momentum

IN JOINT CITY-CHAMBER OF COMMERCE-JC PROJECT

Strain-Paved Way Open For Business

Haskell's newly black-topped 2500-foot airstrip, plus an airplane parking apron about 200 feet square, given the similar treatment, opened for business Friday, December 4.

Appropriately enough, the first airplane to land on the freshly macadamized project at the airport was that of J. H. (Jim) Strain, a civic-minded citizen of Haskell, whose firm headquartered in Abilene, accomplished the job "at less than cost" in 23 days with a week of that time lost in lay-offs due to inclement weather.

Ernest Strain, son of the owner of the firm, set the plane down on the new strip shortly after 3 p. m. Thursday.

The Strains, prime movers and road builders, provided a notable assist for a community project jointly underwritten by the City of Haskell, and the Chambers of Commerce, both Senior and Junior.

Work on moving caliche, 4000 cubic yards of it, to the airstrip began on Nov. 10, less than an hour after the Haskell Chamber of Commerce board unanimously endorsed a proposal submitted by Abe Turner Jr., chamber president. He and Director Harold Spain had conferred with Mayor J. E. Walling Jr., and members of the City Council on joint sponsorship of the project.

Under a long term agreement, J. H. Strain and Sons will eventually receive $4,030 for the airstrip job, and Turner

Members of an expanded steering committee representing three counties, Haskell, Stonewall, and Knox, exploring the possibilities of establishing a public junior college district and building a junior college to serve this area conferred on how to attain their goals in a meeting at the Weinert High School recently.

Moderating the session was Mrs. Luther R. Burkett, supervisor of instruction in Haskell schools, who has "mothered" the junior college idea in this territory.

The chief interest in Thursday's meeting, Mrs. Burkett pointed out, was to inform and educate steering committee members on the advantages of a junior college, that they, in turn, might join hands in kindling interest and enthusiasm in the project.

Nine area citizens, most of them school officials, agreed at the conference there are three fundamental benefits to be derived from launching the junior college plan — a psychological one, in which some students would be enabled to more easily make the transition from high school to college; a financial one, providing low cost education close to home; and an economic one, stimulating potential growth of all concerned communities.

It was emphasized that under requirements of the law under which a junior college district must qualify for existence in Texas, the possibilities of founding a college in this area will hinge on the fully shared cooperation of a geographic area of three, and possibly four counties. Those under consideration are Haskell, Stonewall, Knox, and Throckmorton. (See "Jr. College," Page 12)

FIFTY YEARS A FREEMASON—A. M. York, right, 84-year-old Haskell resident, receives from Dennis P. Ratliff, past Worshipful Master of Haskell Lodge No. 682, AF&AM, a pin and certificate symbolic of 50 years as a Mason, York, who has been Worshipful Master of Burlington Lodge 440 at Nocona three times and of the Haskell Lodge one, became a Mason more than 54 years ago, on February 18, 1911. He held the highest office in the Nocona lodge in 1914, 1919 and 1920. He was Worshipful Master of the Haskell Lodge in 1932, and served as tiler here from 1933 through 1938. He affiliated with the Haskell Lodge 40 years ago on February 16, 1924. Ratliff, who addressed Masons here on the meaning and background of Freemasonry at the ceremony honoring York, has been a Mason himself 43 years. He is past district Deputy Grand Master of the Masonic Lodge in this area. W. R. Howard is Worshipful Master of the Haskell Lodge this year.

Goodfellows' Gift Sparks True Spirit Of Christmas

Christian Youth To Give Play At Annual Service

An empty stocking, a bare cupboard, and clothes too thin to ward off biting cold, are three of the dreariest tragedies of Christmas.

Aren't we going to see to it that the Christmas stockings of our less fortunate neighbors, fellow humanity suffering by reasons of misfortune, or ill health, are filled brim-full this Christmas?

The Lions' Club Goodfellows are the clearing house for accomplishing this job in our hometown and vicinity.

