Bond Election Slated Saturday

THIS COLUMN BARELY EDGED his way under the wire in time to announce his approval of the city's $90,000 bond issue. The election is called for October 22 and this issue of The Stanton Reporter bears the date line October 20—a near miss.

One needs not to point out the dips and pockmarks existing in our streets and alleys — they stick out like a sore thumb all over town. The city had come to the end of its rope — financially. To carry on a program of paving streets and otherwise up the town a bit it will take money. The deplorable condition of the town in general, one can say something had to be done to save the remnants. The city planned a way of carrying on a face-lifting program. A plan that once more the citizens would enjoy living in a town of thrift and industry. They have called on the voters of the city of Stanton to help them solve the dilemma. They have proposed a $90,000 bond issue. Of this amount $60,000 to be invested in a paving program, and $30,000 to do repair work on a seriously rundown waterworks system. This one project is more important than paving. A waterworks system governs the control of pumping water for our citizens, providing water for fire protection, sprinkling lawns, water for house-

Newspaper Week Salute Given In Message By Ike

President Dwight D. Eisenhower saluted the nation's newspapers this week as National Newspaper Week officially opened.

In a special message Eisenhower said it is a privilege to join the annual observance of the National Newspaper Week.

"Your Newspaper — 'Freedom's Guardian' is a timely theme for 1960. This is the year of our national elections, and it is a year of great decisions in lands around the world," he said.

"In our newspapers we expect to find an accurate responsible and lively source of public information. We live in an 'open society' and by reporting the news our reporters help to keep it open.

"At the same time we live in a threatening world where news can be distorted and exploited by the enemies of freedom. So for freedom's sake our newspapers too, must be zealously guarded by the sentinels of truth and vigilance."

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, the newspapers of the nation during the week of October 15-21, 1960, will observe National Newspaper week, with the theme "YOUR NEWSPAPER—FREEDOM'S GUARDIAN" and,

WHEREAS, this theme particularly is appropriate during the year of a great national election in our nation and during world-wide political upheaval which is serving as a cloak for the enemies of democracy to seize control of the press and subsequently the minds of their fellowmen, and

WHEREAS, our newspapers are a potent force in bringing about desired civic improvements in our cities because of enlightened public opinion shaped and nurtured by the free American press, and

WHEREAS, our nation's business system, built on moving goods from the shelf or showroom to the consumer, benefits largely because our newspapers help by their advertising columns to move goods, thus creating jobs and helping to build prosperity for Americans, and

WHEREAS, there is tremendous emphasis on youth today, both at home and abroad, and one of the greatest heritages we can give our youth is a free press which will keep their government free and their lives free.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, S. W. WHEELER, mayor, Stanton, do hereby proclaim the week of October 15 to 21, 1960, as NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK in the city of Stanton and urge all citizens to take time to reflect upon the theme "YOUR NEWSPAPER—FREEDOM'S GUARDIAN" with special attention to the need in the world today for uncensored channels of information which will help to dispel suspicion and distrust among men.

(Signed)

Mayor of Stanton, Texas.

Taxpayers Eligible To Mark Ballots

Qualified voters will visit city hall Saturday, October 22, to cast a vote for or against a two-section bond issue.

The entire amount the city council has submitted for the taxpayers consideration totals only $90,000. Thirty thousand has been earmarked for waterworks improvements and $60,000 will be applied to paying in the corporate limits if the issue passes.

It is a known and accepted fact that no tax increase will be necessary if the bonds get an affirmative vote. The city has just recently passed through a property equalization program and it will not be necessary to raise taxes to retire this proposed bond issue.

The proposed bonds will run 21 years and the interest rate will run somewhere between four and four and one-half per cent. The proposed budget for the coming year shows a balance of about $18,000 in tax fund from which these bonds will be paid. Total obligation added against the city in proposed bonds will be about $7,000 annually including the interest.

Valuations in Stanton in 1959 amounted to $2,157,370. Today the valuations total $3,169,170.

A tax rate of $1.50 for all cities in Texas under the general laws of the state under 5,000 population of course prevails in Stanton. Each city may use up to $1 for bond payment purposes. If the proposed $90,000 is voted, the City of Stanton, will be using fifty cents at 90% tax collections for all general obligation bond payments annually.

Stanton Scampers In Third For Win

Halfback Tommy Newman sparked Stanton's Buffaloes to a 28-6 District 3-AA opening football victory over the Post Antelopes here Friday night before a crowd of approximately 1,200.

Newman scored 14 of Stanton's 27 points to raise the Buffs' win total to four.

The Buffaloes, leading 8-6 at the half, made their way, with the help of sparkling passes, good runs and recovered fumbles, to paydirt three more times in the third period to hand the Antelopes their seventh defeat.

Newman scored in the first quarter on a 56-yard run, following an Antelope fumble which was recovered by Sammy Webb, Jimmy Sale ran the conversion for two points. Antelope Wendell Duncan slammed across from the 20, three minutes deep in the second quarter, after a fumble recovery by Tommy Boucher set up the score. Jimmy Minor failed to convert and the six points turned out to be Post's only apple from the scoring barrel.

The third quarter also saw Buff Reddy Church score from the 19. Newman again from the Post 45 and Koonce from the 12.

One of three third-quarter extra point tries was successful when Newman ran over for two after Church's

TD. Sale failed to run the conversion for Newman's score and a Church pass attempt failed after Koonce's touchdown.

Stanton's speedy starting end Herb Sorley, a star in this and previous games, was lost temporarily to the Buffs after he was injured in a late second-quarter pile up when he intercepted an Antelope pass. He was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital with a severely sprained lower vertebra, but his condition was listed as "good" Saturday morning by hospital authorities.

