Austin Subscriber Read Brown Story

Guy Brown's interview with Elvis Presley, appeared on the front page of the Austin American-Statesman in a page one box.

Fenton White, subscriber of ours, and former resident of Martin County, was responsible for getting this information to Stanton. White sent along a clipping and wrote a nice letter. White still has relatives living here.

The Day I Interviewed Elvis Presley

By GUY BROWN
With An Assist By NEAL ESTES

Elvis Presley just about stacked up to my expectations. I had been a fan of his for a long time, read a lot about his life and I especially like his attitude as a soldier. And I might add, his statement when discharged, was pretty good. He said, "he was glad the time spent in the Army was over, but he was not bitter."

Elvis is a good sport. He is not a college graduate but he tries hard to get along with the people who work with him and with the public. That's a fact. Elvis could have me

Teacher Needed For Retarded County Children

Several interested parents and county school officials are concerned about securing a teacher for handicapped children in the local schools here next year.

County Judge Jim McCoy and Supt. L. M. Hays have both gone on record as favoring the employment of an extra teacher if enough students can be enrolled.

Mrs. Elmer Mashburn and other good citizens have contributed yeoman service in trying to get the course installed in the local public schools with a competent instructor to direct and guide the children who are handicapped.

If you have a handicapped or physically infirm youngster and you are interested in supporting the thought of having a qualified public school teacher to help your daughter or son, please call either Judge McCoy, Mr. Hays or Mrs. Mashburn.

thrown off the train, maybe, but he was friendly and answered some of my questions right off the spot. I forgot some of the main ones I was going to ask him. He grinned a lot. But he was truthful. One thing about Elvis—he wants to be one of us. And he is easy to talk to.

My interview with Elvis was well spent and I think the day I took off from other activities to ride the train from Stanton to Odessa was well spent. I'll never forget it. I met a lot of other nice people too. Col. Parker, the manager of Elvis was good to me—took my name and address. Who knows, maybe someday I'll get to interview Col. Parker, for Mr. Estes, my local editor told me that the colorful character from Tennessee was another good story and with a written request and an appointment made, I could see the Colonel without having to chase around like I did when I talked with Elvis."

Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

UPI Wire Service Sends Guy Brown Story To All Points

Dick Hardwick, United Press-International, Dallas, advised Neal Estes, general manager of The Stanton Reporter this week that Guy Brown's story on Elvis Presley was flashed throughout the nation and to points overseas.

Hardwick telephoned Estes for the story on Brown and the interview with the bouncing ballad man from Tennessee last week. He advised of the all points relay from Dallas and sent along a copy of the wire story. The story also made page one in a New York newspaper and found a good spot in a Miami, Florida daily.

Here is the story Hardwick put on UPI.

STANTON, TEXAS, April 20 (UPI)—Eleven-year-old Guy Brown, who wants to be a New York reporter when he grows up, was a celebrity in his hometown of Stanton, Texas, today.

He interviewed rock 'n roll singer Elvis Presley in his private railroad car. A banner headline in the Stanton weekly Reporter today proclaimed, "Guy Brown Gets Presley Interview."

The story told how Guy argued his way into Presley's car as it rolled across the West Texas prairie talking the gyrating guitarist to Hollywood.

Guy went to Neal Estes, publisher of The Stanton Reporter, Monday and told him he wanted to interview Elvis when he came through on the train.

"I didn't think he had a dog's chance of getting to see him, but I told him to board the train here and he might possibly get to see Presley," Estes said.

Storm Batters Basin

Angry black clouds swirled over Stanton Tuesday afternoon and caused part of the population to take shelter in storm cellars while others stood outside scanning the skies for trouble.

Heavy hail damage was predicted for Martin County. Hail did fall in parts of the area but fortunately Stanton was spared damage. The size of hailstones reported were small.

Tornadoes played a lethal game of hide-and-seek near McCamey and Rankin and torrents of rain and hail smashed a path across the Permian Basin Tuesday.

Big Spring caught a murderous rain. The torrents virtually drowned the city. It fell within a three hour period. Rain gauges showed measurements of four inches and flash flooding of businesses and homes was reported.

Howard County also caught heavy hail.

