By NEAL ESTES

Big Spring visitors will find a new device to gain fine money in every city block in a few days. As if the parking meters were not enough—they have now authorized installation of the metal collectors. Parking meters in country towns have always been despised by Texans. Nine times out of ten—get that—a hundred parking places can be found in towns the size of Henderson, Big Spring, Lamesa, or Waxahachie, with the exception of Saturdays, or days of a big community event. Therefore, our logic is that parking meter money, is simply another form of petty taxation. A few years ago, the City of Carthage in deep East Texas, put in parking meters and the meters almost put the town out of business. The city officials wanted to install the meters around the county courthouse lawn. The courthouse, at that time, was situated on the town square. The county judge and sheriff of Panola County contended in federal court in Sherman, Texas, that the city had no right to interfere in any manner with property owned by the county and therefore had no right to either pave around, or install meters around the courthouse. Federal Judge Randolph Bryant rendered a verdict for the county officials and that opinion stands decided today. Judge Bryant, in reading his legal opinion also said: "I do not think that these one-armed bandits—parking meters—manufactured by a corporation doing business in another state, and with the purpose of taking money out of Texas and carrying it back to Ohio, is entitled to tell Texas county judges and sheriffs how they can run the courthouses in this country." The city official of Carthage, at the time, then decided to install the meters a long distance out town on each highway in an effort to collect the money to pay off the meter company for the surplus meters the commission had bought to go around the courthouse circle. They even extended the city limits to make the installation of the meters legal. Needless to say, Carthage voters turned that bunch of city officers out of office at the next election and the neighbors made it so hot for them and their children that most of them moved out of the community for good.

We are pleased to welcome these old subscribers back to the reader circle for another year and grateful for the new readers. Here they are: J. Vance McCright, Dallas; Mrs. Arthur Reed, Ackerly; W. W. Robinson, La Proyor; Mrs. J. J. Cook, Stanton; R. B. Gilmore, Big Spring; Ernest Ross, San Angelo; and H. W. Houdyshell, Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ed Fouquay will leave next week for a vacation trip to Mt. Vernon in East Texas. They plan to visit with his sister's family and friends in that great, good part of the Lone Star State. To your writer, every acre of ground in and around Commerce-Sulphur Springs, Mt. Vernon, Winsboro, and Mt. Pleasant is sacred soil. Deep in our channel of childhood and early manhood memories rests the wonderful experiences we knew on those hallowed boyhood grounds. Tell some of our friends back there on the blessed blackland hello for us Will Ed.

Raymond Louder has promised us he would call us to come down and make a picture of him plowing one of his fields with a gray mule sometime in the future. Raymond broke out a Georgia stock plow with a Kelly Blue blade and hitched up an aged gray mule he owns and started breaking ground Monday morning. The wife expressed a desire to have the scene put down permanently on photo print and we intend to go down for the "portrait sitting" as soon as the urge hits the native of Rockwall County again to plow. We prefer to wait and go when his garden is brimming over with some of the better foods of life—such as blackeyed peas.

We send our sincere sympathy to the members of the Roy Linney family upon the loss of their wife and mother. The untimely death of this splendid lady caused sadness in our community.

City, County Accord Ends Controversy

An agreement was reached during a court recess here Wednesday which resulted in the dismissal of an injunction suit brought against the Martin County Commissioners Court by the Stanton City Council.

Terms of the pact were that the county will take no further action for 90 days toward closing the city dump ground two and a half miles south of Stanton on State Highway 137. During this time, the Council will seek a new location for disposing of garbage and trash.

The 10-acre tract was purchased in 1908 by the county. It has been used since then as a public dump ground. The Commissioners Court recently resolved to close the dump ground, because the location next to a public highway violates the Texas Penal Code.

Wednesday's hearings before 118th District Court Judge R. W. Caton of Big Spring came after the city filed an application for a temporary injunction.

Most Stores Will Close On July 4

From this list, the days the merchants vote to close on, are posted as official holidays to be observed in the county.

July 4 always leads the field. This year, as usual, the great majority of store will close. The postoffice, government offices, courthouse, city hall, and all state agencies operating in Martin County will be closed July 4.

Myers Trial Slated For Tahoka

Arrangements have been made to transfer John Edwin Myers, 34, to Tahoka for his second trial, starting August 19, on murder charges in connection with the shooting death of Arthur DeKraai.

The victim's body was found in a mesquite thicket near Big Spring on September 1, 1961. Myers was arrested in Midland.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed Myers' conviction in his first trial in March, 1962, at Rusk, and remanded the case, which now goes to Tahoka on a change of venue.

District Judge Truett Smith of the 108th District announced he would call two 90-member jury panels in an attempt to choose a 12-man jury.

On arraignment Saturday, before Judge Smith, Myers pleaded not guilty and told the judge he had no attorney nor funds to hire one.

