A tremendous crowd — estimated at 2,500 witnessed the opening football game here Friday night. It was a great evening for the team and the fans. To be privileged to see our team playing on a well lighted field, close by a beautiful High School building and with the knowledge that another building is being added to the school plant struck a note of deep pride and appreciation in our hearts. This newspaper editorially endorsed the bond issues that passed by handsome majorities to make the expansion possible. Thanks to the progressive minded people. We are happy to pay our part of the taxes and we pay both business and personal property taxes and we feel like the small tax increase necessitated by the bond issues paid off in being able to view this fine school plant Friday evening. And we are proud of our boys for winning a cleanly fought game with Merkel by a 20-6 score.

Mr. and Mrs. James Williamson will receive this copy of their home town journal. They are now living in Clarksville, Tennessee. James is in the service. His mother ordered the paper mailed to them as a gift. Mrs. Williamson is the former Carolyn Ringener.

Tom Ed Angel was by the office Monday to enter a subscription. While he was here we invited him to have a Coke with us. Tom Ed is a good piano player in addition to his other abilities. He once presented the program before the Rotary Club for us while we were acting as program chairman for the club.

The following citizens took out memberships in the circulation circle this week: Ray Kelly, Stanton; William E. Harrell, Stanton; John T. Atchison, Stanton; C. F. Underwood, Midland; Tom Ed Angel, Stanton; Neil Fryar, Rt. 2, Big Spring; Lynn Henson, Rt. 1, Tarzan; W. P. Hildreth, Lenora; John Pinkston, Stanton; George Wright Dusing Service, Stanton; Jess Burns, Stanton; June Graham, Stanton; James N. Allison, Jr., Midland; and Roger Hartsell, Star Route, Tarzan.

Carlton Chapman, now a vice-president at State National Bank, Big Spring, visited in the county last week. We talked with Carlton for a few minutes in Friendly Ford. He looked fine, ordered The Stanton Reporter mailed to his office and reported that his family was well and doing just fine. Chapman was in one of our best advertisers while in business in Stanton. We are happy for him and know he has become a trusted and efficient executive for State National.

Congratulations go this week to Mrs. Tull Ray Louder upon being chosen president of the Stanton P-T-A and congratulations are also in order to the members of that organization for choosing this fine Christian woman for leadership.

City Spends Labor Day Quietly

Stanton residents spent a very quiet Labor Day with little or no laboring going on at all. Most of the business houses in the city were closed. Schools were closed, as were the offices in the courthouse and city hall. There was no rural mail delivery and the windows in the post office were closed.

Residents rested, traveled or caught up on the chores about the house and in their yards. There was a great deal of traffic on Highway 80, but no accidents in the Stanton and Martin County area were reported to the newspaper.

Labor Day is one of the annual holidays voted by the Stanton merchants.

Local School Enrollments Reported Up

The enrollments at Martin County schools have climbed since the opening of school on Monday, August 28. At Stanton Elementary School there are now 449 students enrolled. At the beginning of school there were only 434 elementary students enrolled.

There are now about 200 students at Stanton High School. This compares with 185 students on the first day of school.

At Grady school there are about 200 students enrolled. During the first week there were 171 students who had enrolled.

The number of students has remained the same at Courtney. There are 86 students at the school. At Stanton Elementary School the number of students includes 69 first graders, 66 students in the second grade, 60 third graders, 38 fourth grade students, 56 fifth graders, 55 sixth grade students, 60 seventh graders, and 45 eighth grade students.

Principals at all schools said that additional students are expected to enroll in the next several weeks.

Pictures Of Students Are Made This Week

Photographs of students at Stanton High School, Courtney Elementary School and Stanton Elementary School are being made this week. Pictures taken will be used in the Stanton School yearbook for 1961-62. On Tuesday pictures of individual students of Courtney were made. Also photographed were the school favorites and basketball teams and captains.

Also on Tuesday pictures of individual students at Stanton Elementary School were made. High School students' pictures are also being made this week.

Stanton Reporter Subscription Rates To Be Advanced Sept. 7

To meet higher costs of operations, The Stanton Reporter finds it necessary to increase its subscription prices immediately. The increases will be effective September 7.

The new prices will be: In the county subscriptions will cost $2.50 and out-of-the-county subscriptions will cost $3. The price of The Stanton Reporter has not been advanced for more than 20 years. It is the one product in Martin County that has not climbed in price. Even five cent cigars are now costing twelve cents.

The new Texas sales tax did not prompt the subscription rate increase. The advance in prices are necessary to defray mounting costs of operation that have resulted in increased newspaper prices throughout the country. Practically every daily and weekly and semi-weekly publication in Texas has recently been forced to raise subscription rates.

The Stanton Reporter was the last of the West Texas weeklies to be forced to make an increase in cost. Not another weekly in the area is sold for as low as we were charging.

Reporter To Deliver On Thursdays

The Stanton Reporter will continue to carry a Thursday date-line.

No copies of the newspaper will be delivered to sales stands and to the postoffice until Thursday morning.

In the future, no copies of the newspaper will be distributed on Wednesday nights as has been the custom when time permitted.

We are receiving very late advertising copy which causes our employees to remain on duty until midnight some Wednesdays and too, we are trying to print the very latest spot news and that means "hot" news stories breaking late, late Wednesday afternoon and evening will be carried in the Thursday morning paper.

Regular subscribers will continue to get their newspapers at the same time.

Baptists To Attend Meet In Big Spring

Representatives of the First Baptist Church are to attend the annual Big Spring Association's annual meeting next week in Big Spring.

The meeting will be held Monday and Tuesday, September 11-12 at the East Fourth Baptist Church. Named to serve as messengers from the local church are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hock, Philip White, Mrs. W. H. Uhlman, Kenneth Gilmore, Mrs. J. R. Sale and Gene Clements. Rev. W. H. Uhlman, pastor, also is to attend.

At the meeting reports on work during the past year are given, and plans for the new year are discussed.