Apparently, the storm that battered the Basin travelled toward Martin County but climbed up and over, leaving light moisture, small hailstones, and no damage in its aerial swoop over Stanton and then departed Big Spring with barrels of soil packing rain with chunks of hail up to an inch in diameter tossed in for good measure.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Church of Christ here with Ellmore Johnson, minister, officiating. Interment followed in Evergreen Cemetery.

A native of Palmersville, Tenn., Howard moved to Dallas in 1902, to Jones County in 1906 and to Martin County in 1926.

Surviving are the widow, the former Miss Almeda Henderson; four sons, C. L. Howard of Courtney, H. D. Howard of Tarzan, I. J. Howard of Midland and Pat N. Howard; two daughters, Mrs. Tant Lindsey of Stanton and Mrs. J. W. Massey of Midland; 31 grandchildren and 67 great-grandchildren.

Philosopher Doubts That Machines Will Ever Really Get Rid Of All The Manual Labor

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses work this week, in a theoretical sort of way.

Dear editor:

Some people never get out of a rut. For example, they think the only time to get spring fever is in the spring, whereas I've found it can be done in the summer, fall or winter too, if you put your mind to it.

What brought this to my mind was an article I read yesterday afternoon when I got tired of working and sat down, by an industrial expert who said that "by the year 2,000 the word 'worker' will be obsolete, men having been replaced by industry. Look about you now—do you see many people with a pick and shovel?" he asked. "Do you see anybody actually doing any manual labor?"

Which way you reckon that man was looking? You can look in some directions, say mine for example, and maybe not see anybody doing much manual labor, but the idea that manual labor has just about been abolished is one of the biggest hoaxes ever attempted.

Now it's true that riding a tractor beats walking behind a plow pulled by horses, but anybody who imagines driving a tractor eight or ten hours a day, going up one row and down another, doesn't involve work, just never has tried it. Furthermore, you don't step outside, when plowing time comes, mount your tractor, and take off. Somebody has to get some plows or planters or busters or discs hooked up to that tractor, and if anybody thinks this doesn't involve manual labor, I will be glad to turn the job over to him the first thing in the morning.

And furthermore, manual work isn't confined to the farm. In the most perfectly air-conditioned building in the city, using scientifically designed chairs and an electrically-operated typewriter, typing eight hours a day runs into work. A doctor in a modern hospital, with all kinds of newer gadgets, including an electric saw instead of a hand saw, still finds himself played out after a four-hour operation. And so it goes.

In fact, regardless of how many labor-savings devices man now has, regardless of all the automatic systems and modern inventions, most people I know wind up the day just about as tired as people did 50 years ago. At least they say they're tired. And when I say I'm tired, I don't want anybody arguing with me about it.

My theory is that machines will never be smart enough to eliminate work. It's up to man to do this, and the only way is not to rely on a machine, but to simply crawl under the shade of a tree and stretch out.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

LBJ, Kennedy Seen Leading First Ballot

Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.), a candidate himself, said Sunday he expects Sens. John F. Kennedy (Mass.) and Lyndon B. Johnson (Texas) to get the most votes on the first presidential ballot at the Democratic National Convention.

Symington made the comment in a taped interview on "Radio News Conference" without indicating how he expected to stand at the start of voting at the Los Angeles gathering in July or how the balloting would progress.

He again defended his stand against entering any of the Democratic primaries, saying he does not believe the system is the best way to choose a candidate.

Symington was asked if he saw any reason why a Roman Catholic, such as Kennedy, should not be nominated.

"I think that one of the greatest tragedies that could happen to American public life and to America would be to start considering a man for office on the basis of his religion," he replied.

Seven Items Rate Plentiful Tag In Month Of May

Three popular processed fruits stand out among foods expected to be plentiful in May, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

These are canned blackberries, canned freestone peaches and cranberry products. Stocks of each are more than ample for ordinary trade needs, according to figures of the Agricultural Marketing Service. Food shoppers can anticipate special sales on these items in Texas Markets this month.

Large No. 10 cans of blackberries, ideal for restaurant and institutional use, are especially plentiful. Most of these are from East Texas canneries.

Milk and dairy products are becoming abundant, as green pastures and cool weather encourage high production.

Stocks of frozen scallops from last season's record-large supply of this popular seafood are still generous. Vegetable fats and oils are abundant, for deep frying and spring salad dressings. Onions complete the shorter-than-usual monthly list, as large acreages and heavy production come into the picture.

