By JAMES E. KELLY

AT THE TURNING POINT OF THE Fall season and the menacing attack of the rank growth of weed crop in the city of Stanton has brought on another menace to worry citizens who are hay-fever sufferers, and to those humans who naturally are subject to sniffles and watery eyes from head colds. Pollen from the rag-weed is said responsible for giving people hay-fever. We are not so sure pollen from the rag weed is the sole contributing factor to those who suffer from hay-fever. It could be the pollen from any one of the hundred-and-one variety of weeds growing on vacant lots in Stanton. Driving along the infested weed lots almost stifles the motorist, and leads us to believe the pollen from any one of the variety growing on vacant lots in Stanton, or all of them cater to the hay-fever sufferer. At any rate the weeds off those lots would remove a ghastly site marring the beauty of the landscape, an obstruction to driving of motorists, and the clearing up of a blight on the sanitary status of our fair city.

THERE'S ANOTHER TOWN HEARD from besides Stanton on how to cope with the rank growth of weeds on vacant lots. That town is Hobbs, New Mexico. That city has warned property owners they must clear (Continued on page 4)

NEWMAN SCORES FOUR TD'S

Buff's Bomb Coahoma

Stanton's high flying Bisons fought off a desperate second half charge by the Coahoma Bulldogs Friday night over in Howard County and won their second game in a row 26-20.

The Buffs started the evening scoring by racking up two touchdowns before the contest was five minutes old.

The Bisons big gun for the night was fleet-footed Tommy Newman. The 160-pound bundle of nuclear energy shovled across all four Buff touchdowns.

Coahoma had no man in the backfield to match Newman's terrific speed. Halfback Aubrey Darden was the outstanding player for the Coahoma team.

Newman's scoring went like this. In less than five minutes after the start of the game Newman counted on 20 and 31-yard dashes, added a 15-yard tally in the third period and a 10-yard payoff in the final quarter after carrying the ball 60 yards on a kickoff return.

Stanton's first counter was registered after the Bisons took over a wobbly 10-yard punt which put the ball on the Coahoma 20 yard line and Newman broke out on the first play from scrimmage to score, with Thad Koonce running over the two extra points.

Less than a minute later, the Bulldogs fumbled on their initial down, and Newman repeated his performance on the Buffs first down on the Coahoma 31-yard line. Newman carried the pigskin 10 times and gained 115 yards.

Coahoma showed its might four plays after Newman's second touchdown, when Richters barreled 44 yards for the Bulldogs' first score. Stanton countered with a 47-yard drive, nipped on the Coahoma 13 by a fumble.

The Buffs resumed the scoring trail late in the third quarter after Coahoma punted out of bounds at midfield. Eight ground gains took the ball to the Coahoma 15, from where Newman scored on the longest run of the series to put the visitors in front, 20-6.

Philosopher Claims New Law On Disc Jockeys Offers Little Relief To Listening Public

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw discusses popular music this week. We guess that's what he's doing.

Dear editor:

With the world fraught with danger, I feel sort of guilty thinking about something frivolous, but if Congress can do it, I guess I can too. What I'm talking about is a new bill passed by the last session of Congress and just signed by President Eisenhower making it against the federal law for a radio disc jockey to accept undercover pay to play a phonograph record over the air.

just so the record-maker or the song-writer or the publishing company doesn't pay you something extra to do it.

This is not what I call progress. I didn't think the crime was in taking money for playing them. I thought the crime was in playing them in the first place, but that's not the way Congress voted. You can still get off scott-free for playing them, provided you do it for nothing.

Congress missed the boat. What it needs is a bill making it against the law to put a nickel in a juke box if what's going to come out comes out, if you follow me. On the radio, you can turn the thing off while the guitar player hollers for his lost love, but in a cafe, you're stuck.

On the other hand, a lot of people must like these records, and who am I to disagree with them? I don't know any more about music than I do foreign affairs. All I know is that if I was a disc jockey, I'd sure want some extra money to play some of that music over and over, day after day.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

STAMFORD AMERICAN: "Cotton ginning in Stamford was still below the 50-bale mark Thursday and harvest of the crop appeared not likely to hit full stride for three to four weeks. Most of the cotton was planted in June and it is too early for much of it to be ready. On the other hand staple is good, running from an inch to an inch and one thirty-second. Cotton is coming in a little faster at Avoca. At Ericksdahl the crop is somewhat later and only eight bales had been ginned."

