By JAMES E. KELLY

MR. KELLY is still in the hospital. His condition has not improved as friends expected. Perhaps, in time, he will be able to write his column again. JIM always reminded us a lot of another Oklahoma citizen who went far in life with this saying: "I never met a man I didn't like." We refer, of course, to the late WILL ROGERS, humorist, author, actor, cowboy, and ambassador of goodwill all over the world. We are going to devote the remainder of this column to personal news items. JIM always told us that names made news. These names made this news this week.

Dragon Shoot

It is said that when there is an eclipse in Laos, the Laotians think a dragon is eating the moon. So they shoot arrows into the air to kill the dragon. During a recent eclipse they proved their emergence into the modern world by adding mortar, rifle, and machinegun fire to the arrows.

You can't argue with a Laotian about this. He will point out that no dragon has succeeded in eating the moon so far. Could you disprove this belief—to a Laotian?

This reminds us that business cycles have been occurring for hundreds of years, and that the slumps have always ended. In recent decades expansive federal programs have been aimed at the recessions.

There are those who argue that the anti-recession programs slay the recessions, just as the arrows of Laos slay the dragons that try to eat the moon. Their reasoning is remarkably similar to that of the Laotians.

Philosopher Takes His Mind Off Of Big Problems, Rests It On The Little Ones

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw must have been using a neighbor's telephone. His letter this week implies.

Dear editor:

I know everybody is supposed to be concentrating hard on the solution to the problem in Laos, but a man can stand just so much of these high-level problems and has to rest his mind occasionally by working on small ones.

What threw me off the major problem was an article I read in a Sunday newspaper which I didn't get hold of until Wednesday, which is soon enough about progress being made with the telephone.

As I understand it, the telephone company is working hard all the attended by six members representing two home demonstration clubs.

All softball fans are to meet Friday to organize teams to play in the night-game contests this Summer. The grounds are ready for action.

A roundtable discussion was held when the Stanton Lions met at the First Methodist Church. Gordon Stone and Jesse Burns were selected to represent the Lions Club on the athletic council.

The Stanton High School seniors presented a play "Orchids and Onions" Thursday at the school auditorium.

time to improve service, and everybody has to admit the phone today is better than it was a generation ago, but the thing can be carried too far.

For example, they're working on a dialing system now whereby you can dial more than one number at a time. It's a fact, you may be able to dial three or four numbers and carry on conversations with all of them at the same time, in a sort of general conference.

Now this may be handy for busy executives in business or four housewives trying to decide in a hurry what kind of sandwiches to serve at the reading club, but has the telephone company ever stopped to think what teenagers will do with this system? They'll break down the communication network. Instead of tying up two telephones for two hours, they can tie up four.

This is the way with a lot of progress. It finally becomes so unwieldy it defeats its purpose, like cars in a traffic jam, and the only answer is to work harder and put in a second phone for your own use, and for the amount of work it takes to pay for both, you could walk over about as cheap and see in person the man you wanted to talk to on the phone in the first place.

Also telephones are becoming too thorough. The purpose of a telephone, as far as I'm concerned, is to reach somebody without having to go see him, but they're working on new phones that'll reverse this, and make it possible for people to reach me on the same terms. If you're not at one number, the phone will automatically trace you to the next one; if your phone is busy, it'll wait till you hang up and then

Bible Comment—

We Should Remember God's All-Seeing Eye

Nothing stands out more strongly from the Hebrew Scriptures of the Old Testament than the fact of God's all-seeing Eye.

The Eye is symbolic of the presence and judgments of God as He observes the actions of men and discerns between right and wrong.

The Psalmist expressed it in "Whither shall I go from Thy spirit? Or whither shall I flee from Thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, Thou art there; if I make my bed in hell; behold, Thou art there. The darkness and light are both alike to Thee."

The consciousness of that presence filled, and should fill to-day, thoughtful men with awe. That inexorable Eye upon them quickened a sense of fear. "The fear of the Lord," one wrote, "is the beginning of wisdom." There is much in the Old Testament concerning the fear of God.

Thus, they prayed, "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting."

It takes courage, as well as knowledge and faith, to make a prayer like that. But the judgments of God have a meaning and significance beyond individual character and conduct. A world without judgment would be a world without moral sanctions.

To whatever heights man may aspire, he can have no higher aspiration than to reach that spiritual peak upon which he may stand and say: "Judge me, O God."

ring immediately. Why, even if you're off on a tractor, it's possible to reach you by phone. This is going too far.

As far as I'm concerned, a phone is to reach somebody else with, not for somebody else to reach me with. I'd better get back to working on Laos.

Either of these Corvairs would make you a wonderful traveling companion. (Any of Corvair's ten budget-priced models would, for that matter.) The Lakewood Station Wagon earns its keep with a solid 68 cubic feet of cargo space, 10 of it under that lockable hood. And the Monza Club Coupe, with its bucket-type front seats, lets you in on some ultra-comfortable driving.