The court appointed as counsel for him Mitchell Williams, former 106th District attorney, and Stephen Thompson, Tahoka attorney. Myers will remain in the Howard County jail in Big Spring, until the trial opens.

Farm Bureau Queen Contest Set August 9

The Martin County Farm Bureau queen's committee chairmen and board members met Monday night to set a date for the County Queen's Contest. The contest will be held August 9 at the High School auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the contest is to give recognition to the farm and ranch girls of Texas. It is anticipated that through the institution of this contest more farm and ranch girls, and other young people, may become better acquainted with the principles of the Farm Bureau organization.

The contestants are to be judged on grace, poise, charm, vivaciousness, and all the other qualities that go to make up winsome Texas future homemakers. There are three main points on which they will be judged: appearance, poise, and personality. Each girl will be required to speak approximately one minute on some subject pertaining to Farm Bureau.

Any girl in Martin County is eligible who is the daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member active.

While being drilled the prospector tested the Spraberry at 8,850-8,953 feet and recovered five feet of slightly gas-cut drilling mud and 90 feet of mud.

The new operator cleaned out to 9,010 feet and set 4½-inch casing at that point. The pipe was perforated at 8,369-8,501 feet.

That interval was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. After that stimulation the project was swabbed for 18 hours. All of the load and residue from the acid was recovered, along with a show of gas and oil and a slight signs of salt water.

Operator then fractured the 8,469-8,501 foot section with 60,000 gallons of fluid, mixed with sand. The process of clean out the fracture fluid and residue will require several days.

When that is accomplished operator then will be able to determine the ability of the venture to produce new oil and gas.

Texas Crude Oil Company and Sinclair Oil & Gas Company plugged two offsets to their No. 1-253 Knox, recently completed Devonian discovery in Northwest Martin County, 12 miles northwest of Tarzan and abandoned the location of a third operation, on which drilling had not started.

Health And Safety Tips

From The American Medical Association

Hot weather imposes special dietary requirements for healthy infants and children, except for increased water intake.

Says the American Medical Association's Council on Foods and Nutrition:

"If infants and children eating well-balanced diets do not tolerate ordinary heat stress, they should be investigated for illness rather than changing their diets. Poor appetites and faulty eating habits may result from the uncontrolled use of cold drinks with high calorie content, or from failure to take enough outdoor exercise, or from over-indulgence in between-meal snacks. It is unwise for adults to 'condition' children to dislike hot weather or to fast summertime food fads on them."

When the summer sun bears down and the weather is hot, inside and out, parents often give thought to changing the family dietary pattern. Should salt be added? Should certain "heavy" foods be prohibited? Does baby need a change in his formula?

The requirement for protein seems to be unchanged or possibly even increased in hot weather. If table salt is used in ordinary amounts in cooking, and is readily available at meal times, extra salt should not be needed except in very active people.

The children need more liquids in the summer to offset loss through perspiration, but this need likely will be met by the youngsters themselves. They'll get thirsty. Mother's problem is to see to it that they quench their thirst most often with plain water, and not overdo high-calorie drinks.

To make certain infants get enough liquid, offer them a few ounces of water regularly between feedings.

Small children usually do not mind hot weather unless they are conditioned by their elders to dislike it. Cool, but not freezing cold, drinks are best, and water is the best of all. A short "cooling off" and quiet period before meals may help the appetite on a hot day.

In fact, all of the usual measures and guides for developing good eating habits should be continued, irrespective of the weather.

Chico, Calif. Enterprise-Record:

"... the American people are not as glibly as they used to be about political promises, whether they concern 'benefits' or anything else. For example, we all can remember how Kennedy, when he was campaigning in 1960, promised again and again that he would balance the budget and keep it balanced. Yet now he and his New Frontiersmen are telling us that deliberate budget deficits are the secret to fiscal success. The budget promise, then, was way overblown. The same holds true for political promises in the realm of 'benefits'. For example, the TVA was born in a sea of promises to bring everlasting prosperity to the Tennessee Valley, but after a quarter of a century goodly portions of the area are officially classed as 'depressed.'"

Public Image Of Lawyer Different From Old Days

There was a time when the method of trying lawsuits was so technical and strange to the average layman that the lawyer was considered a behind-the-scenes manipulator.

Now, since the public has come to know more about trial procedure, this erroneous conception largely has been corrected. The attorney is pictured for what he really is—a hard-working fellow who presents a case in a manner designed to fully and legitimately protect his client's interests.

The lawyer's duty starts with his first contact with his client. When advised of the controversy, he usually questions his client thoroughly to determine all of the facts involved. His first duty is to objectively evaluate the facts involved. He immediately advises his client to tell everything. Facts and circumstances which may seem trivial to the client can be of great value to the lawyer in the trial of the case.