Judge Jim McCoy, Martin Gibon, Frank Roquemore and D. W. Karnes attended the District 19 American Legion Convention held in Brownfield Sunday.

CHEVROLET
OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45 WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu.-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without beating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in!... Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

Chevy middleweight averages 200 miles of back roads a day logging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crossett, Arkansas.

Col. Garrison Orders Dismissal Eight North Texas Patrolmen

Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr., has announced the dismissal of eight highway patrolmen who have been under investigation in the Denton area.

The investigation began several weeks ago after allegations of misconduct involving women.

The patrolmen named by Garrison are Jerry Latimer, D. T. Black, Gene Wofford, John Fletcher, George Reese, Weldon Parsons, George Blankenship and E. B. Scott. Scott is stationed at Gainesville. Blankenship was stationed at Denton until about a year ago, when he was transferred to Dallas. The other six were stationed in the Denton area.

"I regret to take this action, but our rules and regulations require that every employe must conduct himself in his private life in such a way that he will reflect credit on himself and the Department of Public Safety," Garrison said.

Proud of Personnel

"That is the foundation upon which the department has been built. I am extremely proud of the personnel who have measured up to this responsibility and thereby command the respect and admiration of the law-abiding people of Texas by remaining morally strong despite many temptations thrown in their path."

Garrison gave no details of the allegations that brought about the dismissals.

"This has been hashed and rehashed," Garrison said later, "and we don't plan to make any further statements about the situation. We don't plan to give out any of the details. For one thing, additional discussion or details would bring further embarrassment to members of the families innocently involved."

When asked if the investigation is completed and Thursday's dismissals will be the last, Garrison said, "I certainly hope so. We have been investigating this thing thoroughly for two or three weeks and I think we've got it all now."

The Denton situation first came to light late last month when two men entered a drive-in grocery where Latimer worked part-time.

One accused Latimer of going out with his wife and beat him.

Major Guy Smith of Dallas, who supervises the Denton officers, placed Latimer, Black, Wofford and Parsons under temporary suspension pending a full investigation.

There had been no indication any of the other officers were involved. Fletcher had submitted his resignation several weeks ago, but said it was not connected with the charges under investigation.

MR. AND MRS. R. H. CURTIS of Victoria announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Stanley Conklin, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Conklin. The wedding will be held June 12 at 3 p.m. in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Helen and Stanley were high school sweethearts.

Mrs. Glenn L. Brown, Mrs. James Eiland, Mrs. Glenn Gates, Mrs. Bob Haislip, Mrs. Jiggs Hall, Mrs./Bob Latimer, Miss Sammie Laws, Mrs. Elmer Long, Mrs. Elma Nichols, Mrs. Stanley Reid, Mrs. Louis Roten, Mrs. Jesse Taiton, Mrs. Leo Turner, Mrs. John Wood, Mrs. J. N. Woody Jr., and Mrs. George Dawson, who assisted Mrs. Hedrick as co-hostess.

Terre Haute, Ind., Advocate: "Safety authorities advise parents, and the heads of households to make a precautionary survey of possibly dangerous conditions in the home at least once or twice a year. If you will take this advice, and remove potential hazards for all members of the family, especially the young, you may well prevent a personal tragedy in your own home."

"April 1960 is an important month to remember for disabled farmers," stated H. P. Thomas, Manager of the Social Security District Office located at Odessa. It is the first month for which any farmers can receive social security disability benefits for themselves and their dependents.

Under the law, a person must have social security credit for five full years within the ten year period before his disability started. For a farmer first covered by social security in 1955, and who has never worked in covered employment or self-employment before, this requirement could first be met in October 1959.

A severely disabled farmer who is at least 50 years old may be eligible for payments, after he has been disabled for six full months. This means that a disabled farmer over 50, who has worked long enough under social security, may collect his first disability benefit for the month of April 1960.

An application for disability benefits must be filed before payments can be made. Mr. Thomas urges all farmers who believe they may qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with their local social security office. The Odessa office is located at 1428 East 8th Street, Federal 2-9423.

Grassroots Opinion

Dalton, Ga., Citizen: "The basic difference between the American creed and the communist creed is in the differing attitudes toward people. Where we believe that the individual human is worthy of respect, an entity to be valued, communistic doctrine strives toward the supremacy of the state and the subversion of the people to that supremacy. Lenin, the founder of the Soviet state, recognized that a doctrine of this caliber must be imbued early into the human mind. . . . Lenin said, 'Give us a child for eight years, and it will be a bolshevik forever!'"