Civic Clubs In Stanton Hear History Of WTCC

The story of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was discussed by Bill Collins, editor of the Midland Reporter-Telegram, at a joint meeting of Stanton civic clubs held Monday night in the fellowship room of the First Methodist Church here.

Collins, district vice president of the WTCC, was introduced by Cecil Bridges, Stanton's director in the regional chamber of commerce and governor of District 2-A-1, Lions International.

"The West Texas Chamber of Commerce — What It Is and How It Functions" was the speaker's subject.

Groups represented at the meeting were the Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Rotary Club, and Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Roy Crim, C. of C. president, presided. Presidents of the other groups are George Shelburne, Rotary Club; Jimmy Stallings, Lions Club, and Gene Perry, Jaycees.

Following Collins' talk, Mayor Stanley Wheeler explained the city's proposed $90,000 bond election, to be voted upon Saturday. He urged approval of the improvement program.

Two propositions will be submitted to the voters: (1) $60,000 for street improvements, and (2) $30,000 for waterworks system improvements. The city's financial standing and long-range plans were mentioned briefly by the mayor.

Collins, in his message, traced the history of the 41-year West Texas Chamber of Commerce, citing some of its many and varied achievements through the years. He termed its program dynamic and essential to the continued growth and development of West Texas. Year after year, since 1919, the organization has worked diligently for the economic betterment of the 132-county area it serves, the speaker said.

Work of the WTCC always has been emphasized in the fields of greatest need at a given time, he explained further.

The operation of the regional organization also was described, and its officers and staff members listed. Six major action committees en-

Bisons Rest Before D-City

The date for the Denver City-Stanton football game has been announced as October 28 in Denver City. And you can bet your bottom dollar that the Bisons will be on the field, kicking up their heels and ready for competition on the evening of the contest.

Opponents haven't been able to scare a single victory out of the local eleven — Denver City won't do it either. Of course, the Buffs know they are going to be called upon to face a fierce foe but they are equally confident that they are ready and willing to take up the cudgel of battle.

The Buffaloes take a week off and will not see action this Friday. They can use the added rest for the injury to Herb Sorley and other minor injuries reported in the local football camp will have time to mend.

Right now, and we should not forget it — Stanton is tied at the top of the district race with Denver City. Stanton won the place in the victory column by thumping Post 28-7 in the conference opener here last Friday evening. Denver City rolled over Stanton 90-6.

Heavy Rains Fall In County

Heavy thundershowers swept Martin County three times during as many days and caused rainfall totals to range from 2.30 inches to four inches.

The rain stopped in the area Tuesday night and a blast of cold air covered the country-side Wednesday morning. In the Flower Grove sector, one cotton farmer reported a downfall of more than five inches. Inside Stanton, the rainfall ranged from 2.40 inches to 3.10 inches, most of it coming Monday and early Tuesday. The hardest rainfall was registered in Stanton at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday morning. For almost an hour the moisture poured from the clouds and the rain ceased just as suddenly as it started. Cloudy skies and light drizzle formed the weather pattern for the remainder of the day.

Gordon Stone reported two inches during the three-day rainfall at his place south of Stanton.

Say Yes To Bonds

In a few short hours a part of the destiny of Stanton will be determined.

An affirmative vote Saturday for the improvement bonds will be the way we adults have in telling our children that better days are on the way—that their parents have faith in the future. A negative vote will be disastrous and will tell the generation of tomorrow that the town must stand still. It will be the signal to call out a painting crew to make the letters "a few old soreheads" stand out bolder above the assets listed on the famous slogan appearing on sign boards travelers view when they come into our city.

Let's say YES to the bonds!

Recent guests with Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Pointer and family were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bell and sons of Cross Plains, Mrs. Eleanor Nigar of Cross Plains, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Grisham of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Paige Eiland and Mrs. Guy Eiland attended the Texas Tech-Baylor football game.

Philosopher Wants World To Keep Production Costs Up On Bombs, Same As Tractors

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw seems to be worried about deflation in the bomb market, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

When I turn on a hydrant and see running water, I sometimes think science is man's greatest benefactor, but when I pick up a newspaper, I sometimes think it's his worst enemy.

For example, I read in a newspaper last night that science has now discovered a cheap way to produce a nuclear bomb.

Before I go any further, I don't know whether you're in the habit of shifting gears in your mind when you get up on the international level or not, but it's necessary to follow a discussion of this type, and I will appreciate it if you'll stop and do it.

That is, take the word "cheap." If you're in low or ordinary gear, cheap means cheap, like low-priced automobiles before they became high-priced, or a $40 suit marked up to $50 and then marked down to $39.50, but in international, or high-gear thinking, cheap means something else. The first atomic bomb cost, I think, better than a billion dollars, but this new method science has developed can produce one for around 50 million dollars. I'm not trying to be funny, that is comparatively cheap.

At any rate, if a nuclear bomb can now be made for 50 million dollars, the experts figure at least 20 other nations beside the three or four that now have it can soon have the bomb too.

This is the reason I say scientists seem to have as their goal working themselves out of a job, because I can name some of these 20 nations it's going to be highly unhealthy to let have the bomb.

You take Cuba. If all that's standing between Castro and a hydrogen bomb is 50 million dollars, he can make that much just by getting on television one afternoon and taking over a few more American businesses over there. In fact, I guess you'd say Castro is the highest paid television performer in the history of the industry. I understand some American television stars make a million dollars for 32 shows a year, but Castro can make 50 times that much the first 30 minutes he's on the air. Ask any American who's lost a refinery over there. And he sometimes speaks for four or five hours.