The attorney then fits the law to the facts involved, and determines the theory under which lawsuit or controversy must be approached. It is surprising to the layman to learn that no two cases are alike; and, that nearly always it is necessary for a lawyer to "hit the books" to find a case or decision which governs the particular principle involved. This is sometimes a long and arduous task depending, of course, upon the intricacies of the factual and legal situation.

Quite frequently the lawyer will find it necessary to take statements of opposing parties or of witnesses to determine what facts they know that will confront him later in the trial. He is permitted to do this under our rules at any time before the trial. He also immediately starts planning his strategy, and determining the main points, factual and

Bible Comment—

Even Paul Sought Training For His Life

Paul was not long in finding Christian friends although at first the disciples feared him because of the recent zeal he had shown in persecuting them.

But Ananias, a saintly Christian in Damascus, welcomed Paul as a Christian brother. Ananias had been prepared in a vision for the coming of Paul but he doubted, at first, that so terrible a persecutor as Paul would become a disciple so suddenly.

The disciples in Jerusalem were a little harder to convince. They had suffered much more from the fury of the persecutor and were suspicious. It was Barnabas, the rich disciple who had given all his wealth for the Christian cause who vouched for Paul.

It was not unnatural that Paul's former associates in persecution should have been aroused to a high pitch of anger at Paul's defection. Their fury was so intense that Paul's newfound Christian friends had to help escape, letting him down from the walls of the city in a basket.

Paul made his way to Jerusalem and his public preaching was interrupted while he sought fuller preparation for his life's mission. It is difficult to think of a man as intense as Paul being in retreat for any length of time. Probably the years of his preparation were spent in studying, praying and conversing with other men. In this way he would have the opportunity to feel his way into the fullness and richness of his activity as a missionary.

There is a very good lesson for all of us in the fact that so wise a man as Paul felt that he needed preparation. Zeal, even in a man of Paul's stature, is not enough.

Philosopher Wants To Keep Russian Agricultural Experts In Cuba For A Reason

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw finds a special item in the international news this week, his letter reveals.)

Dear editor:
When it comes to international affairs, I lose track of things before I get half way across this Martin County grass farm, not to mention Stanton, the United States, and the hundred or so countries I'm told stretch out around the world, but there was a small item in an international news article I read last night that I would like to call attention to.

As you know, the United States has been clamoring for the Russians to get out of Cuba, and apparently a good many of them are leaving—I don't know whether it's because we've been clamoring or because the only thing they can get on television is a speech by Castro.

But this thing can be carried too far. For instance, this small item I'm talking about reported that 100 Russian agricultural specialists are in Cuba trying to help solve the Cuban agricultural problem.

Whatever we do, we don't want to get those specialists out of Cuba. Let em stay there. Not only let them stay there, quarantine the island and make them stay there. Don't let em out.

If they can teach the Cubans to farm like the Russians, Cuba will be on her knees in two or three years. In fact, after they've completed their job of reducing Cuban agriculture to the Russian level, we might explore the possibility of having them come to this country and helping us reduce our surpluses. When it comes to holding down food production and creating shortages, Russia is so far ahead of us there's no comparison.

In fact, every time I see a picture of the Russian people hailing a new hero for making more and more orbits of the earth, I get to wondering how many trips around the earth they'd swap for one trip through a supermarket.

Orbiting the earth has now become sort of like flagpole-sitting. After a while the novelty wears off.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Stanton ZIP Code Number To Be 79782

Our five-digit ZIP code is 79782. Postmaster Mrs. Leta Eidson announced this week.

"Everyone in Stanton will use this ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail," Postmaster Eidson said.

ZIP Code, the Post Office Department's revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery, goes into effect nationally on July 1.

Postmaster Eidson stressed the importance of all citizens of Stanton learning this city's ZIP Code and using it in their return address on all correspondence. In answering mail, she said, ZIP Codes taken from return addresses on incoming mail should be used.

"The ZIP Code is literally the last word in mail addressing, the postmaster said. "It should follow the city and state in address."

Mrs. Eidson cited this example of the proper use of ZIP Code:

Mrs. Leta B. Eidson
Postmaster,
U. S. Post Office,
Stanton, Texas, 79782.

The new ZIP Code plan, she said, for the first time will permit the Post Office Department to short-cut repeated address reading.

"The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees, to get it to the proper destination," Mrs. Eidson said. "Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error.

"With ZIP Code, a clerk needs only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined, and to speed it on its way, cutting up 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery."

The Stanton postmaster said that when ZIP Code is in full swing, the United States will have "the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence."

The help of a suitcase. The rustle of a road map. There's something about one of these spruce, surprisingly spacious wagons that can turn even the routine preparations into a happy part of your trip.