Haskell's Goodfellows are confident that the money still needed to provide Christmas baskets and toys for needy, unfortunate families in the community will be forthcoming.

But the time is short, and the urgent need is for sufficient funds to pack some 90 baskets that will make Christmas for about 500 persons in this immediate area, according to Royce Adkins, chairman of the annual humanitarian project.

"It will take around $1100 at a very minimum to meet the need in filling the baskets," Adkins told the Lions' Club meeting Tuesday noon, "and less than $400 has come in to date."

Adkins declared, "There still is time for Haskell citizens to open their hearts and join the Goodfellows. In behalf of the Lions' Club, I make this final last minute appeal to my fellow citizens to not lose sight of the true meaning of Christmas. We need at this Season to come to the aid of the less fortunate. Go by the Haskell Free Press today and make your contribution."

Contingent on receipt of the funds to make the purchases to fill them, the Christmas baskets will be packed, with the exception of perishable foods, by workers who will meet at 2 p. m. Sunday in the old Free Press building.

The baskets, eagerly anticipated by the needy, are scheduled to be delivered beginning at 8 a. m. next Wednesday, December 23, Adkins said.

Precious Treasure

"It is the essence of life, be it in a tiny cup, or stretching over the land as far as the eye can see.
 "Without it, nations wither and die. With it, they flourish. It is a precious treasure, yet wasted, neglected, despoiled.
 "It is water.
 "It is water that moistens the fields from which must come the foods to feed the crowding millions of the world's population. It is water that provides much of the energy to power the industrialization THAT IS THE HOPE of earth's poor. And so, as never before in his time, it is water man is trying to harness to serve a globe he threatens to overrun by sheer numbers."
 The foregoing four paragraphs were a preface Associated Press Writer Sid Moody wrote to a report Sunday on dams now being built in this world to store this precious treasure...water.
 To all of which we say a solid, "Amen."

We ARE Responsible

Publication by Colleague Al Hinds in his column last week of a forthright letter from his sister-in-law, parts of which recorded her observations of teen-age behavior during the recent General Election, struck deep into our very marrow.
 We are not by nature a strait-laced, birch rod wielder, but in matters of this kind, our editorial mind harks back to rigid adherence to respect for parental authority, a respect earned by the Father and the Mother upholding things that are innately well-principled.
 These principles, we recall as vividly as the bristles burning we got if we didn't comply, should be backed up by putting a tiger in your SPANK.
 During the last three national elections a regrettable and totally unhealthy development has caused concern for the wiser and more intelligent of our citizens.
 There has been a rapid increase in harassment of the candidates of all parties, and at all levels of government during public appearances. The heckling goes beyond the normal question permitted by custom. It has at times become increasingly violent.
 Furthermore, the heckling has been experienced by both civilians and government officials in non-election years.
THIS MUST STOP!
 One of the most basic courtesies of Democracy is that we will permit the other man to have his say without embarrassment or harassment. There, we will leave our say.
 No major candidate of either political party escaped the bad manners of some this year.
 All of us are responsible. While most of the heckling has been by youths, some of it has been by adults. However, it is the adults who have inspired nearly all of it.
 In our homes we have talked with bitterness, and, at times, rudeness, about the candidates...the candidates whom we oppose. Naturally, our youths parrot us, then carry the heckling to an extreme.
 What can we do about it?
 We believe all of us should first study the problem with all its implications, then start a basic plan to eliminate rudeness, not only in the political realm, but at home, if it exists there, and in all our dealings with our fellow man.
 As to political party behavior, this problem transcends party. Republicans and Democrats alike should join in STERN campaign to see that all our people, adults and youths alike, are taught that such actions are a SHAME AND A DISGRACE!
 Let's start this right now at home, inventing our manners and attitudes, at the local level, and try to see that the whole nation respects a code of decent conduct by the time another election campaign is upon us.