Now I don't trust Castro with a B-B gun and bag of chicken feathers, not to mention Castro with three or four hydrogen bombs and three or four planes and enough gasoline to fly to you know where.

If scientists were smart, they'd make hydrogen bombs more and more expensive to make, like tractors. What's got into em, anyway?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Readers Find All Of Life's Emotions In Book Of Psalms

Only as one reads the Book of Psalms as a whole can one grasp the depth and immensity of its exploitation of every mood and emotion of the human soul.

Here are souls in the very heights of exultation and religious ecstasy, dwelling on the mountains with the clear view of God, and the full inspiration of His presence.

But, here are souls, also crying out of the depths of despair, and finding light in the valley of darkness. Here is realism in the face of suffering and persecutions and the designs and hatred of enemies.

Here, too, is the voice of friendship and fellowship, the pilgrim songs of those who through life are journeying and worshipping together. Nothing in the whole range of human emotions — doubts, fears, inspirations and ecstasies — is left out of the Book of Psalms. All of life's experiences from the cradle to the grave are here.

Here, in addition to the exploration of the heart of man and the visions of the glory of God are the observations and reflections of inspired poets near to every phase of nature.

Feet with eyes lifted to the hills, meditating in green pastures, and beside still waters or in angry storms — all are seen in the Book of Psalms.

And each of us may have it as his, or her, book of devotion.

But if one is to read the Psalms, one must read them as a whole to grasp their nature and significance in the faith, worship and life of ancient Israel, and their places and effect in relations to religious life in general.

Highway Patrol Releases Report For Area

During the first nine months of the year, 102 persons lost their lives in traffic mishaps on roads and highways of the 24-county Midland district of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Martin County is a part of the district. One death was reported for Martin County in September.

This is an increase of 11 fatalities over the same nine months of 1959.

Figures for the period were released this week by Capt. Ray B. Butler, commander of the area.

The report showed Ector County had 24 fatalities during the first three-quarters of the year — to lead other counties in number of persons killed.

El Paso County had 13 fatalities; Ward County nine; Reeves County, eight; and Midland County, seven.

Fatal accidents in the district so far this year, are above the total for 1959, the report pointed out.

There were 68 fatal crashes this year, in which the 102 persons have been killed, while last year at this time 91 persons had died in 77 fatal mishaps.

During September Captain Butler said six persons died of traffic injuries in the 24-county district, while property damage due to accidents last month ran to $117,356.

Eighty-two persons were injured during the month in 130 rural traffic crashes.

Hudspeth and Ector Counties each recorded two deaths. Martin and Reeves Counties each had one death; making a total of six traffic deaths during the month.

"The fact that only six traffic deaths occurred in the district during September, as compared to 22 deaths in August," Butler said, "indicates our motorists are assisting in helping reduce the toll."

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Stovall spent the weekend in Midland visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Irving Currie.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

Though the legislators are still home, shots already are whizzing in the battle over how to raise more state revenue in 1961.

When the lawmakers arrive in January, they will have a hard time finding a road to new money that hasn't been land-mined and strewn with barbed wire by some group that opposes that course.

Advance studies indicate the need for as much as $100,000,000 a year in new taxes.

Business groups, who have been holding meetings for the state, have come out flatly for a retail sales tax. They contend that to meet its needs, present and future, Texas must have a broad-based, spread-thin tax that will grow with the economy.

Representatives of organized labor, strongly opposed to a sales tax, fired back. Labor has endorsed the idea of a broad-based, "growth" tax, but insists it should be an income tax, on corporations and individuals.

Governor Daniel has voiced opposition to both sales and income taxes. Many legislators were elected on platforms opposing both.

Only other likely courses would be to raise taxes that already exist, or vote taxes previously rejected. But these roads also are blocked by groups ready to defend to the last.

On such a battlefield, lawmakers might be tempted to retreat—except that this course is cut off too by supporters of better colleges, teacher raises, medical payments for the aged—all of which will require more money.

U. OF HOUSTON AID APPROVED — Commission on Higher Education recommended that the University of Houston be added to the state college system if it wouldn't cut in funds needed by the 19 already existing state colleges.

Final decision can be made only by the Legislature.

A Commission study indicated the University of Houston would cost the state approximately $4,000,000 a year more from the general revenue fund.

It has a 22-acre campus and a plant valued at $22,000,000. Enrollment for this year is 11,500, second only to the University of Texas with 19,000.

Commission emphasized that adding the Houston school should be conditioned on providing adequate financial support to existing state schools. Commission is tentatively recommending an appropriation of $69,350,000 for higher education in 1962. University of Houston's needs would be in addition to this, meaning more money-raising problems for the Legislature.

AUTO INSURANCE PLAN REVISED — State Board of Insurance has removed certain driving violations, mostly minor, from the list of those incurring penalties under the state's merit rating plan for auto accident insurance.

Board members disagreed among themselves over whether to retain the present plan or abolish it and let companies set up merit rating on an individual basis. Board Chairman Penn J. Jackson favored the individual plan but was voted down by members Robert W. Strain and Ned Price.

Removed from the list of driving offenses which cause the driver to have to pay higher accident insurance rates were such offenses as fraudulent use of drivers license, mental incompetence, physical incapability, driving on the wrong side of the street, going the wrong way on a one-way street, blocking traffic, illegal backing, improper signals, etc.

Points still to be assessed against the driver for such violations as speeding, running red lights or stop signs, illegal turns, negligent collision, illegal passing, failure to have drivers license, whether involved in an accident or not.