MCCAMEY NEWS: "A new $630,000 refrigerated-air McCamey High School was approved by the voters of the McCamey Independent School district last Saturday. But, the voters rejected another proposal to build a girls' gymnasium with the new school. In voting to build the new school, the voters also approved proposal number one on the ballot, Texas Senate Bill 116, which will provide for the method of financing of the bonds. The new McCamey High School proposal was approved by the widest margin of the three proposals under the voters' consideration. The new school, which was proposal number two on the ballot, was approved 205 votes to 76 against."

New Booklet To Correct Texas' Pronunciation

The Texas Good Neighbor Commission is out to help those of us who at one time may have been guilty of pronouncing "Vallejo" as "Alley Joe."

The commission is in a state of shock over the way Texans pronounce Spanish words.

To help those who go around booting names like "Refugio," "Mexico," and "Bexar," the commission has published a compact, 26-page booklet called "Say it the Spanish Way."

Authorized by Dr. George I. Sanchez and Charles L. Eastlack of the University of Texas, the booklet sets the record straight on how to pronounce "Socorro," and if you've ever said "Sock-er-oh" you get three raps on the wrist.

Copies of the booklet can be obtained by writing to the Texas Good Neighbor Commission at Box 2116, Capitol Station, Austin.

The authors do not presume to revolutionize our speaking habits overnight.

In fact, they're ready to throw in the towel when it comes to the Texas tongue on words like "Amarillo" and "Llano."

It would be "fatuous," they said, for Texans to go around saying "Ah-Mah-Ree-Yoh," and "Yah-Noh."

And if you have been celebrating "San-Jay-Cin-Ter" day every year, don't worry — they aren't going to ask you to change to "San-Hah-Seen-Toh."

But you're "muy estúpido" if you say "Rio Grande River," and not just plain old "Rio Grande," they point out.

There Is No Place In Religion For Hate

A plausible philosophy of life has said, "Be good and you will be happy."

But if happiness consists in being free from danger and immune from pain, the sufferings of good men have revealed how false is that easy adage.

A deep mystery of life is that the innocent have suffered with the guilty. It is that mystery of the Cross and the suffering and sacrifice of Christ Himself.

The hostility that Jesus aroused in His prejudiced, fellow townsmen as he began His ministry in Nazareth continued on the part of many throughout His ministry.

Strange to say, it was the finest things that He did that aroused the most violent opposition.

Religion ought to make men humane, kind, considerate, ready and eager to help one another. But, unfortunately, it has often made them bitter and full of hatred.

It was not unnatural that the claims of Jesus should be questioned by some, as they had been by His own brothers. But why should His pronouncement of the forgiveness of sin have aroused such hatred?

If He had no power to forgive sins, the sins, would not be forgiven. To question His authority was one thing—to hate Him was another.

The opposition of certain Scribes and Pharisees and official religious authorities had some justification. They were the official representatives of religion. As Jesus Himself said, they "sat in Moses' seat."

The mistake that they made was in ignoring the actual words and deeds, in being blind to the authority of goodness, and in hating one whom the people heard gladly.

Are we wiser than those of old? Is our response to the goodness of God, or is it dominated by prejudice and bigotry?

Bracero Measure Extended By Ike

The law under which Mexican workers are brought into the United States to work in seasonal farm jobs was extended for six months Wednesday by President Eisenhower.

Under the old law the program would have expired June 30, 1961 but Wednesday's action extended it until December 31, 1961. The Senate Agricultural Committee had recommended the law be extended to include all of 1961 so that farmers could make plans to use Mexican workers in harvesting 1961 crops.

THERE ARE NEW HORIZONS FOR INDUSTRY IN The Opportunity Frontier OF TEXAS

Expanding business and industrial horizons are opening new doors to progress in THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS, most of which is served by Texas Electric Service Company. Here you find a wide diversity of resources... petroleum and chemicals, cattle and cotton, grain sorghum and gypsum. In this area is the heart of the great Permian Basin. One-fifth of all new oil wells drilled in the U.S. in the past 14 years are in THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS. This storehouse of oil and gas reserves is a vital national defense asset.

THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER is an area with genial climate, good water resources, and splendid transportation. It offers an excellent pool of labor for industry's needs. Here you will find progress-minded communities with an understanding of the problems of industry.

Cooperating with the cities and communities it serves, Texas Electric works to stimulate the growth of THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER... for we grow as it grows.

Here nature is beautiful and man extends a hand of welcome. We say to you with deep conviction: there's no finer spot in America for a new plant, warehouse or branch office... than THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS.

Our Area Development Department will gladly supply plant site information to fit your specific needs.

 A letter from the Hobbs sanitation officer has been approved by the city commission, which calls for the lots to be cleared within 15 days in compliance with a city ordinance. The ordinance carries penalties of up to $100 in fines, up to 30 days in jail, or both.
 A lady member of the Hobbs city governing body, told fellow commissioners that "Whether we want to recognize it or not, the weed situation is a health menace."
 The Hobbs' city officials point to the dangers of weedbeds as homes for insects and rodents, and in some cases obstruction to traffic.
 Believe it or not, Stanton is suffering acutely with the rank weed situation. A facsimile one to the situation Stanton finds itself figuring out a plan to eradicate the weed menace.

Touch Of Fall, Open Weather Speed Harvesting Of Crops

A touch of fall and a week of open weather sped harvesting of crops in Texas.

Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and several district agents reported a need for moisture to mature growing crops and to keep range vegetation producing.

The upper coastal area speeded the cotton harvest. The rice harvest is continuing rapidly and corn picking is increasing. Some hay is being baled. Cattle were in fair to good condition.

In South Texas, cotton, corn and hay harvests were delayed by rain. Ranges are in excellent condition and land is being prepared. Conditions are good for fall vegetable planting.

Showers along the coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley have also delayed the finishing of the cotton harvest. The Winter Garden area needs moisture. Ranges are generally in good condition and vegetables are doing good. Some fat calves are being shipped.

Sunshine was welcomed by East Texas farmers and they made rapid progress in harvesting excellent corn and hay crops and a fair cotton crop. Peanuts are looking better since the rains stopped. Cattle are in excellent condition. Some stocker calves are moving to market.

Moisture is very short in all northeast Texas. Moisture is needed for preparing seed beds. Sweet potatoes are being dug and prices are good. About 20 per cent of the district's cotton is harvested with yields low but staple good. Army worms are causing damage in spots.

In North Central Texas, ideal weather was aiding the cotton harvest and pushing the grain sorghum harvest to completion. Seed bed preparation is underway. Livestock were in fair condition.

Moisture is inadequate in Central Texas. The cotton harvest is making satisfactory progress but root rot cut yields. The harvest of a light corn crop is in full swing and some dry planting of fall grain has started.

Peanuts made some progress but rain is needed to mature the crop. Pastures are dry and grass fires are being reported but livestock continue to do good.

Livestock conditions are good and the lamb movement is heavy around San Angelo. Range conditions over West Central Texas were excellent but grass needs moisture. The harvesting of cotton and sorghums is well underway with good yields and conditions.

The cotton harvest is underway with good yields in far West Texas. Range conditions are good. The delivery of feeder calves is on. The sorghum harvest is in full swing and livestock are in good condition.

Cotton in the southern counties of the South Plains is maturing rapidly. The sorghum harvest is picking up steam. A good general rain would benefit this dryland area but yield prospects for cotton and sorghum are favorable. Ranges are in good condition. The tomato harvest is underway and some wheat is being planted. Prospects for late cotton and sorghums are excellent, barring early frost.

This Week In Washington

With CLINTON DAVIDSON
Big Government

How much do you want from government in Washington, and how much are you willing to pay? Consider that question carefully when you listen to campaign speeches about what the candidates promise to do "for" you if they are elected. Remember, it will be you, not they, who will pay the bill. Don't be misled by glowing accounts of "help from Washington," assuming that it will be free, that someone else will pay the bill in higher taxes. There are really hundreds of hidden taxes you pay and never know about.

A big corporation, for example, will pay a part of the increased tax burden, but you will foot the bill by paying higher prices for the things you buy. Most Federal taxes are hidden, but you pay them at the same.

Growing Washington Power
Before we ask for, or vote for, more assistance from Washington, we should consider that we are creating a more and more powerful central government and removing control of government farther and farther away from us.