Take that old bugaboo of packing, for instance. No bother. With the kind of room you get in that easy-loading cargo compartment, you can just about toss things in any old whichway and come out with space to spare. The load won't dampen the spirits of the spunky 6-cylinder engine either. It just hums along passing up gas pumps (there's also a choice of an even thrifter 4 in most models) like it didn't have a care in the world. Fact is, it has far fewer cares than most engines—being built with the special knock Chevrolet engineers have for dependability and ease of maintenance.

Marilyn Sale Becomes Bride Of Thomas Risher Newman

Mrs. Thomas Risher Newman

In a formal candlelight ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday, Marilyn Sale became the bride of Thomas Risher Newman.

The ceremony was held in the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. W. H. Uhlman officiating.

Cathedral tapers and candle trees formed an arch, with baskets of palms and gladioli in the background. White tapers and emerald fern were used in the windows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sale of Stanton. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Newman of Lomax.

Formal Gown

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over peau de soie. The etched portrait neckline was enhanced with seed pearls and teardrops, as was the fitted bodice which came to a Merry Widow peak in front. The bell-shaped skirt had a gathered bustle, caught by a cluster of lace and seed pearls, atop a chapel train.

A Swedish coronet of seed pearls caught the bride's veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade of white Frenched carnations with net and lily of the valley centered with a white Phalaenopsis orchid on a white satin covered Bible.

Lou Wanda Pierce was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Stephanie Sale and Courtney Sale of Bryan, Vickie Dorsey and Donna Bassham of Midland, Clauden Nowlin and Judy Pinkerton of Stanton.

The bride's attendants wore street-length dresses of crystal peau in yellow, gold, apricot and orange. The dresses were fashioned with fitted bodices, with scooped necklines and elbow-length sleeves, and bell-shaped skirts. They also had matching head-dresses of single cabbage roses with brief veils of illusion. They carried white pom poms and net with Talisman ribbon streamers.

Groomsmen

Serving as groomsmen were Ted Roy Stewart, Bobby Owen Kelly, Clayton Michael Black and James Randall Sale, cousin of the bride.

The ushers were Robert Keith Sales, brother of the bride, and Vernon Massey. Candle lighters for the ceremony were Zilla Leigh Bassham, cousin of the bride, and Freddy Newman, brother of the bridegroom.

The flower girl was Marion Johnson, and the ringbearer was Ralph Newman, Jr., of Lomax.

The budget and program of work for 1964, was presented to the board. The program is an excellent one and will be of great benefit to all in our area. —CC—
Stanton and Martin County made headlines again last week as a result of the two windstorms which swept through our area. We hope that the next time we make headlines it is of a better nature and not one of destruction. We are by no means as bad off as some of our neighbors to the north. Some of those areas are damaged to the extent that they will not have a crop of any kind this year. So perhaps, we should count our blessings, which always reminds of the axiom — "I cried because I had no shoes, until I met man who had no feet."

Waggoner Wins More Than He Loses

Attorney General Waggoner Carr has released litigation figures representing action of his office for the month of May.

The figures reflect a record of 209 cases won, 6 lost, and 43 disposed of in other ways. Records show that since January 1, 1963, Carr's office has handled 1,659 cases. Of this total, the office has won 1,285 cases, lost 67, and 307 were settled in other ways.

Additional figures released show that on January 1st there were 24 opinions pending and an additional 113 official opinions have been requested since that date. Of these 137 opinions, 100 have been released, 32 have been withdrawn by the requestors, and only 5 are now pending.

Stanley Barnes and Henry Louder have returned from a fishing trip to the Rio Grande.

Mrs. Roy Linney visited in Lubbock a couple of days this week.