And they both handle and brake and perform beautifully. (Proof of the pudding is the way the '61 Corvair manhandled the recent Canadian Winter Rally, winning outright and taking the first five places in its class in this rugged 1,265-mile test.) Look 'em over at your dealer's. And if you can't decide which one you want, feel free to take both.

YELLOW SLIP, THAT IS—

Tax Gatherers Admit Their Slip's Showing

A little slip — a little yellow slip, that is — by Internal Revenue Service still is giving the tax folks a headache.

The IRS included the little yellow slip, Document 5293, with the Employer's Quarterly Tax Form 941 mailed to approximately 100,000 Dallas District employers in December.

The slip advised employers (of four or more persons) that there has been an increase in their federal unemployment tax from three per cent to 3.1 per cent for the year 1961. It also told the employers of some changes in Social Security tax, but did not change the Social Security tax rate.

During January, Internal Revenue Service's telephone rang and the postman called. Hundreds of employers requested a new tax table to take care of the Social Security increase. Actually, there is no new table. There is no increase in Social Security taxes. The increase is in federal unemployment tax. Internal Revenue does not have a new Circular E. The tax folks carefully explained what had happened to the employers who called, but the important thing is a lot of taxpayers did not call.

Erroneous Returns

And, as the returns for the first quarter of 1961 start coming in, it is evident IRS's slip really is showing. Many of the returns have been prepared using the 3.1 per cent rate for the employee and a like rate for employer.

IRS now must work with employers on correcting these returns, since the correct rate which should have been paid is six per cent, not 6.2 per cent, Director Ellis Campbell Jr., emphasized.

Two Trustees Named At Garden City

Sidney Hart received 52 votes in Garden City, 34 in St. Lawrence, nine in Lee, seven in Sohio, and two absentee votes for a total of 104.

R. D. Dobbs got 29 votes in Garden City, 29 in St. Lawrence, 12 in Lee, four in Sohio and two absentee votes for 67 votes.

B. C. Pruetz tied with Dobbs by receiving 33 votes in Garden City, 11 in St. Lawrence, six in Lee, four in Sohio and two absentee votes.

Unemployment Declines In This District

Unemployment compensation claims in the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission dropped from 1,131 in February to 1,008 in March. Leon Kinney, office manager announced Saturday in Big Spring.

There were 48 fewer new applicants for unemployment compensation in March than in February, the TEC announced. Big Spring office found jobs during March for 216 applicants.

The Big Spring office serves the Stanton area. The brighter outlook in the matter of employment was reflected, TEC reported, in all seven communities in the San Angelo district. These are, in addition to Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, Midland, Lamesa, Odessa and Sweetwater.

Officials of the TEC regard these reports as reflecting a definite improvement in the employment picture in West Texas.

It was also noted that the number of applications for employment in March diminished from the number in February.

Briefly on Beauty

Impatience can be an enemy of beauty. Trying to undo stubborn knots or pry up thumb-tacks with the hand can split and break fingernails. The smart homemaker does not attempt any job with her nails that can be done more easily with scissors or pliers or some other tool.

Conservation Aid To Bobwhite Quail Production

Bobwhite quail are one of the most popular game birds in Texas. They are found in almost every area of the state, but some individual farmers complain about not having any on their farm. Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist, says that if you like to have quail around the place, provide them with food, cover and protection.

The cheapest and most effective method of providing bobwhite quail with food is to disc strips in old fields and along fence rows. Discing, says Cooper, is often all that is needed to get a good stand of choice quail food, such as doveweed and partridge peas, growing. This practice is inexpensive, but it gives the quail food plants a chance to compete with the more vigorous ones. An application of fertilizer, the same as is used on pastures in the area, will greatly increase the amount of food produced.

Research has shown that long strips of disc land, at least 20 feet wide, are better than square blocks. The best time for carrying out the practice is from February through May, and the soil should be cut only deep enough to turn the grass. Discing once every three years usually produces the best results, Cooper explains.

The disc strips should be near low-growing brushy cover, so the birds will have protection from their natural enemies. Cooper emphasizes that quail may not use the choice foods if cover is not available nearby. Also, he adds, it is easier, cheaper and faster to grow food plants near cover than it is to develop cover near good food supplies.

Livestock usually will not graze the type of plants which will grow on the disc strips, but if domestic food crops are planted, fencing is required. Native plants are preferable because their seeds usually last longer, Cooper continues. This is important because quail need the food more in winter and early spring when domestic plant seeds have shattered or rotted.

U. S. Road Deaths Mark 11-Year Low

The nation's traffic deaths in the first two months of 1961 were the lowest for a comparable period in 11 years, says the National Safety Council.

