By NEAL ESTES

ONE DAY AS I SAT MUSING, SAD AND LONE-LY AND WITHOUT A FRIEND, A VOICE CAME TO ME FROM OUT OF THE GLOOM SAYING, "CHEER UP, THINGS COULD BE WORSE." SO I CHEERED UP AND SURE ENOUGH THINGS GOT WORSE.

WOUR correspondent is indebted to MARY PRUDIE BROWN for the above lines. We walked down the back alley leading from the newspaper office to the drug store Monday and told our story of mechanical trouble at the plant. MARY very quickly brought a printed placard distributed by the LEDERLE people out of a drawer with the above lines thereon. We laughed, took the sign with us and sure enough—things got worse—on Wednesday morning more trouble developed in the back shop.

ND speaking of trouble in the composing department, now is as good a time as any, and possibly the best way, to explain why numerous news stories did not make this issue of the paper. We used the type already prepared to get the paper out.

was our pleasure to meet an able Texas editor Sunday afternoon. R. C. HANKINS, editor of the LUB-BOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL and his wife were in Stanton visiting their daughter and son-in-law, MR. and MRS. PAUL ALLEN JONES. MRS. JONES is the former BETTY HANKINS, the newly wed JONES couple are neighbors. PAUL SR. accompanied EDITOR HANKINS to our house and made the introduction. We were naturally pleased to hear the statement from newspaperman HANKINS that the local paper had improved since he examined a copy a few years ago. Coming from another editor, the staff here in the office really appreciated the comment.

PIKE ANDERSON picked up a real souvenir from the past this week and when MIKE parked his truck in front of a local business house and people started gathering around we went over expecting to see another big rattler. Not so-an old-fashioned telephone cabinet rested in the rear of the pickup. It was the actual crank style cabinet type telephone. These models were once used everywhere. MIKE'S model had all the outside parts including transmitter, receiver, bells, crank and shelf. We did not see a generator. In the pickup MIKE also had another relic from the yesterdays. It had no name-just an ugly appearance—the thing looked more like a Louisiana cane knife than anything we have seen in a long time. MIKE remarked that "it sure would cut a man's head off if it was sharpened up." We have news for MIKE—that lethal weapon with the broad-ax type handle, bolted to the blade would cut an entire brigade to bits if weilded properly-sharp blade or no sharp blade.