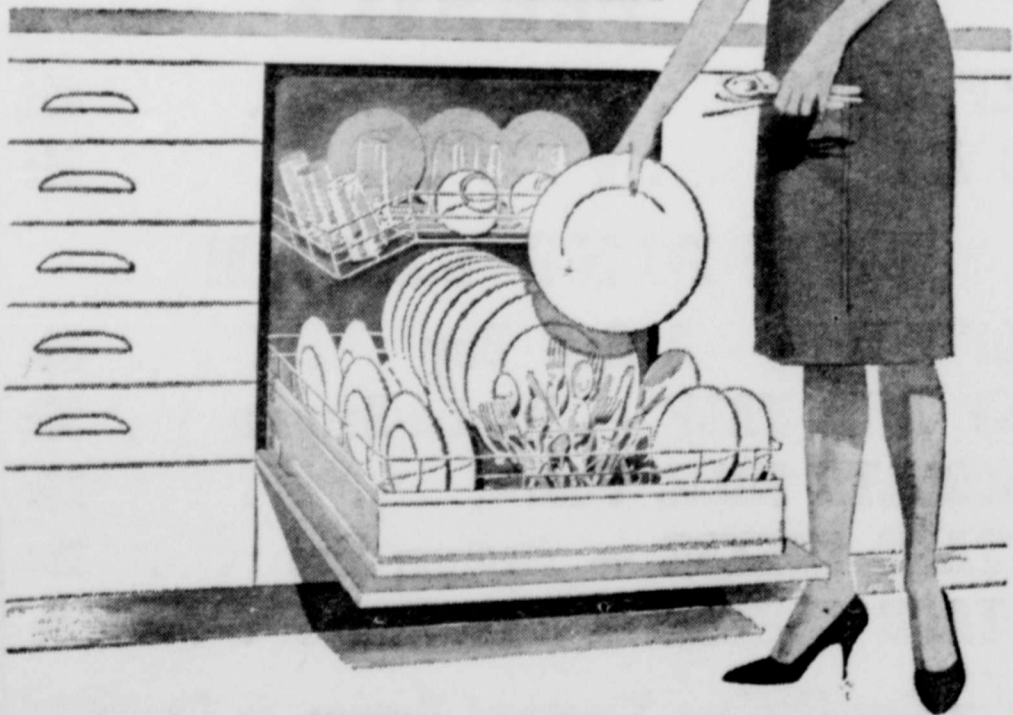

Mrs. Harold Smith and children of Andrews, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elma Nichols.

General Carr said that this figure represents an all-time low in opinions pending in the history of the Attorney General's office.

Carr's Bond Division continues to set all-time records dating back to 1905 when the department was first charged with the duties of examining and approving bonds. Figures for the first five months of 1963 show 340 bond issues were approved as opposed to 274 for the same period of 1962. Dollar volume for the first five months was $239,905.850 against $162,554,570 for the same period of 1962.

East Texas has many fine lakes. One of these is Lake Murvaal, near the city of Carthage in Panola County. Here is a lake of approximately 5,000 surface acres, fast becoming one of the big bass fishing lakes in Texas.

Since it is a new lake, only about five years old, this should be the top year for it in the quantity of fish taken and perhaps also in size.

Lake Murvaal was dedicated in 1958.

Curtis Carpenter, editor of the Texas Game and Fish Magazine, fished in it shortly thereafter. In an article he wrote for the magazine he indicated it would, one of these days, be one of the best fishing spots in Texas. And that day has just about arrived.

Ed Condon of Dallas, who has been fishing and selling fishing tackle for many years, thinks perhaps some of the biggest bass in Texas will come from Murvaal this year. Who could ask for more?

Murvaal is typical of many of the East Texas lakes. With a shoreline of 35 miles it stores an estimated 45,000 acre feet of water behind an earthen dam 8,000 feet long and a 275-foot concrete spillway.

Lake Murvaal was a Panola County Chamber of Commerce project and it is a part of the Sabine River Authority's master plan. The county financed the lake through the sale of bonds to provide a water supply for new industry. Panola County already is the leading gas products producing area of the state.

Fortunately residents of the county also have done considerable development of the surrounding area. There are ample boat docks and launching ramps. Also a number of fine home and cottages have been built around the edge of the lake.

Lake Murvaal is filled with the run-off of almost 200 square miles. Here in the timberlands of East Texas rainfall is fairly high. A number of small springs along tributary streams also add to the water, to keep it at a fairly constant level.

Murvaal particularly is famous for its large bream and abundant supply of bass. There also are many big catfish and crappie. The water has a high acid content and is ideal for black crappie, say the fishermen. And there are some saddle-blanketed ones taken from the lake.

It also is a picturesque lake, surrounded by many trees. Towering pines and hardwood, such as oak and hickory, line its shores. The banks also are lined with beautiful flowers and in the early spring wild berries are found throughout the area.

From a sportsmen's standpoint, it has been ideally developed. There are ski lanes where those who seek water recreation can play to their hearts' content without annoying fishermen.

Then there are areas where brush has been left standing for the benefit of those who want that type of fishing. And who doesn't?

There are a number of commercial camps around the lake providing air conditioned cabins for fishermen or vacationists. The rates are very reasonable.

So, if you are looking for an ideal and beautiful fishing spot this year, give Murvaal a whirl. You'll like it!

Danes Help U. S. Observe July Fourth

John Adams thought the birthday of the United States ought to be celebrated "From one end of this continent to the other" and prescribed pomp and parade, bells and bonfires for the occasion. But one of the largest and most impressive observances of Independence Day takes place thousands of miles away, in Denmark, according to World Book Encyclopedia.

Each year as many as 40,000 Danes and Americans gather at Rebild National Park in northern Jutland in an enduring gesture of international friendship. While the Stars and Stripes waves beside the Dannebrog, Denmark's flag, and television cameras glide along an avenue of U. S. state flags, there is band music and singing and even the traditional Fourth-of-July oratory.