Funeral Rites Held Monday For Mrs. Rogers

Funeral services for Mrs. Flora Lewis Rogers, 69, longtime resident of Martin County, were held at 3 p.m. Monday at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Rogers, who had been in failing health for several years, died at 4 a.m. Sunday at the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Rogers was born July 11, 1892 at Milam County, Texas. She was married August 24, 1911 to Jimmie T. Rogers at the Lewis ranch, South of Stanton. Mr. Rogers preceded her in death in 1937.

Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated. He was assisted by Ellmore Johnson of Abilene, Church of Christ minister, and former minister of the Stanton Church of Christ.

Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery under the direction of Arrington Funeral Home.

Mrs. Rogers, who was well-known in the Stanton area, was a charter member of the First Methodist Church, Big Spring. She also was a long-time member of the Stanton chapter of the Order of Eastern Star. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Leo Turner of Stanton, Mrs. H. B. Mills of Midland; one brother, George Lewis of Stanton; and three grandchildren, Sue, Linda and Bobbie Nell Mills of Midland.

Rain Falls Over Area

Rain fell over Martin County Sunday night and early Monday morning.

At Lenora the heaviest rainfall was reported. Grover Springer, who keeps the official rain gauge at Lenora, reported 1.02 inches of rain fell at Lenora.

Tarzan and the surrounding area received one inch.

Stanton received only a sprinkling of rain. In other parts of West Texas heavy rains fell. A cloudburst broke over Bronte Monday morning, dumping 9.5 inches of rain.

About 100 families were forced out of their homes at Abilene when up to four feet deep water coursed through some of the city's low streets. A five-inch downpour fell at Winters. Five inches also fell in parts of San Angelo, and at Big Lake 1.5 inches fell.

Light showers fell in some sections of Midland Tuesday, with total rainfall amounting to 1.02.

Martin County Wildcat Perforated At 7,763 Ft.

By JAMES C. WATSON
Robinson Brothers Drilling Company of Midland has perforated and fractured the lower Spraberry in its Martin County wildcat, No. 1 Wolfcote, 10 miles Northeast of Tarzan. Location is four miles Southeast of the Breedlove field, 1 1/4 miles Southwest of the Wolfcamp field and 660 feet from North and 2,954 feet from Ward County School Land survey.

J. C. Williamson, trustee of Midland will drill an 8,200-foot Martin County Spraberry wildcat, No. 1 Wolfcote, 10 miles Northeast of Tarzan. Location is four miles Southeast of the Breedlove field, 1 1/4 miles Southwest of the Wolfcamp field and 660 feet from North and 2,954 feet from Ward County School Land survey.

Man, Teen-Age Girl Confess 4 Murders

KILLER—John Edwin Myers, a Chicago ex-convict, is pictured above after his arrest in Midland early Saturday morning. He confessed the murder of four persons and stated that his crime spree netted only $16. His juvenile girl friend, 13-year-old Donna Marie Stone, was apprehended with him.

District Attorney To Seek Early Trial For Myers

Gil Jones, district attorney, told an area press conference that he intends to press for an early trial for John Edwin Myers, for murder this month.

"If it is not possible to have the trial this month," Jones said, "I will press for an early trial in October." "As to Donna Marie Stone, the 13-year-old companion of Myers," Jones said, "she is in the hands of the juvenile authorities. I can say that if she is ordered committed to the Texas training school for girls, I will place a hold on her."

"When she reaches the age of 18, she can then be tried for this Howard County murder."

Girl Scout Leaders Plan For New Year

Martin County Girl Scout leaders held a Girl Scout Neighborhood meeting Tuesday morning at the Cap Rock Electric Co-operative building.

Leaders made plans for the new year, and discussed organizing new troops and re-organizing last year's troops.

Mrs. H. P. Morrison, neighborhood chairman, was in charge of the meeting.

Plans were made for a group leadership course for new leaders to begin on September 28. It will continue five weeks and will be conducted by Mrs. D. M. Costlow, professional Girl Scout leader.

Mrs. E. G. Hardison, troop consultant, is to attend a course September 19-21 in Colorado City.

Plans were made to organize new troops for the 1961-62 Scout year. New troops and old troops are to begin meeting this week and next week. A second grade troop is to be organized.

All girls who are interested in being Scouts and who were not Scouts last year, should contact their Scout leader for their grade in school. Attending were 14 Girl Scout leaders.

September 11 To Be Observed As Dollar Day

Monday, September 11, is Dollar Day in Stanton.

Many local merchants have Dollar Day specials listed in this week's Stanton Reporter and local residents have been invited to check on these items and take advantage of the bargains.

The once-a-month event was postponed from the first Monday to the second Monday this month because Monday, September 4 was observed as a holiday in Stanton.

Many merchants have continued to advertise specials in the issue of The Reporter before the Monday sales. It would be a fine thing if all the merchants would list a few items and run them in the paper (Continued on page 5)

Farm Bureau Membership Drive To Get Underway

A membership drive for the Martin County Farm Bureau is to get underway in September.

The drive will continue through the end of October.

At present there are 167 paid up members in the county Farm Bureau, and the goal for the county is 260 members.

A membership committee is to be named to contact farmers and other interested persons interested in becoming members.

The next meeting will be held October 17 at Courtney School.

Flower Grove School Officers Are Named

Flower Grove High School students have elected new officers for the 1961-62 school year.

Named to head the senior class is Jerry Webb, president. Other senior officers are Ronnie Deatherage, vice president, and Josie Landers, secretary-treasurer and reporter. S. B. Levely is to serve as class sponsor. There are 12 members in the senior class.

The bloody journey, marked by four murders, of a Chicago ex-convict and his 13-year-old girl companion came to an abrupt end in Midland Saturday morning.

John Edwin Myers, 33, and Donna Marie Stone, 13, were apprehended at 2:15 a.m. Saturday by State Highway Patrolman Jack Reeves in the city limits of Midland.

The couple had been traveling West with an Arizona destination. They reportedly passed through Stanton about 1:30 a.m. the same morning they were arrested and less than two hours after they had committed their fourth confessed murder.

Patrolman Reeves recognized the 1954 car they were riding in as one wanted by Illinois authorities. Reeves ordered the couple from the car and radioed for aid from Midland officers. The patrolman was alone at the time he stopped the pair.