Changes go into effect January 1. BOWLING TAX OPINION — A big bowling alley costs less than a tiny one, state tax-wise.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the operator of a regular bowling alley should pay only the $10 occupational tax, but that owners of coin-operated miniature bowling machines must buy a $60 license for each machine.

Two machines joined together cannot get by on the same license, said Wilson in the same opinion, given at the request of State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Only service machines are tax exempt, said Wilson.

TOURIST BOOKLET DUE—Texas Highway Department expects to have a new 32-page booklet designed to attract tourists to Texas ready for distribution by the end of this month.

It will be the first booklet of its type paid for with state funds. It will have 76 color pictures to show people why they should spend some time — and money — in Texas.

Texas' tourist industry, an important source of revenue to the economy and the state treasury, has been slipping in the past few years. Competition of other states is blamed for the drop from 10,300,000 visitors spending $531,000,000 in 1957 to 9,600,000 spending only $431,000,000 last year.

First printing of the new brochure is 400,000. It will give the Highway Department something to send to the 200,000 potential tourists who write in each year—plus extras with which to prod new interests.

TIDELANDS LEASING ANNOUNCED — School Land Board will start offering oil and gas leases in the Texas tidelands at its sale December 6.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson announced that the U. S. Supreme Court decision recognizing state ownership of the tidelands for three leagues (approximately 10 miles) had been made final.

This clears the way for the state to begin realizing revenue from them, said Wilson.

SHELTER POSSIBILITIES EXPLORED — Core tests reveal that the area underneath the state Capitol building is almost solid rock for 80 feet down.

This indicates a favorable fall-out shelter for essential government services in wartime, says Rep. Charles Sandahl of Austin.

Sandahl has proposed building such an underground shelter to be used for parking space in peacetime. State Building Commission ordered the soil test to get an idea of whether such a project could be done and to arrive at a cost estimate.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cates have returned home from a week's visit in Mt. Vernon, Mt. Pleasant and Gilmer. His father, John Cates, underwent surgery in a Mt. Pleasant hospital.

Quail Season Modified For Several Areas

The quail season in a number of Texas counties under regulatory control has been modified by the Game and Fish Commission, according to W. J. Cutbirth Jr., assistant executive secretary.

Biologists reported an "abnormal" quail year throughout the state, with a spotted population. Generally, however, the season was liberalized in those counties not under general laws.

In the Possum Kingdom area the new season will be from November 24 through January 20. The daily bag limit will remain at 15 and 45 in possession. Quail numbers in this area are much higher this year, according to the biologists. However, the food supply is short and a carry-over loss can be expected after bad weather sets in.

In the Trinity-Brazos regulatory area the quail season was set at December 1 through January 31. The bag limit here will be 12 per day and 36 in possession.

In the Trans-Pecos area the season will open November 1 and close December 31. Crockett County has been added to the Trans-Pecos area this season.

In the Panhandle area the season will be December 1 through January 16, with the bag limit of 12 and 36 in possession.

No changes were made in either the Northwest Texas or the Southeast Texas areas, where the season will be from December 1 through January 16, with the bag limit of 12 and 36. In South Central Texas the season will open December 1, and close January 16, except in Dimmit and Zavala counties where the season will be November 1-December 31, inclusive. All other counties of Texas are under the general laws, to run from December 1 to January 16, except in a few counties where special laws apply.

Visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards have been Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Edwards of Hobbs, N. M., who visited here Friday and Donald Edwards of Kermit who visited here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Baugh and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gilmore were in Bronte Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hughes. The Baughs remained for a longer visit.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MARTIN-HOWARD SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT
Jack Buchanan, Bob Cox, Bernard Houston, Larry Shaw, J. D. Crawford.

It will soon be time to run those terraces and contour lines you need. Terraces are recommended only for land that is in cultivation. In some cases they may be applicable on pastureland suitable for cultivation, if there is a probability that it will be cultivated at times in the regular rotation on the farm.

Terraces will not only protect and conserve your soil and water but will prevent damaging runoff on your neighbor.

Other structures which may be constructed are diversion terraces and net wire diversions. These structures will divert and spread runoff water and prevent soil erosion.

"Soil erosion in the United States is at least as old as the nation. Washington, Jefferson and other early leaders recognized the danger. Patrick Henry said: 'He is the greatest patriot, who stops the most gullies.'"

"No one can afford soil erosion."

REMEMBER: There is no substitute for a good cover of growing crops or crop residues. Keep the land covered all year.

Raindrops can hit the ground running if they fall into a good pasture sod.

Record Crops Seen By Agency

The Agriculture Department said weather in September was favorable for maturing of crops and record farm production.

The crop volume is expected to exceed last year's record by around 2.5 per cent and the production of livestock and livestock products should equal, if not exceed, last year's record.

In its October crop report, the department said a near frostless September allowed late crops to gain needed maturity. Likewise, good weather in the South and along the Atlantic coast, following the September hurricanes, were said to have minimized crop losses.

Crop Harvest Slowed Again As Rains Hit

Scattered showers continued to delay harvesting but were welcomed by ranchmen. Wide areas of Texas still need rain, said Director John E. Hutchison, Agricultural Extension Service, this week.

The grain sorghum harvest has advanced into the Panhandle and is 85 to 90 per cent complete as far north and west as the Rolling Plains. Cotton harvest in the eastern two-thirds of the state generally made good progress and is past the halfway mark. Good weather in the south part of the South Plains also saw much cotton coming from the fields and aided in the maturity of crops farther north.