Patriotism Is Not Passe

Anyone who attended recently the heart-warming gathering honoring the memories of two men who gave their lives for their country, for whom the post is named, and all past commanders of Rogers-Cox Post 221, American Legion, will concur that patriotism is not obsolete, or passe, despite many undertones to the contrary in an increasingly biased and lackadaisical pattern of living in present-day America.
 Somehow, we feel very deeply there is a most important lesson to be learned from the recent occasion in American Legion Hall here. The sight of seven of our very own assembled there who have been American Legionnaires more than 40 years each seemed symbolic in itself of the very essence of dedicated patriotism. John P. Payne, Charles M. Conner, Frank Reynolds, Wallace Cox, Sr., George Neely, Dennis Ratliff, and Dave H. Persons were those seven. There possibly are more with similar seniority among us. But those seven, with their wives, symbolized men and women truly dedicated to patriotism and genuinely excited, even after all these years, over the ideals of the Legion—perpetuating the nation's heritage principal among them.
 Sometimes, it would seem, from the daily run of news dispatches, we tend to get excited over every country except our own. And we have noticed an increasing number of people at parades, or wherever Old Glory comes by, hardly pause to look at The Colors, much less remove their hats or place a proud hand over a patriotic heart.
 For many who do not come too frequently, the recent "state" occasion at the Legion Hall here was a refresher course about the things for which the American Legion stands. Perhaps it will serve to draw them back, soon and often. Dedicated to God and country, and the advancement of Americanism, the American Legion is still very much a part of this nation's way of life.
 Uniquely enough, the American Legion is the only group in America dedicated to its own extinction. It is the hope of every member that they can help establish lasting peace so that their ranks will not be swelled by veterans of a third world war or any lesser wars.
 Most of all, the Legion has forever before it the aim to inculcate a growing awareness of Americanism among our youth, not so much as a means of campaigning against juvenile delinquency, but to advance the community, the state, and the nation by creating a more rounded and more responsible citizenry.
 Let's all think like the Legion, and keep patriotism away from the passe, and a very real, motivating part of our lives.

A Pencil Pusher's
Potpourri
By PORTER

It's here. And if you ain't got it... you really ought to do something to get it. That Spirit we mean... at this Season of Hope... and Love. You're really missing something if you don't. Because it's beginning to look... a lot like Christmas!

The Pencil Pusher has lost a dear, dear friend. At least we considered her such. Queen Tut, the Grand Old Lady of the Forest Park Zoo in Fort Worth, went to Elephant Heaven Sunday. She had been at the zoo in Fort Worth for more than 40 years. She was the first elephant with whom (yes, whom, because we considered her human) we felt we had real communication. When our eyes met, it seemed to us there was some understanding there that transcended peanuts talk.

I first met Queen Tut when we were both smaller. She was only four feet seven inches tall at the time, and weighed a mere 1,500 pounds. She was three and I was six. We both have grown proportionately since.

Once, about four years after I first met Queen Tut, it was my privilege to take a whole baseball team from Wichita Falls to see her. The "Alley Rats" was the name of our team. We looked it, but apparently played better than we looked, because we won in our sandlot baseball league and earned the right to play a Fort Worth nine in the area playoffs.

Our thoughtful Dad provided transport and food for the whole kit and kaboodle. In addition to playing ball, we made a real junket out of it, almost ate the Hotel Texas "out of house and home," both before and after the ball game, and paid a state call on Queen Tut. She was still quite a baby, as elephants go, and seemed to appreciate all that attention at one time. It was an occasion we shall never forget.

We saw Queen Tut many times after that. Now she is gone... and we will miss her. So will about three generations of Texans to whom she was an "institution."

While reminiscing... and this is a good season for it, how many times have YOU been thumped on the head with a thimble by your Mother, Aunt, or Grandmother, as added "incentive" to "straighten up and fly right?"