After the couple underwent questioning in Midland they were transferred to Big Spring and the Howard County jail.

Myers was charged with the murder of Arthur Lee DeKraai, a hitchhiker they had picked up near Fort (Continued on page 5)

Supper Honors New Teachers

An Ice Cream Supper honoring Stanton teachers was held Tuesday evening, August 29, at the city park.

The party was sponsored by the Stanton Parent-Teachers Association.

Mrs. T. R. Louder, president, welcomed those attending and introduced L. M. Hays, superintendent. Hays in turn introduced High School Principal Bill Johnson and Elementary Principal J. M. Yater. The principals introduced members of the faculty.

Coach Dauphin Speaks To Lions Club

Members of the Stanton Lions Club heard a discussion of the prospects for the Stanton Buffaloes during the 1961 football season at a meeting Tuesday.

Coach Harlin Dauphin spoke to the group and discussed the team, and the game boys played Friday when they met Merkel here.

Dauphin also introduced the assistant coaches, Larry Lewis and Don Stringer.

B. Q. Evans served as program chairman and introduced the speaker.

D. M. Costlow, president was in charge of the meeting.

Tommy Williams led the song service. Mrs. John Wood was at the piano.

Seventeen persons were present. A directors' meeting was held following the regular session.

Cap Rock Ready For Big Membership Meet

The annual membership meeting of Cap Rock Electric Cooperative will be held Saturday, September 9, in the Willie Wierhand room of the Cooperative building in Stanton. Registration will begin at 1:30 p.m., followed by the business session at 2:00 p.m. The member-owners of the two organizations will hear reports from the manager and directors, receive a financial statement, elect directors and attend to other business.

J. R. Cobb, general manager of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc., Austin, will address the joint meeting. Cobb, a pioneer in rural electrification in Texas and the South, was working to develop new cooperatives as early as 1938. In 1941 he went to Washington to head REA's installation loans division. In 1946, he was promoted to assistant chief of the applications and loan division.

Cobb left REA in 1948 to head the rural sales division of General Motors' Frigidaire Division. He served in this capacity and as assistant to the general manager of Frigidaire's Southern States Branch and Distributor Sales until 1958. In March of that year he returned to Texas to become general manager of Texas

Electric Cooperative, Inc., the Texas state-wide organization of rural electric cooperatives.

President Glenn Cantrell will preside at the Cap Rock Electric business meeting, and A. A. McKinney, president of Wes-Tex, will preside at the telephone meeting. Each cooperative will elect three directors to serve three year terms. Electric Co-operative directors whose terms of office are expiring are Paul Adams, D. W. McDonald and Mrs. Lee Castle. Lawrence Adkins, Cecil Wilkerson and Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood are the telephone directors whose terms expire this year.

Two outstanding students served by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative's lines will be awarded college scholarships.

There will be $500.00 in cash prizes as door prizes to members attending the meeting. An all cotton movie will be shown for the children while the business meeting is in session.

Stanton Bisons Whip Merkel In Opener Here

Coach Harlin Dauphin was pretty proud of the Stanton Buffaloes in the season opener against the Merkel Badgers on the home field Friday night.

The coaches had high praise for the playing of all game participants. And they were high on the fine defensive maneuvers turned in by the Bisons.

Herb Sorley, Jimmy Sale, Robert Turner and Joe Williams all carried their share of the load but sparkling play was reflected by every Buff on the squad.

Merkel was tagged as the favorite before game time by out-of-town writers but in town, and down here at the local news office, the prediction was 12 points over Merkel for Stanton. The final score: Stanton, 20, Merkel, 6.

As a matter-of-fact, the highly touted Badgers didn't manage to tally until the closing stanza of the game. They registered their lone counter about mid-way of the final quarter.

The first period was scoreless. The Buffaloes cashed in for two touchdowns in the second frame. Stanton scored their initial touchdown on a 37 yard march climaxed in five plays. Jimmy Sale took the honor for ringing up the first TD of the new season when he hammered over from the one yard line.

The touchdown campaign was started when the Buffs got a fumble Robert Turner and Joe Williams advanced the ball goalward on fine runs.

The locals made their second counter on a drive from 38 yards out. It took just half dozen trusts to ring the TD bell a second time. Turner got the score after Williams and Sale helped work the pigskin down into Merkel territory near the goal line.

The Bisons led at the half by 14-0. In the third quarter Stanton got the drive underway that resulted in their third and final touchdown. Williams scored from the one-yard marker on the first play in the final period.

Merkel scored in the fourth quarter with Moore carrying the pighide over the stripe after the Badgers had packed the ball up the field on a sustained 67-yard offensive display.

Columnist Slips In Final Word

When a Dallas Morning News reporter went to the files last week for detailed background on the newspaper's editorial columnist, Lynn W. Landrum, who died, he found Landrum had added a note.

On the back of the sheet he filled out in March for biographical material, Landrum had written this message obviously for the man who would write his obituary:

"GO EASY with me, brother, when you write this up. The briefer you make it, the fewer squawks from my dissatisfied customers. I have been called a Wall Street Communist, a Catholic rabbi and the brightest mind of the 18th Century — or was it the 17th? I have written, I suppose, a half thousand obits in my time. When you write this one, it will mean that I then have written my last one. So there is hope for you, too. Some day you will have to write no more of them, yourself. Until then, good luck. And thanks."

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER: "Fort Stockton Country Club members Saturday night voted overwhelmingly to finance grass fairways for the organization's golf courses and to construct a swimming pool. Work on grassing the fairways is expected to begin in the near future, with club officials hopeful that grass will be up and ready to play on by next Spring."

STAMFORD AMERICAN: "Rose Construction of Abilene was awarded contract Wednesday to remodel the Stamford city hall and library. Their low bid of $159,500 was well under that of any other of the five contractors. The Rose bid provided that 180 days would be needed to complete the work."

THE MITCHELL COUNTY NEWS: "A tour of the agricultural area of Mitchell County is being sponsored by the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District, the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and the Lorraine Lions Club on Tuesday, September 12. The purpose of the tour is to acquaint business men and farmers with methods of soil and water conservation."