The Rebild Festival was the inspiration of a group of Danish-born Americans led by Dr. Max Henius, a chemist who became a prominent citizen of Chicago. In 1911 he purchased 200 acres of Denmark's heathery hills and in 1912, reports World Book Encyclopedia, they presented the land to the Danish government with the stipulation that the U. S. Independence Day be observed there every year.

The celebration has taken place annually except during years of war. But even in 1940, when Denmark was an occupied country, a group of Danes raised the American flag alongside the Dannebrog within the park grounds.

In recent years, American speakers have included Chief Justice Earl Warren, Paul F. Huffman and former vice president Richard M. Nixon. True to the memory of John Adams, however, the pomp doesn't end with the speeches. After the ceremonies in the park, the guests move to the neighboring town of Aalbor, where they end the Fourth with parades and fireworks.

McNamara, Mahon Vie Over Defense Fund Bill

Solon Denies Cut Handicap Services Allocation Of $47 Billion Near Amount Asked; 'Unity' Claimed

The House Appropriations Committee Friday unanimously approved a $47,092,209,000 defense appropriations bill which it cited as proof that it backed the U. S. military program and President Kennedy with "a united front."

But a dissenting voice was promptly raised by Sec. of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who said the committee-approved bill would force a 60,000-man cut in the armed services and deprive the Air Force of needed fighter planes.

Mahon Defends Subcommittee's Work

That brought a rejoinder from Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Texas), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee that worked on the bill. He made clear he believed McNamara was laboring under a misapprehension.

Mahon said the committee had no intention whatsoever of cutting military manpower strength. He noted that the committee's report on the bill called for the same manpower goals as those provided in the President's budget.

At the same time, Mahon said cuts ordered in fund for the RF-4C plane program the craft cited by McNamara would have no major effect on that project. He noted that this was a reconnaissance version of F-4C tactical fighter, still in the research and development stage.

Mahon said a committee-ordered $25 million cut in funds for this program was based on McNamara's own reluctance to go into any big pro-urement project until problems that have plagued the plane's development are solved.

The hassle between the committee and McNamara, who said the Senate Appropriations Committee, broke out several hours after the House group approved a bill that was generally regarded as an endorsement of the administration's defense program.

Bookkeeping Cuts

The $47 billion it voted for the armed services in the next fiscal year was $1.9 billion less than the President had sought, but most of the cut was in bookkeeping transactions that meant no actual spending reductions.

Former Railroad Commissioner Bill Murray has been exonerated by the Travis County grand jury of any criminal wrongdoing in his personal business relations with the oil industry while a member of the Commission.

Murray's duties as one of the commissioners included the drafting of rules regulating the oil industry.

It was the feeling of the grand jury that his personal investments in the oil business had in no way influenced his decisions as a commissioner.

Gov. John Connally previously had released a report, presented to him by Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, to the effect that an investigation of Murray's personal income tax reports had revealed that he had made more than $1,600,000 from his oil investments while serving on the commission.

This report was turned to the grand jury.

Murray resigned from the commission several weeks ago when the conflict of interest question arose. He admitted at the time that he had been making such investments but emphatically declared they in no way influenced his decisions.

DISREGARDING DISREGARDERS — Governor Connally says the Senate-House appropriations conference committee, which came up with the state budget bill that he has protested so vigorously, never bothered to look at his budget recommendation.

Connally claims this was one reason higher education was "short changed" in the appropriations bill. In a recent meeting of the Legislative Budget Board Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said the same sort of situation, were in legislators disregard governors' recommendation, could apply to the Governor's Committee To Study Education Beyond the High School. (No legislators serve on the 25-member committee.)

So the Legislative Budget board, made up of state Senators and Representatives, set up its own college study committee, and ordered its staff to study problems of financing the state's 26 colleges.

Sen. Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, who asked for the board study, said he was afraid the state might run private colleges out of business by creating more tax-supported colleges. He also said that students should bear "a more reasonable portion of the cost" of their college education.

This statement could be interpreted as a preface to state-college tuition increases in the fall of 1963.

INDUSTRIAL PICTURE LOOKS GOOD — Texas fell from the second place to fourth among the Top Ten States in Industrial Development last month.

But B. R. Shelton, assistant director of the Texas Industrial Commission said the report does not show a clear picture.

Actually, says Shelton, industry is developing in Texas at a more rapid pace than it did in 1962. At that time the state finished third among the 50 states contending for new industries.

In the month preceding the report, 24 new plants were opened in 15 cities. These included small towns like Georgetown, Refugio, Littlefield and Lewisville, as well as metropolitan cities.

DEATH KNELL FOR BRACERO PROGRAM — Congress killed the Bracero program and set a burial date of December 31, when it refused to extend the agreement to import Mexican farm laborers for two more years.

It may help agriculture workers in other states, but Henry LeBlanc, Director of the Texas Employment Commission's farm labor division, says it won't help Texas' farm workers.

It might even hurt local workers, LeBlanc allowed, "because the Bracero program has kept the pay rate up."