The two-month toll of 4,970 was five per cent lower than the 5,250 fatalities on the highway in January and February last year and compared with the previous low of 4,719 for the first two months of 1950. Council officials said severe snowstorms in the East in January contributed to this year's low toll.

Traffic accidents killed 2,320 in February, two per cent lower than February last year, and 2,650 in January. The council estimated 200,000 persons suffered disabling injuries in the first two months this year and said 468 of 728 cities reporting had no traffic deaths.

USDA Plentiful Foods Listed

Here's a switch! Turkeys and cranberries, once only Fall-time fare, now are yours in abundance for light, Springtime meals.

These traditional Thanksgiving festival items are featured on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's April list of plentiful foods for Texas consumers, reports the Agricultural Extension Service.

Six other popular items also receive USDA's plentiful tag for April. They are cabbage, dry beans, canned freestone peaches, canned ripe olives, peanuts and peanut products, and milk and dairy products.

These foods have been chosen for special emphasis because supplies of each are in excess of normal demand, as inventoried by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. Because of their abundance, shoppers will find prices reasonable.

Last year's cranberry crop was record large. The fresh berries went through trade channels at a fairly normal pace, but we still have an abundance of cranberry sauce, juice and jellies, to add color and flavor to April meals.

A turkey dinner anytime surely is in order. Turkeys in cold storage are at near-record levels and producers indicate they will raise a fifth more than last year.

Family enjoys convenient living, more privacy with extension phones

By DON DAVIS, Telephone News Writer

"A phone in our bedroom is really convenient, because it's nice and quiet there, and I have complete privacy," says Jay Brandstetter, who spends a lot of time arranging club, civic activities by phone.

"My wall phone," says Mrs. Brandstetter, "is the handiest thing when I'm working in the kitchen. Bonnie Jay likes it, too, because it is low enough for her to reach easily."

Like many families nowadays, Jay and Lucille Brandstetter and their two daughters, Sharon and Bonnie Jay, are really on the go.

No doubt that's why they're quick to take advantage of today's modern conveniences—such as colorful extension telephones—that help them get more things done. The Brandstetters, for instance, have three phones in their seven-room house.

"I just don't see how we'd manage without extension phones," Mrs. Brandstetter says.

Why don't you enjoy the timesaving convenience, the privacy and the security of extension telephones? Just call the telephone business office or ask any telephone serviceman. Cost is low.

Ask about new Bell Chime. It announces your calls with a pleasant musical tone.

APRIL is another month of dates interesting to Americans. In 1917, on April 6, war was declared by Congress after PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON called for the declaration. The slogan heard so often during the World War One years was: "Make the World Safe For Democracy." After Germany was defeated and our troops returned to the U. S. A. for many years November 11 was observed as Armistice Day. But with the coming of World War Two and the Korean War, the Armistice Day designation for November 11 was dropped and now we observe it as Armed Forces Day. The birthday of THOMAS JEFFERSON comes next Thursday, April 13. He was born in 1773. U. S. GRANT was born on April 27, 1822 and JAMES MONROE was born April 28, 1758.

THE AMERICAN LEGION was born following World War One. The first post in the state of Texas was the BRUCE B. WILLIAMS, Post 1, Commerce, Texas, and our eldest brother, AEF veteran in France and attorney in civilian life, made application for the charter and served as one of the post's first officers. We have been told that all the men of military age, and some a few months under age, volunteered the day that war was declared under WILSON. They didn't wait for the draft and it wasn't long until the American soldiers were digging trenches and fighting in France under the late great GENERAL JOHN J. PERSHING. Most communities sent their native sons off to the tune of blaring bands and Old Glory waved everywhere and Liberty Bond drives were held and all the civilian measures of war—such as rationing—were fulfilled back in the States while the boys were over there. We were truly a patriotic nation. No communist or labor dictator dared show his head, else it would be busted and bad, by some parent of a man in France. And the races were not bickering and fighting each other—soap box orators were not around stirring up strife in the industrial centers—and about all the foreign aid the U. S. A. sent overseas went to France, Britain, Belgium and our allies. None of this Congo business—no handout programs—no remake the world shuffles. WE WONDER SOMETIMES WHAT WAS WRONG WITH THE OLD FRONTIER? AND I DON'T MEAN A REPUBLICAN FRONTIER—BUT THE DEMOCRATIC OLD FRONTIER UNDER THE BELOVED WOODROW WILSON?

PICKED up for speeding, a traveler was irate when fined $15 by the village peace justice. "You came into town too fast the judge told him." The motorist handed the judge $30, and the judge reminded him that he only owed half of the amount. "You keep the other $15 the motorist said, "because I'm going to leave this town just as fast as I got here."

A well known columnist says a woman sent her husband to a psychiatrist because he thought he was a cannibal. When he returned from his first visit, she asked what the psychiatrist was like. "Delicious," he said.