THE GRAHAM LEADER: "Beginning Thursday Graham Jaycees will honor the outstanding lineman and back as a 'Player of the Week' salute to two Steer football players whose performance was outstanding in the previous game on Friday night."

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS: "The first bale of Foard County's 1961 cotton crop was ginned last Thursday by the Barker Gin Co. plant in Margaret. Foard's first bale was grown by Tim Smith on his farm East of Margaret. The bale weighed 585 pounds and produced 550 pounds of seed. Smith sold the cotton to the gin for 40 cents per pound, and the bale was ginned free."

THE ANDREWS COUNTY NEWS: "A 17-year-old Dutch boy who speaks fluently in six languages but has a strong desire to be all-American while here, began the new experience this week of attending an American high school and residing with an American family. Neil Dutmer of Wildervank, Holland, Andrew's second foreign exchange student, lost little time in Americanizing his appearance. On Friday morning after he arrived by plane late Thursday, Neil got a flat-top haircut. And his American foster parents, the Raymond Bristows lost no time in introducing him to food delicacies such as watermelon which he enjoys very much."

THE JAYTON CHRONICLE: "A contract for 5.6 miles of construction on U. S. 390 in Kent County has been awarded to a Midland firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commissioner. Younger Construction Co. submitted the low bid of $244,522 on the project."

THE SIXTH ANNUAL "George B. McCamey" award will be presented an outstanding citizen of McCamey on October 9 according to THE McCAMEY NEWS. The award is to single out and honor one individual who has made the most outstanding contribution during the prior year to the development and betterment of McCamey, as a whole community or in one or any of the following: the development of commerce, physical health and welfare of people of McCamey, increase of community cooperation among citizens, growth of religious life in community, betterment of the youth in community and the protection of property and personal rights of citizens of the community.

Philosopher Comes Up With Proposal That World's Crisis Be Put On A Quota Basis

Dear editor:

I'm not telling anybody how to run a newspaper, but as a farmer who knows what it is to be a victim of over-production, at least somebody else's over-production, I would like to suggest to the newspapers of this country, especially the big city dailies, that the crisis market in this world is being swamped and if it keeps going like it has the past few months newspapers are either going to have more crisis than they can handle or the people are going to get tired of reading about it.

In fact, after reading all the headlines about Berlin, Cuba, Brazil and, a few months back, the Congo, Egypt, and all those other crises which sounded world-shaking at the time but have now faded from memory, I have come to the conclusion that what the world needs is a crisis quota. Running a country is not much different from running a farm; very few people can do it successfully.

So, the world ought to be divided up into twelve zones, and only one zone allowed to have a crisis at a time, and that one limited to one month. Any time a crisis can't run its course in a month, somebody is just hogging the news. Thus we'd have only twelve a year, and never more than one at a time. You take a country whose crisis allotment comes in January, and it gets to itching to have one in November, it'll just have to wait. There's nothing worse or harder on newspaper readers than having two or three crises at the same time, not to mention how hard it is on Washington to get enough officials to fly to them, or on the reporters to find enough reporters to cover them all. . . .

Oh, I know some people will say we could save money by having one diplomat attend to three or four crises on the same trip, but it's asking too much, he'll get home and start trying to remember how much money he promised which country. One crisis a month, twelve a year, ought to be the maximum. Otherwise the crisis business is going bankrupt. Over-production can play thunder with the crisis market the same as it can with us farmers, and everybody knows the world can't stand to be in the same shape farming's in.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Former Resident Gets First Bale Of Dryland Cotton

Norman Koonce of Midland, and formerly of Stanton, harvested the first bale of 1961 dryland cotton in Midland County.

Koonce brought the bale in Tuesday, August 29 and it ginned out at 560 pounds.

The bale was ginned from 2,000 pounds of pulled cotton taken from five acres on a farm Koonce rents eight miles West of Midland. The haul made 810 pounds of cottonseed.

Koonce received a cash award of $100 from the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Bible Comment—

Church Grew From Experience Of New Life

The Christian Church did not arise out of plans of some promotional organizer. There was no advance prospect or blueprint of a proposed organization. The church definitely grew out of experience. It was not a matter of organization awaiting or developing life, it was life leading to organization.

Although Jesus did not formally organize the Church, there was more organization associated with his ministry than is commonly supposed. He gathered about Him the apostles, to whom were committed special privileges and responsibilities, and with whom He communed concerning the deep things of the Kingdom, so that he developed an inner band of disciples — a sort of Christian cabinet — to carry on His work. Also, He organized the "seventy" who went through the villages teaching and preaching, two by two.

The Church, as I have said, had its origin in the experience of the new life. It began as these experiences found expression in the remarkable events on the Day of Pentecost. Here, as the disciples were gathered together in one place, there came a strange outpouring of spiritual power. Peter, who formerly had denied his Lord, preached with great boldness and courage about the reality of the Christian way, and brought home to the hearts and consciences of his hearers the realization of their sins. The result was that many were brought into the Christian way. In his letter to the Ephesians, Paul sets before us a noble ideal, that of the church as a body incorporating the spirit of Christ.

The church is still waiting for the fulfillment of that ideal, and the world itself will never find peace until the unity of life becomes the dominant mark to human society.

Holcombe Rites Held Sunday In Andrews

Funeral services for Horace Holcombe, 38, of Andrews and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Holcombe of Stanton, were held at 2 p.m. Sunday in the First Baptist Church, Andrews.

Holcombe died of injuries received in a two-vehicle collision Thursday afternoon in Big Spring. He was killed almost instantly when the pickup in which he was riding was involved in a collision.

Holcombe, an employe of Standard Oil Company of Texas, was a tail gunner on a bomber that was hit during a World War II mission and went down in the North Sea.

Given up for dead, he later turned up as a prisoner of war in Germany. He had managed to escape the wreckage and swim ashore.

Holcombe resided in Forsan until 10 years ago, when he moved to Andrews. He was born June 3, 1923, in Marysville.

Rev. Earl Grissom, pastor of the Andrews First Baptist Church, officiated.

Interment followed in Andrews Cemetery. Masonic rites also were

Consumer Joins Sales Tax Ranks

Part of the confusion expressed in past weeks by merchants over the state's new 2 per cent sales tax shifted to the consumer Friday when the levy became effective.