Pastures along the coast in far South Texas were aided by scattered showers but all other counties are dry. Fall and winter vegetables are doing well. Shipments of citrus are picking up. Some cabbage, egg plants, and peppers have been shipped.

Moisture is needed in South Central Texas for small grain, flax and legume planting. Some late rice and cotton was being harvested.

Heavy showers delayed harvesting and field work in some areas of the upper coastal area. The cotton harvest is 50 to 90 per cent complete. Some rice is still in the field. The peanut harvest is progressing and hay making continues.

In Central Texas moisture is generally on the short side. Approximately 75 per cent of the cotton is harvested, the peanut harvest is beginning to move. Early planted fall grain is up, seeding is continuing.

The cotton harvest is about half over in Central West Texas. Peanut and pecan harvests are under way. Small grain is being planted.

Livestock are holding up well in far West Texas. Irrigated small grain will soon be providing grazing. The cotton harvest is in full swing with good yields and grades reported. Pecan harvesting is heavy in Edwards, Kinney and Val Verde counties but yields are only fair.

Moisture is now sufficient in Northeast Texas where farmers are preparing for winter legume planting. Most fall grains in the area have been planted and fertilized. The harvesting of cotton, corn, peanuts, sweet potatoes and grain sorghums is continuing.

The cotton harvest in North Central Texas is nearing completion and much small grain, is being planted. Wheat planting is about complete in the Panhandle where the grain sorghum harvest is beginning.

Job Situation Has An Improved Look

Both employment and unemployment declined in September in an improving national job situation attributed mainly to seasonal factors.

Both employment and unemployment were affected by the return of young workers to their classrooms from temporary summer jobs. Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor for manpower problems, said the latest job figures show employment is continuing at a relatively high level.

But he said unemployment also is remaining at a high point "that is far from satisfactory by any standard."

The Labor Department reported that employment dropped from 68,282,000 in August to 67,767,000 in September. The 515,000 reduction still left the September job total at a record for the month. Normally a post summer drop of about 750,000 is expected in the employment count.

The department said unemployment dropped from 3,788,000 in August to 3,388,000 in September, a reduction of 400,000. Normally unemployment is expected to decline by 500,000 in September.

The seasonally adjusted rate of unemployment to the total work force declined from 5.9 per cent to 5.7 per cent. The department said an earlier-than-usual model change-over in the auto industry exaggerated the August rise in this rate as well as the September decline.

The idle rate of 5.7 per cent is about the same as a year ago during the steel strike, and higher than any month this year except August.

Night Hunters Pay Big Fines For Two Deer

Two deer hunters in Comal County last week learned it doesn't pay to headlight deer. They were caught by the game warden with two buck deer already skinned out, a headlight and two scope equipped rifles.

They lost the meat, the guns and the equipment, and paid fines of $230 each.

A warning was issued this week by J. B. Phillips, assistant director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission, against headlights shooting, hunting from automobiles and roadside shooting.

"Game wardens are working day and night right now watching out for these game violators," Captain Phillips said. "Sometimes they are given valuable tips by law-abiding persons. Most of the time, however, they happen on these violators while patrolling back roads."

Valuable assistance also is given to wardens by other peace officers. Very frequently sheriffs' deputies, highway patrolmen and even city policemen apprehend violators with game in their cars. They immediately radio the game wardens who make the case. Fines are then assessed in court.

Joetta Franklin, a freshman student at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, visited over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Franklin and Terry.

Texas Newspaper Week Proclaimed

Gov. Price Daniel has designated October 15-21 as newspaper week in Texas.

"The free flow of information to the public is essential to the preservation of our American way of life, yet this privilege is too often taken for granted by a people accustomed to individual freedom," the Texas governor said.

"Our free American press stands today not only as the guardian of our freedom, but also as a shield against our own complacency and indifference."

"Texas newspapers and newspapermen have consistently shown recognition of the great obligations and responsibilities which go with freedom of the press."

A FEW DAYS OVER A WEEK REMAINS until General Election November 8. The Presidential candidates representing the Democrats and Republicans are the chief targets to blaze away on to decide the standardbearers who will lead them as a Democratic or Republican President of the United States. Disappointment will creep in on either party who will be the loser. As in all elections, we will have with us the voter who says, "I told you so," when counting on his candidate to win and he loses.

The wise thing to do is adopt the old saying "one can't tell how a woman will decide, a horse race will come out, or a jury will render its verdict."

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

I HAVE BUT ONE LAMP BY WHICH MY FEET ARE GUIDED, AND THAT IS THE LAMP OF EXPERIENCE.

—PATRICK HENRY.

The quotation above may be foreign to our thoughts of the bond issue to be voted on Saturday, October 22. But we know, as PATRICK HENRY knew, if the issue is defeated our community will continue in the ruts of non-progress and our economic life will start showing signs of decay. LET'S VOTE THE BOND ISSUE SATURDAY!

Friends of JIM KELLY will be delighted to learn that doctors have advised his granddaughter, FRANCHELLE MOORE, that the veteran editor will not have to undergo surgery. KELLY'S condition has been described as a heart disturbance. If he continues to improve he will be able to be home from MEDICAL ARTS HOSPITAL in Big Spring in a couple of days.

We talked with MRS. TOM HOUSTON briefly Wednesday morning while she was in STANTON DRUG to pick up a prescription for her husband. MRS. HOUSTON advised that TOM was improving following burns received in a fire which destroyed the family home Friday. She also said that a new house would be erected on the same homestead.