Concentration of power over taxation, spending and law-making in a central government has preceded the collapse of democratic governments for almost 2,000 years. We should heed that warning.

A report published in the Congressional Record shows the growth of Washington bureaucracy. The United States government is the biggest business in the world, with assets valued at over two thousand billion dollars. It has a debt amounting to almost three hundred billion dollars.

The Federal agencies — Interior Department and the Forest Service — own and operate more than 40% of all the land in the Nation. There are dozens of other agencies with smaller land holdings.

The Federal government operates more than 800 corporate activities that, as the Record reports, "ride the backs of the American people as interest free, dividend free, rent free, cost free, tax free competitors of taxing producers and consumers."

Cost of Government
In 1958, when the first U. S. Code, a compilation of Federal laws, was published it was all in one volume. The last publication fills 11 volumes of 900 pages each.

In that same year, 1958, Federal budgetary expenditures totalled $2.8 billion. This year it will be $78.3 billion, an increase of almost 3000%.

That gives you some idea of the enormous power of the Federal government in the economic life of our country at the present time.

How much does that cost you? In 1958 a man with two children earning $5000 a year and taking standard deductions paid a Federal income tax of only $7. The tax table for 1960 lists him for a tax of $416, an increase of nearly 600% in 34 years. Other, hidden taxes, have increased proportionately.

Those are some of the things to think about when we ask for more help from Washington.

P.T.A.'s Seek New Members In The U.S. — And Overseas

When in Rome—or Oslo or Athens, Fontainebleau or Karlsruhe, Addis Ababa or Reykjavik — American parents and teachers do just about as they do at home: they form a P.T.A.

More than 42,000 P.T.A. members in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers this fall will join in the annual October Membership Month of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Like their nearly 12 million counterparts on U.S. soil, these P.T.A. members who live overseas—from Iceland to the Middle East, most of them on American military bases—will encourage others to "serve where you are: join the P.T.A."

Serving the welfare of American children, wherever they are growing up, is the primary object of the National Congress. It has brought the P.T.A. into many areas of activity during its 63-year history. Since formation of the European branch in 1958, these activities have taken on new flavor.

A European program of scholarships, similar to those provided by many state congresses in the United States, this year awarded $500 against tuition to American college-bound seventh students; they were graduates of American overseas schools in Nouasseur, Morocco; Slatgart, Berlin, Biltburg, and Heidelberg, Germany; and Viena, Italy.

Concerned, like other P.T.A.'s, with the interests of mentally and physically handicapped children, the European Congress has initiated a program of special class instruction for these youngsters, providing the funds for additional teacher assistants, helpers, and materials to be used in some 20 schools.

Foreign language education, a natural interest for children whose parents are assigned overseas, has been a major interest of P.T.A.'s in the European Congress. In Air Force schools, extending from Oslo to Libya and from the British Isles to Saudi Arabia, children in grades 3 through 8 are taking classes in foreign language this year.

Adult education programs of the P.T.A., which in the U.S.

The midst of Europe's Bavarian Alps—it's a P.T.A. meeting. Mrs. James C. Parker, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, confers with Fred L. Miller, coordinator for P.T.A.'s in the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers, during conference in Berchtesgaden, Germany. Some 140 parent-teacher associations in Europe, Northern Africa, and the Middle East will join this fall in programs to enroll more than 12,000,000 parents, teachers, and friends of children as P.T.A. members.

usually take the form of study-discussion groups, may become adult self-education in overseas areas, where American military, government or civilian members of P.T.A.'s take advantage of opportunities for learning the language of the country and for studying its cultural assets.

As these P.T.A. members, both teachers and parents, return from overseas assignments, they bring broader understanding of other countries to their state-side colleagues.

"This is one great contribution our European members can make," says Mrs. James C. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., president of the National Congress, who acted as a consultant to the European Congress when she attended their convention last April.

"Overseas P.T.A.'s," she points out, "bring to American boys and girls living in other parts of the world some of the home and school experiences they would be enjoying if they lived in the United States."

"The richest result is the relationship between parents and teachers; there is a closer relationship in a foreign environment because they have so many unusual experiences in common."

The National Congress has always recognized, she says, "that great differences exist among the states and communities"—and still greater ones in overseas communities. But the National Congress program "always allows abundant room for choice" of projects for local P.T.A.'s, serving "as a bank or library of ideas from which the local unit draws to suit its needs."