A large portion of the confusion came over the effect of the tax on exempt articles and on the 24 cent limit for tax exempt sales.

Here's how the comptroller has ruled on several tax exempt articles.

The new law exempts payment of the tax on outer clothing costing less than $10. These articles are exempt regardless of whether they are bought singly or whether several are purchased with the total cost adding up to more than $10.

For example, a $5 shirt is tax exempt. And a purchase of 10 $5 shirts costing a total of $50 still is exempt from the tax.

The same principle applies to other specifically exempt articles such as prescription medicines and food. These articles require no tax from either the consumer or the seller.

The 24 cent limit, however, works differently. Items bought singly costing 24 cents or less are tax exempt to the buyer, but several such items bought together are taxed.

For example, if a 20 cent spool of thread, a 15 cent hair ribbon and a 20 cent package of notebook paper are bought in one store, but are paid for singly at different counters, no tax is paid by the buyer.

But if all the articles are paid for together, a tax will be charged the consumer on the total 65 cents sale.

However, the 24 cent limit does not apply to the seller, but only to the buyer. The merchant must pay the state a tax on all his sales, except on those articles specifically exempt, including sales of 24 cents and less.

Wh'wing Dove Season At Hand

At least 10,000 shotguns are expected to blast simultaneously in the four-county Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas at 2 p.m. Friday.

McAllen residents are familiar with the noise. It's been going on about this same time of year for at least two decades.

It will be the start of the White-wing Dove season.

Hunters will line country roads for miles bumper to bumper in automobiles and in many cases stand virtually shoulder to shoulder firing at the large doves. Some will get a few birds. Others may get a sprinkling of birdshot themselves.

The hunt, always short, will last three days this year, September 8-10. It always attracts hunters from all over Texas and many other states.

Shooting will be from 2 p.m. until sunset each day. The bag limit will be 10 whitewings a day and not more than 10 in possession.

But as usual, the hunter who can't get the larger whitewings will have a chance to make it up in the smaller mourning doves. The accumulative bag limit with mourning doves included is 15 with a possession limit of 30. But in any case a hunter can't have more than 10 whitewings in possession.

Sportsmen estimate this year to be the best since 1958 with a possible 600,000 of the birds in the Hidalgo, Willacy, Starr and Cameron counties area.

Some farmers have even complained of the birds destroying grain crops and are welcoming the hunt.

Sands Beaten In Ropesville

Ropesville defeated the Sands Mustangs of Ackerly, 32-6, in the first football game of the season for both elevens Friday night at Ropesville.

Sands was hamstrung on the second play of the game when Eugene Coleman, the Ponies' big fullback, broke a bone in his elbow while making a tackle.

Ropes scored in every quarter. Sands counted its touchdown in the second after Ike Wasson had taken a 40-yard pass from Larry Hall down to the Ropes' ten. On the third play from scrimmage, Hall rolled over from the one.

The Mustangs lost the ball four times on fumbles and again on an intercepted pass, at a time they were marching inside the Ropes 20.

On defense, Bill Raspberry, Dan Shortes, Bob Smith and Ronnie Gaskins glistened for Sands while Dem Newsom, Max Harding, Wasson and Hall stood out on offense.

The Mustangs play Robert Lee at 8 p.m. Friday in Ackerly.

Press Sponsors Five Scholarships

The West Texas Press Association is sponsoring five newspaper scholarship college students.

Jim Allison, Jr., vice president of The Midland Reporter-Telegram, scholarship chairman, said each scholarship amounts to $600 over a four-year period.

The students are Annette Holman of Colorado City, senior at McMurry College, Abilene; Lew Bullian, Lubbock, sophomore at the University of Texas; Eugene Young, Seagraves, freshman at Texas Tech; Peggy Sue Hale, Canyon, freshman at West Texas State College, Canyon, and Carlene English, Lubbock, freshman at Texas Tech.

Texas law forbids the sale of bass, crappie, or white perch.

Special hunting regulations may differ from county to county, so be sure to consult a Game and Fish Law Digest or your local game warden before entering the field.

Texans Catching On To New Tax Formula

The Texas sales tax will be a week old Friday and most people have already started getting used to the operation formula.

For more than 125 years, the state had gone without a sales tax, but last Friday it joined 36 sister states, some of which have had the levy 20 years or more.

Texas' sales tax is similar to most others. It taxes most final sales of items costing 25 cents and more.

There are some specific exemptions. Food, generally is exempt, and outer clothing costing less than $10 is tax free, as are prescription medicines and general services.

The tax hits everyone who spends money. One of the latest rulings declared the newspaper you are reading now is taxable. As a matter-of-fact, not only is the newspaper taxed but the commercial printing department must collect taxes on job printing and all circulation is taxable.

In general, the tax works like this: Items costing less than 24 cents, no tax. Articles costing between 25 and 75 cents, one cent tax, and an additional one cent for every additional 50 cents.

The 24-cent exemption, however, benefits only the consumer. The seller must pay a two per cent tax to the state on all his sales.

What he loses on the low cost, tax-exempt articles will be made up by collecting higher percentages on items barely falling into the next higher bracket.

For example, a 24-cent article nets the seller no tax. But on a 25-cent article he collects one penny, or actually four per cent.

When several tax exempt articles are bought together and add up to more than the exempt figure, a tax must be paid on the total.

For instance, a $5 sport shirt, a $3 cap and a $2 tee shirt are all not taxable if bought separately. However, if they are bought together the tax applies on the total of $10.

All of the workings of the new tax law are not clear yet. Rulings will continue to come out of Austin. But in the main, alert Texans have grasped the formula for collection.

Mistakes will be made for awhile, but it is up to the buyer to be informed as to what is taxable and what is not, as well as the merchant. An unnecessary tax should not be charged on items.

Worth.

DeKraai was slain in Howard County about eight miles East from Stanton.

Donna Marie led Reaves and Police Captain Roy Merket to the spot in Howard County where they dumped the body of the hitchhiker.

The FBI had broadcast a pickup on the pair Friday after they had been charged formally with kidnapping in East St. Louis, Missouri.