Absence of the Bracero competition, LeBlanc explained, could result in lower wages for this state's workers.

It is rumored that Colorado lawmakers plan to introduce a bill to extend the Bracero program there for one year. Purpose is to allow more time for readjustment of the farm labor system.

COASTAL PARK PIER PLANNED — State Parks Board has granted a permit for an elaborate, 900-foot fishermen's pier which would stretch across narrow Velasco State Park into the Gulf of Mexico.

Park is a 26-mile long stretch of sand, of undetermined width, covering the coastal front of Brazoria County in the Freeport area.

Developers expect to complete the $40,000 pier and connect it with a $25,000 acre land development in two months.

PLEASURE CITY — State School Land Board accepted the only bid it received for a contract to lease state submerged land to build a 10,000-foot long channel from Corpus Christi to a proposed multi-million dollar pleasure city on Mustang Island.

Bid-winner was Mustang Beach Development Corporation. It is the same organization (owned by Piper Aircraft Corporation) that intends to develop 900 acres of Mustang Island into a Marina City, complete with

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

New Use For Baby Oil
Shotgun shells sometimes stick in the gun barrel or magazine at the most inopportune time.

You can prevent this, and also add more waterproofing to your shells, if you put a thin coat of baby oil on each shell before leaving home.

Non-slip Scope Sight Ring
Dust a little resin under the mounting rings of your scope sight to prevent that annoying slip so often encountered when a heavy scope is used on a high-powered rifle.

Duck Blind Camouflage
Pale faces turned toward the sky frighten incoming ducks like a blast of shotgun fire.

But if each hunter will slip over his head a wide-meshed bag, such as the ones in which potatoes or onions are packed, glare will be avoided.

Deer Saver
Buck tracks usually are more pointed than are does. They also more frequently leave dew claw indentations behind them. These differences are not infallible. To be sure of the size and sex of deer you trail, better check where spoor leads toward a low branch. If tracks pass under branch, the deer is a spike buck or doe. But if tracks turn aside before reaching branch, the deer is most likely an old buck, too canny to tangle antlers with low limbs.

Egg Sucking Cure
To cure your hound or bird dog of egg sucking, coat eggs with a solution of flour paste and red pepper. Leave eggs in nest for dog to find. He'll steer clear of eggs after that.

Protect Shotgun Barrel
Goose hunters shooting from pits on sand bars, or dirt pits in fields, constantly must check shotgun barrels for sand or dirt. Avoid this nuisance by covering muzzle with a single sheet of toilet tissue, held in place by a rubber band behind the sight.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounds out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts your car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet—a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength. How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in spindles, springs, suspension arms—in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the extra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds—and in open competition in the world's toughest rallies and stock car events.

Tarzan ZIP Code Number To Be 79783

Our five-digit ZIP Code is 79783, Postmaster Nellie McMorries announced today.

"Everyone in Tarzan will use this ZIP Code on all their correspondence to speed mail deliveries and reduce the chance of mis-sent mail," Postmaster Nellie McMorries said.

ZIP Code, the Post Office Department's revolutionary new system of improved mail dispatch and delivery, goes into effect nationally on July 1.

Postmaster Nellie McMorries stressed the importance of all citizens of Tarzan learning this city's ZIP Code and using it in their return address on all correspondence.

"The ZIP Code is literally the last word in mail addressing," Mrs. McMorries said. "It should follow the city and state in addresses."

She cited this example of the proper use of ZIP Code: Nellie McMorries, Postmaster, U. S. Post Office, Tarzan, Texas, 79783.

The new ZIP Code plan, Mrs. Nellie McMorries said, for the first time will permit the Post Office Department to short-cut repeated address reading.

"The address on mail must often be read as many as eight or ten times by postal employees, to get it to the proper destination," Mrs. Nellie McMorries said. "Each handling slows the process of mail dispatch and adds to the opportunity for human error."

"With ZIP Code, a clerk needs only to glance at the code to know immediately to what national area, state and post office the letter is destined, and to speed it on its way, cutting up to 24 hours off the time between deposit and delivery."

Mrs. Nellie McMorries said that when ZIP Code is in full swing, the United States will have "the most modern system of mail distribution and delivery in existence."

TIME FOR A CHECK-UP

Your Property Insurance program may be in bad shape. For example, it may suffer from serious ailments like . . .

- Underinsurance — Not enough insurance to take care of increased property values and liability exposures.
- Obsolescence — Out of date contracts that don't offer today's "package discounts" and broadened protection.
- Inconvenience — Too many policies, premiums, renewal dates. Lots of red tape. A real nuisance.

To have your protection checked — without cost or obligation — see or call your independent insurance agent . . .

The Launching Pad

By NEAL ESTES

LIBERTY IS A SLOW FRUIT.
—Emerson.