Editor BILL COLLYNS of Midland was over for a speaking engagement before four civic organizations here Monday night. We were unable to attend the affair because of personal illness and due to the illness of JIM KELLY. Friends advised us that COLLYNS was in fine fettle and made an impressive talk concerning WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE affairs. Editor COLLYNS is a long time worker for this great organization and is a widely known and admired Texas newspaperman.

Congratulations go to DR. and MRS. DOUGLAS M. AGEE this week. The new physician will be associated with the PHYSICIANS and SURGEONS HOSPITAL here. DR. AGEE'S parents are native Texans and his wife, ROSEMARY, is a native of Texas, having been born in Fort Worth. DR. LELAND B. NELSON and DR. J. M. SHY announced the association of the new doctor with the local hospital. DR. AGEE will do general practice.

MRS. E. E. OLIVER, a new employee at PHYSICIANS HOSPITAL was in our office this week. She brought down the hospital news for publication and also requested us to write a card of thanks for the fine display of goodwill by Stanton citizens who volunteered blood for transfusion purposes when her father underwent surgery here. MRS. OLIVER'S dad is doing nicely and members of her family from Baytown and Monahan are grateful to the people of Stanton who responded to the call for blood donations. We are glad to hear the kind remarks uttered by Mrs. OLIVER, and we like to live in a community that has always been known for its completely generous heart.

A very fine friend of ours—REV. CARROLL CHADWICK of Center, Texas, will be in Lubbock October 31-November 2 for the diamond anniversary meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. CARROLL is pastor of the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH in Center. We have known CARROLL, or BILL, as we used to call him on the football field years ago and mutual friends have advised us that he is a splendid preacher and the owner of a pleasant pulpit voice.

In signing off this week, we would like to leave with this thought: "IT'S NICE TO BE NICE."

Our Need of God

Lesson for October 23, 1960

MAN'S NEED of God is his highest dignity. This was the conclusion of a great thinker a century ago. But he was not alone in this discovery. Down through the generations, people high and low have found out that to need God is not a sign of shiftlessness and inferiority, but of dignity. The down-and-outs, the failures, the crippled in mind and spirit, these need God. But also the strong, the able, the wise, the genius—these also need God, and it does no damage to their self-respect to acknowledge this.

Dr. Foreman

"Reviving the Soul"
 Every one of the Psalms expresses some need of man for God. The 19th and 42nd Psalms are not peculiar in this respect. But the 19th contains three phrases, each one referring to God's law, and each expressing a distinct human need which God fulfills. The Christian will think: If all this comes to us in the Law, how much more in the Gospel!

The law of the Lord revives the soul. How weary we grow, how soon we faint! Where is the soul of man? Crushed and starved, beaten down by life's struggles and toils, half forgotten in the bitter competition of the week-days, on Saturday nights or on any night one is tempted to doubt whether one has a soul at all. If the willed spirit withers further, it will be very near death, indeed many a soul suffers from a kind of perpetual sleeping sickness. We need God to revive the dying soul.

"Making Wise the Simple"
 "If youth knew, if age could" is a short poetic form of a proverb. "Too soon old, too late smart." Knowledge can be absorbed by a bright ten-year-old. "Knowledge comes, but wisdom lingers." Wisdom is far more than knowledge, it is knowing what to do with knowledge, and how. Calculating machines have knowledge, of a sort, but no machine has wisdom. The greatest wisdom, said Socrates, is realizing how little one has.

The law of God, says the Psalmist, makes wise the simple. Knowledge is something we have to work for, to attain; wisdom is a gift, the true wisdom comes from God who gives to all "generously and without reproaching" as St. James says.

"Rejoicing the Heart"
 This world, said some one, is a comedy to those who think, a tragedy to those who feel. If the walls of a London street were all made transparent, wrote Chas. Dickens, who loved his city, and if we could see all the tragedies hidden by brick and stone and wood, the sight would be more than heart could endure. This is a tragic world, and all the joke-making (for indeed some things and people are funny) does not change the state of the world, nor of the heart. When a soul walks in darkness, it is no help to read that the stock market is going up, that spring will follow winter, that somewhere the sun is shining. The heart bowed down knows its own sorrow and a stranger does not intermeddle with his grief. Is it a loss of dignity to need comfort? If so we are a race without dignity. On the contrary, our need of God here as always is our highest dignity. God comes to man not to increase his sorrow but to wipe all tears away. God in his law, God in his Gospel, rejoices the heart.

Warning and Reward
 The inspired poet of Psalm 19 sums up in two words what God does for him: Warning and Reward (verse 11). How desperately we need these both! Again man's need of God is high dignity. The plants, the beasts, need no conscience, no warning voice. They cannot choose but do what they are destined to do. But man is free. He can and must make choices, he can make decisions which are tragically, eternally wrong. We need warning. If God did not warn us, it would be a sign he had cast us off. We need reward too. The poet does not say there is reward for the keeping of God's law; there is reward in the keeping; joy in sharing God's holy will.

By VERN SANFORD

When we look at some of the TV westerns we get the idea that most of our grandfathers were gun slingers.

However, today there are perhaps more gun slingers than there were in the Eighties. And the guns are faster.

Gunslinging is a fad now. Every town has one or more persons who stand for hours practicing the quick draw and twirling a revolver.

It has meant lots of business for the arms manufacturers, too. Colt, High-Standard, Ruger, Western and some others, all have come out with frontier models especially adapted to the quick-draw trade.

There are numerous quick draw clubs scattered over the country. San Antonio has a big one. It is composed primarily of business men who practice before an electric timer.

But that isn't the unusual thing. Their wives have formed a similar organization.

San Antonio now has a bunch of quick draw girls who can pull a single action from its holster and fan off a shot in about 1/30th of a second. That's fast work.