If you have, you'll probably remember it!
 We thought perhaps the days of the thumping thimble might have passed, but a description by Mrs. Jetty Clare of her leave-taking from her engaging granddaughter recently in Washington, took us back.

Holly, appropriately named, because she was a Christmas baby, and also because she has a festive, merry twinkle in her eyes, will be three years old next Tuesday, bless her heart. When she bade good-bye to her Grandmother, recently at the Washington airport, she said, "Grandmother, are you taking your thumping thimble along with you?" Not that Grandmother had done anything but possibly brandish it, but a thumping thimble is a formidable weapon, we DO recall.

If you've heard this one, stop us. We know it has been making the rounds, but it's worth recording for posterity. It's what we'd call a DOPEY joke, for sure!

Fella was arrested in the act of smoking a marijuana cigar, ette. The arresting authorities noticed it had a filter tip on it. Puzzled, they asked him why.
 "Well, do you think I want to risk getting cancer," he replied.

Having "been there," much to the everlasting regret of our patient, talented and understanding piano teacher, a lifelong friend, Mrs. Grady England, we got a charge out of a story the other day about the little boy who was misbehaving

 Server Leon, owner and manager of the Texas Theatre, has announced a free Christmas show for children of Haskell next Monday morning starting at 10 o'clock.

The Lions' Club has assembled a large number of toys that will be distributed to children of needy Haskell families on Christmas morning.

Three Haskell girls who are attending Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene returned home this week to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents. They are Ann Taylor, Maxine Simmons and Lois Mapes.

Haskell County will be short about 6500 head of cattle when the Government completes the buying here of distressed cattle in the drought program. It is expected to round out the program December 27.

A Community Christmas Tree will be erected on the Court-house lawn here, and an old-fashioned Christmas program will be held there Christmas Eve night. The event is being sponsored by the Lions Club.

The annual Christmas cantata was presented Sunday night at the First Christian Church by members of the Harmony Club.

Mrs. Hix Hinkle of the Rob. while he was taking a violin lesson.

His teacher addressed him gruffly. "If you don't behave yourself I'll tell your Mother you have talent!"

We've been readin' a little of Santa's mail the last few days and are not too hep on the capabilities of a "za zoom" and a "vrrrrroom." But we sure can remember what a powerful sound could be produced by attaching a good stiff piece of cardboard around the New Departure trademark on your bicycle brake and letting it flap against the spokes of the wheel as you turned on the leppower. It really cut up, Man!

We got stopped in front of the Post Office the other morning by a Walking Landmark who inquired: "Do you know how a guy can make a fast buck around here?"

We didn't have an affirmative answer to that, but we do know they PASS the buck mighty fast around here.

Oakescript: It would be a good thing to have the spirit of goodwill just as evident on our roads this Christmas, as in our homes. Let's all have a life-saving Christmas.

Community is in the Stamford Sanitarium where she is seriously ill with pneumonia.

Mrs. B. Winningham and daughters, Oleta and Marie, of Paducah, are visiting in the home of Mrs. Winningham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Oliphant.

The Senior Class of Haskell High School is sponsoring a homecoming of ex-students to be held in the High School auditorium Dec. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford entertained members of the Pep Squad and their sponsor, Mrs. Wimbish, with a banquet and party at the Tonkawa Hotel.

Several hundred school teachers are here for the Four-County Teachers Institute. Haskell schools have been dismissed for the week, and classes will not be resumed until after the Christmas holidays.

Charles C. Coats, 61, well-known farmer of the Cliff community, died of a heart attack while returning home from Knox City. He had carried a bale of cotton to the gin, and several hours later was driving his empty wagon home. He apparently was stricken suddenly and his team continued their way home.

C. L. Bird, a prosperous farmer of this section, is driving a new Maxwell automobile he purchased last week.

Mrs. R. C. Montgomery, Charles Parsons and J. L. Southern attended the district meeting of Methodist WMS on Friday at Stamford.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Reynolds and Mrs. John A. Couch visited in Abilene Monday and Tuesday.