Before the pair killed DeKraai, they had previously murdered a father and daughter near Belleville, Illinois and a St. Louis department store worker in Missouri.

The total take for four murders amounted to $16. They admitted that their motive for murder was robbery and to steal a car.

The last victim, DeKraai, might have lost his life when he failed to join the pair for coffee in Sweetwater.

Donna Marie said they made up their minds to kill their hitchhiking passenger while drinking coffee because they figured he had money.

The girl told this story of the slaying. "Late Friday, we picked up this hitchhiker near Fort Worth and stopped in Sweetwater to get coffee.

"We stopped in a town called Sweetwater to get coffee and invited the man inside for a cup but he said he'd just stay in the car.

"We passed through Big Spring and continued West and after driving about ten miles, John signalled to me and I reached over and took the wheel of the car and John reached around me and shot him in the head.

"The car kept rolling, the man thrashed around in the seat and John shot him three or four more times."

The couple drove off Highway 80 and left the body in mesquite covered ranchland.

Myers is expected to get an early trial in Texas. Donna Marie may be returned to Illinois.

Student Council Representatives To Be Named

Stanton High School Student Council representatives are scheduled to be elected this week by high school students.

At the election three representatives will be named to serve each class in high school.

To be eligible to serve on the student council a student must have an average of 80 in each subject. Candidates for representatives are also selected on the basis of character, leadership and citizenship.

Candidates have been selected, and are being checked to see if they are eligible to serve as representatives. Students will choose the representatives by secret ballot.

Glenda Payne is serving as president of the Student Council. Other officers are Frances Graves, vice president; Mona Epley, secretary, and Jim Sale, treasurer.

Bill Johnson and Taylor Stephenson are serving as sponsors of the organization.

for the Dollar Day event. It wouldn't take a lot of space, and just two or three items would be appreciated by the buying public.

Some of the merchants who have not been advertising have been getting the benefit of the Dollar Day program, but have not realized what they should because of lack of publishing specials for the day.

Now is a good time to make a resolution that will help keep Martin County money at home by planning advertising space in the county newspaper.

If the price is right and the merchandise in demand there is no question but what businessmen will profit and at the same time prove to the people that their trade is appreciated.

New Research Center Slated For Lubbock

Martin County residents have been invited to attend the formal dedication of the new Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

"Establishment of the new Research and Extension Center at Lubbock was a forward step necessary to keep pace with the most progressive agricultural production area in the nation," said Charles E. Fisher, station superintendent. The chief objective of the new center will be to develop a sound, dynamic and profitable agricultural program for the major types of farming for the High Plains of Texas.

Fisher said he anticipated an increase in the number of highly trained research and extension personnel to be employed at the center by state and federal agencies. Research activities, he explained, are coordinated and conducted cooperatively by the USDA, Texas Technological College and the High Plains Research Foundation.

Major emphasis in the future will be placed on the development and constant improvement of cotton, grain sorghum, vegetable crops, industrial crops, efficient use of water, insect and disease control, economic research and the mechanization of major crops.

Formal dedication of the new facilities is scheduled for September 19. Field tours will begin at 1:00 p.m. Following the evening meal, formal dedication ceremonies will conclude the day's activities.

County Farmers Invited To Lubbock Meet

Martin County farmers have been invited to attend a special field day at the Texas Agricultural Experiment station in Lubbock.

The field day is to be held on Tuesday, September 19.

Farmers and ranchers interested in attending should contact County Agent Bob Johnson for further information.

In announcing the special field day Ray Seigmund of Fort Stockton, district extension agent, said, "In the past decade, joint work by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, county agricultural agents and other research and educational agencies has added more than $106 million to the economy of a 20-county area surrounding the Lubbock Substation. Martin County farmers, ranchmen and businessmen have come in for their share of the total."

Seigmund urged Martin County farmers and ranchmen to continue cashing in on late research information by attending the special field day.

Sands High Pep Squad Is Organized

Linda Fowler is serving as head cheerleader of the Sands High School pep squad at Ackerly.

Other leaders of the group are Linda Bristow and Virginia Richter, cheerleaders; Zaida Bodine, head twirler; Brenda and Kay Wallace, twirlers; Phyllis Carrol, Charlotte Godwin and Joyce Merrick, drummers.

The first pep rally of the year was held Thursday night, August 31 in downtown Ackerly. Following the rally refreshments were served at the school building.

Weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kelly were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carrothers and children of Fort Worth, Mrs. Charlie Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Weatherman, all of Alpine, and Mrs. J. N. Clark and children of Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ed Angel and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Cravens of St. Lawrence, spent Saturday and Sunday at Del Rio, and shopping in Old Mexico.

FARM REVIEW and FORECAST

Because of the trend toward larger production units and lower profit margins, egg producers are searching for methods of lowering production costs. Since the cost of feed accounts for over half of the cost of producing eggs, it is natural for producers to look here for means of economizing. The poultryman would be wise, however, to be very cautious about buying cheaper feeds, says Dr. C. W. Deyoe of the Texas A&M Poultry Science Department. A cheap feed may often result in lowered production and therefore, an increase rather than a decrease in the cost of producing a dozen eggs.

The only safe way to reduce feed costs, says Deyoe, is to feed the ration which is most economical while still meeting the laying bird's requirements for energy, protein, vitamins and minerals. Any feed which does not meet these requirements is not economical.

A feeding practice which may be more economical than feeding an all mash ration is the use of a protein concentrate which contains a high level of protein and the vitamins, minerals and other feed additives. This is then mixed with home grown or locally purchased grains to make up the complete ration. The manufacturer's directions for mixing the premix with grains must be followed in order to obtain the correct level of nutrients in the finished feed. If these directions are not followed, the best results from the finished feed cannot be expected, and it would be better to buy a complete laying mash from the feed supplier.

Protein is the most expensive ingredient in poultry rations. Thus, a saving in protein would result in a lower feed cost, points out Deyoe. Recent work at Texas A&M has indicated that proper amino acid supplementation of low protein diets lower the feed cost of egg production with these diets and more than pays for the amino acids. It is very important, however, that the amino acid — protein balance be correct, because a poor quality protein with an imbalance of amino acids would be poorly utilized.