They shoot twice a month in the basement of the Tiner Sporting Goods Store, at a cutout known as Pistol Pete.

Some are working girls. Others are housewives and mothers. All of them are as serious about their shooting as the men, if not more so.

Sure, there have been accidents. Some of these fast draw people have been careless. Accidents are decreasing, however, because most of the fans are using more care.

Generally the practice shooting is done with 22 ammunition. Many of the guns now on the market are for 22 caliber. These include all the top brands.

There are many conversions. You can get inserts for the cylinder or a new cylinder for the 22 caliber to be used with the .38 special or the .45. These, however, are only good where you practice the quick draw and want to hear the reports. If you actually shoot at a mark, you need a barrel of the proper caliber.

Most of the quick draw work is done with the tied-down buscadero-type belt.

Philip Y. Hahn, president of the Crosman Arms Co. has produced a gas-operated single action revolver, especially for the quick-draw enthusiasts. This CO2 pistol is made exactly like the old .45 single action. In fact, it is so good it is being used on some of the TV westerns.

If you are watching one of these pictures and you see a cowboy knock off 18 Indians in a row with a six gun, chances are it will be one of the Hahn BB guns. They fire 18 shots with BB pellets.

Hahn also did another piece of clever merchandising. He made a buscadero quick draw scabbard and belt to accompany the gun. Now you can buy a fast draw combination at your favorite gun store without being in violation of the law. And it is a precision gun, plenty good for target practice.

If you've never tried BB or pellet gun shooting, you've missed something. In the first place it is a great deal more economical than shooting a firearm. The guns themselves are precision made. You can get them in various types. Some are the pump-up, others are lever action, and still others are gas powered.

They are wonderful for target practice and basement shooting. I like to shoot tin cans with them. Frequently I'll take a spree at saving small cans until I get a box full. I punch a hole in the end of these cans, then run a wire through the hole and suspend them from a tree limb — where there is a hill for a backdrop. Then I back off 30 or 40 feet and start to work on the cans.

It is more interesting if the wind is blowing. Then the cans begin to swing and they are harder to hit. With a little practice you can hit them almost every shot. The real fun is to start one swinging and then plink it with one of these BB guns.

Gas powered guns, like the Crosman, are real effective. Once in awhile they'll cut small limbs off the trees. When they hit a can at a side glance they sound like a 22 bullet on a flat surface.

Don't underestimate the power of these guns, however, and be careful where you shoot them. They are excellent to take on camping trips. The gas powered gun is ample for killing small game animals and birds. They also are excellent for popping snakes.

Keep in mind though, that you are not to shoot song birds or game birds out of season. This is rather costly. Game wardens frown on it. Judges assess fines. It's a lot better to stick to tin cans.

And it's real fun, too!

Fishing last week at Devil's River Lake, near Del Rio, were E. T. Williamson of Stanton, Walter Barbee of Big Spring, Charles Barbee of Midland, and Jarrell Barbee of Comaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Louder and Mr. and Mrs. Orville Rodricks of Big Spring are on a hunting trip to Saquache Park, Colorado.

turned out 2,288 bales last week to bring the season total to 4,938 — an estimated 25 per cent of the crop set at 20,000 bales.

Nolan County, with a 16,000 bale crop, has ginned 5,502 bales of 34 per cent. The crop is estimated at 80 per cent open.

Fisher County has an estimated crop of 35,000 bales. Of this 8,747 bales have been ginned. Last week 3,030 bales were ginned.

Mitchell County has 25 per cent of its estimated 30,000 bale crop ginned. Ginnings have reached 7,655 bales.

Texas Vegetable Crops Showing Good Progress

Most of Texas' commercial vegetable crops are making good progress, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said this week.

The department's vegetable survey showed carrots, eggplant, early spring onions, and tomatoes making satisfactory progress. Green peppers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley have uneven stands, and lettuce has suffered hail and rain damage, especially in the Hereford area.

Movement of carrots increased during September, and late plantings will provide production through November. Only scattered fields have suffered blight damage.

About 600 acres of fall lettuce were lost and another 400 acres heavily damaged in the Hereford area from hail and rain damage. Production will continue into November, and acreage generally is in good condition.

Small acreage of onions was planted in the Lower Valley during August. Most fields in the area are seeded. In the Coastal Bend, only small acreage was planted last month.

Some sections need rain before planting, but subsoil moisture is adequate.

The Texas tomato crop will come from 1,000 acres, 200 below last year. The crop is making satisfactory progress and light harvest will begin later this month.

30 Per Cent Of County Cotton Ginned

Martin County has 30 per cent of its estimated cotton crop harvested according to the Texas Employment Commission.

The county has 21,822 bales ginned out of an estimated crop of 72,575 bales.

For the area comprising Howard, Martin, Dawson, Scurry, Nolan, Fisher, Mitchell and Glasscock Counties, only 34 per cent of the total estimated crop has been harvested. The Texas Employment Commission has estimated the eight counties will produce 374,400 bales.

To the east, Howard County, with an estimated crop of 36,620 bales, is 50 per cent harvested with 16,672 bales ginned.

Glasscock County, with an estimated 10,205 bale crop, has ginned 4,855 bales or 47 per cent.

Dawson County, giant of the eight-county area, has an estimated 160,000 bale crop. It has ginned only 36 per cent — 58,218 bales. However the Dawson gins turned out 21,000 bales of this total last week.

Scurry County is just getting into the swing of the harvest. Its gins

Pasture Feed Best In Years In Panhandle

Panhandle pasture feed is the "best in years" for this season of the year, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

In its weekly crop report, the USDA said about 35 per cent of the Texas cotton crop is harvested. About 50 per cent of the sorghum and corn crop is harvested and two-thirds of the peanut crop is in.