W. E. Dickerson, who recently moved his family to Corpus Christi, was here several days this week visiting friends.

John W. Lebo, and wife, of Harrisburg, Pa., are spending the week with the former's brother, Prof. M. B. Lebo and family.

M. F. Hammett and C. R. Cook returned Tuesday night from a trip to the South Plains. Mr. Cook says they encountered quite a bit of bad weather on the trip, and a sandstorm going and a snowstorm when returning. They visited O'Donnell, Tahoka and Lubbock while away.

 Sheriff W. C. Allen received a telephone call from Alpine Thursday advising him that the large residence he owned there had been destroyed by fire.

County Attorney Clyde Grissom, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at Temple Sanitarium several weeks ago, returned home Friday and has been able to be in his office the past few days.

68 YEARS AGO

 R. Fortenberry was in town Wednesday getting presents for the little folks.

Mrs. Yates and children and sister-in-law, of Lampasas, arrived Wednesday evening to spend Christmas with the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McWhirter.

C. D. Grissom, while out hunting the other day, made a pretty good record. He says he fired 22 shots and brought down 19 quail, one hawk and two doves.

Mrs. J. F. Jones has returned from a visit to Farmerville, her old home.

Mrs. L. T. Cunningham entertained with a party in her home Thursday night.

Messrs. Sherrill Bros. & Co., are having a building erected west of the Public Square, where they will put in a plant for making artificial building stone.

John L. Roberts has gone to Tennessee to spend Christmas and to accompany his wife home. She has been visiting in that state for several weeks.

S. W. Scott explains that his unsteady gait is not the result of "pulling the badger," but was caused by a horse's foot coming in contact with his knee.

Quite a large party of young folks enjoyed themselves at a party at the J. S. Boone home Friday night.

S. W. Scott left yesterday to take Christmas dinner with friends in Austin. On his return trip, he will meet Mrs. Scott at Fort Worth. She has been visiting for some time with her parents in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fields and Miss Eva Fields, left last Friday for Wills Point, where they will take Christmas with relatives.

consisted mostly of huge oaks, hung with long tenacles of Spanish moss, giving an eerie look to the mysterious depth of the forest.

We left the Big Thicket just as the last brilliant raps of the sun cast a soft glow over trees, as though to stave the dark hand of night.

We stayed all night in Franklin at the home of Mrs. Ella Cobb. The next morning we visited the Whitmire farm to get some persimmons, but deer had beaten us to them. They had completely stripped the trees of fruit, leaving the branches bare and broken.

The hills near Meridian were littered with blazes in colors of red, yellow and greens. Jack frost had really used his paint brush on the trees.

Hay balers were busy baling peanut hay near DeLeon. Rows of peanut filled gunny sacks looked like soldiers guarding the fields.

Persimmons turned the orchards into pretty pictures near Gorman.

We arrived in Haskell at 4:30 p. m. Nov. 29. Very tired, but filled with love for the Good Earth.

Open House to Honor Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edwards On 50th Wedding Anniversary

One of Mr. and Mrs. William Haskell Edwards' grandchildren, all 12 of whom plan to be present Sunday when the couple here observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary, as a child made a ritual of climbing into his Grandfather's lap and ask, "Was the town named for you, or were you named for the town?"

The answer to both questions was negative for the man whose middle name happened to be the same as the community in which he settled. Several people in this area have the name Haskell, but none so far have claimed direct connection with having been named for the town or the county Haskell County was named for Capt. Charles Ready Haskell, a young officer of the Texas Army who died in the massacre at Goliad on Palm Sunday, 1836.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. William Haskell Edwards, Haskellites since 1943, will call between 2 and 5 p. m. Sunday at the home of a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Corley, 302 North Avenue D here, to honor the golden anniversary couple.