Proper care should also be taken to insure the laying diets contain the proper level of calcium. Egg shell quality suffers if the bird is not receiving sufficient calcium.

The seventh random sample egg production test conducted on the Texas A&M College Poultry Farm was completed in mid-July. The test consisted of 30 entries of 48 birds each, with most of the popular strains of egg type chickens now being sold in Texas being represented, said Bill

Doran, test supervisor.

To be profitable, he said, hens must live and lay at a high rate. Mortality ranged from zero to 23 percent for the test entries with an overall average of 9.7 percent. Rate of lay, based on individual bird basis, ranged from 205 to 241 eggs per hen, Doran reported.

Feed conversion — the amount of feed required to produce 24 ounces of eggs — and body weight as well as egg size and interior egg quality were listed by Doran as other very important factors in determining profits. He said the body weight for all hens in the test average 4.6 pounds and that 4.1 pounds of feed was required to produce 24 ounces of eggs. The feed conversion ranged from 3.7 to 4.5 pounds.

To benefit from the improvement made by poultry breeds on egg size, Doran said chick buyers should know the type of egg and egg size of each strain being sold. Egg size for this test, based on percent large and extra large eggs, ranged from 56 to 79 percent with an overall 71 percent average.

With all factors considered, Doran said income over check and feed costs averaged $3.27 to $3.84 or a difference of $1.57 per pullet housed.

Other random sample egg production tests are conducted in other states and results are available on request. Doran said complete results of the Texas test were available through his office.

Recollections of a visit to the West in the Summer of 1960:

An archway of antlers spans the street of a Wyoming town.

In the mountains to the West of Denver is this intriguing sign, "Popcorn Motel." Established by a former picture show manager?

Electric signs giving the temperature, for example, "1: 81" — which means (I think) above zero, I'm sure that a "minus" is used in winter but I don't intend to be there to see!

Wyoming cafes uniformly serve excellent beef.

On a highway bordering a mountain stream, my first sight of dams built by beavers; at one point, instead of a bridge for a pedestrian, a chair on a trolley; slim white birches and graceful aspens which flutter when all other trees are motionless.

The first time I ever heard of Laramie was in connection with the writings of Bill Nye, the most widely-read American humorist of his area. It was a surprise, therefore, not to see his picture on the wall in the lobby of the main hotel nor a copy of even one of his books in the hotel's lending library nor a book by, or about, Nye on display in the book store windows.

Nye was postmaster in Laramie and tendered his resignation in a highly amusing letter to the President.

If you haven't read "A Resign," do yourself a favor; read it; also his account of a cyclone. Bill Nye deserves a kinder fate.

Would you believe it—Honey Melody was the name of a man?

And not only that but he was a prize-fighter — and one of the best of his day.

Mark Twain's recipe for happiness, "Good friends, good books — and a sleepy conscience."

Friday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. George Cathey were their daughter, Mrs. Tom Gregg of Ackerly, and granddaughter, Mrs. Mike Williamson of Amarillo.

Mrs. J. M. Payne and Glenda visited recently in Perryton.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore and son of Tulsa, Okla., visited recently with Mrs. Alma Thornton, Mrs. Doris Stephenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and Sharla of Andrews, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Woody Smith and son.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clements and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Clements were in Andrews Sunday to attend funeral services for Horace Holcombe of Andrews.

Mrs. Mary Wilson has returned home from a Midland hospital.

Flower Grove Is Winner, 48 To 0

The Flower Grove Dragons ran roughshod over the Klondike Cougars, 48-0, in an eight-man football game here Friday evening.

Ordinarily, Flower Grove plays six-man ball and is the defending regional title. The Dragons play a team they defeated in bi-district play last year. Blackwell, next Friday in Flower Grove.

Jerry Webb scored three touchdowns and ran over a conversion try for a total of 20 points for Flower Grove.

Dan Lemon accounted for 22 points, counting two touchdowns and ten extra points.

Ron Deatherage tallied the other Flower Grove score on an intercepted pass.

Flower Grove led only by a score of 8-0 at half time but poured on the coal after the intermission.

Klondike made only one first down in the game.

Score by quarters:
Flower Grove 8 0 24 14—48

Home Is the Hunter—We Hope

If the nation's communications systems were suddenly to blare out that sixty-six divisions of armed men would, within the next few weeks, be invading our marshes and forest lands the results would amount to a near panic. Yet this is exactly what's going to happen between now and October when more than a million bright-eyed nimrods will eagerly turn into walking arsenals, set out to drink in the autumn air and return home loaded with prized venison, rare fowl, and in some cases the pelt of a fellow hunter. This is also the time when forest rangers, gamekeepers, local sheriffs and first aid stations tensely prepare for the possible carnage that could ensue when the eagerly sought target turns out to be the backside of a brother in arms.

The National Rifle Association of America suggests that rigid adherence to a few basic rules of sane and sensible gun handling can spell the difference between a robust, happy holiday and tragedy. N.R.A.'s more than half million members live by these rules: (1) Treat Every Gun As If It Were Loaded—it is always the unloaded gun that seems to do the damage. (2) Always Point The Muzzle In A Safe Direction—the true gun expert is easy to spot by the way he handles his gun. (3) Be Sure Of Your Target—no trophy is worth an uncertain shot. (4) Be Sure Of Your Backstop—bullets can go for incredibly long distances. (5) Avoid Alcoholic Beverages Before And During Shooting—it really doesn't keep you warm and can affect your judgment.

A forest with its autumn colors is a beautiful thing to contemplate thus if you are not sure of your target, light up a cigarette—relax until you have planned your next move.

Loop Nudges Garden City

The Loop Longhorns won an eight-man football game from Garden City, 14-6, at Loop Friday night.

Loop scored its first touchdown in the initial quarter and added another in the second.

In the fourth, Gary McDaniel put the bearcats into the scoring column when he took a 44-yard scoring pass from Denny Cypert.

Loop made 189 yards rushing to 87 for Garden City, ten yards passing to 74 for the Kats.

First downs favored Loop, 10-9.

The Longhorns ran five yards for one TD and two yards for another. A successful pass after the first touchdown produced the other two points.