Picking, pulling and stripping is over 90 per cent complete in south central and upper coastal counties, and 75 per cent done in Blackland counties.

The state rice crop is 80 per cent harvested.

"Practically all High Plains wheat is planted and up," the report said.

You Hear Strange Things About Catholics

Yes, you do hear some strange things about Catholics. You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid.

Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.

It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.

The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.

If all these things or any of them were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every four Americans is a Catholic and it would be a national tragedy if one-fourth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.

If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free pamphlet explaining the true teachings of the Catholic Church. This free literature will be sent with the compliments of the Knights of Columbus of this area.

Aqueduct Overshadows Modern Turkish Bridge

By Shorty Shelburne
IZMIR, TURKEY — At many places in this city, the history of which can be traced back to 2,000 B. C., the ways of modern day Western civilization are found springing up in the shadow of things which were left from such long ago eras as the Roman Empire and the Byzantine Empire, which followed.

At numerous points the ruins of Roman aqueducts still stand. Historians place the time of their construction at more than 2,500 years ago. One of the most impressive of these spans the Meles River near the present site of the headquarters of NATO's Sixth Allied Tactical Air Force, where I am assigned.

Challenging Pattern
I pass the place almost daily and for more than a year I have watched the men of a Turkish construction company build a bridge across the river. The new bridge is not more than 100 yards from the ancient aqueduct which once carried water from mountain springs to the city of old Smyrna.

It often also occurred to me that the aqueduct towers above the new bridge and casts its shadow there as a sort of challenging pattern for the workmen to try and duplicate in their new construction. Much of the work on the new structure is done by hand in the same manner as the workmen of old built the aqueduct. Some of the crushed rock and other materials going into the bridge come from the same hillsides where the stones for the aqueduct were quarried.

Traffic Different
The new bridge has been opened to traffic now and in the forms of traffic which passes over it there are some things which seem to belong to the age of the aqueduct and some to the modern age. Turkish men lead their donkeys across as new automobiles speed by them. Turkish women in costumes of days gone by turn to look at young Turkish boys roar across the bridge on noisy motor scooters.

The ancient aqueduct stands high in the background, leaving the impression it might outlast all those things which it over-shadows.

Holbert Koonce of Marietta, Oklahoma visited recently with Stanton and Midland relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Azey Simpson returned home Saturday from Houston, where he had been a hospital patient.

Alfred Johnson of Abilene visited over the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Azey Simpson and others.

OLD AND NEW MINGLE—The intermixing of the ancient and the modern are seen here with the Roman aqueduct in the background, more than 2,500 years old, shadowing a modern new bridge across the historical river Meles at Izmir, Turkey. Note the contrast in the various forms of traffic — donkeys, automobiles and motor scooters.

Cotton Acreage Set

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson has set the 1961 crop cotton planting allotment at 18,398,424 acres under a control program designed to help prevent overproduction.

This is an increase of about 5 per cent over this year's acreage and was made, the secretary said, because of improvement in the cotton marketing and supply situation.

Benson also proclaimed federal marketing quotas on next year's crop, based on the allotments. To become effective, the quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum to be held December 13.

Quotas have been in effect continuously since 1964. Allotments this year totaled 17,527,880 acres after taking into account increases made by growers under a program which allowed them to enlarge planting 40 per cent if they accepted lower government price supports.

The choice program will not be in effect next year.

The Opportunity Frontier OF TEXAS

SHE'S ONE IN A MILLION IN

The Opportunity Frontier OF TEXAS

In fact, she's one of the 3,127,480 citizens served by the Texas Electric Service Company in the opportunity frontier of Texas—America's most exciting growth market today.

There is a land rich in resources. The area's more than $1-billion annual production of oil and natural gas brings basic prosperity. Cattle ranches, cotton and chemicals, growing and grain sorghum, packing and canning, automotive, airport and electronics are all contributors to the growth factors of the opportunity frontier, much of which is served by Texas Electric Service Company.

And the greatest asset of all in the area-building Texas with their energy and living power. Within the past 50 years production of our service area has tripled. And there's room for a lot more. Economic progress has been equally impressive. For example, in the past 15 years retail sales in the area have nearly doubled.

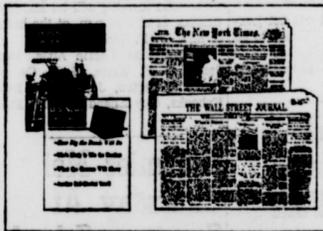

Partial climate, rich soil, mineral wealth—the opportunity frontier of Texas has these natural advantages — plus water, excellent transportation, and a cooperative, friendly Texas attitude toward industry.

If reaching a growing market is in your future plans, consider a site for a new plant, warehouse or branch office in the OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS.

Our Area Development Department will gladly supply pertinent information to fit your specific needs.

Among the readers of the ad reproduced at left will be company board chairmen, presidents, executive vice-presidents, and general managers throughout the nation. These are the men who decide where to build new plants or relocate . . . where to establish important branch offices or key warehouses.

To these executives we are telling the facts about THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS—its industries, its growth, its people, its natural advantages.

Your electric service company has scheduled this advertisement in Business Week and U. S. News & World Report; in The New York Times and Wall Street Journal. This is an investment in area progress.

We are doing this because each new business or industry added will benefit us all. It will bring new customers to THE OPPORTUNITY FRONTIER OF TEXAS. It will bring added tax revenues. It will bring new job opportunities.