Oakwood, Ohio, News: "Americans last year spent $100 million for comic books — four times the amount invested in library books, according to Mark Murfin, elementary education chairman at the University of Miami."

West Texas Press Comments

The education committee of the Andrews County Chamber of Commerce has launched a most creditable activity. It is a service for the teen-age employment. Boys from 12 to 21 years of age who wish to work full or part time have been asked to place an application with the chamber office. The application files will be made available to local residents and business firms wishing to employ full or part time help.

The West Texas Press Association is searching for some young man or lady to help in preparing for a newspaper career. High school seniors in this area are eligible to try for a scholarship in journalism and are urged to get in touch with their high school principal or their hometown publisher to learn more about it. The scholarships pay $400 (or $50 a semester) four years to the high school senior who is selected from among applicants.

First steps have been taken to guard against rabies in Andrews. Andrews city manager reported 145 city tags were purchased in one day when owners of dogs and cats carried their pets to be vaccinated against rabies.

On a low bid of $286,982, at Stamford, a contract was awarded to build 36 living units, including six one-bedroom units, 16 two-bedroom units and 14 three-bedroom units or a total of 170 rooms. The units are designed as low rent quarters and not necessarily to alleviate the present housing shortage.

The Seminole Sentinel says the city of Seminole is winding up a major improvement program which is designed to relieve low water pressure in some sections of the city, provide greater water storage, eliminate bottlenecks in the sewage disposal system, and place the city's water supply on the state's list of approved water supplies.

The chief of police has warned householders of Seminole to beware of door-to-door salesmen. There has been an influx of these door-to-door canvassers. There have been reports of outright swindle. The police chief finds the most flagrant violators of the city's door-to-door selling law are magazine subscription solicitors. Solicitors must have a permit from the city. Without a city license the peddler is subject to fines up to $100.

The State Board of Water Engineers has approved a 30,000-acre-foot lake on Brady Creek, three miles west of Brady. The Eden Echo reports Eden don't have a permit as yet, but has a reservation right to the impounding of 2,900 acres of water within the Brady Creek watershed. Cost of the Brady Creek project is said to amount to around two and one-half million dollars.

Webb Air Force Base Due To Get New Personnel In '60

A major increase in the number of personnel at Webb Air Force Base is expected in Big Spring beginning in April of 1961.

The Big Spring air base will give pre-flight primary and basic pilot training under a consolidated program which will result in closing of five air bases by March 1961, including Moore Air Base at Mission.

The combined training program will be operated at Webb and Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, and other bases in Alabama, Georgia, Arizona and Oklahoma.

Currently only basic jet training is being given at Webb.

The Air Force said the consolidated pilot-training program will close down civilian contract schools in addition to changing the use of several air bases to fit into the new instruction program.

"The Groom Is A Good Advertiser -"

A wedding story which is going the rounds, and which is said to have originated in the Chewelah (Wash.) Independent, was recently brought to life by Russ Hill, editor of the Davenport (Wash.) Times to show that "reporters were more practical in those days."

The story: "Miss Jennie Jones and Bob Henry were married at the Jones mansion last night. The bride is a daughter of Constable Jones who has made a good officer and will undoubtedly be reelected this spring. He offers a fine horse for sale in another column of this issue.

"The groom runs a grocery store on Main street and is a steady patron of our advertising columns. He has a good line of bargains in his ad this week. All summer he has paid two cents more for butter than any other store in town.

"They were married by Rev. Josiah Butterworth, who last week called at this office and gave us a nice order for handbills. He is also going to give some time to the real estate business and will write fire insurance. So say the business cards we recently printed for him. Jennie and Bob left on the 10 o'clock train for Milwaukee to visit the bride's uncle, who we understand has lots of money and a cancer."

Law Day Proclaimed

For the third consecutive year, May Day has a special significance in this country. By proclamation of President Eisenhower, May 1st is again to be observed as LAW DAY U. S. A. This is a special day dedicated across our nation to observation of the fact that we have a government of law instead of men.

It is particularly appropriate that Americans set aside this day each year to demonstrate to the world—and to ourselves—that our belief in individual freedom under law remains strong and unshakable.