Other children hosting the event are: Mr. and Mrs. Leon Edwards, Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Edwards, Silvertown; Mr. and Mrs. Warren Edwards, of Weatherford; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Chilton, of Lake Center.

Lillian Ann Woodson and W. H. Edwards were married on December 24, 1914, in the home of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Woodson, at Nugent, Texas. Mrs. Edwards was born in 1896 at Avo, which later became Avoca. The family moved to Nugent when she was a small child, and she lived there until her marriage.

Mr. Edwards, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Edwards, was born in Callahan County in 1891. When he was 8 years old, his family moved to Stonewall County, where he grew up. His stepmother, Mrs. W. F. Edwards, Sr., lives in Rotan now.

A man of the soil most of his life, Mr. Edwards spent two years ranching in Dawson County before his marriage. The Edwardses, except for two years in the Barkburnett oil field in 1918-19, farmed in Stonewall and Dawson Counties from 1914 to 1943.

In 1943, they moved from Stonewall County to Haskell, where he set up a tire business. Mr. Edwards retired in 1951.

Both the bride and groom are longtime members of the Church of Christ.

How True It Is!

Everyone's enthusiastic about the project. Then comes the work and all too often, a response like... "Who, Me?"

An article appearing in the December issue of "The Lion" by Glenn Kerfoot brings out so many things which pertain to clubs, Chambers of Commerce and other organizations, I would like to use a few excerpts from it.

"The president of a service club in a midwestern city recently asked his public relations committee to survey the club's roadside signs to determine which needed painting, repairs, or replacements. Duly, the chairman complied a list of the principal highways leading into the city, and asked each member of the committee to report on one of them. He allowed two weeks to complete the survey and report back.

"Although the job involved only a few miles of driving and about a half hour's time for each committee member, only one submitted a report. The others not only ignored the assignment, but didn't bother to notify the chairman that they couldn't or wouldn't do it. What started out as a simple group chore ended up as a time consuming do-it-yourself project for the chairman.

"Unfortunately, this is not an isolated case. At a state convention a group of district governors were overheard complaining because the club secretaries in their districts consistently failed to submit reports on schedule. "I could understand this laxity if these jobs were forced on the members involved," declared the state secretary, "but I know that none of these men objected to running for office, and most of them actively campaigned for it."

"A club member asked to organize an eight-man crew to work on a Saturday afternoon Christmas charity project had no trouble rounding up the required number of volunteers. But when the Saturday in question rolled around, only three men showed up. The others forgot about it, or were conveniently called out of town on business. "What makes club members accept committee responsibilities without a murmur, volunteer for special assignments, and then fail to perform? An interesting question.

"A club member may volunteer for a job in which he has little interest because he becomes carried away momentarily by the enthusiasm of those around him. Perhaps he raises his hand because his friends and tablemates are doing so. At the time, the job to be done seems far in the future. But when the day of reckoning comes he finds his enthusiasm has vanished and he frantically gropes for an excuse for not performing.

"It is possible to become involved simply because we lack the ability to refuse a request. Perhaps an enthusiastic organizer convinces us of the job's importance and tells us how badly we are needed. Perhaps we are made to feel it is our duty to accept. So, many club members accept assignments and promptly forget them, much to the chagrin of the people depending upon them.

"Of course, many club and organization members during most of their careers, contribute enthusiastically to projects. Nevertheless, there's always the chance that the wrong members will be matched with the wrong job, the possible result being that enthusiasm may vanish and the work may not get done as well as it should.

"It might be well to consider some ways of responding when it appears that greatness is being thrust upon you. Here are a few suggestions that can benefit both you and your club:

"Before allowing your name to be placed in nomination for a club, C of C, or any other organization office, do a little soul-searching, and ask yourself if you really will work at the job. Then ask yourself some burning questions. Am I willing to pass up my favorite TV shows to attend meetings? Am I really interested in the job itself, or am I impressed with the idea of becoming a club leader? Remember, honesty is the best policy!