Mrs. Oliver Vaughn is visiting this week in Denver City in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy J. Smith.

Cabbage Goes Into Sweet, Sour Dish

The seven sweets and seven sour of Pennsylvania Dutch tables have inspired a racy accompaniment to a simple meat course: Hot slaw relish. Try it and see how it stacks up with your family's and your own taste buds.

Frankfurters and boiled new potatoes are good with this sweet-sour cabbage. The relish is equally compatible with roast beef and buttered noodles or with broiled or pan fried steak and creamed potatoes.

Hot Slaw Relish

- 1/2 cup light brown sugar firmly packed
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
 - 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 - 1/4 cup corn oil
 - 2 tablespoons horseradish mustard
 - 1 head (2 pounds) green cabbage
- In a large heavy skillet, stir together the brown sugar, salt, celery seed, vinegar, oil and mustard. Using large sharp knife, shred cabbage; there should be about 8 cups firmly packed. Add shredded cabbage to the mixed seasonings in skillet and toss together. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes, or until cabbage is tender and flavors are blended. NOTE: If relish is to be served

PERSONALS

SELF COMMAND IS THE MAIN ELEGANCE.

—Emerson.

MR. GLENN L. BROWN pounded the staff of the paper Monday morning for doing a good job of printing on the STUDY CLUB yearbook. We did try to turn out an attractive book and hope all of the members enjoy the printed version. MRS. BROWN presented EUGENIA with a box of candy and brought MAC and your writer tie bar and cuff link sets with the Confederate States of America insignia prominently displayed. The tie clips were made from real Civil War buttons. Incidentally, these sets are on sale at STANTON DRUG.

JOHAN DAVIS and his son, TOMMY, brought your writer some tasty East Texas grown tomatoes Monday. The tomatoes were of two varieties—the standard jumbo type and some small banana tomatoes. They also advised that JOHN'S sister, still residing in East Texas, had some sweet potatoes so large that hogs were being used to dig them. And his sister has watermelons so titanic that it takes a "Fort Worth Thumper" to determine their ripeness. Now folks, some of this paragraph is perfect—some of it is the reason why we Texans are sometimes referred to as boosters. But take it from us, there is a good, long, running piece of fertile soil extending from Winona in Smith County to Gilmer in Upshur County, that not only produces the biggest watermelons, best tomatoes, finest tasting sweet potatoes on earth but under that SOIL there is OIL. And the derricks are so thick above ground that no highways can be constructed without using the switch back plan like they use in Colorado to drive up to Pike's Peak. BUT, since moving out to West Texas, and nearly all present day West Texans originated in East Texas, we have a greater respect for wide open highways, fewer mosquitoes, the beyond-the-reach-of-malaria altitude, the many big-hearted folks hereabouts. And too, out here under the SOIL there is OIL.

THE story written by EUGENIA HIGHTOWER and appearing on page one of the last issue of the paper covering the college round-up of Martin County students was worth the price of a year's subscription to the "Ole Reliable." We are very proud of the exceptionally complete story about the county boys and girls of college age and the type of story written by MRS. HIGHTOWER last week and the very valiant assistance and help she has always given the newspaper is one of the reasons it continues to be a prize winner when West Texas newsmen get together in convention.

ODDS AND ENDS. . . Baseball games are never played in the rain, but the stands are covered. Football games are played in rain, snow, ice and sleet but the stands are not covered. Radio stations broadcast instrumental music just before the news. KENNEDY keeps referring to ABRAHAM LINCOLN as if he were a Democrat. The current legislators will probably get the school teacher vote but you can't tell about the store owners after the two-cent sales tax the boys passed in Austin.

PERHAPS there are those who think we depend too much upon nostalgia and sentiment in our writings. Maybe we are guilty. At least, we have no intention of rushing to a defense of such a charge. It was OLIVER GOLDSMITH who wrote: "I love everything that's old, old friends, old times, old manners, old books, and the like." A few hours ago, we found an inscribed plaque in the store room of the small but comfortable home we purchased from the heirs of the late MRS. MARY WILKIE. We found this expression: "Old-fashioned songs and old-fashioned weather, old-fashioned books and old-fashioned leather, old-fashioned girls and mothers and boys, a toast each and all to old-fashioned joys."

ONE day recently we were recalling some old times with ALTON TURNER and J. D. ATCHLEY, the representative for WEBB-DAVIS in this area. Naturally the tax question was on the agenda. We told them of the days when we traded subscriptions for chickens, potatoes, produce and peanuts. One guy promised us fifty pounds of peanuts for a subscription. He brought just half the amount he promised to the office and we tendered him a receipt for a sub. One of our employes remarked: "NEAL, he cheated us—just brought in half what he was supposed to." "Nope, we're about even—because you see we are not printing as good a newspaper now as we did when we agreed to take his peanuts." Of course, ALTON and J. D. both brought forth appropriate tales about newspapers and the session broke up suddenly when a customer with a loaded grocery basket passed through our meeting place there in the aisle of the store and made her way to the cash register. The three of us smiled appreciatively at her for she wasn't going to trade potatoes for that basket of groceries. Things are still in pretty good shape in this country.

AN era in intercollegiate athletics came to an end this week at the University of Texas with the complete retirement of DANA X. BIBLE. As a former student at TEXAS, we join the thousands of other exes in deep appreciation for the services rendered the school's athletic department by the renowned Coach. For a quarter of a century BIBLE has served as head football coach and athletic director. Since 1957 he has served as consulting athletic director. Of course, the coaching duties for the past three or four years have been in the capable hands of DARRELL ROYAL, quarterback under BUD WILKINSON at Oklahoma U. Incidentally, since all other columnists in the area have been making predictions, we list the first three in the Southwest Conference as follows: Texas, Rice, Baylor. And you can't count Arkansas out. The writer has bad news for former Aggie CURTIS ERWIN; former Texas Christian CONNIE MACK HOOD, and former Southern Methodist JIM ALLISON, JR. We predict those three teams will fight it out for the cellar championship.

NEAL'S NUGGET: You must never cry so loud about your hard luck that you can't hear opportunity knocking.