Why is it that some men are able to live in freedom while others cringe under a rule of tyranny? We owe our rights and freedoms to our state and national constitutions, our laws, and our courts. In other lands, there are no rights and people are subjected to the edicts and whims of individuals unhampered by legal restraints.

Most of us tend to take it for granted that an individual is free to think for himself and that his rights are protected by law. We know without actually admitting it that our whole way of life is governed by this rule of law.

Law is the intangible force guaranteeing all of us freedom, peace and progress — ideals which have been, and are, dependent upon the adequacy of our legal system and the protection awarded the individual by our courts.

Our respect for law is vital to the continued growth and strengthening of our nation; our thoughtful observance of LAW DAY U. S. A., in a real sense distinguishes America from those who today live under tyranny; it is our answer to communism. LAW DAY U. S. A. is the American way.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carroll the past week end were Mr. Carroll's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wornack and family of Andrews.

Mother's Day won national recognition on May 8, 1914. On that day, President Woodrow Wilson signed a joint resolution of Congress recommending that Congress and the executive branch of government observe the special day.

Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia is credited with founding Mother's Day and introducing the custom of wearing a carnation. A colored carnation indicates one's mother is living, while the white carnation indicates she is dead.

Bullock To Address West Texas Lawyers, Landmen At Institute

Fort Stockton attorney Maurice R. Bullock, chairman of the State Securities Board and former president of the State Bar of Texas, will address a legal institute for West Texas lawyers and landmen in Midland May 6-7 at the Scharbauer Hotel.

The two-day study of oil and gas laws is under the joint sponsorship of the Midland Bar Association and the State Bar.

Midland Bar President James T. Smith will welcome some 300 lawyers and landmen Friday at 9:30 a.m. and will preside over all institute sessions.

Friday speakers and their topics include: D. E. Smith, Humble Oil and Refining Company attorney, Midland, "Oil and Gas Operating Agreements"; Midland attorney Raymond A. Lynch, "Surface Rights of Mineral Lessees"; Bullock, "Effect of the Texas Securities Act on Mineral Transactions"; and Roswell attorney George H. Hunter Jr., "Oil and Gas Leasing of Federal and State Lands in New Mexico."

The Saturday morning agenda includes: Professor W. D. Masterson Jr. of the SMU School of Law, Dallas, "Limitation Title to Mineral Interests"; and Dallas attorney Leo J. Hoffman, "Legal and Practical Problems in Unitization of Oil and Gas Properties."

Institute registrants and their wives will be honored with a reception Friday at 7 p.m. at the Scharbauer Hotel.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

A dependent is worth a lot to you on your tax return. Every year some taxpayers fail to take exemptions they should take. On the other hand, the Office Audit part of Internal Revenue checks thousands of returns and disallows many dependents. The instructions are clear. Internal Revenue wants you to take all your exemptions. Read and follow the instructions; those exemptions are worth $120 each, or more.

will be honored with a reception Friday at 7 p.m. at the Scharbauer Hotel.

Former South Carolina Governor James F. Byrnes To Talk To Bar

Former Governor James B. Byrnes of South Carolina, who helped guide the nation during one of its most desperate eras, will open the Texas Bar's 78th annual convention in Houston, June 30, Bar President A. J. Foley announced Wednesday.

The former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court and chief mobilizer of men and materials during World War II accepted Foley's invitation to address the Bar's first general assembly at the Rice Hotel.

Byrnes' 47 years of public service include key positions in all three branches of national government. He had served 15 years in the U. S. House of Representatives and 10 years in the U. S. Senate when he was appointed to the U. S. Supreme Court in 1941. President Franklin D. Roosevelt called him from the Bench 16 months later to head the nation's wartime economy as Director of War Mobilization.

With offices in the White House, Byrnes consulted with the President daily and was one of his chief advisors on domestic and foreign affairs, as well as the Chief Mobilizer of war materials and men.

Following his wartime assignments, Byrnes served in 1945-47 as Secretary of State under President Truman. He was elected Governor of South Carolina in 1950 and resigned five years later. President Eisenhower appointed him in 1953 to represent the United States at the United Nations General Assembly.

Byrnes was admitted to the Bar in 1903 following study in a private law office in Charleston. His first elective office was solicitor of the Second Judicial Circuit of South Carolina in 1908. He makes his home at Columbia.