"Before being assigned to a committee, investigate the work of that group. Talk to the chairman, and find out what you may be asked to do. Make an effort to get on a committee that really interests you, and if you are really not interested in any of them, be honest enough to say so.

"One final word on the subject. If you do accept an assignment, whether you are a Lion, Rotarian, CofC member, or whatnot and you wish you hadn't stiffen your spine and do the job to the best of your ability. Who knows? You might even learn to like it!

Jody Kennedy says that having children is hereditary and can prove it. For example, if your parents do not have any children—you won't have any.

Johnny Mullins Is Charged In Stabbing Case

A retired farmer of Haskell was taken into custody by Haskell County law enforcement officers and charged with attempted murder Saturday afternoon a short time after a 55-year-old resident here was knifed in the abdomen during an altercation in the yard of the victim's home, 706 South Avenue F, here.

Johnny Mullins, 60, was arrested on the east side of the public square here by Chief Deputy Pete Mercer and Deputy Sheriff W. L. Henry. He was released on $1,000 bond pending grand jury action after being brought before Justice of the Peace Virgil Brown. Deputy Sheriff Raymond Denson, of Rule, assisted in the arrest.

C. F. White, the victim of the stabbing, was reported in fair condition after lengthy surgery closed a "six or seven inch wound in his abdomen just below the belt," according to Don Alley, Holden ambulance attendant, who brought White to Haskell County Hospital after the affray.

White told officers before being taken to the hospital he was accosted by Mullins while sitting on the porch of his home. When Mullins refused to leave him alone, the knifing victim said he picked up a brick and hit Mullins in the head with it. It was then that Mullins reportedly slashed White "right around the belt."

Dr. Williams pointed out, "What more precious gift can be given for Christmas than the gift of life, or breath? These are what buying and using as many Christmas Seals as possible this Christmas will do."

Eighty-one per cent of an individual's Christmas Seals contributions will be used in Haskell County, and 19 per cent will come back to him or her in health dividends from nationwide TB control work in medical research, Dr. Williams emphasized.

Christmas Seals now also fight all respiratory diseases, including asthma, lung cancer, emphysema, bronchitis, influenza, and pneumonia.

Other officers of the Haskell County TB Association are: Mrs. E. T. Fouts, Rule, first vice president; Mrs. M. W. Phemister, Weinert, second vice president; Mrs. W. P. Trice, Haskell, treasurer; and Porter Oakes, Haskell, publicity chairman.

The directors are: Mrs. Jetty V. Clare, C. V. Payne, and Mrs. C. V. Payne, all of Haskell; Mrs. W. B. Guess, Mrs. Fred Monke, and Mrs. Preston Weinert, all of Weinert; Mrs. M. H. Hicks, Mrs. R. A. Shaver, Jr., Mrs. Don Wadzeck, Mrs. Manfred Reid, all of Rochester; Mrs. Russ Hobbs and Mrs. Buddy Bishop, Rule; Mrs. Gene Overton, Paint Creek; and Mrs. Elmo Stephens and Mrs. C. W. Covey, O'Brien.

Jr. College--

As B. W. Musgrave, of the Texas Education Agency, in two visits to this territory has pointed out, the State Board of Education has a rigid yardstick by which it measures qualifying districts. Two "measurements" are that the area to be served has 5,000 students in grades one through 12 in its schools, and that there were at least 300 graduates in the combined current classes of the high schools of the area under consideration.

The geographic confines of a proposed district also must have a taxable property valuation of not less than $9,500,000. The graduating class population in 1964 in the territory under study for a "joint junior college district" had but 273 graduates in 1964, while the property valuations in Haskell and Stonewall, only two of the four counties, were some $38,000,000, qualifying the area easily on the latter count.