In its membership programs this October, the P.T.A. card will become "a passport to the best society on earth," says Mrs. Parker. "An organization working in hundreds of ways to create a better world, working for the welfare of all children—for the handicapped, the gifted, the migrant, the delinquent, the average, for all children whether they live in cities, suburbs, rural areas, or on military bases abroad—an organization that cares about the homes children live in, the schools they are taught in, and the neighborhoods they grow up in."

"Learn from the mistakes of others—you won't live long enough to make them all yourself."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MARTIN-HOWARD SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw, J. D. Crawford.

Now that summer is almost gone and winter isn't too far away, it is time to be drilling winter cover crops to protect your land from wind and water erosion. Some farmers and ranchers who have already planted winter cover crops include K. F. Campbell, Wesley Williams, Woody brothers, R. S. Higgins, Hugh Foster, A. G. Donelson and Edward Smith.

"Neither children nor adults seek to preserve that which they do not understand or appreciate."

—Clyde Hissong, Director, Ohio State Department of Education.

Now that grain sorghum harvest is getting into full swing, let's stop and think about the stubble that is left. Should it be turned under so that it can be quickly decomposed and forgotten about and the soil left exposed to wind and water? A better way to use feed stubbles is to leave it on top of the soil to protect that soil from blowing and washing. Fine textured soils need about 1,000 pounds per acre of crop residues on the soil surface throughout the winter and early spring. Medium textured soils need about 1,750 pounds of residues per acre and coarse textured soils need about 2,500 pounds of residues per acre on the soil surface to protect the land. If sufficient residues are not present, tillage operations should be used to supplement the residues that are present.

The terracing season is just ahead. Most farms with medium and fine textured soils need terraces in their conservation program. Normal rainfall will produce good crops if kept on the land where it falls. Level, closed end terraces will keep the water on the land where it falls so that it will be available for crop production, and will stop water erosion.

By NEAL ESTES

TO KNOW HOW TO WAIT IS THE GREAT SECRET OF SUCCESS.

—DE MAISTRE.

It is the belief of some of us that there is no road too long to the one who advances deliberately and without undue haste; there are no goals too distant to the one who prepares for them with patience. Real blessings often appear to us in the shape of pains, losses and disappointments; but let us have patience, and we shall soon see them in their proper focus.

CLABE APPLIGATE is a country editor in East Texas. He is a good friend of ours and is a very devout member of the Baptist Church. Here's how editor APPLIGATE saw the light last Sunday. In his own words, he said: "I had what you might call a religious experience Sunday. I played hookey from Sunday School class and along about class time an electric storm arose. A loud clap of thunder just about lifted me out of my chair as I sat at my typewriter. I looked out a window and a puff of blue smoke floated by. Lightning had struck a tall pine just about 30 feet from the corner of the house and after peeling off a spiral of bark, sank a fair-sized hole in the ground at the base of the tree. . . . I was early at church that night."

Many compliments poured into the office following publication in the last issue of THE COMMUNITY CALENDAR. This feature will appear weekly and will be added to as club reporters and other representatives of organizations get their dates listed. We are especially appreciative of the words of MRS. H. M. McREYNOLDS, wife of our efficient CHAMBER OF COMMERCE manager. She said: "The addition of the calendar is indeed a worthwhile community service."

Your writer had a nice letter from MRS. ROY GOSSETT, the former GLORIA REID, daughter of MR. and MRS. JULIE REID the past week. MRS. GOSSETT wrote: "I look forward eagerly each week to my copy of the THE STANTON REPORTER. Having lived in Stanton eight years before I married and moved to Sweetwater, I find the paper full of remembrances of friends and acquaintances."

Congratulations go this week to MR. and Mrs. RAYMOND L. STRAUB upon the arrival of a fine son. Their young heir arrived on September 20 and tipped the scales at seven and one-half pounds. When your writer talked with RAYMOND about seven-thirty Tuesday evening a name had not been selected for the lad.

The Junior varsity team will play Rankin at Rankin tonight. These youngsters are the boys who will wear the colors of Stanton High tomorrow. If you can possibly attend the game go down and help the players with your backing and support.

Stanton is proud of its churches. Attend the church of your choice Sunday.