LIBERTY is a slow fruit indeed and 1963 is a very good time to present the sage words of EMERSON in the light of what has been going on in many sections of our country. You simply can't reach up over night and present a Harvard degree to a Georgia field hand. You can give him the sheepskin alright, but the intelligence it takes to qualify for a degree requires years of both background and study. And while the advocates of the New Frontier's new order, and that's what it is, are yapping for more liberties, they should take into consideration the time element it requires for qualification to have and enjoy such liberties. In clamoring quickly and so suddenly for more rights, those in the vanguard, most of them either for money or political gain, should remember to consider the rights of other people in the established order of society before laying down in front of a cloakroom door in Congress.

JULY 4 is a good time to really start being an American. You don't necessarily need to put out a flag, but it's a good idea. But you can learn the story of the Stars and Stripes—you can learn the real meaning of the flag's purpose in our life—you can learn the pledge to the flag—you can learn something of our Constitution—you can study up on our Bill of Rights. You won't find the word education mentioned anywhere in either of these historical documents, but you will find that the founding fathers based their thinking about rights for all of us on a man's ability to deserve the rights and the freedoms he desires. In other words, we must all make ourselves worthy of the respect of others by being respectable ourselves. We must earn our rights and cherish our freedom only after making sacrifices. No single individual, the attorney general of this nation, the president of this country, no, not even Santa Claus can pass out rights of any kind in package form. Rights must be measured by hard work, preparation of a proper place in society, and not by shouting, singing, shoving, and shooting in the streets. Those acts of semi-violence are illegal—as illegal as the denial of rights to the man or woman who is willing to gain them by developing strong moral, and spiritual characteristics. We can't be expected to climb in a cage with a cannibal just because a court order said we must. The judge or judges on such a court often arrive at these silly decisions by working on the theory that the cannibal will eat them last.

WE send our congratulations to BILL COLLYNS, editor of THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, on his election to the vice-presidents spot of the WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DISTRICT SIX committee. COLLYNS is a very able newsman and a spirited and tireless worker for the Chamber of Commerce program in Midland and throughout West Texas. It's our privilege to acknowledge the good advice and help BILL COLLYNS tendered to us when we arrived in his beloved Permian Basin area a few years ago. We genuinely cherish the friendship and support we have always had from BILL.

WE have a message of appreciation for young SMITTY SMITH this week. SMITTY, son of MR. and MRS. FLOYD SMITH, has won another 4-H Club honor. This time, his honor was very special. BOB JOHNSON, our county agent, and SMITTY, were notified this week of the young clubbers nomination for one of the State Fair of Texas Honor Awards. SMITTY will journey up to Big D on October 4 to pick up his medal at an affair to be held in the swanky Statler-Hilton boarding house—hotel to the elite.

WE wish to salute the tailors on the staff of THE LONGVIEW NEWS-JOURNAL for again winning first place in general excellence, editorial writing, and photographs, in the Texas Press Association competition held in Fort Worth Saturday. In 1954, while working on our brother CARL'S newspapers there in Longview, it was our pleasure to pick up all the trophies worth the taking home at the annual TPA convention held in Mineral Wells. Those boys and girls on the paper's staff in Longview have really done a jam-up good job for the Colonel through the years. Incidentally, the newspaper office never closes down there in East Texas. They publish a morning journal and the afternoon edition and more than likely, an extra or two, can be expected almost every week or so. One April in the late forties, the staff wrapped up five extras—spaced at four-hour intervals—when a red-hot city election was in progress. Each extra featured a special cartoon of the candidate who was not enjoying the admiration of the colonel at that time. Our brother's man won the mayor's race but without the votes of about twenty very busy employees of the NEWS-JOURNAL. If he reads this now, he will be learning the fact that his staff members did not get to vote in the election due to duty assignment. Well, there's about six hundred miles between here and Longview.

ANOTHER member of the paper's staff—VIRGINIA HOUSE, journeyed over to Big Spring to get some glasses the past Saturday. Naturally, like nearly ninety per cent of Martin Countians, she visited our good personal friend, ALLEN HAMILTON'S clinic. It's right across the street from the courthouse. DR. HAMILTON has used THE OLE RELIABLE to tell the area folks about his clinic for years. He doesn't go for the boob tube or the guitar picking mediums. He uses the established mediums of information. And he's right because country publications, like family pets and old-time religion, are always around in the better homes.

Pat Bridges of Maplewood, Louisiana, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. D. A. Stanley and family, and Edie Bridges.

Doug Moreau of Boerne, Texas, visited over the weekend with Edie Bridges and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Stanley and boys.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stripling have returned from a vacation in Colorado, where they also visited with relatives.

Mrs. Jake Hodges, Jane and Gene, visited over the weekend with Mrs. Hodges' sister, Mrs. C. N. Shaw, in Eldorado.