On the matter of graduates, Musgrave has stated in meetings here that graduates of previous recent years who tangibly indicated an interest in enrolling in a junior college near home could compensate for this area's not quite meeting the 300-graduate requirement. Mrs. Burke reported that Dr. Anthony Hunt, president of Howard Junior College, Big Spring, has been invited to discuss the steps by which a junior college is launched when he attends an early meeting of the steering committee and all interested citizens.

One point needs to be stressed which the people of the area generally have misunderstood, it was brought out in the Weinert conference: The location of the prospective junior college at or near any community in the prescribed district will be entirely in the hands of a Board of Trustees elected by the people of the district as a whole, and no tentative district has any priority claim on such a location.

In addition to Mrs. Burkett, at the steering committee session were Erwin Youngblood, superintendent of schools at Knox City; Douglas Myers, the host, superintendent of Weinert schools; Phil Simmons, superintendent of Rochester schools; Bill Teel, Aspermont Schools superintendent; T. L. Robinson, elementary school principal at Aspermont; Allen Davis, of Old Glory; Hooper T. Wilkinson, Haskell schools superintendent; and Rev. Douglas B. Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Haskell.

A meeting of the increasingly expanding steering committee was to be at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 16, in Knox City High School.

Legion Auxiliary To Provide Cheer For Needy Family

American Legion Auxiliary Unit 221, at its Christmas get-together Monday night in the V. W. Meadors home, voted to provide Christmas happiness for a needy family, preferably that of a war veteran, and named Mrs. Martin Rueffer, its rehabilitation chairman, to take charge of the project.

Seventeen members and one guest shared the Christmas fellowship at which Mrs. L. R. Burkett, veteran teacher here, presented an appropriate story, "Jesus' Second Birthday."

Christmas carols were sung by the membership, with Miss Martha Meadors accompanying on her new organ, a Christmas gift from her parents recently installed in the Meadors home.

Miss Pamela Druessedow also played and sang for the assembly, and with her mother, Mrs. Henry Druessedow Jr., sang a duet of Christmas selections.

Gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Meadors.

Bonnie Howard, Carolyn Fischer Feted At Dyess

Coach Dave Middleton's HHS Squaws, although eliminated by 13 points from championship running by Finalist Sundown in the tough Dyess AFB invitational girls' basketball tournament last weekend, came back home with some cherished individual honors.

Bonnie Howard, stellar guard for Haskell's hardwood queens, was named an All-Tournament selection at the guard position.

Carolyn Fischer, personable starting forward for the Squaws, was chosen one of two Tournament Princesses to serve with Queen Marsha Mund, of Eldorado.

Trent, with a fourth quarter outburst of points, defeated Sundown, Haskell's first round opponent, 74-61, to win the Dyess tournament.

Eldorado, which eliminated the Haskell girls, in the consolation bracket, went on to win it by downing Winters, 36-24.

Beautiful Birthday

Grace Ann Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce E. Wood, ministers of the Christian Church here, celebrated her seventh birthday last Saturday afternoon at the Christian Parsonage. Girls from Grace Ann's school and church classes met with her family to observe this important occasion.

The girls played several games, with the winners being presented certain prizes. Grace Ann opened her many nice gifts after game time and then all were served the traditional ice cream, cake and punch.

Band Parents' Parley

Haskell Indian Band Parents will meet Thursday night at 7 p. m. in the Band Hall at school, Mrs. Roy Wiseman has announced.

A 100 per cent attendance would be helpful in decision-making on projects at hand.

Fast Arrest Made In Rochester Attack-Robbery

A 21-year-old O'Brien Negro was taken into custody by Haskell County officers led by Sheriff Garth Garrett less than an hour and a half after a man was beaten and robbed on a Rochester street at 9:20 Thursday night.

Identified as Lonnie Rhodes, Jr., 21, the Negro was charged with robbery by assault, arraigned Friday morning before Justice of the Peace Judge Virgil Brown, and placed in Haskell County bond awaiting Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett. He was hit on and robbed salient near Rochester.
